Ground Breaking Ceremonies For Improved Golf Course

Construction Work Begins On Hereford's New $20,000 Improved 9-Hole Golf Course

Construction work on Hereford's civic golf course began Monday morning with the ground breaking at 10 a. m. for laying the pipes to water the green. It was a complete ceremony with the representatives of the golf association, heads of Hereford's civic clubs and the golf pro hired by the organization, all in attendance.

Assisting in the ground breaking activities were Gene Terry, Hereford's new golf pro, Walter Sykes, manager of the Sunset Golf Club in Amarillo, Tom Howard, secretary of the Golf Association, John Patton, who has been in charge of getting the golf course resurrection underway, Wayne Evans, president of the Lions Club, Faust Collier, president of the Rotary Club and Dub Reeves, president of the Jaycees.

Some 3,000 feet of pipe are being laid to water the greens. The nine hole course will include a putting green. The workers hope to get the pipe underground within the next two weeks so that grass can be planted early next spring, making the course available for play by May. The greens are being seeded with sea shore bent grass to provide for heavy sod surfacing.

The Association is still collecting...

The pygmalion-process which the 80-acre course is undergoing includes not only building the greens and trimming the fairways, but repairing fences, trash removal and stocking the stone club house at the east end of the park for use as a club room. This club house, now being...

Visual Survey Scheduled To Begin Monday

Parent-Teacher Association set their health committee to work Monday beginning a Visual Survey, with Dr. Milton C. Adams as supervisor and the Lions Club furnishing the survey equipment.

The survey will include pupils of the High School, Junior High and the Central School down to the third grade. First and second grade children will be tested only at the request of the parents who must accompany the child, said Dr. Adams.

The reason for this he said is because the small child is easily frightened and good tests could not be made under such conditions.

The P.T.A. Health Committee is composed of Mrs. J. C. Reese, chairman, Mrs. George Graham, and Mrs. Earl Springer, who will head volunteer groups for each week the survey is being made. Volunteers for the first week included Mrs. L. E. Gross, Mrs. H. M. Caraway, Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill, Mrs. Harold Wester, Mrs. J. B. Snead, Mrs. G. R. Gandy, Mrs. Frank Lookingbill, Mrs. A. L. Hopson, Mrs. Edgar Skypala. (Continued on Page 8)

Dollar Day Values Are Geared To Please The Early Holiday Shopper

November's Dollar Day values are geared to please the early holiday shoppers for many of the bargains offered by Hereford merchants will make suitable Christmas gifts. In addition the businessmen are offering fall merchandise, equipment for this season, at reduced rates to make room for their holiday stock.

Included in the bargains are such gift worthy features as colognes and soaps, handbags, sweaters, hats and gloves. Listed in the fall clothing sales are suits, coats, dresses and work clothes which still have months of wearing season ahead of them.

The merchants have explained the bargains offered Monday for in expecting a holiday rush they have ordered stock which has already begun arriving and they need space for display of Christmas goods.

The Clerk of the Month contest, instituted by the Star Theater to encourage better clerk-customer relationships, is liable to die a slow death unless public interest perks up. Francis Hardwick, has announced that the contest will be postponed this month because of the remodeling at the Star and will be revived next month only if enthusiasm picks up.

New to the advertising department of the Hereford Brand is Lloyd Olson. Lloyd has been attending Texas Christian University until this year and now, instead of majoring in physical education, he's getting his exercise along Main.

There's a brand new, bright red 30-foot sign brightening up Main Street since the Draper and Smith partners in the D and S Variety Store have put up their new sign atop the store.

Jack Wright is back in town after undergoing an operation in Dallas earlier this month, and then being hospitalized in Deaf Smith County Hospital. He pokes around at the feed store occasionally although he hasn't yet taken on his full schedule there.

Jim Lipscomb Returns From Postmasters Convention In N. Y.

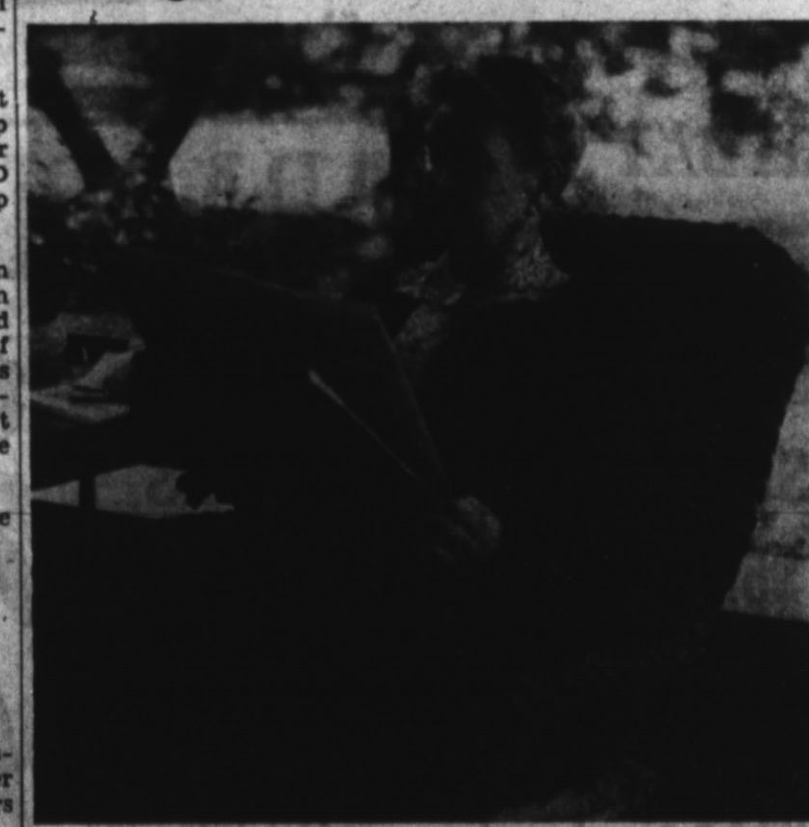

Postmaster and Mrs. J. R. Lipscomb returned Wednesday after attending the 44th Postmasters Convention in New York City.

Highlight of the five day convention was an address made by Tom C. Clark, Attorney General of the United States. Lipscomb said, which was the second day of the convention. Another address by the Third Assistant Postmaster Joseph J. Lawler of New Jersey was of outstanding interest also, he said.

The convention was opened on Monday by welcoming addresses by the Mayor of New York, William O'Dwyer and the postmaster of New York City, Albert Goldman.

The Lipscombs attended all the entertainment features possible, including, receptions, a bus tour of New York City, banquets, boardrides, and, the World's (Continued on page 4)

Party Splits, Convention Walkouts, Nothing New To Local Woman

MRS. FANNY BELL CRADDOCK

By CORINNE JENNINGS

These days of "party splits," convention "walk-outs" and saddle blank ballots may be something new for the more recent generations—but actually history is just repeating itself says Mrs. Fanny Bell Craddock, 88-year old Hereford woman whose grandfather was a candidate for President of the United States against Lincoln in 1860.

Mrs. Craddock is the mother of Mrs. Will S. Kerr and has lived in Hereford with her daughter and family for the last 18 years. Her grandfather, John Bell, polled 39 electoral votes when he headed the party called the Constitutional Unionist and was the fourth contestant in the race with Lincoln. (Continued on Page 8)

Deaf Smith Voters Trek To Polls

PRES. HARRY S. TRUMAN

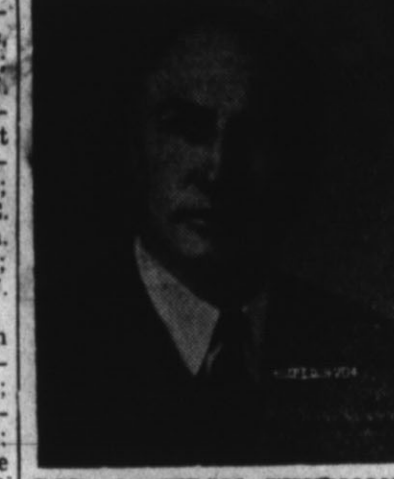

SEN. ELBEN W. BARKLEY

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY

GOV. EARL WARREN

GOV. J. STROM THURMOND

GOV. FIELDING L. WRIGHT

Shown above are pictures of the six leading candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, two of whom voters will elect at the polls Tuesday. President Truman and Senator Barkley are the Democratic running mates, Dewey and Warren are the GOP standard bearers and Thurmond and Wright are the States' Rights party representatives for the offices.

Dalhart Pass, Run In Final 5 Minutes Of Play Wins 16-13 Over Whitefaces

By ALBERT LAW Of Dalhart Texan

DALHART—The district 1-A Dalhart-Hereford grid battle in Memorial Stadium Friday night came roaring down the stretch, tied at 13-all, and then it happened: 19 to 13, favoring Dalhart.

There were less than five minutes to play. The Whitefaces had just knotted the count, with a touchdown and conversion.

They kicked off to Dalhart which returned from its 10 to 28. Two ground plays carried to the Dalhart 40. Then halfback Jackie Newman hit fullback Billy Cessum with a long, looping pass on the Hereford 35 yard line.

Cessum was less than a yard from out of bounds on the north side of the field. Two Hereford tacklers were breathing down his neck. But he had taken the ball in stride. And as he folded it against his chest he really turned on the steam and churned all the way for a touchdown.

Left tackle Don Keopple's place-kick was blocked. The game was led 19-13 for Dalhart. The battle ended a few plays later in midfield.

Heavy Hereford Attendance Dalhart kicks off. Keopple kicked off to open the game before a crowd only slightly less than the one that saw the Dalhart-Dumas game the week prior. Hereford had a pretty heavy attendance.

The Whiteface gridders made two first downs before right guard Al Flores, playing his first game as a starter following last week's injury of Dallas Bohrer. (Continued on Page 8)

Texas Has Had Only One GOP Governor Since Annexation

With election day fever boiling at a peak it has not reached in years, Deaf Smith County voters will trek to the polls Tuesday to have their voice in the decision day, trademark of democratic government. By closing time Friday the County Clerk reported 38 absentee ballots had been cast.

On the lower levels of government, the local officials that do the administering closest to the citizens, the candidates are all running on the Democratic ticket and are unopposed from other parties.

But the championship races that have caught Texas' fancy are the big Truman-Dewey contest and the U. S. senate race of Johnson vs. Forster.

McMurry Male Chorus To Appear Here

On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the First Methodist Church will present the 16 voice McMurry Male chorus, under the direction of Dr. Thomas S. Williams, Dean of Music and Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at McMurry College, according to Rev. Den Davidson, minister.

The McMurry Male Chorus is of recent origin, having been organized in connection with the enlargement of McMurry College's Fine Arts program which was inaugurated in the Fall of 1947 with the merger of the Dallas Institute of Vocal and Dramatic Art with McMurry College.

The concert will feature Sue Ratteree, soprano, and Craig Timberlake, basso, as soloists. This unusual group of young men, under the leadership of Dr. Williams, performed some 75 concerts during the past season, and toured extensively throughout West Texas.

In recognition of the outstanding work of this group, it was selected as the only musical organization to appear at the program of the Southwestern Jurisdictional Conference of the (Continued on Page 8)

30 Tons An Acre High Yield On Sugar Beets

The highest current yield in sugar beet harvest, getting underway in the early frost season, is the 30 tons per acre from the Mac Nolan farm, Odean Nixon, field representative from the Rocky Ford Sugar Beet Company announced Friday.

