Senate Restores Social Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) Congress is getting ready to job. give back what it took away from Social Security recipients last summer: the $122-a-month minimum benefit.

The Republican-controlled Senate voted 95-0 Thursday to reverse itself on one of the year's most controversial budget cuts, recommending restoration of the minimum benefit for more than 2.5 million recipients whose checks were scheduled to shrink next winter.

At the same time, the Senate moved to store up the sagging fund that pays Social Security survivor and retirement benefits by making sick pay in many cases subject to the payroll tax for the first six months a worker is off the Congress, acting at President Reagan's request, voted earlier this year to abolish the minimum benefit.

The House later voted to restore it for all 3 million recipients, although the measure did not contain the sick pay and other provisions. A House-Senate conference committee will be set up to reconcile the differences, and since Reagan also has changed his position on the issue, the measure is virtually certain to become law. Democrats who had fought bitterly against the Senate's earlier decision to abolish the minimum benefit hailed the reversal. "The elimination of the minimum benefit was cruel, heartless and unnecessary and the public outcry forced the administration to restore the benefit," Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., said in a statement. The bill would restore the minimum benefit for all but 350,000 of the 3 million current recipients. The minimum would be denied to those who have monthly federal, state or local government pensions of more than $300 a month.

While approval of the bill was a foregone conclusion, most of the Senate debate centered on a move by Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., to raise taxes on the oil industry by $14.2 billion through 1990 and place the money in a new Social Security reserve fund. On a vote of 65-30, the Senate killed Eagleton's proposal, which would have reversed a reduction in the "windfall profits" tax on "newly discovered" oil that Congress approved earlier in the year.

In other action on the bill, the Senate:

-Extended until 1989 the federal excise tax on gasoline of 4 cents a gallon. Authorization was extended until 1990 for the trust fund that provides money for the interstate highway system.

-Rejected, on a rare, straight party-line vote, a Democratic attempt to force the Reagan administration to provide detailed information on the cuts it will recommend to balance the budget by 1984. The vote was 50-47.

The move to restore the minimum Social Security benefit represents a sharp reversal by Senate Republicans, who fought off repeated Democratic attempts to block the cut earlier in the year.

Beginning June 1, 1982, people with government pensions would have the unearned portion of their Social Security benefits reduced $1 for every $1 that their other pension is over $300. Their Social Security check would not fall below the amount they were entitled to receive based on their actual earnings.

Social Security recipients whose checks are over the $122 minimum would not be affected by the change. No future retirees could qualify for the minimum benefit, except for members of certain religious orders, who would be eligible for another 10 years.

From 1981 Farm Bill

The bill also contained ths, in many cases. these steps designed to shore up the shaky old-age and survivor trust fund at least until the end of the decade: -Sick pay would be subject ment and survivor benefits.

-A greater percentage of to the payroll tax for six mon- the payroll tax revenues

-The current ceiling on a family's disability benefits would be extended to retire-

Peanut Allotment Eliminated

By CHARLES RICHARDS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)

Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Texas, was shaking his head when he came off the floor of the House of Representatives.

"I'm somewhat deflated. I can't believe that. That's incredible," the former Marlin banker said Thursday afternoon, moments after an amendment passed with ease, 250-159, to eliminate from the 1981 Farm Bill a peanut quota and allotment system. We really thought we had everything worked out and that we had the votes. I would say this puts the entire bill in great jeopardy at this point." The vote on the peanut program was the most visible sign that a coalition of congressmen representing farm states had collapsed. By the end of the day, efforts to boost producers' prices in cotton, peanuts and sugar had gone crashing down in defeat.

"I have a hard time finding a reason to support the bill in the form it's in now," said another Texan, Rep. Charlie Stenholm, D-Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee. was, the peanut program was one of the few programs that "We were unable to hold together a coalition for all the commodities. It fell apart, while the old cheap food, antiproducer people on the Democratic side of the aisle held together," Stenholm said.

Leath said the new change in the peanut program would have a severe effect on Texas.

