RAIN CHANCES

•Hereford is becoming the "black hole" of the Texas Panhandle as far as rain goes. There's a less than 20 percent chance for something tonight, and a 20 percent chance of storms on Wednesday.

The big and little of it

DSGH focuses on community

Deaf Smith General Hospital is focusing on the need for renewed community support during National Hospital Week this week.

"Recent events at DSGH emphasize the need, more than ever, for a community to provide strong support for its local hospital," said Gary Moore, DSGH administrator. "As the board announced plans for consolidation of services and personnel, some may have accepted this as the beginning of a negative trend. On the contrary, this is the first step to assure continuous quality services as needed in this community."

Moore said everyone in the community is invited this week to visit DSGH. The new OB/GYN area has been completely redecorated and is ready for new patients. The emergency room is the most active area in the hospital, serving a variety of needs. A variety of diagnostic services are provided, including CT scans, X-ray, ultrasound and mammography.

Moore said the hospital has taken "Neighbors Helping Neighbors" as its theme. "This theme applies not only to the staff serving their friends and neighbors in the community; the other side of the coin is that the community must support the hospital." Moore said volunteer help is needed at the hospital, with a healthy auxiliary providing support for nurses, doctors and patients. It also gives the hospital immediate input from the community.

Moore said lives are changed, and saved, in a rural community because the local hospital exists. "The drive to another city, the minutes spent in transit rather than under the care of a doctor, can be fatal." Moore said the convenience and cost savings are another important consideration for the community. The ability to easily visit a sick relative or friend, or to be hospitalized among your friends and neighbors instead of miles away, can be helpful.

National Hospital Week began in 1921 as a day designed to dispel the "mystery" of hospitals. While people today are more aware of how a hospital functions, they are not always familiar with the capabilities of their own local hospital until they have an immediate need.

2 soldiers will be saluted Saturday

Two Hereford natives who served in Operation Desert Storm will be honored Saturday at ceremonies at Sugarland Mall in Hereford.

Army E2 Douglas K. Rains, who received the Bronze Star while serving in Saudi Arabia, and Marine PFC William Brad Harguess, who served with the Sixth Motor Transportation Battalion in Saudi Arabia and Kuwait, will be honored.

Organizers said they are awaiting word on other soldiers who may be home this weekend to participate in the ceremonies. Organizers said they will also firm up details on the program later in the week. The program will likely include patriotic songs, a speaker, and special presentations to the soldiers.

Commissioners wrestle with budget, tax rates

By DANEE' WILSON
 Staff Writer

Deaf Smith County Commissioners battled Monday with the 1991-92 budget for the third time, trying to balance the budget without raising taxes.

"I want a balanced budget," said Commissioner Troy Don Moore. "If we're going to get it done, we're going to have to get it done this time."

In years past, the commission has depended on carry-over which is estimated at the beginning of the year by the county auditor, to make the proposed budget cover expenses. If the proposed carry-over is spent during the year, the county would start its new budget year in a deficit situation.

County employees have not received pay raises in three years because the commissioners were trying to pay off the jail.

Currently, with an eight percent raise in taxes, the county can afford to give the employees raises.

The tax hike would not cost the citizens any more money. According to County Auditor Alex Schroeter, when the county paid off the jail, the tax rate automatically fell back eight percent. With an eight percent increase, the taxpayers will actually be paying the same amount.

"I don't want to have to raise taxes," said Moore. "I just want to balance the budget. It's time. We're through with the jail and it's time to get this thing balanced."

"I see where your coming from," said County Judge Tom Simons. "I don't think it is something we can accomplish in one year. I think it will take two or three years."

"Over the past three years we have been making progress in balancing the budget," said Commissioner Johnny Latham.

"We haven't given employees raises in three years, anticipating that the jail would be paid off in three years," Simons said. "I hope to take jail money and give employees raises."

