Allies maintain cautious cease-fire

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) - Peace slowly took hold in the Persian Gulf today. The day-old cease-fire held despite isolated clashes as allied soldiers kept a watchful eye on their vanquished foes and systematically destroyed abandoned Iraqi weaponry.

In Kuwait, American soldiers hoisted the flag outside the U.S. Embassy today as Ambassador Edward Gnehm arrived to take up his post. A day earlier, U.S. army explosive specialists had swept the embassy compound, blowing up stray ammunition.

On the battle front, allied military officials today reported a few cease-fire violations, including several minor exchanges of fire overnight initiated by Iraqi units presumed not to have learned of the truce.

U.S. commanders said allied and Iraqi commanders would meet "soon" for talks on a permanent cease-fire, the return of prisoners of war and other issues. They would not say when or where.

President Bush had said in his speech Wednesday night announcing the cease-fire that the meeting would have to be held within 48 hours, and U.S. officials in Washington said Iraqi diplomats had been informed of a desired time and place.

"We are going to get back our POWs and we're going to do it fast," Bush declared on Thursday. Forty-five Americans are missing, and at least eight are believed to be Iraqi prisoners. U.S. commanders still had not updated the death toll of 79 Americans provided Wednesday night.

The allies were turning their attention to identifying Iraqis whose units were suspected of involvement in atrocities in Kuwait. But a senior U.S. military official in Riyadh said today that the Iraqi command in Kuwait City fled before the arrival of U.S. and allied forces and could escape prosecution.

"The Iraqi security forces saw the handwriting on the wall early and they got out ... before the Marines were even within striking distance of getting in there," the official said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

At allied checkpoints, Iraqi soldiers straggling north toward the southeastern Iraqi city of Basra were screened. The checkpoints were up and functioning hours after President Bush declared the cease-fire that took effect at 8 a.m. Thursday.

The haste reflected allied anger over reports Iraqi soldiers murdered, raped and mutilated citizens before abandoning the Kuwaiti capital.

In Kuwait, gruesome stories emerged about the terror of the seven-month Iraqi occupation. Hospital staff members - including morgue workers and doctors - described atrocities they had witnessed.

Hadra Ahmad, a 29-year-old volunteer Red Crescent worker at Mubarak Hospital in Kuwait City, said today that she saw the bodies of scores of Kuwaitis who had been shot in the mouth, burned or mutilated.

"Why are they doing these things? We just cannot understand," she said. "But now our heart is clear. They are gone."

In Baghdad, official media continued today to portray the rout of Iraqi forces as a victory. "By God's will and the might of our leader Saddam Hussein we foiled the aggressors' plot," said the headline in one government newspaper.

That stood in sharp contrast to U.S. military officials' descriptions of the plight of the Iraqi army. They said today that surviving troops, in small disorganized units, were retreating north across a broad front toward the Euphrates River, whose bridges have been wrecked.

In the desert of southern Iraq, littered with the hulks of "killed" Iraqi tanks, the U.S. VII Corps was still on guard.

"It's just a very dangerous time right now. The uncertainty," said Sgt. Maj. Robert E. Wilson of El Paso, Texas, the corps' ranking non-commissioned officer. "In Vietnam they just used the cease-fire to resupply."

In northern Kuwait, commanders of the 3rd Armored Division said some of the Republican Guard units they encountered had not seen their commanders in 20 days.

The division's troops were busy destroying abandoned Iraqi tanks and fortifications. Bunker after bunker, tank after tank went up in balls of flame.

At the United Nations, diplomats said the United States has drafted a resolution offering a settlement to the war and insisting an arms embargo against Iraq remain in place as long as Saddam stays in power.

The resolution was expected to be presented to the Security Council today.

Kuwait's ambassador to the United Nations, Mohammad Abulhasan, said Thursday that Iraq had failed to cooperate in disclosing the condition or whereabouts of abducted Kuwaiti civilians and prisoners of war.

In Kuwait City, Habib al-Gharaab, a technical adviser to Kuwait's criminal investigation department, said today 5,000 people had disappeared since Feb. 21, when Saddam's forces began leaving Kuwait. He said many were killed to prevent them from testifying to torture they suffered.

Kuwait, whose people once enjoyed a life of luxury, is now struggling to meet the basic needs of its population. Emergency teams will spend the first three months providing services such as food and water, said Saud Nasir al-Sabah, Kuwait's ambassador to the United States.

Chamber plans for celebration

Plans for a big homecoming parade and victory party for local soldiers in the Persian Gulf War were initiated when Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors held a regular monthly board meeting Thursday.

C of C President Pat Robbins will appoint a "task force" group to spearhead the project and involve various clubs and organizations in the event, which could be held as early as Memorial Day, May 27. No definite date has been set.

In other business, the chamber board approved sending letters of appreciation immediately to all county soldiers in the war, made plans for the annual banquet on March 7, approved the Women's Division budget, and heard progress reports from various committees.

Robbins proposed the "victory party" idea and got quick approval from directors. Realizing that not all soldiers will be returning to Hereford, the committee will try to set a date to get a representative group present for the occasion.

"I don't want this to be like the end of the Vietnam conflict...I think we need to publicly recognize these servicemen and women--all of whom were volunteers in serving their country," said Robbins.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, told board members that "The Sharks," who will provide entertainment at the annual banquet, have prepared a special show for the event, featuring music of the '50s and '60s. "We believe banquet-goers are in for a real treat and we promise you a relaxing and enjoyable evening," said Carr.

Board members are selling tickets at $12.75 each for the event, which also features the presentation of the Citizen of the Year award, and recognition of officers and directors.

Carr also reported on the Super Sports Weekends being sponsored by the chamber, with Carey Black and Mike Veasey leading the committee work. He said thousands of athletes and fans will be in Hereford during the three March weekends of special track meets, golf and tennis tournaments. More than 100 local volunteers will help conduct the programs.

Reports were also heard on the recent Fun Breakfast, beautification committee work, industrial development projects, and the Women's Division upcoming projects.

Carr reported that Holly Sugar will start a major part of its construction work next week on the expansion project west of town, and that the Industrial Foundation was working with Poarch Brothers on its expansion project. He added that the industrial committee is still working with Larry Malamen on possible plans for a vegetable freezer plant.

Directors attending the meeting were Robbins, Charles Greenawalt, James McDowell Jr., Doug Jossander, Bobby Moore, Diane Hoelscher, Carol Gerk, Lewis McDaniell, Bill Lyles, Waldo Baxter, Ken McLain and Ruth Newson.

Bomb had local flavor in Persian Gulf War

An anti-tank cluster bomb from a Kuwaiti Air Force jet had a Hereford endorsement in the Persian Gulf War. It was endorsed "Have A Taste of Texas Hospitality!! All the Way From Hereford TX. (Hustlin' Herd)" by Reyes Cano Jr., who was working for the Kuwaitis in the Saudi Arabian theater.

House passes school bill

AUSTIN (AP) - Legislative leaders said they expect a conference committee to work out differences between House and Senate versions of a "Robin Hood" school finance plan.

The House passed its bill Thursday, on a 103-35 vote, to shift local property tax money from wealthier to poorer school districts. The Senate approved a similar measure last week.

The legislation is in response to a Texas Supreme Court order to equitably fund poor school districts. The present system includes wide swings in education funding among school districts because of disparities in property wealth.

House Public Education Committee Chairwoman Ernestine Glossbrenner, D-Alice, has objected to the term "Robin Hood," calling her bill the "family plan" because it shares local wealth to benefit all the state's school children.

