OIL MEN TO HEAR C. C. SMALL Humble To Withdraw From Three Texas Counties

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

No city of the state would be a more appropriate place for a conference of independent oil men, land and royalty owners than Big Spring, right at this time. It is, therefore, fortunate, that the Independent Petroleum Association, through the good offices of its executive vice president, Claud Wild, chose Big Spring for tonight's meeting.

Proration as it is practiced in Texas not only is new, but also iniquitous. The fact is there is no definite legal basis for it. Some of these days some fellow is liable to cause an awful stir with a law suit on something akin to one.

Proration does not remedy the things for which its proponents claim it was devised. Rather, it creates conditions or eliminates conditions, which ever the larger companies wish it was at first promulgated under the guise of prevention of actual waste. That it was really a device to prevent economic waste could never be successfully denied, although there certainly has been, in some isolated cases, less actual waste because wells were not allowed to flow wide open.

But, speaking of flowing wells and flush fields. There are no such wells and this is no such field. This Howard and Glasscock county area. This field offers no threat upon the market. It would not at this time be a material factor in creating further overproduction, if indeed, any overproduction exists.

It appears rather plainly that the advisory committee, which formulates rules to be administered by the proration umpire, has devised the new Howard-Glasscock regulations for one purpose. That purpose is to stop drilling in the deeper or "sour" oil pays.

This already has been almost completely. The companies that in the final analysis dictate, the actions of the advisory committee do not want to buy this low gravity oil. They would rather buy Ector county crude or Hobbs oil, which is produced from their own wells. This really is nothing you can do about it except to arouse public sentiment.

The so-called majors, the major majors if you please, do not fear law suits. They thrive upon them. But let the voting public become aroused, and that's a different story.

The present condition in the local field is no fault of the umpire. The advisory committee has framed the rules, which are so complicated hardly any superintendent really knows how much oil he can run. We doubt whether the committee really understood what their rules were all about by the time they were completed. They did know this, though: those rules, if continued in force long enough, will stop drilling in this field.

Another thing: suppose the field is kept closed down like this for awhile. Is it not reasonable to predict that the major purchasers of crude might figure they could come along and tell the small producers that if you'll take, say 60 cents, or less, per barrel, for this oil we'll run all you can produce? Just occurred to us, that's all.

It is not healthful financially to attack or oppose the big boys. But, the interests of Big Spring and Howard and Glasscock counties demand a rebellion against the high-handed methods being practiced in this matter. The land owners, the royalty holders, every merchant and tradesman, all of us will suffer.

If there must be proration let us have statewide proration based on a solid legal foundation, equitably administered for all fields and all wells. As it is Howard and Glasscock are being made to suffer.

PURCHASES WILL STOP ON JULY 1

Wichita, Wilbarger And Archer Are Affected

HOUSTON, June 6 (AP)—The Humble Company will withdraw from the Wilbarger, Archer and Wichita counties area as a purchaser of crude oil on July 1, W. S. Farish, president, said this afternoon.

"DON'T NEED IT"

There was no reason for the decision, he said, "except that we just don't need the oil."

"The pipeline, of course," Mr. Farish said, "being a common carrier will go right on carrying oil for those who offer it."

"Good Joke" Say Republicans Of Creager Drafting

DALLAS, June 6 (AP)—Republican party leaders called it a "good joke" but the Democratic state executive committee today was confronted with the paradoxical situation of having Rep. H. C. Williams, a Republican national committeeman from Texas, officially entitled to a place on the ballot as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Thirty persons had signed the application to place Creager's name on the ballot, which was received yesterday by Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the Democratic state committee. The name of H. C. Williams of Dallas headed the list. Johnson said that under the recent ruling of the supreme court in the case of state Senator Thomas B. Love, Creager undoubtedly was entitled to a place on the ballot.

Graf Zeppelin Finishes Voyage

FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Germany, June 6 (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, home from her 18,000 mile voyage to South America and the United States, landed at Friedrichshafen at 7:22 p. m. (1:22 p. m. E. S. T.)

The Graf thus completed safely a cruise lasting 19 days during which she made landing in Spain, Brazil and the United States and flew over the North African coast.

Her voyage from Seville to Friedrichshafen, which lasted 24 hours and 47 minutes, was without incident except for the last few hundred miles when the Graf veered away from the Rhone valley near Valencia and swung off to the northeast to Friedrichshafen in order to avoid a terrific electrical storm in the region of Lyons.

SAN ANGELO KIWANIAN VISIT HERE

Inter-City Session Draws Large Number To Crawford

Kiwanians of Big Spring and San Angelo matched oratory and appetites at the Crawford hotel Thursday evening. It was an inter-city meeting, at which the visiting members repaid a visit of several months ago by the local club.

H. G. Wendland, president of the San Angelo club, was toastmaster. The program was in charge of the inter-city relations committee, with J. M. Manuel as program chairman for the evening.

The dinner, which numbered 100 and included a number of women of both cities, were entertained by Mickey Rathbone's orchestra, which played for the regular weekly dance of the hotel later in the evening.

The oratory, wit, humor, pathos and other pyrotechnics of County Attorneys James Little and Bob Brown, Howard and Tom Green county, respectively, produced a lot of laughter and general good humor. The two county officials are former University of Texas classmates.

They plied through the realms of mythology, pathology, psychology, pride of life, of city and club and other things to entertain the folks.

Four Months Old Is Freddie Roy But He Knows What This Flying Is About

Freddie Roy Trainer, junior, despite that long name, is four months old and is very well informed as to the correct aeronautical nomenclature employed by those whose lot it is to be "air-minded."

Freddie Roy is one of the best "customers" at the Big Spring airport. In fact when he travels he travels by plane, or he doesn't budge an inch. Last week he, and his mother, Mrs. Fred Trainer who is visiting in the city, were passengers on Cromwell Airlines' southbound plane to San Antonio.

Pilot Jimmy Walker reported the tot an ideal passenger. In fact he amused himself by playing with the precious few things that are to be found for a baby to play with in an airplane.

From San Antonio the baby flew to Laredo.

Today as Pilot Gordon Darnell brought the Cromwell craft to a stop at the local airport, the four months old flying enthusiast, greeted John Blaine, his manager.

"The trip was fine," the baby gurgled, or at least such was the message radiated from the face of Freddie Roy. He dismounted laughing.

Darnell, too, reported the young air fan a perfect fan.

CHAUTAUQUA WILL BEGIN ON SATURDAY

Faced with slow sale of season tickets, and with the opening performance but a day away, the 25 citizens who underwrote the guarantee to bring the Chautauqua here for a five-day program were going ahead with their plans Friday afternoon, more than ever convinced that the program really merits the support of those who wish genuine entertainment.

Musical attractions, popular entertainers, comedies, drama, and authoritative lectures all find a place on this noble program.

The performance will be held in a large tent—real Chautauqua style—on West Third street.

The opening program will be a three-act comedy, "Other People's Business," a story of wealth and ambition, chock full of screamingly funny situations. Children will be delighted with Junior Town activities each morning, where they will learn new songs and games under leadership of a trained director.

A saving of more than one-half is made by purchase of season tickets, which are on sale at the Fox Drug company, Second and Main streets.

CHRYSLER DEALER IS NOW HERE

Robert & St. John Motor Company Opens Branch Store

The Robert & St. John Motor company of Abilene, West Texas distributors for the Chrysler and Plymouth lines of motor cars, has opened a branch office in Big Spring, having obtained a lease on the Otis Chalk building on West Third street, opposite the Montgomery Ward & Company store.

This firm recently acquired the territory from Sweetwater to Pecos and Winkler county, which was added to its former territory at Abilene, where it has handled the Chrysler line for three years.

L. G. Hall, formerly of the Chrysler Sales Corporation, as field representative in West Texas, will be in charge of the local establishment. Mr. Bell said the local store was necessary in order to care for the company's dealer organization in this territory, to render better service for dealers and owners and to afford immediate delivery of new cars through the stock trade in Big Spring trade territory. This store will afford better service for oil companies, many of them being owners of Chrysler-built motor cars.

"Big Spring should be the distributing center for the Permian Basin of West Texas," Mr. Bell declared.

Lions Club Hears Cranfill And C. C. Small

Senator Clint C. Small, Wellington, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, were the guests of the Lions Club at the regular luncheon held in the Crawford Hotel Annex dining room today.

C. C. Wild, executive vice-president, Tom Cranfill, president, Frank Killough, assistant to the vice president, and Charles I. Morgan, secretary and treasurer, represented the oil organization at the luncheon.

Senator Small spoke a few words to the members and guests, discussing the astounding growth of West Texas, the vigor and enthusiasm as manifest in Big Spring, and congratulated those present for the remarkable growth of this city.

Cranfill spoke on the oil situation, explaining the association he is president of is not solely for oil operators but for every business man whose properties are located in oil fields.

"The oil crop," he said, "is the biggest crop in Texas, and the situation the independent producer is now in affects every one in Texas. We're competing with the big companies and the operators and you as well are fighting for their bread and meat."

"The big companies have agitated this predicament and the independent has found himself in a place where he can't live under prevailing conditions."

"We are all interested in this problem not the oil man by himself."

The program was in charge of Jack Hodges, Jr. J. M. Manuel was the principal speaker, making an address on "The Influence of the Service Club."

Manuel urged the members to work in conjunction with members of other service clubs of the city "in creating a better influence among this and future generations."

"The influence of the service clubs here," he declared, "has made a better place of Big Spring. With every individual pulling together we can do even better."

Miss Peggy Brewer and A. R. Witt, furnished the entertainment. Popular numbers were sung by Miss Brewer, accompanied by Witt.

Members of the club signed a petition asking for a county library.

New members present were Carl L. Black, W. E. Bonham and W. D. Williams.

Guests present were Harold Lindley, Dallas, H. E. Dunagan, Jr., C. J. Morgan, Senator Clint C. Small, Mrs. Alice Phillips, Frank Killough, Tom Cranfill, C. C. Wild, Miss Peggy Brewer, J. M. Manuel.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Vance Yates, and one daughter, Mrs. Ada Mae Wolf, of Coahoma. Three grandchildren also survive. Mr. Yates had been a resident of Coahoma for 19 years, serving as local agent there from 1911 to 1924. He spent 17 years with the Texas and Pacific railway.

BANQUET IS SCHEDULED FOR 8 P M

Gubernatorial Candidate Shifts Scene Of Address

Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington, candidate for governor, will speak this evening at the banquet of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, to begin at 8 o'clock at the Crawford hotel.

Mr. Small was scheduled to appear in a political speech at the court house. Conflict in the two engagements led to an invitation from the oil men for him to speak to them, which was accepted by the candidate.

Anxious for all interested persons, which President Tom Cranfill, declares includes most everybody, especially in Howard county, to attend and to lend all aid and advice possible to the movement of independent oil men for a better crude oil market, officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas arrived Friday morning for the first district meeting, to be held at the Crawford hotel this evening at 8 o'clock.

Additional tickets were available at the Chamber of Commerce, although but a few were left early this afternoon.

President Cranfill, who declared that the situation of the independent oil man is extremely precarious, adding in characteristic Cranfill manner that "I'm president of this outfit in Texas, and perhaps I'm supposed to be the Moses but I'm blasted if I know where the land of Canaan is."

Mr. Cranfill will address the gathering. Charles I. Morgan, secretary-treasurer, who was very active in having the new pipeline bill passed, and Claud Wild, executive vice president, will also be heard. Frank Killough, assistant to the vice president, has been here several days, assisting in arrangements.

Wants to Shake Hands With Man Who Made Argotane

BEFORE TAKING IT SWEET-WATER MAN HAD SUFFERED EIGHTEEN MONTHS—HOW EATS ANYTHING

"I would just like to shake hands with the man who makes Argotane," said J. C. Moore, a well-known employe at the Neal Bottling Works, who lives at 207 Elm St., Sweetwater, Texas, the other day. "My stomach went back on me about eighteen months ago," continued Mr. Moore and ever since that time I have been gradually going down hill. Just before I began taking Argotane I was so weak and run down it was impossible for me to eat a square meal owing to the bad after effects I would get from it. Very often the gas would press up against my heart and make it palpitate so bad that I was actually afraid that I might have heart trouble. I was badly constipated all the time and occasionally suffered from bad headaches.

"I kept reading about Argotane and knew it had done so much good for people right here in Sweetwater that I decided to try it and I am certainly glad that I finally decided to do so. Well sir, I am actually surprised at the results I got from Argotane. In just a little while my appetite came back and the more Argotane I took the more I wanted to get and the best part of it is I can eat anything I want and never suffer from it anymore. I have taken two bottles so far and it has put my stomach in such fine condition that I can eat meats, cabbage, pickles and in fact anything that anybody else can and it all agrees with me perfectly. I am feeling so well and strong that I can go through my days work without feeling the least bit constipated and never have those awful headaches any more. I feel as full of strength and energy as I ever did, and more than glad to recommend Argotane to others."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drugs.—adv.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 6 (AP)—Captain Charles Kinsford Smith and his three associates supervised installation of wireless batteries in their plane, the Southern Cross, before departing Friday or Saturday for Curragh, from where they will take off in an attempt to fly the Atlantic to New York.

