Rains up to 5 inches hit Hereford

A downpour of rain early Saturday night dumped up to 5 inches of badly-needed moisture in Hereford and Deaf Smith County, the first significant rainfall since early May.

Rainfall reports ranged from less than an inch up to 5 inches. The heavy rains, starting about 8:45 p.m. Saturday, inundated some city streets as 2 inches of rain was recorded in the first hour. Hereford had a total of 2.54 inches, according to KPAN Radio, the official National Weather Service observer here.

The thunderstorm, moving across the county on a northwest-to-southeast path, caused the weather service to put the southeast part of Deaf Smith County, including Hereford, under a flash-flood warning for two hours, from 10:15 p.m. until 12:15 a.m. Sunday.

One of the heaviest reports, 5 inches, came from about 6 miles north of Westway.

A total of 3.5 inches was reported in the west and northwest parts of Hereford. Plains and Moreman streets, two main east-west arteries, were running from curb-to-curb in parts of west Hereford during the storm. Ave. K, a main north-south street in East Hereford, was running more than curb-deep in water in many areas, especially where east-west streets "dead end" on Ave. K.

Cars were stalled on 15th Street west of U.S. Highway 385 because of heavy runoff from fields north of the street. The rains caused some minor flooding of homes and apartments in north Hereford. About 50 residents of Golden Plains Care Center had to be evacuated when not-yet-completed roof repairs were exposed to the rain. Members of the Hereford Emergency Medical Services, police officers,

Lake Hereford

Water behind the dam on the bridge in Veterans Park in Hereford forms a lake along Tierra Blanca Creek. Rains of up to 5 inches in the Hereford area on Saturday night caused some minor flooding and refilled lakes in the county.

Explorers and volunteer firefighters helped move patients.

The heavy rain closed the popular Hereford Lions club carnival at the Bull Barn on Saturday, and also caused the rescheduling of the West Texas State Babe Ruth tournament.

The opening Durkin-Andrews game was almost completed, and Saturday's second game, Graham vs. Hereford, was postponed until Sunday. Several volunteers worked at the Kids Inc. Baseball Complex throughout the day Sunday to prepare the field for Sunday's games. The schedule was moved back a day.

The county barn at Bootleg reported only .30 of an inch, while reports of 1 and 1.5 inches were common around Walcott and Simms communities. Dawn, to the east of town, recorded about 2 inches of moisture.

The rains came too late for some farmers, but the moisture should be of great benefit to irrigated crops. Many farmers haven't been able to keep up with the watering process during the dry period, and the rain could ease that situation.

Senate focus on S&L fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) - Just as the Bush administration and Congress are gearing up to fight savings and loan crooks, a new study indicates that fraud caused only a small percentage of thrift losses.

Bert Ely, a financial institutions analyst in Alexandria, Va., maintains that fraud cost $5 billion, or only 3 percent of what he figures is the bailout's $147 billion total cost.

Most of the losses come from falling real estate values and from excessive interest rates paid by ailing institutions to attract depositors, he figures. Bad bailout deals made in 1988 and losses on junk bonds also contributed.

Fraud, nevertheless, has become the focus of political debate on S&Ls. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh, making his first congressional appearance on the subject, and top-banking regulators were scheduled to testify on the subject today before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

In other thrift news:

The Treasury Department said Monday that the busiest month ever for the S&L cleanup helped swell the budget deficit to $11.2 billion in June, a month when corporate tax payments normally produce a surplus.

An attorney representing a GOP lobbyist involved in a much-criticized S&L bailout asked the Senate Ethics Committee to investigate whether the staff of Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, struck a "sordid deal" to share investigative information with The New York Times.

The Judiciary Committee's hearing came two weeks after the Senate overwhelmingly adopted a crime bill including get-tough provisions aimed at bank and thrift fraud.

The bill provides $162.5 million in each of the next three years to increase the number of prosecutors and FBI agents pursuing S&L cases. It also increased the maximum prison sentence for bank fraud from 20 years to 30 years and provides a special life sentence to S&L kingpins. They are defined as those who act in concert with three others to steal $5 million or more.

Similar legislation is moving through the House.

On the witness list today in addition to Thornburgh were L. William Seidman, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.; Timothy Ryan, director of the Office of Thrift Supervision, and John E. Robson, deputy secretary of the Treasury.

The $11.2 billion June federal budget shortfall, compared with a $7.8 billion surplus in June 1989, brought red ink for the first nine months of fiscal 1990 to $163.1 billion, more than half again as much as the $105.4 billion deficit at this time last year.

If the deficit continues to accumulate at this pace, it could top the record deficit of $221.1 billion set in 1986. Analysts attribute the ballooning budget gap to S&L bailout spending and to sluggish economic growth, which is producing lower-than-expected tax revenues.

Bailout spending by the government's Resolution Trust Corp. totaled $15.8 billion in June - a third of its total spending through June of $45 billion. Eighty-three of the RTC's 207 bailouts and closings came in June.

Attorney Stanley M. Brand, representing lobbyist Robert J. Thompson, a former aide to then-Vice President Bush, asked for a probe of "what can only be described as a sordid deal to provide the Senate's investigative information to a single newspaper in return for favorable coverage on the eve of the Senate's hearing."

Metzenbaum chairs the Judiciary subcommittee on antitrust, monopolies and business rights, which is looking into Thompson's involvement in negotiating the bailout of 15 thrift institutions now combined under the name of Bluebonnet Savings Bank of Dallas.

The Times' story on questions surrounding the bailout appeared July 8, the day before Metzenbaum held a hearing on the subject.

Howell Raines, the Times' Washington bureau chief, said, "As a matter of policy we don't discuss sources or the editorial process." He said the story was "meticulously researched from a number of sources" and "was industriously and honorably reported."

Nancy Coffey, a spokeswoman for Metzenbaum, said the senator considered Brand's complaint too ridiculous to comment on.

"Since when is it against the law for a senator to talk to one reporter?" she asked, adding that "no prearrangements" were attached to Metzenbaum's comments.

Meanwhile, the Times reported in today's editions that Thompson invested $100,000 with a federal regulator, Paul G. Healy, who also was involved in Thompson's negotiations to buy an insolvent bank in Oklahoma.

The newspaper reported that the investment, which was to buy distressed loans from federal regulators, did not violate conflict of interest laws, but Senate investigators wanted to look into the financing of the deal.

Healy is chief liquidator for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. in Oklahoma City. The Times said he and Thompson refused the Times' requests for interviews.

Souter may be difficult to challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) - David Souter, President Bush's candidate for the Supreme Court, may prove difficult to challenge because his credentials are largely unquestioned and his views on abortion and other key "litmus test" issues are largely unknown.

Those may be among his biggest attributes for President Bush, who said in advance that he wasn't looking for a Senate confirmation fight. His choice avoided openly antagonizing either side in the raging abortion debate.

Liberals are suspicious of the 50-year-old Souter, although they have no evidence of what his views are on abortion.

