Wife of murder victim indicted by grand jury

A murder indictment against the widow of a man who was shot to death in his home in September was handed down Thursday afternoon by the Deaf Smith County grand jury.

Donna Gudgell, 48, is named in the indictment along with Chris Don Barron, 23, who was indicted Sept. 30. They are accused of killing Bill Gudgell, 50.

The earlier indictment against Barron will be dismissed, said Deaf Smith County Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul.

By naming them on the same indictment, Saul said, a single trial can be held.

At the time of the shooting in the Gudgell home in northwest Deaf Smith County, the wife told investigators that she was in the shower and returned to the kitchen to find her husband shot in the head.

The shooting is alleged to have occurred after 11 p.m. on Sept. 11. Gudgell was transported by helicopter to an Amarillo hospital where he died several hours later, on Sept. 12.

Two days later, Chris Don Barron was charged with murder, arrested on Sept. 15 in Amarillo and returned to Hereford where he has been confined in Deaf Smith County jail in lieu of $200,000 bond.

Donna Gudgell was arrested at about 11:31 p.m. Thursday at the family home by Deaf Smith Sheriff's Deputies Willie Jagers and Robin Ruland.

She is in Deaf Smith County jail. Bond was set at $200,000.

Saul declined to provide any details on the investigation that led to the arrest of Gudgell.

A gun recovered outside the home after the shooting has been sent to the Department of Public Safety crime lab in Austin.

Barron reportedly had lived in the Gudgell home several years.

Thirteen other persons were named on indictments by the grand jury. Names of three defendants were withheld, pending their arrest.

Two indictments for felony driving while intoxicated were returned against Rigoberto Rodriguez, 25, of 112 Avenue H. He is in jail in lieu of bond.

Also charged with felony driving while intoxicated, Julian Barrientez, 33, of 817 S. Lee, is free on $1,000 bond. Gabriel Galvan, 18, of 222 Avenue A, was named on a places weapons prohibited indictment. He posted bond of $1,000.

A prohibited weapons indictment was returned against Richard Maldonado, 32, of 415 W. Second. He is free on $2,000 bond.

Indicted for forgery, Philip Samuel-William-Hogan, 25, of 404 W. Third, is free on $2,000 bond.

A Lubbock man, Javier Solis, 27, was indicted for burglary of a habitation. He is confined to jail in lieu of bond.

A burglary of a building indictment was handed down against Martin Rubio, 19, of Clovis, N.M. He posted bond of $2,500.

Three indictments for forgery were returned against Mary Lou Trevizo, 27, of 313 Avenue J. She is free on bond of $1,500.

A felony driving while intoxicated indictment lists Ricardo Conrado Chavez, 45, of 1005 S. Lee. He is in jail in lieu of bond.

David Shiver, 32, was indicted for aggravated perjury. He is in jail in lieu of bond.

Pole positioners

Lalon Savage, left, and E.P. Rodriguez, both employees of the Texas Department of Transportation, work to settle a new school zone signal light onto its mount along U.S. 385 just south of Moreman on Thursday. Rodriguez, who lives here and works with the department office here, was assisting Savage, who is based in Amarillo and travels throughout the district replacing outdated school zone signs. He said the pole is higher, the lights bigger and brighter and the sign larger. Also, unlike the old pole, the new one is mounted on a breakaway base, which snaps the light standard loose if it is struck by a car, minimizing damage and injury.

Tax check from state for $57,000

State Comptroller John Sharp this week sent a total of $122.5 million in August sales tax rebates to 979 Texas cities and 109 counties, a 19.1 percent increase over payments of a year ago.

The City of Hereford will receive $57,751 from its one percent sales tax, an increase of 19 percent over the same time a year ago. The 1993 total is $566,345, or an increase of 4.5 percent over last year.

Deaf Smith County's rebate on its one-half cent tax will be $31,182—a 14.2 percent increase over the payment one year ago. The year-to-date total is $292,471—up 3.6 percent from last year.

Increased consumer spending has raised many of the sales tax allocations since October of last year. Houston continued to lead the way with a monthly payment of $15.5 million. Dallas was next at $9.6 million; San Antonio was third with $6.8 million, and Austin fourth at $4.8 million.

Amarillo, with a 2 percent tax, led Panhandle cities with a rebate check for $2.4 million—an increase of 7 percent over last year. Pampa (2% tax) had a check for $203,760, and Plainview, with a 1.5 percent tax, received $171,622. Borger's rebate on a 2 percent tax netted $175,039.

Dumas (1%) had a check for $59,401, which was down 1.6 percent. Perryton's rebate on a 1 percent tax was $40,095.

Shooting of official blow to Haitians

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) - Haiti's beleaguered democratic government teetered near the brink of collapse, stunned by the assassination of a Cabinet minister and abandoned by U.N. police trainers.

Political violence has paralyzed the transition government since Prime Minister Robert Malval was installed Sept. 2 to prepare the way for exiled President Jean-Bertrand Aristide's scheduled return Oct. 30. But Justice Minister Guy Malary, gunned down as he rode away from the ministry Thursday, was the first government official to be killed.

Malary, 50, was assassinated shortly after midday beside the church where a prominent Aristide fund raiser was murdered Sept. 11 during Mass. The gunfire Thursday also killed Malary's bodyguard and driver.

"This is a shocking attack. This is to terrorize the government, but it also is an affront to the international community," Frantz Voltaire, Malval's chief-of-staff, said of the assassination.

Government and diplomatic missions deplored the attack.

"We want to express our grief at the loss of a true champion of freedom, democracy and the rule of law," a U.S. Embassy communique said.

The army issued no formal statement on the assassination Thursday.

Haitians rich and poor grieved for the Malary family and the state of their country.

