NAFTA would hurt agriculture, farmers association alleges

By CHIP BROWN
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - Agriculture and livestock producers are mounting campaigns against the North American Free Trade Agreement out of fear that cheaper, diseased cattle and crops will overwhelm American markets from Mexico, according to the president of the 250,000-member National Farmers Union.

"It's not just one segment of agriculture that could be negatively impacted," Lee Swenson, National Farmers Union president, said Thursday. "It's fruits and vegetables, it's sugar, it's peanuts, it's livestock, it's across the board where we find tremendous negative impacts."

Barry McBee, deputy commissioner at the Texas Department of Agriculture, said, "The free trade agreement is a tremendous plus for agriculture and for the Texas economy as a whole. Some folks just can't bring themselves to see that."

Swenson, whose group represents mostly family farmers, was attending a convention of the Texas Farmers Union.

Many farmers are outraged at what they feel is a pending trade agreement between the United States, Canada and Mexico that caters to big business grain operators and international traders as opposed to the family farmer.

American negotiators of the free trade pact sold out farmers by conceding in such areas as environmental safeguards and limits on imports, Swenson said.

Some producers fear cheaper commodities will be produced abroad and then flooded into the American market, driving prices down and threatening the single-family farm, Swenson said.

"As we take a look at NAFTA, it's a clear bottom line that the (preliminary) agreements signed off on by the Clinton administration did nothing to enhance the free trade agreement from either an agricultural production perception or from the area of protecting the quality of products that will be imported for our consumers," Swenson said.

McBee disagreed, saying, "The agreement provides very strong safeguards."

"Each nation is allowed to examine and set its own health and safety standards," he added. "No one in the United States is talking about lessening its standards. The same requirements we have today will be there in the future providing the protections we have today."

Swenson said the United States has restrictions on 58 pesticides and insecticides that are allowed in Mexico.

American companies will be tempted to go to Mexico, lease large amounts of land, use cheap labor and the restricted pesticides to produce fruits and vegetables that can be purchased for less in the United States, Swenson said.

"Under NAFTA, we can not put in place border protections to assure our consumers that the product coming in does not have the residues of pesticides and insecticides that are banned in the United States," Swenson said.

Proponents of the free trade pact say a formal complaint system would be installed to ensure producers the right to seek civil action against countries suspected of harming their businesses illegally.

But Swenson said producers will be left with legal tabs in the hundreds of thousands of dollars because they would bear the burden of proof in showing how their businesses were being hurt.

"Our opportunities are extremely limited because of the financial costs associated with proving each and every one of these cases," Swenson said.

Recovering from the flood

Bartolo and Esperanza Galvan, who live in the San Jose Community south of Hereford, toss a ruined chair onto a pile of debris they pulled from their home following floods earlier this month. The couple was one of 17 families forced from their homes when heavy rains flowed into a playa lake in the community, overflowing its banks and soaking houses. The family lost many personal belongings in the flood and have only just recently begun the cleanup from the mess. The Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Red Cross is providing assistance to the Galvans and the other flood victims.

Local flood victims begin digging out

Life for Bartolo and Esperanza Galvan is slowly returning to normal.

Their electricity was turned on Wednesday and they spent their first night at home in nearly two weeks on Thursday.

The Galvans are just one of many families affected by the flood of 1993.

Not the flooding that has hit the Midwest United States, but equally traumatic flooding that hit Deaf Smith County's San Jose Community earlier this month.

The rains came on Aug. 7. Officially, Hereford received 3.45 inches, but reports were that up to 6.5 inches fell south of town.

That water flowed directly into a playa lake at the southeast corner of San Jose. It quickly filled to overflowing, flooding yards and houses in its path.

By the time the rains had stopped and pumps hastily installed by the city and county were working, 17 houses had been damaged -- including the home the Galvans have occupied for decades.

The couple was watching television that Saturday night. Mrs. Galvan said, when they realized the lake was not going to stop rising before it hit their house.

When she stepped toward the bed to grab suitcases stored underneath, she stepped in water.

Friends and relatives helped the stricken families evacuate, racing against the encroaching waters to grab a few belongings and get out.

For the Galvans, the suitcases were left behind. So was most of the rest of their belongings.

Mrs. Galvan shows the water mark nearly 3 feet above floor level left on her wardrobe.

Throughout the house, water lines can be seen along tables, chests and walls.

Gone were such things as three mattress and box springs sets, a refrigerator, a freezer, television set, dining room table and chairs and carpeting -- all saturated beyond the point of usefulness by the murky waters.

They also lost a load of sheetrock that had just been purchased as part of a renovation of the family kitchen.

Galvan said puddles form in the floors each morning, seeping during the night from walls and doors.

Sheetrock throughout the house likely will have to be replaced.

So will the carpeting, which now lies in a sodden mass in the front yard.

The family was unable to re-enter the house for a week after the flood, despite efforts by County Commissioner Lupe Chavez -- in whose precinct San Jose Community lies -- and his crews to pump out the lake as quickly as possible.

Two pumps were set up at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 8 and began pushing the water up a street and into a drainage ditch even as more rainwater flowed into the lake from the opposite side.

Since then, more than 14 million gallons of water have been pumped out.

Still, some houses along Dayton Street are inaccessible, said Betty Henson, who heads up the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Clothes were possessed, police told

Naked Pentecostals crash car into tree in Louisiana

VINTON, La. (AP) - The 20 Texans found riding naked in a car through southwest Louisiana told police that they were naked because their clothes were possessed.

Their 1990 Pontiac Grand Am crashed into a tree during a police chase Thursday. Chief Dennis Drouillard quoted members of the group as saying they were naked because their clothes were possessed by the devil.

Some of the group expected to be reunited with relatives today. Others, now clothed, planned to continue their trek to a religious retreat somewhere in Florida.

All 20 were from the small Texas Panhandle town of Floydada, about 550 miles from Vinton. Drouillard said all of the group, ranging in age from 1 to 65, seemed to be related.

Three pregnant women and a 65-year-old man were crammed into the front and back seats. Five children were stuffed into the car's trunk.

Driver Sammy Rodriguez and his brother, Danny, both said they were Pentecostal preachers, Drouillard said.

Floydada Police Chief James Hale said he had been looking for the Rodriguez family since Tuesday night, when relatives reported them missing.

"The family here is going to go down and talk to them and see what they want to do," Hale said.

Nineteen of the group were released into the custody of a Baptist church in nearby Sulphur, and spent the night with the Salvation Army in Lake Charles.

Meza says he is changed, wants to be forgiven for rape, murder

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - Don Page said it was the first time he had been near Raul Meza since he was released from prison.

Page sat behind a row of television cameras Thursday as Meza, 32, asked for forgiveness for the rape-slaying of Page's 8-year-old daughter, Kendra.

"An 8-year-old child was killed," Page said. "Kendra has no identity other than her picture. She has no way to come forward to say, 'Look at me. This is what he did.'"

