Texas spared worst of base-closing ax

Centers in Midland, Abilene eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texas largely dodged the base-closings ax wielded today by the Pentagon, avoiding the fate that other military-rich states such as California are facing.

The only Texas facilities that appear on the base closings list proposed by Defense Secretary Les Aspin are the Dallas Naval Air Station, a naval reserve facility in Midland and a Navy-Marine Corps reserve center in Abilene.

"We have indications that when all the realignment is said and done that Texas is going to gain jobs out of the whole deal," a Texas congressional staffer said today, speaking on condition of anonymity.

"I wouldn't trade places with any state in the Union this morning," said Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas.

"This is a great testament to the quality of military bases in our state," Gramm said. "The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the secretary of defense have again recognized that the taxpayers get a good return when the taxpayer invests in defense in Texas. I could not be happier or more pleased with this announcement."

Gramm said Texas overall will gain a total of 915 military and 790 civilian personnel.

The Dallas Naval Air Station, located on the edge of Grand Prairie, has 1,731 full-time active duty military personnel and 836 full-time civilian employees, said station spokesman Lt. Cmdr. Andy Wilson. Some 6,557 reservists also are attached to the naval air station part-time, Wilson said. The air station's main mission is to train reserves from all branches of the military, including the Coast Guard. Wilson said there would be no official comment regarding the proposed closing until the list is officially released by the Pentagon later today.

Gramm said most of the personnel from the Dallas Naval Air Station will be shifted to nearby Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, despite the fact that Carswell, under the last round of base closings, is due to close by Sept. 30.

"All reserve center assets from the naval station in Dallas are being moved to Carswell," Gramm said, adding that Carswell also gains aviation assets from Detroit and Memphis, Tenn.

The losses of the naval reserve centers in Abilene and Midland will cost 17 and six military jobs respectively, Gramm said.

Texas lawmakers, in the days leading up to today's announcement, had expressed cautious optimism that none of the major military facilities in the state would appear on the base closings list.

Aspin recommended shutting down 31 major military installations, realigning 12 others and scaling back 122 others, according to Defense Department documents.

California, which along with Virginia is the only state that has more military installations than Texas, will lose 10 major and minor facilities.

The list is certain to cause consternation on Capitol Hill as communities nationwide deal with the third round of base closures and realignment in the past five years.

In the last round, in 1991, Texas lost three facilities: Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Carswell Air Force Base and Chase Field Naval Air Station in Beeville.

Planning for the future

Shirley Intermediate School principal David Fanning, left, visits with staff members about the school's plans for the future, which include changing the way classes are operated, how information

School trying to re-invent process

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

To hear them tell it, the teachers and administration at Shirley Intermediate School plan to redefine and re-implement education.

Of course, that is part of their challenge as part of the state Partnership Schools Initiative program, in which state Education Commissioner Skip Meno has challenged 83 schools across Texas to radically rethink how children are taught in the state.

Shirley is the only Hereford school in the program.

"This has to be kind of a bottom up kind of thing," Shirley principal David Fanning said, adding that the process is working from the school level up through administration, rather than the other way around.

"What we've done this year is we've laid the foundation for what we're going to do" in the upcoming school years.

"Achievement is the bottom line—we have to show results," he said.

The process of transforming the education process at Shirley began last year, Fanning said, with discussions of what the school is doing this year.

Teachers found 49 things, including work in climate, curriculum, training and new programs.

Ultimately, said Fanning and a group of eight teachers who met Thursday to talk about the school's involvement in the program, the school will be radically changed in everything from subject presentation to classroom makeup and information presented in report cards.

To that end, Fanning said, "We met about a month ago and talked about some ideas," which were then formulated into a vision and specific goals for the 1993-94 school year.

The vision is to "Produce happy, successful students with high self-esteem."

The means to that end are:

- Use instructional portfolios to report growth and progress.

- To match students and teachers using learning and teaching styles.

- To create learning teams of teachers and students that progress through the fourth, fifth and sixth grade levels.

- Use integrative, thematic curriculum and instruction.

- Involve parents and community.

- Content mastery teacher Merlee McWehly warned that, "It's not going to all be in place" at the beginning of the school year, while Fanning said Meno wants schools in the PSI program to implement their new programs within five years.

And, said fourth grade teacher Kelly Goodin, "If it doesn't work, we can stop it and go on in a different direction."

"One of the things we've done for the school," said fourth grade teacher (See SCHOOL, Page 2)

Construction to begin on new dairy in Portales, NM

Mid-America Dairymen, Inc., plans to begin construction in the next two months on a milk-processing plant in Portales, N.M., which would produce 60 million pounds of milk a month, according to an Associated Press report this week.

Mid-America of Springfield, Mo., is a cooperative consisting of 13,000 dairy farm families in 15 states. Company officials had visited Hereford last year when it made a short list of possible sites for the plant.

New Mexico Gov. Bruce King estimated the Portales plant would create about 50 jobs at first and perhaps as many as 200 in the long run. Citizens of Roosevelt County raised $400,000 to purchase the site for the new plant in the Portales Industrial Park, a press release from the governor's office stated.

