

City changes landfill charge

BY DANEE' WILSON
Staff Writer

The Hereford City Commission voted Monday to amend the landfill ordinance to establish a fee for tires at the landfill.

According to Darwin McGill, Hereford city manager, the state passed a law requiring landfills to either slice tires or cut them into fourths before burying them.

A substantial amount of handling and expense will be involved in the cutting, therefore the necessity of a charge, said McGill.

The fee of $1 per tire for passenger tires, $2.50 per tire for truck tires 18-24 inches and $5 for tractor tires will go into effect Sept. 1.

The fee will be doubled for those dumping who are not residents of Deaf Smith County.

Members of the Amistad Board requested the commission to help fund paving or landscaping for the project.

The Amistad project is a low income housing project for agricultural workers.

Board spokesperson Maria Mercado, an attorney from Lubbock, said originally the project budget allowed for landscaping and paving of Texas Street but the landscaping had to be omitted to stay on budget.

The original request was for the city to pave Texas Street, but since the only funds available for paving streets were already requested for other city streets, the commission could not justify substituting Texas Street for ones that have been on the waiting list for 5 or 10 years.

However, the commission agreed to work with the Amistad board on finding other means to help. One possibility is to allow the city to build a park on Amistad owned land.

"There are so many children in that area and there isn't a park," said Commissioner Irene Cantu. "I think a park would be an excellent idea."

The commissioners agreed to look into options in helping the project and explore the possibilities in more detail.

Amistad is a 30 unit facility, designed to house agricultural workers with large families.

To qualify for the housing, one must be employed and must qualify as a low income family. The children must be under 18 years of age and must be in school.

Other requests were made to the commission.

Orville Howard asked the commissioners to write their priorities for the future of Hereford for an upcoming article.

The commissioners went into executive session to discuss the appointment of a city commissioner. No action was taken on the matter.

The next meeting is scheduled for Sept. 17 due to Labor Day.

Ann says race is doing okay

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Outspent, out-advertised and trailing in the polls, Ann Richards says her bid for governor is doing just fine.

"I've really felt up in about the last two weeks," the Democratic nominee said. "We're running on target, except we've raised more money than I thought we would."

During those last two weeks, her Republican opponent, oilman-rancher Clayton Williams, has been thrown on the defensive by news reports questioning his business acumen. And Richards has pounced on the issue.

A hard-hitting TV commercial that began airing Friday portrays multimillionaire Williams as a troubled businessman who misused employees, is mired in debt and lawsuits and wants to keep it all secret.

"Let's look behind the screen on Claytie TV," the ad says.

The commercial was Richards' first post-primary television ad and came after weeks of battering from Williams' TV commercials.

Williams' aides called the 30-second spot mudslinging and a sign of desperation.

"The farther she falls behind in the polls, the more bizarre a sideshow her campaign is becoming," said Gordon Hensley, Williams' press secretary. "Mr. Williams is a man of honesty and integrity and the polls are showing that the voters of Texas believe this to be the case."

Williams on Friday countered with his new 30-second spot, which accuses Richards of wrongdoing in the savings and loan debacle.

The commercial suggests Richards, as state treasurer, assisted S&L executives in getting state deposits, accepted their political contributions and then destroyed records showing where state money was deposited.

Gramm: election important

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm (R-College Station) said Monday he was not taking his re-election for granted in November, and his performance will be important for other Republicans down the ballot in November.

Gramm was in Hereford for a fund-raising barbecue dinner at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame. About 70 persons attended the $100-per-couple event.

While Gramm is an overwhelming favorite to defeat Democrat Hugh Parmer in November, Gramm said a big victory by him could pull other Republican candidates over the top.

The senate race tops the ballot.

"There are a lot of good people on the ballot, and if I don't do a good job and win big the others won't do as well," Gramm told the supporters. "The stronger I run the better chance Rick Perry (Republican candidate for ag commissioner)...and Dick Waterfield (Republican candidate for the 13th Congressional District) have."

"Clayton Williams' election is critically important. I can't imagine what the state would be like with Ann Richards as governor."

Gramm said he was "still running because I believe I have some important things to do in Washington, and I feel if I'm not here to do them they won't get done."

"Being the Gramm of Gramm-Rudman, and doing the Lord's work in the devil's city, I have some opposition," Gramm said. "It would be easy when you represent 17 million people to represent Dallas, San Antonio and Houston, where over half of those people live. I try to get out and work with the people who pay my salary."

Gramm also addressed the Middle East situation, saying the United States provided satellite reconnaissance photos to Kuwait several days before Kuwait was invaded by Iraqi soldiers "but they tried not to believe, refused to believe they would be invaded." After Kuwait was invaded, Iraqi forces moved to the Saudi Arabian border "and the Saudis were convinced they were in conflict today."

Gramm visits with supporters

"No other country could have made that deployment as the United States. What worries me is that the Congress had spent the previous seven months beating swords into plowshares."

"...If the lion and the lamb are about to lay down together, we had better make sure the United States is the lion."

Gramm said US forces were in Saudi Arabia only because they were asked to be there, "and they don't want us there any longer than we need to be there. I don't believe this will last for years, but the President has let Saddam Hussein will hold him accountable, and if any harm comes to our hostages or anyone else, he (Saddam) will pay for it."

