Mrs. Hudson, who is a housewife, and her husband have five children. They include Ocie Carl Hudson of Berkley, Calif., Walter Hudson of Friona, Stan Hudson of Brownfield, Lorraine Moya of Spring and Katie Hudson of Amarillo. Stan and his wife, Julie, have four sons.

Mr. Hudson is retired from his lifelong occupation in farming, ranching and trucking. The couple hold membership in the Avenue Baptist Church and the American Legion.

DECATUR, Ala. (AP) - Country singer Razy Bailey says his wife's suicide last month left him devastated and searching for inspiration.

"She was my center of everything," he said.

Police found Sandra Bailey, 51, dead in her home on April 18. She had shot herself with a gun Bailey gave her for protection.

In an interview in Monday's Decatur Daily, Bailey said his wife had been struggling with alcoholism, and he believes she is at peace now.

"She's better off," he said. "That makes me able to accept it."

The couple moved to Decatur last year, hoping for a new start. Now, Bailey said he plans to move back to Nashville. The 54-year-old said he can't stay inside the house for long periods, and he can't write songs.

Cure for high cost of care?

The major problem with health care in this country, many economists say is not that it costs too much, it's that we spend too much.

There's no incentive, the experts explain, for anyone to hold down spending or to shop around when non-emergency treatment is needed because of third party payments. That is, because most people know the insurance company will cover their health care costs, they don't do anything to keep those costs down.

Studies discovered the more people paid toward their own health care, such as through higher deductibles and co-payments, the less medical spending they do, without any adverse effect on their health.

One way to improve the situation, without it costing you more, may be with Medical Savings Accounts. They would redistribute the money you and your employer are currently spending on health care. Instead of sending it all off to the insurance company about a third would go to buy you a catastrophic health insurance policy with a two or three thousand dollar deductible. The rest would go into a tax-free fund from which you would pay routine medical bills yourself. If you choose to do that right off it saves a lot of administrative costs.

There is no duty we so much underrate as the duty of being happy.

French Open in 3rd round; Lendl only seed eliminated

PARIS (AP) - Richard Krajicek routed Olympic champion Marc Rosset in a battle of strong servers today, leading a group of seeds into the third round of the French Open.

Krajicek, the 12th seed from the Netherlands, beat Rosset of Switzerland 6-2, 6-3, 6-1. Rosset, who won the gold medal on Barcelona's clay courts last year, has failed to get past the second round of the French Open in four tries.

In women's second-round matches, fourth-seeded Conchita Martinez of Spain beat American Ginger Helgeson 7-5, 6-2 and 12th-seeded Mary Pierce of France defeated Rachel McQuillan of Australia 6-4, 6-0.

Eighth-seeded Anke Huber of Germany had one of the toughest matches so far for a women's seed, beating American Lori McNeil 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

Seventh-seeded Ivan Lendl was the only seed eliminated in the first round, dropping a four-set match to little-known Frenchman Stephane Huet. Huet had qualified for only one previous pro tour event, and promptly lost his first match to Croatia's Goran Prpic.

But on Tuesday, Huet overcame a bout of nerves and ousted Lendl, a three-time French Open champion, 3-6, 7-5, 6-0, 7-6 (7-2).

"The idea of playing him was magic," the 22-year-old Huet said. "During the first four games, I was very tense. ... When I won the second set, I thought I really had a chance."

Lendl, at 33 the oldest player in the field, also lost in the first round of this year's Australian Open. He complained of a sore right foot and wasn't sure if he'd play in Wimbledon next month.

The top women in action Tuesday - third-seeded Gabriela Sabatini, fifth-seeded Mary-Joe Fernandez and sixth-seeded Jennifer Capriati - advanced with ease, none losing more than three games in a set.

The two favorites, Jim Courier and Steffi Graf, faced what appeared to be easy second-round matches today, Courier against 84th-ranked Tomas Carbonell of Spain and Graf against 100th-ranked Andrea Strnadova of the Czech Republic.

A&M expected to suspend two more football players

HOUSTON (AP) - Texas A&M officials have refused to confirm or deny reports that two more football players would be suspended for accepting illegal payments from a prominent booster.

Aggies coach R.C. Slocum planned to announce the suspensions of linebacker Jesse Cox and wide receiver Brian Mitchell today at the Southwest Conference spring meetings in San Antonio, Houston television station KRIV reported Tuesday. The station cited anonymous sources.