"Our studies show Portales to be an ideal location for this facility," said Mid-American chief executive Gary Hanman. He said Portales was chosen because "New Mexico is the fastest growing milk-producing state in the nation" with a 13 percent growth rate.

Snow blankets Hereford; other Panhandle towns hit harder

By The AP, HEREFORD BRAND

Hereford recorded a light 1-inch blanket of snow early this morning as the snow fell across a vast area of West Texas early today and forecasts called for possible sleet and snow across North Texas.

By 4 a.m., as much as three inches of snow covered northern portions of the Texas Panhandle and trace amounts of snow fell over the South Plains.

Some snowfall amounts included nearly 3 inches at Amarillo, 2-3 inches at Dumas, an inch at Dalhart and Hereford and a trace at Lubbock. Snow continued to fall in Hereford at mid-morning.

A snow advisory was in effect for northern portions of the Texas Panhandle during the morning and for southern sections of the Panhandle by afternoon as well as for northern and eastern portions of the South Plains.

A winter weather advisory was in effect for North Texas where accumulations of snow and sleet could amount to as much as 2 inches.

Forecasters said freezing temperatures tonight will be recorded across all of Texas north of a line from Del Rio to San Antonio to Houston.

Forecasters called for the snow to end by evening in West Texas and to continue in the evening hours across North and Northeast Texas.

Skies will be clearing from the west beginning tonight in West Texas.

In North Texas, some sleet fell in Garland during the pre-dawn hours.

The winter weather was triggered by the combination of a strong low pressure system in South Texas and colder air moving in over the state.

Heavy rain was reported during the night in portions of North Texas and North Central Texas. Waco had 1.59 inches in six hours. Shreveport got .86 of an inch and the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport got .49 of an inch.

It will be mostly clear and cold by Saturday in North Texas.

Skies will be clearing across South Texas tonight and Saturday.

Candidates file for city, hospital board elections

A second candidate for election to the board of Deaf Smith County Hospital District and an incumbent Hereford city commissioner have filed for places on May 1 ballots.

Jo Beth Shackelford, who operates a Hereford insurance agency, filed for the hospital board.

Silvana Juarez filed formally Thursday for re-election to the Place 1 seat on the City Commission. She had announced earlier that she would be a candidate.

Filing for city, school and hospital district elections ends next Wednesday.

In addition to Shackelford, an incumbent, Mal Manchee, has filed for re-election to the hospital district board. Terms of Dr. Robert Bidwell and Dr. Stan Fry Jr., also expire this year.

City of Hereford filings also are sparse. Bob Josseland, candidate for mayor, and Dennis Hicks, seeking election to the Place 3 seat, have filed. Mayor Tom LeGate and James McDowell, the Place 3 commissioner, have announced they will not be candidates for re-election.

In Hereford Independent School District trustee elections, Raul Valdez, District 2, and Dennis Newton, at-large, have filed for re-election. John Fuston, who also holds an at-large seat, will not seek re-election.

We borrowed the following item from another area paper, and it's a good reminder for all during tough times:

"You say you love me, but sometimes you don't show it. In the beginning, you couldn't do enough for me, but now you seem to take me for granted. Some days I wonder if I mean anything to you at all.

"Maybe when I'm gone, you'll appreciate me and all the things I do for you. I'm responsible for getting the food on your table, for the clean shirt you wear each day, for the welfare of our children and your home, and for the thousand-and-one things you want and need.

Car bombs kill 100, injure 530

BOMBAY, India (AP) - At least 100 people were killed and 530 injured today when car bombs exploded across Bombay. Two of the blasts set fire to skyscrapers housing India's largest stock exchange and the headquarters of its international airline.

State officials said scattered Hindu-Muslim violence erupted in several areas of the city. Witnesses saw Hindus set two cars afire in a Muslim area. In another area, Muslims torched a building and threw stones during a rampage.

Still reeling from nine days of rioting in January, Bombay braced for a possible new outburst of communal violence.

Cult leader reneges on promises

WACO, Texas (AP) - Federal negotiators once again have been left holding the bag as a religious cult leader reneged on his promise to release cult members and continued an armed standoff with hundreds of federal agents.

Lawmen watched and waited for the promised release of three religious cult members who have said they want to leave the fortified compound where the standoff enters its 13th day.

More than a week ago, Koresh reneged on a promise to surrender the entire cult once a radio station played a 58-minute statement of his on the air.

FBI agents said negotiators were told that three adult males had received doomsday prophet David Koresh's permission to leave the 77-acre compound that's been surrounded by authorities since a Feb. 28 shootout killed four Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents and wounded 16.

"We're just sitting tight," FBI spokesman Pete Brust said Thursday night, more than 18 hours after negotiators were told of the planned release.

Heavy rain and fog blanketed the Branch Davidian compound during the afternoon and night, as the Sheila Straughan, "We've tried to be more student-oriented, to meet their needs. In the past you might have been more book-oriented."

Music teacher Jane Gulley noted that, "We're also trying to have students who are prepared. We want to give them the very best foundation in basic areas," to encourage them to stay in school, as well as to prepare them for life after formal education.

Said McWethy, "Essentially, we're doing all this... our goal is to have all our children at least on grade level when they leave our building and go on to junior high."