Senate Education Committee Chairman Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, agreed. He said the current system is like forcing children at a dinner table to eat only what is on the platter in front of them.

"So if you happened to sit where the dry bread was, that's all you'd get. If you happened to be sitting where the steak platter was, you'd have a great meal. And that's the way the current system is working. If you happen to be in a district that has a lot of oil and gas under it, you're in great shape. If you live in a district that doesn't have anything but homes in it, you're in terrible shape," Parker said.

Ms. Glossbrenner said she expects the Legislature to meet the Supreme Court's April 1 deadline to pass a reform plan. The court threatened to halt state education spending if the deadline is not met.

Justices unanimously ruled unconstitutional the current $14 billion-a-year school finance system, which relies on state aid, local property taxes and some federal money.

Census figures questioned

AUSTIN (AP) - Some lawmakers say if the state begins redistricting using current census figures thought to undercount minorities, equal representation may not be achieved by blacks and Hispanics, even if the job is redone later.

State Sen. Carlos Truan on Thursday opposed beginning the process of redrawing legislative boundaries until census figures are adjusted for the half-million Texans believed skipped in the 1990 count.

Following a ruling Wednesday by Attorney General Dan Morales that the state was constitutionally bound to proceed, Sen. Bob Glasgow said the Legislature might redistrict now, then redo its work when updated figures are available.

"My concern is that once you redraw districts, for some reason people seem to think that it's been anointed with holy water," said Truan, D-Corpus Christi.

"Are you not in effect putting minorities in the Legislature and in the state at a distinct disadvantage?" Glasgow, who chairs the Senate Subcommittee on Legislative Districts, asked Morales to issue an opinion on whether the state could hold a special session to rework boundaries.

The Constitution mandates that lawmakers must draw legislative boundaries during the first regular session after the publication of the national census each decade, or leave the task to a redistricting panel. But Glasgow said he believes the Legislature can redistrict at other times, as well.

"I am satisfied that we can reapportion anytime we want to, and it may be that we need to do it the best we can now and get some accurate figures and redo it again in a special session when we get that done, or in 1993," he said. "I really don't think these districts ought to wait until 1993."

The Mexican-American Legal Education and Defense Fund has filed federal and state lawsuits seeking to stop the state from using unadjusted census figures. MALDEF officials said hearings on the lawsuits probably would begin this week.

In addition, the state has joined a New York lawsuit against the Census Bureau aimed at forcing officials to adjust the data.

U.S. Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher has said he will decide by July 15 - six weeks after Texas' 1991 session ends - whether to adjust the figures.

Bush wants POW release

WASHINGTON (AP) - Defense Secretary Dick Cheney warned today that Iraq risks "more grief" if it doesn't promptly return prisoners of war and comply with other conditions for a permanent cease-fire in the Persian Gulf War.

President Bush made clear Thursday that swift return of POWs was a top priority for discussions with the Iraqis. "We are going to get back our POWs and we are going to do it fast," he said.

Cheney said the meeting would occur "within the next couple of days." He said the United States would be represented by Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf or another very senior military commander.

Cheney issued an explicit threat of U.S. military action if Iraq refuses to comply with the U.N. resolutions and other U.S. conditions.

"I think we've reached the point where the Iraqis would do very well to listen very carefully to what we say and then do it," Cheney said during interviews on all television network morning shows.

"We've destroyed their army ... we've turned the lights out in Baghdad," he said. "Unless and until they comply very explicitly with U.N. Security Council resolutions, return our prisoners immediately, they're going to have more grief."

Bush was meeting late this morning with top advisers to finalize plans for the session with the Iraqis. He also had a post-war diplomacy session set with the German foreign minister.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said today on NBC that Bush "deserves a lot of credit" for the victory in the Persian Gulf. "Whatever the results politically, I think it's good for our nation," he said.

White House Chief of Staff John Sununu said the return of prisoners "will be the first item discussed at the military meeting. We're hoping it can be settled very quickly."

Sununu also predicted that the Iraqi people would turn on Saddam Hussein once they realized "the magnitude of their defeat, the number of Iraqi prisoners of war taken by the allies, the number of lives lost by the Iraqis."

Sununu said he wouldn't be surprised if Saddam were forced to flee Iraq.

Read his lips: 'Mother of all' new catch phrase

NEW YORK (AP) - Tired of reading George Bush's lips? Already know where the beef is? Then try the first great catch phrase of the 90s, courtesy of Saddam Hussein. Barely a month after he proclaimed the Gulf War "the Mother of All Battles," the hyperbolic description has permeated public consciousness.

Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney mockingly referred to the battered Iraqis' surrender as "the mother of all retreats." A reporter in Saudi Arabia praised Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf's tour-de-force news conference as "the mother of all briefings."

Headline writers, cartoonists and comedians are jumping on the bandwagon. "Now The Mother of Problems: What to Do With Saddam Hussein," read one headline; "Mother of All Routs" popped up several times as the Iraqis were driven from Kuwait.

A look back at a World War II desert battle between the Allies and German troops was described as "the mother of the mother of all battles" in another article. An editorial cartoon picturing a televised Bush haranguing Saddam in his bunker was called "The Mother-In-Law of Battles."

The Washington Post headlined a story: "Iraq, Mother of Metaphor."

The overweening Iraqi president may seem an unlikely catch-phrase creator, but so did Clara Peller, the little old lady who bellowed "Where's The Beef?" in a 1984 Wendy's commercial. President Bush came up with one of the '80s last great slogans: "Read my lips." Ronald Reagan knew a good line when he heard one; he appropriated fellow actor Clint Eastwood's "make my day" for his speeches.

Bush, by the way, is described on Baghdad radio as America's Satan, the grand Satan, and the Satan of the era. That's enough to give a guy the mother of all inferiority complexes.

Experts say such vivid imagery is common in Arabic. The "mother of all battles" simply means it's the ultimate fight. Thank you, in Arabic, literally translates as "May Allah increase your well-being."

The American military, in contrast, has been colorless in its descriptions of "collateral damage," "surgical strikes" and "killing boxes" - which would come as no surprise to Raphael Patai, author of "The Arab Mind."

He writes: "Compared to the eloquence of the simplest illiterate Arab, the use of English by the average American appears as a series of disjointed grunts."

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia - War gives way slowly to peace in the Persian Gulf. The day-old cease-fire holds but for minor flare-ups, and allied forces remain on guard. Coalition soldiers methodically destroy Iraqi weaponry and hunt suspected war criminals. In defeated Iraq, black flags of mourning flutter.

WASHINGTON - Pentagon planners say they hope to have more than half of the 537,000 troops sent to the Persian Gulf home within the next 10 weeks, but they caution that many may have to remain there for many months.

ACROSS THE USA - America's troops are in for the biggest party in years. "It's gonna be a helluva welcoming home," said Jim Schroder, president of the chamber of commerce in Oceanside, Calif. "They will not be forgotten, I guarantee you that."

NEW YORK - Tired of reading George Bush's lips? Already know, where the beef is? Then try the first great catch phrase of the '90s, courtesy of Saddam Hussein. Barely a month after he proclaimed the Gulf War was "the Mother of All Battles," the hyperbolic phrase has permeated public consciousness.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. - Heavy rains - with more expected this weekend - were too little too late to stave off mandatory water rationing starting today in California's two most populous regions.

