Bush wants cut in US, USSR troops

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush, winning bipartisan acclaim in Congress, is proposing further deep cuts in U.S. and Soviet troop strength in Europe and declaring "that time has come" to swiftly conclude agreements limiting conventional, strategic and chemical weapons.

"Today, with communism crumbling, our aim must be to ensure democracy's advance," the president said Wednesday night in a State of the Union speech that blended his new troop withdrawal proposal with a pledge to withdraw the remainder of the U.S. invasion force from Panama by the end of the month.

In a surprise overture, Bush proposed cutting military manpower in Europe to 195,000 troops on each side, down from the 275,000 figure that was the U.S. bargaining position at conventional force negotiations in Vienna.

The president said he called Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev earlier in the day to inform him of the offer, which already had been endorsed by NATO allies. The move, Bush said, was a response to "the revolution of '89" in which he said the United States "stands at the center of a widening circle of freedom."

Bush said Gorbachev seemed "receptive" to the idea and was studying it.

The surprise overture was the centerpiece of an address that also promised to "invest in America" through savings incentives, research and improved education, and called on citizens to "confront and condemn" racism and hate.

Olney S&L changes to AmWest

Olney Savings & Loan Association became AmWest Savings Association today, launching its new name and graphics at a press conference in Bryan.

AmWest has an office in Hereford and has several offices throughout West and Central Texas.

AmWest Savings Chairman Don A. Adam said the name change came from months of research and planning.

"Olney Savings & Loan Association was a fine name when Olney was the central location," Adam said. "However, we now have offices through West and Central Texas and a major presence in several West Texas markets."

Adam said that despite the name change and new logo the day-to-day operations, staff and policies of the business would remain the same.

"AmWest Savings has had a very profitable first year with $100 million in capital, and continues to prosper on a regular basis," Adam said.

AmWest is a $4 billion institution with 80 locations. It was established on Oct. 14, 1988.

Bill Harris is the manager of the local AmWest office.

Study says flouride OK

NEW YORK (AP) - A study has found a possible link between fluoride and cancer in rats, but dental experts said previous research gives strong evidence that fluoridated water is safe.

"You have to sort of consider that one study in relation to many others that have been carried out," said Colin Dawes, editor of the Journal of Dental Research.

"There's no material that's been added to the diet or water that's been more thoroughly tested than fluoride, in terms of its potential toxicological effects," he said.

The evidence against its causing cancer is overwhelming, said Dawes, professor of oral biology at the University of Manitoba. His journal is an official publication of the International Association for Dental Research.

Dawes and other experts interviewed Wednesday were reacting to news that federal researchers had found cases of osteosarcoma, a form of bone cancer, in some rats fed high doses of fluoridated water.

One rat in a group of 50 developed the cancer after drinking water with 45 parts per million of fluoride over two years, while four rats in another group developed it after drinking 79 parts per million during the period.

Those concentrations are much higher than the average 1 part per million many communities put in their water to protect against cavities. High doses of potential cancer-causing substances are routinely used in rodent experiments to expose any effects.

Osteosarcoma is uncommon in humans, with about 700 new cases a year.

An estimated 132 million Americans, about 53 percent of the population, drink water with enough fluoride to fight cavities, according to the National Institute of Dental Research.

Dental experts interviewed by The Associated Press said they could not comment on the new study itself because they had not seen the work, which is still preliminary and has not yet been released by the government.

But Gary Whitford of the Medical College of Georgia, who studies side effects of fluoride, said previous research gives no evidence of a link to cancer.

He participated in a study that found no harm when rats were fed high fluoride doses in the form of toothpaste daily for 18 months, he said.

Hereford heads north in realignment

Hereford will still be in District 1-4A in the 1991-92 and 1992-93 school years, but the east of characters in the district has changed.

The University Interscholastic League released its new district alignments today, based on enrollment figures at each high school in the state last October.

Hereford will be joined in the district by Amarillo Caprock, down from District 3-5A; Randall; Dumas; Borger; and Pampa.

Lubbock Estacado, Lubbock Dunbar, Frenship and Levelland, who had been in District 1-4A, are now in District 2-4A along with Lamesa and Snyder.

Schools will have three weeks to appeal the realignment, and new schedules will be released later this month.

More details on the realignment, including changes across the state, are on Page 4.

Authorities investigating molestation

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford police and the Texas Department of Human Services are investigating allegations that Hereford boys may have been molested by an adult.

The case has been under investigation for several weeks, sources told the Brand. Many children have been interviewed by police and TDHS authorities. The children who may have been molested were interviewed, and many of their companions were also questioned to try to link pieces of the case together.

An Amarillo television station, KAMR, reported Wednesday night that eight Hereford Boy Scouts were molested. Sources close to the investigation said today that there were not eight children involved, and not all of the children who were allegedly molested were Boy Scouts.

The main suspect in the case is a former adult volunteer leader in Boy Scouts, and was not a Scoutmaster as was reported in Wednesday's broadcast on KAMR. That main suspect, a young adult male, is no longer serving as a volunteer with the organization.

Sources said the incidents may have occurred in connection with activities of other groups, and not necessarily Scouts or any one particular group or organization.

Authorities have interviewed many children and several adults in trying to build a case. A source said that there are currently no charges against anyone.

Sources could not disclose how long ago the incidents occurred.

Authorities are also establishing counseling for persons who may have been effected by the molestation, including parents and children, or troubled by the investigation.

Fisher says Hereford must increase ED

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher told the Hereford Lions club on Wednesday that fiscal responsibility by local government may be more important than freeport exemptions when trying to court new business or industry.

Fisher beat President Bush to the punch, giving a "State of the City" address that covered economic development, solid waste disposal, how the merger of West Texas State University and Texas A&M could help Hereford and the region, and how the region's cities are working together.

Fisher said he and many other people that voted for Proposition 5 last November "didn't understand it but voted for it anyway." That was the constitutional amendment that allows entities to not tax goods-in-transit that are in the state for 175 days or less.

Entities had less than two months to decide whether to tax those goods for 1990, and have until April 1 to make a decision on taxing those goods in the future.

In Hereford and Deaf Smith County, Fisher said, that could mean about $300,000 in revenue for the two school districts in the county, the county and Hereford.

"If we didn't tax those goods, that could increase everyone's taxes by five to seven percent," Fisher said. He explained that the city could not responsibly grant the exemption for 1990, and that about two-thirds of all entities in the state took the same action.

