MAYOR WES FISHER

Mayor won't seek fifth term

Mayor Wes Fisher of Hereford announced Monday that he will not seek reelection for an unprecedented fifth term, saying that he needs to devote more time to business and personal life.

"I have always tried to represent Hereford with dignity and pride. I have enjoyed my tenure in office, working for the betterment of Hereford and I will certainly miss it, stated the mayor.

Fisher, who is executive vice president of Barrett-Fisher Company, is completing eight years as mayor. He said he will leave office "with the knowledge that the City is in good financial shape and is facing its future problems with some good pre-planning. Our city is very fortunate to have such dedicated and hard-working employees and I will miss working with them. I feel the City is in good hands."

The mayor also noted that City Commissioner Tom LeGate will file for the position of mayor. "I have served with Tom on the commission for six years and he served as mayor-pro tem for several of those years. He is well experienced and qualified to serve as mayor and I support his candidacy."

Fisher served three years on the City Planning & Zoning Commission and four years as a city commissioner before election as mayor. He served 11 years on the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board, serves on the Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board, and serves on the Panhandle Community Development Regional Review Committee by appointment of the governor.

Fisher played a major role in organizing the Panhandle Conference of Mayors and presently serves as chairman. He was instrumental in organizing the Panhandle Area Alliance and serves as chairman of the board. He is a member of the Senior Citizens Foundation board and is a director of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation board.

"I have enjoyed my tenure in office and working for the betterment of Hereford...I will certainly miss it."

The mayor said he plans to continue working for regional cooperation in the Panhandle through the Panhandle Area Alliance, along with other regional organizations. "I will do what I can to help Hereford grow," Fisher concluded.

Tom LeGate filed for the mayor's position Monday, and James McDowell Jr. filed for LeGate's Place 3 seat on the council.

Incumbent Silvana Juarez has also filed for re-election to the city council.

In the school board election, Steve Wright has filed for Place 5, where he will challenge David Bone for the right to fill the vacant seat.

Incumbent board member Raymond Schlabs has filed for re-election, and will be challenged by

Farm signup underway

Signup is underway for the 1991 farm program and the 10th Conservation Reserve Program at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Hereford.

The 10th CRP signup is a nationwide bidding pool and all bids will be evaluated for reasonableness, ownership, eligible land, rental rate and crop history. Also to be considered are surface water and ground water quality, soil productivity, conservation compliance assistance, tree planting, assistance to State 319 areas and conservation priority area.

About 500,000 acres will be accepted in the signup.

Signup for the 1991 farm program will continue through April 26, and appointments have been made for past participants in the program. Participants can expect to receive a letter fixing a date and time for the signup at the ASCS office.

This year, the program will establish a separate base for corn and grain sorghum for 1991 and following years. In 1991 only, farmers will have an option to request a base exchange from corn to grain sorghum or vice versa. Ted Peabody, ASCS executive director in Deaf Smith County, said details of the long-term effects of the base exchange are limited and it may be a few days before the ASCS office will be able to explain future impacts of the exchange.

Program farmers may also be allowed to take advantage of a "flex" option if there is one program crop planted below the permitted acreage and overlapped acreage on another program crop. Flex options are not available to producers who participate in the winter wheat option.

3 beer thieves nabbed

Three persons, two age 17 and another age 20, were arrested Saturday night by a special surveillance team from the Hereford police department.

The team was recently established to stakeout convenience stores in the city that have been hit by a rash of beer burglars. People have been going into the stores, grabbing beer, and running from the store. By the time police are called, the suspects have usually been gone from the scene for several minutes.

Saturday, police said, one of the youths walked into the store and grabbed about $35 worth of beer, not realizing the surveillance team was posted across the street from the store. The suspect then ran out the door to an awaiting car, where another boy helped him into the car. The surveillance team moved in on the three youths, and apprehended the youths after a short chase.

Enjoying the weather

Youngsters filled Hereford's parks on Sunday, enjoying the beautiful weather. Highs in the 70s Sunday and Monday brought on big cases of spring fever, and highs were expected to be in the 80s today before a cold front drops highs to more normal 50s on Wednesday. As a prelude to the front, winds this morning gusted over 60 miles per hour at the Hereford Municipal Airport, with a steady wind at 40 mph at 11 a.m.

Iraq frees allied POWs

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) - Iraq today turned over to the Red Cross what it called the last allied POWs: 35 prisoners to be exchanged for the first of more than 60,000 captured Iraqis.

Freed were 15 Americans, nine Britons, nine Saudis, one Kuwaiti and one Italian, Red Cross spokesman Peter Fluege said at the organization's Geneva headquarters.

However, bad weather and poor visibility delayed what was to have been a mid-afternoon exchange.

The 294 Iraqis who were to be flown to Baghdad from the King Khalid military base in northern Saudi Arabia, and Fluege said a Red Cross-chartered plane was to fly the freed allied prisoners to Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

The first POW releases came Monday, when Iraq freed six Americans, three Britons and an Italian. Doctors who accompanied the Americans on their journey to a hospital ship in Bahrain said they were high-spirited and healthy.

This afternoon, Baghdad radio quoted a Foreign Ministry spokesman as saying: "Iraq has completed the handing over of all prisoners of the countries that had taken part in military operations against Iraq."

The allies had demanded release of all POWs as a condition for a cease-fire.

Following Monday's release, at least 54 allied troops were listed as missing and at least eight as still-held POWs. Six Americans were among those known to still be held and 35 Americans were listed as missing.

Capt. Steve Rego, a U.S. military spokesman in Riyadh, said efforts to carry out today's exchange were proceeding despite the possibility of a delay because of high winds in Baghdad and poor visibility at the Saudi POW camp.

The first six freed Americans arrived at the U.S. Navy hospital ship Mercy in Bahrain early today after a 17-hour journey that began in Baghdad and took them overland to Jordan.

The head physician aboard the medical plane, Air Force Col. Wynn Mabry, said doctors found no solid evidence that the six had been tortured or seriously mistreated.

Several reported receiving medical care during their captivity, he said.

Four other allied POWs also were freed Monday in Baghdad - three Britons and an Italian. They were turned over to officials of their countries, and the Britons were taken to an air base in Cyprus. Their condition was not known.

The Americans reached the ship about an hour before dawn and soon were talking by telephone with their families for the first time since their capture.

Among them, was Army Spc. Melissa Rathbun-Nealy, 20, of Grand Rapids, Mich., the only woman from the coalition forces listed as missing in action.

"I'm pleased to report that they are all in good shape and in good spirits," said Mabry. "They have some concerns about some people they feel are still there (in Iraq)."

Before the U.S. military announced today's prisoner exchange, Red Cross representatives in the Saudi capital of Riyadh said they foresaw some problems, including making sure that the Iraqi POWs actually want to go home.

Iraq's ambassador to the United Nations, Abdul Amir Al-Anbari, said in New York on Monday that all allied POWs could be released today and Wednesday. He said they would be released to the Red Cross in Baghdad.