Teachers also, said sixth grade teacher Clint Seward, want the students to have fun learning and enjoy learning.

One of the most obvious changes in Shirley's educational program will be a switch from the current way of educating to a concept known as "instructional portfolios."

"The portfolio is going to be used as a tool to assess where they (students) are in the intermediate level," said Straughan.

"We're going to take the Texas Essential Elements and put them in order fourth grade through sixth grade, when they will be introduced," said McWethy.

This, said Fanning, will help to weather began to turn colder. While highs reached into the 80s earlier this week, below-freezing temperatures were forecast for the weekend.

Two elderly women and 21 children were allowed to leave last week. But the last release, of a young girl, occurred March 5. Ninety adults and 17 children are still believed to be in the compound.

FBI spokesman Dick Swensen on Thursday called Koresh's latest promised release a positive signal in negotiations to end the stalemate.

But Swensen also cautioned, "Until they come out, we won't be comfortable that they are coming out."

Swensen identified one of the three men who want to leave the compound as Oliver Gyrfas, 19, an Australian. Identities of the other two men weren't known, he said.

Gyrfas father, also named Oliver, told radio station KRLD, that, "David Koresh, he's a lovely person. And a great teacher of the scriptures."

Koresh, an apocalyptic preacher who has called himself a prophet, has said earlier that he was injured in the gun battle. Since Tuesday, he has complained to authorities of a headache and left negotiations to several other cult members, led by aspiring preacher Steve Schneider.

Asked if he believed Koresh was mortally wounded, Swensen said, "Frankly, no." He said Schneider sometimes leaves the telephone during negotiations to consult with Koresh.

Also Thursday, a 12-year-old girl who lived with the cult for four years said that while there, she was taught to put a gun in her mouth and instructed how to commit suicide by taking cyanide.

Kiri Jewell of Niles, Mich., appearing on the "Donahue" television show, described how she was trained to commit suicide while she lived at the compound.

The girl said she fears Koresh's followers will kill themselves, and she urged federal authorities to break the standoff by invading the compound. "Better a few people die than all of them," she said.

The girl was removed from the compound last year after a court granted her father custody. Her mother, Sherri Jewell, is believed to still be there.

Appearing on the talk show with her father and aunt, Kiri said she was being groomed to become one of Koresh's many "wives" and that her mother didn't object.

Meanwhile, U.S. District Judge

Walter Smith Jr. rejected a request to grant Koresh access to a lawyer while the negotiations proceed.

Smith rejected the motion filed by lawyer Kirk Lyons, who represents Koresh's mother, Bonnie Haldeman. The judge also ordered the government's response to the request sealed, even to Lyons.

"The main thing we're made about is that the government moved to seal their response to my motion and I am not entitled to a copy of that response," Lyons said. "My question is, 'What are they hiding?'"

A similar request filed by a second lawyer is pending.

As attorneys maneuvered on behalf of the cult, the federal government filed a warrant against one member.

Agent Dan Conroy of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms said an arrest warrant had been issued for cult member Paul Fatta, 35, charging him with conspiracy to manufacture and possess unregistered machine guns.

Fatta, whose whereabouts were unknown, was at an Austin gun show on the day of the shootout.

Wheat board seeking use of pesticide

A potential crisis on infestation of wheat fields this spring by large numbers of Russian wheat aphids has prompted the Texas Wheat Board to request an exemption for a pesticide currently banned.

Bill Nelson of Amarillo, executive vice president of Texas Wheat, reported Tuesday that requests have been sent to Texas Department of Agriculture from his board and from the Panhandle office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nelson said an early alert on the situation was sent to TDA on Sept. 28, 1992. Dr. Carl Patrick, extension entomologist, Tuesday sent another request to TDA's pesticide special regulation program director.

The request noted that "unseasonably warm weather the past week has brought about a rapid increase in Russian wheat aphid in the Texas Panhandle." Dr. Patrick noted that wheat farmers "need an insecticide that is not only efficacious, but provides the longest residual in order to keep at a minimum the number of insecticide applications made to protect the crop."

Patrick said tests in this area have shown that chlorpyrifos (Lorsban 4E) meets the requirements better than current labeled insecticides. He added that it allows grazing which is an important option for area wheat farmers.

Nelson said TDA has already forwarded the request to the Environmental Protection Agency in Washington for action, and he hopes there will be a decision this week.

Enjoy TV bingo game

As parents of the '90s, we can hardly deny the influence TV has on children's lives. Most of us are aware of its seductive power to possibly transform us into couch potatoes or, worse yet, desensitized humans. That's why we must take an active role in determining what and how much our children watch. Sometimes that means turning the TV off.

When there is a worthwhile program to watch, viewing TV with our children and discussing what they see are positive steps toward balancing its influence on impressionable minds. Spending that time can be fun, too. Here's a game your family can play while viewing. It's a take-off on Travel Bingo, so your school-age kids may already be familiar with the "how-to's."

-To make the TV bingo cards, each person should draw a grid on a piece of paper, five squares across and five squares down

-Take turns naming something you might see on the TV program such as a dog, a man with a hat, a child on a bike, etc.