"Despite critics saying this (not allowing the exemption) would deter business, it would be irresponsible to act now and figure later," Fisher said. "A new business or industry would be more concerned about responsible local government, and this will be considered more in the future."

The city or other entities could vote to tax the goods in the future, then later rescind the tax.

Fisher said city voters may get to decide in May whether another half-cent should be added to the sales tax to generate money for economic development.

Hereford and Deaf Smith County each gave $48,000 to establish the Hereford Area Economic Development Commission. The HAEDC is now inactive because a paid, full-time director could not be hired without promise of future funding.

A new sales tax could generate up to $300,000 a year to fund development efforts. The city would appoint a five-member council that could hire a full-time director, establish an industrial park or other needs to pursue new industry or to help expansion of existing business.

"We can't talk a one- or two-year deal," Fisher said. "We need five years at least, and we need to get serious. We have to increase our tax base, and we need to push for development from within and without."

Fisher said disposal of solid waste is being made more difficult with tougher regulations from the Environmental Protection Agency. The city was recently forced to shut its incinerator, dropping the expected life of the city's landfill from over 20 years to no more than eight years.

"One of the problems is that one law fits all, whether you are Houston or New York City or Hereford," Fisher said.

Fisher said other new requirements that could come in the next two years may include testing of storm runoff water, banning gas-powered lawn mowers, and other testing.

Fisher said the recent WTSU-Texas A&M merger "is one of the greatest things that could have happened for West Texas State." He said the merger "will enhance the purpose of both institutions, and will expand the curriculum in agriculture and engineering at West Texas State...I have never seen people in this area cooperating like they did on this one thing."

Fisher, who heads the Panhandle Council of Mayors and is on the board of the Panhandle Area Alliance, said the area was becoming more enthusiastic and positive as they worked together on several efforts through the two groups.

Fisher urged more participation in local elections. Only three percent of Hereford's registered voters cast ballots in last May's municipal election. "If we're not careful, one of these days we'll be blindsided," Fisher said.

"I look to the future with enthusiastic optimism. I believe there is no limit to what we can accomplish in Hereford."

Local Roundup Seven arrested Wednesday

Hereford police arrested three on Wednesday, including a male, 17, for three counts of burglary of motor vehicles; a juvenile for burglary of a vehicle; and a male, 28, for violation of probation and evading arrest.

Deputy sheriffs arrested four, including a male, 18, for capias pro fine (meaning the man had earlier been assessed a fine which he did not pay, so deputies were authorized to arrest the man or to have him pay his fine on the spot). Other arrests included a male, 22, for theft by check; a male, 26, for theft by check; and a male, 28, for driving while license suspended.

Reports included theft of diesel on U.S. Highway 60, $364; burglary of a motor vehicle in the 100 block of Ave. H, $75; theft of beer from an Allsup's store, $13.74; theft by passing; assault by threat in the 600 block of Ave. F; criminal mischief in the 700 block of Third; and telephone harassment.

The pool hall out at the labor camp burned down early this morning. Apparently, the fire was set in an attempt to cover up a break in. Fire fighters say that the building and its contents were destroyed.

Police issued 13 citations and responded to one accident with minor injuries on Wednesday.

Rain chance, colder

Tonight will be cloudy with a low of 22. North winds will be 5-15 mph. Friday will be cloudy with a 20 percent chance of rain, possibly mixed with freezing rain. The high will be 35. Northeast winds will be 5-15 mph. This morning's low at KPAN was 41 after a high Wednesday of 62.

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Feb. 1, the 32nd day of 1990. There are 333 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

Two hundred years ago, on Feb. 1, 1790, the United States Supreme Court convened for the first time, at the Royal Exchange Building on Broad Street in New York. (However, since only three of the six justices were present, the court recessed until the next day.)

On this date:

In 1861, Texas voted to secede from the Union.

In 1862, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," a poem by Julia Ward Howe, was published in the Atlantic Monthly.

In 1893, Thomas A. Edison completed work on the world's first motion picture studio, in West Orange, N.J.

In 1896, the opera "La Boheme," by Giacomo Puccini, premiered in Turin, Italy.

In 1898, the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., issued the first auto insurance policy, to a Dr. Truman J. Martin of Buffalo, N.Y., for $11.05.

In 1968, in one of the most remembered images of the Vietnam War, Saigon's police chief, Nguyen Ngoc Loan, executed a Viet Cong officer with a single pistol shot to the head.

In 1979, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini received a tumultuous welcome as he stepped off a jetliner in Tehran, ending nearly 15 years of exile.

In 1979, newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, whose prison sentence for bank robbery had been commuted by President Carter, left a federal prison near San Francisco.

Ten years ago: Six U.S. diplomats who had escaped from Iran with the help of the Canadian embassy met in Washington with President Carter.

Five years ago: Paul G. Kirk Jr. was elected chairman of the Democratic Party, defeating former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford.

One year ago: In his first diplomatic mission of the Bush administration, Vice President Dan Quayle began a trip to Venezuela and El Salvador.

Today's birthdays: Opera singer Renata Tebaldi is 68. Singer Don Everly is 53. Actor Garrett Morris is 53. Actor Sherman Hemsley is 52. Comedian Terry Jones is 48. Singer Rick James is 38. Princess Stephanie of Monaco is 25. Lisa Marie Presley is 22.

Thought for today: "Every ten years a man should give himself a good kick in the pants." - Edward Steichen, American photographer (1879-1973).

Donation for parenting program

County Judge Tom Simons, left, a member of the Hereford Lions Club, accepts a $100 donation from Boss Lion Mark Andrews at the club's meeting on Wednesday. The donation will be used to help offset expenses for a parenting program being offered by county agencies.

Nine students represented Hereford High School in the Region I Academic Decathlon held Jan. 26-27 at Midland High School. The event was hosted by the Midland Independent School District. Hereford students competing included Camille Betzen, Jerry Gallegos, Vaavia Rudd, Angela Brumley, David McCarter, Zach Walker, Tracy Flood, Leroy Jackson and Susie Herrera. Sponsors were Lois Mitchell, James Perkins and Cherie Zinck.

The HHS students competed with students from school districts throughout West Texas in a written and oral competition which covered such topics as science, social studies, mathematics, economics, grammar and literature, the fine arts, speeches (prepared and impromptu), interviews, and an essay. A "Super Quiz" completed the competition.

