Gromowsky enters school board election

William Gromowsky has filed for Place 4 on the Hereford school board, and will oppose Mike Veazey on the May 4 ballot.

The filing deadline is Wednesday at 5 p.m. for positions on the city commission and school board, and one school board post remained unfiled-for today.

Place 1, currently held by Steve Concway, has drawn no candidates so far. Gromowsky and Veazey have filed for Place 4; Joe Flood, David Bone and Steve Wright have filed for Place 5, and Martha Rincon and incumbent Raymond Schlabs have filed for Place 3.

Persons wishing to file for the school board are asked to call the school administration building at 364-0606 and follow instructions on the tape. The administrative offices are closed this week for spring break.

In the city commission race, no additional candidates have filed. Tom LeGate remains unopposed for mayor, and Silvana Juarez and James McDowell Jr. have filed for the two city commission seats available. Juarez is the Place 1 incumbent, while McDowell filed for the Place 3 post being vacated by LeGate.

Filing for the hospital board will be open through April 4.

Maeder honored at Sugarland Mall ceremony

Gerald Maeder, seated behind Mayor Wes Fisher, listens as Fisher makes brief remarks at a ceremony welcoming Maeder home from his service in the Persian Gulf War. Maeder served on the USS Duluth in the Persian Gulf and was the first solider with a Hereford connection to return home. Sugarland Mall manager Henry Reid said the mall plans more such celebrations for soldiers returning home to Hereford in the future. The ceremonies included brief remarks by the mayor, presentation of the colors and patriotic songs.

Commissioners approved a budget that will give city employees a 5 percent pay raise. The employees will also be able to participate in the Texas Municipal Retirement System. Under the new system, the employees $14.50. give 5 percent of their salary to the fund and the city will contribute 6.97 percent.

"I think this is to the advantage of our employees," City Manager Darin attracting a new city manager."

The $5.3 million budget includes the following principle expenditures: -- Health and Sanitation Department: $30,000 for a chipper, $69,000 and packer body and $5,000 for containers.

--$10,000 in park improvements.

The budget expenditures are $431,829 over last year's budget. Commissioners adopted two ordinances to cover costs in the budget, including an increase in garbage rates. Commissioner Tom LeGate, chairman of the golf course committee, suggested increased greens fees to help pay for the watering system at the golf course. The unanimous vote will increase the greens fees as follows: -- For city memberships, the rate will increase from $250 to $300. -- For non-city, the fees will go from $350 to $400. -- The senior citizens fee will increase to $300.

-- The junior memberships will stay at the current rate of $100. --Weekday greens fees will go from $5 to $6 and the weekend fees will increase from $7.50 to $10. The estimated revenues from the increases will be $30,815.

Several persons at the meeting In Washington, State Department expressed concerns over the fees. Ron Weishaar suggested charging

> With a 5-2 vote (Mayor Wes Fisher and Commissioner Irene Cantu opposed) the commissioners voted to keep the golf cart rates as they are.

> To help cover costs in the parks, the commissioners voted to accept an ordinance establishing a $1 voluntary park charge on their city bill.

In a 4-3 vote, the council voted to give $10,000 to the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA. During their last meeting, commissioners tabled the request for funds by the YMCA until a budget could be presented. With the estimated funds and donations, the YMCA would need a $17,000 donation from the city to make their budget.

"I've heard more people against funding the Y than for," Fisher said.

Lewis wants proposed budget before summer

AUSTIN (AP) - House Speaker Gib Lewis said he does not want to wait until this summer to write a state budget and pass any needed tax increase, as Gov. Ann Richards has suggested.

"We will press forward and try to have a budget, and if we require a tax bill, we'll have a tax bill this session," Lewis said after a Monday eting with House committee heads. The speaker said he had not yet talked to Richards about the plan.

The governor earlier said she expected a summer special session to deal with the budget, after state agency audits are complete and a tax study committee makes recommendations by July 1.

Richards, who was meeting Monday with insurance officials in New York, issued a statement saying she had made a commitment "to consolidate and cut state government before we considered a budget or any tax measure."

"My instructions to the Revenue Task Force were to examine all the alternatives - including sacred cows - before we look at any tax bills. And we haven't done that yet," she said.

Morales disputes census numbers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texas Attorney General Dan Morales is taking his fight for an adjustment in the 1990 census to Congress, claiming the state's fast-growing Hispanic population and other minorities were shortchanged in the

At stake are hundreds of millions based on population, as well as congressional representation.