Texas A&M sports information director Alan Cannon late Tuesday night would say only that Slocum planned to discuss alleged NCAA rules violations with reporters on Wednesday.

"I was not made aware of any names," Cannon said. "I think he's going to be pretty frank about what is going on. All I was told is that it was dealing with the NCAA matter."

Slocum did not return telephone calls from The Associated Press Tuesday night.

Four Aggies, including starting running back Greg Hill, were suspended on Dec. 26 and declared ineligible for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl against Notre Dame.

After an internal investigation, school officials confirmed that two of the players had accepted payments from A&M booster Warren Gilbert for summer jobs in Dallas while they were attending summer classes in College Station, some 200 miles away.

Also suspended were wide receiver Percy Singleton and offensive linemen James Brooks and Darius Smith.

Knicks take 2-0 lead

NEW YORK (AP) - In the NBA version of Beauty and the Beast, the beast is winning.

The New York Knicks, who personify power and aggression, have taken a 2-0 lead in the Eastern Conference finals over the Chicago Bulls, who are defined by the grace and athleticism of Michael Jordan and Scottie Pippen.

"It's outrageous," Bulls coach Phil Jackson said Tuesday night after his team lost Game 2 of the best-of-7 series 96-91. "It's not a wrestling match, it's basketball. It makes anybody angry that likes basketball, a game of movement and beauty. It's irritating."

The Knicks have harassed Jordan into a shooting slump, pounded the Bulls on the boards and frustrated the normally placid Pippen so much he got kicked out in the fourth quarter Tuesday night for throwing the ball at an official.

New York guard Greg Anthony got ejected a few minutes later for a flagrant foul on Jordan, who was still fuming about the play after the game.

"If I ever catch him outside, I'll pay my dues to him," Jordan said.

"It was totally uncalled for," Jordan scored 36 points, but missed 20 of 32 shots and had two consecutive shots blocked in the second period. He is shooting 37 percent in the series, including a miserable 28 percent in the second half.

"I've had to take some tough shots, especially down the stretch," Jordan explained. "I've been missing them, but I'm going to keep taking them."

While Jordan continued to struggle, the Knicks continued to do what they do best - bang bodies, swarm shooters and feed off the frenzy of another sellout crowd at Madison Square Garden, where they have won 27 in a row.

"We have elevated our game to another level," said Knicks center Patrick Ewing, who had 26 points and 10 rebounds. "Now we have to stay at this level to win the championship."

While the Bulls are relying almost exclusively on Jordan and Pippen, the Knicks are displaying an impressive arsenal of offensive and defensive weapons. All five New York starters scored in double figures in Game 2, and Charles Oakley's 16 rebounds helped the Knicks gain a 45-34 advantage on the boards. New York has outrebounded Chicago 93-62 in the first two games.

Knicks guard Doc Rivers, who grew up near Chicago, knows it won't be easy winning the next two games at raucous Chicago Stadium on Saturday and Monday.

"It's like playing basketball in a subway," said Rivers, who scored 21 points and was 3 for 3 from long range in Game 2. "And when you're behind, the trains make a lot of noise."

Knicks fans made a lot of noise in the third quarter, when New York outscored Chicago 28-14 to take a 77-63 lead. But after Pippen was ejected with 7:34 remaining and the Bulls trailing by 12, Chicago rallied and closed to 93-91 when Bill Cartwright made one of two free throws with 15 seconds left.

But Oakley made 3 of 4 free throws in the final 12 seconds to keep New York in front.

Knicks coach Pat Riley said his team's stifling defense in the third quarter was the key.

"We contested most of their shots," he said. "We just didn't give them any good looks at the basket."

Molitor sparks streaking Jays; Conseco homers in Texas win

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer
Last year, the Milwaukee Brewers managed to cling close to the Toronto Blue Jays all season. This year, the Blue Jays are streaking and the Brewers are slumping.

The difference? Probably Paul Molitor. Molitor, who left Milwaukee last winter and signed with Toronto as a free agent, got two hits and scored twice Tuesday night in leading the Blue Jays past the Brewers 4-2 for their sixth straight victory.

Molitor leads the AL with 62 hits and 36 runs scored, and is batting .339 for the fast-rising Blue Jays. The Brewers, meanwhile, are six games under .500 for the first time since Sept. 18, 1991.

