

Challenger launch spectacular; first black astronaut on board

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The space shuttle Challenger, a manmade comet trailing a 500-foot geyser of fire, set the sky ablaze in a brilliant show of sight and sound as it left Earth in the wee hours today. Aboard was a five-man crew, including America's first black astronaut.

Only hours before liftoff there was another celestial spectacle: thunder boomed across the Kennedy Space Center, lightning danced around the spaceship and rain drenched the launch pad and thousands of spectators drawn to the area for the first night launch of a shuttle. The remnants of that storm delayed the launch by 17 minutes, until 2:32 a.m. EDT, and almost resulted in a scrub.

Later, he described the liftoff as "like driving through a fog bank, except there was an external orange light source within the fog bank."

Truly added: "You couldn't see anything because of the light ... it got brighter and brighter" until the two solid rocket boosters burned out and fell off. Then, Truly said, "the light from the solid rocket motors was about 500 times more than I remember on STS-2."

Truly was aboard the second shuttle flight in November 1981. Fellow astronaut Daniel Brandenstein said the separation of the boosters "was the inside of a bonfire. That was a real experience."

Holmes to chair MD activities

The Panhandle Muscular Dystrophy Association announced today that Ms. Janice Holmes will serve as community chairperson for Hereford.

The Hereford Elks Lodge will once again man the phones at the pledge center.

It was quite an experience for those watching from below as well. Flame billowed from the base of the shuttle, fanned across the pad with white-hot light and steam.

And then Challenger, illuminated at the birth of flight by 800 million-candlepower floodlights, rose swiftly off the pad, the flame from its solid rocket boosters building to a tower of fire that could be seen from the launch area for 2 minutes and 42 seconds.

The sky grew ever brighter as the flame bounced off the clouds. It looked like a murky, gray dawn created by a white-gold sun. It was bright enough at the press site three miles from the pad

Chuckling Trumpeter

Hereford High School's band will give a brief performance tonight at an ice cream social, scheduled to be held from 6-7 p.m. in the Bull Barn. Two new music instructors will be introduced at the affair.

Michael Bryant is the new assistant director at HHS while James McCloskey will take over the music program at LaPlata Junior High School.

Marine deaths won't alter U.S. role in Lebanon

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — President Reagan, endorsing recommendations from top foreign policy advisers, says there will be no immediate change in the size or mission of American forces in Lebanon in the aftermath of the first two combat deaths of U.S. Marines.

The administration, meanwhile, came under pressure Monday from key members of Congress to invoke provisions of the War Powers Act which would mandate the withdrawal of the 1,200 troops within 60 days unless Congress specifically approves their presence in the Middle East.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said, "The United States has no business playing policeman with a handful of Marines."

Sen. John Glenn of Ohio, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said, "We can no longer have the president denying that there is imminent danger in Lebanon."

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said congressional leaders were being briefed on developments in Lebanon, and that the administration was conducting a legal review to make sure it was complying with the law.

After that meeting, Bush and Shultz held a 14-minute conference call over a secure telephone line with Reagan at the White House.

Speakes said Reagan accepted the special group's recommendations and no change in the size or role of the Marine forces, or the area they patrol.

Homicide suspect arrested

Joe Baca, a suspect in an Amarillo homicide, was found near Dawn early this morning by Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Deputy Loy Smith, the local sheriff's office reported this morning.

Texas crime rate declines

AUSTIN — The Texas crime rate for the first half of 1983 declined three percent compared to the same period last year, according to statistics released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

A total of 456,940 major criminal offenses were reported by Texas law enforcement agencies from January through June of this year, reflecting a slight increase of 0.4 percent in the actual number of crimes.

DWI arrests for the first half of 1983 totaled 71,972 compared to 50,786 in the first half of 1982.

Statewide arrests for criminal offenses totaled 458,926 in the first six months of 1983, posting a 4.1 percent increase over the 1982 period.

Three Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action during the period. Four other peace officers died as a result of job-related accidents. A total of 1,833 officers were assaulted while on duty.

Booster Club meetings begin

The Whiteface Booster Club will begin having weekly meetings tonight in the Herd's weight room, located next to the field house at Whiteface Stadium.

The boosters will meet at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday. Coach Jerry Taylor and other coaches will give reports on upcoming games and on team personnel.

A film of the varsity game will also be shown each week. All interested fans are invited to attend the meetings, said John Bunch, booster club president.

Inmates riot at Oklahoma institution

HOMINY, Okla. (AP) — Rioting inmates set buildings on fire at a medium security prison Monday night, forcing the evacuation of all the guards and leaving more than 700 prisoners unchecked inside, authorities said.

At least 20 inmates and two guards were injured, a spokesman for Gov. George Nigh said.

Most of the 728 inmates at the Conners Correctional Center were involved in the disturbance, said Corrections Department spokesman Joyce Jackson, and Nigh sent the National Guard to scene late Monday night.

John Reid, Nigh's press secretary, said 20 inmates and two guards were injured in the disturbance. The nature their injuries was not known.

Young farmers sweep awards

Members of the Hereford Young Farmers swept three major awards and captured two top offices at the Area I Young Farmers of Texas convention held on the campus of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview Saturday.

The Hereford chapter captured the coveted Outstanding Chapter award for Area I in recognition of outstanding accomplishment, leadership and service on the part of a Young Farmer chapter in Area I.

In addition to a plaque the HYF chapter received a check for $100 in recognition of the accomplishment. Hereford will now compete as the Area I winner at the state Young Farmers convention to be held in Austin in January.

The Hereford chapter was singled out for efforts including the junior livestock show here, donation of an annual agriculture scholarship to a Hereford High School senior, educational functions, community service, leadership and social functions.

Roy Carlson of the Hereford Chapter was named the Star Young Farmer for Area I, his second time to win the award. He was also Star Young Farmer for Area I in 1981. Carlson farms 1,100 acres near Milo Center and raises corn, forages and produce. He also runs a mother cow herd. He has served as past state vice president for Area I and Area I president and secretary. He served as president and secretary of the local chapter. Locally, he has served as general superintendent of the HYF junior livestock show for three years. A graduate of Hereford High School and West Texas State University, Carlson and his wife, Shirley, are the parents of three sons.

Toby Turpen of Hereford was named Star Agribusinessman for Area I. He was cited for his agribusiness achievements in operating his own spraying business serving ag-related industries. A 1977 graduate of HHS, Turpen was also named Top Agribusinessman in FFA that year. Turpen has been a member of the HYF chapter for six years and has served as secretary and treasurer of the local chapter, as well as a superintendent of the lamb division of the HYF junior livestock show. He and his wife, Kathy, are the parents of a son.

Elected Farmers

Number of TB cases in Houston increases

HOUSTON (AP) — Some health authorities had thought they should have been able to eradicate tuberculosis a decade ago, but although the number of cases have declined slightly statewide officials in Houston report a 43 percent increase in five years.

Last year, Houston accounted for about one-third of the TB cases reported in Texas, the Houston Chronicle reported Monday.

Almost 700 cases were reported in Houston last year, compared to 489 in 1978, said Marcus Longoria, a Texas Health Department employee who directs Houston's TB control program. Statewide, the number of cases declined from 2,160 in 1978 to 2,076 in 1982.