Texas has already filed suit along with several other states and cities in federal court challenging the oversees the Census Bureau. The suit seeks an adjustment of population figures to account for minorities and rural residents who may have been overlooked in the national head

According to the Census Bureau, Texas's population grew 19.4 percent over the past decade and totaled 16.9 million in 1990. As a result, Texas gains three seats in the U.S. House.

But the question of an undercount has complicated efforts to redraw political boundaries, and the state is of dollars in federal aid, which is now considering the possibility of conducting its own adjustment for legislative redistricting. Census figures, however, would be used to draw congressional seats.

Financially, some estimates Commerce Department, which indicate the 1990 undercount could cost the state upwards of $1 billion in federal funds over the next decade, according to Morales's office. The 1980 undercount cost Texas an estimated $580 million.

The Commerce Department has until July 15 to announce whether it will adjust the count nationally.

The Census Bureau, meanwhile, announced Monday that two Texas counties - Bexar and Tarrant - were among six added to the list of counties topping 1 million. A total of 30 counties nationwide had populations of 1 million or more, including Harris, with 2.8 million, making it the third largest nationwide, and Dallas, with 1.85 million, the 11th largest.

Bexar, with 1.18 million, ranks 25th nationally, while Tarrant, with 1.17 million, is 27th. A total of 27 counties in Texas had populations exceeding 100,000.

Texas also had three of nine counties nationwide that lost more than one-fourth of their populations in the 1980s - Hall and Hemphill, Panhandle counties that lost 30 percent each; and Dickens, east of Lubbock, which lost 27 percent.

In a recent interview, Morales said he believes the April 1990 count overlooked substantial numbers of minorities in Texas' inner cities, residents of rural areas, and those who live along the Mexican border in impoverished communities known as colonias. The state's migrant workers may also have been undercounted substantially, he said.

In testimony to be submitted today at a congressional hearing, Morales said minorities are disproportionately excluded from the total portrait of the country's population.

And since minority groups tend to be concentrated geographically, the result may be that some areas, such as Texas, are significantly undercounted, he said.

"Exacerbating this problem is the fact that the minority population in Texas and other chronically undercounted regions is increasing dramatically as a percentage of the general population," Morales said.

He noted that Texas has the second-highest Hispanic population and the highest rural Hispanic population in the nation.

"Much of Texas' rural Hispanic population is concentrated in population clusters known as las colonias," Morales's statement said.
"With all the demographic attributes that lead to undercounting, the colonias are arguably the most difficult population for the Census Bureau to enumerate.'

Dropped into a breathtaking canyon and propped against a 600 foot cliff, "TEXAS" rolls out the red carpet for the more than 100,000 visitors each summer.

For the 26th season, the musical drama adds new window dressing in props and special effects. The production opens June 12 with a salute to the Spaniards and Mexicans in honor of the 250th celebration of Coronado's march through the area. Foreign and state dignitaries will join founders and members of the nonprofit producing organization for festive reception and entertainment prior to the performance.

"TEXAS" will play, nightly except Sunday, through August 24 in the Pioneer Amphitheater in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon.

At 8 p.m. the 1,742 seat theater fills. At 8:30 p.m. spectators lift their eyes to the sky. Two horsemen, silhouetted against the setting sun, ride the rim of the majestic canyon carrying Texas and American flags. Only the sound of a lone bugle breaks the tremendous silence.

Then suddenly the stage below fills with music and dance as the 80

Summer camp available

A summer camp designed for handicapped children is available for deaf, blind and physically handicapped youngsters from the Hereford area at no cost to their parents.

The Hereford Lions Club has information about the Texas Lions impaired, hearing impaired and eligible for the camp. They must have an IQ of 70 or above and have normal bowel and kidney control. Some selfhelp skills in eating and dressing are also required.

Persons interested in obtaining applications for the camp may call Gary Billingsley at 364-2751 in Hereford.

The camp activities are well supervised by a trained staff at a ratio campers. All of the activities are adapted so every handicapped child will be able to participate. Every child will have the opportunity to go swimming, ride horses, study nature, go fishing, play tennis, participate in field sports and go on an overnight campout. The campers enjoy the fun and recreation in a safe environment, and the health care of the campers is the staff's major concern.

