Senators say Soviet ready for radical offers

MOSCOW (AP) - U.S. senators who met with Soviet Communist Party chief Mikhail S. Gerbachev quoted the Soviet leader as saying he is ready to make "radical" offers to reduce nuclear arms if the United States stops testing space weapons.

Gorbachev also may be willing to accept some research on space weapons, they said Tuesday.

The eight senators left Moscow today aboard a U.S. Air Force plane bound for Edinburgh, Scotland, where they will stay two days before returning to Washington.

Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., the Senate minority leader, said after a 31/2-hour Kremlin meeting that Gorbachev "indicated that if the U.S. were prepared to discuss the question of preventing the militarization

The senators said that although Gorbachev might be willing to accept some research on space weapons, his definition of research is very narrow.

"He defines it essentially as being what you do in a laboratory, and under the narrowest interpretation of the remarks he is saying 'We will allow you to think' (about space weapons) but not much more," said Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga.

Brush burning banned in East Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - A rash of more than 150 fires burning almost 3,000 acres of East Texas forest during the last five days prompted the Texas Forest Service to ban all outside burning at least until Monday.

Scorching heat has left the land parched and the vegetation dry, making it vulnerable to fast-moving, hard to control grass fires.

Outside burning is commonly done for by commercial landowners to help clear brush and improve production.

But the landowners will have to hold off until conditions improve, said Sam Logan, Texas Forest Service spokesman.

Even planned fires are extremely difficult to control during such weather conditions, Logan said, adding that burning trash or brush is the largest cause of forest fires in Texas.

"It get away from them," Logan said. "They get away from you and if everything is bone dry and the humidity is low, they spread

Bruce Miles, Texas Forest Service director, also asked all other residents to cease outside burning until conditions improve.

Four states have teachers' strikes

More than a 525,000 students in four states were closed out of classes today by teachers' strikes, including 430,000 in Chicago, where union leaders and officials of the nation's third-largest district bargained into the early morning.

Meanwhile, teachers' strikes that loomed today in two Rhode Island districts would put more than 12,000 additional students on the streets.

Gov. James R. Thompson intervened in Chicago's negotiations Tuesday, offering what he said was "a reasonable proposal" for a two-year contract. He did not elaborate.

The 28,000 teachers set up picket lines Tuesday in Chicago's third strike in as many years. When talks continued into the night, board spokesman Bob Saigh announced the cancellation of the first day of Saying he was "very frustrated" by the walkout, Thompson added, "I think the board has more money than they said originally."

The board, which has said it can't afford to meet teacher demands, criticized the governor's remarks. "He's put us in a box," said

The board has offered a 3.5 percent salary increase, while the Chicago Teachers Union has requested a 9 percent raise.

In Rhode Island, 328 Newport teachers were expected to strike after voting not to work without a contract, idling 3,900 students. Pawtucket teachers were to vote on the latest contract offer from the school board. The union for the 600 teachers had recommended rejection, which could affect 8,200 students.

Club sues to keep ban on women

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) - A woman whose membership in a Kiwanis Club chapter prompted a lawsuit by the international organization alleging violations of its men-only policies says she just wants "to be accepted as a person."

Kiwanis International filed suit Tuesday in U.S. District Court, contending that the Ridgewood chapter violated its bylaws by inviting Julie Fletcher, 45, to become a member. The lawsuit asks a judge to bar the chapter from using the association's name and "The male fellowship is the key to the whole thing," said David Williams, public relations manager for Kiwanis International, which has 8,200 chapters in the United States and abroad.

"The agency has promised that it will give priority review to any drug that comes in here for AIDS," Ms. Peterson said, adding that normally, the approval process for a new drug takes about two years.

Newport based its application on one study last year and two this year, said company spokeswoman Luana Kruse. The studies have not been published in scientific journals, she said.

Half of the 157 patients studied received daily doses of isoprinosine for 28 days and the others received sugar tablets. Two months after treatment ended, every patient taking isoprinosine had normal or nearnormal levels of disease-fighting cells, Ms. Kruse said.

Evacuation practiced

WASHINGTON (AP) - Steven Vincent and other flight attendants rehearsed for three days for the emergency evacuation they knew would come. When it did, 231 people poured from a Boeing 757 jetliner in 82.9 seconds.

But it was only a test - the kind flight attendants, air safety experts and some members of Congress complain has little resemblance to a real accident. These critics say the tests may give the traveling public a false impression about their chances of escape.

Federal regulations require that all jetliners pass an evacuation test to show that a planeful of passengers can be emptied in 90 seconds. Such tests determine how many seats a plane may have in relation to the number of exits.

But critics question whether such tests resemble a real emergency situation closely enough. In the case of the Boeing 757 test last fall, Vincent says, there was no smoke, no fire, no fear of death. There were no people over 60 years of age nor were there children. Most of the passengers were Boeing employees.

And the flight attendants knew where to expect every bottleneck because of the training of the previous three days.

"It was like training Olympic flight attendants," Vincent recalled in a recent interview.

"We feel we have complied with the FAA requirements," Boeing spokesman Jack Gamble says. "They are the certifying authority. We comply with their requirements."

Questions answered on seat belt law

Deaf Smith County Justice of the Peace O.K. Neal has provided The Brand with some questions which have been answered by the Department of Public Safety concerning the new seat belt law.

Q. Who must use safety belts under this state law?

A. All drivers and front seat passengers are required to use them whenever they ride in safety belt-equipped cars or trucks of %-tn capacity and below.