"I'm in favor of using the jail money for the general fund and giving the employees a five percent pay raise in order to get the budget balanced," Moore said.

Currently, the county has proposed an eight percent raise in pay for employees.

County auditor Schroeter figured with a three percent tax increase, the ending budget balance would still be $55,856 short for 1991-92 year.

In other business, commissioners voted to close the jail's interest and sinking fund bank account.

Permission was given to cross a county road with a water line in Precinct One.

Commissioners discussed a drug-free work place policy to stay in compliance with workers compensation laws. Without the policy, the county could be fined up to $500.

Real estate was discussed during executive session, but no action was taken by the commission.

A special budget meeting has been set for May 20 at 9 a.m. At the meeting, commissioners will put the final touches on the budget.

LeGate, 2 councilmen receive oaths Monday

Hereford's new mayor and two city commissioners were sworn in during ceremonies Monday afternoon at City Hall.

Tom LeGate was sworn in as the new mayor and Commissioners Sylvana Juarez and James McDowell took the oath of office from outgoing Mayor Wes Fisher.

as a city commissioner before succeeding Bartley Dowell as mayor, briefly recounted his years as mayor.

"I have been rewarded by being associated with dedicated people," he told the commissioners and a small group of city officials and others in the city commission chambers.

Juarez was re-elected to her post in Place 1, while McDowell was unopposed in replacing LeGate in Place 3.

Thanks, Wes

World, National

WASHINGTON - With inflation pressures subsiding, the Bush administration hopes the Federal Reserve will accelerate its fight against the recession with another round of interest rate cuts.

WASHINGTON - If John Q. Public developed thyroid and heart problems akin to George Bush's, he could easily rack up thousands of dollars in medical bills - even without the red-carpet treatment the president got.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - Her politically charged trial over Winnie Mandela faces sentencing. Convicted on kidnapping and accessory-to-assault charges in the 1988 abduction and beating of four youths, the black leader's wife could get anything from a suspended sentence to a lengthy jail term.

ANOWARA, Bangladesh - Their rice crops ruined by the winds of a cyclone and the salt water it blew in from the Bay of Bengal, even a single grain of half-rotten rice is dear to people struggling to restore a life of subsistence.

PALM BEACH, Fla. - A lawyer for William Kennedy Smith says there was an eyewitness to the alleged rape at the Kennedy compound, and that the witness saw "nothing untoward" going on. It appeared to be the first time Smith's lawyers have said someone saw the alleged rape.

LOS ANGELES - A judge reversed the 60-day suspension of Police Chief Daryl F. Gates over the videotaped beating of a motorist, resolving - for now at least - a struggle inside City Hall for control of the Police Department.

WASHINGTON - Maybe the United States government, which is having trouble collecting on pledges to help pay for the Gulf War, should get some advice from the United Way or the March of Dimes.

DETROIT - Would a city by any other name have lower taxes, better schools and safer streets? Doug Allor and Anthony Singleton think so. They're pushing to break Detroit's northeastern corner away from the city and call it East Pointe.

Texas

AUSTIN - With Congress considering a law to make it more difficult to buy a handgun, the state Senate went the other direction, passing a bill that would allow Texans to carry concealed handguns.

AUSTIN - Gov. Ann Richards said she backs legislation to honor slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. with a full state holiday. The House State Affairs Committee unanimously approved a bill Monday that would substitute Martin Luther King Jr. Day for Columbus Day as a full, paid holiday for state workers.

GRAND PRAIRIE - The parents of a 14-year-old boy said school officials are to blame for a tense, 3-hour standoff that began when the student fired three shots at an assistant principal. No one was injured, but about 800 students at Andrew Jackson Middle School were evacuated Monday.

WASHINGTON - Rep. Albert Bustamante is seeking to put the Pantex nuclear weapons plant under the oversight of an independent board in an attempt to remedy worker safety problems and improve chances for expansion. The San Antonio Democrat said he would offer an amendment to defense legislation on the House floor this month to put Pantex under the Defense Nuclear Facilities Safety Board.

