Perot tosses hat in ring, again

Congress not going home without kicking up dust

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress is wringing the controversy out of its spending bills, including efforts to liberalize abortion laws and labor rules, as lawmakers dash toward adjournment and their re-election campaigns.

"The paramount need is to adjourn and go home," said Rep. Tim Penny (D-Minn.), as lawmakers sent two more spending bills to President Bush and prepared to ship him several others.

That wasn't to say Congress was going home without kicking up some dust.

The Senate planned to make its third effort of the year today to break a Republican filibuster holding up the crime bill. The measure includes a five-day waiting period for the purchases of handguns, called the Brady Bill after James Brady, who was critically wounded in an assassination attempt on President Reagan.

The House was preparing to try to override Bush's veto of a bill that would overturn the president's ban against most abortion counseling at federally financed family planning clinics.

The Senate overrode the veto on a 73-26 vote on Thursday, but the House seemed likely to fall short of the two-thirds majority it will need.

In other action:

House-Senate bargainers shook hands on a compromise defense budget bill that cuts $1.4 billion from Bush's $5.4 billion request for development of the Strategic Defense Initiative anti-missile system.

The overall bill would authorize defense programs worth $274 billion.

Negotiators from the two chambers also agreed to a compromise energy bill that would make it easier to open new nuclear power plants and calls for more efficient lights and motors.

Bush is expected to sign the measure, but environmentalists say the bill does almost nothing to encourage diminished use of oil.

But the annual appropriations bills were driving Congress' business, and they were shorn of items that could provoke veto fights.

The bills were so humdrum that as the House raced through three of them, barely as much time was spent debating as was devoted to lauding two retiring subcommittee chairmen - Reps. William Lehman, D-Fla., and Edward Roybal, D-Calif.

Gone was one Senate-passed provision that would have allowed federal financing of abortions in some cases of rape or incest.

Deleted was House-approved

Reaction quotes:

Here's a sampling of reaction to Ross Perot's announcement Thursday that he is running for president.

"I don't have any particular reaction. I got into this race and I stayed in this race through thick and thin because I believed we couldn't afford four more years of George Bush and trickle-down economics. I still believe I have the best economic plan." Democratic presidential nominee Bill Clinton.

"He is on the ballot in all 50 states. Mr. Perot has a strong corps of supporters across the country, and he deserves to have an opportunity to run. We will continue to press our campaign for economic growth and security." White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater.

"I think it's complicated to figure out. We're just going to concentrate on delivering our message of change." Democratic vice presidential candidate Al Gore.

"If Ross Perot's re-entry into the presidential race puts even more focus on the federal deficit, it will be a plus for everyone concerned about the future, especially our children and our grandchildren." Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan.

"His re-entry into the presidential race is both distracting and irrelevant. His call to reduce the deficit is admirable, but no more unique than those made by dozens of governors who have to balance their books each year." Virginia Gov. L. Douglas Wilder.

DALLAS (AP) - Ross Perot transformed the presidential campaign from a two-sided shooting match into a three-way battle and immediately set about mounting an unconventional White House bid greeted warily by Bill Clinton and George Bush.

Rejoining a field he once led before fading in the polls of summer, the Texas businessman seemed uncertain just how to proceed with what he promised would be "a serious campaign focusing on the issues."

"That'll unfold day after day," the Texas billionaire told reporters Thursday, announcing his candidacy just 33 days before Election Day.

"Nothing's organized. It's all happening so fast," confessed his son, Ross Jr.

But the elder Perot said he was ready to mount an advertising blitz, telling reporters as he left his news conference: "Got to go to work, got to earn a living, got to pay for ads."

Perot wasted no time, reserving two half-hour blocks of prime network television time next week, according to a report in today's editions of The Dallas Morning News.

Perot's wife, Margot, and running mate James Stockdale, a retired Navy vice admiral and Vietnam War hero, said they anticipated going on the campaign trail.

Perot's rivals continued to set their sights on one another as the impact of the Texan's candidacy - and the shape it would take - remained uncertain.

"I think my fight is with George Bush," Clinton told reporters.

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Perot "deserves to have an opportunity to run," but added that the campaign would continue to focus on Clinton "as the front-runner."

Both the Bush and Clinton camps have said Perot would be welcome to participate in presidential debates.

Orson Swindle, chairman of Perot's United We Stand, America organization, hailed news that Bush and Clinton negotiators had reached an agreement in principle late Thursday for three debates.

"I think Mr. Bush and Mr. Perot will square off pretty decently. I think Clinton will be the loser," Swindle said on ABC's "Nightline."

Perot's independent candidacy added an element of intrigue to a race that had been stagnant in recent months, with Bush consistently trailing Clinton in the polls.

"Anything that tosses this race up in the air and is an unknown is a good thing for Bush," said Republican pollster Bill McInturff.

At the same time, Perot's candidacy could work to Clinton's advantage in certain states where the Texan appears to draw most of his support from the president.

"It certainly boosts the chances of Clinton carrying Texas," said University of Texas Professor Walter Dean Burnham, who studies voting behavior.

Perot, who once ran evenly with Bush and Clinton in national polls, is a distant third.

A poll released Thursday by CNN and USA Today gave Perot just 7 percent support, compared with 52 percent for Clinton and 35 percent for Bush. The survey of 1,052 registered voters had a margin of error of 3 percentage points.

Two recent polls taken in Michigan and Ohio showed that Perot was far behind in those two states, battlegrounds of the industrial Midwest. Both polls showed Perot with support from just 9 percent of those surveyed.

Perot, however, insists he's in the race to win.

"My objective is not to commit political suicide," he said, adding that he would discuss solutions to the nation's problems that the major parties deem politically risky.

