

Bread Crisis Not To Be Met By Rationing

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The government held off today its decision whether more drastic steps are needed at home to tide famine areas abroad over the present critical shortage of bread.

Although the domestic conservation program launched a month ago today has failed to achieve the savings sought and exports to hungry areas have fallen behind promises, officials continue to insist that foreign commitments will be met.

In the face of an Agriculture Department report which raised doubts whether enough wheat remains to meet both export needs and domestic demands at current levels, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told a news conference last night that his country will fulfill its promises.

But he said the nation will have to observe fully all phases of the wheat conservation program. And he added it might be necessary to force a 25 percent cut in domestic use of flour between now and June 30.

The British cabinet offered yesterday to ration bread in Great Britain if the United States would do the same.

But Anderson made plain that consumer rationing of either bread or flour during the present emergency is out of the question because, he said, rationing machinery could not be set up in time to help.

He emphasized, however, that it did not mean to imply that rationing might not be necessary later.

Similarly, Anderson's view that this country will meet its promises abroad assumes that the government will be able to pull to market the bulk of the remaining stocks of wheat on farms.

Leading greater encouragement to the cabinet officer, however, was the department's crop report predicting that this year's winter wheat crop will be a record one.

To help meet export needs, it may be possible, Anderson said, to get some of this year's wheat moving overseas as early as the first of June, provided harvests are fairly in Texas and Oklahoma and the wheat is speeded to ports.

Truman Denies Kimmel Appeal To Search Files

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Congressional investigators heard today that President Truman has denied an appeal by Adm. Husband E. Kimmel to examine what Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) called a "super-secret" file of the late President Roosevelt's messages.

Ensign John Phelan, representing the former Pacific fleet commander, told a senate-house committee investigating the Pearl Harbor attack that Mr. Truman had written a letter saying that the committee alone has authority to look at such files.

Comdr. John F. Becker, representing the navy department, substantiated this, adding that "the committee had been given full access to the file, which Ferguson said had been set up to retain copies of all messages exchanged between Mr. Roosevelt and British officials, including former Prime Minister Churchill.

Becker said that when the file was searched, it contained copies of only two messages. These, previously furnished to the committee, were addressed to the high commissioner of the Philippines and had little bearing on the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor.

Kimmel was relieved of the fleet command after the Japanese attack Dec. 7, 1941, and subsequently was criticized by army and navy investigating boards. He has contended before the congressional committee that Washington did not adequately warn him about the possibilities of a Japanese attack.

Before the committee took up the Kimmel matter, Ferguson questioned Adm. Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations, about pre-war arrangements with Japan to permit safe passage of an American vessel, carrying Marines and other Americans from North China to Manila.

Nazi Kaltenbrunner Opens His Defense At Nuernberg Trial

NUERNBERG, April 11 (AP)—Tall, saber-scathed Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi Security Police, opened his flight for life today with a declaration to the international military tribunal that "I know the hatred of the whole world is directed against me."

He said he was the target of this hatred partly because both Heinrich Himmler and Hermann Goebbels are dead, leaving him the only man to face the world and answer for them.

Kaltenbrunner said he was ready to assume responsibility for the acts of the police he headed "as far as they occurred under my actual control and as far as I knew about them."

Earlier the tribunal was told in an affidavit that Kamenbrunner had attempted to negotiate peace through American agents in Portugal and Switzerland in 1943 and encouraged Hitler to seek a peace settlement through the Vatican.

Before Kaltenbrunner took the stand his counsel read affidavits from a former Gestapo officer and a former foreign intelligence expert to the Nazi police, both of which lauded the defendant as a moderate man who opposed the stringent measures of his boss, Heinrich Himmler.

Tire Industry Probed For Trust Violations

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark announced today he has authorized an investigation of the rubber tire industry as the result of alleged violations of the anti-trust laws.

The inquiry will be conducted by a federal grand jury in New York City.

Clark said in a statement that a large number of complaints charging restraints on competition and discriminatory practices in the industry warrant a full and complete inquiry.

Special Trustee Unit To Survey School System

Sworn Board Members Renamed President

A special committee to survey conditions, operations and administrative policies of the city's school system, with a view to answering critical questions which have arisen—was named Wednesday evening at a meeting of the trustees of the independent school district.

Appointment of this group followed the organization of a new board as a result of the April 6 elections. Sworn-in as new members were Dewey Martin and Justice Holmes, declared election winners in an official canvass of returns. The two replace W. W. Inkman and J. Y. Rabb.

M. H. Bennett, unanimously selected president of the board, R. L. Tollett was renamed vice president and Ira L. Thurman was retained as secretary.

Tollett heads the survey committee, and Martin and Holmes will serve with him. The three were instructed to examine all phases of school operations and to return a formal report of conditions found, so that the board could be guided in formulating improvements where necessary and in making new policies that will gain the support of school patrons and all the public.

Trustees gave assurance Wednesday night that new, sanitary toilet facilities will be constructed at the Negro school within the next 90 days. This was in response to a request from two representatives from the colored patronage, Oliver Reed and Frank Martin. They also requested additional recreation facilities for the school and were told that a definite athletic program will be set up by the board.

The board approved payment of bills and accepted the financial report. This showed total receipts in the general fund (fiscal year Sept. 1, 1945 to March 31, 1946) of $186,418.35, and total disbursements of $161,901.86. Receipts and disbursements for the interest and sinking fund were $26,105.79 and $21,973.62.

Louisiana Finals Deepest Producer

HOUSTON, April 11 (AP)—The beautiful Evangeline country near New Iberia, Louisiana—immortalized by Longfellow—won added distinction today as the locale of the world's deepest oil producing well.

The record producer, Shell Oil company's No. 2 Smith-State, Unit 1, on Weeks Island, was known to be a producer before its final and ceremonial completion.

On production test, several weeks prior to today's gauge, it flowed 530 barrels of oil daily from Miocene sand at 13,763-778 feet on 11/64-inch choke with tubing pressure of 2,750 pounds. The gas-oil ration was 1,425 cubic feet of gas to each barrel of oil. The gravity was 33 degrees. Under the Louisiana state proration rules it will be allowed to flow 380 barrels daily.

Speeder Pays Fine For Merry Chasing

John Jay McCown led members of the state highway patrol a merry chase on the highway east of here, last weekend, keeping out in front of the authorities vehicle from the city limits to Westbrook before he was corralled.

This morning, he showed up in justice court to pay for his fun. His fine was $39, including court costs, on a charge of speeding.

Gromyko Selection Hailed As Good Sign

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Diplomatic officials hailed Russia's appointment of a new ambassador to the United States as a fresh sign today of Soviet faith in the United Nations.

Moscow last night announced appointment of Nikolai V. Gromyko as ambassador in Washington, succeeding Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's permanent representative on the UN Security Council.

State department officials later confirmed that Russia recently had made the usual inquiries about the acceptability of Novikov—present charge d'affaires—and had been told the United States would welcome his appointment.

Diplomatic officials who related Novikov's appointment to Russia's regard for the UN reasoned this way:

If the Soviet Union took UN lightly it would not have assigned an official of Gromyko's stature and experience to devote full time to the council job.

Gromyko's appointment was announced March 24, the day before the UN council met for the first time in New York. It was not until Novikov's appointment was announced, however, that the world knew for certain that Gromyko would be a full-time Security Council member with no ambassadorial chores to perform.

The UN job is one for which the special assignments of the black-haired, 38-year-old Soviet diplomat during the last three years have prepared him. Gromyko has sat in on virtually every international conference having to do with the establishment of UN.

It signified how far he had come in the diplomatic world since Oct. 4, 1943, when, as a little-known embassy minister-counselor, he was named ambassador to succeed the famous Maxim Litvinov.

Stocky and bespectacled, Novikov enjoys cordial relations with state department officials and Washington diplomats. Reserved, soft-spoken, and reticent in his dealings with the press, he nevertheless is regarded, in the words of one veteran diplomat, as "a good guy—intelligent, pleasant, and easy to get along with."

Novikov, 43, has been ambassador in everything but name for nearly a year. When Gromyko left for the San Francisco conference April 23, 1945, Novikov became charge d'affaires. He has directed embassy affairs ever since.