Q. Can I be fined for failing to comply with this law?

A. Yes. Effective December 1, 1985, an offense is punishable by a fine of $25 to $50.

Q. Did the child safety seat law change?

A. No. Children under two years of age still must be secured in a federally-approved child safety seat system when they are riding in any seat equipped with a safety belt in a passenger car or light truck (%-ton capacity and below). Children from two to four years of age must be secured by a safety belt or child safety seat system when riding in any seat equipped with a safety belt in a car or light truck.

Q. Who would be cited for a violation of the safety belt law? A. If the unbelted person is under 15 years of age, the driver will receive the ticket. If an unbelted person is 15 or older, that person will receive the citation for the violation.

Q. Are any persons exempted from complying with this law? A. Yes. The law does not apply to a person who possesses a written statement from a licensed physician stating that for medical reasons, the person is unable to wear a safety belt. Also exempt are U.S. Postal Service employees when they are servicing postal boxes or performing duties for their agency requiring frequent entry and exit from vehicles.

seat occupants riding in the vehicle.

Q. What if the safety belts have been taken out of the car? A. If safety belt anchoring hardware came as original factory equipment on the car, the belts should be present and in use by front

Q. What about older cars and light trucks which came equipped with only lap belts or no safety belts at all?

A. If the older model vehicle did not come equipped with a shoulder strap like the newer models, use of the lap belts alone by front seat riders is permitted. Vehicles not originally equipped with safety belt anchorages are not required to have safety belts. Q. Can I be sited if there are more people riding in the front seat than there are belts for? A. No. The law states that each person occupying a seat equipped with a safety belt must be secured by the belt. As an example, if three presons are riding in the front seat and three belts are provided, all must be buckled in. If only two belts are provided, the two persons in the belted positions must be secured by the belts.

Q. Can residents of other states be cited for breaking this law? A. Yes. The statue applies to anyone riding in the front seat of the specified vehicles while they are being operated on roads, streets or highways of Texas.

Q. What if the belt doesn't fit? A. Auto manufacturers have made belt extenders available for larger persons.

'We've got to get cracking here," father Mike McCauley, 41, urged his family of 12 as the first day of school dawned Tuesday. Mike, 17, a high school senior, gulped down his juice as he waited for 12-year-old David, a 7th grader, to finish dressing. They were heading to school early for football practice, and Tami, a 16-year-old sophomore, was riding with them so

In the kitchen, Meagan, 7, and Shannan, 10, quietly argued over who was going to stir the scrambled eggs.

In addition to eight school-aged children, the McCauleys have two pre-schoolers, Meredith, 18 months, and Jonathan, 4. The family lives in a six-bedroom house near Dallas and keeps one horse and a very large dog in the back yard.

Bear Watchers Hotline set up

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) - A Bear Watchers Hotline was set up after residents reported an unsually large number of the bruins roaming about this Lake Superior city, and the response was, well,

The 24-hour hotline run by the Duluth Convention and Visitors Bureau received almost 3,000 calls last week seeking information on the hot spots for bear-watching and an "extended bear outlook."

Conservation officers have offered explanations for the black bear invasion that range from a bad wild berry crop to a possible insect infestation that is driving the creatures from the woods.

"The kids make the lunches the night before and they shower in the morning. We have a shower schedule. They each know just how long they have and that's it, because Mike (her husband, a lawyer) is the last to shower and he better have hot water," Mrs. McCauley said.

The first morning of the school year usually goes well, Mrs. Mc-Cauley said. It is the preceding weeks that are hectic.

Friday, for example, the last business day before the start of school, was filled with errands. Mrs. McCauley packed nine of the 10 kids into the family van and zoomed off to a plethora of destinations.

"This van is only about 2 months old and we've put 4,000 miles on it," Mrs. McCauley said. "It's the biggest passenger van they make."

By 7:15 a.m. Tuesday, all eight of the school-age children had either driven to school or climbed on the bus. The sun still was low in the sky and the air outside was cool, Mrs. McCauley sat down on the front step with her youngest, Meredith, and savored the quiet.

Oversupply of beef not reflected in market prices the drop in this year's beef prices, the consumer has yet to experience lower prices in the grocery store.

"Live beef prices have declined 25 percent since January, but the reduction in the retail supermarket, on the average, has been only three percent," said John Merrill, director of the Ranch Management Program at Texas Christian University.

"This creates a problem," he said. "Normally when you have increased supply, the price goes down, the consumers notice the bargain and eat larger quantities of beef." The volume of sales has remained the same, and this has caused a backlog in cattle ready to slaughter.

While ranchers are reeling from Merrill predicted this backup will probably last into the fall.

> "One of the pleas of the National Cattleman's Association to retailers has been to pass this savings on to the consumer so that we can eat our way through this oversupply of beef and then rturn to normal prices," he

"What has happened is that retailers, knowing the surplus of beef, have been reluctant to cut their prices in the store, thinking that very soon they would have to raise prices back up. By leaving prices level, the thought has been that there would be less disturbance in the consumer market," explained Merrill.

how to invest money can be a disconcerting experience.

"If you don't have much knowledge about business affairs, you may need a financial planner,' suggests Dr. Gary French, a finance professor at Texas Christian University's M.J. Neeley School of Business

A basic financial plan, which could cost around $200, would give a synopsis of the person's current financial situation and what investments are needed to achieve the client's goals.

A more involved and expensive plan could include a management contract where the financial planner

For many people, trying to decide would oversee the ongoing management of the investments. French says a management contract can run anywhere from one-half to one percent or more of annual assets.