In other games, Oakland defeated Minnesota 3-1, New York beat Baltimore 1-0, Detroit defeated Boston 4-1, Texas topped Cleveland 5-1, Kansas City beat Chicago 3-2 and California stopped Seattle 6-3.

Joe Carter drove in three runs as the Blue Jays won at the SkyDome. He hit a two-run double in the first inning and added an RBI single in the eighth.

Royals 3, White Sox 2

Wally Joyner homered in the fifth inning and doubled home the go-ahead run in the ninth, lifting Kansas City over Chicago at Comiskey Park.

Felix Jose led off the ninth with an infield single off Jack McDowell

(7-3) and Brian McRae sacrificed. After an intentional walk to George Brett, Joyner doubled down the right-field line.

Rangers 5, Indians 1

Jose Conseco hit a solo home run for his first RBI in a week, and Texas won at Cleveland.

Charlie Leibrandt (5-2) scattered eight hits in his first complete game. He struck out five and walked two in improving to 4-0 on the road. Dennis Cook (3-2) was the loser.

Angels 6, Mariners 3

Chuck Finley defeated Seattle for the seventh straight time as California won at the Kingdome.

Finley (4-4) is 10-3 lifetime against the Mariners. He gave up seven hits in 6 2-3 innings and Steve Frey pitched the ninth for his third save.

Tigers 4, Red Sox 1

David Wells came within two outs of pitching Detroit's first complete game of the season, beating Boston at Tiger Stadium.

Cecil Fielder hit his ninth home run in the fourth inning off Frank Viola (4-4).

Yankees 1, Orioles 0

Bob Wickman held Baltimore hitless for 6 1-3 innings and pitched New York past the Orioles at Yankee Stadium.

Pat Kelly provided the only run with a homer with one out in the fifth. Jamie Moyer (0-2) has lost 10 straight decisions, including two starts after being promoted from the minors last week, since his last victory in the majors in 1990.

Athletics 3, Twins 1

Rickey Henderson hit a leadoff home run in the first inning for the 56th time, extending his major league record.

Lance Blankenship robbed Kirby Puckett of a two-run homer in the third inning by reaching over the center-field fence at the Coliseum.

Volleyball champions

Reds, fans angry over slump, Perez firing; Astros lose again

By The Associated Press
It wasn't another loss that made the Cincinnati Reds mad.

The Reds and their fans are still very angry that Tony Perez was fired as the manager after only 44 games.

Cincinnati stayed in their slump under new manager Davey Johnson as unbeaten Tom Glavine pitched seven strong innings Tuesday night to help give the Atlanta Braves a 5-0 victory at Riverfront Stadium.

The Reds lost for the seventh time in eight games by following their pattern of sloppy play - an error and a bases-loaded walk set up Atlanta's go-ahead runs in the seventh off Bobby Ayala (0-2).

"Davey Johnson is just like Tony Perez - he doesn't hit the ball, he doesn't pitch the ball, he doesn't make errors," shortstop Barry Larkin said. "It's not the manager's fault. It's the players out there."

Glavine (7-0), off to the best start of his career, held the Reds to five hits in seven innings.

Elsewhere in the NL, it was San Francisco 5, Chicago 4; Montreal 4, St. Louis 2; Philadelphia 4, New York 2; Pittsburgh 2, Florida 0; Colorado 7, Houston 5; and Los Angeles 10, San Diego 9 in 10 innings.

Phillies 4, Mets 2
Curt Schilling (6-1) pitched a seven-hitter for his sixth victory and fourth complete game as Philadelphia beat visiting New York.

Schilling (6-1) struck out five and walked one.

Philadelphia got all its runs off loser Pete Schourek (2-5), who worked four-plus innings and gave up four hits.

Dodgers 10, Padres 9 (10th inning)

Los Angeles matched its longest winning streak since 1986 with its eighth straight victory, as Lenny Harris hit a two-out, run-scoring single in the 10th inning. The Dodgers, who haven't had a longer winning streak since a 10-game stretch in 1980, lifted themselves

Rockies 7, Astros 5

Pinch-hitter Jim Tatum's two-run, tie-breaking double in the eighth inning helped Colorado beat Houston at the Astrodome.