Bell, Draper hostesses at annual business meeting

Los Ciboleros, NSDAR, met Thursday for the annual business meeting in the home of Mrs. Charlie Bell with Mrs. Tom Draper as co-hostess. Regent Mrs. Austin Rose conducted the opening ritual assisted by Mmes. Herman Drake, Joe Reinauer, Luther Norvell, and Tom Draper. Mrs. Gid Brown presented the national defense report on financing the Soviet block countries. Mrs. Reinauer was elected a delegate to Continental Conference in Washington, D.C., April 16-20. Mrs. Stan Knox gave a report on the work of the Ellis Island Renovation committee and Mrs. J. R. Euler explained the American Indians committee work. Reports were also read by the other committee chairmen. Mrs. C.L. Newsom showed members a full page in the January Daughters of the American Revolution magazine which honored a former Hereford resident, Janet Baker Burk. Mrs. Burk is presently Regent of Mary Tyler Chapter. The program was presented by Mrs. Rose who discussed "Resolutions from 1989 Continental Congress" to 17 members. The next regular meeting will be Feb. 15 in the Hereford Community Center Lounge.

New arrivals

Fred and Sharon Fangman of Hereford are the parents of a girl, Michelle Elise, born Jan. 27, 1990. She weighed 6 lbs. 3 oz. Grandparents are Frank and Dolores Broman of Hereford and Eugene and Elsie Fangman of Vega. Great-grandmothers are Adeline Loerwald and Margaret Broman, both of Hereford.

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Kathleen Turner is thrilled to be playing the sultry Maggie in Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," but stressed that she doesn't identify with any of the characters she portrays. "Nah, come on, it's acting, guys. It really truly really is," she told reporters Tuesday. "It's fun to be able to play these women with all this wonderful power and allure and intelligence I'd like to add. But it's acting. It's just fun. I'm really not like that at home." The play began a two-week run Tuesday at Pittsburgh's Benedum Center. After that, it goes to Boston, Philadelphia and then Broadway. Miss Turner said she always had intended to portray Maggie, a beautiful Southern woman who pines for a husband who shuns her.

Accent on Health

No responsible mother would give her newborn infant a cocktail as part of a regular diet. But some pregnant women do almost that by having a daily drink, perhaps after a hard day at work or when a couple sits down to dinner.

When the expectant mother drinks alcohol, it gets absorbed into her bloodstream with all the effects of alcohol we have come to recognize. After one or two drinks an individual becomes more relaxed, perhaps more talkative and lively. But after several more drinks, unwanted effects may begin to appear. Speech becomes slurred, coordination is lost. Eventually, a person may become unconscious.

Unfortunately, the alcohol in a pregnant woman's bloodstream is carried through the placenta to her developing fetus. The fetus has the same alcohol level in its bloodstream as the mother, it is not surprising that it can be harmful to the fetus as well.

Alcohol can disrupt normal development of the fetal organs and produce serious birth defects. The fetus is especially vulnerable early in pregnancy when all of the major body systems are being developed. Alcohol also increases the risk of having a miscarriage at this time.

It is not clear just how much alcohol is enough to cause damage to the developing fetus. We do know that heavy drinking can lead to fetal alcohol syndrome, a pattern of alcohol-related abnormalities and defects, including mental retardation, stunted growth, heart defects, and neurological and behavioral problems.

A baby born with these problems is a high price to pay for being careless about your health and continuing to use harmful substances when you are pregnant. The smartest step a pregnant woman can take is to stop drinking. If you find it difficult to eliminate drinking entirely, you should talk to your doctor about how to cut down or cut out the need for alcohol. Better still, if drinking is a problem for you, do something about it before becoming pregnant.

If you begin your pregnancy in good health and practice good health habits during your pregnancy, you can help get your baby off to a healthy start in life.

LONDON (AP) - Rock star David Bowie announced a six-month world tour and said it would be the last time he sang his smash hits on stage.

Publicists will advertise telephone numbers and ballots for fans to choose the tour's songs - from hits like "Young Americans," "Rebel Rebel," "Changes," "Suffragette City" and "Let's Dance."

"I won't be doing them ever again," Bowie told reporters Tuesday. "There's no point continually doing songs and reflecting on a past."

The 42-year-old Bowie, whose real name is David Jones, will appear in Canada, Britain and Holland in March before going to the United States, Australia, Japan and the rest of Europe.

UIL releases new alignments for 1990-92

AUSTIN (AP) - The University Interscholastic League today released new conference and district alignments that reflect recent enrollment changes. Among the changes was dropping three-time state football champion Austin Reagan from Class 5A to 4A.

Reagan, which has always been in the highest UIL division, won football in 1967, 1968 and 1970, and lost in the finals in 1973.

Reagan's arch-rival, Austin LBJ, remained in 5A - even though its lower enrollment qualifies it for 4A - at the request of school officials, who have that option.

Reagan opened in 1966 and LBJ in 1974.

All Houston schools also will play 5A competition in 1990-91 and 1991-92 at the request of administrators, said UIL Athletic Director Bill Farney.

Laredo United South is a new 5A school, and the following schools moved from 4A to 5A: Cleburne, North Dallas, Houston Furr, Katy Mayde, Laredo Cigarroa, New Braunfels, Pflugerville and Rosenberg Lamar.

Schools moving from 5A to 4A include Amarillo Caprock, Austin

Class 4A districts

A few errors usually crop up in the first list released by the UIL, and schools were asked to call the UIL office in Austin if, for example, they have been omitted from the list.

The UIL also noted that schools may appeal their new conference and district assignments to the State Conference and District Assignment Review Board, with a Feb. 12 deadline.

The board "will not consider appeals with respect to conference assignment unless there was an error in the enrollment figures submitted," the UIL said.

Written appeals from board decisions on Feb. 13 go to the Assignment Appeals Committee, with a Feb. 19 deadline.

Conferences and assignments to districts become final Feb. 20. "Until this approval, contracts for contests between participant schools are not effective," the UIL emphasizes.

DALLAS (AP) - Jimmy Johnson made good on his promise that the Dallas Cowboys would retain all the draft picks obtained from Minnesota in the Herschel Walker trade.

The Cowboys on Wednesday exercised their rights to all eight draft picks in the trade meaning they will have Minnesota's first-round pick in April.

