Simulated Disaster Drill

An unidentified local youth, a volunteer victim of Thursday night's mock tornado, gets attention from Hereford Volunteer Fireman Paul Hamilton. The simulated situation was this year's choice as a disaster training effort for local emergency services personnel.

fort of the local police, fire and sheriff's departments, Emergency Medical Services, sheriff's reserves, Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Texas Department of Public Safety, Deaf Smith Hereford Fire Marshall Jay Spain, General Hospital and the Hereford Amateur Radio Emergency Service.

Representatives from each of those agencies and nearly 40 volunteer firemen showed up to care for the "victims," which included seven dead. One of those was a fireman who was struck when part of the building caved in.

"We think it went real well," Spain commented. "Of course all of us The training sessions are a joint ef- work together all the time anyway, so this was just a little bit grander scale." Spain said the only major difference between the mock disaster and the "Real McCoy" was that if there had been a tornado, help from neighboring communities would have started arriving in 20 to 30

Spain said Thursday night's brief rain storm, which really did happen, made a change in plans necessary. According to the original schedule, the tornado would have first hit in Veteran's Park where an activity was in progress before moving on to the Bull Barn. That would have meant each agency dividing its peronnel between the two locations. Gary Hollinger, director of Nurses at DSGH, was among local officials who critiqued the "performance" after it ended around 8:30 p.m.

"I thought it went well," he said. 'We were well pleased. We just hope it never really happens."

Hollinger said he was especially impressed by the cooperation that the various agencies have with each

About half of the 13 local emergency ham radio operators were available to take part Thursday night, setting up radios at the headquarters of the various agencies. "Last night we were back-up and convenience," explained Wayne White. "In a real emergency, we might be the front line." White said several of the operators worked during the Wichita Falls tornado several years ago, and most all of them have some sort of disaster training.

Governor signs education-highway bills, tax measure to pay for changes

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Mark White 5-cent a gallon motor fuels tax on state money to poorer districts signed into law today a $2.8 billion education reform bill that he said will become known as the 'equal educational opportunity act of 1984."

He also signed, in a simple ceremony in the Capitol rotunda, a $4.6 billion tax bill to pay for education and highway improvements. "These bills are a victory of the legislative process," White said, and paid homage to the "determination and courage" of state legislators, particularly Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker Gib Lewis, for passing the first tax bill in 17 years to pay for school reform.

The signing took place on a simple wooden desk, with two bushel baskets of red apples on either side.

Aug. 1. Vehicle registration fees also go up on Aug. 1. The rest of the tax package - including a one-eighth of a cent increase in the state sales tax - takes effect Oct. 2.

After almost four weeks of controversy over improving public schools, the special legislative session finally approved the comprehensive measure on June 30. The tax bill was sent to White, who called the special session specifically for education and highway improvements, on July 3, the last day of the session.

The education bill, based largely on recommendations from the Select Committee on Public Education, not only attempts to improve conditions The tax bill doubles the current in the classrooms but funnels more where education has suffered because of a lack of funds.

The tax bill, which includes a oneeighth of a cept increase in the state sales tax, is the first major tax bill passed in 17 years.

"The strongest thing for the education bill is the fact that it is the only major bill in 20 years that deals more with academic quality and the emphasis is on students, not the benefits for personnel," said Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

The weak point about the bill, said Rep. Bill Haley, D-Center, chairman of the House Public Education Cominittee, is that it is not complete in setting up competency testing for teachers, one of the most controversial issues, particularly with the Texas State Teachers Association which withdrew its support of the measure at the last moment.

"We don't know how or who will appraise the teachers," Haley said. That will be up to the next Legislature and the new State Board of Education."

Ironically, one part of the bill requires all teachers to pass the unwritten test by June 30, 1986.

"I think the 1985 Legislature is going to take a close look at this (competency tests)," Parker said. "I think they are a big waste of WASHINGTON (AP) - Wholesale prices held flat for a third straight month in June as both food and gasoline prices fell, the government said today. For the first half of 1984, inflation at the wholesale level was just 2.8 percent.

Not since early 1983 have prices refused to rise for a full calendar quarter, the Labor Department said.

