Senate okays $1.2 billion school bill

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Senate defied a veto threat from Gov. Bill Clements by approving a school finance reform bill that would pump an additional $1.2 billion in state money into public education next school year.

"I think it's an extremely responsible bill... It addresses the needs that we all know are there," said Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

The Senate passed the bill on a voice vote Monday, after senators and Hobby met as a committee and approved the measure 23-9. The measure now goes to the House, which is to take up its own $450 million reform bill Wednesday.

Hobby predicted the Senate and House bills will end up in a conference committee late this week to work out differences.

The Senate also approved and sent to the House on a 31-0 vote a proposed constitutional amendment to provide $200 million in state bonds for school district construction needs.

The Legislature is meeting in special session to address a Texas Supreme Court ruling that the school finance system is unconstitutional because of disparities between property-rich and -poor school districts. The $13.5 billion-a-year public school system relies on a combination of state aid, local property taxes and some federal funds.

Gov. Clements, saying he will not allow a state tax increase, has promised to veto the $1.2 billion Senate reform legislation if it reaches his desk. The Republican governor wants to spend no more than $300 million in new state money on schools in 1990-91, because he said that amount could be covered without new state taxes.

Senators voting against the bill were Teel Bivins, R-Amarrillo; J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson; Chet Edwards, D-Duncanville; O.H. "Ike" Harris, R-Dallas; Don Henderson, R-Houston; John Leedom, R-Dallas; Bob McFarland, R-Arlington; Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant; and Bill Sims, D-San Angelo. Edwards called the bill's price tag "a little bit unrealistic."

But Sen. Carl Parker, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said the bill would be "a giant step forward" for education.

"Everybody's looking at the price tag of this bill. What we really need is a fiscal impact statement on the cost of ignorance," said Parker, D-Port Arthur. "We will spend more money than this, in a shorter period of time, incarcerating citizens who dropped out of school because they didn't have the innovative programs."

More than 40 amendments to the Senate bill were considered, but sponsors beat back most major changes.

Among provisions added were a $45 million allotment this fiscal year to address higher-than-expected student enrollment; a $9.1 million allocation for alcohol and drug intervention; and an allowance for school districts whose student population declines due to a military base personnel reduction or closing.

The Senate measure would raise the basic allotment per student from $1,477 to $1,910, with a local property tax of 54 cents per $100 valuation. It would guarantee school districts an additional $22 per student per penny, up to 47 cents more.

Among other items, the bill also would:

- Establish special funds for technology, tuition assistance and facilities.
- Give the education commissioner authority to sanction an academically unaccredited school district by annexing it to an adjoining district, or creating a management team to operate the district for up to three years. If annexation were called for, an amendment to the bill would require approval by the receiving district.

- Authorize the state comptroller to periodically review the effectiveness and efficiency of local school districts.

- Provide for exemptions from certain state-adopted rules for school campuses that are rated "exemplary" under accreditation standards.

A debate was sparked over whether school districts should get extra money for vocational education in grades 7 and 8, as they do under current law. The bill would allow the extra funding only in grades 9-12, despite a strong effort by Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, to keep the additional money for the lower grades.

"A good technical-vocational education program... has saved a lot of youngsters and kept them in school" by giving them a taste of success, said Brooks. Senators first approved the extra 7th and 8th grade vocational funding, then took it out at Parker's urging.

City studies offer of donated land

BY CINDY POTTORFF
Staff Writer

Marn and Knocky Tyler offered to donate half a block of land located at the corner of 13th and Avenue F to the city at Monday's City Commission meeting.

"You can make a park out of it or do anything you want with it," Knocky told the commission.

"I don't know if the city wants it or not," said city attorney Earnest Langley.

"The city's missing an opportunity here," said Davis Ford. "These people want to donate some land. I think the city could benefit out of it if the city would just see this as an opportunity."

"The city could turn around and sell that property for a bargain basement rate," Ford continued. Offer these lots for free to someone who will build a house or move a house in. That's going to increase your tax revenue, remove an eyesore, and create a lot of economic development with this situation."

The city has condemned the property, which has seven houses on it.

The Tylers have had problems with extensive vandalism to the houses, amounting to $93,000 over the last four years, according to Knocky. When the houses have been marked as condemned, the problem has extended to theft.

Mayor Wes Fisher said, "If you're serious, I think we ought to look into it."

"I'm serious," Knocky replied. "Look into it because it's yours if you want it."

The commission decided to look into accepting the land from the Tylers.

The city accepted a bid for $11,800 to buy a used truck. The bid was awarded to Whiteface Ford, the low bidder.

An ordinance setting up a Golf Advisory Board was passed by the commission.

The board will be composed of five members, all qualified voters of the city. Two places will be filled by the presidents of the Men's Golf Association and the Ladies Golf Association. The three other members of the board will be appointed by the City Commission.

The board will serve to advise the Golf Professional, recommend rules and rule changes for the golf course to the city commission, bring complaints to the Golf Professional, and make recommendations and suggestions to the Golf Professional on improvements that could be made to the golf course.

Commissioners passed a resolution correcting the city's tax rolls.

Mauri Montgomery, head of the Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee, was unable to attend Monday's meeting. Within the next month or so, he will report to the City Commission. Commissioners Silvana Juarez and Paul Hamilton are on the city's parks committee.

Hospital board recruits doctor, calls for election

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN
Editor-Publisher

Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors Monday called an election for four board members and approved a contract with a doctor who will be coming here in June.

With the hospital board being increased from six to seven members, four directors will be elected for two-year terms in the May 5 election. Terms of three directors expire--Frank Zinser, Margie Ford and Craig Smith.

Candidates for the board need to secure a petition with the signatures of 25 registered voters. Deadline for petitions is April 4. Absentee voting will be at the county clerk's office

April 16, through May 1.

The new doctor is a specialist in urology and will be moving here from New York. He plans a visit here the week of April 7 to make arrangements for his relocation. The hospital contract guarantees the doctor a minimum income of $150,000 a year.

Dr. Tim Revell presented a resolution from the medical staff concerning compensation for doctors accepting emergency room calls. The resolution seeks compensation for doctors on call when there is no ER physician on duty. The board briefly discussed the issue and tabled it until next month.

February was not a good financial month for the hospital, as the operations report indicated a loss of $111,717. Administrator Gary Moore pointed out that no Medicare payments were received during the month.