His plan for economic recovery includes higher income taxes for the wealthy, fewer tax breaks for home mortgages, higher Medicare premiums and increases in federal excise taxes on gasoline and cigarettes. Perot also prescribes sharp cuts in government spending.

Admiral Stockdale is Perot's running mate

DALLAS (AP) - The lives of Ross Perot and retired Vice Adm. James Bond Stockdale first intersected while Stockdale was being held prisoner in Vietnam. Decades later, Stockdale is running for vice president with Perot at the top of the ticket.

"I have a personal reputation for being independent in outlook and manner, so this role gives me added satisfaction," Stockdale said Thursday as the two independent candidates formally entered the White House contest.

Their bond goes back to Stockdale's eight years of captivity, sometimes in leg irons and sometimes in solitary confinement. Perot, at the behest of Stockdale's wife, Sybil, was working to improve conditions for the Vietnam prisoners of war.

"He's been a close friend of mine ever since," Stockdale told a news conference in March when fellow Annapolis graduate Perot first asked him to stand in as a vice presidential candidate.

Then, Perot needed his services only as an "interim" running mate because some states require that the names of both candidates be listed to gain ballot access.

This time, with Perot formally in the race, Stockdale's back, too - as the real vice presidential candidate, not a standby.

"I'd trust him with my life," Stockdale, 68, said in March. "He's not a sleazeball begging for favors."

When Stockdale was being held, his wife persuaded Perot to try to get North Vietnam to conform to Geneva Convention rules of humane treatment of prisoners.

During his imprisonment, Stockdale organized resistance among fellow prisoners and spent four years in solitary confinement. He had led the first bombing attack against North Vietnam in 1964 and was shot down and captured a year later. He became the highest ranking naval prisoner of war.

Stockdale, who graduated from the Naval Academy in 1946, served in the Navy until 1979 and rose to vice admiral. He was awarded the Medal of Honor and 26 combat decorations. In 1979, Stockdale became president of the Citadel, a military school in South Carolina, but left in 1981 to become a senior research fellow at the Hoover Institution of War, Peace and Revolution.

He has written two books, "A Vietnam Experience: Ten Years of Reflection" and "In Love and War," which was co-written with his wife.

Stockdale said in March that he was pro-choice on abortion and was "not opposed" to gun control, positions in line with Perot's. But while Perot opposed the Persian Gulf War, Stockdale said he supported the military action, noting that it had been approved by Congress.

Burglars hit McDonald's

Burglars cracked the safe at McDonald's on East Hwy. 60 Wednesday night or Thursday morning, making off with an undetermined amount of cash, the Hereford Police Department reported Thursday.

The break-in and burglary was discovered when an employee opened the fast food business Thursday morning. Police theorize the burglary may have been a professional job. Safes have been hit at other McDonald's around the country, said Police Chief David Wagner.

Debates get final touches

WASHINGTON (AP) - Breaking a month-long stalemate, representatives of President Bush and Bill Clinton are putting the final touches on an agreement to hold three presidential debates in the final weeks of the campaign.

The debates, which are expected to include newly announced candidate Ross Perot, would give Bush a badly needed opportunity to change the tone and direction of the campaign, which so far has left him trailing badly in the polls.

His unexpected proposal this week to hold four debates led to negotiations between the two campaigns.

Negotiators reported progress as a marathon session broke up late Thursday. Sources familiar with the talks said an agreement in principle was reached to hold three debates.

"We have made substantial progress on the basic terms of an agreement, including the number of debates, dates and the format," Robert Teeter, chairman of the Bush campaign, said after negotiators worked late into the night Thursday.

"No agreement is final until the details are worked out," Teeter said, adding that he expected the talks would be concluded today, with a Saturday announcement of the sites, dates and other details.

"I'm encouraged," said Mickey Kantor, Clinton's campaign chairman.

Neither campaign official would disclose details of the agreement.

Sources who spoke on condition of anonymity said the agreement called for three presidential and one

The sentences were probated and the men will be required to pay the fines as one of the many conditions of probation.

Marvin Paul Metcalf, charged with tampering with an identification number, was assessed a six-year sentence and $1,500 fine. His sentence was also probated.

Mayor Tom LeGate is shown signing a proclamation for Fire Prevention Week in Hereford, Oct. 4-10. Fire Marshal Jay Spain, observing the signing, said volunteer firemen will host school children on tours this week and an open house at the fire station is planned Oct. 10.

Also dropped were provisions delaying truth-in-labeling requirements for vitamins and other dietary supplements, and banning smoking in federally financed facilities for children, such as Head Start centers.

Nine of the 13 annual spending bills were either signed into law or sitting on Bush's desk, and leaders predicted the rest would be finished in time for Congress to shut down for the year by Tuesday. The government's new fiscal year began Thursday.

Lawmakers used one of the spending bills to aim their budget ax at themselves Thursday.

The Senate voted 85-13 to cut Congress' own budget by 15 percent over the next three years, a cut of about $115 million annually from its $2.2 billion coffers.

"It's time we set the example of fiscal responsibility," said Sen. John Seymour, R-Calif., who sponsored the measure with Sen. Hank Brown, R-Colo.

The House included no such language in its own bill financing congressional operations.

In other spending business, Congress sent Bush the $23.2 billion bill financing the Departments of Commerce, Justice and State, a $36.4 billion measure for transportation programs and a $22.6 billion bill for Treasury and the Postal Service.

Mayor sets special week

Mayor Tom LeGate has proclaimed the week of Oct. 4-10 as Fire Prevention Week in Hereford, calling upon citizens to "participate in fire prevention activities at home, work and school."

The mayor also urged citizens to heed the message: "Test Your Detector--It's Sound Advice," which is the theme of this year's observance.

In his proclamation, the mayor noted that some 4,000 people in the U.S. die in home fires every year, that homes with smoke detectors have a death rate 40 percent lower than homes without the detectors, and that about one-third of the homes equipped with smoke detectors have units that don't work, most often because of dead or missing batteries.

