THE ELECTION AT HEREFORD

Quiet Day—Fine Weather—Business Suspended—Good Vote Cast.

The election at Hereford and in the county was exceedingly quiet. The weather was ideal and the few who took an interest in the election stood around in knots discussing the probable results of the national affairs. The banks were not opened for business and little shopping was done or other business transacted. A good vote was polled at Hereford but some of the county boxes failed to hold an election or had a very light vote.

The ticket was something out of the usual for a Texan to vote. Instead of the long ribbon like ballot, it looked more like a page from a county paper advertising the delinquent tax list. The first voters at the polls were E. T. Woodburn, Democrat, who cast the first ballot in precinct two; B. H. Smith, Republican, cast the first vote in precinct one. At noon there had been 9 votes cast in number one and 52 in number two. About this time, when John L. Wilson came to exercise his rights of sovereignty, after sweeping out his ticket, he remarked: "I would like to have a few more to make a sad de blanket," and he folded the folded ticket, he added, "That's the largest voting I ever did."

Down in town, the voting places being at the court house, there was some little comment excited when this appeared on the bulletin in front of Judge Gough's office:—

"If Taft is elected, in just four months from his inauguration, the leading factories of the U. S. will be closed."

This was placed there as a prophecy, paraphrasing what Taft had said about Bryan and the national banks.

The local boxes resulted as follows:

Bryan 246, Taft 42; Campbell 248, Simpson 42, Cook 1; Lieutenant Gov. Davidson 247, Ogden 42; Attorney Gen. Davidson 244, Atwell 42; other state officers about the same. School tax amendment 283, against 17; redistricting amendment 138, against 28; Governor's salary amendment 80, against 80.

During the day Mr. Lovelace, manager of the opera house, made arrangements to receive the Associated Press dispatches and to have them bulletined from the stage at night. There was a show to be given, and it was intended to give out the reports between the acts and after the show was over. It was supposed that the messages would begin to come in at six o'clock but it was 8 o'clock sharp when the first news came over the wire. It was a forecast of the final result and read:

Rochester, N. Y.—Vote for president in this city practically complete is: Taft 24,096; Bryan 17, 641; Hughes 22,711; Chanler 19,110.

The opera house was full and both Democrats and Republicans cheered. Messages continued to come in until 2:30 a. m., but long before the show was over it was clearly seen that Taft was getting the best of the contest. At eleven o'clock the show was over and most of the crowd left for home, leaving a few anxious Democrats and most of the Republicans in their seats. The crowd soon dwindled down to a hand full.

The reports, 160 in all, were received, but they did not seem to satisfy the greater part of the crowd. There was some doubts and hopes that possibly a change would be made the next day, but meager reports showed that the first messages from the front were a true forecast of the election results.

The National Stock Company.

This company which held the boards at the opera house Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and thru whose courtesy with the manager, Mr. Lovelace, the Hereford people received the election reports as full as any city in the state, gave their short society sketches in a lively manner and tho simply a family company, most of the members being relatives, their productions were clean and good enough to pass off the rest hours of the evening. But unfortunately, one member of the company, a young man, seemed to meet with displeasure from one or two in the house, as may be judged by the hisses that greeted his appearance. The troupe manager appeared in the young man's behalf and made some pointed remarks about the hissing. It seems that the hissing was not done because the number displeased the audience, but was simply a method of expressing some pen-up energy which the hisser had accumulated. Of course, the singing might have been very bad, but for a singer to be hissed certainly takes the "ginger" out, if that is what is wanted. Manager Lovelace has endeavored to bring good shows to the house but feels that the hissing business should not be the part for a Hereford audience to play.

Culverts Arrive.

Six big corrugated steel culverts were unloaded at the tracks this week for the city. They are from 16 to 20 feet long and 18 inches in diameter. They will be placed across the streets now being graded and are used as a substitute for the concrete work. If they prove satisfactory, others may be put in.

Angell's Comedians.