The business professor says there has been an increaase in the number of financial planners in the last few years, but not as many as people may think.

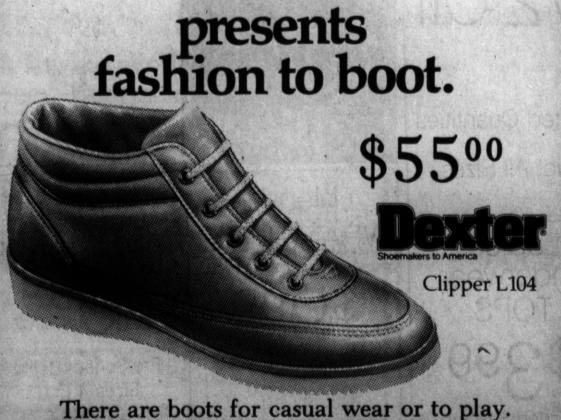

"Since there is no regulatory agency or state board that requires you to get some kind of designation, I would recommend that someone look for a professional designation such as the CFP (Certified Financial Planner), CPA or tax attorney," he said.

"Boneless chicken products have been a welcome addition to the market which suit today's lifestyle," says Marilyn Haggard, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. "They cook quickly, go well in casseroles, skillet and one-dish meals and make it easier to cater to the family's preference for certain parts of the chicken." Although the cost per pound for the calories for a 3-ounce serving of chicken from 126 to 107, says Haggard. But if you bread and fry boneless chicken products you're almost doubling those calories. As with any type of chicken, bak-ing or broiling will keep the calorie count down, says the nutritionist. Although the cost per pound for these products is higher than whole chicken, you have to consider that you're not paying for bones, skin and fat that will be discarded, she says. Give her a break

With all the people who are struggling with life-and-death problems, why do you waste space on such a non-consequential issue? I think you must have a screw loose. - REALIST IN S. CAROLINA

DEAR REALIST: This columnist consistently deals with suicide, loneliness, homosexuality, child abuse, battered wives, drunk drivers, alcoholism, drug addiction, shoplifting, abortion, kinky sex, psychotic relatives, rape, abducted children, pornography, cancer, heart attacks, epilepsy, diabetes, animal experimentation, the physically and mentally handicapped, obesity, bulimia, nuclear wear, etc.

No one wants to read only about the depressing aspects of life day in and day out. If my column didn't have a laugh now and then it would be deadly. Give me a break, will you?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I got so mad the other night, Talmost spoiled the evening for my family.

We went to a high school play. Because the kids are small, we knew it would be crowded and the seats were unreserved, we made a special effort to arrive early. We went to the fifth row, which was nearly empty, and started to slide in.

A man in the row behind us shouted, "Those seats are taken." It was clear that whoever had "taken" them had not yet arrived. Rather than make a scene, we moved.

We then spotted several empty seats in the eighth row, but a teenager told us those seats were taken too. This time, I traded a few rude remarks with the kid and my wife pulled me away.

By then, many more people had entered the auditorium, so we had to settle for mediocre seats on the side, halfway back. I was angry for the rest of the evening.

What is the proper protocol in such a situation? Should we have remained seated or moved?-UNJUSTLY DEPRIVED

DER DEPRIVED: It's a different world today. Twenty years ago I would have said, "Remain in those empty seats and ignore people who claim squatter's rights for late arrivals. When eats are unresrved, it's first come, first served."

Today, however, with so many nuts running loose, not to mention people who are high on drugs, it's risky to tangle with strangers. Yes, even in a high school auditorium.

Better to sit halfway back than have someone pull a knife or a gun on you. If you think I'm overstating the case, read the newspapers.

Fall marks the time when mothers lunch to school with their children because they feel they can monitor their needs much more closely," said Dr. Nell Robinson, chairman of TCU's Department of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Dietitian tells how to pack lunches

"With the thought in mind that you want to give your children the best lunch possible, you need to be sure they get a food from each of the food groups," she emphasized.

This includes milk or a milk product such as cheese or yogurt, fruits or vegetables, meat and bread.

"Children who are very active and not overweight can eat almost anything they want to eat, except that we have found that if children are given more nutritious foods they do perform better in school," continued Dr. Robinson.

Foods which impede performance include carbohydrates, sweets and fat, she said.

What children need to know before staying home alone

With the beginning of the school year, many youngsters will be staying home alone after school while parents are at work.

"Once parents have decided their child is mature enough to stay alone, it's their responsibility to teach safety habits," says Dorthy Taylor, a family life specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Even children who have stayed by themselves in past school years probably need to revie precautions," she adds.

Taylor advises parents to cover the following areas of home safety with their youngsters:

-Have at least one home fire drill to be sure there are two escape routes. Instruct children that they must not try to put out a fire, but should get out of the house immediately and go to a neighbor's to get help in calling the fire department.

-Review phone procedures and have emergency numbers visible and attached to the phone or wall. Have the child check-in by phone with a parent or other responsible adult at a set time each day. Make sure the youngster has other numbers to call if they get lonely.

-Make sure that children know to keep doors locked and not admit anyone.

-Teach children to keep keys out of sight at school or when walking down the street. Never write names and addreses on keys. It's a simple matter to replace lost keys, rather than giving access to your home. -Have nutritious snacks within easy reach for children. -Have a first aid kit available and instruct your child on using it.

-Encourage your youngsters to spend their time in a variety of activities including reading, playing games, exercising, doing homework or chores and watching television.

-Establish basic home safety rules about using the stove, microwave or other appliances, and climbing on furniture or ladders. Teach them to never play with matches, guns or sharp knives.