Sugar content, running at a low of 14 per cent right now is expected to rise after heavy frost, Nixon declared. Since all the 65 growers are averaging about the same on sugar content, there have been no outstanding counts to date.

Three hundred fifty eight cars of beets have been shipped so far, 158 of them from Hereford and 100 each from the loaders at Dawn and Summerfield. Total harvest yield is expected to run at about 2000 cars and the growers will be digging for another month.

City, county and state officers, and Jaycee patrols, have collaborated to aid in the protection of private citizens and business houses against Halloween damage.

"As long as the young folks are having good, clean fun we are behind them 100 per cent," Police Chief F. S. Buckalew said. "But when Halloween pranks become nothing but property destruction then the law-enforcing agencies will have to take a hand."

The streets were patrolled last night and will be checked again tonight. Four patrol cars will make the rounds, two from the city, one from the county and one from the state officers.

"Our aim is to keep property destruction at a minimum this season. Last year we discovered the major number of malicious pranks were being done by boys in their late teens and early twenties, and we are warning them that if they are surprised in such activity again this year they will be treated as law violators," Buckalew said.

C. Hunter Strain Gets Contract For Tenth Street Spur

The State Highway Department at Austin Wednesday awarded a contract to C. Hunter Strain of San Angelo for the grading, flexible base and asphalt surface on the Tenth Street spur here connecting Highway 51 east to U. S. Highway 90.

Strain already holds a city contract for paving of Hereford's streets and a county contract for paving streets about the jail, hospital, courthouse, and county barn. Strain's bid on the highway spur project was $32,912. Acquisition of right-of-way deeds to the spur completed by the county commissioner's court at its meeting last Monday.

Every American, regardless of choice, owes it to himself to vote in the general election Nov. 2.

This year in particular offers a challenge to the people of the United States. The outcome of the election affords possibilities of considerable difference in the immediate and distant future of the nation.

Too often in recent years has important decisions been made by minority groups and special interests—simply because the people failed to take time to carefully consider the vote their sentiments at the polls. These same people, too, are the ones who are most prone to criticize the government and the manner in which it functions.

Remember: "It is your duty and privilege to vote in the election on Nov. 2."

Just how to vote is a problem this year. Many people are unhappy with the present administration; others will hurriedly recall the Hoover administration during which time they were also unhappy. Certainly, something must be done. Economy in departments and cuts in department bureau personnel are essential.

On the other hand, farmers and ranchers of this country are for the first time in hundreds of years operating on a parity with labor and industry. This situation is nothing but fair, although the two opposing factors are very unhappy regarding the situation.

Of equal importance is the thought that we shall never likely return to the old basis of life in this country. We are operating on an entirely different economic basis which is not likely to change without a revolution or a nation-wide upheaval.

Hallowe'en this year occurs on Sunday and again the JayCee Carnival will hold wide interest for hundreds of boys and girls. Hereford, like most other towns, is faced with a certain amount of vandalism and destruction on Hallowe'en night.

"Soaping of windows" on Main Street has long been a custom in this community. Actually, it results in considerable waste of energy and in loss of approximately 100 man hours for the merchants of Hereford. This many man hours, directed in the right fashion, could do much for the community. Add to this the approximately 300 man hours necessary to apply the soap and you have the potentials of considerable progress.

In other words should all of this energy be used in the right direction, the entire community would benefit greatly. On the other hand, much worse things than "soaping windows" could easily occur. Perhaps the best policy might be to let well enough alone.

Our Readers View . . . .

MAYBE YOU HAVE ALREADY THOUGHT OF IT
For weeks now we have been reading the well-chosen slogan sponsored by the American Legion

"Give The Kids A Brake"
but it was not until we were forced to a stop on the street the other morning, horrified and helpless, that it occurred to us that now might be a good time to adopt another slogan at home to read "Give the Kids A Break by Checking with them to see just how much they have really absorbed of safety measures to be observed on our streets and highways.

At school in the First Grade they learned to sing—

and we have even reminded them time after time to be sure to stop at the curb and look both ways before crossing the street, but perhaps one of the most worth while things we can teach them as pedestrians is to eye a motorist with mistrust.

That doesn't necessarily mean to put the emphasis on the unpredictable woman driver, grand pa worrying his joy-wagon along among the speed demons, or the teen-agers with a sudden urge to attract one of the opposite sex because any car can quickly become a death car when a child misses his guess.

A better place for emphasis might be to learn that when one is traveling under his own power and gets mixed up with an automobile that he not only gets the worst of it, but is also usually the one at fault.

The question of how much supervision to give children crossing street intersections near school has been one of much controversy in some localities. Some feel it is apt to make the child negligent when he is out of the sheltered zone and sometimes even tends to develop a disregard for the rights of the motorist to the point of daring and insulance.

What is all this about you ask? We haven't had any school children killed, but tragedy has been very near more than once.

Last spring at Fourth and Main (the post office corner) a little boy was knocked down and his books scattered over the pavement as he ran across the street after bigger boys on their way to school.

Only this week a little girl came near being crushed under the rear wheel of an automobile as is backed away from the curb when she became frightened and refused to follow older children who had just crossed Main Street in the middle of the block.

With their urging her and her watching oncoming traffic she seemed to be completely unaware that the car was backing into her until the bumper began to push her along.

Maybe she was your little girl. Anyway we all agree that the incident printed as a precautionary measure makes more palatable reading that it would if listing the details leading up to a traffic fatality in which a child was killed. Especially if the name on the death certificate should be the same as one on a birth certificate at your house.

Clippings from Our Exchanges

Hal Boyle, Associated Press writer who philosophies on the weather (below) ought to attempt plowing through some of Hereford's muddy streets (to be eliminated soon by paving) and he'd have enough material to write four columns.

WHICH CANDIDATE WILL ENDORSE RAIN?

NEW YORK, (AP)—It is a rainy day outside, and I wonder if any political candidate is going to endorse it.

Why not? Well, perhaps because it is controversial. A politician might win the farm vote by coming out four-square for rainy weather, but there would always be an answer in the background to warn: "Don't do it—too risky. You'll just make the city folks mad."

But it has always seemed to me that rain was one of the most blessed things in the universe, and not because it refreshes the green things that grow in the fields—but because of what it does for human beings.

Rain wets down and washes the face of nature. In the same way it washes the pettiness out of people, and makes them nearer to what they want to be. At least it does for most people.

Sunshine has the opposite effect. Sunshine is an insidious tonic that makes everybody feel wonderful—but selfish. It makes a man say to himself, "Boy, today I got the world by the tail." And sunshine is a liar. Nobody ever really had the world by the tail—for long.

Rain tells the truth. It doesn't fool anybody. It tells him what he is. Look at a plowhorse, standing in a pasture under the slanting silver pencil beats of the rain. You can tell by the slack muscles, the hanging head, he realizes he is just an ordinary horse after all and will never win the Kentucky Derby or fly out to California in his private airplane to race at Santa Anita. So he plods over to the other horses, and is grateful there are other horses in the world to stand with while the rain falls.

Rain does the same thing for people. They grow together more and tell the kinship of their kind, and this is the great gift of rain.

Rain does for mankind in a cheap and harmless way what war does in a expensive and wasteful way. It makes a man aware of the loneliness he is born to and dies in. It makes him want to be closer to his fellows, a feeling he always has when hardships threatens, the skies clabber, and his world darkens.

Rain gives a man understanding of what Wordsworth called, "The Still Sad Music of Humanity." And that music will teach him more than books or bibelots.

Rain makes an old man feel the age of his bones, and tells him he hasn't much time left to do the good he wants to do. It causes young folks far away to pause and write the letter home they had forgotten.

Rain does many other things than cause pneumonia. It show up the hypocrite. Beware the man of false good cheer who grumbles testily and continually when it showers. He lacks the pull for the long road.

People don't save up their money for a rainy day. They save up their humanity. Too bad it doesn't rain more often.—Hal Boyle in the Portales Daily News.

In the good old days the man who saved money was a miser. Now he's a wizard.

So many people need sympathy nowadays that you shouldn't waste any on yourself.

To set a woman's heart to humming, say her new fall hat's becoming.

A good deed gets about as much attention these days as a homely face.

When a pretty girl tries to treat a bashful fellow white, he turns red.

There is a very narrow margin between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out.

Don't spend your time wondering why a black hen lays a white egg—get the egg.

Like firms in the two previous months, The Brand is indeed proud to have an employee listed as Hereford's Outstanding Salesman. Perhaps Bert Neelley, like Frank Watson and Miss Ona Hammer, was born ten or fifteen years too soon; all three of them seem to have the old-fashioned idea that the customer is right.

Texans To Take Official Stand Tues. On Regulation Of Public Officials

Another Letter from

The Bootleg Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher fails to get very enthusiastic over television, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was readin in a magazine the other day which I picked up in town at a cafe counter and will return if I find out the cafe owner saw me take it where television is spreadin fast and it won't be too long before I can sit out here on my farm and watch Congress in action in Washington or see what's goin on in England, provided some method is worked out for financin the purchase of the sets, although there is some who argue Congress ain't gonna be very interested in furnishin any aid in this direction as what goes on in Congress ain't always of any benefit to Congressmen if the picture got flashed on television screens all over the country.

But what amused me about the article was a statement by an expert that television is gonna revolutionize the habits of the people, is gonna change our way of life. If you ask me, I don't believe it.

They said the same thing about the oil lamp, then about the electric light bulb, about the steam engine, the gasoline engine, the automobile, the train, the airplane, the telephone, the radio, etc.

Understand, it's a great thing to have these conveniences, but they don't never change life much. Ain't no gadgets revolutionized nothin. You take a man from out here who ain't never seen a television set and one from New York who has been seen television for two or three years and put em side by side in front of a broiled steak and what happens? I'll bet next week's cotton crop against next week's issue of your paper about an even bet, you couldn't tell which one had been revolutionized by television and which hadn't.

I can remember when wives would swoon at the thought of a hand pump to draw water instead of a rope and bucket, and the idea of ridin when you plowed was a impossible dream, but all these things has taken place includin electricity and atomic energy, but as far as I can tell ain't none of us changed much. We all still sleep, eat, work when we have to, and get taken in by politicians year after year.

Television is gonna be a fine thing, but I doubt if it has any more basic effect on man than the claw hammer.

Your faithfully,

J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stephenson were week-end visitors in Amarillo.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Texans will vote in the general election on eight proposed changes in the state's constitution. Three of the amendments are discussed here.)

AUSTIN, (AP)—Texans will take an official stand Nov. 2 on three questions relating to the welfare and regulation of certain of their public servants.

The questions—presented by three proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the general election—are these:

1. Should Texas provide retirement benefits for its judges?
2. Should all county and precinct law enforcement officers receive salaries instead of being compensated on the fee basis?
3. Should counties be allowed to provide workmen's compensation insurance for their employees?

Voters Decide Principle

The voters will decide only the principle of judicial retirement—whether or not the legislature should set up a plan. Left entirely to legislative decision would be such specific details as compensation, length of service, age or disability, and reassignment to active duty where and when needed. The amendment covers judges and commissioners of appeals courts and judges of the district and criminal courts.

Advocates of the plan argue that additional incentive must be provided for those who sacrifice financial attractions of private practice to serve on the bench at a fixed salary.