City, golf pro battle on carts

By DANEE WILSON
Staff Writer

The Hereford City Commission meeting Monday night became the main event as the commissioners took on the John Pitman Municipal Golf Course Golf Pro Brent Warner.

Warner played the role, as he described it, "the golf pro who makes all kinds of money," while the commissioners who were trying to keep their constituency's best interest at heart when Warner came before them requesting an increase in golf cart fees.

Warner, acting on the requests of golf course users, purchased 40 new EZ-Go golf carts on a lease purchase agreement. Because of the higher payment which must be made monthly, Warner requested the fees be raised from $13.50 to $15 for a round of golf.

"If I raised the fees, I would be getting an eight percent increase in fees, but my expenses would be up 12 percent, which would leave me at a four percent loss," Warner said.

Warner also proposed giving the city an additional 50 cents on top of the $1 they get from golf cart fees.

"I think it is terrible timing," Commissioner Emory Brownlow said. "We're looking at an increase in green fees and now you're wanting to increase golf cart rates. Some people can't afford that."

"I think we're in a awkward situation," Commissioner Tom LeGate explained. "The city really needs the additional 50 cents to help pay for improvements that are needed at the golf course."

"Since golf carts are a luxury," Commissioner Irene Cantu said, "let the people who use them pay for them."

"There are a lot of seniors who play golf who need the carts because they can't walk the course," said Brownlow.

After jeers from the audience about how much the golf pro makes on the golf carts, Warner became defensive on his position. One commissioner questioned how much money Warner was making off the carts and if it would not be feasible for the city to take over the carts. Warner responded, "Why don't you take away a man's livelihood? These people are always saying I make so much money because they see the gross profit and don't consider the expenses or they don't know how to calculate the profit."

"I can't believe as a commission that we're just now hearing about this," said Commissioner Terry Langehenning. "I think maybe Brent was putting the cart before the horse when he bought the new carts without consulting with us on how he was going to pay for them. I don't want to agree with the raise right now, nor do I want to agree to split the profit on $1 raise (50 cents to the city and 50 cents to the pro) until we figure out what we are going to do about the greens fees."

Warner said he went ahead and purchased the new carts because of the numerous complaints about the old carts and because he got a good deal on the carts.

Comparatively, most golf courses in the area charge between $13.50 and $15 for use of carts.

"I think it is crucial that the city gets the 50 cents," LeGate who serves as chairman of the golf course committee, said. "I don't want to put a burden on Brent either."

Brownlow made a motion to leave the rates as they are, but the motion died for a lack of a second.

Cantu proposed to increase the rate to the requested $15. That motion also died for the lack of a second.

Commissioner Wayne Winget made a motion to increase the golf cart fees to $14.50, with a dollar going to the city and one dollar to the golf pro. The motion was seconded by Cantu, but was defeated by a two-four vote.

Finally, the commissioner decided to table the matter until the next meeting, when they put the final touches on the budget and will know where they stand on the greens fee increase.

"I don't like doing this," Mayor Wes Fisher said. "It puts a bad taste in my mouth."

Commissioners voted to approve a resolution to the EnCoRe group for recycling. The resolution declares that Hereford endorses recycling and they would provide marked dumpsters for recyclable goods with the proceeds from those goods going to an approved group.

EnCoRe member Tonya Kleuskens asked the city to have a policy to purchase materials that have been recycled.

City Manager Darwin McGill said such a policy could not be made because paper and office products have to be purchased through the bidding process. He also said that he thought recycled paper is considerably more expensive than virgin paper.

On a four to two vote, Brownlow and LeGate opposed, commissioner accepted a resolution in support of the Pantex expansion project. Pantex is one site being considered by the DOE for expansion as part of the nuclear consolidation process.

Members of POWER, People Opposed to Wasted Energy Repositories, read a letter asking the commissioners to remain neutral and not support the expansion. The group claims that the "DOE has left deep scars" in the Hereford community and that "Hereford has endured more than its share of the DOE debate."

Mayor Fisher thanked them for their interest, but voted to support the expansion, as a reduction at Pantex would be a jolt to the entire Panhandle including Hereford, and an expansion would also greatly benefit the Panhandle, he said.

DSEC conducts annual meeting

Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative will conduct its annual meeting and dinner beginning at 5 p.m., Tuesday, March 12, at the Bull Barn.

A fish, chicken and beef dinner will be served and the Florida Boys, in a return engagement, will provide the entertainment following the meal.

DSEC members will receive refunds amounting to a total of $2 million. Wholesale power refunds account for $1,537,728 of the total and capital credits from 1975 and 1976 make up the remaining $462,272 of the refund.

A short business session to elect three directors will be held at the dinner about 6 p.m. Another highlight of the event will be the drawings for door prizes totaling more than $1,000, including a color television set.

The Florida Boys have been together for more than 40 years. Along the way, they have established some impressive landmarks. They were the hosts of the most successful gospel music tv program in history--"The Gospel Singing Jubilee," which won a number of Dove Awards.

They were the first Southern Gospel group signed by Canaan Records when Word Records began that division in 1964. They are among a select few who have stayed in the business for over 40 years. The group appears 50 weeks of the year at concerts all across America.

commissioners voted to give the organization $2,900 for the next year.

Since the city cannot make a direct donation, a letter of intent will be signed with Kids, Inc. to pay the donation back to the city in services.

Commissioner tumbled the YMCA request of $20,000 until a budget could be presented.

"I want everyone to know that I will not vote to give the YMCA $20,000," Langehenning said. "I would consider giving them what they need, but I can't give the YMCA $20,000 of the taxpayers money."

Several commissioners agreed with Langehenning and decided to look over the matter after they are presented with a budget.

McGill was given authorization to prepare specifications for a used mowing tractor.

Commissioners voted to adopt an ordinance annexing a seven acre tract located on the south side of Holly Sugar Road plus the extension of the east and west line extended south to the city's property.

The commissioners broke for executive session to discuss the city attorney. When they reconvened, Mayor Fisher announced that no action was taken. Earnest Langley who is serving as city attorney recently has undergone surgery and will be in and out as his condition warrants. Charles White of Whittenburg law firm will be assisting Langley when needed.

Dettmann gives book review to study club

The Perez Family was the book reviewed by Audine Dettmann when members of the Garden Beautiful Club met Friday, March 1, in the home of Hilda Havens.

Written by Christine Bell, the book tells the story of a boat load of refugees from Cuba who came to the United States in the 1970s. Juan Perez had been a prisoner in Havana for 20 years when he was sent Miami. He pretended to be married to another woman while he was searching for his true wife. There were many frustrations and he finally decided to remain with his "pretend" wife.

President Jeanne Dowell called the meeting to order and Jerry Jackson read the thought for the day. She then gave a garden hint and read the minutes of the previous meeting.

President Dowell appointed the nominating committee for next year. They included Bessie Story, Inez Witherspoon and Nadine Hill.

Also, a suggestion was made that the club contribute to the benefit shower for the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. The local event will be held from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday, March 16, at Sugarland Mall. It is being sponsored by members of Pioneer Study Club.

Letters of appreciation were read from the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization and the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

It was announced that the Rape Crises/Domestic Violence Center will have a training session for volunteers from 9 a.m. until noon March 9.