Bush calling up reservists

By LISA GENASCI
Associated Press Writer

Egypt today urged Saddam Hussein to withdraw Iraqi troops from Kuwait or face a war "that will devour everything," and Britain said the West must strangle Iraq economically despite its threats against foreign hostages.

President Bush planned to order thousands of military reservists into active duty as early as today to bolster U.S. forces deployed by the massive deployment of troops to protect Saudi Arabia from a possible Iraqi attack.

In another sign of growing Arab support for the U.S.-led multinational force in Saudi Arabia, Syria confirmed today that it was contributing troops.

"Syria began today sending its military forces to participate in the defense of Saudi Arabia," an official source said on condition of anonymity.

In the Persian Gulf, Defense Secretary Dick Cheney met with Saudi officials to share military intelligence and to discuss the possible sale of additional F-15 fighters to bolster the kingdom's defenses.

The international economic embargo against Iraq got a boost from Yemen today when that country assured the U.N. Security Council it would turn away an Iraqi oil tanker that had ignored warning shots fired by U.S. warships.

The council deferred action on a proposal that multinational forces be allowed to use force to back up U.N. sanctions. Bush has already authorized U.S. ships to use minimum force to interdict Iraqi vessels.

Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz of Iraq traveled to Jordan today. No agenda was announced for his meetings in Amman, but he will presumably ask Jordan to allow Iraqi goods to continue flowing through its Red Sea port of Aqaba.

Despite heavy pressure from the United States to close the port to Iraq and strongly condemn Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait, Jordan's reaction to the crisis has been ambivalent and its support of the embargo weak.

Iraq, meanwhile, has moved 800 ballistic missiles into Kuwait in addition to the tens of thousands of troops and hundreds of tanks massed on the Saudi border, the editor of Jane's Soviet Intelligence Review said in London today.

The editor, Henry Dodds, said the missiles are based on the Soviet Scud but they have been upgraded by Iraq to increase their range to 400 miles, or far enough to hit U.S. troops and major Saudi cities.

In its largest troop deployment since the Vietnam War, the United States has sent thousands of troops to Saudi Arabia to lead a multinational force protecting the kingdom's borders with Iraq and Kuwait.

With the United States building up its armed forces in Saudi Arabia and blocking Iraqi ports with an armada of ships, Iraq has moved to use Westerners stranded inside Kuwait as human shields.

Iraq said on Monday it had carried out a plan to move Western hostages to vital military installations to deter a U.S. attack and warned its people not to try to hide any of the thousands of foreigners trapped in the country.

In Washington, the State Department said 12 to 14 Americans and other foreigners were taken from Kuwait hotels and moved to undisclosed locations. Britain's Foreign Office said more than 100 Britons had been moved.

For the first time, Bush on Monday publicly referred to the 21,000 Westerners, including 3,000 Americans and 4,500 Britons, as hostages and demanded their release.

Egypt's Hosni Mubarak, who has rallied Arab opposition to the invasion, today urged Saddam to withdraw his forces from Kuwait.

CRISIS IN THE GULF

Here, at a glance, are the latest developments in the Persian Gulf crisis:

At an emergency U.N. Security Council meeting, Yemen agreed to turn away an Iraqi oil tanker expected to arrive today. The tanker had defied a U.S. warship that fired across its bow Saturday. Yemen, the 15-member council's only Arab member, had abstained from the sanctions vote but had joined with the council in declaring the Iraqi annexation of Kuwait "null and void."

The council met to discuss military backing for the economic embargo against Iraq, but adjourned without approving a resolution.

A callup by President Bush of U.S. military reserves was possible as early as today. Bush will sign paper work ordering thousands of reservists into active duty to bolster U.S. forces deployed by the massive deployment of troops in Saudi Arabia, White House aides say.

Defense Secretary Dick Cheney is conferring with Saudi Arabia's royal family on the Persian Gulf crisis and prospects for beefing up the Arab nation's arsenal of F-15 fighter jets. Later today, he was scheduled to stop briefly in Cairo, Egypt, for a meeting with President Hosni Mubarak.

European leaders, angered by President Saddam Hussein's plan to turn foreign nations into Iraqi hostages, were to meet today to try to form a unified stand. The foreign and defense ministers of the nine-nation Western European Union were planning to explore whether force should be used to enforce a U.N. embargo imposed on Iraq after its Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait.

Travelers say Iraqi troops and tanks are apparently cutting off open border areas across which hundreds of Westerners and Kuwaitis have fled since Saddam ordered his troops into Kuwait. Three Britons who made it across the border on Sunday were the last reported Western escapees along that route, border area residents say. Dozens of Egyptians, Pakistanis and Indian workers were still trying to reach Saudi Arabia.

"In the name of light, good and right, I appeal to President Saddam Hussein to save both man and entity in our Arab world from a destructive war that will devour everything," Mubarak said. "God only knows what the terrifying outcome will be if war begins, or how much damage there will be if the fire erupts, taking us backward into total darkness and loss."

AUSTIN, Texas - Outspent, out-advertised and trailing in the polls, Ann Richards says her bid for governor is doing just fine.

NEW YORK - The power outage that darkened parts of Wall Street for a week has revived a debate that gains force with electronic trading, high real estate costs and gripes about the city's infrastructure and transportation. Does the nation's financial market need to be based in New York?

ATLANTA - A flamboyant cop who survived two demotions and gained a reputation for busting heads is the new police chief in the nation's crime capital.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia - Czechoslovaks commemorate the 22nd anniversary of the Warsaw Pact invasion of their country that ended a bold but premature attempt to liberalize Communism.

