Wm. H. Woodin Funeral Set For Saturday

Services To Be At 5th Avenue Presbyterian Church New York City

BURIAL TO BE IN BERWICK, PA.

Former Secretary Of Treasury Dies Thursday Night From Throat Infection

NEW YORK, (AP)—Funeral services for William H. Woodin, former treasury secretary will be held at Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church at 4 p. m. Saturday.

Burial will be at Berwick, Pennsylvania.

He died Thursday night from complications of a throat infection.

NEW YORK—William H. Woodin, former secretary of the treasury, died early Thursday night.

The death of the Roosevelt cabinet officer, who was at the head of the treasury in the 1933 banking crisis, came with startling suddenness.

Only three weeks ago his illness, which sprang from a throat infection, was reported decidedly improved.

Mr. Woodin died at 6:15 p. m. eastern daylight time. His condition became critical within the last 24 hours at the hospital in which he had been a patient much of the time since his return from Arizona in search of health.

The industrialist's resignation from the treasury became effective January 1, but his condition had improved to such an extent by March 4, 1934, that he was able to leave Arizona and come to New York.

He was able to see visitors and had praised the accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration. But on April 2, he suffered a hemorrhage of the throat and was hurried to a hospital.

Mr. Woodin would have been 66 years old on May 28.

Mrs. Woodin and a daughter were at the bedside at the end. They had been there almost continuously for the last 24 hours. Dr. Robert E. Buckley said that Mr. Woodin had been unconscious for 10 hours.

William Hartman Woodin, industrialist, banker, collector of coins and art, composer of symphonic music and a Republican in politics, was little known to the general public when he was selected as secretary of the treasury at the start of the Democratic administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But with listing himself as a Republican, he had given staunch support to the Democratic national tickets of 1928 and 1932, contributing $25,000 to Alfred E. Smith's campaign and later being treasurer of a special committee set up to wipe out a deficit of $783,000 in the party treasury.

Boy Scouts Council Fire At 7:45 P. M.

Jamboree Festivities To Be Attended By 500 Scouters

First of more than 500 scouts and scouters expected to be here for the annual Buffalo Trail council jamboree arrived here Friday before camp grounds were to be opened at 4 p. m.

Several troops, including some from Big Spring, were marking time until they were to draw for campsites—on Friday evening and Saturday.

Time of the council fire program was moved up to 7:45 p. m. because of its length. Songs and stunts will begin then and continue until each troop has presented its stunt.

William Tomkins, Indian Sign language authority, will furnish the concluding feature with a demonstration of the language. He appeared here Wednesday evening and Thursday in Sweetwater before a crowd of more than 400. He was enthusiastically received in both places. Though he will be repeating his lessons to scouts of two cities, he will be showing something new to about 300 others.

The public is invited to attend the council fire program to be staged just east of the city park on the jamboree grounds.

Competitive events will begin Saturday 8 a. m. and preliminaries will be run until 10 a. m. when scouts depart for town to parade.

The parade will go down Scurry from the Methodist church to the Crawford hotel, thence east to the Settles, thence north to Reid hotel, thence west to the First National bank, then south to the Ritz theatre where Manager J. T. Robb will treat all the scouts and scouters to a picture show. In addition to a two reel scout feature, he will offer Richard Barthelmess in "Massacre." Tomkins said Friday he would stay to see the show, being a friend of the Indian technical director.

After the show is over at 12:30 p. m. the scouts will return to the jamboree grounds for barbecue and lunch. Inspection will be at 1:45 p. m. and competitive events will be resumed at 2 p. m. and continue until completed.

A. G. Williamson, area executive, arrived Friday morning to direct the jamboree. Dr. Lee O. Rogers, chairman of the local activities committee, has been in charge of arrangements here.

Members of the Women's Golf association will meet at the country club Saturday 1 p. m. After Friday for the naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Five Cars To Join Broadway Party Monday

To Continue With Motorcade To Dallas For Annual Convention

Five Big Spring cars will join the Broadway of America motorcade which stops here 3-15 a. m. Monday enroute to Dallas for the annual Broadway convention.