Longoria said he is disappointed that the incidence of TB has risen in Houston although there is a treatment for the disease. There currently is no cure for TB.

"Twenty years ago, we were saying we should be able to eradicate tuberculosis within 10 years," he said.

Health authorities today say that dream is far away, although city and state departments spend $2 million a year to control the disease in Houston. Strains of the TB bacillus resistant to the drugs commonly used and patients who do not complete the necessary treatment are factors in keeping the disease alive in Houstonians, officials said.

"Houston is a transient population, with people coming from all parts of the country and the world," said Dr. Chao Bu, chief of the bureau of communicable diseases for the Houston Health Department.

"The disease takes a long time to control, even though it is easy to treat," Bu said.

Kathy Penrose, program administrator, said many people are unwilling to continue taking their medication once they feel well. They are instructed to take medication for at least nine months to make sure they are cured, she said.

When patients stop their medication, relapse and start the medication again, they increase the chance the dominant strain of TB affecting them will be resistant to the drugs, Ms. Penrose said.

New York diamond dealer robbed

DALLAS (AP) — A New York diamond dealer who was found bound and gagged in his hotel bathtub told police he was robbed of $310,000 in jewels by two men, one with a walkie-talkie, investigators said.

Uzi Yehudai, 43, was found by hotel employees at 6:30 a.m. Monday after they heard loud banging coming from his room, said John E. Westphalen, an investigator with the crimes against persons unit.

Yehudai, who was in Dallas for a diamond show, told police that as he returned to his room late Sunday after paying his bill, he saw a man with a walkie-talkie in the hallway. Police said Yehudai told them the man drew a pistol and pushed him into the room.

The first man covered Yehudai's face with a towel and a second man came into the room, Yehudai told police. He said he was then dragged into the bathroom, cuffed hand and foot, gagged with toilet paper and tied to the bathtub drain.

Yehudai told police the men took $300,000 in diamonds, 12 diamond rings worth a total of $10,000 and $700 in cash.

Police said Yehudai was not injured and that they had no suspects Monday.

Mexican Americans speak with one voice on public policy

Politicos wishing to mobilize the collective voting strength of Mexican Americans should realize that this growing segment of the national electorate shares a consensus regarding public policy priorities. Unemployment was identified most frequently as the most serious problem facing Mexican Americans in San Antonio; in East Los Angeles, unemployment was viewed as the second most serious problem next to crime.

These are the conclusions reached in a study just released by the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project of San Antonio. "The Mexican American Electorate: Information Project of San Antonio. The Mexican American Electorate: Information Sources and Policy Orientations" is the second in a five-part series of reports on surveys of 903 adults of Mexican descent in San Antonio, Texas, and East Los Angeles, California. The series is published jointly by SVREP and the Center for Mexican American Studies at the University of Texas at Austin. Co-authors of the report are Dr. Rodolfo O. de la Garza, CMAS director and Dr. Robert Brischetto, SVREP research director.

According to the survey, the Mexican American electorate agrees that the government should spend more on domestic social programs and less on space exploration and foreign aid. The issues on which the majority feel the government is spending too little include: education in general (65 percent) and bilingual education in particular (61 percent), program for Hispanics (61 percent), halting crime (58 percent), health (56 percent), and drug abuse (53 percent). Areas identified by most of those surveyed as receiving too much government funding are foreign aid (65 percent), and space exploration (59 percent). A plurality (34 percent) feel that too much is being spent on defense. Mexican Americans also speak with one voice in support of civil rights issues, but are divided on the issue of whether abortion should be legalized.

The study also examines the sources of political information and media use patterns of Mexican Americans. The most frequent source of information on what is happening in the world, the nation, or their own communities is television. Seven out of every ten TV owners watch Spanish language stations at least some of the time; but English TV is viewed more often and is the most trusted source of political news.

While radio is not as important as television as a source of political news, Mexican Americans spend on the average almost as much time each day listening to radio (3.1 hours) as watching TV (3.6 hours). Seven out of ten respondents who say they listen to the radio at all, listen to Spanish language stations at least some of the time.

Slightly more than half of the time spent listening to the radio is spent tuned to Spanish language stations.

A more important source of political information than either radio or television are family relatives, party politicians, and Mexican American elected officials. These top the list of those whose opinions are important in deciding who to vote for.

In sum, these findings have important implications for how political organizers, candidates and elected officials can best approach the Mexican American electorate for the 1984 election.

"First, while considerable variation is found among members of the Mexican American electorate in their social, economic and demographic characteristics, there is a remarkable consensus on a number of policy issues. On most economic and social issues—with the exception of abortion—Mexican American voters are not likely to respond to conservative political appeals calling for reduced government spending on domestic social programs."

"Second, in view of the importance placed on Mexican American elected officials and Democratic Party leaders in deciding how to vote, persons in these positions will probably play key roles in the upcoming election. These leaders should verse themselves well on the needs and policy orientations of Mexican Americans."

"Finally, while English television is still the most frequently utilized and trusted medium for news, there is a sizeable majority of Mexican Americans who also listen to the radio, especially Spanish language radio. Spanish language radio has the potential for reaching a large segment of the Mexican American electorate. Given the wide variations in media use patterns among language ability, age and education groups, the approach to educating the Mexican American electorate should not be a singular one. Instead, more of the electorate can be reached most effectively by targeting subgroups in the electorate and tailoring the dissemination strategies to fit them."

Limited copies of the report are available for $2.50 or $10 for the series of five reports at the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project, 201 N. St. Mary's Street, Suite 501, San Antonio, Texas 78205.

Secretary of State to meet with Soviet foreign minister

WASHINGTON (AP) — A search for possible compromises at the Geneva arms control talks will be high on the agenda for a meeting next week between Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Madrid. The meeting was announced Monday by State Department spokesman Alan Romberg. While he declined to say what they would discuss, other officials said the Geneva arms control talks would be a priority.

Romberg acknowledged the meeting will be important. "When the secretary of state of the United States and the foreign minister of the Soviet Union get together, fairly important meeting," he said.

Equipment stolen from school

An estimated several thousands of dollars worth of classroom equipment were stolen from West Central Elementary, 120 Campbell, sometime during the weekend, Hereford police reported this morning.

Among the stolen goods were some cassette players, film strips, an audec machine and a fire extinguisher. Also taken was a radio-cassette player owned by Martha Hooper, instructor of the classroom.

Between 3:30 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday, some person or persons entered the room, located on the northeast corner of a paved area east of the main school building. Police had no suspects as of this morning.

Meanwhile, an electric motor and its housing, worth a combined estimated $1,000, was ripped off sometime Thursday night from Deck Produce at Dairy Road and Progressive. Police said the theft occurred between 10 p.m. and 8 a.m.

Since Friday morning, Hereford police have made two arrests for drunk in control of a motor vehicle and one piece for DWI and possession of a controlled substance, public intoxication and unlawful carrying of a weapon.

Among reported incidents were three domestic disturbances, two each of assaults, criminal mischief and simple assaults and one piece of attempted minor theft, child abuse, harassing phone calls, minor theft, prowler and trespassing.