Burgin's Death Delays Battle On State Funds

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Renewal of a House battle over granting the State Department $10,000,000 to expand its information and cultural program was delayed today as the result of the death of Rep. Burgin (D-NC).

The chamber met briefly, heard eulogies of Burgin's services in Congress and then adjourned until tomorrow.

Debate over the department's program began yesterday when the House took up an appropriations committee bill providing $358,825,758 for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary during the year beginning July 1.

The committee sliced the State Department's request to carry its information and cultural programs to Europe as well as the Western Hemisphere from $10,000,000 to $10,000,000. But several members, led by Rep. Mason (R-Ill.), asked on the floor why the entire amount was not eliminated.

Mason, terminating the department's broadcast and writings a "horrible example of what subsidized propaganda can do," said he felt that information on American activities could be carried to the world better through such organizations as International News Service, United Press and the Associated Press.

How, Mason asked, can the State Department tell the truth to the people of Poland and of a number of other nations "in view of what has been done to them?"

Thurston Nominated Mexican Ambassador

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Walter Thurston, now ambassador to Bolivia, was nominated by President Truman today to be ambassador to Mexico.

The nomination was sent to the senate while Mr. Truman was conferring with Secretary of State Byrnes and George Messersmith who has been shifted from the embassy at Mexico to become ambassador to Argentina.

COLLABORATORS ESCAPE

BRUSSELS, April 11 (AP)—Belgian state police said today that they had covered an international organization helping former collaborators escape to Spain or South America.

Teasing The Coach Rock-Throwing Boys Wounded By Gun Shot

FORT WORTH, April 11 (AP)—Assault to murder charges were filed in Justice of the Peace Court today against S. F. (Smitty) Watkins, 41, William James Junior High school coach, who fired two shotgun blasts last night that injured three youths who were teasing the coach by throwing stones at his home.

One youth was in a serious condition today and two others were suffering from minor gunshot wounds following. District Attorney Al Clyde said, a rock throwing incident at the home of their junior high school physical education teacher.

Clyde said the students were wounded by blasts from a shotgun after stones had been hurled at the residence of S. F. (Smitty) Watkins.

"I fired at the ground and I should have aimed the gun in the air," Watkins told Clyde and City Detective A. C. Howerton. "If I had it to do over, I wouldn't shoot at all."

The district attorney said no charges had been filed against Watkins.

Clyde quipped the teacher, as saying he never realized that the figures he saw in the darkness were his pupils at the time he fired the shotgun.

The victims were E. A. Roberts, Jr., 14, Jerry Peden, 14 and Danny Bograss, 15.

Roberts was taken to a hospital with a wound near his heart. His condition was described as serious. Peden was treated at the same hospital for wounds in his leg and back. Bograss suffered minor wounds in his foot.

Last night, Watkins told Clyde he was aroused to action after unknown persons had made a habit of throwing rocks at his home over a period of several days.

Ronald Thomason, 14, driver of the car in which the four youths were riding, told the officers that he and his companions were in the neighborhood when someone suggested, "Let's go by and tease the coach." He said rocks were hurled as they drove by the house and then they stopped the car nearby and got out.

US To Support Spanish Hearing Before Council

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The United States will support a full hearing before the United Nations security council on Poland's indictment of the Franco regime in Spain as a haven of fugitive German scientists working on atomic age weapons, a spokesman indicated today.

The spokesman added that the United States reserved any decision on further moves until it had heard all the facts presented.

The British delegation was expected to join in this stand, with both taking the position that Generalissimo Franco was Spain's domestic problem but that they were willing to hear all the arguments in open session before voting on whether Spain constituted an actionable menace to peace, as charged in Poland's note to the security council.

As the world organization, scheduled to reconvene Monday, faced its second major test, representatives of the Spanish republican government appeared here.

Fernando De Los Rios, former foreign minister of the government in exile, just arrived from Paris, said he had made no formal contact with the United Nations, but that "probably one of the delegations friendly to the Spanish cause will get us into the meetings as Spanish observers."

Spain is not a member of the United Nations and the question immediately arose as to whether the council might call a representative of the Madrid government to the council table as it did for Iran when that country's troubles with Russia were being discussed.

Coincidence Marks Trial For Forgery

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11 (AP)—Coincidence marked the opening of the Alfred L. Cline forgery trial—and nearly closed it—but sessions were ordered resumed today with an alternate juror replacing one who was removed yesterday.

A routine police checkup of the jury list revealed that George W. Jurissell, a 40-year-old house painter, had served time in Folsom prison for forgery at the same time as Cline, who also lists his occupation as a painter.

Judge Herbert C. Kaufman declared that "never before in California law" had there been such an instance, but ruled the trial could be continued under a penal code section which permits late withdrawal of a juror "for a good cause."

Another coincidence saw Ray E. Kline, an Oakland real estate man, as one of the state's opening witnesses. Kline pointedly informed the court he and the defendant were not related and his name began with the letter "K."

In opening remarks to the jury, Elkington described what he termed "a strange and almost identical pattern" in the death of four elderly women while in Cline's company.

Demo Representative Dies This Morning

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Rep. William O. Burgin of the eighth North Carolina district died today at Doctors hospital, where he had been under treatment for heart disease.

Burgin, a democrat who had announced his intention to retire from congress at the end of his fourth term in January, was 67 years old.

REMOVE FIRE VICTIM—Body of one of seven persons who perished in blazing four-story apartment house fire in Back Bay area of Boston, Mass., April 10, is removed by firemen. Senate Sends Bill Changes To House

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—The senate shunted the emergency housing bill back to the house today and quickly turned to a companion measure intended to add 12,500,000 new homes by 1956.

This long-range bill came to the senate's floor with the unanimous approval of its banking committee. Bi-partisan backing is demonstrated by its trio of authors: Senators Wagner (D-NY), Taft (R-Ohio) and Ellender (D-La.).

The bill is not linked to but fits in with the emergency housing legislation which the senate passed yesterday, 63 to 14, and sent back to the house for action on amendments.

The emergency bill is designed to provide 2,700,000 new dwelling units, largely for veterans, by the end of next year.

Before it can reach President Truman for signature, however, the senate and house must agree on a compromise version to be worked out by a senate-house committee.

The chief point of difference is the senate provision for $600,000,000 in subsidies to encourage the output of scarce building materials.

The house refused to permit these premium payments, and both branches turned thumbs down on price ceilings for existing dwellings. The administration, from Mr. Truman down, had urged both these features. Ceilings on new houses were provided by the house and the senate alike.

The long-range bill makes no attempt to settle urgent housing problems. It takes things slow, and is based on the idea that easier government loans and mortgage guarantees might encourage more construction by private enterprise.

The labor secretary, following Lewis' walkout in the negotiations yesterday, arranged to have his assistant, John W. Gibson, conciliator chief Edgar L. Warren and special conciliator Paul W. Fuller accompany him to separate meetings with negotiating committees of the operators and the miners.

As the Labor Department's top officials, visited the Washington conferences, there was no indication that the government planned seizure of the soft coal mines which shut down 10 days ago when 400,000 workers obeyed Lewis' no contract, no work directive.

Lewis' dramatic walkout of the conference room, with his committee of district presidents and UMW officers close behind, came after he had told the producers that "to cavil further is futile."

The operators, in a formal statement, said Lewis has "bravely refused to enter into any semblance of collective bargaining."

With the collapse of the coal negotiations, the idle in related industries increased as additional steel companies and railroads announced layoffings of many employees. About 24,000 workers have been made idle by the shutdown of the coal mines.

Elsewhere on the labor front, as continuing disputes kept idle more than 800,000 workers, a new transportation strike was reported.

In Birmingham, Ala., 1,000 AFL transportation employees of the Birmingham electric company quit their jobs in support of demands for an 18 1/2 cent an hour wage increase. Streetcars and buses serve an area with an estimated population of 400,000 and carry an average of 231,000 passengers daily.