Cal Boykin of the Crawford hotel, Ray Cantrell of the Settles hotel, Dairyland Creamery, Marvin Hull, and H. C. Adams of Meyer Courts will furnish automobiles.

The motorcade, which spends the night in Midland, will stop here for 15 minutes Monday morning. The convention is to begin May 9.

After a meeting Thursday evening in the Crawford, G. C. Dunham, chairman of the Broadway of America campaign here, paired off L. E. Coleman, E. F. Robbins, Ray Cantrell, H. C. Adams, C. L. Rowe, W. M. Gage, J. C. Linger and L. L. Stewart in a drive to complete the local quota of memberships.

Indications at noon Friday were that Big Spring would subscribe to her quota. Dunham and others expressed gratification that Big Spring would be so well represented with cars. Each car owner is asked to see that proper banners advertising his business and this city are on the cars.

When the motorcade arrives here Monday morning, a group of women will pin roses on members of the motor caravan.

Special effort is being made to advertise the Broadway this year since the road is the only 100 per cent paved and snow free trans-continental highway.

American Airlines Given Air Mail Contract For Ft. Worth-Los Angeles Route

Local Airline Officials Advised When Carrying Of Mail To Be Resumed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Fifteen temporary air mail contracts were awarded by the postoffice department Thursday, the most of which went to former carriers who met the strict reorganization terms.

Four new concerns. Officials said that the only new concerns to receive contracts were the Long and Harman, Inc., of Dallas, Texas; Pacific Seaboard Airlines, Inc., San Bruno, Calif.; Wyoming Air Service, Inc., of Casper, Wyo.; and Central Airlines, Inc., of Pittsburgh.

Local postoffice authorities and American Airlines officials here Friday were without information from headquarters as to when the air mail service would be resumed over the Fort Worth-Big Spring-Los Angeles line, a contract for three months for which was awarded by the postoffice department Thursday to American Airlines, Inc. It was thought, however, by local airlines officials that the company would begin carrying the mail again just as soon as the postoffice department gives the order.

Plans Made For 'On To Angelo' Motorcade

'Howdy Neighbors' will be Big Spring's greeting to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in San Angelo Tuesday, May 15.

Carl Blomsheld, chairman of the 'On To Angelo' campaign, said Friday afternoon in a meeting of a committee that every effort would be exerted to have at least 150 cars included in the caravan which will depart from this city at 8:30 a. m. of that date.

Stickers with the 'Howdy Neighbor' inscription will be placed on all cars in the motorcade. In addition the automobiles may bear 'bigger signs. Individuals may be furnished with walking canes with the Big Spring identification stenciled on.

Plans are to have a parade when the motorcade reaches San Angelo. There is a tradition that the host city of the previous year serve as a sort of 'big brother' to the convention city, since it can ask nothing. Big Spring is planning to 'rep' that tradition alive with a large delegation.

Persons wishing to enter cars in the motorcade or who wish ways should immediately register at the local Chamber of Commerce office.

THE QUESTION IS WHETHER T. R. JR. would be willing again to be a sacrifice. He bared his throat once for the G. O. P. when he ran against Al Smith for the New York governorship—and the count was close at that. It was a long time.

When Teddy—who insisted he's an old man with a married daughter and therefore not to be called 'Young'—returned actively to the national arena a month or so ago, there was some speculation as to his being Herbert Hoover's choice to replace Everett Sanders as chairman of the Republican National committee.

This thought generally has been abandoned—largely because T. R. Jr. has no banking to bury himself in that job. Assuming he could be elected chairman, acceptance automatically would take him out of the picture as a presidential candidate.

On the other hand, the Republican Roosevelt is keeping very much in touch with the situation. His correspondence is tremendous, reaching into every section of the country to all classes of people.

WASHINGTON By George Durso

T. R. Jr.

Politicians of both parties have been watching the activities of Col. Theodore Roosevelt recently with more than passing interest.

A lot of Republicans and Democrats alike would be glad to know just how the former President's son is going to fit into the political setting between now and 1936.

Some observers suspect he's grooming himself for a place on the Republican national ticket—the presidential nomination if possible. If not, the vice-presidency.