Patient admissions for February totaled 174, compared to 211 for the same month a year ago. The average daily census was 20.4. There were 68 surgical procedures, compared to 58 a year ago. Outpatient visits were 484, up from 366 last year, and emergency room visits were 513 as compared with 518 in February 1989.

The board also discussed the increase in minimum wage, from 3.35 to 3.85 on April 1. Moore reported that 15 employees were making $3.85 or less per hour, and 22 were at $4.25 or less. The board agreed with Moore that those just above the new minimum should probably have a slight salary increase.

Directors attending the monthly meeting were Ralph Detten, president; Margie Ford, Dr. Nadir Khuri, Craig Smith, Frank Zinser and Raymond Schroeder.

Gorbachev plans economic reforms

MOSCOW (AP) - President Mikhail S. Gorbachev will implement a drastic economic reforms in July that include selling state-owned enterprises and overhauling government-set prices to reflect market forces, media reports said.

The package of 17 measures, aimed at ending a dire economic crisis, is expected to be painful and unpopular, the Interfax news agency said.

The agency also quoted a close aide to Gorbachev as saying the crisis is so profound that the Soviet Union might no longer object to massive foreign aid. Soviet officials previously have appeared offended when Western officials raised the possibility of aid.

"I would like to underline that such aid would be in the interests of not only the Soviet Union, but of the entire world community. Western countries included. But they do not seem to be fully aware of that," said the aide, economist Nikolai Petrakov.

Last month, Petrakov revealed that the Soviet leadership had dropped its long opposition to private ownership of factories.

After his inauguration to the powerful new presidency on Thursday, Gorbachev said he was planning harsh economic reforms that would require great sacrifices. Western analysts speculated that Gorbachev felt he needed the enhanced power of the new post before going too far ahead with a program that could provoke serious unrest.

Economists say the Soviet economy suffers from too much money in the hands of the people, who have nothing to spend it on.

Central economic planning has proved a failure, and the people want for food and consumer goods of decent quality. Prices are set by central planners and many are unrealistically low, with state subsidies for housing, transport and essential consumer items.

Interfax said in its report Monday that the reform package would take effect July 1 and provide for the selling off of many government-owned factories. It said another aspect was a plan for making the ruble convertible.

Deaf Smith pioneer dies, rites Thursday

Ethel Fay Womble, 84, longtime schoolteacher and daughter of a local pioneer, died Monday afternoon at Westgate Nursing Home after a lengthy illness.

Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Ron Cook, pastor, and the Rev. Paul Land, pastor of First Christian Church in Canyon, officiating. According to Miss Womble's wishes, her remains have been bequeathed to the School of Medicine at Texas Tech University.

Miss Womble was born June 23, 1905, in the family home on 25 Mile Avenue. She was the fourth daughter of Troy and Sallie Womble, who were among the first families to settle in Deaf Smith County. Her father moved here from Tennessee in 1891 and established one of the community's first permanent residences.

After attending Hereford schools, Miss Womble obtained her teaching certificate in 1923. During 45 years of teaching, 32 were spent in local public classrooms. She began her teaching career at small rural schools in the communities of Kimball, Bethel, Wyche and Flagg. During the 1930s, Miss Womble worked as an elementary school teacher in Dimmitt, where she also served as sponsor of the high school girls' basketball team. In 1938, she received her bachelor of science degree from West Texas State University. She obtained her master of arts degree from WTSU in 1951.

Miss Womble was hired to teach by the local school district in 1938 and her first position was at Central School, at that time Hereford's only elementary school. During her career, she taught the intermediate grades of

Walker feted with shower

Cherie Dawn Walker was feted with a bridal shower Saturday, March 17, in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Allen, 516 Sycamore Lane.

The honoree and Todd Weaver of Lubbock plan to exchange nuptials Saturday, March 25, in Park Avenue Church of Christ.

Guests were greeted by the honoree; her mother, Mrs. Wayne Walker; and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Key Crawford. Special guests included the bride-elect's grandmothers, Mrs. Margaret Walker and Mrs. Donna Rowe, both of Hereford.

The refreshment table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and decorated with a silk floral centerpiece designed in the honoree's chosen colors of ivory, mauve and royal blue. The table was also enhanced by a crystal punch service. Refreshment included mints, nuts and a cake which was decorated with the portrait of the honoree trimmed in her chosen colors and accented with silver and gold wedding bands.

Out of town guests represented Lubbock.

Serving as hostesses were Mmes. Lawrence Allen, Gerald Martin, Murlene Streun, Joe Artho, Thomas Weemes, Bobby Paetzold, Scott Turner and Julius Bodner.

The youngest individual Olympic winner was American Marjorie Gestring who took the springboard diving title at the age of 13 years 268 days at the 1936 Olympics.

No Olympic Games were held in 1916, 1940 or 1944 because of World Wars I and II.

The first mailboxes were erected in Paris in 1653. However, messengers, fearful of their livelihood, put mice in the boxes to destroy the mail.

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held for Cherie Dawn Walker March 17 in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Allen. The honoree and Todd Weaver of Lubbock plan to wed Saturday, March 25, in Park Avenue Church of Christ of Hereford. Welcoming guests with Miss Walker are, from left, her mother, Mrs. Wayne Walker, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Key Crawford.

Casserole sale March 24

Texas CattleWomen Association will be celebrating National Ag Week with a beef casserole sale Saturday, March 24, at Furr's Supermarket and Moore's Jack and Jill from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Booths will be set up and all members will be making two beef casserole dishes for the sale.

The casserole sale is the main fundraiser for the Hereford CattleWomen and proceeds will be used to send a representative to the Texas Beef

Cook Off and the Texas CattleWomen Association Convention.

This year Lori Hall and Karen Keeling will be representing the local association at the convention. Donations of beef certificates are also presented to the Hereford Senior Citizens twice a year.

Council completes 37 projects

The Hereford High School Student Council has completed 37 projects for the 1989-90 school year. These projects culminate a year filled with activities which should earn HHS an outstanding student council award.

Beginning in October, the student council observed Energy Education Month. They interviewed James Hull, manager of Deaf Smith Electric Coop about energy usage and posted energy information in the library and on student council bulletin boards.

In addition, officers interviewed Richard Souter, assistant superintendent for business, about energy usage in the high school building. This information was shared with the administration, teachers and students at HHS. The student council then initiated a project to post laminated light bulbs at each light switch in the high school building reminding all to "Don't Keep Me Burnin."