Gary Wayne (2-2) got the victory without retiring a batter. He entered the game with two outs in the seventh inning and retired the side when Steve Finley was caught stealing. Andy Ashby got the last three outs for his first save.

With the score 5-5, Jerald Clark opened the eighth off Xavier Hernandez (2-1) with a single. Clark moved to second on a wild pitch before Nelson Liriano walked. A double steal left runners at second and third before Tatum doubled.

Expos 4, Cardinals 2

Lou Frazier drove home the go-ahead run in the eighth inning with a double as Montreal beat St. Louis at Olympic Stadium.

Delino DeShields led off the eighth with a single against Bob Tewksbury (4-4) and scored when a shot by Frazier hit first base and scooted all the way into the right-field corner. Frazier went to third on the play and scored on a suicide squeeze by Greg Colbrunn.

Pirates 2, Marlins 0

Steve Cooke tossed a four-hitter for his first shutout and doubled in the only runs in the Pirates' victory over Florida at Three Rivers Stadium.

The 23-year-old Cooke (2-2) didn't allow a runner past second base to outduel the 46-year-old Hough (2-5).

Giants 5, Cubs 4

Pinch-hitter Mark Carreon singled home the winning run in a two-run eighth inning at Wrigley Field.

Willie McGee started the rally with a one-out single off Paul Assenmacher. Randy Myers (0-1) retired Royce Clayton on a drive to the center field wall, and Kirt Manwaring doubled into the left-field corner, sending home McGee with the tying run. Carreon then looped a fly ball into right field that Sammy Sosa could not hold on to, sending home Manwaring with the go-ahead run.

such a fluctuating way of picking an MVP."

A nationwide panel of 98 NBA writers and broadcasters gave Barkley 59 first-place votes and 835 to 22 and 647 for Olajuwon. Jordan, who had won three times, including the last two years, got 13 first-place votes, and Ewing received four.

Although Barkley talked as if he would give away the award, others said he was most deserving.

The Suns set a franchise record with 62 victories and are 8-4 in the playoffs, reaching the Western Conference finals for the first time since 1990.

Barkley averaged 25.6 points, 12.2 and a career-high 5.1 assists. The last statistic bore out his contention he could be a complete player on a team with other top players.

Barkley cracks elite circle as league names him MVP

PHOENIX (AP) - Charles Barkley never needs to be told how good he is. On Tuesday, the NBA told him anyway.

He is the league's MVP, beating out the likes of Michael Jordan, Hakeem Olajuwon and Patrick Ewing. He is the first player since 1984 to win the award, other than Larry Bird, Magic Johnson and Jordan.

"I don't think my life can get any better than this," Barkley said.

Barkley, who finished second to Johnson in 1987 MVP vote, said he had to leave the Philadelphia 76ers to have a chance not only at an NBA title but the MVP award.

"I think that's unfair, also," the 6-foot-6 Phoenix forward said. "Look at a guy like Dominique Wilkins. He had a monster year, and his team's just not good enough. It's

Make summer activities fun

Everywhere you look, active Americans are taking advantage of the warm summer weather. From cycling and jogging to golf and tennis, getting in shape and enjoying the outdoors seems to be the focal point of this season. But the one thing people often forget is that preparation is vital to fun and healthy exercising.

Regardless of your sport, it's important to wear apparel that is specific to that activity. It used to be enough simply to wear whites on the tennis court and spikes on the golf course, but with the latest technological breakthroughs, there are a number of new products on the market designed to enhance one's workout and maximize performance.

Even fashion designers are taking hold of this trend and creating apparel to address the needs of this health-conscious generation.

Consider a number of characteristics when selecting the proper attire, such as skirts that comfortably hold three tennis balls and regulation-length golf shorts.

-Socks with added padding in specific areas of the foot to prevent blisters and offer extra comfort;

-Anti-reflective sunglasses that eliminate ghosting and double images for precision sports such as tennis and golf;

-Loose, comfortable activewear that allows you to move freely while drawing moisture away from the body;

-High performance bodywear in fibers of cotton, Lycra and Supplex for maximum movement and breathability.

Finally, with most summer activities occurring outdoors, taking precautions against the environment also is essential. In addition to the proper gear, take along a hat for your head and moisturizer and SPF 15 for your skin. The lightweight formula has been specially designed to help preserve the skin's natural moisture levels and restore its inherent elasticity.

With a little bit of pre-game preparation, you can comfortably concentrate on your activity and put your best foot forward this summer.