"The message is, it could happen to anyone, at any time," said a prominent political leader. "The Haitian people are hostage to the army. No one is safe."

He declined to give his name because "I don't want to give them any reason to come after me."

The owner of a small grocery store said since she heard the news on the radio, "I've been sitting here all day, sad and afraid. People come in, not even Aristide supporters, and say 'I can't take any more.' No one is safe."

Aristide, a popular Roman Catholic priest, won Haiti's first free election by a landslide in 1990. He was toppled in a coup two years ago.

Last July, he and army commander Lt. Gen. Raoul Cedras signed an accord sponsored by the United Nations that would return Aristide to office on Oct. 30. Cedras, who took part in the coup, also pledged to retire and agreed to separate the police from the army.

Espy decries ruling

Judge blocks implementation of rule requiring meat labeling

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - U.S. Agriculture Secretary Mike Espy says he's "extremely disappointed" in a federal judge's decision to block a rule requiring safe-handling instructions on uncooked meat and poultry products.

"I believe, as I always have, that the safe handling label is fundamental in our effort to prevent consumers and especially children from getting ill all across this country due to improper handling and cooking of meat and poultry products," Espy said in a statement.

He praised businesses that already have moved to comply with the rule, and urged others to follow their example despite the decision.

U.S. District Judge James Nowlin of Austin on Thursday agreed to block the rule, which was to require the information be provided with meat and poultry beginning Friday.

He said the agency didn't follow proper public notice and comment procedures under the Administrative Procedure Act.

"The USDA has not demonstrated any reason that would justify a departure from the normal rule-making procedures," Nowlin wrote.

Nowlin said a preliminary injunction sought by several food industry groups - the National-American Wholesale Grocers' Association, National Grocers Association and Texas Food Industry Association - would take effect as soon as they filed a $1,000 bond with the court.

The groups' lawyer, David Orr, said the bond was being filed Thursday.

The injunction will remain in effect until further court order, Nowlin said.

The Agriculture Department last month set a Friday deadline for adding labels that tell about safe cooking, handling, refrigerating and thawing meats that aren't fully cooked when purchased.

The agency had said the labels must warn about possible bacterial contamination if the product is mishandled or improperly cooked.

The action was a response to fatal outbreaks of illness linked to E. coli, salmonella and other microorganisms that can dwell in raw meat.

The judge said he could not find there would be a disservice to the public in blocking the rule until proper procedures are followed.

Nowlin said that while the USDA contended it had good cause to publish the rule in August without the normal opportunity for public comment, the rule's implementation was delayed for 60 days to allow businesses to obtain the required labeling.

"If there truly was an epidemic problem or anywhere close to such a problem, the USDA presumably would have required a much shorter period for the effective date of the emergency rule," Nowlin wrote.

Nowlin also cited the "significant costs" of complying with the new rule, which he said would affect about 20 billion packages of meat and poultry products.

He said those costs would be in the hundreds of millions of dollars - higher than the USDA's estimates - and would be passed on to consumers. In addition, he said, those not complying could be subject to civil and criminal penalties.

The threatened harm to the food industry groups "overwhelmingly outweighs any damage the injunction might cause" to the USDA, Nowlin said.

Prosecutors allege plot to make North an Iran-Contra scapegoat

WASHINGTON (AP) - Iran-Contra prosecutors concluded in their final report that top Cabinet officers to President Reagan engaged in a cover-up, plotting to make Oliver North and two national security advisers "scapegoats whose sacrifice would protect" the administration, according to sources familiar with the document.

The report lays substantial blame for the cover-up on former Attorney General Edwin Meese, alleging he concocted "a false account" of a November 1985 arms-for-hostages deal with Iran in order to protect Reagan in the scandal's early days, several sources said.

Prosecutors would have considered seeking Meese's indictment after discovering new evidence in 1992, but the statute of limitations had expired, the sources added. They described the new evidence as contemporaneous notes by former White House chief of staff Don Regan.

Iran-Contra prosecutor Lawrence Walsh's report was completed in August but has been sealed by a special panel of federal appellate judges to give those named in it time to submit responses. Reagan's lawyers recently obtained a 60-day extension.

For now, the report is only available to those named in it and their attorneys. A number of sources provided The Associated Press with a description of its contents, including notes from the executive summary.

The sources, who insisted on anonymity, said their notes indicate the final report depicts key officials of the Reagan administration as scrambling to deflect blame from the president and his Cabinet.

"The president's most senior advisers and the Cabinet members on the National Security Council participated in the strategy to make National Security Council members (Robert McFarlane, John Poindexter and North) the scapegoats whose sacrifice would protect the Reagan administration in its final two years," the notes quote the report as saying.

"In an important sense, this strategy succeeded. Independent counsel discovered much of the best evidence of the cover-up in the final year of active investigation, too late for most prosecutions."

The Cabinet members on the National Security Council were Meese, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of State George Shultz and CIA Director William Casey, who died in 1987.

McFarlane pleaded guilty to four misdemeanors for withholding information but was later pardoned by President Bush. Juries convicted McFarlane's successor, Poindexter, of five felonies and North of three, but their convictions were reversed or set aside on appeal.

According to the sources' description and the notes, the report states:

- Regan's notes show that Meese attempted to assemble a false story in November 1986, announcing that the president had not known about a CIA-assisted arms-for-hostages deal with Iran. Administration aides feared that the November 1985 shipment of Hawk missiles was illegal.

- The evidence indicates Meese conducted a "damage control exercise" rather than gathering facts amid the public uproar over the Iran arms sales in November 1986.

- When Meese gave his account to the president and Cabinet, it was not challenged by top officials who knew it to be false, the sources and notes say.

Meese did not return calls to his office here this week. Walsh declined comment. They and others named in the report are under court order not to discuss it publicly.

