

County fathers purchase items for jail, review proposed '83-'84 budget

MANAGING EDITOR
Deaf Smith County Commissioners purchased fire alarm and smoke detector and intercom systems for the troubled county jail Monday, hired an assistant county extension agent for home economics, and held a public hearing on the proposed 1983-84 budget.

In response to bids submitted by Allstate Securities, the court voted to buy a fire alarm and smoke detecting system at a cost of $5,478.11, and also bought an intercom system at a cost of $9,940.33. Those two areas have been cited on the annual inspection of the jail as deficient for some time now, and have been slated for addition for several months.

As reported earlier, however, bids on those particular items have been hard to get, even though Chief Sheriff's Deputy Dean Butcher has mailed out specifications on the items several times. With the addition of the fire and smoke alarms and the communications system, the county will alleviate two of the most severe problems pointed out by the state commission on jail standards. Action on a sunlight and recreation area, repairs to a shower and a separate juvenile area, still remain on the "must fix" list.

As recommended by District Extension Director Paul Gross and County Agent Justin McBride, the court hired Las Cruces, N.M. resident Susan Raney as an assistant county agent for home economics to replace the recently-departed Penny Reinart. Ms. Raney will begin her work with the county on June 21. She is a May graduate of New Mexico State University with a joint major in home economics and communications.

Prior to hearing figures on the proposed county budget for 1983-84, the court heard a plea for a share of the revenue sharing budget from Big Brothers-Big Sisters.

BB-BS board members La Jean Henry and Pat Lawson asked the court for $4,000 from Revenue Sharing funds to bide the youth-oriented organization over for a couple of months beginning Aug. 31.

Mrs. Henry told the court that BB-BS is losing a state grant in the amount of $3,386 as of Aug. 31, and will need some help in keeping the program running while they search for other additional sources of funding.

The county fathers told the BB-BS representatives that they would give consideration to their request when the Revenue Sharing budget is compiled.

County Auditor Alex Schroeter presented the preliminary 1983-84 county budget to the court, which must act on the item by July 15.

The proposed budget, which is calculated on a tax base of $360 million and a 46.8 cents per $100 valuation tax rate, is $3,038,006, including a General Fund budget of $2,078,062, and a Road & Bridge budget of $959,944.

That's an increase of $366,992 overall, or 13.7398 percent.

Much of the proposed increase in the budget come in the areas of salaries. Schroeter added in increases in county employees' salaries as recommended by George Louderer last week.

In the General Fund disbursements of the proposed budget, administrative salaries jump to $850,650 from $744,259 in the current budget, while officers' salaries show a figure of $158,948, compared to $139,488 in the current budget.

Other areas where a large increase is expected include utilities, $83,070 from $70,440; prisoner's board, $58,000 from $45,000; retirement, $70,680 from $60,000; and FICA, $69,950 from $57,700.

In the Road & Bridge budget, the Commissioner's salary will go up to $65,664 from the present $57,624, while employees' salaries as a whole will increase to $408,400 from the current $325,600. Road maintenance is another item in that budget which will show a big increase with $376,000 in the proposed budget as compared to the current $246,138.

Despite the increase in the overall budget, Schroeter is cautiously predicting that no tax increase on the part of the county will be necessary. He is basing that opinion on a collection rate of 92 percent as opposed to a history of 90 percent.

The county has until July 20 to set the tax rate, and the court is still working on figures for the renovations of or the additions to the county jail, work which they estimate may cost around $250,000.

Five killed, 29 injured in hotel blaze

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — At least five people were killed and 29 injured early today at a hotel fire that sent some guests jumping from their second-floor rooms when alerted by car horns after the main alarm failed.

District Fire Chief Jim Noah said four men and one woman were killed in the five-alarm fire, which started about 3:24 a.m. at the two-story Ramada Inn Central on the city's east side. The blaze burned out of control for about three hours.

An alarm system in the hotel's main building did not go off because its batteries were corroded, said Fire Marshal Don Peacock.

"There was no alarm system in that wing" where the fire broke out, he said, adding that the hotel was not required to contain smoke alarms when it was built.

The fire was confined to the hotel's northeast wing, in which 88 guests were registered in 86 rooms. Although the wing was the only part of the hotel officially evacuated, about 150 guests fled their rooms. "We had a bunch of people trapped, and they had to jump from the second floor. We had one woman taken to a hospital with a broken ankle," Noah said. "I think from a life hazard point, this is the worst fire I've seen."

Session pleases Sen. Sarpalius

AUSTIN — A total of 572 senate bills and 562 house bills were passed by the 68th Legislature and are now ready to be enacted into law. State Sen. Bill Sarpalius authored and sponsored a large number of bills and resolutions which were introduced in both houses. A high percentage of the bills and resolutions which Sarpalius wrote and sponsored received final approval and will soon become law.

"I'm pleased with the number of bills and resolutions we were able to pass during the session. The 68th session was a successful one for the people of District 31," senator Sarpalius said. "We were fortunate to have been able to make major accomplishments in the area of DWI reform, and prison and utility reform, while also enacting legislation which is of local significance to our district."

The Legislature passed several bills sponsored by Sarpalius, which call for the creation of juvenile boards in Sherman, Hartley, Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Hale, Swisher, Lamb, Dallam and Peacock said investigators believed the fire started "in some rolled carpeting which was ready to be laid. Two occupants tried to put it out with an extinguisher ... Carpet puts off tremendous, black, acrid smoke." "There were four or five rolls of carpet stacked in an entryway and they were burning," said guest Richard Crain, who had bandages on his face, hands and back. "If we had had a few more fire extinguishers, we might have been able to put it out. I came out of my room, and the security guard was just standing there. I shook him and asked him where the fire extinguishers were. The he came to."

"... We almost had it out but then the fire extinguishers ran dry and in a matter of minutes it was burning out of control."

Peacock and Deputy District Fire Chief Willie Cole said the first four victims found apparently died from smoke inhalation.

Three of the victims were found upstairs in a bathroom, beside a bed and at the foot of a bed. The fourth victim was found at a downstairs window.

"They were up, trying to figure out what to do. Smoke tends to disorient people," he said.

The fifth victim was found later in an upstairs room,

Noah said.

Firefighters, hampered by heavy rain, brought the fire under control about 6:30 a.m.

Many guests said they were awakened by vehicle horns blowing outside.

Guests pushed through thick smoke and broke windows to jump to safety, some tossing mattresses to the ground to land on. Others climbed down fire department ladders. Cole said the flames were fueled by the oxygen rushing in through the windows broken by people fleeing the fire.

Hotel guest Bob Eichman of Oklahoma City, Okla., said he and an associate, Leon Kilpatrick of Oklahoma City, jumped from the second floor but he did not know what happened to two other people with them.

Chernenko resurfaces to deliver keynote speech to Soviet leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist Party Central Committee opened a political work session today that was to be addressed by chief ideologist Konstantin U. Chernenko, squelching rumors he had been ousted from the leadership.

Radio Moscow, in a news bulletin, said the Central Committee "has convened for a plenary session devoted to ideological and political work among the masses. A report on this subject will be delivered by the Central Committee secretary and Politburo member Konstantin Chernenko."