Today's report seemed to indicate that inflation at the wholesale level is even more under control than had been predicted by many economists, who have foreseen a full-year inflation rate of 4.5 percent to 5 percent.

Even with that forecast, economist Robert Gough of Data Resources Inc., said in advance of today's report that "consumers really needn't worry about inflation in

Pageant winners announced

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) + Sherry Elkins, Miss Greenville, won the talent competition and Patti Packer, Miss Hurst-Euless-Bedford won swimsuit competition in the second night of preliminaries of the 1984 Miss Texas Pageant.

Miss Elkins, a 23-year-old student at exas Woman's University, is a cousin of former Miss America Mary Ann Mobley, pageant officials said. She performed a ventriloquism act with a dog named Twinkles.

Miss Packer is a 21-year-old senior at Texas Christian University. The pageant began Wednesday night. After another round of preliminaries tonight, the finals will be televised, beginning at 8 p.m.

Dancer to take city by storm

DALLAS (AP) - Sporting the obligatory Sgt. Pepper jacket and white sequined glove, Michael Jackson tonight will strut and dance his way to the top of a six-story stage built just for him and try to thrill thousands.

Jackson and his road crew already have turned Texas Stadium from Cowboy country into a laser-lit sound stage, with nine-story speaker columns, and even the Cowboys are impressed.

Five Cowboys players tried to pay the singer a visit Thursday afternoon at his hotel suite. He wasn't in, but Dextor Clinkscale, Tony Dorsett, Tony Hill, Drew Pearson and Dennis Thurman were invited backstage to one of the three Victory Tour concerts.

Some critics say Jackson's appearance in Dallas has brought out the worst in people. Ministers complain about the underlying tones of his music, and fans protested ticket policy. But crowds have come out to see Jackson and his family so far during his stay.

"Michael is really up for the concert," said Jackson's spokesman Norm Winter.

Officials said some seats for the concert series remained unsold in the second leg of his nationwide tour. But stadium spokesmen said workers are preparing for a flurry of medical emergencies when the concerts begin at dark each night.

"We're prepared for panic, fainting spells - just about anything that can happen, although we don't think anything will," said Texas Stadium spokesman Joe Cavagnaro.

The National Weather Service predicts temperatures at dark each night should be about 90.

Children's seat belt law mandated

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Mark White Thursday signed a law requiring that children under 2 be secured in safety seats in cars. The law also mandates the use of safety seats or seat belts for children ages 2-4.

Texas is the 49th state to enact a mandatory safety seat law. The law goes into effect Oct. 31, but penalties will not be assessed until January. Motorists who violate the law face a fine of up to $50. However, an offender can avoid a fine by obtaining a safety seat within 10 days.

The law does not cover commercial carriers who transport children. It also will not be enforced in vehicles in which all seat

Opponents of the bill blasted it as an invasion of parental rights. "Why do we want to make life just a little more restrictive for people?" Pampa Rep. Foster Whaley complained.

Other opponents said the seats, which cost about $20 to $80, could be a financial hardship on poor parents. But bill backers said rental and loaner programs around the state are in place to help the poor.

Also, Thursday, White signed a bill making it illegal to leave a child under 7 unattended in a motor vehicle. The law, effective Oct. 2, is aimed at preventing parents from leaving young children in cars that can become dangerously hot.

Researchers isolate gene

NEW YORK (AP) - The isolation of a gene central to the body's defenses is the first step toward better treatment of a variety of other human ailments, including AIDS, that result from malfunction of the immune system, researchers say.

The gene governs the growth of certain white blood cells, called T-cells, which are important in the rejection of transplanted organs and in the auto-immune diseases, in which the body turns upon itself.

Organ rejection and auto-immune diseases occur when too many T-cells are present. Acquired immune deficiency syndrome, on the other hand, is marked by a shortage of T-cells. In both situations, it would be helpful for doctors to have techniques to bring the T-cell level back to normal.

The growth of T-cells is basically controlled by two things: a substance called T-cell growth factor, which stimulates the cells, and tiny "receptors" on the T-cells that detect the presence of the growth factor.

In interviews Thursday, researchers at the National Cancer Institute and at Immunex, a Seattle genetic engineering company, said they had isolated the gene that produces the tiny receptors. A Japanese group has also isolated the gene, the researchers said.