They offered the Vikings two mid-round picks for linebackers Jessie Solomon and David Howard and cornerback Isaac Holt. Minnesota had until noon today to make a decision.

The trade agreement between the teams states that neither the Cowboys nor Vikings can re-sign the three players even if the players are not signed by another team during the two-month Plan B free agent period.

Johnson also announced that defensive end Ed "Too Tall" Jones, defensive back Everson Walls and center Tom Rafferty will be Plan B free agents by virtue of being left off the roster of 37 protected players submitted to NFL headquarters today.

"We have exercised our rights in the Minnesota trade for Walker and the ball is in their court," Johnson said. "The Vikings have until noon Thursday to decide or Solomon, Holt, and Howard will become free agents."

Dallas now has Minnesota's first-round pick in the upcoming draft, two more first-round picks in 1991 and 1992, three second-round picks, one third-round choice and a sixth-round selection.

The trade with the Vikings stipulated that Holt, Solomon, and Howard must be released by Feb. 1 in order for the Cowboys to receive all the draft choices from the Vikings.

The Cowboys plan to leave those players unprotected unless they hear from the Vikings when they send the list to New York.

"We've done our deal with the Vikings," Johnson said. "We'd love to have all three players because they are quality but we also love to have the draft picks."

The Cowboys lost their first round pick by taking quarterback Steve Walsh in the supplemental draft.

Walsh was on the trading block and

Johnson said "several teams have expressed interest and we've had discussions but nothing concrete."

The trading season begins on Monday.

Johnson said not protecting veterans Walls, Jones and Rafferty doesn't mean the Cowboys are trying to get rid of the players. "Just because we didn't protect them doesn't mean we don't want them," Johnson said.

The players have until April 1 to test their value on the free agent market.

Johnson had a run-in with Walls during the Cowboys' dismal 1-15 season but Johnson said that wasn't the reason he was left unprotected.

"I'm not dissatisfied with Walls," Johnson said of the nine-year veteran. "It will give him a chance to check his value on the free agent market. There was no major trade value on him."

"I made my decision on what is best for the Cowboys. My relationship with players is one way - what can that player do to help the Dallas Cowboys? Of course, there is a danger a player might take it the wrong way."

"I figured it might happen," Walls said.

Coach shopping around

DALLAS (AP) - Lots of people come to Dallas to go shopping, but Gary Quinn's list is a lot different than anybody else.

He is coming to the big city to look for football players and is going about it in a most unusual manner: He has rented a hotel room and invited anyone interested in playing for a small Kansas college to show up.

Quinn said he hopes to find 40 Texas players who can turn around the football fortunes at tiny Tabor College, an NAIA Division II school in Hillsboro, Kan. The school has recorded three consecutive 1-9 seasons.

Although Quinn already has been in contact with some players and invited them to meet with him at a Holiday Inn in North Dallas, he said all high school seniors interested in playing at Tabor are welcome to come.

Quinn, accompanied by a couple of assistants and a former player, will give a presentation about the college and its football program in the hotel room on Thursday night, then talk personally with those who are interested.

Tabor has recruited in Texas annually, but never with what essentially is an open casting call for players.

"But we need lots of players this year," Quinn said. "I'm going to be down there and try to chase them around. Tabor offers a good opportunity for young men who aren't going to get to go to a bigger school and play football."

Tabor plays in the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference. The league offers much of the hoopla found elsewhere - including crowds, bands and cheerleaders - only on a smaller scale. Last year, St. Mary of the Plain won the league title with a 10-0 mark.

Quinn, in his second year as head coach, sees Texas high school football as being the best schoolboy competition in the country, and hopes a busload of top recruits from here will make his team competitive.

"Texas players usually play pretty early in their careers at our school," he said. "A freshman, especially from Texas, has a chance to play for us."

Players who pass muster will be offered partial scholarships, along with a warning.

"We're a small Christian school, and they have to agree to a certain lifestyle," Quinn said. "No partying. No alcohol. No drugs."

Hogs hold off Rice; A&M tops Tech

HOUSTON (AP) - The Rice Owls gave No. 3 ranked Arkansas a raggedy ride and Razorbacks coach Nolan Richardson thanked them for it.

"I told our team it's better to have a raggedy ride than a smooth walk," Richardson said Wednesday night, explaining the Hogs' 70-66 victory.

In other Southwest Conference games, Texas A&M whipped Texas Tech, 101-85, and Baylor slipped past Southern Methodist, 66-63.

The Razorbacks didn't have a smooth walk to their 10th straight victory.

The enthusiastic young Owls pulled within two points twice in the final 59 seconds before yielding.

"To be a good basketball team you've got to win games like we did tonight," Richardson said. "We got the win in a game we weren't emotionally into and not fired up for."

Todd Day scored 23 points, including a pair of crucial free throws in the final 20 seconds to help secure the victory.

It kept Arkansas unbeaten in Southwest Conference games at 9-0 and it is 18-2 on the season. Rice dropped to 9-9 and 4-4.

"Rice played good defense but we weren't moving and running our break," Richardson said. "This was a big game for them. It was like a national championship."

Rice battled from the start; the two teams were tied at 32-32 at the end of the first half and Arkansas never led by more than 10 points.

Arkansas led 62-52 with 7:08 to play but it took two free throws by Day with 20 seconds to play and two more by Arlyn Bowers with two seconds showing to hold off the Owls.

"We have played so many games, that I think we're a little tired," Day said. "We'll take a day's rest before we play Texas."

"We're just glad to get out of the jungle with a victory."

Arkansas plays at Texas on Sunday.

Kenneth Rourke scored 19 points and got 16 rebounds, leading Rice in both categories and Brent Scott scored 17 points and had 13 rebounds.

Rice outrebounded Arkansas 54-28 but the Owls committed 19 turnovers to seven for Arkansas.

"We're getting together offensively and defensively, but it's the little things that are keeping us from the upper half echelon of the Southwest Conference," Rice coach Scott Thompson said. "We're close but not there yet."

Rice didn't back down when the Hogs took their 10-point lead.

"I think we thought we had the game wrapped up but they came back with a surge and our pressure wasn't there," Day said. "This may be the best game Rice has ever played."

The Owls aren't looking for pats on the back for narrow defeats, guard D'Wayne Tanner said.

"You can't consider it a morale victory but we were really fired up," Tanner said. "They executed when they had to. That's why they are the No. 3 team in the nation."