The Soviet news agency Tass also announced the session's opening and said Chernenko's address was entitled "Topical Questions of the Party's Ideology."

The Central Committee holds plenary sessions periodically to discuss major issues of party work and to consider domestic and foreign policy.

The broadcast did not mention Soviet leader Yuri V. Andropov, the party general secretary, who some Soviet sources earlier said had engineered a major Politburo reshuffle, possibly including Chernenko's ouster.

The 71-year-old Chernenko was out of public view in April and May, suffering pneumonia. Some analysts believed that period of inactivity had opened the way for Andropov, who turns 69 Wednesday, to removed his main political rival.

There were also reports from Soviet sources with ties to Andropov that Premier Nikolai A. Tikhonov, 78, would be eased out and replaced either by Politburo member and First Deputy Premier Geidar A. Aliev or Politburo member and Leningrad party boss Grigori V. Romanov.

With Chernenko still on the ruling body and set to deliver a major address, it looked less likely that the Andropov faction was in a position to push out Tikhonov.

Miss Raney new extension assistant

Susan Raney, a May graduate of New Mexico State University was employed today as the assistant county Extension agent for home economics for Deaf Smith County according to a joint announcement by County Judge Glen Nelson and District Extension Director, Paul E. Gross. She will assume her position on June 21.

Ms. Raney an honor graduate, was selected to the Dean's List and to Who's Who Among College-University Students for the 1982-83 year.

Ms. Raney is a graduate of Thomas Mayfield High School in Las Cruces, New Mexico where she served as senior class president and senior speaker at her graduation commencement ceremonies. She was awarded the 1517 Cotton Association Scholarship and the Louise Garrett Memorial Scholarship for leadership and academics to continue her education. Ms. Raney compiled an outstanding 4-H record during her seven year career in Dona Ana County. She served in each office in her local club, as a junior leader and as president of the County 4-H Council.

She received the prestigious Danforth Award for leadership and was a state winner in the Food and Nutrition program. As a state winner she was awarded a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

During her summer and school employment Ms. Raney has worked in the New Mexico State 4-H Office and the Communications and Community Relations Department of El Paso Electric Company where she wrote and edited for the company's bi-monthly newspaper.

Ms. Raney will be assuming the position formerly held by Penny Reinart who recently resigned to devote more time to her family. She will be working closely with the Deaf Smith County Extension Staff, Juston McBride, Louise Walker and Brad Morrison.

Grand Jury to review youth's shooting

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Police Chief Jerry Neal says the weekend fatal shooting of an Amarillo youth by a city policeman will be turned over to a grand jury for routine review.

Authorities said the officer shot Fernando E. Castro, 18, in the throat Sunday night as he lunged with a knife toward his estranged wife, whom he had just threatened.

Neal said patrolman Faustino Salinas, a five-year veteran with the department, will be reassigned to desk duty until the department and the special crimes unit complete their investigations into the shooting.

An autopsy on Monday indicated that Castro died from a .357 Magnum bullet to the throat, said Potter County Justice of the Peace Roy Byrd.

Melissa Castro told officers that on Sunday night her husband came to the downtown office where she worked, pushed her several times, and scratched her with a kitchen paring knife, Neal said.

He said while two fellow employees tried to calm the husband, she called the police. Shortly after the officers arrived, Castro threatened his wife and lunged toward her with the knife, police said. Salinas drew his service revolver and fired one time, police said.

Arkansas grain dealer denies fraud charges

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — An owner of Arkansas grain elevators denies federal charges that he got $2.9 million in loans by using false records on collateral.

Donald R. James, 53, of Carrollton, Texas, was charged in a 44-count indictment Monday, accused of mail, wire and bank fraud.

After pleading innocent, he was released on $5,000 bond.

Collapse of an Arkansas elevator owned by James led to the contempt of court charges against Puxico, Mo., farmer Wayne Cryts who drew national attention in trying to hold on to his grain crop.

Cryts was accused of defying an order from a federal bankruptcy court and removing 31,500 bushels of soybeans that had been stored at an elevator in Missouri owned by James Brothers Grain Co. of Corning, Ark.

On June 2, a federal court jury acquitted Cryts of criminal charges in the case.

In Monday's indictment, James was charged with carrying on a loan scheme from Oct. 1978 to July 1980.

Girl born 4½ months early in serious condition

HOUSTON (AP) — A 14-ounce girl born 4½ months prematurely remains in serious but stable condition at a Houston hospital where she was taken after developing breathing problems, a spokeswoman said.

Sarah Sharpless, assistant director of Hermann Hospital's helicopter ambulance service, said Monday that Melissa Michelle Maurer remained on a respirator in a neonatal intensive care unit.

The infant weighed 18 ounces when she was born June 1. She was flown to Hermann Hospital from Citizens General Hospital in Victoria after carbon dioxide built up in her lungs.

Dr. Wadie El-Mahmoudi, the child's attending physician in Victoria, said survival is "very, very rare" in infants born in the 20th to 22nd week of development. A fetus at that stage normally is considered "alive, but not viable," he said.

The Guinness Book of World Records lists Marion Chapman as the smallest baby known to have survived. She weighed 10 ounces when she was born June 5, 1939, in South Shields, England.

Deming man charged with bribing witness

DEMING (AP) — A 36-year-old Deming man has been charged with bribing a witness in connection with a May 10 fatal explosion at Arrowhead Park north of here.

George Cortez was released on $10,000 bond last week after pleading innocent to the charge.

Authorities contend Cortez threatened the life of a potential witness, Bruce Bristow, a business partner of Orval S. Reckard, 26, who was killed in the explosion, which authorities believe was caused by a pipe bomb.

Sheriff Jack Coussons said threatening a witness falls under the same criminal statute as bribing a witness.

Slipping on banana republic

Robert Orben said it: "This could be the first president ever to fall from slipping on a banana — republic."

"How will it play in Peoria?"

In the century before professional pollsters systematized public opinion surveys, any new theatrical production was tried first in Peoria, Illinois.

Reaction there was considered typical of reaction everywhere.

Congressman Bob Michel took the president's Central American policy home to Peoria; questioned the people of his district. They don't like it!

The president persists in increasing military and economic and other aid to Central America; his grass-roots homefolks "strongly disapprove."

Now our embassy in San Salvador is releasing photographs of captured soldiers shot in the head to prove that the "rebels down there are like that."

What the rebels are obvious. Openly they threaten us; any more American "advisers" sent down there "will be sent home in a box."

Our Lt. Commander Al Schaufelberger was first; he will not likely be the last.

Now the president is dispatching half-a-hundred American doctors to El Salvador — and the arguments favoring each increase in our involvement are ominously similar to the arguments which misled us into Vietnam.

Before we again bite off more than we can chew, a significant question demands to be answered: Even if we can and do checkmate communism in El Salvador — then what?

By no stretch of anyone's imagination is that nation ready for what we know as "democracy."

President Reagan is entirely correct in noting the Communists sponsorship of the so-called "Popular Liberation Forces." Moscow arms them and Castro trains them and victory for them would put a Communist country within a thousand miles of Texas.

But we have tolerated a Communist country within 90 miles of Florida for 24 years.

