County must plan to amend election code

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

In a meeting of the Deaf Smith County Commission Monday, the commission discussed plans to amend the existing election codes affecting budgetary items.

According to the election code that is due to take effect on Jan. 1, 1986, the county will have to limit the size of elections precincts to 2,000 registered voters per ballot box. The only precincts which may be affected by this limit are Precincts One and Two. Precinct One currently exceeds that limit by 50 voters and Precinct Two has almost 250 more voters than the legal limit.

In order for the county to comply with these election codes, a realignment of the precincts boundaries may be called.

Also, according to the election code, voting booths must be made available at all polling places. According to David Ruland, Deaf Smith County Clerk, the city of Hereford is already in compliance with this statute, but some of the rural areas may have to be equipped with some type of voting booth.

Another change in the election codes will no longer allow pencils to be used at the polling places. All pencils currently being used must be replaced with ink pens. The change in the code is due to charges of voter fraud that was discovered in southern Texas. Pens will hopefully eliminate any ballot tampering.

Also, all polling places must be totally accessible to the handicapped by Jan. 1, 1988. According to Ruland, most of the county's polling places are accessible to the handicapped and the county also provides curbside voting to those who need this service.

The commissioners also elected to enter into a contract with Dr. Ralph Erdmann of Amarillo. Dr. Erdmann is a criminal pathologist who has been the only person who could perform an autopsy for the county. Dr. Erdmann's contract would require that the county pay a retainer fee of $100 per month along with a $500 fee for each autopsy performed.

County Commissioner Bill Bradley

motioned that the city and the county should share the retainer evenly. Bradley's motion passed.

The alternative would have been to accept Dr. Erdmann's charge for each service including travel expenses, lab fees, and other hidden expenses.

In 1984 Deaf Smith County required the services of a criminal pathologist on nine different occasions, with a fee of $500 for each autopsy and an estimated additional $200 for expenses the total comes to $6,300. Under Dr. Erdmann's contract if the city matches last year's figures it would only cost the county $5700.

Dr. Erdmann plans to get all the panhandle counties to enter the contract and currently Swisher, Hale, and Castro counties have agreed.

The commission also opted to allow the Buffalo Lake Board to use

Gang activity blamed for prison stabbings

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — More than 6,000 Texas prison inmates were confined to their cells today in an emergency lockdown prompted by escalating prison gang violence that left four inmates slain within a 24-hour period.

"We're at war," Texas Prison Director O.L. McCotter said Monday.

"Gang activity is at an alarming level. Our major concern is that it appears to be open warfare."

The four slayings pushed the total number of homicides in the nation's second-largest corrections system to 26, one more than last year's record of 25.

As of Monday, eight inmates had been killed in as many days.

"It's very tense," prison spokesman Phil Guthrie said Monday. "Any time you have a potential gang war going on, nobody plays by normal rules. We're sitting on a time bomb."

Prison officials said today the system was relatively quiet overnight, with a minor slashing incident between two inmates at the Ellis I Unit the only trouble reported. The incident, between two cellmates, was not gang related, spokesman Charles Brown said.

They say most of the recent violence stems from a war between two Hispanic gangs known as the Texas Syndicate and the Texas Mafia.

"Essentially what you have is two rival gangs struggling for supremacy and power over their peers," Guthrie said. "We have information that the two gangs are putting on a big recruiting drive."

The killings, he said, "are part of a code to demonstrate loyalty to the gang. Part of the initiation rite is that you beat someone or stab someone."

Prison officials estimate that about 750 of the system's 37,000 inmates are active gang members. According to prison officials, from six to eight gangs are known to be active behind prison walls.

McCotter's lockdown order affected inmates in maximum, medium and close custody at 13 units around the state.

"We've got to put a stop to this now," McCotter said. "And I'll lock down every unit if I have to."

Subsidies add $7 billion to consumer food bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm subsidies for milk, peanuts and sugar add an extra $7 billion to Americans' grocery bills each year and push the cost of foods containing those products to 25 cents of every food dollar, a consumer group study shows.

Farm price supports add 60 cents to the price of a five-pound bag of sugar, 15 cents to a half gallon of ice cream and 45 cents to a three-pound jar of peanut butter, Ellen Haas, director of Public Voice for Food and Health Policy, said Monday.