Dr. Robert Gallo, a National Cancer Institute researcher who has worked extensively with T-cells, said the discovery "in the context of basic science is important, no question."

"If we could interfere with the activation of receptors for T-cell growth factors, we could overcome many of the problems being eno ed in transplantation," said Dr. Warner Greene, head of the National Cancer Institute team that isolated the gene, Likewise, that could lead to better treatment for any of the disease in which the immune system is either overactive or deficient, he said.

Washington executed today

STARKE, Fla. (AP) - David Leroy Washington, who admitted killing three people and said he'd rather die himself than rot in jail, was executed today in Florida's electric chair.

Washington was the second U.S. death row prisoner to be executed

About 30 people demonstrated outside the prison against the death penalty, while a half-dozen showed their support. The U.S. Supreme Court late Thursday rejected last-ditch pleas by Washington's lawyers to step in and halt the execution, voting 7-2 against further argument. Washington was under his third death warrant for killing University of Miami student Frank Meli, elderly Miami resident Katrina Birk and homosexual minister Daniel Pridgen in an eight-day murder spree in Miami in 1976. As he waited in a holding cell near the death chamber at Florida State Prison, Washington was "stoic" when told of the high court's decision, a prison official said.

His appeals were based on a lawyer's claim that the death sentence was arbitrary and discriminatory.

Washington ordered a last meal of fried shrimp and oysters, french fries, lemonade, a half-pint of vanilla ice cream, hot rolls and catsup for his last meal, said prison spokesman Vernon Bradford, and was visited by his mother and other relatives Thursday.

Superintendent vows to fight

HOUSTON (AP) - The superintendent of the affluent Spring Branch Independent School District has vowed to fight a Justice Department lawsuit that alleges the school district has failed to pursue the employment of black teachers or clerical workers.

Superintendent Henry Wheeler denied the west Houston school district has ever discriminated against blacks and said "we can prove it in a court of law."

The Justice Department filed a lawsuit in Houston federal court claiming the district employs only a few blacks and has refused to change its practices, despite a 3-year federal investigation into its hiring prac-

During the 1983-84 school year, the Spring Branch district employed only 50 black teachers, or 2.5 percent of its 1,948-member teaching staff, the lawsuit says.

There were only three blacks among 284 clerical employees during that time, the suit said.

Wheeler said he is unsure whether the figures are accurate, but added, "The district has always prided itsemf on hiring the best teachers, be they black, brown or white."

The predominantly white school district includes parts of west Houston and the wealthy Memorial suburban cities of Spring Valley, Piney Point Village, Hunter's Creek Village, Hedwig Village, Hilshire Village and Bunker Hill Village. The district has about 29,000 students and is declining in enrollment.

Jeff Rogers, an attorney for the school district, said the low numbers of blacks working in the district is partially due to housing patterns.

"The population here is predominantly white and the school board and its employees reflect that population," he said. He added few teachers or clerks are willing to fight crosstown traffic and prefer to work close to home.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Denise Ferguson said a similar federal lawsuit is pending against the Pasadena Independent School

If June's rate were repeated for 12 straight months, it would result in a 0.4 percent decline for the year, a price decrease too small to be reflected in the rounded-off calcula-

With Kids Inc. regular season and city tournament play concluded for the season, all-star teams comprised from the various divisions are gearing up for tourneys against other towns.

The 14-15 year-old Babe Ruth boys have a first round tournament game versus Muleshoe at 6 p.m. tonight in Plainview. Hereford must win the double-elimination tourney to advance beyond the first round.

The 13-year-old all-stars, on the other hand, skip first-round action because Hereford is the host town for the West Texas Babe Ruth State Tournament for 13 year olds.

Six area teams will be competing in the event. Hereford plays its first game Monday at 8 p.m. in the Kids Inc. Complex.

The boys Major all-star squad will try to advance to the Amarillo tournaments when it travels to battle Dimmitt's 11-12 year olds in a best two-out-of-three series. The first contest is slated for 7 p.m. Monday in Dimmitt.

The boys Minor all-star unit will host Dimmitt at 8 p.m. Monday in the Kids Inc. Complex in the first game of its two-team series.