A greased spatula will get sticky cookies off the cookie sheet more easily.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Cindy Crawford and Richard Gere reportedly have bought a Georgian-style estate in Bel-Air for just under $5 million.

The 10,000-square-foot home on one acre with rolling lawns was originally built in 1938 but was gutted two years ago and rebuilt.

Rodeo Realty in Beverly Hills handled the sale, the Los Angeles Times reported Sunday, citing unidentified sources.

The former owners added an entertainment center, guest quarters and several bedrooms, the newspaper said.

End-of-the-year party attended by chapter

Members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met recently in the home of Ruby Sanders where transportation was provided by the social committee who chauffeured the group to a surprise location for the chapter's end-of-the-year birthday party.

The women were taken to The Canyon Grill in Canyon which was opened March 22 by former San Diego, Calif. residents, David and Caroline Norris. David is the nephew of XEA member, Ruby Lee.

Kay Williams opened the meeting by leading the group in repeating the opening ritual. Prayer was offered by Charla Edwards.

The meal was served at tables decorated with birthday paper wrapped marigold plants. Members chose for the evening meal either homemade chicken salad served on an avocado half or the half sandwich of turkey accompanied by potato soup. Dessert was homemade cherry cobbler.

Chapter members voted to donate $150 to the Lifeline Program and $150 to the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence. It was also decided to continue giving secret sisters gifts for special occasions.

Member Dona Henrickson announced her status will change to member-at-large.

Appreciation was extended for Mother's Day gifts from Marge Bell, Holly Bixler, Dona Henrickson, Sharon Bodner, Melinda Henson and Ruby Sanders. Kay Williams thanked members for her crystal platter given to her at the previous meeting. Also, Linda Arellano gave her thanks for a birthday gift.

The scrapbook committee presented outgoing president, Kay Williams, with her own scrapbook featuring pictures of club members and activities for 1992-93.

Following the ritual of closing, members exchanged birthday presents and revealed secret sisters. Present were Linda Arellano, Marge Bell, Holly Bixler, Sharon Bodner, Dalene Burns, Denise Hafliker, Deann Harris, Dona Henrickson, Melinda Henson, Peggy Hyer, Carol Kelley, Ruby Lee, Connie Matthews, Brenda Ramey, Gaye Reily, Ruby Sanders, Susan Shaw and Kay Williams.

How to buy real jewelry

Do you know what to look for when you're buying a piece of fine jewelry? Or are you unsure about what you're getting and whether or not you're getting a good value for your money?

According to the New York based Jewelers of America (JA) the national organization that provides consumer information on jewelry, you don't have to be hesitant when selecting the jewelry you've always wanted. Just knowing what to look for makes for a safe and cherished purchase.

Here's some important facts to consider when buying...

-Gold. When buying gold jewelry, always look for a karat mark (18K, 14K, etc.) as well as the manufacturer's trademark stamped alongside of it. This means that the manufacturer whose trademark is stamped on the piece of jewelry is guaranteeing the karat mark. Watch out for jewelry that has only a karat mark and no trademark. It may not be the karatage it says it is.

-Diamonds. The "Four C's" determine the value of a diamond. The "Four C's" stand for Carat (unit that measures weight), Color, Clarity (internal natural imperfections or external surface irregularities) and Cut. Ask your jeweler to explain each of the "Four C's" to you in detail before you buy a diamond. And shop around for similar stones to make sure you're getting a good price.

-Colored Gemstones. The same factors determine the value of colored gemstones-Color (strength and purity are key), Cut, Clarity and Carat Weight.

-Cultured Pearls. Look for a deep lustre and iridescence. Also, look for clear, not dull or muddy, color tones as well as for surface perfection. And, the more symmetrical the shape, the more valuable the pearl.

"When you're shopping for real jewelry, whether it's for yourself or as a gift, you are investing in something valuable and timeless," said JA Chairman Mike Roman. "It's important that you purchase your jewelry from someone who you know and trust, a jeweler who is established in the community and has earned a reputation for integrity, service and reliability."

The Japanese call their country Nippon or Nihon, which means source of the sun.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A transient arrested as he was trying to climb the front gate of an estate owned by Michael Jackson was charged with trespassing.