Eighth On Ballot
Opponents contend that the state provides no retirement for any of its other elected officials.

The amendment is eighth on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 39.

The proposed amendment replacing fees with salaries for all county and precinct law enforcement officers is self-enacting, requiring nothing more than a favorably vote to put it into effect.

It applies to all sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, county law enforcement officers including sheriffs who also perform the duties of assessor and collector of taxes, and their deputies, constables, deputy constables and precinct law enforcement officers.

Salaries are now mandatory only for county officers in counties of 20,000 or more population, commissioners' courts being empowered to choose between salaries or fees, in other cases.

The amendment is sixth on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 36.

The workmen's compensation insurance proposal would authorize the legislature to set up laws to enable all counties to provide the insurance for their employees. The county could carry its own insurance risk if it so desired. State laws yet to be enacted—if the amendment is adopted—would govern the administration of the system.

The amendment is first on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 30.

Miss Lucille Park, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kemp, and Mr. and Mrs. Stagers called Sunday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. Bowman.

Corn and some livestock continued downward at southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Hogs closed the week about unchanged at Texas markets but recorded losses of around 50 cents to $1 at other terminals. Bulk of good and choice medium weight butchers cashed Monday around $26 at San Antonio and Denver, $26.25 to $26.50 at Fort Worth, and $25.50 to $26 at Oklahoma City, Wichita and Kansas City.

Cattle prices fell mostly 50 cents to $1.50 for the week at Texas and Oklahoma markets, although Kansas City and Denver showed little change. Slaughter steers and yearlings were scarce at most terminals. Common and medium cows sold from $16 to $18 Monday at Houston and Wichita, and $15.50 to $17 at San Antonio. Common to good cows ranged from $15 to $20 at Fort Worth, and cutter to medium grades $14 to $17 at Oklahoma City. Cannors and cutters brought $14 to $16.50 at Kansas City.

Sorghums advanced 11 cents a hundred for the week to reach $2.57 to $2.62 Monday at Texas common points. Wheat gained two cents a bushel to bring $2.43 1/2, and oats rose two to 95 to 96 cents at Galveston. Both white and yellow corn dropped 10 to 12 cents. White corn sold Monday at $1.75 to $2, and yellow $1.55 to $1.58.

Hay values turned firmer as frosty weather came to the southwest. Peanuts sold at support levels as harvesting reached a peak in many areas.

Egg markets continued seasonally firm for the week, with farm prices of fresh eggs especially strong. Prices ranged mostly from 40 to 55 cents a dozen for the different qualities and locations. Turkeys and chicken hens remained firm. Spring chickens steadied at recent declines. Arkansas growers received mostly 30 cents.

Many southwest fruits and vegetables sold in firmer markets during the week. Increasing shipments of citrus fruits and fall vegetables found their way to consuming centers. Carrots of green beans, cucumbers, oranges, sweet potatoes and mixed vegetables rolled out of Louisiana. Texas shipped grapefruit, oranges, lemons, carrots, lettuce, peppers, cucumbers, eggplant, and mixed vegetables. Colorado moved carloads of apples, pears, potatoes, onions, carrots, cauliflower, celery and mixed lots. Carrots rolled from New Mexico, and Kansas loaded a few onions and pears.

Madrigal Singers To Appear At Lubbock

DENTON—North Texas State College's Madrigal Singers, directed by Dr. Walter Hodgson, dean of the School of Music, will begin a tour of nine cities in Texas and New Mexico, opening in Eastland Oct. 24.

The Madrigals, who take their name from the part-songs or madrigals sung by the nobility during the Elizabethan era and appear in costumes of the period, will also sing in Hobbs, N. M., Oct. 25; Artesia, N. M., Oct. 26; Alamogordo, N. M., Oct. 27; Socorro, N. M., Oct. 28; Farmington, N. M., Oct. 29; and Lubbock, Nov. 2.

Clearman, Draper Attend District Meet At Amarillo

County Agent Hugh Clearman and Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper returned Tuesday from a two day meet in Amarillo organized among agents of District 1 and District 3. This meeting was held as a replacement for the annual statewide conference usually held at College Station.

Advantages of this plan were recounted by Dr. Ide P. Trotter, service director, who declared, that such smaller meets bring the men and women into closer contact with directors and give the directors a chance to study conditions all over the state.

Louis Franke, extension editor, and J. T. Sloan, visual aids specialists presented a skit on care and feeding of poultry emphasizing the importance of proper equipment and championing more poultry raising in Texas.

Dr. Trotter, who has just returned from a trip through the Orient and Europe, studying agricultural conditions in Japan, China, India, Greece, Italy and Portugal discussed the extension developments around the world; and Dr. W. W. Williams, vice chancellor of A. and M. College discussed the revisions in the college system.

Proper Shelter To Help Prevent Swine Losses

AUSTIN—Chilly and changeable weather of fall and early winter can lead to serious losses among droves of swine, according to a warning to farmers issued here today.

"Unless hogs are given the proper shelter," the American Foundation for Animal Health declared, "the farmer is taking a gamble with a possible outbreak of swine influenza. Flu losses this season could be especially costly."

Swine influenza is an acute, by the combined action of a virus and a germ, the Foundation explained. One of the chief problems with swine flu is the fact that it weakens pigs and makes them easier prey to cholera, enteritis and similar diseases.

The virus and germ seem to cause trouble principally where swine are improperly housed, or unduly exposed to cold and dampness. Dry, well-bedded, well-ventilated, draft-free quarters are therefore vital precautions against this disease.

Farmers also were cautioned to watch their pigs for the first signs of an influenza outbreak—symptoms like listlessness, loss of appetite, coughing, labored breathing and watery eyes.

"Immediate diagnosis and careful nursing help to assure recovery, and also help prevent spread of the disease to the rest of the herd and help prevent deaths from secondary complications," the Foundation said.

Family Reunion Held At Edwards Residence

For the first time in 15 years all the members of Mrs. Florence Edwards family were together at a family reunion held at her home Sunday October 24. Three of the six children were born and reared in Hereford and eight of the eleven grandchildren attended the get-together.

Children attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Linville and children, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Howard and son, Compton, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Watts and son, Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schaefer, Miss Lee Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Linville and children, Hereford. Calling in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. George Beams and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burkett and children.

Sister Of Local Woman Is Killed In Auto Accident

Mrs. Della Mae Huddleston, of Clovis, sister of Mrs. M. T. Hager of Hereford, was killed instantly late Wednesday afternoon in a car-truck collision a mile west of Melrose.

Mrs. Huddleston, 43, was driving a car which skidded into a truck driven by Albert Chiles, Portales farmer. Chiles was uninjured in the accident. Witnesses report the car apparently struck a wet spot on the pavement, causing it to slide into the other vehicle.

Injured in the wreck was V. E. Garner, 59, of Sudan, who suffered a broken nose and severe cuts.

Mrs. Huddleston had been a resident of Clovis for a number of years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. T. R. Anderson, Clovis, and Mrs. Dorothy Pegolotti, Arcadia, Cal.; two sisters, Mrs. M. T. Hager, Hereford, and Mrs. W. T. Jetton, Pampa, and a brother, R. H. Gresham, Springfield, Mo.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Memorial Chapel of Clovis.

Ford H. D. Club Plans Thanksgiving Party

Ford Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. F. D. Ferguson. Roll call was answered with yard improvement ideas with the lesson centering around Landscape Improvements.

Plans were made for a Thanksgiving dinner and party which will be held on Saturday night November 20 at the school house. A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be featured at a small price and a program of games and other entertainment will be offered. The funds received will go to repair work on the school house. The general public is invited to attend the party.

Members voted to take part in the 4-H Girls bake sale to be held November 6, and letters from persons in Germany who had received the boxes of clothing sent by the Ford Club, were read.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Herman Both on November 3, when members will report on books on the THDA reading list they have read.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Lawrence Jentzen, Earl Dyer, Hardy Benson, George Epting, Maxey Dowd, Hilda Both, Herman Both, and the hostess.

Tri-Hi-Y Club Has Study Program

Tri-Hi-Y members study "How We Can Tell Right From Wrong" at the meeting held Tuesday night at the school house. Those taking part in the discussions were Alma Faye Knox, leader; Donna Jean Stagner, Sandra Bateman, Nelda Guy Lawrence, Joyce Rose, Gayle Foster, and Betty Ruth Cawthon. Caren Conklin gave musical selections and Earlene Phillips entertained with readings.

Miss Sadye Rigler is sponsor of the group and Inez Tucker is president of the organization.

Officers Elected At Morning Coffee

Members of the Young Married Women's Class of the First Baptist Church were entertained at the home of the teacher, Mrs. George Graham Wednesday morning at an informal coffee.

Officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. James Edmonson, president; Mesdames C. E. Leasure, V. C. Hopson, Edward Roberson and Jack Bivins, vice-presidents; and Mrs. E. Ward Jr. secretary.

Local Girl Initiated Into Freshman Honor Unit Of Texas Tech

Elizabeth Cocanougher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cocanougher, was initiated Tuesday into the Freshman Honor Society at Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Elizabeth was one of eight girls eligible for membership which requires that each girl must have a B plus average at the end of either semester of the freshman year and to have maintained a clear disciplinary record.

Plans for a tea honoring all freshman women and transfers will take place soon announced Sue Holmes, president of the Society.

Besides the president, there are twelve members in the original Society beginning this year. The Society was organized on the campus to promote scholarship and leadership among freshman girls, Miss Holmes said.

Amendment On Redistricting To Provide For Adjustments After Population Shifts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Texans will vote in the General election on eight proposed changes in the state's constitution. Two of the amendments are discussed here.)
AUSTIN, (AP)—How many Texans should a legislator represent? Who would become governor if the governor-elect died between his election and his inauguration? Don't rip a blood vessel trying to figure out those questions just yet. Answers are rooted in two proposed constitutional amendments voters will ballot on in the general election Nov. 2.

The two proposed changes are the only ones of eight to be submitted which deal with high legislative and administrative matters. Others pertain to a retirement plan for judges, county officials' fees, county employee insurance, and tax matters. Legislators ignore directives Texas legislatures for 18 years have been ignoring a constitutional directive ordering redistricting of the state following each federal decennial census. The idea of redistricting is to make adjustments for population shifts so that every citizen will continue to have equal—nearly equal—representation in the legislature.

Failure to redistrict might leave one legislator representing five or six times as many people as another legislator after great numbers of people moved from one district to another. But no legislature likes to face the prospect of redistricting. Such adjustments—following population shifts—might find two office holders in the same district, might force a newly-elected senator to run again in two years instead of giving him the usual four-year term, might find office holders divorced from some of their pet support and placed in new and politically unknown territory.

No Penalty In Past
 There has been no penalty in the past if a legislature did not redistrict. Nor has there been anyone else to do the job. Therefore there has been no relief from legislature failures after both the 1930 and 1940 population counts. Authored by Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe and backed by a long and ardent scraper for redistricting, Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, the proposed amendment aims at spurring the legislature into action after the 1950 and subsequent censuses. It would assign the job of redistricting to a board should the first legislature following a census fail to perform.

Not Subject To Court Order
 Senator Moffett believes legislators guard their authority too jealously to pass it on to a board, and therefore will no longer shirk their constitutional duty. Should both the legislature and the board fail to act, the board would be subject to a court order to force it to act. On the automatic redistricting board would be the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, attorney general, state comptroller and commissioner of the general land office. The board, under the amendment, would become empowered Jan. 1, 1951.