Reece Challenges Hannegan To Tell People The Truth

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Republican Chairman Carroll Reece enumerated his party's stand on major issues today in an open letter to Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, then threw this question at his political counterpart:

"When will the administration begin telling the truth to the American people about how their government is being operated?"

conference last summer, President Truman following the practices of his predecessor, assured the nation no secret agreements of the kind had been made during that conference. Then the GOP chief quoted from the New York Herald Tribune of Oct. 11, 1945, that Secretary of State Byrnes had "acknowledged" that Mr. Truman "entered into a secret agreement at Potsdam on a revision of the Montreux convention."

"Thus, in this matter of making secret agreements and then denying their existence until the march of events forced disclosure of the truth," Reece said, "Mr. Truman was apparently following the established practice of the administration."

Listing several "secret agreements" which he said the late President Roosevelt entered into at Big Three conferences, in Tennessee asked: "What other secret agreements have been made, and remain for the future to disclose?"

In the domestic field, Reece quoted from a Cleveland Plain Dealer editorial saying the administration "spread false predictions about the level of unemployment this year; it disseminated false propaganda to the effect that wages could be raised 24 per cent without increasing prices."

Junior Musicians Appear On Music Club Program

Junior musicians of Big Spring presented the program at the meeting of the Music Study club Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

Japanese Women Realize Responsibilities Shared, Flock To Share Vote Privilege

By HELEN J. FOLSTER
TOKYO, April 11 (AP)—Feminine Japan voted yesterday for the first time in history.

Observers, both Japanese and Allied, were surprised by the large percentage of women at the polling places.

For seven months of occupation, the Japanese have been exposed to ideas of freedom and democracy. The women, even though they were considered inferior and hardly worth bothering about, are nonetheless neither deaf nor dumb. This new freedom sounded just as good for them as for the men of Japan. Probably it sounded even better.

A great many Japanese women figured out a lot of things for themselves, too. In the past, they had put up with the same hardships as the men, but without equal privileges. Keeping house and scrounging for food in ruined cities had toughened them a lot. They became as important as their menfolk in keeping the family going.

Today it looks as if it had dawned upon them that this sharing of responsibility should carry

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcostrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to loss bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Cafeteria Opening Indicates Success For P-TA Project

The Tri-school cafeteria opened Thursday at noon with 184 lunches paid for by students and teachers.

The lunchroom has been the project of the Parent Teacher Council of Big Spring, and women on the youth and from Central Ward and high school P-TA units have been working throughout the year to raise funds and acquire the equipment.

The last of the equipment arrived and was installed Tuesday, and last minute cleanup was conducted Wednesday.

Meal tickets good for meals in the cafeteria have been on sale this week, and may be purchased at the lunchroom. Seventy-three tickets were presented Thursday. Three cooks have been employed as full time workers in the unit, and members of the P-TA assist as cashier and in serving trays.

Mrs. J. E. Brigham of the council declared that the first meal indicated success for the project, and added that later more equipment and labor saving devices will be obtained.

USES Figures Show Openings For Jobs

A total of 340 workers and employers contacted the local USES office during the past week, as compared with 669 in 1945. Of the 445 are veterans recently returned who are in need of employment.

Eighty-one were placed on jobs, compared with 104 for the previous week, while current job openings dropped to 35.

Principal local demands for labor are as follows: one machinist, one general office clerk (female), one presser, one stock clerk, four washers, one caretaker (for disabled veteran), one tire mounter, one millman apprentice, five laborers, one sewing machine operator, two sales clerks, six waitresses, one chambermaid, one ice cream maker, five maids, one typewriter repairman, one blacksmith and one linotype operator.

Roy Smith, Magician, Entertains Kiwanis

Roy Smith, a student of Big Spring high school, entertained Kiwanis club members with a series of magician's tricks at the regular luncheon meeting today. He was assisted by his mother, Mrs. Roy Smith.

The Rev. Jim Lsater, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Coahoma, was a guest at the luncheon.

More Farms Covered By Cotton Insurance

Insurance on 1946 cotton crop covers approximately 22 per cent of the farms in Howard county as compared to seven per cent last year, according to figures compiled by Mrs. Ruby Smith of the local AAA office.

Some 180 policies were sold through yesterday, last day the government protection was proffered the land owners. There are an estimated 875 cotton-producing farms within the county.

Last year only 54 applications were made, four more than the minimum required under the federal plan.

Automobile Stolen At Motor Company

Entering the Shroyer Motor company sometime during Wednesday night, burglars took an automobile, mechanic's tools and a quantity of pennies and stamps, the police department reported today.

The stolen car, a two-tone, blue 1941 Chevrolet sedan, belonged to Claude Wilkins, 1009 Wood street. Tools in boxes valued at more than $800 also were taken.

Officers said entry apparently was effected through a window and doors opened from the inside.

Mrs. Garner McAdams has gone to Dallas where she will visit relatives.

Walker Bailey and Ted Phillips spent the morning moving benches from the ABC Club's West Side park to the cafeteria at the local high school.

Three Big Spring youths are listed as members of the John Taylor college band that will take part in the Battle of Flowers celebration in San Antonio this month. They are Gene Nabors, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Nabors; Dwight Painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Painter; and Gene Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. O'Barz Smith.

Radio station KVOO of Tulsa, Okla., will present a salute to Big Spring on the air April 27 from 7:30 to 7:45 a. m. The program is being arranged by C. R. Anthony Stores.

Receipt of more gifts and late reports from workers indicate that the Red Cross fund drive may reach a total of $14,000. H. D. Norris, roll call chairman, has reported. The $18,500 quota was exceeded on the night of April 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Cauble have received word from their son, Jack Cauble, that he has been promoted from fireman second class to electrician's mate third class. He has been serving aboard an LST for the past nine months operating out of Shanghai, China, transporting natives to Japan, Manchuria and Korea. He is now stationed at Pearl Harbor and expects to be home on leave in the middle of May.

Deputy Nomination Made By President

WASHINGTON, April 11. (P)—The nomination of Herschel V. Johnson, now minister to Sweden, to be America's deputy representative on the United Nations Security Council was sent to the Senate today by President Truman.

Johnson, a North Carolinian, will hold the rank of minister in the new post. His change of assignments was announced after he saw Mr. Truman at the White House.

Johnson will be deputy to Edward R. Stettinius on the UN council.

SHORTAGE QUEUE STRICTLY STAG

PIERRE, S. D., April 11. (P)—A queue here was strictly a stag affair and mylons were not involved.

About 35 men, each clutching long standing order for building materials, stood in line before a lumber company's office. They had heard about the arrival of two carloads of lumber.

Earthquake Recorded In Rumanian Area

WESTON, Mass., April 11. (P)—A very strong earthquake, probably in Rumania, which seismologists said was as severe as the one that caused the recent tidal wave off Alaska, was recorded at Weston college at 9:03:25 p. m. (EST) yesterday, the Rev. Daniel Linehan, 5 J., reported.

Father Linehan said a second phase of the shock was recorded at 9:12:27 p. m. and that the disturbance was about 4,745 miles from Boston, probably in Rumania. It lasted about three hours.

Elderly Man Found On Railroad Tracks

An elderly man identified as William L. Watson of Rosemead, Cal., is receiving treatment for a shoulder injury and scalp wound today in a local hospital, after he was found at about 10:45 p. m. Wednesday at the west end of the T&P railroad yards.

Railroad officials said he apparently had either fallen or stepped off an east bound passenger train a short time earlier. A switching crew discovered him in the yard, and identification was established by papers found on his person. He had the stub of a ticket to Dallas in his pocket, and railroad men said they believed he was en route to Ferris, Texas.

He Must Do Own Pulling

A 16-year old lad wanted to submit a piece for the paper, he said. Then he related an attempt to enlist in the US Marine Corps. When asked by the officer his reason for wanting to enlist, this is the answer he gave: "So that if there is another war and victory is won again, I may be able to continue my life of poverty."

He wanted to know what we thought of it. This is, in substance, what we told him:

We don't get your angle. Seemingly, you must have had pretty hard sledding. Your family earnings may not have been large. You say you quit school after the fourth grade and that it is your observation that only the children of the wealthy get along and that those who have tough sledding turn out to merely eke an existence.

