

Teacher, journalist open convention

By KIMBERLY THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

What this country needs is increased productivity, federal debt reduction and the courage to allow unrestricted free enterprise, Texas cattle feeders were told Monday in Amarillo.

Veteran journalist Howard K. Smith and University of Texas at Austin Professor Dr. Margaret Maxey opened the two-day convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association being held at the Hilton Hotel.

Scheduled to speak today were U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block and Dr. W.L. Rathje, a University of Arizona anthropologist who studies modern societies by evaluating their garbage.

Dr. Maxey, who is director of the Chair of Free Enterprise in UT's College of Engineering, told the audience of an estimated 1,000 that Americans must rid themselves of the fear that economic growth will stop because the country is running out of resources and ruining its environment.

"We've got to free ourselves from false guilt, false goals and false fears," Maxey maintained.

Smith, whose comments followed Maxey's, presented his plan for making the country "the leader in productivity it once was."

"We need to launch a national campaign to make productivity a national priority," Smith suggested.

Shortsightedness is one reason why the United States has fallen behind other countries in productivity levels, Smith claimed.

"The Japanese think ahead in terms of 10 to 20 years. They have chased us out of the market with products we invented."

Smith's second solution for getting the nation on sound economic footing is to "get a grip on that budget deficit." To do that, he said, will require raising taxes and cutting expenditures.

"There's absolutely no excuse for us spending more than we take in," he said.

Maxey, who holds degrees in philosophy, systematic theology and Christian ethics, expressed concern about a move to stop the country's growth that she said got its start in the 1960s.

"We are convinced that we are a morally decadent society," she claimed, "that we waste energy and resources...that our health and safety are imperiled by scientific advances. Well I say 'eyewash'."

Maxey claimed that contrary to popular belief, it is not in a technical society that massive environmental destruction is found. She pointed out that in Third and Fourth World countries, where alternate energy forms do not exist, the people are burning up wood for fuel. The loss of forests, she said, are creating water shortages as well.

The professor also had harsh words for the nation's current fear of cancer and the 1959 amendment which bans anything found to cause cancer in laboratory animals.

Pointing out that human beings would have to consume six tons a day to ingest the quantity of the substances fed to laboratory rats, Maxey suggested that we are becoming a nation of hypocondriacs.

"People are living long enough to contract cancer," Maxey reasoned. "If we live long enough, and something else doesn't kill us first, we will die of some form of cancer."

Maxey theorized that "we are in serious trouble as a nation," but that economic and technological necessity would force us to give the country a "magnificent rebirth."

Talking Politics

Texas cattle feeders gave veteran newsman Howard K. Smith a standing ovation at the close of his remarks on everything from economics to foreign affairs during Monday's opening session of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association annual convention.

President addresses issues

By KIMBERLY THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

The president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association commented on issues he considered of the greatest importance to members of the organization during opening remarks Monday at the TCFA's annual convention in Amarillo.

"When I began my term as president of TCFA last November, I thought 1984 probably would be a relatively quiet and uneventful year," TCFA President Dick Waterfield announced. He said he thought his predecessor, Charlie Koontz, had solved all the problems.

"But it didn't turn out that way-1984 has been full of actions, issues and excitement for TCFA."

The Dairy Price Support Bill, which became known as the Dairy PIC program, was the first topic reviewed by Waterfield. Although the organization did not win its fight against the bill, Waterfield said beef men fared better than expected because only about 12 percent of the nation's dairy farmers signed up with only 300,000 cows sent to slaughter.

"But it was a sober reminder to cattlemen that we must get more involved in the political area to protect our own interests," Waterfield told the crowd. "We are doing that and will continue to be more and more involved."

Deregulation of agricultural trucking was another hard-fought battle for TCFA, Waterfield said.

"While we didn't get everything we wanted, we did get negotiated rates, which gave us most of what we needed."

Within the organization itself, Waterfield expressed pride in TCFA's "Strategic Plan." Through committees, the association adopted 45 goals to pursue during the year.

From those goals, which were presented to the membership at "Feeder Feedback" meetings, three were given top priority.

Getting involved in government affairs, working for the preservation of the cash basis of accounting and striving for legislation that would eliminate double payment for agriculture commodities were the top goals adopted by TCFA, Waterfield announced.

The fight for "clear and free title legislation," which is opposed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will be taken up again when Congress convenes in 1985, Waterfield said.

"The objective of both bills is simply to eliminate double payment for 'ag' commodities when a producer sells a mortgaged crop and fails to pay off the lender," he explained. "Some lending institutions are opposing this legislation, by the way, and that makes for tough opposition."

A 25 cent checkoff, the outgoing president told the membership, brought in $1.2 million to be used for Beef Industry Council promotions. "And $6,660,000 of this has been reinvested in Texas-promoting beef in Texas."

Tax exemptions for feeders, feedyards and family corporations will most likely result from TCFA's efforts to change taxing regulations, Waterfield disclosed. A more detailed explanation of the accomplishments of TCFA's finance and taxation committee was to have been presented during one of today's workshops.

Waterfield told the association to "be informed" on the issue of feeding low-level antibiotics. "You're going to be asked about it by a lot of people," he predicted.

"We believe that proof is still lacking (that feeding antibiotics to cattle is a threat to human safety), but our work is cut out for us on this issue. And it suggests that product safety will be a major issue in 1985 and maybe for several years to come."

Market analysts predict record 5.2 million head of fed cattle will be marketed in Texas in 1984, Waterfield told the crowd. "Some of our increase has been at the expense of Iowa and other midwestern states. They are blaming it on our tax advantages, but I'm convinced it's still because of our economic advantages."

Waterfield is president of Washita Investments at Canadian and engaged in custom feeding, baking and commodities trading.

During a press conference that followed Monday's opening session, Waterfield told reporters he expects 1985 to be a good year for the industry.

"We are in a losing situation right now, but I expect that to change in three to four months."

Consumer habits are changing, Waterfield pointed out, and the beef industry will have to learn how to reach the "junk food, fast food people."

County might ask city for more jail money

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Hereford may not be paying its proportionate share for having its convicted criminals housed in Deaf Smith County Jail, county commissioners considered Monday.

Also at the regularly-scheduled morning meeting in Deaf Smith County Courthouse, commissioners approved subdivision regulations and accepted a bid to buy two sheriff's department vehicles for a combined $20,450.48.

According to Vesta Mae Nunley, county treasurer, the city does out $6.50 per day for each prisoner placed in the county detention facility. That arrangement superseded an earlier pact Hereford would give the county $250 per month to go toward the sole jailer's salary.

The county jail now has six jailers and a jail administrator, according to Sharon Pennington of the sheriff's office.

Alex Schroeter, county auditor, said Hereford should be paying 12 to 14 percent of the jail's expenses since about that amount of inmates are there on city charges. Last year, $211,000 was spent to operate the facility, meaning Hereford's pro-rated share would have been around $27,000 rather than the $7,000-plus it actually paid.

Nunley said this morning she did not "have any qualms" about the current agreement since city-charged prisoners become county inmates after they are arraigned.

Commission meets

Commissioners stressed Hereford city officials were anxious to pay their appropriate share. "They are receptive to us bringing them a proposal," claimed Austin Rose, commissioner for Precinct 2.

It was agreed the county fathers would try to meet with the Hereford City Commission at one of its future regular meetings to discuss the matter.

Meanwhile Monday morning, county commissioners met for more than a half hour with Kenny Hagar. The county surveyor outlined several changes in the subdivision regulations which were subsequently passed by the governing body.

Stevens Chevrolet-Oldsmobile had its bid accepted for supplying two 1985 Impalas to the sheriff's department. An offer to take $2,400 off the cost for trade-ins of two 1982 Chevrolets was turned down by commissioners, who felt the county could sell the used vehicles independently for a better price.

The other bid was turned in by Stagner-Orsborn Buick-Pontiac-GMC, which offered two 1985 Pontiacs for $11,036.49 apiece.

Approval was granted the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to use courthouse grounds for the annual Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony. The event is slated for the last week of November.

Doggett promises he'd keep nuke dump out

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Democratic U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett, getting help from Gov. Mark White, opened the next to last week of his campaign promising to keep high-level nuclear waste out of Texas.

"If I'm your senator, they will bury high-level nuclear waste in West Texas over my dead body," Doggett vowed Monday.

The Democrat said Republican Senate candidate Phil Gramm has been working "hand-in-glove" with the nuclear power industry while ignoring Texas needs.

"Phil Gramm is the No. 1 recipient of (campaign) funds from the nuclear industry — of all the 435 congressmen up there," Doggett said.

Doggett said any opposition to a high-level nuclear dump from Gramm is a last-minute conversion. The federal government has been considering at least two sites in West Texas for use in burying such material. Those studies have angered many residents in the region.

Doggett noted that some experts say the nuclear waste material could endanger underground water sources as well as farmland.