TEXAS

AUSTIN - The U.S. Army has halted the deactivation of the 2nd Armored Division at Fort Hood as soldiers there prepare to head for the Middle East, a base spokeswoman said Monday.

FORT BLISS - Soldiers in the 3rd Armored Cavalry said they are tempering any fear they may have about deploying to the Persian Gulf with confidence in their desert warfare training.

UNDATED - While waiting to ship out for duty in the Persian Gulf, Fort Hood soldiers are swamping local stores for things the Army hasn't been able to give them, merchants say.

UNDATED - U.S. citizens trapped in the Middle East aren't the only hostages. Brothers and sisters, daughters, sons and parents awaiting word from those trapped overseas are captives of the waiting game begun when Iraq's Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait Aug. 2.

NEW YORK - Wholesale unleaded gasoline prices hit a new high on the New York Mercantile Exchange, as a nationwide survey showed retail prices continue to climb.

HOUSTON - Harris County's custom of using defense attorneys as part-time judges is troubling to some prosecutors, judges and lawyers, who say there is a potential for conflicts of interest.

HOUSTON - After spending nearly six years and 200,000 working hours pursuing an antitrust case against five railroad companies, lawyers at Houston's Vinson & Elkins have hit a $100 million jackpot.

DALLAS - Buster Brown, the Republican candidate for attorney general, used a debate Monday to blast Attorney General Jim Mattox, instead of focusing on opponent Dan Morales.

HOUSTON - Crime on and near local school campuses has become an increasingly perplexing and expensive problem for the Houston School District, which is spending $2 million this year to beef up security.

'Slave Sport' warrants official review

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas' top prison official wants a review of the use of inmates to train tracking dogs, but he said the practice has helped law authorities catch violent criminals and locate missing children.

"Both public concern and the media's attention to this subject warrant a serious review of the ... practices," Texas Board of Criminal Justice Chairman Charles Terrell of Dallas said Monday.

Terrell chose a panel to look at the training exercise after a prison official admitted taking two friends to a manhunt last year.

Board of Criminal Justice Vice Chairman Jerry Hodge of Amarillo drew national attention for participating in the hunt and giving his friends jackets stitched with the words "The Ultimate Hunt."

Hodge has apologized for the jackets but defended his participation in the hunt, saying the inmates were volunteers and not in danger. Prison officials say they need to use inmates to teach the dogs to track prison escapees.

Terrell is resigning as chairman Sept. 1. Sources told The Associated Press that Hodge's appointment was to be announced Aug. 14, the same day news of the incident became public.

Gov. Bill Clements, who called

Hodge's actions inappropriate, denied he had chosen Hodge to replace Terrell. Clements said he would take the information into consideration in making his decision, but said he didn't feel it disqualifies Hodge.

One state lawmaker called the practice "slave sport" and has demanded that Hodge resign.

Terrell has defended the use of inmates to train the dogs and in his written statement said he has not heard of any previous complaints.

Terrell appointed Criminal Justice board members Allan Polunsky of San Antonio; Mamie Moore Proctor of Houston and James Eller of Bryan-College Station to review the practice.

In 1983, a $14,000 out-of-court settlement with the prison system was reached in a lawsuit involving two inmates who were attacked by dogs. One man suffered more than 100 bites and the other, 56 bites.

Prison officials have said protective clothing worn by the inmates is designed to prevent injury. Medical records show 23 dog bites suffered by inmates since 1987, according to prison officials.

Questions about the practice surfaced seven years ago when the lacerated body of a "dog boy" was found drowned in a stock pond, according to former prison board member Harry Whittington.

Shop around before buying long-term care policy

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) - The elderly are finding insurance for long-term health care becoming easier to buy but not necessarily easier to collect, says a University of Michigan health insurance specialist.

A study conducted in several states in 1988-89 showed that "very few of the long-term care policies offered were likely to produce a better than 50-50 chance of a benefit payout," reports William Weissert, professor of health care management and policy at the university's School of Public Health.

"Given these odds, savvy consumers should look long and hard before they settle on a policy."

More than a million long-term care policies have been sold by more than 100 companies since the mid-1980s, Weissert notes.

He says that market is likely to increase because the dependent elderly population, which needs help with daily tasks like bathing, dressing and eating, is expected to double in the next 12 years.

Weissert points out that Medicare and traditional medical insurance cover virtually no long-term nursing home costs, which average about $25,000 a year for basic care.

More than 50 percent of the nation's elderly are likely to enter a nursing home, he says, and if they stay for more than three months, they are unlikely ever to leave.

"Only 20 percent of nursing home residents staying more than 90 days survive the stay," he says.

He advises people considering buying a long-term care policy to shop around, since policies offering the same kinds of coverage range from $550 to $1,200 annually.

The real reason people buy long-term care policies, he says, is to protect their estates so their children and grandchildren can inherit them.

"So I think the children should pay the premium," he adds. "Not everyone will agree with that, of course."

Since some policies have benefit periods that last only three or four years, Weissert says, buyers should select a policy with the maximum number of benefit years they can find.

Consideration also should be given to buying a policy that does not require a patient to have been hospitalized before entering a nursing home, he says.

Of those policies that do require prior hospitalization, he cautions, many require that patients enter the nursing home between 14 and 30 days after they are released from the hospital.

