

Soil Stewardship

The Rev. Virgil Drewery, shown here in front of the Vincent Baptist Church where he is pastor, is one of many ministers who will be bringing a message Sunday on soil stewardship. Sunday is being observed over the nation as Soil Stewardship Sunday. The Rev. Drewery will speak from Joshua 18:3, Joshua 2:12 and Genesis 3:18. He almost didn't have a church building for the service because strong winds Wednesday night blew in the north wall and roof of the new Sunday School unit.

Solons, Now Without Pay, Take Recess

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' payless lawmakers were on another long weekend recess today after advancing major welfare, labor, and veteran's land legislation nearer enactment. The Senate tacked 20 amendments on a bill by Rep. Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde tightening up on veterans land program regulations, passed it 25-0 and returned it to the House for further action. The House by a voice vote advanced to third reading a bill bitterly fought by labor interests and urged by the administration as needed to halt any future strike troubles like those that plagued Port Arthur for many months. The Senate approved and returned to the House a bill allocating another 7 million dollars a year for welfare spending as directed by the voters in a constitutional amendment adopted last November. The Senate also refused to take up out of its regular order a House-passed measure bringing uranium prospecting under state regulation. This might mean date for the measure that was an outgrowth of a boom in prospecting for fissionable metals, because it is so late in the session. The Legislature rolled past its 120th day on Tuesday, and from now until final adjournment the Constitution cuts lawmakers' daily pay from $25 to nothing. It appeared the Legislature had at least two and possibly three more weeks of working-for-free ahead. Both major spending and taxing bills still had to be processed. The veteran's land bill as approved by the Senate would ban any future block transactions involving more than two veterans. All three members of the board

Several City Fund Balances Decline

Decreases in several city funds resulted from April's business, according to a monthly financial report compiled by City Secretary C. H. McClenny. The general fund dropped from $30,332.54 at the beginning of the month to $10,291.20 at the end. Income from tax receipts, court fines, permits, franchises, licenses, etc., totaled $46,773.39, while operating expenses were $96,514.73. The parking meter fund also showed a drop, going from $31,484.09 to $13,530.42. Expenditures, the bulk of which was transferred to the interest and sinking fund, totaled $23,511.47 while the meter receipts were only $3,557.80. The interest and sinking fund's cash balance fell from $48,428.93 to $3,411.59. However, $59,000 worth of bonds were retired during the month and $9,307.50 in interest was paid. The transfers to the fund—income—during April were $23,250, while the expenditures for bond retirement and commission payment totaled $68,365.34. The bond retirement leaves the city's bonded indebtedness at $747,000 in tax bonds and $1,181,000 in revenue bonds, McClenny's report shows. In addition to the $3,411.49 in cash, the interest and sinking fund has $57,314.65 in securities available. This makes a total of $60,726.24. One other fund—for swimming pool and park operation—showed a decrease, though only slight. The figure changed from $6,519.69 at the beginning of the month to $6,054.88 at the end. Revenue was $925.56 from golf play, while expenditures were $1,381.68. Most of the expenditures represented a transfer to the general fund. An increase in the water and sewer system revenue fund was noted. It jumped from $105,614.37 to $106,301.53. Receipts were $55,210.15 and expenditures were $54,522.99. Stable increases were also noted in the airport fund, which went up from $221.44 to $1,077.60, and the cemetery fund, which jumped from $198.28 to $940. There was $912.76 received in the airport fund while only $126.60 was spent. Receipts in the cemetery fund were $940, and expenditures were $198.28. The garage fund showed a slight increase: The April 1 cash balance of $16,205.95 was swelled by a transfer from the general fund of $986.10 to make a month's end balance of $17,192.05. The Fourth Street escrow fund was increased by a deposit on curb and gutter construction for $358.84. Balance went up from $3,746.50 to $4,105.34. In other funds there was no change. They remained as follows: street improvement, $4,659.74; special accounts insurance refund, $1,173.93; water and sewer system sewer bonds, $62,874.57.

Foundation Plan To Be Discussed

The industrial committees of the Chamber of Commerce will meet Saturday at 11 a. m. to discuss the creation of a financial foundation for Big Spring.

The foundation, if organized, would be operated to aid industrial development in this city.

The two committees will try to arrive at a plan to offer members of the board of directors during the regular Monday meeting, it was announced.

Ike's Military Manpower Cut Bill To Senate

WASHINGTON (U)—Overwhelmingly approved by the House, President Eisenhower's program to cut military manpower during the new fiscal year headed today for a new fight in the Senate.

Despite outspoken criticism from some senators, advance indications were that the President would be upheld also by the Senate when it gets around to voting on the subject some weeks hence.

The House yesterday passed 352-0 the bill to give the Defense Department $31,458,206,000 in new funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Amendments which would have boosted the bill's money total and maintained military power during the new year at levels projected for June 30 of this year were beaten on voice votes.