"American consumers are financing the sugar and peanut commodity programs with their grocery money, and they are getting absolutely no return," Haas said in a statement. "On top of that, they are paying for the dairy program twice — with grocery money and again with tax money."

Overall, dairy supports cost consumers $4 billion annually, she said — $2 billion in higher grocery prices and $2 billion in taxes. Sugar supports add $3 billion to the cost of sugar-containing foods, and peanuts cost at least $250 million more than they would without price supports, she said.

Public Voice announced the figures at a news conference as the House and Senate agriculture committees put the final touches on new farm legislation to replace the law that expires at the end of this month.

Since we haven't had a rain lately to adjust some attitudes, we thought we'd share a story that might give some families a chuckle. It's been published in several newspapers, and we may have printed the story before in The Brand. Even so, it's good for a re-run:

It seems this customer was explaining why he was in the hospital. Said his wife had brought a bunch of pot plants and hanging baskets into the house to keep them from freezing, and it happened that a little green snake had hidden himself in one of those plants, and it got carried inside.

When the snake warmed up, it came slithering out of the plant pot and went under the sofa. The fellow's wife saw it and let out a great scream.

He happened to be taking a bath at the time, but he leaped out of the tub and ran naked to see what his wife was screaming about.

His wife told him a snake was under the sofa. So, he got down on the floor to look for it, and here came his dog and cold-nosed him.

He thought it was the snake and fainted.

His wife thought he'd had a heart attack and called an ambulance. The attendants rushed in and loaded him on the stretcher and started carrying him out.

About that time the snake came slithering from under the sofa, and the ambulance men saw it and dropped the stretcher and broke the fellow's leg, and that's why he was in the hospital.

Well, with her husband in the hospital with a broken leg, and a snake under her couch, the wife went next door to enlist the aid of a neighbor who had the reputation of an outdoorsman, having camped out with the Cub Scouts last summer.

His wife was at the grocery store, and he volunteered to corral the snake.

Armed with a rolled up newspaper, he took a few swishes under the couch and declared that the snake had vacated the premises.

"Thank goodness," declared the woman, plopping down on the couch. As her hand dropped between the cushions, it brushed a small scaly skin, which she immediately realized was her snake.

Screaming, she fainted dead away

Texas 21st state in income ranking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans increased their incomes in 1984 at a slower rate than their fellow Americans in other states, probably due to a downturn in the oil industry and a population increase, according to figures released Monday by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The state dropped two notches in the national rankings for per capita personal income, going from 19th place in 1983 to 21st in 1984, according to the department's Bureau of Economic Analysis.

The BEA said the average Texan made $12,572 last year, $217 below the national average.

The state's per capita income increased 8.5 percent from 1983 to 1984, but at a slower rate than the national increase of 9.4 percent. Nationally, 1984 state per capita income ranged from $17,487 in Alaska to $8,777 in Mississippi, the report said.

In agency's southwest region, which includes Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma, said the BEA, "the increase in total personal income was well below the national average. Increases in earnings were small in both durables and non-durables manufacturing, construction and mining."

The region's population increased 1.3 percent, "well above the 0.9 percent increase in the nation," said the BEA.

Texas' population increased 1.3 percent.

Ann Landers

Questions on procedures

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have lived in Third World countries and experienced with families their births and deaths. Welcoming babies and saying farwell to the departed were reverent, awe-inspiring occasions. Now I am settled in America and have experienced American obstetrical birth. So for my second baby I found a midwife and fulfilled God's wish that birth be sacred a well as safe.

But this letter concerns death. Please, Ann, can you tell me what is allowed legally in preparing a loved one for the grave? I am filled with anxiety and sadness as I face the probable death of a child in the near future. Please find out:

1. If a child dies in the hospital, can a mother wrap that child in a blanket and take her home to wash and clothe her for burial?