Everedde McCrimmon, 33, was charged Monday and freed on $250 bail. He could get up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Police arrested McCrimmon on May 1 in the city's Encino section after a motorist spotted him and flagged down officers, Deputy City Attorney Laura Van Eyk said.

Earlier that day, a security guard had detained McCrimmon twice inside the compound and escorted him off the property, Van Eyk said. She said she didn't know whether anyone was home at the time.

McCrimmon didn't say why he was trying to get into the compound or indicate whether he knew it was owned by Jackson, Van Eyk said. Jackson lived at the estate with his family before moving to his Neverland Ranch near Santa Barbara. His parents still live there.

Arthritis, which afflicts some 37 million Americans today, has been around for hundreds of centuries. It has been found in Egyptian mummies and in the bones of cavemen.

What Does A Typical Brand Reader Look Like?

That's difficult to say because you are as different as your substantial number would imply! You are one of the 4,100 households we're invited to every evening. That's quite a few. According to the most recent census, our township has slightly less than 5000 households.

Your vocation is part of a broad spectrum as well -- white collar, blue collar, owners, managers, cowboys, teachers, housewives, students and professional.

Yet, with all your individual complexities, your interest in local issues and news gives you and other readers a common bond which is separated only by your level of curiosity.

You are an informed, intelligent and often vocal audience, and we're happy to be a part of your household every evening!

There's new help for Medicare beneficiaries

BY MARTHA A. MCSTEEN
National Committee
President to Preserve
Social Security

Beginning Jan. 1, 1993, the government expanded a program that pays the monthly Medical Insurance (Part B) premium for low-income Medicare beneficiaries.

The program, called the specified low-income Medicare beneficiary (SLMB) program, will pay the $36.60 Medicare Part B premium for people whose income is slightly more than the national poverty level.

SLMB augments an existing program called the qualified Medicare beneficiary (QMB) program in which states pay the Part A (hospital insurance) and Part B monthly premiums and the deductible and coinsurance amounts for beneficiaries whose income is below the national poverty level and who have very limited resources.

To qualify for Medicare Part B premium help under the SLMB program, an individual must be eligible for the QMB program in all areas except for income. The beneficiary's income can be slightly more than the Federal poverty level--but not more than 110 percent of the annual limit in 1993 and 1994 and not more than 120 percent in 1995.

Only the state can decide if you're eligible for help from either the QMB or SLMB program. So, if your income is low and you're a Medicare beneficiary, contact the State Medicaid office or local social service agency to apply. For more information about either program, call the Health Care Financing Administration's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-638-6833.

You can learn more about issues of special concern to older Americans, including Social Security and Medicare, by joining the National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare, an organization devoted to improving retirement income and health care. Free brochures about the organization and a copy of its magazine are available by writing to: National Committee, 2000 K St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Students honored

Two Hereford High School students netted top honors during the recent Greater Southwest Music Festival conducted in Amarillo. Justin Criner, at left, received a one rating in cello solo competition and Scott Shaw received an outstanding rating for his violin solo.

Living with lung disease

Eating well has special meaning for people with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). COPD is the name doctors give to two related illnesses - emphysema and bronchitis - which affect more than 14 million Americans. Shortness of breath is typical for people with COPD, and eating may be difficult just when good nutrition is the most important.

People with COPD often feel short of breath or weak because they are retaining too much carbon dioxide or because they are not getting enough oxygen. Not eating enough or eating too much of the wrong kinds of foods may add to the problem.

Foods contain three major nutrients - protein, carbohydrate, and fat. The metabolism of each nutrient requires a different amount of oxygen and produces a different amount of carbon dioxide. This means that the amount of carbon dioxide that lungs must get rid of depends on the kinds of foods eaten. The more carbon dioxide that is produced, the harder the lungs have to work.

The metabolism of carbohydrates forms the most carbon dioxide, and fat metabolism forms the least. Since it is sometimes difficult to get the best combination of carbohydrate and fat using regular foods, your doctor or dietitian may recommend adding a medical nutritional product to your diet.

Aerobic exercise subject of program

"Fit and Trim", concerning keeping your body fit by doing aerobic exercise, was the program presented by Kim Buckley of Deaf Smith General Hospital when the Hereford CattleWomen met recently at the Hereford Country Club.

President Lisa Klett presided at the business session and Pam Wagner led the group in prayer.