-Designate a set area, such as a fenced back yard, where the child is allowed to play. Set as a rule that friends are not allowed to come over and play until parents return home.

"In all safety talks, emphasize what children can do to protect themselves, rather than the bad things that might happen to a person," Taylor says.

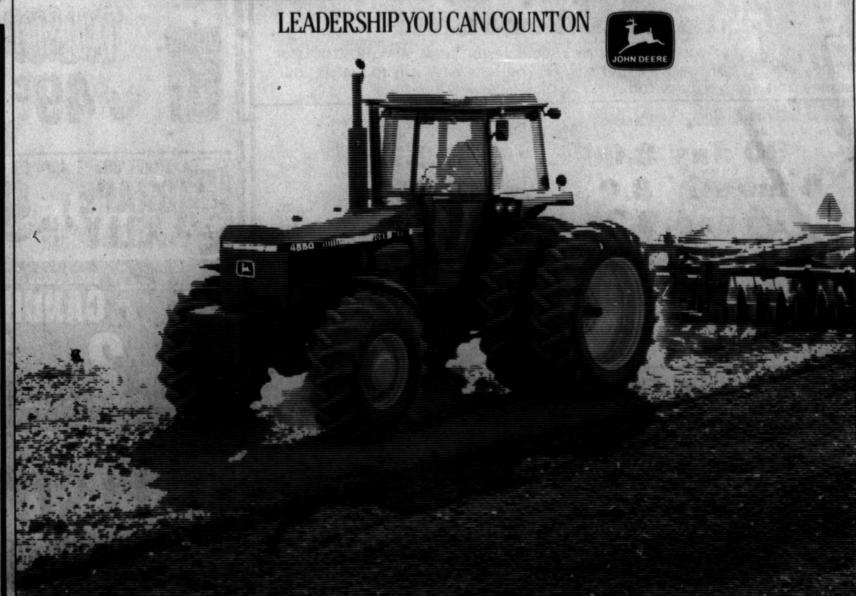

A calm, matter-of-fact approach to this new responsibility can help children mature and develop a sense of personal security and safety, the specialist explains.

In 8-7 victory over Cubs

Astros have several heroes Tuesday

By JOE MOOSHIL AP Sports Writer Kevin Bass, Phil Garner, Bill Doran or Jerry Mumphrey. Take your pick. All were heroes Tuesday for the Houston Astros. 'Mumphrey made a great catch to end the game," said Manager Bob Lillis. "Kevin Bass had a great day, Garner drove in some key runs, and then there was Doran." It all added to an 8-7 victory over the Chicago Cubs with Doran sending home the winning run on a suicide squeeze in the 10th inning. Earlier in the game, Bass had four hits and Garner hit a pair of triples and drove in three runs. But the late heroics of Doran and Mumphrey provided the victory in what Lillis termed "an exciting game." The Cubs, who had come off a fourrun deficit earlier in the game, tied it in the ninth on Ryne Sandberg's fourth hit of the game, his 21st

Mark Bailey opened the Houston 10th with a single but was forced by Denny Walling. Bert Pena singled to send Walling to third and set up Doran's suicide squeeze. Doran, batting for Dickie Thon, bunted the ball back to pitcher Lee Smith as Walling raced home with the winning run. 'Lee had no chance at all," said Doran of the bunt. "I've worked it before, but I've also loused it up

Trailing by a run, the Cubs weren't finished. Shawon Dunston opened the bottom of the 10th with a single and moved to second on Gary Woods'

Bob Dernier then lined what appeared to be a sure hit to right only to have Mumphrey make a diving catch of the ball. He threw to second to double up Dunston and end the game.

"I got a good jump, and the ball kept coming to me," said Mumphrey. "I broke good, and the ball was there. I never thought it might get by me. I would have blocked it with my chest if I hadn't caught it, and the worst we'd have had would have been a tie."

Bass never had had four hits in a game before.

"Feels good," he said. "Everybody needs a day like this. It's late in the season, and you always want to finish strong."

Garner had to do a lot of running to leg out his two triples.

"I know, this isn't a ball park where you can get a lot of triples," said Garner. "I wish they had been homers; it would have been a lot easier on the legs."

Cubs Manager Jim Frey kept shaking his head and said, "We hit two balls as hard as you could hit them and got nothing."

Frey was referring to a catch by Jose Cruz in the ninth on a drive by Jody Davis and to Mumphrey's catch on Dernier.

After Sandberg had homered to tie the game in the ninth, Davey Lopes doubled with two outs. Davis then hit a shot toward the left-field corner which would have ended the game, but Cruz made a running, onehanded catch.

In addition to Sandberg's hitting, Keith Moreland drove in three runs with his 11th homer and a pair of singles and Gary Matthews Had two hits, including his ninth homer. Mets 8, Padres 3

As tar as personal accomplishments are concerned, Gary Carter was more intent on helping Rick Aguilera than Gary Carter.

Carter clubbed three home runs for the second time in his career and drove in six runs, but his primary concern Tuesday night was helping Aguilera earn an 8-3 victory over the San Diego Padres.

The victory kept the Mets within one game of the St. Louis Cardinals in the hot National League East title chase. The Cards beat Cincinnati 6-4.

"I was trying to concentrate on getting Aggie through the game," Carter said of the young Met righthander, who was touched for two San Diego homers. "It was a big win for him and we really need him in the stretch run."

In other NL action, West Division leader Los Angeles shut out Montreal 4-0, Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 4-3 in 13 innings, and Atlanta blanked Pittsburgh 2-0.

