Also, any old growers who want adjustments in their allotted acreage should apply to the ACA committee without delay.

C. A. Saxby of Sydney, Australia, a visitor in Hereford Wednesday, is convinced that the chief occupation of American businessmen is attending conventions and talking. Saxby reported that on his trip across country from Washington, he ran into conventions of one sort or another at every overnight stop, with consequent difficulty with hotel accommodations. Clem Gilliam Is Killed in Fall From Horse

Clem B. Gilliam, 46, prominent Castro county farmer and rancher, was killed instantly Tuesday morning when his horse stumbled and threw him while cutting cattle on the Gilliam farm, four miles east of Dimmitt.

The horse stumbled in a running turn, throwing the rider clear, witnesses said. Gilliam died instantly of a broken neck.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) at three o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Dimmitt. Rev. U. S. Sherrill, pastor, officiated.

Interment was in the Dimmitt cemetery under the direction of E. B. Black Funeral Home of Hereford.

Mr. Gilliam was born on April 23, 1897, at Greenville, Texas. He had lived in Castro county since 1917, coming there from Runnels county. He was well-known throughout this section. His wife, who survives him, was the former Miss Zula Wood of Hereford.

Twenty-One Day Trip in Covered Wagon Recalled by Old-Timer on 86th Birthday

John L. Wilson, who celebrated his 86th birthday Monday, came to the Texas Panhandle the hard way . . . twenty-one days overland in a covered wagon, with seven small children aboard, in the year of the turn of the century.

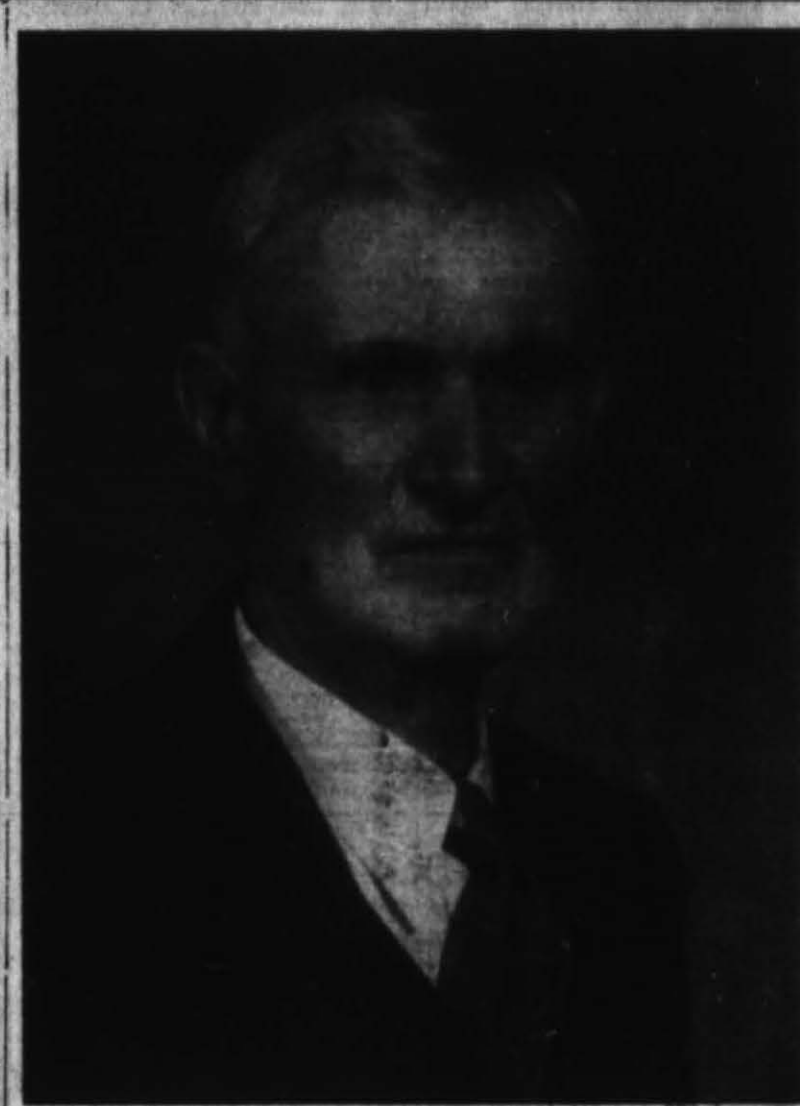

Looking back over nearly half a century on that journey, the elderly pioneer settler, who doesn't consider himself a "pioneer" at all, recalls it as, not so much a hardship, but a sort of prolonged family picnic.

"In December 1899", Mr. Wilson recalls, "I traded for a ranch about eight miles south of Amarillo at a switch and flag station on the Peecos Valley Railroad called Homer. It had been a part of the old Frying Pan Ranch."

"When we started to the Panhandle in the spring of 1900 from (Sanger, Texas) the small children were just over a spell of the measles and we were afraid to risk taking the long trip with them in the wagon. But as the weather was nice and warm, we planned to take them with us for a couple of days in the wagon, and then put them on the Fort Worth and Denver to Amarillo, where we had arrangements made to meet them and take them to their new home in the Panhandle."

"The children were so pleased with the situation that they pleaded with us to take them on in the wagon, and as the wagon road ran parallel to the railroad to Amarillo, we decided to risk it. For two weeks we had ideal weather, and the children did so well that they declared they were sound and well and begged to stay with us."

"When it rained, I had to pee I could sleep in, and the covered wagon with the big chuck box on the rear end was so arranged that the children and their mother could sleep comfortably in it. We were on the road 21 days."

The two older girls, Ruth and Ruby, attended school that fall of 1900 at the old Cartwright schoolhouse, four miles from the Wilson ranch, driving a horse and buggy to and from school. Earl, the oldest son (later County Judge of Deaf Smith County) attended a boys private school in Amarillo "so," Mr. Wilson explains, "I could use him with the cattle some." "I believe the Panhandle was of bringing up children is a good one," he declares. "I was never content with an (Continued on Page 5)

Plans Grow For Rotary's 4-H Club Show

Members of the Hereford Rotary Club 4-H committee are watching their brain-child, a 4-H Club Livestock Show slated for March 1 in Hereford, with increasing enthusiasm as interest in the project continues to grow and spread.

What started out to be a small show to feature some 15 calves now being fed by Deaf Smith county 4-H club boys for showing this spring now threatens to become a full-fledged Fat Stock Show, with a few circus trimmings thrown in.

The 4-H Club stock will be the center of attraction, but a number of breeders of registered stock have asked for the opportunity to exhibit cattle in the show, though not in competition; a barbecue is being planned for buyers, club boys and their dads at the Bull Barn; and a big parade which will feature the Amarillo Range Riders, the Hereford High School band, and other organizations, will precede the exhibition and judging.

A section of 3rd street near the First National Bank will be roped off on the morning of the show, and the stock will be exhibited there.

The parade will begin at 10 o'clock. Following the parade, the 4-H calves will be judged at the 3rd street enclosure, and the barbecue will be held at noon at the Bull Barn.