Write these items on the grid, one item for each square in a random placement. Be sure everyone has a different arrangement.

electrifying courtroom drama of murder, betrayal and deceit. Compelling Evidence by Steve Martini features Paul Madriani a brilliant criminal defense attorney who has left a major law firm and established a small solo practice. Paul made this decision following an affair with Ben Potter's wife. Ben's faultless reputation has earned a nomination to the U.S. Supreme Court, but on the eve of the nomination Potter is found dead. At first it appears to be a suicide but as the details come to light murder becomes more apparent. The chief suspect is the victim's wife, Talia Potter. Talia turns to the only one she can trust, her former lover Paul Madriani, for help. This book will hold your attention until the final shocking conclusion. It is said to be as good as Presumed Innocent.

Shooter by Eric Knikopf introduces us to Stan Kochinski, a cop who never meant to be a cop. Stan finds himself "walking on eggs" when his ruthless police chief sets out to end Stan's career. As Stan feels his way through the "mine field" he discovers a conspiracy that takes in the total Detroit governing elite. In the middle of it all Stan finds a woman who's haunting past "may cause her to be the most dangerous one of all."

D.R. Meredith has turned from mystery writing to historical fiction in her latest book A Time Too Late. Mattie Joe Hunter was content to be the pampered lady of society until her husband forced her to leave it all behind. With the promise of cheap land Mattie leaves the security of her father's house to build a ranching empire on the desolate Texas Panhandle. As Mattie plans what to take to her new home Jess McDade, newly hired Ranch manager, explains what this new land will be like. Mattie cannot believe there is a place with no trees, where people live in holes in the ground like animals. Determined to make her marriage and the ranch a success Mattie will do what ever it takes. She must learn to drive a team of mules, shoot, cook for a trail crew, and deal with lice. As Samuel Hunter, Mattie's husband, becomes repulsed by the independent strong-willed woman he sees, Jess McDade begins to admire and respect her more and more.

Annie Oakley by Shirl Kasper is the "most complete and accurate record of Annie Oakley's life and achievements." This portrait of an American original tells how her shooting career began. Frank Butler, a professional sharpshooter held a contest in which he was defeated by Annie. Frank fell in love with Annie and married her shortly after the contest. Frank eventually gave up his own act to become Annie's manager. They were married for 42 years, until their deaths just a few days apart in 1926. Annie's "agility, precision and charm" made her famous throughout the world. A prim and proper woman, conservative in her views, hard working and frugal found great pride in being accepted as "a lady."

Another biography on the new book list is Desilu: The story of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Coyne Steven Sanders and Tom Gilbert with the help of Lucie Arnaz and Gary Morton strive to give Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. Desilu Productions was responsible for creating such hits as "The Untouchables," "Star Trek," "Mission Impossible" and "The Lucy Show." The overwhelming pressures of wealth and fame led to the destruction of a turbulent marriage, but never their love for each other.

Other titles of interest are: My Father's World by Michael Phillips and Judith Pella marks the first volume in the Journals of the Corrie Belle Hollister series. The difficult journey by wagon train to the California gold field leaves 15 year old Corrie Belle alone to look after the 4 younger children. Uncle Nick was to meet them in the mining camp, but upon their arrival, Corrie Belle discovers Uncle Nick is in trouble with the law and nowhere to be found. Will they be able to make it on their own. Corrie Belle knows she must try.

Gates of Zion by Bodie Thoene is book one in the Zion Chronicles Series, not to be confused with the Zion Covenant series. This series begins in 1947 with the "intense struggle of the Jewish people in the aftermath of the Holocaust."

Hints from Heloise

Health hints

Dear Heloise: I dripped some instant glue on my kitchen counter and cannot figure out what will take it up. It's very noticeable.

What would you recommend? — Sarah D. McKeough, Fayetteville, N.C.

A safe and easy way to remove instant glue from a counter top, according to a major manufacturer, is with a soap and water compress. Saturate a wash cloth in warm soapy water (as warm as possible without burning your hand) and place it over the glue.

Repeat this process every 15 to 20 minutes, making sure the water is hot enough to soften the glue. It might take a couple of hours, but eventually the glue should soften enough so that you can peel it off with your fingernail.

Commercial solvents are also available at most hardware stores. Be aware that most of these contain acetone, which will probably remove the shine from the counter top depending on what type of surface it is.

Read the label carefully, and test in an inconspicuous area before using the product. — Heloise

SHORT CUT

Dear Heloise: When I was in a hurry one day, I discovered a short cut for making peanut butter cookies.

Instead of chilling the dough, I sprayed the palms of my hands with cooking spray to keep the dough from sticking. It worked great!

In addition to being able to bake the cookies immediately, I didn't need to dip the fork in flour to score the cookies, and I didn't have to grease the cookie sheet since the cookies already had cooking spray on them. — Amy A. Oblinger, Ravenna, Ohio

QUICK HINT
Dear Heloise: I keep a small plastic container filled with 1-tablespoon slices of margarine.

When a recipe calls for a tablespoon of margarine, I don't have to fuss with cutting or measuring. I simply take as many slices as I need out of the container. It works wonderfully with no mess! — Karen M. Zhea, Papillion, Neb.

PICKLED BEETS
Dear Heloise: I have read your recipe for sweet dills and it reminded me of something I have done for years.