No, this is not a desirable situation.

Yes, it gives the Soviets potential beachheads in our hemisphere.

But our preoccupation with those negative effects is distracting us from recognition of the fact that our kind of freedom is not something that can be superimposed by force — because then it isn't freedom anymore.

Much as we prefer to believe otherwise, few of the world's people are ready for the responsibilities of self-rule. The 40 nations now at war with themselves inevitably will exchange one dictatorship for another dictatorship.

Before our old men send our young men into any of those wars, let's be sure we know not just what we are fighting against — but what for.

"Not an alarm went off. I heard horns honking. It sounded like someone hit the window," Eichman said. "I felt the door and it was hot. I didn't even unlatch the latch. I threw a chair through a window and crawled out."

"I saw Leon waving his hands ... he didn't know what to do. We broke a window from the outside and he jumped. We broke a lot of windows. Some gal came up with a shovel and I just went down the line, knocking out windows," Eichman added.

Hotel desk clerk Pat Guinty said the northeast wing has 46 second-floor rooms and 40 first-floor rooms. She did not know how many people were housed there but said, "That building was full." The hotel has 303 sleeping rooms in all.

Fire department spokesman Philip Thomas said all available ambulances in Fort Worth were dispatched to the fire scene. A triage area for the injured was set up at a nearby bank.

Many of the injured were cut "from breaking glass getting out and then walking on glass," Peacock said.

Nine people were taken to John Peter Smith Hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation, burns and lacerations, said hospital nursing supervisor Mike Baker.

Mike Harmon, administrator of Daniel Emergency Medical Service, said 29 people were injured and checked by ambulance attendants; of those 25 went to hospitals and four refused aid. St. Joseph Hospital reported having 10 patients from the fire, Harris Hospital six and All Saints Hospital three.

Sam Hawks of Buena Vista, Colo., said his wife found out about the fire when she awoke to go to the bathroom.

Collectors want grass in bins

City garbage collectors have requested that grass clippings be put into trash bins, city manager Dudley Bayne reports.

Bayne said loose grass piled beside bins is a mess to pick up and slows the garbage route. Even grass bagged, but still not in the bin, slows up the crews.

Senate Bill 132, which Sarpalius sponsored and which has been sent to the Governor, calls for the creation of the Palo Duro Water District. A bill calling for the establishment of a Buffalo Lake Water District also passed.

In the area of higher education, Sarpalius sponsored legislation which allows Frank Phillips Jr. College to expand its tax base by annexing county territory. Sarpalius also sponsored legislation which changes the amount of money a university may spend on construction, repair and rehabilitation projects before needing approval of the college coordinating board. "The bill will greatly benefit West Texas State University," senator Sarpalius said.

The state's new work release program, which was largely modeled after the Potter County program was passed by both houses. The legislation, sponsored by Sarpalius, will help ease the problem of prison overcrowding by allowing non-violent offenders to participate in restitution centers. The program will allow non-violent offenders to pay for their art-time incarceration and also allow them to repay the victims of their crimes.

A voluntary registry was also approved which establishes a centralized network where consenting adoptees older than 21 and consenting birth parents could seek assistance in locating one another.

Sarpalius also gained final approval on legislation aimed at protecting the Panhandle from the threat of nuclear waste. Sarpalius' legislation sets strict guidelines for drilling and mine shafts, and prohibits such activity when it appears threatening to our valuable natural resources.

Legislation relating to the Wheeler County Water Supply District was also approved during the session, as well as a bill dealing with the acquisition, administration and sale of materials and equipment by the soil and water conservation district.

Sarpalius was also successful in passing legislation updating feed and fertilizer regulation.

The soil and conservation districts around the state will be receiving necessary funding for technical assistance as a result of legislation sponsored by Sarpalius.

One of the major statewide issues, sponsored by Sarpalius, was DWI reform. Sarpalius says, "We are proud that lawmakers voted to take a strong stand against drunken drivers in Texas."

Meet Your Neighbor

Company in Dimmitt brings young couple to Hereford

By LINDA CAUDLE
Family News Editor
Jobs are not very plentiful right now for new graduates in geology, so Cindy Oppenheim will probably have to find employment in another area — for now anyway.

She and her husband, Walter, who started work at the Dimmitt Amstar Corporation in October, came to Hereford from Stinnett.

Cindy graduated from West Texas State University in December with a bachelor's degree in geology and a minor in biology. Walter earned his degree in chemical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1979.

He is a process engineer for Amstar, a position he also held at Phillips when the couple lived in Stinnett. Cindy commuted to WTSU as a full-time student for a year and a half, working at TG&Y in the summer.

She is currently job-hunting in Hereford. "It was nice to rest for several months after getting out of school, but I'm ready to start working now," she comments.

Cindy and Walter will be married three years in August. They met and were married in El Paso, Walter's hometown. "He lived two doors down from my grandmother," explains Cindy. "We've known each other since I was 11 years old."

Cindy was born in Burbank,

Calif., but calls Phoenix, Ariz., home. She started college in Phoenix, transferred to the University of Texas at El Paso, and then continued working on her degree at WTSU when the couple moved to Stinnett.

Cindy lived in various parts of the country, from California, Arizona, and New Mexico to Georgia and Florida, before she and Walter were married.

She has also had the opportunity to travel outside of the United States several times, to Hawaii, Europe, and to Mexico twice.

When she was studying geology at UTEP, she visited four of the Hawaiian Islands with her aunt and uncle in a group of 35 or 40 persons from the university. Her uncle is a professor of geology there and the tour was geology-oriented, which made it especially interesting for Cindy.

The summer that she was married, before the wedding, Cindy traveled to Europe with her mother, aunt, and cousins. They took a three-day cruise around the Greek Islands, which Cindy says was her favorite part, and also visited Athens, Rome, Florence, Venice, continuing on to Switzerland and Paris for five days.

"It wasn't something that we had planned for a long time. They just called me one day and asked if I'd like to go. Naturally, I jumped at the chance," smiles Cindy.

"I've been very fortunate to have been able to travel as much as I have," she continues. "I'd like eventually to be able to go with my husband to some of those places."

Since arriving in Hereford, Cindy has been busy painting, putting up wallpaper, and decorating their home on 509 Willow Lane. "This is our first home and we really like it," she says.

"I like this size town, too," adds Cindy. "Stinnett was so small I had to go to Borger to do my grocery shopping, but I really don't think I'd want to live in a real large city either. The people here are friendly and that makes it easier to come to a new place."

Walter's brother, Wayne Oppenheim, is also a newcomer to Hereford. He is employed as an accountant at Swift Independent Packing Company.

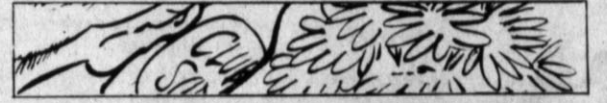

Cindy enjoys gardening and has planted vegetable and flower gardens in her yard. She likes to do all kinds of needlework and plays racketball.

"I've been doing some sewing and I like to cook," she comments. "Walter enjoys cooking outdoors and we've done that a few times since we've been here."