Tony Milton scored 25 points for Texas A&M as the Aggies stifled a Texas Tech comeback attempt and won 101-85, sending Tech to its 10th-straight defeat.

The Aggies improved to 11-11 overall and 4-4 in the SWC. The Red Raiders equaled a school record for consecutive losses in dropping to 5-14 overall and 0-9 in the conference.

Texas Tech opened the second half down, 56-35. The Raiders narrowed the Aggies' lead to 10 points four times, but couldn't come closer.

Will Flemons blocked seven shots, a single-game record for Tech.

Freddie Ricks scored 23 points for the Aggies, and Lynn Suber and Daren Rhea each scored 19.

Derek Butts led the Raiders with 14 points. Flemons scored 14, Steve Miles scored 12, and J.D. Sanders and Cleveland Phelps added 11 each.

Dennis Lindsey scored 20 points to lead Baylor past Southern Methodist 66-63.

Baylor, 11-8, 3-5 in the SWC, extended its winning streak to four and dealt the Mustangs, 7-11, 2-6, their fifth loss in six games. The victory also broke SMU's three-game winning streak against the Bears.

John Colborne of SMU scored 24 points.

It was the seventh homecourt loss of the season for SMU, which has won four times at Moody Coliseum this season.

Vernon Perdue had 16 points for SMU.

No. 1 Missouri survives scare

By The Associated Press

How to upset No. 1: Stop its leading scorer, shoot well and get the home fans howling.

Iowa State did all of that, and still lost to top-ranked Missouri 95-93 Wednesday night.

"It's a tough game to lose," Cyclones coach Johnny Orr said. "I thought we did a good job."

Iowa State (7-10) shot 65 percent from the field while holding Missouri's best scorer, Doug Smith, to 10 points. But the Cyclones could not halt Anthony Peeler or hold a four-point lead in the final 1:26.

Peeler scored 42 points, including 20 of 20 from the foul line, and fed Travis Ford for the winning basket with five seconds left. Missouri (20-1) won at Iowa State for the first time since 1984. The Tigers' 11th straight victory made them 6-0 in the Big Eight.

In other games, No. 2 Kansas beat Colorado 90-69, No. 3 Arkansas got past Rice 70-66, No. 8 Purdue defeated No. 4 Michigan 91-73, No. 5 Duke downed Clemson 94-80, No. 9 Oklahoma trounced Nebraska 105-64, No. 14 LSU beat Mississippi 79-77 and No. 23 Xavier of Ohio edged Cincinnati 90-88 in overtime.

Peeler's two free throws with 1:26 left pulled Missouri within 91-89. He fouled, and made both shots for a 91-all tie with 1:22 remaining.

Missouri then again stole the inbounds pass and Peeler made a cross-court feed to Ford, whose jump shot put the Tigers ahead. After Iowa State's Victor Alexander made two foul shots with 39 seconds left, Peeler passed to Ford, who made the game-winning shot.

Peeler, a 6-foot-5 sophomore, set a career high for points and established a Hilton Coliseum record for foul shots in a game. Ford's two late baskets were his only field goals of the second half.

Phil Kunz and Alexander scored 20 points each for Iowa State.

No. 2 Kansas 90, Colorado 69

Kansas sent Colorado to its 47th straight Big Eight road loss.

Rick Calloway scored 17 points for the Jayhawks (21-1, 4-1). Kansas led 29-14 midway through the first half and was never threatened.

Shaun Vandiver had 28 points for the Buffaloes (9-10, 1-5).

No. 8 Purdue 91, No. 4 Michigan 73

Tony Jones' 23 points led Purdue to its ninth consecutive victory. The Boilermakers (16-2, 8-0 in the Big Ten) set a Crisler Arena record by making 70 percent of their field-goal attempts.

Rumeal Robinson scored 17 points for Michigan (15-4, 5-3).

No. 5 Duke 94, Clemson 80

Phil Henderson scored 20 points and freshman Bobby Hurley had 18 points and 11 assists. The Blue Devils (17-3, 7-4 in the Atlantic Coast Conference) led by at least 10 points throughout the second half.

Elden Campbell scored 26 points for Clemson (15-5, 4-3).

No. 9 Oklahoma 105, Nebraska 64

Oklahoma, behind Damon Patterson and Jackie Jones, grabbed a big lead early.

Patterson scored 20 points and Jones had 16 points and 13 rebounds. Skeeter Henry added 16 points for the Sooners (15-2, 4-1 in the Big Eight), who led 37-16.

Dapreis Owens scored 16 points for Nebraska (7-11, 0-5).

No. 14 LSU 79, Mississippi 77

Chris Jackson scored all of his 28 points in the second half and Maurice Williamson made two foul shots with eight seconds left.

LSU (15-4) is tied for the Southeastern Conference lead at 6-3.

Mississippi (6-12, 3-6) trailed by nine points with four minutes left. Mississippi's Gerald Glass, who scored 33 points, tied it at 77. Williamson, who finished with 17 points, was fouled in the lane and made both free throws.

Miller enjoys new job

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Two weeks ago, as Peter Jacobsen prepared to hit the shot that would set up his first PGA Tour victory in six years, veteran pro and rookie television commentator Johnny Miller went against the norm.

Rather than rave about Jacobsen's consistency throughout the 90-hole tournament as his predecessors might have, Miller talked about how easy it would be for Jacobsen to "choke" the shot, a 3-iron over 200-plus yards of water, bunkers and other forms of disaster.

Jacobsen pulled it off, reaching the par-5 18th hole of the PGA West course in two, and needed only a two-putt from the fringe to earn $180,000.

Miller, who this week is playing in his 23rd Pebble Beach National Pro-Am, says it is time for television to change its method of covering professional golf.

"How people perform under pressure is a real issue which I'm willing to address," said Miller, who has a four-year contract with NBC and will do commentary on 19 tournaments this year.

Miller, who says he has been frank to a fault throughout his career, said he has been encouraged by NBC to provide more critical analyses of his colleagues.

Miller said it is that kind of commentary that was needed during the British Open last July, when Greg Norman self-destructed on the final hole of a four-hole playoff with Wayne Grady and Mark Calcavecchia.

Norman refused to play safe and hit a driver instead of an iron off the tee. The ball carried into a fairway bunker. His second shot found another bunker and his third sailed out of bounds. Norman didn't finish the hole.

