put it in place on his own to-day because the measure did not pass the Senate.

The administration has now concluded it does not need congressional approval to go ahead, but is inviting Congress to endorse the program anyway.

The plan will be used on top of existing production control programs, under which eligible farmers will receive cash and continued price support protection for idling 20 percent of their land this year.

Under the program announced today, farmers will be eligible to take an additional 30 percent of their fields out of production.

In exchange, they will receive surplus wheat, corn, sorghum, cotton and rice, which they could sell or use idled by the PIK program. That would reduce wheat, corn and sorghum production by 10 percent, cut cotton production by 20 percent and reduce rice production by 15 percent, the Agriculture Department estimates. Reagan said the program is designed to reduce this year's harvest so that pricedepressing government stockpiles can be depleted. Farmers' buying power now is the lowest ever recorded.

"Let's face it; let's not fool anybody," he told the farmers. "Until farm prices go up, you will be hurting."

Reagan said the plan is aimed "at bringing supply more in line with demand and strengthening farm income in future years. It makes our problem the solution." Reagan said the surplus commodities "are sitting useless in bins and are overflowing in warehouses.

"Let's put those surpluses to work to help the American farmer. Those surpluses hanging over the market can't help but have an effect on prices."

Reagan also criticized as sive new milk price support levels, saying, "Some people see the dairy program as an automatic milking machine for their tax dollars - $2 billion a year and the bucket seems to take more and more."

Reagan said he was not happy about the dairy assessment and said that if it does not cut production, "we must work together to develop a stry, a plan that is fairer to the farmer and as free as possible from government's heavy hand."

Reagan also criticized European agricultural sub-sidies as "unfair trade prac-

"I want to say now — and other countries should take notice - we expect fair access to international agriculture markets. We will not give in to protection measures, but at the sa time we aren't going to let ourselves be plowed under."

Reagan announced that the administration was making available an additional $250 million in credit over the next year to promote U.S. agricultural exports.

County okays use of Little Bull Barn

BY BOB NIGH

MANAGING EDITOR Deaf Smith County commissioners Monday authorized the use of the Little Bull Barn by a local boxing team, and discussed a public meeting to be held in Lubbock next week about assistance in finding jobs for persons receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) when the court met in regular session at the courthouse.

Boxing club coach Raymond Casarez appeared before the court, asking to use the smaller bull barn for workouts for the team, which has been hampered with lack of such space in the past.

Casarez said that his team, which currently includes 12 boys, "are out of shape" due to the lack of training facilities. The team has used the Bull Barn in the past, but since the Lions club took down its ring has not had that

Custodian Jack Nunley said that his only objections to the use of the facility is that in the past the lights have been left on and the door left unlocked at times. Casarez assurred the county fathers that that would not happen again, and the court agreed to let the team use the little barn Monday-Thursday of each

Ms. Igal said that there are over 100 persons receiving such aid in the county at this time, with some 40-50 of them 'employable."

Most of the persons receiving the aid are women, Ms.

"It would be very beneficial to the county if someone could go and get some ideas," Ms. Igal said. "I would like to see someone on the court show an interest and attend the meeting."

Siege over, inmates claim victories

Rebellious inmates at the Ossining Correctional Facility released unharmed their 17 hostages early today and said they received amnesty for their 53-hour takeover, but prison officials denied making such a promise.

The siege at the prison once known as Sing Sing was declared over by the inmates Monday night after local television stations broadcast 10 points of agreement that prisoners said they had reached with state correction officials.

At 12:28 a.m., the watch commander at the prison announced over guards' walkietalkies that the last hostage had been freed. Except for some bumps and bruises, all were reported in good condi-"Hey, thanks a lot," one prisoner called through bars to reporters 200 yards away. Another said the prison administration deserved no credit for the bloodless end to the incident: "It's not the administration that did this (end the siege) ... It's us and vou."

The inmates said they would lock themselves in their cells, and at 1:40 a.m. special state troops reoccupied the five-story cellblock.