MOSCOW - Ukrainian miners plan a warning strike today, demanding higher pay and earlier retirement, while Siberian miners plan a similar walkout next week for higher pay and the resignation of President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, a union official says.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska - Seventy-three dog teams that trained on snow-packed trails in sub-zero temperatures are set to start the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race on Saturday in, well, mush. "Bring your hip boots and maybe a canoe paddle," race start coordinator John Dahlen joked after a week of 40-degree-plus temperatures. But for mushers, a trail that is slush by day and ice by night is no joke.

Texas

AUSTIN - Legislative leaders said they expect a conference committee to work out differences between House and Senate versions of a "Robin Hood" school finance plan.

AUSTIN - While the House of Representatives debated a "Robin Hood" school finance bill, hundreds of hometown lobbyists watched the action from the edge of their seats, worried that the state was about to change their way of life.

WASHINGTON - A weakening of civil rights protection leaves the country "sitting on a very explosive situation," says an attorney who has filed a class action employment discrimination lawsuit against the city of San Antonio.

BANDERA - Bandera Downs managers say when the starting gate opens for spring racing today they'll once again prove pari-mutuel horse racing is surviving in Texas.

AUSTIN - The time has passed for a large plastic gazebo that was built on the Capitol lawn to celebrate times past, the Texas Senate says. Calling the structure an eyesore, senators voted to give the gazebo to the West Texas town of Bronte, which lawmakers said wants it.

DALLAS - A division of NCNB Texas National Bank, created to taking care of First Republic Bank Corp.'s bad loans, has won its largest federal contract yet to use that expertise to help clean up the state's thrift industry.

AUSTIN - Some lawmakers say if the state begins redistricting using current census figures thought to undercount minorities, equal representation may not be achieved by blacks and Hispanics, even if the job is redone later.

Forces remain in desert

WASHINGTON (AP) - Pentagon planners say they hope to have more than half of the 537,000 American troops sent to the Persian Gulf home within the next 10 weeks, but they caution that many may have to remain there for months.

"We haven't talked to the Iraqis yet, so we don't know for sure that the war is over," Lt. Gen. Thomas Kelly, operations director for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Thursday when asked about plans for troop withdrawals. "But it is going to be as rapid as they can make it."

Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams said there was "no plan yet" to bring troops home. But several military officials said work is under way on proposals to establish a "controlled" flow of troops back home.

"We don't want there to be any false hopes," said a senior Army officer who is drawing up plans for top Pentagon officials and spoke on condition of anonymity. He said the withdrawal will be "speedy, but it will not be hasty."

While the White House has promised that troops may return home "within days," the officer said only a "token, symbolic" group would be brought home next week.

That unit would be a "small to medium" unit, probably only a company or a battalion, he said.

The officer said planners "hope we can get more than half the troops out by mid-May" and that preference would be given to most of those who've been in the gulf the longest.

That will be good news for:

-Units such as the 82nd Airborne Division, the 101st Airborne (Air Assault) Division, the 24th Infantry Division (Mechanized), 1st Cavalry Division and the 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, which are expected to be among the first to return.

Iraq, Kuwait to get aid

By CHRISTOPHER BURNS
Associated Press Writer

The cease-fire in the Persian Gulf War brought promises of aid to help rebuild both Iraq and Kuwait, but left deep wounds in the Arab world.

Thursday's end to six weeks of fighting also brought renewed calls for a conference on the Palestinian question.

The European Community on Thursday granted $675,000 in emergency aid for a water-purification system and other sanitation equipment for bomb-damaged Iraq. Water and sewage systems were so badly hit in allied air strikes that experts have predicted outbreaks of disease.

Turkish President Turgut Ozal said his country was ready to "extend its hand to the brotherly Iraqi nation," and began a study of such aid. Ozal also promised food and assistance for Kuwait.

At the same time, however, the Turkish Foreign Ministry said Ankara would seek war reparations from Baghdad. The cutoff of trade with Iraq during the war cost Turkey more than $4.5 billion, officials in Ankara said.

In Jordan, support for Saddam Hussein remained strong. More than 10,000 demonstrators in Amman paraded through downtown streets Thursday, waving Iraqi and Jordanian flags, and large portraits of Saddam.

"Saddam, Go, Go. We are all behind you," and "Get lost Bush," they chanted. More than half of Jordan's population is Palestinian.

Syrian President Hafez Assad, whose troops fought with the allies, spoke of "the need to learn a lesson from what happened. ... So that the Arab nations would not make further mistakes" damaging Arab solidarity and cooperation.

In Egypt, which also sent thousands of troops to fight Iraq, editorials in three state-owned newspapers said today that Saddam could no longer remain in power and urged a solution for the Palestinian issue.

In Moscow, Soviet Foreign Minister Alexander Bessmertnykh said he welcomed the "liberation" of Kuwait. He also said "the time was ripe" to settle other Middle East problems, including the Palestinian question.

German Chancellor Helmut Kohl called the war's outcome "a victory of justice over injustice, a victory of freedom over violence."

"Huge joint efforts are needed to find negotiated solutions to all problems of the region - including the Palestinian question and Lebanon. At the same time, Israel's security must be guaranteed," Kohl said.

Saddam had tried to link his withdrawal from Kuwait to an Israeli pullout from the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip - land seized from the Arabs in the 1967 Middle East War and now inhabited by 1.7 million Palestinians.

Neutral Iran cautioned against further foreign intervention in the Middle East, while the PLO said the U.N. Security Council should now call on Israel to withdraw from Arab territory.

The Palestine Liberation Organization, criticized by Western countries and their Arab allies for siding with Iraq, also said efforts should turn to making peace between Arabs and Jews.

"All efforts should from now on be deployed with the view of resolving the Arab-Israeli conflict, with the same rapidity as that which settled the gulf crisis," said Yasser Abd Rabbo, of the PLO's Executive Committee.

Israelis, meanwhile, stripped plastic from their windows and put away gas masks kept at hand against a possible Iraqi chemical attack. But the war's end also brought fears that with Saddam still in power, Iraq remained a threat to Israel.

Despite rains, California begins rationing

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) - Heavy rains - with more expected this weekend - muddied roads and tied up traffic but failed to avert mandatory water rationing starting today in California's two most populous regions.

Los Angeles residents have to cut water use by 10 percent, while restrictions in Marin County north of San Francisco are so tight just taking two 5-minute showers might use up the daily limit.

"My lawns are going to die. And you can't flush every time," said Pat Winterson of Mill Valley, one of hundreds who picked up a water conservation kit at the Marin Municipal Water District headquarters this week.

The water conservation mandates go into effect despite the state's first major rainstorm this year. Los Angeles got 3 inches in two days and parts of northern California got around 1 inch.

The storms were blamed for power outages and dozens of fender-bender traffic crashes caused by hubcap-deep water and roads awash with mud.

Several storm systems were expected to dump even more rain this weekend.

But the significant rain was expected to do little to ease the drought, said Doug Priest, director of the state Drought Center in Sacramento.

"If we were to get 200 percent of our normal rainfall during the rest of the wet season - the next 40 or 50 days - we would only get up to about 50 percent" of normal for the season, he said.

Los Angeles relies on Sierra Nevada snowpack for 70 percent of its water, and the Marin Municipal Water District on seven reservoirs. All sources are at dramatic lows.

A January survey by the Department of Water and Power, which serves 1.3 million people, showed the snowpack in the eastern Sierra watershed, 250 miles north of Los Angeles, was only 13 percent of normal for the year.

Mayor Tom Bradley on Thursday said the diminished Sierra snowpack level was "astounding and frightening."