The program, approved without change, calls for an overall cut of 102,300 from this year's figure by June 30, 1956. The Army will be trimmed 87,000, the Navy 8,200 and the Marine Corps 12,000 and the Air Force increased by 5,000.

Amendments to retain the Army and Navy at their present levels—and to give the Marines an extra 10,000 over current strength—were offered by Representatives Flood (D-Pa.) and Andrews (D-Ala.).

Flood told the House it was unsafe, in the light of existing conditions, to pare down military strength. He said Russia is building up her army, navy and air force and obviously isn't preparing for peace.

He said the main administration argument for the cuts was that they would help balance the budget but he added:

"That's a sham; you know the budget won't be balanced."

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee replied that the next war would be decided in three or four days—"at most a week"—with no chance for getting the added divisions into full action.

Other committee members said the new program emphasizes mobility and striking power and has been approved by the top military leaders of the country. They objected that the planned cuts would affect national security.

No attempts were made to alter honey recommendations of the Appropriations Committee other than those to boost manpower. The committee had followed substantially the budget recommendations of the President.

The new funds, if approved by the Senate, would give the Defense Department about $43,081,000,000 for the coming year. The department has an estimated $14 billion in unobligated funds left over from previous appropriations.

Of the new funds, the Army would get $7,329,818,000, the Navy $9,071,834,000, the Air Force $14,401,004,000, the secretary of defense $12,400,000 and interservice activities $672,250,000.

SGT. JAMES L. COLE

Raleigh J. McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCartney of Big Spring, recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 9th Infantry Division at Campien.

McCartney is a private and a cannoneer. He entered the Army in Nov., 1954, and received basic training at Fort Bliss. He is a 1953 graduate of Garden City High School.

His wife, Jeanetta, lives at 509 Runnels.

Austria To Be Free Nation Again Sunday, Barring Any Hitches

VIENNA (U)—Austria will become a legally free nation again Sunday, barring some unexpected hitch.

The Big Four ambassadors agreed last night on the text of an Austrian independence treaty. Formal signing by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was scheduled Sunday.

Some Viennese began to celebrate last night. But most of this Alpine nation's seven million population reacted slowly after 17 years of military occupation—7 under the Nazis and 10 under the wartime Allies.

Within three months of the treaty ratification, the 70,000 occupation troops of the Big Four will be withdrawn and Austria's freedom will be complete.

East and West haggled for years over the treaty. As late as Monday the Russians precipitated a last-minute deadlock by refusing to write into the treaty reparations concessions they had promised earlier. Last night they finally yielded to Western insistence.

The treaty provides for Austrian independence and sovereignty and the withdrawal of occupation forces. It sets the nation's boundaries at those existing before the 1938 Anschluss, the forced union with Hitler's Reich.

The economic concessions Moscow finally agreed to put in the treaty include return of the great Zisterdorf oil fields and the Danube Shipping Co. to Austria. As reparations, Austria will supply Russia with a million tons of oil annually for 10 years. She will also pay the Soviets 150 million dollars in goods instead of cash for 300 concerns which, like the oil fields and the shipping company, were seized by the Nazis and taken over by the Soviets at the end of World War II.

In the daily negotiations by the four powers' ambassadors, under way here since May 2, the Russians also agreed to take out of the treaty a clause which would have permitted teams from Communist countries to enter Austria at will to persuade refugees from communism to return to their homelands.

All three Western ministers have been in Paris for the NATO Council meeting welcoming West Germany to the Atlantic Alliance. Dulles originally had planned to come to Vienna yesterday, but delayed his departure when the ambassadors still were deadlocked on the reparations clause. Many observers believed the Russians finally gave in because they feared the American secretary wouldn't come at all otherwise.

As Dulles departed for Vienna, Macmillan and Pinay scheduled separate plane departures. Molotov is scheduled to arrive in Vienna Saturday from Warsaw, where the East European Communist states are setting up a unified military command to counter the Western defense alliance.

The four ministers are expected to have a dinner meeting Saturday night. Observers said it was likely they would bring up then the proposed meeting of President Eisenhower and the government heads of Britain, France and Russia.

The ministers while here may decide where—and when—to hold the top-level meeting. They are also due to take up the possibly thorny question of guaranteeing Austrian neutrality, which the ambassadors sidestepped in their talks.

Today the Austrian government planned nationwide festivities to accompany the historic signing in Vienna's Baroque 18th century Belvedere Palace.

Flags will fly from public buildings. Every homeowner throughout the land was asked to decorate his house.

Vienna's Lord Mayor Franz Jonas asked every orchestra in the city to play the national anthem at the hour for the signing. He planned to muster all the bands for the biggest concert ever in the capital's main square that night.

'Unprovoked' Attack Charged In Protest

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U.N. Command in a protest to the Military Armistice Commission today charged an "unprovoked" attack Tuesday by Communist MIG's on American Sabre jets "was clearly over international waters."

Peiping radio broadcast a few hours later Communist China's assertion that the Sabres had "intruded over northeast China." The Red's official People's Daily said, "Tuesday's incident was a premeditated act of aggression."