Conservatives are hopeful but wary. Supreme Court justices often defy predictions about their judicial leanings, and the liberal whom Souter would replace, Justice William J. Brennan, was nominated by a Republican president.

Souter, who was sworn in as a U.S. appeals court judge on April 30, is so new to the federal bench that he has not published an opinion. As a New Hampshire State Supreme Court justice before that, he wasn't called on to rule directly on abortion or many other issues that will confront the nation's highest court.

Bush said he hadn't discussed abortion or other similar issues with Souter. In announcing his intention to nominate him Monday, he praised his "keen intellect" and legal ability.

Thus, by nominating the 50-year-old New Hampshire judge, Bush - an opponent of abortion - avoided directly confronting either advocates or opponents of abortion.

"It is not a nomination that immediately will cause a storm of opposition," said Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill. "Like everyone else, I'm at this point plowing through some of his decisions."

"He cannot be characterized as an ideologue in any way, shape or form," said a friend, Sen. Warren Rudman, R-N.H.

The Senate Judiciary Committee's aim in considering whether to recommend confirmation will be to shed some light on Souter's judicial record and views - not only on abortion but perhaps on affirmative action, criminal justice and other issues that divide the court.

But like any good political candidate, this former state attorney general may know that the more he says on controversial issues, the more votes he stands to lose.

Assuming no personal or financial embarrassments are found, how Souter handles questions on those issues will be the key to his fate.

Members of the Judiciary Committee will be under pressure to find out as much as they can about the man Bush nominated, on abortion and other issues.

Abortion rights advocates are demanding that the committee confront Souter on whether abortion is a constitutionally protected right and whether he would overturn Roe vs. Wade.

Souter's nomination to replace Brennan could up the Supreme Court's balance on abortion and lead to a reversal of the 17-year-old decision that legalized abortion.

A year ago, the court allowed greater state restraints on abortion - a decision with unpredictable political results. Pro-choice Democrats won several key elections last year in which abortion played a role, to the consternation of many Republicans running this year.

Bush has made clear he is opposed to abortion and Roe vs. Wade. But he may not be eager for that political battle before his 1992 re-election campaign.

Even Souter's friends, such as Rudman and Rep. Chuck Douglas, R-N.H., who served on the state Supreme Court with him, say they don't know what Souter thinks about abortion.

"We never talked about it," Douglas said. "It never came up. I can't think of a single case that had anything to do with abortion while he and I were there."

French fries get oil change

CHICAGO (AP) - After a little prodding from a well-heeled health crusader, the nation's top four hamburger chains agree: french fry lovers need an oil change.

McDonald's Corp. and Wendy's International announced Monday they are switching to cholesterol-free, all-vegetable oil to cook their fries.

Hardee's made the change two years ago and Burger King said last week it will no longer use beef tallow, the industry's previous standard oil for french fry vats.

"Everything that's deep fried is now done in 100 percent cholesterol-free oil," said McDonald's spokesman Chuck Rubner. The company started cooking its chicken items, pies and fish in vegetable oil four years ago, he said.

McDonald's has been a target of newspaper and TV ads placed by anti-cholesterol crusader Phil Sokolof, who accused the world's largest restaurant chain of poisoning Americans with fatty foods.

Sokolof said a recent Advertising Age-Gallup Organization poll indicated a significant number of people responded to his ads by shying away from fast-food outlets.

"Consumers have the power to move mountains, and that's what they did," he said in a telephone interview after the McDonald's announcement. "We obviously speeded up the process."

"That's really ridiculous," countered McDonald's spokeswoman Terri Capatosto. "We've been in the nutrition business a lot longer than Mr. Sokolof has been in the ad business."

Rubner said McDonald's has been experimenting with using vegetable oil for eight years and that test marketing in 500 restaurants began in October.

"Clearly, the challenge that we were looking at was to maintain the same taste - the worldwide favorite - while at the same time improving the nutritional value," said Rubner.

Sokolof, a 66-year-old millionaire from Omaha, Neb., blames a high-cholesterol diet for a near-fatal heart attack 22 years ago.

In April, Sokolof placed ads headlined "The Poisoning of America!" in several major U.S. newspapers. The ads criticized McDonald's and other restaurants for cooking foods in beef tallow rather than using "heart-healthy oils."

McDonald's warned newspapers against printing Sokolof's ads, contending they were inaccurate.

County holds short session

Deaf Smith County commissioners met in a brief meeting Monday at the courthouse in Hereford.

The commissioners granted approval for crossing county roads with utilities in precincts 2 and 4, and appointed election judges and alternates.

The county will likely maintain its self-insurance health program, and Gerhardt and Puckett will perform the 1990 audit. The county will re-advertise for bids for seal coating 5.7 miles of road in Precinct 1 after a misunderstanding on the proposed project.

Blood drive is Wednesday

A blood drive will be held Wednesday from 4-8 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center.

Sponsored by the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, blood donors are needed to benefit Larry Leon, who is hospitalized, and to help fill higher blood needs during the summer. Also, high school students who are eligible to donate can register for an all expense paid trip for two to Padre Island.

Thirteen arrests recorded

Police arrested four persons over the weekend, including a man, 42, in the 500 block of 25 Mile Ave. for theft under $20; a man, 32, in the 100 block of Lawton for public intoxication; a man, 65, at Park and Ave. K for driving while intoxicated; and a man, 23, on out-of-town warrants for no seat belt, no liability insurance and failure to appear. A man, 28, was arrested Monday for second offense no liability insurance, and for operating an unregistered truck and trailer.

Eight persons were arrested over the weekend by Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputies, including a man, 19, for bond jumping and failure to appear; a man, 26, for violating his parole; a man, 30, for burglary of a motor vehicle; a man, 19, for public intoxication and assault; and man, 41, for driving while intoxicated and driving while license suspended; and three men, ages 31, 33 and 40, on driving while intoxicated jail commitments.

Reports included four reports of criminal mischief; burglary in the 300 block of West Park; theft in the 200 block of Whiteface, East U.S. Highway 60, the 500 block of North 25 Mile Avenue and in the 900 block of Park; disorderly conduct and assault in the 200 block of Lee; disorderly conduct in the 400 block of North 25 Mile Ave., and in the 200 block of East Park; and a domestic disturbance in the 100 block of Ave. G. On Monday, police investigated the theft of an air conditioner in the 200 block of Ave. B and assault by threat in the 100 block of Kibbe.

Police issued 17 citations over the weekend and investigated two non-injury accidents. On Monday, 16 citations were issued and there was one accident reported.

Sheriff's deputies investigated two thefts Monday. Over the weekend, reports included aggravated assault with a deadly weapon; runaway; telephone harassment; driving while intoxicated; assault; and terroristic threat.

Crimestoppers offers reward

Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers is offering a reward of up to $300 for information leading to an arrest and indictment in the Crime of the Week. The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office is investigating several reports of vandalism that have occurred at West Park Cemetery. Vandals have disturbed several monuments and other grave markers. This has occurred several times in the past.

If you have information about this or any other crime, call the Clue Line at 364-CLUE. A reward of up to $300 may be paid to callers. Callers may remain anonymous by using a code name or number.