"We've got one person, the Democratic candidate, myself, who has worked with Gov. White (and) with congressmen throughout West Texas to see that we do not become a dumping ground for the nation's nuclear garbage. On the other hand, we've got a Republican candidate who could not even work with a Republican governor that we had in office at that time to support a strong state veto power to keep that garbage out of West Texas," Doggett said.

Tuesday's Local Roundup

Banks' statements revealed

Deposits at Hereford's two banks totalled $138.7 million at the close of business Sept. 30, 1984, reflecting a healthy financial picture for the local economy.

The total for the two banks was up slightly over the report at the end of 1983 when deposits were $138.5 million. Loans were down significantly in comparison to the Dec. 30, 1983 report.

First National Bank reported deposits of $78,995,000 on Sept. 30. Loans totalled $56,080,000 and assets were listed at $91,059,000.

Hereford State Bank had deposits of $59,782,000 and loans of $36,585,000 at the close of the month. Assets were $68,237,000.

Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union had deposits of approximately $12.6 million at the close of business Sept. 30. Loans totalled $4,283,574 and total assets were listed at $14,293,662.

Reports from HI Plains Savings & Loan and Security Federal Savings & Loan associations were not available.

HHS band cops top rating

The Hereford High School marching band won a top rating and was named one of two outstanding bands at the University Interscholastic League marching and twirling competition competition Saturday in Amarillo.

Amarillo High School was also named outstanding band during the district competition. Hereford's "Big Red Band" will travel to Vernon next week to compete in the regional contest.

Woman in critical condition

Sylvia Turner Noyes, 36, was listed in critical condition this morning at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo after having been in a motor vehicle accident here Monday morning.

According to Gary Hollinger of Deaf Smith General Hospital, Noyes suffered head injuries and was rendered unconscious by the 7:55 a.m. Monday wreck.

Noyes, who resides at 222 Ave. C, reportedly failed to yield at the Main Street stop sign while driving west on New York Avenue. She rammed into a 1976 Chevrolet driven by Ysaías Mendoza of 310 Blevins St. According to the police report, the 32-year-old man suffered minor cuts and abrasions. Noyes was driving a 1984 Ford.

Man arrested for theft

A man was arrested by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Monday night for theft over $750 and under $2,000 and is being held in jail on a $10,000 bond.

He was picked up in connection with an incident Sunday evening at Charlie Brown's, 537 Myrtle Ave. More than $1,000 in a briefcase and a purse containing $350 were taken at approximately 10:45 p.m.

Among the arrests police made between Friday and this morning were five juveniles for theft along with three adults for driving while intoxicated and two for public intoxication. Incidents included seven minor thefts and four vandalism. There were six non-injury motor vehicle accidents.

Firemen go to 'smoke scare'

Hereford Volunteer Firemen responded to a "smoke scare" early Sunday morning after an oven shorted out at 508 Ave. I. Fire Marshal Jay Spain said there was no damage to the residence.

Monday night, firemen extinguished a vehicle blaze near the West Park Cemetery. Spain said there was moderate motor damage to the automobile, owned by a Levelland man.

MONDAY'S HIGH: 45 (normal: 70 record: 88 (1912))
OVERNIGHT LOW: 39 (normal: 42 record: 23 (1966))
PRECIPITATION: .06 inches (between 7 a.m. Monday and 7:00 this morning)

OUTLOOK: There is an 80 percent chance of rain tonight, which is to have a low in the upper 30s and easterly winds of 10 to 20 miles per hour. Wednesday has been pegged with a 60 percent chance of precipitation and is expected to have a high near 50 and winds of 10 to 20 miles per hour from the east.

Doggett, Gramm won't criticize

U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett has accepted opponent Phil Gramm's challenge to halt public and on-camera criticism between the two that has escalated the frenzy of their campaigns, providing the two debate by Friday.

Doggett on Monday agreed with Gramm, who had made his appeal at a Houston news conference. Doggett, campaigning across West Texas, issued a statement through his office that he has ordered off the air all ads referring to Gramm.

Yet, spokesmen for both campaigns said late Monday that reportedly critical television advertisements were still being aired against each candidate.

The Democrat, in the prepared statement, said a face-to-face discussion is needed "because I feel my integrity, character and honor have been called into question and, of course, I'm sure Phil feels the same way."

Gramm, who had predicted Doggett would not agree to a moratorium on criticism during campaign appearances and commercials, will consider the debate proposal early today, said spokesman Larry Neal.

Twisters tackle Houston area

PASADENA, Texas (AP) — Repairs were just finished on damage caused last year by Hurricane Alicia at the Benchmark Apartments when a wave of tornadoes tore through this community just southeast of Houston.

"We had about 10 families that we had to transfer," said Assistant Manager Debbie Gibson. "Other than that, some have the roof leaking or windows out."

Manger Wanda Petty said, "I feel sick. It hit the same buildings that Alicia hit."

But no injuries were reported as a result of Monday's tornadoes, which ripped off roofs at the 498-unit complex, shattered windows and buried cars in rubble.

One resident, Ron Barker, described the storm as "like the bottom of the cloud fell out."

About 15,000 customers of Houston Lighting & Power Co. lost their electrical power, but it was restored by early evening Monday, spokesman Graham Painter said.

Doctor says baby near death

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — It was no accident 4-week-old Rolando Santos was getting overdoses of a blood-thinner while he was a patient at Medical Center Hospital, a doctor in the child injury trial of former nurse Genevieve Jones has testified.

Dr. Kenneth Copeland, an associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, testified Monday that he took steps to avoid overdoses of the patient.

The doctor, who was an attending physician for the baby in 1982, said he ordered the removal of an arterial line from the child Jan. 8. Heparin, a blood-thinner, was routinely used to keep such arterial lines from scabbing over.

The next day, Copeland testified, the Santos child started bleeding profusely and nearly died. The doctor said he treated the baby with a heparin antidote, and the bleeding stopped.

Ms. Jones, 34, is accused of giving the baby, who was hospitalized for pneumonia, an overdose of heparin.

Bombing remembered year later

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — One father fights his grief with hope for peace while another expresses bitterness at talk of responsibility a year after a suicide bomber crashed into the Marine compound in Beirut, killing 241 U.S. servicemen.

Meanwhile, a Lebanese war bride widowed by the terror attack is fighting to stay in this country, fearing for her fate if she is forced to return to her homeland.

"We just kind of hope some good will come out of this, hope that it was not in vain, hope that somehow Lebanon will settle down and live in peace and harmony," said the Rev. David A. Stowe, whose son was killed in the Oct. 23, 1983, bombing.

A dogwood tree was planted Sunday at a senior citizens' housing complex that Stowe has been involved with to mark the anniversary of the death of Cpl. James D. Stowe.

Cpl. Stowe was 20 when he died. He never saw his daughter, who was 4 months old a year ago.

"He is constantly in our mind, especially this week," said Stowe, of Somerville.

Layoffs, losses mount at GM

DETROIT (AP) — The strike against General Motors Corp. by the auto giant's Canadian workers could cost the company $285 million by early November and push the number of layoffs in the United States past the 17,470 mark, officials say.

The 36,000 workers at General Motors Canada Ltd. walked out Wednesday rather than accept labor contract terms similar to those ratified by their U.S. counterparts. Thirteen plants, including three assembly operations, closed.

The layoffs of 17,470 U.S. autoworkers were announced Monday, although more than 13,000 workers knew by the end of last week that they wouldn't be working.

In Ypsilanti, 1,900 workers at GM's Willow Run assembly plant got the word early. Another 2,300 showed up only to be sent home when supplies ran out.

"They just didn't have the parts and were sent home before the shift ended," said GM spokesman John Mueller. "Obviously, there will be more like this. It's hard to say one day to the next where the next ones will come."

Agreement near on OPEC cuts

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Key OPEC oil ministers appeared headed for initial agreement today on reducing production to defend their prices in the face of price cuts by independents Britain and Norway and OPEC member Nigeria.

Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani of Saudi Arabia, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' largest producer, told reporters that "there will be no price change" at next week's emergency session of the 13-member cartel.

Yamani made the comment as he emerged from informal talks Monday in which he was joined by ministers from Kuwait, Libya, Venezuela, Algeria, Kuwait and the United Arab Emirates to prepare for the full OPEC meeting starting next Monday.

Two non-OPEC producers, Mexico and Egypt, also are attending the preparatory talks. Industry sources said it appeared OPEC wanted to ensure that those two countries respect its price guidelines.

Nigeria cut its chief export blend by $2 to $28 a barrel last week after Norway established a formula for its official price that takes into account lower prices on open markets.

Aquino's killing due to 'military conspiracy'

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The chairwoman of the board investigating the Benigno Aquino assassination today concluded he was killed in a military conspiracy, and President Ferdinand E. Marcos said the suspects would be promptly tried in a special civil court.