Gov. Mario Cuomo, who took office Jan. 1, had refused to deal with the inmates until

Help with utility payments available

Austin - Some low-income Texas households may be eligible for help in paying their heating bills, according to the head of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Human Resources Commissioner Marlin W. Johnston said the assistance with paying utility bills is available to low-income households who in January 1983 received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income, or needstested Veterans Administration benefits in January.

Potentially eligible veterans are those who receive payments under 415, 521, 541, or 542 of Title 38 of the U.S. Code or under Section 306 of the Veterans and Survivors Pension Improvement Act of 1978.

Eligibility is limited by gross income. For instance, aid is available for a oneperson household having less than $334.49 gross income per month. The gross income limit is $546.49 for a twoperson household, a $749.49 for a three-person household, $926.49 for four persons, 1,092.49 for five, and $1,277.49 for six.

Eligible households must be subject to energy cost increases - because of higher bills or rent due to rising utility costs.

Households are eligible if they live in privately owned or rented housing even if the cost of utilities is included in the rent payment or if the household pays only a portion of its home energy costs.

Johnston said application forms are mailed automatically to households which receive food stamps, AFDC, and SSI. Households receiving needs-tested Veterans benefits must request an application from DHR in January.

If you have not received an application and think your household may be eligible, contact a local office of the Texas Department of Human Resources, Johnston said.

Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee, one of the most powerful men in Congress and an ally of President Reagan, has decided tentatively not to seek reelection in 1984, sources say.

Baker intends to explore a possible presidential candidacy in 1984 if Reagan steps down and in 1988 in any event, the sources, who asked not to be identified by name, said ' Monday night.

In the interim, Baker has told his top aides and family members he intends to serve out his term both as senator and as Senate majority leader, the first Republican in nearly a quarter century to hold that post.

DOE releases seismic data

COLUMBUS, OH - Information about subsurface geologic structures obtained during studies in Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties is being made available by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) on open file at 10 public libraries, including eight in Texas beginning Friday, Jan.

The data will be available at the Deaf Smith County Library beginning at 11 a.m., Friday. The information will be useful to exploration companies and property owners in evaluating the resource potential of the area, according to the DOE. The records were collected as part of DOE's studies to assess Panhandle salt deposits for a possible candidate site for a repository for the disposal of high-level nuclear waste. Smoke forces

evacuation

HOUSTON (AP) - Smoke pouring into the cabin of an airliner from an overheated air conditioning system caused the plane's captain to evacuate 57 passengers and seven crew members on a runway 300 yards from a terminal gate, an official says.

Western Airlines flight 375 had made an emergency landing minutes earlier Monday when a fire warning light came on in the cockpit of the Boeing 727, but the two problems were not related, said Phil Kempton, manager of Western's operations here.

Buses returned the passengers and crew to the terminal, and there were no injuries, he said.

Kempton said the fire warning light was an instrument failure and that there actually was no fire. The smoke in the cabin came from an air conditioning system problem that was not associated with the fire warning light, he said.

The plane, which was supposed to fly to Portland, Ore., took off routinely from Houston's Intercontinental Airport Monday at 7:15 a.m., but four minutes later the fire warning light came on, Kempton said.

The pilot circled back to the airport and landed safely. As he taxied the craft toward a gate, an air condition-

Man admits stealing ulcer surgery

HOUSTON (AP) - An uninsured man who posed as another person to undergo surgery has been sentenced to five years in prison for stealing a medical operation.

Daniel M. Rudolph, 25, received the sentence in a plea bargain arrangement before State District Judge Joseph Guarino.

Rudolph pleaded guilty to registering at Hermann Hospital Jan. 2 under the name of a friend, Robert Prater, and claimed Prater's medical insurance policy was his own.

The hoax was discovered following successful surgery when a chaplain visited Rudolph in the hospital and discovered the identity switch. The chaplain notified a nurse, who told hospital authorities.

Rudolph, who was on probation from a 1981 property theft conviction, admitted the switch when questioned by police in his hospital room.

Total cost for the treatment was $3,203,60.

Maximum punishment for the theft is 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine but Rudolph's attorney, Mary Moore, said there were mitigating circumstances.