LeGate added that testing smoke detectors is easy and should be done regularly. All members of the household should be able to recognize the sound of the smoke detector alarm and know how to respond.

The mayor praised the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department for its dedication to the safety of life and property from the devastating effects of fire.

U.S. guarantees ag loans to 18 foreign countries

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government will help 18 countries purchase U.S. farm products by the shipload with $3.6 billion in credit guarantees, Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan said today in another election-eve announcement aimed at the battleground states of the Farm Belt.

And sources said the White House will allow the use of ethanol in five of the nation's nine smoggiest areas, a decision that would help corn growers by expanding the market for the fuel.

The White House has been under heavy pressure from corn growers to waive Clean Air Act restrictions on the use of ethanol.

But "we figured out a way to accomplish what the corn-growers and ethanol were seeking, but doing it in a way consistent and supportive of the Clean Air Act," said a senior White House official, who asked not to be identified.

The credit guarantees will cover purchases of U.S. farm products during the fiscal year that began today. During the fiscal year that ended Wednesday, more than $5 billion in U.S. farm products were sold with the credit guarantees.

vice-presidential debate. moderators would lead two of the debates and a panel of reporters would question the candidates at the third.

On the defensive for weeks for his refusal to accept the single-moderator format proposed by a bipartisan debate commission, Bush made a dramatic offer this week to debate Clinton on four successive Sundays, beginning Oct. 11.

The Clinton camp opposed holding a debate Nov. 1, just two days before the election. Clinton running mate Al Gore, campaigning in Wisconsin, said an 11th-hour debate would leave little time for each candidate to rebut fresh charges.

Teeter declined to say whether Perot would be included in debates, though both candidates have said the Texas businessman would be welcome.

The tentative agreement was disclosed just hours after Perot formally re-entered the presidential sweepstakes, telling reporters in Dallas he would be "glad to participate" in debates.

Orson Swindle, chairman of Perot's United We Stand, America organization, predicted Bush and Perot would dominate the debates.

"Mr. Bush and Mr. Perot will square off pretty decently. I think Clinton will be the loser," Swindle said on "Nightline."

Accidental U.S. missile blast kills 7 Turk sailors

WASHINGTON (AP) - An accidental missile blast from a U.S. aircraft carrier set a Turkish destroyer ablaze during a NATO exercise, killing at least five Turkish sailors and injuring 15 others, the Pentagon said today.

Among those killed was the commanding officer of the Muavenet, Capt. Kudret Gungor, the Turkish general staff said.

The aircraft carrier USS Saratoga launched two Sea Sparrow missiles late Thursday. At least one of the missiles struck the destroyer, Adm. Mike Boorda, commander of U.S. Naval Forces in Europe, said in a statement issued in London.

There was no information about how the firing occurred and no report of U.S. casualties, said the Pentagon and the U.S. naval command in Europe.

Boorda said the accident occurred in the Aegean Sea, about 80 miles west of Ismir, Turkey, during the North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercise "Display Determination '92."

Turkish authorities first reported nine killed but later revised the figure to five, a spokesman at the U.S. Navy

Headquarters in Europe said early today.

"There is still a great deal of confusion at the scene," said Cmdr. Charles Connor. "It's dark and they are trying to bring the fire and the smoke under control, which we think they have done by now."

Pentagon spokeswoman Maj. Katherine Ingram said one missile hit the Muavenet's bridge, an area of the ship that controls navigation, about midnight local time (6 p.m. EDT).

A resulting fire was extinguished in 15 minutes, she said, adding that the ships were about three miles apart when the missiles were accidentally fired.

Boorda said a preliminary investigation was under way and that a formal board of inquiry was expected to be convened.

Crewmen from the Saratoga were dropped onto the stricken ship by helicopter to help with the rescue. A multinational contingent of ships in the region, including the USS Thomas S. Gates and USS Iwo Jima, also sailed to the vessel's aid.

It was not known how many people were aboard the Muavenet, but the ship's full crew numbers 274.

Both ships were taking part in an annual NATO exercise consisting of vessels from the southern NATO region, the Pentagon said. The exercise usually involves the United States, Turkey, Greece and Italy.

U.S. Navy officials were being sent to the Muavenet, a 376-foot, 2,250-ton destroyer, to assess damages and injuries. The USS Belknap, flagship for Adm. William Lopez, commander of the U.S. Navy's 6th Fleet, was headed for the scene.

The Muavenet was formerly the American Robert H. Smith-class destroyer USS Gwin, commissioned in 1944. It was transferred to Turkey in 1971 after having been converted for mine-laying.

The 1,063-foot Saratoga is a conventionally powered aircraft carrier commissioned in 1956. It was among the first class of carriers designed specifically to launch jet aircraft.

The Sea Sparrow missile is a scaled-down version of the Sparrow, which is used on fighter aircraft such as the F-14 and F-15. It is modified for use on board surface ships so it can be launched against attacking aircraft and Cruise missiles.

Unemployment claims reach highest level in six weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) - The number of Americans filing new claims for unemployment benefits climbed to 429,000 in mid-September, the highest level in six weeks, the government reported today.

The jump was blamed in part on higher layoffs in the auto industry and the continued effect of Hurricane Andrew.

The Labor Department said the level of first-time claims rose by 15,000 for the week ending Sept. 19 from a revised level of 414,000 for the previous week.

The latest weekly increase was the fifth in a row and it pushed the jobless claims level to the highest point since Aug. 8, when 474,000 Americans filed first-time claims. That weekly number was skewed by a temporary shutdown of General Motors plants.

Economists said the deterioration in recent weeks reflected a worsening job picture as the weak economy failed to generate enough jobs to take care of new entrants into the labor market.

