The pessimists who fear the increas ed cotton acreage on the Plains and else where may bring prices tumbling down in 1924 may be interested in the following summary of cotton conditions as given in the "Boston News Bureau," big financial daily, under date of

"Cotton statistics show there is not enough staple to permit American mills to run at anything like top speed until a new crop is ready. This is a situation unparalleled since the Civil War. Naturally all factors in the trade have been moving cautiously under such conditions. Since last spring orders for cloth and yarn have been reduced to Many Farmers Have Not Yet immediate needs and rush shipment requested. Were the railroads not functioning so smoothly, this procedure would not be possible.

"The progress of the new crop, now being planted, is assuming more vital importance than ever before. Unless three banks, drug stores and grocery a real bumper production is realized, stores, asking the farmers to list their supply for another year will be still in names, addresses and cotton acreage

The United States Department of Agriculture's Live Stock report of date planted in this territory this year. of April 1 contains the following interesting summary of the sheep and lamb situation :

or from $5.50 to $6.00 per head. Shearing is getting well started with the quality of wool exceptionally good. Reports indicate that wool is being contracted at around 40 to 45 cents for short and 45 to 55 for 12-months clip. Durnig the past three years the U. S. imported 271,661,000 pounds of wool more than it produced, the excess amounting to 122,234,000 pounds in 1923."

This paper has long maintained that advertising for banks is as important to them as it is to any other business. The Hereford banks have all steadily subscribed to this view by taking regular space with The Brand for many years. The correctness of this view seems to be established in the advertising campaign now being formulated by Texas bankers in an effort to bring out a better relationship between our farmers and our banking institu-

We know of no movement inaugurated by the bankers of Texas, within their history, that will have such farreaching effect as this campaign. There is no disposition among banks not to advertise, but it seems that their efforts have not been concerted.

The messages to be run in this campaign will surely give a better understanding of the banks' functions, their true relations to the community, and will give a clearer idea of their usefulness in the promotion of better agricultural conditions, as well as a more orderly marketing of crops.

Finally this method of advertising will coordinate and strengthen all local advertising done by the banks. We consider this movement another step forward.

Two appeals from the pulpit have prought two pigs and a dozen hens as gifts from Hereford people to the new Presbyterian Home for Children at Amarillo, says the Rev. J. R. Sharp, pastor of the local Presbyterian church.

Recently the authorities at the Home sent out a call for donations of any kind and Rev. Sharp told his audience about it the following Sunday. Immediately thereafter the hens and one pig were brought in by members of his congregation. The following Sunday he reported results and another pig was the result. JUMBO DISTRICT FINAL-LY SECURES MAIL SERVICE

IS 50 MILES LONG

And Will Serve Over One Hundred Homes. Starts On June 16th

One new rural postal route out of Hereford has been authorized by the department at Washington and two more are in prospect, according to advices received here this week. Postmaster John A . Wear has been authorized to establish service over a fiftymile route taking in the Jumbo territory to the southeast, effective June 16, and pressure is being brought to bear to put through two other routes, one to southwest, which is being engineered by Channey Tice, and the other to the northwest, taking in portions of 25-Mile Avenue and as far out as the Mecaskey ranch.

The work of putting over the Jumbo route, which will be known as "Motor route A," has been handled by L. Baskin of Hereford, through Congressman Marvin Jones. Mr. Baskin has had volumnious correspondence with Mr. Jones and the department in the past concerning this route, and is highly clated over the outcome of his efforts. Mr. Jones this week sent Mr. Baskin the following letter addressed to the Congressman by the Postoffice Depart-

"In response to your letter of April with which you transmitted the inlosed communication from Mr. L. Baskin of Hereford, Texas, I take pleasure in notifying you of the authoriztion of motor rural route A, Hereford, effective June 16, 1924.

will afford improved mail facilities to approximately 90 families. The route has been authorized with the understanding that three hon-automatic gates which obstruct the line of travel on land owned by Mr. C. C. Slaughter will be either removed or made automatic, and the postmaster has been instructed not to place the service in operation until this requirement is met. "The petition in this case contains he names of Messrs. R. W. Baird, John Deceker, J. F. Hacker and others."

This route will serve over 100 familes and has long been sorely needed. The Department advises Postmaster Wear that an examination for carrier will probably be held in time to supply a man for the place, but that if such a man is not appointed by June 16, Mr. Wear is to select a suitable man as temporary carrier and establish the service just the same. It will be a triweekly service, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Mr. Wear calls attention of all people along the proposed route to the necessity for providing themselves with letter boxes. He will be glad to supply necessary information concerning them.

The official route of the new carrier is described as follows: From Postoffice southeast to corner of town sec tion; east five miles, south one mile to Wyche school, east to Bradly's, south two, west three, north one, west one to Bridges, south two, west one, south two, east four to Baird's, south to Grant's west one, north one, west three to Thompson's north two, west one half, north one, west a half, north five to Seed's, west one, north one, west one to Sprigg's, north one to corner town sec tion, thence northwest to postoffice; --- "More People-More Farms"

Signals of Service

You've noticed the lines of telephone and electric light poles as you speeded by on trains or in automobiles. These power and communication lines which stretch along the roads, streets, and alleys are the outward signs of the little-seen service you so greatly depend upon to make your home and business what it is today.

Holes alone represent a big investment in your behalf. Placed end to end the holes dug for telephone, electric light, and trolley poles would make a tube reaching to a distant planet.

Then there are the cross arms, the wires, the insulators. Add to these visible signals of electricity, the expensive intricate plant equipment that is back of the button and the total investment reaches a mighty big figure. Public utility plants in Texas represent a cost of more than five hundred million dollars. Yet the cost to the average family for utility service is but about four per cent of its income It is insignificant compared with the value received and the investment involved.

You Pay for a De Laval Whether You Buy One or Not

If you are using a worn-out, inferior cream separator, or skimming cream by hand, you are surely wasting enough cream to pay for a De Laval in a

The selection of a cream separator is more important than that of any other machine on the farm, for none other can either save or waste so much, twice a day, 365 days a year.

A De Laval Separator will: -Skim cleaner for many more years than any other;

-Skim milk clean at lower temperature than any other separator; -Deliver a higher testing cream, which is more acceptable to the creamery, and easier and less costly to ship; -And deliver a cream which will make better butter

Do not be deceived by separators which are claimed to be "just as good and cost less." When you consider its greater savings, greater reliability, longer life, the extra time it saves, and the greater satisfaction it gives, the De Laval is, in the end, by far the most economical.