Page said Meza's remorse helped him a little, but he added, "It's a horrible thing for a child to have to suffer something like that. I don't think anyone should give any grace to anyone that does stuff like that."

Meza pleaded guilty in 1982 to the killing of Kendra Page in Austin. The slaying occurred while Meza was on parole for a robbery in which a convenience store clerk was shot.

Meza was denied parole seven times, but was released June 21 because his time served plus "good time" equaled his sentence.

family's other belongings.

The chase in Vinton began after a campground owner reported the car full of naked people to police. A Calcasieu Parish deputy stopped their car, and a man wearing only a towel got out.

"The owner got out of the vehicle wearing only a towel, then he jumped back in his car and took off," Drouillard said.

They sped down Vinton's main street until the car crashed through a chain-link fence and hit a tree at the baseball park at the end of town. At that point, the car emptied.

"And they were completely nude. All 20 of them. Didn't have a stitch of clothes on. I mean, no socks, no underwear, no nothin'. Five of them were in the trunk," Drouillard said. "They didn't even have paperwork on the car or driver's licenses."

"They didn't say much. They mainly got out and chanted religious sayings. They didn't have any Bibles or anything at all, but they did appear to be fairly religious."

The car was totaled, but the injuries all were minor, Drouillard said. "I guess when you're packed in that tight, there's not much room to move around."

One deputy had a bag of clothes, Drouillard said. "We got everybody at least a shirt on. It was quite a scene."

Eighteen of the occupants sustained cuts and bruises in the crash and were taken to West Calcasieu-Cameron Hospital for observation. Mrs. Lamont said the hospital also put a diaper on a baby.

Meza said that at the time he committed the crime, he had been addicted to hallucinatory drugs for years.

In prison, "I was in total denial," until 1986, when he said, he became a born-again Christian.

"If you cannot give me forgiveness, then I ask for your tolerance to prove that as a born-again Christian, I can and will live as a productive law-abiding citizen," Meza said.

Meza said he would eventually like to return to Austin. He said he wants to settle down, work and some day get married.

Coming in Sunday's Brand

They are experiences that vary by location and purpose, but they were occasions that will mark the lives of several Hereford residents -- one a trip on a nuclear-powered aircraft carrier, the other a trip to Denver to see Pope John Paul II.

On Sunday, meet Neil McNutt, who travelled aboard the U.S.S. Nimitz at the invitation of the U.S. Navy and HHS graduate Steve Hope. Also, meet some of the young Hereford residents who participated in World Youth Day activities with the pontiff in Denver and read how the trip changed them.

Trash issue still unsettled

Hereford garbage disposal in Amarillo may, or may not, begin in October.

City Manager Chester Nolen said he has been notified the Environmental Protection Agency may put off implementation of certain landfill rules that are supposed to take effect on Oct. 9.

The EPA has published notice of proposals for extending the effective date by six months and will receive comments on the rules until Aug. 27, according to a communication from the Texas Water Commission.

No decision on the extension, though, will be announced until shortly before the October date.

Nolen said the City of Hereford will be prepared to begin disposal of garbage in Amarillo, if the deadline remains intact.

"If we don't have to haul it, we won't," he said.

The City Commission decided last year to close the city's landfill when the rules become effective because of expense of continuing the operation.

At last Monday's commission meeting, an agreement with the City of Amarillo was approved for garbage disposal at a cost of $12.50 per ton. City of Hereford trucks will travel 88 miles, round trip, to dispose of garbage.

Grand jury indicts seven

Indictments were returned against seven persons Thursday during a session of the Deaf Smith County grand jury.

A charge of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon is alleged against Jesus Andrade, 26, of 307 Avenue D. He is accused of using his automobile to run down Eliud Silva Jr., who was riding a motorcycle. Andrade is free on $7,500 bond. The incident occurred on July 5.

Indicted for tampering with a government record, Salvador V. Gonzalez is in jail in lieu of bond. Escape indictments were returned against two men in separate incidents. Domingo Guerrero, 51, of 216 Boston, is in jail in lieu of bond. Also in custody, pending bail, is Nicholas Garcia, 22, of 200 Bennett.

An indictment of sexual assault of a child was returned against Robert Leal, 22, of 207 Irving. He posted bond of $7,500.

Charged with forgery, Richard Vera Rodriguez, 22, of 914 Sioux, is free on bond of $2,000.

Indicted for obtaining a controlled substance by fraud, Frances Galloway, 35, of Canadian, is free after posting bond of $7,500.

Local Roundup

Chance of rain continues

Hereford recorded a high temperature Thursday of 93 degrees at 5 p.m., and a low of 69 degrees at 7 a.m. today, according to KPAN radio. The National Weather Service is predicting partly cloudy skies tonight, with a 20 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. The low will be in the mid-60s, with south winds at 5-15 mph. Saturday, look for mostly sunny skies with a high around 90 degrees and southwest winds at 10-20 mph.

Spraying scheduled Saturday

An aerial application of insecticide for mosquito and fly control is scheduled for Saturday morning, or the first day thereafter, weather permitting. Coverage will be in Hereford and adjacent areas.

Extension homemakers to meet

The Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers will hold their first fall meeting on Monday at 1:30 p.m. The session will be held in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library. Members are urged to attend and guests are invited. Call Beverly Harder at 364-3573 for more information.

FLOOD

damage assessments on the 17 homes, Mrs. Henson said.

To date, one has been declared a total loss and many others sustained severe damage.

The national Red Cross organization has stepped in, Mrs. Henson said, sending money to Hereford to help purchase needed goods for the flood victims.

That includes emergency lodging as needed, food, cleaning items, beds, refrigerators and stoves.

Clothing comes from donations made to the Red Cross office here.

Already the Galvans have received one new bed and a refrigerator, which have enabled them to moved home again.

Other victims are still staying with friends and relatives, waiting for the water to give them back their homes.

Once they return, Mrs. Henson said, the Red Cross will be waiting with volunteer assistance in cleaning up, plus new beds, refrigerators and stoves.

Other items, she said, must be provided locally, as the only new items the Red Cross buys are those considered necessities to live.

That means the local Red Cross office is needing immediate donations of several sets of furnishings.

Right now, Mrs. Henson said, the need is for a sofa, living room chairs, dining room table and chairs and television set for the Galvans.

She said at least two more of each of those items will be needed as families return home and assess their losses.

And of course, Mrs. Henson said, the Red Cross is in need of financial contributions to help pay for all the emergency aid.

One resident lost everything -- including his home -- in the flood, but has not decided whether he will seek another home in the San Jose Community, or if he will look elsewhere.

Barbara Rodriguez, who was rescued from her home by Mrs. Henson and County Judge Tom Simons, still has not been able to return to the home her husband built for them more than 40 years ago.

But, Mrs. Henson said, Mrs. Rodriguez plans to return home one day.

When she does, she will likely need all new furnishings.

And the Red Cross will be there to help.