This excellent company will open a week's engagement at the opera house on Monday night November 9. Manager Lovelace guarantees the Angell Company to be the strongest repertoire organization in the country today. The opening play will be "Hearts and Flowers" a powerful comedy drama of unquestioned merit. Specialties will fill in waits between acts, making it a continuous performance.

Mrs. H. D. Rucker left Wednesday for a visit to Kansas City.

HEAVY FALL IMMIGRATION

Hereford Country Receiving Full Share of New People—Country Settling Up.

The heavy fall immigration to the Southwest has just fairly begun and Hereford is receiving her full share of this business. During the first four days of this week nine car loads of immigrant outfits have been unloaded. E. E. Brubaker and his brother, Dorne Brubaker, of Virden, Illinois, unloaded two cars and have moved out to the Ballew ranch. Grant Doyle and John Tice of Red Field, Mo., have unloaded two or three cars and will open new farms four miles southeast of the city. Sam Alley from some point in Missouri has arrived with his household goods and will open a new farm near Hereford. J. P. Prather from Goodnight, Texas, will move near Dimmitt. Other cars are expected right along now, as most of the farmers have gathered their crops and are ready to move.

"ON THE FRONTIER"

Tent Show Draws Big Crowd—All Come Away Well Pleased.

"On The Frontier," the show given last night under the big tent near the railroad track, drew a big crowd, filling the large tent to its full capacity. The show did well both financially and otherwise. The company putting on the show had a fine band and the work of the orchestra was excellent. The play itself was good, and was well staged. The scene was one of western life as the name will indicate and the usual business was called into the roll to give life and snap to the presentation.

PLAINS LANDS TRULY GREAT

Wonderful Possibilities Shown at Dallas Fair—Once Desert, Now Blooms as Rose.

DECLARES TELEGRAM

Great Exhibits of Panhandle and West Texas Counties Great Surprise.

The Fort Worth Telegram had this to say in its Sunday issue about the Plains of Texas:

The glory of Texas in the past has been in her great flocks and herds that fattened on the vast stretches of grazing lands within her borders. Today this industry that gave occupation and brought wealth to thousands has locked arms with its elder brother, Agriculture, and proposes to go forward with giant strides to conquer lands that in the past have been called fit but for the long-horns' grazing, the prairie dog burrow, and the rustling, laughing cowboy. It is not so long since all believed that the section known as the "plains country" was unfitted for the farmer's efforts, but he has come into that land, tickled it with his hoe and behold the result!

The exhibition of agricultural products as shown in the State Fair is one in which all residents of the state will look upon with pride and at the same time with wonder. As an exhibit from Texas as a state it is marvelous and no one who has not kept posted as to the progress of agricultural development in the state can appreciate what it really means. Great as it is, however, it is but the beginning of a story of progress and wealth that will to the children of today, prove a glorious heritage indeed.

There are in Agricultural hall twenty-four separate and distinct exhibits from twenty-seven counties. Of these one is from East Texas—Nacogdoches county—an exhibit principally of fine tobacco that has become so important in a part of that section of the state's wealth, and which is well worth investigation by visitors. That is all the products of the soil that comes from East Texas. From South Texas there is a very fine exhibit of the semi-tropical products of Brazoria county and a splendid show of rice from Jefferson county. There were good exhibits from Grayson and the north tier of counties.

Sunny Brook Farm.

Thru the courtesy of Geo. W. Irwin, Jr. in the use of his auto, Hon. Jno. P. Slaton and a representative of The Brand made a visit yesterday afternoon to the Sunny Brook Farm, which it is alleged is the property of Mr. Slaton and in which he takes great pride. Tho an attorney by profession, he claims to be a farmer by adoption and practice. With Mr. Irwin at the wheel, in 25 minutes, the party was at the gate of the farm, three and one-half miles south of the city. Over the gate-way in silvered letters were the words: SUNNY BROOK FARM. Entering this gate, a fine view was to be had. Overlooking a wide and sinuous valley, in which were to be seen green fields of alfalfa, patches of matured corn standing in long rows and meadows on which a few home-bound kine lazily clipped the brown winter grass.