"It isn't like he stole $3,000 and had a good time out there spending up a storm," the attorney said. "He was in there suffering with bleeding ulcers."

Bullock plans 1986 gubernatorial race

AUSTIN (AP) - Comptroller Bob Bullock says he'll work closely with Gov.-elect Mark White, but he plans to Bullock told reporters Monday he would be a 1986 gubernatorial can-didate, regardless of whether White, who will be inaugurated Jan. 18, runs

"I told Gov. (Bill) Clements and I'll tell Mark White if I ever see him, the day he was elected he became my governor and he is my governor ... but at the end of four years I want the job," Bullock said.

"It's something I've dreamed of all my life, and I want it and I intend to run for it, and I intend to get it," he said at a Capitol news conference called to discuss his revenue estimate for Bullock, a Democrat, said he was steering clear of a formal announcement because of a proposed law that could force a state official to resign if he seeks election to another post.

"Historically, I've always announced for office first," he said. "Historically, I've always felt the early bird got the worm."

"I intend to be governor," he said. Bullock promised to work closely with White, although he wants his job.

"I am a Texan, believe it or not. I love this state a whole lot. If I can help Mark White make this state a better state, I'm going to do so," he said. "I don't intend to do anything in the comptroller's office but do my job, and by doing that I think that I will benefit him and Texas."

Davis has an unlisted number and could not be eached for comment. But Robison said the millionaire wanted no publicity.

"I spoke to him today and he told me he doesn't want attention about this," Robison said Monday. "He said he knows why he did it. Those were objects he had collected all his life, and when he thought they might be displeasing to the Lord, he estroyed them.

Davis has said he became a born-again Christian after several sensational criminal trials.

He was acquitted of murdering his 9-year-old stepdaughter during a 1976 shooting spree at his mansion. Davis also was acquitted of murder-for-hire charges after being accused of trying to buy the death of a judge hearing his bitter divorce case.

Davis had donated the art objects, mostly figures associated with eastern religions, to Robison in September. The gift would have paid off back debts that threatened to end Robison's national television ministry. The objects, some of them adorned with precious jewels, had been stored in a Dallas vault, and were appraised and ready for auction. But Robison said Rogers was driving him to Dallas to look at the objects in October when the evangelist, who was reading the Bible, saw the verse in Deuteronomy which

"The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver and gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination to the Lord thy God."

"I saw the Scripture verse and I said, 'Wait a minute ... wait a minute ... don't you think I could melt it (the art objects) down or change the way they look? But the Bible said you are not to covet the silver or gold on the objects," Robison said.

The evangelist said Davis started crying when he said he could not accept the ob-

"If you can't have it, then I can't have it," he quoted Davis as saying.

Among the objects, which had been displayed in glass cases that lined the halls of Davis' sprawling mansion, was a jade statue over four feet tall valued at about $500,000, Robison said. There also were statues of Hindu holy men, gold-topped pagodas and figures of temple dogs.

"Cullen said many of them were gods ordered carved for emperors and after they were finished, the artist would be put to death." Robison said.

Prison standoff was spontaneous and unplanned. It erupted during a night recreation period when inmates may move freely in the cellblock, which houses 618 of the prison's

2,150 inmates, he said. One man among about 200 suddenly began shouting complaints, Ganim said, and when two guards tried to calm him, more shouting broke out and some inmates began breaking furniture. Throughout the ordeal, state officials said little. Early Monday evening, Ganim said negotiators had "come to terms" with the inmates, and said developments were "extremely favorable." But the prisoners had no food, and complained of

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

If I ever stage a telethon, it will be for one of the most underated diseases of the 20th century - cabin fever. Cabin fever has been with us for as long as there has been children, but during snowstorms the disease reaches epidemic proportions. A minister in Iowa recently noted that city's Dial-a-Prayer number increased 125 calls a day due to the malady. "There's no doubt about it," he said. "Cabin fever is a reality and people are depressed when they're shut in and unable to get around." Back in Ohio when the kids were little, I used to crawl out of bed every morning during the winter, fall to my knees and pray, "Please God, let there be school." For my intentions, I would offer up 18 shirts to be ironed by the end of the day, 30 pounds of hand-washables to be dunked, and a promise to return the bank's call. Everything gets through to you when you have cabin fever. It's as if you have no control over your own actions. You find yourself sitting there watching a child force a button up his nostril and saying nothing. You see them coloring your marriage license and you mumble, "Stay in the lines." You observe the chandelier over the dining room shaking as they jump up and down on their beds above and

You go to the window and for the life of you can't remember what color the lawn used to be ... or what the downtown area looked like. To keep in touch with reality you count to seven backwards ... recite the Greek alphabet ... or name the presidents in order.