Second On Ballot
 The redistricting amendment is second on the ballot, listed as S. J. R. No. 2. The matter of succession to the governorship if the governor-elect dies is presently not provided for in the Texas constitution. Legislators saw last year's squabble over the Georgia governorship similarly possible in Texas unless a line of succession is legally defined.

Would Elect Lt. Governor
 The proposed amendment would elevate the lieutenant governor-elect should a governor-elect die or otherwise fail to qualify before his inauguration. The amendment further em-

Mrs. Carl Perrin Entertains Friends

Places were laid for eight when Mrs. Carl Perrin entertained a group of friends at an informal luncheon at her country home Saturday October 23. The luncheon table, from which guests were served, held a center attraction of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and quartet tables were decorated with small vases of rosebuds. Places were marked by tiny mirrors with names inscribed.

Those attending were Mesdames B. H. Kirby, J. E. Kirby, Jack Gilliland, J. R. Allison, Charles Hays of Dimmitt, Elizabeth Womble, Alton Fraser and the hostess.

Gift Party Is Given

Mrs. R. F. Day and Mrs. O. L. Day were cohostess with Mrs. J. F. Messer at a gift party honoring Mrs. Virgil Richie Wednesday afternoon.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. Messer with games providing entertainment after gifts were presented. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Henry Weems, Pat Busby, Jack Craig, Bonnie Martin, J. A. Wimberley, E. L. Turner, Guy Hudson, John Johnson, Bobby Hacker, Jim Cross and A. B. Daimron.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to thank all those in Deaf Smith County who were instrumental in my election for president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. I owe my success to the untiring efforts of those in this county and the Home Demonstration Club Women in District One. You have all been a great help to me in the five years that I have served on the Board of Directors of the Association. Many Thanks.
 Mrs. R. L. Campbell.

Voters Tuesday To Have Opportunity To Tell State How The Taxes You Pay Should Be Spent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Texans will vote in the General election on eight proposed changes in the state's constitution. Two of the amendments are discussed here.)
AUSTIN, (AP)—Want to tell the state how the taxes you pay should be spent? Voters Nov. 2 will have one such opportunity when they ballot in the general election on a proposed constitutional amendment that would harness a portion of their taxes exclusively for rural roads and flood control.

Two other of the eight amendments being submitted at the election deal with tax matters. One would preserve the $3,000 homestead tax exemption should the amendment just mentioned be adopted. The other would permit a husband and wife to divide their property between them.

State Would Abandon Levy
 Probably none of the proposed constitutional changes presents more matters for consideration than the tax-harnessing amendment.

It would transfer to the counties after Jan. 1, 1951, the right to levy the 30 cents per $100 valuation property tax now levied by the state for general fund purposes. The state would be required to abandon the levy, for confederate pensions, college buildings and school funds. The counties would not be forced to levy any or all of the tax if levied, however, it could be used for nothing but rural roads and flood control.

Lush Financial Years
 The state did not levy the tax in 1946 and 1948. Lush financial years which permitted a tax holiday under the present structure.

Opponents of the change argue:
 1. Road-minded counties might never provide the tax relief now possible under the state set-up.
 2. The state would have to find a new revenue source to replace the one it relinquished. (They hint at a sales tax).
 Friends of the change contend that:

1. It permits counties to help themselves in their long-pursuing rural road and flood control needs.

All Counties On Par
 2. All counties would be brought on par with those counties which already have been granted full return of the levy by the legislature because of some county "hardship," such as a flood or storm disaster.

In those remission counties, the state automatic tax board would continue to levy the state tax beyond 1951 and return it to the county until expiration of the remission period specified by the legislature.

The amendment is seventh on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 24.

Would Exempt Homesteads
 The fifth amendment on the ballot, H. J. R. No. 35, is a corrective to H. J. R. No. 24. It assures the continuation of the present $3,000 tax exemption for homesteads should voters adopt the amendment changing the general fund property tax.

The proposed amendment dealing with inheritance taxation grew out of a federal law interpretation that an estate could be taxed in whole at the death of either the husband or wife and again at the death of the second partner, amounting to "double taxation."

The amendment would make it constitutional in Texas for a husband and wife separately to hold property, both real and personal, provided they declare partition of their joint property in their lifetime.

The amendment is third on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 13.

One Accidental Death Every 5 Minutes Cited

CHICAGO—Ever try looking at your watch for 10 minutes straight? Go ahead and try it sometime—and remember this: While those 10 minutes tick off, chances are that two persons will be killed and 220 injured somewhere in the United States, according to the 1948 edition of "Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council.

One accidental death occurred on the average of every five minutes in 1947, and one accidental injury every three seconds. There was a motor vehicle death for every 16 minutes and a home accident death for every 15 minutes. Every 27 seconds there was a motor vehicle injury, and every six seconds an injury in the home throughout the entire year.

A LINCOLN STRONGHOLD
DECATUR, Ill., (AP)—A broad belt in central Illinois is known as the "Lincoln country," because Abraham Lincoln lived there. But the title is supported by current as well as historic facts. A survey shows that eight relatives of the Civil War president still make their homes in Macon county. They are fourth, fifth, and sixth cousins.

Party Splits

after several meetings of the convention.

John C. Breckinridge was nominated by a Southern group of the delegates who walked out of the first convention, which finally chose Douglas.

Party Composed Of Whigs
John Bell's party was made up of the Whigs, "the Know Nothings" the conservatives, and the appeasers. They did not claim a platform, other than the constitution of their country.

Mrs. Craddock bears a strong resemblance to her grandfather as well as a part of his name, Fanny Bell.

Her mother, Martha Bell Simpson, also kept the family name as a part of her own name.

Fanny Bell Craddock does not remember much about her grandfather as he died when she was only three years old. But she does remember stories told of him and the freeing of the negroes after Lincoln became a president and following the Civil War.

Stories Not in History Books
She tells stories of the slaves and what happened to them after they were free. Stories not found in history books.

Their old negro mammy and cook returned with her family after a few years and stayed with them until she died at 104 years.

Mrs. Craddock has a full and interesting life of her own as well as an interesting background. She celebrated her 86th birthday in October this year.

She was born in McNary County, Tennessee near Memphis, on a farm. The family also owned another farm in Hardeman County near by. She and one sister, now 73 years old are all that remain of her family.

She moved with her mother, three sisters and three brothers, from Tennessee to Texas in 1872.

Saw First Train Arrive
In the fall of 1879 while they lived in San Antonio she saw the first train come into that city. It was the Southern Pacific; the line had just been completed from Houston. Mrs. Craddock said 20,000 people watched it come into the station.

The next spring in April the first telephone was installed in San Antonio. She remembers her family telling the newspaper story in which one man said, "I heard the man at the other end of the line, miles away in St. Louis and his voice was as plain as though he were in the same room with me." They thought it strange Mrs. Craddock said, that the phone did not change people's voices.

Her family moved back to Tennessee in 1880 and she met and married Dr. F. J. Caddock of Louisville, Kentucky when she was 17 years old.

Comes To Texas
After 18 years she and her husband and three children, William, Frank and Ann came to Texas. Her daughter, Ruth, now Mrs. Kert was born 13 years later at Trent.

And it was while the family lived at San Antonio that Mrs. Craddock studied dressmaking for four months under a well known artist in that line.

Since she had a machine she did a great deal of sewing and became quite adept in the art. "Not only her family, relatives and friends benefited by her accomplishment but the less fortunate who had no machines, received clothing and no charge was ever made.

Mrs. Craddock no longer sews but she does hand work which is neither crochet nor knitting but has the characteristics of both. It is made by the tying of knots which forms intricate and beautiful designs, many of which she has created herself.

Attends Church Regularly
She is alert, interested in keeping up with the changing world by radio and newspaper. Although she does not go out very often, she does like to attend Sunday School and church, which she does with fair regularity.

Her garden was not so good this year she said because the season was wrong but she did have a few vegetables for the table. Last year she raised a fine garden.

She laughingly said, "I have my chore too, that of washing the breakfast dishes."

Decides Trains Too Slow
Where she once thrilled at seeing her first train, she last year, decided they were too slow and because of so many stop overs between here and Corpus Christi where she was visiting her niece, she came by plane.

Air Line Frexy Writes
Boarding a plane of the Braniff International Air Lines she came to Amarillo. She proudly displays a letter from the president of the line, who had heard about her trip through the stewardess on the plane at the time. In the letter he thanked her for her confidence and trust in his line and commended her on her modern outlook.

McMurry Chorus

Methodist Church, held in El Paso last June, Rev. Davidson said.

Formerly head of the Voice Department of Southern Methodist University, later organizer and President of the Dallas Institute of Vocal and Dramatic Art, and now chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at McMurry College, Dr. Thomas S. Williams has a long and unusual record in the fields of concert, opera, oratorio, and vocal pedagogy.

He has appeared on the New York stage with such distinguished actors as John Barrymore, Lionel Barrymore, and John Drew. He made his American Operatic debut in the Academy of Music at Philadelphia and later sang leading roles with the Washington and Columbia Opera Companies.

Mrs. Sue Ratteree, prima donna of McMurry College, has appeared in over 50 concerts and recitals, and has accompanied the Male Chorus on its Fall and Spring tours, covering over 5000 miles.

Craig Timberlake, student of Dr. Williams, and associate in the Voice Department of McMurry College, is well known throughout Texas for his concert, Opera, Operetta, and radio appearances.

Dalhart Pass

intercepted a pass on the Hereford 39.

Quarterback Archie Archuleta, halfback Bill Parsons and Cessnun carried the leather to the Hereford 11. Then Archuleta skirted right end, twisted away from two tacklers and scored. Keopple's place kick attempt failed.

Dalhart struck again early in the second period when Hereford fumbled on its own 30 and the Wolfpack recovered on the 28. Parsons made 10: Archuleta 4. Then Cessnun made a sweeping right end run to paydirt. Keopple's place kick, with Archuleta holding, was good.

The Hereford Heat
Early in the second half Hereford turned on the heat that melted Dalhart's lead. After receiving a punt, Hereford started from the Dalhart 42. Halfback Kelley plunged to the 32. Quarterback Stanton's pass to Kelley carried to the 14. Fullback Engman plunged to the 4. Stanton, trying another pass, was tackled on the Dalhart 10. But on the next play he passed again to Kelley who ran four yards to score. Conversion failed. The score: 13-6.

In the fourth period, Hereford started from its own 36 where Dalhart had punted out of bounds. The Herd gored forward a yard on the ground. Then Stanton's pass to Kelley carried to the 50-yard line. Engman plunged to the Dalhart 35. Stanton's pass to halfback Davison carried to the Dalhart 8. Engman added 4, and Davison knifed through the line to score. Kelley kicked the goal with Stanton holding.

Looks Like Certain Deadlock
A tremendous sigh that could be literally interpreted as "Ah, Gnats" went up from the Dalhart stands. It looked like a certain deadlock. And then came the Newman-to-Cessnun pass and run that brought the huge crowd surging to its feet and dropped it a moment later, limp from excitement.

Statistics: First downs, Dalhart 6, Hereford 12. Yards gained rushing: Dalhart 83, Hereford 118. Yards gained passing: Dalhart 65, Hereford 100. Passes: Dalhart tried three passes, one was complete, two incomplete; Hereford attempted 12, completed six, incomplete four, had two intercepted. Fumbles: Dalhart three times, recovering one; Hereford fumbled once and failed to recover it.

