

Brown slips by Butcher in race for sheriff

Joe Brown Jr. scored a close victory over Dean Butcher in the sheriff's race, Bill Bradley won re-election as County Commissioner of Precinct 1 and Troy Don Moore breezed to victory in the Precinct 3 commissioner's race in runoff elections here Saturday.

The Democratic runoff victories are tantamount to election in November for Brown and Bradley, but Moore must face Republican nominee Bill Allen for the Precinct 3 post in the general election.

Brown took 53 percent of the vote in outdistancing Butcher, 2,409 to 2,172. For Brown, the victory makes him the first Mexican-American elected to a Deaf Smith County office. Despite carrying eight of the 12 voting boxes, Butcher lost the election by 237 votes.

Brown, appointed to the office last fall, rolled up big vote margins in Boxes 1 (bull barn), 2 (commissioner's courtroom) and 5 (community center) to get the majority. He also won Box 8 (Walcott school) by a 38-17 count.

Brown's biggest margin came in Box 2, where he won by 219 votes. He carried box 1 by 149 votes.

Although Butcher carried more of the voting boxes, the margins were smaller. He won box 127 (La Plata) by 59 votes, took Box 10 (Wildorado) by 52-0, and carried Box 7 (Dawn) by a 60-9 count. Butcher also had a slight edge in the absentee voting box. (See precinct voting box results on Page 2)

The sheriff's race had been hotly contested, with both Brown and former chief deputy Butcher receiving endorsements from a number of elected officials and law enforcement personnel.

"I was pleased," Brown said of the outcome. "My campaign people helped me a lot. It was hard for me to campaign when I had to do it after hours. It was a long four months."

Butcher said this morning he would like to thank the 2,172 persons who voted for him. "I ask that they continue to demand integrity and honesty of all the candidates they vote for," he said.

Butcher resigned his position as chief deputy to run for the office, in accordance with a county personnel policy adopted last fall.

Bradly, who captured 599 votes over Larry Ulibarri's 495 to keep his seat on the county court, said on Monday he was "glad it's over."

"I am glad it was a clean campaign, and I appreciate all the support," he added.

Ulibarri, a local barber making his first attempt to win public office, said he was pleased with the turnout. "I want to thank the people of the precinct who voted for me," he said.

"I felt extremely good about the support that I received," said Precinct 3 victor Troy Don Moore. "Of course, we still have the November race to look forward to at this point."

Jones, who had 444 votes compared with Moore's 1,064, said "the people spoke" at the polls on Saturday.

"I felt I had some things to offer the county, but maybe I can still accomplish those things through other channels," he stated. "I wish Troy Don Moore the very best in handling the commissioner's post."

Moore and Allen will vie for the seat being vacated by Bruce Coleman, who served the county 20 years. Bradley is serving his first term on the court.

Change okayed despite opposition

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Concern for the pedestrian safety of St. Anthony's Catholic School students did not prevent approval of a zoning change Monday night by the Hereford City Commission.

However, it was agreed

Teachers wary of new zoning

there would be an effort made to place "Walk" lights at a busy intersection near the school: 25 Mile and Park Avenues.

Pak-A-Sak, a convenience store which rests on the southeast corner of that highway crossing, was granted its request to rezone from "D Local Retail" to "E Central Business." According to Mark Banner, store manager, the change was desired to allow sales of beer and liquor.

Two teachers from St. Anthony's and the superintendent of its district, Judy Kriegshauser, attended Monday's meeting in opposition to the zoning change request. "We definitely feel," Penny Reinart said about her school's students, "it would infringe upon their rights for safety."

She and Ann Lueb, Reinart claimed, were in City Hall as representatives of all the St. Anthony's instructors. Lueb said they wished to stress traffic might be increased as a result of the zoning change, thereby posing added threats to those children who walk home.

The Pak-A-Sak matter was preceded by three other "D" to "E" zoning change requests commissioners approved. "It looks like if we do one of them, we do them all, gentleman," remarked Wes Fisher, Hereford mayor.

"Besides, we could be looking at restraint of trade here."

Both Fisher and R.W. "Bud" Eades, Place 3 commissioner, pointed out the city was "sympathetic" to the women's concerns. At the suggestion of Place 4's Emory Brownlow, the city manager was to contact state officials about obtaining "Walk" indicator lights for all crossing directions at the intersection.

The other zoning alterations were made for Taylor Petroleum, Tice Grocery and Stillwell and Stillwell Investment Company. According to Fisher, what property owners intend to do as a result of the zoning changes cannot be considered by commissioners.

One guideline the city body might follow, the mayor pointed out, is the plan property along Highway 60, 25 Mile and Park Avenues be zoned exclusively "E Central Business."

Meanwhile, commissioners turned down Alexander Johnson's application for a taxi permit. City Manager Budley Bayne reported Caydon Brush, Hereford police chief, found Johnson has a police record and therefore recommended denial of the request.

Smith trial set June 25

Charges brought in March against Hereford attorney Jerry Smith are set to be tried by jury beginning June 25 in 22nd District Court.

Smith was indicted early the morning of March 31 by a Deaf Smith County grand jury, which had met for several months with state Assistant Attorney General Linda Walden. The jury charged the former assistant district attorney with aggravated perjury - a felony - and two Class A misdemeanor charges of official misconduct.

All three charges stem from Smith's alleged involvement as a defense attorney while still under the employ of District Attorney Roland Saul. Texas law stipulates an attorney for the state may not represent a client in a criminal case which the state is prosecuting.

Lola Faye Veazy, district court, was notified May 3 that Travis Ware of Lubbock will serve as special prosecutor during the trial. That assignment was made at the request of Saul, a former law partner of Smith's.

Valuable watch stolen

Three women forced Martin Ramirez to lie on a bed, took his $600 watch and $150 cash Friday night, the 131 Ave. I resident told Hereford police.