Paul Harvey News Don't kill yourself

The suicide rate for boys 10 to 14 tripled and the suicide rate for girls doubled in the past 30 years.

Suicide is now the tenth leading cause of death in the United States.

Americans are killing themselves 75 a day; schoolers 13 a day. Drugs are a factor.

But other drugs may now help prevent suicide.

In Memphis a "mood clinic" is seeking to "treat the symptoms" of suicide with antidepressant drugs. The clinic has treated thousands of patients and — cross your fingers — not one has killed himself.

The approach to the problem in the 1950s was to "talk them out of it." Counselors staffed thousands of suicide prevention centers around the nation; they manned "hot line" telephones.

More recently, biomedical scientists have sought to correct chemical imbalance in the brain with drugs.

Both disciplines have contributed to a better understanding of the subject: —Women are three times more likely to try but men are three times more likely to succeed.

—The suicide rate is highest in April and May, lowest in December (except for the few days around Christmas). —Most suicides use guns. —And nearly all suicides are planned. They are not impulsive acts. There is a period of deliberation and contemplation during which counseling and/or drugs may help.

—The correlation between clinical depression and suicide is increasingly evidenced. In the autopsied brains of people who kill themselves there is a notable deficiency of serotonin — a compound which transmits signals between nerve cells in the brain.

Frederick Goodwin of the National Institute of Mental Health says "the biomedical factors are of overwhelming importance."

Doctors have already found three commercially available drugs useful in treating depression. Lithium carbonate, one of the three, has been available for 26 years.

So now both the biomedical and talk-therapy approaches to suicide prevention are plowing the same field.

Our expanded research — though many believe it is not expanding fast enough — has taught us symptoms to watch for and even techniques for self-help.

Because far and away more people kill themselves "at night" when "everything appears darkest," psychiatrists and psychologists are counseling patients suffering depression never to make any major decision at night.

If all who contemplate killing themselves would "wait until morning" a very large percentage — possibly more than half — wouldn't.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
RE: Smith family descendants of B.P. Smith 1892 Banker, Chickasha, Okla.

As a historian for this community, one book having been written, and nearing first edition sell-out, I have never found any of the B.P. Smith family.

He was a banker, first (apparently) at Minco, Ill. Later moved to Chickasha and help establish the Citizens Bank in Chickasha, April or May 1892.

I have never found any lead as to descendants, until recently, (last week), when I found that part of the family lived in or near Hereford, Texas.

I hope that you can help locate them. I especially would like a picture of the first building of the Citizens Bank, which was first tent...later, a year or so, a wooden structure was erected on NW corner of Third and Chickasha Avenue.

Would appreciate any help possible.

Statuesque

An unidentified Hereford High School twirler strikes a stance Monday evening at a pep rally for the HHS varsity football team. The event, held in Dameron Park, was to fire up Whiteface fans for Friday's season opener in Pampa. Kickoff time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Farewell reception held Sunday

Juston McBride and his wife, Ruth, were guests of honor at a farewell reception Sunday afternoon in the Hereford Community Center. McBride, who has served as Deaf Smith County agricultural extension agent for the past 21 years, is retiring this month.

The reception was held from 2 to 5 p.m. A special program was presented at 3 p.m. with Brad Morrison, assistant county agent, presiding.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Ron Cook, pastor of First Baptist Church, Louise Walker, county extension agent, presented a brief review of the years she has served with McBride in the County Extension Office.

Paul Gross, district director, gave his remarks about Deaf Smith County's outstanding demonstration program and the number of records set under McBride's leadership. Argen Draper, former Deaf Smith County extension agent, shared about McBride's earlier years with the extension service.

Other remarks were given by Edna Marnell, Cook, Eldred Brown, Sue Powell, Charles Cobb and Bruce Coleman, county commissioner. McBride then expressed his appreciation for the assistance and support he has received from members of the community during his years with the Extension Service.

McBride and his wife will continue to reside in Hereford. Their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan Gilbert, John and Abigail Lee, who live in Loveland, Colo., were present for the reception.

Legislation in 1845 ordered U.S. elections to take place during the first week of November because "harvesting is over then and winter has not yet made the roads impassable." Tuesday was designated instead of Monday because many voters lived a day's journey from a polling place and objected to traveling on Sunday.

Ann Landers

Wanted more than lettuce

DEAR ANN: I have sex with your husband when he has active lesions would be sheer lunacy. You would be a prime candidate for reactivating the infection.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know yours is not a table etiquette column, but I believe something more is involved here. Please comment.

My wife and I were guests at a dinner party. A large salad bowl was placed on the table with two large wooden spoons inside. We were expected to help ourselves. I had my wife's plate as well as my own and proceeded to select one or two anchovies and olives from the bottom of the bowl to make sure she had more than just lettuce and tomatoes.

Another guest made an insulting remark about how rude it was to pick the best stuff out of a salad and said I should have been satisfied with whatever I ladled out.

Am I an uncouth oaf? — Need To Know In Hampton, Va.

DEAR HAM: I don't know because I wasn't there. But I have seen guests in buffet lines take almost the entire top off a noodle pudding because they like the crisp part, slice huge chunks of frosting off a cake, fish out the avocado slices and artichokes from a salad and pick all the cashews out of a bowl of mixed nuts.

The person who does these things does not perceive his behavior in the same way that an observer does — especially if he happens to like crisp noodles, frosting, avocado, artichokes and cashews.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't agree with your objection to a casual acquaintance informing a man that his wife is running around with the town drunk.

What could be worse than being married to a person who is fooling around while everyone in town knows but the spouse? Please reconsider that advice or explain your reasoning.—Pueblo Dissenter

DEAR PUEBLO: Most people who are married to cheaters know it and pretend not to because they don't want a confrontation. "Telling" may force premature action to save face. I think everybody ought to mind his own business.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have paid particular attention to your columns on genital herpes and thank you for educating the public. As one who contracted the virus about nine years ago, I am especially grateful.

Fortunately my blisters were confined to a quarter-size area on the inside of my left thigh and caused me very little trouble. My outbreaks over the years became less and less frequent. They stopped completely about three years ago.

My husband, however, continues to have outbreaks five or six times a year. My question is this: Although my virus continues to be dormant, can I be reinfected, or can the dormant virus flare up again if I have sex with my husband when he is experiencing an outbreak? We do exercise caution, but I would like a clearer understanding. — Sacramento Reader

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HEREFORD

Penn State falls 44-6

Defending grid champs mauled

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — For one game at least, Penn State has gone from the penthouse to the flophouse.

Fresh from their first-ever national college football championship, achieved last Jan. 1 in a 27-23 Sugar Bowl triumph over Georgia, the Nittany Lions wore their crown for the first time on the field of battle Monday night. Embarrassing is putting it mildly. Devastating is more like it.

The final score of the inaugural Kickoff Classic was Nebraska 44, Penn State 6. It wasn't that close, not until the final 20 seconds when Penn State scored to avert what would have been its first regular-season shutout in 17 years.