Ribbons and prizes will be awarded for all divisions in the 4-H Show. A complete schedule of prizes will be published at a later date.

In the afternoon, there will be a sale of calves which will not be exhibited at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show the following week. However, Rotary committee (Continued on page 5)

Polio Victim 19 Years Sees Chance for Partial Recovery

After 19 years of invalidism, this infantile paralysis victim is still able to grin. Marshall Deaton, who lives in Black community over in Farmer County, has been bed-ridden since he suffered an attack of polio when he was 13 years of age.

For 19 years doctors have offered him no hope. Unable even to sit up, he's never given up. A few years ago he hit on the idea of conducting a magazine subscription agency. He is the authorized agent for any magazine or newspaper published in the United States.

Two months ago, he was examined by Drs. Legg and Driver of Baylor Hospital, and offered the first ray of hope. Dr. Legg believes that treatments may be possible which would enable him to get around in a wheel chair. Deaton thinks a wheel chair would be wonderful after 19 years in bed.

So now he's trying to build up his subscription sales to the point where he can afford treatments. He's not asking for charity, but will be glad to handle your subscriptions. His address: Marshall Deaton, Black, Texas.

Rural Schools Voice Strong Opposition

Formation of the Hereford Rural High School District to include the Hereford Independent District and five county rural districts, was approved in an election last Saturday by a margin of nearly two to one.

The total vote was 668 favoring the Rural High School, 354 against it.

Interest ran high in the election, and a total of 1,022 votes were cast . . . a heavy ballot for a school election.

Despite the heavy majority, however, the proposal carried only two of the ten voting boxes. Voters of the Hereford district gave the proposed consolidation a heavy majority, 586 to 64, to provide the necessary margin.

The only rural election box which gave the consolidation a majority was Progressive, where the vote was 21 for, 13 against. All others registered strong opposition.

Bitter protests were heard from the rural districts included in the new Rural High School District as news of the result was released Saturday night.

Representatives of the Dawn school district have repeatedly threatened to file suit for injunction against the formation of the district, but until this morning, no action had been filed in district court here.

The County School Board of Trustees had not yet canvassed the returns, although a meeting of the board is expected shortly. Until the County Board declares the Rural High School District formed, the boards of trustees in each of the common and independent school districts affected by the consolidation will remain in office.

When the District is declared in operation, members of the Boards of Trustees in each of the districts will automatically relinquish their duties. It is anticipated that the County Board will appoint a new board of trustees for the Rural High School District, to function until a regular trustee election can be ordered in April.

Whitface Band Members Return From Galveston

Five members of the Hereford High School band have returned from Galveston, where they participated in the All-State Band Convention on February 6-7-8.

Chosen for the honor as members of the first Hereford delegation to be invited to the clinic were Mary Helen McGilvray, Mrs. Estelle LeGrand, Jack Brumley, Eugene Roberson, and Wayne Newsom.

The students were accompanied by T. V. Brantley, band director, and Mrs. Brantley, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Newsom. Mary Helen McGilvray played second chair in the third clarinet section in the Red, or Concert Band. In the 90-piece Blue Band were Mary Estelle LeGrand, playing first chair alto clarinet; Jack Brumley, first chair bass clarinet; Eugene Roberson, cymbals; and Wayne Newsom, first chair bass.

En route to Galveston, the Hereford party stopped in Austin, visiting the Governor's office and the legislature. Returning they visited San Jacinto Battle Ground and monument. Gene Autry, cowboy singing star of radio and film, visited the Band Clinic at Galveston.

Hereford Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Hereford Chamber of Commerce donated funds to send the local delegation to Galveston.

Taxpayers Committee Protests Increase In County Valuations; Commissioners Debate

Court to Hold Special Session Next Monday

A 15-man committee of taxpayers met with the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon and entered a strong protest against a proposed increase in property valuations ordered by the Commissioners last December.

A boost in valuations of county property which would increase revenue from 1947 taxes an estimated one-third was ordered by the Commissioners Court on December 23. The tax rate was not changed.

The taxpayers committee which met with the Commissioners included C. C. Wimberly, Troy Womble, J. A. Pittman, George L. Muse, W. M. Stewart, C. T. Guseman, J. E. Hill, Colby Conkright, Carl Perrin, Bob Higgins, Cliff Wimberly, V. T. Glenn, E. R. Riggs, H. H. Miller, and W. T. Roberson.

The committee questioned commissioners on the necessity of the major increase in taxes, and protested the raise in valuations, which would automatically result in a proportionate increase in State taxes as well as county and school taxes.

A raise in the county tax rate to increase county revenue and, at the same time, allow state taxes to remain at their old (Continued on Back Page)

General Fund Is Big Headache for Commission in Solving Tax Problem

The County's General Fund, frequently 'in the red' despite a favorable county balance in the bank, is the chief head-ache for the County Commissioners in attempting to solve the taxing problem, members of the Commissioners Court explain.

County finances in general are in good condition. The audit as of December 31, 1946, shows a total balance of $102,053.50 on hand.

This includes $90,810.56 in the general fund, $1,869.38 in the Hospital Maintenance fund, $9,675.00 in the Hospital Interest and Sinking fund, $8,351.43 in the Wind Erosion District Fund, and $1,747.19 in the Lateral Road fund.

These figures for the General Fund, however, include Commissioners' pre-incident funds and a General Improvement fund of $17,873.27, according to County Judge Leonard Foster. The actual balance in the General Fund, is available for operating expenses, is $11,878.99. Last November, records of the (Continued on Page 5)

Australian Official Visits Local Rural Electric Project

C. A. Saxby, electrical engineer for the Australian Government, was in Hereford Wednesday for a brief tour of inspection of the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative.

The Australian visitor was taken on a quick tour of current construction work by Project Manager Leo Forrest, and visited briefly with members of the local cooperative.

Saxby is employed by the Department of Public Works of the state of New South Wales, Australia, and had been asked by his government to investigate the rural electrification development in the United States. He was returning from a trip to England.

County Valuation For 1947 Would Reach Ten Million

The proposed increase in county property valuations, if effected, would increase the county's total valuation for tax purposes from a current seven and a half million dollars to an estimated ten million.

Total property valuation on the county's 1946 tax rolls was $7,590,093.

County officials estimate that the revision of valuations, if carried out as ordered by the Commissioners Court last December, would increase the total valuation of taxable property past the ten million dollar mark in 1947.

The Commissioners Court, on December 23, ordered the Tax Assessor to revise 1947 tax rolls of city property to assess 40 percent of the total value as set by the tax survey conducted last summer by the G. B. Whitney tax engineers ($4,100,000).

Tax roll values of acreage property were to be assessed according to a zoning map prepared by former County Judge Fred Baird, in cooperation with (Continued on Page 5)

Training Course For Cub Leaders Scheduled Here

In view of the fact that Cub Pack No. 1 is almost full, and there are still more than a hundred boys of Cub age in Hereford it is planned to present a Cub Leaders Training Course beginning in March, District Boy Scout Commissioner Urllin Streu announced today.