Regan himself gave differing accounts to the Tower Commission of the November 1985 shipment. First, he said he learned of the delivery after it occurred and demanded the Hawks be returned; later he said neither he nor Regan could recall any conversation or meeting about the Hawks, nor any recall demand.

Portugal cited as example in debate over trade pact

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) - Opponents of the North American Free Trade Agreement should take their eyes off Mexico for a moment and look at Portugal.

So says pro-NAFTA economist Ray Perryman when talking about worries in Congress that the tariff-lifting pact would send U.S. jobs to Mexico's lower-wage economy.

Perryman told the South Texas-Mexico Economic Development Conference on Thursday that some wealthier European nations worried that Portugal would steal jobs when brought into the European Economic Community.

"Portugal gained a lot of jobs, but the other countries in the region gained more," said Perryman, a Baylor University economist and business consultant.

Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen had a similar message Thursday while campaigning in Dallas for NAFTA, which would phase out trade and investment barriers between the United States, Canada and Mexico over the next 15 years.

"If we don't sign up, Mexico will look to Japan and Europe to sign trade agreements. President Salinas said so last weekend. I'd bet they'd sign up in 10 minutes," said Bentsen, who was scheduled to give an address at the conference on South Padre Island today.

By The Associated Press
No tickets purchased in the latest Lotto Texas correctly matched all six numbers drawn for the twice-weekly game, state lottery officials said Thursday.

A winning ticket for the jackpot would have been worth $10 million. The numbers drawn Wednesday night from a field of 50 were: 1, 3, 6, 13, 22, 32.

Although there was no jackpot, 229 tickets were sold with five of the six numbers, with each worth $1,152. Another 11,641 tickets had four of the six winning numbers. Each ticket won $81.

Also, 210,936 tickets were sold with three of six numbers. Each ticket was worth an automatic $3.

If sales continue as expected, lottery officials estimate the jackpot for Saturday night's game will be $17 million.

AUSTIN (AP) - Federal prosecutors say the convictions of three former leaders of the Texas Department of Agriculture on conspiracy charges may lead to further inquiries. A federal jury deliberated nearly two days before finding three former top aides to former Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower guilty Thursday of conspiring to steal public money to pay for political fund-raising.

Mike Moeller, Peter McRae and Billie Quicksall had been charged with conspiring to commit bribery and using about $173,000 in public money to hire political fund-raisers. Moeller was found guilty on seven counts, Quicksall was found guilty on four counts and innocent on two other counts. McRae was found guilty on five counts.

Senate agrees with withdrawal date

Clinton administration dodges foreign policy defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate today endorsed President Clinton's March 31 withdrawal date of U.S. troops from Somalia as the administration averted a major foreign policy defeat.

In exchange for the Senate support, Clinton consented to demands that all payments for the operation end on the president's pullout date - a dictate that emerged from the congressional outcry over the military's continued role in the East African nation.

The vote was 76-23 in the early morning hours and marked the first time the Senate had voted to limit funds for armed conflict since June 1973, when Congress agreed to a cutoff of money for all combat activities in Cambodia, Laos and North and South Vietnam.

That vote came about 16 years after the first U.S. advisers arrived in Southeast Asia, and Congress' role in deciding the fate of American troops was uppermost in lawmakers' minds.

Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., who spent more than six years in a Vietnamese prison camp, brought silence to the Senate chamber when he asked his colleagues what would happen if Americans die within the next six months.

"On whose hands rest the blood of American troops? Ask yourself this question," the senator said.

The death of 18 Americans and wounding of more than 70 others during an Oct. 3 firefight in Somalia spurred demands in Congress for the immediate withdrawal of American troops.

Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said lawmakers had "blood on their hands" when they did the right thing in approving the use of American troops in the Persian Gulf War.

At that time, Dole said he supported President Bush, and despite scoldings from some of his Republican colleagues, he was backing a Democratic president on Somalia.

"I supported my president... and I do the same tonight," Dole said.

The vote came after more than five hours of debate, and two days of negotiations involving Clinton, Senate leaders and Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., the chief critic of the president's policy who had pushed for an earlier withdrawal date of Feb. 1.

Passage of the compromise amendment came after the Senate rejected a measure by several Republicans - except Dole - that would force an immediate withdrawal by limiting funds only to the expense of pulling out troops and ensuring their protection.

The amendment failed 61-38, with 10 Democrats and 28 Republicans voting for it.

As they did during the Persian Gulf War vote, senators sat in their chairs and cast their vote. Watching the proceedings from the visitors' gallery was Mary Ellen Durant, the sister of the American pilot, Michael Durant, who was released by the Somalis Thursday after nearly two weeks in captivity.

The 31-year-old women from Hyattsville, Md., disagreed with the Senate's action.

"I don't think this is a very wise decision to stay there. I don't know what this is going to accomplish," she said.

The approved amendment to the defense spending bill says the Senate agrees with the use of American troops to protect U.S. personnel and bases in Somalia and concurs with providing assistance in the free flow of supplies and relief operations.

The measure requires that U.S. forces remain under the command and control of U.S. commanders under the ultimate direction of the president.

New attack expected next week by House foes of supercollider

WASHINGTON (AP) - Even though congressional negotiators have approved $640 million for the super collider, the oft-contested program's future isn't assured.

Foes of the $11 billion atom smasher will mount their latest attack next week when Congress debates the $22 billion conference report that includes the controversial collider money.

And both sides are predicting they'll prevail in the heretofore collider-unfriendly House.

In the midst of a budget-slashing mood earlier this year, the House voted 280-150 to pull the plug on the massive science project under construction near Waxahachie, Texas. The project's future was at least temporarily assured when the Senate voted 57-42 to continue funding.