Near the house a company of ducks were playing in a would be fish pond; in a small enclosure were a number of fat porkers, grunting over their well-filled troughs; strutting proudly about the poultry yard, a few proud turkeys, a thanksgiving suggestion. All these were the familiar scenes of a farm, but when it is known that on February 1st of this year, the section of land was still in its virgin state. Not a fence, house or barn, no sign of heathive life that was soon to follow. Mr. Slaton has in fact, a well-improved ranch, and he is just beginning. A force of carpenters are at work on a spacious barn 44 by 40 feet, for storing feed and caring for stock. The men on the ranch had just finished putting up a rabbit-proof woven wire fence around a 4-acre orchard, in which is to be planted soon a variety of fruit trees. This year, some 150 acres of feed stuff has been raised on the farm. One field they claim will make 60 bushels of seed besides the forage.

Judge Slaton has reason to feel proud of Sunny Brook and The Brand congratulates him on the methods he is applying in improving the farm.

On page 7 you will find interesting news—at the top of page. Myrick 1tp

Another Tent Show.

Just as The Brand goes to press, to the surprise of every body and more so to the newspaper men, for they are supposed to know when a show is coming to town, a force of tent men are raising, on the vacant lot across the street from the office, a big canvass. It may be a circus in disguise or it may be a dog and pony affair, can't say, but it's there just the same.

We have several residence properties for sale. The prices are right J. P. Snyder Land Co.

THE BREEZE

Hereford College Monthly Comes from Press Deserving Name.

"The Breeze," the monthly student publication of Hereford College, has just come from the press of The Brand and a glance at the contents will carry conviction that the magazine deserves well the name. Up to this year the publication has been a quarterly, but the management thought a more often appearing College journal would better serve the desired ends. This number begins volume IV, date October, 1908. The caption gives the following staff and officers: Editorial Staff: Mate Hunt, Ottis Parks, Bertha Dameron and Ina Gregg; managing editor, Stonewall Brown. The cover page contains a short sketch from the facile pen of that renowned Democratic poet, Walt Whitman, which reads:

I am not sure but the Prairies and Plains while less stunning at first sight, last longer, fill the esthetic sense fuller, precede all the rest and make North America's characteristic landscape—what most impressed me, and will longest remain with me, are these same Prairies—even their simplest statistics are sublime.

—WALT WHITMAN.

The salutatory speaks for itself: In writing a salutation, two things impress one—there must always be an absence of that infinitely expressive commutation which the eye and hand give and take and which the mere type-spirit can never furnish, then, as a recompense we have in this way a method of greeting so many whom it would be impossible for us to speak to in any other way. "The Breeze" offers a greeting to everybody. We could be no less sweeping and be worthy of the name. So in order to be consistent we greet you whether you would or no.

Editorially "The Breeze" is Democratic but non-partisan; religious, but non-sectarian. A short line recites, "Hereford College is thirty-eight hundred feet above the sea"; and it must be supposed that such an altitude would warrant the expectation of a BREEZE. The contents of this number is well worth the reading. A discussion of American Literature of the Far West by "Stonewall"; A College Story by Miss Ina Gregg; An Epitome of the Life of Queen Mary by Bertha Dameron; an original poem, news items of local interest and last, but not least, Robert Burns' "Highland Mary," a poem.

A KENTUCKYIAN ON PLAINS

Opens Big Farm of Two Thousand Acres. Sows Nearly Thousand Acres of Wheat.