Carter hit homers in his first three times at bat - two against starter Dave Dravekcy, 11-9, the other off reliever Luis DeLeon - then missed a chance to become only the 11th player in major-league history to hit four in one game when he grounded into a double play in the seventh inn-

Pinch-hitter Brian Harper slapped a two-run, two-out double off Cincinnati relief ace John Franco to snap a seventh-inning tie and lead St. Louis past the Reds.

"If that would been my first time to hit against Franco, I probably wouldn't have known what to expect," Harper said. "He threw me a palmball, a changeup. He got it up, and I hit it. I got the good part of the bat on it."

"It was the worst pitch he could have thrown in that situation," added Reds player-manager Pete Rose, who did not play and remained six hits short of breaking Ty Cobb's alltime record of 4,191.

It was the Dodgers' 20th shutout of the season, tops in the National League.

Phillies 4, Giants 3

Ozzie Virgil opened the 13th inning with his 18th home run of the season to lift surging Philadelphia to its sixth straight victory. Virgil's gamewinning blast, on a 2-1 pitch from Greg Minton, 3-4, bounced high off the foul screen in left.

The paid crowd of 1,632 was the lowest at Candlestick Park since 1,033 watched the Giants play the Houston Astros on Sept. 14, 1977. Braves 2, Pirates 0

Rookie Joe Johnson combined with relievers Zane Smith and Bruce Sutter on a five-hitter for Atlanta as Pittsburgh was shut out for the 18th time this season.

The game drew 3,019 fans, the smallest crowd at Three Rivers Stadium this season.

Rice powers Red Sox to 6-4 win

By BEN WALKER AP Sports Writer Even though Jim Rice believes he is a big reason his Boston Red Sox are mired in fifth place in the American League East standings, his performance against the Texas Rangers helped soothe that feeling a

Rice, batting just .267 going into Tuesday night's game, went four for five, including his 24th homer of the season, as the Red Sox swept a twogame series with the Rangers by winning 6-4.

Still, he wasn't but so happy.

"This game's been fun for me for a long time," a somber Rice said. "This year, so far, it's not. This is gonna be a long winter ... a long winter."

Rice's home run, a lead-off, opposite-field shot in the second inning, staked Boston starter Bruce Hurst, 10-10, to an early lead. He also hit run-scoring singles in the third and the fifth before Steve Lyons came in to pinch-run for him after a single in the ninth inning.

Hurst gave up seven hits in 7 1-3 innings and struck out 10 for the victory. Steve Crawford relieved Hurst and gave up a run-scoring single to Duane Walker with one out in the ninth, and Bruce Kison came on for his first save.

Charlie Hough, 14-13, took the loss after à Wade Boggs line drive knocked him out of the game after just four

More important than another loss, the Rangers' 82nd of the season, was that Hough apparently was not seriously injured by Boggs' fifthinning shot. The ball rocketed off Hough's forearm below the elbow but the injury was diagnosed as a bruise.

"He's going to be a little black and blue tomorrow, but hopefully he won't have too much swelling," Rangers Manager Bobby Valentine said. "We'll see how he feels."

The Red Sox scored three times in the third. Glenn Hoffman led off with his fourth homer, Dwight Evans followed with a single and later scored on a wild pitch. Rice capped the inning by singling home Bill Buckner, who had singled and stolen

Oddibe McDowell hit his 16th homer, tops among American League rookies, in in the bottom of the third to pull Texas within 4-1. But Evans led off the fifth with a single, stole second, took third on a single by Wade Boggs and came home on

The only problem with rookie pit-chers, says veteran Manager Gene Mauch of the California Angels, is that they sometimes play like

A mental mistake by Kirk Mc-Caskill opened the gates to a five-run outburst in the second inning Tuesday night that sent the Detroit Tigers on to a 14-8 pasting of the Angels.

"McCaskill lost the game, the way rookies will," Mauch said. "They didn't beat on him so much as he beat himself." McCaskill got into trouble when he collided with first baseman Rod Carew on a possible inning-ending double play. But, the Tigers did do a fair amount of pounding on their

Kirk Gibson hit two homers and two doubles in four at-bats and drove in five runs, and Chet Lemon added a three-run homer during a 13-hit attack. Reggie Jackson homered twice for the Angels.

The loss trimmed California's lead in the American League West to 11/2 games over Kansas City, which beat Chicago 3-2.

In other AL games, New York downed Seattle 6-3, Oakland nipped Baltimore 3-2, and Minnesota beat Milwaukee 4-3.

Royals 3, White Sox 2

In a matchup of the young and old, 21-year-old Bret Saberhagen outdueled 40-year-old Tom Seaver to give Kansas City its victory over visiting Saberhagen, 17-5, tied New York's Ron Guidry for the league lead in victories. The right-hander gave up seven hits, including a solo home run by Harold Baines in the ninth inning.

'He's our No. 1 guy right now. We expect him to do that every time out," Royals Manager Dick Howser said of Saberhagen. "He gives up three infield hits and an oppositefield home run. You can't pitch any better."

Seaver, 12-10, gave up six hits, including a two-run homer in the first inning to Hal McRae. Seaver has not Pittsburgh won since capturing his 300th victory on Aug. 4.

Baines hit a sacrifice fly in the third inning to pull the White Sox within 2-1, but a sacrifice fly by Pat Sheridan gave Kansas City a needed insurance run in the eighth.

Yankees 6, Mariners 3 Phil Niekro won his 298th career game and helped New York pull within 31/2 games of AL East-leading Toronto.