Donations to the Red Cross may be mailed to P.O. Box 1371, Hereford, Texas 79045, or dropped off at the office, 224 South Main.

annual listing of the state's 100 wealthiest, qualifying as Big Rich requires $110 million, minimum.

And while that price tag is smaller than last year, some things never change. With a net worth of $3.35 billion, up $100 million from 1992, entrepreneur and sometime presidential candidate Ross Perot remains the biggest rich of all.

"As we continue to unearth Texas' hidden rich and watch financial empires grow and crumble, one factor remains constant: Ross Perot is still the wealthiest of them all, laughing at his critics, making everyone guess what he'll do next," author Christine Carroll writes in the magazine's September issue.

For the fifth consecutive year, the magazine on Thursday issued its listing of the 100 wealthiest Texans, basing its estimates on industry analysts, brokers, financial advisers and some of the wealthy themselves.

Net worth to make the first list, published in 1989, was $100 million. That rose to $130 million by 1991, but dropped to $120 million last year and to a paltry $110 million this year - "reflecting a still-temperid Texas economy," the magazine said.

Top economy or not, 38 of the 95 returning multimillionaires did just fine, increasing their fortunes during the past 12 months. Another 45 held steady; 12 dropped in net worth but stayed on the list, while five were replaced.

Two newcomers made their fortunes not in such Texas traditions as oil or real estate but in food.

Kit Goldsbury, 50, owner of San Antonio-based Pace Foods, "whose Mexican salsa led the charge to push ketchup out of America's kitchens," hit the list at $130 million.

Texas Monthly said Arturo Torres, 56, San Antonio, $110 million, became the first Hispanic to hit the list when he sold his Pizza Management Inc. that owned 236 Pizza Hut franchises.

The third newcomers was Fort Worth's Richard Scott, 40, $185 million, who "has built a healthy fortune by buying and merging health-care facilities through publicly held Columbia Hospital Corp."

The three newcomers were joined by two returnees: Glass magnate Randall Dea Hubbard of Fort Worth at $140 million, while cable TV tycoon Robert Rogers of Tyler was at $110 million.

Should you win Saturday's lotto drawing and want to house shop in a suitably swanky neighborhood, the Texas Monthly list suggests looking in Dallas or Houston. The state's two biggest cities count an equal number of the biggest rich - 26 apiece.

Fort Worth is well back with 11; San Antonio counts eight; Midland is home to four; Corpus Christi has three, while Austin, Denton and Vernon have two apiece. One of the 100 will be found in each of Amarillo, Barksdale, Bryan, Coppell, Diboll, El Paso, Galveston, Kerrville, Orange, Pittsburg, Refugio, Sugar Land, Temple, Tyler, Victoria and Uvalde.

According to Texas Monthly, the very richest Texans, their net worth and source of wealth are:

- Perot, Dallas, $3.35 billion, data processing systems.
- Perry Richardson Bass, Sid Richardson Bass, Edward Perry Bass, Robert Muse Bass, Lee Marshall Bass, all Fort Worth, sharing $7 billion, investments.
- Robert Dedman, Dallas, $1 billion, private clubs.
- Robert Lee Moody, Galveston, $790 million, insurance.
- Jerry J. Moore, Houston, $775 million, shopping centers.
- George Mitchell, Houston, $750 million, oil and gas.
- Charles Clarence Butt, San Antonio, $650 million, H-E-B Grocery.
- Harold Clark Simmons, Dallas, $625 million, financier.
- Margaret Hunt Hill, Haroldson Lafayette Hunt III, Caroline Rose Hunt, all Dallas, sharing $1.7 billion, oil and gas inheritance.

Carl Kelly execution is 11th since January

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) - Convicted killer Carl Kelly was put to death early today for a $30 convenience store robbery 13 years ago in which two people were abducted and fatally shot. The victims then had their bodies thrown over a cliff.

Kelly, 34, of Waco, strapped to a gurney, greeted two of his attorneys as they filed into the death chamber, then in a brief final statement described himself as "an African warrior, born to breathe, born to die."

The lethal drugs began flowing into his arms at 12:16 a.m. CDT.

"I feel the poison running now," he said.

Then he gasped three times as lawyer Rob Owen told him: "Don't forget we love you."

He was pronounced dead six minutes later.

Kelly became the fourth convicted killer in Texas to be executed in four weeks, the 11th this year and the 66th since Texas resumed executions in 1982. The totals are the highest in the nation.

The former cement finisher was convicted of killing Steven Pryor, 18, a clerk at a Waco 7-Eleven convenience store. Another man, David Riley, a transient from Illinois who was asleep in Pryor's car outside the store, was slain in the same incident.

The execution was carried out after state and federal appeals courts refused to rehear requests from Kelly's attorneys who challenged the legality of his confession to police.

"I figured at the last minute he'd get a stay," Pryor's sister, Rhonda York, said, adding that she was pleased the punishment finally was carried out.

Survivors include two other sons, two daughters, a sister, 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday in Englund's Funeral Service Chapel with the Rev. Kenneth Winchester, pastor of Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Englewood Cemetery.

Born in Arkansas, she married Thomas Hill in 1942 in Idabel, Okla. He died in January 1992. She moved to Slaton from Lubbock in 1972. She had worked for Community Hospital and Lubbock Independent School District. Mrs. Hill belonged to Temple Baptist Church of Lubbock.

Survivors include two other sons, two daughters, a sister, 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

"That's the way it's supposed to be," she said.

Pryor and Riley were abducted in the early morning hours of Sept. 2, 1980, taken to Waco's Cameron Park in Pryor's car and shot. Then their bodies were hurled over a 60-foot cliff known as Lover's Leap.

Kelly's companion, Thomas Graves, also of Waco, pleaded guilty to both killings, as well as to the slaying of a third man the previous day. Graves, who was 20 at the time, received a life prison term.

Graves was arrested driving Pryor's car and Kelly's wallet was found in the trunk. Limestone dust detected on the floor of the car led police to the park, where they found the bodies at the base of the cliff.

Kelly showed up later in the morning to retrieve his own car, which had been left in the store parking lot. He also asked detectives about his missing wallet.

Kelly, who had been on parole about four months after serving 13 months of a three-year term for robbery, confessed to the crime and refused a plea bargain, choosing instead to go on trial where he was convicted of capital murder and sentenced to death. He said he was high on drugs at the time of the shooting.

He declined recent requests for interviews, but told reporters earlier that he had confessed only to being with Graves when the shootings occurred.

"The gun I had misfired," Kelly said. "The gun was empty or whatever but didn't have a bullet. I ain't shot nobody, so why should I be executed?"

Proposals on insurance draw mixed reactions

AUSTIN (AP) - Several lawmakers said the State Board of Insurance is trying to rush approval of rules that are not needed and will cost consumers more money.

But consumer advocates said Thursday that the rules will protect policyholders.

The proposals will be considered by the State Board of Insurance on Aug. 30.

The changes include banning discrimination in the sale or continuation of insurance, and establishing a bill of rights attached to automobile, homeowners, and credit life policies.