When W. M. Linville of Scuffletown, Kentucky, arrived in Hereford last summer with his equipment to open a two-thousand-acre farm on the Plains of Texas, an account of which appeared in the columns of The Brand, little did his neighbors, either in Texas or in the old blue grass state, think that he would accomplish what he has in the short time of a few months. His outfit consisted of a number of good Kentucky mules and horses, plows, harrows and other farm machinery and a big 40-horse steam plow with the necessary attachments. He arrived here on May 26, 1908. On October 22, the Linville farm, which a few weeks before was a vast stretch of virgin prairie, never touched by the plow shear, looked like the work of magic. The good farm houses, the big barns, fences and other improvements, and the one thousand acres of turned land, made this wonderful change. Eight hundred and forty acres of wheat have been sown. The first drill was started on September 22 and the big field was finished on October 22. The ground has been thoroughly prepared and as far as possible put in shape for a good seed bed. Six hundred acres was plowed with the steam plow, the remainder being done by horse plows. The sod was first turned, then packed with a Campbell subsurface packer, followed by a heavy harrow, double disced and finally worked down with a four-horse drag. After this was finished the drills were started, putting 374 pounds of seed wheat to the acre for the first sowing and increasing the amount up to 45 pounds when the field of 840 acres was finished.

Mr. Linville was in Hereford the other day on his way back to Kentucky and stated to a Brand representative that he would begin at once to turn 1000 acres for a mammoth feed crop to be planted next spring. This will be put to kaffir, maize, spring oats and Indian corn. While in Kentucky, he will look after the gathering of 800 acres of Indian corn and as soon as stored and partly disposed of, he will begin to make preparations to move his family to Hereford and expects to arrive here about the first of the new year.

Thus this Kentucky farmer has in a few months opened one of the largest single farms in Deaf Smith county. His farm is located about 14 miles northwest of Hereford.

Medicos Meet.

The Deaf Smith-Randall-Castro County Medical Society will meet at Dr. A. L. Taylor's office in this city Tuesday, November 10. This is the regular time of meeting of the association and a full attendance is expected.

J. W. HICKS, M. D.
Secretary.

Business Men's Prayer Meeting.

The Business Men's Prayer service which has been meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall Sunday afternoons was largely attended last Sunday, every chair in the Hall being occupied. B.H. Smith was leader. The exercises consisted of Bible readings, songs and prayers. A large number made short talks. Messrs Parker, Landrum, Garrison, Black, Suggs, Jones, Harrison, Hawkins, Crawford, Roberts, English, Stroud, Cockren, Wilson, Palmer, Johnson and others were among those who commented upon the scripture readings. Several others read selections without comment.

A motion was made to purchase more chairs and a committee constituted for that purpose.

These meetings are purely volunteer and non-sectarian, the different churches of the city being about equally represented. While no effort is made to exhort, one man went forward and signified an interest in the prayers of the Christians. The discussions are on the line of right living in the business life and better fellowship among men. If you have not attended one of these meetings, a visit there will interest you. You will receive a hearty welcome.

Hallowe'en Festivities.

Hereford citizens were nearly scared out of their wits Saturday night by the hundred or more spooks and goblins who went jibbering and shrieking along the streets of the city. Large numbers were gathered in different parts of town. At the College the sheeted ghosts seem to be quite numerous, but the College management profited by their untimely and nightly visits. In some way the spooks bethought to carry many large pumpkins to frighten the children of men along the way, by making them into Jack o'lanterns. The spirits could be seen scampering around the campus, in the house and even into the garret. Many a belated homeward-bound citizen lost his head in passing that way. The next morning the president of the College and professors gathered up the fragments and thus secured enough pumpkins to feed the College cow during the winter.

Whether this was the ulterior intention of the management or not Mr. Shirley says that the College cow will be well feed from now on at least. He also reports a good way to keep off ghosts, if you want them kept away.

Republican Candidate Gets Safe Majority of Electoral Votes.

New York, Nov. 4.—William Howard Taft of Ohio, Republican, has been elected twenty-seventh president of the United States and James Schoolcraft Sherman of New York has been chosen vice president. This is the outcome of one of the most remarkable political campaigns in the history of the republic.

William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, Democratic candidate went down to the third defeat of his life's ambition to occupy the White House. Returns today indicate that Taft will have at least 298 electoral votes and possibly more.