The 121-page report, presented to Marcos by Corazon Agrava in a televised ceremony, did not implicate Marcos or his chief of staff, Gen. Fabian C. Ver, in the alleged conspiracy to kill the opposition leader. The other four board members are expected to allege a broader conspiracy when they issue their separate report Wednesday.

Mrs. Agrava's report concludes that one of Aquino's military escorts at the Manila airport shot him in the back of the head, and names Aviation Security Command Chief Brig. Gen. Luther Custodio as "a plotter."

The Aug. 21, 1983, assassination, at first blamed by Marcos and the military on alleged Communist agent Rolando Galman, has been a rallying point for Aquino's family and opposition groups, who during a 14-month protest campaign have blamed the government and the armed forces.

Marcos, in a nationally telecast statement from the presidential palace, appealed to Filipinos to "allow the law to take its course" and said "national stability and unity" were at stake as the nation reacted to the report.

Marcos called for an immediate trial after receiving the report from Mrs. Agrava, chairwoman of the board he appointed a year ago to investigate the killing. The other four panel members are expected to implicate Ver when they issue their report.

Regarding Mrs. Agrava's report, Marcos said: "Rather than transmit it to a court martial, because the persons involved are military men, I am sending it to a civil court."

Mrs. Agrava, a former appeals court judge, distributed copies in a public meeting where members of an audience of about 200 people booed her for issuing a report separate from her four fellow panel members.

Mrs. Agrava names four soldiers as the possible killer, but says, "To pinpoint the actual assassin might not be provable beyond reasonable doubt with the available evidence."

She says the board has concluded there was a criminal plot to assassinate Marcos' most popular rival.

The government claim that Galman shot Aquino "has to be rejected," the report says, because evidence shows Aquino was shot on the bottom steps of a stairway where Galman could not have reached him.

"One of the military group on the service stairway was the triggerman," the report says.

Aquino, a former senator considered the chief political rival to Marcos, was killed Aug. 21, 1983, as military police escorted him from the airliner that brought him back from self-imposed exile in the United States.

CIA concedes reports had 'neutralization'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA has told Congress that all copies of its manual for Nicaraguan rebels contained advice about "neutralization" of government officials. The admission came one day after President Reagan asserted that pages dealing with assassination were excised.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., who attended a three-hour CIA briefing of the Senate Intelligence Committee on Monday, said that while some deletions were made in the 90-page manual, the "term 'neutralization' was in all the documents."

Nunn said the word "neutralize" is subject to various interpretations, but added that when read in context, "it could lead one to the conclusion that the president's policy (barring assassinations) was being or could possibly be breached."

During the presidential debate Sunday night, Reagan said CIA officials had deleted a number of pages that dealt with assassination of Nicaraguan government officials, although adding that 12 copies of an original with such references "some way ... got out down there."

The president's debate statement and the CIA's admission that the section on "neutralization" remained in the book mean that approval of that part of the manual reached as high as CIA headquarters in Langley, Va. One intelligence source, who spoke only on condition he not be identified, said the manual apparently was reviewed by middle-level CIA officials at Langley.

A week ago, The Associated Press reported the existence of the controversial manual, and four days later, Reagan ordered investigations by the CIA and the three-member President's Intelligence Oversight Board, which he appoints. Democrats demanded an independent probe.

Mondale says Reagan pass-the-buck leader

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

Walter F. Mondale, with just 14 days left to catch Ronald Reagan, is depicting him as an uninformed, pass-the-buck president, while Reagan dismisses the challenger as having "no business" in his job and talks confidently of victory.

The Democratic presidential nominee enters the final two weeks leading up to Election Day on Nov. 6 in the position of having to make up perhaps a percentage point a day — or more — in the polls.

National polls in recent days have shown Reagan ahead by as few as 9 and as many as 25 percentage points. Reagan, while insisting he was too "superstitious" to claim his reelection is in the bag, sounded nearly as jubilant as his campaign aides as he began a West Coast campaign swing Monday.

"I believe the election of 1984 will be a victory for us all — for the future over the past, for progress over failure, for hope over despair, and yes for strength over weakness," Reagan said after touring a B-1 bomber plant in California.

"We're entering the home stretch of the campaign, and we've set our sights on victory," he said.

Both Mondale and Reagan were still talking about their debate Sunday night and sounding upbeat — Reagan saying he "felt good" and Mondale saying "I won."

Mondale was hammering at the theme he used in their debate and phrasing it in event stronger terms, calling Reagan "the most detached, most remote, most uninformed president in modern history."

Viewers of the televised debate, he said, "saw a president who cannot discuss any major issue without making a major mistake ... They saw a commander in chief who is not commanding and who isn't a chief."

Reagan was in Portland, Ore., today before heading to Seattle and Columbus, Ohio. He planned to return to Washington on Wednesday and announced plans to visit New York, New Jersey and Connecticut on Friday.

Mondale was in Youngstown, Ohio, beginning three days of campaigning in the Midwest before stopping in Texas and traveling on to California on Friday. He was concentrating on the big states, reflecting his need to win those big electoral prizes if he is to have any chance of winning the presidency.

Their running mates were on the road, too, with Vice President George Bush campaigning today in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Democratic vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro was in Arkansas and heading to California.

As they campaigned, debate over their debate continued. Three national polls — by Newsweek, ABC-Washington Post and CBS-New York Times — all showed voters concluding the debate was a statistical draw.

Paul Harvey Backward Steps

Our nation's internal security is the responsibility of the spy-catchers of our FBI.

Now a special agent for the bureau is accused of being one.

It's like a belch in church! How in the world could such a thing happen?

Richard W. Miller has been accused, not convicted. Indeed, in the charge of selling classified documents to Soviet agents he pleads "not guilty."

But his arrest seems to surprise least those agents who worked alongside him for 20 years.

It is from them that we can begin to piece together "What makes a spy a spy?"

Miller, 47, portly, does not look like an FBI agent. He does not "fit the image."

He'd been disciplined twice by the bureau—for being overweight and, another time, for selling soap products from the trunk of his car.

Yet, he held a highly sensitive position in counterintelligence, "a wiretap analyst."

And that is how he met Nikolay Ogorodnikova and his tiny, pretty blonde Russian immigrant wife.

Miller, with a wife and eight children, had never found his $50,000 FBI salary adequate for his appetites. He commuted home on weekends, to North San Diego County where he tried raising avocados on 10 acres. But the bottom dropped out of the market; he was in debt.

So, if Miller did in fact make a deal with Soviet spies, the lure was both sex and money.

She—Svetlana—had been expelled from the Russian Orthodox Church.

Miller had been excommunicated from the Mormon Church.

Those severed ties surely facilitated rationalization.

Svetlana, with the rank of major in the Soviet KGB, was allegedly able to offer Miller $50,000 in gold and $15,000 in cash to sell his country's secrets to her country.

There are a lot of "secrets" to sell in California, with the greatest anywhere concentration of high-tech defense industry.

And one document Miller is accused of delivering included details relating to our own intelligence and intelligence personnel.

The bureau has claimed up. The DeLorean drug case taught the FBI "restrained procedures."

FBI Director William Webster will say only that, despite one aberration, the bureau has a proud record.

Ann Landers

Did a better job

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for "Illinois Readers," who were having a terrible time paying their bills. We were in the same spot and found the perfect solution.

Writing letters to our creditors and offering to pay something each month didn't work. No one was willing to cooperate. Our credit was cancelled and a blot was put on our record.

A friend told us about the Lutheran Social Services. Although we are not Lutherans, they couldn't have been more helpful. They set up a budget for us, took over the bills and negotiated smaller payments to our creditors. We pay them a specified amount every month and they take 5 percent of that amount as their fee. The creditors pay them 15 percent for the payments.

The load has been lifted from our backs. We are learning to live within our means. Our creditors are being paid off, slowly but surely. I am grateful that we were able to solve our financial problems in such a positive way.

Please Ann, tell people it is futile to try to negotiate with their creditors. If they work with a legitimate counselor, they will receive total cooperation.—Sleeping At Night In Sioux Falls, S.D.

DEAR S.D.: Thanks for doing a better job for "Illinois Readers" than I did. I also heard from the United Charities of Greater Chicago. They offer financial counseling on a sliding-scale fee basis. Their number is (312)939-1250 (between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.) Monday through Friday. Another suggestion: Contact the national organization of not-for-

I'm convinced that a great many decent people who are drowning in debt don't wish to be deadbeats. They want to pay their bills and preserve their good names. For them, this information can be a god-send. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please clarify the rumors that are running rampant concerning a recent representative of Procter & Gamble who was supposedly on the Phil Donahue show discussing P&G's relationship with a satanic church.

Since I am not a TV viewer during the daytime but am a big user of P&G products, I would like to get to the bottom of this.