The Texas Lions Camp has provided 25,000 handicapped children with an opportunity to learn from and enjoy the outdoors since it began in 1953. The camp is a nonprofit organization funded by individuals interested in providing challenging programs for handi-capped children.

Rudder speaks on interior design

Betty Rudder, interior designer, color, all shades of brown, earthtones to March 26. All members are to spoke to members of La Madre Mia Study Club when they met recently in the home of Lavon Nieman with Georgia Sparks serving as co-hostess. After being an English, speech and history teacher for 10 years and a full-time volunteer in Midland, Betty continued her education.

She is a graduate of TSTI Amarillo in interior design and served as president of the student chapter of ASID and represented the school at the National Conference in Toronto, Canada in 1988.

Rudder told the group that comfort and simplicity seem to be the most popular thing in decorating in the 90s. She added that there were no big movement toward trends. Everyone can be an individualist and even the man of the house seems to enjoy the Interior design is not only in the home, but is now being seen in hospitals, hotels, nursing homes and businesses.

At this time, she said, family kitchens are popular for redecorating. "Big, comfortable kitchens where everyone can help are the in thing right now." Bathrooms are being built larger and more luxurious--some with exercise equipment.

An outdoor retreat of some kind, like a gazebo, terrace, garden, patio or even a chair and table under a tree, is also very popular, she said.

Manufacturers are copying a lot of the genuine antique furniture, adapting them to the lifestyle of today. They find this is a popular market.

Also tapestries, silks, and other fabrics are taking the place of the cotton fabric look. Tassels and fringe are becoming more popular, she said.

Clay, stone and metal accent pieces are coming back. The bronze and colors of the sea are quite meet at the Hereford Community popular. Rudder says she prefers the Center parking lot at 6 p.m. to travel lighter and airier look.

During the business meeting, conducted by President Merle Clark, committee reports were given.

Betty Lady, chairman of the project committee reported that $200 was given to the Christmas Stocking Fund, $200 to Big Brothers/Big Sisters, and $25 to United Way.

The committee recommended that $400 be donated to the Department of Human Resources to assist elderly, disabled and children's emergencies. Also, $400 to the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence program. It was reported this agency helped 369 victims last year.

The club voted to present a $500 scholarship to a deserving senior at Hereford High School this year. Next year the $500 will go to the Opportunity Plan.

Appreciation was extended from Francyne Bromlow who recently lost her father.

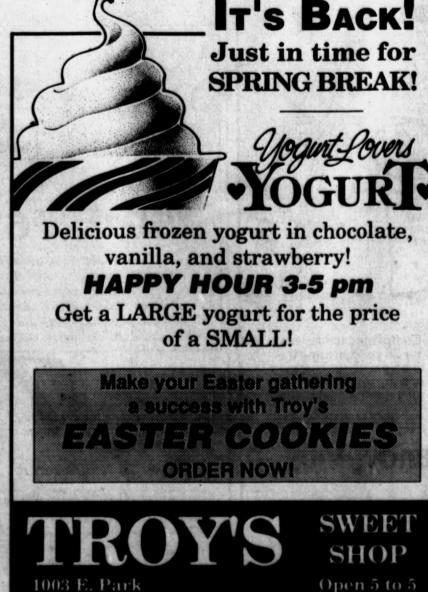

Clark announced that Carolyn Baxter, Susan Robbins and Gladys Merritt would serve on the scholarship committee.

The nominating committee will be Judy Williams, Nancy Paetzold, Mysedia Smith and Marlene Watson. The next meeting will be in the home of Joyce Allred in Amarillo.

Hereford second in close track battle

By JAY PEDEN

Sports Editor The teams which competed in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational girls' track meet ran under dark skies all day Saturday, but the Hereford team may have found a silver lining in those clouds.

Hereford's 191 points was second to the 208 which powerful Pampa racked up despite intermittent rain, a rain delay and a brief hailfall.

But Lady Whiteface Coach Martha Emerson sees a way Hereford can win the district title.

TRACK & FIELD

Here are the results of the junior boys' track meet held Friday at Valley View Junior High. In this meet no points were kept, and all boys competed against the clock; not each other. Top six finishers from Hereford are listed by event, then by grade.

When Borger--the other strong member of District 1-4A--is mixed into the district competition, Hereford will benefit, Emerson said.