"He had no business hitting the driver if it was going to reach the bunker. From there, he shouldn't have been swinging as hard as he did because from there he couldn't hit the green with one out of a million balls. That put him in the next bunker. From there he hits it OB and picks it up. That was a golden opportunity to say, 'Hey, this guy's a great champion but even the best players can do this,'" Miller said. "He did four things in a row that were controversial."

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have osteoarthritis and my doctor had me on Naprosyn (naproxen). It upset my stomach and caused pain and gas. He put me on Voltaren and it has been very helpful for pain. I have used an analgesic balm rub on my back and knees and it helped me a lot too.

I would like to learn all I can about osteoarthritis. I go for walks, exercise every day and do all my housework. I live in an upstairs apartment so I go up-and-downstairs often. I'm 73 years old.

DEAR READER: Osteoarthritis is a disease of the cartilage in the joints. The ends of our bones are capped with cartilage. These cartilaginous caps begin to degenerate with osteoarthritis. Some call it wear-and-tear disease. Most people do develop some osteoarthritis if they live long enough — and it can occur relatively early in life.

Exercise to maintain muscle strength and stretching to maintain good joint function are important. Otherwise, joints that hurt do better if they are allowed to rest. Osteoarthritis is entirely different from rheumatoid arthritis, which is actually a generalized inflammatory disease. In osteoarthritis, the inflammatory response to damaged cartilage is limited to the involved joints.

Other than maintaining joint function, there is not much you can do about osteoarthritis. In some cases, surgery to remove damaged cartilage helps, or in other cases to actually replace damaged joints with artificial joints.

Read Special Report 80, Help for Osteoarthritis, which reviews the things you can do for yourself. Others who want this report can send $2 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/80, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

Naprosyn and Voltaren are both "super aspirin" medicines to help relieve inflammation and pain. There is a long list of such medicines. Many are less irritating to the stomach than aspirin. Some work better in some patients than others. That is why it is not uncommon to try different medicines in this group to find the one that works best in each case.

Don't overlook the value of heat and stretching. Accompanying muscle spasm is often a major source of discomfort. Heat and stretching helps to relieve the muscle spasm. Physical medicine methods can often be very useful.

DEAR DR. LAMB: Now I'm really confused! I was under the impression that all hydrogenated fats were saturated, but you wrote that hydrogenated soybean oil is monounsaturated. Which fats become saturated when hydrogenated? Please clear this up.

DEAR READER: Think of saturated fat as a bus with all the seats taken. Think of a monounsaturated fat as a bus with two adjacent seats that are empty. Think of a polyunsaturated fat as a bus with at least two pairs of empty seats.

Now if the polyunsaturated bus has one pair of passengers added, it will still have at least two adjacent empty seats and becomes a monounsaturated fat. There are still empty seats on the bus so it can be saturated or full.

Soybean oil contains polyunsaturated fat. You can add a pair of hydrogen atoms to it and still have a pair of empty spots for other hydrogen. In other words, the bus still isn't full. So it becomes a monounsaturated fat, not a saturated fat. However, if you hydrogenate a monounsaturated fat, it will become saturated.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Recital planned Friday

Robert Hansen, assistant professor of voice and opera, will present a faculty recital at 8 p.m. Friday in Northern Recital Hall at West Texas State University.

Hansen will be joined on stage by pianist, James Gardner, flautist, Sally Turk, and cellist, Christopher Costanza.

The event is free and open to the public.

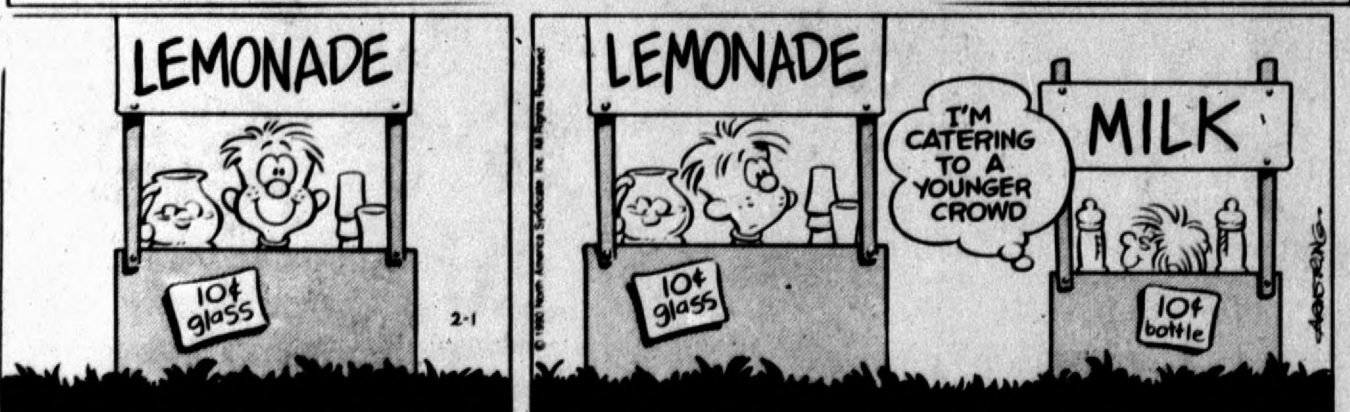

The program will begin with Schumann's most famous song cycle, "Dichterliebe," and continues with Ravel's "Chansons Madecasses," a set of African poems in French translation. An aria from Stravinsky's opera "The Rake's Progress" and some good old American tunes arranged by Copland complete the program.

Bears deny drug charge Lions' Sanders says it wasn't that easy

CHICAGO (AP) - The Chicago Bears are denying charges by former player Calvin Thomas that the team provided assistance to some potential substance abusers while ignoring others, a practice Thomas said was applied according to the player's value to the club.

Thomas, a reserve running back who served a 30-day drug suspension two years ago and left the NFL soon afterward, said he saw four teammates getting high on drugs just days before a scheduled 1987 drug test.

But he said the players, who he declined to identify, steered clear of substance-abuse problems with the assistance of the team, help he claims he didn't receive.

Bears spokesman John Bostrom said Wednesday that the club was surprised to hear Thomas' allegation about drug use by his former teammates. He said the charge "will be treated by Bears management as unsubstantiated. Until evidence arises, the claim is seen as pure speculation." "Also," Bostrom added, "the club completely denies the accusation that a coverup of players' drug tests occurred."