The theft occurred in the Greentop Apartments, Ramirez said. The most valuable part of his watch was its band, worth an estimated $570. He did not know the identity of the women.

A $258 television was stolen sometime Thursday night from Auto Polish, 112 Miles. A 2031 Plains St. door, worth $350, was broken at an unknown time. It's owner was Lloyd Thomas, 631 Ave. J.

Meanwhile, there were eight arrests over the weekend and Monday for public intoxication. Two were nabbed as minors in consumption, two for drunk in control of a motor vehicle and one apiece for driving while intoxicated, driving while license suspended and no liability insurance.

Firemen have busy weekend

Hereford Volunteer Firemen extinguished two vehicle fires and a dumpster blaze on Friday.

A tractor fire was put out Friday morning at the city dump, while a pickup fire occurred Friday afternoon six miles west of Hereford. The dumpster was at 421 Star St.

The rescue squad was called out at 9:24 p.m. Friday, but no injuries resulted from the traffic accident at Third and McKinley Streets.

Volunteers were twice called early Sunday morning, the first at 3:22 a.m. for a false alarm at 834 Blevins. The second was for a 4:07 a.m. dumpster fire at 301 Ave. K.

MONDAY'S HIGH: 87 (normal high this date: 86 record: 102 (1932))

OVERNIGHT LOW: 61 (normal: 59 record: 45 (1970))
OUTLOOK: Twenty percent chance of thunderstorms tonight, some possibly severe during evening hours. The low should be near 60, with winds southwesterly 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Kent Hance in Senate race

Representative from the 19th District, won a narrow victory over Thomas Richards, in the Deaf Smith County runoff. The 15-county runoff showed Don with 29,144 and Thomas with 28,426. Don Richards carried Deaf Smith County, garnering 2,191 votes to 1,946 for Thomas Richards.

Two other statewide races were on the Demo runoff ballots. Incumbent W.C. Davis beat Roy Greenwood for a place on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, and Bill White defeated Thomas Thorpe for the other place on the court. Deaf Smith supported both winners by about a 2-1 margin.

In the only Republican runoff race, Larry Combest defeated Ron Fleming for the right to face Don Richards in the general election for the 19th District congressional seat. Combest drew 4,213 votes to 3,107 for Fleming. In the light GOP voting here, Combest won by 46 to 17.

Deaf Smith County had 4,620 voters in the Demo runoff Saturday and 63, in the GOP runoff for a total of 4,683. With an estimated 9,234 eligible voters, that represented about 51 percent of the voters.

In the first primary, the total was 4,728 in the Demo primary and 176 in the Republican primary for a total of 4,904. That represented about 53 percent of all voters.

The 51-percent turnout in the runoff elections is considered a large turnout. The local races, combined with interest in the senate race, apparently helped get the voters to return to the polls.

Both Hance and Doggett picked up about 300 more votes than they did in the first primary. Hance went from 3,538 to 3,834 while Doggett rose from 213 to 580.

Don Richards polled 1,291 in leading a field of five candidates here the first time around. Gary Condra ran second in Deaf Smith County, and Don may have picked up some of his votes.

Thomas Richards had only 718 votes in the first primary, but he carried five of the 12 voting boxes this time. He won in the same four boxes that Joe Brown carried in winning the sheriff's race.

Reagan lunches with British queen

By SALLY JACOBSEN AP
Economics Writer

LONDON (AP) — President Reagan, at the midpoint of his 10-day European trip, lunched with Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace today as he settled in for a round of talks with other world leaders gathering here for an economic summit later in the week.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, greeted the president and Mrs. Reagan under a glassed-in portico in an inner courtyard of the palace and escorted them inside, where the queen was waiting out of sight of the clutch of reporters traveling in the presidential motorcade.

Prepares for summit meeting

A small crowd of tourists outside the palace gate waved and applauded as the Reagans passed by, and trumpeters from the palace guard played a fanfare.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said only Reagan, his wife Nancy, the queen and Prince Philip attended the private luncheon.

Reagan, who departed Ireland on Monday despite "such a tug" to stay, was following his palace visit with a working dinner at the No. 10 Downing Street residence of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Discussions between Reagan and Mrs. Thatcher at her Downing Street residence tonight were likely to focus not only on the upcoming economic talks but on East-West relations and the Persian Gulf crisis.

Meanwhile, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Arens was scheduled to meet today with Secretary of State George P. Shultz. White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the two probably would discuss the U.S. sale of 400

Houston firm to farm shrimp

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston firm setting up a high-tech shrimp farm in South Texas believes prospects could be lucrative because the U.S. demand for seafood is growing while production is declining, an official says.

Texas United Fisheries Inc. expects to spend $10 million establishing the 150-acre facility about 50 miles north of Brownsville, Executive Vice President Sean M. McGowan told The Houston Post.

"Natural shrimp catches are now at the saturation point," he said. "The sea can provide no more than current yields."

McGowan predicted the shrimp farm will produce 15,000 pounds of shrimp per acre each year. McGowan said groundbreaking for the complex is scheduled for June 18. The farm will include a solar-powered hatchery and concrete-lined growth ponds.

Baptist leader coming home

EULESS, Texas (AP) — Some worry his departure will mean an end to the storm's lull, but the Rev. James T. Draper is saying that "enough is enough."

Draper, 48, is stepping down from the Southern Baptist Convention's presidency after two years of relative calm in the once-turbulent organization of 14 million members.

The first president re-elected by acclamation, Draper says he's more than ready to return home to the First Baptist Church of Euless. Like his father and grandfather before him, he just wants to be a full-time pastor again.

Rain ends drought for some

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — The drought is over for parts of parched West Texas, but several areas of the state are still aching for moisture, the National Weather Service says.