"Some even require direct transfer from hospital to nursing home," Weissert says. "Consumers should look for the longest grace period between hospital and nursing home they can find because it will give the family more time to look for the right nursing home."

"Only 20 percent of nursing home residents staying more than 90 days survive the stay," he says.

He advises people considering

NEW YORK (AP) - Mel Gibson, star of such violence-studded films as "The Road Warrior" and "Lethal Weapon," is choosy about what he lets his six children see.

"I think there is a level of violence in films that's unacceptable," he said. "I don't think there's anything like that in 'Lethal Weapon.' It's not pornographic violence. I've seen films where it was too much."

But Gibson said he would not let his children watch "The Road Warrior," which is set in a violent, post-apocalyptic world.

"It is such a fantastic movie and some people come to some pretty bad ends there," Gibson said in the Sept. 3 issue of US magazine.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Walcott I.S.D. will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 9.055 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Aug. 28, 1990 at 8:00 p.m. Walcott School Board Room.

FOR the proposal: Dan Hall, Jim Bob Perrin, Ted Eicke, Susan Perrin, Kent Jack, J.W. Meyer.

AGAINST the proposal:

PRESENT and not voting:

ABSENT: Jim McGowan

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and if one or more were absent, indicating the absences.)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit publishes on August 17, 1990. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value.....	$50,000	$50,000
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions).....	5,000	5,000
Average taxable value.....	45,000	45,000
Tax rate.....	.6800	.7900
Tax.....	$306.00	$355.50

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by 27.00 or 8.22 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax would increase by .06 per $100 of taxable value or 8.22 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Spikers perform well in first scrimmage

The Hereford Lady Whitefaces got the second week of pre-season volleyball workouts underway Monday with a three-way scrimmage against Plains and Brownfield.

Lady Whiteface coach Brenda Reeh said the scrimmage showed the Herd has made rapid strides in the early part of the season.

"I'm very happy with our play (Monday)," Reeh said. "I was concerned that we would spend too much time thinking about where we should be offensively and defensively. Instead, we reacted to the ball very well."

"Now that I know we understand our offensive and defensive schemes, we'll spend most of our time perfecting the execution of specific skills."

Reeh added that several players stepped forward to make an impression in the absence of the Herd's lone returning player, Shantel Cornelius, who will be out for about one more week with a sore knee.

"Teresa Baker and Brek Binder did a good job of moving the ball around with their setting," Reeh said. "Robin White and Brooke Siever also hit very well and Lori Sanders did a good job serving."

The Lady Whitefaces were never outscored during any of their turns on the court in the scrimmage, which consisted of playing timed periods and then rotating teams.

Lady Whiteface junior varsity coach Jill Harrison said her team also benefited from the competition.

"The JV played very well," Harrison said. "This scrimmage helped us get an idea of where we need work. We had bright spots in every part of the game. April Robinson had several good spikes and some kills as well. Angie Jowell did well on service receive as well as serving. Kathy Hernandez set accurately and was able to score points on serve also."

The Lady Whiteface JV will get the season started at 6 p.m. today when they face the Canyon High varsity at the HHS Gym. The Herd freshman team will take on the Eagle junior varsity.

The varsity spikers will open the season Friday at the Lubbock Invitational Tournament.

Flying high

Hitter Robin White of the Hereford Lady Whitefaces goes up for a spike during Monday's three-way scrimmage with Brownfield and plains at the HHS Gym as setter Brek Binder looks on. The Lady Whiteface junior varsity will open the season at 6 p.m. today when they host the Canyon High varsity.

Final scramble set for Wednesday at Pitman

The final Weekly Scramble of 1990 will be played Wednesday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course, according to Pitman head pro Brent Warner.

Warner added that golfers intending to play must sign up even if they were entered for last week's scramble, which was rained out.

For more information or to enter, call the Pitman GC pro shop at 364-2782.

YMCA flag football sign-up under way

The Hereford YMCA has opened registration for the 1990 flag football league.

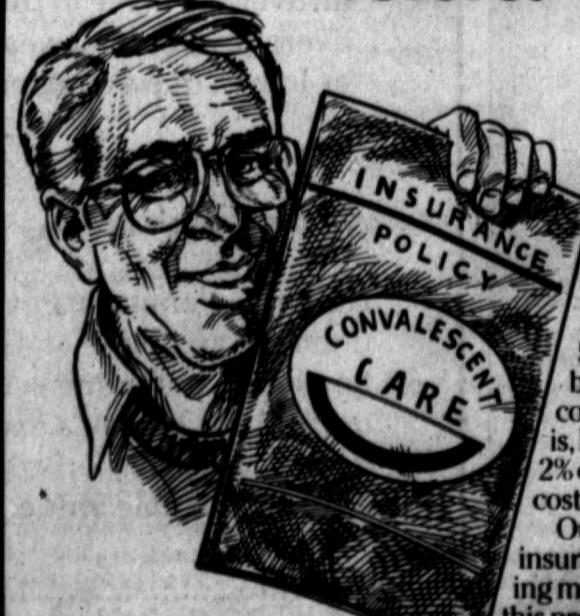

The league will offer competition for boys in first-sixth grades. The league will have separate divisions for first and second grades, third and fourth and fifth and sixth. Six-year-olds may participate in the first-second grade division.