The U. N. protest and Peiping radio also disputed on losses in the eight-minute air battle.

The U. N. protest said the Sabres, attacked "some 55 miles southwest of Sinuiju . . . were obliged to defend themselves and in so doing destroyed two or more MIG aircraft while sustaining no losses."

People's Daily said one Sabre jet was shot down and two were damaged. It called the U. S. report of two MIGs downed and two probably destroyed a "brazen and full perversion of the truth."

It said, "Chinese fighters rose to intercept them (the Sabres) and shot down one and damaged two. These are the facts."

In the protest the U. N. Command charged the Reds were "endeavoring to utilize" Korean bases as a "privileged sanctuary."

The protest through the Military Armistice Commission told the Chinese and North Korean members:

"You are officially warned that if the aircraft of our side are attacked they will defend themselves."

Fifth Air Force Sabre pilots said they shot down two MIGs and probably destroyed two more. They said they were attacked by 32 MIGs. No American plane was hit, they said.

The U.N. protest did not specify the planes were Red Chinese, acknowledged by the Peiping radio. It did not specifically charge either that the MIGs operated from Korean airfields.

"But it said, 'The fact that you are now endeavoring to utilize the armistice to provide a privileged sanctuary in Korea for your aircraft, similar to that enjoyed by your side in utilizing bases north of the Yalu River during the period of hostilities, is becoming apparent to the world.'"

Kiwanians Hear Of Airport Need

Clyde Thomas Sr. was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Settles Hotel Thursday. The Big Spring attorney spoke on the advantages of a civil airport in Big Spring.

Thomas pointed out that Webb AFB could not be made a permanent installation here unless the field was given to the government by the city. But the CAA would not permit the transfer unless the city had an airport of its own. Thus a city airport was very necessary to the city in order to keep Webb in operation.

Next he said that two locations for a possible airport had been selected. Thomas is a member of the Chamber of Commerce committee that has been investigating the airport situation here. He is himself an aircraft owner and flies considerably.

He showed a film on aircraft advantages to the businessman.

Kiwanis President Leroy Olaf presided at the meeting and H. W. Smith was in charge of the program. The new charter for the Kiwanis sponsored Boy Scout troop was also presented to the meeting. S. H. Sonntag made the presentation. The Kiwanis have sponsored a Scout troop in Big Spring for 25 consecutive years.

Bill To Tax Catholic Church Property To Peron Senate

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A bill to tax property of the Roman Catholic Church was before the Argentine Senate today. Considered certain of approval, it was the latest move by President Juan Peron in his six-month fight with the church.

The introduction of the bill yesterday coincided with the resignation of a Peronista party member from the Chamber of Deputies in protest against the government's anticatholic campaign.

Argentine churches are traditionally exempt from taxation. Most private Catholic schools also pay no taxes because they give free education to poor children. Private schools that charge tuition pay real estate taxes ranging from 1-3 to 2-3 of the normal taxes.

The bill to end the exemption was introduced only a day after the Senate approved a measure abolishing Catholic religious education in the public schools. Congress also is considering a Peronista plan to abolish Roman Catholicism's position as the state church. Peron's supporters hold all the Senate seats and all but a handful of those in the lower chamber.

Identification Tags Available At Food Stores

Official Civil Defense Identification tags may be obtained now through your food store.

These tags are authorized by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and provide quick identification in case of emergency, sudden illness or any other emergency including air attacks.

All the individual has to do is to secure an application blank (pads of them are distributed around most grocery stores), fill out the necessary information and forward to the Pet Milk Company, P.O. Box 701, St. Louis, Mo. along with 25 cents to cover the bare cost of the material and processing.

The tag, made of stainless steel and accompanied by a stainless steel ball necklace suitable for wearing around the neck or wrist or for carrying in billfolds and purses, contains the following information:

Wearer's name; name of person to be notified in case of emergency; address of person to be notified in case of emergency; birth date of wearer; symbol denoting religion of wearer.

For three years Civil Defense attempted to effect the mass distribution of a standard tag, but did not succeed because of a lack in personnel and funds. Pet Milk volunteered to handle the project on an cost basis.

There are no boxes or bottle tops or even coupons to turn in. All a person has to do is to obtain one of the information blanks, fill it out and send it in, together with the nominal fee.

An attempt has been made to reach food stores, but it has been impossible to service all of them. Representatives asked that the operator of any store who has not received a supply of the application blanks drop a note to Pet Milk, 1401 Arcade Building, St. Louis 1, Mo.

Those sending in for the identification tags are advised that it may take up to four weeks to process and return the tag to the applicant.

C-City Youths To Attend Boys' State

COLORADO CITY—Reid Biggs and Don Fite, juniors in Colorado High School, will attend the Legion sponsored Boys' State in Austin this summer.