Most recently, student council has completed a project on safety encouraging students to wear seat belts. Student council members conducted a seat belt survey during February at the speech tournament and mailed the survey to all 17 schools who participated in the survey. Then, a display was setup in the HHS library with material on safety at school and at home. Students were encouraged by student council members to take the questionnaires and then check themselves on their Safety IQ.

Also, for national recognition, student council members conducted two separate surveys of drivers to achieve status as one of President Bush's "70 Percent Honor Roll" schools. This survey is a visual survey conducted randomly to observe percentages of drivers actually wearing seat belts. President Bush's goal is to have 70 percent of drivers wearing seat belts by 1992.

Herd netters claim DSCCCI tennis team championship

By SAM W. WALLER
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whiteface tennis team ran into a series of roadblocks Saturday morning in the third round of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational tournament when all six entries in the semifinals were defeated, but the Herd netters had already clinched the overall team championship by having that many in the semis to begin with.

Hereford finished with 91 points in the team standings, well ahead of Amarillo High, which was second at 78.

The Herd faced close races in the boys' and girls' team standings, with the girls beating Perryton 50-49 while the boys were edged 43-41 by Amarillo High.

The semifinal losses turned the third-place matches in girls' singles and boys' and girls' doubles into all-Hereford affairs.

No. 1 seed Kristie Allison, who lost a 5-7, 7-6, 7-6 war with Amarillo High's Justine Smith in the semis, downed teammate Brenna Reinauer 6-2, 6-4 in girls' singles. Reinauer was beaten in the semifinals by second seed Christi Freeman of Perryton.

Smith, seeded third, knocked off Freeman 5-7, 6-0, 6-2 in the girls' singles championship.

In girls' doubles, top seeds Misty Reed and Gina Alley were dumped by Pampa's Heather Gikas and Allison Thompson, the tourney's No. 3 team, 6-4, 6-3 to set up a match with teammates and fourth seeds Trisha Munoz and Robyn Sublett. Munoz and Sublett had been beaten by second seeds Mary Betty and Tracy Whittenburg of Perryton 7-6, 1-6, 7-6 in the morning match.

Reed and Alley took third place with a 6-4, 6-1 decision while Gikas-Thompson claimed the championship 6-1, 6-2.

In boys' doubles, fourth seeds Eric Cortez and Torey Sellers fell to second seeds James Nickerson and Joe Hair of Amarillo High 6-2, 6-1 while the top-seeded team of Perryton's Brad Butler and Kemi Thomas topped the Herd's Randy Robbins and Jeff Eades 6-3, 6-1 in semifinal action.

Cortez-Sellers beat Robbins-Eades 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 for third while Nickerson-Hair pulled off an upset in the championship 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Clovie's third-seeded Tye Harmon claimed the boys' singles title with a 6-1, 6-0 pasting of No. 2 seed Jody Arrington of Plainview in the only division that did not have a semifinalist from Hereford.

The Herd's entries in the class, Jamie Kapka and Greg Coplen, met for seventh place with Kapka taking a 6-4, 7-5 win.

Both suffered third-round losses in the consolation bracket, Coplen to third-seed Fitz Moles of Borger 6-2, 6-4 and Kapka to Pampa's Judson Eddins, 7-6, 7-5.

After taking this week off from University Interscholastic League play (several team members are scheduled to compete in USTA tournaments to qualify for state-wide age group rankings), the Herd netters will make up a rained-out dual match with Amarillo High at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at Whiteface Courts. The team will resume tournament play March 30-31 at the Borger Invitational Tournament.

Cocked and ready

Kristie Allison of the Hereford Whiteface tennis team prepares to unleash a backhand Saturday during her 5-7, 7-6, 7-6 semifinal loss to Amarillo High's Justine Smith in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational.

Herd thinclads take 6th at Canyon Reef

The Hereford Whiteface track and field team scored 37 points Saturday at the Canyon Reef Relays in Snyder to finish sixth in an eight-team field dominated by Class 5A schools Odessa Permian, Abilene Cooper and Midland Lee.

The Herd thinclads came up with some of their best times and distances of the year at the meet, with four athletes posting their best efforts of the year.

Shot putter Benny Gonzales, who missed the first three weeks of the season with a shoulder injury, proved to be amply recovered when he launched the steel ball 55 feet, 11 inches for the gold medal. Gonzales' toss is more than six-and-a-half feet better than the next best distance in District 1-4A this spring, and won the competition by more than three feet.

In the discus, Phillip Betzen surpassed his best previous throw by more than 17 feet when he hurled the platter 151-11 to finish third. Betzen's mark is also the best in the district by a considerable margin as only two others in the league have broken the 140-foot barrier.

Tate Smith continued his busy schedule by placing third in the high jump at 6-0, fourth in the 300-meter hurdles at 42.88 seconds and fifth in the 110-meter hurdles in 15.65, lowering his best times in both races, in addition to running a leg on the sixth-place 1,600 relay team, which clocked in at 3:42.45.

Zane Watts edged Smith for third place in the 300 hurdles, setting a new personal-best time of 42.50 in the process, and teamed with him, Mike Lopez and Blas Cantu on the mile relay.

In the junior varsity division, the Herd JV came up just a point short in the team standings, losing out to the Permian JV 154-153.

Permian held off the Herd in the 1,600 relay by about three seconds to overcome a three-point deficit heading into the final event.

Hereford picked up first-place finishes in four events, including a 1-2-3 sweep of the 300 hurdles as well as placing all three entries in the long jump.

Mike Daniel won the shot with a throw of 45-7 1/2 with twin brother Mark third at 42-5 1/4. Mark Daniel picked up a gold medal of his own in the discus, winning at 131-9 while Ben Weatherly was fourth at 122-1.

Alvaro Avila took the long jump with a leap of 18-9 1/4, just one-half inch better than Leo Brown in second. Shawn Fogo added a fifth-place finish with a jump of 17-11.

Chris Steward led the way in the 300 hurdles, winning in 43.53, with Cody High second in 43.79 and Leo Brown third in 43.85.

Sean Smith cleared 6-4 in the high jump for the second week in a row, being placed second on the basis of fewer misses.

The Herd will take the week off for spring break, returning to action March 30-31 at the Angelo Relays in San Angelo.