If you have information about any criminal activity in Hereford and Deaf Smith County, call the Clue Line at 364-2583. Final rewards are determined by the Crimestoppers board of directors. All callers may remain anonymous.

Low-income housing plan announced

AUSTIN (AP) - Realistic prices, a warranty, and low 8.35 percent interest rate are being offered low- and moderate-income Texas families who might not ever before had enough money to buy their dream home.

A program for "forgotten Texas families" was announced Monday by state and federal officials, who said approximately $140 million in Texas Housing Agency bonds would be used to finance the sale of repossessed houses.

The program combines the resources of the Housing Agency, Resolution Trust Corp. and Federal National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, which purchased more than $93 million of the $140 million in bonds.

The funds are expected to provide financing - at an average $40,000 per home - to purchase 3,000 to 3,500 homes acquired by the RTC in closing savings and loan associations.

"There's never been a real estate sale of this magnitude in the state of Texas on residential property," said Kenneth DeJarnett, chairman of the housing board.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

During the deluge of last Saturday night, once again the people of Hereford came to the forefront!

It seems Golden Plains Care Center developed major roof leaks due to unfinished roof repairs, and all the patients in two wings of the building had to be evacuated--some 50 people!

Answering the call for help were the Hereford Fire Department, Deaf Smith County Reserves, Hereford Ambulance Service, the police department and members of the Explorers.

Some concerned citizens came by and pitched in and we received numerous calls from others wanting to offer their assistance. The situation could have been disastrous, but the patients and homemakers of Golden Plains were safely moved in time.

Once again, isn't it nice to live in Hereford?

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read a tragic story in the paper about a young mother who killed her three children and herself. She had been talking about it for some time but no one took her seriously. That incident reminded me of something that happened 40 years ago when I was only 20 and I need to unburden myself.

My best friend's mother was ill and very depressed. She kept talking about taking her life. Her family was too close to the situation to be objective and no one knew what to do. I realized that the poor woman needed help so I telephoned her doctor (also my doctor at the time) and explained that I was very close to the family and told him what I feared. The doctor became annoyed with me and shouted, "I never discuss a patient's case with another patient!" He then hung up on me. Two days later my dear friend's mother ended her life.

I never spoke to that doctor again but I often wondered how he felt about ignoring my call. I know I've carried the pain (and a lot of guilt) all these years and it resurfaced when I read that tragic case of the mother and her three children who needed help so desperately.

Ann, will you please tell your readers what we can do and whom to call when family members and even the doctor refuse to recognize symptoms that are obvious to others? -- Tragic Memories in Southern California

DEAR MEMORIES: It is indeed unethical for a physician to discuss a patient with a person who calls and describes herself as a friend of the family. I do feel however that the doctor should have listened to you.

There is no point in telling you what you should have done 40 years ago, but if anyone in my reading audience finds him or herself in the same position, the best course of action is to implore, beg and plead with a member of the family to take a suicide threat seriously and see to it that the sick person gets psychological help.

It goes without saying, the patient should not be left alone. Also, care should be taken that there are no pills or guns around.

I understand your pain but virtually nothing can be done when the family and the physician refuse to listen. I hope you will get some counseling so you can at long last put the matter to rest.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had an affair with a married man. I am also married. Two children resulted from that affair. I know the children are my lover's because my husband had a vasectomy 16 years ago.

My husband and I are having marital problems but not because of the affair. He has no idea. He thinks his operation reversed itself.

Here is the problem: If we were to get a divorce I know my husband would not give me child support. He can be very cruel. He has beat me up several times.

I want to tell my husband the truth about these two children. If something should happen to me I don't want him to raise them. I want their biological father to raise them. My lover and his wife separated for a while but they are back together again.

Where do I stand legally? If I split up with my husband can I make their real father support them? Blood tests these days are 99.7 percent accurate. Please give me some advice. -- Torn Up in Los Angeles

DEAR TORN UP: I think I know where you are coming from and it won't work. According to the law in most states, the man to whom you are married when the children are born is their legal father and he is responsible for their support.

Nothing could be greater than to enjoy a summertime picnic of Southwestern foods in one of the beautiful state parks. With summertime already upon us, picnics conjure up thoughts of all-American favorite foods, such as fried chicken, hot dogs, hamburgers, fajitas, potato salad, cakes, cookies, etc. How can you eat according to the dietary guidelines when so many picnic foods are high in fat, sodium, sugars and calories? Here are some suggestions:

-Grill chicken instead of frying it; remove the skin. If fried chicken is served, skip the skin.

-Grill hamburgers, fajitas, and steaks so the fat runs off during cooking.

-Trim visible fat from steaks. -Go easy on salt and butter or margarine added to corn-on-the-cob, baked potatoes or other vegetables.

-Load up on mixed green salad or vegetable relishes. Eat smaller helpings of coleslaw, potato salad, and macaroni salad made with lots of mayonnaise or prepare lighter version of the salads by substituting light mayonnaise.

-Liven up your lean hamburger with lettuce, tomatoes, onions or other vegetables. Go easy on the barbecue sauce, catsup, mustard, relishes and pickles.

-Enjoy fresh melons, bananas, grapes, cherries, peaches, plums, berries, and other fresh fruits.

-Choose fruit juices or unsweetened iced tea rather than soft drinks.

In addition to keeping the picnics healthy, also keep them safe. Keep hot foods hot, cold foods cold and keep them covered until eaten. Use ice chests, thermos bottles and airtight containers for food safety.

Hereford stars win first two in Babe Ruth play

By SAM W. WALLER
Sports Editor

The Hereford All-Stars moved into the third round of the West Texas State Babe Ruth Tournament being played at Kids Inc. Park with wins over Graham and Brownfield.

The host team outslugged Graham in the first round 7-6 on Sunday before using a four-run sixth inning to beat Brownfield 6-0. The wins advance Hereford to tonight's 8 p.m. meeting with Andrews in a game that will send the winner into Thursday's championship round.

The five-team, double-elimination tourney was set back a day when Saturday's opening game between Andrews and Dumas was suspended because of rain. Play resumed Sunday with the completion of that game followed by Hereford's win over Graham.

In other tourney games, Andrews went on to win the delayed game 6-5 on Sunday and Graham eliminated Dumas 8-5 in Monday's late game.

Prior to tonight's Hereford-Andrews matchup, Brownfield and Graham will face off at 6 p.m. in an elimination game. The winner of that contest will play the Hereford-Andrews loser at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Andrews 6, Dumas 5

Andrews needed about 10 minutes to complete the game after it was resumed with one out in the top of the seventh.

Head groundskeeper Andy Scott and his crew worked on the field for nearly eight hours Sunday to return to playable conditions after more than three inches of rain fell in the area.

Andrews broke a 4-4 tie in the sixth Saturday with the rains threatening when Rudy Madriles lined a bases loaded single to left scoring Jason Mathews and Craig Sweet.

Jaime Emiliano picked up the win for Andrews in relief of Madriles, who allowed four runs in three innings.