Well sir, you may be right—that is if you want to drift along, take the course of least resistance. You say that only the guy with an education has a chance at the grapes. You know, you might do something about that. You thought up this, didn't you? Well, you show you've got a head that does some thinking and comes up with ideas.

Maybe it's not as easy as it once was to pull yourself up by the boot straps, but it can be done because it is being done. Only you've got to want to pull.

You didn't ask for advice—just the opinion— but here's some advice anyway. When you get 17, join the Marines, or the army or the navy. Find out aptitudes. Use that good head of yours to learn a trade. Learn all you can about it, and when you come out, take advantage of the GI training program and polish off your training in a school or on the job. Make up your mind what you want to do, then make yourself do it.

He left unconvinced, but as we say, the lad has a good head on him. If he gets an attitude to match it, he'll be all right.

Opportunity For Service

The newest organization in Big Spring is a junior chamber of commerce.

Conceived as a younger men's organization, the chamber has membership of individuals from 21 to 35, inclusive. It offers among other things, a chance for development and action by the younger group which might otherwise give way to more experienced hands.

Some are apprehensive that there might be a conflict between the junior and senior chambers, yet this need not be so. In fact, leaders in the senior chamber have professed encouragement and a helpful spirit to the young men.

An active junior chamber could have a stimulating effect on the senior organization. After all, if each functions as it should—toward the building of a better community—there is no room for conflict. There may be some duplication, but that's of no momentous consequence.

Good Music Imbibed With Dinner

ROME, April 11 (AP)—You come into a restaurant looking for a hamburger and a quiet corner in which to wolf it down and they assault with Verdi, Rossini, Bellini, Mascagni and other local and foreign long hairs.

By the time the evening is over, you find you are beginning to like the darn stuff.

The trouble with all art, music and other assorted bargain counter cultures in America is that they try to cram them down your throat in high school while you are either writing a brief 10 page love note to the gal in the next row, or wondering what the cafeteria will have for lunch.

Here they teach you in a soft, beautiful and offhand way that makes music, art and literature as much a natural part of these emotional people's lives as food and love and work and sleep are in America. And, unless they embrace and enclose life in this way to school teacher or librarian can make these gracious things have meaning for us in our own pre-occupied lives.

In high school and college the savages who inhabit those places have no real leisure for Beethoven's off beats or Drydens triple rhythms.

It is only as they grow older that they have time on their hands to feel sorry for what they missed or to glory in what they have gained. In our prosperous and enlightened land they usually celebrate this victory or mourn this defeat by turning to alcohol or chasing their neighbors' wives or reading a monthly book picked for them by somebody else. In Italy—sad, sorry, poverty-ridden, glorious Italy—they follow the precepts of Aristotle, or the Greeks whose wisdom humanized the Romans, and breathe music as their lifetime solace almost with their mother's milk.

Three cafe musicians gave me my first serious lesson in music tonight in a small restaurant in the Via Frattina.

Because we were Americans and they knew we were good for a few lire they first played in lip-synching greeting such times as "In The Mood" and "I Can't Give You Anything But Love Baby." But once we applauded they began to bend their violin, guitar and mandolin double with old-fashioned virtuosity that never meant quite so much in music appreciation courses back home.

Traffic Deaths Are National Problem

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Take it easy with your automobile and—if you don't have a car—look out for cars.

Cars are killing people at a startling rate. It's so startling that President Truman has called a national conference to halt it.

The worst year in history for auto deaths was 1941 when 40,000 Americans were killed.

At the present rate, the National Safety Council estimates 38,000 will be killed this year.

In January and February, a total of 5,450 were killed, or more than 45 percent above the number killed in the same months in 1945.

The council estimates, another 5,450 or so will have been killed in March and April.

And the injured in those four months? The council's estimate is 370,000.

Why the sudden spurt of death on the streets and highways? People have gasoline, new cars are coming and they don't mind tearing around in their old ones.

The wartime controls, which called for slower driving and careful use of automobiles, are gone.

As early as last December, seeing the rising death rate, President Truman took steps to save lives by the time warm weather driving started.

He said then he wanted a conference—it's called the President's Highway Safety Conference—here in Washington May 8, 9 and 10.

He named Philip B. Fleming, who is Federal Works Administrator and thus boss of the Public Roads Administration, to be conference chairman.

Governors of all the states have been invited to attend the conference as heads of their state delegations.

Those delegations will include chiefs of state police, highway and motor vehicle commissioners, other state officials and representatives of groups interested in safety.

What they do will be done voluntarily back in their own states. Fleming has organized, meanwhile, a committee of leaders in the traffic field.

This committee has set up a number of subcommittees to study special traffic problems. The subcommittees will make their reports to the conference when it opens.

But if you, an individual, have some ideas you think might be useful in cutting down traffic deaths, you can contribute this way.

Write to conference headquarters, 7007 Federal Works Building, Washington, 25, D. C.

Our senses work at their highest efficiency during the second decade of life.

TIDAL WAVE

BROADWAY YITES AND HOW THEY GREW

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK — We were sitting around, some of us, ahem, young fellows, talking about what we did before we got to Broadway.

Orson Welles was remembering his teen-aged antics as an actor with the Abbey Theater in Dublin. Ray Ragland insisted that nothing could dignify his youthful occupation. "I was a pool hustler," Dean Jagger was an Indiana farm boy. Nicky Blair, owner of the Carnival, said he always was on Broadway, even as a youngster, when he hustled tickets for shows on the curbstones in front, back when scalping was still legal. Carl Erbe, one of the owners of the Cafe Zanzibar and the Singapore Restaurant, was a prizefighter.

I was a prizefighter, too, briefly. I also had a stint as a Great Lakes sailor, as a stevedore, digger of various styles of holes in the ground, including sewers and, honestly, graves.

So we wracked our brains, if any, to note what some of our friends and acquaintances, now in show business, were doing before they hit the twenty mark.

Monty Woolley lived in my home town, Buffalo, where his dad was a hotel manager. Barbara Stanwyck was a telephone operator in New York. Fredric March was one of the youngest lieutenants in World War I. Edmund Lowe, later to become a professional tough guy and delineator of mobster roles, was, at 19, a member of the faculty at Santa Clara University.

Richard Dix was head messenger boy in a Minneapolis bank. Sam Goldwyn, at 17, bossed 100 men in a glove factory in Gloversville, N. Y. Dick Powell led a band in Little Rock, Ark. Basil Rathbone sold insurance in London. George White delivered telegrams. Frankie Bice worked in a Third Avenue movie house and for eight weeks sold tickets, sang and painted signs.

House Hunters Favor Wife Boats Overseas
NEW YORK (AP)—Names and addresses of 45 New York women soon to join their husbands in overseas Army stations were published—and then the deluge of alert house hunters descended.

Five wives received 50 telephone calls in two days from excited persons who wanted to buy, borrow, rent or lease their homes. The rub was that most of the wives lived with relatives or in hotels.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

US Has Orders To Fire On Jugoslavs

WASHINGTON.—There is an excellent reason why Secretary of State James Byrnes has been urging the Russians to sit down with him soon at the long-delayed peace conference. There is also a significant back-stage reason why the Russians up until this week had been hanging back.

Both reasons revolve around the same dynamic-laden situation—Trieste. Each side, however, views it from a different angle.

The Russians wanted to delay the peace conference until Marshal Tito could get his troops inside the controversial city. If he could get his troops inside, the Russian-Yugoslav bloc could present the peace conference with a accomplished fact and dare the diplomats to give Trieste to someone else.

Secretary Byrnes, on the other hand, wanted to confer with the foreign ministers this month, not only because the peace conference already was too long delayed, but because American troops in Trieste are already at the brink of open warfare with a former ally. And the longer they sit there, the more dangerous the situation becomes.

Troops Ordered To Fire
Several developments in the past few days have made Trieste even more explosive. They are: 1. Tito has forbidden American and British airplanes to fly over Yugoslav territory on reconnaissance flights. He has given his men orders to shoot such planes on sight.

Twenty thousand Russian troops have left Hungary and crossed the border into Yugoslavia. US observers know this from the reconnaissance flights which Tito has now banned. Probably that's the reason he banned them—to prevent further knowledge of Russian troop movements.