The Boy's State program, training in the practical aspects of government, is in operation in 44 states, other than Texas. Approximately 450 boys will attend. At Colorado City, the youngsters are selected on the basis of leadership, character and scholarship by the Senior High School faculty and the sponsor.

Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Biggs of Colorado City, is sponsored by the Colorado City Kiwanis Club. Fite is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Millsap, and was nominated by the American Legion Post at Colorado City.

Bobby Williams and Perry Barber were nominated as alternates, should the principals be unable to attend.

Enrollment Still Over 5,000 Mark

Enrollment in Big Spring schools continues above the 5,000 mark. Reports as of May 10 show 5,011 on the school rolls, a decline of 24 since the comparable report in April. As a general rule, enrollment (membership) eases off toward the close of school. Of the decline 16 was in Senior High School, elementary attendance actually increased three. A gain of seven was noted in the first grade and five in the sixth. Others varied only one.

Schools Staying Well Under Budget

Administrators can see daylight in the current budget of the Big Spring Independent School District. With only one more month of heavy expenditures for instructional services remaining, the district has a balance of $262,900 and a potential of $141,000 additional receipts before the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31.

Just what the final figure will be is hard to project at this stage, but it is safe to assume that the district will be well within its $1,164,000 budget.

Revenues for the first eight months of the year have amounted to $979,484. Federal funds of $32,418 are about $12,400 over estimates. The district has received $245,272 in per capita funds leaving around $106,800 to come. It has had $226,944 in foundation and is due another $69,800. Local current taxes of $437,021 are some $15,000 over estimates, and delinquent collections of $15,495 are $8,000 above estimates.

Administration outlay for the eight-month period was $33,427, leaving $16,000 available for the remaining period. Instructional charges (mostly for teacher salaries) has aggregated $613,952, which leaves a margin of $22,127 for the remainder of the year.

Other school services such as visiting teacher, nurses, buses, athletic program, etc. have amount-

J. E. Hammond New Distributor For Circle D Foods

J. E. Hammond of Big Spring has been appointed distributor of Circle D Foods, according to an announcement made this week in Dallas by Earl B. Doolin, president of Circle D Foods Inc. Hammond, who has been serving this area with another food company for the past six years, will operate a fleet of seven trucks in an area from Abilene to Pecos.

Circle D Corn Chips have just been introduced to this market through a series of ads in the Big Spring Herald. While the brand is new to Texas, the principals of the Circle D Foods Inc. are pioneers in the corn chip field. Earl B. Doolin, president of Circle D Foods, is widely known throughout the food industry as one of the originators of Fritos and was a top official of the Frito Company for more than 20 years. He is credited with many innovations in the manufacturing and distribution of corn chips, potato chips and similar food items.

The Circle D Food Plant, located in the Trinity Industrial section of Dallas, is a modern, streamlined, and functionally designed plant, with latest developments in processing and packaging incorporated in its operation. One of the most interesting facets of the operation is an automatic machine that makes, fills, weighs and seals more than 100,000 cellophane bags a day.

A Dog's Best Friend

J.K. Pelvettes proved his dog Tippy's best friend in Oklahoma City by carrying him under one arm and a suitcase with dry clothes by the other out of their flooded neighborhood on Oklahoma City's north side. A creek, fed by more than four inches of rain, overflowed its banks.

Jess Talkin

by Jess Blair

The rains have brought on a rash of seed buying. Two local seed stores report the biggest sales in a year or so. Mostly, it calls for sudan and maize, though garden seed was also going out in numerous sales.

One dealer said he had been selling cantaloupe and watermelon seed in three- and four-pound lots. Most of the maize being sold was the 7978 variety. At one place there was a large pile of packed maize Tuesday. By quitting time yesterday, it had all been sold.

Cecil Leatherwood and A. J. Pirkle of the Howard County Farm Bureau went to Eagle Pass today to pick up seven or eight braceo tractor hands. Ordinarily they have the laborers come on the bus, but the two men had to go down on business, anyway, and decided to get a load of laborers while there.

Leatherwood said they would be getting a lot of calls for braceos within the next week, as everyone who got rain is ready to plant.

Eggs that have discolored yolks get that way because the hens are eating feeds containing cottonseed meal, say Kermit Schlamb, poultry marketing specialist with A&M College. A ration containing no more than five per cent cottonseed meal will cause a mottled or brownish yolk. If farm flocks are not confined and follow cattle eating cottonseed meal, this condition may also prevail.

Willard Smith, who farms in the Moore community, is one farmer who practices soil conservation and finds it pays off. Some of the practices are deep plowing, leaving stubble off, the "long" lay prevent blowing, and rotation of crops. He sells saxa where he left a good maize stubble last fall, there was no blowing at all; but the cotton land almost took wings during the big sandstorms. He plans to plant this year's maize on cotton land, and rotate feed and cotton so as to have a crop residue each year.

Smith thinks that intensive care will pay off in growing cotton, even on dryland fields. Last year he poisoned more than most farmers worked his land more and possibly spent more money in making the crop. However, the results justified the extra work and overhead. He grew 41 bales on 69 acres, which was far above the county's 1954 average.