Havens and Bobbie Metcalf served breakfast to those present. They included Vada Axe, Marguerite Cole, Dottie Darden, Dettmann, Dowell, Jackson, Camelia Jones, Pat Northcutt, Story, Witherspoon, Winnie Wiseman and Margaret Young.

MR. AND MRS. JESSIE MARTINEZ

Wallace, Martinez married in Dallas

Rebecca Ann Wallace and former Hereford resident, Lawrence Jessie Martinez, are making their home in Mesquite following their Feb. 9 marriage at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension in Dallas. The Rev. K. Michael Harmuth officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Jean Wallace of Mesquite and the late Johnny Wallace. She is the granddaughter of Daisy Ivy of Dallas and the late Harvey and Belma Wallace. The bridegroom is the son of the late Maria Crespin and the late Jessie H. Martinez. He is the grandson of Mrs. Ann Crespin of Dimmitt and the late Flavio Crespin.

Maid of honor was Donna Jones of Mesquite. Bridesmaids included Gema Martin and Laura Lynd, both of Mesquite, and Chere Bradshaw of Dallas.

Best man was Dee Hairgrove of Carrollton and groomsmen were Bill Kirk of Austin, Curt Beard of Dallas and Ronald Plummer of Fort Worth.

Guests were escorted by the bride's nephew, Rick Gilson, and Tom Denton Jr., both of Dallas; the bride's cousin, Tracy Stokes of Fort Worth; and the groom's brother, Joey Ramirez of Plano.

Julie Ramirez, the groom's sister, and Joy Eliabeth Eddy, the bride's cousin, presided at the guest books.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Michael Wallace of Mesquite.

Members of the houseparty were Suzy Henson of Dallas, Jan Stanley of Josephine, Lynn Vitosh, Carrie Vitosh, Tracey Liebrum and Nancy Wallace, sister-in-law of the bride, all of Mesquite.

Readings were presented by Terri Kelley of Arlington, cousin of the bride, and Michelle Broussard of Dallas. Prayers were offered by Michael Wallace, Tracy Stokes and Tom Denton Jr.

Organist, Dale Harris of Dallas, presented selections by Purcell and Bach.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church fellowship hall after which a party, hosted by Marie Blandin of Mesquite, was held at the Mesquite Elks Lodge. Following a buffet, guests danced to the music of the Tommy Amador Orchestra.

The couple honeymooned in Manzanillo, Mexico.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of North Mesquite High School after which she earned her B.S. degree at Baylor University and M.S. degree at North Texas State University. She is employed by S&A Restaurant Corporation as an exercise physiologist.

The groom graduated from Hereford High School and the Rose Myotherapy School in Dallas. He is employed by Lakewood Country Club as a massage therapist.

Taylor presents program on exercise, low-fat diet

Gerry Taylor of the Hereford Diet Center presented an informative program to members of La Madre Mia Study Club Feb. 28 at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

Taylor emphasized the importance of a regular exercise regime combined with a low-fat diet for a successful weight loss and health program. She also gave a demonstration on a machine which measures body fat.

During the business meeting with Merle Clark presiding, Debbie Bentley read the minutes of the previous meeting and a financial report was presented by Clark.

Also, correspondence was read from Big Brothers/Big Sisters Organization of Hereford, the Hereford High School Scholarship Fund and the Rape Crises/Domestic Violence Center.

Roll call was answered by "a favorite diet food."

Janet Schroeter was welcomed as a new member.

Debbie Tardy and Mary Herring served as hostesses to those present. They included Clark, Bentley, Nicky Walker, Carolyn McDonald, Francine Bromlow, Bettye Owen, Betty Taylor, Betty Lady, Georgia Sparks, Nancy Paetzold, Lucy Rogers, Tardy, Mary Beth White, Gladys Merritt, Marlene Watson, Herring, Carolyn Baxter, Schroeter and guest, Trudy Phillips.

Conserve fuel

State laws allowing motorists to make right turns at red lights have helped drivers burn less fuel by not idling their engines unnecessarily, says the Federal Highway Administration.

However, several states have considered rescinding the privilege because of increased intersection collisions.

Safety experts at Shell Motorist Club suggest drivers heed these hints to avoid collisions:

-Signal intent to turn at least 100 feet from the intersection.

-Move close to the right side of the road.

-Come to a complete stop before reaching the painted stop line or entering the crosswalk.

-Check for traffic in both directions.

-Look for pedestrians or other obstructions in the crosswalk.

-Execute turn if there are no hazards. Stay close to the curb or right edge of the road until your vehicle speed matches that of traffic, then move to the center of your lane.

Britain introduced the concept of voting by secret ballot in 1872.

Girls' track team wins Concho Belle

The Hereford High School girls' track team won another track meet Saturday. This time it was the Concho Belle Relays in San Angelo.

The Lady Whitefaces outpointed Monahans 112-90.

"All the girls put their best into the competition, and most were near exhaustion by the time the meet ended," coach Martha Emerson said.

It was a tough day for the runners, she said, as it was warm, then cold, and the wind came from different directions during the day.

Some girls, Emerson said, were fighting coughs and colds. In addition, the meet lasted from 8 a.m.-9:30 p.m., she said.

Teresa Castillo took her customary place--first--in the 1,600-meter run, but finished second in the 3,200-meter run. Emerson said Castillo fell victim more to the flu bug than to the girl who beat her.

She ran the flu-slowed 3,200 in 13 minutes and 17.5 seconds--almost a full minute slower than last weekend when she set a new Comanche Relays meet record.

Castillo's winning time in the 1,600 was 5:44.2.

Hereford won two other events: the 1,600-meter relay team of Castillo, Lisa Zepeda, Minerva Salazar and Jayme Moore won with a time of 4:21.1, and Christie Burkhardt had the best discus-throw of the meet at 107 feet and 8 inches.

A pair of Lady Whitefaces finished second in hurdle events: Moore in the 300-meter and Chasity Rickman in the 100.

The team is scheduled to compete Saturday at the Canyon Invitational meet in Canyon.

Other Hereford point-winners are listed by event:

300-meter hurdles: Jeannie Barrientez, third; and Rachel Alaniz, fourth.

200-meter dash: Salazar, fourth.

400: Angie Jowell, sixth.

800: Zepeda, fourth.

1,600: Brandie Webb, third.

3,200: Webb, fifth; and Rita Soto, sixth.

800 relay: The team of Moore, Zepeda, Salazar and Laura Rangel finished third.

Shot put: Burkhardt, third.

High jump: Rickman, fifth.

Keeping her eyes on the ball

Hereford tennis player Gina Alley appears to be looking at the camera as she watches the tennis ball flash by her chest and lunges to hit it. Hereford's tennis team played in the Odessa Invitational tennis tournament Friday and Saturday.

Tennis team finishes 6th in tough tourney

Hereford's tennis team ran into some tough competition in the Odessa Invitational Tournament Thursday and Friday.