AUSTIN - A $177 million emergency spending bill was tentatively approved by the Texas House. The measure endorsed Monday includes money for welfare, criminal justice and a pay raise for the state education commissioner. Approval is needed in another House vote before the bill goes to the Senate for consideration.

EMS week proclaimed by Governor

The week of May 12-18 has been designated by Gov. Ann Richards as Texas Emergency Medical Service Week.

The theme for the week is "Think Child Safety."

The Hereford EMS personnel will be available to clubs, schools and businesses for presentation of the child safety program.

According to Hereford EMS Director L. V. Watts, accidents killed more children Texas than any other cause. Some of the most common accidents are drinking poisonous substances, motor vehicle accidents, riding bicycles without a helmet and drowning.

In June, Reddy Teddy, an EMS bear will be in Hereford. Reddy Teddy teaches children to "stay calm, act fast and get help."

Personal Reddy Teddy appearances may be scheduled by calling Hereford EMS at 364-2141 ext. 131.

Prom decorating schedule

All parents of Hereford High School seniors are needed to complete work on decorations for the class prom.

According to Linda Daniel, "We will need as many parents as possible to get the decorations completed in time for the prom. In conjunction with the prom's theme of "Underwater Fantasy", we have been recycling many items for decorations including cleaner bags, foam packing used for furniture, packing for clothing received from local stores and even tumbleweeds."

The parents are meeting at the Hereford Community Center. The following is a schedule of decorating dates and times:

- Tuesday: 6-11 p.m.
- Wednesday: 6-11 p.m.
- Thursday: 1-5 p.m.
- Friday: Beginning at 1 p.m.
- Saturday: Finish decorating, time will be announced.

The prom is scheduled Saturday from 9 a.m. until 1 a.m. at the Hereford Community Center. For additional information, contact Linda Daniel at 364-2701.

Hints from Heloise

Q. My house has aluminum siding and I can't keep it clean. It's white and the dirt seems to be in the pores. Can you help? — H.B., Omaha, Neb.

A. According to the American Architectural Manufacturers Association (AAMA), the best way to clean the siding is with ordinary non-abrasive laundry detergent. Use 1/3 cup of mild detergent for every gallon of water.

For best cleaning results, use a soft bristle brush and gently rub. (Rubbing too hard can cause the siding to lose its shine.) To reduce streaking, wash the house from the bottom up, rinsing as you go.

For stubborn stains, contact the siding manufacturer. It might be able to supply you with a cleaner specially made for your siding. — Heloise

STUCK WINDOWS

Dear Heloise: I found an easy way of coping with stuck windows. I use a spray furniture polish.

Spray it on a putty knife, insert it in the frame and work it all the way around. Next, spray it down the opening on both sides and "shake" the window to get as much furniture polish as possible down the sides.

When it gives a little, push it up and down until you can open it all the way. Then spray furniture polish on the inside of the frame. — Anna Krenicky, Bethlehem, Pa.

Herd athletes honored at All-Sports banquet

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

All-time Hereford football rushing leader Matt Bromlow and 1991 3,200-meter run state champion Teresa Castillo were named Athletes of the Year at the Hereford High School All-Sports Banquet Monday, at the Bull Barn.

A nearly-packed house also saw former Herd football coach Don Cumpton honored with a plaque for his 14 years of coaching service to Hereford, 10 as head coach. Linda Cumpton, Don's wife, also was honored. She was named Fan of the Year.

Bromlow ended his gridiron career at Hereford with 2,895 rushing yards—the most ever by a Whiteface—in only two years on the varsity. He set the school's single-season rushing mark with 1,595 yards in only 10 games in 1989 and followed that up with 1,330 yards in 1990. He will continue his football career on scholarship at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches.