The aviators plan a great circle route to Cape Race, thence down the coast to New York. The plane has a cruising radius of 38 hours, and it is estimated the projected trip will take 34 or 35 hours.

The start from Curragh will depend upon a special weather report from the British air ministry.

Sheppard Declares Buyer's Innocence Grotesque Measure

WASHINGTON, June 6 (AP)—Senator Sheppard called it "grotesque" to consider the liquor buyers innocent of law violation.

The supreme court has held them innocent under present law, and the Texas senator was advocating judiciary approval of his bill to make buyers as guilty as bootleggers.

Sheppard testified press comments on the supreme court decision "have been to the effect that purchasers could now feel a profound relief and proceed to buy intoxicating liquor with impunity."

"The whole structure of liquor lawlessness rests upon the buyer of illicit liquor," he continued. "Without him, traffic in illicit liquor could not persist."

Although the committee may act, there is little prospect of Senate action on Sheppard's bill at this session.

Judiciary committee members who heard the Texas dry included Steiwer of Oregon, Waterman of Colorado and Ashurst of Arizona.

Waterman commented "there is no possibility of any question of constitutional power to prohibit the purchase of liquor. The only thing is whether congress should legislate it."

Ashurst observed he could not see how the wets could get any satisfaction from the supreme court.

"The only way any one could make a purchase with impunity, under it, he added, "would be to sit in an office and have some one he had never before talked with, walk in and pour liquor down his throat and then pay him for it."

"The liquor gangs of the great cities are as truly maintained by the buyer of illicit liquor as was any gang of braves in the pay of a mediaeval robber baron," said Sheppard. "The crimes are his. All that they murder, corruption, robbery, counterfeiting, on down to the actual manufacture or Often Sign of Biliousness That Indicates the Need of Black-Draught.

Austin, Texas—"In the sixteen years of my own housekeeping, Theodor's Black-Draught has been my best stand-by in the way of medicine," says Mrs. J. M. Rich, of 1700 Holly Street, this city.

"I have found Black-Draught to be the best medicine I have ever used for the relief of colds. I have been using it in my home for years. My father used it also in his home and gave it to his children. Whenever we had the usual child's complaints, mother would make up a tea of Black-Draught and give us. We always felt better after taking it."

"I also give it to my children when they have colds or upset stomach. Sometimes they get feverish from biliousness. If they begin to get yellow, or their tongues are coated, I make a tea of Black-Draught and give to them in small doses. They don't mind taking it at all."

In thousands of families, Theodor's Black-Draught has a corner all its own on the medicine shelf. In use nearly 100 years.

Theodor's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable medicine, free from harmful mineral drugs. Costs only 1 cent a dose.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

I have a woman friend who is a "yes-yosery" assenting to everything I say. I find our conversation pretentious, as she simply re-echoes my opinions, some of which I really doubt myself. What can I do to remedy the situation?

Make yourself less conspicuous in it. Those who heard Macaulay talk admitted he was the most brilliant conversationalist of their acquaintance. None the less were they grateful for his occasional flashes of silence. If he had need of these, so have you. Do not allow your conversational monopoly to be a crutch for your friend's unwillingness to stand on her own feet.

Make bold to tell her that her brain has rights which the best friendship will recognize, and that friendship's intellectual side rests on rational views forcibly uttered as much as its emotional side rests on common sympathies.

These views should be confirmed by her own thinking and observation or they will not hold her because she does not really hold them. She ought not to conform to your ideas unless fact and reason entitle them to her acceptance. She should be a voice not an echo, with substantial mental methods and expressions of her own. Evidently her present state of mind is practical, unhealthy and detrimental for both of you. It resembles a plant withering under an oak tree.

Atlanta, Ga.
How can I overcome an almost inveterate tendency to think badly of others? I have tried hard to be different and listened to my relatives who say I am evil minded, but I am unable to see the good they see in people. Since I wish I could do so, my failure constitutes a real difficulty for me.

I fear no suggestions of mind will be very helpful until you have conquered yourself. The full life you ought to live can never be yours so long as you persist in the exasperating habit of emphasizing the shortcomings of others. I do not advise that you should ignore those shortcomings. Evelyn Underhill says that "Our ghostly intruders are much like our 'natural' intruders. They need a certain amount of roughage and seldom thrive on too refined a diet." Quite so. But by no means the whole truth of the situation. Why not encourage in yourself a little hope for the rest of us? For hope is that confident trust in life and in its real worth and final good which God pours into human souls to give them courage and buoyancy.

Again, hope is born of love and love is like a central heating plant. It warms your whole being and lifts it into a rational and visioned faith in God and man. After all is said and done, the overworld is lord of the underworld, or social justice, education, child welfare, civic betterment and political progress would be impossible.

Your cynical estimate of your fellow creatures instills pessimism and pessimism short circuits your moral energies and paralyzes your personality. Read "The House of the Soul," by Evelyn Underhill, and do not submit your intelligent spirit to the humiliation of residence in the basement of the social structure.

Whatever invades or weakens the affectionate and believing part of your nature is injurious. Keep that area of the soul fresh and fragrant and you need not care what views you entertain, for they will then be animated by the love that "thinketh no evil."

Brooklyn, N. Y.
Did not Voltaire, Paine and "Ingersoll," in their day and generation, express the same ideas with respect to institutional religion which Christ expressed in His day, and would not their activities have been approved by Christ?

It seems to me that Christ was crucified because of His refusal to desist from committing the very same acts which filed religion.

Compared with Him and what He has established on the earth in the way of institutional religion, the three celebrities you name resemble three barnacles on the hull of the Leviathan. They were entirely different from one another and each man had his particular gifts and uses. But no individual possessing historical perspective would dream of introducing them into the same category with Jesus, and this is said, I trust, without theological bias.

SALAD ACCESSORIES ARE JUST AS IMPORTANT AS THE SALAD--- MAKE YOUR SUGGESTION TODAY

Mrs. J. B. Delbridge And Mrs. P. N. Allen Win Weekly Market Page Prizes For The Best Sauce Recipes

By THE MARKET PAGE EDITOR

When you say, "I'll have a salad for supper. It's so much cooler and I like to fix them, all fresh and green, with strips of vermillion pimiento and circles of dull green olives. "But that won't be enough for John, just by itself. What shall I have with it?" Then you go into a cloud of thought and finally decide to have chops and biscuit and sliced tomatoes after all. And the chops pop on your hand and you get dough into your rings just after spending twenty minutes cleaning them.

But there are things to serve with the salad, dainty, cooling, but with filling things. We are sure that each of you who reads this article knows of at least two or three. Such things as cheese biscuits that can be cooked early in the day—"one side" sandwiches, quick to make—tea biscuit.

Send in your recipes and win a prize. We offer two, of $1.50 each weekly.

Here are the winners for the past week.

MUCH ADO OVER WRONG MAN

A Flirting Handkerchief "Waved In Error," Causes a Crash
CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—A flirting handkerchief today wrecked two motor cars, tied up traffic on a heavily traveled boulevard, ruined two dispositions and took up two hours of court time.

The kerchief, waving from the hand of Sally Garland, 18, toward Dennis Finnegan, 22; caused his car and that of John Marks, to collide.

In court, womanlike, Sally changed her mind. "I mistook Mr. Finnegan for someone else," she asserted.

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—thief of both health and beauty.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors and dietitians because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia—another danger in reducing diets. ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes—helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is soaked in fruit juice. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective.

Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Reported Engaged

AMELIA EARHART
In Diving Suit

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly the Atlantic, denied today that she was married or engaged to Samuel Chapman of Marblehead, Mass., "or anyone else."

"If I were to become engaged or married to any one I should certainly make no mystery of it," she said. "There would be no percentage for me in trying to hide it."

BOSTON, June 6.—The Boston Traveler today says it is reported that Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to make a trans-Atlantic flight, is to marry or already has married Samuel Chapman of Marblehead, Mass. The Traveler says members of the two families have neither confirmed nor denied the report.

Miss Earhart is now at Marblehead with her mother and a sister, Mrs. Muriel Morrissey, for the summer.

At the time Miss Earhart made her flight she was reported engaged to Chapman, but later announced the engagement had been broken, although the two remained friends. Some time ago it was reported she was engaged to George E. Putnam, New York publisher, but this was denied.

Yearbook 'Fun' Must Go, or No SMU Diplomas

DALLAS, June 4.—Seniors of Southern Methodist University must tear certain sheets from copies of the institution's yearbook or there will be no graduation. Trustees of the university viewed these certain pages and decided they could not pass their censorship.

Risque? Well, that's what the college dads termed certain cartoons and jokes. Copies of the yearbook, named the Rotunda, were only partially distributed—the remaining ones awaiting the use of scissors so that the purported objectionable parts can be removed before they are seen by others.

Center of the protest is said to have been around three cartoons and pictures of the honor students. The right names of the honored ones appeared under each picture. But only one set of initials was used—the same set going to each student and of course the initials were not the ones that rightfully belonged to the students.

I might be that the editor of the yearbook, Kenneth Mahoney of Huntington, Ind., could be the only one that could tell what the initials stood for. But the trustees had their own interpretation and decided that the initials might stand for something that might not be termed complimentary to college boys and girls.

One of the cartoons which came under the "risque" classification as viewed by the trustees showed a house. The wording over the house was: "Home for Fallen Girls," with the added inscription of "Save Two for Me."

Another cartoon showed college boys serenading a girls' dormitory. One of the occupants of the house was seen throwing a certain article out of the window at the "entertainers." And college trustees ruled that such an article as was being thrown had no right to be depicted in a yearbook of S. M. U.

Prof. A. F. Henning, head of the journalism department, who acted as adviser in compiling at least a part of the book, said he warned Mahoney to leave out certain pictures and reading matter which might be considered objectionable to President C. C. Sealeman and other officials.

Dedication of the section labeled "Saddle Burr Grind," met objection of the trustees. This section of the book was dedicated to Sealeman.

Many a Cook's Renown Rests Upon Her Sauces

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

MUCH of the French cook's reputation for excellent food has been gained through the use of skillfully blended sauces. And American women are coming to learn that the success of almost any dish—whether it be meat, fish, entree or dessert—depends greatly upon its accompanying condiment.

Sauces which lend this delightful piquancy to food may be divided, roughly, into two general groups: Those which we serve with meat, fish, vegetable and egg in your scrapbook, I am sure you will find many occasions to use them:

Barbecue Sauce:—Chop 1 onion and a clove of garlic. Add 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup, 1/4 cup Pure Vinegar, 1/4 cup Worcestershire Sauce, 1 medium can of Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add pepper and salt to taste. Cook to the boiling point and use to baste a ham, a roast of lamb or beef, or any meat you wish to barbecue.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce:—Melt 1/4 cup butter and blend thoroughly with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 egg yolk well beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and add 5 tablespoons Mayonnaise Salad Dressing, and 1/2 tablespoons Pure Cider Vinegar. Serve at once with baked or fried fish, or with asparagus, cauliflower, or Brussels Sprouts.

Tomato Sauce: is always a favorite to serve with omelets, cheese dishes, meats or baked bean dishes, and the following recipe for making a quick one is well worth remembering:

Quick Tomato Sauce:—Heat a small can of Cream of Tomato Soup and when it reaches the boiling point, slightly thicken with a small amount of flour blended with butter. A few drops of onion juice may be added if desired.

An easily prepared Tartar Sauce to accompany fish is made by combining 1/2 cup of Sandwich Relish and 1/3 cup Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Butterscotch Sauce:—Cook together 1 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup butter and 1/4 teaspoon of Pure Vinegar until thick and bubbly. Then add 1/3 cup cream and allow to cook until boiling again, stirring constantly. This will take only a minute or so. Take from the fire, cool and flavor with 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Chocolate Sauce:—1/4 cup cocoa, 1/2 cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, few grains salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon Pure Vinegar. Mix cocoa, sugar, salt, vinegar and cold water. Stir over direct heat and boil 3 minutes (320 F.). Remove from fire and add vanilla and butter.

Hollandaise Sauce is another great favorite for cauliflower, asparagus, fish and other dishes. Since many women find this sauce extremely difficult to make, however, the recipe for Mock Hollandaise—which scarcely can be distinguished from the regular sauce—should be welcomed.

If you will clip out the following recipes for sauces and put them should have them in readiness by Monday—complete. This may not be the last chance to finish them, but it is necessary to count the signatures now on hand.

Will all women who are petitioners call Mrs. Ira Driver at 611 and report their progress.