Heavy thunderstorms dumped almost 2 inches of rain on Midland and Odessa Monday, spawning a few unusual morning tornadoes and flooding some city streets.

More rain was expected Monday night in the mountains of West Texas and over parts of North and South Texas.

In Midland, a happy weather service meteorologist declared that "the drought is over. We're running a little bit above normal" in terms of total rainfall since the start of the year.

The 1.83 inches recorded there pushed that oil-rich city's 1984 rainfall total to 5.84 inches — the amount usually not recorded until the end of June.

Thunderstorms batter plains

Scattered thunderstorms that spawned about a dozen tornadoes hammered away today from the northern Plains to the upper Great Lakes and as far south as the Mississippi Delta.

Twisters touched down Monday night in parts of Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas, damaging a ball park at Ellendale, N.D., and buildings in Ellsworth, Minn., the National Weather Service said.

More than an inch of rain drenched Minneapolis while gusty winds knocked over trees and downed power lines, the weather service said.

Severe thunderstorms also smashed the southern Plains on Monday, damaging roofs and knocking down power lines in Oklahoma. More than 3 inches of rain fell at Burnet, Texas, while 2 inches washed over Hondo, Texas.

For the rest of today, the weather service predicted scattered thunderstorms from the northern Plains to the upper Great Lakes and from the southern Plains to the Mississippi Delta.

TOKYO (AP) — Norodom Sihanouk, the self-styled "Unsinkable Prince" who was once ruled Cambodia, says he lives on the charity of China and North Korea while pressing his fight to win back his country from its Vietnamese occupiers.

For much of the time since his ouster in 1970 by the right-wing government of Lon Nol, he has been fed, clothed and housed by the Peking and Pyongyang governments, he admits with "no shame." "My suit is French, paid for by Kim Il Sun, president of North Korea," Sihanouk said in an unusually candid interview with Western and Japanese reporters.

"My necktie is Yves St. Laurent, paid for by Kim Il Sung. So are my shoes."

The Chinese, he added, have paid for his food and lodging.

"They consider me a head of state," he explained Monday. "Kim Il Sung is sentimental, just like Chou En-lai and Mao Tse-tung." China's leaders who died in 1976.

Survivors tell of ship's sinking

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — His first time as a crewman at sea, Bill Barnhardt had just come on deck for the 4 a.m.-to 8 a.m. watch aboard the three-masted Marques when suddenly the rain stopped and the sky cleared.

For about three minutes, Barnhardt, a 24-year-old sailing trainee, watched the stars emerge. The Marques, a 117-foot British square-rigger, was sailing comfortably in 28 mph winds along the course of an 800-mile Bermuda-to-Nova Scotia race for tall ships.

Then, from nowhere, a freak gust of wind slammed the ship onto its side, and cascading water drove the vessel beneath the waves within 45 seconds.

Of the 28 crew and passengers, nine people were rescued and one body was recovered within four hours of the sinking early Sunday. The survivors who were brought back to Bermuda said they doubted any of 18 others would be found alive.

Warrant issued for bombing suspect

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — An international arrest warrant has been issued for a man who entered Costa Rica on a stolen passport, claimed he was a Danish journalist and went to a Nicaraguan rebel news conference where a bomb exploded.

Francisco Ruiz, spokesman for the Judiciary Investigations Office, said late Monday a man who used a passport issued to Per Anker Hansen was a suspect in the case. He said an arrest warrant "has been issued worldwide," but gave no further details.

The bomb exploded during a news conference Wednesday by Nicaraguan rebel leader Eden Pastora of the Revolutionary Democratic Alliance at La Penca, Nicaragua, just across the San Juan River from Costa Rica.

Says he owes it to voters

Hance seeking statewide recount

AUSTIN (AP) — State Sen. Lloyd Doggett, who won the Democratic U.S. Senate runoff by 467 votes, says he doesn't expect the recount requested by Kent Hance to change the outcome but adds he'd do same if he were in Hance's shoes.

"If I were in his position, I would do the same," Doggett said Monday, adding that his staff checked with county election officials and found little to indicate the recount would have much effect.

"We've yet to see much of anything that will change. The results may go up and down a little, but I don't expect the outcome to be any different," Doggett said.

In seeking the recount, Hance noted that the secretary of state's office had verified its results Monday and found discrepancies that narrowed the gap by 42 votes.

Doggett on Sunday had been reported ahead by 509 votes.

"With that narrow a margin, I owe it to the voters of Texas, my supporters, everyone who worked many long hours and to those who have given money to this effort to call for a statewide recount," Hance said.

Assistant Secretary of State Ed Davis said verification of results reported from Saturday's election showed that Doggett won by less than half a percentage point, 489,927 votes to 489,460. The margin was 50.02 percent to 49.98 percent.

Davis said the secretary of state's verification gave both candidates a few more votes, with Hance gaining a net increase of 42.

Davis emphasized that the verification only confirmed results reported by each county on Saturday. "This does not constitute a recount in any way, form or fashion," he said.

Ken Vest, Hance's press secretary, said the recount decision was reached Monday after Hance workers checked the results with election officials in all 254 counties.

"Just statistically speaking, with almost a million votes cast and a margin that small, the odds of there being some mistakes are great enough to seriously consider a recount," Vest said.

State Democratic Party official Camille Burger said Democratic officials in each county would oversee the recount. Representatives of both candidates were expected to observe.

She said recounts from the 6,063 precincts should be completed by June 12.

Ms. Burger said Hance deposited nearly $30,000 with the party for the recount. Hance aides said the costs might total $50,000 to $70,000, but Hance said that for his supporters "the only way to remove any doubts is to proceed with a recount."

Hance spent most of Monday meeting with aides and telephoning supporters.

Doggett took his seat in the state Senate as a special session of the Legislature convened and joked with legislative colleagues about his slim victory margin.