Players must provide their own shoes. Cleated shoes will not be allowed.

Registration deadline is Sept. 14 with practices beginning Sept. 17. All games will be played on Saturdays beginning Sept. 22.

For more information, contact the YMCA at 364-6990.

A thoughtful way to protect your parents' future.

One out of four seniors will require nursing home care after reaching age 55. Many people believe Medicare will cover this cost. The fact is, Medicare pays only 2% of nursing home costs.

Our independent insurance agency is helping many families solve this problem with long term care coverage from one of the major insurance companies we represent. The CNA Insurance Companies offer a Convalescent Care Plan that is excellent for its flexibility, benefits and competitive premiums.

'Horns ready to turn things around in '90

AUSTIN (AP) - The slimmed-down Texas Longhorns returned for the 1990 football season in great shape and with a good attitude, said Coach David McWilliams, who is under pressure to win after a three-year record of 16-18.

Texas has yet to win a season opener under McWilliams, and ending that loss string could be tough as the Longhorns' first game is Sept. 8 at Penn State.

Although Texas will rely primarily on players from a team that finished 5-6 last season, McWilliams said Monday the Longhorns have the talent to capture the Southwest Conference football championship.

"I think we can win the conference," McWilliams said. "I think we've got the people to do it, and I think that they've worked hard - they've come back for two-a-days in shape, they've come back in condition.

"And the mental frame has been as good as it was going out in the spring. I don't think we lost anything in the summer."

McWilliams, assessing his squad for the SWC media tour, said he had been pleased with the offense, and defensively "we are really going to be good."

He said starting sophomore quarterback Peter Gardere regained his confidence in spring training, following a shoulder injury in the Houston game last season, which "made him more determined to be better."

Gardere said, "Even though we had a losing season last year, we learned a lot, which will help us get ready for this year."

Senior linebacker Brian Jones said he didn't think the team's attitude was right in 1989. "This year is different. If you have that (old) attitude, get out of here - we don't want you."

McWilliams said, "Overall, offensively - and even defensively - the weight of our entire offense, especially our linemen and all, is exactly the same as it was when we left in the spring.

"In fact, some of them are down a little bit from the spring, which is what we wanted, so I think that's a good indication they worked in the summer, too, and we've been happy with that."

Offensive guard Duane Miller, who weighed 300 pounds in the spring, is now at 280 and is in "great shape, great condition," McWilliams said. Another offensive guard, Sam Adams, returned for fall practice at 295, compared with 308 last year.

"I really think the offensive line is going to be much better," McWilliams said.

Sophomore defensive end Shane Dronett, 6-foot-6, has slimmed down, several pounds to 258, and at left end is part of what McWilliams calls one of the better defensive lines Texas has had, because of its quickness and experience.

McWilliams said the team also has two great middle linebackers in senior Brian Jones, 238, and junior Mical Padgett, 240.

The defensive safeties, including sophomore Lance Gunn and three-year letterman Stanley Richard, are "probably as strong as we've ever" had, he said.

Probably the No. 1 "question mark on our football team" is finding a consistent place kicker from among five candidates. "It's the only area where we don't have someone coming back that has at least been out there and played," McWilliams said.

Bucs win sixth straight

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

While the Pittsburgh Pirates are trying to win the National League East, the Cincinnati Reds are trying not to lose the National League West.

Lately, only the Pirates are doing a good job of it.

Pittsburgh won its sixth straight game Monday night, beating Houston 7-1 and opening a three-game edge over New York, a 3-1 loser in San Diego. The Pirates, coming off a four-game sweep in Cincinnati, opened their largest lead since June 22.

The Reds, meanwhile, lost their fifth in a row. They fell to Chicago 3-1 and had their lead cut to 5½ games by Los Angeles. The Dodgers, who beat Philadelphia 2-1, have not been this close to first place since May 7.

The game at Riverfront Stadium was called in the top of the ninth inning after three rain delays totaling three hours, 12 minutes. Cincinnati manager Lou Piniella wasn't happy with the way it ended.

"I don't know how an umpiring crew can call a game like that," he said. "This was an extremely irresponsible call by the umpires. The league office will hear about this."

In other games, San Francisco beat Montreal 4-2 and St. Louis defeated Atlanta 7-2.

Pirates 7, Astros 1

Neal Heaton (11-8) pitched six shutout innings and ended his six-game losing streak for Pittsburgh. The slump tied for the longest in his career.

Heaton was cleared to pitch after his sore shoulder was examined earlier in the day by team doctors. He allowed only three hits and raised his record to 3-0 against the Astros this year.

Jim Deshaies (5-11) took the loss.

Cubs 3, Reds 1

Doug Dasenko went 3-for-3, stole two bases and robbed Paul O'Neill of a two-run homer as Chicago beat the slumping Reds. The game started 10 minutes late because of rain, was interrupted by showers for one hour, 42 minutes in the second inning and called after another delay of one hour, 20 minutes.

Mike Bielecki (5-8) gave up three hits in seven innings.

Bill Long got his fifth save. Norm Charlton (9-7) was the loser.

Dasceno doubled, walked, scored the go-ahead run in the fifth inning and also drove in a run. In the third inning the 5-foot-7 center fielder reached over the fence to take away a home run from O'Neill.

Dodgers 2, Phillies 1

Mike Sharperson hit a solo home run with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning as Los Angeles beat Terry Mulholland and the Phillies.