Rep. Robert Duncan, R-Lubbock, said the anti-discrimination rules could have unintended consequences of damaging some markets. "The remedy to deal with that is uncertain," he said.

The board requested the anti-discrimination rule after a study showed low-income and minority consumers pay higher rates for insurance even if they are a lower risk.

Rep. Leo Alvarado Jr., D-San Antonio, defended the proposals. "If the insurance industry has something to hide, I could see why they object."

John Hildreth, executive director of the regional office of Consumers Union, said the measures would help consumers.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The time is here for the competition of the newly renovated fellowship hall. Members and guests are invited to the dedication service Sunday, Aug. 22, during the morning worship service. Immediately following will be a hamburger and hot dog dinner in the fellowship hall. The meal will be hosted by the Family Life Committee. Bob Josseland and his committee have done a great job making the meeting hall and the kitchen workable and attractive.

Members of the United Methodist Women held a silver coffee Aug. 11 and raised money to help with the upkeep of the newly renovated kitchen.

Bobby Boyd, Dan Higgins and Mark Landrum reported they had a spiritual and enjoyable Laymen's Retreat. You may want to mark your 1994 calendar for the second weekend in August to attend the spirit-filled retreat. Plan now to attend and take someone with you.

For the third year, a special Bible study will be held. Disciple I and Disciple II are being offered for those interested persons. The classes will be for 34 weeks for Disciple I and 32 weeks for Disciple II. Bible study and weekly meetings are important to the growth experience. Please contact the church office if you are interested so that plans can be completed before the beginning of September.

Youth are back in school and will begin their Sunday activities with breakfast at McDonald's at 8:45 a.m. Their regular evening meeting will be at 6 with the youth parents' meeting planned at 5 p.m. in Ward Parlor.

You are invited to all the services and activities of the church with Sunday school beginning at 9:30 a.m. and the morning worship service at 10:45.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The public is invited to attend all services at the church.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Meeting each Wednesday at 7 p.m. are the Adult Bible study, teen "LIFE" and TV & Me.

During the Sunday morning worship service, Pastor Ted Taylor's sermon will be the last of a four-part series on King David, "Slaying the Giants in Your Life. Absalom—How Do We Handle Family Conflict?"

Immediately following the Sunday evening service, there will be an ice cream fellowship for Jim Pope, the new youth minister. Everyone is invited to come and welcome him.

A prayer and praise service in the church sanctuary is planned for 7 p.m. Saturday.

NCA starts at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 23, and the church board meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 24.

CHRIST'S CHURCH FELLOWSHIP

CCF welcomes everyone to all its services and activities. The church is located at 401 W. Park Ave. and Dr. Alton Tomlin serves as pastor.

During Sunday school this Sunday morning, doughnuts, coffee and juice will be served to everyone attending the 9:30 a.m. celebration of Promotional Sunday.

The morning worship service begins with active praise and worship led by Steve Wright at 10:45 a.m. The Lord's Supper will be served with all believers welcome to partake.

CCF is a new fellowship of churches that believes in exalting Christ and that all the gifts of the first century church are still available to believers today.

This Saturday there will be a meeting at 10 a.m. to discuss, plan and prepare for all of the children's activities for the fall. Anyone interested in this ministry to children is welcome to attend.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"A Rock and Some Keys" is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the Twelfth Sunday after Pentecost. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is a coffee hour in the parish hall after the service.

The regular Wednesday Public Service of Healing is at 7 p.m. with the Litany of Healing, the Laying-on-of-Hands with Holy Unction and Holy Communion. The major Feast of St. Bartholomew the Apostle will be observed.

On Sunday, Sept. 12, St. Thomas' will begin an Inquirers' Class during the Adult Christian Education hour at 9:30 a.m. This class is intended for all who wish to know more about the Episcopal Church and the Anglican Communion; for those who are preparing for confirmation; and for those who want to have a refresher course on the faith and practice of the Episcopal Church. All interested persons are invited to attend.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Teachers are needed for the S.A.C.C. who share our faith and want to become part of St. Anthony's parish family. Classes will be held Sunday mornings between Masses for students of all ages. If you are interested, please call Deacon Jonny Cloud at 364-6150.

Also, anyone interested in helping Cloud to prepare families for celebrating the Sacrament of Baptism need to call 364-6150.

Adult Night Out, sponsored by St. Anthony's Parish Organization for senior citizens, will be held at 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 27.

The Diocesan Pastoral Council Workshop will be held for all parish leaders from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the BDF Retreat Center Saturday.

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

The parish picnic has been moved to Oct. 3 at Veterans Park. There will be lots of food and games and a prayer service will be held honoring St. Francis. Please bring a covered dish.

If you haven't registered your children for religious education please do so this weekend at the church following each mass. The registration fee per child will be $5. The first class starts Saturday, Sept. 11, from 10 a.m. to noon, in the mission.

Registration T.Y.M. mini-courses will be Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. in the church hall and it will also be a fun night. On Sept. 22, T.Y.M. mini-courses will begin with a youth worship from 7-9 p.m. in the church.

Congratulations to all the youths who went to Denver to the World Youth Day. We are proud of you and we hope that the experience you received will be shared with everyone in the parish.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Central Church of Christ invites everyone to come and join them in worship and praise to God.

The Sunday morning classes, which range from pre-school age through adult, begin at 9:30. The Sunday worship services are held at 10:25 a.m. and 6 p.m. The church congregation also meets each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to study God's word.

On Thursday, Aug. 26, we will be having a senior citizens day in the fellowship room. We want to invite those who would like to come and join us in our activities and meal. The theme will be "Harvest Festival", and those preparing food will do so from their own garden. If you have something you want to prepare or just to join in, please come and visit us.

DAWN BAPTIST CHURCH

The church welcomes all visitors to any and all worship services. Bible study begins each Sunday at 9:50 a.m. and the worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

The church is preparing for its 50th anniversary celebration Sept. 11-12. All members, former members and friends are invited to share in the celebration. We would appreciate former members' addresses. Information about the weekend is available through the church office, 258-7330, or by writing P.O. Box 67, Dawn, Texas 79025.

This Saturday the monthly men's breakfast is planned at 7 a.m. in the fellowship hall. The Wednesday evening Bible study and prayer meeting will be held at 8 in the fellowship hall.

Young netters aim to defend District 1-4A title

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

On the surface, tennis and football have few similarities, but Ed Coplen, the new Hereford tennis coach, is going about coaching tennis pretty much the same way he coached football for more than a decade.

"I'm using the same approach to this as if it was football; you've got to work hard and work on fundamentals," Coplen said.

"We're stressing teamwork and commitment to the program. The same fundamentals you use in football, I'm trying to instill in the tennis team. What we're stressing this year is the team concept and getting away from the individuality of the team."

The Herd tennis team, which starts its season Saturday in Amarillo, will need a total team effort if it's going to repeat as District 1-4A team tennis champion, because the team lost a lot of players to graduation.