The 38-point whipping matched the worst loss ever suffered by a Joe Paterno-coached squad — a 49-11 rout by UCLA in 1966 — and left everyone wondering whether Nebraska, the No. 1-ranked team heading into the season, is that good or fourth-ranked Penn State is that bad. The answer probably lies somewhere in between.

"I was kind of amazed at the way it went," said Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne. "I don't think you can say the game was a true indication of the strength of Penn State or the strength of Nebraska. I think the thing snowballed. I'm still concerned because I'm not sure what the final score really means. "I don't know if we're very good or not. We're good, but I don't think we're that good. I thought if we played well and they played well it would be a five- or seven-point game. I thought we could win strictly on Turner Gill's experience."

Gill, a senior quarterback, is the ringleader of the dynamite Nebraska offense which led the nation a year ago with 518.6 yards a game. The Cornhuskers settled for 500 on the nose this time, with 298 coming in the first half when they built a 21-0 lead and allowed Penn State out of its own territory just once.

The Nebraska defense chipped in with a score of its own early in the third quarter when linebacker Mike Knox made a juggling one-handed interception of a Doug Strang pass and returned it 27 yards for a touchdown.

Dan Loneragan fired a 35-yard touchdown pass to Sid Lewis with 20 seconds remaining. That just gave the Lions a respectable 227 yards through the air.

"I don't think our defense played too badly," Paterno said. "I just think our offense couldn't get anything going."

A crowd of 71,123 turned out at 76,891-seat Giants Stadium and saw Nebraska extend the nation's longest major college winning streak to 11 games and avenge last-quarter losses to Penn State the last two seasons.

The Kickoff Classic, approved last January by the NCAA, counts as part of the regular season and is a benefit for the National Football Foundation to help pay the mortgage on the College Football Hall of Fame at Kings Island, Ohio.

Begins today

Martina, John favored in Open

By BOB GREENE AP Sports
Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The 14-ring circus known as the U.S. Open Tennis Championships has begun its two-week run at the National Tennis Center, which, appropriately enough, was built on the site of the 1939 and 1964 World's Fairs.

The 13-day run of America's premier tennis event began today with two left-handers, John McEnroe and Martina Navratilova, favored to walk away with the $120,000 first-place prizes. The total purse for the hard-court tournament, the third leg of tennis's Grand Slam, is a little more than $2 million.

The strongest field of any tournament in the world, the U.S. Open is in danger of losing fourth-seeded Yannick Noah of France. The first Frenchman to win the French Open since 1946 when he captured the clay court crown in May is suffering from tennisitis in his right knee.

He has been undergoing ultrasonic treatments prescribed by Dr. Irving Glick, an orthopedic surgeon, and a determination on whether Noah will compete or not will be made following a practice session today.

Noah was handed a 42-day suspension following the French Open for skipping a match earlier this year in Dusseldorf, West Germany. Since the French Open, he has only played in one Volvo Grand Prix tournament, the Players' International in Montreal, where he was upset by Peter Fleming in singles and withdrew from the doubles because of his knee.

The agile Frenchman pulled out of the ATP Championships the following week because of the chronic injury.

He originally was scheduled to play today's opening match, but was given an added day's rest to see if the knee would respond to treatment. In practice sessions, he has been wearing a bandage on his right knee and a built-up sole on his right shoe.

Others who have been forced to withdraw have been seventh-seeded Kevin Curren of South Africa and three of the world's top women players: Bettina Bunge of West Germany, four-time U.S. Open winner Billie Jean King and Evonne Goolagong of Australia.

Besides their opponents, the 256 players evenly split in the men's and women's singles who started this fortnight-long run also will face the concrete and asphalt complex that sprawls in the flight path of New York's LaGuardia airport, the cacophony of the Long Island Railroad, the elevated subway train and the adjacent expressway.

Add to that the heat and humidity that normally envelops New York at this time of year and a world-class tennis player on the other side of the net turns into just a minor obstacle to be endured and overcome in the world's richest tennis tournament.

"It may be the toughest tournament in the world to win, considering the strength of the entry and the weather," said Slew Hester, the former U.S. Tennis Association president who engineered the move of the U.S. Open from the private enclave of the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills to a slice of greenery in the New York borough of Queens. "If you put a thermometer on the court, it would be hotter than Wimbledon or Paris on the average."

"I think the National Tennis Center is just as American as apple pie. It's not Wimbledon because we don't have royalty."

"It is American because we have all the people," Hester said. "Some of them, in my mind, are not ready for tennis. They're not entitled to be part of a tennis crowd because they're boisterous and they don't wear their shirts. But this country was a melting pot, and this tournament is strictly American in the same way."

Or as Australian-born Don Candy, who now coaches Pam Shriver, put it: "This tournament is a two-week bonfire."

Or as defending men's champion Jimmy Connors, the No. 2 seed, said of the crowd: "They're crazy, just like I am. I love it."

Rosters cut to 49

NFL's coaches have tough day

By JOE RESNICK AP Sports
Writer

Ask any National Football League head coach. The toughest part of the job is taking back the playbook. They all received a break this year when the league increased the rosters from 45 to 49, but that did not make this year's final cuts any easier to administer.

"The last thing I needed today was a news conference," said the Houston Oilers' Ed Biles, who Monday axed nose guard Daryle Skaugstad and guard Ralph Williams — two of last year's starters — and tight end Walt Arnold. "I'm more concerned about the lives of the young men we'll have to cut."

Coach Joe Gibbs, who cut 10 Washington Redskins players to reduce his roster to the required opening-day limit, agonized over his dismissal of running back Clarence Harmon.

"It was a hard decision," Gibbs said. "It's the one thing you don't like about this job. The coaches have been living with him day after day for three years. It's just a hard thing to do."

It would have been a lot more difficult had Harmon, the Redskins' third-leading rusher last season, not been arrested this spring and charged with possession of cocaine. He continued to work with the team pending resolution of the case, carrying the ball just four times in preseason games.

Another coach wrestling with names Monday was Monte Clark, who was dismayed about letting punter Ray Stachowicz go in favor of rookie Mike Black.

The three-year veteran from Michigan State was picked up by the Detroit Lions late last week after being cut by the Green Bay Packers.

"We didn't have a lot of time to make a decision. We just had the game Saturday to look at him," said Clark, who also traded wide receiver Tracy Porter to the Baltimore Colts for a 1984 draft choice. "He just didn't seem to turn the ball over like he did in college."

"I'm certainly not knocking the guy. I just had to make a quick decision and Black has been here all year."

Bart Starr had so much difficulty choosing between 17-year veteran Jan Stenerud and rookie Eddie Garcia that he kept both placekickers.

"We've looked at our football team, and we feel that this was a move not only for the present, but for the future," the Green Bay Packers' head coach said. "We likewise feel that we will not be seriously hurt ourselves by carrying two kickers as opposed to another player at another position."

Joe Danelo would feel a lot better if Coach Bill Parcells had shared Starr's attitude. The veteran ended a seven-year association with the New York Giants Monday when Parcells named rookie Ali Haji-Sheikh as his placekicker.

The Giants' ninth-round draft pick from Michigan won the job, Parcells said, because he is "22 years old, with youth, potential and production."

The Giants' coach also is keeping rookie John Tuggle, the 335th and last player selected from this year's 12-round college draft.