Herd JV drops two

The Hereford Whiteface junior varsity suffered a pair of drubbings in its last two games, dropping a 14-4 decision Saturday to the Lubbock High JV in the fourth-place game of the Lubbock JV Tournament and the getting pummeled 12-1 Monday by the Dumas JV at Whiteface Field.

Both losses, which drop the Herd JV to 2-4 on the year, were ended early by the 10-run rule.

Lubbock High JV 14, Herd JV 4

Hereford gave the Westerners all they could handle for four-and-a-half innings, jumping out to a 3-0 lead and holding a 4-2 edge going into the bottom of the fifth.

Lubbock came up with an eight-run outburst in the inning, sending 11 batters to the plate and scoring everyone that reached base on only three hits. Herd pitchers Sammy Casarez, who took the loss, and Vince Castillo combined to issue three walks and were further hampered by three errors in the inning.

The Herd nearly blew the game open in its first at bat as shortstop

Dumas JV 12, Herd JV 1

The Demons decided the issue early by batting around in the second with only one hit and a walk.

Four errors by the Herd defense in the inning left starter Holguin with five unearned runs on the board.

Dumas added another unearned score in the third before getting five legitimate scores in the fifth on three hits, including RBI doubles from Eamie Pena and Jason Quackenbush.

Hereford got its only run in the third when right fielder Richard Wilbanks singled, stole second and came around Kalka beat out a ground ball to the right side.

Chris Brummett doubled, Castillo, who started at second base, and third baseman Ralph Holguin singled and first baseman Mark Kreighshauer doubled. Brummett crossed the plate on Castillo's hit and Kreighshauer drove in Castillo. But catcher Michael Campos popped out and Kreighshauer was picked off second to let the Westerners escape further damage.

Designated hitter Andy Kalka gave the Herd another run in the third when he walked and came around on three straight ground balls from Castillo, Holguin and Kreighshauer.

Pampa holds off Lady Whitefaces for DSCCCI title

By SAM W. WALLER
Sports Editor

The Pampa Lady Harvesters were able to stay a step ahead of the Hereford Lady Whitefaces on Saturday to take the team title at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational girls' track and field meet held at Whiteface Stadium.

Pampa amassed 130 points to finish 14 ahead of Hereford in the second head-to-head meeting of District 1-4A's top two teams.

The Lady Whitefaces racked up more first-place finishes than Pampa, including the 1,600-meter relay, but the Lady Harvesters had enough depth in the six-team field to secure the win by finishing second in the last race of the day.

Saturday also saw two meet records in the varsity division and a third in the JV class fall to the wayside.

The most notable new mark was in the high jump, where Randall's Leslea Rexrode shattered the meet's oldest standing record by clearing 5 feet, nine inches. Rexrode and teammate Amanda Sandlin, who jumped 5-6 for second place, both eclipsed the old mark of 5-5 set by Canyon's Merry Johnson in 1977.

The other varsity record came in the 800-meter relay, where Plainview clocked in at one minute, 43.95 seconds to better Canyon's 1:45.1, set in 1980.

The new JV record belongs to Hereford freshman Brandy Dunn, who won the 300-meter hurdles in 52.66, knocking more than five seconds off the time set last year in the new event.

Among Hereford's varsity winners were Cande Robbins in the discus with a best-ever throw of 118-9, which brings her to within four feet of the school record.

Daphne Roddy added another 200-meter dash gold medal to her collection with a personal-record 25.37 while Teresa Castillo picked up a win in the 3,200 with a time of 12:35.18.

Castillo also anchored the winning mile relay team that included Mineva Salazar, Lisa Zepeda and Jill West to a season-best 4:13.67.

Also scoring for the Herd was Robin White, who had her best jump of the year at 5-0 for fifth in the high jump.

West added to Hereford's point total with a pair of personal records: 15-10 in the long jump (third place) and 26.95 in the 200 (fifth place) as well as placing third in the triple jump at 33-9.

In addition to her leg on the mile relay, West also helped the 800 relay unit, which included Salazar, Castillo and Roddy, to second in 1:46.44, the best Hereford time of the year in that event.

Chandra Brown placed sixth in the long jump at 15-0, her best of the year, and ran the lead leg on the sprint relay, which was sixth in 56.07. Mandi Jones, Kyanne Lindley and Rachel Alaniz joined Brown on the foursome.

Alaniz picked up more points in the hurdles races, finishing second in the 300 in 52.49 and third in the 100 in 18.63. Lindsay Radford added a fifth place in the 100 hurdles at 19.41.

In the distance events, Salazar, Zepeda, Denise Davila and Veronica Hernandez joined Castillo in piling up more points in the 800, 1,600 and 3,200.

Salazar (2:30.69) and Zepeda (2:31.99) finished 3-4 in the 800 while Davila (6:08.84) and Hernandez (6:12.41) went 5-6 in the 1,600. Hernandez added a fifth place in the 3,200 in 13:04.46.

In the JV division, Hereford entered two separate teams with the freshmen second to Levelland with 125 points while the junior varsity, which consisted of only eight members, scored 39 points to finish fifth in the 10-team field.

What the JV lacked in quantity, it made up for in quality, picking up three gold medals.

Jill Dutton pulled off a double win in the 1,600 (6:17.18) and 3,200 (13:29.34) while Christie Burkhardt putted the shot 28-4 3/4 for another win. The JV picked up the rest of its points from Burkhardt (fifth in the discus at 73-1) and Amy Long (third in the shot at 28-3 1/4; sixth in the discus at 72-1).

While the JV athletes picked up the wins, the frosh got the silver. April Roddy finished a mere quarter-inch behind Burkhardt in the shot while Rene Banner stayed right behind Dutton in the distance races (6:19.98 in the 1,600; 13:50.97 in the 3,200).

Dunn kept busy looking for more wins for the frosh, leading a 1-2-3 sweep of the long jump with a leap of 14-4 1/4 (Laura Rangel was second at 13-10 1/2 and Jeannie Barrientez third at 13-10 1/4) and picking up fifth in the high jump at 4-6 in addition to relay duties.

Barrientez also carried the baton after finishing third in the 800 at 2:53.62 and fifth in the triple jump at 29-4.

Kathie Hernandez added a fourth place for the frosh, running the 100 hurdles in 19.81. Brandie Webb, who also ran relays, was fourth in the 400 at 70.31. Angie Jewell was fifth in the 300 hurdles in 57.94.