US troops in Trieste have been given orders to fire if the Yugoslavs enter the city.

The Italian government has offered to place 15 divisions at the disposal of the Americans and British. However, they lack heavy arms and would have to be given new equipment. The United States has declined this offer.

In brief, Trieste has all the potentialities of war. Some diplomatic observers think this is what the Russians want—armed conflict between the United States and Yugoslavia. Obviously the Russians don't want to bear the brunt of this conflict or initiate it. However, if a puppet such as Tito, who has a reputation for irresponsible bragadoce, can be the front man, the Russians might be delighted.

President Truman is still shopping around for a new Under Secretary of the Navy, wants a man who will support Army-Navy unification 100 per cent. Paul Foster may be the man. Robert Rossow, the American consul in Tbilisi, still reports no evacuation of Soviet troops from Iran. He's the one the Russians put in jail several weeks ago. . . . Despite Henry Morgenthau's charge that Lew Douglas's appointment to the International Bank would turn the new world financial organization over to Wall Street, Secretary Vinson is still urging Douglas's nomination.

GI Clothes in Alaska
The Doolittle "caste system" board really got an earful when it listened to the testimony of ex-Pvt. Malcolm C. Douglas, who once served with the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic and later with the Air Force in Alaska.

Douglas assailed the custom of AAF officers using "flight time" and "instrument checking" as excuses for flying fellow officers on dates; also criticized inequities in the type of clothes issued officers and enlisted men in Alaska.

Enlisted men stationed at Ladd Field, near Fairbanks in Alaska, were not permitted to wear the heavy Arctic clothes and furs issued to officers, Douglas said, "because the powers that be were afraid some visiting general might mistake us for officers." As a result, he added, a number of GIs became ill from the intense Alaskan cold.

"It did us no good to gripe," Douglas testified, "because all our mail from Alaska was heavily censored."

General Doolittle said he was aware of the problem, but that efforts were under way to correct it by standardizing officers' and enlisted men's clothing and making it

LIFE IN CIVILIAN PRISON CAMP RELATED AT LIONS CLUB LUNCHEON

No physical harm came to civilian internees at Manila in the camp where she was held for more than three years, Mrs. J. C. Smith told the Lions club Wednesday.

Born in the Philippines, and a resident of the islands as well as the States, Mrs. Smith married an Akerly man, one of the first liberating soldiers to march into the camp.

"As long as we stayed within the walls, we were protected," she said. "I was scared and I knew I'd be safe so long as I stayed inside the walls—in all the time I never left that camp."

It all started out well enough, but "the Japs just didn't understand us. When they would take something away, we'd come up with something else."

For a time Red Cross furnished supplies but in several months the Japs took over and the fare dropped off. Between the two enough got inside the walls for near subsistence except that it was reduced to a slow process of starvation.

For 10 months, said Mrs. Smith, "we had to get along on a muth made of old musty corn. We couldn't get rice because the Japs liked it themselves, and besides the Filipinos quit planting the third year when Japs kept harvesting the crop and not paying for it."

The main problem was the hospital. At first the rate was one a day. At the end of the intership it was eight a day. Children got priority, and as malnutrition took effect, the old people had to be moved to ground floors because they lacked strength to climb stairs.

"We knew what was going on—exactly," she continued. "For one thing we had our radios, which the Japs couldn't find because we hooked it—too obviously—to an old loud speaker."

There were ways of getting things, too, for the few Jap soldiers who did have reason in the camp would traffic in goods for wrist watches and other personal belongings. Some Americans did business with the Japs and were dealt with accordingly.

When the Americans finally did come, "we couldn't realize it. We had become so we lacked reason to care. It was a funny feeling, though, to have to look up to six foot cavalrymen. My roommate, a nice looking blonde, said she would kiss the first American soldier she saw when they came. When it last saw the way a big foot soldier, she said, 'I don't know what you think, but you're going to get kissed.' A big smile broke over his face. 'Go ahead, Lady!' he said."

Easter Fashions For Youngsters Mimic Tailored Attire Chosen By Elders

SO THE EASTER BUNNY SAID... What beautiful new Easter suits! Sister's has a plaid front jacket, Brother's is solid color. Both are made from the same pattern in sturdy woollens by Millidge.

BROTHER AND SISTER COATS... They're made exactly alike, except that Sister again chose plaid, Brother plain fabric. They're classic, wearable topsuits as smart as they are easy to make at home.

By DOROTHEA ROE, Associated Press Fashion Editor

Small Johnny and Mary have their own ideas about their new Easter clothes. Just ask them and see!

And the chances are they're going to vote for new suits and spring coats as nearly as possible like those of Mom and Dad. Small fry take careful note of the fashions of their elders. If their parents are the tailored type, it's ten-to-one the juniors will follow the leader. If Mom goes for frills, so will Sis.

Since tailored suits are the overwhelming choice of most American women for Easter, suits for the kindergarten set are the logical choice.

With shortages still acute, the wise and thrifty mother will make Mary's and Johnny's Easter outfits at home this year. She can buy handsome woollens by the yard, invest in fool-proof patterns and turn out smart, well-fitting suits and coats on the old family sewing machine.

Gay plaid woollens are a favorite of small girls this season. Little boys are more conservative, like Dad, and vote for plain gray flannel or navy blue serge.

Styles should be simple and functional, so that good taste grows up with the small wearers.

LEAD THE Easter Parade IN WEATHER-BIRD SHOES for BOYS and GIRLS

HERE IS STYLE... the kind of shoe styles that youngsters demand... He-mannish patterns for the boys... Adorable models with an air of sophistication for the girls... All made over last that assure comfort and a perfect fit.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR

Howard county cotton farmers signed up for crop insurance in record numbers this year, and if the present "dry spell" continues they may be needing it. Last year few were able to realize anything from the cotton crop except work and worry and the few who did get a decent yield planted early. Many planned to get their seed in the ground sooner this year, but without a good soaking rain it may be useless. Local showers were reported in several communities of the Abilene area during the first part of the week, but several days of partly cloudy weather here didn't even produce a good healthy threat.

One of the most important points the extension service is trying to get over with the 7-step cotton growing procedure is the desirability of all farmers in a certain locality or area raising cotton of the same grade, staple and variety. Availability of bales from several producers with uniform grade and staple creates the market. They also have called attention to the fact that although we have a year's crop of cotton on hand, much of it is low grade. Chief concern, however, is that foreign countries are growing more cotton and much of their production is as good as this country produces and they are growing it cheaper than the American farmers are. Also the rate at which rayon and other substitutes are being developed indicates that the time is not distant when cotton will be grown principally for the seed, provided something isn't done to change the trend.

For the benefit of those who may be skeptical over adaptability of alfalfa to this area, it has been brought to our attention that several volunteer plants are growing right now within the city limits of Big Spring and on what probably would be considered undesirable soil. There are several alfalfa weeds across from the Ritz theatre, and others have been reported in the vicinity of the high school.

Bitterweeds have been causing concern in some neighboring counties, especially those where sheep raising is followed, on a large scale. However, the turpentine weed has plagued some Howard county stockmen, causing loss of some calves. According to reports Donald Lee, losing nine calves in a week, and Ralph White, six in a week, were hardest hit. The turpentine weed came up and advanced over the range grasses, due to the dry weather.

E. T. O'Daniel of Coshoma planned to brand some calves in his herd Thursday. County Agent Durward Lewter was picking some likely looking animals, expected to find some for his 4-H feeders. O'Daniel has about 250 cows with young calves.

Molasses Cake And Ice Cream Replace Grandma's Old Fashioned Remedy

GRANDMA'S ICE CREAM ROLL... Small fry love it...

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS, Associated Press Food Editor
Once upon a time, and not so very long ago, either, we used to give small-fry "sulphur" in molasses in the spring time. Modern science discounts the sulphur angle, but admits that molasses, so rich in iron, has genuine value in combating nutritional anemia, one type of "spring fever."
If you can possibly think of a handsomer, more attractive way of presenting a spring tonic than in old-fashioned molasses cake, its food value supplemented by good dairy vitamins and minerals, in a yummy ice cream roll topped with custard sauce—you tell me what it is! Deluxe cups of cocoa with this molasses roll make a perfect flavor combination and add a lot to the nutritional slide, too.