Niekro, 14-9, pitched seven shutout innings and ran his scoreless-inning streak to 17 before issuing basesloaded walks to Dave Henderson and Danny Tartabull with two outs in the

Dave Righetti relieved the 46-yearold knuckleballer and threw a wild pitch that allowed a run to score, but went on to get his 25th save. The host Yankees jumped on Seattle rookie Bill Swift, 4-9, for five runs in the first inning. Rookie Dan Pasqua's sixth homer, a two-run shot, capped the outburst. Mike Pagliarulo singled home two runs in the first inning and added an record is shattered RBI double in the sixth.

Twins 4, Brewers 3

Steve Howe held Milwaukee to one hit over the final 3 2-3 innings, while Kirby Puckett hit a sacrifice fly and pinch-hitter Dave Engle had an RBI single as Minnesota rallied for two runs in the seventh inning.

The Twins' pinned the loss on Danny Darwin, 7-16, who has dropped 11 of his last 12 decisions.

Howe, 2-3, the fourth Minnesota pitcher, got the victory. Earnest Riles and Cecil Cooper connected for consecutive home runs in the Brewers' third. Roy Smalley homered for the host Twins.

Pinch-hitter Steve Henderson's run-scoring single broke an eighthinning tie that lifted Oakland over

The A's got their go-ahead run when Dave Kingman walked, pinchrunner Rob Picciolo stole second, took third on a groundout and scored on Henderson's single.

Jose Rijo, 3-1, held the Orioles hitless for five innings. John Shelby broke the string by leading off the sixth with a home run.

Rijo gave up three hits in seven innings, Steve Ontiveros pitched a hitless eighth and Jay Howell worked a hitless ninth for his 24th save.

Mike Boddicker, 12-14, took the loss. He ran his scoreless-inning streak to 19 before visiting Oakland scored twice in the fifth.

World high jump

KOBE, Japan (AP) - Soviet high jumper Igor Paklin shattered the world record in the men's high jump with a leap of 7 feet, 10% inches at the 1985 World University Games Wednesday.

Paklin cleared the height on his third and final attempt as he surpassed the record of 7-101/2 set by countryman Rudolf Povarnitsyn at Moscow on Aug. 11.

The American Conference of the NFL faced the National Conference in 52 games during the 1984 season and the two conferences fought to a 26-26 tie for the second year in a row.

Oklahoma still atop AP poll; BYU moves up

By The Associated Press

Brigham Young is on the move again in the Associated Press college football poll.

The Cougars, who climbed from nowhere to win the national championship with a 13-0 record last year, were ranked No. 10 in the 1985 preseason poll. After a 28-14 thumping of Boston College in the Kickoff Classic, the Cougars moved into eighth this week, vaulting past Ohio State and Nebraska, both idle.

BYU's jump accounted for the only significant change in the Top Ten. The nation's top seven teams, none of which has opened its season, remained unchanged. In the Second Ten, Florida State moved from 19th to 17th after a 38-12 lashing of Tulane. South Carolina, a 56-17 winner over The Citadel, dropped a spot to 18th.

Top-ranked Oklahoma, which doesn't open its season until a Sept. 28 trip to Minnesota, received 27 of 60 first-place votes and 1,049 of a possible 1,100 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Auburn remained second after receiving 10 first-place votes and 948 points, followed by Southern Methodist with two firsts and 834

On Saturday, Auburn hosts Southwestern Louisiana and SMU is at home against Texas-El Paso.

Iowa, idle until a Sept. 14 game against invading Drake, was fourth with five first-place ballots and 810 points while Florida, which visits Miami, Fla., Saturday night, received two firsts and 735 points for fifth.

One first-place vote went to sixthplace Southern California, which received 715 points. The Trojans open at Illinois on Saturday.

Seventh-place Maryland, at home to No. 19 Penn State this weekend. received three first-place ballots and 701 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were BYU, which received three firstplace votes and 691 points; Ohio State, with 645 points; and Nebraska, with 640.

The major league baseball record for home runs in June is 15 by Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees in 1930, Bob Johnson of Philadelphia in the American League in 1934, Roger Maris of the New York Yankees in 1961, and Pedro Guerrero of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1985.

BYU entertains No. 20 UCLA and Nebraska entertains Florida State on Saturday in a national television (ABC-TV) game. Ohio State opens at home Sept. 14 against Pittsburgh.

The Second Ten consists of Illinois, Washington, LSU, Notre Dame, Arkansas, Oklahoma State, Florida State, South Carolina, Penn State and UCLA.

Last week, it was Illinois, Washington, LSU, Notre Dame, Arkansas, Oklahoma State, South Carolina, Penn State, Florida State and UCLA.

Beginning this year, 11th graders must pass a basic skills test to get a high school diploma. Teachers must show they can read and write. And every school campus will file reports November that will allow the parents and taxpayers to compare the academic and fiscal performance of each.

"If there's anything that's going to create pressure and stress for educators, it's those kind of comparisons," Kirby said of the individual school reports.

'We're the only organization that blames failure on the product (students)," Kirby said. But he said those days are over.

Last year, under the reform law passed by a special legislative session, passing standards were raised to a grade of 70. This spring, students

That controversial "no-pass, noplay" rule could seem tame compared with the exit test required of all students before graduation, experts say.

"We have not seen havoc yet until we have parents with students who do not graduate" because they failed the test, said Sue McGarvey, president of the Association of Texas Professional Educators.