"This very drastically affects Texas. I don't know the total peanut tonnage in Texas, but it's considerable, especially in the western part

Reagan Offers Israeli Equalizer

WASHINGTON (AP) -President Reagan, finding hope in a narrow defeat, is promising a less-reluctant Senate to balance the sale of AWACS planes to Saudi Arabia by offering Israel additional radar-jamming equipment.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 9-8 Thursday to reject the $8.5 billion arms deal as two Republicans switched to support Reagan, who swayed one of them with a long-distance telephone call during the panel's debate.

"I'm gratified it was that close," the president said. "Of course, I wish it went the other way."

It was close enough, though, that an enthusiastic Senate Republican leader Howard H. Baker Jr. told reporters: "It's now winnable. Several weeks ago it wasn't."

Baker's optimism was bas-

Two-Day Rainfall 1.6 Inches

Another .57 of an inch of rain fell on Hereford Thursday, bringing the two-day moisture total to 1.6 inches and the October total to 2.06 inches. Yesterday's rain followed an accumulation of 1.03 inches Wednesday as the state of Texas continued to be drenched nearly from border to border.

The heaviest rainfall was in the north and northwest sections of the state, where from three to five inches fell. The national Weather Service reported flash floods in Gainesville and Sherman.

In the local area Dan Hall at Walcott has received .70 of an inch over the past two days, while H.L. Hershey reported a total of 1.1 over the two-day period at his place 13 miles northeast of town.

The forecast calls for cloudy conditions with scattered thunderstorms through Saturday, becoming locally heavy in the eastern portion of the Panhandle.

ed partly on the shift by Sen. Larry Pressler, a South Dakota Republican who had been among 50 co-sponsors of a Senate resolution to veto the sale of five Airborne Warning and Control System planes, Sidewinder missiles and new equipment for jet fighters.

Also swinging behind Reagan were Sens. S.I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., who had been leaning against the sale, and Charles Mathias, R-Md., who had been undecided. That cut the Senate lineup, according to an Associated Press count, to 53-37 against the sale, with 10 senators uncommitted and the vote still a.

week and a half away. Pressler, who only two days before had rejected Reagan's plea for support at the White House, said he was persuaded by the president's call from Philadelphia, where he was speaking to a foreign policy group.

"The president felt we would impede him in foreign policy if we vetoed the arms sale," Pressler said.

More important, Pressler said, Reagan promised to incorporate in a letter to the Senate an assurance that he would offer Israel new radarjamming equipment to prevent the AWACS planes from being used to spy on Israeli air operations.

Earlier, Maj. Gen. Richard V. Secord, a deputy assistant secretary of defense, told the committee that "the Israelis have not expressed any interest in radar jammers. It is my judgment that because the AWACS threat is so small, the Israelis will not want additional jammers."

Asked about that later, Pressler replied: "Well, that would end the matter."

The administration also enlisted Maxwell Raab, U.S. ambassador to Italy and a prominent Jewish leader, to win Pressler's vote. Raab, described by Pressler as an old friend, had lunch with the senator to urge his support of the sale.

Reagan's strategy did not work, however, on another senator, Nebraska Democrat Edward Zorinsky.

Clements Backs

All Seven Proposals

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - All seven proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 3 ballot have won Gov. Bill Clements' backing.

"I will work for the passage of all seven of these amendments," Clements said at a Thursday news conference.

The governor already has been working in support of the proposed water trust fund, which appears as Amendment No. 4 on the ballot. If approved, the amendment would put set aside half the state revenue surplus for use on water projects. It also would allow the state to use its credit rating to back local water bonds.

Clements also previously voiced support for Amendment No. 3, which would set up a state finance management committee to oversee the budget while the Legislature was not in session.

The other amendments on the ballot would provide property tax relief to encourage improvements in blighted areas, clear title defects for certain land formerly owned by the state, provide tax exemptions for livestock and poultry, provide property tax relief for homestead owners and increase the money available for veterans' land bonds.

Brilab Defendant To Try Discrediting FBI Information

HOUSTON (AP) - The lawyer for a labor leader charged with racketeering and conspiracy in connection with an undercover Brilab investigation says he will concentrate on discrediting an FBI informant who has twice been convicted of swindling. Michael Ramsey, attorney for L.G. Moore, regional director of the International Union of Operating Engineers, said Thursday he is dubious of the worth of recordings made by Joseph Hauser.

"Joe Hauser is a liar, and we'll prove that," Ramsey said.