West Texas Exes Plan Dinner To Honor New Coaches Here

Tickets will go on sale this week-end for a dinner to be staged by the Hereford Ex-Students of West Texas State College in honor of Coaches Frank Kimbrough, Gus Miller, and Clark Jarnigan who now-head the athletic staff at Canyon.

Date for the affair has been set for Thursday evening, February 27, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the dining room at the City Hall.

Grid mentor Frank Kimbrough, who has recently deserted the campus of Baylor University to take over coaching duties at West Texas, his assistant, Clark Jarnigan, and Athletic Director Gus Miller will be guests of honor at the dinner.

Details of the program will be announced later. Norman Ford will be in charge of ticket sales. Only 125 tickets will be placed on sale, and only advance reservations will be accepted. Sale of tickets will close on Monday, February 24.

Due to the limited seating capacity of the banquet hall, ticket sales will be strictly limited to 125. Tickets will be sold until Monday, February 17, to Ex-Students only, and will be available for ex-students and wives or husbands.

During the second week, until Monday, Feb. 24, remaining tickets will be offered to non-exes who desire to attend the dinner. This arrangement has been made to permit all ex-students in the county who want them to obtain reservations before the general sale is opened.

Tickets will be sold at $1.50 per plate.

CALLING ALL FRIENDS

During the four years I spent as a mechanic with the Kerr Implement Co. it was my pleasure to meet a great number of Panhandle people, and many of them I came to know intimately and to regard very highly. Since I am no longer connected with this firm, and am not altogether decided as to where I will seek employment, I am taking this means of expressing to those of you, whom it has been my privilege to serve, my sincere appreciation of all the consideration you have shown me. I would like for you to know that I felt a personal responsibility for every job I turned out, and I assure you here that I gave it my best. Of course my work was not perfect, and there were instances where error crept in, but when such was the case I sincerely believe that my own disappointment was felt as keenly as yours, and I trust that you always felt free and willing to give me a chance to make corrections.

Wherever I go, I shall always think of you kindly, and my wish for you is that the old engine will never miss and that you will have plenty of power to do the job, with some to spare—until we meet again.

So Long,
JOHNNY MANN

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends for the many cards, flowers and visits of cheer to Oscar while he was in the hospital. Your thoughtfulness and help will long be remembered and appreciated.

Buildings at POW Camp Are Offered For Sale Now

Sealed bids are now being received for the sale and removal of certain buildings and fixtures located at the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp, the War Assets Administration has announced. Bids will be received until 11 a. m. on February 20, when all bids will be opened at the Dallas Regional Office of WAA.

Bids may be submitted for any one or number of items, but separate amounts must be bid for each item, sale terms specify.

Approximately seventy buildings, most of them barracks and warehouses, are being offered for sale.

Forms for bids, and further information regarding the sale, can be secured from E. Cline, chief engineer at the camp for War Assets Administration. Offices are located in the camp fire station. The telephone number is 465.

Commercial hatcheries in Texas turned out 1,700,000 baby chicks during December. Total 1946 hatch was 47,043,000 chicks.

General Fund . . .

Commissioners Court show, the General Fund was in the red $22,974.70. On November 25, the Court transferred $23,000 from the Road and Bridge Fund to the General Fund to make up the deficit.

At the same time, a surplus of $1738 was transferred from the Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund to the General Fund.

A new State law prohibits transfer of road funds to any other fund, and the Commissioners are faced with the problem of keeping the County's general operating fund solvent without being able to transfer money from other sources as in the past.

Tax rates set by the Commissioners for the current year are 84 cents, two cents higher than last year. Of this, 1 cent goes in the Jury fund, 23 cents in the Road and Bridge fund, 34 cents in the general fund, six cents in the hospital maintenance fund, and 20 cents in the Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund.

The 34 cent rate for the General Fund is near the statutory limit, which is 40 cents. The tax rate for general fund purposes

Roberts County Wheat Prospects Best in Years

MIAMI, Feb. 8.—The condition of wheat in Roberts County is the best in many years, the Miami Chief reports.

Moisture is plentiful, growth is fully normal, and all-around mid-winter prospects seldom, if ever, were better.

Despite alarm, it is generally conceded that the sub-zero weather of early January did little if any damage.

Top growth was frozen down, and some of the grazing value was lost, but roots and crowns are well developed and wheat is ready for a quick start as soon as weather warms up. Subsoil moisture gives the plants an immense amount of moisture to draw from.

Lack of surface moisture could result in soil blowing, but given an average chance from now on, the crop might establish a new record, The Chief reports.

Around Town

proverbial last straw was the Panhandle Hardware Dealers Convention in Amarillo Tuesday.

Incidentally, among the "American businessmen" attending that particular affair were several from Hereford, including Mr. and Mrs. Urin Streu, Donald Henslee, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Evans, Walter London, Leo Hellman, Henry Turner, John Wood, and Bill Kerr. Probably a few others from around town that we've missed in transit.

Plans Grow . . .

members expect at least half a dozen of the 4-H entries will be taken on to the Amarillo Show for exhibition.

Following the sale, a "calf scramble" will be staged. Calves are being donated by several local breeders. The calves will be turned loose in the arena, and at a given signal, the 4-H clubbers will scramble into the arena to try and catch the calf of their choice. The first boy to put a halter on a calf wins the animal.

last year was set at this figure.

No tax is being assessed this year for the General Improvement Fund, for which 4 cents was assessed in 1946. The Jury fund tax has been cut from 3 cents to one; the road and bridge fund tax remains the same; and the hospital maintenance fund tax is cut from 7 to 6 cents.

The big increase, from 5 cents to 20 cents, in the Hospital Interest and Sinking Fund, was set to cover the proposed hospital bond issue, which failed to carry, and surplus from this fund will probably be transferred to some other fund.

The Commissioner's problem now is to find some way, satisfactory to all concerned, to increase the revenues of the General Fund.

It's Been a Long, Long Time

Married 75 years and "never a serious quarrel" is the way Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mercer of Sioux Falls, S. D., describe their marital past. The Mercers, married at Arena, Wis., in 1872, have six children, all living; oldest is 72, youngest 58. They are pictured during their anniversary celebration.

Central School Boy Wins Santa Letter Prize Contest

Tunney Wilson, fourth grader in Central School, has been notified that he was second place winner in a state-wide contest sponsored by the Highland Press of Boerne, Texas, for the best Santa Claus letter submitted last Christmas.

Tunney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson of Hereford.

His prize was $10 worth of children's books. In addition, the Highland Press awarded $10 worth of books to Tunney's room at school, and another $10 book prize to his teacher.

First prize in the contest was won by a 3rd grader from Jarrell, Texas. Thirty Central School youngsters entered letters in the contest, according to Principal Rural Ford.

Emilie and Fritz Taepferwein, sponsors of the contest, wrote Tunney: "We are going to keep our eyes on you and we will expect you to always be a leader and make good in whatever you attempt; but of course, the being good will naturally have to begin with you in your home and at school."