Grandma's Ice Cream Roll
1 quart vanilla ice cream (bulk)
4 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup old fashioned molasses
1 cup sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Place vanilla ice cream in freezing unit of refrigerator until ready to use. All the other ingredients for the cake must be at room temperature.

Break eggs into mixing bowl; place over smaller bowl of hot water, with bottom of top bowl not quite touching the water. Beat eggs with rotary beater until froth changes to a true foam—about a half minute. Add sugar and molasses gradually, beating after each addition, about four minutes. Sift together remaining ingredients; fold into egg mixture (1/4 cup at a time). Pour into a greased shallow pan (12 inches by 17 1/2 inches), lining bottom only with heavy brown paper, well greased and lightly floured. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees), 7 to 8 minutes.

Remove cake from oven; loosen from sides of pan with a spatula. Turn out on slightly dampened towel. Quickly remove brown paper. Roll up cake and towel together. Cool slightly.
Unroll cake and spread with ice cream. Turn up end of cake about one inch; lift cloth high enough to raise turned end of cake off table and start to roll. Wrap cake in waxed paper. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator to harden ice cream. Serve with custard sauce. Decorate top with cherries and citron wedges if desired.

Old-Fashioned Custard Sauce
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Mix flour, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Add egg and blend. Then add the milk and cook over boiling water. Stir un-

Vet Apprentice Training Program Proposed By Local Electricians

An apprentice training program for veterans arranged recently at a meeting in Abilene attended by electrical workers union representatives and department of labor officials will be carried on in Big Spring, organized electrical workers here have reported.
As a result, apprentices employed by any contractor affiliated with the Electrical Workers Union No. 460 of Midland will be eligible to receive supplemental pay from the government, as provided for on the job training in the GI Bill of Rights. The Midland local embraces approximately two dozen organized units extending from Pecos to Colorado City and from Fort Stockton to Andrews.
It will be the first union-sponsored GI training program to go into effect here.

Union sponsorship is necessary to acquire such a program in organized trades for regular apprenticeships. The local USES office has assisted in setting up several on the job training programs for employers here whose workers are not organized, and still advises prospective cooperators on procedure for obtaining approval.
A committee must be formed to work out the program with department of labor officials to secure approval for a union-sponsored plan. The organization must include an apprentice committee, which is charged with responsibility of administering the program in accordance with specifications. A minimum committee may be composed of two union men and two contractors.
Such joint committees are being set up in all localities covered by the entire West Texas Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors association.
Employers who desire approval for a GI training program and whose workers are not affiliated with a union are advised by the USES to request a survey from A. O. Willman, chairman of the state committee for approval of educational and training institutions under Public Law 345, veterans service office, land office building, Austin.
Unions should write to Cleve Culpepper, area supervisor of the US Department of Labor apprentice training service, Dallas, and send a carbon copy of the correspondence to Willman.
All unions are eligible to inaugurate GI training programs, according to the USES, provided

MISSING DOG MISSES CAT PAL

HIAWATHA, Kas., April 11 (AP)—The John Warren family moved to Iowa from the country and brought their dog along, but left their cat behind.
After keeping the dog tied up for several weeks in the new surroundings, the Warrens released the dog and it immediately disappeared, returning a few days later with his feline pal.
The two had grown up together and were inseparable.

Police Books Entries Often Funny-- But Busy Cops May Not Think So

By WACIL McNAIR
Law enforcement work is not without its comedy. Entries on the police books of all and- towns verge on the ironic at times, and Big Spring is no exception.

Not uncommon is the inebriate who calls and reports a disturbance to officers, only to wind up with free transportation to the city jail himself.

Officers knew exactly where to look for one man's car when he reported it stolen. The auto had been parked a few doors from the owner's residence, and a neighbor, after noticing it there for some time, called police to investigate. After a search was made for the owner, the car was removed from the street.

Recently a man from Denver, Colo., wrote, asking police to help locate a dog he had seen on the road a few days earlier while driving through. It seems that the canine had barked at him, and after pondering a few days he decided it might be a pooch he had lost two years ago some place in Mississippi. The man was sure officers would recognize the dog, because it was "friendly and smart" and had spots on it.

Thefts usually are reported promptly, despite the fact some people have been known to tell officers they lost their billfold "last week." And a missing pair of ladies hose is reported as quickly as a stolen automobile; these days.

Sometimes officers themselves provide the unusual. For example, they rushed a man to the hospital recently, thinking he had been stabbed, but examination showed he had only been in a fight and was suffering from a well directed, sanguine punch.

Police radio operators also vary the routine occasionally. A message from another city was recorded by headquarters here in which the traditional description formula was abandoned. A certain wanted man's lady-companion was "an attractive, 23-year-old blonde," (among other more flattering adjectives) the operator said.

Pedestrians Are Like Anarchists

BOULDER, Colo. "Anarchy" was the word used by Lew E. Wallace of Chicago, assistant to the president of the National Safety Council, in laying blame for the alarming increase in highway accidents.

Speaking before a highway engineering conference, Wallace said: "As pedestrians, we are in a state of anarchy. We hop into the street when impulse, not common sense, dictates."

Under high-altitude flying conditions, where oxygen pressure is reduced, persons of more advanced years actually do better than their young colleagues. They are less liable to fainting and collapse because their cardiovascular systems are more stable, and they suffer less loss of memory.

EFFECTIVE KICK STOPS HONKING

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—The horn in an automobile parked a half block from the Hyde Park police station, blew and blew and tempers of policemen flew as they exhausted every effort to halt the piercing blast.

For nearly two hours, Sergeant John Moroney was harassed by telephone calls from irate residents unable to sleep.

As police gave up, Cleveland Andrew, who lives near the station, appeared on the scene and walked to the car. He kicked a front wheel. The horn stopped.

Moore About Ready

TULSA, Okla., April 11. (AP)—Terry Moore, team captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, tried out for four innings against the Oklahoma City Indians yesterday the ailing legs that have kept him out of action most of the spring. Moore, who hasn't missed an opening day game in nine years in organized baseball, said he would start in Tuesday's opener only if he believed himself ready.

Tear Gas Routs Cops

ALHAMBRA, Cal. (UP)—Police here have learned by experience that their tear gas is highly effective.

The trigger on the tear "gun" jammed during a demonstration of equipment at the police station and the operator hastily turned the gun toward an open window.

The wind immediately diffused the tear gas throughout the building and routed every policeman.

HOME CANNING—One commendable result of wartime food shortages is that more women have learned the simple art of home canning and its many advantages. Surveys made by a leading manufacturer of fruit jars shows that most new and old-home canners plan to maintain their volume of food preservation. The National Garden Institute will continue to urge home canning in order to alleviate any imminent food shortages. Supplies of jars and caps will be plentiful. The porcelain-lined zinc cap for Mason jars, favorite of home canners for generations, is back, and so are wide-mouth Mason jars. Jars will be available in all types and sizes. Home canning authorities advise housewives to follow carefully instructions packed in each carton of canning supplies in order to insure canning success.

POULTRY CONSUMPTION URGED TO CONSERVE GRAIN SUPPLIES

As part of the over-all food saving plan, greater consumption of poultry is being urged by M. Weaver, administrative officer of the Howard county AAA office.

Since poultry is in abundance, increased use of that type of food will result in a decrease in the demand for meat more suitable for overseas shipment and will contribute toward a saving of grain, according to Weaver.

It has become increasingly important to hold eggs and poultry, as well as other livestock, within the limits established by the 1946 goals due to the critical shortage of cereals and feed grains, the administrator revealed in a prepared statement. The necessity of grain conservation also demands that, in making adjustments in poultry flocks to attain goal requirements, every effort should be made to cull for the additional purpose of efficiency in food utilization for egg and meat production.

Suggesting that a heavy marketward movement could temporarily disrupt farm market prices, Weaver said that producers were being advised to start orderly culling now, keep the most efficient laying hens and pullets and the most rapidly developing meat birds and plan their orders for baby chicks on the basis of their feed supply, both current and prospective.