Moore and former Port of Houston Commissioner John Garrett are accused of trying to influence awarding of health insurance contracts for city of Houston employees and a local labor union.

U.S. District Judge Norman Black set Dec. 14 as the trial date. He also accepted a motion to consolidate the charges filed against Moore in May with a June 1980 indictment arising from the original Brilab (briberylabor) investigation.

Governor Wants

Traditional Primary

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Republican Gov. Bill Clements says the Democrats should use the traditional primary process - not a "privileged caucus" - to pick a 1982 opponent for him.

Clements, at a Thursday news conference, slammed the "miniconvention" idea suggested by State Democratic Chairman Bob Slagle. Under the Slagle plan, 200 Democrats would gather to pick a gubernatorial nominee. The idea is to avoid bloody and expensive primary battles that have plagued the Democrats in recent years. "I think (the Democrats) are making quite a spectacle of themselves," Clements said.

Highway Maintenance

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texans think highway maintenance and assuring an adequate water supply are state government's two most important tasks, according to a University of Texas survey.

The Institute for Constructive Capitalism at UT's Graduate School of Business contacted 2,041 people to ask about their views of Texas government.

Dr. Robert Peterson, a senior research fellow at the institute, called the survey a "snapshot perspective of public views."

Tax Free Bonds Under Fire By Govt.

WASHINGTON (AP) -Tax-free bonds have been used to finance new farms, heavy industry, paddleball courts, a topless go-go bar and other operations that might create jobs. Now, the Reagan administration is trying to crack down on them. It costs a city, county or state nothing - not even a risk to its credit rating - to sell tax-free bonds for the benefit of a private citizen or firm.

But these "small-issue" industrial-development bonds are costing the federal government at least $1 billion a year in lost taxes. Critics also say the bonds are forcing up interest rates, particularly for cities and counties, and squeezing traditional borrowers out of the credit markets. This could mean higher local taxes.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A mother asked you why her two daughters (in their 20s) are not close and friendly. She couldn't understand their coldness to one another.

Please ask that mother if she remembers how she treated her daughters when they were growing up.

My sister and I never had a close relationship because of the favoritism accorded to my sister. All my childhood memories are about how my sister got the most expensive clothes and I wore her castoffs. When there were only two lamb chops, Sis got them. (I had spaghetti and meatballs). Green Thumb workers in Castro, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Parmer, Randall and Swisher counties met Wednesday, Oct. 14 at Olton Lions Club Hall to learn some "tricks of the trade" when it

One-of-a-kind elegance

RIDGEFIELD, Conn. (AP) - So the hunt has been called off. The less deadly of the species is free at last to roam at large. Hostesses no longer will be calling me up in the hope of bagging an odd stag to even out a dinner table.

According to a disconcerting social note in The New York Times the other day, "it is now acceptable in some circles to have an uneven table at a dinner party - dinner parties at which the ratio of male to female guests is less than equal and even dinner parties at which men are so precious the hostess has them studded about the table like truffles on a pate."

The sub-head on the story called off the hounds: "Warm bodies in dinner jackets are not so in demand."

I suppose my social calendar will be fairly bleak from here on out. No more freebies from frantic social lionesses anxious to balance a table with my considerable bulk. Male guests of my journalistic experience and conversational range were never exactly studded about like truffles on a pate, but hostesses were wont to scatter us about with the pretzels and peanuts at hors d'oeuvres

Prior to the breakdown of gender equality at the dinner . table, hostesses caught short used to seek me out for my dependable supply of graffiti and bumper sticker oneliners. I could always be counted upon to brighten up the dull spot between the soup and the salad with amusing

NEW YORK (NEA) - Lush NEW YORK (NEA) - Lish silk and angora yarns are just the beginning for Dolly Brickman's spectacular knit sweaters and dresses for Paavia. She will do just about anything that can be knit, including gold and sil-ver mosaic effects, suede ribbon beading and abstract intarsia patterning.