2. Must we use a funeral parlor and let strangers do for us what we wish to do as part of our acceptance of the loss?

3. If a child dies at home, who must be told? Can the dead child be kept there for a wake?

4. Can the father build a simple pine casket or must he buy a casket?

It doesn't seem right that a family cannot orchestrate the burial of loved ones in harmony with the life they try to live.—A FRIEND IN OHIO

DEAR FRIEND: To ensure correct information I turned to my funeral maven, Jules Furth, a fifth-generation Chicago funeral director. This is his response:

1. If a child dies in the hospital, can a mother wrap that child in a blanket and take it home to prepare for burial?

The letter writer was from Ohio, so I checked with the Ohio State Health Department. They said the child may be taken home and cared for by the parents. (State laws vary.)

2. Must we use a funeral parlor and let strangers do for us what we wish to do as part of our acceptance of the loss?

A funeral director is usually required to sign a death certificate and apply for a permit for final disposition, be it burial, cremation or whatever, there is no necessity to use the funeral parlor in any other capacity.

3. If a child dies at home, who must be told and can a dead child be kept there for a wake?

When a child dies at home, notify the police or fire department, which in turn will call the medical examiner. The wake can be held at home. However, it is not wise to keep an unembalmed body around any length of time, especially if the child died of a contagious disease.

4. Can the father build a simple pine casket or must he buy a casket? The family may furnish whatever burial container they wish.

Lastly and most important, it is my personal recommendation that funeral services for children, whenever possible, be private for the family. Others can express their sympathy at another time.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently I received a cosmetics case in the mail. I thought it was a gift. Two weeks later I received a bill. Must I pay for it or return the case?—RICHMOND, VA.

DEAR RICH: You owe them nothing. Ignore the bill and keep the case. That's the law.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious—lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Pilot members attend workshop

Dumas was the scene Saturday for the annual fall workshop of area Pilot Clubs to give local organizations help in improving their programs of work. Twelve members of the Pilot Club of Hereford attended the all-day meeting.

The keynote speaker for the morning session was June Darnell of Amarillo, who is the governor of the Texas district. The topic of her address was "Putting New Life Into You club" in which she suggested many ways of increasing the effectiveness of a club's work. She recommended that each club make long-range plans so that the group can more smoothly fulfill its service obligation to the community in which it functions.

Juanite Jenkins, of Beaumont, the first lieutenant governor of Texas who will be the next district governor, spoke on how to promote growth in a club's membership. She emphasized that Pilot has always recommended quality rather than quantity in its selection of members, but urged that each club not only expand its own roster but also consider going to a nearby town to charter a new Pilot Club there.

Along with other area presidents, Margaret Bell of the Pilot Club of Hereford gave a brief history of the local club and told about projects and plans in which the Hereford organization is now involved.

Relating to community service by this civic club for professional and executive women, Wandalee Campbell of Amarillo told about the Weekend with the Stars which will be held in January to raise money for the American Cerebral Palsy Association. The Pilot Club of Hereford had a booth at the recent Jubilee Junction, and all funds raised on that occasion have been earmarked for the ACPA fund. A Hereford representative has been invited to appear on area television to present the check for the money to be contributed.

The day's session ended with a skit on parliamentary procedure, presented by the Pilot Club of Dumas. Many important points about how a club meeting should be conducted were given in this skit. Attending the Dumas meeting from the Pilot Club of Hereford were Nan Gauthreaux, Marjorie Waddell, Mary Edwards, Clovis Seago, Irene McKinster, Mildred Furhmann, Linda Minchew, Donna West, Lou Ann LaFever, Wanda Cobb, Margaret Bell and Jeanne Dowell.

WET SHAVING IS POPULAR

BOSTON (AP)—About 90 percent of all men over the age of 15 shave regularly, and that translates into 78 million men, according to a recent study.

The study, made for Gillette, said nearly 78 percent of all men who shave are "wet shavers" while 22 percent use electric razors. It said most men shave about five times a week, with middle-aged shavers (aged 35-64) shaving most frequently and younger shavers shaving less often.

R.L. Blakely wins first weekly football contest

R.L. Blakely became the first winner in the Brand Football Contest, missing only 6 of the 25 games in the weekly contest which continues through the season.

Blakely won the $25 in the Hereford Bucks for first place, while Bernadette Kalka took the $15 second prize with seven misses. Lorraine Sandoval also missed seven games, but Kalka was closer on the tie-breaker score.