The Whitefaces came in sixth behind four 5A schools and a good 4A school. Lubbock's Coronado High won the tournament, followed by Odessa Permian, Odessa High and Midland Lee.

In fifth place was Big Spring--or at least coach Luis Zavala said that's how it probably turned out.

The Hereford team had to leave before the final matches were played. Big Spring needed to win one match to beat out the Whitefaces, Zavala said, and playing for Big Spring was "one kid who is ranked very high in the state."

Zavala said he believed that kid would win.

Hereford beat out two 5A schools from El Paso: Irvin and El Paso High.

Leading the Whitefaces was the girls' doubles team of Robyn Sublett and Trisha Munoz, which finished sixth out of 16 teams. The other girls' doubles team--Gina Alley and Teresa Baker--was eighth.

In boys' singles competition, Jamie Kapka was seventh and Greg Coplen tenth.

In girls' singles, Brenna Reinauer was eighth and Bri Reinauer tenth.

Finally, in boys' doubles, the team of Eric Cortez and Torey Sellers finished ninth, with T.J. Head and Randy Robbins thirteenth.

Hereford's junior varsity team plays Borger's JV here today, starting at 4 p.m., "or whenever they get here," Zavala said.

The varsity team has its next competition Friday and Saturday at the Borger Invitational.

Boys' track team 8th at Lubbock Invitational

The Hereford High School boys' track team competed in the Lubbock Invitational track meet Saturday, scoring 27 points to finish eighth in the 4A division.

Lubbock's Estacado High School won the meet with "a lot of points," Hereford coach Ron Young said. Lubbock Dunbar finished second.

For Hereford, the highest finish in a single event was by Sean Smith, who finished third in the high jump.

The Whitefaces got fourth-place points out of Armando Garza in the 800-meter run; Cody Page in the shot put; and the 1,600 relay team of Garza, Stephen Banner, Noah Garcia and Leo Brown.

The 400 relay team of Banner, Petey Colvin, Alvaro Avila and Chris Steward finished fifth.

The varsity's remaining points came from Brown's sixth-place finish in the 110-meter high hurdles.

The junior varsity team also finished eighth, and it got 16 of its 37 points from Quincy Curtis.

Curtis came in second in the 200-meter dash, fourth in the 100, and anchored the fourth-place 400 relay team, which also consisted of Gabriel Medrano, Leonard Martinez and Lupo Mendez.

Other junior varsity Whitefaces who earned points were: Jack Borden, third in the 3,200-meter run and sixth in the 1,600; Pedro Dominguez, fourth in the 3,200; Gabriel Medrano, fifth in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles; and the 1,600-meter relay team of Medrano, Martinez, Mendez and Michael Jarrett, which came in fifth.

The track team will compete Saturday in the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce meet here in Hereford.

Contracts renewed for young ballplayers

By RONALD BLUM
AP Sports Writer

While players with three years in the majors can have their salaries determined by arbitrators, younger players are subject to automatic renewal by their clubs. And they don't like it.

Jerome Walton of the Chicago Cubs, the 1989 National League Rookie of the Year, had his contract renewed Monday for the second straight season.

"I'm not going to say I don't care, but I left it in the hands of my agent," Walton said.

Walton batted .263 last year with 16 doubles, two homers, 21 RBIs and 14 stolen bases. When he was Rookie of the Year, he hit .293 with 23 doubles, five homers, 46 RBIs and 24 stolen bases.

"I had a lot of problems last spring that carried into the season," Walton said. "I'm not happy again with the contract, but I'm not going to let it bother me."

Mike Schooler, who had more than 30 saves in each of the last two seasons, was renewed by Seattle at $490,000. That makes him the highest-paid pitcher with less than three years in the big leagues.

Milwaukee renewed the contract of first baseman George Canale, Texas renewed pitchers Kevin Brown and Kenny Rogers and catcher Chad Kreuter, and Cincinnati renewed catcher Joe Oliver, pitchers Jack Armstrong and Tim Layana, and first baseman Hal Morris.

While the contract season was concluding, Barry Bonds got into a profanity-filled tirade with Pittsburgh manager Jim Leyland. But the disgruntled outfielder said he wasn't upset with his contract, determined when an arbitrator picked Pittsburgh's $2.3 million offer instead of his $3.25 million bid.

This time, Bonds was angry because the club told him a friend couldn't take pictures of him at practice while the National League MVP was prohibiting news photographers from recording his image.

"I don't give a damn what his problems are, he's not going to run this camp. ... He can just go home," Leyland said.

"Just because I didn't want to talk to the media, and that was my choice, they said neither can your friend take pictures of you," said Bonds, who has refused interviews with print reporters but spoke on live television reports.

Bonds recently said he wouldn't re-sign with Pittsburgh after 1992 "if they offered me one hundred million."

As Bonds fumed, Pascual Perez - finally - arrived at the New York Yankees' camp in Fort Lauderdale. Perez, who makes visa problems an annual ritual, was 11 days behind the other pitchers but two days ahead of the mandatory deadline.

"I think I could be OK pretty soon," said Perez, who pitched only 14 innings last season because of arm problems. "Maybe by May, maybe not. I want to pitch, but I want to be 100 percent. I don't want to have to stop once I start."

Rangers sign

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Texas Rangers said Monday they have signed infielders Jack Daugherty and Jeff Huson to one-year contracts for the 1991 season.

The team also told pitchers Kevin Brown and Kenny Rogers and catcher Chad Kreuter their contracts had been renewed.

Major league baseball's basic agreement allows teams to renew the contracts of players who do not have enough service time to be eligible for salary arbitration. The only stipulation is a player's salary cannot be cut more than 20 percent.

Details of contracts signed by Daugherty and Huson were not disclosed.

Daugherty batted .300 with 6 homers in 125 games while Huson hit .240 with 28 RBIs in 145 games.

All 40 players on the Rangers' major league roster are under contract for 1991.

Nearly 2,000 individuals participated in the first 24 Super Bowls.

White JV loses 12-0

Hereford High School's White junior varsity baseball team lost 12-0 Monday in Plainview to one of Plainview's two JV teams.

Coach Henry Perez said the team played well through four innings behind the pitching of Andrew Tijerina. At that point, they were behind only 4-0, Perez said, but several errors soured the game after that.

Michael Melendrez had the only hit--a single--for Hereford, Perez said.

The White team has its next game Friday at Canyon against Canyon's JV. The game starts at 4:30 p.m.

Hereford's Maroon JV team plays here Thursday against Muleshoe's varsity team. That game is scheduled to start at 5 p.m.

Putter turns Mediate around

MIAMI (AP) - Rocco Mediate is giving his tall, skinny friend a week off.

The time off could be in the nature of a reward for good and faithful service. But it isn't. It's just the way Rocco's schedule worked out.

Fresh from the first victory of his career, a playoff triumph over Curtis Strange in the Doral Open, Mediate will spend the rest of the week at the PGA headquarters attending the classes necessary for him to gain full membership.

So his friend - the controversial, 49-inch putter that has helped Mediate turn his life around - will remain in the bag.

"It's given me a whole new perspective," the PGA Tour's newest winner said.