If the New Deal maneuvers along fairly well, whoever gets the call to run against President Franklin D. Roosevelt in '36 will have to be satisfied with the honor. But fighting Roosevelt with another of the same isn't rated smart politics at this time.

Should the Democratic regime take in a fifth opinion the Republican nomination would be occasion for a noble Donnybrook.

The question is whether T. R. Jr. would be willing again to be a sacrifice. He bared his throat once for the G. O. P. when he ran against Al Smith for the New York governorship—and the count was close at that. It was a long time.

terature control—a more important item than many housekeepers seem to realize. Ask off-hand what degree of temperature is necessary to check the growth of mold and bacteria and you will be surprised how few women can answer; yet the family health depends on this.

These are a few of the technical problems whose easy solution will be presented by Mrs. Warren to hot weather cooks next week, along with recipes and menus for summer meals.

Because of the approaching hot season Mrs. Warren will specialize in summer dishes. Appeal to the eye, appeal to the taste and safety first will be the factors governing her choice of dishes. How to keep one's temper cool, one's kitchen cool and one's husband's disposition cool will be a revelation at her talks for women only.

This school is not going to attract the woman who is indifferent to her duties as keeper of the house and hostess continued Mrs. Warren but it will attract the intelligent, alert wife and mother who wants to keep herself up-to-date.

Attendance Free
 The Herald is continuing its popular custom of giving away attendance prizes. These prizes have caused great interest among women's organizations in the past; every year new ways of attracting registration has occurred to local leaders. The Herald will again offer ten dollars to the organization having the largest number of registrations.

Every woman in Howard county is invited to the free cooking school and the electrical refrigeration demonstrations in connection with the school. The ballroom will be cool and comfortable and Mrs. Warren will demonstrate what she is teaching by showing women how to prepare meals in the most enjoyable fashion possible. Much of this will be revelation to Herald readers.

The Herald suggests that women arrange to attend all three sessions, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and so get the full benefit of all there is to be given. Only in this way can cooks check up on everything they want to know. Whenever these cooking schools come to Big Spring the wise housekeeper concentrates on them and gets the most out of them; all it costs her is her time—and many a housekeeper has maintained that this has been simply repaid in many ways than one.

GET Sparkling IMPERIAL Pure Cane SUGAR

... for making STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

TRY THIS RECIPE:

Four cups berries — five cups Imperial Sugar

Do not put in any water. Place over low flame until sugar melts. Then turn up flame and cook for 12 minutes after they start boiling. Then cool and skim off pink foam and pour into sterilized jars. If berries are very ripe, use only four cups of sugar for this quantity. Increase cooking time to 20 minutes when you double quantity of berries. It's best not to cook over eight cups at a time, in a single kettle. Good strawberries—IMPERIAL Pure Cane Sugar—and careful handling in accordance with this recipe—results in Strawberry Preserves that are unmatched for flavor!

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

CHAPTER 40
MURDER SUMMONS
 Judith stood in the doorway and watched the Scoggins family go down the hill. She shivered a little in the slightly chill air and turned back to find Delphy regarding her with awe.

"That you, didn't I, that it were Big Tom who threw that lightning." And then as an afterthought, "This here mail come in while the Scoggins man was a talking, they brought it in the back door."

Judith undressed and had her chocolate and message. Then, Delphy satisfied, she slid under the covers, the mail in her lap.

A letter from Clio, filled with rambling gossip—she, from Cunard at Washington—saying he was en route home—a letter from Mrs. Cunard asking her to be her guest, you come?" she asked dubiously. "Of course," answered Judith, then added, "providing I come back."

"I sure like to go then," agreed Delphy.

Judith was back in Houston. The peace of the Bayou City, after the months she had spent on the plains, was gradually relieving the tension of the journey. Mrs. Cunard had met her at the station, installed her in a guest room and put Delphy in a room in the servants' quarters.

"Lige sent your frunks over this morning," she said, "so Delphy can unpack for you. I have to go to a luncheon and a board meeting of my pet charity. I would have made arrangements for you to go with me, but I thought you'd rather rest."

Name ain't nobody there but the new partner

during the trial and then a letter from Judge Morgan.