The P&G representative was said to have made some comments about there not being enough Christmas left in this country to concern themselves with a boycott of P&G products. I have never heard of this so-called Satan Church but with our country's freedom of religion I would not be surprised at what kind of hocus-pocus is out there. Will you please cease down the facts?—Not Easily Bamboozled In Colorado

DEAR BOOZLED: Is that wild story loose again? I thought it was buried two years ago.

There is absolutely no connection between Procter & Gamble and any church. No P&G representative appeared on the Phil Donahue Show. It's pure malarkey. Funny how a lie can travel halfway 'round the world before the truth can get its shoelaces tied.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers' booklet, "Booze and You—For Teen-Agers Only." Send 50 cents and a self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Newly formed 4-H Club elects officers

The newly formed Pioneer 4-H Club held their regular October meeting Thursday at the Community Center.

They elected the following officers: president, Jim Bret Campbell; vice-president, Cory Newton; secretary-treasurer, Santos Rincon; reporter, Misty Dudley; council delegate, Leslie Billingsley; alternate delegate, Patrick Newton; parliamentarian, David Rickman; phone committee, Kinann Campbell, Tessa White, and David Russell; refreshment chairman, Melissa Berend; and recreation chairman, Wesley Taylor.

After the election of officers, leaders Patti Hill, Sherry Harder, and Brenda Campbell presented a program on "Nutrition and the Five Food Groups." Each 4-H'er made a biscuit pizza and then signed up for 4-H food projects.

They then made plans to meet in small groups for more study on food and nutrition.

Other members present at the

Around the County

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent

The 4-H automotive program can get the wheels rolling for many a youth.

This program is a great way to prepare 4-H'ers for the inevitable-driving a motor vehicle. The extension service is the parent organization of 4-H.

Through the automotive project, 4-H'ers can gain experience and skills that will help them become safe, well-educated drivers of motor vehicles.

Moreover, the project can give youth a good working knowledge of the operation of motor vehicles, which has many economic and safety implications.

Objectives of the 4-H automotive project include these:

1. Learn the importance of the motor vehicle to the American way of life.

2. Learn highway safety and courtesy.

3. Learn traffic regulations and other laws related to operating and owning motor vehicles and the importance of following those laws.

4. Learn to perform elementary car maintenance.

5. Learn the basic parts of a car and the principles of their operation and maintenance.

6. Learn the principles of force, speed, center of gravity and other elements applicable to safe motor vehicle operation.

7. Learn the economics of efficient purchase and operation of an automobile and how to keep and interpret a record of cost ownership.

The 4-H automotive program is supported by The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., which provides a host of awards to top achievers in the project. These include county medals of honor, an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago each fall to one member per state, and eight $1,000 scholarships at the national level.

Youth interested in the 4-H automotive project should contact the County Extension office for more information.

James Bullard speaks to Bay View Club

Bay View Study Club met Thursday in the home of Margaret Golden with 15 members present for a presentation by James Bullard, hospital administrator for Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Bullard spoke on the subject of "The Changing Face of Medical Care." He began his talk by saying that we live in the most frightening era in some time in medical care, partly because of government intervention. The facility needs to guard against making rural hospitals into first aid stations with rapid transit to metropolitan areas.

The present hospital administration has set goals and has provided the advanced technological equipment needed by physicians so that services can be provided. Plans are being drawn to update the aesthetic appeal of the facility as well as the general maintenance. The administration is interested in providing such a health care facility that persons will choose not to go to another town for care.

Bullard stated that surgical cases have almost doubled in two years, days spent in the hospital have decreased from an average of eight days, three or four years ago, to half that amount of time today. Concluding his discussion of the medical facility, Bullard stated "If you take care of your employees, the employees take care of the patients, then your reputation takes care of itself."

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Bruce Burney, Bud Eades, Ralph Futrell, D.N. Garner, W.J. Gililand, Jimmie Gillentine, Kenneth Halbert, Aaron Hutto, Robert Josseland, Hollis Klett, Earnest Langley, Ansel McDowell, Austin Rose and Jack Wilcox.

Use boric acid

DEAR POLLY — Some time ago, you published a paste mixture for ridding the house of roaches. I don't remember the ingredients, but would appreciate your printing the recipe again. — MRS. J.C.K.

DEAR MRS. J.C.K. — This roach remedy is not a paste, but a powder to be sprinkled behind appliances, under the sink and in other places where roaches congregate. It is somewhat toxic if eaten, so be sure to keep it away from pets and children.

Mix two tablespoons of either boric acid or borax with two teaspoons sugar and sprinkle where roaches run and gather. Repeat every two to three weeks until roaches are gone, then repeat every month to keep them away. The boric acid is somewhat stronger than borax, but borax is cheaper. Use either one. The sugar attracts the roaches and encourages them to eat the poison boric acid or borax.

I'm sending you a copy of my newsletter "Homemade Remedies for Household Pests," which also has ways to get rid of moths, ants, garden pests, mice and other pests. Others who would like this newsletter should send $1 for each copy to POLLY'S POINTERS, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1218, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to include the title. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I have found some good uses for those plastic bags that department stores and grocery stores give out. I trace craft and sewing patterns on the white or light-colored plastic bags to make long-lasting patterns. The darker bags make great storage bags for blankets and out-of-season clothing. I store crafts projects in the plastic bags with self-handlers that come from grocery stores. The handles make them easy to hang on a hook or hanger in the closet. These bags are usually large enough to hold both the materials and the instructions, so everything is together and handy to take out and work on as you have the time. — PATSY

DEAR POLLY — I always put the peanut butter on both pieces of bread when I make peanut-butter sandwiches. Then I put the jelly in between. That way, the bread doesn't get soggy from the jelly. — DANIELLE

Amarillo recruiters receive high honors

U.S. Marine Corps Recruiting Station Albuquerque, N.M. — The U.S. Marine Corps recruiters of Amarillo are part of a "Number One" team.

Master Sergeant John Hodorowski, Sergeant Rex Ashcroft and Sergeant Timothy Thomas are members of Recruiting Station, Albuquerque, N.M. They helped the Station earn the title of "Recruiting Station of the Year" for the 8th Marine Corps District for Fiscal Year 1985.

RS Albuquerque is one of ten recruiting stations belonging to the 8th Marine Corps District, headquartered in New Orleans. The 8th District covers the 13-state area of Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas and Wyoming.

The annual competition for top recruiting station runs by fiscal year, from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30. To win the competition, the marines of RS Albuquerque performed better than the recruiters of the other nine stations of the District, signing up 796 young men and women during the year, equating to 110 percent of their yearly goal. More than 97 percent of the enlistees were high school graduates. The Station has already signed up 60 percent of its goal for fiscal year 1985, which began Oct. 1.

With 220,467 square miles of New Mexico, Western Texas, the Oklahoma panhandle and southern Colorado to cover, RS Albuquerque has the second largest geographic area of the 8th Marine Corps District, but only eight percent of the population.

Four officers, 46 enlisted marines, one Navy Corpsman and two civilians are assigned to the Station. Three Military Enlistment Processing Stations are located within the RS area, being in Albuquerque, Amarillo and El Paso. Ten recruiting Sub-Stations belong to RS Albuquerque, situated in Albuquerque, Gallup, Farmington, Las Cruces, Roswell and Santa Fe, N.M. and Amarillo, El Paso, Lubbock and Odessa.

"Recruiting Station Albuquerque was successful in fiscal year 1984 because we've got outstanding non-commissioned officers, outstanding recruiters, outstanding support personnel, and a patriotic recruiting area," said Major W.P. Kyle, commanding officer, "and because the Lord answers my prayers and blesses my marines in their work."

The Amarillo recruiters may be found at 7101 West I-40. The phone number is 376-2151.

Program on medical care given to sorority chapter

Jacque Carter, an RN at Westgate Nursing Home, spoke about medical care when members of Alpha Iota Mu Chapter met Thursday evening in the home of Carol Kelley.

During the business meeting, Ruby Lee was welcomed as a new member.

Ms. Kelley and Nancy George served refreshments of pumpkin bread and iced tea from a table decorated with a Halloween theme.

Members present included Marge Bell, Holly Bixler, Michelle Brisendine, Jackie Fangman, Beckie Fry, Cindy Garth, Debe Graves, Jan Ramaekers, Ruby Sanders, Janis White and Kay Williams. Dona Hendrickson was recognized as a guest.

The next meeting was scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1 in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room. The program will be presented by Ms. Williams and Ms. Bell and Ms. Bixler will serve as hostesses.

Group returns from foliage tour

The Autumn in New England and Eastern Canada Foliage Tour sponsored by Trailways Tours of Amarillo attracted 156 people from the Amarillo area including Hereford residents Dyal and Virginia Garner, Marie Hinds and escorts, Robert and Alice Thompson.

Members of the group reported that the foliage in Quebec, Main, New Hampshire and Vermont was at its peak of brilliance. Also, they were treated to unusually radiant colors along the Skyline Drive and the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia.