Andrews built a 3-0 lead before Dumas touched Madriles for three runs in the third to move in front 4-3. Andrews came back to tie the game in the fourth.

Hereford 7, Graham 6

Hereford's Michael Campos blasted a three-run homer and Ruben Ramos added a two-run shot to lead Hereford.

Chris Brummett and Campos drew bases-loaded walks in the first inning as Hereford took a 2-0 lead off Graham starter Dustin Dunnam, who lasted only 2-3 of an inning.

Hereford starter Sammy Casarez pitched four innings for the win, giving up a three-run third and a solo homer to Dunnam in the fourth.

Ralph Holguin pitched three innings of relief, allowing a pair of unearned runs in the sixth.

Justin Burgess, who gave up both Hereford home runs, took the loss for Graham.

Hereford 6, Brownfield 0

Hereford broke open a tight game in the sixth with three unearned runs in the sixth after nursing a 1-0 margin into the fifth.

Hereford took advantage of two errors by Brownfield shortstop Chuck Butler to score four times off reliever Wally Rodriguez. Holguin got the rally started with a double and Shama Hernandez and Tab Hathaway picked up RBIs as Hereford sent nine men to the plate.

Casarez started on the mound again for Hereford, going three innings before giving way to Holguin.

Casarez got into trouble in the third after two singles and a walk loaded the bases loaded the bases with one out, but the southpaw struck out Jeffrey Fabilia and Noel Garcia to escape unscathed.

Holguin, who took the win with four innings of relief, allowed only three baserunners, two of whom were erased on the paths.

Vince Castillo scored the only run Hereford needed in the second after drawing a lead-off walk. Campos drove in the run with a single to left off Brownfield starter David Perez. Perez was hung with the loss after two innings of work.

Hereford upped the lead to 2-0 in the fifth off Rodriguez as walks to Campos and Juan Rico were followed by singles from Rene Cano and Hathaway.

Graham 8, Dumas 5

Graham pitcher Toby Dollar accomplished the unique feat of picking up both the win and the save as Dumas became the first team eliminated from the tourney.

Dollar started and pitched the first four innings before moving to shortstop with a 7-1 lead. After Dumas cut the lead to 8-5 off reliever Michael Whitfill, Dollar returned to the mound for the final two outs.

Graham scored all of its runs with two outs, posting seven in the first four innings.

Jason Smith hit a two-run homer for Graham while Chad Adams had a solo shot for Dumas, both in the third inning.

Let's get outta here

Hereford All-Star catcher Michael Campos heads back for the dugout as plate umpire Jody Richardson rings up strike three to end the top of the third inning of Hereford's 6-0 win over Brownfield Monday in the West Texas State Babe Ruth Tournament at Kids Inc. Park. Hereford pitcher Sammy Casarez got Brownfield's Noel Garcia to escape a bases-loaded jam and protect Hereford's 1-0 lead at the time.

LPGA takes Phar-Mor time

VIENNA, Ohio (AP) - The LPGA tour's hottest golfers needed an extra day and an extra hole to decide the $400,000 Phar-Mor Youngstown Classic.

Beth Daniel sank a 12-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Monday, beating Patty Sheehan by one stroke in the rain-plagued tournament.

The victory, worth $60,000, was Daniel's seventh on the tour since the beginning of last August.

Sheehan, who earned $37,000, has finished first or second in each of her last six events. She lost last week's U.S. Women's Open by one stroke to Betsy King, after leading it by six shots with 36 holes to play.

"I feel really fortunate to have won this tournament," Daniel said. "I've lost like three playoffs in a row, so I figured I was due one."

Daniel led after the first and second rounds, and was still ahead by two strokes when storms - including a tornado that hit a few miles from the Squaw Creek Country Club - interrupted her final round after five holes Sunday.

The interruption hurt her, as she bogeyed Nos. 6 and 8 when play resumed, while Sheehan was getting birdies on Nos. 6 and 11 to take a two-stroke lead.

It stayed that way until Daniel birdied No. 16 and Sheehan bogeyed

No. 17, forcing the playoff. Daniel shot 1-over-par 73 for the final round and Sheehan shot 69, putting them at 9-under-par 207 after 54 holes.

They returned to the par-4, 339-yard 16th hole to begin the playoff - the same hole Daniel had already birdied.

Both reached the green in two, but Sheehan was 18 feet away and Daniel within 12. Sheehan putted first and missed, pushing the ball about four feet past the hole.

Daniel followed with the winning putt.

"Those conditions are probably as tough as I've ever played under," she said. "I didn't feel good going

7th graders reminded to take physical exams

All incoming seventh-grade Hereford Junior High students who plan on participating in athletics must have physical examinations before they will be issued equipment, according to HJH Coach James Salinas.

Salinas said that local physicians have examination forms. Students who will be examined by an out-of-town doctor will need to pick up a form at the fieldhouse.

Students who participated in a Hereford Independent School District athletic program last year will not need to undergo another physical.

Greg Black 10K set for Jubilee weekend

The Greg Black Memorial 10K Run has been scheduled for 8 a.m. Aug. 11.

The event, sponsored by Taco Villa restaurant and the Hereford YMCA, will also include a two-mile fun run and a two-mile walk.

Entry fee for the race is $8 per person in advance or $10 on race day. All entrants registered and paid by Aug. 4 will receive a free running visor.

Age divisions for the 10K will be 13-and-under, 14-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-and-up in both men's and women's divisions.

Tension builds as Nolan nears 300

DALLAS (AP) - When Nolan Ryan signed with the Texas Rangers as a free agent in December 1988, three numbers swirled in his head. Five thousand. Six and 300.

"Those are the only numbers that really mean something to me," Ryan said.

Ryan, the all-time strikeout leader, struck out Rickey Henderson for No. 5,000 last summer and has added 202 since. His sixth no-hitter, against Oakland last month, came after several close calls since his record fifth in 1981.

On Wednesday night, Ryan goes for his 300th victory against the New York Yankees.

Ryan declined to discuss going for No. 300 until last Friday night, when he beat Detroit 5-3 for No. 299.

"Now I can start thinking about it," he said. "I don't think about no-hitters until the ninth or so, I didn't think about 5,000 until I was close and I didn't think about 300 until I had 299."

Just about everyone else has been thinking about it all season. And now, Ryanmania has struck again. Even Ryan is caught up in it, agreeing to a news conference today to accommodate the hundreds of interview requests.

Unlike some 300-win pitchers, Ryan is on a hot streak as he approaches the coveted number. Despite nagging back problems, Ryan is 5-0 with a 2.63 ERA in his last six starts.

"I feel good," Ryan said. "My back won't keep me from starting Wednesday, but it's just one of those things that'll need five weeks of rest to completely heal."

Wednesday night's game was sold out on July 20, the earliest sellout in Rangers history, said Tanja Burgdorf in the team's public relations office.

One fan in the Dallas suburb of Plano bought six tickets to take his family to the game, but got an unexpected collectible when his wife chose not to go.