Fernando getting a firm grip on things again

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

After a slow start this season, Fernando Valenzuela seems to have a grip on things again.

"As of late, he's just superb," said catcher Steve Yeager after handing the left-hander's fifth straight victory, a 5-1 decision over the Cincinnati Reds Monday.

Valenzuela, winning his eighth game in 10 decisions, stopped the Reds on a sfiarp five-hitter, striking out six and walking but three in a thoroughly aggressive performance.

"This time I stayed ahead of the hitters," Valenzuela said. "For that reason, I was more successful today in protecting the lead."

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh edged Montreal 4-3, Chicago turned back New York 7-3, Philadelphia tripped St. Louis 6-2 and Houston blanked San Diego 2-0.

Valenzuela was virtually in control all the way, shutting out the Reds for six innings until Cesar Cedeño hit a leadoff homer in the seventh.

"He has a tendency to get himself in a little jam and pitch himself out of it," said Yeager of Valenzuela. "Early in the season, he got himself into jams and couldn't get out; he just lost it. But he's the old Valenzuela now."

Mike Marshall seems to have recovered his form, too. In a recent slump, the Dodger outfielder hit a home run and singled to set up another score.

"It's been a while since I've hit a home run and contributed," Marshall said. "Both hits today helped to get some runs. That's what it's all about."

Marshall's homer followed one by Yeager in the seventh inning and gave Valenzuela a 3-0 cushion at the time.

Pirates 4, Expos 3
Richie Hebner drove in the tying run with a pinch-hit double, then scored the winning run on an error as Pittsburgh rallied for three runs in the seventh inning to beat Montreal.

With the Pirates trailing 3-1, Tony Pena singled with one out in the seventh off loser Bill Gullickson, 6-7, then scored on Dale Berra's triple. Hebner hit for winner Rick Rhoden, 3-6, and doubled to score Berra. Lee Lacy then hit a wildly hopping grounder which was misplayed by third baseman Tim Wallach, allowing Hebner to score from second with the winning run.

Rhoden, breaking a personal three-game losing streak, gave up eight hits and three runs before giving way to Kent Tekulve, who worked the final two innings for his fifth save of the season and 25th career save against Montreal.

Orioles clip Brewers; Tribe trounces Yankees

By BEN WALKER AP Sports Writer

Cal Ripken Jr. got revenge and put Baltimore in front. Tippy Martinez made a perfect pitch and kept the Orioles ahead.

Ripken crashed a three-run homer in the third inning and then Martinez escaped a ninth-inning jam as the Orioles got past the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2 Monday night.

Ripken's homer, his 10th of the year, came in the third inning off hard-luck loser Don Sutton, who hasn't won since May 1 and saw his record dip to 4-4 despite a six-hitter.

"Sutton struck me out three times in our series last week," Ripken said. "I wanted to even the score. It made me a little more determined."

In other American League games, Cleveland routed New York 9-0, California tripped Chicago 7-4, Minnesota trounced Kansas City 9-4 and Texas beat Seattle 5-2.

Martinez, who relieved in the eighth inning and pitched out of a two-on, none-out threat, took a 3-1 lead into the ninth. But Paul Molitor belted his fifth homer to lead off the inning and, one out later, Robin Yount singled and went to third on Cecil Cooper's single.

That brought up Ted Simmons, who had already stranded six baserunners.

"Simmons is one of the best hitters in the league, but I'm a breaking ball pitcher and if I'm going to get beat by him, it's going to be with the breaking ball," Martinez said.

The reliever induced Simmons to hit a grounder to shortstop Ripken, who tossed to second baseman Lenn Sakata, who relayed the ball to Eddie Murray to complete a game-ending double play.

"I got it right where I wanted it," said Martinez after earning his ninth save.

The victory was Baltimore's 10th in 12 games. The Orioles have now beaten the Brewers 13 out of 17 in the last two seasons.

Milwaukee Manager

Harvey Kuenn was powerless to do anything as the Brewers left 12 runners on base, including six on third base and three on second.

"It was frustrating with all those opportunities. That's the way it's been lately with Sutton pitching," Kuenn said.

Sutton wasn't nearly as disappointed with his pitch to Ripken as was with what he threw to Sakata — who singled — and Dan Ford — who walked — before Ripken unloaded.

"That wasn't the pitch that beat me," Sutton said of the homer. "The thing was getting behind on Sakata and the walk to Ford."

"I was trying to make perfect pitches to Ford and I got behind. I pitched to him as if it was the bottom of the ninth. I didn't force him to hit the ball. With our club, that's a dumb way to pitch."

Baltimore rookie Allan Ramirez went the first five innings for his first major league decision. He gave up a run in the fifth on singles by Rick Manning, Yount and Cooper.

Sammy Stewart then relieved Ramirez before Martinez was summoned.

Angels 7, White Sox 4
Doug DeCinces and Tim Foli each delivered two-run singles for California, offsetting good performances by Chicago rookies Ron Kittle and Greg Walker.

Foli's two-run single came in the second inning off Britt Burns, 2-4. Foli later scored on Joe Ferguson's single. The Angels added a pair of runs in the fifth — aided by Chicago second baseman Tony Bernazard's double error — and DeCinces drove in two more runs in the seventh.

Walker scored Chicago's first run with his third homer of the season. Kittle then tripled and scored on an infield out. Kittle's 14th homer in the sixth inning came after Walker's double.

Rangers 5, Mariners 2
George Wright's two-run triple highlighted a three-run sixth inning that carried Texas.

Mike Smithson, 5-4, worked

6 1-3 innings and allowed six hits. John Butcher permitted two hits the rest of the way for his third save.

Bill Stein opened the Rangers sixth with a walk and Buddy Bell singled. Wright then tripled and scored on Pete O'Brien's single.

Texas won despite committing three errors, ending their streak of 86 1-3 errorless innings, a Rangers record.

1984 Olympics tickets going on sale today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Should President Reagan want to purchase tickets to the 1984 Olympic Games through the organizing committee, he would have to go through the same procedure as ordinary Don Q. Citizen.

For practical purposes, the president and Mrs. Reagan will be taking part in the Opening Ceremonies as accredited participants and the International Olympic Committee will have credentials for heads of state for them to attend other events.

But when it comes to buying tickets, the president and his family would have to follow the buy-by-mail procedures outlined by the Los Angeles Olympic Organization which start today.

"That's true," said G. Edward Smith, LAOC Vice President in charge of the ticket operations.

Michael K. Deaver, deputy chief of staff at the White House and liaison man with the LAOC, had a copy of the Olympic ticket brochure for the president.

Millions of other copies were set for distribution today at all outlets of Sears, Roebuck and Co. nationwide plus branches of First Interstate Bank in 10 Southern California counties and by Manufacturers Hanover Trust in the five counties making up the metropolitan area of New York City.

"The Olympics will be the largest ticketed event in the history of sports," said LAOC President Peter V. Ueberroth.

Ticket sales, however, are expected to bring in about $90 million in revenue and Ueberroth stressed that none would be free.

Each free brochure included a ticket order form. Payment for orders must be enclosed when they are mailed. There will be no telephone orders, and except for events

Cubs 7, Mets 3

Jay Johnstone had a pair of run-scoring doubles, Keith Moreland drove in another pair with a two-base hit, and Bill Buckner hit a solo home run as Chicago beat New York for the Cubs' 10th win in 12 games.