One of the results surpassing the most sanguine hopes of most Republicans was Taft's carrying the greater city of New York by a plurality of 15,645. His plurality in New York State will exceed Roosevelt's big plurality of 1904.

Governor Hughes was re-elected by a plurality estimated early today at above 75,000 over the vote cast for his Democratic opponent, Lieutenant Governor Chanler.

While Greater New York gave Taft more than 15,000, it gave Chanler a margin of 58,843.

With thirty-one United States senators to be elected by the state Legislatures chosen yesterday or earlier in the fall, the Republicans will retain control of both houses of Congress, the precise figures being subject to change, however.

Notice.

Modern Woodmen you are hereby urged to attend the regular meeting of M. W. A. Tuesday evening November 10. Important business of interest to all members will be transacted. Deputy Head Consul will be present.

The Angell's Coming.

Angell's Comedians one of the strongest repertoire will open a weeks engagement at the opera house on Monday, Nov. 9. The following clipping from the Dallas News:

"Dear Old Maryland" a comedy drama of more than ordinary interest, was cleverly presented by Angell's Comedians at the Wilson theatre last night. In spite of a rather warm evening a large house turned out and seemed to greatly enjoy the play which is a fitting rival to "Way Down East" and "York State Folks." "Dear Old Maryland" does not call for a car load of scenery but still was properly staged and exceptionally well played. The Angell's have shown themselves capable of handling anything from comedy to tragedy, in fact, a more versatile company has never been seen here. The Angell's have two good comedians in W. S. Dickinson and Jack Emerson. Violet LeClear as the little country girl was charming and her specialty was more than well received.

C. E. Meadows has returned from a visit to Comanche. Mrs. Meadows will continue her visit until the holidays.

It was a battle royal—but they had the most bullets—ballots.

W. J. BRYAN has done what no other man has ever been able to do —run three times for President and get beat each time.

THE political pot did not boil very much in Hereford but some of the local Taft admirers boiled over when they heard about it.

If you did not get the president
you wanted, take the one the others elected and each of you will have as good a president as the other.

The Defeated Candidate.

Behold the day of election is past,
the lots have been drawn, the tale is told and the cry of the defeated candidiate is heard in the land.

Hitherto he vaunth himself saying to the multitude, "wager thou each man his own coin on me, for I say unto you I am a sure winner."

He exalteth himself before his own household and sayeth unto the wife of his own bosom, "Behold, I will lay out mine opponent as one who is a dead corpse and we will have the spoils of office and thou shalt wear jewels and outshine all the females in the land."

And they counted their chickens before they were hatched. But, behold, when the votes are all counted he findeth himself in the sand and forthwith all the vanity which was in him straightway departed out of him; he hangeth his head and walk-eth home into his own house in humility and dodgeth his wife. And the next day he riseth up even before the dawn and mourneth over his depleted purse and heareth anathemas upon those who hath despoiled him of his shekels and beguiled him with promises, and delivered not the goods.

He declareth that truth hath departed from among men and from off the face of the earth; he repeateth
the words of the wise man of old,
even Solomon's saying: "All men are liars." He turneth his wrath upon himself, he beateth himself with many stripes, he teareth the hair of his head and plucketh the hair of his beard out, even by the roots thereof, for, that he is an ass and putteth faith in the promises of those who casteth ballots into the box, and putteth the bottle to his neighbors mouth and payeth good coin for their influence, which is nit.
The angel of peace having departed from his own house, he goeth forth among his erstwhile friends, but they comfort him not, but revile him saying: "Go to thunder—thou art a slow coach and a dead cock in the pit. We wagered our money on thee and thou didst fall down in the race."
And then he went his way to an uninhabited place and rent his garments and tore up the ground and swore a mighty oath saying: "If I ever run for office again, may I be everlastingly dinged."

But when two winters hath passed and the time is ripe for another cam-

the ground and reach up saying:
"Lo, my people call me," and he forgetteth the oath with which he hath bound his soul, and declareth himself a candidate and again putteth
the bottle to his neighbor's mouth and maketh himself bow-legged bearing gifts to those who hath not even poll tax receipts in the pockets of their vestments, and again he is run over by the band wagon and the pole of his opponent knocketh the pesimmon.