One of the six outstanding 4-H cotton growers in Texas last year was Bobby Carlile of Stanton. He was recently awarded one of the six scholarships given by Anderson, Clayton & Company, which carries a cash value of $200.

Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carlile, and is a senior in Stanton High School. In addition to being a top farmer, he has also received numerous school honors. He served as president of the 4-H Club three years, was president of the FFA chapter, and lettered in all athletic sports. Last fall he was named all-district end in football.

His labor income from 20 acres of cotton last year was about $1,200.

At the soil conservation awards banquet last week, the most inspiring story was that of Eddie Ludolf, a young German farmer from Kendall, Texas. Ludolf speaks with an accent, but his language is plain and direct and he talks with conviction. He has big, knobby hands that have done much hard work, and his complexion has been browned by long hours in the field.

For nine years he and his young wife toiled as sharecroppers, always with the goal in mind of owning their own farm. Finally they made it, but the place wasn't much to look at, or to farm. The fields were knifed with deep gullies, the pasture had grown up in weeds and the old rock house was an 1884 model.

Together they set out to rebuild the 286-acre farm. They built diversion dams, and hauled rocks in a trailer to block the larger gullies. He then terraced the fields, put the rows on a contour and began to grow legumes to rebuild the wornout soil.

They bought the place in 1951, and since then the crop yields have doubled. He bought some livestock which are beginning to bring in a year-around income. They also built fences and remodeled the old house in their spare time until the farm is fast becoming a place for look-as well as production.

Ludolf gives much of the credit to his wife.

"I couldn't have done it without her," he said with sincerity. "She is my partner in everything, and she works just as hard as I do."

To me Ludolf was the most interesting man at the banquet. His record is proof that the pioneering days are not over, and that ambition, honesty and hard work still pay off—at least for some people.

The recent death of Richard Kingberg, part owner of the King Ranch, brings to mind a story of barbed wire and when it was brought to Texas. Ranchers thought it would cut the cattle, and at first a lot of tough riders came out second best when they charged into a strange-looking fence.

The King Ranch was the first ranch to use wire, but its operators decided against the barbed kind. They used a smooth wire which was strung on cypress posts imported from Mexico. The Ranch never changed, because today the King Ranch is still fenced with smooth wire. The owners don't like to think of having the barbs pierce the hides of the expensive horses raised on the ranch.

She Goes For Steam

Ballerina Taina Elg is Finland's gift to Hollywood. She has high praise for the steam bath which is so popular in her country and she hopes to make it more popular here. She'll soon be seen in MGM's "The Prodigal."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Finnish Beauty Has A Word For Steam Baths

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—"Come meet my latest import," one of the executives at MGM told me the other day. "I think she's got it." He was referring to Taina Elg and the "it" he mentioned is that mysterious something known as star dust. He escorted me to the set of "The Prodigal" where Taina was doing a scene before the camera. When I saw her I was quickly impressed with her fresh, sparkling quality and I, too, felt that she would travel fast. Later we met for lunch at the commissary and she appeared wearing no make-up but lipstick and I admired the clear radiance of her skin. "It's the sauna," she explained. This, I learned, is Finland's word for steam bath. "We have a little bit in our back yard, made of rocks. The rocks are heated and this is where we take our steam bath, showers and then dip in the pool. There is nothing like a steam bath to draw out the impurities which gather in the pores. Everyone in Finland believes in it and very few people are ever sick. I've seen babies only a few days old put into one. It makes the blood circulate, to all parts of the body and it keeps you from getting fat. "Also," Taina added, "when you are tense it's a good way to relax your nerves. "It is wonderful for the complexion, too," she continued. "If you don't believe it just rub your face with a turkish towel when you come out of a steam bath and see how much dirt comes out." Taina, a student of the Sadler-Wells ballet, was dancing in London when a producer from MGM saw her and offered her contract. "California was like a cobweb of jewels," she said, "...the brilliant winter sunshine, the colorful orange groves, the glitter of Hollywood, the wonderful drive-in restaurants. . . she glowed as she rattled off the things that delighted her. "But such large portions of food," she exclaimed, shaking her head at the plate of fresh cracked crab in front of her. "In Finland we eat a very light breakfast of tea or coffee, and oatmeal, a little stroganoff for lunch and at dinner just soup, fish and cheese. "With all the sweets, soft drinks and in-between snacks the Americans have it is no wonder the women here have problems with their weight. "Do you?" I asked. "No," she smiled, "because I dance so hard every day. If I should stop dancing, . . . who knows?"

Exes Are Favorites In Grid Tilt Today

With the exception of Jerry Graves, who is still a member of the high school team, and Frosty Robison, the Exes will be able to field the same defensive lineup that helped the 1954 Steers to a 8-1-1 record last year in their game with the Longhorn footballers at Steer Stadium at 5 p.m. today.