Mulholland, making his first start since pitching a no-hitter last Wednesday against San Francisco, gave up a leadoff single to Jose Offerman on his second pitch of the game.

The game was interrupted in the seventh inning when Lenny Dykstra, the league's leading hitter, and Dodgers catcher Rick Dempsey got into a fight at home plate. Both players were ejected after a bench-clearing brawl.

Sharperson homered on a 2-0 pitch from Mulholland (7-7).

Padres 3, Mets 1

In San Diego, Bruce Hurst pitched seven shutout innings and Roberto Alomar homered.

Hurst (8-8) gave up five hits and Craig Lefferts got his 20th save.

Darryl Strawberry led off the Mets' ninth with his 28th home run, tying Bobby Bonilla and Ryne Sandberg for the league lead.

Sid Fernandez (8-10) gave up two runs on two hits in six innings.

Giants 4, Expos 2

San Francisco pulled within 6 1/2 games of Cincinnati as Don Robinson pitched a four-hitter, Will Clark homered and Kevin Mitchell drove in two runs.

Robinson (9-4) ended his three-game losing streak. He struck out seven and walked one.

Cardinals 7, Braves 2

Ken Hill pitched a six-hitter and Rex Hudler drove in three runs.

Hill (4-1) won his third straight decision, striking out six and walking two. Hudler, making his first start since a bruised shoulder six games ago, got three hits.

Dave Justice hit his 19th home run for the Braves.

ChiSox thrash Oakland

By the Associated Press

Two months ago, Dave Stewart called Jack McDowell "nothing more than a Triple-A pitcher."

On Monday night, McDowell proved to be A-OK.

"I don't care what other teams think of me," McDowell said after pitching a three-hitter in the Chicago White Sox's 11-1 rout of the Oakland Athletics. "It was most satisfying to be in a pennant race and winning the game. In that respect, it probably was my biggest win."

Sammy Sosa's two-run homer and a two-run triple by rookie Frank Thomas helped the White Sox cut Oakland's lead to 5½ games in the American League West and ended a personal six-game winning streak for Stewart (17-9).

In the AL East, Boston edged Baltimore 2-1 and took a one-game lead over Toronto, which lost to New York 6-5 in 11 innings. Elsewhere, it was Detroit 3, California 1; Kansas City 7, Minnesota 1; Milwaukee 4, Cleveland 2; Texas 6, Seattle 5.

The A's took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a double by Jose Canseco.

The White Sox came back with three runs in the bottom of the first. Ivan Calderon singled with two out and Dan Pasqua walked. Carlton Fisk singled to score Calderon and Thomas tripped to put the White Sox ahead 3-1.

Fisk singled again in the sixth and scored on Sosa's 12th homer. The White Sox added a run in the seventh on a run-scoring single by Calderon and scored five times off Reggie Harris in the eighth. Thomas started the uprising with a double and the inning included Ozzie Guillen's RBI double and a two-run single by Calderon.

Red Sox 2, Orioles 1

Ellis Burks hit a sacrifice fly to drive in an unearned run in the eighth inning.

Carlos Quintana opened the eighth with a hit off first baseman David Segui's glove and took second when Segui threw to an uncovered base for an error.

After Jeff Ballard relieved starter Pete Harnisch (9-8), Wade Boggs beat out a hit to first, sliding into the bag ahead of Segui's throw to Ballard. Quintana went to third and scored on Burks' sacrifice fly.

Yankees 6, Blue Jays 5

The Yankees won with one out in the 11th when Alvaro Espinoza chopped a bases-loaded single over the head of shortstop Tony Fernandez.

Greg Cadaret (5-4) pitched 7 2-3 scoreless innings for the victory, yielding three hits.

Kevin Maas hit his 15th homer in the Yankees' four-run first inning.

Angels 5, Tigers 3

Rookie Pete Coachman had two hits and two RBIs, including a tie-breaking double in a seventh-inning rally.

The Angels' three-run seventh gave Mark Langston (7-15) his second straight victory. Langston went seven-plus innings, yielding three runs and five hits.

Paul Gibson (3-3), who faced only one batter, was the loser in relief of Jeff Robinson.

Royals 7, Twins 1

Willie Wilson and Frank White hit two-run doubles as Kansas City handed Minnesota its sixth straight loss.

Storm Davis (7-8) yielded a run and four hits in eight innings.

White's double in a three-run sixth inning chased Minnesota starter David West (6-8), who yielded six runs.

Brewers 4, Indians 3

Dave Parker homered and drove in three runs as Tom Edens got his first career victory as a starter.

Edens (3-1) made his second start of the season and fourth of his career and lasted a career-high 5 2-3 innings. He gave up seven hits and three runs.

Preparing for garage sale

Kimberly Betts and Jessica Garcia remind the public of the second annual "back-to-school" benefit garage sale Saturday, Aug. 25, to raise funds for Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Hereford. Those wishing to donate items for the sale, which will be held at the former Phillips 66 Gas Station at the corner of Hwy. 385 and Park Ave., may do so by calling 364-6171 or 364-3490 after 5 p.m. Funds raised will help meet the BB/BS budget this year.

Ann Landers

DEAR READERS: I came across this piece in the Wichita Eagle and Beacon, written by George Neavoll, editor of the editorial page. He took the words right out of my mouth -- and did better with them than I ever could. May I share them with you?