More bad news was expected Friday when the government reports the unemployment rate for September. In advance of that report, many economists were looking for the jobless rate, at 7.6 percent in August, to climb perhaps as high as 7.8 percent, matching an eight-year high set in June.

The Friday report will be the last release of the most politically sensitive of all the economic statistics before the November election.

The deterioration in labor markets was widespread in mid-September. A total of 44 states and territories reported higher claims levels for the week ending Sept. 19 while only nine reported declines.

The four-week moving average of claims, which helps to smooth out erratic weekly movements in the figures, also rose for the latest week, climbing to 409,000, the highest level since Aug. 29.

The state with the largest number of layoffs was Michigan, where the increase was 11,373, a jump blamed on layoffs in the auto industry, followed by California, which reported an increase of 7,614.

California, a state that has been especially hardhit by the weak economy, blamed the increases on layoffs in the service sector and in aerospace, food processing, farming and manufacturing.

Other states reporting increases of more than 1,000 were New York, up 4,778; Illinois, up 3,613, and Florida, up 2,193, a gain that was blamed in part on disruptions caused by Hurricane Andrew.

Bucking the increases were Ohio, where the level dropped by 2,114, and Louisiana, where an improvement of 2,111 was credited to fewer layoffs in the textile industry.

The nationwide figures are adjusted for normal seasonal variations but the individual state numbers are not.

Red Cross evacuating many former POWs from Sarajevo

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina (AP) - The Red Cross was evacuating hundreds of former prisoners of war to safety in Croatia, and one of the freed POWs described brutal beatings meted out by Serbs in the detention camp he left behind.

Meanwhile, the United States said the airlift to besieged Sarajevo will resume today. A mortar attack killed one person and wounded 10 in the Bosnian capital on Thursday, and heavy fighting flared elsewhere in the republic.

In northern Bosnia, the International Committee of the Red Cross mounted a convoy of 35 buses and ambulances to evacuate more than 1,500 prisoners released from a Serb-run detention camp and escort them to safety in Croatia.

The convoy on Thursday was reported to be moving without incident toward Karlovac, Croatia, and some of the vehicles crossed the border after nightfall, U.N. officials said.

One of the former detainees, Emir Alic, in his mid-20s, said he had seen guards beating numerous prisoners at the Trnopolje camp where he had been held since May 24.

"It's hard to kill someone by beating them, so you can imagine what animals they are," Alic said before police removed an Associated Press reporter from the bus.

The warring factions in Bosnia-Herzegovina agreed at a London peace conference in August to close down detention camps. Pictures of starving inmates and tales of atrocities in some camps shocked the world.

Fighting broke out in Bosnia after Muslims and Croats voted on Feb. 29 to secede from Serbia-led Yugoslavia. Serbs rejected a break with Belgrade, and their armed forces have captured two-thirds of the republic.

International efforts to stop the fighting have so far failed, and attempts to alleviate suffering also have stalled.

In Washington Thursday, Acting U.S. Secretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger said the airlift to besieged Sarajevo will resume Friday after a month's hiatus. He said the warring parties gave "general assurances of free flight, no attack," but there was still concern about forces "who may not be under anyone's control."

In Sarajevo, the Health Ministry said Thursday that 13 people had been killed and 186 wounded in Bosnia-Herzegovina in the previous 24 hours, including two dead and 39 wounded in the capital.

The casualty toll was considerably lower than in recent days. But later Thursday, a mortar attack hit the New Town district, and doctors in Kosevo Hospital reported one dead and 10 wounded.

Heavy fighting erupted in northern Bosnia, according to the Belgrade-based Tanjug news agency. It said Serb forces were trying to widen a corridor connecting Serb-occupied regions in Bosnia and Croatia with Serbia, and there was intense fighting near the towns of Maglaj, Zavidovici and Tesanj.

The Serbian news agency SRNA reported up to 150 Serbs were killed "in the most monstrous way" by Muslim extremists in the western Bosnian city of Bihac on Wednesday. It attributed its report to unidentified U.N. officials and Red Cross officials, but checks with Red Cross offices yielded no confirmation.

Allegations of massacres on both sides occur almost daily in Bosnia. More than 10,000 people have died in the fighting, and more than 1 million have fled their homes, either voluntarily or in the internationally condemned practice of "ethnic cleansing," in which one ethnic group drives another out.

Maximum weekly benefits increased for the jobless

Out-of-work Texans will be glad to know that the maximum weekly benefit amount for unemployment insurance was increased Oct. 1, the Texas Employment Commission announced today.

The maximum weekly benefit payable to unemployed individuals increased from $231 to $245, and the minimum benefit amount goes from $38 to $40 per week of unemployment. The maximum amount is tied to the average weekly earnings of the state's manufacturing production workers.

The TEC is now paying approximately $21 million in regular unemployment benefits each week to Texans who are unemployed through no fault of their own. "Our latest numbers tell us that we are sending these individuals an average of $170 per week for 16 weeks," said Bill Grossenbacher, administrator.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I cannot let your writer's scurrilous attack on hats go unchallenged. He said hats are silly because they make all men look alike. In my opinion, the opposite is true. A hat can make a man look distinctive.

Head coverings have been around since the beginning of time. They are frequently referred to in the Bible and appear on many ancient friezes and statues.

Hats can enhance one's appearance and do "magic" tricks. The right hat can make a round face appear longer and a long face appear rounder. A hat in the appropriate color can improve one's complexion. Hats cover bald spots and unruly hair and can make a person appear taller.

Doctors recommend wearing a hat to protect against skin cancer. In winter, when 80 percent of body heat is lost through the head, hats prevent colds.

Hats can make you look romantic, professional, glamorous, mysterious, exotic or just plain well-dressed. People in the theater, musicians, dancers and the adventurous know the value of a hat for changing roles. Also, a new hat will cheer you up and give you a lift when you are feeling blue.