Bromlow also played centerfield for the Hereford baseball team in 1991 until a shoulder injury forced him to move to first base. He seemed to make the switch easily, committing only one error at the new position during the district schedule. As a lead-off hitter, Bromlow had a .380 batting average, stole 17 bases and scored 41 runs.

Castillo became the first Lady Whiteface to take a state title in a track event when she outran and outclassed the 3,200-meter run field at the 4A state track meet last week in Austin. She won the 3,200 by a margin of 14 seconds and followed that up a few hours later with a third-place finish in the 1,600-meter run. Both performances were good for new school records.

Castillo also found success in the fall, finishing second at the state cross country meet. She was honored twice by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee for her cross country performances.

Hereford Fighting Heart Awards were given to Blake Buckley and Brenna Reinauer.

"Fighting Hearts are hard to pick because we've got a whole slew of fighting hearts in Hereford," said Mike Purcell, assistant football coach, who, along with tennis coach Ed Coplen, presented the Fighting Heart awards.

Reinauer, a senior and a tennis bi-captain, became the first Lady Whiteface to advance to the state tournament in Austin when she came from the unseeded ranks to win the regional tournament.

Buckley was a comeback on the football team, earning two varsity letters.

The Casey Smith Memorial

Awards were presented to seniors Ben Weatherly and Robin White. Weatherly earned two letters for football, two for track and one for basketball. As an offensive lineman, he made first team all-district in 1990.

White set a school record for digs and made second team all-district in her only year on the varsity volleyball team. She also lettered in track.

Media Awards, presented by John Brooks, managing editor of the Hereford Brand, and Russ Nelson of KPAN Radio to the most valuable player in each sport, were handed out to Oscar Garcia, football; Castillo and Jack Borden, cross country; Shantel Cornelius, volleyball; Andrew Tijerina and Jennifer Bullard, basketball; Brenna Reinauer and T.J. Head, tennis; Castillo and Stephen Banner, track; Paula Britten and Anthony Gale, golf; and George Jowell, baseball.

All these athletes had impressive statistics and performances, but another thing they had in common, according to their coaches, was team leadership.

Garcia, a senior and two-year starter at linebacker, averaged 14 tackles per game on his way to being named the defensive player of the year in District 1-4A. A team captain last season, his honors included being named to the All-South Plains all-star team, the Amarillo Globe-News

Super Team, All-State second team, and he was chosen to play in the Greenbelt All-Star game.

Borden, although a sophomore and a newcomer to cross country last fall, was the boys' top competitor. He finished third at the district meet and eleventh at the regional meet, missing a trip to Austin by one place.

Cornelius has already set several Hereford volleyball records, and she's still a junior. Her awards have included district newcomer of the year her freshman year, district sophomore of the year and district most valuable player in 1990. She also was the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Volleyball Athlete of the Month of November 1990 and made the Texas Girls Coaches Association's 4A All-State team.

Tijerina, a senior, led the boys basketball team in several statistical categories, including field goal percentage, offensive rebounds, charging fouls taken and diving for loose balls. He was also named to the all-district first team.

Bullard, a junior, is a two-year starter for the girls basketball team and the only girl to start all 31 games in 1990-91. The team captain last season, she set three school records on her way to second team all-district honors.

Head, a senior bi-captain for the tennis team, combined with doubles partner Greg Coplen to win three of the five tournaments they entered, including the district tournament.

Banner, a former Hereford resident who moved back from Florida for his senior year, earned the district championship in the 400-meter run. The 1991 track team co-captain also ran on the 400- and 1,600-meter relays.

Britten, a senior and a two-year letterman, was the top player all year on the girls golf team which played in the state tournament last week. She finished second at this year's district

Beville, Hoffman take flight

Camille Beville, left, and Patsy Hoffman shot an 80 to win the third flight of Saturday's Ladies Partnership golf tournament at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

Gowdy, Pfahl take Ladies Partnership

The twosome of Kathy Gowdy and Louise Pfahl carded a 68 to win the championship flight of the Ladies Partnership Golf Tournament Saturday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course. The tournament was put on by the Hereford Womens Golf Association.