"I always can tell when a letter from a young person is written for out Public Forum. It is illiterate.

"The writer usually doesn't have the vaguest idea of the difference between 'their' and 'there' or even 'to' and 'too'; can't construct a sentence properly; knows practically nothing about capitalization or punctuation; rambles incoherently and writes in a childish scrawl. It breaks my heart every time I see it.

"Besides not being able to write, young people today often can't read or speak adequately, or reason, or add or subtract very well.

"These aren't just poor black kids from the ghetto. They are the sons and daughters of white Anglo-Saxon Protestant Americans, born with silver spoons in their mouths.

"If what I am saying sounds like I am anti-young, believe me, I am not. I care deeply about our young people. We have a national emergency on our hands. We literally are raising a generation of incompetents. They will not be able to run the country unless they manage to somehow get an after-school education. This means studying on their own.

"The education crisis is vastly more important than the energy shortfall, runaway inflation or unemployment. I would be the first to admit I don't have any answers but I DO know the system isn't working. If the newer methods of teaching are merely perpetuating ignorance then it's time to abandon them and try something else -- or go back to the way it was done before. Readin', writin' and 'rithmetic, foreign as they may be to many of today's students, still are the cornerstones of a well-rounded education.

"We must upgrade the image of the teaching professional. A good teacher is more valuable than silver or gold, and he or she must be treated accordingly. Good teachers are more important to the future of the country than bankers, lawyers, police officers, fire fighters or newspaper editors. And there are some darned poor teachers around. When I spoke of letters from students earlier in this column, I could have cited letters from teachers that weren't much better.

"I want to close by addressing the young people who may read this:

"Dear Kid: Get an education that means something. Not one that indicates you stood around like a dope for 12 years -- or 16. If your teachers won't give you an education, get one on your own. It will mean the difference between a life of drudgery and one of worth and dignity.

"If you're black or another minority, work hard. The Man will use the excuse of a substandard education to keep you at the bottom of the heap.

"Never stop learning. Once you learn to read and write well, learn to do it better. The only real educational cripples are the ones who think they're "educated" because they went to school. Be part of our national pride, instead of our national shame."

An alcohol problem? How can you help yourself or someone you love? "Alcoholism: How to Recognize It, How to Deal With It, How to Conquer It" will give you the answers. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Alcohol, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $4.45.)

What is sleepwalking?

There is a sleep center in your brain which regulates the sleeping and waking of your body.

When this sleep center goes to work, it does two things: It blocks off part of your brain so that it goes to sleep and you no longer have the will to do anything; and, it blocks off certain nerves that bring outside messages to your brain, permitting your body to fall asleep.

Usually, the sleep center of your brain and your body are connected but sometimes they become separated.

When this happens, the brain sleeps but the body remains awake. People in this situation usually sit up in bed or stand near it. Some actually get out of bed and walk around, but they don't do much more than walk.

A sleepwalker doesn't usually remember sleepwalking when he or she wakes up.

Sleep walking is far more common in children than in adults.

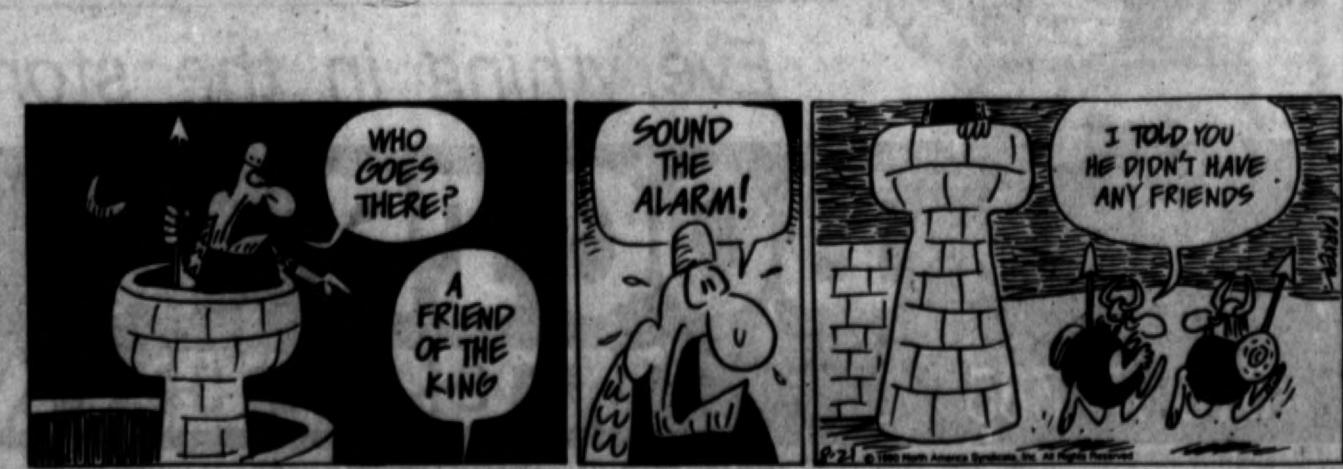

The now-extinct ancestor of the horse eohippus, had a short neck and stood no higher than a medium-sized dog.

Girl Scouts to register Thursday

Girl Scout registration will be held at Dameron Park on Thursday at 7-9 p.m.

Girls ages five through 17, who are currently Girl Scouts and also new girls who are interested in joining are invited to enroll and join in the fun of games, crafts and refreshments.

