Excel workers get benefit

Excel employees will be receiving cash payments of between $100 and $350 today, recognizing their contribution to improving overall safety and reducing worker compensation costs at the plants in Friona and Plainview.

The 3,000 workers will divide at least $400,000. The amount of individual checks will vary depending on length of service with the company, but all non-management employees will receive at least $100, said Friona plant general manager Terry Wilkerson.

Wilkerson said that safety and training programs initiated by the company, efforts by employees, and Excel's opting out of the Texas worker's compensation program enabled the company to prevent injuries and reduce costs associated with injuries.

"Our workforce's dedication to producing quality products with a greater emphasis on safety helped reduce injuries to employees," said Wilkerson. "The most important result was the benefit to the health of individual employees, but a secondary result was a dramatic reduction in medical claims. We're using this one-time disbursement to share a portion of that savings with those responsible for implementing the expanded safety programs."

Castro made bond later in the day Sunday and was released.

Pair tie in football contest

Two persons had a flat-footed tie for first place in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Bobbie Kitchens of Hereford and Paul Guyer of Amarillo each missed four games and picked the same score on the Levelland-Hereford tie-breaker. Because of the exact tie, they will split first- and second-place money, getting $20 in Hereford Bucks.

Placing third was Gayle Cotten of Hereford. He also missed four games and edged Bruce Hernandez of Hereford on the tie-breaker. Cotten will win $10 in Hereford Bucks for his effort.

Another 13 entrants missed only five games in last week's contest.

City considers fees for center

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

Use of the Hereford Community Center, previously free, will cost some not-for-profit groups as well as profit-making enterprises when a policy is completed by the Hereford City Commission.

An outline of proposals for use of the center was presented to the commission Monday evening by City Manager Chester Nolen.

A healthy fiscal picture for the City of Hereford was given the commission in an audit report for the year ending April 30.

The commission also heard a request from the Hereford High School Student Council and awarded a contract for engineering services for installation of an irrigation system at John Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

Commissioners delayed action on the Community Center policy until the next regular meeting to allow Nolen and city staff members an opportunity to amend and refine the proposals.

Purpose of imposing charges is to cover costs that have been incurred in the past by the city in cleaning and upkeep of the facility.

Among charges being considered are:
-- A $15 per hour cleaning fee for non-profit groups.
-- A $100 deposit for cleaning for profit-making rental as well as a $250 deposit to cover damage.

-- Rental fees of $12.50 per hour with two-hour minimum for a room and $35 per hour, two-hour minimum, for the ballroom, for profit-makers or fundraising events by non-profit organizations.

In the proposed policy for the building, priority would be granted non-profit group use but only if a profit-making enterprise has not paid the required deposit.

Mayor Tom LeGate suggested that the policy also address the issue of use by business or non-profit groups from "outside the city's taxing jurisdiction."

He indicated, though, that decisions on requests from outside Hereford or Deaf Smith County should be referred to a committee for action.

The policy outlined by Nolen also includes a ban on alcohol at the Community Center.

The audit for the last fiscal year, reviewed by Donna West of Brown, Graham and Company, showed the city's undesignated reserve general fund stood at $993,646 at the end of the year, an increase of approximately $286,000 from the previous year.

The water and sewer department undesignated reserve fund showed a modest increase, from $1.239 million to $1.257 million, during the year.

Undesignated reserves provide the city with operating capital and emergency funding through the year.

Representatives of the HHS Student Council asked permission to "stencil bullheads on streets around and near Whiteface Stadium."

There was no agenda item on the request but commissioners informally agreed to permit the project.

The council members were cautioned not to paint on state-maintained streets and were asked to notify the city when the project gets underway so a police officer may be assigned for traffic control in the area.

A contract of $5,500 was awarded to Southern Irrigation Consultants for engineering services related to proposed installation of a watering system on the front nine holes of the city-owned golf course.

Nolen said he expects the engineering report to be finished by January, adding that the goal is to have the system finished by next golf season.