The Kids Inc. girl teams are having an awards picnic Saturday beginning at 4 p.m. in Veterans Park.

There are no area district or state tournaments for the gals but Hereford is scheduling invitational matches to take place July 28.

The Hereford Twisters men's soccer team is hosting a top Amarillo team Sunday at 2 p.m., according to team spokesman Emilio Romero.

The Twisters are presently battling for first place and sporting a 5-1 won-lost record. The match will take place at the soccer field on 15th Street and Avenue I. All fans are invited to attend.

Hereford's other adult soccer team, the Dragliners, a mixed squad, will play Saturday at 5 p.m. in Amarillo.

The Dragliners are 5-1-1 and also vying for a firstplace finish.

The Hereford Warriors, a local semi-pro football team, were denied permission to use Whiteface Stadium for their home games the Héreford Independent School District directors decided Tuesday.

The squad may use La Plata Junior High's football field. Equipment such as game clock and yard markers will be available for rent, board member John Fuston said.

The Warriors first home game is scheduled for September 2 against Wellington.

Rangers start second half with win

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) -American League reserve Buddy Bell says the break for the All-Star Game provided just the edge he needed to regain his hitting touch.

"I feel real strong at the plate now." said Bell, who drove in four of the Texas Rangers' seven runs Thursday in a 7-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians. "The all-star break helped me some in that I got to relax, but I've really just felt real good at the plate lately."

"He's swinging the bat super," Texas manager Doug Rader said. "That's why he's on the all-star team."

Bell got the game-winning RBI early, doubling in the Rangers' first two runs after Billy Sample had walked and Wayne Tolleson had singled.

Bell was anxious to give credit to teammates Sample and Tolleson, who each scored twice.

"I don't really care who drives in the runs," said Bell. "I drove them in, but it was Tolleson's hitting and Sample's running that really counted."

In the fourth and sixth innings, Bell knocked in his third and fourth RBI of the night on a single and a sacrifice fly.

Knuckle-baller Charlie Hough went the route for Texas, giving up four hits, two runs (one earned), walking two and striking out four.

"I had a pretty good knuckler," said Hough, "but it was tough weather-wise. I felt the mugginess. I went through a couple of shirts, but I felt good. I didn't have to make a lot of 3-2 pitches and I didn't walk a lot. That helps."

The win puts Hough at 9-7. He has won seven of his last eight decisions and now leads the American League in complete games at 10.

"He did great," said Rader. "He threw the knuckler for strikes tonight."

Neal Heaton, 5-9, suffered the loss for Cleveland.

Texas made it 3-0 in the third as Gary Ward hit into a fielder's choice. scoring Tolleson who had walked and advanced on two stolen bases.

The Rangers' fourth, George Wright, led off with a double and advanced to third on Donnie Scott's bloop single to center. After two foul popouts, Tolleson drove in right with a bunt single down the third-base

Don Schulze then replaced Heaton and Bell singled the first pitch into left field to score Scott for a 5-0 lead.

The Rangers made it 6-0 after five. Tommy Dunba, pinch-hitting for Ward, singled and stole second before scoring on Pete O'Brien's single. Ward had left the game with the flu.

Cleveland picked up a run off Texas in the sixth, as George Vukovich walked, advanced to third on two passed balls by Scott and scored on Jerry Willard's ground out

Sample rounded the bases in the sixth to make it 7-1 Texas. Sample walked to reach base, advanced in Tolleson's single and scored on Bell's fourth RBI of the night, a sacrifice fly to center. Cleveland rallied for one more in the eighth when Pat Tabler doubled. reached third on Vukovich's double and scored on Brook Jacoby's sacrifice fly to center for the final

From 45-year-old knuckleballer Phil Niekro, the oldest player in the majors, to 24-year-old Frank Viola, and from one Baltimore ace (Scott McGregor) to another (Storm Davis), the pitchers were in paradise Thursday night and the hitters were in despair.

The knuckleballers had a terrific time. New York's Niekro tied Detroit's Jack Morris for the American League lead in victories with his 12th and has a 1.88 earned run average after he combined with reliever Dave Righetti on a 5-2 Yankees victory over Kansas City.