Faced with the contradictory views, House and Senate negotiators sat down Thursday to hammer out a compromise. After much hand-wringing by a few conferees, the negotiators sided with the Senate and approved the full amount sought by the Clinton administration.

That action drew the immediate scorn of opponents, who already were angered that 21 of the 24 conferees are collider supporters.

"The decision of the conferees is an insult to the intelligence and the integrity of the House and to the democratic process," said Rep. Sherwood Boehlert, R-N.Y.

"How can we expect the American people to have any respect for the Congress when a small group of self-serving conferees can ignore the will of the people as expressed by their representatives?"

The criticism was clearly on conferees' minds Thursday.

"We find ourselves in a very awkward position because we like to represent the views of our colleagues in the House," said the conference chairman, Rep. Tom Bevill, D-Ala. But, the Alabama Democrat noted, the Senate's support was at odds with the House's rejection.

"So, we're between a rock and a hard place."

Bevill, who is a collider supporter, offered a motion that would have deleted its funds from the conference report. That motion wasn't acted upon.

In a plea to conferees, Sen. Bennett Johnston argued that the negotiators were pledged to consider the greater good rather than stick to the House position.

"The emotional tide of the moment should not direct this committee and its relationship to science," said Johnston, D-La., who is one of the collider's biggest boosters. "If we don't resist these ebbs of emotion, we'll have a stop-and-start scientific policy."

Following the conference decision both sides pledged to strenuously lobby lawmakers in the days leading up to the House vote, which could come as early as Tuesday.

"We will just be whipping our hearts out" rounding up votes, said Rep. Jim Chapman, D-Sulphur Springs, the only Texas conferee.

Rep. Martin Frost, whose district spans part of the collider, acknowledged the fight is far from over. "We all know this is going to be a hard-fought contest next week," the Dallas Democrat said.

If the House votes to reject the report but the Senate adopts it, the negotiators would have to return to the table to decide whether to delete the collider funds.

Proponents are hoping it doesn't come to that.

"I really think the likely outcome is we'll accept the conference report next week," said Rep. Joe Barton, R-Ennis, whose district includes part of the collider.

But Rep. Jim Slattery, who is orchestrating the anti-collider campaign, predicted at least 250 of the 280 members who voted in June to ax the collider would vote against the conference report.

"I think it will be killed," the Kansas Democrat said Thursday. "We are working very hard to do our whip counts on the people in opposition and I'm finding that a lot of people are ... stronger in their opposition now than they were last spring."

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

This Sunday, there will be a training session for all Eucharistic ministers of the parish and for all those who would like to train for this ministry. The session will be held at 2 p.m. in the church for the renewal of our understanding of this ministry and the review of how we carry out this ministry. Anyone who is currently involved as an eucharistic minister is required to attend this session in order to continue their ministry.

At the end of October, the parish will be purchasing a new Spanish hymnal, Flor y Canto, published by Oregon Catholic Press and widely recognized as the best collection of liturgical songs in Spanish that is available in this country. The hymnal contains all the songs that are contained in the Canticos books that we have been using for the past six years, plus over 300 more songs. In order to increase our care of these new hymnals, it is suggested that adults, couples and families may want to buy their own hymnal. It could be taken home or it could be stored in the sacristy with your name on it where it could be picked up when you come for Mass. The cost of each hymnal will be $4. Those wishing to buy hymnals may place orders at the weekend masses Oct. 16-17.

Hereford JV outduels Raiders, 35-24

The Hereford junior varsity football team outscored Randall's JV 35-24 Thursday night at Whiteface Stadium.

Todd Dudley threw three touchdown passes in the second half to keep ahead of Randall. The first was a 31-yarder to Ronald Torres which gave Hereford the lead for good at 21-17. His two other scoring strikes were a 42-yarder to Raymond Alaniz and a nine-yarder to Johnny Garza. Martin Martinez added extra-point kicks after each second half TD. The score was tied 14-14 at halftime. Randall scored on its opening drive, but Hereford's Ralph Morales answered with a eight-yard fumble return for a touchdown. The kick missed. Later, Armando Zambrano ran one yard for a score, and Dudley hit Wade Backus for a two-point conversion pass.

Randall scored late in the second half to tie it.

"I thought this was the best offensive game we've played this year," coach Craig Yenser said.

"I was particularly pleased with the passing game. All of our receivers did a great job, and of course the offensive line did a good job, because (Randall linemen) were stunting. They gave the quarterback time to get the ball off."

"After the first half, they starting playing," coach Ron Young said of the defense. "Until then, they'd kind of relaxed, and (Randall) scored quickly on us. We had to make some halftime adjustments, we showed them what they were doing wrong, and I thought they played real well in the second half."

Two other sub-varsity games were played Thursday in Hereford, and the Herd came out on the bad end of both.

Monterey sophomores 10, Herd sophomores 8

Wade McPherson ran 15 yards for a touchdown, then passed to Raymond Gonzales for a two-point conversion to give Hereford an 8-7 lead. Monterey won it with a 30-yard field goal with 2:15 left to play.

Roger Flores and Ralph Claudio were cited for outstanding defensive play. Claudio "made some crucial stops on third- and fourth-and-short," coach Chris Christopher said.

The game was stopped for about 30 minutes because of a serious injury to Hereford's Anthony Cervantez. He was taken by ambulance to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

It was initially thought he had a fractured neck, but Hereford head coach Danny Haney said that Cervantez was "walking around" this morning. A specialist was being brought in to determine the extent of the injury, Haney said.

Amarillo High Gold freshmen 28 Hereford freshmen A 26

Hereford led almost the entire game but lost it on a late Sandie touchdown.

Joseph Artho threw three short touchdown passes: two to Ruben Flores and one to Jeremy Reiter. Anthony Puente ran for a five-yard TD and added a two-point conversion.