"This drought is a natural disaster, an environmental crisis and an economic calamity. But the people of Los Angeles have prevailed over disaster before."

He promised residents meeting conservation goals would not be as difficult as they feared. He said installation of low-flow shower heads and water saving devices in toilets would help as residents pulled together to cut water waste.

The reservoirs that supply 90 percent of the water to the Marin Municipal Water District are at less than one-third of their normal levels, forcing draconian rationing for the district's 160,000 customers.

"Unfortunately, we have had the driest winter in 112 years, and the amount of rainfall we've gotten in the past five years has been very low," water district spokeswoman Lynn Schneider said.

Marin County residents are limited to 50 gallons a day. Water officials estimate a 5-minute shower uses up 25 gallons.

The stringent mandatory rationing in the water district's service area also requires businesses to cut back 45 percent and institutions such as hospitals to cut back 50 percent from 1986-87 water usage levels. Irrigation accounts will have to reduce usage by 85 percent.

Los Angeles residents will have to cut water use an additional 5 percent by May 1. Industrial users only have to cut 10 percent.

Both water systems plan to fine anyone exceeding allotments.

A first violation for DPW customers would result in a $3 charge per extra 100 cubic feet, or 748 gallons, plus a 15 percent fine of the total bimonthly water bill; the Marin district is charging $25 for every extra 748 gallons, and excess usage may bump customers into a higher per-unit rate.

"TEXAS" opens 26th season

The staff of "TEXAS" readies for the 26th season of the musical drama and anticipates another record season in 1991.

"TEXAS" will open June 12 and play nightly except Sundays through Aug. 24 at 8:30 p.m. beneath the enormous cliffs of breathtaking Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

In 1990 the 25th anniversary of "TEXAS" drew the largest crowds in history with 110,621 persons in attendance at 64 performances. Full houses filled to 99 percent capacity with 1,728 persons each night.

Visitors traveled from every state and 195 different foreign countries to see "TEXAS" last year. Oklahoma, New Mexico, California and Colorado headed the list of states. Germany, England, Canada, Australia, Japan and Mexico lead the foreign countries.

The economic impact of "Texas" to the area exceeds $12 million. The formula for estimating the economic impact of an outdoor drama was developed at the University of Kentucky in 1970 and adjusted for inflation yearly by the Institute of Outdoor Drama in Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

According to the latest update, each person stays an average of a day and half and spends $112.50 ($75 a day).

The Chamber of Commerce figures that new money turns around seven times in this area. This adjustment brings the total impact to more than $87 million, a tremendous contribution to area finance.

The production also employs 146 persons from mid-May through August.

Since its beginning in 1966, Paul Green's "TEXAS" has welcomed 2,186,232 visitors.

Statistics for 1990 showed 24 percent from zero to 120 miles with 42 percent from 120 miles to 500 miles, and 34 percent from over 500 miles.

The second largest season occurred during the State Sesquicentennial year of 1986 when the musical drama welcomed 105,423 people with no rainouts. The 1989 season attendance ranked third with 101,000 visitors and one rainout.

The chow call triangle, awarded to the person who comes the longest distance each night to "TEXAS," has not been given to anyone in the continental United States since the first year of the show. In 1990

Europe seldom took the award, relinquishing the claim mostly to visitors from Australia, New Zealand, Africa and the Far East.

Maps at the theater where guests can mark their home-towns bristled in California, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, Arkansas, the east coast, Texas and Europe with sprinklings in all other states and countries including the Soviet Union.

Written by Pulitzer Prize winning author Paul Green and under the direction of Neil Hess, "TEXAS" recalls the settling of the old west in the Panhandle of Texas.

A cast of 80, seven horses, a mule, a dog and three birds tell the romantic and historic story of farmer against rancher struggling with nature. Collaboration brings the railroad, a new town and prosperity to the region.

Drama is enhanced with colorful song and dance and highlighted by the latest sound and light equipment. A roaring thunderstorm climaxes when a bolt of lightning strikes a tree in its path that smolders and smokes. The weather seems so realistic that audiences often reach for umbrellas.

During a smoky dream sequence a wild ballet of fire glistens, burns and turns.

Hundreds of props fill the stage, background and cliff. Indians and cowpokes roam the area. Surreys bring party guests, wagons lumber across the prairie, and even an authentic train rumbles across the terrain.

"TEXAS" plans a tribute to the Spanish in 1991 on the anniversary year of Coronado's march through the area. Gala opening night festivities will toast international guests and host entertainment on the patio on June 12.

Director Hess will keep nearly all the celebrated effects and sets added last year for the 25th anniversary and will add new surprises to keep the show fresh for the 26th season.

Early reservations to "TEXAS" are encouraged and available now by writing, "TEXAS," P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or by calling 806-655-2181.

Tickets are $12, $9 and $6 for adults and $12, $4.50 and $3 for children under 12 years of age.

The optional chuckwagon barbecue by Sutphen's of Amarillo will again be served prior to each performance.

To try a "taste of TEXAS" a new updated ten minute promotional video is available at the "TEXAS" office in Canyon on loan at no cost.

In hard times entertainment becomes an important escape. Saluted as the nation's most attended outdoor drama, "TEXAS" offers an unusual and unforgettable getaway for all ages.

"TEXAS" opens season

Dropped into Palo Duro Canyon and propped against a 600 foot cliff, "TEXAS" rolls out the red carpet for more than 100,000 visitors each summer. The production of "TEXAS" will be opening on June 12 and play, nightly except Sundays, through August.

Extension Council meets after luncheon

The Deaf Smith County Extension Homemakers Council met Monday at the Hereford Community Center following the Annual Appreciation Luncheon when Dean Bradley was named Club Woman of the Year.

During the council meeting, Maudette Smith, council chairman, called the session to order. Mary Brorman read "Friendship Door" as an opening exercise.

Visitors welcomed were Grace Covington, Marcie Ginn, Argen Draper, Coreen Odom, Jo Lee and Kristi Homfeld.

Seven clubs were represented and five had 100 percent attendance.

Delores Brorman, secretary, read the minutes from the previous council meeting.

Corresponding secretary, Jewel Hargrave, read thank you notes from Beverly Harder, county extension agent.

Harder reported 86 guests had attended the luncheon. She also reminded all clubs of the leadership training to be held at 1:30 p.m. March 4.

The finance committee was appointed to establish guidelines for a scholarship fund.

Delegates to serve Deaf Smith County at the District I spring meeting at Perryton April 16 are Johnnie Messer, TEHA chairman, and Perry Keyes and Maudette Smith. Alternates are Kate Bradley and Carol Odom.

Messer reported that more information on the district meeting will be distributed to the clubs as soon as possible.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this letter to the editor. It appeared a while back in the Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel. In my opinion it gets right to the point. I've never seen it expressed better. Thank you very much. -- Ed in Florida

DEAR ED: I agree. That provocative letter deserves a larger audience and I'm pleased to provide it. Here's an edited version:

Don't Blame the Elderly for the Failings of Society

We are probably the only members of society in the history of mankind for which the younger generation has so little respect and has demonstrated such a shameful lack of regard.

Senior citizens are constantly being criticized, belittled and sniped at for every conceivable deficiency of the modern world, real and imaginary.