Thomas said he spoke out now to draw further attention to the league's substance-abuse testing program, which he characterized as suspect, and the selective way in which it was administered.

His suspension was one of those questioned in a televised report aired during Super Bowl week that also was sharply critical of the NFL's substance-abuse program.

The report, by Washington television station WJLA, also said positive cocaine tests on three "star" white quarterbacks went unheeded by the league, and that contrary to the NFL's own stated policies, the three received no mandatory counseling or treatment.

NFL spokesman Joe Browne, who previously denied the allegations by WJLA, rejected Thomas' statements as well. "There was no preferential treatment," Browne said from Hawaii, where he was attending the Pro Bowl.

Under league policy, a first positive subject a player to counseling and "probable cause" testing, without the name being revealed to the public. A second-time offender is suspended for 30 days and undergoes drug-rehabilitation treatment. A third-time offender is banned for life, although he can apply for reinstatement one year after banishment.

Although Thomas said Tuesday he believed his four teammates had tested positive in the 1987 test, he softened that statement Wednesday.

He said Wednesday that he was uncertain whether they actually tested positive, but was sure they would have been notified of such a result. With that assistance, the players apparently managed to steer clear of violating the substance-abuse program.

Thomas said he didn't learn of his positive 1987 test until he was called into the Bears' front office in September 1988 and told he was being suspended because of a second positive test result in 1988.

Thomas' second positive test, taken during training camp in 1988, revealed substantial traces of cocaine in his urine. His first positive test, in August 1987, showed trace levels for marijuana so low that even the laboratory report acknowledged the result could have been nothing more than passive inhalation of smoke.

Thomas said he told the Bears' management the same thing during the September 1988 meeting in which he was informed of his suspension. He also said he cautioned management that another test might produce the same result because he had been around teammates who smoked marijuana and used cocaine.

He said he did not know why he was the only player who wound up being caught. Thomas, who is black, rejected the contention made in the WJLA report that players were being shielded by teams because of their race, and said instead the Bears apparently administered the program according to a player's worth.

Thomas denies using drugs then or now. Although he appreciates the recognition, Sanders said he doesn't think it means he has arrived as one of the league's best.

HONOLULU (AP) - An obvious piece of cake for Barry Sanders, this business of running with the football in the NFL.

Not exactly, he says. "It wasn't as easy as it might have looked," the Detroit Lions running back said, reflecting on his sensational rookie season.

"It took a lot of learning and a lot of effort, and I got a lot of help from the coaches and my teammates."

Sanders, the Heisman Trophy winner at Oklahoma State who passed up his senior season to turn pro, led the NFC in rushing with 1,470 yards, averaging an impressive 5.3 yards per carry in his first pro campaign.

Even Sanders was a little surprised at his rapid success, which was recognized when his peers in the NFL voted him into the Pro Bowl.

"It's a real honor," he said. "I hoped I could make the Pro Bowl sometime, but I really didn't expect it to happen this soon."

Although he appreciates the recognition, Sanders said he doesn't think it means he has arrived as one of the league's best.

"I believe the biggest part of this game is being consistent," he said. "If I go the next 10 years and make the Pro Bowl a few more times, then I'll feel like I've accomplished something."

"I don't really consider this (being in the Pro Bowl) as an individual thing. A lot of guys had to sweat and sacrifice on our team for me to be in the Pro Bowl."

In that vein, Sanders seems most concerned about the fortunes of the Lions, which seem to be on the upswing.

"I think we made tremendous strides this year," Sanders said. "We won seven games and the team had won a total of just eight the last two years."

"I don't think it will be long before we're one of the contenders in the league."

Hornets fire coach, still lose

By BILL BARNARD
AP Basketball Writer

The Charlotte Hornets, with fewer victories than any team in the NBA, are trying to solve the problem the time-honored way - by changing the coach.

The Hornets might be better advised to try the San Antonio Spurs' way. They changed the players and kept the coach, and already have won 29 games, eight more than all of last season.

Terry Cummings scored a career-high 52 points as the Spurs posted a franchise-record 18th consecutive home victory Wednesday night, beating Charlotte 129-95 to spoil the coaching debut of Gene Littles.

Cummings, acquired by the Spurs in the offseason, made 19 of 32 shots and 14 of 17 free throws and also had 11 rebounds.

"I didn't figure I would get that many," Cummings said. "I just wanted to come out and play my game. We played kind of ugly at the start, but things got better."

Cummings scored 19 points in the first quarter, but the Spurs led by two points at halftime. San Antonio outscored the Hornets 32-15 in the third quarter to turn the game into a rout.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Detroit 133, Washington 109; Philadelphia 112, Indiana 108; Boston 97, New York 91; Minnesota 110, Seattle 82; Dallas 98, Houston 91; Utah 120, the Los Angeles Clippers 101 and Golden State 135, Portland 130.

Littles was appointed coach of the Hornets, who have lost six consecutive games, a few hours before tipoff after Dick Harter was fired.

"I think the guys had a lot on their mind," Littles said. "It was really a tough day for them considering everything that happened. If we had lost by four tonight, it still would have been a loss."

Cummings said Spurs coach Larry Brown let him stay in the game to get 50 points.

"I thought they would pull me after I hit 40. But Larry asked me how long I wanted to stay in and I told him as long as he needed me to. He told me he wanted me to get 50 so I stayed in."

David Robinson added 19 points and 15 rebounds for the Spurs. Armon Gilliam paced the Hornets with 19 points and Rex Chapman had 17. 76ers 112, Pacers 108.

Philadelphia won its ninth consecutive game and pulled into a tie for first place in the Atlantic Division as Charles Barkley had 31 points and 16 rebounds against Indiana.

Barkley had nine points and eight rebounds in the fourth quarter, helping the 76ers open an 11-point lead.

Reggie Miller led Indiana with 26 points.

Jazz 120, Clippers 101

Utah coasted to its 10th victory in 11 games, with Karl Malone scoring 29 points and Mark Eaton blocking eight Los Angeles shots.

The Jazz held the Clippers to 38 percent shooting for the first two periods, taking a 64-47 halftime lead.

Charles Smith scored 24 points for the Clippers.

Warriors 135, Blazers 130

Mitch Richmond scored 28 points, including 15 of 16 free throws, as Golden State made 49 of 52 from the line to snap Portland's seven-game winning streak.