All three freshman relay squads earned medals, with Jowell, Rangel, Traci Deckard and Florence Zepeda covering 400 meters in 56.74 for third place. The 800 unit of Webb, Dunn, Jowell and Rangel was second in 1:57.72 while the mile relay team of Webb, Dunn, Barrientez and Rangel was second in 4:39.79.

The Lady Whitefaces will have a week off to enjoy spring break before hitting the track March 31 at the Lubbock Invitational.

Herd falls, 9-3, to Harvesters in 1-4A opener

By SAM W. WALLER
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces found out quickly why undefeated Pampa is one of the favorites in the District 1-4A baseball race Saturday as the Harvesters used a three-run first inning and a five-run third to take a 9-3 win at Pampa in the league opener for both teams.

Pampa's Quincy Williams was charged with one run on three hits over four-and-one-third innings in getting his first win while first baseman Mike Cagle had a four-for-four day at the plate with two runs batted in.

The Harvesters got to Herd starter Russell Backus right off the bat with four hits from the first six batters.

Chris Roden led off with a walk, but was cut down trying to go from first to third on Brandon Knutson's single to right. James Bybee doubled to left to drive in Knutson and scored when Cagle tripled to straightaway center. A single by designated hitter Steve Sanders brought Cagle in before Backus could get out of the inning.

The Herd threatened to catch up in the second as DH Cody Page and Backus singled and third baseman Jason Walterscheid reached on an error by Williams to load the bases with two out. But shortstop Matt Smith lofted one of the seven fly-ball outs Williams gave up to end the inning.

Things came undone for the Herd in the bottom of the third as the Harvesters sent 11 men to the plate.

Knutson walked to lead off, stole second and reached third on Tory Peete's single. Another single by Cagle scored Knutson and courtesy runner Russ Stevens came around when Sanders' line drive went off the glove of left fielder Chad Brummett for a two-base error.

Brian Bullard walked to load the bases before Brock Beckner singled in two more runs.

The Herd finally got on the board in the fifth when Backus led off with his second single and took an extra base on Knutson's errant throw. Bybee replaced Williams on the mound with one out and got Smith on strikes. Center fielder Matt Bromlow singled to score Backus before Bybee struck out pinch hitter Jim Anima.

The Whitefaces thought they had another run in the sixth when Page sent the ball over the right-field fence for what appeared to be the Herd's first home run of the season, but the hit was ruled a ground-rule double.

Herd coach T.R. Sartor said the Harvesters got away with pulling a fast one on the play.

"Their right fielder (Coffee) just threw his hands up (the signal for a live ball bouncing out of play) and the umpire fell for it," he said. "I'm going to give Cody credit for a homer anyway; he absolutely crushed the ball."

The Harvesters picked up one last run in the sixth when Bybee walked to lead off. Jesse Barrera came on in relief of Backus, who finished with nine runs on 10 hits and five walks.

After stealing second, Bybee took third on a bad pick-off throw by Barrera. He came home when Cagle beat out a slow roller to third and first baseman Brett Confer threw the ball away.

The Herd added a pair of runs in the seventh off Knutson, who walked Backus and Barrera and had two wild pitches to score Backus.

Bromlow picked up his second RBI when he singled to score courtesy runner Joe Anima.

The loss drops the Herd to 0-1 in district and 1-6 overall. Pampa upped its record to 6-0 on the year and shares the early district lead at 1-0.

The Herd will host the Canyon Eagles at 4:30 p.m. today in the 1990 home opener at Whiteface Field and will return to 1-4A action Friday with a game at Dunbar. The Herd's next home game will be at 2 p.m. Saturday against Levelland.

Spurs beat up on Suns, 113-102, to end streak

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

The San Antonio Spurs pride themselves on being rude guests, even to the point of ruining the party.

They did just that Monday night, ending a 19-game home winning streak by the Phoenix Suns with a 113-102 victory. The Suns hadn't lost at Veterans Memorial Coliseum since Dec. 22.

Who spoiled the party that night? The Spurs, of course.

"Most of the year, we've felt as good on the road as we do at home," said David Robinson, who had 34 points, 14 rebounds and eight blocked shots. "We're a real confident team and we've had a lot of close games this year and won a lot of them. We know how to win."

The Spurs, who got 12 of Willie Anderson's 18 points in the fourth period, are one of only seven NBA teams with a winning road record (17-16). The victory was the sixth in their last nine road games.

Kevin Johnson, who led Phoenix with 36 points - 18 in the final period - and 12 assists, offered no excuses for the Suns' first loss in nine games.

The Spurs, winning for the fifth time in six games overall, offered no apologies.

"We played our best game of the year by far," Coach Larry Brown said. "We rebounded and defended well. We made the extra passes to get the high-percentage shots when we had to down the stretch."

Elsewhere, it was Philadelphia 108, New Jersey 94; Dallas 117, Atlanta 110 and Utah 105, Sacramento 97. 76ers 108, Nets 94

Charles Barkley had 29 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists.

Hersey Hawkins added 21 points for Philadelphia and Derek Smith had 15.

The Nets got 19 points from Chris Morris and 18 from Lester Conner. New Jersey, which fell behind by 24 points in the first period, pulled to 79-78 late in the third but went scoreless for 7(minutes in the fourth.

Philadelphia scored 17 straight first-period points en route to a 39-15 advantage. The Nets made the game close with a 24-4 third-period surge to get within a point.

Mavericks 117, Hawks 110

Brad Davis made two 3-point baskets to spark a 10-point run and Sam Perkins scored 12 points in the fourth quarter for Dallas.

Davis put the Mavericks ahead to stay at 93-92 on a 3-point goal with 9:04 remaining. Over the next 1:50, Roy Tarpley made a field goal, Davis got another 3-pointer and Perkins a basket to make it 100-92.

Tarpley had 24 points and 14 rebounds for Dallas. Perkins and Derek Harper scored 21 points apiece and Davis came off the bench to score 20. Dominique Wilkins had 32 points for Atlanta, including 11 in the fourth quarter. Moses Malone added 18 points and 20 rebounds.

Jazz 105, Kings 97

John Stockton had 27 points and 11 assists and Karl Malone 32 points.

The Jazz led by as many as 18 points in the third quarter, but the Kings cut the deficit to 98-93 when Antoine Carr made two free throws with 1:26 left. But Stockton sank five free throws and Bobby Hansen added two more.