Upon reflection, I would like to point out that it wasn't the senior citizens who took the melody out of the music, or the beauty out of art, or the pride out of appearance, or the romance out of love, the commitment out of marriage, the responsibility out of parenthood, togetherness out of family, learning out of education, loyalty out of Americanism, service out of patriotism, the hearth out of the home, civility out of behavior, refinement out of language, dedication out of employment, prudence out of spending or ambition out of achievement. And we certainly are not the ones who eliminated patience and tolerance from relationships. -- Jerome J. Goldstein, Boca Raton to lose her friendship after all these years, and I do care about what happens to her. -- Concerned Friend in Detroit

DEAR DETROIT: The kind of concern you demonstrated, even though genuine, is rarely appreciated. No one likes to be judged.

Although your friend did not appear to be receptive you can be sure that she will give some thought to what you said. Let's hope some of it soaks in.

While you owe her no apology, it wouldn't hurt to let her know you meant to be helpful and never intended to damage the relationship.

Gem of the Day (Credit Reader's Digest): I have always considered myself a fairly generous tipper, but I didn't know how generous I was until my boss called me into his office. I had just turned in an expense account report for a business luncheon that very afternoon. Looking up from my form, the boss said dryly, "The next time you take a customer to lunch, please tell me in advance. I want to wait on your table."

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $4.45.)

Hints for homemakers

For faster ironing, place a strip of heavy duty aluminum foil over the entire length of the ironing board and cover with a pad. As you iron, heat will reflect through the underside of the garment.

To water houseplants while on vacation, place them in the bathtub on old thickly folded bath towels, in a few inches of water. They will absorb moisture as needed.

To keep dry onions from sprouting and becoming soft, wrap them individually in foil. They will stay firm for some time.

Hereford loses two in Abilene Teams from Panhandle advance to state finals

Hereford opened the Abilene Baseball Tournament Thursday by dropping two decisions to 5A schools.

The varsity's record is now 2-4. In the first game, the Whitefaces bowed 11-7 to Burgess High of El Paso. Lefty Andy Kalka pitched the entire game for Hereford, and Louis Mungia hit a home run, the first this season by a Whiteface.

The second game pitted Hereford against Lubbock Estacado, which beat Hereford 8-1 last Saturday.

This time they lost 10-7 despite outitting the Matadors 11-9.

The score was tied at three after two innings, but Estacado broke out on top 7-4 in the fourth. Hereford cut it to 7-5 in the sixth, but could get no closer.

Ralph Holguin pitched for the Whitefaces and notched six strikeouts. Max Mungia closed the game on the mound.

Hereford plays next at 4:15 p.m. today, but as of Thursday, the opponent was not decided.

AUSTIN (AP) - Unbeaten girls basketball teams got no respect at the state tournament.

In opening round games Thursday, Corpus Christi Calallen, 36-0 at tipoff, was eliminated by Levelland 31-28 in the Class 4A semifinals.

Levelland, 32-3 and seeking its sixth championship since 1983, will play Dallas Lincoln, which defeated Georgetown 49-45, for the 4A championship Saturday.

Highly touted college prospect Angela Aycok led Lincoln with 31 points, 12 rebounds and four steals. Kristen Posey had 15 points for Georgetown, which missed 11 consecutive free throws.

A withering fourth quarter press rescued Levelland, which trailed 25-18 with just 6:20 left in the game.

Twyllana Harrison scored 14 for Levelland. Kelly Cerney had 14 for Calallen, the defending champion.

Hardin-Jefferson Sour Lake, a spotless 30-0 at game time, fell to Tulia 77-60 in a 3A semifinal game. Two other undefeated teams were on today's schedule - Honey Grove, 32-0 in 2A, and defending champion Duncanville, 37-0, in 5A.

Tulia, 30-3, will meet Winnsboro, close to perfect at 36-1 after beating Yoakum 59-48, for the 3A title Saturday.

Kandy Smith was high for Tulia with 24 points, and Jennifer Tucker scored 21.

Freshman Christina Bosha led Sour Lake with 25 points but had nine turnovers.

Lefthander Geertje Jongma scored 20 points and hauled in 13 rebounds in Winnsboro's victory.

Jennifer Hairell led Yoakum with 16.

Nazareth, which holds the tournament record of 11 championships, defeated Zavalla 57-42 to set up a rematch in the finals Saturday with Moulton, a 47-32 winner over Jayton.

Nazareth defeated Moulton last year 53-34, extending the Bobkittens' string of failures to win a title.

Moulton has never won a championship in 13 previous tournament appearances, finishing as runner-up six times.

Noel Johnson scored 17 points and had 16 rebounds in Nazareth's semifinal victory over Zavalla, which started two juniors and three sophomores.

Janay Johnson had 14 for Nazareth, including 10 of 10 free throws.

Junior Nigel Boyles was high for Zavalla with 19 points.

Kristie Simper poured in 27 points for Moulton, which had 15 steals - six by Simper.

Bambi Ferguson led Jayton with 14 points.

Southern Miss opens game 26-0

By The Associated Press

There are good starts and great starts. There are fast starts and fantastic starts.

Then there's what No. 14 Southern Mississippi did Thursday night.

The Golden Eagles scored the game's first 26 points and cruised past Southeastern Louisiana 85-60.

"It was a great way for our seniors to go out - in style," Southern Miss coach M.K. Turk said.

Southeastern did not score for the first 7:13. When the visitors ended the drought on Michael Wolf's 3-pointer, the crowd of 7,049 responded with a standing ovation.

Southern Miss (21-5) has clinched the top seed in next week's Metro Conference tournament and will play Louisville in the first round. Southeastern finished 9-19 in its first season since suspending its basketball program for one year.

Southern Miss won for the 10th time in 12 home games. Clarence Weatherspoon led the Eagles with 17 points, Darrin Chancellor had 16 and Daron Jenkins 15.

Henry Washington had 21 points for Southeastern.

No. 4 North Carolina 91, Georgia Tech 74

Coach Dean Smith celebrated his 60th birthday with a victory.

Hubert Davis scored 16 points, including three 3-pointers, as North Carolina took a 28-12 lead. Rick Fox had 18 points and George Lynch 17.

Kenny Anderson, in what could be his final home game, shot just 1-for-10 in the first half for Georgia Tech. He finished with 15 points, 12 below his average. Anderson, a sophomore, has said he might leave for the NBA next season.

No. 5 Indiana 62, Michigan State 56

Calbert Cheaney scored 18 points and led surges to start each half as the Hoosiers won.

Cheaney had five points to begin the game with a 7-0 lead. He scored six points during an 8-0 surge to open the second half as Indiana broke away from a 33-all tie.

No. 7 Arizona 103, Oregon State 65
Chris Mills scored 20 points and Brian Williams and Sean Rooks each added 16.

Matt Muehlebach made two 3-point shots during a 17-0 burst as Arizona took a 37-17 lead with 7 1/2 minutes left in the first half.

Teo Alibegovic scored 20 for the Beavers.

No. 11 New Mexico State 67, Pacific 60

In a game delayed at the start for almost an hour because of a bomb threat, Willie Benjamin scored 16 points and led an 18-0 burst in the second half as host New Mexico State pulled away.

The bomb scare was called in about a half-hour before tipoff. The fans were evacuated without incident and, after a search by police, the game started.

Benjamin scored six points during the decisive spurt that gave the Aggies a 53-38 lead.

No. 16 UCLA 99, Washington State 91

Don MacLean scored 33 points and Darrick Martin had 31 for UCLA.

Martin's career-high total was the most by a UCLA guard since Jan. 22, 1983, when Rod Foster scored 31 against Stanford.

Brian Paine scored 21 for host Washington State, which led 43-34 at halftime.

NBA: irresistible force meets immovable object

By JOHN KREISER
AP Sports Writer

The Portland Trail Blazers may be the NBA's best team, but they were no match for the Atlanta Hawks, the league's hottest home team.