The producers should also see to it that feed hoppers, and troughs are not filled too full so as to cause waste. Texas A & M college is co-operating by furnishing plans and suggestions for building and improving feeding equipment.

In support of producers who are being asked to cull their laying flocks to help conserve feed, there is being planned a nation-wide consumer-use program for eggs and poultry. The program will be sponsored co-operatively by the USDA and the industry organizations.

Its goal will be the greatest possible consumer use of eggs and poultry to help avoid development of temporary over-supplies which would necessitate operation of government price support programs.

ROY ROGERS, TRIGGER, DON'T THINK SINGING COWBOYS ARE PANTYWAISTS

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, April 11. (AP)—Not that you'll be surprised, but Roy Rogers doesn't think current screen cowboys are yodelling pantywaists. Neither does his movie gal-friend. Neither does his horse.

Producer Harry Sherman's views along that line were aired here yesterday. To find out how other folks feel about what's sometimes called the horse opera, I decided to conduct a survey.

While Roy was emoting in "Under Nevada Skies," his horse, Trigger, was resting between takes. I asked the animal, billed as the smartest horse in the world, if his boss was a pantywaist.

Trigger yawned and stroked the ground twice with his hoof.

Next I corralled Dale Evans, Roy's ever-loving-but-never-kissed (Western codes prohibit it) screen sweetheart. She refuted Sherman's assertion that real cowboys never sing. "Of course they do," she said. "I was raised on a ranch in Uvalde, Texas, and we used to listen to the cowboys sing every night."

Roy strode off the set and I showed him the producer's tirade against musical westerns.

"What's Pop so excited about?" he calmly asked between chaws (gum, not tobacco). "We've been making musical westerns since 1932. When does a fad stop being a fad?"

Roy admitted Sherman's statement that he was born in Cincinnati. "But when I was two years old, we moved to a farm and I learned to ride horses bareback," he said. "Besides some of our best rodeo stars come from New York and New Jersey. A fella doesn't have to come from the West to be a good cowboy. Hard work is what does it."

As for Sherman, "he looks pretty good on a horse, but I don't know whether he can sing. Maybe that's why he's against musical westerns."

I asked Roy what Trigger means by pawing the ground twice.

"That's his way of saying no," he said. "Why do you ask?"

Shortage Of Hot-Corner Specialists Hits Majors

Only Cardinals And Yanks Seem Set At Position

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—Major league baseball managers are cringing for third basemen this year in the same way they used to bemoan the lack of good shortstops and second basemen.

With the opening of the 1946 season five days away only Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, the New York Yankees' Joe McCarthy and the St. Louis Cardinals' Eddie Dyer of the 16 big league players seem to have solved their "hot corner" problem and even they are not sitting too pretty.

In Ken Keltner Cleveland owns one of the best third sackers in the American league, but the recently discharged sailor was late in signing and hasn't trimmed down to his best playing weight. Currently Boudreau has been using Bob Lemon and Don Ross at the far corner.

Whitey Kurowski, hard hitting Cardinal third baseman, ended a long holdout siege last Saturday and hasn't seen an inning of action. He is expected to be on the bench when the season opens with Al Red Schoendienst, an outfielder last year, at third.

COLUMBUS, O., April 11. (AP)—Joe Hatten, highly publicized rookie lefthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the cause of Manager Leo Durocher's mixed emotions today. Chances are rather slim that the Lakeview (colored) football Lions will function next fall due to the fact that the boys refuse to go to school and the boys refuse to go to school because there's hardly such a thing in the negro section.

The boys can't be censured for striking since the Lakeview building is a wretched example of what a school building should look like. There's not enough room to seat all the registrants and those who do attend get no more than a third and fourth grade education.

The staff can't be blamed either, since it is under-manned and is doing what it can with the implements it has.

Frank Miller has balked at assuming the coaching reins until he can be assured that he'll not take a financial beating as he did last fall.

In 1945, the Lions took in something like $2,000 in gate receipts but expenses ran high and Frank found himself applying the red ink to his books before season's end. And there was no one to assume the financial responsibility but himself.

A group of Denver financiers is trying to buy a franchise in the Texas baseball league.

Stockton Revives Interest In Sport

Steers Idle This Weekend, Prep For Regional Meet On April 20

Members of the Big Spring high school track and field team, those who placed in the area show at Midland last week, are continuing their workouts daily at Steer stadium in preparation for the regional tournaments at Abilene, scheduled for Saturday, April 20.

So many of the youngsters qualified for the regional that athletic director John Dibrell elected to postpone spring football training for a week until April 15. That decree was approved by Herschel "Mule" Stockton, the track coach, who figures the Longhorns will do all right in Abilene if they get in top shape for such campaigning.

All in all, Stock has done a very commendable job with the track team this year after returning from service just in time to assume the coaching reins. In recent years, the spring sport was badly under-emphasized here. No one ever heard of a Big Spring athlete doing much in that line.

But Stock, who has fond affection for that type of athletics—he was once a top spot putter in Texas collegiate circles—issued a lung and loud call to arms and, with the encouragement of Dibrell, the boys turned out in record numbers.

Mule has managed to keep them busy and, most of all, keep them interested. They've made commendable showings in their own meet three weeks ago, in the San Angelo invitational and last Saturday in the area meet.

They scored an aggregate of 17 1/2 points at San Angelo and the coach figures they might have won that one had all the boys been shipshape.

No one is conceding them much chance in the regional due to the fact that Abilene's War Birds, undoubtedly one of the three or four best prep teams in Texas, are going to be there but the Longhorns will do all right.

Robert Miller, for one, has shown great improvement. The little quarter miler set up a new record in the area games at Midland in a direct reversal of form. Previously, he had been run into the ground by mediocre sprinters. Stockton says Miller is learning how to pace himself in the 440 will be heard from later.

An almost certain point gets in the Abilene meet is Dennis Webb, the miler who hasn't been beaten this season. Webb runs according to his competition. If set records in two meets this year and there doesn't appear to be anyone in this section capable of beating him.

Gerald Harris, who does a lot of things in track and field and does most of them well, wasn't out for practice Wednesday but is expected back shortly and will be ready to toe the line in the regional.

McDaniel Outlines Finances Of City During War Years

The city of Big Spring has entered its new fiscal year, and budget for the 1946-47 period is due to be submitted to the city commission when it meets on April 23.

What has happened to the municipality in the way of finances, etc., in the war years was outlined for the commission when it was organized with three new members, this week. A brief report was made by City Manager B. J. McDaniel showing:

(1) On July 31, 1941, the city had in cash $5,762.29, and in securities $9,000. On February 28, this year, it had $124,567.45 in cash, $101,130 in securities; and in addition had $90,000 in a water-sewer bond fund and $26,000 of a bond issue not sold.

(2) Total assets of the municipal corporation had risen, from July, 1941, to February, 1946, from $2,869,661 to $3,508,066.

(3) Delinquent taxes, outstanding had dropped in the same period from $56,000 to $30,000.

(4) Bonded indebtedness had climbed from $95,500 to $1,120,000. During the comparison period the city had voted $70,000 in issues (airport purchase and development, sewerage plant, water utilities) but the tax rate has remained unchanged throughout the five years, and still is at $1.70.

(5) Investments have been made in additional land at the sewer plant, in site for a warehouse and in site for another fire station.

(6) Municipal operating cost have gone up by 30 per cent during the war period, the number of city employees has increased 20 per cent.

These are among the items the new commission will have to consider in its study of the new budget.

SCIENTIST CLAIMS ATOMIC ENERGY MUST BE CONTROLLED OR DESTROYED

By FRANK CAREY Associated Press Science Reporter ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 11. (AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, co-discoverer of plutonium, said today that unless effective international control of atomic energy was established "an alternative lies in foregoing the commercial use of this source of energy." Assenting that such an alternative was a "solution which it seems a pity to be forced to accept," the University of Chicago scientist told the American Chemical Society in an address prepared for a symposium on nuclear energy.

"In my opinion, atomic energy will be used in industrial peacetime applications because of the advantages which it affords, and therefore it will be necessary to solve this problem (of control) politically on the international front. The solution probably lies in the development of an international control system based upon inspection to prevent the diversion of the material to illegal purposes."