And the best could be yet to come. "I've only been working with it for three months. I still have a long way to go with it, a lot to learn," said Mediate, who began working with the peculiar instrument in the off-season.

Since then, in six competitive starts he has:

- 1, Not finished lower than 13th,
- 2, Had five top-10 finishes,
- 3, Won his first tournament,

4, Collected more money than he had in any of his five previous seasons as a touring pro,

5, Gone over $1 million in career earnings, and 6, Taken the lead in 1991 tour money-winnings with $403,824.

Mediate also leads the tour in scoring average with a spectacular 68.66 and holds the top spot in three other statistical categories.

"He's turned his game around," Strange said. "It isn't just the putter. It's the way he's hitting the ball, the way he's playing, the confidence he has."

But the putter helps.

It brushed in a pair of 10-foot birdie putts on the 71st and 72nd holes of the storm-delayed tournament and lifted Mediate into a tie with Strange at 276, 12 under par.

And on the first playoff hole, the long stick tapped in an 8-foot birdie putt for the winner.

Mediate played the last round - 11 holes on Sunday and seven on Monday - in par-72.

Strange, on the comeback after a slump that began immediately after his unsuccessful try for a third consecutive U.S. Open title last year, played the final 18 holes in 67, by three shots the best in the field.

Loss jeopardizes Hogs' No. 1 seed

An AP Sports Analysis
By HARRY KING
AP Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) - Arkansas' 13-point loss to Texas probably had a slight impact on the Razorbacks' status in the NCAA tournament.

Arkansas was a No. 1 seed before the game. Now, the Razorbacks and Syracuse are likely in the running for the fourth No. 1 seed. Unbeaten Nevada-Las Vegas is a certain No. 1. So is once-beaten Ohio State. Indiana, second in the Big Ten and No. 3 in the country, also is in line for a No. 1.

UNLV would be in the West; Ohio State in the Midwest.

If North Carolina had won Sunday, the Tar Heels probably would be a No. 1. Instead, Duke won 83-77.

So, the selection committee may be trying to decide between Southwest Conference champion Arkansas and Big East champion Syracuse. The Orangemen are 26-4 and No. 4; Arkansas is 28-3 and No. 5.

Both have conference tournaments this week. Arkansas opens Friday night against Texas Tech or Texas

A&M and a victory would pretty much secure the Razorbacks' position because most of the blanks will be filled in by Saturday. The 64-team field is to be revealed Sunday.

If the committee makes Syracuse No. 1 in the East, Indiana would be in the Southeast. In that case, Arkansas would probably be No. 2 in the Midwest. North Carolina and Duke would probably get a couple of the other No. 2 seeds.

If the committee goes for Arkansas, the Razorbacks would be No. 1 in the East or Southeast and Indiana would be the other No. 1.

By the way, if you're trying to get a handle on Arkansas' loss to Texas, chew on nine of 38 shooting in the second half. That will get most anybody beat.

Meanwhile, Arkansas State University is likely to wind up in the National Invitation Tournament.

The Indians shared the American South Conference championship and would have been under consideration for the NCAA if they had made the finals of the conference tournament.

Instead, a blocked 3-point attempt with seconds remaining preserved a 58-56 victory for Louisiana Tech. Then, Sunday night, Tech shot down any faint hopes with a victory over the University of New Orleans in the championship game. New Orleans was in the top 25 earlier this year and could get an at-large bid but the league won't have three representatives and the tournament winner is automatic.

"If there are 96 teams better than this one in the country, I'd like to see them," ASU coach Nelson Catalina said when asked about an NIT bid.

He plans to practice the Indians this week and there is talk of an ASU-Memphis State game in the first round of the NIT next week.

The Indians won 16 of their last 20, including eight in a row in February. Not bad for a team that was picked near the bottom of the ASC.

ASU finished 21-8, equalling the Indians' record for most victories in a season. In fact, all four of ASU's 20-win seasons have come in the last five years under Catalina.

Jazz winning on road

By The Associated Press

The Utah Jazz are starting to make some noise in the NBA playoff race.

The Jazz routed the Orlando Magic 106-88 Monday night for their third consecutive victory on the road and fourth consecutive win overall.

"To be a good team, you have to be able to go out and win on the road," said Karl Malone, who had 30 points and 11 rebounds. "You've got to win the close games, and sometimes you've got to win impressively, like we did tonight."

The Jazz started their six-game road trip with narrow victories at Detroit and Philadelphia before routing the Magic. Nine wins in 11 games have given Utah a two-game lead in the Midwest Division over San Antonio.

The division winner most likely will be the second seed in the Western Conference playoffs, while the second-place finisher could lose homecourt advantage in the first round.

Malone scored 10 of Utah's first 12 points in the second quarter, keying a 14-4 run that gave the Jazz a 35-26 lead. Orlando, whose 8-3 record in February was the most successful month in the club's two-year history, never recovered.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Boston 126, Indiana 101; Phoenix 126, Charlotte 93; Dallas 102, New Jersey 100; and Seattle 105, Golden State 99.

Orlando shot only 36 percent from the field in the opening half (16 of 44). Dennis Scott then scored 20 of his 28 points on 10-for-15 shooting in the third quarter for the Magic, but they still were outscored by five points to trail 81-65.

Malone, who has never scored less than 30 points against the Magic, gave the Jazz an 88-74 advantage with a jump shot, and Orlando didn't get closer than 12 the rest of the way.

Celtics 126, Pacers 101
Larry Bird scored 29 points and tied his own team record with seven 3-pointers.

The Celtics shot 64 percent from the floor in the first half en route to a 69-52 halftime lead, then extended the margin to 87-61 late in the third quarter.

The Pacers, who rallied from a 17-point deficit in the fourth quarter for a 115-109 victory over the Celtics on Feb. 24, never seriously threatened Boston in the fourth quarter.

Suns 126, Hornets 93
Phoenix improved its road record to 16-14 and handed Charlotte its worst loss of the season.

Dan Majerle had 21 points, reserve Cedric Ceballos 20 and Kevin Johnson 19 points and 10 assists for the Suns.

Phoenix outscored Charlotte 35-23 in the first quarter, 33-24 in the second and 31-18 in the third for a 99-65 margin at the end of the third period.

Mavericks 102, Nets 100
Rolando Blackman converted two free throws after time expired as New Jersey lost for the ninth consecutive time on the road.

Blackman, who scored 21 points, scored the Mavericks' last 12 points in the final 3:35 as they wiped out a 12-point fourth-quarter deficit. Blackman converted one of two free throws with 10.5 seconds left, giving Dallas a 100-98 lead before Reggie Theus' 14-footer tied it with 4.7 seconds remaining.

After a timeout, Blackman just missed a 16-footer as the final buzzer sounded. But he was fouled by Theus on the play, and Blackman swished both free throws.

Hogs lead All-SWC team

DALLAS (AP) - Arkansas got its "three-peat" even though Texas shattered the Razorbacks' dreams of an unbeaten farewell league season. In the process, Arkansas garnered most of The Associated Press 1990-1991 All-Southwest Conference basketball awards.