"He can run, block and catch and he could play on special teams," said Parcells, who will start the season with eight rookies on the squad. "I realized about three weeks ago that he'd be here."

Tuggle, a 5-foot-11 fullback, is only the fourth final draft pick since 1970 to remain with an NFL team after his first training camp.

Three teams, the Minnesota Vikings, Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Cardinals, withheld the announcements of their cuts until today in order to inform the players, who had Monday off.

"Because the players weren't there, we couldn't tell the players who were cut," Vikings spokesman Merrill Swanson explained. "We feel we owe them the courtesy of telling them personally."

Among the other notable veterans cut was Cincinnati Bengals defensive back Mike Fuller, who needs seven punt returns to break the late Emlen Tunnell's NFL record of 258. Fuller has been hampered with a knee injury.

Others included safety Benny Barnes by the Dallas Cowboys, tight end Riley Odoms by the Denver Broncos, quarterbacks Matt

Robinson and David Humm by the Los Angeles Raiders, three-time All-Pro defensive tackle Louie Kelcher offensive lineman Russ Washington and defensive lineman Wilbur Young by the San Diego Chargers, running back Vagas Ferguson by the New England Patriots and offensive lineman John Yarno by the Seattle Seahawks.

The San Francisco 49ers cut lineman Cody Jones and punter Jim Miller and got Tom Orosz in a deal with the Miami Dolphins to fill Miller's spot. Another trade sent veteran offensive tackle Charlie Getty from the Kansas City Chiefs to the Packers for a future draft choice.

And Roland Harper, the fourth-leading rusher in Chicago Bears history behind Walter Payton, Rick Casares and Gale Sayers, announced his retirement because of a neck injury.

During the Olympic games, five rings or circles linked together represent the sporting friendship of all peoples. The rings also symbolize five continents — Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and America. These rings are blue, yellow, black, green and red.

'He can hit,' Cox admits

Rice slams three taters

By BEN WALKER AP Sports Writer

Once again this season, Jim Rice is starring in the soon-to-close Boston Red Sox show.

And on Monday, he staged another remarkable performance.

Rice slugged three two-run homers — the final one in the top of the ninth inning — to lead the Red Sox to an 8-7 victory over Toronto and a split of their two-night doubleheader with the Blue Jays.

"I don't think about hitting home runs when I go to the plate," said Rice. "I just try to hit the ball hard."

Rice's effort, combined with a 2-for-4 effort in Toronto's 5-1 first-game victory, gave him a major league-leading 33 home runs, along with a .302 batting average and 100 runs batted in.

"He can hit," commented Toronto Manager Bobby Cox. Despite Rice's best efforts, the Red Sox are lagging in sixth place in the American League East, 15 games behind Baltimore, as the final month of the season approaches.

In other AL games, Minnesota nipped Detroit 5-4 in 11 innings, Chicago squeaked by Texas 2-1, Baltimore trounced Kansas City 9-2, Cleveland downed Seattle 6-4, and Seattle tripped Milwaukee 2-1.

Rice's first two home runs came off Toronto starter Jim Aker. His flat bvaft made it 2-0 in the first inning and the second pulled Boston within 5-4 in the sixth.

"The first one was a slider and I didn't think I'd hit it well enough to get it out," Rice said. "The next one was over my head but I hit it hard enough."

Boston still trailed 7-4 when Wade Boggs led off the ninth with a double. Rice then homered again to pin the loss on Randy Moffitt, 6-2, who was the fourth Toronto pitcher of the game.

The Blue Jays bullpen has been getting roughed up lately, and Cox says his nerves need some immediate relief.

"You find someone who can get me three outs — even one out — and I'll consider him," Cox said.

Red Sox reliever Mark Clear got the win and is now 4-5.

In the first game, Jesse Barfield smacked two home runs and Buck Martinez added

Skaugstad, Williams

Two starters cut from '83 Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers Coach Ed Biles called it the worst day of the season for a coach — the day when he must make the final player cuts before the start of the regular season.

But it was even tougher on Daryle Skaugstad and Ralph Williams, two veterans who were starters a year ago but found themselves among the players waived Monday, to reach the 49-player limit imposed by the National Football League.

"The last thing I needed to-day was a news conference," Biles said. "I'm more concerned about the lives of the young men we'll have to cut."

Skaugstad, who started all nine games at nose guard last season, and Williams, who started five games at offensive guard, were joined by tight end Walt Arnold on the Oiler's waiver list.

Six more unannounced cuts must be made to reach the 49-player limit. The Oilers declined to announce the remaining players to be cut until today.

Biles did confirm, however, that Herkie Walls, a rookie seventh round draft choice, had made the team.

Walls impressed coaches from the first day of training camp and took advantage of a series of injuries to Oiler wide receivers.

"We knew what we were getting with his speed but I think he has caught the ball better than the scouting reports showed," Biles said.

Walls finished the preseason as the Oilers' ed another solo shot for the Blue Jays.

Orioles 9, Royals 2
Scott McGregor continued his hot streak, as did Baltimore.

McGregor, 16-6, allowed eight hits in his 11th complete game of the season as the Orioles won for the sixth straight time.

Baltimore has now won 13 of its last 16 and, coupled with Milwaukee's loss, leads the Brewers by 2½ games in the AL East.

Cal Ripken belted a two-run homer, his 20th, in the first inning to get the Orioles off to a fast start against Gaylord Perry, 6-13.

Baltimore completed the triumph at Royals Stadium with a five-run ninth inning, capped by John Shelby's grand slam, the first of the career and his fifth home run of the season.

White Sox 2, Rangers 1
Richard Dotson retired the first 12 Texas batters and finished with a three-hitter against the slumping Rangers.

Dotson, 15-7, dealt visiting Texas its seventh loss in eight games and 13th defeat in 17 outings.

Carlton Fisk singled home Rudy Law, who had tripled, in the first inning and Julio Cruz delivered an RBI single in the fifth to make it 2-0 against Mike Smithson, 7-13.

The Rangers broke through in the sixth when Wayne Tolleson drew a two-out walk, stole his 30th base and scored on Billy Sample's single.

Chicago is now 8½ games ahead of Kansas City in the AL West.

Mariners 2, Brewers 1

The Milwaukee right-hander, 7-11, tossed a three-hitter, yet lost for the sixth straight time. He is now winless in his last eight starts, dating back to July 14.

The Mariners managed to win on Steve Henderson's home run in the second, his seventh, which made it 1-1 and Al Cowens' double and Ricky Nelson's RBI groundout in the fifth.

Ted Simmons singled home Milwaukee's run in the first inning against Bryan Clark, 6-4, who scattered seven hits in his first complete game of the season.

Twins 5, Tigers 4
John Castino doubled home Tom Brunansky with two outs in the top of the 11th inning to lead Minnesota.

Brunansky opened the inning by drawing a walk from reliever Aurelio Lopez, 8-7, and went to second on a wild pitch. Brunansky moved to third on a fly out and scored on Castino's double into the right-field corner.

Rick Lysander, 4-10, allowed just one hit over five innings to get the win. Ron Davis pitched the 11th for his 26th save.