The Blazers led 80-72 late in the third period Thursday night, but John Battle led a 22-5 burst that led Atlanta to a 117-109 victory, the Hawks' 21st in a row at the Omni.

"We wanted to win real bad and someone had to do something for us to win," said Battle, who had 18 of his 26 points in the final period. "We just smelled the victory and we charged at them full speed."

Battle had nine points and Duane Ferrell added seven as the Hawks turned the 80-72 deficit into a 94-85 lead. Battle capped the surge when he barely beat the shot clock with a 3-pointer from the right corner with 5:49 to play.

The Trail Blazers, who lost their third in a row, got within three points with 4:26 remaining, but Battle had five points in an 8-0 run that put the game away.

"What a great effort," Atlanta coach Bob Weiss said. "We've just been playing great every night at home. Our bench was fantastic."

Dominique Wilkins added 25 points for Atlanta and Glenn Rivers had 21.

The Hawks, now 24-4 at home, got a big lift from their bench. Atlanta's reserves outscored their Portland counterparts 43-25.

The Trail Blazers got 20 points each from Terry Porter, Kevin Duckworth and Clyde Drexler.

Knicks 100, Spurs 93

New York spotted San Antonio a 19-1 lead, then got 27 points and 15 rebounds from Patrick Ewing.

A jumper by Gerald Wilkins, who had 22 points, gave the Knicks the lead for good at 89-87 with 2:42 left.

David Robinson scored 23 points while Sean Elliott and Terry Cummings each had 19 for San Antonio.

Heat 100, Pistons 98

Sherman Douglas scored 27 points, including the tie-breaking basket with 1:13 left.

Douglas' driving 8-footer snapped a 96-96 tie and he followed with a steal that led to Grant Long's follow shot.

Vinnie Johnson got the last two of his season-high 32 points by hitting a pair of free throws with 29 seconds left. But after a 24-second violation, the Heat bottled up Johnson and Joe Dumars (30 points), forcing Gerald Henderson (no points) to miss on an 18-footer at the buzzer.

Nets 98, Bucks 93

Drazen Petrovic scored 10 of his 22 points in the final four minutes and Derrick Coleman added 21 points and 11 rebounds.

Petrovic hit a 3-pointer with 3:59 to play to snap an 82-82 tie. He added two free throws and Mookie Blaylock followed with a steal and layup to make it 89-82.

After Dale Ellis hit a 3-pointer with 2:28 remaining, Petrovic's three-point play wrapped up the Nets' second straight victory.

Lakers 121, Nuggets 108

Magic Johnson had 18 points and 14 assists.

The Nuggets outshot the Lakers 46 field goals to 45 and made six 3-pointers to two for Los Angeles, but LA hit 29 of 38 free throws, including 9-for-9 by Johnson, while the Nuggets were 10-for-14.

A's Stewart still thinks Reds a fluke

By The Associated Press

Dave Stewart said it in October, and he still means it - Jose Rijo and the Cincinnati Reds are not better than the Oakland Athletics.

"That's the way I see it," Stewart sniped Thursday, repeating the claims he made minutes after the Reds swept Oakland in the World Series. "Do I regret that I said it? No."

"I just wouldn't admit they were a better team than we were. I don't feel that way now. They were just better than us in four games," Stewart said. "I'm going to go on record now. We'll be back next year. The question is, will Cincinnati be back?"

Stewart has some other new opinions, too. About Rijo, who outpitched him twice and became the series MVP.

Rijo, a 14-game winner during the regular season, signed a three-year, $9 million contract during the winter. Stewart, a four-time 20-game winner, got a two-year, $7 million extension in the off-season.

"The money has gotten ridiculous in the game for mediocre players," Stewart said. "I'm not saying he's not worth $3 million. I'm saying I don't think his statistics right now indicate he should be paid that kind of money."

"Maybe they're paying him on potential. You look at his statistics the last two, three years and I don't see $3 million worth," he said. "If you can get it, that's great. I can appreciate that. But a lot of guys are getting a lot of money when they haven't quite earned it yet. But if the owners want to give it, OK. It works out good for players like myself who have earned it."

So, Stew, what about Roger Clemens, the pitcher you've beaten in eight straight head-to-head matchups? Does he deserve $21 million, the richest contract in baseball?

"He's not worth $5 million a year to Oakland, but he is to the Boston Red Sox. We have myself, Bobby Welch and others. The Red Sox don't have the other pitchers," Stewart said. "So he might be worth $5 million in Boston, but not here and not in New York with the Mets. It's all relative to where he is."

In other money matters, Ken Griffey Jr. and the Seattle Mariners agreed to a two-year contract worth $2,535,000. Griffey Jr., who made $210,000 last season, will get $535,000 this season and $2 million in 1992. His 1991 salary will be $165,000 less than the amount the Mariners will pay his father, Ken Griffey Sr.

"Yeah, I'll buy him a car. I'll get him a Yugo," the younger Griffey said of his father.

While Griffey Jr. got the big bucks, reliever Rob Dibble threatened to walk out of the Reds' training camp. Dibble wants his salary tripled to $600,000, but the team is offering only $500,000.

"If they force me to do something, I'll have to do it," Dibble said. "There are a lot of other players on this team getting the once-over, too. I'm talking about young players in no position to bargain. Coming off a World Series, I don't think that's the way guys should be treated."

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

The excitement of an old-fashioned circus coming to town is in the air. This circus is called Outdoor World '91 and it is designed for the outdoorsman and his family. Make your plans to attend this extravaganza March 1-3 at the Tri-State Fairgrounds in Amarillo. The cost is only $3 for adults and $1 for kids, with the little kids under six free.

I have a special deal for the readers of this column: if you present this copy of my column, it is worth $1 off the cost of an adult ticket.

One of the best things about writing this column is the occasional bargain that crosses my desk, and although $1 is not what it used to be, I am pleased to invite you to Outdoor World '91 and help you save a buck. (Limit one per adult, okay?)

Last week's column talked about the hourly seminars conducted by seven great anglers--Jimmy Houston, Ted Miller, Dreabon Joiner, John Hope, Dale Wagy, Lendell Martin and Butch Colantonio--and how some lucky person is going to win a 16-foot fishing boat from Tanglewood Boat Sales.

Outdoor World '91 even has an event called Kids' World. While not a baby sitting service (in fact children under six must bring an adult), entertainment for the kids will include a treasure hunt in a sandbox, a wood pile with a hammer and nails and members of area bass clubs conducting free fishing lessons in the Gebo's fishing tank.

The good folks at Beef & More dog food have teamed up with the Amarillo Birdog Coub and dog expert Jay Rapp to provide hunting dog demonstrations. In addition to handing out free samples of dog food, they will answer any questions you might have concerning training, discipline, and care for man's best friend. I wonder if they can train my black lab, Pepper, to stay off my favorite chair?

Trout fishermen are in for a special treat with one of the two casting tanks dedicated to fly fishing. Experts like Ti Piper and Dale Wagy will give fishing seminars, and you can get a personal casting lesson from members of the Golden Spread Flyfishing Club at the 60-foot casting tank. There is even a fly-tying theater!

As you can tell, I am convinced that Outdoor World '91 is the neatest show to hit the Texas Panhandle. On behalf of Southwest Outdoors, I invite you and the entire family to attend. But one warning: bring your walking shoes because it takes three buildings to hold the "largest RV, boat and sportsmen's exposition between Dallas and Denver."