Save the juice from sweet pickles. Open a can of sliced beets, drain, and add to the jar of sweet pickle juice. Put them in the refrigerator for about 24 hours.

They taste great and last as long as pickles do. They go well with so many things that need a little zing to wake them up. — Naomi Brown, Hale Center, Texas

Yup, they sure do! My mother always said a couple of slices of pickled beets on a plate sure add a dash of color and a zippy taste. — Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is an emergency ice pack that really helped my husband when he had a toothache.

Since I didn't have much ice, I took two wash cloths, wet them with cold water, put each in its own zipper-type plastic sandwich bag and put them in the freezer.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When my husband died, I became a WIDOWED MOTHER. When my sister was divorced, she became a DIVORCED MOTHER. Our cousin, who never married, adopted two children and became an ADOPTIVE MOTHER.

We resent being referred to as "single mothers," putting our children on the same level with illegitimate children, born of unwed women.

Yes, Ann, there are still some old-fashioned females who believe that mothers should be married before they bear and raise children. We don't appreciate being lumped in with tramps and whores.

There is no excuse for having a child out of wedlock in this day and age when so many methods of birth control (including just saying NO) are available to all.

I believe you owe all of us moral mothers an apology.--legitimate Moms (By Law) in New Mexico.

DEAR NEW MEX: Of all the self-righteous, holier-than-thou letters I have received these past several years, yours wins first prize.

Countless numbers of unmarried mothers have done a fine job of raising their children. Many opted to do it alone rather than marry a bum who would be a worthless husband and a terrible father.

Contraceptives have been known to fail. Undoubtedly, some of the women you are condemning chose to have the child and face the hardship rather than abort. You owe an apology to a great number of good women in my reading audience whom you have offended.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am six months pregnant and would like you to print this letter for all the insensitive males who comment on how big I have gotten.

To Whom It May Concern: Yes, I am pregnant. I am now some 20 pounds heavier than I was six months ago. My back aches, my feet hurt and I am on a restricted diet. I'm tired and generally sick of being pregnant. I don't need you to rub my belly and offer comments on how big it is. And please don't ask how many I'm going to have. The answer is only one. I don't want to hear about the pregnancies and labor pains your wife had. This is my first child, and I admit I'm apprehensive, but I prefer not to discuss it with anyone but my husband and my doctor. I am trying to remain professional in my job. It is very difficult to lead a technical discussion after having just been told yet another horror story about how "her water broke in the middle of a meeting."

It is none of your business how much weight I have gained or if I plan to use drugs to help me through labor. I need to trust my doctor, and I don't care what they gave your wife or how she managed.

If I want advice from you, I will ask for it. Until then, please respect my privacy and the shaky emotional state that most pregnant women live with. I will not comment on the weight you have gained as you stuff the third donut in your mouth, if you will stop saying "WOW!" when you see me waddle down the hall at work.--Temporarily Bummed Out in Falls Church, Va.

DEAR BUMMED: You have written a letter that will strike a resonant chord in every female who has ever been pregnant. Including me. Your message to insensitive males is a good one. I hope they get it.

What can you give the person who has everything? Ann Landers' booklet, "Gems," is ideal for a nightstand or coffee table. "Gems" is a collection of Ann Landers' most requested poems and essays. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Arkansas leads the United States in the production of the minerals bromine and vanadium and produces about 85 percent of the nation's bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is made.

The first municipal university in the United States was the University of Cincinnati in Ohio.

It is thus with most of us: we are what other people say we are. We know ourselves chiefly by hearsay.

Cultural program heard by chapter

A cultural program titled "Family: Reward Harvested From Family Life" was presented by Ruby Lee for members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority when they met recently in the home of President Kay Williams.

Lee spoke of experiences in her own life such as the birth of a grandchild, Cheyanne Hutson, that has helped her cope with life in general. She emphasized the point of keeping your sense of humor and realizing that this is one of the great senses that human beings possess. Each member was then asked to draw from their own experiences and tell of a humorous incident in their lives.

President Williams opened the meeting by welcoming Charla Edwards who has been on a leave of absence. Members repeated the opening ritual and answered roll call.

A communication was read from chapter sweetheart, Peggy Hyer, thanking the group for honoring her at the recent sweetheart brunch. Also, Connie Matthews read a thank you note from the chapter's adopted sister, Billie Brown.

Appreciation was extended to secret sisters by Ruby Sanders, Denise Hafliger, Marge Bell, Peggy Hyer, Dona Henrickson, Gaye Reily and Connie Matthews. Lee thanked Williams for the use of her home for the meeting and for the pre-Valentine Ball party.

Sharon Bodner reminded members of the open house at Terry's Floral and Gifts scheduled from 1-4 p.m. Sunday. Refreshments will be served by chapter members.

City Council President Denise Hafliger reported that Beta Night will be held from 8-11 p.m. March 27 at the Community Center. Cost is $5 per person. Each person attending will receive $1,000 in "play money" to begin the games. Beta Night players will also be eligible for three prizes: A night's stay and breakfast at the Hudspeth House in Canyon; a $40 gift certificate from Terry's Floral and Gifts; and $20 in Hereford Bucks.