Steve Trout, 5-6, was the winner with late relief help. He was lifted after pinch-hitter Mark Bradley opened the seventh inning with a homer, his second of the season. Mike Proly and Craig Leferts finished up, with Leferts recording his first save.

Loser Mike Torrez, 2-8, pitched 4 2-3 innings, allowing four runs, two of them earned, while giving up seven hits, striking out three and walking one.

Phillies 6, Cardinals 2
Von Hayes rapped a two-run double and scored on Bob Dernier's two-base hit to key a three-run uprising after two were out in the fourth inning, leading Philadelphia over St. Louis. The loss was the eighth in 11 contests for the reeling Cardinals.

Trailing 1-0 at the start of the fourth, the Phillies erupted in the fourth after Cardinal left-hander Dave LaPoint, 4-3, got the first two batters.

Tony Perez triggered the rally with a single and stopped at second on Bo Diaz's single, one of four hits for him in the game. Hayes then doubled and scored when Dernier lashed another double, giving the Phillies a 3-1 lead and their eventual winning run.

Philadelphia right-hander Marty Bystrom, 1-3, was the winner with relief help from Willie Hernandez over the final three innings.

The RBIs by Hayes in the third and sixth in 34 games for the player who cost the Phillies five players in a winter trade with Cleveland.

"We've taken a lot of heat for trading five ballplayers for him," said Phillies Manager Pat Corrales. "He's starting to make his presence felt. Our fans wanted instant results. Now they're starting to see that Von Hayes is capable."

Astros 2, Padres 0

Joe Niekro and Frank DiPino combined on a three-hitter and Dickie Thon and Ray Knight each knocked in a run as Houston blanked San Diego.

Niekro, 4-5, yielded only a ground-rule double to Luis Salazar through the first seven innings, retiring 17 men in a row during one stretch. Padres starter Dave Dravecky, 9-4, failed in his bid to become the first 10-game winner in the major leagues this season.

The Astros took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a one-out single by Thon. Houston made it 2-0 in the fourth when Jose Cruz walked, stole second and came home on Knight's double.

DiPino came in with one out in the eighth after Niekro surrendered pinch-hit singles to Tim Flannery and Ruppert Jones and retired the final five batters for his fifth save.

Upshaw replaces Garvey as players' union rep

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Upshaw, who made a name for himself clearing a path for Raider running backs, now lines up against National Football League ownership as the new executive director of the NFL Players Association.

Upshaw, a 16-year NFL veteran and long-time union officer, was named Monday to succeed Ed Garvey, and promised to continue the militancy with which Garvey "single-handedly" turned a disorganized and once-passive union into an effective bargaining agent.

"I still believe the players are solid," said Upshaw.

"What happened throughout the 57-day strike is that we became a union. Hopefully, we will build on that in the future."

Upshaw, who had served as union president during the strike last season, opened his tenure with a salute to Garvey, 43, who resigned last Friday to become deputy attorney general of Wisconsin.

"The strike left a bitter taste in a lot of people's mouths — even today," said Upshaw. "And at times a lot of players questioned the knowledge and dedication of Ed Garvey. But history will bear out his success. He put this organization on the map."

Asked whether moving up to the union's top job would require him to soften his militant image to facilitate dealing with the league's owners, Upshaw responded: "I'm 6-foot-6, 250 pounds, big, strong and black. My image portrays that. I will do what's necessary."

Although he said he had been offered a playing contract as recently as two weeks ago, Upshaw decided to close the curtain on his playing career with the Los Angeles Raiders after 217 games and two world championships, including a consecutive-game streak of 209.

Upshaw, an offensive guard, was twice American Football Conference offensive lineman of the year, once NFL lineman of the year, and a 10-time All-Pro selection.

"I had the opportunity to play in some of the greatest games with some of the greatest players and coaches," said the 37-year-old Upshaw, who will be succeeded as NFLPA president by Atlanta Falcons' player representative and union vice president Jeff Van Note.

Upshaw was recommended by the union's executive committee and approved by the NFLPA board of representatives to succeed Garvey.

"I couldn't leave the job in better hands," said Garvey, ending his 12-year tenure which will be remembered for the first regular season strike in the sport's history.

The historic walkout ended with a four-year, $1.3 billion agreement.

Upshaw identified the key issues facing the union in the immediate future as regulating agents who represent players, continuing enforcement of the collective bargaining agreement that ended the strike and closing union ranks.

He also said the NFLPA would watch the upcoming United States Football League vote on union representation, and then move to organize that group of players.

Hailey-Stewart win partnership

Doug Hailey and Bill Stewart claimed the Hereford Partnership Golf Tournament title last weekend by four strokes, carding a 131 for the two-day event held at the John Pfitzner Municipal Golf Course.

Hailey-Stewart edged the team of John Kaplan-Joe Don Davis, who shot 135, for the crown. Tying for third in the Championship Flight were the teams of Kim Coulter-John Burnett and Todd Preston-Jay Leford, each with 137's.

In First Flight play, Ted Bennett-Mike Hunt raced to an easy, seven-stroke win with a 135. Paul Hubbard-Ken Hagar and Reg Anderson-Ed Manning tied for second at 142.

Second Flight honors went to the team of John Teeters-Tom Conaway, with a 144, two shots ahead of runners-up Mickey Daugherty-James Daugherty. Placing third in the flight were Mike Hanning-Tom Snider, at 149.

Kent Clements-Harold Johnson's 141 easily won the Third Flight over Vance Hall-

Earl Simpson's 148, while Ed Gill-Joe Goodwin finished third at 150.

Shorty Roark and H.K. Edwards won the Fourth Flight with a 149, one shot ahead of Emory Brownlow-Gene Coulter. Wallace Hill-Roy Terry were third at 151.

In the Fifth Flight, Rick Haggard-Bob Dillaha out-distanced four teams which tied for second. The winners carried 152, while 157 was good enough for second place. Those knotted in second included Bill Thomas-Ed Schroeter, George Ochs-Paul Jacobs, Don Long-Larry Sowers, and Ken Norvell-Lymon Schroeder.

Sixth Flight winners were Wayne Walton-Ralph Quintero at 157, with Pat Coulter-John Elmore second with a 159, and Bob Burks-Jim Bell third at 161.

Rod Williams-Doug Hooker took Seventh Flight honors with a 164, seven shots ahead of runners-up Scott Keeling-Dave Workman.

A total of 77 teams participated in the tournament last weekend.

Watson offers no excuses for play

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — Tom Watson offers no excuses for his relatively poor performance this season in golf.

"It's simple. I just haven't played well," said Watson, who will defend his title in the 83rd U.S. Open Championship which begins Thursday on the historic, 6,971-yard, par 71 Oakmont Country Club course.

By most standards, Watson's record this year would be considered very acceptable. He has won $106,776 in 12 starts and finished in the top 10 in half his appearances.

By Watson's standards, however, "it's been a lousy year."