The group travelled in four buses, one day apart, and visited attractions all across the eastern part of Canada, and from Texas to Maine in the United States. The 20-day tour visited 21 states and two Canadian

Hoopsters begin workouts

By DENNIS BALL
Sports Editor

Hereford High School basketball teams got into full-swing Monday as teams across the state were permitted to begin workouts in preparation for the 1984-85 season.

Hereford's varsity and junior varsity teams open the season Nov. 20 when they host Levelland, beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the HHS gym. The junior highs, La Plata and Stanton, face each other in Nov. 19 contests.

"This year is really the first legitimate chance we (HHS girls varsity) have had to be a playoff team in the last two years," girls coach Larry Sowers said. "I was told we were picked about sixth, but I think we'll finish better than that."

Sowers brings back three starters from his team a year ago, two of them two-year starters. Senior guard Stacy High joins senior forward Darla Alford for a third year of starting. Natalie Sims, a junior, started at forward for Hereford last year.

The season outlook must be bright for boys coach Mike Fields, too. Although the first-year varsity coach won't be able to practice with a full team until after football season, Fields welcomes back four starters from last year's Whiteface team. Seniors Kevin Redus, Lee Brockman, Mike Scott and Sammy Suarez are the returnees who give Fields a sound base from which to operate.

Brockman, Scott and Suarez still are involved in football.

"It's going to be tough at first," Fields said. "About half the players are playing football, and it will take a little while for them to make the adjustment."

Fields is hoping for 35-40 athletes in his program at the conclusion of football season, dividing the players into sophomore, junior varsity and varsity teams. Fields has been coaching in the Hereford school system for five years.

Sowers said 27 potential players were out for the girls team. "I'm pretty optimistic about them," Sowers said. "We've got some good ball handlers and some good shooters. We have some sophomores who have good athletic ability, something we've been short of recently."

"And we've got fair height. Shelley Edwards, who is close to six feet tall, is tallest person we've had on the team in five years."

The height factor is one area that the boys team differs from the girls. Fields said the Hereford boys team was smaller than other 5A schools.

"We're real small for a 5A school," he said. "So we've been working a lot on defense and blocking out. We're going to have to go pretty fast to get our offense and defense down when football season ends."

Sowers and Fields agreed that

Palo Duro, Amarillo and Monterey seemed to be the teams to beat in District 3-5A, at least at this point, in both boys' and girls' action. In addition, Sowers said the girls were playing a tough schedule.

After the Levelland games, the teams are to play Dimmitt Nov. 23 before the girls open league competition at Tascosa Nov. 27. The boys host Pampa Nov. 27.

The teams have been preparing this year prior to Monday in off-season workouts. Girls assistant coach Cindy McMillin said the off-season drills consisted primarily of conditioning, lifting weights and running and shooting drills. Fields said the boys team was working on fundamentals and shooting.

Two scrimmages are planned. Fields said, but details were not complete.

A Little Three-On-Three

Hereford High School boys basketball players Monday afternoon went through such drills as three-on-three scrimmages in the HHS gym. Both boys and girls across the state of Texas were allowed to begin full-scale workouts Monday. Hereford girls were to practice Monday evening.

Browns' owner fires friend

Cleveland replaces coach Rutigliano

CLEVELAND (AP) — This was one of the more polite firings in pro football history.

"I've asked my friend and associate, Sam Rutigliano, to step aside as head coach of the Cleveland Browns," Browns' owner Art Modell said Monday, promoting defensive coordinator Marty Schottenheimer to his first head coaching job in the National Football League.

Despite the Browns' 1-7 record following Sunday's 12-9 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals and Rutigliano's career record of 47-50, Modell said he agonized over the decision to fire Rutigliano at mid-season.

"Sam Rutigliano represents what I consider to be quality, integrity and character. There are very few like him in pro sports today," he said.

Rutigliano, 52, is also a vice president of the team and has a contract that runs through 1988. Modell said

Rutigliano was welcome to remain with the Browns' front office, but Rutigliano said he will wait until January to decide about his future.

"I'm a football coach," Rutigliano said. "I've been a football coach all my life and that's what I'd like to do."

But I really need some time to reflect.

"I think I was treated fairly," he said. "The only advice I have for Marty is, make sure you can kick field goals."

Schottenheimer, 41, in his fifth year with the Browns has transformed the Browns' once-weak defense into the top-rated unit in the American Football Conference.

Are You Ready For Retirement?

Our early settlers had one common denominator -- they all worked, and they worked hard! Everyone from grandma right down to the kids worked -- and worked -- and worked.

For all it's worth, the word "retirement" couldn't have been in the vocabulary of many of our forefathers.

Today, that word, "retirement", holds a very special and deep meaning to a lot of folks.

At our bank, we offer the new Individual Retirement Account. It's a plan that helps make your retirement years all you've worked for and more. You can deposit $2,000 a year as an individual to this program, without paying any federal income taxes on the principal or the interest, until you retire. Married couples who are both working may deposit $4,000, and one-paycheck couples may deposit $2,250.

The I.R.A. program from the Bank that's pioneering new ways of service and security for you, your family and your retirement.

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Manager-Community Relations

Making your bill easier to read

If you're like most folks, you've probably noticed there are more pages in your phone bill since the split-up of the Bell System. That's because your bill now includes charges for several separate companies instead of just one like last year.

Right now, the bill you receive from Southwestern Bell Telephone includes our charges for local service and long distance within your service area. It may also include long distance charges from AT&T Communications and charges from AT&T Information Systems (for leased equipment).

Calls you place through other long distance companies may also be billed through Southwestern Bell Telephone if those companies choose to use our billing service. That makes it easier for you because you get one bill, and you write one check.

Solving the customer confusion

Still, this breakdown of charges by each individual company has caused some confusion. We know that, and we're doing our best to simplify your bill to reflect what you want.

Your bill first started getting a new look in January. At that time, we had numerous billing changes necessary to simply accomplish divestiture.

Starting in February, the company began conducting interviews with customers to find out what short-term changes and long-term changes were needed.

We've put your changes into place

Some of the changes you wanted and we adopted are:

- revising the bill summary page to include adjustments and charges for each company whose fees are included on the bill;
- removing "unpaid from last bill" from the summary page if the last bill was paid in-full;
- numbering pages consecutively to help you reassemble your bill after studying it; as well as others.

Further changes to simplify the bills will be put into place in the coming months.

Would you like more information about the changes on your bill? Call the Tele-Help toll-free number, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. - 8 p.m. — 1/800-325-2686 (please ask for "extension 84") and request the Tele-Help Booklet No. 2 ("A Guide to Your Phone Bill").

If you'd like the booklet in Spanish, please write: Southwestern Bell Telephone, Tele-Help; P.O. Box 225265; Dallas, TX 75215.

For your information, to date, we've distributed more than 700,000 Tele-Help booklets in Texas in an effort to clear up any confusion regarding our business after divestiture. We're pleased to help our customers get the answers they need.

As always, if you have any comments, I'd like to hear from you.

Dickerson angry in Ram win Monday

By TOM SALADINO

AP Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Eric Dickerson was fuming.

"They really hacked me off. They have no class," the Los Angeles running back said of the Atlanta Falcons' defenders after helping the Rams to a 24-10 National Football League victory Monday night in a nationally televised contest.

Dickerson, who ran for 142 yards on 25 carries, including a 10-yard touchdown run, charged the Falcons with hitting late on numerous occasions and was particularly incensed at Atlanta defensive back Tom Pridemore, for an alleged tardy hit on only his second carry of the night.

Amstutz first in weekly contest

Hereford's Wayne Amstutz, 134 Ironwood, led 195 entries in last week's Brand grid contest to win first place and $25 in Hereford Bucks.

Amstutz had only four misses. Four people tied for second with five misses, but Rick Castaneda of 714 Irving won with a tie-breaker of Hereford and a total of 42 points. Third place went to R.C. Thomas-Williams. Castaneda won $15 in Hereford Bucks and Thomas-Williams won $10.

The other two persons with just five misses were Trixie Hampton of 801 N. Miles and Joaquin Gamez of 1507 Irving.

Twenty-six people missed six games.

Panel Picks

The Fearless Forecasters panel could do no better than pick last week's games with five misses.

Brand sports editor Dennis Ball opened a three-game lead for the season by going 21-5, however. Brand editor-publisher O.G. Nieman and Boots and Saddle owner Butch White finished last week two games behind at 19-7. Ball's season-record is 131-49, and Nieman's and White's records are 124-56 and 128-52, respectively.

Louise's owner Betty Martin, tied for the season lead going into last week's contest, missed nine games to drop to 127-53. Helen Higgins, owner of Helen's Youth Shop, went 16-10 to fall to 118-62.