Though Borger is strong all over, she said that the Lady Bulldogs will split up Pampa's points in the sprints and jumping events more than they will Hereford's distance and throwing points. That gives Hereford a chance to beat both.

Other than Roddy's shot finish, the Lady Whitefaces got second places from Lindsay Radford in the triple jump and from Chasity Rickman in the long jump. Rickman was also fourth in the high jump, fourth in the 100 hurdles and fourth in the 400 relay along with Brandy Dunn, Krista West and Laura Rangel.

Hereford also finished second in the 800 relay. That team consisted of Moore, Rangel, Zepeda and Salazar.

Dunn was responsible for two of Hereford's third places: in the long jump and in the triple jump. Other thirds came from Rachel Alaniz in the 300 hurdles and Salazar in the 800 run.

Jill Dutton and Rita Soto shared scoring honors for the JV with 18 points each. Dutton won the 3,200 run and Soto came in second; in the 1,600 the order of finish was reversed.

Traci Deckard was the only member of the JV team to score in three events. She won the long jump, leapt to third in the triple jump and finished sixth in the 200.

Herd improves in Saturday's golf action

The Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament, played at Pitman Municipal course in Hereford, concluded Saturday.

The high school golfers had to play the last three holes in rain and hail, Hereford coach and tournament director Stacey Bixler said, but they finished.

The Hereford boys' "A" team shot the best round of the day at 327, but it wasn't enough to make up the 20 strokes they needed to catch firstround leader Canyon. Hereford shot 341 Friday; Canyon, 321.

Pampa's 333 Saturday was, however enough to make up the fivestrokes Canyon had over the Harvesters after Friday. Canyon shot 339 Saturday--compared to 321 Friday--and Pampa took the boys' team title by one stroke; 659-660.

Hereford's hot Saturday gave them a two-day total of 668 and kept them safely in front of Levelland's 683. Levelland shot 334 Saturday, improving on Friday's 349, to claim fourth place.

Hereford's Cory Newton led the Whiteface charge, shooting a teamlow 79 Saturday to go with his teamlow Friday score of 84. The 79 moved him to seventh in medal play, up from tenth after Friday's play.

Jayson Mines moved into the top ten with an 80 Saturday. His two-day total of 166 was good for tenth place.

The Hereford girls' team also placed two in the top ten: Paula Britten put a 96 Saturday with her 92 Friday for a ninth-place 188, and Dusty Saul moved into tenth by improving to 92 Saturday from 98 Friday.

Although the girls' 387 Saturday was not quite as good at Friday's 386, they were able to move up one place to fourth.

Borger--in fourth place and three strokes ahead of Hereford after Friday's 383--shot 398 Saturday, allowing the Lady Whitefaces to blow Andrews, led by top individual Lisa McQuatters' 160, won the girls' team championship. Andrews shot 344 Saturday for a two-day total of 685--57 strokes ahead of secondplace Pampa.

Pampa shot 372 Saturday to move past Snyder for second. Snyder led Pampa by eight strokes after Friday's play, but shot a 389 Saturday.

Pampa and Snyder totaled 742 and 751, respectively. Following were Hereford at 773, Borger at 781 and Hereford's "B" team at 852.

- Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My father passed away this past summer. He and my mom had divorced. Both had remarried.

Three years ago Dad told me that he was drawing up a will and leaving my sisters and me a small inheritance. He said everything else would go to his wife and upon her death, the

Society inducts members

Fifty-three members of West Texas State University's junior and senior classes were inducted into the Texas Zeta Chapter of Alpha Chi, a national honor scholarship society, during a special ceremony held March 7.

Nancy A. Nixon, a senior political science major from Hereford, was among those selected.

Membership in Alpha Chi is by invitation only and is limited to students who have a grade point average of 3.50 or higher (on a 4.0 scale) and rank in the top 10 percent of their respective class.

There are 271 chapters of Alpha Chi across the nation. The Texas Zeta Chapter at West Texas State University is the sixth oldest and traces its origins to the year 1923.

Scholarship awarded

Lorri Anne McDaniel, daughter of James and Peggy McDaniel of Lake Arrowhead and the granddaughter of Ellen Bumpass of Hereford, recently received a scholarship from the University Kiwanis Organization in Wichita Falls.

She is a senior at Midwestern State University and is working toward a degree is social work. She has served as secretary to the local Circle K group and has represented her group as a voting delegate at district and international level meets and workshops.