Robison, the Exes' chief running threat, won't be able to play due to a bruised back suffered in a baseball game. His absence may serve to even up matters.

The two clubs square off in the annual tussle at 5 p.m. The Exes won last year, 14-13.

Defensively, the Exes—coached by Roy Baird—will have Wiley Wise and John Birdwell at ends, Teddy Bear Slate and Bob Jones at tackles, Dickie Milam at middle guard, Brick Johnson, Tommy McAdams, Calvin Daniels and Wayne Tollett as linebackers and Truett Newell and Ronnie Wooten as halfbacks.

Steers' 1955 Captains

Jerry Barron (left) and Jerry Graves have been elected co-captains of the Big Spring High School football season for 1955. The Longhorns wind up spring practice with a game against the Exes today. Barron is halfback, Graves a center. Both back the line on defense. Graves was named to the second All-State team last season.

Kegling Center Is Closed For Summer

Effective Thursday, Pepper Martin's Bowling Center will be closed for the summer.

The alleys will re-open in September, when the kegling season starts anew.

Lutheran Winner

SEGUN (U)—Texas Lutheran College wound up the baseball season last night with a 2-1 victory over Rice. It was the 14th straight triumph and gave Lutheran a season record of 15-3 against the best opposition. Coach John Kramer could find.

Baird will have 22 players in all and he plans to use every one of them.

The Exes will be favored, but not by much. The Steers have looked to advantage, especially on defense. The Longhorns would figure to have a better chance had Randal Hamby remained active. As it is, Hamby went out with a torn cartilage in his foot. He suited out yesterday but it's doubtful he can play.

Coaches Carl Coleman and Wayne Bohner of the Steers are expected to substitute freely all the way.

The contest will be played under actual combat conditions.

Gene Sarazen Not To Play In Open

NEW YORK (U)—The U.S. Open golf championship is losing its last great link with the hickory shaft and knickers era—but not for good.

Doughty Gene Sarazen, who hasn't missed an Open in 35 years, said today he would not play in the 55th annual tournament June 16-18 in San Francisco. Instead, he will be at the microphone doing commentary for the NBC national telecast.

Pat Stapler Wins

ALBUQUERQUE (U)—Pat Stapler, Midland, Tex., one of the favorites, played near-perfect golf to eliminate Audrey Palmer 4 and 2 in the opening round of the Southwest Women's Golf Tourney yesterday.

Texas And Rice Sophs Leading In SWC Play

HOUSTON (U)—Sophomores from Texas and Rice are setting the pace in the Southwest Conference tennis and golf tournaments.

Sammy Giammalva of Texas extended his perfect collegiate tennis record with two impressive victories in yesterday's opening rounds.

Rice's John Garrett, 19-year-old Houston city champion, held a two-stroke lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole medal play golf meet. The final 36 holes were on schedule today.

Giammalva, pre-tournament favorite, was paired in today's semifinals against Matt Murphy of Southern Methodist. Johnny Hernandez, the 1954 and 1954 titleist from Texas, met teammate Tommy Springer in the second match.

The Longhorns also had two teams in the doubles semifinals. Giammalva and Hernandez were paired against Clayton Williams and John Zimmerman of Rice. Springer and Dave Snyder were paired against Ed White and Bill Rogers of Baylor.

The championship matches will be played tomorrow.

Garrett had a 79-77-156 yesterday on the 6,586-yard, par 72 Brae Burn Country Club course to take his two-stroke lead over Davis Love of Texas. Love had a pair of 75s.

Southern Methodist's Floyd Adlington, the co-favorite with Garrett, jumped to a 79-77-156.

Giammalva trailed 2-3 in the first set of his opening match but came back to defeat Don Dixon, Texas A&M, 7-5, 6-0. He then won the first 10 holes from Charles Lee Gordon of Texas Christian, for a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

Hernandez defeated Williams, 6-1, 6-2, and Dick Davis of Southern Methodist, 6-0, 6-1. Springer turned back Dale Miller of Rice, 6-2, 6-1, and Bobby Wertheimer, Southern Methodist, 6-2, 6-4.

Murphy eliminated Zimmerman, 6-2, 6-4, and Gene Kinard, Texas A&M, 6-2, 6-3.

Boxers Briefed By Commission

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—The managers of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and his English challenger Don Cockell appear today before the California Athletic Commission to debate the issues of rules, the weight of the gloves and the size of the ring for the 15-round title fight Monday night.

No one looked for any blood-letting. But there was every reason to anticipate enough oratory to fill the Congressional Record.

Briefly presented, as the fighters themselves remained in their respective camps to train for actual combat, the issues involved:

The use of eight-ounce gloves, as California law requires for all divisions over 147 pounds, instead of the six-ounce gloves common in other states for title matches.

Marciano's manager, Al Weill, roared disapproval of the eight-ounce gloves. John Simpson, for Cockell, expressed displeasure, although he was not as vociferous as Weill. After all, Marciano is noted as a knockout puncher.