The $8.50 unused ticket would be worth at least $50 if Ryan wins, said Jim Milholland of Dick's Dugout sports collectibles shop in Dallas.

"But I think they're crazy for not going to the game if they have a ticket," he said.

Some examples of Ryanmania:

- Local newspapers are running daily updates on Ryan remaining calm as the pressure mounts, and radio stations are giving fans up-to-the-minute reports on Ryan's ailing back.

"Sunday, it was a combination of light throwing with a full workout. After some weightlifting, Ryan rode an exercise bicycle for about 35 minutes, did interval running, stretched his stiff back and did abdominal exercises," proclaimed The Dallas Morning News in Monday's editions.

- The razor company for which Ryan does TV commercials, is poised for the Texas pitcher's 300th career victory. Since Ryan is 43, BIC said when Ryan wins No. 300, all 43-year-old men in the United States will be offered a free trial pack of BIC Metal Shavers.

BIC said if everyone responds, it would give away 1.4 million razors.

- Ryan memorabilia was a hot item at the 11th National Sports Collectors convention in Arlington earlier this month. Rangers manager Bobby Valentine even doled out hundreds of dollars for a Ryan rookie card.

And a special Score card of Ryan, of which only 600 were printed to commemorate the convention, sold for $2,000 recently.

A mint 1968 Topps rookie card of Ryan recently sold for $3,900 at a Florida auction.

- Five hundred people entered a Fort Worth Star-Telegram contest titled "Ryan Expressions," in which they wrote in 25 words or less just how special Ryan was to their lives.

The winner, James Fleschener, of Arlington, wrote: "Nolan brings back memories of days gone by. Playing ball during the endless summer days with childhood friends. Nolan is my personalized fountain of youth."

"To my young son," wrote R.E. Springer of Fort Worth. "Nolan Ryan is John Wayne in cleats. To an aging yuppie, he is an inspiration not to relinquish one's goals."

"A hero worthy of our dreams," wrote Jane Jackson of Arlington.

Denise Stiver of Arlington wrote: "All ages will say, 'There goes Nolan Ryan. The best there ever was.'"

Ryan records some impressive stats in career

The Associated Press

Nolan Ryan has beaten 203 pitchers and won in 30 different ballparks. He's won 52 games on Wednesdays and hasn't lost to the New York Yankees in 13 years.

He's won 19 games in Arlington Stadium, which ties New York's Shea Stadium for third place on his favorite-place list behind Anaheim Stadium (84) and the Astrodome in Houston (58).

On Wednesday night, Ryan has his first shot at victory No. 300, the goal all pitchers dream of. The odds seem pretty good: He will be pitching against the Yankees, a team that's 0-7 against him in nine starts since May 1977.

The Yankees are tied for 10th on Ryan's all-time team victim list. Kansas City tops list at 23, followed by the Chicago White Sox at 20 and the Minnesota Twins at 19.

Dave LaPoint, Ryan's opponent Wednesday night, has managed to avoid joining Ryan's list - so far. He's never lost to him.

Paul Splitorff leads the list with seven losses followed by Dave Goltz, Eric Show and Mike Torrez in a three-way tie with five. Joe Decker, Woody Fryman, Scott Sanderson and Rick Wise are tied at four each.

Presidentially, Ryan has beaten Jackson, Grant, Alexander and Johnson. And he's not even a politician.

If you turn to strikeout victims, add Washington, Adams, Taylor, Hayes, Wilson, Kennedy, Ford and Bush.

Looking for brothers? Joe and Phil Nickro are up there with one each. Jim Perry has three losses and Gaylord Perry has one. No father and sons, though. He beat Todd Stottlemyre but was pitching in the National League when Mel Stottlemyre was on the Yankees.

People have criticized Ryan for not winning despite the blazing fastballs that have made him famous. He seems to get a lot more attention for his 5,202 strikeouts than his 299 victories.

He has struck out 10 batters in a game a record 202 times. He's fanned 19 Hall of Famers: Hank Aaron, Luis Aparicio, Ernie Banks, Johnny Bench, Lou Brock, Roberto Clemente, Don Drysdale, Bob Gibson, Al Kaline, Harmon Killebrew, Juan Marichal, Eddie Mathews, Willie McCovey, Joe Morgan, Jim Palmer, Brooks Robinson, Willie Stargell, Billy Williams and Carl Yastrzemski.

Of course Ryan has pitched six no-hitters, more than any other major leaguer ever. And there are 12 one-hitters, 19 two-hitters, 29 three-hitters and 26 four-hitters.

He has struck out 100 or more in a record 22 seasons, struck out 200 or more 13 times and 300 or more six times. He even has three saves.

But he's never won a Cy Young Award.

Here are some of Ryan's notable numbers:

Milestone Victories

No. 1 April 14, 1968, Mets 4, Houston 0. Ryan pitches 6 2-3 innings, allows three hits, no runs, two walks and strikes out eight.

No. 50, April 11, 1973, California 4, Minnesota 1. Ryan pitches a complete game, allows five hits, one run, walks five and strikes out 11.

No. 100, June 1, 1975, California 1, Baltimore 0. Ryan pitches a no-hitter walks four walks, and strikes out nine. Ryan's fourth no-hitter.

No. 150, Sept. 24, 1978, California 7, Chicago 3. Ryan pitches seven innings, allows five hits, three runs, walks five walks and strikes out six.

No. 200, July 27, 1982, Houston 3, Cincinnati 2. Ryan pitches a complete game, allows five hits, walks two and strikes out 13.

No. 250, Aug. 27, 1988, Houston 7, Chicago 1. Ryan pitches six innings, allows one hit, no runs, walks two and strikes out five.

Milestone Strikeouts

First hit a slam to Viola

By The Associated Press

Even though Frank Viola had a no-hitter going, he knew trouble was coming.

Dickie Thon's sixth-inning grand slam was the first hit off Viola and carried the Philadelphia Phillies past the New York Mets 7-4 Monday night.

"Maybe he was thinking of a no-hitter and got a little excited," Thon said. "He usually pitches me away and that one was high and tight, the kind of pitch I like."

Viola (13-5) walked four but hadn't allowed a hit as the Mets grabbed a 3-0 lead after five innings.

"You don't win games when you're wild," said Viola, who equaled a career high with seven walks. "But that's no excuse. I just wasn't making my pitches. I wasn't thinking no-hitter at any time."

Viola walked Tom Herr leading off the sixth and Von Hayes' grounder to second baseman Gregg Jefferies was bobbled for an error.

Carmelo Martinez walked to load the bases and Charlie Hayes grounded to third baseman Howard Johnson, who stepped on third forcing Von Hayes. But when Johnson threw home to double Herr, rookie catcher Todd Hundley stepped on home thinking he had a force play. The force on Von Hayes at third, however, eliminated the force at home, and when Hundley failed to tag Herr, the run scored.

"The runner was in the way," Hundley said. "I never saw Johnson touch the bag. I thought it was a force play."

The Phillies had a run, but still no hits.