Casual look "in" for spring

Women today need clothes they can count on-versatile, updated classics suited to active lifestyles.

"Easy shapes and clean lines reflect the relaxed attitude of our new spring collection. These are basics, but better," says Tracy Steckbauer, sportswear designer for OshKosh B'Gosh.

Sized 4-18, the company's women's sportswear offers 23 new styles this season which include a variety of tops, skirt, pants, shorts and dresses. All-cotton knits, printed denim and chambray, twill and oxford cloth offer easy-care comfort.

"Our expanded line of jersey and interlock knits features a jumpsuit, full shorts, swing top, pull-on pants, circle skirt and a T-shirt dress," says Steckbauer. These are colored in black and white solids, geometric estate would be equally divided between her two children and his three children.

When Dad died we didn't want to bring up the subject with our stepmother. But after six months has passed we asked her when there would be a reading of Dad's will. She said, "He didn't have a will."

Two days later she phoned to say he did have a will and left everything to her. She then sent us a copy of a will that had been purchased in a drug store. It was dated 1983. She was the sole beneficiary. We told her that Dad had said he was writing a will and we would be "remembered." Her response was, "He never got around

Obermeier to speak at WTSU

George Obermeier, nationally recognized for his creative expertise and training work with student assistance programs, will present a program titled "Natural Highs" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 10, at Northen Recital Hall on the West Texas State University campus.

Although the program could be billed as a "drug talk," Obermeier is quick to point out that his presentation doesn't focus as much on alcohol and other drug abuse as it does on natural highs.

According to Obermeier, drug abuse has reached epidemic proportions because man has "outevolved" his body chemistry. The body is prepared to face danger and to run from or fight wild animals, to laugh, to exercise or to listen to music and reacts by producing its own chemical substances. When people no longer ask or seldom ask their bodies to "trigger" these naturalhigh substances, the result is boredom. And too often, he says, the boredom is counteracted with drugs and alcohol.

He points to young children as the best at achieving natural highs because they don't worry about dignity and the appropriateness of their responses.

"Adults," he said, "don't want anybody to think they're fools."

But Obermeier is not one of those adults and preaches his "natural high" philosophy using such unexpected props as pink wigs, water guns and bazookas to illustrate the value of laughter, excitement and fun.

Obermeier, vice president of J. Mayer & Associates, an educational consultant firm specializing in the design and development of student assistance programs, has presented hundreds of programs across the country. He was named Outstanding Student Assistance Professional in 1988 and received the Outstanding Student Assistance Program in Higher Education Award in 1990. The former drug and alcohol hospital administrator and college alcohol and drug education coordinator serves on the board of directors of the National Association of Leadership for Student Assistance Programs.

Admission to his April 10 presentation at West Texas State University is $5 per person; however, individuals with identification from an institution of higher learning will be admitted without charge. Tickets are available at the WTSU Activities Center and the student service offices at the Texas Tech Medical Center, TSTI and Amarillo College.

The presentation is sponsored by the WTSU Student Leadership, WTSU Student Organizations and the Panhandle Consortium on Alcohol and Other Drug Prevention.

AMERICANS SAMPLE MANY IMPORTED BEERS

NEW YORK (AP) - The United States imports beers from more than 65 countries around the world - more than any other nation - to please the palates of American beer aficionados. reports an international beverage publication.

Leading importers to the U.S. are the Netherlands, Canada, Mexico, Germany and the United Kingdom, says Beverages Magazine, which tracks the overall beverage field worldwide.

Canadian and Mexican brands have an advantage over other imports, observes the industry journal, because they are brewed closer to home and are transported in trucks just like local domestic brands.

It is notable that the first cases of imported beer from the Netherlands were distributed in New York City and New Jersey in 1933.

Are breast implants safe?

Recent reports again raise questions about breast implants. The Mayo Clinic Health Letter emphasizes that breast implants are safe.

Here are the major concerns about breast implants and why you should not believe them:

-Cancer-An implant does not make it significantly more difficult to diagnose cancer or increase your risk of developing cancer.

Mayo researchers found that women who have had a mastectomy and breast-reconstruction surgery at the same time do well, in spite of common fears that implants might hide recurring cancers. Inserting a breast implant after removing cancerous tissue prevents the cost and recovery process of a followup operation. It also may help ease some of the psychological trauma that women can experience after the removal of one or both breasts.