He has not won in the United States since his dramatic chip-in birdie on the 71st hole snatched the American national championship from Jack Nicklaus a year ago. It is the longest victory drought Watson has suffered since 1977.

He has not yet qualified for the World Series of Golf. With only three weeks remaining in the qualifying period, he ranks a distant 20th on the list from which the 12-man American Ryder Cup team will be chosen. He has not finished higher than fourth at any time this season.

"It's been frustrating," said Watson, golf's Player of the Year five of the last six seasons and the dominant figure in the game since the late '70s.

"I've gone through spells like this before," he said. "It's part of the game. You just have to endure it."

Part of it is technical. He's been working on adjustments to his swing, which, he said, is a continuing process. Part of it is mental.

"My confidence level is not that high," he said.

"You have to play well to have confidence. And I just haven't played that well. When you're not playing well, when you don't have the confidence that you'll hit the good shots, you tend to play defensively. And when you play defensively, you don't give yourself that many chances for birdies."

"When you're not playing well, your mind wanders. You think about a lot of things, too many things."

"When you are playing well, you have freedom of thought. You think only about what you're doing, about scoring."

It is a situation that can be corrected quickly, however. "Oh, yes," he said. "Sometimes it's as quick as flicking on a light switch. It can turn around in a hurry."

"It's just a matter of doing the right thing at the right time," said Watson, who has taken a two-week break from Tour competition.

"I needed the break to regroup, recharge the batteries. This is the peak part of the season. It's not too late to turn it around," he said.

Oilers trade Wilson

HOUSTON (AP) — Tim Wilson, whose ferocious blocking helped Earl Campbell lead the National Football League in rushing for three years, has been traded to the Los Angeles Raiders, Houston Oilers officials say.

Wilson, who played blocking back and tight end in Houston, was swapped Monday for an undisclosed draft choice, Oilers spokesman Gregg Stengel said.

Wilson is a veteran of six seasons with the Oilers. He was a third round choice in the 1977 draft and played college football at Maryland.

His Oiler record includes 1,385 yards rushing in 388 carries, and the reception of 99 passes for 609 yards.

Following Wilson through holes, Campbell led the league in rushing in 1978, 1979 and 1980.

"I'm leaving the Oilers with fond memories, but I do feel this is a good career move for me," Stengel quoted Wilson as saying. "I wish ... the team, especially my buddy Earl Campbell, the best of luck and look forward to Sept. 11 when the Oilers come to LA to play us."

Wilson played a total of 83 games with the Oilers.

Anderson, Garcia, Brown Jr. winners

Donnie Anderson claimed the Boys 16 Singles title and Chuck Garcia-Vincent Brown won the Boys' 14 Doubles championship to highlight showings by Hereford entrants in the Hereford Open Tennis Tournament's Junior Division last weekend.

Anderson defeated Lubbock's Mike Strong, 6-2, 6-0 to roll to his title, while Garcia-Brown defeated Hereford Jason Bodner-Shawn Moore, 6-3, 6-2.

Following is a list of Junior Division results, beginning with semifinal action in some brackets:

4-H agricultural scholarships given

Four current 4-H members who are interested in agricultural careers may qualify this year for a $500 scholarship and trip to National 4-H Congress donated by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., DeKalb, Ill.

The agricultural careers scholarship program is designed to encourage 4-H members to pursue careers in agriculture. Today's agriculture is a highly specialized, constantly expanding field, which encompasses more than 500 distinct occupations, ranging from farming and farm management to research and development to processing and marketing.

Scholarship winners are chosen by the Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program. Awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council, a not-for-profit educational organization supporting the 4-H program with private resources.

More information on the agricultural careers scholarship program is available from the county Extension office.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Convention slated in Amarillo

About 100 persons from Hereford are expected to attend a Kingdom Unity convention in Amarillo, June 16-19, according to Curtis Ponder of the Hereford Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The Amarillo meeting is one of a series of 104 district conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses nationwide which will involve nearly a million persons.

Angelo C. Manera Jr., convention manager, said 6,000 Jehovah's Witnesses from parts of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas will attend in Amarillo.

The focus of the conventions will be on unity in the world.

Host families needed

Youth Exchange Service is in need of American families who would like to host one of these 15-18 years old high school youngsters scheduled to arrive next August and September.

Students are carefully screened. They speak English at the time of their arrival, and have excellent medical insurance and bring their own pocket money.

Host families are asked to provide a bed and meals and to accept the student as a member of the family.

For further information contact Youth Exchange Service, P.O. Box 4020, San Clemente, Ca. 92672 or call (714) 492-7907.

The company's corporate headquarters complex, nestled on a wooded 286-acre site, once again is overcrowded with about 270 whitetail deer.
"The simple fact is that there are too many deer on the property and if they don't get rid of them, nature will do it for them," said Jay Williams, biologist for the parks and wildlife department's San Antonio office.

"That's what happens when you take over the deer's natural habitat," he said.

USA, for the second time in four years, is using 60-by-60 foot nets and explosive devices to capture the deer and release them in wilder areas of South Texas and the Hill Country.
The state-approved plan was implemented to relieve the chronic overcrowding of deer.

Williams is monitoring the time-consuming collection of 70 deer from the sprawling property, which still will leave more than 200 animals roaming the corporate complex.
The deer will be released on three approved ranches in Kerr-, Kendall and Bandera counties, with all costs of the trapping paid by the ranchers receiving the animals.
About 20 does and five bucks have been captured since the nets were set up about 45 days ago, according to local hunting guide Rusty Massey.

Insurance headquarters overrun by deer

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The United Services Automobile Association, the nation's seventh-largest auto insurer, has a lot of doe.

Too much, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The animals then are tagged and transported to one of the ranches, he said.
"Most of the ranchers are trying to build up their deer herds," Massey said, "so these animals probably won't be hunted for several years."

DEAR DR. LAMB — In one of your columns you stated that by walking four miles a day you would use the number of calories in a half pound of body fat every week. You also said the speed didn't matter as the distance determined the number of calories you lose. Am I right then in assuming that by jogging two miles a day I'd be using no more calories than if I'd walked? Jogging seems so much more strenuous and if it has more value than walking I'll switch.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Exactly what causes keloids? I have an olive complexion. I'm Italian. I know keloids are prevalent in dark-skinned people. I develop keloids from even the most minor surgery, such as removal of moles on my back. Now I have raised scars instead of moles. I even got a keloid from being vaccinated.
DEAR READER — There is a distinction between keloids and hypertrophic (enlarged) scars. Simple enlarged scars often resolve spontaneously. Keloids do not. A keloid may overgrow the area of injury or incision.
The cause of keloids is not really known. It is true they are more inclined to occur in dark-skinned individuals. Simply cutting them out doesn't help as they simply grow back, often causing an even larger keloid. They can occur from minor injuries or from puncturing the ear lobes for earrings.
Although it is difficult to evaluate the results, it appears that the best results are obtained by surgery or cryosurgery (freezing with liquid nitrogen) combined with corticosteroid injections into the area or combined with radiation started within two weeks after the surgery.
(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

DEAR READER — That is almost right. Between the walking speeds of two and four miles an hour, all other things being equal, it really doesn't matter how fast you walk in terms of eliminating calories. Your body weight is more important in determining how many calories you will use per mile. So if your goal in exercising is to use calories, you can walk two miles, three miles or four miles an hour and, if you walk the same distance each time, the number of calories you will use will be the same.
Since a 150-pound person uses about 60 calories more walking a mile than resting, it follows that in a week of walking four miles a day he would use more than 1,600 calories — about the same number as in a half pound of body fat.
Jogging is less efficient and between the speeds of 5.7 and 11.4 miles per hour you will use about one and a half times as many calories per mile as during walking. But again the speed of jogging between these limits is not important in terms of using calories. It can be quite important in training or improving the heart and lung capacity for endurance exercise if that is your goal.
To round out your information, bicycling under normal conditions uses about half as many calories per hour as used in walking between the rates of two and four miles an hour. The wheel does improve efficiency, which means using fewer calories per mile.