The state law was expected to prevail by unanimous decision.

Then there was the size of the ring. California law says it can be anywhere between 36 and 24 feet wide.

Promoter Jimmy Murray has already installed a 16-foot ring in Kezar Stadium. It is, he says, more adaptable, especially for the many news cameramen who will photograph the fight.

The 16-footer is quite all right for Marciano. If Cockell has any plan of running, there will be less room to run.

Simpson said he wanted to compromise.

"We feel that a 24-foot ring would be to the advantage of Cockell and a 16-foot ring favorable to Marciano. So we propose a compromise of 20 feet."

Both fighters apparently have wound up their severe sparring drills and little or no heavy action is in prospect.

Lead Of Missions Being Threatened

By BRUCE HENDERSON

The Associated Press

Friday the 13th could be the night San Antonio falls from sole leadership of the Texas League.

The Missions must beat Fort Worth or share first place with Dallas or Houston.

San Antonio got in this spot by losing a doubleheader Thursday night to Fort Worth, 8-6 and 11-8. Dallas beat Houston 7-4, and those two ended up in a second-place tie one game behind San Antonio.

Houston and Dallas play again Friday night and the winner will land in first place with San Antonio if the Missions lose.

Fourth-place Shreveport defeated Tulsa 4-3, and the last-place team, Oklahoma City, beat Beaumont 4-2 in the 13th inning.

Aggies Favored

TULSA, Okla. (U)—Oklahoma A&M's golf team, holding a 13-stroke lead, today is favored to keep the Missouri Valley Conference crown if it has worn for nine years.

Cougars Romp

TULSA (U)—Playing as anticipated, the Houston Cougars moved into the Missouri Valley Conference tennis semi-finals today with two singles players and two doubles teams.

Recruiting Wrong-Doings Reported In SW Circuit

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (U)—Alleged recruiting violations were the big problem today as Southwest Conference faculty representatives began (2 p.m.) their annual spring meeting.

Texas A&M added emphasis yesterday to the major item on the governing body's agenda by announcing that two high school seniors had been declared ineligible to participate in the Aggie athletic program.

Both athletes—Bob Manning, Yoakum quarterback, and Tom Sestak, Gonzales end—had signed Aggie letters of intent. This normally would prevent them from playing for any other Southwest Conference school unless they gave up their freshman and sophomore eligibility.

The conference now must rule on the status of their eligibility elsewhere. Manning has expressed a hope to switch to Texas, Sestak to Baylor.

No details of the cases have been released.

Dr. Chris Groneman, A&M athletic council chairman and faculty representative, last night elaborated his original announcement only to the extent the boys would be ineligible "not for one year or two years but all the time once they enroll at Texas A&M."

Howard Grubbs, conference executive secretary, investigated the cases but said he must report to the conference before discussing the matter publicly.

Prior to the A&M announcement it had been known two schools planned to file protests here over certain recruiting activities by a third conference member. Manning and Sestak were not involved in these protests.

A spokesman for one of the two schools said last night NCAA officials are aware of the situation but as yet have not entered the investigation.

There was some speculation today the faculty representatives may break precedent and sanction release of full details of the Manning and Sestak cases. In the past, it has been customary to release only rulings affecting the eligibility of individual athletes.

Champ Could Retain Crown If Bleeding Stops Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (U)—There never has been much mystery attached to the choice of Don Cockell, the rotund Briton, as the fighter most deserving of a title fight with Rocky Marciano on Monday night. It seems there are rules in them that hills that were only waiting to be dug up by a smart operator who can read, as Weill undoubtedly can.

We do not have a copy of California commission's official booklet at hand, but a man who has waded through the volume claims there's a rule or two in there which might well have been written with Rocky's tender nose in mind.

One of Weill's problems, it will be recalled, was to appoint a worthy challenger who did not figure to be around long enough to reopen the gash which Ezzard Charles put in Rocky's bulge in the latter's most recent title defense here last summer. Only a hairline scar remains, but nobody can say for certain that it will not start gushing again the first time it is hit squarely.

Cockell, who had proved many times he could be hit by anybody, including Freddie Mills, was considered a logical challenger.

Now we'll tell you what this man claims the California code provides in its section under "blows and cuts and blood flowing freely." If (he says) the referee is forced to stop a bout in the very first round because of a cut, the fight automatically is ruled a draw. It makes no difference which man is bleeding. In the event of a draw, the champion would, of course, retain his bauble.

In succeeding rounds, there is a difference. If the man who is letting the blood in ahead on points when the referee steps in, he is the winner.

Delatorre Now Hobbs Player

Julio Delatorre, who led the Big Spring Broncs in hitting in 1954 with a .390 batting average and set a home run record that was later to be broken by Jim Zapp, has been sent to Hobbs by Austin of the Big State League.

Delatorre made his debut in the Longhorn League last night by getting a home run and two singles as Hobbs clubbed Midland, 16-0. Delatorre drove in four runs.