Boys team seventh

Local girls take first in Dumas

Hereford High School cross-country teams Saturday finished their competitive preparations for the District 3-5A meet by taking first place in Dumas in the girls contest and seventh in the boys.

The district meet has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday in Hereford's Veterans Park.

"We have competed in seven invitational meets this season," cross-country coach Martha Emerson said. "The girls have won three meets and placed second on two occasions."

Selma Moreno, who has been the individual champion in six of the seven contests, again won first in Dumas. She won the race with a two-mile time of 12:20. However, her best time this year is 11:56.1.

Moreno was second to Tucumcari's Michelle Montiega Oct. 6 for Moreno's only non-win.

"The girls are defending 3-5A champions and have a good chance of winning this Saturday," Emerson said. "They'll have to run well in order to beat Palo Duro, a very good and competitive team. If we falter, they will be there to take us."

At Dumas, other Hereford girls, their order of finish and times were: Francis Flores, fourth, 13:06; Lina Esqueda, sixth, 13:06; Irene Serma, 23rd, 13:55; Judy Sanders, 35th, 14:18; and Eva Medrano, 43rd, 14:34.

Hereford girls outdistanced Dalhart, the second-place winner, by 20 points. Hereford turned in 64 points to Dalhart's 84.

In boys' competition, Francisco Saucedo placed ninth with a time of 15:45 to pace Hereford runners in a seventh-place finish.

The team finished behind Boys Ranch, Monterey, Muleshoe, Amarillo, Coronado and Plainview, respectively.

Bobby Aranda was 29th at 16:26 and Frankie Vallejo came in 45th at 16:45. Ceaser Castro was 47th at 16:47 and Alonzo Martinez 50th at 16:50.

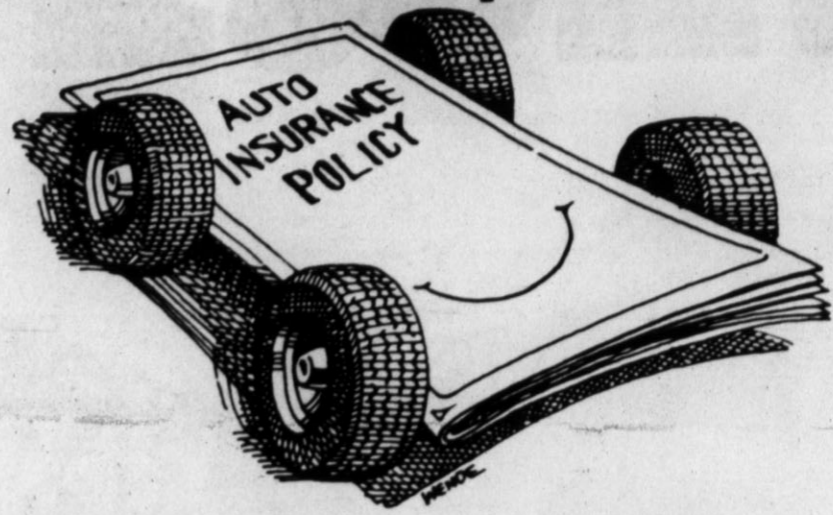

"The boys team probably ran as well as they have all year," Emerson said. "All ran faster times, but the competition was keen. A lot of excellent runners were in this meet." Junior varsity runners for Hereford entered in individual competition. For the girls, Jenifer Bankston placed 17th with a time of 15:18. For the boys, Craig Waddell was 13th at 17:25, and Darrel Blevins was 60th with a time of 20:39.

At the district meet, the top two teams advance to the Region I meet Nov. 3. Also, the top five individuals will advance.

The first no-hitter in the National League was pitched in 1876.

Non-drinkers

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read something in one of your columns about a lease or condition that would cause a person's breath to smell like he had been drinking alcohol. I didn't pay much attention to it at the time, but now I have reason to believe that a person I know has been wrongfully accused of drinking.

She is an alcoholic, but has taken a cure. She had no other indication of drinking except her breath.

I have talked to several people who have read the same article but are as vague about it as I am. I sure would appreciate some information about this in our paper.

DEAR READER — I hope you are right that your friend has not been drinking. Unfortunately, not everyone who has taken the cure is cured for good and, equally unfortunately, an alcoholic can and will go to great lengths to cover up a continued drinking problem.

But it is equally true that several medical conditions can cause an odor to the breath that resembles alcohol. One of the serious situations that can arise is in the diabetic. If the diabetic is out of control, an excess of incompletely metabolized fatty acids, called ketones, are formed. These are odorous and may be exhaled. The ketones, such as acetone, give the breath that characteristic alcoholic odor.

Such a diabetic may be on the verge of diabetic coma. The associated mental confusion and mental symptoms may be wrongly assumed to be part of being "drunk." The unfortunate victim may end up in the drunk tank, rather than in the hospital, where she belongs with a medical emergency.

Ketones are also produced by the person who goes on an excessively low- or no-carbohydrate diet. These fad diets lead to the same odor and may be mistaken for alcohol.

Liver disease can cause a characteristic fruity odor to the breath, too. In a person who has had a severe alcohol problem, it is possible that associated liver disease has developed even though the person is no longer using alcohol.

To give you an overall picture of the causes of bad breath, I am sending you The Health Letter 9-4, Halitosis: The Breath Problem and What to Do About It. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column where you stated that Protect household equipment

COLLEGE STATION — Your house doesn't have to be hit by lightning, for your household electronic equipment to be affected in an electrical storm, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

You may have noticed during a thunderstorm that your lights flicker. That means there's been a power surge caused by lightning, says Bonnie L. Piernot. It lasts only an instant, but that surge can damage microchip circuitry in your home computer, telephone answering device, microwave oven or anything else that uses microchips, she says.

The surest way to minimize the threat is to disconnect or at least turn off anything with microchip circuitry during a severe thunderstorm, Piernot advises.

You can also buy a device that plugs into AC outlets and protects microchip circuitry. But the operation of such a device may cause a circuit breaker to trip, so using it on a branch circuit with a freezer or refrigerator is inadvisable, says the home economist.

Differences apparent in dual-income lifestyles

COLLEGE STATION — Having children, as well as having two pay checks, creates some major lifestyle differences among dual-income families, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Researchers have now developed profiles of dual-income families with no children, those with young children, and those with older children, explains Diane T. Welch.

According to the profiles, families with no children have work and spousal relationships as top priorities, says Welch, who is a specialist in family life education. Their lives are busy by choice and they are still struggling with the question of when or whether to have children. They spend primarily on material goods and target most savings for short-term goals, she notes.

As might be expected, the research shows that children dominate the lifestyle of dual-income families with young children, and make the children their number one priority. Men at this stage still find their work a priority, but the family is important to them too.

For many families, these are the years of greatest financial strain, says the specialist. The profiles indicate that many women work outside the home to provide additional income, and that young families, often have little discretionary income after maintaining their homes and spending for necessities.

A more manageable lifestyle characterizes dual-income families with older children, observes Welch. While family relationships are important at this stage, many men and women make personal time a high priority.

ARMY AND AIR FORCE HOMETOWN NEWS — Army Spec. 4 Edward Salazar, son of Moises and Amelia Salazar of 891 Irving St., Hereford, Texas, has participated in the U.S. Central Command exercise Gallant Eagle '84, in the deserts of California and Nevada.

This year's exercise provided a simulated combat environment to exercise, train and evaluate the command headquarters and portions of its multi-service forces in tactical employment operations in the desert.

Ground maneuver operations were conducted at the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, Fort Hunter-Liggett and the Marine Corps air ground combat center at Twenty-nine Palms all in California.

Air operations were held on the three reservations and surrounding airspace and at Vellis Air Force Base, Nev. Air support for the exercise was staged from George and March Air Force Bases and El Toro Marine Corps Air Station in California.

Salazar is an infantryman with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.

He is a 1982 graduate of Hereford High School.

Senate GOP ready for battle over job

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the fiercest Senate races this year is not in any of the 50 states but in the Senate itself — the battle among Republicans to pick a successor to Howard H. Baker Jr. as Republican leader.

If Republicans retain their control of the Senate — as strategists on both sides now anticipate — then the job will be for majority leader, the position now held by Baker, who is retiring.

If Democrats win back control, then the GOP struggle would be for the post of minority leader.

Either way, it's a pitched battle, with five candidates and no apparent front runner.

Those seeking the support of their Republican colleagues are: Sens. Bob Dole of Kansas, Ted Stevens of Alaska, Richard Lugar of Indiana, James McClure of Idaho and Pete V. Domenici of New Mexico.

The Senate chamber is empty now.