Judith read this last, then sat up and called, "Delphy, want to go to Houston with me tomorrow?"

"What you say?"

"I've got to leave for Houston on the morning train, don't you want to come along? I'll have to stay there about a month."

Delphy came in her voluminous white cotton night dress half covered with a skimpy, hand-me-down kimono of Mrs. Dale, senior.

"Will you bring me back when Justin is due to arrive at 6:30, so we'll plan to have dinner at 7:30 and if there is anything you want in the meantime, Delphy can arrange with Jenny-Rose."

"Layses, trees, Judith sat up and looked on a velvety green lawn below. The blessed coolness and restfulness of green things growing. She leaned back again and slept.

Delphy appeared at one o'clock with a lunch tray, the morning newspapers and a wordy explanation of her absence due to the yard man being Lige's new wife's step-mother's uncle by marriage and if Miss Judy wasn't meddle her that night he'd drive Delphy out to meet the bride, Rosa Williams-Grant.

"Go, by all means," said Judith, and turned in the newspapers. She glanced little things from the society columns. Important among them being that Mrs. J. Anthony Dale would remain in New York until the holidays, as she was making an intensive study of the science of bridge, with the intention of conducting a lecture course later.

Judith felt relieved. Norman's mother was staying out of town during the embarrassing hours of the will contest.

TRIO ESCAPES OHIO PRISON

Three convicts with a smuggled pistol slid over the wall of Ohio penitentiary at Columbus after disarming a tower guard, Frank Alkire (left). On the pretext of repairing a searchlight, they climbed to the top of the wall, disarmed Alkire and slid to the ground with a cable, as indicated in picture at right. Their escape was accomplished despite extra precautions which had been taken to prevent any attempt to free three Dillinger gangsters within the prison's walls. (Associated Press Photos)

Clio's newspaper carried a feature story which Judith read with low chuckles, then laid aside to telephone her friend.

"I'm hoping you won't have to announce my arrival," she told her, after exchanging greetings. "I'd like a day or two to look around before your fellow-scribes are at my heels."

Clio agreed and Judith spent the rest of the afternoon drowsily browsing through the books Mrs. Cunard had left available.

She was awake at dawn next morning. Cautiously she tiptoed out to the garage. Mrs. Cunard had said she might use the small blue roadster and had given her the key the night before. Delphy's escort was awake, pottering about the garden and unlocked the garage doors and then she was away, the silver tip of the car's nose headed towards Hillendale.

She would go in by the lower road, the one they had built to accommodate crowds going to their barbecue pit, and she would slip quietly through the woods to a spot from which she could see her home. One glance would tell her if it were being cared for.

She parked her car on the dirt road, climbed over the padlocked gate and shuffled through the rock leaves to the barbecue pit. She looked towards the low white servants' house. Someone had come out, slamming the door a little. The man was white... she could see that much before he jammed a battered straw hat over his head.

He was planting something, unquestionably winter stock in the bed she had planned to use for that purpose. She was positive she had mentioned it to no one but Norman.

Deliberately she turned away. Must she think every man she saw was her husband? She looked back, the straw hat had been removed. Dark curls were revealed.

Without looking again towards Hillendale, she backed into the road and went rushing along to the highway.

The house was astir, laughter came from the kitchen, singing from the garage. Judith caught a glimpse of Mrs. Cunard's silvery white head beyond a hedge which protected the rose garden. Delphy talking to her daughter-in-law's step-mother's uncle by marriage, had caught sight of her mistress and came trundling across the paved driveway to meet her.

"Mornin', Miz Dale, how you-all this mornin'?" Delphy was in high fettle. Judith looked at her suspiciously.

"Delphy," she said, staring up directly into the dark eyes, "is Mister Norman at Hillendale?"

"I didn't see him there," she answered truthfully, "and nobody did say he were there."

"Who's staying out there besides the DeMaos, Lige and Rosa?"

"Ain't knowing there's anybody, Jackson," she called to her new friend, "you-all hear Lige say if any guests were at their house?"

"None, ain't nobody there but the new partner."

"Oh," Judith's tone fell with a flat note which Delphy was quick to recognize.