Celebrate life in a hat. Wearing a hat is a way to show respect, whether for church or synagogue. A hat enhances the occasion whether it is an elegant headdress for the bride, a stunner for the mother of the bride or groom, or a handsome hat for fathers and ushers.

And what about hat language? How many hat expressions are there? The list is endless. Here are a few: "I'll eat my hat," "pass the hat," "You're talking through your hat," "He wears two hats," "Here's your hat," "What's your hurry?" "It's old hat," "To pull something out of a hat," "The plan got knocked into a cocked hat," and on and on.

Hat names are famous: the Fedora from the French play by Sardou; the Boater, or Skimmer, named after the famous boat racers who wear them at Oxford and Cambridge; the Derby named after Lord Derby.

Long live hats! And hats off to you, Ann Landers. You're great!—Gilda Haber, Silver Spring, Md.

DEAR GILDA: Keep this under your hat, but when I was a bride, my husband was in the ladies millinery business. We had hamburgers and macaroni for supper many a night, but I had the most elegant (and expensive) hats in town. (Free samples from the wholesalers, of course).

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently, as I sat in a nearby mall and ate my lunch, I noticed a blind man standing next to a table, shaking nervously, practically in tears. His lunch was on the table, but his drink had spilled all over the floor.

When I realized what had happened, I started to get up to help him, but four teen-agers beat me to it. Within minutes, he was seated in his chair, two of the teens were wiping up the soda with paper napkins and another was going off to get him a new soda.

Whoever says the youth in this country is going downhill needs to open their eyes and look around at all the good things young people are doing these days. My eyes are open, and they are filled with tears of joy.—L.S., Arlington, Va.

DEAR L.S.: Thanks for a letter in praise of teenagers. We hear so much teen bashing, it's a pleasure to print something positive. There are a lot of terrific young people out there and they deserve to be recognized. I'm glad you wrote.

JV halts Lobos in 2nd half; Sophomores roll

Hereford's junior varsity football team outscored the Levelland JV 12-0 in the second half for a 25-18 victory, leading a successful Thursday night of sub-varsity football action.

The varsity plays at 7:30 tonight at Levelland.

Herd JV 25, Levelland JV 18

In Hereford, the teams traded touchdowns in the first half. Hereford quarterback Stacey Sanders found Hayden Andrews for a six-yard touchdown pass. The try for two points failed, and the game was tied at 6-6.

In the second quarter, Chris Vallejo scored from four yards out and Ray Hastings kicked the extra point for a 13-12 lead.

Levelland scored just before the half. Hereford was guilty of a roughing-the-punter penalty, extending the Lobos' drive. On the next play, Levelland executed a 40-yard pass which led to a touchdown and an 18-13 lead.

In the second half, Hereford controlled the ball and scored twice: once on a four-yard pass from Sanders to Andrews to give Hereford the lead, and once on a five-yard run by Vallejo.

Hereford's defense didn't give Levelland much at all.

"They didn't get past the 50-yard line," defensive coach Ron Young said. "What contributed to that was the offense. They (Levelland) only had the ball two times.

"We made some adjustments defensively on the option that they scored on," Young said. "Levelland couldn't handle the adjustment."

"I was real proud of these kids, the way they battled back," offensive coach Craig Yenser said. "We've steadily improved on offense each week. They've got a lot of confidence in themselves."

Herd sophomores 58, Friona JV 6

The junior Chieftains only brought a few more than 11 players to Hereford and were blown out in the final three quarters. Hereford led only 8-6 at the end of the first quarter, but then added 16 points in the second and third quarters and 20 in the fourth quarter.

Hereford scored eight touchdowns and made two-point conversions after five of them. Marc Haney and Jacob Lopez scored two TDs apiece, and Lopez also had a two point conversion. Also scoring touchdowns were Michael Brown, Louis Hernandez, Richard Hicks and Moses Ruiz. Hicks added two two-point conversions, and Brown and Freddie Valdez each had one.

Hereford ninth Maroon 34, Tascosa Red 12

In Hereford, Armando Zambrano and Joe Ricenbaw each scored two touchdowns to lead the Maroon.

Hereford led 21-0 on Zambrano's seven-yard run, Ricenbaw's 30-yard run, Wade McPherson's one-yard run. Zambrano kicked an extra point, and Hereford also got a safety when Tascosa snapped the ball out of the end zone.

Tascosa got six points, then Zambrano ran for a 15-yard score, Ricenbaw ran 40 yards for a TD and Zambrano tacked on the extra point. Tascosa scored last to get into double figures.

In the B game, J.J. Ellis ran one yard on the last play of the game to tie the score at 6-6. The extra-point run was stopped.

Amarillo High Gold 21, Hereford ninth White 14

Amarillo High scored all 21 of its points in the first half to take the victory in Amarillo.

Todd Dudley threw two touchdown passes: one a 80-yard screen pass to Marquise Brown, and the other a 30-yard throw to Ronald Torres.

Tip drill

Not much went right for Friona's junior varsity in its 58-6 loss to Hereford's sophomores Thursday in Whiteface Stadium. In a way, this was one of the good things: Hereford's Jason Eades (88) tipped this Friona pass, but neither he nor Tony Rios (40) could intercept the ball.

Junior golf tourney is Monday

The Hereford Junior City Golf Tournament will be held Monday, according to Dave Kaesheimer, Pitman Municipal Golf Course pro.

Entry fee is $10 for the tourney.

Interested golfers should sign up this week.

The tourney will be open to boys and girls in three age divisions: 12 and under, 13-14 and 15-18. Call the pro shop for more information.