Four other contestants also missed seven games but were eliminated from the winner's circle by the tie-breaker total. They were Carol Armor, James Hillwig, Jessie Castenada and Randy Secrest.

Another 17 entrants missed eight of the contest games. A number of entrants were eliminated by not using the official entry form. The rule was added this year to make it easier for judges to mark the forms, and because some people were abusing the copying of forms. Although only one entry is allowed per person, some people were running off forms and entering under all family names. Entrants can pick up a free official form at the Brand office.

All football contest winners must pick up their prize money at the Brand office. No winnings will be mailed.

If you're not participating in the contest, turn to the football pages in today's paper; follow the easy rules and try your luck, or skill, in winning one of the weekly prizes. Each weekly winner becomes eligible to compete for the season's grand prizes of $100, $35 and $15.

Water polo is such a strenuous sport that in Olympic competition it is limited to four periods of seven minutes each. There is a two minute rest session between periods.

HHS cross country teams warm up for 1985 season

The Hereford High School cross country teams participated in a warm-up meet for the 1985 season Saturday in Levelland.

No team points were kept in the meet, and Hereford did not have complete teams participating, Coach Emerson also notes. Seven of the Hereford athletes ran in a cross country meet for the first time.

This Saturday, the Hereford teams will run in the Brownfield meet, which starts at 10 a.m.

In the girls' cross country race, Selma Moreno of Hereford, a senior, placed third in the two-mile race in a time of 13:41.

Third and fourth grade girls will play in a league that will allow one bounce of the ball.

In the fifth and sixth grade league, regular volleyball rules will be used along with a low net.

Practice starts on Sept. 23. Girls must supply their own tennis shoes, and optional knee pads.

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development bonds.

The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $190 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition and development of facilities for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political subdivisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 3 of House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million, if authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the legislature. The Texas agricultural water conservation bonds would be general obligations of the State of Texas, and would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury in each fiscal year. The amendment would allow Texas agricultural water conservation bonds to be issued and sold only for four years after the date on which this Act becomes a part of the constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance and sale of $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to authorize a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property if such relocation or replacement is done in conjunction with or immediately following the relocation or replacement of water mains serving the property. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the use of the proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund. Currently, the constitution requires that proceeds from the sale of such land be invested in certain bonds and other securities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 89 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts by determining the services the district must provide, by setting requirements a resident must meet in order to qualify for services, and by determining any other relevant provisions necessary for providing health care to residents.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the State of Texas to enter into an agreement with another state to confine inmates from the state of Texas in penal or correctional facilities of the other state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit state prisoners to be placed in penal facilities of another state pursuant to an interstate agreement."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of Chambers County to divide Chambers County into not less than two and not more than six justice precincts. Under current constitutional law, Chambers County may be divided into not less than two and not more than five justice precincts.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing Chambers County to be divided into two to six precincts."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant an additional $500 million in bonding authority to the Veterans' Land Board for the veterans' housing assistance program. Under the current constitution, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by Article III, Section 49-b-1 to issue and sell not more than $800 million in bonds, $500 million of which may be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. This amendment would increase that authorization to permit the issuance and sale of up to $1.3 billion in bonds, $1 billion of which would be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. In addition, the amendment would remove the current definition of "veteran" from the constitution and permit the legislature to redefine "veteran" as the changing times and circumstances require.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing $500 million in additional bonding authority for the veterans' housing assistance program and changing the definition of those veterans eligible to participate in the veterans' land program and the veterans' housing program by authorizing the legislature by law to define an eligible veteran for the purposes of those programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 72 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature either to enact a statute or to attach a rider to the General Appropriations Act to require prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of any funds appropriated by the legislature to state governmental agencies.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to protect public funds by authorizing prior approval of expenditure or emergency transfer of state appropriations."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be deposited in a fund to be known as the farm and ranch finance program fund. The fund would be administered by the Veterans' Land Board and would be used to make loans and provide other financial assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time would be limited to $500 million. The principal and interest that becomes due on such bonds in each fiscal year would be paid from amounts remaining in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, with the balance due to be appropriated from treasury revenues in the fiscal year when such amounts become due.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide financing assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would define indictments and informations as instruments charging a person with the commission of an offense, and would delete certain technical requirements as to the form of writs and processes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the manner in which a person is charged with a criminal offense and to certain requirements applicable to state writs and processes."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from federal appellate courts. In addition, the two courts would promulgate rules of procedure relating to the review of those questions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment granting the Supreme Court of Texas and the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment, and would provide that reapportionment will be the responsibility of the Legislative Redistricting Board if the Judicial Districts Board fails to make a timely reapportionment. The amendment would provide for the creation of judicial districts smaller than a county in counties where the creation of such districts has been approved by the voters at a general election. The amendment would provide for more than one judge for a judicial district. The amendment would rename supreme judicial districts as courts of appeals districts. The amendment would provide that the jurisdiction and terms of court of district and county courts may be as provided by law. The amendment would provide for the jurisdiction of justice courts, which may have additional jurisdiction as provided by law. The amendment would provide for rules of judicial administration and civil procedure to be promulgated by the Supreme Court, and would provide that the legislature may delegate additional rule making power to the Supreme Court or to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The amendment would provide that courts and judges in existence at the time of its adoption remain in existence until otherwise provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the reapportionment of the judicial districts of the state by the Judicial Districts Board or by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of constitutional courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of County Treasurer in Andrews County and transfer the powers and duties of that office to the County Auditor. The amendment would also abolish the office of County Treasurer in El Paso County if, at the statewide election at which this amendment is submitted to the voters, a majority of the voters who vote in El Paso County favor the amendment. The functions of the office of El Paso County Treasurer will be performed by a person employed or designated by the El Paso County Commissioners Court. The amendment also provides for the abolition of the office of County Surveyor in Denton, Randall, Collin, Dallas, El Paso, and Henderson Counties upon approval of such abolition by a majority of the voters who vote on the question at an election called by the commissioners court of the county. If the office of County Surveyor is abolished in any county, the commissioners court may employ or contract with any qualified person to perform the duties of the office.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for:

(1) the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Andrews County and El Paso County;

(2) the abolition of the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson, and Randall Counties."

Sculptor uses ordinary items to create art

By CAROL FERGUSON Greenville Herald Banner

GREENVILLE, Texas (AP)—Ordinary fabrics, laundry starch and aluminum wire may seem unusual mediums for an artist, but Waynette Davis uses household items to fashion her fiber sculptures.

Mrs. Davis once used the more traditional medium of paint on canvas, but eventually she found the two-dimensional boundaries too restrictive.

"I became so involved in the technical part of creating — the mechanics — that I couldn't express my ideas naturally or let them change as I worked," she said. "I began experimenting with other materials, using small boxes and creating an environment inside, almost like miniatures."

Two years ago she turned to fiber sculptures, fragile shells of starch-stiffened fabric supported inside by skeletons of aluminum wire mounted in concrete bases.

Both in line and texture her work often reveals her affinity for plants and trees, and she uses a unique photographic process to transfer the image of bark to certain areas of fabric.

"I photograph tree bark and then make an 8-by-10 positive print," she said. "Then I coat the fabric with watercolor and gum bichromate, put the material and the positive between two plates of glass, leave this in the sun for about 10 minutes, and the fabric picks up the pattern."

"I never wanted to be a sculptor in the beginning," she confessed. "I thought sculpture had to be heavy handed. Working with hammers, nails and welding seemed so masculine, but these pieces are lighter, more feminine. I can be spontaneous, and I can use something ordinary to express my thoughts."

"I've always sewn, so I've been drawn to fabrics," said the Houston native. "Even the starching process seems natural. It's like washing clothes when I dip the fabrics."

Six of her works were displayed this summer at Conduit gallery in Dallas. Four were as tall as Mrs. Davis. Like the rest of her creations, they deal with the theme of life and death, birth and growth, struggle and resurrection.

An earlier piece, "Ascension" is eight feet tall and resembles a dead tree at the base, with the coloration and texture of ancient bark. As the viewer's eye moves upward, however, he becomes aware that the object is gradually changing into something living, topped with almost feather-like leaves.

All of her sculptures are titled, a point she considers important. "Titles give the viewer a handle," she said. "I don't like to see a piece labeled 'Untitled.' It's like being introduced to someone without giving a name."