Wayman Tisdale led Sacramento with 24 points and Danny Ainge added 21.

FINALLY!!!

Baseball owners, players' union agree to new deal, open camps

NEW YORK (AP) - Baseball is back and so are the fans. Up next is a season of different rules, different rosters and a skewed schedule.

Today, spring training workouts started in Florida and Arizona. Orel Hershiser, Darryl Strawberry and Dave Stewart got an early jump Monday, and crowds came to see them.

"My wife woke me up at 6 a.m.," Minnesota's Juan Berenguer said. "I asked her why and she said, 'You're going back to work.'"

The four-year contract between owners and players was signed at 5:54 a.m. EST Monday after an all-day, all-night bargaining session. That ended the 32-day lockout, but opening day was still delayed until April 9, a week later than scheduled.

Meanwhile, major league executives worked feverishly to save the 162-game schedule. All teams are set to play 158 games, and efforts are being made to restore the others. Doubleheaders, filling open dates and adding games at the end of the season are among the ways available.

If games were added at the end, it would push the postseason back. CBS-TV, which has contract rights for the playoffs and World Series, would have to give its approval.

"We're all trying to work together for the best possible solution," CBS' Susan Kerr said. "We are an element of the puzzle."

A decision is expected later this week on the missing games. No matter what, it will be strange.

Because the season will pick up as scheduled on April 9, Minnesota now will open with 11 straight on the road and Baltimore will play nine in a row on the road. California and Kansas City each will begin with nine-game homestands.

The Cincinnati Reds, who traditionally start the major-league season at home, will open on the road for the first time since 1966.

"We had everything planned," Reds owner Marge Schott said. "It's a very big disappointment to me. The big thing is, it cost us our opening day."

There are other changes, too. With spring training shortened, teams can expand rosters to 27 players, up from 24, in the first three weeks. Starting May 1, it goes back to 24.

Also, because pitchers probably will not be as strong at the beginning of the season, starters will need to go only three innings, instead of the usual five, to get credit for victories in April.

The players' union asked for the shift and the Playing Rules Committee, along with league presidents Bobby Brown and Bill White, agreed.

Starting pitchers like the idea.

"That's pretty nice," said Mike Norris, who is attempting a comeback with Oakland at age 35. "Three innings isn't very long, is it?"

It didn't take long for everyone to get back into the swing of spring.

Strawberry was the first of 20 New York Mets to check into camp, arriving around 8 a.m. at the team's complex in Port St. Lucie, Fla. Many fans stood in the rain to watch the big leaguers come back.

Seattle's Ken Griffey Jr., Baltimore's Gregg Olson and Atlanta's Tom Glavine and Hershiser were among the early arrivals elsewhere.

In Phoenix, pitchers Dennis Eckersley, Mike Moore, Stewart and Norris played catch at the camp of the World Series champion Athletics. Ticket lines were so long that an office worker hurriedly said, "We're so busy we don't have time to talk on the phone."

Exhibition games will start March 26. Juggling the exhibition schedule is turning out to be as difficult as patching together the regular season plans.

Several teams are trying to rework spring schedules that had included road games in places such as Des Moines, Memphis and Oklahoma City.

The annual Freeway Series between the Los Angeles Dodgers and California Angels, scheduled for March 30-April 1, has been switched to April 6-8. The Mets-Yankees' home-and-home series scheduled for March 31 and April 1 was moved to April 7-8.

Local economies in Florida and Arizona were hit hard by the lockout, which resulted in 362 of 410 exhibition games being canceled. All teams will play some games at their spring-training sites, but the number is uncertain. Extra "B" games and split-squad games are being added to make up for the abbreviated practice time.

"Our position players should be OK. They'll get enough work," Kansas City general manager John Schuerholz said. "We're concerned about rushing our pitchers. We don't want to have them get injured trying to get ready."

Since moving from Brooklyn to Los Angeles in 1958, the Dodgers have never gone below 1 million in paid attendance.

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS
 Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF EXECUTION SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

By virtue of an execution issued out of the 222nd Dist. Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in that Court on April 14, 1989 and against Thomas L., Mariene J. and Barry Long, in Cause No. CI-89F-077, styled Pioneer Savings & Trust, F.A. Vs. Thomas L. Long, Mariene J. Long & Barry Long, on the docket of the Court, on the 19th day of February, 1990, I levied upon the following described real property situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, as the property of Thomas LeRoy Long, being an undivided 1/2 interest, subject to the lien held by Lillian S. Farmer: Block N. 4, Burke's Subdivision of Block No. 17, Mabry Addition to the Town of Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, together with all improvements located thereon; On the 3rd day of April, 1990, which is the first Tuesday of the month, at 2:00 o'clock P.M., at the South Balcony Door of the Second Floor of the Courthouse of Deaf Smith County, Texas, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash all the right, title, and interest of Thomas L. Long, Mariene J. Long & Barry Long in and to the above described property. Signed this 19th day of February, 1990.

Joe C. Brown, Jr., Sheriff
Deaf Smith County, Texas

Kentucky was the 15th state to enter the Union.

During the construction of the Hoover Dam, concrete had to be poured continually for two years.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: In 1974 I had a cerebral aneurysm successfully repaired surgically. Four days after the surgery for the aneurysm I had a stroke that affected my left side. In 1984, during a cervical myelogram, a nerve was hit which left me paralyzed from the neck down. Fortunately, I recovered from both paralyses.

Then in 1986 I started having seizures which I'm told are because of the aneurysm. Now I take phenobarbital and Dilantin on a daily basis for the seizures.

I am wondering what effect the menopause will have on the seizures. DEAR READER: You have epilepsy. The word itself means seizures. Anything that causes scar tissue in the brain can be a cause for subsequent seizures, called acquired epilepsy. The scar tissue is associated with an electrically unstable area that starts the disorganized electrical stimulation of the brain which causes the seizure.

It's likely the cerebral aneurysm you had surgically repaired was life-threatening. It could have ruptured and caused a stroke or death. The stroke response you had after surgery was a complication of removing the aneurysm. You were fortunate to make such an excellent recovery.

The scar-formation problem after brain injury may occur as a complication of brain surgery, a stroke, an automobile accident or any other cause for head injury. About 15 percent of individuals who have a depressed skull fracture — broken skull bone depressed into the skull cavity — and 5 percent of those who have a head injury without a depressed skull fracture that requires hospitalization develop chronic recurrent seizures. It is uncommon for seizures to develop unless a person loses consciousness with the injury. Seizures may not occur until six to 12 months after a head injury. Strokes and automobile accidents are common causes of recurrent seizures.