Alan Trammell drilled his 13th homer in the first inning off Twins starter Frank Viola, who has now surrendered 30 home runs, most in the majors.

Indians 6, Angels 4
In California, Jim Essian's two-run homer in the sixth inning sparked Cleveland.

His home run, his second off the season, capped a three-run inning and padded the Indians' lead to 5-0 against Mike Witt, 7-10.

The Angels battled back against rookie Neal Heaton, 4-10, with three runs in the seventh. Ron Jackson's sixth homer led off the inning.

But Bud Anderson went the final 2-2-3 innings for his fifth save.

Howe contends

Lasorda comeback key

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

A shove from Tom Lasorda has pushed the Los Angeles Dodgers to the top of the National League West.

"He really got us going," said pitcher Steve Howe, remembering a pep talk by the Dodger manager back on Aug. 10 in Cincinnati. "He's a great motivator."

Since Lasorda held that closed-door meeting with his team, the Dodgers have won 13 of 15 games, including Monday night's 6-3, 7-3 twirl sweep of the New York Mets. That gave the Dodgers a one-game lead over the Atlanta Braves, who dropped out of first place for the first time since July 4 after a 7-5 loss to Chicago.

"To have made up so much Terry Russell was second at 143 while Paul Hubbard and Mike Fields tied for third with 154s. ground in such a short period of time makes me really proud of this club," said Lasorda, whose team was as far behind as 6½ games on Aug. 13.

"We left Cincinnati (the Dodgers salvaged the finale of a three-game series, 4-3, on August 11) a lot closer team. I realized something had to be done the way we were going — and I did it."

In other NL action, St. Louis tripped Houston 6-1, Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 2-1, Montreal blanked San Francisco 5-0 and San Diego defeated Philadelphia 6-5 in the opener of a doubleheader before losing the nightcap, 8-6.

Bob Welch and Tom Niedenfuer combined on a four-hitter and Ken Landreux knocked in two runs to lead the Dodgers in the first game. In the nightcap, Greg Brock's two-run homer keyed a four-run fourth inning for the Dodgers. The sweep, incidentally, gave the Dodgers 12 victories in their last 13 games.

"The Dodgers are like a stick of dynamite ready to explode," said Mets Manager Frank Howard. "They still haven't hit the way I think they can. But now they're on a roll. I think it's going to be a dogfight, right down to the last day of the season again."

Whitefaces rated over Pampa in Harris poll

By BOB NIGH MANAGING EDITOR

The Hereford Whitefaces have been established as an eight-point favorite in their season opener against the Pampa Harvesters this Friday night in Pampa, but find themselves ranked low among Class 4A teams according to the Harris Rating System.

Harris released its initial Texas schoolboy football poll this week. The Herd is ranked 173rd among 5A teams with a power rating of 146. Pampa, meanwhile, finds itself number 122 among Class 4A squads with a rating of 135.

Converse Judson tops the initial 5A ranking according to Harris with a rating of 183, one point higher than Odessa Permian.

Lubbock Monterey tops District 3-5A teams in the ratings with a power rating of 170, good enough for 22nd place. Plainview, expected to battle it out with the Plainsmen for the loop title, is 44th with a rating of 164.

The rest of the district is as follows: Coronado, 68th, 161; Palo Duro, 97th, 157; Amarillo High, 100th, 156; Tascosa, 170th, 147; Hereford, 173rd, 146; Caprock, 186th, 145; and Lubbock High, 240th, 128.

All nine District 3-5A teams open the campaign this week, with three of the nine favored by Harris to win. Others favored in their openers are Caprock, a two-point nod over meeting tonight

Any group wishing to have a team in the YM-CA Coed Church Volleyball League is urged to send a representative to a 6:30 meeting tonight at the YMCA office, Sugarland Mall.

Dumas, and Monterey, a six-point favorite over Midland High.

The rest of the loop is expected to take it on the chin with Plainview a one-point underdog to powerful Lubbock Estacado, Amarillo High a six-point underdog against Odessa High, Canyon a three-point nod over Tascosa, Midland Lee four points better than Coronado, and Lubbock High a 20-point underdog to Lubbock Dunbar.

Palo Duro's game with Clovis was not picked since the Wildcats are not included in the Harris ratings.

Prosecutor states prisoners tortured

HOUSTON (AP) — A former sheriff and three deputies shackled prisoners to chairs and nearly drowned them in late-night torture sessions aimed at eliciting confessions, a prosecutor says.

James C. "Humpty" Parker and three former San Jacinto County deputies are named in a six-count indictment which accuses them of violating jail inmates' civil rights and with depriving people of liberty without due process of law.

Federal authorities say as many as 15 people may have been tortured between September 1976 and April 1982. Jury selection was to begin today in a federal court room where Parker is scheduled to stand trial.

"When you hear the victims' stories — they're basket cases," assistant U.S. Attorney Scott Woodward said Monday. "I was taken aback to discover this was happening in the 1980's right here in dear old Texas. They were water torturing people in the middle of the night."

The torture involved handcuffing victims to a chair, sometimes shackling their feet, then tilting the chair backwards and placing a towel over their face. Water was poured into the towel, causing the person to nearly suffocate and drown, federal court documents say.

Parker resigned early this year as sheriff of San Jacinto County, about 50 miles north of Houston.

Three former deputies — John Glover, Carl Lee and Floyd Baker — are scheduled to be tried with Parker before U.S. District Judge James DeAnda. The defendants are free on bond.

The civil rights violation carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Each of the other five counts, all alleging deprivation of liberty without due process of law, could lead to penalties of as much as a year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Parker pleaded guilty to similar charges on March 18. But the plea was withdrawn April 8 when U.S. District Judge Gabrielle McDonald ruled "inappropriate" an arrangement which would have sent the sheriff to a minimum security prison for three years, placed him on five years' probation and fined him $15,000.

Defense attorney Tom Taylor of Houston said the earlier guilty plea would have no bearing on the case.

"People plead guilty all the time to get favorable plea bargaining," he said Monday.

Abundant Life

MAKING FRIENDS

Most of us want friends, and most of us have friends. Now and then we see a person who has no friends, no one who cares. It seems to me that to be friendless is to be poor beyond measure. Be that as it may, most of us are certainly interested in having friends, good friends.

To have friends, we must show ourselves to be friendly. This is not even suggesting that it is possible to have a host of friends. We know, however, that it is possible for us to behave ourselves, in relationship to others, so that many people will like us and approve us, and be kindly disposed toward us. Even though this is not friendship in the fullest sense, it is a desirable situation for us.

To show ourselves to be friendly does not require a crippling involvement with others, but does require a continuing climate of pleasant interaction. This may not be the ultimate in friendship, but it is about as much as any of us can maintain. In all of this, there may be one or two instances of 'deep' and 'abiding' friendship. If so, we are very fortunate.

In seeking this, more or less, casual friendship, we do not and must not violate our integrity. This friendship will be accomplished by 'kindness,' 'fairness,' 'understanding,' 'dependability,' and very wise management of ourselves, our money, our time, our energy and our tongue. Most people will be friendly in the sense of being cordial, pleasant and thoughtful if we are cordial, pleasant and thoughtful. This is adequate for a very good life, so far as associations with others is concerned.