Nels Darling.

The second number of the lyceum course for Hereford at the opera house last night was not in the least a disappointment. While lyceum courses often have a monotonous sameness about them, on account of which "high pressure" sales of tickets must be made, the entertainment by Hon. Nels Darling of Oklahoma was different, and those who held tickets went away feeling fully paid for their money and time. Mr.
Darling is a daisy, a whole show by himself—a street parade, a side-show, a main three-ring circus and na after-performance concert. For nearly two hours, he pleased and delighted a fair-sized audience with his impersonations, his character sketches and narrations. There was something about the man that kept you watching his every movement.

At about 8:30, after the band with
"On the Frontier" had given a street musical and had been followed off to the big theatre tent by a large crowd,
the lyceum audience settled itself and the curtain went up. Mr. G. A.
F. Parker, president of the Western National Bank introduced Mr. Darling, saying: "Ladies and gentlemen, tonight we will have the second number of our lyceum course. I would make you a speech but as I feel unprepared for the occasion, I will introduce to you a gentleman who is both willing and well prepared
—Mr. Nels Darling of Oklahoma."

It proved to be just as Mr. Parker stated. Mr. Darling began by giving a little of his own life and how he came to be on the circuit of a lyceum course. "It's just a diversion, a respite from the grind of an active business life," he said. He then launched out into the impersonations and story telling, and the evening was soon passed. After the entertainment several from the audience went forward and made his acquaintance and expressed their appreciation of his presence.

A Week of Enjoyment.

On Monday November 9, Angell's Comedians, the banner theatrical company of the west, will open a week's engagement at the Opera House in a repertorie of new plays and nature specialties. The opening bill will be "Hearts and Flowers"
a true story of life in the sunny south. The costumes play an important part in a dressy play of this kind and they are guaranteed to be the finest ever worn in our city. No pains will be spared to make this the banner event of the season and large crowds are looked for all the week.

Read in this column how the Fifth Grade made its money on Library Day.

It may be interesting to know that the Vestals were the most interesting personages of the old Roman world. They were only six in number and of a great variety in age, a child under ten years being always chosen to fill a vacancy caused by the death or by the retirement of a priestess, which was obligatory, at the age of forty. These virgin priestesses, like the Nuns of the Roman Catholic Church took a vow of chastity, but of poverty and obedience they knew comparatively nothing. No woman in Rome enjoyed such independence as the Vestal Virgins. They were allowed to drive in the streets of Rome, while other ladies were conveyed in sedan chairs, and when they thus appeared in public, a lictor made the crowd fall back to let them pass. In the places of amusement not only were the choicest seats reserved for them, but by a decree of the Senate, the Empress, when in public was obliged to sit with them. Such was the reverence felt for them that if a condemned criminal, on his way to execution, met a Vestal he was immediately set at liberty. A Vestal whose neglect allowed the sacred fire to be extinguished was liable to be scourged; and any priestess guilty of unchastity received the awful punishment of being buried alive.

The following are the amounts contributed and collected by the higher grades on Library Day, November 3rd.

- 11th Grade $23.90.
- 10th Grade $3.85.
- 9th Grade $4.80.
- 8th Grade $4.70.
- 7th Grade $3.05.
- 6th Grade $9.05.
- 5th Grade $16.15.
- Grand total $55.50.

John Doak of the Senior Class spent Saturday and Sunday in Texico with home folks.

Miss Millie Thompson of the 9th Grade will leave in a few days for some point in Oklahoma, where with her parents they will reside in the future.

HOW THE FIFTH GRADE HELPED THE LIBRARY.

By Mamie Feemster, aged 12.

The public school at Hereford has a small library and we are trying to get a larger one. We had Library Day to try and raise as much money as we could. We were given a half holiday to work in.