Your mind drifts back to your youth when the most traumatic movement in your week was when you had used up all your no-shower days after phsy. ed.

Bitterly, you envy nuns, their social life and make plans for all the things you're going to do when the weather clears. These include training for the Boston Marathon, finishing college, and dedicating your life to Population O.

Cabin fever is nothing to kid about. I've seen women who retreat into the house just after New Year's Eve party as vivacious, spirited women only to emerge in April pale, heavily sedated, and nearly catatonic. Help stamp out cabin fever by taking a mother to lunch or offering to carry her coloring book. We're making progress. Due to last year's sparse donation, we have research going on. To date, one rate has responded to a cure for cabin fever.

Now, all we have to do is cure him of his acute great-grandchildren.

Culverhouse, who allegedly was armed with an automatic rifle, a shotgun, a .357-Magnum pistol, a knife and a cut-down M-14 rifle, kept police at bay by threatening to kill a 16-yearold girl he said he picked up on the highway and held hostage in his room at the Family News Editor Helping others is something which comes naturally to Sharon Whit-tington and it seems to fit her ifestyle very nicely.

Sharon and her husband, David, and their two children moved to Hereford eight months ago from Amarillo, and she is already involved as a volunteer in several different areas working with Sharon grew up in Amarillo and David is from Dumas, having moved to Amarillo with his family when he was a senior in high school. They met while attending Caprock High School and went to the same church.

David is employed as a comptroller for Caviness Packing Company Inc. He had previously worked in public accounting, having earned a bachelor's degreee in business from West Texas State University and receiving his CPA.

Their children are Shelly, 9, a fourth grader at West Central, and Derek, 7, a second grader at Northwest School.

One day a week for two hours Sharon is a parent volunteer at West Central. She helps grade papers, listens to book reports, assists with spelling and dictionary drills, and helps the teachers with several other

"It's fun," she smiles. "It gives you the chance to see what's going on in the classroom and when the children come home and tell you about school, you have a better idea of what they're talking about.

"I've enjoyed getting to see how the open classrooms are run and I like the idea of splitting the elementary schools into different age levels, with the younger students at separate schools from the older grade school students." Every Thursday after school, Sharon helps with a Good News Club, a nondenominational' child evangelism program for preschool through sixth grade children.

"We have Bible stories, songs, memory verses, and similar activities and have had about 20 children attending on the average," notes Sharon. "It's a very rewarding experience."

Sharon also helps with Girls in Action (GA's) at Temple Baptist Church, where she and her family are members. She works with fourth through sixth grade girls. Other church involvement includes the Baptist Young Women.

Sharon began attending the Newcomers Club in September and has since joined that organization, saying that she has met a lot of nice

One of her hobbies is taking care of plants. "Something I hope to do is take a ceramics class and make decorative pots for some of my plants," she comments. Sharon adds that her daughter has just started taking piano lessons and that she would like to try and learn along with her.

Sharon is not employed outside of her home now, but prior to moving here she was the first secretary for Lifeline, a home system for elderly and handicapped people which started at Northwest Texas Hospital in "The system is in operation within a certain mile radius of Amarillo and there are several clients in Hereford," says Sharon.

"The job was very interesting and it was satisfying knowing I was doing something to help other people," she continues. "I think we're responsible to take care of the elderly and the Lifeline program helped a lot of people at home that would otherwise have had to be in rest homes. District 3-5A basketball races taking shape

The District 3-5A basketball races have began to take

The boys' chase for the two playoff spots appears to have developed into a three-team affair, between Amarillo High, Palo Duro and Plainview, with Tascosa and Lubbock outside possibilities.