Read Special Report 55, The Many Faces of Epilepsy, which I'm sending you. Others who want this report can send $2 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/55, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

I wouldn't expect any change in your pattern of seizures because of the menopause. The scar tissue will still be there unchanged. You should expect the usual changes of the menopause, and if indicated, you can have hormone replacement therapy like anyone else.

DEAR DR. LAMB: Could you tell me if smoking is bad for your cholesterol? I smoke about one pack a day. Some people say smoking does not regulate cholesterol levels. Others say it does. This has me baffled.

DEAR READER: Cigarette smoking may affect the release of stress hormones from the adrenal gland that may slightly affect cholesterol levels. But that is a very small part of the problem. It is not this minor effect on cholesterol that you need to be concerned about.

Cigarette smoking without considering cholesterol will increase your risk of both heart attacks and strokes about threefold. It is more dangerous to smoke more than a pack of cigarettes a day than it is to have a high cholesterol level. The nicotine action is important. The increased carbon-monoxide levels contribute to heart attacks; even one cigarette will increase the tendency for the blood to clot for sometime afterward. Most heart attacks begin with the formation of a blood clot.

DEAR DR. LAMB: You always hear that heart disease is the leading cause of death. But I don't hear of many young people dying from heart disease. Since these are possibly the best years of a person's life with the most to look forward to, what is the biggest danger in young people? And why do you hear of so few women having heart attacks unless they are older? Has heart disease always been the leading cause of death?

DEAR READER: It is quite true that deaths from heart disease in young people are now quite rare. In fact the number of deaths between age 1 and 35 years is quite small. The leading cause of death in this age group is accidents. That tells you why we really must make a much larger effort to prevent accidents. Automobile accidents are at the top of the list, and a high percentage of these are related to using alcohol and drugs. For the entire age span, accidents are the third leading cause of deaths in males and the fifth in females. The three leading causes of death in 1900 were tuberculosis, diarrhea illnesses and the pneumonia-influenza group.

Heart disease used to claim a lot more younger people. Rheumatic heart disease affected children. Whole hospitals were devoted to treating children with it. These have been closed or converted to other uses. What happened? Antibiotics. When it was recognized that rheumatic fever was caused by the streptococcal bacteria and the strep throats treated adequately with antibiotics, rheumatic heart disease practically disappeared.

A similar pattern occurred with syphilitic heart disease. The early treatment of syphilis with penicillin eliminated most of these cases of damaged heart valves and diseased aortas. Both rheumatic and syphilitic heart disease were major causes of death.

However, heart attacks in living people were unknown until this century. Understanding the major role that lifestyle plays in causing them gradually evolved, and we now know a high percentage of these can be prevented.

Safety seats can save lives

Every year, hundreds of infants and young children are saved by car safety seats. There are four things you can do to protect your child every time you ride in a car.

Before you even get into the vehicle make sure you use a child safety or booster seat certified by the manufacturer to meet federal safety standards. If you don't have a child safety seat you may be able to borrow one from your local health department or from the hospital.

* Always anchor the seat to your car with the car's lap belt exactly as specified by the manufacturer.

* Always protect your child with either the harness or padded front shield, depending on what model child safety seat you have. Some seats have both and, in that case, both must be used.

* Always adjust the harness around seasonal clothing, leaving an inch of room so the child can move. The strap ends must be doubled back through the buckles, so the harness will not pull apart.

* Always use the tether if the seat requires one.

Whatever seat you use, it's important to read the manufacturer's instructions to be sure you're using it correctly. Know the difference between infant and toddler seats. Infant seats should always be used facing the rear of the car. Child safety seats must be anchored to the seat with the car's manual lap belt. If the car has an automatic lap and shoulder belt, the car seat should be used in only the back seat. Keeping these suggestions in mind can help you and your child travel safely.

Hints from Heloise

EASTER GRASS

Dear Heloise: I enjoy making Easter baskets for my children except for that awful plastic grass. It gets tossed everywhere, plus it seems like such a waste.

This year I took a friend's advice and used green rug yarn instead. It worked great! I used a skein of yarn for each basket, undid it and fluffed it up and added bunnies, eggs, small items like crayons and coloring books as usual.

An added bonus is that I can save it for next Easter or use it for crocheting, knitting or craft projects so there's no waste. Much better than the plastic grass. — Carolyn Dixon, Butte, Mont.

BASEBALL GIFT BOX

Dear Heloise: I have two grandsons who are in Little League and I wanted to give each of them a ball, bat and glove. My problem was finding a box long enough for the bat.

I bought two long florist boxes that are used for long-stemmed flowers. Everything fit and I didn't even have to wrap them. — Grama York, Youngstown, Ohio

150 students participate in Junior Music Festival

The Junior Music Festival held in First Baptist Church March 5 drew 150 entrants as area youths displayed their musical talents.

Sponsored by Hereford Music Study Club, the event featured students from Hereford and Friona. The clubs participating were Junior Etude by Frances Parker, Susan Shaw Studio, Junior Harmony by Mrs. D. U. Palmer, Evelyn Hacker Studio, Barbara Manning Studio and Etude by Johnnie Walters.

Judges listened to the participants and wrote critiques rating their performances. Superior was the top rating. Students receiving third, sixth and ninth year consecutive superior ratings were awarded special certificates.

Fiber hard to find

Eat more fiber, about 20 to 25 grams every day. That's what health organizations, including the National Cancer Institute, recommend.

Some crackers contribute meaningful amounts of fiber to your diet. Others don't. Names like "whole wheat," "cracked wheat" and "heartly wheat" describe some popular varieties of crackers, but only a handful of these brands really deliver the goods.

Of the 46 different snack crackers reviewed, only six brands contain at least one gram of dietary fiber per 1/2 ounce serving—an amount greater than that contained in a serving of most foods. A 1/2 ounce serving ranges from two to 12 crackers, depending on the product's weight.

You'll find fiber in several brands of a cracker products called "crisp bread." These thin, crunchy wafers contain whole grains such as rye, wheat bran and oat bran, or whole-grain flour as their primary ingredients. In contrast, crackers with which you're probably more familiar list refined wheat flour, which has been stripped of its fiber, as their first and major ingredient.