With a title as a starting point, art can reach out to viewers through their senses, said Mrs. Davis. "I try to create a sensitivity in texture that people will respond to it bodily, without thinking ... like children do. Children don't analyze. They just feel."

"I hope people can feel what I do when I see trees — the whole regenerative process," she said. "Because I believe in something higher than ourselves, I believe art must express this concept. To me art is not just decorative, not just self-expression for the sake of self-expression. It's a means to an end — it has to have a message."

But she says, she doesn't want to judge another artist's work.

"I don't want to have a censored view," she said. "If an artist is expressing himself through a piece of work, then at least that's honest."

She says the inspiration for much of her work comes during her morning jogging sessions.

"You get to the point where you're physically too tired from running to worry about little things, and then ideas just come," she said. "Of course I'm running through a beautiful wooded area, too, which helps."

Mrs. Davis, who holds both bachelor's and master's degrees in fine arts, is not the only artist in her family. Her husband, Lee Baxter Davis, teaches drawing and printmaking at East Texas State University. He works primarily in pen and ink and watercolors, and he exhibits frequently.

"We have a similar philosophy about what art should be, but images, tools and techniques differ," she said. "We feed each other a lot of ideas. I don't think I'd be an artist if I didn't have a husband who is so supportive."

Since both parents are working artists, one might expect the Davis children, Nathan and Anya, to follow in the same line.

"No, they've gone completely the other way," said their mother, laughing. "They don't care a thing about it."

Heat brings prickly itch

Hot under the collar about wilted plants, soaring electric bills, and other plagues of the hot weather? You may have to sweat out another problem before it's all over.

Prickly heat, an itchy irritation that may occur in spots too embarrassing to scratch in public, can strike when sweat glands get clogged. Trapped sweat then causes the itching and prickling that give the problem its name, the Texas Medical Association says. In addition to itchy annoyance, tiny red or clear blisters appear.

Prickly heat most often occurs in hot, humid weather—or sometimes in cool weather if the victim wears too many clothes. But almost all treatment involves avoid sweating in the affected area and keeping it cool and dry.

If the condition does not go away, there may be another cause for the symptoms and medical treatment may be necessary. But in the meantime, wear light weight and light-colored clothes and stay in a cool place to avoid some of the uncomfortable symptoms of hot weather.

New study says five states will account for half of U.S. growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's population increase will continue to concentrate on the Sun Belt, with just five states accounting for more than half of all growth by the year 2000, a private economic research group says.

But while growth will remain focused on the South and the West, the National Planning Association also had good news for some Midwestern and Eastern states that have lost people in recent years. Only West Virginia, the District of Columbia and New York state are expected to see population declines by 2000, the research group said. That contrasts with 1983 Census Bureau projections that anticipated declines in nine states and the District.

The Planning Association, an independent Washington-based research group, said California will add 6,668,000 people between 1980 and 2000 to lead all states. The group said the combination of California, Florida, Texas, Arizona and North Carolina will account for 21,800,000 added people by 2000, or 54 percent of the nation's total additions. Add Georgia, Washington, Colorado, Virginia and Tennessee to that list and the total is 27,518,000, or 68 percent of the expected national growth. Even though growth continues to concentrate in the South and West, the report anticipated improvements in other areas, too. For example, in the Northeast, the planning association projected that Massachusetts would be the biggest gainer, adding 560,000 people, while Michigan was expected to lead the Midwest, adding 549,000.

In its most recent projections, issued two years ago, the Census Bureau had anticipated that Massachusetts would lose 246,600 people between 1980 and 2000, and Michigan would drop 50,700.

Planning association spokesman Carlton M. Strong said that while his group uses many of the same base figures as the Census experts, it places more emphasis on economic changes. The Census Bureau projections were based on changes in birth and death rates and migration patterns, projected from the experience of the 1970s, according to its 1983 study.

Most of the differences in population growth among the states can be attributed to the migration of people responding to job opportunities, according to Strong. However, this varies considerably by age group, with the result that the population of people aged 65 and over is expected to grow more sharply in Arizona and Florida and to a much lesser extent in Illinois and New York.