-Other diseases-Direct injection of silicone into your breast may lead to joint pain and flu-like symptoms. But there's no proof that implants cause such problems.

Lupus and rheumatoid arthritis are no more common in women with implants that in the general popula-

In reviewing reports from around the world, fewer than 100 women with implants have been reported as having some sort of immune system disorder. And even in these few cases, there is no evidence that breast implants were to blame.

-Seeping silicone-Doctors have known for years that fragments of silicone may spread to the liver and spleen. But there is not known threat to your health. Even if the implant breaks, the silieone that leaks has not been proven to be dangerous.

-Rejection of silicone-The body won't "reject" an implant as might be the case with a transplanted organ. However, if the skin covering an implant is too tight, the implant may partially break through the skin. This complication is extremely uncommon and can be corrected by surgery. -Firmness-Tissue surrounding the implant, but not the prothesis itself, may become firm. There's no risk to your health and surgery remedies the problem.

FACTS ABOUT IMPLANTS

A breast implant is a silicone rubber envelope filled with silicone gel or salt water or a combination.

More than two million women have received implants since the early 1960s (about 25 percent after cancer surgery and the others for breast enlargement).

Implants have an impressive safety record. Under a 1988 law, manufacturers must demonstrate safety and effectiveness through scientific studies.

In a recent survey sponsored by the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, 80 percent of women who had received implants said they would do it again "without a doubt,"; 16 percent said they "probably would"; and two percent said they "definitely would not."

COLORS AFFECT STORE BUYING DECISIONS

NEW YORK (AP) - Attention to color is playing an increasing role in the development of product packages and in store merchandising displays, notes a report from a marketing communications organization.

According to the New York-based,
Howard Marlboro Group, color has the ability to create a certain mood or feeling and thus affects buying decisions in the store aisles where nearly 80 percent of these decisions are made.

Some of the observations in the report include:

- Red is a powerful color that commands attention and is a powerful stimulus. Blue, on the other hand, develops the oposite reaction, as a tranquil and cool color. Blue is generally the favorite color of males.

- Green is often associated with freshness and nature, which accounts for its predominance in fruit and vegetable sections of supermarkets.

- The cosmetic field makes wide

The report also notes that while black symbolizes death and mourning, it also is used to suggest sophistication, wealth and luxury. White also is associated with luxury as well as purity, divinity and as well as purity, divinity and innocence. Brown conjures up thoughts of warmth and comfort.

Arkansas struggles to victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) . Arkansas' 97-90 victory over Arizona State was a struggle. Even Oliver Miller and Lee Mayberry had to stay in during the second half.

That had reporters asking Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson how his Razorbacks (33-3) might handle Alabama (23-9) on Thursday in a semifinal game of the NCAA Southeast Regional at Charlotte, N.C.

"We got spoiled winning those games by 41, 29, 31, 47 and other scores like that," Richardson said Sunday after the win at Atlanta. "I'll be more comfortable going to play Alabama in the Sweet 16 now that we've shown we can win one like this in the NCAA."

Richardson says that, if top-seeded Arkansas is to beat No. 4 seed Alabama, the Razorbacks will have to feed Oliver Miller. Alabama ran away from Wake Forest 96-88.

"I'm hoping that we have the advantage inside because we know our bread-and-butter is to take it to 'O," Richardson said.

"That's how we have to attack Alabama - establish our inside game and hope our guys hit the outside shot," he said.

Before the NCAA tournament began, the 6-foot-9 center was the nation's leader in field-goal percentage, shooting .702. He made seven of nine against Georgia State and eight of 12 on Sunday.

Any time you can get it close to the basket he can catch it," Richardson said. "He's got a great pair of hands, and something's got to happen - a foul, a basket or a free throw."

Arizona State coach Bill Frieder will attest to that.

"We couldn't handle Miller inside," he said. "You couldn't cheat," meaning double on Miller and leave some outside shooter open.

"I don't think we could have done anything differently," Frieder said.
"I don't think we could have played Arkansas much better than we did. They play the way I like to coach when I have enough players. We used our bench as much as we dared. We handled their press - shot the ball in transition, which is how you have to attack it."

But, he said, the Sun Devils ran

Most teams would rather play an NIT game at home. But for Arkansas State, a trip to the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis was the next-best thing.