"The guys really played, really put it on the line," coach James Salinas said. "That was probably the best game we had all year. We had several who came to the front."

Salinas cited Artho, Reiter, George Pacheco and John Marty Galan for outstanding play.

Netters, spikers here Saturday

Hereford's volleyball and tennis teams will be in town Saturday, and both will start their action at 2 p.m.

The tennis team, already headed for the regional tournament, will try to wrap up district play with a win over Dumas.

The volleyball team, 4-2 in district and 19-6 overall, will go for its 20th win against Randall. The junior varsity match starts at 2, and the varsity will start 20 minutes after the JV teams finish.

Hereford's cross country team will run in Stratford Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m.

In fall golf, the girls will be in Pampa at Hidden Hills Country Club, and the boys will play at Plainview CC.

Breaking the plane

Hereford JV running back Armando Zambrano keeps his knees off the ground long enough to get the football across the goal line. Other Hereford players pictured are Bric Wall (50), Michael Medina (72) and Todd Dudley (14).

Baylor will need balance vs. A&M

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

It's unlikely Baylor coach Chuck Reedy will be tempted to go against Texas A&M on Saturday with the same game plan that produced a 31-12 victory for the Bears over Southern Methodist last weekend.

The Bears gained 480 yards rushing against the Mustangs, and sore-shouldered J.J. Joe didn't throw a pass, but Reedy thinks the Bears must be more balanced against No. 13 Texas A&M.

"We'll have to throw the ball, and run it, and do everything else to have a chance to win," Reedy said. "We'll have an alternate plan, but J.J. will be able to throw the football. We don't know how much."

The Aggies (4-1, 2-0 in SWC games) have won 17 consecutive SWC games and are back from being just good to devastating on defense, ranking No. 4 nationally in total defense, allowing 230.2 yards per game.

That will require some diversity, Reedy says.

"There's no area you can say they are weak here or there that we can exploit," Reedy said. "They are good against the run, great against the pass. Their third-down ratio is something like 1-to-5."

The Aggies are a 15-point favorite over the Bears (4-2, 2-1).

In other games, Southern Methodist (1-3, 1-1) is at Houston (1-4, 1-1); Rice (4-2, 1-1), is at Texas Tech (1-5, 0-2) and Tulane (2-4) is at Texas Christian (1-4, 0-2).

"They scare you because of their ability to run the football," Reedy said. "It's a big fear they'll be able to line up and run, run, run and you can't stop them."

"Then they have Corey Pullig who can beat you with the pass."

Baylor's offense, when Joe is operating without injury, has been very effective this season. The Bears' option attack has concerned A&M Coach R.C. Slocum.

"They lull you to sleep running the option," Slocum said. "Then J.J. comes down the line and then he's off the line and there's a receiver down field. They'll throw the ball off the play action."

The Rice Owls showed their resiliency last week with a 34-19 victory over Texas Christian, rebounding from their 55-38 loss to Texas a week earlier. Now they travel to Lubbock to face the Red Raiders, reeling from five straight losses.

"We've worn out their horse the last two times we've been out there," Rice coach Fred Goldsmith said. "The quarterhorse association is requiring them to have two horses ready for this game."

Jays' Guzman, Phillies' Schilling should be mystery to opponents

TORONTO (AP) - Juan Guzman throws a sharp slider and Curt Schilling throws a live fastball. They are tough pitches to hit, even for batters who have seen them before.

For a hitter facing either Guzman or Schilling for the first time, it's even tougher. Which is why, once again, there may not be a lot of scoring in Game 1 of the World Series.

Guzman and Schilling will start the opener Saturday night at SkyDome. Toronto manager Cito Gaston said Dave Stewart would follow Guzman, but did not say who would pitch after that.

Philadelphia manager Jim Fregosi set a four-man rotation that includes Terry Mulholland, Danny Jackson and Tommy Greene.

"It means a lot to me to start the first game," Guzman said after the Blue Jays' light workout Thursday. "It's something I wanted. I know the Phillies have a lot of good hitters. I'm just going to go right at them."

Many pitchers have done that with success in Game 1.

Only once since 1981 have both teams scored more than two runs in the opener - it happened in 1988 when Kirk Gibson's home run gave Los Angeles a 5-4 victory over Oakland. In the meantime, there have been four shutouts in Game 1.

Guzman and Schilling each pitched twice in the playoffs. Guzman won both times against Chicago and raised his postseason record to 5-0. Schilling got two no-decisions, but became the first pitcher to win the playoff MVP award without a victory or save.

Guzman was third in the AL with 194 strikeouts, getting many of them early in games.

Schilling fanned 19 in 16 innings against Atlanta. He was fourth in the NL with 186 strikeouts.

Gaston used a four-man rotation in the playoffs that included Pat Hentgen and Todd Stottlemyre. Hentgen and Stottlemyre both struggled, which is why Gaston isn't sure whether he'll use just three starters or perhaps Al Leiter.

"It depends on how we do," Gaston said. "We'll just go from there."

Leiter would be the lone left-handed starter for the champion Blue Jays, and could help stop a Phillies lineup loaded with lefties such as Lenny Dykstra, John Kruk and Darren Daulton.

Jackson and Mulholland are left-handers, and the Blue Jays were just 22-25 in regular-season games started by lefties. That included hard throwers like Randy Johnson and soft tossers such as Jimmy Key.

"We don't have a lot of luck with left-handers, period," Gaston said.

Gaston said he has not yet decided what to do with designated hitter Paul Molitor. The DH will not be used once the series shifts to Veterans Stadium for Game 3, meaning Molitor will have to move, most likely to third base, to stay in the lineup.

Molitor played third base for most of the 1980s. He played third for two games in 1990, his last appearance there. If Molitor went to third base, Ed Sprague would go to the bench.