Penalties: Dalhart two for 20 yards. Hereford, three for 25. Punts: Dalhart punted four times for 125 yards; Hereford, five times for 167.

The Hereford High School band and all-girl pep squad, and the Dalhart band played, marched and went through cheering maeuvres at halftime. A note of comedy was injected by four Dalhart boys. Two dressed as a Hereford bull, and two as a wolf. They put on a series of mock scraps and antics that kept the crowd chuckling.

Mrs. Craddock's husband died in 1917 and she lived in Denton alone for 12 years before coming to live here.

In the last few years she has taken several train trips alone, making visits to Tennessee, Kansas, and the west coast, showing her agility, independence and enjoyment of living and keeping young.

corner, the political parties will soon be taking a back seat in the news, particularly the young upstarts born and bred in 1948. We want to give a nod to the Pixicrats in passing, since they seem to have reached a more plausible attitude toward politics in general than many of the others. Organized by a group of Texas women in Austin confused by the accusations and harangues of the fueling and fighting brand of politics, the Pixicrats are open to "crats" of any variety—Dixicrats, Democrats, plutocrats, aristocrats, or autoocrats. They have designed themselves as the "fifth" party and their motto is "Support your man; if you can." Anyhow, their convention was held Columbus Day, as they are quite willing to give the country back to Columbus until elections are over. They thought of giving it back to the Indians, but that had too much of a red tinge.

The Christmas lighting campaign is gathering momentum. Highway 60 merchants have added their word to the Jaycees favoring Christmas lights along the highway and the Jaycees believe the decorations can be put up for $700, this being a permanent investment in wire, lights and bulbs. Already the Rotary Club has contributed $100 to the fund and the Lions Club and B and PW will shortly announce their contributions.

Dr. Milton C. Adams was elected vice-president of the Panhandle Society of the Texas Optometrist Association at a meeting in Amarillo last Sunday. Dr. L. J. Zachary, of Pampa, was elected president and Dr. R. J. Vanderleone of Amarillo, secretary of the society.

Police Chief Buckalew has issued a warning that children climbing on the new water tank in the north part of town are violating a city ordinance which prohibits playing on such structures. "The law was instituted for the protection of the children because playing on those water tanks in dangerous recreation," Buckalew said. "Although there is no fence there to keep the youngsters away, we are warning them that such activity is really breaking a law and they are making themselves liable to prosecution."

queried as to their opinions on the election. Cliff Acker, county Democratic Committee chairman, said he had no comment, the voters would answer for him on Nov. 2.

Glenn Weir, county chairman of the Republican committee, declared, "I don't think we'll have any trouble electing Dewey and Warren on Tuesday. I think Porter has a very good chance of getting the winning number of votes, and I definitely favor a two-party system in the state of Texas."

First To Raise Quota
The Republican Party of Deaf Smith County was the first in the state of Texas to raise its quota of $200 for political expenses according to Weir.

Appointment of the G O P party judges for the Tuesday election was made at a session of the commissioner's court Monday. Serving for Precinct 1 will be R. P. Conaway and Howard Gault and of Precinct 2, Pick Harmon and G. D. Miller.

Foils Open at 7 a. m.
Deaf Smith voters, when they receive their ballots on election day may vote a straight party ticket by marking out the other named party columns, or they may vote for each office separately by marking out all the other candidates running for office.

Folling places for the election will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. They will be held as follows:
Precinct 1: County Court House.
Precinct 2: County Court House.
Precinct 3: Rowe Residence, west of Westway School.
Precinct 4: Cord Hammock residence, Sims School District.

Mrs. H. H. Millard, Mrs. J. J. Buckner and Mrs. E. L. Adams following the check-up, which will work on a different basis this year in that it will check qualities of vision rather than just normal vision, cards will be sent to boys and girls who do not measure up to standard. Those with normal vision will receive no notice but a permanent record will be kept of all pupils tested.

Borderline cases will receive a second check within a 60 day period, said Dr. Adams when speaking of the records and results to follow the examinations.

Dr. Adams believes it will take four or five weeks to complete the survey.

Long Time Ago

October 29, 1903
Stories of the week:
PASSING OF THE BIG RANCHES.

T. J. Webb of Ballinger, one of the best known stockmen in that part of the state, is among the number of the old-time cowmen who deplore the passing of the big ranches, and wonder what the future has in store for those who can not reconcile themselves to existing conditions.

Mr. Webb says: "When I landed in Texas thirty years ago I was told that the whole western and northwestern part of the state was worthless except for grazing purposes. For many years no attempt was made whatever to farm or raise anything but cattle, and now all over that section people are farming on a large scale. Twice since I located in the state, I have been forced to move further west, and now I am located in Runnels county but can not remain there much longer, as the settlers are crowding in very fast. I am thinking of going on out to into New Mexico, where I can have more room. Land that was sold around my ranch that could have been bought three years ago for $1.50, now sells for $5, to $10 an acre.

These are the conditions all through the country, and good crops of all kinds are being raised, and it is but a question of little time when it will be first-class farming country."

GENERAL STOCK NEWS:
Cattle shipments from Hereford to Kansas City since our last report: C. T. Word, 367 head of mixed cattle; Holden and Kelleher, 68 head; William Elkins, 32 head; Charles Burkett, 48 head; R. C. Phansteel, 58 head; Albert Morris, 96 head; Claude Witherspoon, 37 head; Mercer and Boyd, 83 head of mixed cattle; S. T. Davidson, 30 head; John W. Cone, 15 cars of cattle; W. A. Hubbard, 24 cars mixed cattle.

THE DALLAS FAIR "NON EST."
The Dallas Fair has died a natural death and it is understood that it will never again be resurrected.

The consensus of opinion is that the management allowed a fair to drift along the same channel, until it became a bore to those who were attending it from year to year.

That the state fair has been a great benefit to Texas is bringing to a common point all that is best in any state, viz., the products of the soil and the refinement and culture of the people, no one can question.

But now, with the latest improved method of travel, the necessity for a state fair, to a great extent has been removed. The people, by travel and otherwise, have made a careful study of Texas from border to border, thereby acquainting themselves with those conditions, the knowledge of which, hitherto, could be had through the medium of the state fair.

The fair has filled a great and useful mission. Then let us not rise up now and proclaim it a failure, but rather that it has lived a long life of usefulness. (We wonder what the writer of the above article would think now, if he could have seen the Dallas Fair this year, sure not "NON EST!")

Progressive

The Club sponsored a social at the school Saturday night. About 100 people attended the event which was in the form of a carnival. Featured was bingo, a fish pond, grab-bag, a cake walk, food, and other diversions and entertainment. A collection of $65, was made which will be used in the various activities of the club.

Harry Seed returned home Wednesday after he and Mrs. Seed had made an extensive tour of thirteen eastern states. On their way home Mrs. Seed stopped over in Hutchinson, Kan. to visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Byer Jr. Another sister, Mrs. W. E. Dameron of Hereford, was there at the time. Mr. and Mrs. Seed say the University of Illinois and Purdue University football game in which Illinois won 10-6. The University of Illinois is Seed's alma mater and he considered the game one of the highlights of the three week trip.

Margaret Elms And Frank Vaughn Wed

The marriage of Miss Margaret Ann Elms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Elms, 924 Wasatch Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Frank Vaughn, son of Mrs. Ida Vaughn of Hereford, was solemnized Sunday, October 24, in the home of her parents, with the Rev. Gerald Berneking officiating.

The improvised altar in front of the fireplace was flanked by palms candelabra bearing white tapers and baskets of white gladioli. The bride wore a suit of beige wool with henna accessories, and her flowers were white gladioli.

Pioneer Club Studies Post-War Germany

"Postwar Germany" provided topics for discussion when a meeting of the Pioneer Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Close Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. C. B. Williams was cohostess.

Mrs. Walk Boston discussed the subject "Are We Making Headway in Germany" in which she told of the four zones of Germany and the policies used by the directing powers. She compared the liberal American Democracy with the totalitarian democracy of Europe, and explained the inter-dependency of the divisions of Europe.

Mrs. O. G. Hill gave a comprehensive review of "The Policies and Tendencies in Latin America" taken from the annals of the American Political and Social Science written by Robin A. Humphreys. The author discussed the subject from the standpoint of the 20 Republics in Latin America in which he contrasted the Colonial system with the Republics depending on raw products and exchange of manufactured products, with the present system whereby the countries have been forced to be economically independent through war and depression. Mrs. Hill explained the general broad movement now taking place in Latin America saying "Heretofore Latin America has had only two classes; the ruling minority of landed class and the peasant class. Now, however, there is developing a third class, the mid-

Dorcas Circle Entertains With Hallowe'en Party

Scarecrows guarded the doors in the simulated moonlight when members of the Dorcas Circle of the First Methodist Church entertained in the big Coneway barn Saturday night in observance of Hallowe'en.

Spooks lurked behind bundles of feed and black cats, witches and goblins prowled a moon pumpkin and other suggestions of the day.

A barbecue supper was featured and games were played. The children who attended were in costumes.

Those attending the party were Messrs. and Mesdames Jack Boston, Leroy Aven, Earl Jank, Richard Winget, Paul Coneway, Bartley Dowell, W. L. Davis Jr., Lee Kent, Richard Barnard, Norman Gray, Jim Whelan and Howard Gore.

Young Mothers Club Meets For Program

Young Mothers Study Club entertained members of the El Nino Study Club, sponsor club, at an attractively arranged luncheon and program at the Lions and Rotary Club banquet hall Saturday October 23 at 12:30 o'clock. Decorations of autumn leaves and bright fall flowers provided the decorations.

Entertainment features included two songs, "Little Skipper" and "Sonny Boy" sung by Betty Kathryn Hodges with piano accompaniment by Miss Thelma McMinn, and two readings presented by Betty Jo Carnahan called "When Mom Stays in Bed" and "To Mom."

Members of the club which was being honored that day, attending were Mesdames Gerald Wilson, Jack Kirksey, Paul Coneway, Sam Nunnally, R. A. Daniel Jr., T. J. Clay, John Jacobsen Jr., W. H. Patton, Bruce Wooddell, Jim Bookout, Byron Durham, Elizabeth Bonasio, Joe Smith Jr., M. W. Nobles and W. J. Reeves.

Members of the host club attending were Mesdames Norman Gray, Dennis Baker, John Schneider, Don Martin, Raylan Evans, John Winkler, William Hull, Paul Harvey, Neal Young, Charles Hill, Richard Barnard, Cecil Malone, Lowell Sharpe, W. B. Dowell and Delbert Bannum.

Miss Beverley Jean Gourley was maid of honor. Her suit was of cocoa brown with yellow accessories and her flowers were yellow roses. Jack Griffin of Denver was best man. Sandra Carter lighted the candles.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held. The two-tiered wedding cake, which adorned the decorated bride's table, was cut by the couple and served by Mesdames Lura Klewer, Ruth Daniels and Ann Berneking.

The bride is a graduate of St. Marys High School and was a student at Seton School of Nursing.

Mr. Vaughn graduated from Hereford High School in 1940 and was captain of the Whiteface football team that year. He served three years in the Signal Corps of the 7th Infantry Division in the Pacific area and at present is employed with the Reclamation Bureau at Madison Lodge Dam near Arapahoe, Nebraska where the couple will reside.