Texas kept Arkansas from becoming only the third team in SWC history to go through a season unbeaten with a 99-86 victory over the third-ranked Razorbacks in Austin on Sunday. The Hogs finished 15-1 in league play, two games ahead of Texas.

Oliver Miller, Todd Day and Lee Mayberry earned first-team berths for the Razorbacks and Nolan Richardson was named Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season in voting by his peers. A fourth Razorback, guard Arlyn Bowers, was honored as the best defensive player in the league.

Other first teamers on the mythical all-star team included two University of Texas seniors, guard Joey Wright, the offensive catalyst of the second-place Longhorns, and forward-center Locksley Collie of coach Tom Penders' team.

Arkansas rolled through the SWC to earn its third consecutive title. No team had won three in a row since E.O. "Doc" Hayes' great Southern Methodist teams of the mid-50s accomplished the trick.

Miller, Day, and Mayberry are all juniors and formed the backbone of Richardson's team, which earned more regular season victories than any team in Arkansas history.

Arkansas leaves the SWC for the Southeastern Conference next season. Richardson's Hogs posted a 28-3 mark in the regular season with the only losses to Texas, Arizona and top-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas.

Miller, "The Big O" who stakes out the middle of Arkansas' devastating press, pounds the boards, and has one of the highest shooting percentages in the nation, was named the SWC's Most Valuable Player. He won out in close balloting with Day and Wright.

In other balloting, Chase Maag, the deadly shooter for the Rice Owls, was named Newcomer of the Year and Willie Sublett of the Baylor Bears was named Freshman of the Year.

St. Peter's earns playoff spot

By The Associated Press

You can find St. Peter's on a map. Just locate Jersey City, N.J.

Now, for the first time, you can also find the Peacocks in the field for the NCAA tournament.

St. Peter's earned its first trip to March Madness with a 64-58 victory over Iona for the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference championship and the automatic bid to the field of 64 that comes with it.

"I am very proud of this team," Peacocks coach Ted Fiore said. "We made it to the NCAAs. We made St. Peter's history and we have a chance to put them on the map."

St. Peter's was one of four teams on Monday night to earn an invitation to the NCAA tournament, which gets underway March 14. The others were South Alabama, which beat Old Dominion 86-81 to win the Sun Belt; Richmond, which downed George Mason 81-78 to win the Colonial Athletic Association; and Pepperdine, which beat St. Mary's, Calif., 71-68 in overtime to win the West Coast Conference.

The Peacocks (24-6) lived up to their reputation as a standout defensive team, holding their third straight tournament opponent to less than 60 points. There was also an impressive individual effort as Marvin Andrews held Iona's Sean Green to 10 points, 13.7 below his season average and 33 below what he had in Sunday night's semifinal win over Siena.

"What this came down to was just a case of will and a case of true grit," Fiore said. "I knew Marvin would be there and I just knew that Sean Green would also know he was there."

Green was 5-for-15 from the field, a far cry from his 16-for-21 effort against Siena and his 12-for-16 outing when he scored 30 points the last time St. Peter's met Iona (17-12).

"I knew he wasn't getting anything that easy again," said Andrews, who scored 13 points and was named MVP for the tournament held in Albany, N.Y. "I thought I could get him frustrated and make him shoot his team out of the game."

St. Peter's Tony Walker led all scorers with 18 points, while Jasper Walker had 10 points, nine assists and eight rebounds.

West Coast Conference
Pepperdine won its first conference championship and first NCAA bid since 1986 with the overtime victory, despite having just eight players from midway through the first half.

Geoff Lear scored four of his career-high 32 points in the overtime as the Waves overcame an 11-point deficit in the second half. Thurman Watson's jumper with 43 seconds lifted St. Mary's (13-17) into a 65-65 tie, and that's how regulation ended.

Lear's dunk with 2:05 to play gave the Waves the lead for good at 68-67.

Sun Belt
South Alabama (22-8) ended the upset string of seventh-seeded Old Dominion (14-18), which had beaten No. 2 Alabama-Birmingham and No. 3 South Florida to reach the championship game.

The Jaguars took the lead for good at 75-72 with 2:43 to play on a 3-pointer by Derek Turner, who finished with 14 points, as did Boobie James.

Colonial Athletic Association
The Spiders (21-9) earned their second straight NCAA berth and fifth in eight years with the homecourt victory behind the 26 points and 11 rebounds of 6-foot-10 Jim Shields. Fourth-seeded George Mason (14-16) lost to Richmond for the 11th time in their last 12 meetings.

Byron Tucker led George Mason with 26 points and Mike Hargett had 23.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 87 years old. My wife is 81. We have been married 60 years. When our Methodist minister said, "Till death do you part," we knew exactly what he meant and we took him seriously. It's too bad more couples don't think this way today.

But what I am writing about has nothing to do with our marriage. I want to complain about the way they make men's clothing these days.

1. The tiny buttons on men's shirts are ridiculous. If a person has even a little bit of arthritis, it is impossible to do a darned thing with those buttons.

2. Why do they put collars on men's pajamas, for heaven's sake? It's a waste of material and they don't serve any purpose whatsoever. What's wrong with the old V-neck?

3. Pants pockets are way too small. The average wallet will fit in only one way and it's a struggle to get it out.

4. Undershirts are never long enough and they come three in a package. Why? What if a person wants only one?

5. Shoelaces come in such short lengths that a person cannot tie a decent bow knot. And the quality is awfully poor these days. People would be happy to pay a little more for a shoelace that didn't break so fast.

I am too old to lose my temper every time I get dressed, so please, Ann, see what you can do to get the manufacturers to be sensible. What you say packs a bigger wallop than any paid ad. -- Long-Time Reader in Virginia

DEAR L.T.R.: I loved your letter. It made a lot of sense to me. I hope the manufacturers will pay attention to what you have written. You've provided them with a million dollars' worth of consumer research and it didn't cost them a cent.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is there a legal way to divorce or disown a child? If not, I would like to be a pioneer and start a new movement.

While I was in the hospital suffering like a dog, with a bleeding ulcer, and hoping I'd die, I suddenly thought of another way out of my dilemma -- child divorce. Our 28-year-old son is on drugs. He is a college graduate, divorced, and lives with my husband and me when he is not wallowing in the gutter, in jail or "recovering" in a rehab center.

Our savings are depleted and we can't afford to throw away any more money on our son. All we've learned from this nightmare is that we have done everything possible to help him and that we are not to blame for his failures in life.

At this moment, he has checked out of yet another rehab center and we expect him to show up at any time. We changed the locks and put his belongings on the porch but it won't solve the problem. He always finds a way to get back in the house. We are at the end of our rope with this guy. He has cost us a fortune and caused endless trouble. If you can come up with a solution, you're a magician. -- Ohio

DEAR OHIO: You have no legal obligation to a 28-year-old. Your son has been an adult for several years. There comes a time in life when you must accept the fact that you have exhausted every possibility, extended yourself over and beyond the call of duty and there is nothing more you can do. So, sign off, call it a day and get on with your lives.

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' new booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60621-0562. (In Canada, send $5.87.)