A bid of $650 per month for cleaning the city hall and police station was accepted from Norma Villarreal on a trial basis for three months.

A request submitted by Otonofest sponsors, San Jose and St. Anthony's Catholic Churches, to conduct a bingo game in Dameron Park Sunday was approved, providing appropriate licensing from the Texas Alcohol Beverage Commission is obtained.

Security and cleanup will be responsibility of sponsors.

A bid of $3,650.85 was accepted for seal-coating the parking area at the Community Center. Submitting the bid was A-1 Asphalt.

UWDSC reaches 31%

The United Way of Deaf Smith County has reached 30 percent of its goal for the 1991 campaign, according to division chairmen at Monday's campaign report meeting.

Money raised during the campaign, which continues through October, will help 12 local agencies in 1992. Benefiting from the campaign will be Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire, Children's Rehabilitation Center, High Plains Epilepsy Foundation, Family Services, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Senior Citizens, Hereford YMCA and the Hereford Outreach Office of the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center of Amarillo.

The campaign has raised $47,061, 31 percent of its $150,000 goal. "I want to thank everyone for the good job they are doing," said Lewis McDaniel, UWDSC president.

Among the highlights of the report meeting were:
--Audrey Powell, chairman of the Golden Age division, said area senior citizens have pledged $5,700, over half of the $11,000 goal. She said campaign chairman Don Cumpston had spoken to the lunch crowd at the Senior Center and to the Golden K Kiwanis. She will begin a telephone campaign next week.

--Wayne Amstutz, chairman of the Metro division, said they have raised $8,357 in pledges so far. The "Kiss A Pig" contest at Hereford Junior High School raised over $270, and a special competition has been coordinated by Rose Mary Shook for students at the three intermediate schools.

Kyla McDowell, UWDSC executive director, said a special competition will be held between grades at Hereford High School.

Carlson, Urbanczyk win top 4-H honors

Jeffery Carlson and Lori Urbanczyk earned the Gold Star Awards at the annual Deaf Smith County 4-H Achievement Banquet held Sunday at the Bull Barn.

The honor is the top award for 4-H'ers.
Carlson, 18, is the son of Roy and Shirley Carlson of Hereford.

"Agriculture is a way of life and he has used 4-H to seek in-depth knowledge of agriculture," said Dennis Newton, Deaf Smith County Extension Agent. "Using an appreciation of the old-fashioned way of life and the modern technological advances, he has taught others about the importance of farming, ranching and feeding the world."

Carlson has worked with younger 4-H'ers, along with senior citizens, Young Farmers and the American Legion. He is the president of his 4-H club and is the secretary of the county 4-H Council.

Urbanczyk, 16, is the daughter of Tony and Loretta Urbanczyk of Hereford. She has been active in livestock, clothing and textiles, consumer decision making, food-nutrition and food conservation projects.

"She has been an outstanding leader of younger 4-H'ers and she has used her personal philosophy that 4-H paves the way for the future to help others gain leadership skills through 4-H," Newton said.

Earning the I Dare You Awards were Don Metcalf and Karon Harder.

Metcalf, active in 4-H for six years, has participated in public speaking, livestock and dairy judging, citizenship, veterinary science, shooting sports and swine projects.

He displayed his leadership skills in providing an opportunity for handicapped students to learn about livestock and provided an opportunity for a foster child to learn about caring for farm animals.

Harder has been involved in public speaking, clothing, consumer decision making, housing and home environment, food-nutrition and gardening projects. She has worked with teaching and helping others while volunteering to help in 4-H and community projects.

The Friend of 4-H award was presented to the Westway and Ford extension homemaker clubs. The clubs were honored by Ted Peabody, president of the county parent-leader association, for their ongoing work with 4-H projects and activities.

"We have chosen to give the award to two clubs and 30 members who have tirelessly assisted in holding fund raisers and donating those funds to Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers," said Peabody. "Spending time in holding pheasant hunter dinners and sponsoring craft and hobby shows are main annual fund raisers these two clubs have organized for many years to assist in making donations to 4-H for activities and projects."