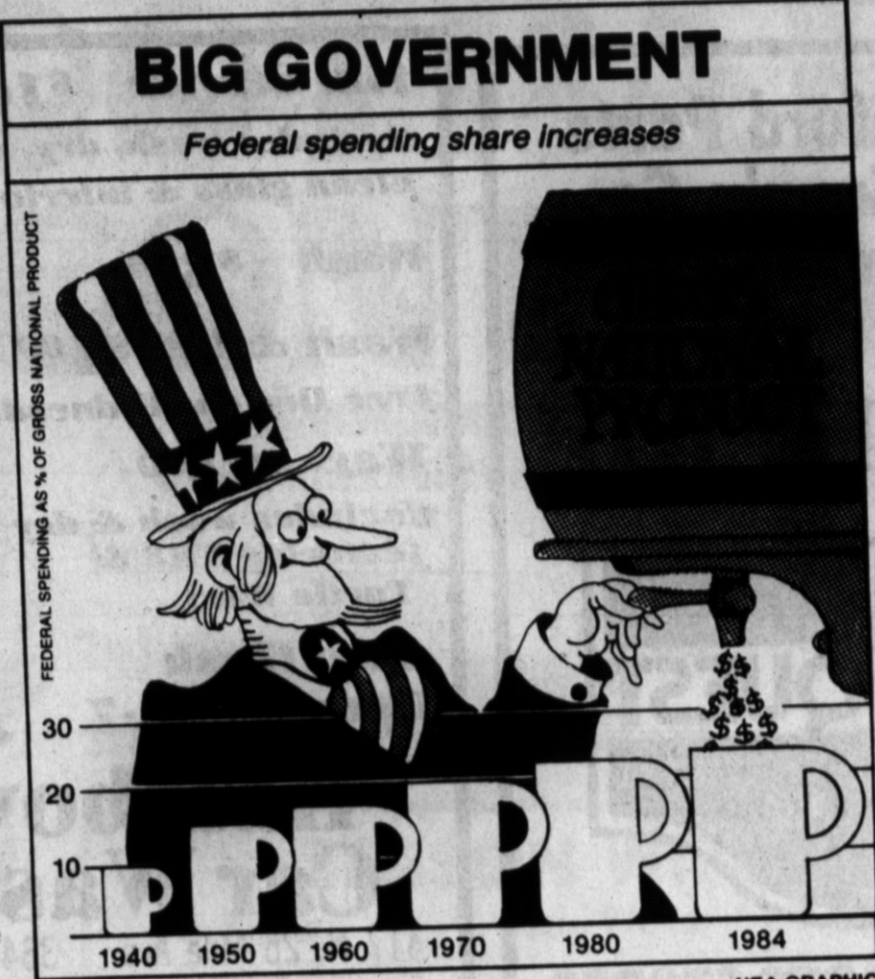

Members are all home campaigning for re-election or vacationing.

But the race among the five candidates for the loyalty of other Republicans goes on. It goes on by letter, by phone call and by personal contact. Each of the five is seeking personal commitments for support.

The new GOP leader will be chosen by secret ballot on Nov. 28, in a vote among those who will be in the Senate next year — including any new members elected Nov. 6.

Most senators agree that the even-tempered Baker is a hard act to follow, and the contrast between him and Stevens, who has a reputation for being sharp-tongued, appears to be hurting the Alaskan, who now has the No. 2 post. Stevens has campaigned the longest and possibly the hardest for the job.

Meanwhile, Lugar's star seems to be rising — in part because of his role as chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

As a share of the gross national product, federal spending has more than doubled since 1940. It now stands at 23.5 percent. This means that Washington spends 23.5 cents for every $1 that business produces.

Enforcement urged by environmentalists

AUSTIN (AP) — Enforcement of the Texas Department of Agriculture pesticide rules is the key to their success, to environmental and farm worker groups say.

Three separate news conferences were held Monday to praise the department for the standards announced last Friday but numerous speakers said the rules won't work without strict enforcement.

"In our eyes, they (the new pesticide standards) represent a significant first step forward in the creation of a system to protect Texans from pesticide hazards," said Tani Adams, director of the Texas Center for Rural Studies, at a Capitol news conference.

At another news conference in Weslaco, Jesus Moya, speaking for the International Union of Agricultural and Industrial Workers, said the new regulations "are meaningless without enforcement" and called on the Legislature to fund additional TDA inspectors. He said there are only 17 TDA inspectors now to serve the state, with only two of them in the Rio Grande Valley where pesticides are widely used.

Rep. Al Luna, D-Houston, chairman-elect of House Mexican-American Caucus of 30 members, congratulated the TDA at a third news conference for having the "tenacity and courage to tackle a problem of this sensitive nature."

"The Mexican-American Caucus will oppose any attempt during the next legislative session to weaken the Department of Agriculture's authority to deal with a problem like this that affects all the people of Texas," Luna said.

Rep. Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin, nominee for the state Senate and current chairman of the caucus, supported Luna saying, "I came from the migrant workers trail and I remember well the junk they put out for us to work in."

Ken Kramer, representing the Sierra Club, praised the TDA for having the "guts" to develop the pesticide standards in the face of what he called "unwarranted and intense overreaction from some chemical and farming interests."

The pesticide standards announced last Friday by Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower would require farmers to notify immediate neighbors before spraying fields from the air. The regulations also set up methods for warning workers and others that a field has been sprayed.

In computer chips

Twin brothers strike it big

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Joe and Ward Parkinson have struck it rich — in computer memory chips. In the unlikely surroundings of Idaho's cattle ranches, potato fields, timber mills and silver mines, Micron Technology Inc., the Parkinson brothers' firm is blossoming into a world leader in the production of computer memory chips. Micron's success has created a fistful of sagebrush millionaires, a lucrative investment for many Westerners and a 1,000-worker payroll in a state whose economy is largely based on its natural resources. Micron began six years ago as a small semiconductor-design consulting firm headquartered in the basement of a building that housed dentists. Today Micron is the world's sixth-largest producer of dynamic random access memory chips. Its second-quarter revenues exceeded $29 million; in 1981 its revenues totaled just over $1 million. President Joe Parkinson, 38, who founded the company with his twin brother Ward, said he sees Micron as just one more member of the small but growing corps of high-tech companies located throughout Idaho. A score of them now dot the state — Hewlett-Packard, Zilog, Heath Electronics, American Microsystems, ADATEK among them. Hewlett-Packard, which has a plant in Boise, has the largest high-tech work force — 3,000. Micron reached the 1,000 mark this year. Idaho is far from becoming a major force in the computer industry, compared to such states as California, Massachusetts, New York, Texas and Minnesota. Those five states employ 220,000 workers, more than half the number employed in the computer manufacturing industry in 1982, according to the 1982 federal Census of Manufacturers. The Parkinsons, who grew up in the small southeastern community of Blackfoot, are following an Idaho tradition of home-grown entrepreneurs. Ward Parkinson, who had been working for a Dallas semiconductor company in the 1970s, decided to quit in 1978 to work for a new semiconductor company. The Dallas company decided to fight Ward's departure, and Ward called in Joe, a lawyer in Boise, to fight the lawsuit. By the time the Parkinsons won, Ward had soured on joining the new company. Instead, he returned to Idaho, set up Micron and became its chairman. Joe joined him, phasing out his law practice to work fulltime for the computer business. A shaky start that almost saw the company fold just two years ago was eased with the backing of several local financial leaders, including J.R. Simplot, one of the nation's richest men. After agreeing to take a gamble on the new computer technology, the 75-year-old potato magnate has become fond of saying, "We're going to build the memory for the world here in Boise." Micron developed a standard 64K memory chip that is a third the size of most of its competitors' chips. Micron designers are now working on a new chip with four times that capacity. When the Parkinsons decided to go public with a 2.1 million share stock offering last June, they told the underwriter to market the initial offering in Western cities like Boise, Salt Lake City, Seattle and Denver that normally don't appear on an underwriter's itinerary. The number of Western investors was significant and their payoff substantial. After selling at $14 a share on June 1, the stock has traded as high as $40 in mid-September. Recently it has traded at close to $30 a share.

Judge rejects plea bargain in oil fraud

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal district judge has rejected plea bargain arrangements in which two men would have pleaded guilty in a scheme to steal a load of crude oil, then sink a tanker to cover up the theft. Under the decision made Monday by U.S. District Judge Carl O. Bue, trials will be reset for Frederick Ed Soudan and his cousin, Abdul Wahab Al Ghazou, attorneys in the case said. Bue also postponed sentencing of the third man indicted in the case, South African oil broker James Hillary Shorrock, who agreed to testify against Soudan and Ghazou in exchange for a plea bargain, said Tom Berg, the public defender representing Shorrock. "His sentencing was conditioned upon the successful pleas of the other two," Berg said. He said he was "not real happy" about the rejection of the other pleas, but added there was a possibility his client would be allowed to give a videotaped deposition. An indictment returned in May alleges Soudan was the ringleader in a scam to promise a 200,000-ton shipload of crude oil, sell it to the South African government, then sink the ship to conceal the fraud. The scheme revolved around the tanker The Salem, whose oil cargo was allegedly unloaded at Durban, South Africa. The indictment charges the ship was then scuttled off Senegal Jan. 17, 1980. Soudan was to admit guilt to four criminal counts related to the case. He was to plead guilty to wire fraud, a charge related to a telegram in which the government alleges he told a South African government agency he represented a Dallas-Fort Worth oil company. He was also to admit conspiring to defraud the U.S. government, making a false statement in a tax return and conspiring to obstruct justice and commit perjury. Under the plea bargain, Soudan was to be allowed not to admit he knew the oil was stolen "or that the other individuals involved were going to sink the oil tanker Salem." It also allowed Soudan to back out of the deal if his prison term amounted to more than six years, although the maximum sentence for the charges is 18 years. Bue took the action in the privacy of his chambers and refused to talk with reporters. No trial date was set. Ghazou and Shorrock were each to plead guilty to a single charge of conspiring to obstruct justice and commit perjury. Shorrock is accused of lying to a grand jury by saying he received about $600,000 from Soudan, Berg said.