Fletcher Etheridge of Los Angeles, California, arrived today to join his wife who is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gary.

It is asked that every woman who has a county library petition please finish it up. Each petition should have from twenty-five to fifty names on it, according to Mrs. Ira Driver, who is head of the county library movement being put on by the P. T. A. of this city.

She suggests that women holding petitions start this evening in their neighborhood and get the signatures necessary to complete the list.

According to Mrs. Driver, there has been no trouble in getting signatures. The overwhelming realization of the need of the institution has caused a wave of interest and enthusiasm among the citizens.

All women holding the petitions, according to Mrs. Driver,

Bankers Break Losing Streak By Defeating T. & P. 6 to 4

PAYNE AND LARRIMORE HURL

Railroaders Turned Back By Cellar Custodians

A big fellow that has been used to the receiving end, changed roles Thursday afternoon, and with the aid of a fellow hurler won a ball game from the Texas and Pacific by the Bankers 6 to 4—the first victory of the season for the colateral collectors.

J. E. Payne, former catcher for the Bankers, pitched a wonderful ball game against the Railroaders until the seventh inning when he cracked. After two runs had been made and with the bases loaded, Larrimore relieved Payne, and struck out two Texas and Pacific batsmen to end the fray and win the game.

The Bankers launched their winning attack in the third inning, running across three runs on two errors, two sacrifices, and a single. Baber, relieved Malone in the last of the third inning, and was hit almost equally as hard as his predecessor. The Bankers added one to the total in the fourth when Hutchins tallied, and two in the sixth when Madison singled and Stevens tripled, Stevens going home on a wild pitch by Baber.

The Railway representatives failed to tally until the fourth. Baber nicked Payne for a single in that inning, and Sain followed with a double. They collected another in the sixth when Payne walked three men to load the sacks and Driver tallied on West's error.

Two were gleaned in the final when Bishop singled, Butler singled, and Driver filled the sacks on Stevens' third error of the day. Bishop sauntered to the plate when Payne walked Mason with the bags loaded. Butler tallied when Higdon dropped Vega's high one to right field.

At this instance Larrimore replaced Payne on the mound and struck out Woods, pinch hitter, and Schwarzenbach to retire the side.

PROTEST UPHELD
The Board of governors of the Big Spring Amateur Baseball Association, sustained a protest filed by the Bankers against the Laundry, at the regular meeting last night.

Bob Middleton, manager of the Bankers, and Bruce Nesbitt, manager of the Laundry, represented their respective teams.

The board decided the game should go back to where the controversy arose and be played from that stage of the game.

The protest was based on a decision made by umpire Nesbitt, in which a batter was hitting out of turn and was called out before he became a base runner.

JOEL HUNT CLOUTS FOUR

Bufs, Cats, Sports Win In Thursday's Frays

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
He's just a little fellow, this Joel Hunt, no bigger than when he was a phantom quarterback at Texas A&M a few years, but he still packs a mighty wallop.

Joe unlimbered his bat twice yesterday, and the result was a 5 to 3 victory for the Houston Buffs over Dallas. In the third inning, with two out and two on base, Hunt caught one of George Murray's fast ones shoulder high and drove it on a line over the center field screen. Again, in the fifth, he slapped one over the same spot, and that proved sufficient to win the ball game. The best he could do in two other attempts was a single and double.

Battering four hurlers for 13 hits, including a quartet of doubles, the Fort Worth Cats made a clean sweep of their series with Waco, 10 to 8. Among those who tried their hand at pitching for the 'Cats' was Pete Wendt, crack Texas Aggie lefthander of the last two seasons.

Shreveport made it two out of three from the San Antonio Indians, 5 to 4, when Joe Huarte, substitute second baseman, singled McClanahan across with the winning run after a run in the third. Oscar Turo received credit for the win after he had rescued Morrell in the fourth.

GIANTS COP CINCINNATI SERIES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

A student of psychology might find material for research in the mysterious something which makes baseball players who have been traded from one club to another do their best against their former mates. This phenomenon has been remarkably evident in this season's games and all the more noticeable because of numerous recent trades.

The New York Giants, now composed to a considerable extent of former Cincinnati players, dispersed one great feat after another as they swept a three game series with the Reds. Lacking the perfect combination of having an ex-New York pitcher opposed to them, the Giants didn't do their best in this line as they won the final game yesterday, 7 to 4. But Hughie Critz, known as a light hitter before he came to New York, upheld the tradition by hitting a single and a home run and driving in two runs.

Robins Win
Glenn Wright, whom the Pittsburgh Pirates sent to Brooklyn in exchange for Jess Petty two seasons ago, returned to action against his old team yesterday and was instrumental in giving the Robins a 6 to 5 victory. Wright helped to drive Petty from the mound with a heavy batting attack that gave Brooklyn a good lead, then played the key position in a fast and close double play that ended the game when the Pirates seem sure to tie the score.

Rolly Hemsey, second victim of the twin killing, and Jewel Ens and Max Carey, Pittsburgh manager and coach, put up such a violent protest on Umpire Ted McGrew's decision, which deprived Hemsey of the tying run, that the Ebbets Field police took a hand and escorted the arbiter off the field.

Braves Lose

The Chicago Cubs got along very well without two former Bostonians, Hornsby and Bell, as they wound up their series against the Braves with a 10 to 7 victory. It was the eighth in succession for the National league champions. Hack Wilson's 17th home run was the best of Chicago's eleven hits. Philadelphia had homer No. 14 from the bat of Chuck Klein to aid in a 10 to 4 triumph over the slumping St. Louis Cardinals.

The St. Louis representative of the American league, the Browns, had better luck with a ninth inning rally. Going into the ninth four runs behind the Philadelphia Athletics, they put on an uprising that called Jack Quinn into action as relief pitcher for the third successive day, scored five runs and won the game, 6 to 5.

Tigers Cop

Detroit's Tigers started their scoring early to keep the Washington Senators a game behind the Athletics. They put over four runs off Sam Jones in the second inning and won by a 6 to 2 count. Cleveland, starting with nine runs in the first inning, scored early and late to beat the humble Boston Red Sox, 17 to 7.

The one-sided triumph left the Indians only three games behind Washington and improved their lead by half a game over the New York Yankees, who were stopped in Chicago by a heavy rain after only two innings had been played and the score was tied at one-all.

22-Year-Old Boy Executed

HUNTSVILLE, June 6 (AP)—William (Dagger) Pruitt, "walked straight back there" early today as he had promised—"back there" to die in the state prison electric chair. An hour beforehand he had leaned easily against the bars in his death cell, a cigarette in his mouth and had denied that he killed 17-year-old William Mann of Dallas, for whose murder he was executed.

In that last interview with newspapermen standing close about his niche in the hall of the prison's half dead he spoke calmly and in excellent English, criticizing without passion the district judge's refusal to hear an insanity plea for him, announcing his faith and trust in a God and reiterating that he had no fear of what was to come.

He walked into the chair chamber steadily, a priest in robes by his side.

fer very unjust discrimination.

If there is too much oil being produced in the United States, Ector, Hobbs, Van and these other new fields in South Texas form the real threat. Howard and Glascock do not. The advisory committee knows this. They have completely lost sight even of the old plea "overproduction." It is now simply a matter of forcing the field to shut in so that they will be able to open pipelines and storage to wells of their own.

Perhaps the new pipeline law, going into effect June 19, will help things some.

The accused men are residents of Chickasha. Their preliminary hearing has been set for June 17,

MURPHY'S PLATFORM PRESENTED

State's Rights Chief Plea Of San Angelo Man

Centering his speech around an attack on "the monopolistic tendencies of our government," E. E. (Pat) Murphy, San Angelo, candidate for Congress from the 16th district of Texas, spoke Wednesday night in the district court room in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Murphy was introduced by James T. Brooks, attorney. Murphy let loose a verbal barrage in the direction of his opponent, R. E. Thomason, El Paso, declaring "there is a political ring in El Paso which has as its purpose control of power in the sixteenth district." "They have formed a little Tammany out there," he declared. "Thomason is using the name of an ex-service men's organization on his campaign literature, trying to trick the ex-service men of this district into thinking he is endorsed by that body." "Prohibition is a dead issue," he declared, "but if they want to make it an issue I am willing, because I am the only prohibitionist in the race. One of my opponents is running on a wet platform, the other is a wet." Murphy pleaded for the right of the independent oil men, and declared the greatest need of the land today "is to break the trusts."

Miss Marguerite Boldin will be duchess of Lamesa at the Oil Men's Jubilee here July 3, 4 and 5, according to a message received by Chris Ming, who is in charge of the coronation and of the pageant to be given as part of the pretentious program. Petition Puts Leading Republican In For Governor

DALLAS, Tex., June 5 (AP)—R. B. Creager, Republican National Committeeman for Texas, has been drafted as a Democratic candidate for governor, Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, announced today. 30 Signers The application for a place for Creager on the democratic ticket was received today by Johnson from D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, committee chairman. It had been mailed to Wilcox from Dallas Monday before the time for filing ended. The petition was signed by 30 persons, five more than are required under the law. With its filing, Creager occupied the same official status as Gov. Dan Moody, Lynch Davidson of Houston, and Sen. Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, all of whom were drafted. Johnson said that he was certain that under the recent supreme court ruling in the Lows case Creager could qualify. "The committee has no authority to keep him off a democratic primary ballot merely because he happens to be a republican, and the head of that party in Texas." The list of signers of the application was headed by H. C. Williams of Dallas. Other applications received today by Johnson from Wilcox and mailed before the deadline were: Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, and J. F. Hair of San Antonio, for lieutenant governor, Jockie W. Burks of Austin, for land commissioner, and R. M. West of Navasota, for commissioner of agriculture.

OIL BRIEFS

TULSA, Okla., June 5 (AP)—Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Caesar, largest producer in the Konawa pool of southern Seminole county and believed to be the largest Cromwell sand oil ever drilled, flowed 10,461 barrels of oil in 24 hours, pinched in. The location is NW SE 20-6-6. The same company's No. 2 Caesar, in NE SE 20-6-6, yielded 543 barrels of oil in 21 hours from sand drilled to 3,000 feet. Hilton Phillips' and others' No. 2 Burgess, in NW NE 20-6-4, Konawa field, produced 365 barrels of oil in 90 minutes Wednesday. Total depth is 2,861 feet. Although Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. A-1 State in the Hobbs pool of New Mexico was brought under control without unexpected difficulty after flowing will several hours, indications have pointed to delay in completing the well as rotary returns had not been obtained. Addition of cottonseed hulls to fill an apparent cavity may be necessary before drilling can be resumed. Meanwhile interest began to shift north of production, where Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 McKinley, in the southwest corner of section 24-18-37 was being drilled near the expected deep pay at 3,000 feet. Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company's No. 3 University was added to the list of producers in the Church-Fields pool in Crane county by swabbing 80 barrels in 18 hours from pay topped at 2,900 feet and drilled to 3,000 feet. DALLAS, Tex., June 5 (AP)—The Mook-Texas No. 11 Minnie Sibley, ten miles east of Eastland and near the village of Staff, yesterday made from 750 to 1,000 barrels a day from the top of the Ranger lime. The pay was reached at 3,420-21 feet. Drilling had not been completed. A. P. Nicholson and others No. 1 Blinnett, located in block 20 W. L. Herring survey, abstract 168, in the extreme southeast part of Archer county has been completed at an estimated production of 80 barrels, extending the Pridemore field several miles to the northwest. OKLAHOMA CITY, June 5 (AP)—A good showing of oil was encountered in the Magnolia Petroleum and Ramsey Petroleum No. 1 Johnston wildcat, near Britton, this morning. The well is directly north of Oklahoma City, within sight of the state capital.

Ackerly Gathering Is Attended By Big Spring Delegation

COMMUNITY PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Neighborhood Meeting Is Enjoyed By Large Crowd

Ackerly, that thriving and progressive community that has grown so phenomenally during its 7-year history, and Big Spring, joined hands Tuesday evening at Ackerly's splendid school building. Citizens of the two communities had a real informal, neighborly program and, afterward plenty of ice cream and cake—the kind Ackerly woman bake.

Thirty Big Spring people attended the meeting, which was for no purpose other than the laudable one of affording contact between the two communities.

The program followed Ackerly's school graduation exercise on Monday evening, when thirteen boys and girls were awarded diplomas. Dr. E. O. Ellington, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, acted as chairman.

The program was very material, improved by efforts of the Big Spring band, more than a dozen of its members having been on hand. They played a concert preceding the program proper, and punctuated it with more music.

The Misses Springfield, Madeline and Opal, with Miss Daisy Harris of Sweetwater's famous Gypsy Girls, at the piano opened the program with a duet, and they were promptly called back for a second song. These young ladies possess remarkable voices and before the evening had gone they were recipients of an invitation to sing in Big Spring.

Miss Amorella DeL' favored the audience with a reading.