Oilers To Play Coahoma Bulldogs In Game There Sunday

BY HANK HART

Leonard Rose was good Thursday, but he could not beat "Pop" Payne who allowed only one hit and struck out nine of the Colts to win 3-1.

Rose was very effective as he allowed only two hits but the Oilers batted these to take the game. The Midland twirler left eight men standing at the plate in his stay on the mound.

The Colts broke the ice in the initial inning when Estes brought Hill home on a two base hit. However, he did not slow-up at the middle sack and was stopped at third by Sain on a line toss by Mosley from far right center.

Coming up in the first inning, Sammy Sain, veteran "hot" corner artist, poled a mighty hit into left field but drew up at second to content himself with a double. In other days, Sam could have stretched that wallop into a homer with ease, but Sammy has been around quiet awhile.

In the second frame, Baber and Moffett came through with successive hits and Cosden went into a one-run lead when both players pulled a beautiful steal at the plate.

Midland threw away a good chance in the fifth when Selman, who had advanced to second base on an error—was caught off the middle sack.

Moffett came through with his second hit in the seventh and scored his second run on Patton's hit into the outfield.

Williams was safe at first in the eighth on an error, but Pap promptly ended the threat by whiffing two of the Colts in succession.

Sunday, the Oilers journey eastward to Coahoma to play their first league game with the ratty Bulldogs.

'Grandpa' Glenn And Team Hit Safely 25 Times

Grandpa Glenn's Herald Type Lice pounced viciously upon the offering of Hammond, Methodist twirler, Thursday evening for a top heavy win of 14-2.

The victory placed the Lice in the top bracket with Robinsons, Southern Ice and Settles hotel.

Both sides were slapping the ball hard, but the Herald fielders stood up in the pinches and only two Methodists saw anything past third base.

Errors on the part of the Men's Bible class infielders and outfielders made far more pronounced the margin. Slow fielding on the part of the Methodists allowed many blows to go for hits that should have been out.

McMahon, Herald twirler, and Marvin Burleson, Herald left fielder, hit for four bases. Burleson led the hitting with four safe blows in five times at bat.

The Campa, though but a few days old, has a good chance of being "God in Heaven" and another "evil" or "Evil Spirit". They are believers in witchcraft, and sometimes kill fellow tribesmen blamed for fatal illness among their group.

Mr. Reifsnnyder has brought with him to the United States a four year old Indian boy, that he was able to rescue from being buried alive with his dead mother, when three days old. Born on Sunday his father's name is Jim Dunning, Spanish for the Day. The Reifsnnyder retained it for his last name and called him Billy. Billy speaks and sings in three languages; the English, the Spanish and his native dialect.

Motion pictures, depicting Rev. Reifsnnyder's thrilling experiences on the beaten trail of the white man and in pathless jungles among the savage will be shown at 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening in place of regular services.

The public is cordially invited to hear Billy sing, to see the motion pictures and to hear the missionary tell the thrilling stories of his experiences and work in Peru. A free will offering will be taken.

Cosden Oilers At Coahoma For Sunday Contest

BY HANK HART

Coahoma, city fair haired ball players will entertain the Cosden Oilers in the Big Spring representative's first league game Sunday, May 6.

Cosden was left holding the bag in their last attempt at an official game when Lamesa decided it was useless to travel more than fifty miles for the sole purpose of trying a defeat at the hands of the Oilers.

Our fair city to the east, famous for her ball teams among other things, ran into more opposition than they could handle in their last encounter and came out of the fracas second best. Coahoma has always turned out for their games and the sidelines are expected to be well filled by game time.

Colorado, originally slated to play Lamesa, will attempt to blast out the Mexican Tigers on the Coahoma diamond. The Bengals stepped into the league to take the place of Lamesa who complained all their players flew their nest for better parts, notably the Basin league.

Barring undeveloped letdowns, the Tigers should make it quite interesting as the striped Cats have never been a loser for any one.

Sunday To Be Outstanding Day In Christian Church Revival; Attendance At Meeting Grows

An unbroken record was maintained in the revival services at the First Christian church last night when a fine young business man came forward to confess his faith in the Christ and follow Him in obedience. Not a service has thus far been held without one or more additions to the church which adds the splendid interest that is being shown. The attendance is increasing with each service.