Yarns are often mixed, as in her clingy sweater with great puffed angora sleeves and neckline outlined in bril-liants. Silk and angora mix in an intarsia sweater shaded from gray to white. Camel's-hair crochet edges a boucle-knit sweater jack-et. A favorite contrast is the angora sleeve on boucle knits

Dolly Brickman has all her knits made by hand, since many of her original effects can be obtained only with hand knitting, sewing and finishing. She never stops putting new ideas into her work, if only because her tops and dress

Daniels Trial Enters Third Day

LIBERTY, Texas (AP) -Prosecutors faced a continuing evidentiary challenge today in their bid to prove Vickie Daniel intentionally killed her husband, former Texas House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

Marvin Powell, a former sheriff's investigator and the state's fifth witness, was to return to the stand today to open the third day of testimony.

Mrs. Daniel, 34, is accused of killing her husband last January during a violent cents each and the list may be margument at their Liberty ranch home.

According to previous testimony, Mrs. Daniel admitted shooting her husband but said the fatal shot discharged accidentally.

She said she recalled firing a warning but could not remember a second shot. The prosecution introduced

HERMANOS?

By JACK KEEVER Associated Press Writer AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A citizen council that envisions paying anonymous callers for tips leading to the arrest of criminals has begun its work with the "100 percent" backing of Gov. Bill Clements.

The governor's general counsel, David Dean, said Thursday that Clements would do everything in his power to help state and local citizen groups halt crime.

"Gov. Clements is highly committed to a very effective ... Crime Stoppers program," Dean told the first meeting of the Governor's Crime Stoppers Advisory Council. "He (Clements) wants to do anything and everything he can help it and give it a high profile."

Clements backed up Dean's comments in a statement that said, "I am 100 percent behind this program and am confident that it will be successful in getting criminals off of the streets and behind bars and assisting in the creation of additional local Crime Stoppers programs across this state.'

The council chose Maurice Acers of Dallas as its chairman. Acers served with the FBI from 1934 to 1947 and is past chairman of the Greater Dallas Crime Commission.

"If we don't conquer crime," said Acers, "crime will conquer the democratic processes we have enjoyed all these many years."

Local Junior High Teams Hold Opposition Scoreless

After the football action had run its course yesterday afternoon, there were a lot of zeroes up on the scoreboard and it was the visitors that were collecting a bumper crop of the goose eggs.

The two junior highs played four games at home with three of the four winning and the La Plata ninth grade settling for a tie.

Stanton's eighth grade, or the Alan Dudding show, continued its winning ways with a 16-0 triumph over the Clovis Gattis eighth graders. Dudding put the first points on the board when he took a handoff up the middle and then scooted to the outside and raced 40 yards for the Dogies first TD.

Stanton added the insurance with a safety in the latter part of the second quarter to move to an 8-0 lead at halftime.

In the second half, both teams used strong defensive play to leave the third period without any scoring, but in the fourth stanza, quarterback, Stephan Hacker found wide receiver John Guy Ford in the open for a 20 yard score via the airways.

Stanton's ninth grade put three tallies on the board with three different players helping with the scoring. In the first half Sammy Suarez lofted a 50 yard scoring toss to split-end Chet Bunch to give the freshman Dogies a 6-0 lead and then Bunch added the point after to give Stanton a 7-0 lead at the half.

In the fourth, the Dogie defense set up the next score, as they rushed the Gattis punter and he fumbled the snap to allow the host team to recover on the Gattis five vard line.

On the next play Suarez swept around the end for the touchdown and after another PAT by Bunch the Dogies had moved to a 14-0 lead.

The last score of the game came late in the last period as Chad Stephans hit Mark Salas with a 20 yard pass to give Stanton the rest of the points and the 20-0 win. La Plata also showed a stingy defense as the eighth grade Mavericks came away from their game against Plainview Blue recording a 7-0 win.

In the second quarter, Danny Castillo swept around the left side to put the initial points on the board for La Plata, and then Trent Lavman booted the extra point to finish the scoring on the game.

In the ninth grade game between La Plata and Plainview, the Mavericks made it four in a row in holding the opposition winless as they fought to 0-0 tie. Defensively, Mike Scott squashed a Plainview scoring threat when he intercepted a pass deep in the Maverick's territory. Other defensive standouts for the freshman Mavericks were Wayne Allison, Jose Villalobos and Albert Tijerina all who recovered fumbles to keep the Plainview offense from mounting any scoring threats.