The close runoff followed a six-way primary on May 5 which Hance won by 273 votes over Doggett out of nearly 1.5 million cast. Each man spent more than $2 million on his race

Hance, a Lubbock conservative, won most of the rural areas. Doggett, an Austin liberal, won the big cities and much of the Hispanic vote in South Texas.

Mondale looking for wins

Primary season grinds to end

Democratic presidential rivals are campaigning to the last possible moment in a five-state wrap-up to their grueling primary season, with Walter F. Mondale straining to grasp the elusive nomination that Gary Hart and Jesse Jackson seek to deny him.

Mondale and Hart each predicted victory in California and New Jersey, the biggest of the states holding primaries today with 486 delegates at stake. Jackson had scant hopes of winning any of the five, but pushed hardest in California to increase his delegate strength at the Democratic National Convention in July.

"Let's put it away tomorrow," the front-running Mondale exhorted supporters in West Virginia on Monday on a 5,620-mile coast-to-coast campaign odyssey that also included stops in New Jersey, New Mexico and California.

Mondale's polls showed him ahead in New Jersey, and a late California survey had him leading there, as well. The fifth state, South Dakota, drew scant attention from Hart and none at all from Mondale.

Hart countered that both big states were going to be replays of the New Hampshire primary that he won.

"We're going to win in New Jersey and we're going to win in California," he said. But he added that no matter what the outcome, "This contest is going to the convention."

Hart brushed aside suggestions by some that his continuing candidacy is hurting the Democrats and helping President Reagan.

"Those are the same experts who said I had no chance to become a serious candidate, that my candidacy was over in March," he retorted.

Hart's campaign manager has said the Colorado senator must win either New Jersey or California to keep his longshot hopes alive. Other aides have said privately that he must win both.

Jackson began airing his first television and radio commercial of a low-budget campaign. He viewed them himself in California, and quipped, "I'm going to vote for the guy."

All three men arranged primary day campaign stops today, even as the voters cast their ballots.

Mondale was in California for a morning appearance before heading for his home state of Minnesota to await the results.

Hart was in New Jersey, with stops also set in California, while Jackson decided to spend the day in California.

After converting 45 delegates from the uncommitted ranks Monday, Mondale had 1,736.05 delegates in the Associated Press count, compared with 983.75 for Hart and 332.2 for Jackson.

It takes 1,967 delegates to win the nomination.

Under new party rules, none of the delegates is required to vote for the candidate he was elected to support. That will force Mondale — whether or not he attains a majority of the delegates this week — to work to keep his people in line until the convention.

Hart — hoping for a convention turnaround — was aiming to defeat Mondale in California and New Jersey, and raise questions about the front-runner's strength as a candidate despite his overwhelming delegate advantage.

Hart also attempted to establish expectations that would be very difficult for Mondale to meet. "I think the question that ought to be asked is this.

Stinger anti-aircraft missiles to Saudi Arabia, which Israel opposed.

The president and his security entourage caused a flurry in this country where the police force is largely unarmed.

Scotland Yard's Bob Innes, who is in charge of security arrangements for Reagan's visit and the economic summit, said last week that no foreign aide or diplomat would be armed.

Since then, however, the two governments have negotiated the issue. The result is that two of the Secret Service agents guarding the president can be armed but only with "pistol-type handguns, not automatic weapons," according to a Scotland Yard spokesman who would speak only on condition he not be identified by name.

On the last day of his journey to Ireland, the president delivered a foreign policy address to the Irish Parliament, becoming the second U.S. president to do so. John F. Kennedy was the first, in 1963.

In the speech, Reagan said he will consider a Soviet proposal to renounce the use of force in Europe if Moscow agrees to consider specific Western proposals to reduce the chance of war on the continent.

The speech, the main address of his European trip, was considered aimed at Western Europeans edgy about the tension between the superpowers.

Three legislators caused a brief disturbance just as the president was ready to begin speaking. The three — Tony Gregory, Thomas MacGiolla and Proinsias de Rossa — tried to be recognized but were shouted down by fellow legislators who cried, "Out! Out!"

Dalhart native Charlotte Amato has returned to the Panhandle after residing in Austin 15 years, and she is excited about being back in a small community.

She and her 5-year-old son, Brian, moved to Hereford six months ago when she became a caseworker at the Hereford Family Services Center.

"I was looking for a small town in which to raise my son — and somewhere that had some winter," smiled Charlotte. "I like the feeling of community I've found here, and feel like I'm at home."

A certified psychological associate, she is involved mostly with counseling, and also does psychological testing to get a definite view of where a person is functioning, such as when someone returns home from a state hospital or similar facility.

In this case they are generally provided supportive services to help them readjust to the community and family life, she explained.

Charlotte was employed in administration at private residential facilities for mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed adolescents while living in Austin.

She is enjoying her more general case load at the Family Services Center, and said it is interesting working with clients of all ages.

"The thing I find exciting about a setting like this is being able to help people work through their problems before they get to the magnitude of having to go to a residential setting," she stated.

She said that one of the biggest obstacles in a small town like this is that people are afraid to admit they have a problem.

"It is a little scary to people sometimes, to admit they need counseling or to come to a 'mental health clinic,' but no one is worry-free," she remarked. "All of us have problems, whether it be with work, money, physical illness, children, marriage, divorce, or relationships in general."

"When these things build up, it can cause feelings of anger, depression, fear, anxiety or distrust. If these feelings persist, and one is not able to snap out of it after a short time, that person loses his ability to stay on top of life. Then we come in and seek to help them feel better about themselves, others and life in general."

"This is the first time I've worked in a setting like this, but I've found that one of the good things about community mental health centers is that we try to work with the whole family unit," added Charlotte. "When one family member is feeling bad, it affects everyone around them, so we have family as well as individual therapy."