The top returners are seniors Bri

Reinauer, Brooke Weishaar, Gabriela Gamez for the girls and Chris Lyles for the boys. Pete Vargas, Tom Jarecki and Natalie McWhorter also return from last year's varsity team, which lost in the first round at the Region 1-4A Tournament.

There are several holes to fill. "We've got 20 kids out for tennis,"

Coplen said. "A lot of them are real young but they've been playing real good."

"They've been coming on real well," he said. "They just have to face more competition and get ready for district."

The district again should be dominated by Hereford, Borger and Pampa. Borger returns top player Dawna Denny and Pampa returns two good doubles teams, Coplen said, "but we're going to be the team to beat if our young players come through."

The team will play two team matches Saturday, both in Amarillo: against Amarillo High at 9:30 a.m. and against Palo Duro at 1:30 p.m. Tascosa will come to Hereford for a match Aug. 31, starting at 4 p.m. The district schedule starts Sept. 18, with Borger in Hereford.

Coplen replaces Natalie Sims, who resigned in May after a year and a half as head coach. Coplen served as an assistant coach for the high school football and track teams since 1988. He was the head football coach and track coach at LaPlata Junior High from 1984 until the consolidation of LaPlata and Stanton junior highs in 1988. Before that, he had head coaching stints in high school football at Lordsburg, N.M., and New Mexico Military Institute.

"I've gotten used to it (coaching tennis)," he said. "I don't holler as much."

Coplen is no stranger to the tennis program, though. He served as interim tennis coach for half of the spring of 1991, and son Greg was one of the team's top players until graduating last spring.

Now Coplen is getting his other son involved in the program; Matt Coplen, who graduated from Texas A&M University this month, will serve as assistant coach. Matt was a three-year varsity tennis player at HHS and graduated in 1989.

Brooke Weishaar, (back row) Chris Lyles, Scott Shaw, Rob Reinauer, Tom Jarecki, Pete Vargas, John Stevens, Tyler Merrick, B.J. Lockmiller, Zlatko Milutinovic and Marcus Berend. Weishaar and Lyles are the captains.

Spikers crush Canyon

The Lady Whiteface volleyball team made its record 2-0 with a 15-2, 15-5 victory over Canyon Thursday in Canyon.

Danielle Cornelius led Hereford with nine kills, and Michelle Brock served for 16 of Hereford's 30 points. Brock had three aces.

The match helped coach Brenda Reeh identify which areas need work.

"Our hitting was really on tonight; our passing and service receive was not, however," Reeh said, adding that four of Canyon's seven points came on aces. "That's an area we're going to focus a lot of attention on this week."

The games against Canyon weren't close.

"I don't think our win was ever threatened," Reeh said, "but there were times we got a little sloppy. Canyon gave us lots of free balls, and our free ball passing was not as sharp as it has to be."

Hereford's junior varsity also ran its record to 2-0 with a 15-3, 15-7 win over Canyon.

The varsity will play in the Lubbock Invitational Tournament this weekend, with pool play starting today. Results from today will determine the team's playing times on Saturday, the final day of the tournament.

Sign up for EMS scramble

There is still room for a couple of teams in the 3rd Annual DSGH/Hereford EMS Golf Tournament, which will be held Saturday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

The four-man scramble benefits Hereford Emergency Medical Services. The fee of $45 per person includes green fees, cart and dinner.

To register or to get more information, call 364-2141, extension 121 or 128.

Meet the Herd will be Monday

Meet the Herd Night for fall sports will be Monday, starting at 6:30 p.m. at Whiteface Stadium.

All athletes will be introduced for Hereford High School's football, volleyball, tennis and cross country teams.

Aikman to play vs. Oilers

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Dallas quarterback Troy Aikman has expectations for his first Cowboys start since the Super Bowl - he expects the offense to be sharp and he doesn't anticipate sympathy from Buddy Ryan.

Aikman, who had off-season back surgery, will play between one and two quarters Saturday when the Cowboys play the Houston Oilers in a sold-out exhibition game in the 65,000-seat Alamodome.

"I really am expecting to go out and for us to look sharp, maybe not mid-season form, but I would like to think we will be able to move the football and put some points on the board," Aikman said.

"I'd like to make it look like we have some idea of knowing what we're doing. Whether or not that's going to happen, I don't know."

Aikman's return to action will be against the 46 defense devised by Oilers defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan.

"I don't think (Buddy Ryan) is going to come after me any more than any other quarterback," Aikman said. "It's a defensive scheme where he believes in putting a lot of pressure on the quarterback."

"He's going to do that and he's not going to pull back because of my back injury thinking he may get me hurt."

Ryan's blitz-oriented defense has had a shaky start with some spectacular successes and glaring failures. The Oilers defense is still learning the "thinking man's defense."

But Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson is thinking more about Aikman facing the Oiler blitz after observing Ryan's tactics in an early training camp scrimmage between the two teams.

"I'm concerned about it, because in the scrimmage they blitzed over half the time," Johnson said. "I am concerned about it, but our guys have done a good job pass protection-wise, and Troy feels like he's 100 percent ready to go, and so we're going to give him a shot."

While the Cowboys will monitor Aikman's health, the Oilers' critical need is to guard the health of their remaining offensive linemen.

Bruce Matthews, a first team All-Pro center last year, has been moved to left tackle and starting right guard Doug Dawson is now the center. John Flannery's knee injury and the late arrival in training camp of No. 1 draft choice Brad Hopkins has forced alterations.

"I just want to get my five best guys on the field at the same time," offensive line coach Bob Young said.

Unsigned Pro Bowl running back Lorenzo White has given backup Gary Brown a chance to perform. He was impressive in Monday night's loss to the Detroit Lions.

"I have more confidence in my abilities than I did my first year," Brown said. "The more reps I get the better I get. But I know what will happen when Lorenzo comes back."

Dodgers end Braves' winning streak at nine

By The Associated Press

If the Atlanta Braves intend to catch the San Francisco Giants, they can't afford to lose too many more like this one.

Atlanta's nine-game winning streak ended Thursday night as Tom Glavine (14-5) allowed four runs in the first inning of a 7-5 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Still the Braves came back with a run in the ninth and had runners on second and third with one out before Jim Gott shut them down.

"It was frustrating for me personally, because I didn't give the guys a chance to win," Glavine said after Atlanta dropped 7 1/2 games behind first-place San Francisco in the NL West. "If I had done my job for a couple of innings, we might have won."

Ron Gant, Fred McGriff and David Justice singled off Gott in the ninth, scoring one run. Terry Pendleton sacrificed, Damon Berryhill struck out and Mark Lemke was intentionally walked, loading the bases. But Javier Lopez, batting for the second time since being called up from Triple-A Richmond, grounded out to third base on the first pitch, giving Gott his 23rd save.

"There'll be some people out there saying the pennant race is over," Glavine said. "I don't think you can put that kind of pressure on yourself. We don't feel as though you have to win every single game."