For more information on exercise facts, I am sending you The Health Letter 15-12, Exercise Wise. Others can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I made a unique shower gift for my granddaughter. I taped 50 new one-dollar bills to the single sheets of a roll of toilet paper. Then I wrote on the accompanying card: Every bride should have a roll of her own! — WILLIAM

DEAR POLLY — When bacon sticks together and becomes difficult to separate into strips, hold the package of bacon under cold running water (never hot). The water will usually loosen it enough so you can separate the strips gently with your fingers or a kitchen knife. — BARBARA

DEAR POLLY — I have a crocheted piece that a rubber band stuck to, then dried on. Do you have any suggestions as to how this can be removed? — PAULINE

DEAR PAULINE — I assume you mean that the rubber band stuck to the crocheted piece after it was starched. The solution should be simple. Soak the crocheted piece in lukewarm water until the starch softens, dissolves and the rubber band comes loose. Then shape and restarch the item. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When storing boots away for the summer, roll up newspapers and put them into each boot. This keeps the boots in shape and absorbs any moisture that will contribute to mold and mildew. — LILLIE

DEAR POLLY — To clean the inside of a pumpkin or winter squash, use a grapefruit spoon to scrape out the seeds and stringy pulp. Makes the job a whiz. — DORIS

DEAR POLLY — As you sow early maturing vegetables, such as peas, lettuce, spinach and early cabbages, in the garden plant a seed potato in the same row every 15 to 18 inches. As you harvest your early vegetables, the potatoes will grow merrily on, giving you two crops in the same space usually required by one. Best of all, you have only "one row to hoe!" I've seeded like this for three years with excellent results. — MARION

DEAR POLLY — Dirty clothes hampers will smell less musty if you drop a fresh bar of soap into the bottom of the hamper. After a few weeks, remove the soap (which will have hardened, making it last longer) to use and replace with a new bar. — CARLENE

DEAR POLLY — Another Pointer for getting all the contents out of aerosol spray cans: Storing them upside down seems to solve the problem. I used this method on all spray cans bought to sell in my retail business and seldom had a can returned because the contents could not be used. — MRS. B.S.

How to get it unstuck

DEAR POLLY — I have a crocheted piece that a rubber band stuck to, then dried on. Do you have any suggestions as to how this can be removed? — PAULINE

DEAR PAULINE — I assume you mean that the rubber band stuck to the crocheted piece after it was starched. The solution should be simple. Soak the crocheted piece in lukewarm water until the starch softens, dissolves and the rubber band comes loose. Then shape and restarch the item. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When storing boots away for the summer, roll up newspapers and put them into each boot. This keeps the boots in shape and absorbs any moisture that will contribute to mold and mildew. — LILLIE

DEAR POLLY — To clean the inside of a pumpkin or winter squash, use a grapefruit spoon to scrape out the seeds and stringy pulp. Makes the job a whiz. — DORIS

DEAR POLLY — As you sow early maturing vegetables, such as peas, lettuce, spinach and early cabbages, in the garden plant a seed potato in the same row every 15 to 18 inches. As you harvest your early vegetables, the potatoes will grow merrily on, giving you two crops in the same space usually required by one. Best of all, you have only "one row to hoe!" I've seeded like this for three years with excellent results. — MARION

DEAR POLLY — Dirty clothes hampers will smell less musty if you drop a fresh bar of soap into the bottom of the hamper. After a few weeks, remove the soap (which will have hardened, making it last longer) to use and replace with a new bar. — CARLENE

DEAR POLLY — Another Pointer for getting all the contents out of aerosol spray cans: Storing them upside down seems to solve the problem. I used this method on all spray cans bought to sell in my retail business and seldom had a can returned because the contents could not be used. — MRS. B.S.

DEAR POLLY — When bacon sticks together and becomes difficult to separate into strips, hold the package of bacon under cold running water (never hot). The water will usually loosen it enough so you can separate the strips gently with your fingers or a kitchen knife. — BARBARA

DEAR POLLY — I made a unique shower gift for my granddaughter. I taped 50 new one-dollar bills to the single sheets of a roll of toilet paper. Then I wrote on the accompanying card: Every bride should have a roll of her own! — WILLIAM

DEAR POLLY — An easy way to keep moisture out of the cabinets is to put an open container of chalk in the drawer. Also good in a tool box, jewelry box, or suitcase to prevent mildew. Change every six months. — ELEANOR

Local youth to attend World Youth Congress

David Fortenberry, a spring graduate of Hereford High School and member of the Church of the Nazarene, has been selected as a delegate to World Youth Congress 1983. The international event is scheduled for June 20-27 in Oaxtepec, Mexico.

Over 2,000 youth and adult leaders will attend the congress sponsored by Nazarene Youth International of the Church of the Nazarene. There will be 25 countries represented.

Musical drama slated tonight

A musical drama, "Hello World," will be presented at 7 p.m. tonight in the First United Methodist Church sanctuary with the public invited. Its cast is made up of young musicians from over Northwest Texas.

Four of the singers, Bryan Blair, Chris Crowley, Craig McCuistian and Clay Stribling, are from the local church and Patsy Giles of Hereford is one of the directors. Bert Bostic, formerly music-youth minister of the host church and now of Midland, heads the group of directors.

The delegates will have the opportunities to speak with youth leaders from around the world concerning needs and programs designed to meet those needs.

Fortenberry, son of Eldon and Nelda Fortenberry of 1202 La Plata, was one of 17 young people selected from among applicants across the West Texas district after meeting application requirements in district involvement and Bible memorization and interviewing with a district selection committee.

Also, attending the event will be Ted Taylor, youth pastor of the church. Bob Huffaker is church pastor.

The musical production is being presented in United Methodist Churches of the Northwest Texas Conference is a tour which began Sunday and will continue all this week. This is the fifth such summer tour for this youth group, known as Spirit Wind '83.

"Hello World" is a lively musical narrative emphasizing in a new form an old idea, that the best solution for present world problems was posed by Jesus when he said, "Love your neighbor as yourself."

Abundant Life

BEING AMIABLE
By Bob Wear

Being amiable does not mean that we are weak or naive. It does not mean that we are insane and lacking in spirit, but that we understand the need for and value of a friendly, sociable and congenial disposition. We can be, and must be strong enough, and courageous enough to talk and act in the way we know best. We must have enough personal integrity to be the person we wish to be. We can.