County Valuation

the Tax Assessor.

In addition, the order stated that farm and ranch improvements, never heretofore assessed by the county, should be valued and assessed for tax purposes at 40 percent of present actual values . . . to be determined on the basis of 1941 costs less depreciation.

Such a revision of tax rolls would increase the total revenue from county taxes approximately one-third, County Judge Leonard Foster estimated.

This does not mean that all taxes would be upped a third, however, the Judge pointed out. Taxes on some well-improved acreage property, as well as city property, might be increased more than that amount, while other property assessments would be below that figure.

Mrs. F. H. Oberthier who has been ill for the past two weeks Deaf Smith County Hospital to her home and is improving steadily, latest reports indicate.

The Texas Extension Service is urging everyone who can to plant a garden this year . . . for health, for recreation, for a supply of fresh vegetables that will knock dollars off the grocery bill.

Sale of 1947 License Tags Is Still Slow

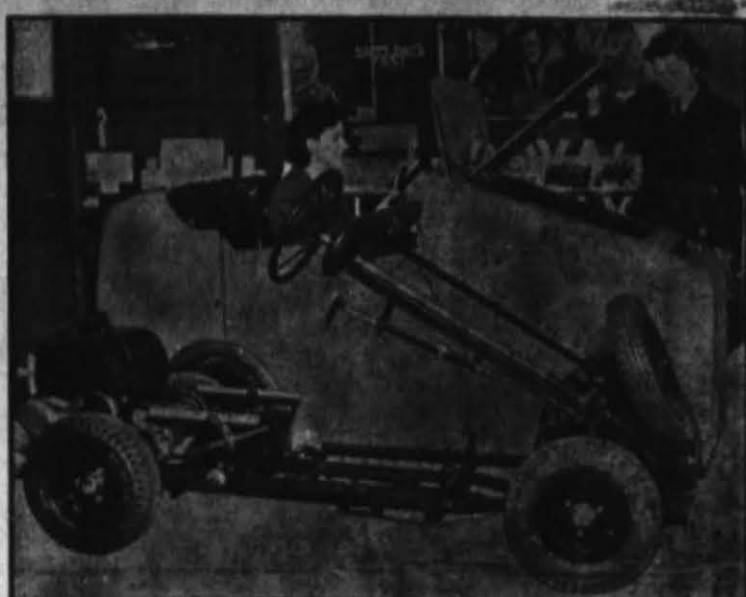

With only fifty 1947 auto license tags sold to date, deputies at the Sheriff's office are urging Deaf Smith county car owners to come in early to buy licenses and avoid a last-minute rush.

License tags cannot be placed on vehicles until March 1, and must be on not later than April 1.

Due to the large number of cars imported from other states by new resident-owners, as well as those brought in for sale, owners of such cars are warned to take immediate steps to secure a Texas title for such vehicle before attempting to register it.

Instructions just received by the sheriff's office from the Texas Highway Department are: "we feel it appropriate to call attention to the provision in the statutes which should be closely followed in that the re-registration of vehicles which are required under the law to be titled should not be made until such title has been issued. In the past year there have been hundreds of requests for title rejected, and these vehicles should not be re-registered until title has been issued."

65 Miles to the Gallon!

The Larmor is the newest thing in English automobiles. It's a one-seater, gets 65 miles to the gallon, cruises at 35 mph. Engine is 3 1/2 hp, length 7-5/8, width 2-6. Chassis is in foreground.

Owners not having clear titles in this state to their vehicles should take immediate steps to get them.

For the benefit of people who cannot leave their offices except during the lunch hour, the Sheriff's office will remain open through the lunch hour daily until after the registration deadline on April 1, Sheriff J. C. Reece.

Once again Krause leads the field with the first Timken roller disc bearings for a one-way plow.

1. Double sealed against dust—Each bearing has two garlock seals and two felt seals. The dust is sealed out, the grease is sealed in.
2. Large, heavy duty bearings—Each bearing assembly contains two three-inch Timken bearings insuring ample load carrying capacity and long life.
3. Factory packed—Each bearing is completely assembled and packed with grease at the factory ready for immediate use.
4. Self-aligning—The bearing assemblies are mounted with a special floating mounting which provides constant self-aligning. They are never out of line or in a bind.
5. Interchangeable with present Krause disc bearings—Take off the old cast iron bearings, put on the new Timken bearings.

6. Unconditional guarantee—The new Krause disc bearing comes to you with a one-year unconditional guarantee.
7. Saves grease—Because the sealed in bearing grease cannot get away you need grease these bearings only once every thousand acres.
8. Saves manual work—You need never tear down your plow to replace worn-out thrust washers or bearings.
9. Saves time—Saves the time necessary for greasing and repairing the old bearings.

Many Flowers Can Be Started Now In Frame Garden

COLLAGE STATION, Feb. 8.—Gardeners have a wide variety of flowers to choose from that can be started now in frame gardens or hot beds.

Allyum, arbutus, babybreath, blue alyum, calendula, candy-tuft, Chinese forget-me-not, clematis, cornflower, daisy, everlasting, forget-me-not, four-o'clock, gayfeather, gillyflower, larkspur, poppies, marigolds, impatiens, petunias, phlox, pansy, rosemary, scabiosa, snapdragon, stock, sweet pea, sweet william, and verbena.

The landscape gardening specialist warns gardeners that it is easy to start more flowers in the hot bed and frame than they really want. She advises careful planning to avoid an over-supply.

education altogether from text books. I wanted them to get their practical education too. They learned to be good farmers and craftsmen, and they all learned to cook . . . boys and girls.

Ruth, whom he recalls always rode side-saddle, even learned to climb a bower in an emergency and doctor a windmill.

The Wilsons moved to a ranch north of Hereford in 1906, and after two years, moved to a 9-acre place on 25-Mile Avenue in Hereford to put the children through school.

After the children were educated, they moved back to the ranch at Garretts Lake, where they lived for 20 years. "I never thought to be a cowboy," Mr. Wilson says, "but was always a cattleman."

John L. Wilson was born on February 16, 1861, in Van Zandt County, and was married on December 22, 1889, to Miss Anne Roberts.

Seven children are still living. They are Earl Wilson, now of Childress; Mrs. Sam Steele of Fort Sumner; N. M. Mrs. Barney L. Case of Atlanta, Georgia; John C. Jr. and Mrs. C. L. Morris of Voss, Mrs. Dean Rice, now in Vansant, South America; Homer Wilson of Bakerfield, California; and Paul Wilson, Mrs. Nell Gilbreath, Mrs. Cliff Eves, and Mrs. Nell Morgan, all of Hereford.

Since he suffered a fall on a log in Vega in 1912 and broke his hip, he has been on crutches, and has made his home in Hereford with his daughter, Mrs. Nell Gilbreath. He is now with the Panhandle . . . there are 50 people in the early days in the four enclosures, and four-fifths of them live in the Panhandle.