In other games, San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 6-3, St. Louis beat San Diego 3-2, Colorado beat Philadelphia 6-5, Houston beat Florida 8-3 and Montreal beat Chicago 10-2.

Eric Davis hit a two-run homer in the first off Glavine (14-5), who had been 4-0 in his previous seven starts.

Kevin Gross (8-11) allowed three runs and eight hits in 5 1-3 innings. "I don't think this one game will finish them," Eric Karros said. "They had won nine in a row. You eventually have to lose one. They didn't quit tonight and I don't think they will. I think the race will go down to the wire."

Giants 6, Pirates 3

Willie McGee and Todd Benzinger homered, and Bryan Hickerson (6-4) pitched five-hit ball over seven-plus innings for visiting San Francisco, winning for the first time since July 21.

Bob Walk (11-11) lost for the fifth time in six starts, allowing five runs and four hits in just three innings. Rod Beck got three outs for his 37th save as the Giants won for the seventh time in nine games.

Astros 8, Marlins 3

Kevin Bass homered, doubled twice and drove in five runs as Houston completed a three-game sweep over the visiting Marlins.

Mark Portugal (12-4) reached 12 wins for the first time in his career, winning his sixth straight decision. He gave up three runs and eight hits in 5 2-3 innings.

Charlie Hough (7-13) was tagged for five runs and seven hits in three innings as Florida lost its fourth straight.

Cardinals 3, Padres 2

Mark Whiten hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly off Mark Davis (1-4) as St. Louis swept a three-game series and sent visiting San Diego to its fifth consecutive loss.

Mike Perez (5-2) pitched a perfect eighth and Lee Smith finished for his major-league leading 41st save. The Cardinals are eight games behind the Eastern division-leading Phillies.

Rockies 6, Phillies 5

Freddie Benavides hit a go-ahead, three-run homer off Roger Mason (4-9) as Colorado rallied from a 5-1 deficit in the eighth inning at Mile

High Stadium.

Marcus Moore (2-0) pitched two innings, allowing an eighth-inning sacrifice fly to Milt Thompson, and Darren Holmes pitched a perfect ninth for his 15th save in 18 chances.

Expos 10, Cubs 2

Jeff Fassero (8-3) pitched a six-hitter for the first complete game of his career, striking out nine and walking three at Wrigley Field. Montreal scored six unearned runs in the seventh inning.

Darrin Fletcher, who had just three hits in his 38 previous at-bats, hit his sixth home run this season in a three-run fourth off Frank Castillo (5-8).

Young Indian leads Tribe past Red Sox

By The Associated Press

Everything about Julian Tavarez looks older than 20 - his face, his poise and his pitches. Teammate Sandy Alomar suggests that might not be his real age.

"The guy's only 20 years old. That's what he says," laughs the Cleveland catcher, who is 26. "And I'm 19."

Tavarez (2-1) held the aging heart of Boston's lineup - 30-year-old Mike Greenwell and 39-year-old Andre Dawson - hitless in eight at-bats Thursday night. He fooled the Red Sox with sinkers and sliders in seven strong innings as the Indians won 5-1.

In the only other American League games played Thursday, California edged Milwaukee 5-4 and Kansas City beat Minnesota 4-2.

Even if Tavarez was born on May 22, 1973, in the Dominican Republic, as the Indians say, he certainly can't be just one month removed from Class A, can he?

That's also shocking, but true.

Is Cleveland manager Mike Hargrove surprised by Tavarez's performance?

"Age-wise, maybe," he said. "Experience-wise, maybe not. He's played a lot of baseball. He's got good mound instincts."

"Twenty is awfully young, but Bob Feller pitched at 17, so it's been done, but I'm not comparing them at all."

In the other AL games, Kansas City beat Minnesota 4-2 and California defeated Milwaukee 5-4 in 12 innings.

Tavarez pitched two years in the Dominican League, then spent 1992 in Class A. That's where he was this year until July 19, when he was promoted to Canton-Akron of the Eastern League.

He won his first two games there, holding the New Britain Red Sox scoreless through 17 innings. He was 2-1 before skipping Triple-A and jumping to Cleveland on Aug. 7.

He lost his first start on that day, then beat Texas last Saturday. Thursday's six-hit performance was his best.

"I never thought I would play in the big leagues so soon," Tavarez said through teammate and interpreter Alvaro Espinoza. "There are more good hitters in the big leagues. You have to throw the ball and make them hit it. So that's the same in both leagues."

Boston went ahead in the second inning on John Valentin's RBI double. But Paul Quantrill (5-7) gave up three runs in the fifth on Glenallen Hill's run-scoring single and Wayne Kirby's two-run double.

Tavarez didn't make too many mistakes for Boston to capitalize on. He struck out five and gave up his only walk in the seventh inning. But he got out of a first-and-second jam by striking out the side. Jeremy Hernandez worked the last two innings.

Angels 5, Brewers 4

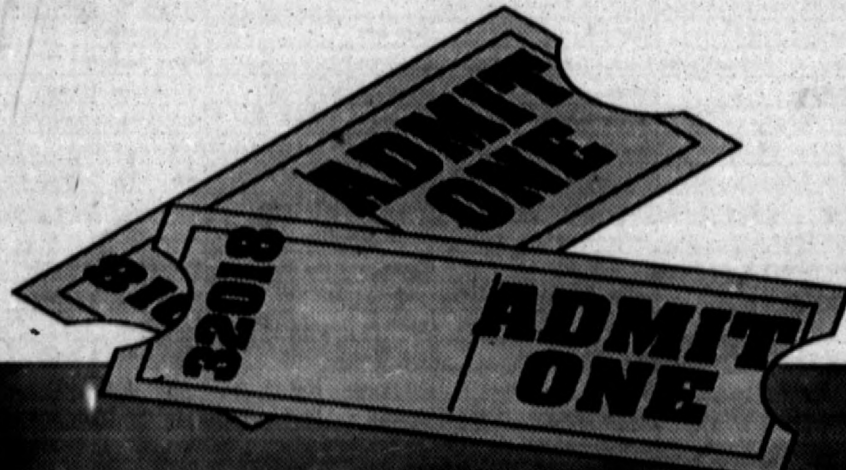

Tim Salmon homered for the fourth straight game and California won in the bottom of the 12th inning on a wild pitch by Graeme Lloyd.

Salmon, who leads major league rookies with 28 home runs and 81 RBIs, connected for a two-run shot in the fourth inning.

Royals 4, Twins 2

David Cone struck out a season-high 11 in seven shutout innings and pitched Kansas City past Minnesota at the Metrodome.

George Brett hit a 455-foot home run.

Rattling up a huge white-tailed buck is the dream of many hunters. It is a dream that could come true for those who come to Hunt '93 and listen closely during the seminars by Gary Roberson of Burnham Brothers Game Calls. Roberson, a world-class expert game caller, will conduct seminars on varmint calling and how to use a pair of rattling horns to fool a big buck.