Weekly Messiah Rehearsal Is Set For Monday Night

The Weekly Messiah rehearsal will be held at the First Methodist Church at 7:45 p.m. Monday. This is the second in the series of practices which the Hereford Civic Chorus will hold to prepare for the presentation of Handel's oratorio the first Sunday in December.

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, director, has invited all singers in the area to join them at rehearsal time.

This most famous of the world's oratorios, and Handel's most beloved work tells in a proud series of choral dramas the story of the Christ, the Messiah, the "anointed one."

It is really appropriate for the presentation at either Easter or Christmas, but has been presented at the Nativity Season in Hereford since 1934. The Hereford chorus, directed by Miss Swisher, has been assigned by singers from surrounding towns.

The popularity of the Messiah stems from its sincere expression of the Christian faith, which makes its message understandable to all. Critics have praised the musical genius of the composition but it appeals to all lovers of music from modest amateurs to severe critics of the art.

George Frederick Handel, the composer, sketched and scored this masterpiece in 21 days. It was first presented at a benefit performance in Flahamble Street, Dublin, Ireland, April 13, 1742, introducing the Eastern season. The first U. S. performance was in Boston Christmas Day, 1818 although excerpts from the work has been given here since 1770.

Mrs. Will Graham Entertains Club

El Nino Study Club met with Mrs. Will Graham at her home Monday evening with Mrs. Jack Kirksey in charge of the program.

The leader discussed "Home-making versus Housekeeping" stressing the importance of homekeeping with livable rooms reflecting happy surroundings rather than too-well kept house where the family felt strained and out of tune with forced precision.

Mrs. Paul Coneway discussed "New Inventions in Nutrition" giving facts and figures on vitamins, calories and food values scientifically balanced.

Those present were Mesdames Elizabeth Bonasio, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, W. H. Patton, Worth Ware, Paul Coneway, W. J. Reeves, Byron Durham, Bruce Wooddell, John Jacobsen Jr., Jack Kirksey, Millard Nobles and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Christian and Mrs. D. W. Hawkins spent last week-end in Amarillo with relatives and friends.

"Tricks or Treats" say Bob, Jimmy and Judy Bradley, upper left, and altho they seem poised for flight, just in case something unusual happens, the treats are likely to be forthcoming. Parents of the trio are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley. Bob is ten, Jimmy is seven and blonde Judy is four. They posed as bold pirates for the picture providing an impressive front for the job at hand. (Photo by Elmer Patterson).

Troy Don, 4, and Martin Reed, 10, upper right, children of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore, started getting ready for Hallowe'en early. No day is complete without a jaunt in the cart with "clown" Martin Reed usually holding the reins. The pony "Boots", likes to be dressed up too, and the pup, "Flip", doesn't get far enough away Troy Don to be left behind. (Photo by W. H. Patton).

Clydene and Marlene Allred and their small brother, Lynton, (center) like to play "dress-up" better than anything and it's best of all at Hallowe'en time. They appear to be having lots of fun spooking or maybe it's a party, but in that sort of get-up they're sure to be prize-winners wherever they are. Marlene is 10, Clydene is age 9 and Lynton, to his own disgust, is still just five. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred. (Photo by Elmer Patterson).

Musical Ghosts, Goblins, Spooks And Fairies On Music Study Club Program

In keeping with the Hallowe'en season, a program on "Music of the Supernatural" was featured at the meeting of the Music Study Club held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Stanford Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath was director of the program, and in discussing the lesson subject, gave a short story on Hallowe'en telling of its origin with mystic rites and ceremonies and how it developed into music festival and other merry making fest-

Jaycees Apron And Overall Get Acquainted Social

The Jaycees informal apron and over-all dance held Thursday, Oct. 21, at the club house was a get acquainted social for new members who have joined the club this month. Those who attended the fair and who were caught by the camera before they were all prettily posed are left to right, Ivan Block who blocks out Pauline Loerwald and Bill Howard, Vida Pappish, Nolan Grady, Mrs. John Kelly, Paul Coneway, Dick Barrett peering over Mrs. Bill Gregory's shoulder, Mrs. Paul Coneway, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Banner, Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Hartman, Mrs. T. J. Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wolfe, Marlin Pierce, Mrs. Dub Reeves, T. J. Clay, Mrs. Ivan Block, Mr. and Mrs. Sam N. Isen, Bruce Wooddell, scarcely visible in the background, Mr. and Mrs. Blue Turpin and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Parker.

Mrs. J. T. McIver left Wednesday to spend several days with her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. S. McIver in Archer City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson of Lubbock were week-end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson this week.

Mrs. D. C. Laird, Mrs. Carroll Laird, and Mrs. L. H. Shore were Amarillo visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blanton returned Thursday night from a 3500 mile trip to the west coast where they visited relatives in California and continued their trip north in Oregon. They returned by the Grand Canyon Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest which they visited before coming home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson returned home Sunday after a two week vacation in various Kansas cities where they visited brothers and sisters of Mrs. Thompson who live there.

Mrs. W. H. White of Wichita Falls has been spending the past month with relatives in the Panhandle. She has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Meyer of Hereford and of a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Walker of Dimmitt. In Muleshoe she visited a son, T. R. White, and family. Mrs. T. R. White and Mrs. Meyer plan to accompany her home this week-end where they will visit with Mrs. B. K. Rhea and daughter of Eastland. Mrs. Rhea is also Mrs. White's daughter.

Miss Katherine Acker, home on vacation from Atchinson, Kansas, where she is attending Mt. Saint Scholastica, is special nurse for J. A. Pitman who underwent an emergency operation at Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blevins returned home last week after visiting their son, W. R. Blevins and family. They were accompanied home by their granddaughter, Bessie Jo Blevins.

Mrs. J. M. Russell of Springfield, Colo. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bowman. Mrs. Russell is the former Miss Virginia Bowman and was formerly employed at the Hereford Brand.

Church Council To Observe World Community Day

World Wide Community Day will be observed Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, November 5, at the First Methodist Church.

Music will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Groom of Memphis, Tenn. and the devotional lesson will be given by Mrs. Uel Crosby of Lubbock. Mrs. Crosby is a former Hereford resident and is vice-president of the W. S. C. of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church and is also director of children's work of the conference.

The main speaker will be Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland College who will tell of his trip abroad and of his plan for the exchange of foreign students at Wayland College.

Those who will "pack a towel for a teen-ager" are requested to bring the contributions to the meeting, or if unable to attend, leave the packages in the basement of the church. The boxes will be packed and sent overseas.

Members of all churches of the City are urged to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Jim Higgins Gives Review Of Book For Club

The Lone Star Study Club met with Mrs. Leo Forrest Tuesday afternoon featuring a book review given by Mrs. Jim Higgins.

The book "Bishop's Mantle" by Agnes Sleigh Turnbull, is the story of a young Episcopalian minister and his first pastorate. His problems as they are related to the lives of his people form the background for an interesting character study with the climax leading him into service as a chaplain in World War II.

Mrs. Higgins said. During the business session Mrs. V. E. Dodson was welcomed as a new member.

Those present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Roger Corbett, W. B. Pruitt, Jack Grady, Jim Higgins, Barry Jacobsen, John Jacobsen Jr., C. D. Kelton, Louis LeGrand, Robert Lingenfelter, Vivian Miller, Guy Newsum, Coy Phillips, Robert Thompson, Ed Warren, Lawrence Womble, V. E. Dodson and the hostess.

Texas State Fair Breaks All Attendance Records In U. S.

All records for attendance at state fairs in the United States were broken Sunday, Oct. 24, on the final day of the 1948 State Fair of Texas.

Last visitor through the gates brought the total for the sixteen days to 1,892,327, an increase of 128,406 over the all-time record of last year, despite the declines generally shown by other state fairs over the nation this year.

Climaxing the big show was the Sunday performance of 2,000 high school musicians in the Cotton Bowl under the direction of Ralph E. Rush, head of the musical education department of the University of Southern California.

Adding brilliance to the occasion with startling exhibitions of complicated maneuvers were three famous high school marching aggregations, the Flaming Flashes from Greenville, and the Gladewater and White Oak High School bands.

While crowds at the Fair this year were mostly from the Southwest, every state in the Union was represented.

Visitors saw what was generally acclaimed the outstanding exposition of all times in Texas. They participated in the largest gathering of rural youth in history. They received $62,291 in livestock premiums. They beheld history making shows in agriculture, industry, the women's division, sports and amusements.

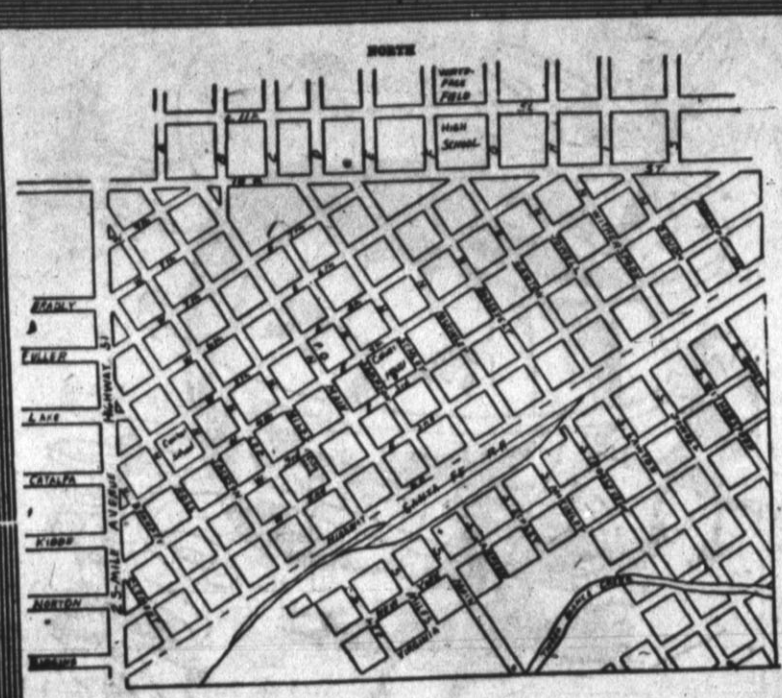

Large delegations of fair executives from other areas were on hand to study the operation of the Texas fair. Among these was L. B. Harring Jr., manager of the Mid-South Fair at Memphis, Tenn., whose comment that "there is no comparison between this Fair and any other fair on the North American continent" was fairly typical.

Even before the big exposition finally closed on Sunday, plans were being formulated by directors and officials to make the Fair next year still bigger and better, using as a starting point their experience this year with the most popular state fair the country has seen to date.

Cotton Machinery Developed To Meet Problems Of Farm

COLLEGE STATION—A summary of the best recommended practices in the mechanized production of cotton in Texas has just been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Bulletin 704, by H. P. Smith, research agricultural engineer of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station, presents highlights of cotton production and shows how mechanization has been developed to meet these problems.

Early Teas farmers produced cotton with the hand hoe and the sweep stock. Riding mule-drawn planters and cultivators were not developed until the 1880's and 1890's.

Outstanding progress has been made in mechanization since the introduction of the row-crop tractor about 25 years ago. Tractor-mounted middlebreakers, planters and cultivators were developed about 1930. Though strippers and pickers were experimented with nearly 100 years ago, there was little progress in their use until attention was given to the effect of varietal characteristics on their performance.