As she becomes more acquainted with the local area, Charlotte would like to be involved in community and public service programs.

She is currently available to talk to school, church and civic groups, and has already given several programs in local schools, as well as a free program for the public during National Mental Health Month.

"I enjoy this sort of thing and hope to do more of it," she said. She noted that the local center provides services to residents of Oldham County as well as Deaf Smith County.

Charlotte earned her bachelor's degree in social work at St. Edward's University in Austin and her master's in psychology at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Since moving to Hereford she has been attending St. Anthony's Catholic Church and is involved in a singles-again share group. She enjoys needlework, playing the piano, and spending time outdoors with her son and their dog.

Heightened awareness

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read that the citizens of Boca Raton, Fla., were asked by their mayor to go on the wagon for one week as part of Alcohol Awareness Month. The mayor said, "It's going to be quite an effort for some people."

Please let us know what happened down there. Sounds like a terrific idea that ought to be tried other places. One thing is certain, it will surprise people to discover how dependent they are on alcohol.—One Who Quit 10 Years Ago

DEAR ONE: I called Bill Konrad, the mayor of Boca Raton, and he said, "It is not possible to know how many people stopped drinking for a week as a result of the edict, but it certainly helped heighten their awareness. So, from that point of view, the project was a great success."

I hope, dear readers, this experiment will heighten your awareness to a social custom that has produced an alarming number of alcoholics. I'm not talking only about men. The number of female problem drinkers would shock your socks off. The first person who says, "You aren't talking to me. I can quit any time I want to," is in trouble.

DEAR ANN: May I respond to "Decent and Lonely"?

If you believe there are no decent women left, you won't find one. How do you size up a woman? Do you evaluate her as a person or look for good looks FIRST? If a woman isn't pretty, or heaven forbid, if she's overweight, do you write her off immediately? In other words, if the wrapping doesn't have eye-appeal, are you interested in what's inside? Are you willing to take the time to cultivate a friendship or do you want to try her out in the sack on the first or second date?

Men who have high-quality, durable relationships take their time. If they are inclined to go too fast, a classy lady knows how to apply the brakes.

There are millions of decent women who are just dying to meet a nice guy. So if you really are DECENT and lonely, it's your own darn fault.—Emma In Elmhurst

DEAR EMMA: I hope every man who is lonely and considers himself decent will clip this column and tape it on his bathroom mirror. A shift in his initial approach could change his life.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have always suspected you love cats and hate dogs. Your recent column bears this out. I refer to the letter from a so-called authority who said, "Dogs that bark all night are telling the entire neighborhood that their owners are lazy and ignorant."

They can be trained NOT to bark at night if someone will take the time and trouble."

Did it ever occur to you that dogs that bark at night prevent burglaries, hold-ups and maybe even murders? I would never feel safe if I didn't have a dog that barked when a stranger approached. That's what a watchdog is supposed to do, Dummy.

During this controversy you never once printed a letter from someone whose sleep has been ruined by cat fights. Shame on you.—Albany

DEAR AL: No way am I going to get in the middle of a fight between cat and dog lovers. Thanks for writing. Your point is well taken.

Between baseball, football

Teenager must make choice

NEW YORK — If the New York Mets have their way, a 17-year old high school player, will be hitting baseballs in their organization next year and not throwing footballs for Georgia.

Abner, an outfielder from Mechanicsburg, Pa., was the first selection Monday by the Mets in the regular phase of baseball's free agent amateur draft.

"I'm thrilled to be picked by the Mets," said Abner, who also has signed a letter of intent to play quarterback at the University of Georgia. "I follow their games and can see that they are relying on a lot of young players, and it gives me a lot of hope to be able to contribute."

Abner, a 6-foot-1, 190-pounder, currently is batting .580 after hitting .420, .404 and .456 in his first three seasons at Mechanicsburg High School.

The Mets, who chose first Monday because they had the worst record in the National League last season, also were to pick first in the secondary phase of the draft. The leagues alternate choices in the regular phase, with the NL picking first this year.

University of Maine pitcher Billy Swift was the second player picked. The All-American right-hander, was the top choice of the Seattle Mariners.

The third pick was a left-handed pitcher, Drew Hall of Morehead State, selected by the Chicago Cubs.

The Cleveland Indians then chose Cory Snyder, a power-hitting shortstop from Brigham Young, who hit .450, clouted 27 homers and drove in 85 runs in 59 games in 1984.

The Cincinnati Reds were next and took right-hander Pat Pacillo of Seton Hall, and the California Angels followed by taking Erik Pappas, a high school catcher from Chicago. Then the St. Louis Cardinals got Michael Dunne, a right-handed pitcher from Bradley.

The Minnesota Twins took Stewart Bell, a shortstop from Pensacola, Fla., and the San Francisco Giants picked Alan Cockrell, an outfielder from the University of Tennessee.

Mark McGwire, the first baseman who broke several Southern California and Pac-10 slugging records, was taken by the Oakland A's.

The San Diego Padres had the next choice and opted for Shane Mack, an outfielder from UCLA.

The Texas Rangers chose Odibee McDowell, an outfielder from Arizona State, and the Montreal Expos landed Robert Caffrey from Cal State-Fullerton.

John Marzano, a catcher from Temple, was taken by the Boston Red Sox, and the Pittsburgh Pirates chose Kevin Andersh, a left-handed pitcher from the University of New Mexico.

Two-right handed pitchers, Scott Bankhead from the University of North Carolina and Don August from Chapman College, were selected by the Kansas City Royals and the Houston Astros, respectively.

Shortstop Isiah Lee Clark of Crockett, Texas, went to the Milwaukee Brewers, and Andrew Denson, a first baseman from Purcell High School in Cincinnati, was selected by the Atlanta Braves.