Hunt '93, set for Aug. 28 and 29 at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo, is five shows in one: hunting, archery, RV's, camping and outdoor travel. It will feature the latest items just in time for the 1993 hunting season.

Included in the list of exhibitors is Billy Fred's Gun Shop, Twink's, O'Dell indoor gun range, Strongbuilt deer blinds, Chas-Mac blinds and feeders, Bookout bird hunting resort, Webb shooting preserve, Caprock Outfitters, Birdog Club, Bar H Dude Ranch and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Big time outfitters and guides from Montana (Larry Surber) to Mexico (Billy Chapman with A-Team Expeditions) will complement the show's indoor archery range, Jim Finley's unique indoor shooting range, and hourly instruction at two seminar centers. If you like hunting, you will love this show.

One of the most popular attractions at Hunt '93 will be the Panhandle Hall of Fame Antlers Collection, a unique collection featuring the finest white-tailed deer, mule deer, aoudad sheep, antelope, elk and even some trophies from Alaska and Canada. This special collection would not have been possible without the special assistance and generosity of Dr. Jim Goforth, Stan Taylor, Billy Fred Jones and Pat Harkins. A collection of this quality has never before been assembled under one roof in Amarillo, seeing it is worth the trip to Hunt '93.

This hunting season also marks the beginning of a new weekly big buck contest: The entry fee is only $10, and prize money of $50,000 is possible. Stop by the booth marked Texas Big Buck Challenge and talk with Mike or Junelle Levy about the details of this great contest. If you can't wait until Hunt '93, they can be reached at (512) 765-2772.

Jerry Graves of Claude won his third Bass Tournament of 1993 and has pocketed over $2,000 during the past 30 days. His secret baits are the old dependable black jig and pig, a trusty black lizard and a single-bladed white spinnerbait. Jerry joins Pampa's Gary Carter as the only anglers to win three times during the same year. With only six tournaments remaining on the 1993 schedule, it will be fun to watch the competition between these two experts.

Mel Phillips, winner of numerous awards for journalism and broadcasting, is an active member of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association. He is an avid hunter, tournament fisherman and host of a Wednesday evening outdoors show on KGNK Talk Radio 71.

Lawyer: accused men didn't shoot Jordan's father

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - An attorney for one of the men accused of killing Michael Jordan's father says he has new information that shows the two suspects are innocent.

Hugh Rogers, the attorney representing 18-year-old Larry Martin Demery, said information he received Thursday suggests that someone else killed James Jordan, The Charlotte Observer reported today.

His client and Daniel Andre Green, the other defendant, "wandered upon a car with a body in it," Rogers said. He declined to give further details.

"There was pressure on law enforcement to solve this thing and solve it quick," Rogers said. "Whether they were overzealous and arrested the wrong folks is something to be determined."

Rogers' statement was contradicted by Jim Coman, director of the State Bureau of Investigation.

"We've got the right people," Coman said. "There's not any indication that anyone other than Demery and Green were actually involved in the shooting."

Authorities are performing ballistics tests on a .38-caliber handgun believed to be the murder weapon that could link the two suspects to the killing. Results of the tests are expected next week.

Thomas Lusby, the FBI's assistant agent in charge of North Carolina, said there is more evidence than just the gun to link Green and Demery to the shooting.

Authorities have charged Demery, of Rowland, N.C., and Green, of Lumberton, N.C., both 18, with first-degree murder in James Jordan's death.

First aid do's, don'ts

Based on the new American Red Cross Safety Handbook (Little, Brown and Co.) available to consumers for the first time in 10 years, here are steps you can take that can make a difference in an emergency:

Do call Emergency Medical Services first whenever someone is seriously injured.

Don't put creams, ointments or oils on burns, but cool a small, superficial burn by immersing it in cool water.

Do call the Poison Control Center in any emergency involving poison. Keep the number near your phone.

Don't use tweezers to remove a bee's stinger. Scrape it off the skin with a fingernail, credit card or other stiff-edge object.

Do apply pressure to stop bleeding of minor cuts. Use a sterile dressing or clean cloth and apply pressure directly to the wound and elevate.

Don't throw away a tooth that's been knocked out. Press it back into the socket or put it in a container of cool milk and take it to a dentist or hospital emergency department immediately.

Do apply a cold compress to a bruise as soon as possible to reduce swelling.

Don't touch someone being shocked by household electric current. Unplug the appliance or turn off the main power switch. If you can't stand on dry, insulating material use a dry wooden object to separate the person from the current.

Do keep someone with a nosebleed from lying down. Have him or her sit down and lean forward, pinch the soft part of the nose for 15 minutes.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - On the eve of the Walker Cup golf tournament founded by his grandfather, former President Bush said life after the White House includes a lot of time on the links.

"Golf fits in very high these days," Bush said in Sunday's Star Tribune in Minneapolis. "My hips are giving me grief, so I've cut down on the running. I just play golf."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am on vacation, but I have left behind some of my favorite columns that you may have missed the first time around. I hope you enjoy them.--Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It's a well-known fact that parents who have both sons and daughters' feel girls should be warned against going too far. But seldom is anything ever said to sons on the subject. The following true story points this up, and I hope you will print it.

A college football coach encountered a tall, muscular young man wearing a T-shirt on which was printed the words, "HELP STAMP OUT VIRGINITY." The coach wanted to say something but didn't know quite how to start. Finally, he approached the young man and began a friendly conversation.

After they had talked for a while, the coach said, "Save that T-shirt. When you feel like you no longer want to wear it, wrap it up and put it away in a drawer. Maybe in three or four years, you'll meet a girl and fall in love and get married. If you're lucky, within a few years, you'll have children. Maybe you'll be fortunate enough to be blessed with a little girl. She'll be the apple of your eye. That little girl will grow up. Then, one day, you and her mother will be anxiously awaiting her first date. It probably will be some awkward, gangling kid you never saw before. That's the time, my friend, for you to go the drawer, unwrap the T-shirt and ask yourself if you'd want that kid to show up wearing it."

I wonder what kind of impression the coach made on that college boy. I can tell you, his story made a whale of an impression on me.--A Chicago Parent

DEAR PARENT: Move over. That makes two of us. Thanks for an eye-opener to start the week.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Do you have room for a comment on "Happy Wally," who majored in economics and minored in sex? He said he slipped a $10 bill into his wife's bra whenever he felt the urge. In 23 years, he estimates he spent $3,000.

This figures out to roughly 13 love feasts a year--or slightly more than one a month. Wally says they are supremely happy, and he wants to share his secret with others. I don't consider myself a sex maniac, but to a normal, healthy person, his batting average sounds like celibacy. I hope the idea doesn't catch on. It could make sex obsolete. (P.S. Ann, where do you find these nuts?) You Don't Get Much of Anything These Days for Ten Dollars.

DEAR DON'T GET: I must say I agree with you. And in response to your P.S., I don't find THEM. They find ME.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are atheists. This is not something we generally announce. Our close friends and relatives are aware of our convictions, but some of our distant kin are not.