The next meeting will be held March 23 at Terry's Floral and Gifts with the cultural program, "Famous Quotations", to be given by Connie Matthews. Holly Bixler will serve as co-hostess. "Health: Establishing Mental and Physical Health Goals" will be the program presented by Denise Hafliger at the April 6 meeting in the dining room of Deaf Smith General Hospital. Election of chapter officers will also be conducted.

Lee asked for volunteers for the Annual Crusade Walk for the Deaf Smith County Unit of the American Cancer Society scheduled April 18.

Early disease detection

Now easy for doctors to detect and cure is a disease that's very common in both men and women.

The disease is chlamydia, a sexually transmitted disease (STD) that affects more than 2.5 million women, 1.8 million men and 110,000 infants in the U.S. Many people who have the disease don't know it and going without treatment can be dangerous. Women can contract a variety of reproductive system disorders and pass the disease along to their newborns; men can get urinary infections and risk sterility.

If you're a sexually active adult, many experts believe you should be tested for chlamydia periodically.

Once detected, chlamydia is easy to cure.

First aid being taught

Members of the Little Peppers 4-H Club have been working on a babysitting project. This month, Betty Henson, executive director of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross, taught the group how to perform first aid on choking victims including infants. In February, Henson taught basic first aid skills.

When our first First Lady, five-foot-tall Martha Washington, wanted to get the attention of her husband George, who was nearly six feet, four inches tall, she had to pluck at his coat buttons.

Snow forces change in athletic schedule

Friday's snow has forced postponement of both the tennis tournament and the track meet planned in Hereford this weekend.

The track meet will go on Saturday, but it won't start until 1 p.m., boys' athletic director Danny Haney said. Events will be decided by times in preliminary races--finals won't be run.

The scratch meeting for the meet will be at noon, and workers need to report then, Haney said.

The tennis tournament, which was to start today, will be played Saturday if weather permits, girls' athletic director Brenda Reeh said. She'll get up very early Saturday morning and decide then, she said.

If the tennis tournament is played, it will be completed Saturday, she said. Pro sets may be played instead of regular match-scoring, if necessary. Elsewhere, the Dumas baseball tournament has been cancelled, Haney said.

Hereford lost in Thursday's first round, as River Road scored twice in the bottom of the seventh inning to claim a 9-8 win. Sammy Casarez started on the mound for Hereford and pitched into the seventh. Ruben Ramos relieved in the seventh, but couldn't get Casarez out of a jam, and Casarez took the loss. Herd coach T.R. Sartor could not be reached for more details.

Hereford had taken an 8-7 lead into the bottom of the seventh after scoring three in the top of the inning.

Hereford scored two in the top of the first, but River Road answered with three runs in the bottom of the inning and one in the second. After River Road scored twice in the fourth to stretch the lead to 6-3, Hereford came back to tie with three runs in the fifth. River Road took the lead back with one run in the bottom of the sixth.

Hereford is now 2-6. The Herd hosts Canyon at 4 p.m. Monday at Whiteface Field.

The Plainview junior varsity baseball tournament will not play any games today, but may resume play Saturday. In Thursday's first round, Hereford's JV fell to Tulia's varsity 6-4 in six innings. Tulia scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth, then the game was ended early by the time limit.

Louis Hernandez, Hereford's starter, pitched three perfect innings, but two Hereford errors in the fourth inning led to three runs for Tulia, Hereford coach Charlie Garza said.

Hereford scored three in the top of the fourth and one in the fifth to take a 4-3 lead, but two more errors helped Tulia score three in the bottom of the seventh. Josh Tice relieved Hernandez in the seventh and took the loss.

Offensively, Hereford had 10 stolen bases, including three by Armando Zambrano. Tice had two doubles, and Jacob Lopez had a ground-rule double that was nearly a home run, Garza said.

Herd sets three hoop records

Three Hereford High School records were broken during the 1992-93 boys' basketball season.

The Herd set a team record with 18 assists in a 66-46 win over Floydada Dec. 28 in the Canyon Tournament.

Senior forward Eric Sims set two records for shooting accuracy. He now holds the season record for shooting 50.6 percent from two-point range and the single-game record for a 6-for-8 performance.

Lincoln faces Lincoln in 4A final Plainview ousted by buzzer-beater

By CHIP BROWN
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - Here's a good bet for the Class 4A boys' state title: a school named Lincoln will win and they're likely to do so with a 3-pointer.

Port Arthur Lincoln advanced to the championship with a Solomon Jones 3-pointer at the buzzer, giving the Bumble Bees a 53-50 victory over Plainview Thursday night.

That set up Saturday's winner-take-all battle with Dallas Lincoln, which used a Kamond Canady 3-pointer early in overtime to pull away from Waco University and secure an 84-79 victory.

The two Lincolns have won four of the last five state titles - Port Arthur taking the 1988, '89 and '91 crowns and Dallas earning the '90 championship.

In other first-day games at the state tournament, Ferris advanced to its first-ever 3A title game by defeating Gonzales 61-60. They'll face traditional football power Southlake Carroll, an 81-76 winner over Woodville.

Laneville remained focused on repeating as Class A champs by knocking off Claverty 91-73 in a game that set a University Interscholastic League record for points in a Class A tourney game.