B. Reagan, introduced by Dr. Ellington as one of Big Spring's "war horses," spoke briefly. He stressed prime importance of developing, fostering and supporting public educational facilities in the community, the value of harmony and teamwork in the community, and closed by declaring that Big Spring business men wish to see the farmers of the Ackerly community support their local merchants first, and so long as they can furnish their needs. "If your local merchant, who would be the chief supporter of any movement to improve this school or otherwise improve your town, cannot furnish something you are in the market for, then we want you to come to us. Big Spring offers you a good market for your produce. Our merchants offer a wide variety of merchandise."

Following a selection by the band Miss Melva Gene Handley, Big Spring entrant in the "Hy Home Town" speaking contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Abilene last week, delivered the address she gave at that time. She was vigorously applauded.

Mrs. McCall and Miss Harris, sisters of Sweetwater, who were visiting their sister, Mrs. Ingram, at Ackerly, sang two selections, a popular air, and an encore "La Paloma," in its "native" tongue, Spanish. Mrs. Preston was at the piano.

C. T. Watson, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, well-known in the community, which is in the edge of Dawson county, where he was formerly county farm agent and secretary of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly. He urged cooperation between rural and urban people, declaring they were all trying to do the same thing, only by different courses. He announced the Big Spring chautauque opening Saturday, and the address here Wednesday of C. G. Meador of the American Cotton Cooperative Association.

Among the Big Spring people attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Watson and son, Mrs. Clarence Wear, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Mrs. Malinda Chesnut, Fred Vesting, O. Dubberly and the band boys Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, Mrs. Lamar, Sam Lamar, W. G. Hayden, Charles Eberley, L. W. Croft, Wendell Bedichek, J. E. Kuykendall, Arthur Woodall, B. Reagan, James Little, Cecil Collins, Mrs. W. A. Earnest, Melva Gene Handley, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Williams.

Edgar R. Folsom and Mrs. Della Mae Van Meter, Kerrville, were married by Justice of the Peace Cecil Collins in an early morning ceremony at the office in the courthouse. The couple will reside here.

GUNS USED IN HOLD-UP

Filling Station On West Third Scene Of Robbery

Two unmasked youths, each with a pistol in his hand, robbed the Gulf Filling Station, 401 West Third Street, between 9:30 and 10 o'clock last night.

The youths entered the station just as H. S. Shockey, manager, had turned out the lights, preparatory to closing for the night. Shockey and his companion Lawrence Wheeler, were commanded to lay upon the floor. The youthful hijackers looted the safe of $40 and made their escape.

Wheeler was waiting in the station to take Shockey to his home at the business was closed. City policeman was notified after the robbery.

Shockey described the robbers as between the ages of 20 and 25. One of them held a pistol on the two victims while the other obtained the cash out of the register.

We're Riding A High Horse With Our Tariff Bill, Says Will Rogers, But We're Liable To Get A Bad Kick Back

We are riding a high horse.

By WILL ROGERS

All I know is just what I read in the papers. I just been reading the weekly paper "Times." You know that's just about the best thing out on the happenings of the week. They give their own slants on what has happened and they must have a bright-up to date bunch of young fellows on there that give you real down-to-earth.

It tells you what the President has been doing that week, and what the Senate and the House. Course most of these are short, but that's not their fault. Now for instance the Senate they argued on the Senate, well that's been in ever since Mr. Hoover was inaugurated and called them in special session.

Mr. Ford issues a statement last week that this new tariff bill if passed will be the worst thing in the world for all of us. You see a lot of manufacturing establishments try to cover up their own business ability by having the Government protect them against somebody that handles their business better than they do. They can always holler "Cheap labor!" But the cost of transportation to this country more than makes up for that. So every little industry that can't make a big profit hollers for protection.

We want see the real effects of this till we have all these other countries passing restrictive tariffs against us. You can't stop the other fellow from shipping his goods to us without him doing something to get even. Some of the smartest and most conscientious men in our National life have been divided on the tariff question. Its not all Politics, a lot of it is a matter of real opinion, based on a long study. All Democrats don't agree on it, and no two Republicans have exactly the same opinion on it. So lets give the old boys there the benefit of the breaks. They are just up against something that is above them.

Arguing Tariff is sorter like arguing religion. There just aint any answer. If a business thrives under a protective tariff, that don't mean that it has been a good thing. It may have thrived because it made the people of America pay more for the object than they should have, so a few have got rich at the cost of the many. There is never any way of estimating the damage done by a tariff, that is how much other countries retaliate in different ways. Mr. Groundy might be making Pennsylvania rich, but at the cost of the friendship of all our foreign friends.

You got to striver give and take in this old world. We can get mighty rich, but if we haven't got any friends, we will find we are poorer than anybody.

Nations are just like individuals. They get mad and fight just like individuals. Their feelings are hurt even quicker than individuals. They do everything just like one person. So that's the way it is with wealth and position.

We might be the wealthiest Nation that ever existed, we might dominate the world in lots of things, but on Nations are individuals, why we are just an individual, and because we are richer than our neighbors or than anybody else, that don't necessarily mean that we are happier or real-better off. We don't all envy our town or State's most wealthy man. We see lots of reasons why we wouldn't trade places with him. We not only look at his wealth but we look at all the other sides to him. We may know how he is all wet in lots of ways. So we may say, "Yes he has got money, but what else?"

Well now that is the way we are liable to become. We are known as the wealthiest Nation of all time. Well in the first place we are not. The difference between our rich and poor grows greater every year. Our distribution of wealth is getting more uneven all the time. We are always reading "How many men payed over a million dollars income tax." But we never read about "How many there is that are not eating regular." A man can make a million over night and he is on every front page in the morning. But it never tells who give up the million that he got. You can't get money without taking it from somebody. They don't just issue out new money. What you got tonight that you didn't have last night must have come from somebody.

We have dozens of Magazines that print success, articles, but you go broke and see what you can do to get your life story published. Yet the going broke might have made a real man out of you. You do love to talk in big figures. We love to read in big figures. The old boy that didn't get the breaks and couldn't make the grade we don't care much for.

So that's the way we have become to look on Nations. We are judging them all by the size of the Navy, or their Territory, but we don't give a hoot about their character, or maby a hundred fine things about them. If they don't amount to something in a big way they are a joke to us. "What do we care what a tariff bill does to them? Are we in the business for them or for ourselves?"

So we are liable to get a bad kick back from a lot of this high handed stuff we are pulling. We are riding a high horse at this time. So it takes a pretty smart man to tinker with this tariff. We are liable to go do something here we wont live down very soon. Its all right to help out the folks back home, and bring every voter some kind of relief, but you want to be mighty careful at whose expense you bring it. It does look like we ought to be able to manage our affairs so that we could get along and still sorter be friends with folks too. But this tariff thing has sure got two sides to it, and they are not political sides either. Its a smart mans business, its not just for mere Politicians to mess with.

Unions Hear Talks On Central's Value

Value of the Central Labor council to individual local unions was stressed Tuesday evening before the typographical and meatcutters' local by President N. L. Miller, Jr. of the central body and A. A. Dean, recording secretary of the carpenters' union.

Both locals held regular meetings. Lawrence Simpson was named political committee representative for the printers. Labor records of state, district and local candidates are to be reviewed by the various locals.

LEGION TO HELP WITH EXPOSITION

Sham Battle Added To Program; Publicity Arranged

The American Legion post, in a special meeting Monday evening, decided to join in the Oil Jubilee of July 3, 4 and 5 by putting on a sham battle and firearms carnival, "Over The Top," in the special stadium to be erected for the Jubilee. This will be a feature attraction for the final evening of the Jubilee.

The local legion members will be assisted by a national guard artillery unit stationed at Abilene, it was announced.

The publicity committee, in a session Monday afternoon, awarded the official decorations contract to the Westex Advertising company of Big Spring and San Angelo. This concern will sell decorations for store fronts to merchants wishing them, and at prices stipulated in the contract with the Jubilee committee. It will also string banners and flags around the principal business streets in a fashion similar to the decorations program used during the Airport Opening last summer. This concern held the contract for that event.

The committee, having already received ten "24 sheets" posters, to be placed on large billboards in Big Spring and five or six other cities, voted Monday to buy 200 "one sheets," which will be placed on buildings and other suitably located surfaces throughout this section of Texas. J. Y. Robb, of the R & R Theatre, offered the services of his regular poster men, for this work.

The large posters will be placed as follows: three in and near Big Spring, two in Midland, one in Lawmesa, one in Stanton, one in Colorado, perhaps two in Sweetwater or one in Sweetwater and one in San Angelo.

Signs were placed on the electrically lighted oil well derrick, on the court house square, late Monday. This is considered one of the most effective advertising methods yet adopted.

More than 3,000 windshield stickers advertising the Jubilee have been printed and are being distributed in all the principal oil field towns, as well as other places. These are available at the Chamber of Commerce offices and the Jubilee headquarters, fourth floor of the Petroleum building.

Family Tickets To Chautauqua Are Offered

Arrangements have been made for sale of "family" tickets to the Chautauqua, which will open Saturday in a tent on West Third Street.

These tickets will sell for $4.50 and entitle the bearer or bearers to admission to nine separate programs, or to nine admissions to one program or they may be used in any other manner as to time and division of separate admissions.

Sale of season tickets, being sponsored by a committee from the guarantors of the five-day program, who have underwritten $2,000, is lagging. These tickets are available at downtown drug stores.

House Breakers Raid Big-Spring

Members of the city police force today were endeavoring to find trace of petty thieves who entered three homes in Big Spring last night, and attempted to break into another.

The homes of George L. Wright, 208 Gollad Street, W. D. Cornelison, 211 West 13th Street, and M. L. Mills, East Fourth Street, were broken into during the night and small articles of little value taken.

Robbers attempted to enter the home of Miss Pauline Cantrell, 1105 Sycamore Street, during the night but were scared away.

The home of E. W. Potter, Fourteenth and Johnson streets, was entered. Two pairs of trousers and a bill fold were stolen.

OIL BELT LOOP TEAM CLAIMS FORFEIT GAME

Claiming a victory via the forfeit route, Merrick and Bristow today maintained that when the Barbers, City League team, picked their tent and vanished without completing the game Sunday, they automatically gave up the ghost.

The Barbers had been credited with a 16 to 15 victory.

The game, according to reports trickling out of the field, saw more of a controversy over umpire's decisions than a baseball game. In the third inning Tinsley, Barber hurler, was found guilty of interfering with the catcher. He was called out and later the runner was called out. This seemed to start the ball traveling and protest followed protest.

In the ninth the tally was tied 15 all. After a best-of-two innings, with the Barbers holding a one run margin, the same Barbers gathered up bats and equipment and walked off the field without completing the eleventh frame. The exodus was caused by an umpire's decision at first.

Merrick and Bristow is credited with the winning of the fray.

New Aggregation A team representing the American-Meracabo Co., has joined the Oilbelt League, it was announced today by top officials.

The new team will replace the Continental Oil Co., which withdrew from the league.

The second half will open June 10, Magnolia having cinched the initial split.

BOY SCOUT CAMP WILL OPEN SOON

Local Men Lacking In Interest, Say Officials

Scouting in Big Spring is not in healthy condition, reports made Monday evening at a business session of local council and troop members indicated.

The most astonishing report was that local scouts are showing little interest in the Buffalo Trail area summer camp to be held at the regular camp of the Concho Valley council, on the Concho river north of San Angelo, June 16 to 30.

It was announced by the area executive, A. C. Williamson, that reservations for a place in the camp must be received by him, in Sweetwater, by next Monday.

Cost per boy per week is $7. The boys may stay two weeks if he chooses. The plan is to have 100 boys in camp each week, if possible.

Many boys from Sweetwater, Colorado, Midland and other towns in the area are registering Big Spring is showing distinct backwardness compared with them.

A boy will get more real benefit from a week or two weeks in scout camp than from twice that time spent in summer school and vastly more than if he were just "wandering around home, Mr. Williamson pointed out. "Let a boy attend camp once and he'll be a working, interested, developing scout thereafter."

C. S. Holmes, area president and founder of the oldest Boy Scout troop in the state, decried the lack of interest being shown by men of the city. "We have too many good men here who start strong. But they are quarter horses. They don't last," he declared.

George White, a troop committeeman of one of the four local troops, said that a visit by him to the area rally in Sweetwater last week showed him just how little was being done in other cities.

Rev. S. B. Hughes, troop committeeman for No. 4, at the East Street Baptist church, made a good report of development of that troop. He promised to canvas members and their parents relative to attending the camp.

C. P. Garrett, scoutmaster of the First Christian church troop, called a meeting for Tuesday evening at the church to talk with the boys about the camp.

Phillip Slusser and J. H. Smith, young leaders of Boy Scouts offered their assistance in enlisting the boys for the camp.