The Chicago White Sox, in a pick acquired from the Toronto Blue Jays as compensation for the loss of free-agent pitcher Dennis Lamp, grabbed another pitcher, right-hander Antonio Menendez from Carol City, Fla.

David Green on list

Baseball hurt by substances

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

Baseball's substance abuse casualty last week was David Green, the talented first baseman-outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is undergoing rehabilitation for his problem with alcohol.

He is the latest in a sadly continuing box score of major leaguers whose extra-curricular activities have been something less than wholesome. And while Green deals with his private demons, the Major League Players Association and the Player Relations Committee continue to ruminate over a meaningful drug program for the game.

The two sides almost had a deal a couple of weeks ago and in fact, the players announced overwhelming endorsement of it. But the owners pulled back from a vote at the last minute.

"As we approached the vote for ratification, it appeared the clubs were divided and if it passed, it would only pass by one or two votes and possibly not pass at all," Lee MacPhail, president of the Player Relations Committee, said. "We felt we needed a more unified position. So we pulled the meeting down."

The problem is testing and what form it will take. The program the two sides had agreed on included provisions for voluntary examinations and, MacPhail said, enough testing to make the program practicable.

"But there were and are clubs who want mandatory, random testing and who feel the program did not have enough teeth or discipline," he said.

Talking about mandatory testing and discipline is a sure way to get the players' backs up. Even low-key Ken Moffett, the federal mediator who became executive director of the Players Association, got angry over that subject. And he was fired for being too soft.

Olympic chief says Russians failed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After 142 countries confirmed their participation in the Summer Olympics, the chief organizer for the Games called the Soviet Union's boycott a "clear failure."

At a news conference Monday, Peter V. Ueberroth, president of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee, announced a record 142 countries had confirmed their intention to participate, leaving the number of boycotting countries, led by the Soviet Union, at 14.

He said the fact that the Soviet Union managed to persuade only 13 countries to join its boycott makes it look "a bit isolated" and added that "the only losers will be the athletes who aren't here."

The boycotting nations are, in addition to the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Cuba, Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Laos, North Korea, South Yemen, Mongolia, Ethiopia, Afghanistan and Vietnam.

Iran and Albania also are not attending but have not announced that they are part of the Soviet-led boycott.

"The boycott has a singular success — its success was its ability to hurt athletes," Ueberroth said. "Otherwise it was a clear failure."

With the passing of the June 2 entry deadline, Ueberroth the issue of participation "is now a closed door."

If all 142 nations compete, it would better by 20 countries the previous record. There are 158 countries with IOC-recognized national Olympic Committees.

He added that the committee will "do our best to thwart that effort by the Soviet Union."

Detroit downs Jays 6-3 on dramatic HR

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

After fouling off eight pitches, Dave Bergman finally straightened one out — and it went straight into the upper right field stands at Tiger Stadium.

"I was scuffling a little bit, but this team battles, that's why I'm so proud to play over here," Bergman said after his three-run homer with two out in the 10th inning gave the Detroit Tigers a dramatic 6-3 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

The victory in the opener of an important four-game series improved the Tigers' major league-leading record to 39-11 and increased their lead over the second-place Blue Jays to 5½ games in the American League East.

In other AL action, it was Oakland 7, Cleveland 3; Baltimore 6, Milwaukee 2; Minnesota 6, Texas 2; New York 8, Boston 3; Chicago 6, California 4, and Seattle 7, Kansas City 1.

Bergman's blast made a winner of Aurelio Lopez, 5-0, the third Tiger pitcher, and capped a game of long ball.

A solo homer by Willie Upshaw in the second inning, and a two-run shot by George Bell in the sixth had given the Blue Jays a 3-0 lead. But the Tigers came back to tie it on Howard Johnson's three-run shot in the seventh.

Jimmy Key, 2-3, took the loss.

A's 7, Indians 3
Bruce Bochte doubled and homered and Carney Lansford rapped three singles to spark Oakland over Cleveland.

Winner Bill Krueger, 4-1, gave up six hits over the first seven innings before Mike Warren and Bill Caudill finished, with the latter notching his 12th save.

Neal Heaton, 3-5, yielded six runs in 3 2-3 innings to notch the loss, the Indians' fifth straight and 10th in their last 11 games.

Orioles 6, Brewers 2

Cal Ripken Jr. and Eddie Murray hit consecutive home runs in the second inning and Mike Boddicker pitched a four-hitter as Baltimore stopped Milwaukee.

Boddicker, 7-4, won for the seventh time in his last eight starts. At one point, he retired 18 batters in a row.

Yankees 8, Red Sox 3

Don Baylor smashed the first inside-the-park homer of his 13 year-career and broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning with a two-run single as New York defeated Boston, snapping a five-game winning streak for the Red Sox.

Baylor socked his tie-breaking single in off reliever Steve Crawford after the Yankees loaded the bases off loser Bob Ojeda, 5-5. Dave Winfield then extended his consecutive-game hitting streak to 12 with a two-run triple.

Ron Guidry, 4-4, completed his fourth of 13th starts, allowing 10 hits while walking none and striking out a season-high 10 batters.

White Sox 6, Angels 4

Rudy Law rapped three hits, including a two-run homer, and Ron Kittle hit a solo homer to lead Chicago over California.

LaMarr Hoyt, 5-5, was the winner with last-inning relief help from Al Jones, who gained his third save.

Rod Carew had a pair of singles for the Angels, giving him 2,881 hits for his career and placing him ahead of Frankie Frisch in 24th place on the all-time list.

Twins 6, Rangers 2

John Butcher allowed eight hits over 6 2-3 innings and Randy Bush slugged a three-run homer as Minnesota defeated Texas.

Butcher, 4-3, walked one and struck out one and held Texas scoreless until the seventh, when he was touched for two runs. Pete Filson and Ron Davis finished, with Davis going the final 1 1-3 innings for his 10th save.