"You have heard that a walk is as good as a hit," Phillies manager Nick Leyva said. "Well, we got some walks and took advantage of them."

Viola walked Randy Ready to reload the bases and Thon hit the left-hander's first pitch for his first major-league grand slam.

Thirteen wasn't an unlucky number for Baltimore and Milwaukee.

That was the number of runs each team scored in runaway victories Monday night.

Mike Devereaux drove in a career-high six runs with a grand slam and a two-run triple as the Orioles routed the Detroit Tigers 13-3 for their fifth straight win.

"We are playing well," Baltimore manager Frank Robinson said.

"Everybody is contributing. One night, someone has a big game... the next night it is someone else."

Robin Yount homered and drove in three runs for the Brewers, who used a season-high 21 hits to rip Mike Boddicker and the Boston Red Sox 13-0.

"Boddicker got pitches up that he normally does not and his curveball was not breaking like it usually does," said Gary Sheffield, who homered for the Brewers. "We capitalized on his mistakes."

Elsewhere, Chicago beat Cleveland 3-1, Texas edged New York 3-2 and Oakland rallied to down California 7-6 in 10 innings.

The Orioles scored all their runs in two innings, getting seven in the third and six in the ninth. Devereaux played a big part in both rallies, hitting a grand slam in the third off Clay Parker and a two-run double in the ninth off Mike Henneman for a career-high six RBIs.

"I guess this is the best night of my career," Devereaux said. Dave Johnson (9-6) struck out a career-high seven in 6 2-3 innings as he beat the Tigers for the third time this year. He gave up two runs on seven hits and walked two. Frank Tanana (5-7) lasted only 2 2-3 innings and gave up six runs. Chet Lemon and Mike Heath of the Tigers were ejected by home plate umpire John Hirschbeck. Lemon was

"He was in a jam and I was relaxed," Thon said. "I think he was just trying to throw a strike after so many walks. It was not his pitch." Despite the loss, the Mets remained 11 games behind first-place Pittsburgh in the National League East.

Elsewhere it was Montreal 5, Pittsburgh 0; Chicago 3, St. Louis 1; Atlanta 3, Houston 1; Cincinnati 9, San Diego 2; and Los Angeles 11, San Francisco 1.

It was the third straight start Viola failed in his bid to become the NL's first 14-game winner.

Reliever Darrel Akerfelds (4-0) worked 2-3 innings for his fourth victory and former Met Roger McDowell got the final four outs for his 15th save.

The Mets made it 5-4 in the eighth when Kevin McReynolds reached on Thon's fielding error, stole second and scored on pinch-hitter Mackey Sasser's single.

But Herr gave the Phillies some breathing room with a two-run triple in the eighth off reliever Alejandro Pena.

Expos 5, Pirates 0
Dennis Martinez pitched a four-hitter and Tim Wallach drove in four runs.

Martinez (7-7) struck out eight and walked one for his second shutout and fourth complete game.

Wallach's two-run single highlighted a three-run first inning against John Smiley (4-5).

Cubs 3, Cardinals 1

Greg Maddux allowed St. Louis one run in 8-2-3 innings and drove in the winning run.

Maddux (6-9) allowed seven hits and struck out eight. Mitch Williams got the last out for his 11th save.

Reds 9, Padres 2

Eric Davis hit a two-run homer and a run-scoring single. The Padres are 1-11 since Greg Riddoch replaced Jack McKeon as manager.

Tom Browning (10-5) allowed two runs and eight hits in seven innings. Dennis Rasmussen (7-8) took the loss.

Dodgers 11, Giants 1

Eddie Murray and Hubie Brooks hit back-to-back homers with two outs in the first inning off Trevor Wilson.

Winner Fernando Valenzuela (8-8) allowed four hits in six innings.

Braves 3, Astros 1

John Smoltz pitched a five-hitter and Mark Lemke had a two-run single.

thrown out for arguing a called third strike in the eighth and Heath was tossed after bumping Hirschbeck during an argument in the ninth.

Boddicker (11-6) is 0-3 against Milwaukee this season, and all three losses have been shutouts.

Mark Knudson (8-4) picked up his third straight win, including two shutouts. He allowed six hits, but said it could have been a lot more.

Gary Sheffield homered in the first to give Milwaukee a 1-0 lead. The Brewers made it 4-0 in the second on B.J. Surhoff's RBI double and a two-run single by Billy Spiers.

Athletics 7, Angels 6

Rickey Henderson homered in the 10th inning to cap an Oakland comeback.

Henderson's one-out homer, his 18th, came off reliever Cliff Young (0-1).

The Athletics, who trailed 6-0 in the sixth, made it 6-3 on an RBI single by Ron Hassey in the sixth and a two-run homer by Jose Canseco in the seventh. It was Canseco's 29th homer of the season and fifth in his last six games.

Gene Nelson (2-2) pitched the two hitless innings for the win.

The Angels got five runs and 10 hits off Oakland starter Dave Stewart in the first four innings.

White Sox 3, Indians 1

Robin Ventura singled in two runs and Carlton Fisk hit his 344th career home run.

Winner Greg Hibbard (8-5) went seven innings, allowing seven hits, walking one and striking out two. Barry Jones pitched the eighth and Bobby Thigpen finished for his 32nd save, most in the major leagues.

Loser Tom Candiotti (10-6) went the distance, giving up three runs on six hits.