The Sandies, Dons and Bulldogs are 4-1 in league play as action resumes tonight. Lubbock is 3-2 and Tascosa 3-3. Lubbock Coronado, with a 2-3 mark, still has faint hopes. Monterey and Caprock (each 2-4) and Hereford (0-5) appear out of the running for a playoff berth, but could still have a say-so as to who ultimately makes it.

Only three teams (AHS at 11-6, PD at 9-6 and Lubbock at 12-7) boast winning records to this point. Plainview and Tascosa are 7-8 and 8-9, respectively.

The girls' race also is a definite three-team affair between Monterey (7-0), AHS and Plainview (both 6-1). Palo Duro, at 5-2, maintains a slim hope.

After that, it's Hereford (3-4), Coronado (2-5), Tascosa (2-6), Caprock (1-6) and Lubbock (0-7). The battle between those five teams is for final positions in the stan-

AHS' only district loss has been to Plainview, at home. Palo Duro's loss is to Caprock, while Plainview's loss has been to Tascosa, also at home.

In the girls' race, AHS' loss came at home, to Plainview. In turn, the Bulldogs' loss came on the road, at Monterey. Games tonight match Plainview at Palo Duro, Caprock at Lubbock High, AHS at Monterey and Hereford at Coronado. Hereford's boys will be trying to snap a five-game district losing streak. They beat Coronado, 74-73, on a lastsecond shot by Gary Long in the Amarillo Invitational Tournament, Dec. 10.

Plainview's Gil Wright, the district's top scorer, has been held to under 20 points just three times this season - and, ironically the Bulldogs have won each time.

In games where Wright has scored 30 points, or more, the Bulldogs are only 2-5. They are 4-8 in games Wright has scored 20 or more points.

The final Harris Rating System poll is out, and only two teams, state wide, ended the 1962 season with perfect records — Fort Bend Willowridge in 4A with a 15-0 mark and Union Hill in 1A with a 14-0 standard.

Port Arthur Jefferson (10-1); 7. Dallas Carter (13-2); 8. Converse Judson (14-0; 9 Conroe (11-1-1); 10. Plano (12-1-1).

For the longest time Sunday, it appeared Dallas might find a way to bow out of the NFL playoffs, after thoroughly dominating Tampa Bay.

Police said they arrested Ayala during the early morning hours of Jan. 1 after the woman identified him as the man who allegedly assaulted her in her West Paterson apartment. Ayala lives in the same complex.

Alaya pleaded guilty to assaulting an 18-year-old woman on Dec. 23, 1978, in San Antonio.

Farm leaders hope Reagan brings good news

DALLAS (AP) - Members of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who have been plagued by poor economic conditions for two years, will listen closely today to President Reagan, who is expected to bring them some good news.

Farm bureau officials expect the president to provide more information on his a plan to raise crop prices by paying farmers surplus grain to reduce the acreage they

On Monday, U.S. Special Trade Rep. William Brock said U.S. agriculture leaders should be more patient and urged farm leaders to hold back on calls for trade sanctions because "the prospects are better for 1983 and 1984."

"I see a possibility that some real improvement can occur," Brock said. "1983 will payment-in-kind program - be a time of settling out and 1984 could be a banner year."

Brock asked the farm bureau delegates not to push for Congressional action to adopt protective trade

"Be sure you don't destroy the market overseas," the Reagan cabinet official said. "Protective import measures could destroy the ability of our farmers to market their products overseas." Delano predicted that delegates to the farm bureau's 64th annual convention will support Reagan's policy to cut production when they consider a policy agenda later this week.

In his annual address to the delegates, Delano emphasiz-ed that agriculture needs to find ways to empty the warehouse of surplus commodities.

"All of us, farmers and government, need to spend much less time and resources at the point where crops begin, and much more creative effort at the marketing end." Delano said.

"We need better market access through negotiations, more competitive export credit, redress of unfair trade practices and an improved U.S. image as a reliable supplier," he said.

The farm represents more than 3 million farming or ranching families in 48 states. Texas has the most members of any state at 306,359 families.