Tiffi West and Helen Ann McWhorter were second in the championship flight at 71, followed by Linda Stevens and Alice Doshier with a 74.

In the first flight, Pat Goforth and Teresa Albracht shot a 72 to win, while Sharon Jones and Roxanne Fry second at 75 and Karen Marsh and Colleen Meyer third at 76.

The second flight was won by Beverly Lockmiller and Connie

Bailey, who shot 79. In second were Diane Mosely and Cheri Reck with an 81, and two teams—Betty Wiseman-Pat Mason and Kim Buckley-Donna West—shot 81 to tie for third.

Patsy Hoffman and Camille Beville carded an 80 to win the third flight. They were followed by Joy Stagner and Meredith Ireland in second with an 82, and again two twosomes tied for third. The teams of Bernice Orel-Norma Coffey and Rose Marie Robinson-Martha Jones each shot 85.

The closest-to-the-pin awards went to Beville in the second and third flight division (on hole No. 3) and to Gowdy-Pfahl in the championship and first flight division (No. 10).

NBA teams close in on playoffs

By The Associated Press
Three NBA favorites are acting just like it and have reached the threshold of the playoff semifinals. The Trail Blazers, Lakers and Bulls hold 3-1 series leads entering tonight. All are at home, Portland against Utah, Los Angeles facing Golden State and Chicago taking on Philadelphia.

Only four teams have come back from 3-1 deficits. Boston did it against Philadelphia in 1968; the Lakers against Phoenix in 1970; Washington against San Antonio in 1979; and Boston against Philadelphia in 1981.

The other series is tied 2-2, thanks to Detroit's 104-97 victory over Boston Monday night. The Celtics are at home against the Pistons on Wednesday.

Portland, which had the NBA's best record this season (63-19), were 0-3 on the road before edging Utah 104-101 in Game 4. The Blazers are 5-0 at home in the playoffs, lost only five times at Memorial Coliseum in the regular season and haven't lost to the Jazz there since last April.

Cortez, Sellers win in Borger

Eric Cortez and Torey Sellers, both of Hereford, teamed up to take the doubles title at an American Cancer Society tennis tournament Saturday and Sunday in Borger.

The pair downed Sameer Mohan and Joe Welborn of Borger 7-5, 4-6, 6-3 in the finals.

Cortez also claimed second place in the singles bracket, losing to Welborn 6-1, 6-4 in the finals. In the semi-finals, Cortez defeated Sellers 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Of course, Blazers coach Rick Adelman takes nothing for granted. "If you think that, you're going to be in big trouble," he said of Portland being in commanding position. "Utah's the type of team that always responds. If we don't come out and play our best game, they have every capability of beating us."

The Jazz could benefit from Clyde Drexler's health woes. Drexler has been a dominating force in the series, averaging 19.3 points, 10.3 rebounds and 10 assists. But he has a sprained right big toe.

"I can run, but for a guy like me who relies on jumping ability and explosiveness, it takes away a lot of that and kind of changes my game a little bit," he said. "But anything I can do to just get out there on the floor, believe me, I'm going to do it."

The Bulls expect to do it - eliminate the Sixers - at Chicago Stadium, where they are 4-0 in the postseason.

"The opportunity is there to put these guys away. They have to feel they are in a hole and they have to feel that they have to dig their way out. We have to have the killer instinct," said Michael Jordan, who skipped a light drill Monday because of tendinitis in his knee.

The 76ers' camp is filled with doubt. Their star, Charles Barkley, apparently is on the verge of asking to be traded.

"I don't think we can win it," Barkley said. "We have too much uncertainty. I'm not capable of carrying a team right now and dominating a game because of my knee, back, my shoulder, ankle."