Secretary Charlene Sanders read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved, and Marty McElhanev advised the group of legislation that was pending concerning the BTU tax that the legislation wants to place on gas.

The organization's theme for this year's Beef for Father's Day project will be "A Tie With Taste." A man's tie will be folded in order to place beef certificates inside as gifts for fathers. The certificates will be for sale June 14-15 at both Hereford State and First National Banks.

It was announced that Pam Wagner will serve as chairperson for the Fajita Cookoff planned June 30 in conjunction with the annual Town 'n' Country Jubilee celebration. A junior division competition was discussed for the cookoff.

The next regular meeting is planned in August.

Members present were Charlene Sanders, Lori Hall, Bonnie Duke, Leslie Easley, Rachael Hunter, Sandy Josseland, Christie Josseland, Marty McElhanev, Erin Alley, Jackie Murphey, Pam Wagner, Karen Sherrod, Brenda Johnson, Linda Fitzgerald, Julia Laing, Linda Gilbert, Connie Banks, Mildred Garrison, Beverly Davis and Lisa Klett.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You recently printed a letter from "Tricked in Quebec," who lost money in a work-at-home scam. You said you'd like to hear from the Better Business Bureau about "putting the crooks out of business."

The Better Business Bureau is not a government agency and cannot put anyone "out of business." We preach "investigate before you invest." The BBB issues millions of reliability reports on businesses and reaches the public through pamphlets, radio, TV and columns, such as ours, warning about scams and how to avoid them.

Work-at-home schemes sucker their victims through ads in respectable newspapers and magazines. We offer our help to publishers to check such ads before publication. Publishers have the power to block such ads, but few do. "Tricked" might have saved his money by checking with us first. More than a quarter million ethical business firms fund BBBs across the United States and Canada so that people like "Tricked" can get information before they do business.

We can't crack down on crooks by ourselves. Your readers can help by resolving never to fall for an offer that seems too good to be true and by checking with the Better Business Bureau.-James H. McIlhenny, president, Council of Better Business Bureaus, Arlington, Va.

DEAR MR. MCLHENNY: Thank you for a superb letter. I received several from heads of BBB around the country but could print only two. Here's the other one:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The BBBs' only "crackdown" tool is giving information. We have no policing or prosecuting powers, nor are our activities mandated by government. We are a public non-profit agency that urges consumers to phone the BBB BEFORE they respond to ads, especially those with postal box addresses only. Ever try to get a refund from a mailbox?

There has been a dramatic increase in schemes, business scams and con games this past year. Here are some top scams of 1992:

1. Jobs that guarantee up to $1,000 a week for working just a few hours a day at home.
2. Contests offering "free" vacations that turn out not to be free.
3. Phony invoices that look authentic but are really solicitations.

CANNES, France (AP) - Millions know them from the zany Monty Python's Flying Circus television series, but Eric Idle says he and John Cleese couldn't revive that spirit in their new movie, "Splitting Heirs."

"You can't be Python, you cannot do Python. It would have been wrong in that film, in that context, to go into something too loony," Idle said at this Riviera beach resort, where "Splitting Heirs" opened last week.

The movie is Idle's first collaboration with Cleese since 1983, when they worked on "Yellowbeard."

That followed Monty Python's "The Meaning of Life," the last film to bring together all six Python cast members: Idle, Cleese, Terry Jones, Michael Palin, Terry Gilliam and Graham Chapman, who died in 1989.

Are they ever going to have a reunion?

"We are, the moment Graham comes back from the dead," Idle says. "We're negotiating with his agent now."

Carees your sentence tenderly; it will end by smiling at you.

4. Advertising that implies "big money" jobs overseas but is really selling listings of little value to the serious job seeker.

5. Look-alike postal notices asking for payment to release unsolicited merchandise held at a ware house in the recipient's name.

6. "Off-shore" lotteries that insinuate you have won when, in fact, you are simply buying tickets.

7. Loan arrangers that charge hefty upfront fees but seldom deliver.

8. Schemes that appear to offer sweepstake prizes but sell merchandise.

9. "Big" prizes which you have to qualify for by buying pens, key chains, calendars, etc., at inflated prices and which seldom are as promised.

10. Solicitations for charities which are really businesses with names easily confused with those of authentic charities.

The fact remains that if it seems too good to be true, it probably is.-Carol Tulk, executive vice president, Better Business Bureau of Mainland British Columbia