Pirates 6, Giants 3 Jose DeLeon struck out 12 batters in eight innings and Tony Pena's runscoring double capped a three-run fifth inning as Pittsburgh beat San Francisco.

DeLeon, 6-4, fanned seven batters in the first three innings and struck out 10 for the fifth time in his oneyear major league career and the second time this season. With the Pirates trailing 2-1, Marvell Wynne, Lee Mazzilli and Bill Madlock lined consecutive one-out singles in the fifth inning, with Madlock's single driving in Wynne. Jason Thompson followed with a Show, while winning for the first sacrifice fly off loser Bill Laskey, 4-9, to score Mazzilli before Pena doubl-

After the Braves scored three runs in the eighth to take a 6-3 lead, pinchhitter Rusty Staub led off the Mets' ninth with a double. Wally Backman then walked, chasing Steve Bedrosian, Atlanta's third pitcher.

When Atlanta left fielder Albert Hall dropped Mookie Wilson's fly to allow the Mets to load the bases, Hernandez singled to score John Stearns, who was running for Staub, and Backman.

After Darryl Strawberry struck out, George Foster singled home Wilson with the tying run. One out later, Fitzgerald doubled to score Hernandez and Foster. Jesse Orosco, 7-2, picked up the victory in relief while Doug Sisk pitched the ninth for his 13th save. Donnie Moore, 0-1, who relieved Bedrosian, absorbed the loss. Padres 4, Cardinals 1 Kevin McReynolds hit his 12th home run in the sixth inning and Eric Show and Craig Lefferts combined on a four-hitter, leading San Diego over St. Louis.

McReynolds' home run capped the San Diego attack off Joaquin Andujar, 13-7, giving them a 4-0 lead.

Party-plan sales popular but may not be a bargain

COLLEGE STATION - Buying merchandise at a "party" can be fun, but may not make much shopp-

Party-plan sales are an increasingly popular way to sell everything from pots and pans to cosmetics, jewelry and lingerie, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist Bonnie L. Piernot.

But consumers should recognize that the parties depend on peer pressure to make sales, she cautions.

Once you come into a friend's home for a party and see neighbors signing up for merchandise, it's very difficult to resist buying something, says Piernot. "This can be a real problem for the person who is trying to avoid impulse buying and stick to the family budget."

The number and value of the "free" gifts the party hostess receives usually depends on the amount of merchandise sold at the party, which can also increase the sales pressure, she notes.

The best approach to sales parties is to treat them as you would any other consumer purchase decision, advises the specialist.

You don't go to a store unless you want to buy the products sold there. So if you're not interested in buying the merchandise sold at sales parties, turn down invitations to attend them, Piernot suggests.

If you are interested in buying, she

Our Soul Seeks God

The soul of man cries out for God Man is born with this need. Those who have never heard of God Have this need indeed.

Men who had never known our God Made Gods for everything. They worshipped Gods of metal and wood In temples fit for a king.

The temple of the goddess Diana Was a work of great skill, Built for worship of Diana Men's soul needs to fulfill.

To fill the desire of jumbled minds Men made many idol Gods, And worshipped them in great temples Because man needs a God.

In Greece St. Paul found many Gods Along with one unknown: He told them of the one true God Not made of wood or stone.

He told them of the God who made-The world and man and beast, And all there is in His great world of beauty, joy and feast.

When Paul began to preach, he tried-To clean and purify the church: He taught them how to organize And clean out every smirch.

But man has made an awful mess With many creeds and names, Even St. Paul would find it hard, To clean this mess of shame

We have more than one hundred names Of church denominations. Some claim to have the ONLY way To God's great salvation.

Some claim to have the only church And only God Blessed label, Which God has set aside for them They preach this silly babble.

They tell you how to be baptised Or you are surely lost, Without their prescription and label You'll have to pay the cost.

This competition makes it hardfor sinners to find the way To Jesus and to His true church, When they just need to pray.

The thief who died by our Lord Jesus Found nothing he could do, But express his faith in Jesus; Which was all he had to do.

There was no creed or ritual He could not be baptised But Jesus said, "Verily I say todaythou shalt be with me in paradise."

Then why quibble about a creed, Or claim a holy label? Our great minds must be out of gear For, they surely are unstable.