Everyone needs fiber

According to leading organizations, there is a strong relationship between high-fiber diets and good health.

That's because diets rich in soluble fiber have been shown to lower total blood cholesterol—the fiber keeps fat and cholesterol particles from being digested and absorbed by the body. Some studies also suggest that diets high in fiber can offer protection against heart disease and help to lower high blood pressure.

Cancer experts, including the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society, urge people to eat more fiber, as well as less fat, as protection against colon cancer.

Dieters, take note: A diet rich in soluble fiber, which keeps food in the stomach longer, giving you the sensation of being pleasantly full—can even help you lose weight.

Experts recommend that Americans double their amount of fiber intake to between 20 and 35 grams a day, instead of the current average of around 10 grams. Fortunately, there are easy and delicious ways to ensure you get plenty of fiber in your daily diet. You can purchase many 100 percent soluble fiber products for every family member.

Tips for eliminating stubborn stains

By READER'S DIGEST
For AP Newsfeatures

Oops! You've just stained your favorite garment. What to do?

Whether the fabric is natural or man-made, it's best to take it to a dry cleaner as soon as possible. Explain what the stain is and what you've done, if anything, to remove it.

If you attempt to remove a stain yourself, here are some Dos and Don'ts to keep in mind:

DO:
- Read all label care instructions carefully.

- Treat stains immediately; then launder or dry clean as quickly as possible. If the fabric is nonwashable, blot the stain and take it to a dry cleaner immediately.

- Pretest all stain-removal agents. Apply several drops of the remover to a hidden part of the garment, such as a seam. Rub gently with a white towel. If color transfers to the towel, or if a color change occurs, do not use the remover. Consult a dry cleaner.

- Use stain removers in a well-ventilated room far from any gas or electric appliance or any open flame. Don't smoke. Avoid spilling on skin or clothes. If you do spill, wash off the stain remover immediately. Wear rubber gloves when working with stain removers containing enzyme products.

- Use spot treatment for washables too delicate for rubbing or on non-washable items.

- Place aluminum foil and then clean white cloths or paper towels on a work surface.

- With the garment stain-side down, use a white cloth dampened with the recommended remover to blot the stained area. Feather the edges of the stain, working from the outside to the center of the stain to avoid a ring. Repeat the treatment until the stain disappears. Then launder.

- With nonwashables, stop treatment if the stain disappears after any of the above steps. Flush the fabric and dry as recommended. Then have the garment dry cleaned.

- Also test the fabric before using bleach. Put a drop of the solution on a hidden part. Let stand five or 10 minutes. Blot dry. If a color change occurs, don't use bleach. When using bleach, watch the stain carefully. As soon as it disappears, flush the fabric with water. Even if the stain remains, flush with water after 15 minutes.

DON'T:

- Don't allow a nonwashable garment to remain wet with water for more than three or four minutes.

- Don't use chlorine bleach on silk, wool, spandex, urethane foam or garments containing rubber. Don't use ammonia or heavy-duty detergent on wool.

- Don't use heat or hot water on protein stains (such as blood, egg, milk, urine and vomit). It sets the stain. If the fabric is washable, soak and rub in cold water. If the fabric is nonwashable, use an enzyme stain remover.

- Don't use soap bars or flakes on tannin and fruit stains, tea, coffee, beer, tomato juice, fruit juices and cola drinks, for example. They set the stains. If the fabric is washable, wash as you normally would, using detergent. If the fabric is nonwashable, apply a detergent and mineral solution. Rinse well.

- Don't use metal spoons or containers when working with bleaches.

Caution: Don't combine chlorine bleach with ammonia or rust removers. The mixture may produce toxic gases.

Weaver wins best costume

During the recent "Disney Magic" rush party held by members of the Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Donna Weaver won a prize for best costume as Donald Duck.

The membership committee served crepes and lemonade in the SPS Reddy Room which was decorated with balloons and stars. Members enjoyed a competitive game of Win, Lose or Draw - Disney characters.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Marrie Leverett. Janice Betzen expressed appreciation for honoring her as the sweetheart at the brunch and Valentine Ball, as well as the gift and corsage she received.

Appreciation was expressed to secret sisters for Valentine gifts from Ruby Lee, Jane Meiwes, Teresa Hopping, Donna Weaver and Patty Frerich.

A City Council meeting is planned for March 11. The time and place will be announced at a later date. Suggested By-Laws for a Beta Sigma Phi City Council was distributed to members.

The next meeting will be a model meeting on March 7 at the SPS Reddy Room with Leverett demonstrating how to make and decorate sugar eggs. Hostesses will be Ruby Lee and Patty Frerich.

Others present were Mary Beth Messer and guest Kim White.

The so-called "Monkey Trial" ended in Dayton, Tenn., July 21, 1925, with John T. Scopes found guilty of violating state law for teaching Darwin's Theory of Evolution. The conviction was later overturned.

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 15 cents a word for first insertion ($3.00 minimum), and 11 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

| TIMES | RATE | MIN |
|-----------------|------|-------|
| 1 day per word | .15 | 3.00 |
| 2 days per word | .26 | 5.20 |
| 3 days per word | .37 | 7.40 |
| 4 days per word | .48 | 9.60 |
| 5 days per word | .59 | 11.80 |

If you run ads in five consecutive issues with NO changes, you get the same ad in the Reach 4 More free. The regular charge for that ad would be $4.00.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid word lines--those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing; all capital letters. Rates are $4.15 per column inch; $3.45 an inch for consecutive additional insertions.

LEGALIS
 Ad rates for legal notices are same as for classified display.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Shock treatment helpful

Although the warm days of spring are just around the corner, winter is still with us. The proof: static electricity, which takes the form of flyaway hair and clothing that clings where it shouldn't. Here are some tips to help you cut through it.
* Toss an anti-static fabric softener sheet into the dryer before sending your clothes through.
* Keep your hair as moisture-rich as possible. Use a hot oil treatment weekly and a conditioning hairdressing daily.
* Lightly spray static guard on carpets, draperies and around doors.

There is good news from news from the American auto industry. Because of something called foreign direct investment, the industry and the U.S. economy, as well as American workers and consumers, will realize significant benefits.

According to a recent study of economist Robert Z. Lawrence on foreign-affiliated automakers in the United States will help to reduce the U.S. trade deficit by an estimated $9.3 to $15.4 billion dollars and provide about 110,000 new auto-related jobs by 1992.

By locating overseas auto plants in the United States, Japanese and other automakers have successfully transferred valuable production technology and skills to the U.S. automakers. In addition, they have shown that the most advantages that some manufacturers enjoyed in the 1980s were not based on either cultural or social attributes, or extensive government support.

The keys appear to have been new technology, methods of production and innovative management and labor practices. The Japanese emphasis on training has given U.S. workers valuable new skills and experience. The emphasis on collaborative relationships with supplies has diffused know-how to U.S. partsmakers.

Once foreign producers are located in the U.S., the market for cars can become more competitive and U.S. suppliers can have new opportunities to benefit from relationships with foreign-affiliated manufacturers.