DR. LAMB

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Seek more help for diabetes

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB - Recently I had a blood test and my blood sugar was over 300. I am 55 and weigh 176 pounds. My doctor put me on a diet and gave me Tolinase pills to take for 150 days. After I finish the pills in five months, I am to return for another test.

I have taken the pills for two weeks and still urinate quite often and have burning in my urinary tract. There is no history of sugar in my family. This is the first I knew that I had sugar problems.

Should I take another blood test before five months? What effect does this high count have, and could I go into a coma? What is your opinion of this medication? Is there a better one? What part does it play with my sex life (I no longer have any desire)?
DEAR READER - Frankly, I would like to see you get a little more aggressive management. Since you did not tell me how tall you are, I can't judge how overweight you might be. If you have any excess body fat, you should make a major effort to lose it. Use a sensible well-balanced diet that restricts calories, and increase your exercise by walking and activity that does not create excessive peak exercise levels. In many adult-onset diabetics, elimination of obesity will normalize the blood-glucose level.

Many diabetic specialists believe that patients who can be treated with oral medications can be treated just as well with a proper diet and weight control. When that doesn't work, insulin is needed.

You've got problems. Your loss of sexual capacity probably means you already have diabetic neuropathy, affecting the nerve fibers that control erection. There is evidence that tightly controlled diabetics who do not have markedly elevated blood glucose have an improvement in nerve-fiber function, and this is important in both treating and preventing the progression of diabetic neuropathy. So I think you need careful immediate supervision for better control. You may want to see a diabetic specialist.

You need to read The Health Letter 18-10, Hyperglycemia: The Diabetic Problem, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a 30-year-old woman, 5 feet 11, and weigh 116 pounds. I still consider myself fat. What exactly is anorexia nervosa? When I look in the mirror I see large thighs or a big rear, yet my husband calls me "Bones."

I take a Dextrin capsule every day that I can hide them and take one. Sometimes I eat OK, and then I vomit it back up because my stomach hurts so bad. I'm scared to go to my doctor because everyone laughs at me and tells me this fat stuff is all in my head. What is a true anorexia-nervosa person? It doesn't kill all people, does it?

DEAR READER - No, it doesn't kill the person who gets professional help and learns to restructure his or her life. It does occur in men, but is more commonly seen in women. Your story is rather typical. The victim usually has a false self-image and does think of herself as being fat when, in reality, she is skinny.

I must tell you that this is a dangerous condition, and I strongly recommend that you do see your doctor, and you will probably need professional counseling to see yourself as you really are and to help you solve your basic problems. You will feel a lot better if you do this and have proper nutrition.

Happy rides — and sweet dreams

DEAR POLLY - When my son broke the drawing in his sweatpants, I bought a long shoelace the same color as his sweats. This has lasted him at least six months.

If you have a water-bottle holder on your bike, try clipping a transistor radio onto it with five or six rubber bands. This is great while taking a ride. Instead of the water, you can always put a can of soda in your basket or knapsack. - KAY

DEAR POLLY - When my grandchildren are visiting, I have no trouble getting them to bed at night. After we've said our prayers together, I ask them, "What is the nicest thing that's happened to you today?" They begin to smile, going over all the fun things of the day in their minds, then choosing the best thing to tell me. I then kiss them goodnight and leave them with all these nice happenings dancing in their heads. - GENIE

DEAR POLLY - If your sleeping rooms are cold and you sleep with flannel sheets, your pillows may still feel cold. Make flannel pillow covers out of worn flannel sheets or cover the pillow with a bath towel. Sure feels a lot warmer. - HELEN

DEAR POLLY - I have a great way to clean my dish drainer. I spray it with whitetail-tire cleaner, leave it on for five to 10 minutes, then just wipe off the cleaner and any dirt. No rubbing or scrubbing is necessary. The cleaner is made especially to clean rubber and also works for some plastic storage containers and other soft plastic kitchen items. - KAREN

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox gipped the Aggies last week, which prompted some Aggies to begin talking about getting another lawyer for the State of Texas.

Mattox, responding to a 1979 sex discrimination lawsuit against Texas A&M University, refused to defend the school because it won't let women march in the Aggie band.

Mattox supports a settlement which would allow women into the band, but some members of the TAMU board of regents and a band alumni group have asked a federal judge to reject the proposal.

They contend that allowing women into the all-male band would either force coed housing, since band members live together, or destroy the esprit de corps that goes back to the turn of the century.

Conspicuously, it puts Mattox on a collision course with regent chairman H. R. "Bum" Bright, also the owner of the Dallas Cowboys. Bright and others feel that Mattox, as the state's lawyer, should defend the university's interest in court. Mattox says that a September federal court ruling gives him the authority to settle a case without the permission of the state agency he is representing.

The attorney general is placing the equal rights provision of the Texas Constitution above Aggie tradition.

The lawsuit was filed in 1979 by a woman student who was not allowed to join the Ross Volunteers, the Corps of Cadets honor guard, because it was an all-male group. Since then, the university has allowed women to join all Corps of Cadets groups, except the band.

Track Gambling Opposed

A bill legalizing horserace gambling in Texas almost made it through the Legislature last session, and its sponsors are hopeful the issue will complete the course in the coming session.

But Gov. Mark White said he would not approve the bill unless several provisions were written into the plan.

He also opposed establishing a state-run lottery, which a number of other state governments use to raise funds.

"I like lotteries least of all," White said, calling it "one of the really consumer frauds that is sponsored by a state."

Revenue Alarms

His voiced opposition stirred anxieties in the minds of supporters of the track-gambling bill. One of the chief arguments for betting is that the state can raise much-needed revenues by taking a share of the gate proceeds.

White answered that any decision about legalized track gambling should be made separate from budget considerations.

Oil Forecast

As these past slim years have underscored so well, oil production in Texas is vital to revenues for state government, but experts indicate the 11-year downward slide in Texas production may be halting.

One University of Texas expert predicts an era of stability by 1990, meaning thousands of jobs and billions in state tax revenues can be saved.

The picture includes oil prices in the $28-to-$30-per-barrel range, with about 1,600 new wells being drilled annually.

Pompeii was buried in the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in A.D. 79. It was a regional wine export center that was probably founded by the aboriginal Oscean people centuries before the eruption.

"HOME OF THE WEEK"

Excellent Design

HOME DESIGN
By Larry Farnsworth

Here is a long, low model house which provides a pleasant, earth-hugging appearance and offers 1,923 square feet of excellently designed good living space.

Note how pleasantly the projection of living room and sheltered entry porch distinguish the front elevation of this exceptionally fine home.

The entry, with its convenient coat closet, leads to a traffic-channeling central hall. Across an interesting railing on the left is the big, sunken living room, and, through a charming oversized entranceway — a big, attractive formal dining room.

At the back of the house the big family room is delightfully dramatized by its large, raised-hearth fireplace, built-in bookshelves and romantic decor beams. Sliding glass exterior doors pull in the delightful outdoor good living areas to create an air of increased spaciousness, too, and the open planning which joins this room with the dining nook further increases its dimensions.

Gourmet cooks will love the kitchen of this fine home. Note its abundance of great cabinets and counter space and its conveniently adjacent utility room, offering a passage from the big, attached garage to the pleasures of the back yard, as well as an especially convenient laundry area and a separate pantry, too.

At the opposite end of the house are three, well designed bedrooms and two baths, back-to-back for maximum plumbing economy. The master bedroom offers two, well planned wall closets, a dressing area complete with built-in dresser, and an attractive bath. As a bonus, there are sliding glass exterior doors, too. The other two bedrooms offer good closet space and extremely comfortable retreats.

A basement optional plan enters at the utility room and runs down parallel to the kitchen.

Study this plan carefully and with your family's housing needs in mind. Chances are you will find it perfectly meets your every requirement for good living and does it in the nicest possible way, besides.

You can purchase complete working plans or a 500 plan catalog from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.