The fifth grade earned their money in many ways. One of the girls sold postal cards to the neighbors. Some of them made candy and sold it. Others made money by taking care of baby, sweeping house, dusting clothes, ironing for mother and selling popcorn and pumpkins.

One boy earned his money by keeping his waist clean a week. One boy sold horned frogs to a northern man who had never seen any. Another by sweeping the Odd Fellows' Hall. And others by selling flowers, pigeons, sacks; cleaning yard and tending to stock.

We all worked hard and earned sixteen dollars. I think we will get great benefit from our work because it will make us love our school better. Besides the pleasure of reading the good books and seeing the nice library we will have in our new school.

Chalmers-Detroit "30"

1909 Models Ready Touring Cars, Touring Trucks, Roadsters

"It's a Good Car"

No doubt other 4-cylinder cars will be offered around $1,500. It remains for you to compare them. Here is one that has two years start of all others. It is not a makeshift—not an experiment.

This one has behind it all the reputation—all the skill and experience—we gained in making that incomparable car—the Thomas-Detroit 40.

The car combines the best foreign features with the best American. Yet it copies neither foreign or American.

A high-grade 4-cyl., five-passenger, 24-30 h.-p. car, made by the makers of the Thomas-Detroit Forty.

The Chalmers-Detroit '30' seats five comfortably, has a 110 inch wheel base and it weighs 2,000 pounds. Painting and upholstering are high grade. The motor develops 24-30 h.-p., sufficient to drive the car 40 to 50 miles per hour. The three-quarter elliptic springs, as used on the best foreign cars, give perfect comfort in riding. A car you can take pride in.

Compare it with rival cars—with any car costing up to $2,000. We are willing to abide by your judgment.

Price $1,600, with lamps, horn and tools, F. O. B. Hereford, Texas.

REED-DAVIDSON.

Mr. Dudley Reed of Amarillo and Miss Kate Davidson of this city were quietly married at the residence of the bride's uncle Mr. Ross, at 10:30 Sunday morning, Nov. 1. Rev. W. M. Baker of the Presbyterian church was the officiating minister. Only the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The bridal party and guests attended the 11 o'clock church services and at the noon hour returned to the Ross house where a wedding dinner had been prepared for them.

The bride is a young lady of lovable disposition and many admirable traits of character. She will no doubt prove a true helpmeet to her husband who is a young man altogether worthy of a noble wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed left Sunday on the 2:20 p. m. train for Canyon City where they will pay a short visit to Mr. Reed's parents, after which they will go to Amarillo, their future home.

Mrs. Givens very pleasantly entertained a crowd of young boys and girls with the usual Halloween games at her home on the evening of October 31. The young people report a jolly good time.

CLUB NOTES.

Some of the ladies of this city have recently organized a new club, the name of which is "The Ladies' Development Club." The purpose of the club is to be—a "help one another" circle. Just what lines of work will be pressed is not fully decided upon. The following officers were elected at a recent meeting: Mrs. L. Gough president; Mrs.

R. N. Mounts 1st vice president; Mrs. C. W. Warren 2nd vice president; Mrs. Owens secretary; Mrs. T. E. Shirley treasurer. The membership is limited to thirteen ladies and they are to meet on Friday afternoon. At least one thing can be said about this new organization and that is its members are not superstitious. With such a courageous band a club will surely thrive from which mutual benefit will be derived.

The Monday afternoon club ladies enjoyed some of the most entertaining programs the club members have ever been privileged to hear since their organization, the occasion being Shakespearean musical day, with Mrs. Parker as hostess. The musical faculty of Hereford Christian College with the assistance of Miss Potter who has recently moved to our city furnished musical numbers. It was indeed a treat to the lovers of music to hear these accomplished young ladies, the selections so beautifully rendered were highly appreciated by the club ladies.