The Lakers split at home, then swept a pair at Oakland. They've shut down Chris Mullin since Mullin scored 41 points in Game 2.

"James has been unbelievable," Mullin said of James Worthy, who guarded him in the next two games and held the sharpshooting forward to a total of 22 points. "He's been everywhere on defense, like Dennis Rodman." Rodman was named the league's top defensive player on Monday.

"I'm no Rodman, but in the 20-odd years I've been playing this game, I should have picked up something about defense," said Worthy, who scored 36 points in the Lakers' 115-112 win in Game 3 and 16 more in Game 4. "Defense isn't hard. It's just effort and refusing to quit."

The Pistons didn't quit when faced with a 2-1 deficit against Boston. Mark Aguirre scored 34 points as the Pistons, playing without injured guard Isiah Thomas, outrebounced the Celtics 50-30, including 15-3 off the offensive boards. The Pistons won despite shooting only 44 percent from the field, while the Celtics shot 50 percent.

Dickey signs first recruit

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - First-year Texas Tech men's basketball coach James Dickey has announced the signing of his first recruit to a national letter of intent.

Dickey, who replaced Gerald Myers as Tech head coach on April 10, announced Monday the signing of junior college player Nate Jackson, a 6-9, 230-pound forward from College of Southern Idaho.

Wednesday is the final day of the current signing period that began April 10.

Texas Tech signed three high school players during the early signing period last fall.

Jackson was a 2-year starter for the Golden Eagles and helped them to records of 35-3 as a freshman and 32-3 as a sophomore. He averaged 11.6 points and 8.2 rebounds for Southern Idaho last season and 10.6 points and 7.9 rebounds as a freshman.

"Nate has an excellent background and comes from one of the top junior college programs in the country," Dickey said. "He will fit in very well in our program as a person, student and athlete."

Tech women's basketball coach Marsha Sharp also announced the signing of a College of Southern Idaho player - Cynthia Clinger, a 6-2 post.

Clinger helped lead the Golden Eagles to a 21-4 record as a sophomore, averaging 18.5 points and 8.8 rebounds a game.

Sharp said this adds to Tech's best women's basketball recruiting season ever. Earlier, Tech announced the signing of three of the state's top high school women players and a top junior college transfer.

Ryan injured in loss to Tigers meet, and at the regional meet, she had the lowest score of any golfer there the second day, enabling her to finish fourth.

Gale, a senior and a three-year letterman, was the top player for the boys' golf team at five of the six district rounds in 1990. At the district tournament, he finished tenth to help the Whitefaces to third place.

Jowell, a senior, was the starting catcher for the baseball team for two of his three seasons on the varsity. He batted .302 this season and had 27 assists from behind the plate.

Before Cumpton could accept his plaque, he had to endure a severe roasting from master of ceremonies Tom Simons. After numerous "short" jokes, Simons got to the reason Cumpton was being honored:

"Lots of games, lots of wins, lots of excitement," Simons said.

Cumpton won 78 games as the head football coach at Hereford, with only 31 losses and 4 ties. He led the Herd to the state semi-finals twice—in 1981 and 1986. Combined with stops at Sanford-Fritch, Muleshoe and Abilene, his career record in 17 years of head coaching is 115-64-6.

Cumpton mentioned the many good times he had and thanked his coaches and his players.

"I can remember nearly every score and every play that made a difference," he said.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As a podiatrist and animal lover, I feel an obligation to tell you that an alarming number of children are being bitten by dogs. The misery and potential disfigurement can be awesome.

I have treated many adults who have been bitten on the foot and ankle but bites inflicted on children are the most upsetting. Seventy percent of these victims are bitten by the family pet or a dog known to them. We are not talking about rabid strays, Ann. These dogs are "Spot" and "Fido," members of the family. Parents, dog owners, children, guests, please take heed of the following:

1. All dogs have the potential to bite. They react aggressively to teasing, rough play and threatening sounds or behavior. Puppy or full-grown, they are capable of biting, especially when food or jealousy of a new baby is involved.