NBA championship series enters third game in L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's been a series of spurts. All three games of the NBA Championship Series have been marked by long periods in which one team appears to be moving in slow motion while the other rolls through the defense at will.

While the Los Angeles Lakers were rolling to a 33-point victory in Game 3, the Boston Celtics still managed 14-0 and 11-2 surges that kept the defeat from becoming even more embarrassing.

"It puzzles me why the game doesn't just seesaw back and forth," the Lakers' Michael Cooper said Monday. "The games are being played in spurts. We just hope to get the last spurt or the best spurt."

On Sunday, when the Lakers took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with a 137-104 romp, they had the first, last and best spurts of the game.

In Boston's lone victory in the series, a 124-121 overtime thriller last Thursday night, the Celtics had spurts of 7-0, 9-0, 11-3 and 8-0 and survived 13-2, 7-0 and 11-2 runs by Los Angeles.

Strawberry breaks out of slump

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer

Darryl Strawberry hadn't hit a home run in more than a month and, what was even more troubling, he'd seen his batting average plummet more than 60 points.

"I've been frustrated with myself more than anything," said Strawberry, the New York Mets' National League Rookie of the Year in 1983.

Monday night, Strawberry broke out of the slump with three hits in three at-bats, his first homer since April 28, three RBI and two runs in the Mets' 4-2 victory at Pittsburgh.

The three hits brought his batting average up to .294. A month ago, he was hitting .362. Strawberry now has six homers.

The Mets, who had lost three in a row, also got three innings of scoreless relief help from their bullpen combo of Doug Sisk and Jesse Orosco. Sisk came in for Ron Darling, 4-3.

In the rest of the National League, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 3-1, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 4-3 in 11 innings, San Diego shut out Houston 3-0 and Atlanta beat San Francisco 2-1.

Reds 3, Dodgers 1

Three Cincinnati pitchers — starter Frank Pastore, Tom Hume and Bob Owchinko — limited Los Angeles to three hits, and Dave Parker's eighth-inning single broke a 1-1 tie as the Reds ended a five-game losing streak. The loss was the third straight for the Dodgers.

Pastore, 3-4, yielded all three Los Angeles hits in 7 2-3 innings.

The loser: Fernando Valenzuela, 5-6.

Cardinals 4, Phillies 3

Ken Oberkfell drove in the second straight game, snapping a 3-3 tie in the 11th inning with a single off Al Holland, 4-3.

Bruce Sutter, 2-3, pitched three scoreless innings for the victory.

Padres 3, Astros 0

Ed Whitson and Dave Dravecky combined on a four-hitter, striking out six Astros apiece, as San Diego extended its winning streak to four games, matching its longest of the season. Whitson gave up three of the Houston hits in 6 1-3 innings. Dravecky came on with runners at second and third and struck out Jose Cruz and Jerry Mumphrey to get out of the jam.

Braves 2, Giants 1

Bruce Benedict scored one run and drove in the other, backing Rick Mahler to his fourth straight victory

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Manager, Community Relations

Strength is vital

A strong Bell is good for Texas. It has a nice ring, and it's true.

When I meet with many of you at meetings and on the street, I usually talk about how important it is for Texas to have a strong and financially sound Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

My message is simple: The strength of Southwestern Bell Telephone is vital to the strength of a growing Texas.

Texas always has been a leader in telecommunications — and Texas must remain a leader. Top quality communications service is imperative to attract and hold the high technology, "clean" industry which is an integral part of the state's economic future.

And Texas must have a strong framework to assure that the state draws those high-tech firms. Education and transportation, for instance, are essential aspects. Telecommunications, a must in that framework, cannot be a second-class partner in the future of the Lone Star State.

Our state's high-tech companies thrive on communications. We know we must be able to meet their needs, and the needs of every Texas customer, efficiently and quickly. However, our ability to take care of the needs of every Texan we serve is in direct relationship to the revenues we have available.

Our partnership

We are in partnership with this state, and all Texans. We must have the dollars necessary to keep up and keep Texas in the forefront of telecommunications.

The demands of Texas as a high-growth area put intense pressures on our resources. That's why every one of the company's employees has to take on the personal responsibility of assuring that our revenues stretch as far as possible.

Why am I telling you all this? Because we feel our message of service and financial strength is one for all Texans.

Texas for Texans. It's what Southwestern Bell Telephone is all about.

A good value

Your service. Take a closer look — it's a value!

Even though your rates for local telephone service will be going up a few cents, compare your monthly bill in relation to many other items. I think you'll find that it's a bargain.

Just think about some of the items you buy every month. The average cost of cable television is about $33 (basic package and two movie channels) and the cost of a fast-food meal for a family of four once a week for a month is about $40. Even a carton of cigarettes a week will run you about $32. And if you are like most Texans, you probably purchase about 800 gallons of gas a year. That's about $75 a month — just for one car.

Residential customers in Texas with basic, one-party service now pay an average of $10.35 per month for telephone service. When you think about it — and compare — it's so little for 24-hour, 7-day-a-week service that gives you access to your friends across town, across Texas and to any of the world's 450 million telephones.

Marriage planned

Tamra Sue Northcutt of Hereford and Billy Winton McClenney of Edmonson plan to be married at First Christian Church of Hereford at 3

BARBS

Phil Pastoret

When a recipe is termed "subtly understated," this means someone left out the onion.

We now know why our nonfavorite restaurant calls it "house dressing." The stuff tastes like water-base paint.

No punishment is too severe for folk who serve strawberries in sponglike shells and call the abomination "shortcake."

p.m. June 30.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Wake Northcutt and Sandra Nunnally and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nunnally, all of Hereford. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill McClenney of Edmonson.