Others earning special awards were Robin Bell and Ian Isaacson, the rookie 4-H'ers of the year, and Jill Dutton (senior), Cady Auckerman (intermediate) and Jaime Steiert (junior) for best record books in the county.

Allegations may change court vote

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate moved toward a climactic confirmation vote today on Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas despite a plea by an early Senate supporter for a delay to review sexual harassment allegations.

The allegations by a former assistant, coming just before the vote that was expected to send Thomas to a lifetime seat on the nation's highest court, plunged the Senate into tumult Monday.

One Democrat, James Exon of Treatment of cancer to be training topic

Deaf Smith General Hospital will host a one-day nurse training session Thursday on treatment of cancer patients. The in-service session will be presented by Houston's M.D. Anderson Cancer Center.

The special session will be for DSGH nurses, as well as those from home health agencies and area nursing homes.

"Nurses, even in small hospitals, are caring for patients who have received chemotherapy or have major symptoms resulting from cancer treatments," said Renee Hammock, RN, director of nursing at DSGH. "This one-day program will increase our skills in handling this type of patient."

Officials of the nursing outreach program at UT M.D. Anderson Cancer Center receive several telephone calls each month from Nebraska, withdrew his support for Thomas because of the allegations by Anita Hill, a University of Oklahoma law professor and former assistant to Thomas.

Several other senators said they wanted to read an FBI report on the alleged improprieties, said to have occurred in the early 1980s, but did not drop their support.

Senate Democratic leader George Mitchell of Maine said the vote would proceed as scheduled at 6 p.m. EDT.

Only a unanimous agreement to a delay could alter that time. "If the vote were 7 o'clock tonight, I would not vote to confirm because I would not have an opportunity to make a judgment," Exon said Monday.

As of late last week, Thomas had appeared assured of 54 votes, from 41 Republicans and 13 Democrats. Sen. James Jeffords of Vermont, who had been counted as undecided, became the first Republican to oppose Thomas.

Sen. Harry Reid, D-Nev., said he would reconsider his commitment to vote for Thomas.

Other Democrats who had been counted as supporting Thomas' confirmation, and who asked to read the FBI report, included Joseph Lieberman of Connecticut, Sam Nunn of Georgia, Richard Shelby of Alabama, Richard Bryan of Nevada, David Boren of Oklahoma and Alan Dixon of Illinois.

The White House denounced Hill's allegation as a smear and President Bush said he was unconcerned by them.

"He still has my full confidence," Bush said of Thomas.

Hill was an assistant to Thomas at the Education Department and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission during the Reagan administration, and the White House attempted to discredit her by providing names of EEOC employees who could vouch for Thomas' character. The administration also pointed out discrepancies in the chronology of her allegations.

Hill responded to questions during a televised news conference from Norman, Okla., where she urged the Senate to investigate and consider her accusations that Thomas had harassed her with talk of sex and pornographic movies.

Hill, 35, appearing calm and controlled but anguished, said Thomas made the remarks after she turned down his request for a date.

Home health care coverage can make recovery more comfortable.

Full recovery from a serious illness can take much longer than a stay in the hospital... especially if the patient is elderly. Recuperation at home can be more comfortable and secure. It can also cost your parents or your family a lot of money for which Medicare does not reimburse you.

That's why the CNA Insurance Companies, one of several major companies our independent agency represents, created a new Home Health Care Plan. It provides coverage your parents and your own family may need to help pay the costs of professional health services performed at home.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I realize that many people have problems that are much more serious than this one but I'm so upset, I just had to write to you. If I am too sensitive, please say so.

Several years ago, my first grandchild was born on my birthday. What greater gift could anyone receive than the birth of a healthy, beautiful granddaughter? Unfortunately, this seems to have upset my daughter and son-in-law. They feel that their child should not have to share her special day with anyone. My birthday has never been mentioned since.