Marcus Williamson, recently retained as assistant area executive, for the western section of the area, was present. He is just beginning his work and will spend most of his time in Big Spring and Midland, with trips to cities further west to organize new troops and aid those recently started.

Event, Rumored In Lindy Family

NEWARK, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow has curried temporarily her activities in behalf of her husband's candidacy for the republican nomination to the United States senate in order that she may remain near her laughter, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Her decision is assumed to have been reached in anticipation of an interesting event in the Lindbergh family.

the state university being thus endowed. Oil and mineral rights on such lands have poured enormous amounts into the educational coffers of the university and the various technical colleges belonging to the state. These lands are the property of the entire state and are located in widely separated areas. The immense political project presents difficulties seemingly insurmountable. Recent history indicates the people of Texas are not easily persuaded to undertake changes. For example, a dispute between Texas and Oklahoma over the border line between these states is now in process of legislative adjudication. Committees of both bodies have visited back and forth. The merits of the case have been submitted, yet the bodies have not agreed on anything definite. A decade ago a similar dispute arose over the Red River border. This dispute became so acute the United States government stepped in and took possession of the disputed territory, and it took several years to settle the matter.

The people of Texas are united thoroughly. Internal fights over distribution of state funds for schools and road purposes are no more acrimonious than in other states. Texas is selfish in many ways. Railroad corporations, for example, must maintain separate corporate identity in Texas. Division of Texas into several states would entail vast corporate changes and upset legislative enactments of the past 100 years. The time to have made such divisions was when Texas was admitted into the American union and not at this late date.

Mob And The Senate

WHILE YOU'RE trying to figure out why mobs get that way, don't overlook the silly things people say and dignified business men and politicians sometimes do.

We have in mind the action of the Senate of the United States of North America, no longer ago than last week. It seems that a hearing corporation installed dial telephones in the senate office buildings and sat back to await the commendations of the senatorial fathers.

But, no. No commendation was heard. Instead, Senator Carter Glass, the temperamental Virginian, stood up on his feet and denounced the innovation from which he laid the longest chunk. He said he would not work for a blasted utility, or something like that. He had no desire to perform the mental task of twisting a dial, when the telephone company ought to hire operators to do the work. The tangled contraption installed in the intelligence, or something like his words met with a salvo of applause from his fellow senators.

The upshot of it was that the senator from Virginia introduced a resolution demanding that the dial phones be taken out and the old-fashioned manual phones be put back in again. The resolution was passed and a burst of approving oratory, and unless the utility company gets out an injunction or something of the sort the dials will be thrown out of their faces.

The telephone company can't be blamed for trying to modernize the senate. That is something that can't be done.

HOW'S your HEALTH

SUN STROKE

Sun stroke and heat stroke are not the same, though their common cause is excessive exposure to heat, particularly to the sun.

The effect upon the victim is different, and in consequence, the treatment must be different. In heat stroke the patient is extremely hot, in and out. In sun stroke the patient is in a state of collapse; his temperature both inside and out is below normal. The skin is wet and clammy. His heart beat is very feeble, his pulse is weak and rapid, and he barely breathes.

The heat stroke victim needs cooling. The sun stroke victim needs to be warmed up.

One suffering from sunstroke, or as it is sometimes called, "heat exhaustion," needs to be stimulated back to normal activity.

The sun stroke victim can be much helped by massage and the applications of hot towels and blankets.

Both heat stroke and sun stroke are serious conditions. Forty per cent, or nearly half of the persons afflicted, die.

Those fortunate enough to escape death may be permanently affected, both mentally and physically. A number of those who completely recover, remain peculiarly sensitive to heat for the rest of their lives.

Heat stroke and heat-stroke may be avoided by not excessively exposing one's self to the sun, by the avoidance of too strenuous or too prolonged physical labors, and by proper dress—that is, clothing that is light, porous and heat radiating.

Waco Citizen 79, Endorses New Konjola

MR. J. A. KIN

"Too bad I did not hear of Konjola long ago," says THIS HAPPY MAN.

"Let us consider our principal ailments," Fliques continued.

"We had first—what were they? The indiscretion of Mr. Brent, a price ticket in the dead hand of monsieur, a rose petal, two roses, the blackness, poor Grainger, trod into the carpet, the broken compartment in that safe, and the green bird that is broken in two. But do I entuse? Not so. And why, you ask? Because they were not of the living tissue, all those. Did I not tell you?"

"Not even that price ticket?" I demanded. "Millionaires aren't shot with 35-cent price tags in their hands every day."

"Ah, that! A curious affair, mais oui, but not of the living tissue. I cannot tell you why. A secondary matter, perhaps. We shall see. And then poor Grainger is killed and what have we?"

Fliques's voice took a higher, vibrant pitch. "Is it not then that we behold the living tissue and Anatole Fliques is enthused? Grainger is shot in front of the fireplace as he lights the fire, an empty shell lies on the floor, the telephone is upset, a trifle of steel shaving is found in Grainger's pocket, the patio window is open, and—monsieur, this is of the prime importance!"

"That window was open when M. Annerley entered the room on Friday night! Did he not assure us that it was he who closed it?"

"There, my friend," said Fliques, spreading his hands emphatically, "it is an open book. You have but to turn the pages. You will not tell me you cannot read what is written?"

"La Balafré and Bee are out, then?" I asked, ignoring his challenge.

"I did not say so, M. l'Antiquaire."

"But they have no alibi to break!" I exclaimed, exasperated.

"Moreover, both alibis imply a familiarity with the house and the movements of those in it which he Balafré and Bee could not have had."

"The First Mrs. Fraser" by St. John Ervine, and "June and the Paycock" by Sean O'Casey, were also well received, that Vienna theater manager decided to produce them in German during the next season. Both plays, translated by the Vienna journalist Erich Glass, will also appear on the book market, which show that the success of the "English Players" had a rather lasting effect in this part of the world.

Murder at High Tide

CHARLES G. BOOTH

SYNOPSIS: Alibis are being shattered as police continue a dogged hunt for clues to the murder of Dan Parados and his hired man, Grainger. Miss Jarriss, housekeeper in the Parados island home, tells of finding Claude Annerley in the act of looting Parados' safe shortly after his murder. Annerley denies the murder, though he admits taking papers from the safe. He had a gun similar to one found by Anatole Fliques, shrewd French detective. Samuels, deputy attorney, thinks Annerley guilty and orders that he be locked up. Annerley tells Fliques that the parlor window was open immediately after Parados was shot. The detective, who has clues and theories of his own, says that fact is of utmost significance.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

A Big Task to Divide Texas

To the Kansas City Star: The suggested uncrumpling of Texas and its separation into five commonwealths seems plausible until one studies the problems and difficulties of such a huge undertaking. Texas already is divided into several divisions, for purposes of identification, such as East, West, North, South, the Rio Grande Valley and the Panhandle. It likewise is divided climatically and agriculturally. Probably no other section of our country has such diversity of interests merged into one political division as has the Lone Star state. And the last presidential election indicates also a diversity in party political affiliations, though this may not prove permanent.

The area of Texas is so large as to stagger the imagination of those living without its confines. The size of its farms and ranches are often beyond average comprehension. Population is not uniform in its distribution. Should the basis of division be area, rather than population, it is likely some of the proposed new states would find it difficult to maintain a state government because of the cost.

But these are not the main difficulties. The government of Texas has potential properties of great value. Its oil and gas resources are being developed. The state capital is being moved to the new site of money. The state is acquiring that the state house cost $3 million acres of land. This project brought immense profit to the building company, the land now being very valuable, is tenanted and includes many thriving towns. Other lands were set aside for school purposes.

Oil Stocks Less

Report Shows

WASHINGTON, June 3. (AP)—Increased demand in the United States for petroleum products during April particularly for gasoline, resulted in sharply reducing stocks on hand at the end of that month.

The bureau of mines reported that total stocks amounted at the end of May to 692,626,000 barrels, or 1,894,000 barrels less than the total one month previously.

Total stocks of motor fuel, including gasoline in all forms amounted at the end of the month to 54,435,000 barrels against 55,239,000 barrels in stock at the end of March.

The indicated domestic demand for gasoline in the United States throughout April was 1,822,000 barrels per day, which represented an increase of 7 per cent over the state consumption during April last year.

April gasoline stocks on hand were equivalent to 41 days supply for domestic and export trade as compared with 46 days supply on hand at the end of March.

Total production of crude petroleum in the United States during April was placed at 77,128,000 barrels, a daily average of 2,573,000 barrels. This amounted to about 97,000 barrels per day less than crude production during April last year, though it was also somewhat greater than the average production during March. The increase over March of this year in crude production was largely attributed to output of Texas.

ENGLISH PLAYERS SCORE HIT IN VIENNA

VIENNA (INS)—The unique success of the "English Players," the theatrical company led by Frank Reynolds, is a paramount proof of the rapid spread of the cultivation of the English language all over the Continent.

The "English Players" which in the last few months have played in some 35 cities in nearly all countries of Continental Europe, have visited Vienna twice in this season, introducing many new English authors to the Vienna public.

The greatest box office success of the "English Players" was "Journey's End" by R. C. Sheriff, which was produced more than a hundred times in various Central European cities, in spite of the fact that a German version of it was produced at the same time.

"The First Mrs. Fraser" by St. John Ervine, and "June and the Paycock" by Sean O'Casey, were also well received, that Vienna theater manager decided to produce them in German during the next season. Both plays, translated by the Vienna journalist Erich Glass, will also appear on the book market, which show that the success of the "English Players" had a rather lasting effect in this part of the world.

AMARILLO, June 3. (AP)—Two hundred and fifty persons were registered for the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Panhandle Bankers Association. Six charter members were in attendance.

Lynn P. Talley, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, said that the country needed to slow up while the public paid its debts. "Salesmen today want people to death to buy something, and credit men want them to death to pay for it," Talley said. "Reduction of costs in production and economy in the use of credit are the only means left to combat financial depression."

FARM BOARD COTTON PLAN HEARD

MARKETING MACHINERY IS DETAILED

C. O. Moser Delivers Addresses In Big Spring

History, machinery, resources and aims of the Federal Farm Board toward the cotton industry, which is represented in the board's plan by the American Cotton Cooperative Association, of which he is vice president, were reviewed here Wednesday morning before directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and a few interested citizens by C. O. Moser.

Little Progress
He was joined here by Director E. G. Simms of the Kobe, Japan, office of the Texas Farm Bureau Association, which has been designated the Texas cooperative subsidiary of the American Cotton Cooperative.

"Unlike other industries, there has been little progress in the agriculture industry within the past century," he declared. "Part of their problems are beyond the control of farmers. A considerable por-

WILLIAMS IN TEXAS
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., June 4 (AP)—Carl Williams, cotton member of the Federal Farm Board, declared here yesterday it's foolishness, downright foolishness. This overproduction of cotton is the item which can defeat the purpose of the farm board act."

He had been for an airplane ride over Nueces county and viewed farms which last year produced 123,000 bales of cotton. Returning here to address several hundred farmers and business men from 41 South Texas counties, comprising District 5 of the new Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, he declared he "never knew there was so much cotton in the world."

"Stabilization boards can acquire surpluses and cooperatives can aid in marketing," he said, "but acreage in these crops must be reduced."

tion of these problems have been created out of legislation. You cannot make new wealth by legislation but you may transfer wealth from one group to another by legislation."

Mr. Moser declared the federal marketing act under which the farm board operates, is not a farm relief but a farm aid measure. The board is charged with minimizing speculation, eliminating waste, improving efficiency of distribution through farmer owned and controlled organizations and prevention and control of surpluses.

Speculation, he pointed out, is the object of considerable difference of opinion. Until marketing processes are changed only so much of speculation may be stopped. However, he said, wide fluctuations due to speculation may be prevented.

Cooperative marketing is agreed upon by all the government boards and commission as being the only way to solve the farmer's problem. Farmers have little or no capital but they can assemble their products and market through cooperatives, which are as sound as capital stock corporations, he continued.

No Politics

"Farmers have been opposed to employing men in competition with other industries. The most successful cotton man in the world recently told me he had three men in his organization whom he paid $100,000 annually. The farm board has received 10,000 applications for jobs and has hired two of them. They're not looking for men out of jobs. They have hired one man to handle the cotton part of the board's operations and, on a per bale basis, he will receive a maximum of $75,000 annually. Politics has no place in the employment of men for this work."

The government has determined that the average farmer's annual income is $400. He needs, according to American living standards, to make $1,000 a year.

"The board has divided its activities according to principal commodities. For cotton $30,000,000 has been set aside. The state is divided into districts. This section likely will be in District Seven with some point out here as headquarters, determined by the members themselves at the proper time.