Clyde Drexler scored a season-high 38 points for the Blazers.

Mavericks 98, Rockets 91

Derek Harper scored 21 points and Dallas won its seventh straight game by holding Houston scoreless for more than eight minutes down the stretch.

The Rockets led 88-83 lead with 8:36 to play, but they didn't score again until there were just 33 seconds left.

Houston was led by Otis Thorpe's 29 points.

Timberwolves 110, Sonics 82

Tod Murphy had consecutive three-point plays during Minnesota's 21-0 run in the third quarter.

Minnesota led 63-49 when guard Tony Campbell, who scored 20 points, scored on a layup with 5:11 left in the third quarter. The Wolves' scoring binge didn't end until 11:08 of the fourth quarter.

Derrick McKey scored 16 points for Seattle.

Celtics 97, Knicks 91

Larry Bird scored the game's last six points on free throws.

Robert Parish led Boston with 26 points and 11 rebounds and Bird added 19 points and 10 assists. The Knicks were paced by Patrick Ewing with 21 points.

One play could run you clear of home buying interference.

Financing, Down Payments, Price negotiations. Inspections. All obstacles that could block you from buying a home.

But one move could get you right through that red tape. A call to an experienced real estate agent.

An expert agent can coach you smoothly through the entire home buying process. From using the sophisticated multiple listing service to find the home that fits your needs and your budget. To tackling financing options. Setting up and monitoring inspections. Negotiating price. And even maneuvering you through closing.

So when you need a skilled teammate, get someone who really knows the housing field—a real estate agent.

Read The Hereford Brand for more information about qualified agents. Every day, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And on Sundays the housing section examines the latest market trends and home buying opportunities.

Getting the right coaching now could mean the difference between confusion and closing.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In cases of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Parsons named to honor roll

Eual David Parsons III of Hereford is among the 526 Eastern New Mexico University students named to the 1989 fall semester Dean's Honor Roll. Eastern students receive one of four designations as a Dean's Honor Roll student and are graded on a 4.0 scale. Summa cum laude students have a 3.8 to 4.0 grade point average while magna cum laude recipients have a 3.7 to 3.79 GPA. Cum laude students hold a 3.6 to 3.69 GPA and students receive "honors" if they have a 3.25 to 3.59 GPA. Parsons, a junior art major, was designated "honors". The first known sewing needles were made of bone and they are over 30 thousand years old.

Hints from Heloise

FRESH SMELL
Dear Heloise: Nothing smells better than vacuuming your carpets after using a good carpet deodorizer, right? But some of those powder deodorizers cost a big chunk of money and the fresh-as-a-breeze scent doesn't hang around that long. Something else that smells good is a toasty load of freshly dried laundry after it takes the tumble in the dryer with a fabric softener sheet. Brainstorm! I placed a couple fabric softener sheets in the upright vacuum-cleaner bag. When the vacuumed air gets forced out of the bag and into the room, it takes that fresh scent with it. The room smells great.

STORING COOLERS
Dear Heloise: I love your information, and now I have a hint for storing ice chests and coolers. After washing, dry them thoroughly in the sun if possible. Use the same rule as for refrigerators — place a spacer such as a piece of wood or folded cardboard between the lid and the rim to keep the cover from fitting tightly. The air circulation will keep the chest from getting mildew. I've used this method for years and haven't had a mildew problem yet. — Mrs. R S Heublein, St. Louis, Mo.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since everyone in Redding, Calif., reads your column, I'm sure the parties who need to see this will.

I was standing in the supermarket check-out line, a few people removed from a young lad in a wheelchair. Not only was he physically disabled, but also mildly retarded. He had come in to buy a pint of ice cream. When he put the carton and his money on the counter, the woman who was working the register gave him a stern look and barked, "Your a nickel short."

The young fellow stood up in his wheelchair as best he could and began to dig in his pockets looking for more change. There wasn't any. He turned to the man behind him and asked, "Do you have a nickel I could borrow?" The man replied icily, "No." The woman at the cash register yelled, "You'll have to put the ice cream back."

By that time my blood pressure must have been at stroke level. I threw a nickel on the counter and screamed, "Give him the ice cream, for Lord's sake."

The lad looked at me with grateful eyes and said, "Gee, thanks, mister."

The woman at the register gave me a dirty look. The jerk who had refused to help stomped out of the store.

I hope you will print this letter and express an opinion. -- Just Plain Angry

DEAR ANGRY: It's difficult to explain such lack of compassion, but I can tell you, based on the mail I received over the last 34 years, that there is a lot more kindness in this world than mean-spiritedness.

Perhaps the cashier runs into several people every day who are "a

NEW YORK (AP) - Actress Lynn Redgrave helped raise funds for a hurricane-damaged arts festival in historic Charleston, S.C.

Redgrave was host of a benefit performance Monday at Lincoln Center, which raised about $350,000 for the Spoleto Festival U.S.A., an annual 17-day celebration of the arts. Festival-related buildings and equipment in Charleston suffered an estimated $4 million in damage when Hurricane Hugo raged through the area in September.

little short" and decided that she just can't help any of them. As for the jerk, well, he's a jerk and I feel sorry for him. People who are heartless and cruel really hate themselves, and their lives must be painfully miserable and empty.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A recent column took me back to World War II and gave me a good laugh. It was the one about the 6-foot-6 lad who wore a T-shirt with the message on the front that read, "No. Do you play miniature golf?"

I am 6-foot-5. In 1943, that was TALL. I had to put up with a lot of dumb and tiresome questions. Finally, I cracked.

It happened when I was a sailor waiting to ship out. I was having a few beers in a San Francisco bistro with a couple of mates when some knucklehead slob asked the foolish question: "How's the weather up there?" I took a big mouthful of beer, sprayed him right in the kisser and replied, "It's raining like hell."

I'll bet he never asked anyone that question again. -- Kansas City

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you suggested that readers teach their children how to dial 911 in case of an emergency.

Please tell them that when they move to a new area not to assume there is a 911 emergency telephone service. There might not be, and checking with the phone company may not help. When I moved here three operators told me I had 911 service in my area. They were mistaken. The fire and police departments can be counted on to give the correct emergency numbers. Incidentally, these people are real heroes in my books. -- Jackson, Miss.

DEAR MISS: In mine, too. Thanks for sharing some vital information.