Recently, we were at a family gathering, and the host asked my husband to say grace. He was caught totally off guard, but rather than offend everyone, he said a muddled prayer. Should we be caught this way again, please suggest a way we can tactfully let it be known that we respect their beliefs but do not wish to compromise our own.--Puzzled

DEAR PUZZ: Simply say, "There are others present who are far more articulate in offering thanks. I defer to Uncle John or Cousin George."

Gem of the Day: Time spent for getting even is time lost for getting ahead.

DEAR READERS: I am on vacation, but I have left behind some of my favorite columns that you may have missed the first time around. I hope you enjoy them.--Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: At the age of 26, I got sick and tired of being fat, so I went to a doctor who has known me and my family for years. He put me on a sensible diet, and I lost 52 pounds in five months. I feel terrific and could kick myself for not having done it years ago.

The problem is I have lost my fat girlfriends. At first, they seemed happy for me, and everything was fine. I offered to share my diet with them, but not a single one could stick with it.

The real chill set in when I began to get asked out by some attractive men. It is awfully hard for me to believe these girls are envious, but I can't think of any other reason for the big freeze.

Have you ever heard of anything like this before?--Gold Shouldered in Sheboygan

DEAR SHOULDERED: Success can be awfully hard to take--especially if it's someone else's. The girls you describe in your letter were not friends. They were merely acquaintances with whom you shared a common misery. You have lost nothing of value. Forget it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband's father passed away 18 months ago. My mother-in-law (who treated her husband like dirt) suddenly became a grief-stricken widow. She fainted in the church, threw herself on the coffin--the whole bit.

The biggest mistake my husband made in his life was saying to her, "Don't worry, Mother. You will never be alone." She took him up on it and moved into our home the following week.

She couldn't bear to part with her dining room set, so mine had to go. Her new refrigerator and freezer (which we could have used) went to her daughter. She had strong sentimental attachments to several statuettes, vases and assorted pieces of junk, so our once-lovely home now looks like a secondhand store.

If all she was ruining was the looks of my home, I could stand it, but she is also ruining my health (she insists on cooking), undercuts my disciplining of the children and butts into small arguments between my husband and me. Don't tell me I shouldn't have allowed her to move in. It's too late for that. Tell me what to do NOW because I am really--Going Nuts

DEAR GOING: Tell your husband he'd better start looking NOW for some other place for his mother.

Remedies for aching head

Everyone knows what a headache feels like. But probably each of us experiences this common symptom in a slightly different way.

While one person may occasionally get mild temporary headaches after overindulging in red wine, another may regularly have throbbing, debilitating pain that comes on with no warning and lasts for days. No matter what kind of headaches you experience, the discomfort can interfere with your lifestyle and dampen your mood.

There are two major types of headaches, tension and migraine. Tension headaches are caused by the tightening of the muscles of the face, neck, and scalp, usually due to emotional or physical stress. If you are worried about something at work or home, have gotten a poor night's sleep, or work in a noisy, stuffy environment, you might get a tension headache. The feeling is like a band of dull pressure around the head.

Three types of pain killers are available to treat headaches--aspirin, acetaminophen and ibuprofen. Aspirin is the oldest and the cheapest of these medications. Some people, including those with ulcers or bleeding disorders, children with fevers and anyone having surgery should avoid this drug.

Acetaminophen and ibuprofen both work well as aspirin substitutes. People with allergic reactions to aspirin, however, should not use ibuprofen. Pregnant women should consult their doctors before taking any medication.

The best way to prevent recurrent tension headaches is to eliminate the stressful element in your life. If you are worried about something, try to relieve anxieties through exercise or other activities. If you need more sleep or are unhappy at work, recognize this and make a change.

Migraine headaches are caused by dilation of the blood vessels in the scalp, eye or neck. Migraine sufferers generally experience a sharp throbbing pain starting on one side of the head and then spreading. Sometimes nausea, vomiting, and visual disturbance precede or accompany the headache.

The exact reason why some people experience migraines and others do not is unknown. We do know that they tend to run in families and that certain foods such as chocolate, aged cheeses, and caffeine and contribute to their development. For women, changing hormone levels also seem to pay a role.

Migraines may respond well to treatment with aspirin or other pain killers. Drugs that reduce the dilation of the blood vessels may also be effective. Often stress reduction and relaxation techniques help reduce pain.

If you experience severe or recurrent headaches, you should see your doctor. Occasionally, a serious medical condition may be the cause.

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) - Burt Reynolds has lost another endorsement contract, with Quaker State oil.

Quaker State Corp. insisted its decision had nothing to do with the actor's pending divorce from Loni Anderson. "It looks like we dumped him, but it was all coincidence," Quaker State spokesman Benton Faulkner said Wednesday.

On Tuesday, the Florida Citrus Commission pulled Reynolds' orange juice commercials, saying the actor no longer conveyed the image of a happy family man. The commission said it wouldn't renew Reynolds' one-year, $500,000 contract, which ends in November.

Reynolds began hawking Quaker State products 18 months ago. His last commercial aired July 31. The company didn't disclose what the deal was worth.

HONOLULU (AP) - George Lazenby is still trying to resurrect his career, nearly 25 years after passing up the chance to settle in as James Bond.

The former car salesman got his big break when he starred as 007 in "On Her Majesty's Secret Service" in 1969. But he declined to sign on for the next Bond movie, convinced by friends that being typecast in "Sean Connery's gig" was a bad idea.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

AMBUSH -- A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL METHOD!

IN THE PRACTICE OF WAR THE ANCIENT ISRAELITES LEANED HEAVILY ON VARIOUS STRATAGEMS, SUCH AS SURPRISE, AMBUSH, PRETENDED RETREAT, AND SUCH CIRCUMVENTIONS AS WOULD KEEP THEIR ENEMIES IN A DISTRAUGHT STATE OF HELPLESSNESS. WE LEARN IN GENESIS 14 THAT WHEN AMBRAM WENT TO RESCUE HIS NEPHEW LOT, HE DIVIDED HIS FORCES, WHICH CERTAINLY SUGGESTS AMBUSH AND SUCCESSFULLY ATTACKED AND VANQUISHED THE ENEMY. ALSO NOTED IN THE BOOK OF JOSHUA, CHAPTER 8, ARE PLANS FOR A VERY SUCCESSFUL AMBUSH BY WHICH JOSHUA AND THE ISRAELITES HOPED TO DEFEAT THE SOLDIERS OF THE CITY OF AI. A MUCH USED FORM OF AMBUSH WAS TO DRAW THE OPPOSING FORCES INTO A LARGE GULLY OR RAVINE BY MAKING THEM BELIEVE THEY WERE PURSUING A SMALL NUMBER OF MEN. WHEN THE PREY WAS SUCCESSFULLY LURED INTO THE CHASM, THE MAJOR FORCE, HIDDEN UP ABOVE, WOULD THEN ATTACK--MUCH TO THE ENEMY'S CHAGRIN!