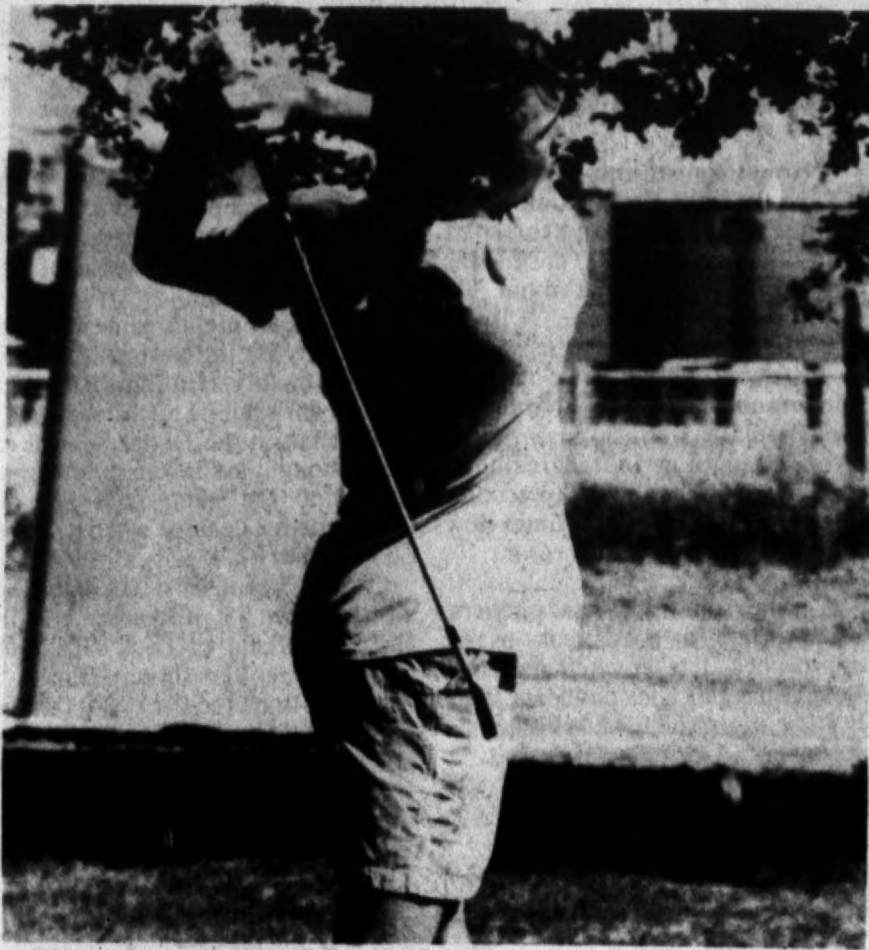

Rangers 3, Yankees 2

Kevin Brown of the Rangers pitched a four-hitter, his AL-leading sixth complete game of the season.

Brown (12-7) settled down after giving up a leadoff homer to Steve Sax in the first.

Rookie Kevin Maas hit another home run for New York in the seventh.

Ruben Sierra snapped out of a 1-for-17 slump with two hits, including a two-run single in the fifth off Chuck Cary (4-6).

Walser's 79 lead city junior golf

Mikel Walser shot an eight-over par 79 Monday to take the first round lead in the 15-17 boys division of the Hereford City Junior Golf Championship at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

Walser took a five-stroke lead over Kevin Kelso with the round heading into today's final round.

Cory Newton and Sabino Grijalva were tied for third at 85 followed by Jayson Mines at 90 and David McCarter and D.R. Bone at 94.

In the 13-14 boys division, Scott Burkhalter, the only entry in the age group, shot 100.

The 12-and-under boys division, playing nine holes, was led by David Sims. Sims covered the front nine in 46 strokes for an 11-shot lead over Chris Garth and David Farr. John McWhorter followed at 58 with Bryant McNutt and Zach Walls tied at 59. Other scores in the group were Dustin Whitaker and Curt Sherrod both at 61, D.J. Warrick at 65, Jeremy Schumacher at 66 and Tyson Foerster at 79.

In the two girls divisions, both of which had only one entry, Kelly Kelso shot 61 over nine holes in the 14-17 division while Nicole McWhorter shot 89 in the 13-and-under.

Dizzy Dean won 30 games for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934 and added two victories against Detroit in the World Series. His brother, Paul, also won two.

Pitcher Jeff Russell of the Texas Rangers made one appearance as a pinch-hitter in 1988, the only American League pitcher to do so.

First-round leader

Mikel Walser watches his tee shot on No. 5 sail down the fairway during Monday's first round of the Hereford City Junior Golf Championship at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. Walser took a five-stroke lead in the 15-17 boys division with a 79.

out. My back was bothering me. It took me five holes to get warm. It was a matter of saying to myself, 'Hang in there.'"

Danielle Ammacapane birdied the last two holes for a par 72 and finished at 208. Debbie Massey, who led by one stroke for three holes on the front nine, had three bogeys in the final nine and finished tied for fourth with Ayako Okamoto at 209.

Sheehan, who lost her home in the San Francisco-area earthquake last year, boosted her LPGA-leading 1990 earnings to $492,474. Daniel has pocketed $370,532.

Daniel also got a $50,000 bonus from the tournament sponsor, Phar-Mor drugstores, for being the top money-winner in its events at Inverrary in Florida in February and at Youngstown. She finished eighth at Inverrary. In all, Phar-Mor distributed $200,000 in bonuses.

Call Janey Allmon at the Hereford Brand, 364-2030, or come by 313 N. Lee to place your classified advertising. We reach thousands everyday!

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion (92.50 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	14	2.80
2 days per word	24	4.80
3 days per word	34	6.80
4 days per word	44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publisher, an additional insertion will be published.

RIISING LEGAL COSTS
NEW YORK (AP) - Faced with rising legal costs and a backlog of cases, many major corporations across the nation are finding alternative ways to resolve disputes with the help of a national non-profit legal association.

The Center for Public Resources (CPR) legal program, established here in 1979, is a coalition of prominent corporation counsels, lawyers, judges and legal scholars who develop and implement programs to combat the costs, delays and frustrations of litigation.

Judge Santiago E. Campos of the U.S. District Court of New Mexico, after reading about CPR, once urged parties in a nine-year antitrust battle to consider using an alternative dispute resolution (ADR) procedure called a summary jury trial. The companies, Texas Utility Co. and Santa Fe Industries Inc., agreed and the two-day process led to a settlement. The companies estimated they saved $140 million by avoiding a lengthy trial.

A recent association survey showed 61 other companies saved a total of nearly $50 million by using ADR instead of conventional litigation.

Cookbooks transport readers with recipes

NEW YORK (AP) - Food often is more than sustenance, more than taste. It can be a connection to the past and a way to understand distant places. Two new cookbooks, one on sausages and one on Southern baking, transport readers and cooks to these other times and places.

"Hot Links and Country Flavors" and "Biscuits, Spoonbread, and Sweet Potato Pie" are the first books in publisher Alfred A. Knopf's series on cooking heritage around the United States.

Among the topics for future books are pickling and preserving, cooking of the Northwest and the West Coast, Jewish cooking and the American sweet tooth.

"Biscuits, Spoonbread, and Sweet Potato Pie" ($19.95) is a book of desserts and breads of the South, some dating back more than 300 years. In it, author Bill Neal shows his reverence for the connection between cooks and their food. There are wonderful old photographs of Southern farm and family life and many historical notes.

"When I cook, I am constantly telling my children something like 'This is your grandmother's biscuit.' I mean it isn't just something to fill up their stomachs; it's part of the way crafts, traditions and cultures have been perpetuated for thousands of years - one generation teaching the next," he writes.

Neal devotes his first chapter to corn, 33 recipes for mush, bread, fritters and more. "All Southerners, Indian and black and white, have shared the basic diet of beans and corn," he says.

Other dishes can be traced to Europe, including British trifles and fruitcakes, French tortes adapted with American pecans, and African sweet potato biscuits.

Southern bakers are possibly best known for biscuits, and there are all sorts to be found in Neal's book. Among them are Zephyrinias, named for the Greek god of the West Wind to describe the "fragile puff that emerges from a hot oven"; buttermilk biscuits; Louise's sweet potato biscuits; and worms, a sweet made from dough scraps in the shape of worms.

Other sections are devoted to breakfast cakes, yeast breads, rice breads, candies, fruit desserts, pies, puddings, cakes and more. There also is an extensive bibliography for anyone who gets serious about the topic.

Neal, author of "Bill Neal's Southern Cooking," grew up in South Carolina and is a resident of North Carolina, where he has a restaurant.