NCAA hits Syracuse with probation plus sanctions

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) - Syracuse's string of 22 consecutive postseason appearances will end as the result of sanctions imposed by the NCAA, but a bigger worry for basketball coach Jim Boeheim are the penalties listed as "additional actions."

As punishment for widespread violations, the NCAA announced Thursday that it has placed Syracuse's athletic programs on probation for two years and banned the men's basketball team from the NCAA national championship tournament in 1993.

"Everybody's going to talk about the NCAA tournament, which we are extremely disappointed not to be in," Boeheim said at a news conference with Syracuse chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw and athletic director Jake Crouthamel. "But that doesn't hurt the basketball program in any real sense."

More painful, he said, are the recruiting limitations placed on the

Daly improves after ignoring driving range

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) - If John Daly's new style continues to be successful, fans can forget about crowding around the driving range just to watch one of the PGA Tour's longest hitters in action.

He won't be there.

Daly bypassed the driving range last week and captured the B.C. Open, his first victory since winning the 1991 PGA Championship. He avoided the driving range again Thursday and gained a share of the lead with a 5-under-par 67 in the opening round of the Southern Open.

"It seems like all year long I'd get on the driving range and it's just that wide open space and I'm trying to hit it as hard as I can and it's been throwing me off a lot," Daly said. "I just decided last week that I'm not going to the driving range."

Daly shared the first-round lead with Ed Humenik, Kelly Gibson, Ed Fiori and rookie Robert Friend.

Phil Mickelson, who had five birdies and one bogey on the 7,057-yard, par-72 Mountain View Golf Course at Callaway Gardens, was tied at 68 with Gary Hallberg, who missed a share of the lead when he bogeyed the 17th.

Eight others were two shots off the pace at 69 - E.J. Pfister, Tommy Armour III, Kenny Perry, Neal Lancaster, Jim Gallagher Jr., Emlyn Aubrey, Tom Seickmann and Mike Smith.

Scott Simpson was among 10 golfers at 70, and included in a group of 30 at 71 were Ben Crenshaw, Wayne Levi and Larry Nelson.

British Open champion Ian Baker-Finch and Payne Stewart were in a group at 72, and Davis Love III shot 73.

Brewers must win rest of games to win division

By The Associated Press
The Milwaukee Brewers figure they need a four-game winning streak to have a realistic chance of catching Toronto in the AL East pennant race. They also figure they are just the team to do that, with eight four-game winning streaks this season before a seven-game run ended this week. "We're still right there," manager Phil Garner said after a 7-2, 10-inning victory over Seattle Thursday night. "This was a game we had to have and we got it. This was the first of four straight games we've got to win and we're the best four-game winning streak team in baseball."

The Brewers, who trail the Blue Jays by two games with three to play, beat the Mariners for the second time in three nights with five runs in the 10th, sparked by B.J. Surhoff's two-run double. The Brewers have three games left at Oakland, while Toronto plays host to Detroit for three games at the SkyDome.

Bill Wegman (13-14) pitched a four-hit complete game for the Brewers, retiring the last 13 Mariners. Milwaukee loaded the bases in the 10th when Jeff Nelson (1-7) walked Greg Vaughn, Franklin Stubbs singled and Kevin Seitzer was safe when the Mariners tried to catch Vaughn at third. Juan Agosto then came in and gave up Surhoff's double.

Bill Spiers suicide squeeze scored Seitzer before Darryl Hamilton singled in the final two runs for the Brewers, giving him three RBIs for the game.

Dann Howitt put Seattle ahead with a two-run homer in the fifth inning off Wegman. The Brewers tied the score 2-2 in the seventh on Pat Listach's RBI single and Hamilton's RBI triple.

Rangers 4, Athletics 3
Oakland lost for only the fourth time in Dennis Eckersley's 68 appearances when Jeff Frye hit a run-scoring single in the ninth inning for Texas. With one out in the ninth, Geno Petralli reached second when A's center fielder Willie Wilson dropped a line drive for an error. Eckersley relieved losing pitcher Vince Horsman (2-1) and issued an intentional walk to Kevin Reimer.

Frye then connected for a solid single down the left field line, scoring pinch-runner Jeff Huson easily with the go-ahead run.

Rafael Palmeiro and Juan Gonzalez homered for Texas. Gonzalez pulled ahead of Oakland's Mark McGwire for the major league homer lead with 42.

Twins 9, White Sox 6
Kirby Puckett, who said he will file for free agency after the World Series, hit two RBI singles in what might have been his final home game with Minnesota.

Chili Davis and Pedro Munoz homered on consecutive pitches in a five-run eighth.

Carl Willis (7-3) got the victory despite allowing Frank Thomas' RBI single that gave the White Sox a 6-4 lead in the eighth. Rick Aguilera got the final three outs for his 41st save.

Orioles 3, Indians 2
Mike Devereaux tied the score with a two-run homer with two outs in the ninth inning, then Glenn Davis won it for Baltimore with another homer, on Eric Plunk's first pitch in the 10th. Mike Mussina (18-5) scattered 12

Cleveland hits in nine innings for the victory. Gregg Olson pitched the 10th for his 36th save.

Devereaux's two-run homer off Plunk (9-5) with two outs in the ninth was only the fourth hit for the Orioles. Brady Anderson singled with one out before Devereaux connected for his 24th homer.

Dennis Cook yielded one hit in seven shutout innings for the Indians.

Angels 5, Royals 2
Chuck Finley won his third straight decision and Luis Sojo and Junior Felix drove in two runs apiece. Finley (7-12) allowed eight hits in seven innings.

Braves tuning up for postseason

By TOM SALADINO
AP Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) - With Tommy Gregg providing an unlikely blow, Bobby Cox's game plan worked perfectly as the NL West champion Atlanta Braves tuned up for the playoffs.

Gregg led off the 10th inning with his first home run of the season to give the Braves a 6-5 victory over the San Francisco Giants. In Thursday night's only other games, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 4-2 and San Diego beat Houston 3-2.