In 1904 when the Rock Island Railroad was under construction west from Amarillo, he recalls, the construction company was required to keep all gates closed where the track ran through large pastures, and after it was finished and until the necessary cattle guards were put in, all trains, including passenger trains, were required to open and close the gates.

One of Mr. Wilson's favorite stories is of how he became a

Taxpayers

Though continued to what extent by various factors, the tax rate on property in Hereford, Texas, is expected to increase in 1947.

The Commissioners Court recommended in a session until 11 o'clock Monday night without reaching a definite decision on the question, and will meet again next Monday in a special session to continue discussion of the proposed increase.

Members of the Commissioners Court pointed out that, in spite of the county's current favorable balance, there have been recurring deficits to certain operations of the county.

A new state law, however, which prohibits the use of funds derived from taxes levied for roads for any other purpose will make any further increase in the source to the General Fund impossible, according to County Judge Leonard Foster.

Members of the Court had believed, at the time the valuation order was passed, that an increase in the tax rate from the current levy of 24 cents to the statutory maximum (40 cents) would not be sufficient to bring the General Fund out

Evans Calls On County to Lead Drive

"Another First for Hereford" is the keynote of the Red Cross annual membership drive, Chairman Wayne Evans said today.

"We were eleventh in Texas last year to complete our membership drive. This year we want to put Deaf Smith County out in front, not only in Texas but in the nation. It isn't a matter of response, because we have always had a most generous one, it is just getting out and doing the job a little earlier," Mr. Evans declared.

Workers for the Rural areas and Residential and Business areas in Hereford have been selected and will be receiving notification of their appointments within the next few days. A more detailed division of the County has been completed by local Red Cross workers, enabling every individual in the county to have an opportunity to join with the rest of the community in helping Deaf Smith county go over the top in the drive.

Mr. Evans pointed out that, "Through your generous support of the Red Cross you strengthen a vast program of mercy and community service reaching into every part of America. Your own Red Cross Chapter is one of 3,755 centers from which flow the warm-hearted understanding and help you want to give."

"How well your Red Cross does its job depends on you! When you contribute to the 1947 Red Cross Fund, you become a member of a great, working family—a family of American neighbors who are pledged to help each other in time of need!"

West Texas Feed and Seed Co. Opens New Building Monday

West Texas Feed, Seed and Hatchery company was open for business Monday in its new building on Miles street, just south of the City Hall.

The building was formally opened last Friday night at a dance sponsored by the American Legion and VFW, with music by the West Texas State College orchestra.

Moving of all stock and equipment from the old location on Sampson street was completed over the week-end and the company was open for business in the new location Monday morning.

The new building, 75 by 140 feet, is of concrete tile construction, finished in white stucco, and presents a clean, modern, and attractive appearance.

According to Jack Wright, manager of the company and partner with E. L. Kearns of Amarillo in the firm, the new building increases the floor space by one-third over the old quarters, and provides modern offices for personnel of the company, as well as display rooms for stocks of garden seed and commercial feed featured by the sales department.

Jack Gilliland, Hereford veterinarian, has opened his offices in the new building.

The company features a complete line of poultry equipment and remedies, poultry and dairy feeds, field seed, bulk garden seed, and all kinds of lawn and grass seeds.

The hatchery has a 22,250-egg capacity incubator, with a spacious brooder and battery room. A cement paved driveway in the rear of the building leads to a large room housing livestock in scales, seed cleaner and feed mixing equipment, and loading space for bulk feeds.

Wright has expanded his cleaning facilities and storage bins to cooperate with local certified seed growers in handling certified seed which will be produced locally this year.

Wright has been with the West Texas Feed and Seed Company in Hereford for 24 years, and has been an active (Continued on Page 5)

Time for Action Now on Water Legislation Says Fortenberry

"It's time for positive and prompt action and there's something definite which land owners can now do to forestall legislation in Texas on ground water control," according to W. O. Fortenberry of Monro, president of the High Plains Water Use and Conservation association. "Legislation has now been introduced in the Legislature, House Bill No. 80, and this legislation has been referred to the House Committee on State Affairs."

Fortenberry urges that those who have contracts with any of the members of the committee or with influential friends in their districts write or wire immediately stating the position of citizens of this area on ground water legislation. "We feel that there is not yet enough dependable information on which to base any ground water legislation," said Fortenberry. "Although this bill refers only to five Winter Garden area counties it sets a dangerous precedent, in that it declares water under ground in that area property of the State of Texas. It is only a short step to declaring that water, oil, gas and other minerals in that or other parts of the state are state property. This is contradictory to the long Texas law and tradition that land and everything below it is the property of the title holder."

"The caption of this bill," said Fortenberry, "states that it is an act declaring the waters of underground streams, channels, artesian basins, reservoirs, lakes and other bodies of water in the ground, lying and being situated in the area to be the property of the State of Texas, and the right to the use thereof to be acquired by appropriation and not otherwise."

Fortenberry said that the House State Affairs committee is composed of Bell of DeWitt, chairman; Crostwait, Dallas, vice-chairman; Brooks of Beaumont, Colson of Navasota, Crawford of Palacios, Hannah of Dallas, Heflin of Houston, Lanier of Marquez, Lehman of Giddings, Lock of Lufkin, Murphy of Hays, Sparks of Sherman, Suiter of Willsboro, Storey of Longview, Swanson of Tyler, Wallace of Fort Worth, Whitworth of Smithville, Williams of Scurry and Williams of Bexar.

Wind Erosion Board Reports Land in Good Condition Here

The 1946 annual report of the Board of Supervisors for the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District is very encouraging. In part, it states:

"In general, the lands within the District are at this time in unusual condition to resist wind erosion during the coming critical bow season. Cover is exceptionally good at this time of the year. Wheat has made good growth and, due to heavy fall moisture, quite an extensive acreage has been seeded.

"Last spring and summer being dryer than usual resulted in quite a demand for help on irrigated farms. This demand for help on irrigation has been consistently growing for the past several years. This type of work is in such demand during certain periods that it is impossible for the people of the work unit to take care of it all.

"Erosion from blowing has been relatively slight for the past six years, and many farmers are forgetting the danger of extensive dry periods without adequate residues. Tillage methods are changing from what they were during the early 1930s in that a large percent of the wheat on dry land is now being tilled with shovel and chisel type implements. This is resulting in more stubble being left on the surface of the ground and remaining on the surface over a longer period thereby giving more protection against blowing than when plowed under."

Accomplishments during 1946 in the way of conservation practices on the land were about double those of 1945. These include contour planting, permanent cover crops, leaving of stubbles on land, stocking pasture land according to its carrying capacity, seeding grasses, and building terraces, diversions and stock water ponds.

During the year the District aided farmers in establishing 94 complete irrigation systems and set up irrigation ditch systems in 23,697 acres of land. About 111 new applications for (Continued on Page 5)

Will Name Winner at C-C Banquet

Who is the "Best All-'Round Citizen" in Hereford, Deaf Smith County, and the Hereford Trade Territory?

Perhaps he is one of your neighbors, a business associate, or belongs to one of your organizations. Maybe she is a woman who works in your church, lives in your rural community or is a member of your club. Again, it may be some person with whom you are scarcely acquainted, but whose work you have observed.