This bulletin, "Mechanized Production of Cotton in Texas," lists each phase of Texas cotton production and discusses the various labor and time-saving machinery which has been developed to handle it. Fifty-five illustrations show these mechanized tools and their relationship to cotton production problems.

Texans in Washington

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Results of the Nov. 2 voting in a half dozen states may have a very important bearing on Texas' unusual senatorial contest.

With Senate control hanging in the balance, the issues and personalities in the Texas race become of increasingly greater national importance.

The question which arises: Will Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Austin and Johnson City be seated as Texas' new senator.

Such a question is based first, of course, on the assumption that he will win over his Republican opponents. Republicans and a lot of Democrats hasten to declare that nothing of the kind can be presumed, since a strong coalition is backing his opponent oil man Jack Porter of Houston.

But, for the sake of discussion, let us assume that Johnson defeats Porter.

May Be Challenged Again
The challenge raised by Johnson's runoff primary opponent, former Gov. Coke Stevenson, is almost certain to be brought up again when Johnson appears in the Senate chamber Jan. 3 with his credentials and seeks to take oath of office.

Stevenson has alleged fraud in the primary election returns from three counties—Duvall, Jim Wells and Zapata.

Whether Johnson is seated may depend on the outcome of senatorial elections of six other states. In other words, whether the new senate is controlled by Republicans or Democrats.

Results In Doubt

The states are Kentucky, Minnesota, Montana, Wyoming, New Mexico, and West Virginia.

While Senate contests are pending in a third of the states, the results are in doubt in the six named.

If the Republicans retain unquestioned control, they may promptly pass upon the question of recognizing the credentials of Johnson.

If the Democrats should get control by a single vote, there is little doubt but what Johnson would be sworn in immediately.

If the Senate membership should appear to be heading for a political tie, the Republicans very likely would avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the challenge raised as to Johnson's primary election victory.

Stevenson May Be Heard
They could seek to ask Johnson to stand aside while they investigate Stevenson's charges.

Since Stevenson has supported openly the Republican nominee Porter, it is natural to assume that his grievances would get far greater attention from Senate Republicans than otherwise might be accorded them.

Another point is that the names of senators are called alphabetically. If at the time the roll call reached the "J's" the Democrats were in the majority,

Johnson might be seated promptly. The reverse might hold true if the picture were reversed.

Senate Makes Own Rules
Nelson B. Deranian, chief counsel for the Senate Rules subcommittee of elections, says:

"The Senate makes its own rules as it goes along. It is not necessarily bound by precedent, nor by any past rules, so there is no way of forecasting what will happen when any case arises in the Senate."

Another interesting question is whether Senator W. Lee O'Daniel will concern himself over the seating of his successor.

O'Daniel May Appear
He likely will be on hand when the present 80th Congress is called into session on Dec. 31 to adjourn itself.

O'Daniel sided with the Republicans numerous times in his nearly eight years in the senate. Should he decide to do so, he probably could buttonhole Republican senators whom he knows well and influence their decisions.

What position O'Daniel would take, however, is in itself quite a question.

Opposed By Johnson
He was opposed by Johnson in the special election which sent him to the senate in 1941, and the two have been at odds ever since. And he hasn't been any more friendly with Stevenson, who announced for the Senate at a time when O'Daniel's own future political plans were still undisclosed. And before Stevenson announced, O'Daniel said Stevenson would be an "ingrate" if he should come out for the senate in opposition to himself (O'Daniel). It was on the basis of this remark that many O'Daniel would seek reelection.

Whether Texas House members will try to influence Republican senators on behalf of their erstwhile colleague Johnson is also a question. While they are all Democrats, some of them have served on joint House-Senate conference committees and have cultivated personal friendship with Republican senators.

Panhandle Residents Concerned Over Russia, Possibility Of Another War, Says Congressman

In an interview this week in Amarillo, Congressman Eugene Worley had the following to say:

"Since adjournment of the special session of Congress I have visited most of the 23 counties in the 18th Congressional District. It hasn't been surprising to learn that the people are cheerful and happy, but still concerned—concerned about Russia and the possibility of another horrible war; concerned about what may happen to them if there is an economic crash; concerned about the long-range farm program and what will happen to it should there be a change in Administration.

On the last point they are very greatly concerned because this is the first time in years farmers and ranchers have had a chance to eat at the first table.

No One Hungry

"I have talked with many satisfied and happy people but no hungry ones. I haven't seen any closed banks or heard of any farm or home foreclosures. It may be that some folks can't recall such things now-a-days on a full stomach. But not so long ago those were the real problems and there were countless empty and growling stomachs.

"As a member of the Democratic Party, I am more than glad to do anything possible to prevent soup lines, 10 cent wheat, 6 cent cotton, 2 cent hogs, 5 cent cattle, sheriff sales, closed banks, and the hopeless people adrift everywhere. As Senator Barkley said, 'When the Democrats took over 16 years ago, even the spiders were so weak from starvation they could not weave a cobweb.'"

Principles Is Party Strength

"The greatest strength of the Democratic Party is its principles. And one of the greatest and most far-reaching principles of the Party has been that of promoting the welfare of all the people—not just a few. It was before my time in Congress, but I can remember back in 1932 when the people of the nation rushed to embrace the Democratic Party because untold suffering and the hopelessness of the vast majority of the people had resulted from a rock-ribbed do-nothing Republican Administration. There isn't an average man or woman in the Texas Panhandle who would want to return to the black days of hopelessness that prevailed not too many years ago.

"Well, the Republican Party has not changed. It remains sectional and the party of the few. During their administrations we have always found high tariffs, scarce money and high interest rates, resulting in depressions. It is far better for all of the people to have at least some money and a higher standard of living than for just a few people to have a corner on all the money.

Asks All Voters To Vote

"Surely most of us throughout the Southwest realize that the quickest way to get an economic sledge hammer blow squarely between the eyes is to permit another Republican Administration to get into control.

"We have an election on November 2, and I hope that every qualified voter will go to the polls. The privilege of voting is the most precious in our democratic form of government. And it is the most important. Democracy can never be hurt, no matter how much Communists and other "ismites" try to bore in, so long as the people inform themselves and participate fully in public affairs."

Texas National Guard Nearing M-Day Force

The Texas National Guard, under its present authorized strength is permitted to recruit one additional man for each two men now in the Air National Guard, and one additional man for each five now in the Army National Guard, compared to the national average of one man for three in the Air and one for eleven in the Army National Guard, the Adjutant General's Department has advised Capt. O. P. Cowart here.

With provisions for enlisting young men 17 to 18½ years old, and veterans with short Federal service, the National Guard confidently expects to reach full authorized strength on schedule. It is planned to have five thousand and recognized units in the United States by June 1st, 1949.

The National Guard has accomplished all of the goals set forth by the Departments of the Army and Air Force, and is a force-in-being ready for its "M-Day" mission. Six of the eighteen M-Day Divisions planned by the Army are National Guard Divisions. One of the six is Texas' own 49th Armored Division.

Recently the limitation on strength quotas was raised for certain units of the Air National Guard. Several hundred additional men will have the opportunity to fly in National Guard planes as pilots or passengers. All Air Training Command courses are open to Guardsmen, where they may go to school and learn radar and radio, mechanics, photography, weather observation, and many other subjects of value in civilian pursuits. They get clothes, board and room free, and receive pay and allowance of their grade.

BIRTHS RACE T. B.

HONG KONG. (AP)—Hong Kong's birth rate shows no signs of decreasing. There were 1,007 births during the third week of September as against 240 deaths. Twelve per cent of the dead were victims of tuberculosis. Total deaths from this cause since the beginning of the year numbered 1,399.

TELEVISION SPREADING

LONDON. (AP)—The British television audience is growing steadily. The General Post Office reports 3,450 persons took out television receiving licenses in August to run the total up to 61,700 in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Cotton Trading Breaks Records Of Many Years

Cotton trading in Oklahoma and Texas markets last week even topped the previous week's brisk business, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dallas, Houston and Galveston sold more cotton last week than in any preceding week in the last few years. Sales reached 188,546 bales. Similar heavy sales were recorded at the other seven spot markets of the country, making a grand total of 403,200 bales for the week, about 19 per cent more than for the previous week, but less than a year ago. Prices remained firm as demand continued good for current ginnings. Buyers from both domestic mills and exporters were in the market. Qualities most in demand included Strict Low Middling bright and better, ranging in staple lengths from 15-16 inch through —1-32 inch. Also, demand for Low Middling in the shorter staple lengths was good. Qualities most in demand in the country embraced Low Middling through Strict Middling White cotton, ranging in staple lengths from 13-16 inch through 15-16 inch.

USDA reports that 1,390,460 bales of cotton have been classified through October 22 in the two states. Of this amount, 990,747 bales were for farmers in Smith-Dooley groups and 183,842 for loan purposes.

Cottonseed prices went up about $1.00 per ton in Texas. Prices paid to farmers averaged $66.20 for the state. Oklahoma price remained unchanged at $66.60 per ton.

LONDON AIDS MOSCOW ZOO

MOSCOW. (AP)—The newest shipment of animals, birds and snakes from the London Zoo to the Moscow Zoo are on display and attracting crowds. The shipment—which is part of an exchange arrangement worked out between the London and Moscow zoos—arrived here by plane from Leningrad after coming on from London by ship.

Nicknames in Football

Do you know your "names" in football? Most everyone remembers some, like the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame—

Jim Crowley, Harry Stuhldreher, Elmer Layden, and Don Miller. The famous number 77 was worn by the Galloping Ghost—Red Grange. The Fordham line of 1935 was called The Seven Blocks of Granite. Do you remember "Auto-matic" Jack "Spick Manders" How about Little Boy Blue (Albie Booth) and Gloomy Gil (Gilmour Doble)? I know you'll guess this one: Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside—Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis of Army. "Bad News" was George Cafego of Tennessee.

Some of the later day greats are to be remembered by such names as Singin' Sammy Baugh, Pitching Paul Christman, Whizzer White, Waddy Young, and many others.

Coaches, too, are well remembered by their nicknames. There's Glenn "Pop" Warner, "Biff" Jones, Leo "Dutch" Meyer, "Hurricane" Yost, "Buck" Shaw, "Doc" Stevens, and many others. Names like these add much to the color of the sport and the memory of its great players. How many more greats can you name by nickname?

Can you name the nationally-advertised brands of merchandise that you'll find at the Fox Man's Shop? We're known as the "Home of Standard Brands."

Young Mothers Club Fetes Sponsor Group

Members of The Young Mothers Study Club enjoyed a meeting in the home of Mrs. Bartley Dowell Monday. Mrs. Richard Barnard was in charge of the program which was built around the theme "A Watched Child Always Bolls." Mrs. Barnard used the subject "Jack's Upside Down World" by Lorene Ferreira for her discussion, bringing out methods of dealing with a new member of the family. Those present were Mesdames Delbert Bainum, Dennis Baker, Richard Barnard, Bartley Dowell, Norman Gray, Preston Hagans, Paul Harvey, Chas. Hill, William Hull, Don Martin, Cecil Malone and Lowell Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside and family spent the past weekend in Chandler, Okla. with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harlow and family. The Harlows have recently moved to Chandler from Hereford.