If we make ourselves difficult, we are not going to help ourselves or anybody else; but will create problems on top of problems. Many of the things that would be relatively easy and pleasant become heavy burdens, when there is harshness, severity and hatefulness in human interchange.

Many rich and helpful experiences of life will be missed, if we are not amiable; because we will repel desirable people, and close many doors of opportunity. If we are amiable, we are more effective in everything we try to do.

We may not be able to please all persons. There will be some disagreements and misunderstandings; however, mature people are able to disagree without making themselves disagreeable. More important than this, wise people can and will keep disagreements to a minimum and never be the cause of prolonged strife.

When we are amiable, some people may try to impose upon us; however, this will not be a general happening. These impositions can be handled without any great loss. We must not permit this calculated risk to prevent our being pleasant and congenial.

"Amiable people, though often subject to imposition in their contact with the world, yet radiate so much of sunshine that they are reflected in all appreciative hearts."—Deluzo.

Amiability will certainly make happier homes, stronger community ties for greater cooperation in actions necessary for the common good, and will help improve every other segment of the human scene. Individual well-being will be more favorably supported and more nearly a constancy in one's life.

Ann Landers

Don't condemn whole state

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The character who signed himself "Dallas Texas Reader" could have come only from Texas.

That line, "the next generation of bastards," gave me indigestion. Anyone who would speak of a child as a bastard had better get a shovel ready to take to hell with him. I'll bet that skunk puts on his white sheet and hood right after Bible study. I know this letter is not printable. Your Texas paper wouldn't stand for it, but I just couldn't sleep until I unloaded my fury.

I feel strongly on this subject because a beautiful child born out of wedlock provided my husband and me with 14 of the happiest years of our lives. A wise and generous unwed mother gave her child up for adoption. I have loved your column for years and so did my son—until his death a few years ago. Please keep trying to help people.—A Life Returned

DEAR LIFE: I can understand your anger, but please don't condemn the whole state of Texas because one dingbat wrote a nasty letter. I hope you are not under the impression that Texas is filled with Ku Klux Klansmen. Nothing could be further from the truth. Some of the finest people I know are Texans, and I apologize for your generalizations in their behalf.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior in college and will be graduating soon. Today I thought about a sixth-grade teacher who taught me almost 10 years ago. I don't know where she is, so I am able to thank her personally. I do hope, however, that my letter will be printed and serve as an inspiration for all the overworked and underpaid teachers who have helped mold so many young lives.

The woman I am indebted to is Mrs. Taylor. She devoted her life to making youngsters enthusiastic about learning. She made it a real challenge and great fun. Her impact on her students was unbelievable.

Mrs. Taylor was not an easy mark. Every grade had to be earned. I can still remember getting a B-plus and being disappointed, but because of her encouragement I worked harder than ever because I wanted to do better and make her proud of me. I can honestly say that in part because of her I made it through high school and now college. I can now face an extremely boring lecture with a special sense of wanting to learn because she taught me that learning can be difficult but it is worth the effort.

Please print my letter so I can give that grand woman a long overdue thank-you. It was written between classes in a hurry, so excuse the spelling or grammatical errors.—A Thankful Florida Student

DEAR STUDENT: Here's your beautiful tribute to Mrs. Taylor—and I didn't have to do much editing. It was nearly perfect. If Mrs. Taylor sees it, I hope she will let me know.

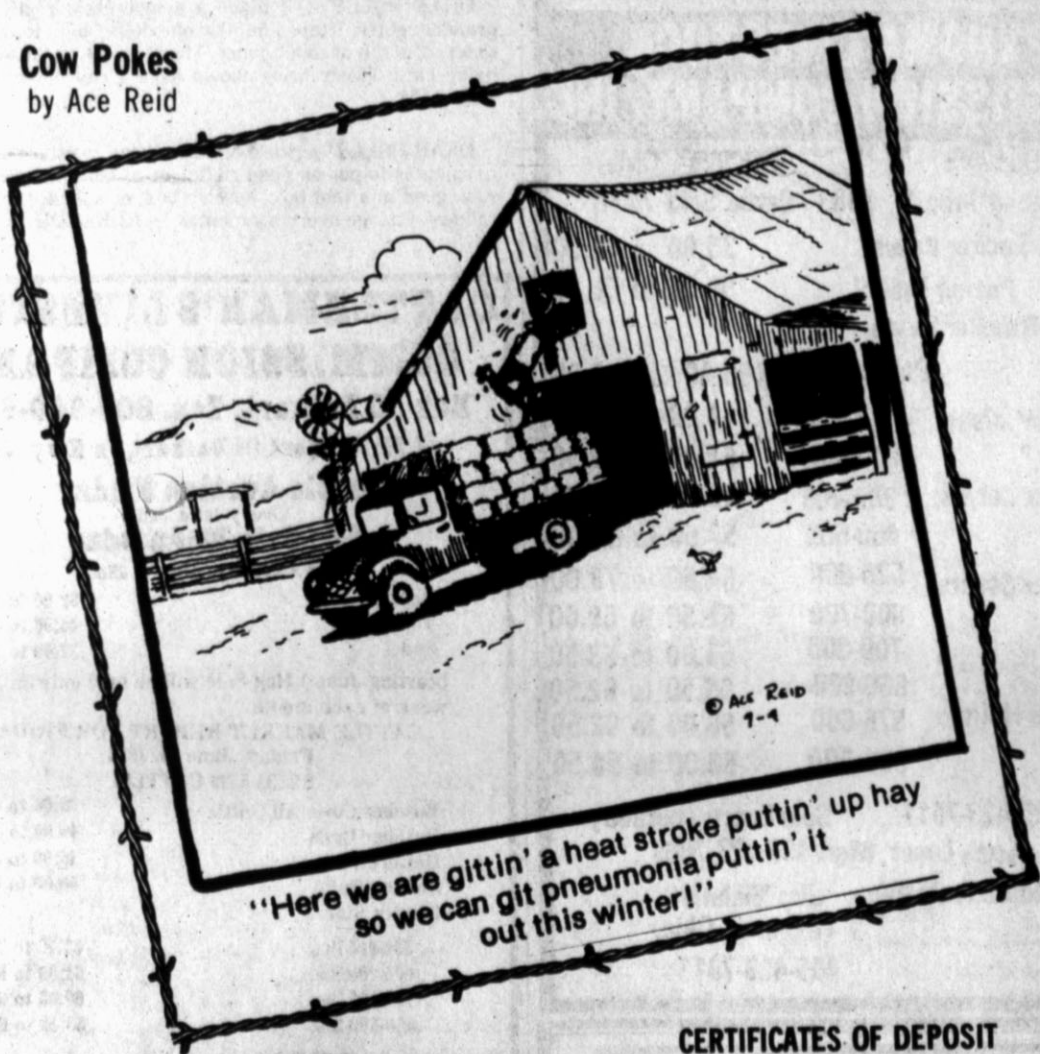

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hasten to advise I did not write the poem attributed to me in your column. I simply quoted an unknown writer. Kindly clear up this embarrassment.—E.T. Gurney, Exec. Director, Canadian Hemophilia Society