"That's something I'm going to kick around for the weekend," Gaston said.

"I really think it's a disadvantage to the American League to play without it," he said. "I don't know what should be done, but something should be done."

Molitor fielded a few grounders at third base Thursday. He merely threw them back to the coach hitting them from beside the batting cage.

"My arm feels OK. We'll have to see how it is," he said.

Sprague, who drove in 73 runs in his first full season, said he would understand if he did not start.

"There's no controversy, that's for sure," Sprague said. "At this point, you can't think about individual goals. You think about team goals."

Fregosi said Pete Incaviglia and Ricky Jordan would split time as the DH in Toronto.

"I'll switch according to the pitcher," Fregosi said. "They have four right-handed starters, so that throws out our platoon system."

Alomar, Dykstra lead AP All-Stars

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

Roberto Alomar and Lenny Dykstra, opponents this week in the World Series, are on the same side on the 1993 Associated Press major league All-Star team.

Barry Bonds and Juan Gonzalez, who each hit 46 home runs, Atlanta pitchers Greg Maddux and Tom Glavine and Los Angeles rookie catcher Mike Piazza also made the team.

The combined squad of AL and NL stars was picked by a nationwide vote of sports writers and broadcasters. The AP's most outstanding player and manager of the year will be announced early next week.

Alomar, who batted .326 with 17 home runs, 93 RBIs and 55 stolen bases for Toronto, was chosen as the second baseman. He beat out Cleveland's Carlos Baerga, who hit .321 with 21 homers and 114 RBIs.

"Some people say I'm the best,"

Alomar said last week during the AL playoffs, "but I'm not going to say that. There are a lot of good players."

Toronto teammate Paul Molitor was selected as the designated hitter. He batted .332 with 22 home runs and 111 RBIs, and stole 22 bases in his first year with the Blue Jays.

Molitor will be the DH in the first two World Series games at SkyDome. The Blue Jays must move him, probably to third base, to keep him in the lineup when the series moves to Philadelphia.

Dykstra, Bonds and Gonzalez were chosen as the outfielders, just ahead of Seattle's Ken Griffey Jr. in the voting. Dykstra helped lead Philadelphia into the World Series, scoring 143 runs. He hit .305 with 19 homers and 66 RBIs.

The rest of the team includes Frank Thomas at first base, Jeff Blauser at shortstop, Matt Williams at third base, Maddux as the right-handed starting pitcher, Glavine as the left-handed starter and Randy Myers as the reliever.

Bonds led the NL in home runs in his first year for San Francisco. He also led the league with 123 RBIs and was fourth with a .336 batting average.

Gonzalez led the AL in home runs for Texas. He batted .310 with 118 RBIs.

Several players whose teams lost in the playoffs made it.

Maddux was 20-10 with a major league-best 2.36 ERA in his first year with the Braves. He got the right-handed spot ahead of Jack McDowell, 22-10 with a 3.37 ERA for the Chicago White Sox.

Glavine was 22-6 with a 3.20 ERA. Blauser batted .305 with 15 homers and 73 RBIs for Atlanta.

Thomas enjoyed another big year for the White Sox, batting .317 with 41 home runs and 128 RBIs. Piazza starred in his rookie season, hitting .350 with 35 home runs with 112 RBIs and a .318 average for the Dodgers.

Williams bounced back from an off year to hit 38 home runs for the Giants. He had 110 RBIs and batted .294.

Myers set an NL record with 53 saves in his first season with the Chicago Cubs. He was 2-4 with a 3.11 ERA, and finished ahead of Giants closer Rod Beck.

Among the top players who did not make the team were Griffey and pitcher Randy Johnson of Seattle. Griffey hit 45 home runs with 109 RBIs and Johnson, a left-hander, led the majors with 308 strikeouts, won 19 games and had a 3.24 ERA.

Rangers cut Bohanon, Diaz

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Texas Rangers placed strikeout king Nolan Ryan on the voluntary retired list Thursday, completing his major league record 27-year career.

The Rangers also waived pitcher Brian Bohanon and infielders Mario Diaz and Rob Maurer. Bohanon and Maurer have been assigned outright to Oklahoma City, while Diaz will become a free agent.

Also Thursday, the team announced it had signed pitchers Ken Howell and Vance Lovelace and infielder Ever Magallanes to contracts with Oklahoma City.

Howell, a 32-year-old righthander invited to the Rangers' spring training camp, missed most of the last three years because of shoulder trouble. He has a 38-48 career major league record with the Dodgers and the Phillies.

Lovelace pitched in the Atlanta system in 1993. He has pitched briefly in the majors with California and Seattle.

Magallanes was acquired by Texas from the Chicago White Sox last spring and split 1993 between Tulsa and Oklahoma City. He played collegiately at Texas A&M.

Astros release coaching staff

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Astros, who fired manager Art Howe last week, have now released other members of his coaching staff.

The Astros said Thursday that they're not renewing the contracts of pitching coach Bob Cluck, hitting instructor Rudy Jaramillo, bench coach Ed Ott and first base coach Tom Spencer.

Third base coach Matt Galante has been retained for consideration for other positions in the organization.

with Mel Phillips

Daylight Savings Time ends on the last Saturday of October. The frequent announcements to "fall back" can serve as an excellent reminder to take care of some other maintenance items.

There is a push nationwide to check the batteries in the home smoke alarms. That's a good idea, but a prudent person will also use this occasion to prepare for the special demands that a Texas winter places on our vehicles.

If you can find a full service gas station, now is the perfect time for an oil change and a tire check with a tire rotation. Ask them to check the fluid level on the brakes, power steering, transmission and, of course, the anti-freeze.