Last night Dr. Finnell spoke on the subject "The Judgment," using Acts 17:30,31 to show the certainty in the mind of God that such an event will have to be faced by all humanity. So definite is this event in God's mind and program that the record says that a "day" has been set when the world will be judged in righteousness. Humanity will not be judged as to its financial standing, social prestige or political attainment, but in regard to each individual's relationship to the Christ through righteousness and obedient living.

Dr. Finnell stressed the fact that judgment will not be a group judgment and will be based upon each person's record as made here in life. The small and the great, the rich and the poor, the good and the bad, devout and indifferent, will have to face the record of life as here lived.

All leaders and workers of the church are urging that Sunday may be an outstanding day in the work of the church beginning with a record attendance at Bible school promptly at 9:45 a. m. and an effort to reach our goal of 250 in study. Each member and friend of the church is urged to strive with us in the reaching of these high aims. All who are not in regular attendance in some other church or Bible school are urged to come and share with us in these inspirational meetings.

Services will begin promptly this evening at 8:00 p. m., but all singers are urged to be present ten minutes early for a pre-prayer service in the choir room. The sermon subject for the evening will be "The Power of Decision" and is a message especially designated for the help of the younger folk.

Dr. L. R. Roof, pastor of the Christian Church of Colorado, said that he and a large delegation of members from Colorado would attend the services tonight. Mr. Roof will give some special numbers at the service.

Although the Campa Indians prohibit by death penalty the white man's entrance into their territory in the eastern jungles of Peru, Rev. A. F. Reifsnnyder, diminutive, soft-spoken American missionary successfully dared that hazard. His journey into the interior climaxed three years among the natives on the fringe of the Campa country.

The Campa, one of the largest, the most cruel and the most savage Indian tribes in the Amazon river basin, unlike the once powerful Incas, is not known to ever have been conquered, resents the intrusion of the white man who has driven some Campa into slavery; has swooped down upon them to steal their women and children, which makes the Campa skeptical of the suggestion that there are other kinds of white men.

Reifsnnyder, who with his wife, was a missionary in the jungle up in the headwaters of the Amazon, approached the Campa carefully. He learned how to gain their confidence, took care not to betray it,

Wrestling Game Is Inaugurated In Big Spring Before Large Crowd At Casino Thursday Night

After a lapse of "many moons," wrestling, with its new holds, spins and butts, returned to Big Spring Thursday night at the Casino. A fairly good crowd seemed to enjoy the last match between Yaqui Joe and Benny Wilson. Indeed, it was a good match—one that kept the participants and spectators very much interested, throughout.

Matchmaker Casey Jones, brought together four good men. In two matches, and had tried hard to line up some other prelims, but was unable to do so, because they could not get licenses for the would-be participants. Deputy Commissioner Roy Simmons would not allow them to be held without being properly licensed.

The first match, a 35 minute, best two-out-of-three falls, between Jimmie Murphy "the Wild Irishman," weight 125, of Abilene, and Tony Conti, weight 150, of New Jersey, was slow and draggy as these men, evidently feared or were not well enough acquainted with one another to "put out" and confined most of their efforts to making faces at one another or getting thrown outside the ring and begged to re-enter.

Referee Joe Brickhouse awarded the first fall to Jimmie, with an airplane spin, in nine minutes flat. Tony won the second fall in 11 minutes and 10 seconds with a body slam; and Jimmie won the third in 12 minutes and 15 seconds in a top body slam.

To banish legiveness, headaches and other constipation ailments, cleanse your bowels of putrid waste with Fennel-mint, the delicious chewing gum laxative that gives complete and thorough movement. It does this because you chew it. Chewing distributes the laxative ingredients of Fennel-mint uniformly throughout the intestines to give you a "full," more natural movement. That's why Fennel-mint moves complete, more thorough. That's why it never clogs the system nor absorbs the bowels. It is safe and gentle and non-irritating. Fennel-mint because of its more modern action eliminates any necessity of expurgating that delay that sets start of putrid wastes. Sipping their passage into your system.