In a project to the same symposium, Dr. Milton Burton of the Montano Chemical Co., who was associated with the Oak Ridge atomic project, said chemists may be able to change the properties of familiar solids as well as a result of techniques discovered in the atomic bomb development.

Under bombardment of fast neutrons, he said, certain solid materials—particularly the lighter elements—are so affected that some of their atoms become displaced from their normal positions thus imparting entirely new properties to the material.

Seaborg, who last fall announced the existence of the new elements 93 and 94—radioactive elements that somewhat resemble the so-called rare earths—today proposed formal names for them.

He suggested that element 93 be called "Americium," with the symbol "Am" in honor of the Americas; and that element 94 be called "Curium," with the symbol "Cm" in honor of Pierre and Marie Curie, who obtained radium from pitchblende.

Cleaning Fems Bowling Queens

Hartley's Cleaners backed into the Women's Bowling league championship here Wednesday evening, winning one of three games in their test with Seven-Up to clinch first place.

The Twins team had high game with 724 and high aggregate with 2088, while Jessie Pearl Watson, Bottlers' star, and Margaret Howle, Coaden, featured, individual play.

Jessie Pearl came through with a 180 for tops in single tests while Miss Howle put together three respectable tries for a 471 total.

Standings: Team W L Pct. Hartley's 26 13 .690. Twins 21 21 .500. Coaden 18 24 .429. Seven-Up 14 28 .333.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Professor Zogi, the magician, came to our town Saturday and put on a performance for the benefit of the Orphanage.

It was quite a show! Among other things, the professor holds a pitcher in his hands, and asks folks what they'd have to drink. Ma Hawkins asks for buttermilk and the professor promptly pours her a rich, creamy glassful.

Then Zeb Collins asks for cider, and out of the same pitcher comes a mug of cider. Doc Hollister next asks for beer—and presto, from the pitcher comes a sparkling glass of beer, white collar and all!

"Just goes to show," says Doc, astonished, "that it takes a magician to satisfy all tastes."

From where I sit, the professor has a mighty good act... one that points a moral too. Tastes differ—but people can have a friendly, happy time enjoying the beverage that each prefers—and being tolerant of one another's preferences.

While production of the new Ford is being increased as rapidly as possible, it will be some time before enough new cars are built to supply all who want them. In the meantime, it's a common sense precaution to give your car the best possible care and attention. Your Ford dealer has the skilled mechanics and modern equipment to save you time and money. Right now he can give you fast service. So it's good business to bring your car "home" to your Ford dealer. He knows your car best—uses genuine Ford parts—and gives you friendly, dependable service. Remember—Ford's out in front in service, too!

Discovery Announced Of Missing Elements

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 11 (AP)—The elements number 43 and number 61—the two missing links in the periodic table of the elements—have been detected by scientists who claim their definite isolation is assured. Long known theoretically and even assigned tentative properties by some investigators, the elements—still unnamed—are unstable fission products of uranium. Announcement of their "absolute detection" was made yesterday by Dr. Charles D. Coryell of the Monsanto Chemical Co., during an American Chemical Society symposium on nuclear chemistry.

MEXICO CITY'S NEWSPAPER FINDS IT DIFFICULT TO TURN DOWN ADS

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

South of the border: Miguel Lanz Duret, publisher of Mexico City's El Universal and Augustin ("If-You-Can't-Pronounce-My-Name-Just-Call-Me-Tejeda," mechanical superintendent of the same paper, are in the United States trying to buy equipment and studying American methods.

While in Texas they told amusing tales of problems south of the Rio Grande.

For example, they scoff at US labor troubles. Tejeda said they had as many as 27 labor disputes going on at one time at their paper.

They seek to make their paper "The New York Times of Mexico" and print no comics or pictures. They run about 30 pages daily up. Their daily press run is 110,000, ABC.

They decided to eliminate advertising from Page one of their second section, and doubled the rates to discourage advertisers. The lineage dropped for a few weeks, then came up higher than before. They promptly doubled the rate again. The April 4 issue had less than 12 inches of news matter—all the rest was advertising.

"People got the idea it was a valuable page, and look at it now—sold advertising," said Tejeda, ejected. They may double the rates a third time.

As a promotion stunt, the paper used to offer one hundred pesos to any baseball player who knocked a ball over the Mexico City ball park fence for a home run. The paper carried a challenging sign on the fence, making this offer.

But since American players have hit Mexico in force, the paper had to gracefully withdraw its offer. It began costing thousands of pesos a week. They went to city officials, "investigated" the city ordinance, found such a prize offer was "illegal."

Distribution problems plague Tejeda. He said he had a hunch all circulation was not being collected for, so he canceled his subscription.

"That was six months ago," he said. "I still get my paper every day, and haven't paid a cent. What can I do?"

Lanz Duret said cost of living has gone up 400 percent in Mexico. He said publications have been hit hard by the newspaper shortage, but pool their paper and then ration it among themselves. Most of it comes from Canada, some from the Lufkin, Texas, plant.

He said Mexican newspapers have "come of age" and now tell both sides of a story, no longer being mere outlets for political and pressure groups.

He said some papers are co-operatives, but employes don't cooperate.

"As owners, they declare themselves holidays, and take anywhere from three to four days a week off."

War Bride Leaves Husband After 30 Hours In His Home

NEW YORK, April 11. (P)—Mrs. Evelyn Caroline Poston, 16-year-old English war bride who left her husband's Salisbury, N. C., home after only 30 hours there, left New York by train for the U. S. State, home of her uncle and aunt, the British consulate reported.

The girl left Salisbury last Wednesday and was found Tuesday by police in a mid-Manhattan hotel.

Police said Mrs. Poston told them she had been under the impression when she married that her husband was a wealthy man. She said she had known Poston, a former ground crew corporal with an Eighth Air Force bomber group, for a year before they were married.

She was turned over to immigration authorities who ruled they had no ground for deporting her to England and released her yesterday. She told him she "was in the right" and that she left him in Salisbury because she "couldn't stand that part of the country. In reply to her query, Poston said "No, I ain't mad yet."

Not A 'Beef' In 13,000

PUEBLO, Colo.—Nearly 13,000 men were inducted into the armed services through Pueblo draft boards, but not one has returned with a "beef" ever having to serve, according to Chief Clerk Joe R. Gillespie of the Selective Service office.

NYLON HOSIERY

Registration and Distribution

Wednesday, April 17
at 6 p. m.

In order to give, those of our customers who are occupied during our normal store hours, a better opportunity to register for Nylon Hose cards—we will open at 6:00 p. m. exclusively for hosiery registration.

To distribute Nylon Hose in the fairest way we know, the following card system will be used:

1. Beginning Wednesday, April 17th, at 6:00 p. m.—you may register in our Hosiery Department and receive one card, which when filled in and mailed back to us, will entitle you to purchase ONE PAIR of NYLON HOSE.
2. To save confusion, hosiery cards are to be taken out of the store and mailed to Hemphill-Wellb Co., Big Spring, Texas. Registration will have to be made in person (sorry but your friends can't register for you). Registrations will be accepted only from women and girls over 15 years of age.
3. Nylon Hose Cards will be numbered as they are received through the mail in our office and hose will be distributed in the order of these numbers. You will be notified when your pair of hose is available. Since we receive Nylon stockings in varied styles we must distribute them accordingly.

Please Do Not Ask Us To Change Or Vary These Rules

In the last registration there was a bit of confusion. We don't like having to sell hose this way any better than you do, however, it's sorta peculiar to the times in which we live. We do hope, you will agree that it is about the fairest way for everyone to at least have an opportunity to purchase hose.

We have hopes—that in the not too distant future—Hosiery production will increase to where we will have some symbolism of the quantity of hose that you desire. Until that time may we ask your cheerful cooperation and a sense of humor—we are doing our best and in the same spirit ask your cooperation. If you have been fortunate enough in the past to have procured Nylon Hose—wouldn't it be a nice gesture to step aside this time in favor of some of your less fortunate sisters. There is a ray of hope that conditions such as this can not last forever.