Anyway, the search has started. A secret committee has been appointed by the Hereford Lions Club to locate the community's "Best All-'Round Citizen" and this committee has asked The Brand to assist. The man or woman selected will be awarded a silver loving cup by the Lions Club and presentation will be made at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet in March.

Between now and February 28, a coupon will appear each week in The Brand. Residents of this area are asked to vote. Coupons must be signed and all voters are invited to list reasons for their nomination. No announcement will be made of the winning nominee until the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

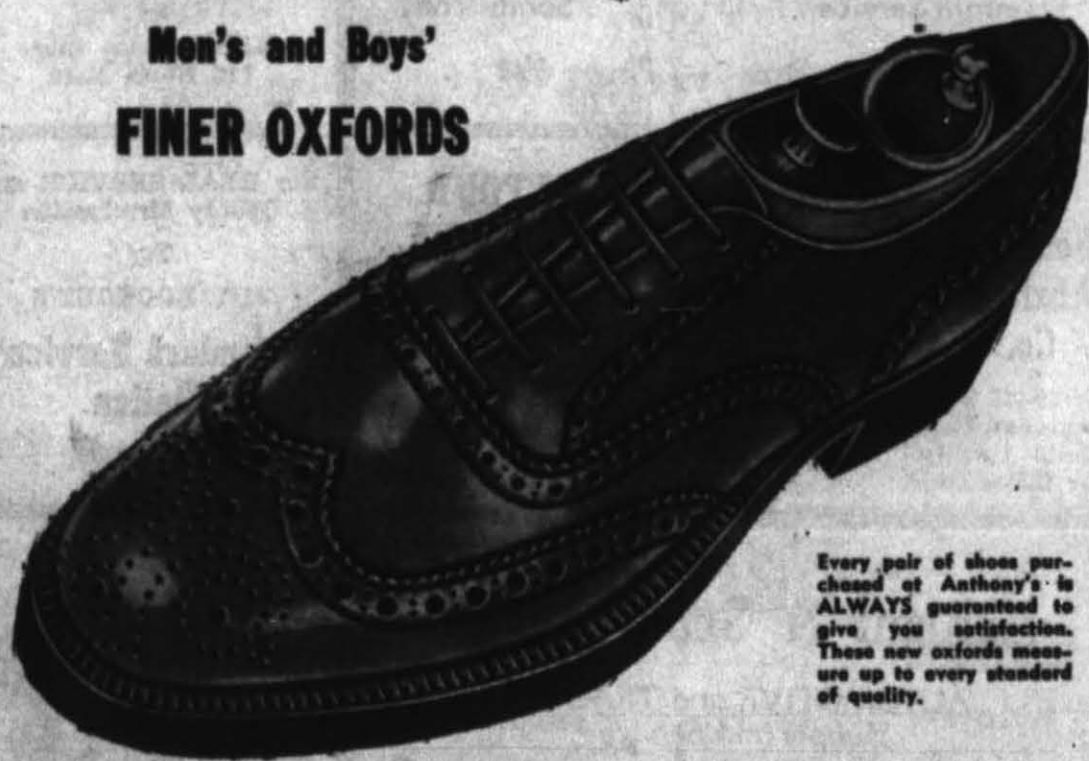

Mail or bring your coupons to The Brand Office, Box 673, Hereford, Texas, and mark "All 'Round Citizen" on the outside of your envelope. These coupons will be turned over to the Lions Club—and the person receiving the most votes will be awarded the cup.

The following letter, submitted to us by the committee, will give you an idea of how the contest works:

Duster Is Blamed on Too Much Rain and Too Much Drought

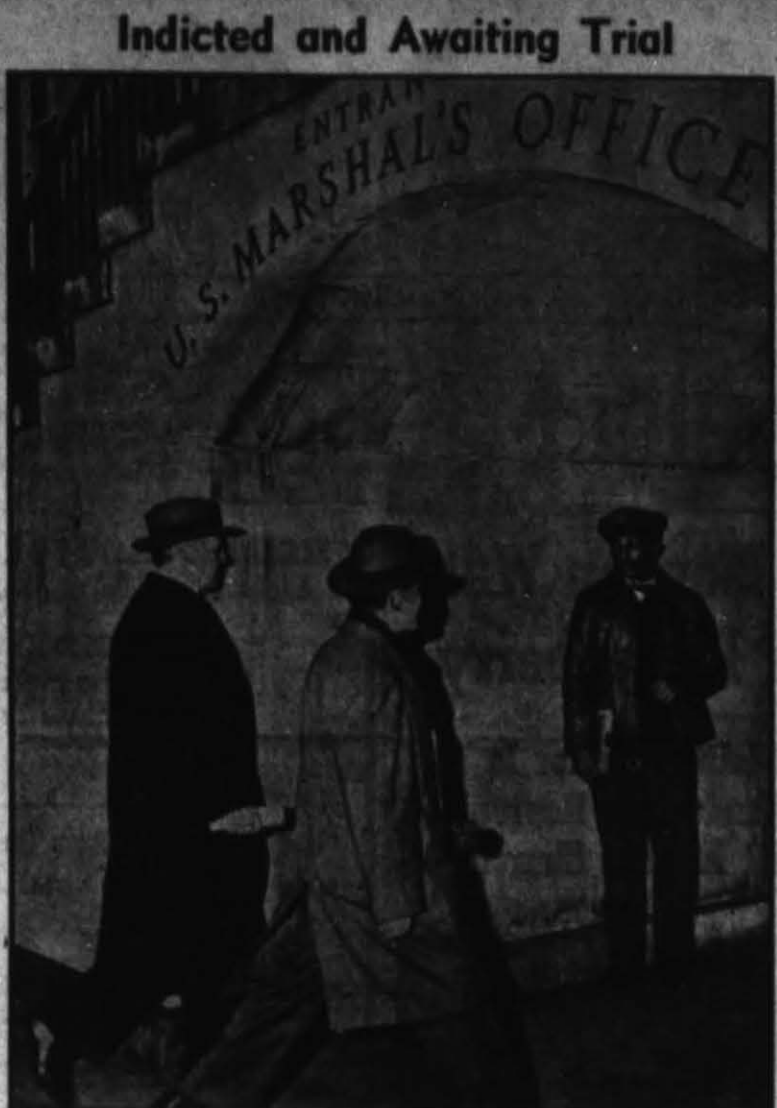

TULLA, Feb. 10.—Too much drought and too much rain were the strangely conflicting reasons offered by soil conservation officials for the heavy dust storm which swept this area late in January.

Supervisors of the Hale-Swisher county Soil Conservation District attributed the dust storm to the severe drought during the first half of 1946, which left little crop residues on the soil surface, and heavy rainfall in the fall of 1946 which resulted in late seeding and slow germination of seeded wheat, plus heavy moisture during December and January followed by freezing and thawing which pulverized the soil, leaving it in a condition highly susceptible to the blowing.