It will be a great place to celebrate Texas Independence Day. Stop by and visit us at our Southwest Outdoors booth.

Griffin breezes through 3 bouts

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) - Eric Griffin is a little man in a big hurry in his quest for his first U.S. amateur boxing championship.

The world 106-pound champion's three-bout march to Saturday's final lasted a total of 7:24.

His longest match was Thursday night's semifinal, which lasted 25 seconds into the second round before Albert Guardado of Colton, Calif., was disqualified for holding. Griffin, of Houston, who is fighting in the U.S. Championships for the first time since 1987, stopped his first two opponents in the first round.

Oscar De la Hoya and Steve Johnston, two 18-year-old high school seniors, stayed on course for their second straight titles.

De la Hoya, of Los Angeles, ripped shots to the body of Marine Teddy Randolph of Camp Lejeune, N.C., for a 5-0 decision in a 132-pound semifinal at the U.S. Olympic Training Center. De la Hoya won the 125-pound title last year.

Johnston, of Denver, the defending 139-pound champion, advanced when Larry Wheeler of Kelly Air Force Base in Texas was disqualified in the second round.

Two other defending champions - Sergio Reyes, 139, and Javier Alvarez, 201 - advanced to Saturday night's finals in the World Arena at the Broadmoor Hotel.

Reyes, a Camp Lejeune teammate of Randolph, was too aggressive for Lionell Odum of New York and scored a 4-1 decision. That was the same score Reyes beat Odum by in the final last year.

Alvarez, seeking a third straight 201-pound title, came on strong in the second half of the fight and scored a 5-0 verdict over an exhausted Melvin Foster of Washington.

John Herrera of Corpus Christi, Texas, the 1990 champion at 106 pounds, advanced to the 112-pound final on a 5-0 verdict over Lee Rodriguez of Denver.

Two of the most impressive victories were scored by Ivan Robinson, 125, and Tim Austin, 112.

Austin, of Cincinnati, who boxed Herrera in the final last year, nailed Jermaine Fields of Landover, Md., with a right to the head and stopped him at 1:49 of the first round.

Young fighting for job

HOUSTON (AP) - For the first time in three years, Gerald Young is not assured of being the Houston Astros' starting center fielder.

Actually, Young can't even be sure he'll be with the Astros for the April 8 season opener in Cincinnati.

If Young emerges from spring training in Kissimmee, Fla., as a starter, it'll mean the Astros believe he has regained the electrifying form he displayed in his first season in the major leagues, when he hit .321 with 26 stolen bases in 71 games.

But there's also a strong possibility he'll be traded or cast aside in some other manner.

Either way, this year could define the remainder of Young's career. "This is the time for him to put it together," Astros manager Art Howe told The Houston Post in a report from Florida.

After a disappointing 1989 campaign in which he batted .233, Young opened the 1990 season by hitting .289 in spring training. Once the season began, though, he hit .179 in 30 games and was demoted to Class AAA Tucson.

"It's kind of tough when you have the same stroke you have in Florida and the base hits aren't falling," Young said. "You have a tendency to start pressing. Things just start snowballing, and the next thing you know, you're in a major rut." He performed brilliantly at Tucson, battling close to .400, when he dislocated his right middle finger sliding into second base. He returned to Houston late in the season, finishing with a .175 average and headed for the Puerto Rican Winter League.

He hit .305 there and compiled an on-base percentage of .439 for the Ponce ballclub.

Trade rumors had Young bound for the Texas Rangers or Chicago White Sox.

"I really felt my time with the Astros was up once last season ended," he said. "(But) I'm really comfortable with the city, and I'm in no rush to leave," he said.

And, and at least for now, the feeling seems to be mutual.

"If we can get him to be aggressive, I think you'll see the Gerald Young of old," said Astros assistant general manager Bob Watson.

Big putter helps Mediate to top

MIAMI (AP) - Rocco Mediate gets some funny looks on the putting greens around the PGA Tour. He also gets results.

"I'll catch the other guys looking at me some times. I'll look up, and they turn their heads real quick like they don't want me to see they're watching," Mediate said.

They're studying his action with a 49-inch putter that has helped Mediate to the finest start of his six-season career among the touring pros.

While the elongated putter is common among the seniors, it's still something of a curiosity on the regular tour.

Mediate, one of four tied for the first round lead in the Doral-Ryder Open, said he went to the long putter late last year for a very simple reason - it works.

But that's certainly not the only reason, he said, that he hasn't finished lower than 13th in five previous starts this year.

"Why do they keep asking me about the putter?" Mediate wondered Thursday after his 6-under-par 66.

"It isn't the putter that's doing it. It's the game and the putter. The combination," Mediate said.

And it's all the result of practice, the countless hours he spent working on his short game last year.

"Everybody says you have to take time off," Mediate said. "I didn't take time off. I worked every day. I practiced hard all of November and December, working on my short game," he said.

"My job started the second week in January. I wanted to be ready for it.

He accomplished that goal on a dreary, showery day by chipping in for birdie on two consecutive holes and reeling off a string of five birdies in a 6-hole stretch.

The effort lifted him into a tie for the 18-hole lead at 66 with Keith Clearwater, Jim Hallett and Chip Beck.

The group at 67 included Mark O'Meara, Dan Forsman, Tom Purtzer, Billy Ray Brown, Billy Glasson, club pro Greg Cerulli and Wayne Levi, the winner of four titles and more than $1 million last year.

More than half the field, 88 of 144, took advantage of the rain-softened greens and broke par 72.

Building will benefit companies

NEW YORK (AP) - The next big deployment in the Persian Gulf will come from Corporate America, which is signing contracts and rounding up workers to help rebuild shattered Kuwait in a reconstruction effort that could be worth up to $100 billion.

contractor, said Bechtel spokesman Mike Kidder.

Among the major U.S. companies involved are Bechtel Group Inc., American Telephone & Telegraph Co., Caterpillar Inc., International Business Machines Corp., Motorola Inc. and Raytheon Co.

Bechtel said it did not yet have an estimate on the value of the work. Some petroleum experts believe the cost of rebuilding Kuwait's oil, natural gas and petrochemical facilities could hit $10 billion.

A host of smaller companies, such as oil-field specialists, also should benefit from what could become the largest rebuilding effort since the Marshall Plan reconstruction of Europe after World War II.

Reports of such a windfall have sent the stock prices of U.S. construction firms and equipment makers soaring in recent days.

Kuwait is expected to spend the bulk of its rebuilding funds with companies from the United States and other nations whose troops liberated the nation from Iraq, officials said Thursday.

"The market's been euphoric," said Richard Sweetnam Jr., an analyst who follows the construction industry for Kidder, Peabody & Co.

One of the first chores will be extinguishing the oil well fires that are blanketing the Kuwaiti sky with black smoke. Nearly two-thirds of Kuwait's 950 oil wells are believed to have been sabotaged by the retreating Iraqis, along with oil storage and transportation facilities.

Sweetnam said the contracts awarded to construction firms will have a trickle-down effect, since much of the equipment and supplies needed by the contractors will be bought from other companies.

Three Houston companies, The Red Adair Co., Wild Well Control Inc. and Boots & Coots Inc., will be put to work fighting the oil fires. The companies have not disclosed the value of their contracts.

A number of smaller construction companies should benefit from $45 million worth of reconstruction work being done by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on behalf of Kuwait. This will involve rebuilding the nation's highways, airports, water and sewer systems and electrical utilities.