Advantages for American consumers that result from auto transplant operations include:

-Greater variety of cars. Competition offered by auto transplant operations provides consumers with a broader range of choice in product.

-Better quality vehicles. Japanese and foreign auto producers have stimulated the domestic producers to make better quality cars.

-Competitively-priced automobiles. The auto transplants provide domestic automakers with incentives for competitive pricing of automobiles. The domestic auto industry has been transformed from a self-contained oligopoly with only a few producers into an internationalized, competitive industry with many producers.

All of this is good news indeed, and may soon be putting American drives on the road to better quality and increased savings.

New York's five most popular tourist spots

America's largest city and one of the world's most important centers of culture offers visitors a wide variety of sights and delights.

What many consider five of the best are:

-The Empire State Building. This world famous skyscraper offers breathtaking views of Manhattan.

-The Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. A short boat trip can take you back in time, perhaps into your own family's past.

-United Nations Headquarters. Visitors may tour the Secretariat, General Assembly and Conference building. A limited number of free tickets are available for UN meetings.

-Central Park. Manhattan's largest park offers a zoo, boating, free plays and concerts, as well as numerous other recreational activities. It is truly one of the jewels of this city.

-Broadway. Take in a show, or just marvel at the bright lights of Broadway.

Right in the heart of the famed Broadway district is what many visitors to New York consider its best hotel, the New York Marriott Marquis. In fact, it even houses its own Broadway theater.

According to rules on displaying the flag, you should never hang one national flag above another in time of peace.

Senator Teel Bivins Reports

Austin - As I left the Capitol the other night after one of those killer days that you sometimes have at the beginning of the Session, it struck me that I just didn't seem to have as much time to get things accomplished as I did in the previous regular session. On further analysis, I decided that the principal reason had to be the Finance Committee. While I was aware that the Senate Finance Committee has always been the hardest working committee, even I wasn't prepared for the work schedule set by Chairman John Montford. The Committee meets every day of the week that we are in Session. All other Senate standing committees meet once a week. Senate Finance generally meets at 9:00 a.m. each day and usually reconvenes after the Senate has adjourned in the afternoon for the rest of the day. We spend all that time listening to every State agency present their request for appropriation of funds for the next budget cycle.

While this assuredly is the most serious business in State government, it is not without its lighter moments. The table at which the thirteen members of the Finance Committee sit is in the shape of a "U" (the arms being at right angles). I sit right at the corner of one end of the table between two Hispanic senators. I thought this was a fairly strategic move on my part since I was a Republican and I would be sitting between two Democrats. However, the first time we were presented with an issue that was even the least bit sensitive they leaned forward and began speaking Spanish so fast that even I could not understand them.

The witness table runs parallel with the two arms of the "U" and is perpendicular to the bottom. Witnesses presenting their budget requests sit at the end of the witness table. Often times agencies' employees are called upon to respond to questions. The day the Public Utility Commission was making its presentation, witnesses were seated in chairs at the end of the table taking up every available seat. Scott Henderson, Director of Information Resources of the PUC, was called to respond to a question. There being no other chairs, he knelt at the end of the table. I told him that while I appreciated his humble and supplicant demeanor, kneeling before the Committee was not necessary. The assistant sergeant-at-arms was instructed to bring another chair to the end of the table.

So far my favorite witness to have testified before the Committee was Dr. Tony Fabelo of the Criminal Justice Policy Council. While Dr. Fabelo had a very heavy Spanish accent, he was as articulate and well-spoken as anyone I have ever met. His agency is very small. The agency's budget request amounted to $348,000 per year. In what amounted to his closing argument on behalf of his agency, he pointed out that the Texas Department of Criminal Justice whose budget is over a billion and a half dollars, spends over a million dollars per year on toilet paper. He beseeched our committee that surely the Criminal Justice Policy Council was worth less than half of the TDC's budget request for toilet paper.

Even in the face of these very gloomy budget times, Chairman Montford has a sense of humor. After all the agencies had presented their requests for appropriations, the Committee begins what has historically been referred to as "mark-up." "Mark-up" is the actual process of writing the appropriations bill. Senator Montford has put his conservative stamp on the Committee by changing the name of the process to "mark-down."

BANKING MADE EASIER FOR OVERSEAS EXECES

NEW YORK (AP) - American executives working abroad no longer have to worry about problems with transferring funds, bouncing checks, credit cards being cut off and damaged credit ratings, notes a New York-based banking officer.

According to Robert De Rosa, vice president with Citibank's Personal Banking for Overseas Executives program, these executives now can have their U.S. banking needs handled by a designated bank officer back home.

De Rosa says the relatively new service already has signed up more than 4,000 U.S. expatriates and 31 companies in 91 countries.

Health care rationing suitable for today

The rationing of health care in the United States is a "morally appropriate" policy, a biomedical ethicist says in the February issue of Texas Medicine.

Baruch A. Brody, Ph.D., writes in Texas Medicine that "the cost of providing for everyone all of the health care from which they could benefit" is greater than Americans are willing to bear. Brody is the Leon Jaworski Professor of Biomedical Ethics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. Texas Medicine is the official news magazine of the Texas Medical Association.

Brody's article is part of a series of articles on medical ethics issues featured in Texas Medicine. Through these articles, TMA hopes to foster physician and public debate on important ethical concerns.

"At least some Americans will not get at least some of the care from which they could benefit," Brody says. "It is better to base the decision as to who gets which forms of care upon a deliberate rationing plan."

Brody says health-care expenditures already account for 11.5 percent of the nation's gross national product. The Health Care Financing Administration estimates that cost will grow to 15 percent by 2000.

"Changes in coverage, technology and demography might bring that figure closer to 20 percent of the GNP," he writes. "To expect America to pay that bill is just not realistic, and to expect the country to do so in light of its many other social and individual needs and projects is probably unreasonable."

Brody says physicians must play a major role in devising rationing plans, which must be based on extensive information on treatment outcomes. That information then must be meshed with public values and priorities, Brody states.

"Medicine, as an organized community, must play a major role in insuring that this information is developed in a responsible manner," he says.

A primary goal of the Texas Medical Association is to assure adequate health care for all Texans. The Association is working to achieve this goal through ways which do not resort to explicit rationing of care. Instead, an ad hoc committee initiated by TMA is expected to finalize later this month recommendations for providing health insurance coverage for more than 3 million uninsured Texans.

"Our goal is to identify and offer solutions to the problems of uninsured Texans within the framework of our current system," says Dr. Max Butler of Houston, who chairs the ad hoc committee.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 30,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 119 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through professional and personal development of its members.

COMPUTERS EASE COFFEE SHOPPING

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP) - Shopping for the proper coffee flavor from among an increasing number of specialty brands and growing flavor segments is made easy in local supermarkets through on-shelf computer "shopper's helpers," notes an international supermarket shopping report.

The battery-operated computers are affixed to coffee-section shelves and are surrounded by the various coffee types, according to New York-based Intermark Corp., designer-producer of the units.

- All 172 pages in full color
- Each page measures a large 15 x 11 inches
- Presents the entire state in stunning detail
- Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.