Scott Amend, district soil conservationist at Plainview, after a tour of the dust-blown area in Swisher and Hale counties, expressed the opinion that carrying reports of the damage were considerably exaggerated.

Amend said that in no instances, even in fields north of Kress where blowing was heaviest, was the subsoil exposed. He said perhaps an inch to an inch and a half was the greatest loss of topsoil anywhere in the area.

Former Rep. Andrew J. May, left, scheduled for trial on an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government on war contracts, is shown entering court in Washington, where he pleaded not guilty and was fingerprinted. He faces a possible six-year prison term. With him is Warren E. Magee, his attorney. The indictment is an outgrowth of the Senate War Profits Committee investigation of the Garson munitions "empire." The Garson brothers, Henry M. and Murray, plus their top Washington "fixer," Joseph Freeman, are under indictment on similar charges.

Over-grazing and late seeding were the principal contributing factors toward damage in the Wednesday storm, Amend said. He predicted that unless farmers take proper conservation steps, there will be considerably more damage from blowing, however, before the spring winds are over.

Bay View Club Studies "China"

"China" was the topic of the study program when members of the Bay View Club met in the home of Mrs. Bob Wilson Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Spradley, leader of the program, discussed "Present Day Conditions in China" based on the book "Thunder Out of China" one of the few books planned along a broad enough scope to give outsiders a clear vision of the real situation there.

Tracing China's political history, internal uprisings and revolutions, the leader explained the rise of the war lords, the different forms of government and the history of power rule. She told of the aid from our own government and of the withdrawal of the United States from that area, mentioning Hurley and Marshall and their work, and discussing Chiang Kai-Shek's policy.

Mrs. Paul Mathers reviewed the book "Echo of A Cry" by Mal-Mal-Sze.

Beginning her review by quoting opinions of outstanding literary men, Mrs. Mathers described the story as one of race relationships and well recommended for study by high school students.

"It is an autobiography covering the highlights of the early childhood of the author, portraying her as able to be at home anywhere in the world, to think with and as others think. The scene begins in China and from there to London where the English language is learned. Her reactions to religious teachings and her journey with a band of gypsies and her trip back to America reveal the influence of the Oriental background which she was never able to disregard even with four years at Wellesley and one year's study of art in New York."

Members of the club present were Mesdames; D. H. Alexander, J. R. Allison, Phillip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, Henry Benson,

Check for $981,660,783

On rural routes everywhere in America, on every highway of the north, on every by-ways of the south, live the 5,500,000 ranch and farm families who produce America's supply of food. It's a big supply, too, the greatest in the world. From your farms and ranches in 1946 came livestock, dairy and poultry products and crops to the value of about twenty-three billion dollars, according to latest available government estimates. Meat and dairy and poultry products accounted for about 60 percent of the total farm cash income, current estimates reveal. Agriculture, the nation's most essential industry, is "big business" in every sense of the phrase.

Of all your cash income last year, $981,660,783* came from Swift & Company in payments for livestock and other agricultural raw materials. We purchased your livestock and other products and converted them into millions of pounds of quality meats, valuable by-products, other food products. Part of the money you received

For People... By People

We at Swift & Company think of our business as being owned by 63,985 people, the producers and their families, and operated by 60,000 employees. We are a company of men and women, producers and many other large groups of people. Employment is created for other thousands who work for railroads, trucking firms, livestock commission houses, stockyards, cooperatives, architects, and a host of other organizations. A number of retailers everywhere in the nation are in purchasing Swift's quality meats and other products to millions of American families.

In return for all the effort that made these services possible, the folks who work for Swift & Company received a check for $981,660,783* last year. This is 88% of the total remaining after all bills except taxes were paid, and is ten times more than the company's total net profit.

FEED VALUES ARE SOIL VALUES

Recently a farmer friend of mine told me, "I've moved to another farm where I get bigger yields in all my feed crops. But even though I receive much more for my feed crops, I'm not getting as much meat per acre."

This man doesn't realize that feed value is no indication of feed value. Livestock will not gain more on large quantities of feed than they will on smaller quantities of feed. The reason is that the soil values of the feed crops are what counts. The soil values of the feed crops are what counts. The soil values of the feed crops are what counts.

"WHERE DID THAT $1,308,364,155 GO?"

During 1946 Swift & Company received $1,308,364,155 from the sale of its products and by-products. By the end of the year the Company had earned a net profit of $16,394,739, which is slightly less than 1.3% on each dollar of sales.

What happened to the rest of that money?

Well, the largest part was paid to farmers and ranchers who sold us livestock and other agricultural products. They got $981,660,783* or 75% out of the average sales dollar we received for products sold, including all by-products such as hides, wool, soybean meal, etc.

The next largest portion of our sales dollar went to all Swift employees. Their share of the dollar was 12.4%.

Fuel, borax, buses, paper, salt, sugar and other supplies took 4.8% out of the average dollar.

Transportation (Motor trucks, on the average, over 1,000 miles from producer to consumer.)

Taxes took another 1%. All other expenses, including depreciation, interest and miscellaneous business costs, amounted to 2.3%.

All these costs taken out of the sales dollar left 1.3%. This was Swift & Company's net profit in 1946 — a profit of only 1.3% on each pound of the millions of pounds of products and by-products handled.

Texas Water Engineers Release New Report On Condition of Irrigation Water Supply

Five Counties Show Net Rise In Water Level

With arguments over the state of underground irrigation water supplies on the High Plains raging furiously as bills designed to control the use of underground water reached the state legislature last week, the Texas Board of Water Engineers has released its "Progress Report No. 6" on ground water levels in the High Plains. The report was released to the public Sunday, and copies are available at the Austin offices of the State Board, according to E. V. Spence, member, who released the report.

Based on water level measurements in 208 observation wells located throughout the ten major irrigation counties in the Plains shallow water belt, the report records net changes in water levels by counties from 1938 to 1947.

During this period, five of the ten counties studied showed a net average rise in levels of underground water tables, while the remaining five showed declines.

Bailey, Crosby, Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock counties showed a net average rise in the level of underground water over the 8-year period covered by the study ranging from .7 foot in Bailey county to 2.1 feet in Lamb county. In heavily pumped Lubbock county, where a major controversy has arisen over the question of irrigation controls, the Board's records show a net rise in the water table of .9 foot.

In Castro, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hale, and Swisher counties, the 8-year record shows a net decline in the level of the water table ranging from 3.5 feet in Castro county to 7.5 feet in Floyd County.

The net decline in the water level in Deaf Smith county for the period between 1938 and 1947 was 3.6 feet. Thirty-four test wells in this county were checked in arriving at these figures.

In a supplement to the report, the State Board issued preliminary figures on the change in water level between February 1946 and January 1947. All of the ten counties showed a net decline in the water level ranging from 1.1 in Hockley county to 4.2 feet in Floyd county. In Deaf Smith the average net decline for the year was 1.3 feet.

In summarizing the annual report, the Board of Water Engineers pointed out that pumping for irrigation purposes during the 3-year period ending in 1945 probably exceeded the entire pumping during the preceding 32 years, from 1911 to 1943.