In our associations with others, we must try to make ourselves worthy of their friendship. We must do this without damage to self or our life situation. With this safeguard, we must think more about being friend to others than we do about their being friend to us.

Making friends is a worthy endeavor, and must be accomplished in a calm, quiet and sensible life style.

Bob Wear

4-H Firsthand Learn by doing through 4-H

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent

A great way to learn is by doing things.

To help youngsters learn by helping them do things is the goal of the 4-H program. Through almost 50 different project areas youngsters can learn about new things, try something they have never tried before, and be introduced to new areas of the world in which they live.

For more than 187,000 Texas youths last year, 4-H was the way to new and exciting possibilities. These young men and women enrolled in 4-H either in their community clubs or through their school programs.

The youngsters learned about projects like automotive care, safety bicycling and woodworking. They worked with large and small animals in the livestock projects. They trained dogs and cared for cats. They learned about computers, energy and conservation.

A common theme through all 4-H projects is career education. 4-H'ers learn how an individual might make a living with skills like these, how these skills fit into another career field, or how these skills enhance their lifestyle.

As the youth phase of the Extension Service, the 4-H program gets its support and educational materials from county agents and specialists as well as from the state's land-grant university, Texas A&M University, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, the driving force of the program is the local volunteer leader.

Most clubs are led by volunteers who share their time and talents to help youngsters to learn by doing. There are some 22,000 adult and teenage leaders working with 4-H members in Texas.

More information about the 4-H program is available from the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Schools close after case of meningitis

CRYSTAL CITY, Texas (AP) — This town's public schools, closed after a high school band member contracted contagious meningitis, will be back in business now that health officials have determined "we have no epidemic here."

Some 2,300 students will begin attending school Monday after missing the first two days of the fall term, said Dr. Roger Smyth, regional director of the Texas Department of Health.

"We shut (the schools) down as a precautionary measure, but everyone else appears to be fine," he said Friday.

The band member, 16-year-old Alicia Aguilar, was transferred 90 miles away to Humana Hospital in San Antonio, where doctors said she was "responding to treatment."

Miss Aguilar had been in close contact with dozens of fellow band members the night before she exhibited symptoms of the illness, according to Dr. Richard Lankes, who first treated her Tuesday.

Some 100 people believed to be in contact with Miss

Campers trade lazy for lean

KERRVILLE, Texas (AP) - Two teen-age girls weighing a combined 325 pounds paddled about in the shallow end of the Camp Murietta swimming pool and talked about what they would be eating if they were at home.

"Grilled steaks," said one, her eyes rolling heavenward. "Homemade ice cream and watermelon," the other said with equal reverence.
It was the Fourth of July. Families everywhere were gathering for cookouts and picnics and fireworks displays. Clearly, the young campers were homesick, as much for their families and holiday traditions as for the well-stocked refrigerators they left behind.

The teen-agers' day had begun at 7 a.m., with a 35-minute walk-run, 45 minutes of aerobics and a meager breakfast of dry cereal and skim milk. Later, there was swimming, hiking, biking, racquetball and weightlifting, followed by a scanty lunch - one broiled chalupe, unseasoned pinto beans and a dish of unsweetened fruit.

For one summer, there would be no McDonald's, no Haagen-Daz ice cream, no television, no video games. Every day would be filled with near-constant physical activity and an 1,100-calorie diet, designed to help these girls lose from three to five pounds a week. At a rate of $2,495 for six weeks or $1,875 for four weeks, that's about $88 per pound.

The words "fat camp" are never spoken at Camp Murietta. "Fitness weight loss camp" more aptly describes the program that stresses physical activity, says the staff.

"You've got to move it to lose it" is the camp motto. Even during their free time, Camp Murietta girls are encouraged to stay in motion. That's why girls accustomed to spending the summer snacking in front of the TV were making waves in the camp pool on the hot Fourth of July afternoon.

Swimming, the girls said, is better than sitting on your bunk listening to your stomach growl. And, in the water, their muscles stop aching. It's something to do while waiting for dinner, a meal so insubstantial that no one lingers more than 10 minutes in the cafeteria.

What could be worth all this sweat, soreness and starvation?

Clinging to the side of the pool, their hair slicked back with chlorinated water, the plump teen-agers looked at each other, grinned and said in unison: "Guys."

Not all the girls at Camp Murietta, which convenes every summer on the Schreiner College campus in Kerrville, want to lose weight to attract boys. Most will tell you they came to improve their self-image and to boost their confidence.

When the Murietta girls, who range in age from 8 to 18, use words like "self-image" it sounds like human behavior modification classes they learned in the afternoons. More trustworthy, somehow, are the girls who say they came to camp to get parents off their backs.

On a stone bench under a tree outside a dorm, Ellen Ash sat on a stone bench under a tree, throwing longing glances at the shiny black Turbo Capri she drove to Kerrville from her hometown in Kansas. While at camp, it must stay parked.

Clearly, it is her proudest possession. Ellen, an 18-year-old college student, saved money from her job as a convenience store clerk to buy it; the same way she paid for her four weeks at Camp Murietta.

Regional Bell system companies are to have new names, none of them being the ones so frequently used by those Ma Bell reaches out to touch.

Walking sheds pounds

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 51 years old. I have been taking a walk, three to five miles each day. I have lost 35 pounds in the year. I do my housework and also work eight hours five days a week. I am in good health, taking no medicines and feeling better since I have been walking.

My friends want to know what I am doing to stay so slim and trim. I tell them I am taking a daily walk. They ask me how many calories you use when you walk a mile. Would you please answer that in your column?

Is walking three to five miles each day too much for a 50-year-old?

DEAR READER - Congratulations. I wish more people would discover your safe and sane method of controlling body fat. It promotes your health while those fat, low-calorie diets may wreck your health.

A 100-pound person, walking at a speed between two and four mph, will use 45 calories a mile more than if he had sat still. A 200-pound person would use 78 more calories per mile.

Assuming you weighed 150 pounds and walked five miles a day in a year, you would use the energy found in over 30 pounds of body fat, close to what you have lost. Not bad. It is slow but it is safe and effective.

People who have not walked or been very active find they have to build up to walking long distances. If you do that in a sensible manner you can walk very long distances unless you have a rather significant medical problem. Obviously five miles is no problem for you.

I am sending you The Health Letter 18-4, Walking To Health, which you can share with your friends and encourage them to walk. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I hate the nurses at the hospital because they would not let me stand up to void. I hate the orderlies for the same reason. They restrained me from standing and voiding and I did it in the men's room as soon as I was discharged.

I want the stupid attendants at the hospital to know that I cannot pass my urine lying down. I suffered undue punishment because they would not let me stand up. When I was put in a wheelchair and discharged I went to the men's room. I stood upright by holding the toilet and voided.

DEAR READER - I included your letter in the column because it makes an important point. Many patients can't urinate while lying down. They are quite able to do so if allowed to stand.

Unfortunately if a patient isn't urinating sufficiently, he is apt to be catheterized. Whenever possible, if a patient at home or in the hospital cannot void, let him stand up before resorting to a catheterization.