Next week the two junior highs split and travel to four different towns. The La Plata eighth will travel to Pampa, the ninth to Friona, while Stanton will send its eighth grade to Plainview and the ninth to Clovis.

Yanks Sweep Oakland; Enter Series

OAKLAND (AP) - The New York Yankees are in another World Series, lending a touch of tradition to a strange, strike-marred baseball season.

"I want a Yankees-Dodgers Series. I hate the Dodgers." said rookie pitcher Dave Righetti, one of the most openly delighted members of the team that won the American League pennant by beating the Oakland A's 4-0 Thursday night, sweeping the best-of-five league playoff.

The Yankees, who have made 32 previous World Series appearances, will open at home Tuesday night against either the Los Angeles Dodgers or Montreal Expos, tied 1-1 in the National League playoff that resumes tonight in Montreal.

All of the Yankees' Series teams of the past won 90 or

The 1981 team won 59 in a season interrupted for two months because of the players' strike. There was no champagne in the Yankees' clubhouse, on orders of owner George Steinbrenner. And there were no complaints.

"We haven't won anything yet," said Steinbrenner, who embraced his most celebrated former employee, Billy Martin, and told the A's manager, "You never gave up, you little rat."

Martin predicted that his young team would win the AL West again next season. "And we'll go all the way then." But Yankee Manager Bob Lemon, who replaced Martin during the championship season of 1978 and took over after Gene Michael was fired this year, is the man in charge as the Yankees go after a 23rd world champion-

"This ballclub has won a lot," said Reggie Jackson, who didn't even notice the absence of champagne until it was pointed out to him. "We're like the A's team of 1974. I think we broke open one bottle of champagne when we won the pennant that year, then headed for Los Angeles and won the Series in five games.

'We know we haven't reached our ultimate goal." Jackson, a member of the A's world championship teams of 1972-73-74, said he expects to be in the Yankees' starting lineup for the Series opener despite being held out of Thursday night's game because of a torn calf muscle. Nothing surprises me about our club. We knew what we had to do and we did it," said Graig Nettles, the veteran third baseman whose three-run double in the ninth inning off reliever Tom

Underwood gave him a playoff record of nine runs, batted in, earning him the series Most Valuable Player Award.

Righetti went six innings for the pitching victory and the Yankees' overpowering relievers, Ron Davis and Rich Gossage, came on to complete the five-hit shutout.

Willie Randolph, the New York second baseman demoted recently from the top of the batting order to the No. 9 spot, accounted for game's first run with a twoout homer in the sixth off A's starter Matt Keough.

"If I hadn't made that pitch, we still might be playing," said Keough, who was 2-0 against the Yankees in regular-season appearances and earned added respect Thursday night.

But the right-hander, who left after an error by second probably could have hoped didn't score runs," said A's right fielder Tony Armas, summing up the game and the series, in which the A's the Oakland order. Both A's outfielders left early in the game, Murphy with an injured ribcage and Henderson with a bruised wrist.

"That was an awfully big thing for them," said Gossage. "Those two are among the best players in either league.

The Yankees' bullpen strength, as Lemon said, "makes it cut and dried what we're going to do" late in games.

"If you let a runner get on base after the seventh, you know you're probably coming out," said Righetti, who is 3-0 in postseason play incluing his two divisional playoff victories over Milwaukee.

"The way the Goose (Gossage) was firing, it was just 'Forget It' for the A's," said Righetti, the rookie from nearby San Jose whose father, Leo, a former minor baseman Dave McKay got league player, saw him pitch him in trouble in the ninth, as a pro for the first time.

In the past week, Herb Brooks has had to learn how to do something very new - accept losing. Not that Brooks, the mastermind of the 1980 United States Olympic hockey team's shocking rush to a gold medal and now the coach of the New York Rangers, plans to allow a negative attitude to creep into his psyche. It's just that when you work in professional sports, losing comes with the territory.

"The secret is not whether you win or lose but who gets the blame," said Brooks after the Rangers - who haven't won a National Hockey League championship since 1940 - won their first game of the season Wednesday night. The Rangers had looked pitiful in dropping their first three contests of the season. being outscored 20-5. For that, Brooks was willing to take the blame.

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

Peril awaits the Southwest Conference leaders on the road this weekend according to the oddsmakers.