In addition to a cracker's ingredient list, you can learn something about its fiber content by what you don't find on the package. If fiber isn't on the nutrition label, it's usually safe to assume there isn't enough worth listing.

If you care about the amount of fiber you eat, you probably care about how much fat you don't eat. When choosing a cracker, consider how much fat a cracker has and how many crackers you eat. Don't worry about the type of fat. Most companies now use healthier unsaturated vegetable fat.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In response to your answer concerning the father who was unfaithful and the mother who tolerated it:

My parents have been married 52 years. For at least 50 of those years, my father has been unfaithful. He has had at least three long-term women friends. Father always slept at home, but I never remember him having dinner with us or attending a school function. He never took my mother anywhere.

Sis and I grew up to be reasonably decent productive. Obviously, our mother did something right, but she also made us a little crazy. I can never recall a time when I didn't have the feeling that "something is wrong here." It has taken many years of counseling and more hard work than anything I've ever done. I raised three teen-agers alone and graduated from law school at 35. I now realize that I wasn't nutty. It was my mother. She kept telling us that everything was wonderful, when it was really pretty awful.

My father ignored me, which is the worst kind of child abuse. When you're treated as a nonentity, there is nothing to react to. You feel like a nothing. Sometimes I still do.

If my mother would have said just once, "Your father is a louse, but for reasons of my own, I choose to live with him," it would have been healthier. Instead, to this day, she wants me to think that Father is wonderful. The man never hugged me, never said, "I love you." In fact, he never said, "I like you." Is that wonderful? Yes, I'm angry. But it's taken me 44 years to get that way. It's pretty amazing that I'm not crazier than I am.

So let the lady be angry and let her tell her children that she's angry and why. Better that than train them to deny feelings. My mother worked like a demon trying to paper over the garbage in my father's life, and she did us no favor. -- Nashville who grow up receiving mixed messages (which you surely did) are bound to be confused.

Apparently your mother thought her life (and yours) would be less stressful if she kept the family together. Her big mistake was trying to con you kids. Children are always more hip than parents suspect. They have an uncanny ability to figure things out, as you have so poignantly testified. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thank you for saving my life. This is not a nut letter, and I don't go to Yale.

The bank I work for gave Christmas candy at its annual holiday party. When I got home, I tossed a piece of candy into my mouth. The phone rang, and I ran to answer it. The candy got stuck in my throat. I couldn't talk or breathe, and I was scared to death.

My wife heard me gasping for air and came running from the kitchen. She had read about the Heimlich maneuver in your column and remembered exactly what to do. She got behind me and pressed hard on my chest. The candy popped right out.

So here is a belated thanks to you and The Press-Enterprise (Riverside, Calif.) for printing that column. -- Athur K.

DEAR ARTHUR: Thank you so much for letting me know. Your letter was especially welcome after just having read one from a woman in Edmonton saying my column was great -- to put on the bottom of the bird cage.

Ideal place settings unfold using knot napkin ideas

Would you like to create a gorgeous place setting that's not in the usual fold? It's "knot" as difficult as you might think. Innovative napkin arrangements involving simple knots, folds and ties help create an ambiance that makes the differences between another dinner and a truly memorable meal.

Here are some napkin arrangements that may increase the beauty of your table four-fold.

1. Knot at top of napkin: Hold napkin at one corner. Tie a knot about four or five inches down below the corner you're holding. Make sure the knot is neat and loose so that the napkin rests attractively on the table.

2. Napkin folded and tied with ribbon: Fold napkin, almost as if you were rolling it, in fourths or fifths depending on desired width. Fold in half and tie in the middle with a pretty ribbon that either matches the napkin or accents the dinnerware or flowers.

3. Loosely rolled napkin: Fold napkin in half. Roll it loosely, keeping in mind the desired width. Tie with a ribbon. For a special touch, place a fresh flower underneath the ribbon just before your guests arrive.

Easy ideas like these make any meal more special.

Tips for diabetics given

Louise Axe, Marcia Ginn, and Mary Stubblefield presented a program on controlling and cooking for diabetics when the Wyche Extension Homemakers Club met recently in the home of Argen Draper.

Tips given were to have your sugar test at least twice a year, watch for signs of fatigue, excessive thirst and blurring of vision. Eat a good diet and exercise daily. When cooking remove all fats, sauce and sugar from family recipes.

President Carol Odom conducted the business meeting. Members were asked to bring gifts for door prizes and country store to the extension office by March 26. Those baking for the district meeting should mention, in writing, the dish they will be baking.

Reservations for the district meeting on April 10 should be made by March 23.

The club will meet April 5 at the Hereford Community Center with Virgie Duncan serving as hostess and Johnnie Messer presenting a program on dyslexia.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. L.H. Kirby, Kim King and Anice Corbett. Others present were Coreen Odom, Clara Trowbridge, Pet Ott, Lavern Worley, Brenda Rusher, and Louise Packard.

There is no single cat called a panther. The name is commonly applied to the leopard, puma and the jaguar.

Salesman Confesses

Claims newspaper is best salesman

On Monday, Jules Wintner, owner of a local retail establishment, confessed his job as a salesman was obsolete due to the impact of newspaper advertising. Wintner, in an exclusive interview, said sales were made in the local paper instead of in the store.

"Sure, we get a chance for additional sales," Wintner commented, "but the newspaper has become our best salesman." Wintner reported that consumers name the local newspaper as their usual source of "Best Buy" information, 10 times more than radio or television. This conforms with a recent Consumer Data Service report that indicated 60% of the consumers seek "Best Buy" information from the newspaper versus only 6% for radio and 7% for television.

Wintner later remarked that because the newspaper is read by all Texans, regardless of income, his business was able to sell both upper end products as well as value priced items. "No matter what we're selling, we get good response in the newspaper," he said. "In fact, the more expensive the product, the better our response seems to be." This fact is substantiated in a survey by the Texas Newspaper Advertising Bureau that documented readership of the newspaper increases as income increases. In the survey, almost 75% of Texans with incomes "exceeding $50,000 a year read the newspaper.

Salesman admits he "never had to sell anything" because of newspaper ads

"My job has become redundant," Wintner admitted. "Used to be I had to really sell each customer, but now I'm just an order taker." Asked what he intended to do now that the newspaper was doing most of the selling, he replied, "Spend more in newspaper advertising than last year."