Their only remaining hurdle is Weatherford Brock, which topped Petersburg 85-64.

The two 4A games were both nail-biters. Jones' winning shot was buried from the corner after he took a pass from Julian Jackson.

Port Arthur Lincoln (30-5) took possession of the ball with 44 seconds left after Plainview had drawn even at 50 on a driving layup by Tory Bryant.

Steven Riddley scored 18 and Marcus Williams added 16 for Plainview, which finished the year 29-6 after its first appearance in the state tournament since 1971.

Charlex Duhon added nine points for the Bumble Bees, who are making their eighth trip to the state tournament in 12 years. They're now one victory away from their seventh crown.

Standing in the way is Dallas Lincoln (32-3), which appeared to have its semifinal victory locked up with 26 seconds left in regulation when they were leading 72-68.

But University's David Clower sank a free throw and Rodney Smith dribbled the length of the court and connecting on a desperation 3-pointer with five seconds left, tying the game at 72-72.

Overtime was all Lincoln. Carlton Dixon opened the three-minute period with a monstrous dunk then Canady hit a 3-pointer with 2:10 left for a 77-74 and there was no looking back. To give the Tigers a 77-74 lead.

Dixon added 16 points and Sanswalus Kinner had 12 for Dallas Lincoln.

Clarence May had 23 points and Smith added 22 points and 11 rebounds to lead University, which finished the year 29-8 after its first-ever appearance in the state tournament.

Ferris' 3A victory also was dramatic, yet Gonzales fans may view it as tragic.

Kyle Rogers scored 34 points to led Ferris, including a 3-pointer with 1:04 left.

But with 2.9 seconds left, Chris Carrizales was fouled while attempting a 3-pointer, giving him a chance for three free throws that could've tied or won the game for Gonzales (23-12).

Justin Dobbs led Carroll's victory with 19 points and 11 rebounds.

Holmes, who finished with 18 points for Carroll, scored eight points in the final eight minutes of the game to help the Dragons (25-9) maintain their 20-point advantage down the stretch.

Woodville, which finished the season 30-5 after making its first appearance in the state tournament, was led by Ryan Ferguson, who had 18 points.

Ardis Beaty scored 17 and Delondon Speights added 14 for Woodville.

Bradley Drake had 17 and Jeff Croly added 14 for Carroll (25-9).

Laneville (35-3) cruised to victory behind 31 points by Brad Harris and 24 more from Corey Barnes.

The two teams' point total of 164 broke the 1990 record of 162 scored in Santo's 82-80 victory over Brookeland in 1990.

In Weatherford Brock's victory, John T Walker scored 26 points to avenge a loss to Petersburg in last year's state tournament.

Brock (34-4) also made Petersburg pay for 28 turnovers by frequently hitting 3-pointers off of the miscues.

Salinas falls in GG fight

Rudy Salinas of the Hereford Boxing Club lost his first fight Thursday at the state Golden Gloves boxing championships in Forth Worth.

Salinas, a welterweight, lost to Kevin Jackson of the East Texas region, according to a report by The Associated Press.

Ismael Arroyos, another member of the Hereford club, takes on his second opponent tonight after winning his first bout Wednesday. He'll fight Michael Lerma of Fort Worth, last year's state champion, in the welterweight division.

Valenzuela launches comeback

By The Associated Press

Fernando is back, and Kevin Mitchell may be back among the injured. Bo Jackson, meanwhile, must wait another two weeks to find out if the Chicago White Sox still want him.

Making his first appearance in a major league uniform since 1991, Fernando Valenzuela pitched two scoreless innings against Toronto, and the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Blue Jays 4-0 Thursday night at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Valenzuela gave up two hits, a walk and hit a batter. But he benefited from two double plays, the second helping him out of a bases-loaded, no-outs situation in the fifth.

"I haven't felt like this in a long time," said Valenzuela, who claims to be 32 but is believed older. "When I was in the bullpen it was really hard to believe I was back. It meant a lot. I have the confidence that I can make it, but this gives me more."

Mitchell, a 31-year-old outfielder obtained by Cincinnati from the Seattle Mariners, was told Thursday he may have a fractured left foot. He was referred to a foot specialist, who will determine if there is a fracture of the sesamoid bone, a free-floating bone encased within the tendon of the ball of the foot.

The Reds said the injury was not related to a stress fracture of the same foot that caused Mitchell to go on the disabled list Sept. 2 and miss the remainder of the season.

He homered in his first spring at-bat Wednesday, but he played only three innings in his first appearance of the year because of the foot pain.

At Sarasota, Fla., the White Sox said the deadline to pick up Jackson's option was extended two weeks to March 25. Jackson has been hobbled by a sore right hamstring. He has not played in the majors since the last month of the 1991 season because of hip-replacement surgery.

"I think it's going to come down to whether he can run and whether he can play a position for us," general manager Ron Schueler said.

Ugly play-in games dominate college schedule

By The Associated Press

With just one exception, mediocrity took center stage in college basketball as several conference tournaments got underway with the dreaded play-in games.

Only the Atlantic-10 conference held its title game Thursday. No. 20 Massachusetts beat Temple 69-61 to gain an automatic NCAA berth for the second straight year.