2. There is no such thing as a dog that is so wonderful it can be trusted with children. Every dog, no matter how well-trained, can become jealous of a child and bite. And some children provoke dogs, especially if they think no one is looking. It is never safe to leave children unattended with an animal.

3. Also, please be a considerate host and do not insist that your pet remain in the room if your guest tells you, "I am afraid of dogs." Leave the psychology to professionals and get the animal out of there.

4. When approaching an oncoming stray or a strange dog, follow the old rules -- no direct eye contact, no running, no arm flailing and no unnecessary jerky movements which could be perceived as a threat to the animal. Instead, speak in the dog's direction in a high-pitched but soothing voice, "Good girl, good boy, good dog...etc."

5. Do not fail to immunize your dog so, if the worst happens, further complication of the wound by rabies infection won't occur. Low cost and/or free vaccinations are available, but you must find them by calling your local ASPCA chapter or animal shelter.

Please print this letter. Ann, I'm sure it will do a lot of good. There is information here that needs to be repeated time and time again. -- M.Z.T., Brooklyn

Dear Brooklyn: Here's your letter. I'll bet you prevented hundreds of dog bites by taking the time and trouble to write. Bless you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I saw this in The Prairie Rambler, a little newsletter out of Claremont, Calif., and thought your readers might enjoy it. Please brighten somebody's day with a good laugh. -- J.L.D., Indianapolis

DEAR J.L.D.: With pleasure.

Nursing a popular career choice

Nursing has become a popular job choice in the 90s and nursing school enrollment has soared across the nation this school year. Nursing leaders cite several reasons for the field's new popularity.

Forced by the nursing shortage to compete for nurses, hospitals have raised salaries, improved schedules and given sign-on bonuses, tuition benefits and greater autonomy to nurses. Last year's national average starting salary for nurses jumped to $25,000 while in some metropolitan areas, such as New York City, starting salaries were $35,000 or more. Despite a shrinking economy, the many nursing jobs available adds to the field's attractiveness.

"The most positive issues about nursing is that it is a career for life," says Theresa Dodato, assistant dean of student affairs of the Columbia University School of Nursing. "Nursing appeals to a diverse group of people, because of the many career paths it offers. You can become a nurse practitioner, nurse lawyer, nurse midwife, nurse administrator or nurse anesthetist if you wish," adds Dodato.

Columbia is one of the top 10 nursing schools in the country and it has seen a dramatic increase in enrollment in the past few years. The school's curriculum is designed to appeal to an older, more mature student and the average age of Columbia nursing student is 36 years old. Thirty percent of last September's class were men, much higher than the national seven percent average. Columbia has a graduate as well as undergraduate program and was the first in the country to award a master's degree in a clinical nursing specialty.

One of their specialties is anesthesiology, the oldest in nursing. Seventy percent of all anesthetics in the country are given by nurses. "Even with 23,000 nurse anesthetists, manpower studies have identified that 40 percent more anesthetists will be needed by the year 2,000," said Dodato, also director of Columbia's Nurse Anesthesia Program.

Nurses can also specialize in critical care, pediatrics, oncology and other areas. One specialization that signifies nursing's new importance and autonomy is nurse practitioner. Nurse practitioners function independently with their own case loads, conduct complete physical examinations and manage many common health problems in a variety of settings.

The role of nurses has changed and improved over the years. While many men and women are entering nursing as a second career choice, most realize that nursing leadership is crucial to good health care. Columbia University School of Nursing's accelerated entry-into-practice/master's program is helping many to achieve their career goals.

The most common last name in the USSR is Ivanov.

Tips to help prevent shopping mall crimes

Millions of consumers will stroll through America's large shopping malls, this year. Awaiting them are flowing fountains, marble walkways, lush greenery, window displays and fun attractions.