Several days ago, I was with my daughter and son-in-law on my granddaughter's birthday. I kissed her and wished her a happy birthday. I then told her that it was my birthday, too. This angered my son-in-law. He abruptly turned around and walked away. My daughter became cold as ice.

Ann, was I out of line? Did I diminish my granddaughter's day by mentioning that it was my birthday also? If I'm in the wrong I will apologize. Please give me your opinion. No name or city, please. Just sign me—A Granny in New York

DEAR NEW YORK: Apologize? What for? You were born first.

Your daughter and her husband sound like a couple of spoiled brats. Since they obviously feel that you are hogging in on their child's birthday, I suggest that you manage to be somewhere else on that day from now on.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't recall ever seeing garage sales addressed in your column.

Let me start by saying I consider them an eyesore to the neighborhood. Who wants to see the front lawn of a neighbor's home littered with broken appliances and old clothes? I don't enjoy looking out my window and seeing the faded pajamas of the guy next door being offered for a quarter. While there are some bargains to be found, most of the stuff is junk.

In addition to the tackiness of these events, garage sales are dangerous to both pedestrians and drivers. One can be driving along at a normal speed and suddenly be forced to step on the brakes as traffic comes to a dead halt. For what? A garage sale two blocks down the street. Then it's bumper to bumper all the way. One also must watch out for lunatic passengers who jump in and out of cars while the drivers search for a place to park.

I prefer to donate unwanted items to charity, but if people want cash for their trash, couldn't certain areas be designated for garage sales as they are for flea markets? By the way, hoping to escape from the Houston garage sales for a while, I returned to my hometown of Chicago recently, and guess what I ran into. More garage sales!—Beth, Houston, Texas

DEAR BETH: I'm no authority on garage sales, but I do know several collectors of substance who claim to have found some incredibly valuable items at garage sales for next to nothing. Also, bargain-hunting can be quite a lot of fun, so don't knock it if you haven't tried it.

Gem of the Day (Credit Dean Martin): "I would feel a lot better about middle age if I knew more 100-year-old people."

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Appliances improve over past 10 years

For AP Special Features
Some of the features homeowners prefer on major appliances today didn't exist 10 years ago, according to a survey of the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers' member companies.

Among the amenities new in the last decade:

Microwave Ovens: Popcorn settings, add-a-minute cycles (add 60 seconds of high power to cooking cycles in progress), built-in automatic turntables.

Ranges: Electronic touch controls, solid element cooktops, sealed gas burners, fast-cooking halogen elements, delay-start on self-cleaning, three oven racks and six rack positions.

Refrigerators and freezers: Door shelves that hold a six-pack and gallon-size containers, a warning alarm when door is ajar or freezer temperatures have risen, wine storage racks with special temperature and humidity levels.

Dishwashers: Delay-start programming, extra insulation to reduce noise, clips to hold down lightweight items that tend to flip and fill with water.

Washers and Dryers: Stacked units in full sizes, control overlays in languages other than English, settings in Braille for visually-impaired.

Air Conditioners: Slim profiles, low-rise units that are under 7 inches high, built-in handles and leveling legs to make installation easier, timer for preset start and stop.

The body constantly produces new cells for the purpose of growth and repair—about 500,000 daily.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have numerous spray cans, perfumes and bug sprays that have stopped spraying after being used only a few times.

I have tried taking the nozzle off and soaking it in hot water overnight and cleaning it out with a pin, but it hasn't helped. What can you suggest that will be a miracle worker, not only now but for years to come? — B.E. Moore, Tustin, Calif.

We usually suggest the two steps that you have already mentioned. Unfortunately, the only suggestion we can give is to take the product back to the place of purchase or to send it directly back to the manufacturer.

One word of warning: Never puncture or put anything into the valve stem (the little white tube coming out of the can) because the product could spray into your eyes. — Heloise

STUFFED ANIMALS

Dear Heloise: In regard to your answer to R.T.H. of Billings, Mont., I have found that I can clean all of my daughter's stuffed animals quite easily by putting one or two in a pillow case.