Gregg's homer off Mike Jackson (6-6) came in his only at-bat of the game after he replaced left fielder Ron Gant in the eighth inning. It gave the Braves their 95th victory of the season, tying the franchise mark set by Milwaukee in 1957.

Steve Avery made his final regular-season start before pitching next Wednesday in Game 2 of the playoffs against Pittsburgh.

"It was a perfect tuneup for Avery and the relievers," Cox said. "It worked out well."

Cox was able to rest most of his regulars and got one inning of relief each from Mark Wohlers, Mike Stanton, Jeff Reardon and Marvin Freeman. Freeman (7-5) picked up the victory with a scoreless 10th.

For the Braves, Deion Sanders, making his first start since Aug. 30, had a pair of hits to raise his average to .308, scored twice and stole his 26th base.

Sanders, the two-sport star who will play exclusively for the Braves during the playoffs, practiced earlier in the day with the NFL Falcons.

John Burkett started for the Giants and gave up nine hits and five runs while striking out a season-high eight in six innings. The Braves got three runs on four hits in the first inning.

Padres 3, Astros 2
In Houston, Greg Harris allowed three hits in seven innings and Fred McGriff drove in two runs with his NL-leading 35th home run.

Harris (4-8) struck out two and walked two. Randy Myers got the final four outs for his 38th save. McGriff's homer gave the Padres a 2-0 lead in the fourth and Craig Shipley's RBI double made it 3-1 in the eighth. Houston's Jeff Bagwell had an RBI single in the fourth and his 18th homer in the ninth.

Dodgers 4, Reds 2
In Cincinnati, Kevin Gross broke a string of three no-decisions and Mike Piazza drove in two runs.

Gross (8-13) won by holding the Reds to a pair of runs on nine hits over 6 1-3 innings.

John Candelaria got out of a bases-loaded threat in the seventh inning and added a perfect eighth to preserve a 4-2 lead. Jay Howell pitched the ninth for his fourth save.

Piazza doubled in the second and scored on Billy Ashley's two-out double. He added a two-run single in the Dodgers' three-run third.

Raiders excited about playing No. 5 Aggies

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Tech Red Raiders are in position to do further damage to the Southwest Conference's already soiled image.

A victory over No. 5 Texas A&M in College Station on Saturday would dim the brightest star of the league. Tech coach Spike Dykes, however, isn't making any bold predictions.

"This is one of those games where we could go play a good game and not even come close," Dykes said. "But our guys are excited about getting in there with one of the top four or five teams in the nation and finding out what it's all about."

The Raiders (2-2) beat Baylor last week, but they'll be 15 1/2 point underdogs when they face the Aggies, who have a 14-0-1 streak going at Kyle Field, where they haven't lost since 1989.

Baylor is a 14-point favorite to end Southern Methodist's three-game winning streak; Texas is a six-point favorite over Rice; Texas Christian is a two-point favorite over Oklahoma State and Houston is favored by 23 points over Southwestern Louisiana.

The Raiders need a near-perfect performance against the Aggies, Dykes said.

"When they beat our brains out it's usually because we turned the ball over," Dykes said. "We've got to play error-free football against a team that usually forced you to make mistakes."

The Aggies will have to contain multi-talented Raider quarterback Robert Hall, a threat both passing or running the option.

"He's a good quarterback," Aggie linebacker Marcus Buckley said. "He flies around and he'll probably break a couple of runs. We just have to play good technique with everybody doing his job."

"You should be able to contain him but he's capable of breaking out."

The Longhorns have a 26-game winning streak over the Owls, the longest in SWC history. It's not something Rice coach Fred Goldsmith likes to discuss.

"I never mention it to our club, we just talk about playing Texas," Goldsmith said.

And he's very complimentary of the Longhorns.

"They could be 3-0 if they had played North Texas first," Goldsmith said. "They would have beaten Mississippi State if they'd played them last week and they took a good Syracuse team down to the wire."

Texas coach John Mackovic says the Owls will have added versatility with Bert Emanuel at quarterback, replacing injured Josh LaRocca.

"They haven't lost much with Bert Emanuel at quarterback," Mackovic said. "He's a different kind of player. With his 4.5 speed you know your option is an important part of their offense."

Houston was thrashed 61-7 by Michigan a week ago. The Cougars should be back on all cylinders by Saturday night's kickoff against Southwestern Louisiana.

SMU will play the game with as many as 15 players suspended for the game because they sold their textbooks to other students rather than returning them to the athletic department.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff won't rely on the incident helping the Bears.

"It doesn't have anything to do with our game plan or their preparedness," Teaff said. "Our preparation is for a 3-1 team that beat TCU. That's the way we have to do it because their confidence level is so high."

After several years of less than spectacular largemouth bass fishing, the conditions at Lake Meredith are now perfect for improving the fishing. Please consider the following information.

Fact 1: Because of mild winters during 1990 and 1991, the populations of baitfish are at an historical high.

Fact 2: After three years of unusually stable water levels, the supply of underwater plant growth and shoreline cattails are at an all-time high.

Fact 3: In June, the unusually heavy rains caused a six-foot rise in the lake level, which flooded 1,000 acres of prime largemouth bass habitat. Meredith now has flooded laydown logs, underwater stumps and, best of all, lots of perfect hiding places for black bass.

The only problem is that those wonderful rains came after the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department had depleted their 1992 supply of bass, and the number of mature bass in Meredith was at an historical low.

Concerned anglers have a choice. We can wait until spring of 1993 and hope TPW will stock some 1 1/4-inch-long bass. We can then hope that some of these tiny bass will escape hungry perch, sandbass, walleye and smallmouth bass. In three or four years, we will know if the fishing improves. (Note: I am assured that TPW will stock some bass unless the lake level is falling or something happens to their hatchery.)