Texas A&M is a two-point underdog to the Baylor Bears in Waco while unbeaten and No. 10 ranked Southern Methodist is a slim one-point pick over Houston in the Astrodome:

The No. 1 ranked Texas Longhorns are only a sixpoint choice over the Arkansas Razorbacks in Fayetteville.

A&M and SMU are tied atep the SWC ladder with 2-0 records followed by Texas at 1-0.

Baylor has won its last three games against the Aggres. Running back Walter Abercrombie has a career average of 162 yards per game against A&M, inluding a school record 207 yards in 1978

In other games Saturday,

Texas Christian will try to boost the SWC's 17-7 record in a meeting with Utah State in Fort Worth while Rice is at Texas Tech.

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz said the Longhorns will bringing the best team from Austin he has seen to the Ozarks.

In 1979, Dallas ripped the Rams 30-6 during the regular season - but Los Angeles avenged that with a 21-19 National Conference championship triumph that propelled it into the Super Bowl.

Monday night it's Chicago at Detroit. The Oakland Raiders are hoping to avoid matching the single-season record of four consecutive shutout losses suffered by the Brooklyn Dodgers of 1943 (the Dodgers failed to score a point in their last two games of '42 as well as the first four of '43) when they face Tampa Bay. The Bucs have pulled into a firstplace tie with Minnesota in the NFC Central Division.

The Broncos can retain their grip on first place in the AFC West by beating Kansas City, which won both games from Denver last year to end an eight-year losing streak. Denver has both the No.1 defense in the league and the No.1-rated passer, Craig Morton. If both the Chiefs and San Diego win on Sunday, the top of the division will be thrown into a three-way tie. Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Houston all share the lead in the AFC Central Division. The Steelers are on a roll four consecutive victories.

They are out to avenge los to the Bengals in both meetings last year. River front Stadium has been somewhat of a problem the past two seasons - 16 turnovers in their two most recent games there.

Philadelphia, now the only unbeaten team in the league and two games ahead of Dallas in the NFC East, goes against charged-up Minnesota which rallied last Sunday to upset San Diego 33-31. for its fourth consecutive vice tory. The Vikings' offense isthe best in the NFC.

Monday night's game in-Detroit will revive memoriesof one of the most electrifying finishes to a Thanksgiving Day game. Last year, when the Bears invaded the Silverdome, they scored on the final play of regulation time to tie the score, then David Williams ran the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown in 21 seconds, the shortest overtime game in NFL history.

Penn State Hoping Number One Jinx Continues

By GARY MYERS AP Sports Writer

It's been 10 long years since Syracuse managed a victory against Penn State. And unless the very unexpected happens Saturday at the Orangeman's Carrier Dome. the second-ranked Nittany Lions should have no problem making it No.11.

Penn State, 4-0, figures to be in a nasty mood after getting leap-frogged by Texas to the top spot in the lastest Associated Press college football poll following Southern Cal's loss to Arizona.

Syracuse, meanwhile, after losing the first three in Coach Dick MacPherson's regime, rebounded with a victory over Indiana and a tie with Maryland in its last two games. The Orangemen were off last week and it's very likely MacPherson took advantage by studying lots and lots of film.

Penn State, which finished a mere 12 points behind Texas in the latest Associated Press poll, will be listening for the announcements of the score in the Texas-Arkansas game. But the Nittany Lions defense better keep its mind on little Joe Morris, the leading rusher in Syracuse history, ahead of such people as Jimmy Brown, Larry Csonka, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little, Morris, a senior, has 460 yards in five games

While Penn State has got to be rooting for the No.1 jinx to strike again, Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz sees no reason why his Razorbacks, 4-1, can't pull off the latest in a series of giant killings that have marked this very crazy college football season.

able to explain what toxic means. What it is. What it does to living things or what the symptoms are. Would you please explain toxic? DEAR READER -

Stated simply it means poisonous. When you hear toxic think poison. It used to mean complex chemical poi-sons produced by biological substances but that distinction is gone.