Irrigation from wells in the High Plains region was started in 1911 near Plainview. By 1914 about 140 irrigation wells had been drilled in the three principal districts, Plainview, Hereford, and Mulhouse.

In the seven years from 1919 to 1926, rainfall in most of the region was above average, and comparatively little irrigation was practiced. Interest was revived about 1927, and according to available records, 398 wells were pumped to irrigate about 35,000 acres in 1934. Since that time the development has grown by leaps and bounds, and it is estimated that about 4300 wells were pumped to irrigate about 550,000 acres in 1945.

The Water Board estimates that about 1200 new wells were installed and used during 1946, bringing the total of wells now in use to about 5,500 and the total of land under irrigation to 65,000 acres.

During 1941, the rainfall in

State Water Board Is Not Promoting Water Control Bill

E. V. Spence, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, in a speech before the Dallas Technical Club at Dallas Tuesday, denied flatly that the State Board is promoting or has any connection with currently proposed legislation affecting control of underground water.

"I wish to say that your State Board of Water Engineers is sometimes presumed to be seeking additional regulatory powers because bills affecting underground water and designating the board as the state's agency are submitted to the legislature," Spence said.

"I wish to definitely state that the State Board of Water Engineers is not promoting any regulatory laws affecting underground water."

Spence pointed out that the State Board is authorized to make a specific study, investigation, and report of the sources, amount and quality of the underground water supply, and to report on maintenance and conservation of the supply. "These studies have been in progress in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey since 1929," he said.

"In my judgment, conservation of water involves the fullest practicable development consistent with the needs of the people," Spence said.

"Pumping for irrigation in the High Plains has increased during the last eight years at a rate that has never been equalled in another area of the United States, so far as we know," Spence said in his talk. "In the more heavily pumped areas, this has resulted in the decline of water levels in wells, particularly the pumping levels, which to say the least, is disturbing. It is evident that in some cases the wells in these areas are already too closely spaced."

Spence did not quote figures to support his statement. However, the latest progress report on High Plains water levels, issued by the Board of Water Engineers and covering the period through January 1947, shows that the drop in pumping levels in the Plains irrigation belt has ranged from 25 feet in the city of Lubbock Municipal wells to 5 feet in wells in Swisher County, since 1938.

At Fort Worth, Spence reported, pumping level in city wells has declined to four or five hundred feet below the surface, "but the eye seems to have reached a stage of equilibrium which may continue for a long time if there is no large increase in pumping."

"In the Winter Garden district," he said, "water levels in irrigation wells have dropped sharply as a result of the large most of the High Plains area was very heavy, and the water table in most of the region rose sharply from a fraction of a foot to as much as 15 feet and more in some localities.

Water levels in Deaf Smith County wells, recorded in January of this year, ranged from 25.8 feet in the R. R. Lindsey well northeast of Hereford to 103 feet in the Carl H. Schroeder well west of Hereford near the edge of the irrigated district.

Double Ration Value of New Sugar Stamps

It's no April Fool trick . . . a new sugar ration stamp to become valid on April 1 will really be worth ten pounds of sugar! Ration officials announced last week-end that the current sugar stamp, No. 53, will expire on March 31, instead of on April 30 as previously announced, and a new stamp to be issued April 1 will be good for ten pounds, instead of the usual five.

increase in pumping during the last five years. In some parts of the district this has become very serious . . .

Large reserves of ground water are still practically untouched in parts of the state, Spence said, adding that one of these areas is the area outside the present irrigation belt on the High Plains.

Although officials refused to commit themselves, the family sugar bowl seems to be due for a new lease on life, and the 1947 sugar ration promises to be the biggest since the war. There will be no special ration of canning sugar this year, however, but prospects are bright for larger individual allotments.

The current five-pound sugar stamps will have to last only three months, instead of four as in the past. Stamp 53 will not be good after March 31.

Ration officials said they doubled the value of the new sugar stamp, and all those succeeding it to stretch out the supply of un-used sugar stamps in War Ration Book 4, which is getting a bit battered after all these years.

Hall County 4-H Clubs Win Award For Third Year

For the third consecutive year, Hall county has been chosen by the state extension office as reporting the most outstanding 4-H Better Methods Electric program in 1946. In recognition of this honor, the county extension office at Memphis (Texas), will receive its third merit plaque, which is provided by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

The county extension office report stated that sixteen 4-H Clubs with a total of 751 members participated in the rural electrification program. The REA superintendent, county agricultural agent and 4-H Club leaders assisted the boys in installing electric fences, building pig and chicken brooders, and wiring dairy barns and poultry houses.

The utility companies, REA Cooperatives, schools and 4-H Club leaders also assisted the members in making a new survey map of the 1,300 farms in the county, to show how many were using rural electrification. The map shows there are at present 1,000 houses (including those for farm labor and renters) using electricity and 497 miles of power, as compared with 600 houses and 304 miles of lines in 1944.

The boy members of the clubs reported in meetings that they were utilizing electricity to operate feed grinders, making machines, brooders, water warming units, frozen food ockers, electric fences to supply water for livestock and to light farm shops and dairy houses.

Harold Rumpy, 16, of Lakeview, was named county, state and national winner in the 1946 4-H Better Methods Electric award program.

(Continued from Page 1) Dear Editor: We need some help. We have been appointed as a select committee of three to select the Best All-Round citizen in this town, county and trade territory. Will you please publish a ballot and turn them over to us in care of the Lions Club secretary or president?

This is not to be a popularity contest, but is a sincere effort to find the person who has, during the past year, contributed most toward the growth and progress of this community as a whole. He, or she, need not necessarily be wealthy in worldly goods; however, this factor should not be held against any person.

We believe there are persons who contribute of their time and energy in making this community a better place to live who cannot be known to any small group. We ask you to be unselfish and sincere in making your nomination. We ask you to sign your ballot, and to vote only once. Some individual deserves this recognition, and we are anxious

Broilers Best Buy in Poultry Market Says A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 8.—Best buy in birds, through February, will be broilers.

Home Marketing Specialist Myrtle Murray, of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, states that broiler producing areas have come through with a bumper crop again this year, and the supply of the young, tender, soft-meated chickens is so great that prices have already dropped below the cost of production.

Supplies of the broilers are expected to increase through February, says Miss Murray, and the housewife who appreciates a good bargain will be treating her family to a lot of chicken dinners during the month. Broilers are selling at lower prices than roasting or even stewing chickens, and also at lower prices than big tom turkeys, which are also in large supply.

The young chickens, which weigh up to three and a half pounds, are tender enough to broil or barbecue and are ideal also for frying, the marketing specialist says. Because of their tenderness they need only short cooking.

Most of the broilers are coming to market picked but not drawn, Miss Murray says, and most retail dealers will draw, split or cut them up, as the customers wishes. Frozen food stores will usually offer the broilers cut-up and pan-ready, in frozen packages, the specialist says, although frozen packaged chicken sells at a higher price than fresh broilers.