The first test is scheduled for October. Officials already are predicting 25 percent of 11th graders will fail, the Austin American-Statesman reported. Higher failure rates are expected for blacks and Hispanics, the newspaper said.

Students who fail can take the test three more times during their junior and senior years.

The difficulty of the state's first basic skills test is not questioned.

"It's an easy test. I don't deny that," said Jon Brumley, chairman of the State Board of Education. "The statistics tell us 25 percent of the children are going to fail an easy test, but we have to start somewhere."

Grading standards will stiffen during the next two years, but Brumley said the state board felt compassion for the students taking the test first.

"To expect instant reform is not fair to children caught up in it. You've got to ask yourself, 'If half the children fail, is that the children's fault or the state's fault?'

Field tests indicate 84 percent of white students, 48 percent of blacks, and 66 percent of Hispanics will pass the math test in October. The language arts portion is expected to be passed by 84 percent of whites, 55 percent of blacks, and 64 percent of Hispanics, according to projections. Kirby predicts a significant turnaround in the failure rate by May because of remedial work by the Brumley said the pressure will be on the individual schools to raise their passing rates. "In a city like Fort Worth, people believe a public education is a public education. That's not true," said Brumley, a Fort Worth resident.

Some schools are better than others, and I think the schools, in effect, are taking the tests." Teachers and administrators also must take a competency test, and that is being challenged in court. Some teachers see the test as an insult and an infringement on their lifetime teaching certificates.

Kirby acknowledges that educator morale is at an all-time low, but said,

"I have trouble understanding it." He noted that the Legislature this year gave teachers duty-free lunch and a 45-minute planning period in addition to last year's pay raises and career ladder bonuses.

"Working conditions have improved," said Kirby, although the teacher test and a paperwork burden remain the top complaints of educators.

Ready For Tour

County Extension agent Dennis Newton and Miles Caudle have erected a sign at Caudle's cotton demonstration south of Hereford. The stop is part of the annual crops tour set for Thursday. At 10 a.m. the group will be at the Ted Richardson farm six mile north of Dawn on FM 809; the Roy Carlson farm one mile west of Milo Center on 1057; the Gerald Marnell farm, 11/2 miles east of Simms and four miles south and on Ray Schlabs' farm six miles north of Hereford. Also, the Weldon Stephan farm, the Charles Schlab farm and M&W Carrot one mile south on U.S. 385, and half mile east on a county road.

Wheat on downward trend reflecting sluggish exports

WASHINGTON (AP) - As of mid-August, the price of wheat at the farm was $2.86 per bushel, down from $3.43 a year earlier, according to preliminary figures by the Agriculture Department.

Not since the 1978-79 marketing year have early season wheat prices on the farm averaged less than $3 per bushel, says the department's Economic Research Service. But there the similarity ends.

"The difference between this year and that season is that prices were on their way up after beginning as low as $2 per bushel in 1977-78," the agency says in a new analysis. "The 1978-79 market was supported by heavy export sales, strong loan activity, some delays in harvesting and the beginning of farmer-owned grain reserve program."

In contrast, current wheat prices are on a five-year downward trend from a peak in 1980-81, reflecting sluggish export shipments.

"The high-valued dollar, which has stymied exports of U.S. grains for the last two seasons, has been trending downward for the past four months," the report said. "But so far, it is difficult to pinpoint any positive response in U.S. wheat sales overseas as U.S. prices are still noncompetitive."

According to agency projections, wheat prices at the farm in the 1985-86 marketing year that began on June 1 may average $3.05 to $3.25 per bushel, compared with $3.38 in

With a fourth of the 1985-86 marketing year already gone, wheat export commitments are only about one-half the volume of a year ago, with major buyers falling short of last year's pace.

"Prospective large crops in the Soviet Union and China and other importing countries are limiting their purchases," the report said.

Not even export subsidies, announced earlier this year by the Reagan administration under pressure from Congress, have done much. Under this program, sometimes called export PIK, government-owned surplus commodities are used as payment-inkind bonuses to exporters for cutting sales prices to designated foreign countries.

"The effect of this program will be determined over the next three years," the report said. "Nevertheless, competitor nations are likely to emphasize maintaining their market share, even in a somewhat reduced 1985-86 market."

But analysts held out some hope that wheat prices might improve later this season. One reason has been the reluctance of farmers to sell wheat at low market prices, opting instead to use the price-support loan

As of Aug. 14, there were 316 million bushels of wheat under loan, more than quadruple the amount of a year earlier.

"At this time, growers can only delay seeding as long as their geographic location permits, hoping for program announcements," the report said.

next year's crop, although no 1986 program has been announced. That has been held up with Congress' deliberation of a new farm bill, although some type of land-idling feature or acreage set-aside is likely.

TDA urging grocery chains to promote Texas beef

Department of Agriculture is urging retail grocery chains to join in a special promotion of Texas beef, hoping the effort will help trim a surplus and boost falling cattle prices.

"There is a massive surplus of beef that has built up in Texas feedlots this year, causing cattle prices to plummet to the lowest level in seven years and threatening many ranchers with bankruptcy," assistant state agriculture commissioner Susan DeMarco said Tuesday.

"To cut into this price-depressing surplus and to help Texas consumers benefit from cheaper beef prices, we're asking Texas supermarket chains to join in a statewide September beef sale," she said.

HEB Stores of Texas, Kroger stores in Texas and the Houston division of Safeway already have agreed retail grocery chains also are being asked to take part.

The beef promotion began over the Labor Day weekend and will continue through mid-October, said Andy Welch, TDA spokesman.