We can do something now. Following the example at Ute Lake, a mid-October stocking of three-six-inch largemouth bass could be placed in Lake Meredith. TPW has given verbal permission for a fall stocking of bass, if interested anglers can raise the money.

Think about it. 1,000 acres of mossbeds, newly flooded cattails and lots of laydown log jams. The only thing missing is a healthy supply of good-sized bass that could be feeding on the abundant baitfish.

If you send money, we will stock bass in Meredith. The people who provide the bass for New Mexico, Dunn Fish Farms, have agreed to do a stocking at Lake Meredith. One dollar will buy three fish. The goal is to raise at least $5,000 and stock 15,000 largemouth bass. Will you help?

Option No. 1--How many bass do you want to catch at Lake Meredith during the next two years? If your goal is 60 bass, then send $20. For better fishing, send a larger donation.

Option No. 2--How much extra did you spend on your last fishing trip because you had to drive out-of-state or down-state? If it costs you an extra $50 for gas and a cheap motel room, then send $50 and next year start catching bass at Meredith.

Option No. 3--Send the entire $5,000, and we will name a section of the newly flooded lake in your honor.

Donations may be sent to Bass-in-Lake-Meredith; Southwest Outdoors; 3214 S. Parker; Amarillo, Texas 79109.

SYRACUSE

13-month investigation. "But for their cooperation, their penalty would have been much greater," said David Swank, dean of the University of Oklahoma Law School and chairman of the committee.

Syracuse could have been banned from live television appearances, he said.

Syracuse chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw said the university would accept the penalties.

Swank said NCAA investigators uncovered no wrongdoing that the university's own probe did not detail. Among the violations, which the university termed "minor," it was reported that boosters gave players cash, free housing, meals, legal advice and other benefits.

Regarding the basketball program, the Infractions Committee determined "there were repeated and conscious efforts by representatives of the university's athletic interests to gain recruiting and competitive advantages for the men's basketball program."

As a result, Syracuse loses a scholarship in 1993-94 and 1994-95.

In addition, the NCAA banned the men's basketball coaches from off-campus recruiting from Jan. 1-June 30, 1993. For the rest of the year, only one coach at a time will be allowed to recruit off campus.

The number of expense-paid visits by recruits to the university also was reduced from 15 to nine from Nov. 13, 1992, until Nov. 12, 1993. For the following year, Syracuse will be allowed 13 recruiting visits.

Boehm said although he cannot be held accountable for everything, he agreed the ultimate responsibility for the team was his.

Boehm is the winningest coach in Syracuse history with a record of 391-124. During his 16 years as coach, Syracuse has been to nine straight NCAA tournaments and 14 appearances overall. They were national runners-up to Indiana in 1987.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: My wonderful silver Persian cat, Sasha, almost suffocated when he stuck his ever-curious snout down into a sandwich-sized plastic bag. He attempted to retrieve a bite of a sandwich when the bag instantly adhered itself to his nostrils, and he couldn't scratch it off.

Luckily, I was sitting right next to him and was able to snatch the potentially lethal bag off his nose, and he calmly polished off the bit of sandwich.

Now I cut up all throwaway plastic bags as well as plastic six-pack rings. I also roll up used dental floss, knot it and tape it up inside a piece of masking tape. My seven silver furies are worth the extra effort. — Alexis Lee, New Orleans, La.

I'm sure glad Sasha is OK! It certainly is worth the extra effort, not only for pets and small children, but also for wildlife when trash gets dumped into a landfill. — Heloise

PET PALS

Dear Heloise: My friends were constantly leaving messages on my answering machine and I wasn't receiving them. One day I decided to let the phone ring and see why the machine didn't work.

When a friend called and left a message, my cat sat by the phone and listened. As the machine began to click at the end of the message, B.D., my cat, reached up and swatted the rewind button. She seemed to know exactly which button to push. Imagine my surprise when I saw B.D. erase the message!

Now I keep the answering machine covered with a plastic laundry basket in order to get all my messages. B.D. hasn't figured out how to lift it up yet, but I'm sure that's next! — Hilda Barreda, San Antonio, Texas

Lay readers from St. Thomas will officiate at the Wednesday service of evening prayer and the Litany of Healing at 7 p.m. The public is invited to participate in this and all activities at St. Thomas. Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BORN TO THE PURPLE

THE COLOR THAT DENOTES ROYALTY IN ANCIENT AND IN MODERN TIMES IS PURPLE. POSSIBLY THIS IS SO BECAUSE ANYTHING PURPLE WAS COSTLY AND CONSEQUENTLY ITS USE WAS THE PRIVILEGE OF THE WEALTHY AND THE HIGHLY PLACED. RICH CLOTHES OF PURPLE WERE USED AS COVERING FOR THE SEATS OF PRINCELY PALANQUINS AS NOTED IN THE SONGS OF SOLOMON (CHAP. 3:9,10), ALSO FOR THE DECK AWNING ON LUXURIOUS SHIPS AS NOTED IN EZEKIEL (CH. 27:7), ALSO FOR THE DRAPERY OF MANY IDOLS OF THE HEATHEN AND FOR THE HANGINGS IN THE TABERNACLES AND THE GARMENTS OF THE HIGH PRIESTS. THE PURPLE DYE WAS OBTAINED FROM VARIOUS KINDS OF SHELLFISH, THE AMOUNT YIELDED BY EACH FISH WAS VERY SMALL SO THAT MUCH LABOR WAS REQUIRED TO COLLECT A QUANTITY OF THE STUFF WHICH MADE THE PRICE CORRESPONDINGLY GREAT. SO THE SAYING "BORN TO THE PURPLE" REALLY DID SIGNIFY A PERSON'S HIGH ESTATE.