The delegates, many representing farmers who face bankruptcy because of high interest rates and a surplus of crops, are focusing on economic issues at the convention. The group also is trying to build more political muscle in Washington by collecting more members.

Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., told the delegates Monday that the United States is involved in an undeclared trade

"We need to let other countries know that we mean business," Boren said. "There is a trade war. We're just not shooting back."

Brock said he agreed with Boren, and with U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block, who has urged that the U.S. avoid a trade war that could close out many markets

"We are in a trade war because governments have seen fit to impose barriers or to subsidize their products in markets," Brock said.

But Reagan's special trade negotiator said he was hopeful talks with Japanese and European officials could bring an end to many of the restrictions other countries have placed on U.S. goods.

Boren, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said a collapse of the troubled industry could lead to a collapse of the weakened national economy.

He said the net family farm income per capita in Oklahoma for 1981 was $14 per family.

"Those in agriculture have perhaps felt it more severely than anyone else," Boren said of the current recession. "We have to find some emergency way of dealing with (problems agriculture)." Texas Gov.-elect Mark

White welcomed the delegates with a call for an in-

in agricultural areas.

"I think today we are beginning to understand, at least in Texas, importance of research and development in trying to assist the farming and agriculture community,' White said.

The convention will conclude Thursday with election

North Dakota is a state of highs and lows, in temperatures. It has recorded one of the nation's highest readings - 121 degrees F. - and one of the lowest, minus 60 degrees F.

Federation lists goals

AUSTIN (AP) - Incoming Gov. Mark White will receive thousands of names on petitions asking him to make education his No. 1 legislative priority, says the president of the Texas Federation of Teachers.

John Cole told a Capitol news conference Monday that the petitions call for programs to push Texas into the top 10 states in teacher salaries and per-pupil expenditures.

Cole said Texas, with the largest number of students of any state, ranks 39th in the nation in per-student spending for education.

The group also will ask White to declare increased school funding an emergency issue and separate it from the general appropriations bill, Cole said.

The federation, a division of the AFL-CIO with 15,000 members, has not yet calculated the cost of its proposals, he said.

"I don't know that I can tell you it can be done without a tax increase. It could be done without a tax increase if you didn't pay for anything else,"

The Newspaper BIBLE

YOU HAVE A LOT TO BE THANKFUL

Hallelujah! I want to express publicly before His people my heartfelt thanks to God for His mighty miracles. All who are thankful should ponder them with me. For His miracles demonstrate His honor, majesty, and eternal

Who can forget the wonders He performs-deeds of mercy and of grace? He gives food to those who trust Him; He never forgets His promises. He has shown His great power to His people by giving them the land of Israel, though it was the home of many nations living there. All He does is just and good, and all His laws are right, for they are formed from truth and goodness, and stand firm forever. He has paid a full ransom for His people; now they are always free to come to Jehovah (what a holy, awe-inspiring name that is).

How can men be wise? The only way to begin is by reverence for God. For growth in wisdom comes from obeying His laws. Praise His name forever. (Psalms 111)

Thank the Lord for all the glorious things He does; proclaim them to the nations. Sing His praises and tell everyone about His miracles. Glory in the Lord; O worshipers of God, rejoice.

Search for Him and for His strength, and keep on searching! (Psalms 105:1-4) Hallelujah! Thank you, Lord!

How good you are! Your love for us continues on forever. Who can ever list the glorious miracles of God? Who can ever praise Him half enough? (Psalms 106:1-2)

Migraine is a possibility

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a woman in my early 30s. For years I have suffered from severe headaches, as far back as childhood. They have gotten very severe to the point of no relief from any type of aspirin on the market and, believe me, I have tried them all.

I have seen many doctors and all I hear is that it is psychological or just nerves. I've had extensive examina-tions and all I get is an expensive bill.

My headaches are two severe ones each month that come a few days before or after my menstrual period. They are centered in my left eye, with a sharp point down the left side of my neck. There is numbness and pres-sure on this side of the face. I become sick and begin vomiting. The headaches last two days, one if I'm lucky. Aspirin just doesn't help at all.