According to department officials, Texas ranchers have been losing as much as $150 per head in recent months on cattle sent to slaughter. Producers are being paid an average of 53 cents per pound for

Steel

Siding

Nationwide, the beef industry the TDA's "Taste of Texas" logo to deficit during the first half of 1985 is estimated at $1 billion, Welch said.

Ms. DeMarco said that unless prompt action is taken, "That kind of loss will inflict deep and lasting economic wounds in Texas, which is the nation's No. 1 beef-producing state, where rancher sales of beef have traditionally totaled $5 billion a

Faced with the surplus, she said the TDA initiated talks with the Safeway, Kroger and HEB chains and, "The retailers responded quickly and positively by agreeing to work with TDA on special in-store promotions that will sell more Texas beef."

According to the grocers, the beef promotion will include price reductions on different cuts of meat, use of

to participate, the TDA said. Other Corn in dent stage

WASHINGTON (AP) - An estimated 56 percent of the 1985 corn crop is in the dent stage of kernel development, 3 percentage points ahead of normal for this time of the season, says the Agriculture Depart-

In Illinois, for example, 77 percent of the corn was dented by Sept. 1, compared with an average development of 73 percent, the USDA said choice steers, the lowest price since Tuesday in a weekly report. Iowa corn was shown at 60 percent dented.

HE OCCUPIES THE THRONE OF HIGHEST HONOR

"King David quoted Jesus as saying: 'I know the Lord is always with Me. He is helping Me. God's mighty power supports Me.

"No wonder My heart is filled with joy and My tongue shouts His praises! For I know all will be well with Me in death--You will not leave My soul in hell or let the body of Your Holy Son decay. You will give Me back My life, and give Me wonderful joy in Your presence.

Dear brothers, think! David wasn't referring to imself when he spoke these words I have quot for he died and was buried, and his tomb is still here among us! But he was a prophet, and knew God had promised with an unbreakable oath that one of David's own descendants would be the Messiah and sit on David's throne.

"David was looking far into the future and predicting the Messiah's resurrection, and saving that the Messiah's soul would not be left in hell and

His body wold not decay.
"He was speaking of Jesus, and we all are witnesses that lesus rose from the dead. And now He sits onthe throne of the highest honor in heaven, next to God. And just as promised, the Father has sent the Holy Spirit -- with the results you are seeing and hearing today.

"No, David was not speaking of himself in these words of his I have quoted, for he never ascended into the skies. Moreover, he further stated, 'God spoke to my Lord, the Messiah, and said to Him, Sit here in honor beside Me until I bring Your enemies into complete subjection.'

"Therefore I clearly state of everyone in Israel that God has made this Jesus you crucified to be the Lord, the Messiah!" Acts 2:25-36

Landing becomes ordeal

ABILENE (AP) - Lyn Nelson, 43, of Warren, Ohio, said she was thinking about the Aug. 2 crash of Delata Air Lines Flight 191 when the American Airlines jet she was on made an emergency landing in Abilene.

Sy Becker, an El Paso mer-Sill, Okla., to be discharged from the Army said he hopes to return to his home in Atwter, Calif., by bus.

The passengers were some of the 177 that made an emergency evacuation from American Airlines Flight 436 after it was forced to land at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene. The pilot made the landing after a warning light indicated a fire in the engine, but no fire ever occurred, officials said. Thirty-two people sought medical treatment for cloth burns and sprains they suffered while sliding down the plane's emergency chutes, American spokesman Joe Stroop said. Of the 32, ten required some kind of medical treatment for minor injuries, he said.

Most of the injuries occurchandiser, said the tone of the red during the evacuation stewardess' voice giving a process while the passengers emergency instructions "ter- slid down emergency chutes, rified" him. And Manuel said Linda Johnson, a Mancebo, on his way to Fort spokes woman for the Passengers aboard the plane said Tuesday's emergency landing was a time of quick prayers, some confusion and instant friend-

Carol Lambert, of Detroit said she heard a "loud grinding sound" before the flight crew announced the emergency landing. Some children were crying she said, but most passengers were calm and quiet.

The flight was the first venture into the air for Ms.

Injuries ranged from scraped elbows to possible heart trouble but when a second American DC-10 came to up the passengers, only two remained in Abilene for treat-

Passengers of the flight were given a $250 voucherfor use on a future American flight, an Airline spokesman

The pilot of Flight 436! Capt. J.A. Carlson of Los Angeles was greeted with a standing ovation from the passengers when he arrived at the Dyess officer's club. Laughter broke out in the crowded club when Carlson said, "Thanks and hope to see you again on American."

Although the passengers' may have faced confusion, Abilene FAA Air Traffic Controller Charles Gawronski said, "The whole thing was really routine from our end." "The pilot did the right no chances and landed at the first available airport." "We're extremely relivedthere was no fire in that engine," Stroop said. "I don't want to characterize this as not serious; any time you're carry 200 people you can never be too careful." Another spokesman said such false warnings are rare. He said the airline has 1,300 non-stop flights a day, and a warning signal malfunctions once every two or three mon-

Another American Airlines DC-10 flying non-stop from Dallas to Paris was forced to land Monday night at John F. Kennedy Airport when one of its hydraulic systems failed, Stroop said.

The hydraulic systems operate the airplane's flaps, slats and control surfaces, he DC-10's are equipped with two hydraulic systems and Flight 48's second system was operational, but the pilot "didn't want to fly across the Atlantic with only one in operation," Stroop said.

The jet made a "routine,"
"unscheduled" and "uneventful" landing and engers were immediateaced on other flights to