I then wash them on the regular cycle just like I would a shirt. Of course, make sure there are no holes or tears in the animals and tie a knot to close the pillow case. — N.A.L., Middletown, Va.

HANDY BOOKMARKS

Dear Heloise: The cardboard pieces that are used to divide a box of tea bags make great bookmarks. I decorate them and I have even given a few to friends and family. — C.M.L., Boston, Mass.

TRAVELING HINT

Dear Heloise: Whenever I pack to go on a trip or vacation, I always include several plastic bags in my luggage. They are a necessity! I use them to hold dirty laundry. Also, they are handy for odds and ends.

Recently on a trip to the coast, I used one of the bags to hold some beautiful sea shells I found. — Kelly G., Provo, Utah

Hereford's Jarrit Edwards nails a two-handed shot during a match against Dumas' Tommy Brady Saturday at Whiteface Courts. When Edwards won 6-3, 6-3, he completed a sweep of 18 Hereford wins in 18 matches.

Netters sweep Dumas

The Hereford High School tennis team swept the Dumas team by winning all 18 matches Saturday at Whiteface Courts. It was the third district team tennis match for the Whitefaces. They are 2-0 pending the completion of the match against Pampa. The match was originally reported as a 10-8 loss for Hereford, but two of the girls singles matches will be replayed Oct. 18. The team will also play twice this week. They were scheduled to host Canyon, state champion among 1A, 2A and 3A schools, at 4 p.m. today, then to meet District 1-4A foe Caprock in Amarillo at 1 p.m. Saturday. Last Saturday's team match with

Dumas was not close, even for a sweep. Hereford lost no sets and only 40 games while winning 216 games. Especially dominating were the six girls' singles players, who won 72 games and lost five. "The kids played well," Hereford coach Kim King said. "They were really focused. We had some kids who were struggling that came through." Girls' singles went like this: Bri Reinauer def. Thao Nguyen 6-0, 6-0; Robyn Sublett def. Tammy Greer 6-0, 6-0; Emily Fuston def. Mai Nguyen 6-1, 6-1; Sherry Fuston def. Misty Lesly 6-1, 6-0; Michelle Berend def. Heather Williamson 6-1, 6-1; and Jennifer LeGate def. Amy Curtis 6-0, 6-0. In girls' doubles: Fuston/Fuston def. T. Nguyen/Greer 6-0, 6-3; Reinauer/Sublett def. M. Nguyen/Lesly 6-3, 6-0; and Berend/LeGate def. Williamson/Curtis 6-1, 6-0. In boys' singles: Torey Sellers def. Jason Chesser 6-1, 6-1; Jamie Kapka def. B.J. Allison 6-1, 6-1; Donnie Perales def. Mike Moore 6-1, 6-1; Chris Lyles def. Jason Lewis 6-1, 6-3; Jarrit Edwards def. Tommy Brady 6-3, 6-3; and Richard Drager def. Shane David 6-1, 6-1. In boys' doubles: Kapka/Sellers def. Chesser/Lewis 6-0, 6-0; Lyles/Perales def. Allison/Moore 6-1, 6-2; and Edwards/Mario Martinez def. Brady/David 6-4, 6-3.

Another win for Hereford

Spikers pummel Pampa

The Hereford Lady Whitefaces pounded Pampa 15-5, 15-1 Saturday in a District 1-4A volleyball match. Hereford improves its district record to 2-1 and 17-3 overall. Pampa remains winless in district and is 10-9 overall. "We blocked well, which is something we've been working on," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "We also served well. We only had one service error, and we only had one service receiving error." Shantel Cornelius had seven kills and three stuffs for the Herd, and Brek Binder had six kills and two stuffs. Lori Sanders had four kills and Jennifer Hicks had three kills. From the service line, Kyanne Lindley had nine points, Binder had seven and Cornelius had six. Reeh said Pampa did not exactly pack its home gym. "Our kids did a good job of creating enthusiasm," she said. "There weren't a lot of people in Pampa. It was a quiet gym and sometimes that's hard to play in. I think there were more people from Hereford at the game."