After a summer of hard driving and the prospect of some great hunting trips, now is a great time to check all the belts and hoses for cracks or any other signs of wear. Don't forget to check the air pressure in the spare tire and verify the location of the lug wrench and jack.

A really cold morning can push a tired battery over the edge. Make sure that the battery is checked for any weak cells.

Tip of the week--Exchange cars with your spouse. A new driver will notice any changes that may have occurred gradually before they cause problems when the Arctic winds arrive.

Last Fishing Tournament of 1993--An unexpected cold front forced tournament officials to re-schedule the 1993 Lake Greenbelt Fun Fishing Championship. The new date is Oct. 23, and this bass tournament is open to all interested anglers. Registration at the south ramp will open at 6 a.m. The bass fishing begins at 7:30 a.m. and ends at 12:30 p.m. The heaviest three-bass limit wins a nice trophy, a champion's jacket from Budweiser, and the prize money. Entry fee is $25 with an optional $5 big bass pot.

Bonus--All new anglers and any contestants who bring a new angler are eligible to win a special drawing for a Lake Texoma striper trip with G.W. Chisholm.

Oops--Readers trying to find Lake Guerrero will find this grand old lake still located near Victoria and a hundred south of Monterrey! Writing about those 14-pound Mexico/Florida bass caused me to drift off to the twilight zone while writing last week's column. Sorry if I caused any problems, but just the thought of catching a monster bass does strange things to this ol' boy, who grew up wading the shoreline of Buffalo Lake.

Mel Phillips is an avid hunter, tournament angler and host of a Wednesday evening outdoor show on KGNC TalkRadio 71. He is an active member of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association.

Skiers in downhill exhibitions on very steep slopes have been timed at better than 100 miles per hour.

Surfing originated in Hawaii hundreds of years ago with the first official recording in 1779.

Montana to start in San Diego

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Joe Montana and his coach ended the suspense. Montana will start in San Diego on Sunday.

In practice Thursday, Montana took most of the snaps and had no trouble with his mobility, Kansas City coach Marty Schottenheimer said. Montana did not return even to light workouts until Wednesday after pulling his left hamstring against the Raiders on Oct. 3.

"It felt pretty good," said Montana, who sat out last week's game against Cincinnati and missed the Chiefs' second game of the season at Houston with a sore wrist. "Unless something happens, which I doubt, I'll be able to play."

"He took about 75 percent of the snaps," Schottenheimer said. "He took most of the snaps in all phases of what we were doing. It's a controlled environment. He doesn't have to run or scramble. That part of it probably won't be known until Sunday. But I fully expect that, barring anything unforeseen, he will be available on Sunday."

Except for defensive end Neil Smith, the rest of the injury news was also good for the AFC West leaders. Offensive linemen Ricky Siglar and Danny Villa were feeling better than they have in several weeks and may be ready for the Chargers. Smith, who injured an ankle last week, hoped to practice for the first time on Friday. "Ricky looks pretty good and Villa may also have a chance to be available," Schottenheimer said.

LEGAL NOTICES

TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS AND PARTIES:
You are hereby notified that FRIO FEEDERS, INC., has applied for Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) Permit No. 23068. This permit, if approved, will authorize construction of a Beef Cattle Feedlot in Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas. The location of the existing facility is 2 miles southeast of the intersection of State Highway 385 and Farm to Market Road 1055. This facility will emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter and odors.

A copy of all materials in the public file is available for inspection and reproduction at the TNRCC Amarillo Regional Office, Air Program, located at 3918 Canyon Drive, Amarillo, Texas 79109-4996, telephone (806) 353-9251, and at the TNRCC Central Office, 12124 Park 35 Circle, Austin, Texas 78753, telephone (512)908-1000. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the regional office of the TNRCC. Inquiries about the permit application should be directed to the TNRCC Office of Air Quality Permits Section in Austin or the TNRCC Amarillo Regional Office.

You may submit written comments concerning the permit application to the TNRCC Executive Director in Austin. All written comments received within 30 days after the second publication of this notice shall be considered by the Executive Director in determining whether to issue or not issue the permit. All written comments will be made available for public inspection at the TNRCC Central Office in Austin. This notice is to be published on October 14, 1993 and October 15, 1993.

Any person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the proposed facility may request the Commission to hold an informal public meeting and/or contested case hearing on the permit application pursuant to Section 382.056(d) of the Texas Health and Safety Code. The Commission is not required to hold a contested case hearing if the basis of a request is determined to be unreasonable. All requests for a contested case hearing must be received in writing within the 30-day comment period regardless of whether an informal public meeting has been held or scheduled on this matter.

Before a permit can be issued for this facility, the applicant must demonstrate that all emission sources are in compliance with all TNRCC air quality Rules and Regulations and all applicable Federal Regulations. This includes the application of "best available control technology" to each new or modified emission source and compliance with all ambient air quality standards.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is in response to "Cheated In Orlando." She said, "I fear that my son learned from his father that kids are a nuisance." I wonder what he learned from his mother.

My husband's father was also a cold fish. He didn't know how to express affection to his children, but my mother-in-law filled in the gaps. She taught the boys baseball and did all the other fun things fathers usually do with their kids. She gave her children advice, hugs and discipline and got them through the turbulent adolescent years.

When I was expecting our first child, my mother-in-law confided that her biggest worry was that her sons would not know how to be fathers. What she didn't know was that SHE had taught them how to be loving, caring people. Her greatest joy has been watching her sons become affectionate and involved parents—just as she was. I am—Lucky in Anchorage

DEAR LUCKY: Your letter bears testimony that mothers can indeed pinch-hit for fathers, and the same is true for fathers when the mother is absent or unable to function. Thanks for the positive input.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Since the issue of whether the toilet paper should come off the top or the bottom of the roll has pretty much been discussed to death, let me bring up a problem in the kitchen that is probably just as important to the nation's welfare.