Additionally, there is an array of stores to cater to every consumer need. For many people, malls can seem like a haven from the realities of the real world.

These malls, however, aren't always the safe, suburban shopping havens many people think they are. Unfortunately, for some unsuspecting shoppers, malls can be the place where they become victims of crime.

According to recent statistics, the highest incidence of crime occurs in the parking lot. And there is criminal activity within the mall as well. But alert shoppers who exercise caution and use common sense can help reduce this risk.

Following are some suggestions from ADT Security Systems, the world's leading supplier of electronic security systems, on how you can help avoid being a victim of a shopping mall crime:

In the parking lot:
-Always lock your car. Remember to keep valuables out of sight, preferably locked in the trunk. Try to park in well-lighted areas, close to mall entrances.

-When returning to your car, have your keys out and ready to use. Check around the car to be sure no one is hiding nearby. Once the car doors are opened, check the floors and back seat for intruders. If anything looks suspicious, call mall security.
-Be alert and aware of those around you.

Inside the mall:
-Don't flash large amounts of cash.
-Keep your purse closed and close to your body. Carry your wallet in an inside jacket pocket.

-When paying for purchases, hand your credit card directly to the clerk. Don't leave it lying on the counter, where it could be picked up before you even realize it's missing.

-Don't leave your new purchases unattended in restaurants or restrooms. A thief can simply walk away with them.

-Teenagers are the group most frequently accused of malicious mischief, loitering and rowdiness in malls. If you're a parent, encourage your teen to do something constructive with his or her leisure time, such as volunteer work.

Accent on Health

Governor Ann Richards set aside May 12-18 as Texas EMS Week to honor the men and women who provide emergency medical care and to urge Texans to "Think Child Safety."

During EMS Week, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) and the 1,250 local EMS groups in the state will sponsor community activities to heighten awareness about emergency medical services and preventing injuries, particularly injuries to children. Activities focused on the theme "Think Child Safety" will include advice from Ready Teddy, as EMS bear who tells children in posters, coloring books and personal appearances to "stay calm, act fast, and get help" in an emergency.

Paramedics and emergency medical technicians across Texas plan to reach at least one million Texans with child safety information during this week, according to Gene Weatherall, chief of TDH's Bureau of Emergency Management. Local EMS personnel will deliver messages in their communities about saving children's lives and reducing serious injuries by safe and sober driving, seat belt and child restraint use, poison prevention and knowing how to call EMS when an emergency does occur.

"Nearly 600 Texas children younger than 15 died in 1989 of accidents -- motor vehicle and bicycle crashes, poisonings, drownings, falls, and fires," said Pam West, director of TDH's EMS Division. "Those are the emergency calls that are the hardest for EMS to work. When no amount of training, high-tech equipment or lifesaving care can save an injured child's life, it can devastate the on-scene EMS worker."

Weatherall, who worked for six years as a paramedic and taught college-level paramedic courses, said, "We would much rather work with people to teach them how to prevent unnecessary injuries than work in the back of the ambulance on a four-year-old who got in the way of a drunk driver."

State law requires ambulances in Texas to carry equipment designed for children, and EMS personnel must pass an exam that includes knowledge of pediatric emergency care. Nearly 40,000 men and women in Texas are certified to provide emergency medical care. TDH regulates EMS in Texas by licensing EMS organizations and certifying EMS personnel.

LONDON (AP) - Sinead O'Connor, Paul Simon, M.C. Hammer and Gloria Estefan are among more than a dozen musicians planning to take part in rock concerts around the world Sunday to raise money for Kurdish relief.

The concerts, which will come together as one giant telethon, are to be broadcast on television in more than two dozen countries, publicist Wendy Laister said Wednesday.

The British government has donated $17 million to the cause, and the concerts' organizer, novelist Jeffrey Archer, said he hopes the shows will generate enough donations to match that.