Julio was sold to Amarillo late last season by Big Spring for $1,500.

Youngster Upsets Fort Worth Vet

SHREVEPORT, La. (U)—Clifford Ann Creed, 16-year-old high school student from Opelousas, La., was a surprise favorite today in the Women's Southern Amateur golf tournament. Her upset victory over defending champion Polly Riley turned the trick.

Miss Creed took an easy 4 and 3 triumph over the veteran from Fort Worth yesterday.

Champion Is TKO Winner In Fifth

SAN ANTONIO (U)—Raul (Raton) Macias coasted for four rounds and then opened up in the fifth to score a technical knockout over Babe Moe Mario in a non-title fight last night.

Macias, NBA bantamweight champion, caught two or three right hand shots from the Reno, Nev., puncher in the early rounds but was never in any kind of trouble.

Reservations For QBC's Barbecue Taken Today

Reservations for the Big Spring Quarterback Club's barbecue for girl athletes at the local high school must be made some time today.

The party will be held at Charley Stagg's home in the Silver Hills Addition south of town at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Ducats sell for $1.30 each.

Persons can assure themselves of tickets by calling Mrs. Ed Freeman, 4-6294; R. H. Weaver, 4-4132; or Charley Stagg, 4-8122.

Members of the girls' volleyball team and the girls' tennis players are to be honor guests at the party, along with their coaches. Arah Phillips and Anna Smith coach the volleyballers while Billie Clyburn tutors the tennisists.

Cheer leaders at the local school will also be invited to the barbecue. Chicken will be served.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

This picture of a cello was made 254 years ago.

In past years I have received letters from various persons who wanted me to suggest the value of their old violins. These letters have come after I have mentioned the valuable violins of Cremona. My suggestion is that any reader who believes he has a Cremona violin should show it to at least two trustworthy music dealers for their opinion.

Cremona is a city in northern Italy with a population of about 35,000. It was smaller than that while it was growing famous for its violins. Venice, also was an excellent center for violins, but failed to equal Cremona.

Almost 400 years have passed since members of three families started to work on violins in Cremona. The Amati, Stradivari and Guarneri families became famous. The training passed from father to son, and for two centuries Cremona was the chief center for violins. Brescia, another town in Lombardy, also became widely known for violins, as did the Tyrol Mountain area of Austria.

One Austrian violin maker was named Stainer, and a legend gathered around his name. "His said that he used to look for wood to use in violins while walking on the slopes of mountains. We apt told that he carried a hammer and "would knock the trunks of the trees and listen to the vibrations... when he found a tree that suited him, he had it cut down to use in making his instruments."

Instruments with much larger sound-boxes than violins were made. These included violoncellos, which are known for short as "cellos" (pronounced CHE-ohs).

A standard cello of the present time is four feet long. Like the violin, it has four strings. The sound is much deeper than that of the violin.

As an experiment, a gigantic instrument of this type was made by a Frenchman a little more than a century ago. It was called the octobass and had a length of 10 feet!

'Mister Safety' Program Slated

There will be cash-money running around town Friday night.

The High School Safety Council and Citizens' Traffic Commission will air the "Mister Safety" radio program.

"Mister Safety" will be driving around town, within the city limits, between 8 and 9 p.m. Friday. The first two persons to spot him and call Radio Station KBST, identifying the vehicle by the license number, will receive the cash prize. Hit parade tunes will be played and the public will be informed about "Mister Safety's" progress by announcements on the hour-long radio program.

The cash prizes are being made available by K. H. McGibbon, and The Ace's Auto Club of Big Spring. Station KBST is carrying the program as a public service.

Postal Receipts Drop In April

Postal receipts at the local post office took a slight dip in April, according to E. C. Boatler, postmaster.

Revenues for April, this year, totaled $18,031.27. This is approximately $1,200 less than last year's $17,300.35. Other months so far this year have shown increases over 1954 sales. Boatler pointed out. He said the drop was possibly due to the fact that income tax payment time fell in April this year.

In past years, March is usually the low month and the reason has been generally conceded to be because of income tax payments. This year, March proved to be the highest month in receipts for the year thus far with $21,196, a large increase over 1954's $18,485.

The Subtle Pursuit

Dear Miss Brandow:

Phil liked me and I him, but being handsome and popular he has been chased so much that now he is practically immune to girls. The boys respect him for his athletic excellence; but they are also jealous and tease him about the girls who chase him.

Lately they have been telling him that I want to date him and am pining my heart out for him. I would like to date him very much, but I haven't told anyone so.

The more the boys convince Phil I am chasing him, the less he will want me. What can I do?

He's Right Back Where He Started

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (U) — Melvin L. James, 27, pleaded guilty in District Court Wednesday to charges of driving an improperly registered car and driving without his eyeglasses. He told Judge Luigi DePasquale, the car had caused him so much trouble with police that he sold it Tuesday for $8 in the hope it would cover the fine. Judge DePasquale obliged by cutting a $10 fine to $8.