Should flatware be placed in the dishwasher up or down? My wife and mother-in-law insist the forks and knives should have their points going up, and my sons and I say the points should go face down.

My wife says the utensils get cleaned better when they are up because the dirty surfaces stick out of the rack, and they get more water. I believe it is hazardous to put sharp objects where you can stick your hands on them. I also think it is unsanitary if you pick up utensils by the part that comes into contact with the food.

I'd be curious to know how your readers respond to this vital issue—Livingston, N.J.

DEAR N.J.: You are both right.

Flatware cleans better with the points up, but it is indeed more hazardous if you reach in without looking.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife has developed an obsession for clean hands and wears cotton gloves constantly, even at mealtimes. She is also afraid to shake hands with anyone or even hold my hand.

The many psychiatrists and psychologists she has visited over the years have been unable to assign a name to her condition, so she thinks she is the only one in the world with this problem. Can you ascertain a name for such a phobia and tell me how common it is?—Concerned Husband in Michigan

DEAR CONCERNED: Your wife has mysophobia, which is an obsessive-compulsive disorder. This condition is not all that rare. She needs to see some better-trained professionals. How about a trip to Ann Arbor or Detroit? I also suggest that she write to the Obsessive-Compulsive Foundation, P.O. Box 70, Milford, Conn. 06460.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: An article in the New York Daily News by Dave Saltonstall convinced me that if something isn't done to curb crime in America, we are finished.

Can you believe the latest targets for thieves are churches, temples, mosques and synagogues? A few years ago, the doors were left open in these places of worship, even in New York City, so anyone could come in off the street and pray. No more. Now, many have locked their doors, and burglar alarms have been installed.

"Burglar-proof" poor boxes have been designed especially for New York churches so the money cannot be taken out by a thief. These boxes are bolted to the wall.

Recently, someone stole the public address system from a Catholic church, and a phone was ripped off the wall of a Baptist church.

Since last year, a dozen Torahs (sacred Hebrew scrolls bound in gold and silver casements) have been stolen from synagogues in New York alone.

A few years ago, a 150-pound antique chair was taken from the altar at St. Anne and The Holy Trinity Church in Brooklyn Heights. The priceless chair, reserved by visiting bishops, showed up several days later in a pawn shop. The owner said he bought it for $60.

Some Catholic churches no longer have midnight mass on Christmas Eve. The time has been changed to 5:00 p.m., a safer hour. People are afraid to go out late at night.

A few weeks ago, a visiting minister and three parishioners were mugged across the street as they left the evening service. This was no surprise to the pastor. Two years ago, thieves stole a 3-foot brass cross.

What is happening to this country? It never used to be like this. What's the cause? Is there a cure? Any answers, Ann?—Sick at Heart in Manhattan

DEAR SICK AT HEART: That makes two of us. You ask what is causing this brazen thievery—this wanton lack of respect for things sacred. The major reasons are drugs and the easy availability of guns. Addicts will do anything to get money to support their habit, and these people have guns.

Some say we should legalize drugs in our country. I fear that might create worse problems. If drugs were legal, millions might try cocaine and heroin just for the "experience," and a great many would get hooked. The huge benefit of legalization is that it would put the assorted drug cartels out of business—and I confess, that sounds mighty appealing.

Meanwhile, parents must do a better job of teaching their children basic honesty and respect and strive to help them build self-esteem. People don't learn to be honest and trustworthy in school. They learn it at home.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Have you any advice on what can be said to a relative who interrupts everyone in mid-sentence with his own "absolutely correct" opinion? This person monopolizes every family get-together, and of course, he knows everything about everything. When anyone dares offer an opinion, he cuts them off.

We are too polite to tell him to shut up. Any suggestions?—Battered Ears in Canada

DEAR BATTERED EARS: Clattertraps with three mouths and no ears are hopeless. My advice is to walk into another room—one by one—and let Old Leather Lungs end up talking to himself.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

AMOS, THE PROPHET

THE NAME AMOS MEANS A BURDEN, OR A BURDEN BEARER. THIS PROPHET FROM TEKOA, IN THE TERRITORY OF JUDAH, WAS A MAN OF HUMBLE BIRTH. AS A HERDSMAN, HE DOUBTLESS SPENT MUCH OF HIS LIFE IN THE WILDERNESS THAT EXTENDED FROM THE VILLAGE OF TEKOA ALL THE WAY TO THE DEAD SEA. WHEN NOT ENGAGED AS A HERDSMAN, HE FOUND OTHER EMPLOYMENT AS A DRESSER OF SYCAMOR TREES, PRUNING THE FOLIAGE AND PICKING ITS FRUIT FOR PACKING. (AMOS 1:1; 7:14, 15) FROM THE KNOWLEDGE THAT AMOS DISPLAYS WITH DISTANT PLACES AND EVENTS, IT IS EVIDENT THAT HE WAS USED TO HARD WORK, IN MANY CATEGORIES SUCH AS DRIVING SHEEP AND CARRYING HIDES AND WOOL AS FAR AS DISTANT EGYPT AND DAMASCUS. ODDLY ENOUGH, ALTHOUGH A MAN OF JUDAH, HE WAS CALLED UPON TO PROPHECY IN THE NORTHERN KINGDOM OF ISRAEL! HE APPEARED AT BETHEL WHERE THE TEMPLE HAD WITHIN IT ONE OF THE GOLDEN CALVES SET UP BY JEROBOAM (AMOS 8:14). AMOS SPOKE WITH SUCH BOLDNESS AGAINST THE SINS OF THE KING AND THE PEOPLE THAT HE IMMEDIATELY MADE A GREAT NAME FOR HIMSELF.....