FHA Girls Send Yule Packages To Europe Youth

The Hereford Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America has finished its first project for this year. Members packed and wrapped thirty four Christmas packages to be sent to the boys and girls their own age in Europe with each package containing warm clothing, underclothes, toilet articles, such as soap, tooth brushes, combs, mirrors, etc. Other small items that would be appreciated were also added. Working in pairs with each couple preparing a box, the girls were able to select the country to which their package would go, and also, to select whether a girl or boy would receive the box. They put short notes with cheery Christmas greetings in each package in the hope that they will hear from some of the people who receive the boxes. The packages were sent to New York to the World Festival for Friendship, Inc. where they will be sorted and sent to the countries for which they were intended. The chapter has made plans for other similar projects to be carried out during the year.

Child Study Group Meet In Home

Mrs. Earl Springer was leader for an interesting program on "The Social Drinker" at the regular meeting of the Child Study Club held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Daniel. Three causes behind the social drinker highlighted Mrs. Springer's discussion which was part of a treatise by Dr. Robert V. Siegler, M. D. and Psychiatrist. The cause include: illness of personality, victims of occupational pressure or bereavement in personality which usually can be traced to emotional immaturity. Quoting from the author Mrs. Springer said "Regardless of all new theories, women make or break the home, and when she learns to accept life as an adult and to make the necessary adjustments we will have fewer social drinkers and fewer homes will go on the rocks." The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. George Heard Nov. 11, when a film on Guatemala will be screened. Those present were Mesdames George Heard, J. C. Recc, Merlin Kaul, Maurice Tannahill, E. J. Pepper, Lisle Woodford, John Robinson, Cawthon Bryant, Ira Foster, Worth Covington, Dale Tinnin, Frank Watson, Clinton Jackson, Earl Springer and the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin left Wednesday for Austin where they attended yesterday's S.M.U.—University of Tennessee football game.

Camp Fire Group To Broadcast Over KPAN On Monday The Chu De Nang Camp Fire Group, collaborating in the National Better Breakfasts Week Nov. 1-8 will present a radio program over station KPAN Monday from 4:30 to 4:45 p. m. This is a special week observed each year by the Camp Fire Girls to stress the importance of eating an adequate breakfast. The radio program will emphasize the reasons for eating a good meal each morning and will conclude with a quiz program. Last year the Camp Fire Girls sponsored a breakfast exemplifying their campaign. "Too many people neglect their breakfasts, skipping over them and not realizing the importance of refueling their body for daily tasks. A better breakfast campaign will result in more efficiency throughout the day," said Mrs. Marshall Formby, who co-sponsors the organization with Mrs. George Heard. Members of the group who will all appear on the radio show are: Martha Heard, Cecelia Wilkins, Patsy Hamby, Beverly Billingsly, Nancy Patterson, Margaret Phillips, Marion Lomenck, Neldeah Flowers, Dorothy Velgel, Doris Russell, Margie Ford, Lu Durham, Jane Houston, Wynogene Sowell, Cynthia Hull and Marilyn Legg.

IS THAT TINKERING REALLY GOING TO HELP US GET OFF THE GROUND, SCORCHY?

SCORCHY FACES THE PROBLEM OF TAKING OFF FROM A LITTERED, TREE-GIRT BATTLEFIELD IN A SMALL PLANE WITH TONI AND HER STRICKEN FIANCÉ... BEFORE THE LOCAL WITCH-DOCTOR ORDERS THE SUPERSTITIOUS NATIVES TO CLOSE IN ON THE THREE "DEVILS"...

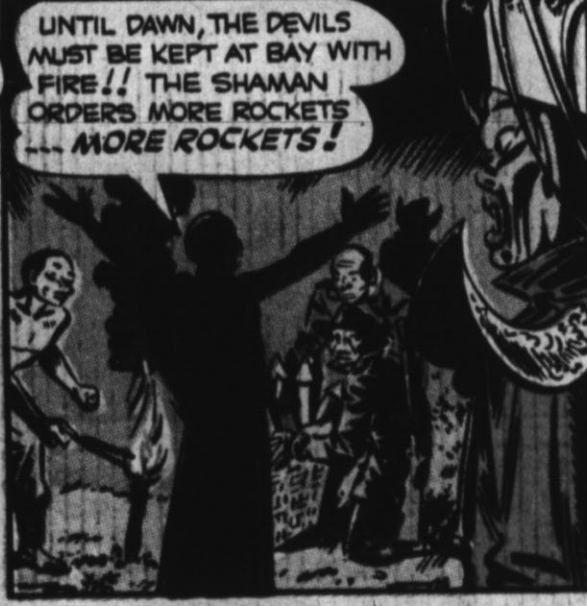

I'M JUST APPLYING A TRICK I LEARNED WHEN I WAS A BOY SCOUT! HOLD THE LIGHT... SO!

A TRICK...?!

SURE! TO GET OUT OF ANY JAM; KEEP COOL AND USE COMMON SENSE! THESE OLD SHELL-LIMBER CHESTS WILL BE HANDY, TOO!

WELL, I SURE HOPE YOU BUILD SOMETHING WITH YOUR L'L OL' TOY GIRDER SET!

UNTIL DAWN, THE DEVILS MUST BE KEPT AT BAY WITH FIRE!! THE SHAMAN ORDERS MORE ROCKETS... MORE ROCKETS!

OOH! THE FIREWORKS AGAIN! AND I USED TO LOVE 'EM!

YEAH! VERY TIMELY, TOO! MOST OF THEM ARE GOING UP FROM NEAR THE BIG BOY...

TAKE IT EASY, TONI! I'M GOING OVER TO THE NEIGHBORS TO BORROW A CLIP OF SUGAR!!

NO!... SCORCHY!...?!!... GEE, NOW I'VE GOT TWO MADMEN ON MY HANDS!!

NOW OR NEVER!

YIPE!! IT MUST BE HALLOWEEN!

WELL, IT IS A SMALL WORLD, ISN'T IT?-- JUST EVERYBODY TURNED UP AT THE RODEO--- BUT, THE PURPLE ENVELOPE JUST A DECOY!-- WHAT A BLOW!

DICKIE! STOP! WHAT'S THE MATTER!?

HEY KID, COME ON, SPILL IT!--

--OH--DON'T MIND ME, DAN-- BUT--TA FIND OUT THAT OL' ENVELOPE WUZ A--A FAKE!-- AN' AFTER WHAT NAGS AN' I WENT THROUGH--

OH, THAT'S IT!-- LOOK, KID, YOU DID JUST AS MUCH TOWARD DELIVERING THE REAL MESSAGE BY THROWING I REGINALD LARGETUB OFF THE TRAIL AS IF YOU HAD DELIVERED THE REAL ONE!

--I KNEW OF THE SWITCH, BUT I HADN'T TOLD YOU BECAUSE I FIGURED YOU'D ACT MORE NATURAL IF YOU DIDN'T KNOW--

AN, I WUZ ACTIN' LIKE A KID!-- BUT, HEY! HOW DID YOU HAPPEN TO COME ALONG?

FATSO THERE GAVE ME THE SLIP AT THE AIRPORT-- I REMEMBERED THE TRICK OF HANGING IN A CROWD AND TOOK A CHANCE HE HEADED HERE, LUCKILY!

C'MON, LADDIE BOY-- YOUR CAR AWAITS!--

PIT 'ER THERE, PARD, YOU SHORE WHITTLED THAT LARGETUB DOWN TO SIZE-- WHAT RANGE YOU AN' DAN RIDIN' NEXT?

FORT NORTH, WILLY! GOSH, I DIDN'T GET A CHANCE TA THANK YA'--

--FOR SAVIN' YORE MANGY LIFE? IT WUZ NOTHIN'--- GUESS GEORGE AN' ME BEST SAY S'LONG, DICKIE-- WE FIGGURED WERE TOO YOUNG TA RETIRE-- WE'RE GON' BACK TA TH' RODEO--

SWELL

GOSH-- THERE GOES ONE SWELL GUY--- I-- I'M GONNA MISS HIM-- AN' THAT BROKEN DOWN MAY BURNER OF HIS!--

GUESS THAT WINDS IT UP, KID-- WHAT DO YOU SAY TO A QUIET WEEK IN THE COUNTRY?-- I CAN ARRANGE IT!

WELL, I'M MORE TH' ACTIVE TYPE, BUT AFTER ALL I'VE BEEN THROUGH, I'D SAY YIPPEE! PR QUIET!

DICKIE'S EARNED A BRIEF VACATION, BUT-- VACATIONS CAN SOMETIMES BE DANGEROUS--

PERCEFUL, ISN'T IT?-- BUT IN THIS VALLEY, DARKNESS IS DESTINED TO WALK WITHIN THE SHADOW OF-- DEATH!!!

ELVA DE SELVA GAVE THE BABY DRAGON A DOSE OF MAGIC VITAMINS WHICH MADE IT GROW TO AN ENORMOUS SIZE... NOW CLAUD, HER HENCHMAN, IS BRINGING OAKY TO RESCUE HER...

I S'POSE SHE'S A PRISONER IN THE CASTLE AND THE DRAGON IS OUTSIDE, GUARDING HER?

NOPE, IT AIN'T THAT WAY A-TALL, SIR OAKY!...

...TH' DRAGON'S IN TH' CASTLE AN' MISS ELVA IS OUTSIDE!

GOSH! AN UNUSUAL CASE!

HER CASTLE IS JEST BEYOND THET HILL, SIR OAKY! I DONT LIKE DRAGONS, SO I'M STAVIN' HERE!

SUIT YOURSELF, CLAUD!

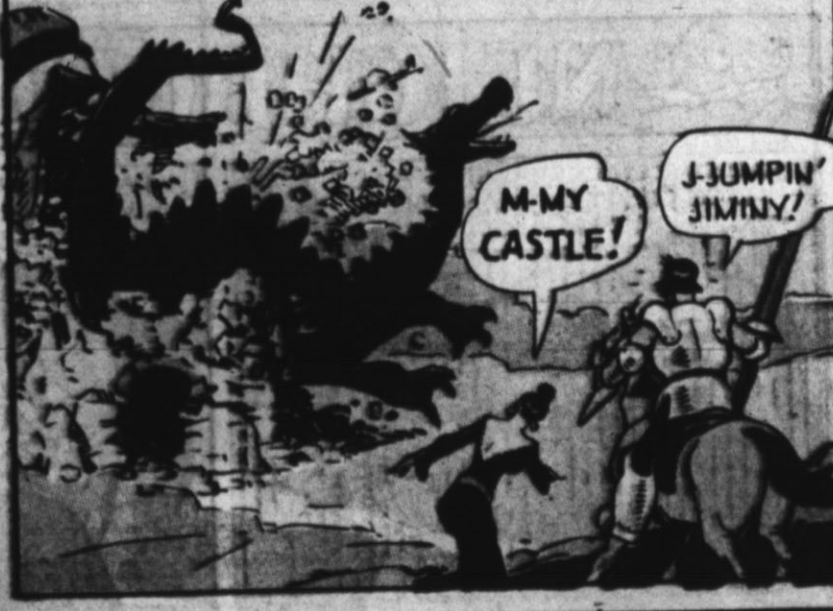

SIR OAKY! AT LAST YOU'VE COME TO SAVE ME!

YES'M-- WHAT FROM?

FROM THAT DRAGON! IT'S GETTING BIGGER AND BIGGER!

GEE, MISS! IT'S THE DRAGON THAT OUGHTA BE SAVED!

M-MY CASTLE!

J-JUMPI'N' JIMINY!