The following program was carried out:

- Roll Call: Musical quotation from Shakespeare's plays.
- Piano Overture to Merry Wives of Windsor..... Miss Potter
- Song: Hark, hark! the Lark..... Schubert
- Miss Shirley
- Paper: Elizabethan Music and Musicians..... Mrs. B. S. Arnold
- Song: Who is Sylvia?..... Schubert
- Miss Shirley
- Reading: Shakespearean Lyrics..... Mrs. Jarrott
- Violin Solo..... Miss Rattan
- Piano Solo..... Miss Haile
- Contest.....

Mrs. P. W. Price was at home Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 to a number of her lady friends. The house was artistically decorated in pumpkins and lighted with jack-o-lanterns. Most of the ladies present being members of the Shakespeare Study Club, were delighted to be received at the door by the departed spirits of Julius Caesar and Portia, personified by ghastly spooks. Punch was served in the hall from which place each guest departed to one of several little nooks to learn something about her future. In the dining room were a number of slips of paper on which were printed some figures, letters or objects, suggestive of something purchased at a drug store. This proved an interesting little contest and while minds were being taxed the mental energy expended was made to relax when a dainty little luncheon was served by the hostess who was assisted by Mesdames Ashberry and Cardwell. The menu was, first salad served in the most unique little receptacles carved from miniature pumpkins, cheese sandwiches, olives, wafers and coffee club notes.

Mrs. Price on this occasion as on many previous ones, proved herself a most charming hostess. The invited guests were Mesdames Bell, Smith, Cardwell, Asberry, Norris, Arnold, Estock, Elliot, Garrison, Irwin, Jarrott, Lipscomb, Matthews, Parker, Skaton, Snyder, Russell and Collins, Misses Anna Collins and Sudie Bell Warren.

Miss Coffee of Erick, Oklahoma, is the guest of her sister Mrs. Chas. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker are enjoying having with them Mr. Parker's mother.

Mrs. S. B. Hodges who has been the guest of her sister Mrs. T. M. Palmer for ten days, returned to her home at Fredericks, Okla., Wednesday.

Invitations were issued on last Friday to a number of young people and young married people of this city by Misses Collins and Gregg, requesting them to be present at the Collins home Saturday evening, Oct. 31. The young ladies were asked to come at twilight alone, dressed as witches, while gentlemen were to come at 8 o'clock attired as spooks. The guests on arriving were ushered into the reception hall, where the most weird surroundings and occupants were awaiting them. The spacious rooms of this ever hospitable home were converted into a number of dens, there being thirteen dens in all. As the spooks arrived they were given cards on which were visit each of these dens. Each ghastly nook contained either a fortune teller or some little novel test by which the eager visitors might learn something of their future. This little tour furnished quite a lot of amusement, but not until a visit was paid the chamber of horrors was the spirit of Halloween fully realized. The cellar had been converted into a cavern and a witch in a most ghastly manner conducted each couple blind-folded into this spooky place. The victims were led over woven wire bed springs through passages from the rafters of which dangled strips of newspapers about their heads to the most horrible of recesses where an introduction to death and the hereafter was received. A lunch suggested by the following menu was served to each guest when the visit to all the dens had been made.

Spook-flesh wafers with gravesod cheese; pickled witch eyes; Satan's staff of life; frozen goblin blood with shredded shroud dressing and frog eyes.

At a very late hour this ghastly band homeward fled, pronouncing

Misses Collins and Gregg's entertainment one of the most delightful affairs of the season.

Mrs. R. N. Mounts left Saturday for a visit to friends in Kansas City, Mo.

The young ladies of the college dormitory were at home to a number of their friends on the evening of Halloween. As the ghosts arrived they were received in the hall by two spooks as hostess. The rooms were lighted with pumpkin jack-o-lanterns and candles, and after a few moments spent in the parlor in muffled conversation a ghost conducted each spook guest upstairs to the chamber of horrors and from that place up another stairway backwards to the attic where a number of contests were engaged in disclosing the present, past and future. The dining room was artistically and appropriately decorated, and at the usual hour a lunch consisting in pumpkin pie, buttermilk, fruit and candy was served in that room. The dormitory has been the scene of many happy events, none of which however, have been more enjoyable than this party.