Call Janey Allmon at the Hereford Brand, 364-2030, or come by 313 N. Lee to place your classified advertising. We reach thousands everyday!

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word size.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphs; all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALADS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Consumer Groups Storm Local Grocery Stores!

Stores point finger at newspaper

Today saw one of the largest consumer responses of the week to offers made by local grocery stores for discounted prices. Across the city, shoppers were redeeming coupons cut from the local paper in record numbers.

"We know any offer we make will be highlighted most by the newspaper," commented a grocery store spokesman. "Our goal is simply to inform the consumers that these discounts are available. We are confident they will respond if they see it in the paper." His statement was backed by recent Consumer Data Service reports that indicated grocery store ads triple volume on discounted items and double volume on regularly priced items. It also revealed grocery ads are read by well over 70% of newspaper readers.

Grocery store representatives unanimously agreed that newspaper advertising was the only way to get immediate consumer response. One grocer remarked, "Most people read the paper, and a bunch of those readers clip our coupons. It's that simple." His comments reflect the well-known Manufacturer's Coupon Center report which stated that over 80% of all families use coupons.

"When consumers want more for their money, they always go to the newspaper," a grocery official said. When pressed by reporters for the best offer he could make to the consumers he replied, "Look in the paper, it's all right there. Green leaf lettuce, two heads for 79¢...with a coupon of course."

Take your pick of toppings

By JOHN DEMERS
AP Newsfeatures

All across the nation this Labor Day, celebrants will pay tasty tribute to what in France is the "chien chaud" and in Brazil is the "chucharro quente" - the all-American hot dog.

According to people who think about such things, the hot dog is a supremely American food. It's inexpensive, fast and simple to cook, available just about anywhere, and perfectly designed for eating while standing up.

With those attributes, it's only natural that the tube of pork or beef sausage served on a yeast roll has found an honored place at picnics, beach parties and political rallies.

Yet for all the nostalgia heaped upon it, the hot dog has taken a great deal of abuse in recent years. Critics have complained about its contents, casting dark but uncertain aspersions concerning its edibility.

Industry officials point to a host of improvements since the turn of this century - better meat and more of it (up to a quarter-pound), not to mention formulas that are low-salt, low-sugar and low-fat. The hot dog is even profiting, especially in versions made from chicken or turkey, in the current gourmet food revolution.

At Labor Day gatherings across the nation, Americans will slather hot dogs with all the familiar condiments. More and more celebrants, however, will give the standard a fresh look.

Officers installed at meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary meet recently with Argen Draper installing officers for the new year.

New officers installed were Clara Trowbridge, president; Betty Jo Carlson, first vice president; Ruth King, second vice president; Lou Ann LaFever, secretary-treasurer; Margie Daniels, chaplain; Bernice Layman, Sergeant-at-arms; Troyce Hanna, historian-reporter; and Argen Draper and Pet Ott as members-at-large.

Hanna, outgoing president, was presented with an engraved plaque and gavel.

Viola Wagner, cheer chairman, reported sending 14 birthday, five sympathy, six get well, and seven thinking-of-you cards.

Carlson, membership chairman, reported 36 memberships for the new year.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Home on Sept. 4.

We speak of a herd of cattle; in this manner, we have an army of frogs, a clutter of cats, and a skulk of foxes.

with toppings ranging from guacamole to peanut butter.

To further enhance the hot dog, the National Hot Dog and Sausage Council suggests an alternative to the familiar bun. Rye, wheat, Vienna or pit breads add distinction. But for a real change of pace, consider crepes, thin pancakes, potato pancakes, muffins, bagels, tortillas or croissants as a base.

In addition to a universe of potential toppings, a number of marinades can be produced quickly. This is a particularly useful notion when the hot dogs are cut into chunks for kebabs.

Apple cider, pineapple juice, beer, dry wines or soy sauce mixed with orange juice - all will add a special flavor to the hot dog after marinating only a few hours.

Here, from the Hot Dog and Sausage Council, are some intriguing hot dog variations:

Kraut Dog: Heat canned or homemade sauerkraut with caraway seeds, 1 chopped dill pickle and 1/4 teaspoon sugar. Spoon over hot dog.

Hawaiian Dog: Combine crushed pineapple, sweet-and-sour sauce and finely chopped green peppers for the topping.

Greek Dog: Spread hot dog with chopped olives (preferably Kalamata). Top with dollop of sour cream, onion dip or yogurt.

Salad Dog: Top with shredded lettuce, chopped green onions, celery and tomato. Drizzle with 1 teaspoon of your favorite salad dressing.

Slaw Dog: Cover hot dog with your favorite style of slaw, tangy or creamy. Drain off excess liquid before using as a topping.

Veggie Dog: Combine your favorite raw vegetables thinly sliced including tomatoes, mushrooms, cucumbers, green onions. Top with alfalfa sprouts.

The following recipe for a sauerkraut relish for hot dogs is provided by Eckrich foods, makers of Eckrich Lite Smoked Sausage Links and Eckrich Lite Franks.

SAUERKRAUT RELISH
One 8-ounce can sauerkraut, drained

1/4 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup shredded carrot
2/3 tablespoon packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon celery seed

Combine all ingredients in a small bowl. Let stand 1 hour for flavors to blend. Serve with grilled smoked sausages or franks. Makes 1 1/2 cups relish.