Urinary catheterizations are associated with a high rate of urinary tract infections. They should be avoided if possible. Of course it is not always possible but when a simple procedure - standing or running tap water, for example - works, it should be utilized to avoid the risk of a urinary tract infection from catheterization.

Miss Ford honored with bridal shower

Melinda Ford, bride-elect of Cory Walden, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday morning at the E.B. Black House.

In the receiving line were the bride-to-be; her mother, Mrs. Guy Ford; and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bill Walden. All wore daisy corsages in shades of aubergine and French rose.

Special out of town guests included Betty Smith of Earth, the groom's aunt; Mrs. Euna Sides of Olton, the groom's grandmother; Mrs. Guy Ford Sr. of Canyon and Mrs. Aileen Smitherman, the bride's grandmothers; Polly Simpson of Dimmitt, the bride's aunt; and Sarah Hill of Dimmitt, cousin of the groom.

Coffee, punch, fresh fruit, and assorted coffee cakes were served from a table covered with an ecru lace cloth. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and the table was centered with a silk flower arrangement in the bride's chosen colors of aubergine and French rose.

Servers were Judy Pointer and Kelly Williams. At the registry table were sisters of the bride-elect, Ann Marie Ford and Michelle Ford.

Hostesses included Irene Mullins, Martha Finch, Gladys Carroll, Joyce Duggan, Pat Smart, Eleanor Gibson, Kathy Keating, Frances Crume, Helen Higgins, Rhonda Banner, Phyllis Cornelius, Leta Cleavinger.

Also, Patricia Weldon, Gayle McElhaney, Lois Jones, Judy Mitts, Kay Hall, Kay Paulk, Zula Arney, Jean Holbert, Evelyn Bodkin, Juanita Brown, Martha Tipps, and Janice Brownlow.

Greeting Shower Guests

Guests were received by Mrs. Bill Walden, left, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Melinda Ford, center, bride-elect of Cory Walden; and Mrs. Guy Ford, the honoree's mother, at a Saturday morning bridal shower honoring Miss Ford. The shower was held at the E.B. Black House.

Study club members enjoy hobo cookout

The social committee of La Madre Mia Study Club hosted a hobo style cookout Thursday.

Members dressed as hobos, rode out to a camp ground on a flat trailer, and enjoyed roasting wieners over the camp fire. They ate out of tin plates and drank from tin cans and sat on hay bales and old tires.

During a short business meeting, conducted by President Marlene Watson, committee reports were heard and plans for a holiday home tour were presented.

Project chairman Georgia Sparks reported that the Jubilee booth was successful. Members told of their summer activities and one new member, Nancy Priest, was welcomed.

The meeting was adjourned and members traveled back to the home of Betty Taylor, where Secret Pal gifts were exchanged.

Other members present were Mary Herring, Mary Beth White, Sarah Hazelrigg, Carrell Ann Simmons, Marlene Watson, Bettye Owen, Janice Faulkner, Carolyn Baxter, Judy Williams, Jeri Bezner, Pat Walch, Lucy Rogers, Mysedia Smith.

Also, Jenna Simons, Betty Lady, Beverly Bryant, Sharon Hodges, Debbie Tardy, Tricia Sims, Joyce Allred, and Gladys Merritt.

The state of Delaware has only three counties, Kent, New Castle and Sussex.

Opinions on clothing expenditures vary

If you think you're paying more but getting less when shopping for clothes lately, you fit the current profile of the American shopper, says Nancy Brown, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Recent surveys give interesting results about opinions of shoppers, some of which are:

-More than half of the men and women surveyed believed the quality of apparel in stores today is inferior to that of five years ago.

-Only 10 percent thought that prices for clothes were increasing less than prices of non-apparel items, and 44 percent thought they were increasing more.

-60 percent preferred to shop in self-service stores rather than in stores where a salesperson assists them.

-Almost 75 percent believed American-made apparel is a better value than imported apparel.

Opinions don't always agree with facts and figures, however, Brown points out. The actual dollars may have gone up, but since 1960 the percentage of our incomes spent on clothes has actually gone down.

"This means prices for clothes have increased at a lower rate than for other items, and comparatively speaking, clothes cost less," she explains.

Original works of authorship in any tangible medium of expression are entitled to protection under the new U.S. copyright law which came into effect Jan. 1, 1978.

Work simplification for household chores

The work simplification procedures used in business and industry can help the employed homemaker juggle the many demands on her time and energy, says Mary Clayton, a family resource management specialist.

According to Clayton, the first step in work simplification is to question the job. Homemakers should ask whether each household task contributes to the family's health, comfort, or happiness and is worth the effort given the amount of time and energy it requires.

"Many women find it easier to continue doing things the way they have always done them than to take a critical look at why they are performing certain tasks," states Clayton, a home economist with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

Often times, says Clayton, women don't realize that they may also have created performance standards for household tasks which can be questioned.

For example, the homemaker who wants the beds made each day should consider whether it has to be done with military precision, or if simple smoothing over of the covers would be satisfactory.

Setting realistic standards for household chores can simplify things a great deal says the specialist.

Register to be eligible to win a 14' Hobie® Catamaran. You may win one of the following prizes:

2 Grand Prizes: A 14-ft. Hobie® Catamaran, plus a pair of Hobie® shoes for everyone in the winner's immediate family.

99 First Prizes: A pair of Hobie® shoes of the winner's choice. One winner in each Mervyn's store.

Here's how you enter: Go to our Shoe Department, Mon., August 29 through Sun., September 4, 1983. Fill out Mervyn's official entry blank and drop it in the special ballot box.

Texas and Oregon stores closed Sunday. Contest ends Saturday, September 3, 1983.

First Prize drawings will be held on Wednesday, September 7, in each of Mervyn's 99 stores located in Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah and Washington. The winners will be selected in a random drawing, in each store, from all entries received.

Grand Prize drawings will be held Wed., September 14, at Mervyn's corporate headquarters in Hayward, California. Winners will be selected in a random drawing from the 99 individual store winners.

Contest rules: No purchase necessary. Complete Mervyn's official entry blank. All prizes will be awarded. Prizes are not transferable or redeemable for cash. No substitution of prizes is permitted. Winners need not be present to win and will be notified by phone and telegram within 48 hours. If winners do not respond within 5 days, the prize is subject to forfeiture. In which case a substitute winner will be selected. The odds of winning will be determined by the number of entries received. One winner per family. Contest is not open to employees of San Shoes Trading Corporation, Hobie® Catamaran representatives, employees of Mervyn's, Dayton Hudson Corporation, its affiliates and advertising agencies, or families of any of these. This drawing is void where prohibited, taxed or restricted by law. All federal, state and local taxes on prizes, if any, are the responsibility of the individual winners. Winners of prizes may be required to sign a release form. Catamaran delivery charges will be paid. Assembly instructions will be provided to Grand Prize winners by a Hobie® Catamaran representative. All entries received become the property of Mervyn's. Each winning entrant grants to Mervyn's the right to use his/her name and/or likeness for advertising or promotional purposes. A list of winners can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Mervyn's, Attn: Consumer Affairs, 25001 Industrial Blvd., Hayward, CA 94545.