Miss Northcutt graduated from Hereford High School in 1982 and is a junior at West Texas State University. She is presently employed at Taylor & Sons in Canyon.

McClenney, a 1982 Plainview High School graduate, is a sophomore at WTSU and is employed by CenterGas of Amarillo.

Butler reassigned to local pastorate

Dr. J. Weldon Butler was returned to the pastorate of First United Methodist Church for another year, and the Rev. John J. Abendschan was assigned to Wesley Methodist Church to succeed the Rev. Jesse Hodge, at the closing session of the Northwest Texas Conference in Abilene Saturday.

Ministerial appointments in the church are made yearly. Butler came to Hereford in September, 1982 from Plainview, where he had served as district superintendent. Hodge was at Wesley Church four years, and is moving to Raton United Methodist Church in the New Mexico Conference. Abendschan comes from Abilene, where he was associate pastor at St. Paul's United Methodist Church.

The son of a United Methodist minister, Butler entered the ministry in 1947 and came to the Northwest Texas Conference two years later as director of the Wesley Foundation at West Texas State University and also pastor of the Wildorado Church.

He has been pastor at Follette, Vega, St. Paul Church in Amarillo, St. Luke's in Midland, First United Methodist at Big Spring and First United Methodist at Borger. He also served in conference duties and was a member of McMurry College board of trustees, Texas Methodist Student Movement board and

Dr. J. Weldon Butler

Texas Methodist Planning Commission.

A graduate of McMurry College, he received the M.A. degree from Perkins School of Theology, SMU, with honors and was given the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from McMurry in 1970. He served in the U.S. Air Force in the field of communications during World War II with overseas duty in Panama, Hawaii, the South Pacific and Philippine Islands.

Amateur radio is his longtime hobby; he has held commercial and now holds amateur operator's license from the FCC.

Mrs. Butler is the former Jeanne Crowder of Sweetwater. Their five children now live in other cities.

4H Around the County

By BRAD MORRISON

County Extension Agent

Don't let hurry bugs reap the harvest of all the hard work you've put into planning and planting a garden.

Young people in the 4-H entomology program supported by Mobay Chemical Corporation learn a host of pest control tips.

Among key pest control tips are these:

—To keep ahead of bugs, check the garden each week, crop by crop, for pests.

—If pests are present, begin controlling them right away by using a recommended pesticide.

—Be sure to follow directions and precautions on pesticide labels. Observe the waiting period specified from time of application to time of harvest.

—At the end of the growing season, give the garden and its surroundings a good cleanup. Fall plowing also kills many destructive insects.

Girls and boys who take part in 4-H entomology projects and activities have a variety of opportunities to learn-by-doing about the insect world. Harmful insects like cabbage worms and helpful ones like honeybees can be found in the garden, backyard, home or practically anywhere. In fact, there are more different kinds of insects than all other living things—plants and animals—combined.

4-H members 9-19 can collect and identify insects or rear live insects in captivity. They can learn how insects interact with the environment, plant life, other insects and man himself. And they can examine career opportunities in entomology.

4-H'ers can also work for awards donated by Mobay and arranged by the National 4-H Council. These include six $1000 scholarships at the national level and 16 expense-paid trips to the National 4-H

Congress in Chicago awarded on a sectional basis.

One program member per state can earn a $75 U.S. Savings Bond and up to four members in each county are eligible for medals of honor.

For further details about the 4-H entomology program as well as other 4-H programs and activities, contact the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, colors, sex, religion or national origin.

McCrearys to head state association

Ed and Angie McCreary of Hereford were installed as president of the Texas State Federation of Square and Round Dancers at the organization's 22nd annual convention held Saturday at the Civic Center in Lubbock.

The McCrearys are members of the Merry Mixers Square Dance Club in Hereford, and 17 couples from the local club were in attendance at the installation.

The convention featured a style show, exhibits and demonstrations of clogging and round dancing in addition to the evening dances.

Over 3,000 dancers registered for the convention.

Casey to be named in annual publication

Janelle Coupe Casey, daughter of Ms. Joan Coupe of Hereford, has been selected as one of the country's most outstanding campus leaders and her name will be included in the 1984 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The announcement was made this week by the editorial staff of the annual directory along with the University of Texas at El Paso.

Campus nominating committees and editors have included Mrs. Casey's name based on her academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

She joins an elite group of students selected from more than 1600 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

SPLIT LEVEL CHARMER

HOUSE DESIGN by Larry Farnsworth

Here is a house you can enjoy in the present and adapt to your future needs when you find it convenient to do so.

Model CB908 dignified exterior includes an attractive front porch, an offset garage and a look of substance and charm.

Inside the attractive front door is a small but adequate entry with stairs leading up to the elevated central living area and down to the unfinished lower level where a future family room and two future bed or multi-purpose rooms await finishing at your leisure. A bath and laundry connections will be located there, too, right by the conveniently located outside entrance.

Up the stairs on the main living level you will find a large, front-of-the-house to back-of-the-house living room-dining area combination. Sliding glass doors at the rear of the house make this spacious area look even more spacious as they bring the outside indoors.

A charming parallel kitchen opens off of the dining area and overlooks the back-of-the-house gardens.

The two finished bedrooms offer walls of closet space, and a full bath adjoins them.

While the family is small and has no need for the ground level future bedrooms, the home hobby lover can surely put this well designed space to good use. Enjoy one or more of these rooms for your sewing, painting, antique restoring or just about any hobby you particularly prefer. A home workshop would fit well here, too. Then when family size increases, the rooms are there, ready to accommodate your need for extra bedroom space.

The attractive frame exterior, the wide shuttered windows and the pleasant roof-les of Model CB908 set off a wealth of good living within.

You may purchase house plans, material lists or House Plans Catalog from Larry Farnsworth, Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89125 or call (702) 384-4202 for fast service.