The Hereford junior varsity also had a fairly easy time of it, winning 15-12, 15-5. Reeh said that the first JV game went back and forth until Pampa missed a few serves toward the end. "That helped us get the momentum," she said. "The second game just went six rotations. We took care of them pretty handily." Both Hereford teams play Caprock today in Whiteface Gym, with the JV starting at 6:30 p.m.

Male harriers 7th in Dumas

The Hereford boys' cross country team finished seventh at the Dumas Invitational Meet Saturday, while the girls' team did not get a team score. "We started with only five runners and one was unable to finish, so we had no team score," coach Martha Emerson said. "Our top runner, Ricka Williams, was sick and did not go to the meet." Belinda Murillo was the girls top finisher Saturday, placing 43rd with a time of 14:08. Veronica Hernandez was one place behind her at 14:11, Jill Dutton was 89th in 15:24 and Renee Banner was 96th in 15:31. The boys were led by Jack Borden, who finished the three miles in 16:14, good for sixth place. It was his best time of the year, Emerson said. At seventh with 172 points, Hereford's boys' team was directly behind three District 1-4A schools. Randall was fourth with 116 points, Borger was fifth with 129 and Pampa was sixth with 157. Amarillo High won the meet with 58 points, followed by River Road with 96 and Boys Ranch with 98. The other Hereford boys were Armando Garza at 35th in 17:37; Pedro Dominguez, 42, 17:55; Aurelio San Miguel, 43, 17:57; Chris Hart, 54, 18:10; Chancy Bainum, 71, 19:02; and Eric Davis, 84, 20:05. The junior varsity girls "ran very well," Emerson said, gathering 58 points to finish second to Perryton with 46. They were led by Nora Herrera, who finished eighth with a time of 14:12. She was followed by Rita Soto, 9th, 14:13; Karon Harder, 13, 14:20; Gina Haschke, 19, 14:30; Laura Rangel, 34, 15:07; Isabel Chapa, 35, 15:10; and Brandie Webb, 52, 15:48. Three other girls ran in the JV race but didn't count for points: Linda Martinez finished 18th in 14:18; Jamie Morgan was 87th in 17:46; and eighth-grader Cady Auckerman ran in 16:50. One Hereford boy ran in the JV race. Leon Garcia finished 19th with a time of 19:01.

Britten leads girl golfers

Hereford High School golfers started their five-week fall golf season Saturday with the girls in Pampa and the boys in Amarillo. The girls' team, which this year returns virtually all of the squad which went to the state tournament in the spring, played a triangular match against Pampa and Amarillo High at Hidden Hills Golf Course. Hereford shot 389, which beat Pampa's 395 but was beaten by Amarillo's 360. Hereford's Paula Britten led all golfers with an 84, beating the 87 shot by Amarillo High's Hallie Schneider and the 90 of Pampa's Diana Pulse. Other Hereford girls' scores were 97 for Jennifer Prater, 102 for Cecelia

Albracht, 106 for Stephanie Walls and 113 for Kelly Kelso. Hereford's boys were at Southwest Golf Course in Amarillo, playing a triangular match against Plainview and Tascosa. Plainview won with a total of 302, followed by Tascosa at 325 and Hereford at 330. Jayson Mines led Hereford with a 79, the fifth-best score of the match. Plainview's Shawn Savage shot a 70, followed by teammates Kevin Reeves at 75 and Bobby Edwards at 76. Greg Johnson led Tascosa with a 75. Hereford's Santry Hacker, which tied for sixth overall, followed by Mikel Walser with an 81, Tim Burkhalter with a 90 and Josh Patridge with a 92. This Saturday, the boys will be at Huber Golf Course in Borger, and the girls will be at Southwest Golf Course in Amarillo.