Once the fires are out, Bechtel, the nation's second-largest construction and engineering company, is expected to head the rebuilding of Kuwait's petroleum industry.

Among the construction firms on a list of potential recipients of Corps contracts are Perini Corp. of a Framingham, Mass., and H.B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio, Texas.

Bechtel has received a letter of intent from the state-run Kuwait Petroleum Co. calling for Bechtel to act as the project management spokesman Matt Jeffery, who added he did not know the value.

-Raytheon, maker of the Patriot missile defense system, received a $5.7 million contract from the Corps of Engineers on behalf of the Kuwaiti government to build an airport control facility in Kuwait, said spokesman Lawrence L. McCracken.

-AT&T is reportedly in line for a contract to help rebuild the nation's telephone system. AT&T already is working to install a temporary satellite phone system in Kuwait City.

-General Motors Corp. has bid on a contract to resupply the Kuwaiti government fleet. Ford Motor Co. spokeswoman Lin Cummings and Chrysler Corp. spokeswoman Karen Stewart said those companies also were negotiating to sell cars to the Kuwaiti government.

-Motorola reportedly supplied two-way radio equipment to the Kuwaitis.

Financing Kuwait's reconstruction could put heavy demands on the U.S. bond market.

"One of the things the bond market is concerned about is if the Kuwait Investment Office starts to liquidate their investments to raise cash," said Marilyn Cohen, investment broker for Capital Insight Inc. of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cohen said the investment office's portfolio contains a large amount of U.S. Treasury bonds. Dumping the securities could temporarily depress bond prices, which could result in higher interest rates.

The Kuwait government also could raise cash by selling petroleum, but that would depend on how quickly it could resume pumping and refining oil, she said.

AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

On Saturday, there will be a church workday. Everyone is encouraged to participate.

The public is invited to attend the Sunday services at the church. Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:45 a.m. and the morning worship starts at 11. Following the service Sunday, a potluck dinner will be served.

The Dedication Service of the new church facilities will begin at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Special guest, Don Jackson, will be bringing the music and Roy Kornegay will be the speaker. The open house is planned from 4-6 p.m. for viewing of the facilities. Refreshments will be served.

Week of Prayer for Home Missions will be observed March 3-10. The WMU will be having lunch and prayer time at noon Tuesday through Friday. All ladies are invited to attend.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday school for all ages begins at 10 a.m. at the church. The Adult Bible Class will continue the study of "The End Times."

"The Giving of the Ten Commandments, A Grace Event" will be the topic of the 11 a.m. Sunday worship service. It is based on Exodus 20:1-17.

Lenten vespers are held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays. Pastor Don Kirklen said, "As we emphasize the general theme of 'Lift High The Cross', we will consider 'Jesus' Cross Is My Wisdom From God.'" The text is Matthew 27:17 and I Corinthians 1:21.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The annual Methodist Men's pancake supper will be held from 5-8 p.m. Wednesday, March 6, in the church fellowship hall. Tickets are priced at $3 for adults and $2.50 for children. Proceeds from the event will go toward improving equipment in the church kitchen.

Tamales are now ready for sale from San Pablo Methodist Church. The tamales will go on sale at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at $5 per dozen at the church located on 220 Kibbe St.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) - Gloria Estefan, preparing for a comeback tour with The Miami Sound Machine after recovering from a broken back, sang and danced for disabled adults at a dress rehearsal.

The audience at the rehearsal Tuesday night at the Lakeland Civic Center included about 100 people from the Wheelhouse, which provides housing for physically disabled adults.

"Oh my God, you guys sound like 10,000 people," Estefan said. "We definitely picked the right people."

The tour and album, "Into the Light," are the first since Estefan was injured in a bus accident while touring last March.

Doctors inserted a pair of eight-inch rods in her spine and initially feared she might be paralyzed.

The tour kicks off Friday night with a concert in Miami.

Lady Jane Grey was deposed as Queen of England in 1553 after claiming the crown for nine days. King Henry VIII's daughter Mary was proclaimed Queen.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN
1 day per word	15	3.00
2 days per word	26	5.20
3 days per word	37	7.40
4 days per word	48	9.60
5 days per word	59	11.80

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines—those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Retreading—putting new treads on worn tires—is a rapidly growing industry.

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners will open proposals for liability insurance coverage on Public Officials and coverage for Law Enforcement Personnel for a period of one year beginning April 15, 1991 and April 23, 1991 respectively at 9 AM March 25, 1991 in the Courthouse. Specifications for the proposals may be obtained at Alex Schroeter's Office at 242 E. 3rd Street in Hereford. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all proposals.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

AND AGAIN I SAY UNTO YOU, IT IS EASIER FOR A CAMEL TO GO THROUGH THE EYE OF A NEEDLE, THAN FOR A RICH MAN TO ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF GOD. (MATTHEW 19:24)

ROPE OR CAMEL—WHICH DID JESUS REALLY SAY?

IF YOU HEARD SOMEBODY SAY, "I TORE A LEAF..." YOU WOULDN'T BE TOO SURE WHAT WAS MEANT UNTIL THEY FINISHED THE SENTENCE. "I TORE A LEAF...OFF THE TREE!" NOW YOU'D KNOW WHAT WAS MEANT! "I TORE A LEAF...OUT OF THE BOOK!" AGAIN YOU'D KNOW EXACTLY WHAT WAS MEANT—THE SAME WORD BUT WITH TWO ENTIRELY DIFFERENT MEANINGS—ONE, THE FOLIAGE THAT GROWS ON A TREE; TWO, A PIECE OF PAPER THAT'S BOUND IN A BOOK.

IN JUST THE SAME MANNER DOES THE ARAMAIC WORD "GAMLA" MEAN CAMEL; OR A ROPE; OR A BEAM. WHEN JESUS, SPEAKING IN THE ONLY LANGUAGE HE KNEW, ARAMAIC, SAID, "DADLIL LGAMLA LMEAL BAKHFORA DAMGATA AU ATIRA DNEAOL LMAACOTHA DALAHA?" HE ACTUALLY SAID "IT IS EASIER FOR A ROPE TO GO THROUGH THE EYE OF A NEEDLE THAN FOR A RICH MAN TO ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF GOD." IN FACT, HE WAS ONLY USING A VERY POPULAR EXPRESSION OF THE DAY. EASTERN WOMEN, WHEN SHOPPING FOR THREAD WOULD OFTEN SAY, IF THE THREAD WAS TOO THICK, "IT IS A ROPE, IT WILL NOT GO THROUGH THE EYE OF MY NEEDLE!"

BUT WHEN THE EARLY GREEKS TRANSLATED THE NEW TESTAMENT BOOKS FROM ARAMAIC INTO GREEK, THEY DIDN'T REALIZE THAT, IN ARAMAIC CUSTOM, NEEDLE AND ROPE HAD ANY CONNECTION. ONE OF THEM, OBVIOUSLY, DID KNOW THAT "GAMLA" MEANT CAMEL AND SO TRANSLATED IT THAT WAY—AND, FROM THAT DAY ON, THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS OF PRIESTS, MINISTERS, AND PREACHERS HAVE MISQUOTED JESUS WITHOUT KNOWING THEY WERE DOING SO! THIS DISCREPANCY WAS FINALLY BROUGHT TO LIGHT IN THE 1920'S, IN A SERIES OF LECTURES BY PROF. GEORGE M. LAMSA, EMINENT ETHNOLOGIST AND ARAMAIC LANGUAGE EXPERT—WHICH HAPPENED TO BE HIS OWN MOTHER-TONGUE!