Branches

"District headquarters have branch offices where there is enough cotton to justify it. It is necessary to have $7,500 to finance a branch office. Federal licensed men will be provided to handle cotton in these branch offices. Whenever a local man is qualified and farmers and business men wish him to be employed that will be done. Branch offices make advances on local banks on cotton according to grade, staple, lustre and color. Cotton is graded and stapled for non-members as well as members. I believe where these branch offices are located real cotton markets will be created. Under ordinary conditions cotton will be assembled at the branch office, which will be in touch with our sales offices throughout the world. In case the local market at any time is better than others the machinery will be reversed and cotton sold locally instead of in other parts of the nation or abroad.

"Approximately 15,000 bales of cotton will be necessary to justify a branch. Not more than 50 cents per bale can be spent for local service. We cannot spend more than three per cent of the market value of a bale for handling it.

Those who have ever paid dues as members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association will be eligible as members without a fee. Others will pay a fee of $2.50. "We have no intention of high-powered anyone to get a branch established. If you should give unqualified support and show that you wanted a branch we would then decide whether local conditions justify locating it."

KOBE, JAPAN MAN HEARD

Farm Board Plans Threaten Middleman, He Says

J. G. Simms, Kobe, Japan, representative of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Business Men's Luncheon Club, held Wednesday noon.

Mr. Simms divided his discussion into two parts—the organization he represents in Japan, and a short sketch of the country, its conditions at the present in every line.

Mr. Simms has been a resident of Japan for 15 and one-half years, going there as a professor in economics and finance in a university at Tokyo, later entering the cotton business for an American firm, and eight years ago joining a American cotton cooperative association as its Japan representative.

He discussed the importance of educating the farmer as to the advantages offered by the organization. He predicted the collapse of the middleman in the cotton business, pointing out it was one of the duties of the organization to grade and staple the farmer's cotton for twenty-five cents a bale, and inform the farmer as to its worth.

"We can't help the farmer," he declared, "without interfering with someone's livelihood. The middleman is in a serious position if the plans of this organization are successful. We expect to be fought, but not because we are offering aid to every farmer in the state.

He declared the organization is on a sounder basis now than ever before, and predicted a greater success in the future. He spoke of new policies adopted which were framed with the future of the farmer in view.

"But the farmer," he said, "has to be educated. He must be told of the advantages offered him by the cotton association. He must learn to rely upon it as a marketing body."

According to Mr. Simms 45,000 bales of Texas cotton were marketed in Japan this season.

In his talk on Japan he told of the condition of various industries, especially the rayon and cotton mills, discussed the government, education, religion, habits, and customs of the Japanese race.

Miss Hortense Reed, representative of the Chautauque, spoke briefly on the five day program to be given here June 7 to 12, inclusive, and urged members of the luncheon club to purchase season tickets. Cecil Collings was program chairman for the day.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK AT MEETING HERE FRIDAY OF INDEPENDENT OIL ASSOCIATION

Business men, royalty and land owners are urged to call at the Chamber of Commerce for tickets to a banquet to be given here Friday evening at 8 o'clock, Crawford hotel dining room, as the first district meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas.

Frank Killough, assistant to the executive vice president, Claud Wild, arrived Wednesday to assist in preparations for the meeting. Mr. Wild, Charles Morgan of Dallas, the secretary treasurer, Tom Cranfill of Dallas, state president, and E. G. Bedford of Midland, are among those who will appear on the program.

Entertainment, supplied locally, will be presented by the banqueters. "Foreign Oil and Howard County," will be the topic of Mr. Cranfill, prominent independent producer. "Why The Independent?" will be Mr. Wild's subject. "The Relation of the Land and Royalty Owner to the Independent Movement," is the theme for Mr. Bedford. Mr. Morgan will discuss oil transportation. He was very instrumental in having the new state pipeline law, which will become effective June 19, passed by the last session of the legislature.

This will be the first meeting in West Texas to present the plans and ideals of the independent oil men's organization, which is affiliated with the American Independent's association, headed by Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma.

Three Operations Hold Hobbs Stage

Three major operations now hold the spotlight of attention in the Hobbs, N. M., area. The Humble No. 1 Bowers, in section 30-18-38, the Tidal Oil Company No. 1 Grimes, in section 29-18-38 and the Hobbs High Inc. No. 1 Tatum, in section 35-18-38, now are being watched with a great deal of interest by members of the oil fraternity throughout this section of West Texas and in New Mexico.

The Humble No. 1 Bowers, elevation 3657 feet, topped first gas at 2772 feet with an estimated oil show of 25 barrels per hour at 2-143. The well is now flowing about 7500 barrels.

Tidal Tops Gas

Tidal Oil Company No. 1 Grimes, located one mile east of the Humble well, elevation 3646 feet, topped first gas at 2792 feet or about 20 feet lower structurally on gas, whereas it was 134 feet lower on anhydride than the Humble well. This fact, according to geologists, shows a thinning of salt beds of over 100 feet. Saturday a show of oil was encountered at 3115 feet which makes it about 30 feet higher than the first oil show in the Humble well, further thinning in evidence.

This thinning off of the salt series beds above the line from the Humble well eastward makes the Hobbs field wider to the east and makes the Hobbs High Inc. No. 1 Tatum look promising for a producer.

New Spaghetti Dishes For Hungry Husbands

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON

Spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, which can be purchased ready to heat and serve, is a well-known and favorable luncheon and supper dish. But many women do not realize the surprising number of economical and savory "one-dish dinners" that can be prepared from just a can of spaghetti, plus a bit of ground meat or a few sausages with a touch of spicy seasoning. Even plain pot roast becomes a special treat when served with a liberal portion of spaghetti.

Some evening when you want to prepare a pleasant surprise for your family, try stuffing green peppers with spaghetti, instead of with ground meat or rice. And everyone is sure to like that old southern dish—Creole pork.

The following spaghetti recipes should go far in helping you solve that never-ending problem of "what can I serve today?"

Casserole of Meat and Spaghetti—1 pound ground round steak, 1 medium size onion, 1 large green pepper, 1 medium can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 medium can cooked spaghetti, 1-4 pound American cheese (grated).

Fry finely chopped onion in bacon fat until slightly brown. Add meat and cook until brown. Then add cream of tomato soup and chopped pepper and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Add cooked spaghetti, mix thoroughly, and add grated cheese. Heat in a moderate oven until cheese is melted.

Creole Pork—1 small can cream of tomato soup, 1 small can cooked spaghetti, 1 pound ground round pork, 2 onions, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 pound grated cheese, 1-2 cup ground crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter.

Chop onions fine and fry with ground pork until brown. (In additional fat). Drain off excess fat. Add cooked spaghetti, cream of tomato soup and grated cheese. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs and butter. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese in Green Pepper Cases—Wash six large green peppers, cut in half and remove seeds. Place peppers in boiling water, turn off heat and allow to remain in water about five minutes to remove their strong taste. Cool, and fill the peppers with 1 medium can of cooked spaghetti. Dust lightly with salt, and cover with buttered crumbs. Place in casserole, add a small amount of water, and bake in a moderate oven until peppers are tender and crumbs are nicely browned.

Brown Sausages and Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese—Brown one pound of sausages. Drain off the excess fat and pour in a large can of cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese. Stir thoroughly until the spaghetti is heated. Place the spaghetti in the center of a platter and surround with the brown sausages. Garnish with parsley, and serve very hot.

Spaghetti with Pot Roast—Prepare a pot roast in the usual manner. When it is done, add a can or more of cooked spaghetti, according to the size of your roast. Simmer for a few minutes, adding water to replace the gravy absorbed by the spaghetti. In serving, place the meat in the center of the plate and heap the spaghetti around it. Sweet mustard pickles are very good with this.

Sinclair Company's Semi-Wildcat Eastern Howard Has Strong Show, Late Ector, Andrews, Hobbs Reports

Although the well is worth 40 to 80 barrels a day as it stands, representatives of the Sinclair Oil & Gas Company were awaiting orders relative to further operations. In No. 1 Montgomey, center of section 11, block 30, township 1 south, range 10 east, eastern Howard county semi-wildcat.

They were of the opinion the hole would bereamed down, the oil cased off and drilling continued to test lower sands. The present showing would be shot and tested later if commercial production were not discovered at greater depth.

After having found good sand at 2,403-82 feet Saturday, which tested an hour of oil, drilling was continued. At 2,533 a little more oil was found and at 2,540-47 the showing was doubled in importance. The sand washed out well to 2,551 feet and from 2,551 to 2,566 broken sand was encountered.

It was estimated 40 barrels of oil stood in the hole Sunday evening.

The oil is sweet, testing 31 degrees gravity.

"Eight-inch casing is set at 3,850 feet, no pipe having been run below that depth.

Nearest production is a mile and a half west on the California Company's Foster lease. The Sinclair test is a half mile due west of the Magnolia tank farm.

The well is in the northeast quarter of the south half of section 1, block 35, and is a south offset to Cosden No. 1-A University, which for some time was the farthest north producer in the field until Skelly-Amorita No. 1-A University effected a quarter-mile north extension, shortly afterward followed by another quarter-mile north extension through Shell No. 1 Jones.

Twenty-eight wells in the pool produced 15,594 barrels of oil during the 24 hours ending Friday morning, compared with 14,125 1/2 barrels the day before.

It had drilled Friday to 2,687 feet in line. Location in 1,650 feet from the north line and 440 feet from the east line of section 2, block 35, a north offset to Gulf No. 1-A University and one location south of Cosden No. 1-B University, both producers.

Regulations Governing Milk And Meat Sold In City Are Reviewed

There are on the statute books of the city of Big Spring, ordinances which comprehensively cover regulation of the production, preparation and distribution of milk and meats in the city.

The new city sanitary inspector, M. Williams, formerly foods inspector for the city of Waco, is charged with the enforcement of these ordinances.

Milk is classified certified milk, grade A raw milk, grade B raw, grades A, B, and C pasteurized and ungraded milk. The law provides that cans or other containers, including bottles, containing milk must be labeled plainly to show what grade milk they hold.

Here are some of the chief provisions of the standard milk ordinance, which is that used in practically all of the cities of the country:

Milk must contain not less than 1-2 per cent of solids not fat and not less than 3-1-4 per cent of milk fat, or butter fat.

Permits

It is unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to bring or receive into the city for sale or for use for sale or to have in hand any milk or milk product accepting evaporated milk, condensed milk, skimmed milk, powdered whole or powdered skimmed milk who has not paid his license fee in advance and who does not possess an unrevoked permit from the health officer of the city and in whose place of business there does not appear in a conspicuous place a placard showing that the permit has been obtained.

Containers

Bottles, cans, packages and other containers enclosing milk or any milk products and sold or served shall be plainly labeled or marked with the name of the contents as classified in the ordinance, as well as the grade of the product according to the provisions of the ordinance. If pasteurized that word must appear. If it is raw milk the percentage of milk fat must be shown. Every grocery store, restaurant, cafe, soda fountain or similar establishment selling or serving milk shall display in a place designated by the inspector a card furnished by him, stating the grade of the milk at the time it is delivered and whether it is raw or pasteurized.

At least once during each grading period, which in no case shall exceed six months, the sanitary inspector shall inspect every dairy farm producing milk or cream for consumption in the city and all milk products or cream intended for consumption in the city. In case he discovers violation of any item of sanitation he shall make a second inspection after a lapse of such time as he deems necessary for the defect to be remedied but not before the lapse of three days and the second inspection shall be used in determining the grade of milk or cream.

Reports

One copy of the inspection report shall be posted by the health officer in a conspicuous place upon an inside wall of the dairy farm or milk plant buildings, and it shall be removed by no person except the inspector. Another copy shall be filed with the records of the health department. In addition a written notice shall be mailed to or left with the owner or manager in the case of violations.

During each grading period at least four samples of milk or cream from each dairy farm and each milk plant shall be tested by the health officer. Samples of milk and cream from stores, cafes, soda fountains, restaurants and other places where milk products are sold shall be tested as often as the inspector shall require. These tests shall include the determination of the bacterial count made in conformity with the standards and methods recommended by the American Public Health Association and may include other chemical and physical determination as the health officer may deem necessary. Notices of bacterial count shall be given interested persons on request. If market value of any sample exceeds 25 cents the city shall pay for it.

Public Announcement

At least once every six months the health officer shall announce through the daily press the grades of milk and cream supplies delivered by all producers or distributors and ultimately consumed within the city of Big Spring. These grades shall be based upon the following standards: the grading of cream may be identical with the grading of milk except that the permissible bacterial limits shall be multiplied five fold in the case of cream.

Certified milk is that conforming to the requirements of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissioners and produced under the supervision of the medical milk commission of the Medical Society of Howard county.

Grade B raw milk is that the average bacterial count of which at no time prior to delivery exceeds 200,000 per cubic centimeter, which is produced under conditions outlined in the ordinance except that in no case shall cleanliness of the barnyard be omitted and changing the cooling system to provide 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and substituting boiling water for steam in cleansing vessels.