"Hot Links and Country Flavors" ($19.95) was born over a Cajun cassoulet. Authors Bruce Aidells and Denis Kelly decided to tell of their passion for the many kinds of American sausages, as well as the history of sausages, how to make them, and how they are used in American cooking.

The book is organized by region, from the Italian and Portuguese influences in the Northeast to the Mexican influence in the Southwest, plus a final chapter on "new American" foods. And sausage - basically a combination of chopped meat, fat, salt and spices - is used in nearly every part of the meal in dishes such as oyster and sausage fritters, chicken and andouille gumbo, Italian sweet fennel sausage and porcini pasta, scrapple, chile and chorizo cornbread, and Seattle's Pike Place salmon sausage.

Cooks can learn how to make their own or how to use store-bought sausages. There is a list of mail-order sources for ingredients and equipment as well as the finished product.

Homemade sausage can be much lower in fat than commercial types, but even store-bought sausage used as an accent in dishes needn't ruin a good diet.

Sausage dates farther back than early Greek and Roman sources. And "Hot Links" provides all sorts of interesting history about sausages and their ingredients: every recipe comes with a story of an urban neighborhood feast or a country bar or a suggestion for just the right eating.

Aidells turned to making his own sausage when he grew bored with bangers he was being served in London pubs. "I was suffering sausage deprivation and figured I could do better making them myself."

After chorizo, American pork sausage, Italian sausage with fennel and Provencal sausage with garlic, he was smitten. Today, Aidells is the chef and owner of Aidells Sausage Co. in San Francisco.

Kelly, who lives in Oakland, teaches wine classes and writes about food and wine.

Neal says the following recipe for Apricot Fool also works well for an ice cream if you do not stir it while it is setting up. Neal says he freezes it in individual ramekins and serves it with a small dollop of whipped cream and a matching or contrasting fruit sauce. A mulberry or blackberry sauce is especially good with apricots.

APRICOT FOOL
1 1/4 pounds ripe apricots (about 2 cups)
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
3/4 cup heavy cream
3 tablespoons sugar
Blanch, peel and remove pits from apricots. Stew the fruit with the water and 1 cup sugar until tender, about 20 minutes. Rub through a fine sieve and refrigerate until quite cold.
Whip the cream with about 3 tablespoons sugar; the amount of sugar to be added depends on the sweetness of the fruit. Fold into the fruit puree and chill again. Serve from a dish set over ice if possible. Makes 4 servings.

Names in the News

NEW YORK (AP) - Spike Lee has been celebrated as a trailblazing filmmaker, the talk of the Cannes Film Festival and a Hollywood maverick.

But residents of the Fort Greene section of Brooklyn, where he has opened a store that sells memorabilia from his movies, insist he's still one of their own.

"You have to respect Spike," said Marc Sweeting, 20, a student who looked over T-shirts after Spike's Joint opened Monday. Lee's latest movie, "Mo' Better Blues," had its premiere in Manhattan the same day.

"He came from Brooklyn. And he put his store right here. He didn't go off to Hollywood with everything," Sweeting said.

Spike's Joint offers T-shirts, posters, books, caps, postcards and other items celebrating such movies as "Do The Right Thing," "She's Got a Way to It" and "School Daze."

Lee, 33, lives in Fort Greene, where several scenes from his movies have been filmed.

He said he opened the store because he was besieged by fan mail and phone calls requesting buttons, T-shirts and other movie memorabilia.

Lee said he hopes to use profits from the store to finance movie projects.

LAS VEGAS (AP) - A watch given to Redd Foxx by Elvis Presley fetched $17,500 at an Internal Revenue Service auction to help pay the comedian's back taxes.

The sale Monday of about 70 items belonging to Foxx raised $34,000. In May, eight of his vehicles were sold by the IRS for about $49,000.

Foxx did not attend the auction, but his attorney, Marc Risman, said he would be disappointed the Presley watch brought in so little. Foxx had been offered $50,000 for it, Risman said.

The IRS claims Foxx owes $2.9 million in back taxes and penalties.

NEW YORK (AP) - Deborah Norville got a New York taxi driver fined for cursing at her during a ride in December.

The co-host of NBC's "Today" show told New York magazine she hailed a cab driven by Isidro Ortiz.

When she arrived at her destination, Norville said, she tapped on the partition window to tell Ortiz where to drop her off. She said Ortiz cursed her and became more abusive when she began to write down his license number.

Norville said she refused to give him a tip and Ortiz slammed shut the money vent and sent the fare flying. A coin struck her in the eye, she said. "I was absolutely shaking when I got out of the car," she was quoted as saying in the magazine's July 30 issue.

Ortiz, 31, was fined $100 at a hearing April 2, said Rebecca Bowser, Taxi and Limousine Commission spokeswoman.

The cabbie has an unlisted telephone number and could not be reached for comment.

The two 1,350 foot towers of the World Trade Center in New York City occupy only two acres, but can accommodate 130,000 people.

ALOE SPRITZER
Dear Heloise: Even though I use a lot of sunscreen, my skin gets hot and dry in the summer. To refresh myself as well as add moisture to my skin, I keep a spray bottle filled with pulp-free aloe vera juice mixed with water. This mixture is great to spray on your arms, legs, back and face for a quick cool-off, and the spray makes it especially nice for the beach, so I'm not rubbing on sand like I do with lotions. — Jennifer Alicia, Rockport, Texas

SOUND OFF
Dear Heloise: It really annoys me when people at the grocery store wait until getting to the checkout counter to sort their coupons. Why can't they use a Heloise hint and put the coupons in an envelope as they go or clip them to the shopping list. Those of us in line behind them would certainly appreciate it! — Disgruntled Shopper, West Sayville, N.Y.

Hints from Heloise

Q. I've heard there's a way to renew old tennis balls, but I haven't been able to find out what it is. Do you know? — Lillian Evers, Los Angeles, Calif.

A. Putting them in the clothes dryer on Warm for a few minutes will restore some of their bounce. It's only a temporary solution, but it will make them usable for a little while.

To help new tennis balls retain their pressure, store them in the fridge right after you buy them. Remove them about 15 minutes before play. This seems to help them keep their bounce longer. — Heloise

FAST FACTS
Uses for a plastic 2-liter bottle:
1. Use as a canister.
2. Cut the solid bottom off and use as a bowl for snacks.
3. Cut the top at the curve and use for a funnel.
4. Remove the solid bottom with holes and use for a planter.
5. Put aluminum foil in the bottom, add sand and you have an ashtray.

PRINT ON DARK
Dear Heloise: To print in white on dark color paper, use a typewriter correction tape that prints (not the kind that lifts the print off). This is an excellent way to write notes, letters or invitations on dark paper for a really special effect. — Walter Werle, Louisville, Ky.

CLEANING APPLIANCES
Q. I've just moved to a new apartment that has copper-tone appliances. I've never had this finish before and I'm not sure how to care for it. What's a good, safe cleaner? — John Donaldson, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.

A. An old piece of terry towel dampened with a solution of half vinegar and half water will wipe away