Rickman all-around in Wheeler

Chasity Rickman tied for all-around cowgirl honors at the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association rodeo Saturday in Wheeler. She had 20 points, as did Lorissa Edmondson of Hub City. Justin Henderson, a member of the Hereford team, came in second in bareback with a score of 52. Rickman, who lives in Hereford but rodeos for the Adrian team, won goat-tying with a time of 9.947 seconds. She was also second in barrels with a time of 17.243 and fourth in pole bending in 21.985. The TSHSRA will have its Directors' rodeo Saturday in Canadian. The first performance will be at 10 a.m., the team roping will be at 1 p.m. and the second performance will be at 3 p.m.

Chiefs 'pound, pound, pound' Buffalo

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Buffalo's explosive offense kept going off in the Bills' face. The Kansas City Chiefs did what they do best - run the football - and recovered all five Buffalo fumbles in a 33-6 pounding of the Bills Monday night.

Jenkins denies cheap shots

WACO, Texas (AP) - Houston coach John Jenkins has denied allegations that the Cougars were instructed to take a cheap shot at the eighth-ranked Bears Saturday night at the Astrodome.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff said Monday that he learned Houston coaches had told their defensive unit to jump offside en masse on the Bears' first play.

Tempers flared throughout the game, which Baylor won 38-21, ending the Cougars' 15-game Astrodome winning streak.

Houston and Baylor players had to be separated by coaches at the end of the game after a few players ended the final play scuffling in a pile. Officials warned both benches in the first half to control players.

"That's our game - straight at them: pound, pound, pound," said Chiefs tackle Rich Baldinger after the Chiefs knocked Buffalo from the ranks of the unbeaten. "We took control of the game. We didn't make mistakes."

The Bills, on the other hand, made plenty of mistakes. And they were costly.

Kansas City's first touchdown, a 1-yard pass from Steve DeBerg to Pete Holohan just 44 seconds into the second period, completed a 77-yard drive that began when linebacker Lonnie Marts recovered Bills quarterback Jim Kelly's fumble. It was a taste of things to come. Derrick Thomas had four sacks and forced Kelly to fumble on three of them. Bill Maas had two more sacks, and also caused Kelly to fumble once.

"We looked at it like Marv said before the game: Whoever wins the turnover battle will win the game," Kelly said. "I fumbled four times and you just can't have that."

Kelly said it was a combination of a strong pass rush and good coverage by the Chiefs' secondary that led to the sacks.

"If a team can succeed in running the ball as well as they did, you're in for a long night," said Buffalo coach

Marv Levy, who once coached the Chiefs. "They just overpowered us. I hope we're not as bad as we looked. I think most routs - and this was a rout - are not indicative of the difference between the two teams."

Nick Lowery got Kansas City on the scoreboard first with a 41-yard field goal. Scott Norwood kicked 44- and 25-yard field goals for Buffalo, and Lowery answered with a 40-yard kick to give the Chiefs a 13-6 halftime lead.

"We didn't think we were going to get manhandled," Bills linebacker Shane Conlon said. "No one thinks they're going to play on Monday night and get manhandled."

But that's exactly what happened. Christian Okoye gained 130 yards on 29 carries and Harvey Williams had 103 yards on 20 carries.

Kansas City outgained the Bills 397-210, the most yards the Chiefs have gained since last Dec. 2 at New England and the fewest they have given up since last Dec. 29 at Chicago.

Buffalo had been averaging more than 32 points and 450 yards a game in winning their first five. The Chiefs had held their first five opponents to an average 12.6 points a game.

Lowery's 24-yarder with 10:39 gone in the third period boosted

Kansas City's lead to 16-6. Then cornerback Kevin Ross recovered Thurman Thomas' fumble on the Buffalo 17 and, two plays later, Okoye rumbled into the end zone from the 5.

On the next series, Derrick Thomas stripped the ball from Kelly and nose tackle Dan Saleaumua fell on it on the Buffalo 11. It took Kansas City four plays before Okoye bulled his way in from the 2.

A field goal and two touchdowns, all in a span of 2 minutes, 2 seconds.

When defensive end Neil Smith fell on another Kelly fumble, Lowery completed the scoring with a 22-yarder.