Grade B pasteurized milk is A or B raw milk which has been pasteurized, cooled and bottled in a milk plant conforming to all items of sanitation required for grade A pasteurized milk except that the average bacterial count at no time after pasteurization shall exceed 100,000.

Grade C pasteurized milk is that which does not meet the requirements of A or B pasteurized milk and the average bacterial count of which at no time prior to delivery exceeds 300,000. It shall be sold for manufacturing purposes only and every container shall be so marked.

Fees

A license fee for sale or delivery of milk or products acquired from or distributed by milk plants shall be $30.

An annual license fee for sale or delivery of milk or milk products acquired from or produced or delivered by each dairy shall be a minimum of $3 plus $2 per cow, heifer or bull up to and including ten head and $1 per head for additional ones. In no case shall the maximum fee exceed $50 for one dairy.

Penalty for violation of this ordinance shall not exceed a fine of $100.

The ordinance has been amended to allow sale of ungraded milk provided it is so labeled, and all plants selling ungraded milk or drinks containing it shall display these words "We sell ungraded milk here," or "We use ungraded milk in our drinks."

Meats

Another ordinance provides that diseased animals may not be brought into the city. It prescribes manner of constructing slaughter houses, provides for certificates of the health of workers, that no part of the plant used to house heating or power equipment or for storage of fuel shall be used for handling meat or rendering lard or tallow. Mrs. J. A. Hambrick And Mrs. P. N. Allen Are Weekly Winners For "Spaghetti Dishes For Hungry Husbands"

"Many a cook's renown rests upon her sauces." The success of the French as cooks may be based to a large extent upon their excellent sauces. They use the sauce with almost every dish.

Roughly divided, sauces are as follows: those for meat, fish, vegetable and egg dishes and those specially suited for puddings and deserts.

So next week send in your recipes for sauces—chocolate, tomato, butterscotch—sauces for meats—sauces for ice cream—sauces for vegetables. We will pay two women $1.50 for the best sauces submitted. These sauces will be tested for practicality, general usefulness and expense in preparation.

18 To 1 Shot Is Derby Winner

EPSON DOWNS, England, June 4 (AP)—Blenheim, an 18 to 1 shot, won the 18th running of the English Derby before a million watchers here today.

Diolite, the favorite, finished third and Iliad second. Seventeen ran. The winner is owned by the Aga Khan. The Scout II, American owned and bred entry, was unplaced.

Blenheim, by Blandford from Malve, won by a length. There were two lengths between second and third.

The odds were 18 to 1 against on Blenheim, and 25 to 1 and 11 to 4 respectively on second and third.

Blenheim, ridden by H. Wragg, had been well regarded in the betting although not one of the first three favorites.

Somerville Tattersall's Iliad, runner-up, was considered one of the better horses entered, but its brilliant showings came as a surprise. Sir Hugo Hirst's Diolite proved a disappointment to the many who had believed the favorite would romp away with the honors.

Blenheim had been well beaten by Diolite in previous races this season.

HOBBS TEST RUNS WILD; DAM BUILT

Shell A1 State Makes 2,000 Barrels, Fifty Million Feet

HOBBS, N. M., June 3.—Cooling in unexpectedly at 10 o'clock this morning Shell's No. A-1 State, section 33-18-36, was making an estimated fifty million cubic feet of gas and 2,000 barrels of oil daily, from total depth of 4,601 feet.

The well was out of control. Dams were being thrown up to care for the oil, which was sprayed over the countryside by a brisk wind.

Mila From Bowers

The well is a mile southeast of Humble No. 1 Bowers, which is a produced from 4,136 feet and has been estimated as good as a 7,000 barrel well.

Rigs for two miles north of the Shell's new well have been shut down due to the fire hazard created by the oil spray.

Just 100 yards south of the well is a perfectly formed natural basin large enough to hold approximately 250,000 barrels of oil. This completion indicates an extensive pool within two miles of New Hobbs.

VAN'S LARGEST

VAN, Tex., June 3 (AP)—Estimated to have a daily production of 55,000 barrels, the largest well brought in in the Van field, the Pure Oil Company's I. W. Thompson No. 1, an offset to and one location east of the 50,000 barrel Murphee well, spouted free today.

hT Thompson well was brought in from a depth of about 2,900 feet, the oil sand being encountered 100 feet higher than in the Murphee well, and measuring fully 500 feet in thickness, according to the log.

SCHLICHER

Phillips-Interstate's No. 1 Whitten, Schleicher county wildcat, which for more than a week has been making 750,000 cubic feet of wet sweet gas, and a baller of over 50-gravity oil hourly from sand at 6,800-33 feet, had drilled to 6,470 feet in blue shale unchanged.

NEAR TEXARKANA

The Timberlake-Tidwell Company began drilling operations in the eastern part of the state when they spudded in their Tidwell No. 1 test about 4 miles south of New Boston, 23 miles west of Texarkana. Several thousand acres in leases are held by the company which planned to drill day and night.

DAILY PRODUCTION

TULSA, Okla., June 3 (AP)—The daily average production of light gravity oil in Oklahoma fields coursed upward 21,010 barrels during the week ending May 31 to total 680,570 barrels, according to the estimate of the Oil & Gas Journal. All state fields, excepting St. Louis Pearson, reported increased production.

The Journal's estimate for the entire United States 2,598,731 barrels of both light and heavy gravity oil an increase of 22,662 barrels over the daily average for the week ending May 31 was 9,547.

West Texas fields lost more than 2,000 barrels during the past week from the daily average. The entire midcontinent areas gained 21,409 barrels in light oil and 7,625 in heavy.

Kansas registered slightly more than a 2,000 barrel gain, reporting 134,920 as a daily average.

The Gulf coast and southwest Texas heavy oil areas continued upward. Eastern fields dropped slightly and the Rocky Mountain areas gained. California lost 14,000 barrels in daily production.

Cracks In the Dome

By The Political Analyst
AUSTIN, June 4.—Feminine vigilantes are on the road at work in the cause of helping Thomas E. Love's race for governor.

Many women have pledged themselves to secure signatures of pledges of 100 other women to support him.

These workers are busy over the state. In Dallas several hundred women are circulating the pledge lists.

This evidently shows that Mr. Love still believes in the pledge, though he is willing to take it himself for as long as his conscience may dictate its obedience, since a considerable part of his race apparently will depend on the pledge of these women workers to hunt votes for him, and the pledge of the signers to cast their ballots for him.

These women workers, as would seem probable, largely are those devoted to the efforts of prohibition and temperance organizations, and those who were hostile to the election of Alfred E. Smith. The workers, in general, are those who helped defeat the democratic party in Texas two years ago.

A picturesque campaigner, who could even turn a hole in his sock to political advantage, has arisen in the Valley country to contend with the veteran Archie Parr as senator from the big block of counties extending from Corpus Christi around by Brownsville all the way up to Laredo. He is James E. Neal, successful cattleman of Webb county, former county attorney of Williamson county.

James E. Neal's remarkable campaign, foot, shortly after he graduated from the university law school, that made him county attorney of Williamson county, is still a political tradition of this section.

Neal is more than six and a half feet high. He proved an excellent county attorney, and retired from office only when he moved to the Rio Grande country to engage in the cattle business.

Neal once weathered his herds of Williamson county cattle 40 days without a drop of water on his ranch, according to his old-time friends. He did this in a drought year when the only green stuff on the land was cactus. He made innumerable brush torches, and with smoke in his eyes, he burned the thorns from the cactus plants, thus making it possible for the cattle to eat the green, moist, bulbous leaves and survive.

Once when a seasoned lawyer opposed him in joint debate for county attorney, the lawyer ridiculed Neal for wearing fancy socks. Unobtrusively the giant candidate punched a big hole in one sock; and when his time came to speak he pulled up his trouser leg and displayed the hole. "If my opponent," he said, "doesn't know the difference between a hole in a sock and a drop-stitch sock, he hasn't got sense enough to be your county attorney," Neal answered.

Friends of Neal announce that he is going to make a vigorous campaign, by many of the business people of his district, and the great number of his personal friends in the cattle industry ready to get in the fight to the last ditch for his election.

Interviewing Gov. Dan Moody at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, when he first learned of R. S. Sterling's candidacy for governor, was not difficult; but understanding his cryptic, guarded words was another matter. Gov. Moody got off a train at Mexico, to go to Teague and Fairfield to make speeches. A delegation waited for him. The newspaper correspondent that landed up in Teague at the same hour cornered him; and, sitting at the counter of an all-night cafe, secured from him a "statement." That statement said that he "had intended to announce Sunday and file Monday for governor," etc., and closed with "Mr. Sterling has been my staunch political friend and I would not like to run against him."

"Does that mean you are going to run or not?" the writer asked. "It means just what it says," Gov. Moody replied. "Yes, but will your friends understand you have withdrawn your statement to them you would run?" was the next question. "Let them understand whatever they want to; this is all I am saying now," Gov. Moody answered. And John F. Wallace, Mr. Woods and the county judge and others drove away with him to Teague with the newspaper correspondent in possession of an interview whose meaning he did not know.

The correspondent got back to Austin a day after Moody returned, and found that not merely all the rest of the news writers, but Moody's close political friends as well were puzzling over whether he had said "yes" or "no" as to his

To Speak Here

C. C. SMALL

Senator Clint C. Small of Webb County, Democratic candidate for governor will make a political address in the interest of his candidacy here Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in district courtroom of the Howard county courthouse.

At noon the senator will be the guest of the Lion's club at its weekly luncheon at the Crawford hotel.

The candidate will visit Big Spring on his way back to Fort Worth from El Paso. Several speaking engagements have been made for him enroute.

Political prognosticators of Big Spring are anticipating an unusually enlightening address on the part of Senator Small in view of the fact that he is taking the initiative in battling against what he terms the "reign of professional politicians."

"Clean House"
Since he announced his candidacy May 2 the West Texas senator has been fighting all of the old time politicians who are running for the governor's office. He promises in one of his platform planks to clean house of political hangers on in Austin and operate state government on principles as sound as any successful banker would employ.

The senator is on a tour of Texas that will take him into practically every county of importance that it is possible to visit between now and election day. He already has made many speeches throughout the state and, reports from his headquarters indicate, his strength has been materially increased after every address made in his behalf.

In his address here Senator Small will explain why he has adopted a platform free of all political "catchall" phrases and promises.

"A sound business administration, without quarter for political demagogues who try to control important state affairs, is one thing that will bring Texas the profitable development to which it is entitled," he contends.

According to local supporters of Senator Small he is peculiarly fitted to serve the state as its governor, having an unusually valuable experience as state senator and nine years as county attorney, county judge and district judge. He is perhaps best remembered by land owners throughout the state for his activities in securing the passage of the now famous "Small Land Bill," which protects property owners in their rights to creek bed property. Since he started his campaign for governor Senator Small has been voicing his plea for a cessation of political hostilities which have been raging among several candidates for governor. In his opening speech in Amarillo May 2 he called for a "political armistice" to protect the state from unfavorable reaction of the "word battles" of professional politicians.

new campaign.

But, as compensation, the writer learned, while on the trip that Moody's friends were to file his name themselves, and chronicled this fact just 24 hours before those friends did put Mr. Moody on the ball.

Her Subscription Paid Dividends In Most Unique Way

Just to show that it pays to take the Herald here is a note from Mrs. J. A. Hambrick, Route 1.

"Note of Thanks: I want to tell the recipe editor about my growing monument to the Herald and also to thank you for recipe prizes awarded me.

"I kept the first dollar as a souvenir for a good while (awarded for best recipe on the market page, Friday)—then when I won another I began to look for a "safe investment."

"I bought 12 T-bred Buff Orpington chicks and raised 11—almost fryers. Then I won two more dollars and bought 50 culls and now have 34 almost broilers—35 in all. And seventeen pullets bring $17. The cockrels will more than pay expenses.

"This is a pretty good monument for $4. I think so—and will remember you in watermelon time!"

JUBILEE IS SUPPORTED

Special Committee Adds $500 To Fund

Due to the efforts of a special committee, $500 was subscribed Tuesday and Wednesday morning to the Oil Jubilee fund, according to an announcement by Joseph Edwards, general chairman.

This money will be paid for space in a large souvenir program book being prepared.

Funds paid for this space will be expended strictly by the Chamber of Commerce oil and gas committee, under orders of the board of directors. The funds are to be used to provide free entertainment to the public, especially those of the oil industry, during the Jubilee, July 3, 4 and 5.

The special committee which produced $500 additional subscriptions included Dr. J. R. Barcus, Dr. Wofford Hardy, Bill Riggs, Ray Wilcox, Eddie Price and Ray Simmons.

Mr. Edwards declared an additional five hundred dollars will be needed to make sure of the success of the Jubilee, which is becoming one of the most widely advertised and discussed coming events in West Texas.

Poultry Diet Discussed By County Agent

Wise poultrymen will not cease feeding their birds mash during the spring and summer months because eggs are cheap during that period. J. V. Bush, county farm agent, declares, Spring, although the natural laying season, does not call for cutting the mash from the ration, he said.