Toxins can be produced by bacteria. That is what toxic shock in the presence of a bacterial infection is. The recent interest in toxic shock from tampons is just one illustration of toxins produced by bacteria. Other bacterial infections can produce shock as the body is overwhelmed by the "toxins" (poisons) produced by the bacteria. Today toxins mean poisons from any source, including pollution or poisons of industrial origin. When someone says a substance is a toxin to the body they mean it is a poison

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have a condition called Peyronie's disease, a gristlelike growth on my penis. I've been to two different doctors. Both tell me there isn't much they can do for me and that it will go away in time. I've had it for three years and I'm 44 years old. I've taken vitamin E three times a day but that seemed times a day but that seemen to make it more tender. I was taking vitamin E before this developed, then stopped and started it again when the doctor suggested it. I am not taking any now but I am not improving either. Is there anything you can tell me that will help?

DEAR READER - I used to think this was a rare condition but the large number of letters I get asking about this problem suggests that it is actually rather common.

center. I think some of these are similar to the plaques we see in the arteries. The penis is really a large blood vessel so that isn't too surprising. In persistent cases surgery has been reported to be successful in some, cutting out the plaque and mending the area. DEAR DR. LAMB - Can you tell me anything about "valley fever"? I hear it attacks the lungs and sometimes can be taken care of by surgery. But what hap-pens if the fever is spread over all the lung?

DEAR READER - You probably mean coccidiodo-mycosis, also called San Joaquin Valley fever because it is so common in that location. It is a fungue disease and the fungal spores are inhaled. It cannot be spread from man to man or from animals to man. You get it from the soil and air.

air. At first it appears as a respiratory illness. It may be mild and many people do not know they even have it. Most recover without future problems. A few have a spread of the fungus infec-tion through the lungs and even to other areas.

Yes, local spots are sometimes cut out. And in other cases a local spot on the lungs from the fungus infec-tion cannot be separated from cancer by X-rays and must be cut out. But if needed there are good medicines that can be used to control the disease that has spread Amphotericin B, an anti-fungal agent, is often used in those cases.

DEAR ANTOINETTE - To answer your last question first, the best way to clean fake fur is to take it to a dry cleaner. Many fake furs can be machine-washed without any problems, but only do so if the coat is labeled "machine washable." Make sure the dry cleaner knows or can determine what kind of fiber the fur is. Some fake furs must be cleaned like real fur, others with conventional dry cleaning methods, and some can be washed. To spot-clean the collar, gently rub cornmeal into the fur, then brush it out thoroughly. If this does not completely remove the soil, gently sponge the spots with a soft cloth dampened with a solution of water and a few drops of 73-1p ammonia. Some readers have had good luck sponging fake fur with rubbing alcohol. In any case, proceed cautiously and try to test any cleaning solution on an inconspicuous spot first. - POLLY DEAR POLLY - When I use frozen green peppers, I put them still frozen into my boiling soup, stew or sauce, then stir until the frozen pieces are separated and thoroughly mixed in. The pepper pieces are never mushy when prepared this way and they hold their shape well. — JOAN DEAR POLLY — Whenever I mail a parcel, I prepare two address labels. I make the regular large label for the front of the package and a smaller one for the end of the parcel. Labels often do become damaged, but my second label usually safeguards my mailing. - L.M. DEAR POLLY - In our auto body and paint shop, we've found the safest way to remove bumper stickers from the painted surfaces of the car. We carefully heat the sticker with a heat gun (people at home can use a pistol-type hair dryer). As the glue warms, the sticker can be peeled away from the paint without damage. If there is a glue residue, we clean the area with a soft cloth and alcohol, then wash immediately with cool water and dry with a soft cloth. Then we follow with a coat of good auto wax. - DICK . . . . . . light-colored, fake fur collar. The entire jacket does not need cleaning, just the collar. Also what method of cleaning is best to use when the entire jacket needs to be cleaned?

Doctors do not know what causes it. The problem is sentially as you describe it. It causes a crooked organ during erection and it can be so severe that it is painful and prevents sexual relations. It is more common in middle-aged and older men but it can occur earlier, as your case suggests. The area may resemble a low-grade inflammation. Vitamin E has been used for it with variable, but often unsatisfactory, results. The area often does clear spontaneously with or without medicine, which causes me to sometimes say a person recovered in spite of the doctor and not because of the treatment.

There are several treatments available and I think you should see a urologist who may be familiar with those discussed in that issue. If necessary, go to the urology department of a nearby medical university clinical