"They ought to make this their home court with the close games they've won over here," Memphis State coach Larry Finch said after the Tigers' 58-57 loss to Arkansas State Monday night in the second round of the National Invitation Tournament.

It's the fourth consecutive time in which Arkansas State (23-8) and Memphis State (17-15) have played a one-point game. Arkansas State has won three times in Memphis, and the Tigers won at Jonesboro, Ark., in

"I thought it was a great game on my end of it," Arkansas State coach Nelson Catalina said.

Bobby Gross connected on a 3-pointer to put Arkansas State ahead to stay, then hit the clinching free throw with 11 seconds left. His free throw gave the Indians a 58-54 advantage.

Memphis State's Elliot Perry, who had 24 points, hit a 3-pointer with four seconds left, but Memphis State (17-15) was out of timeouts and Arkansas State didn't have to put the ball inbounds.

LAS VEGAS (AP) - On a night Mike Tyson hoped to answer questions, referee Richard Steele raised some instead. Tyson, showing flashes of the devastating power he once used to rule the heavyweight division, knocked Donovan "Razor" Ruddock down twice Monday night but was still very much in a fight when Steele stepped in and abruptly stopped the bout after a Tyson flurry in the seventh round.

With an incredulous Ruddock looking on, the referee waved the bout to what many thought was a premature close at 2:22 of the round, touching off a wild brawl between handlers of the two fighters and sending promoters dreaming of an even-richer rematch between the two top heavyweight contenders.

"It was one hell of a fight, a tough fight," Tyson said. "I wanted to get him down, I wanted to dominate him. I didn't want there to be any doubts."

But there were, primarly from the camp of Ruddock, the No. 2 contender who hit Tyson with some thundering left hooks and was still in the fight despite being knocked down in the second and third rounds by Tyson left hooks.

Ruddock had come back to win the sixth round when a Tyson left hook staggered him two minutes into the seventh and he was sent backwards into the rope under a Tyson barrage of a half-dozen more punches.

"The next punch was going to hurt him badly," said Steele, who a year and a day ago was embroiled in a similar controversy when he stopped the Meldrick Taylor-Julio Cesar Chavez junior welterweight title fight. "The guy was hurt and my job is to stop him from getting seriously

Tyson stops Ruddock

by controversial TKO

Ruddock simply stared at Steele while his handlers charged the ring and touched off a melee that took several minutes to bring under control.

"I wish Richard Steele would have given me the benefit of the doubt,' Ruddock said. "I wanted to go on. I could have definitely continued."

Tyson, in his third fight back since losing his heavyweight title in February 1990 to James "Buster" Douglas, solidified his claim as the No. 1 contender to Evander Holyfield's title.

But he paid a price, sometimes bearing no resemblance to the invincible Tyson of old.

The once-beaten Ruddock landed some huge left hooks to Tyson's head in the early rounds, forcing the former champion to slow his head-hunting attack and concentrate more on Ruddock's body.

Often Tyson's punches flew wildly past Ruddock's head and were met by a return shot from the 9-2 underdog.

"I made a lot of mistakes tonight," Tyson said. "But I'm just trying to improve as a fighter."

On at least three occasions Tyson's mistakes were answered with left hooks that would have probably dropped almost any other fighter. Tyson, though, barely broke stride s he continued to pursue Ruddock.

"He punches so hard, but my chin is like concrete," Tyson said. "When I was in the ring I refused to let him hurt me."

Tyson, who had fought less than two full rounds in his two fights since the Douglas loss, knocked Ruddock down with a left hook in the second round that may have been more the result of Ruddock tripping over Tyson's feet.

In the third round, however, Ruddock missed with two rights and Tyson responded with a left hook that knocked Ruddock off his feet.

out of gas at the end. Sacramento ties road loss record

By The Associated Press

The Sacramento Kings are so hapless on the road that even their coach can't bear to watch.

Dick Motta spent the second half playing with his grandchildren after being ejected by referee Joe Crawford with 2:47 remaining in the first half. With no TV in the locker room, he didn't have to watch as the Kings tied the NBA single-season record for consecutive road losses with a 101-86 defeat at Dallas.

By the time Motta was bounced, the Kings were already on their way to tying the mark.

"If I paid (to see the game), I'd want a refund on that first quarter," Motta said of the Kings' 5-for-27 first-quarter shooting.