Can you help me? I have spent so much money on doctors. My money is gone but the pain is still there.

DEAR READER - Of course I have not seen the results of your tests and I do not know what medicines aspirin, if any. But your sto-ry suggests migraine head-aches. There are different variations of migraine headaches but yours is typical enough to justify a trial of medicines used to treat migraines.

Migraine headaches, if they are mild, can be relieved by aspirin. The more severe ones require other medicines. A good test for a diagnosis is to use ergotamine tartrate. If it is used early in treatment it may abort the headache. If it does, you most certainly have migraine headches.

There are a number of things you can do for migraines. In some people, when the first sign of a migraine starts, caffeine, in a strong cup of coffee, will abort the attack. Later in the attack it is of no help. Your diet is also important

There are many causes for headaches. About one in five Americans do have migraine headaches. And they can begin in childhood.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I realize there is a lot of controversy about saccharin. I am concerned because I really enjoy diet pop and prefer it to regular soda. I don't like the taste of sugar or its calories. I try to limit my intake of diet soda but I don't know what the limit

DEAR READER - Many people would tell you that you need not be concerned and the saccharin in your soft drinks should not be the limiting factor. In 1980 a case-control study by the National Cancer Institute failed to find any relationship between saccharin and cancer in the general population.

They were concerned about men who smoke heavi-ly and white, nonsmoking women in regard to bladder cancer. That concern does not mean they were able to prove any relationship other than coincidence. In other words, they did not prove a cause and effect relation-

A more recent study done independently by six epi-demiologists found nothing but chance variation. They noted that the subgroups were too small for meaningful analysis and there was no increase with increasing dose. Specifically then, if you use even five or six soft drinks a day the saccharin is not likely to be a threat. For other reasons I'd rather see you drink fruit juices and fortified skim milk.

Ann Landers Readers defend woman

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is the first letter I have written to you, although I have been reading your column for 20 years. Most of the time you are pretty savvy, but your answer to "Dog-Gone in Lexington" was bonkers. That poor woman complained that the complete burden of the family dog (which she didn't want in the first place) was driving her crazy. She gave her husband an ultamatum: "It's me or the dog - one of us has got to go." He chose the dog.

You should have told her to take the obnoxius mutt to the pound the first thing tomorrow morning. What's with your head, anyway? - Mad In San Diego

DEAR MAD: My head is taking a pounding from all the readers who agree with you. Here's another one!

DEAR ANN: How come you gave such rotten advice to the woman whose husband and two sons insist on keeping a Great Dane in their small townhouse while their neighbors are threatening court action? Obviously you have never faced such a situation, or your answer would not have been so dumb.

Several months ago my son accumulated six dogs in various stages of neglect. I, too, was told I would not have to take care of them. Well, after three days I knew the entire responsibility would be mine, so I laid down the law, took three starving canine skeletons to the Humane Society and the old sick one to the vets to be put to sleep. I am now looking for a home for the fifth, and the sixth had better behave himself.

My sons were furious and my husband yelled for an hour about how heartless I was. But I stuck to my guns and won the battle. Deep down they knew my position was far more sensible than theirs. - Experienced In Florida

DEAR FLORIDA: Here's another supporter - for your

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Both my husband and I believe you goofed on the Great Dane advice. After all, hubby and sons brought home

The Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual installation dinner at 7:30 p.m. today at the Hereford Country Club. The evening will be highlighted by the announcement of Woman of the Year.

DEAR CHRISTINE AND DAVID: I'm still catching it. Here's another one:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the woman whose husband chose the Great Dane over her stank. Obedience school, my eye! She should choose a nice hotel (at her husband's expense) until he calls and begs her to come home. With two sons and that moose to take care of, it wouldn't be long. - Lena

DEAR LENA: I'm beginning to get the idea I goofed.

ANN LANDERS: I can't believe you gave such terri-ble advice. Why should that poor woman have to go to the trouble and expense of taking the Geat Dane to obedience school when she didn't want it in the first place? You should have told her to hang loose and let the neighbors take court action. Her husband would soon decide she was right all along. - Disappointed In Wisconsin