If the birds are kept on a complete feed during the spring and summer they will give better summer and fall production, which will mean greater returns during those periods of higher prices.

Before a flock of birds may be culled successfully they must be kept under proper conditions previous to culling. They must receive a complete ration, suit to egg production for at least 60 days prior to culling if one expects to get results. It is impossible properly to cull a flock of chickens which is not receiving a balanced ration.

By feeding a complete ration and culling closely a flock of well-bred hens can be carried through the spring and summer with a fair profit.

There is really only one excuse for farmers stopping mash feed in the spring and summer. Spring time also is the natural season for highest milk production of dairy cattle and farmers at that season of the year usually have a surplus of milk. Where there is a surplus sufficient for the purpose there is ample excuse for dropping the mash and substituting milk.

Where four gallons of milk per 100 birds is available no additional high priced protein feed is needed. In fact, experiments have shown that even whole grain supplemented with plenty of skim milk is one of the most profitable rations for egg production.

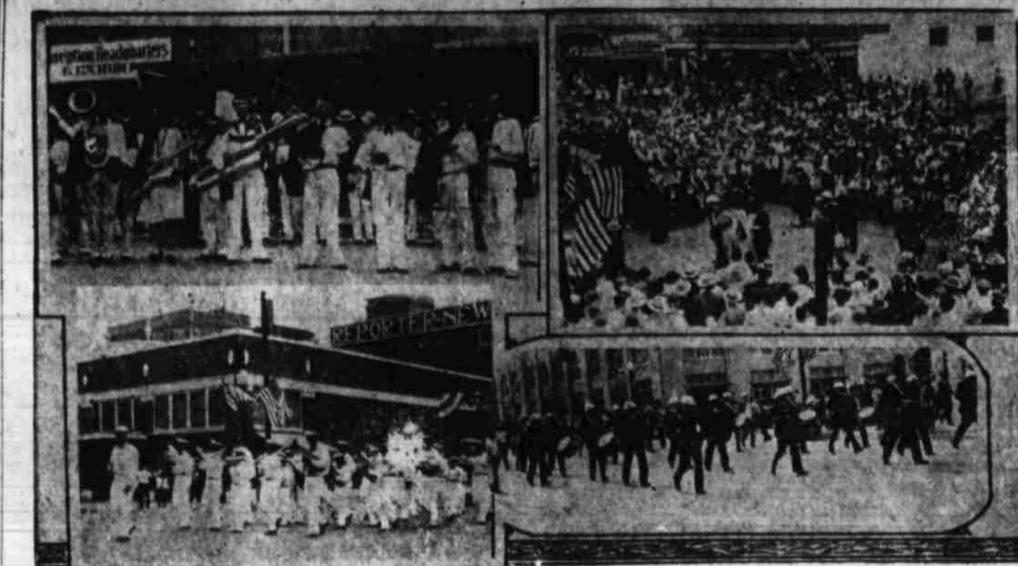

Local Musicians Return From Abilene

They were O. Dubberly and Thomas Joe Williamson, trumpets; Cecil I. Floyd, trombone; Chalmer York and Max Stone, clarinets; L. J. Davidson and Gerald Liberty, drums.

They reported a pleasant trip and expressed appreciation for the invitation to play with Colorado's splendid organization.

County Again Soaked

Near Clouburst Is Forsan's Fall; 1.46 Here

Big Spring, Howard county, and surrounding territory received a second ground soaking rain Thursday night and Friday morning, according to reports received from outlying sections and communities.

Big Spring and vicinity received 1.47 inches of precipitation in the last two days. Of this amount .86 fell Thursday, the rest falling Thursday night and early Friday morning. In all sections the rain was slow and did not cause any damage to crops which have been planted.

They Get More
Ackerly, which received a heavy downpour Thursday, was visited again Thursday night by a heavy rainfall. The precipitation in that section and all territory below the town, including Knott, was placed at two inches for the two days of rain.

Forsan also reported a rain that bordered on being a clouburst. Precipitation started there about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon and continued through Thursday night, ending at seven o'clock Friday morning.

Cochoma, missed by the rain Thursday morning, reported a very beneficial rain Thursday afternoon and last night. All sections surrounding Cochoma received heavy rains during the afternoon and night.

Vincent reported an excellent rain both Thursday afternoon and night.

Stanton also received a light rain this morning, to follow the all-day rainfall of Thursday.

Garden City reported a rain this morning which started about day light and continued until 8 o'clock. A slow rain fell in that vicinity all day Thursday.

All of Dawson county was benefited by a blanket of rain totaling one and one-half inches. The Chamber of Commerce of Lamesa reported that rain has fallen in that county for three successive nights. It fell slowly and greatly benefited crops in that section.

Howard county farmers were jubilant today over the rain of the two days. They were making preparations to finish planting their crops, declaring the heavy rainfall had placed soil in ideal condition for that work. Coming as it has with some of the crops already in the ground, has aided the farmer materially.

No damage in Howard county has been reported. Despite the heavy rain of Thursday night, train, bus and airplane schedules were being carried out on time today.

Parachute Jumper Victim Of Crash

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 5 (AP)—Henry J. (Buddy) Bushmeyer, professional parachute jumper, paid with his life today for going up in a plane without a parachute.

He died this morning from injuries suffered when the plane in which he and Clifford Muchmore, pilot, fell 1,500 feet yesterday.

Muchmore, who suffered a fracture of the skull, internal injuries and severe cuts is expected to recover.

Bushmeyer has made more than 500 parachute jumps. He recently broadcast a description of his sensations while descending from a 10,000 foot jump.

agriculture back on its feet. It doesn't want to stand by and see the farmer wear out his land, his machinery, and increase his indebtedness.

"There is no other way to solve this greatest of problems than co-operation. The farmer must learn to adjust his supply to demand and produce in a correct ratio to consumption. We must produce quality cotton that is in demand."

Messer explained the branch office which it is hoped will be established here, pointing out it would be managed by a federally licensed classer, supply information to members and non-members, handle sales in two pools, optional and seasonal, issue advances at low interest, offer the lowest insurance, storage and handling charge, handle shipments and accounts, regulate acreage and cotton crops, and furnish general information as to markets, classing and sales.

Following the session a committee was appointed to investigate general conditions here and ascertain if there is enough cotton to justify a branch organization. It is necessary to have $7,500 for the branch body.

The committee is composed of George White, Walter Robinson, R. L. Price, T. S. Currie, E. Reagan and C. T. Watson.

The body will make its report following the survey at a mass meeting of farmers to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the court room.

El Paso Woman, 65 On Long Air Trip, Stops Here

A 65-year-old woman, experiencing her first ride in an airplane, was a passenger in a privately owned plane forced down at the Big Spring airport this morning on account of bad weather.

The woman—Mrs. Ernest Kohlberg—told the pilot and the owner of the ship she "didn't care to do things in a half-way manner." So when she decided the time had arrived to become air-minded, she took a long jaunt—from Newark, N. J. to El Paso, her home.

The plane is owned by Alfred Kohlberg of Newark, who is making the trip. It is a Stinson-DeDroster, powered by a Lycoming motor.

On account of inclement weather the pilot, W. C. Sievert, brought the ship down here this morning. It was to remain grounded until the ceiling lifts, permitting it to continue to El Paso.

Revival Draws Larger Crowds

Interest in the revival meeting being conducted at the Church of Christ with S. A. Ribble of Shamrock occupying the pulpit increased Wednesday evening's services, when a large and highly attentive congregation was present.

"Something more than seeming to be right is essential as to the way of life, and salvation," declared Mr. Ribble. "Experience leading to belief that one has found the right way is not the only essential."

"There are numerous highways between various points on the map. We could insofar as earthly things are concerned assume the attitude that any way is all right, just so we get there. But we cannot do that with divine things. We are unable to provide a way of salvation for ourselves. It has been provided for us. It is the way of Christ."

"The only way must be a way of faith, a way of reformed life, and of complete obedience."

Services are held at 10 a. m. and 8:15 o. m. daily.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton announced the birth of a baby boy at the Big Spring hospital today.

Poultry Raisers Count Profits

LAMESA, June 5.—According to records kept by nine Dawson county poultry raisers during April, they realized a total income of $879.99 from 2,490 dozen eggs produced by 2,456 birds during that month. The feed cost was $240.90, or 695¢ per dozen. Average per hen for the month for the 2,456 birds was 17 eggs. The poultry raisers received an average of 26¢ per dozen.

The highest production was the average of 23.3 eggs per hen by a flock of 244 white leghorns owned by Joe M. Peterson. His total income was $196.65 and his feed cost him $41.12. His profit was $155.43.

Since the poultry short course held here in January which lasted one week over 100 poultry houses have been constructed in Dawson county, according to W. W. Evans, county agricultural agent. All of the flocks have access to farm range with modern houses under sanitary conditions. Interest manifested in poultry raising in this county has led to the formation of the Dawson county Poultry which meets monthly at Lamesa.

Barbecue Pit, Not Barrels, Place For Fires In City Park

Barrels at the city park are not to be used to burn paper and waste in, City Manager V. R. Smithman advised this morning.

Smithman asked those having picnics at the park to place the papers in the barrels, the city hauls the trash away.

If papers are to be burned the barbecue pit should be used for the purpose, Smithman said.

Water Facilities

NEW L. C. BURR STORE OPENS HERE FRIDAY

In what is considered by the retail merchandising world one of the most thoroughly planned department store developments in the United States, L. C. Burr & Co. will open the doors of its new Big Spring store this Friday at 115-117 East Second street.

This newest Big Spring establishment with its 33 departments and more than 1400 lines of merchandise, is the direct result of years of planning and careful development.

Before beginning operation, L. C. Burr & Co. initiated a detailed study of the needs of this territory. Surveys were made of the best selling prices throughout this part of the country, and samples of the best values of these retail prices were then sent to the company's market organization in New York where comparisons were made with similar lines from other organizations.

Result of Study
As a result of this work and study, all lines to be shown in this new store represent the highest development in honest values that can be obtained anywhere in the country. In many cases entirely new lines have been created and manufactured to meet the specifications adopted by this organization as a result of their intensive study of the merchandise.

In commenting on this new type of store, Mr. Leslie White, district manager, who is here for the opening, said: "The merchandising plan of L. C. Burr & Co. really dates back several years. During recent years manufacturing has developed to a point where values offered today throughout the land are greater than ever before in history. Only a few years ago the best selling dress in the larger department stores of the metropolitan center was $39.50. Today in the same stores the best selling dress is $15."

Values Have Improved
"In all lines of merchandise there has been a similar lowering in price and improvement in values. While a lot of this improvement in values can be attributed to the improvement in manufacturing methods, a big saving has also been accomplished by improved methods of distribution and retailing."

"L. C. Burr & Co., through its parent concern, has access to the finest and best markets of the world and consequently can offer to the people of this section more than 1400 lines of merchandise certain to cause much favorable comment on the opening day."

Poultry Calendar

(The poultry calendar issued by the Extension Service of the Texas A. & M. College is one of the best sources of information in the state as to the practical methods of caring for chickens, according to Mrs. Louclie Ailgood, county demonstration agent.)

Watch for Worms
Are your fowls thin and droopy? Have they almost quit laying? Are they idle, quiet and sleepy? If so, suspect worms, but don't guess. Kill one or two of the poorest, slit the intestines from end to end and see for yourself. Probably you failed to plow the yard this spring. Perhaps the house is dirty. Possibly there are one or more stagnant water pools about or wet places around the drinking fountains. Whatever the cause, remove it now for it is a barrier to profits.

In the meantime worm the flock. For round worms, which are commonly found, mix 2 lbs. pulverized tobacco to each 100 lbs. of mash. Feed for 3 weeks. Stop 3 weeks and feed again for same period of time.

The pulverized tobacco used should be fresh and contain from 1-1.2 to 2 percent of nicotine.

Regular nicotine sulphate capsules are also recommended as are capsules of tetrachlorethylene. These capsules can be secured already prepared. A liquid mixture of free iodine introduced into the gizzard is also very effective and may be purchased ready prepared.

For tape worms, kamala tablets or capsules are effective. The iodine mixture noted above is also good. More detailed directions about prevention and treatment of worms are contained in Extension Circular C-69 which can be secured from the county or home agent.

Shade Necessary
Many heavy producing hens die from being over-heated. If trees, castor beans or other large foliage plants do not supply natural shade, provide artificial shade this month. A few poles set in the ground supporting other poles covered with hay, makes an excellent and cheap shade. The thatch should be at least four feet from the ground.

Water Facilities
Supply plenty of cool, fresh water during the summer. Look over the supply of water vessels and furnish enough of them so that no bird will have to wait for a drink. Place part of them on the outside in the shade and the others within the house. Avoid sloppy, wet watering places.