Elsewhere it was grunge night as lower-seeded teams played for the chance to meet higher-seeded teams today.

In the Southeastern Conference, the eight worst teams played while the four best sat. In the Big East, the bottom four teams matched up while the six better ones watched. The Atlantic Coast Conference had one play-in game and the Great Midwest had two.

In non-tournament Top 25 games, No. 6 Arizona beat Southern Cal

87-76 and No. 18 Purdue downed Penn State 57-49.

Massachusetts used a 16-0 run in the second half to turn a 40-32 deficit into a 48-40 lead. Temple was held scoreless for 6:50.

"We just outran them," Massachusetts coach John Calipari said.

Rick Brunson led a Temple rally that cut the gap to three with 30 seconds to play, but Massachusetts (23-6) made seven free throws down the stretch.

Williams finished with a team-high 20 points.

"We got into helter-skelter and didn't control the game like we wanted to," Temple's Aaron McKie said. "We fell behind and we stayed behind. It was a big-time game and they were pumped up."

The Owls (17-12), whose schedule was rated the toughest in the nation, still has hopes for an at-large NCAA berth.

No. 6 Arizona 87, Southern Cal 76

At Tucson, Ariz., Chris Mills' 28-point, 16-rebound effort was enough to dash Southern Cal's slim hopes of making the NCAA tournament for a third straight year. The Wildcats (23-3, 16-1) withstood 14 3-pointers by USC (16-10, 9-8).

No. 18 Purdue 57, Penn State 49

At West Lafayette, Ind., Linc Darnier came off the bench to score 12 points, including eight straight in a 16-0 Purdue run, as the Boilermakers (18-8, 9-8 Big Ten) kept their NCAA hopes alive.

Penn State (7-19, 2-15) led 41-35 with 7:03 to play before Darnier went to work. Penn State didn't score again until DeRon Hayes hit a jumper from the top of the key with 1:01 remaining, making the score 51-43.

Atlantic Coast Conference

At Charlotte, N.C., eighth-seeded

Maryland (12-15) took advantage of the poor shooting of North Carolina State (8-19) to take a 76-55 victory.

Big East Conference

At New York, Boston College (16-11) kept its NCAA hopes alive with a 74-70 overtime win against Villanova (8-19).

No. 8 seed Georgetown (16-11), whose only hope for an NCAA bid is to win the tournament, easily turned back ninth-seeded Miami (10-17) 67-40.

Big Sky Conference

At Moscow, Idaho, third-seeded Weber State (20-7) reached the semifinals with a 91-72 win over sixth-seeded Montana State (9-18), and fifth-seeded Idaho State (11-17) beat Montana (17-12), the fourth seed, 61-50.

Great Midwest Conference

At Memphis, Tenn., Marquette's NCAA hopes took a dive as the third-seeded Warriors (20-7) were upset 63-57 by St. Louis (12-16), the No. 6 seed. Fifth-seeded DePaul (16-15) beat fourth-seeded Alabama-Birmingham (17-14) 66-64.

Mid-American Conference

At Columbus, Ohio, Toledo (13-15) beat Ohio 85-84, Western Michigan (17-11) beat Eastern Michigan 65-57, Ball State (25-7) beat Kent 77-57 and Miami of Ohio (21-7) beat Bowling Green 63-50 to advance to the semifinals.

Midwestern Collegiate Conference

At Indianapolis, second-seeded Evansville (21-6) got a scare from seventh-seeded Dayton (4-26) but came away with a 69-66 win. Top-seeded No. 22 Xavier (22-4) beat Loyola 60-50, Duquesne (14-14) edged Detroit Mercy 59-57 and Butler (12-16) topped LaSalle 77-70.

Southeastern Conference

At Lexington, Ky., Tennessee (13-16) ended the NCAA hopes of Auburn (15-11) and moved into the quarterfinals to play host Kentucky tonight. Mississippi (10-17) surprised Florida (16-11) - another NCAA bubble team - 67-62, Alabama (16-11) beat South Carolina (9-18) 86-79 in Steve Newton's last game as coach of the Gamecocks, and Georgia (15-12) earned the right to face Arkansas with a 87-56 pummeling of Mississippi State (13-16).

Southwestern Athletic Conference

At Baton Rouge, La., top-seeded Jackson State (23-7) beat up Prairie View (1-26) 103-70. Alcorn State (8-19) beat Alabama 83-80, Mississippi Valley State (13-14) beat Texas Southern 92-74 and Southern (19-9) beat Grambling 105-91.

Western Athletic Conference

At Salt Lake City, No. 15 Utah (23-5) used a 13-2 run to take a 22-point lead in the second half and went on to beat San Diego State 85-64. The Utes will play fourth-seeded Texas-El Paso (18-9), a 70-65 winner over Colorado State. No. 25 Brigham Young (24-7) overpowered Hawaii 85-71 to move into a semifinal against third-seeded New Mexico (22-6), which took a big early lead and coasted to a 72-48 victory over Fresno State.

Outlaw picked as SWC's best

DALLAS (AP) - Houston's Charles Outlaw has been named the Southwest Conference's Player of the Year.

Outlaw, who was named defensive player of the year by The Associated Press, had 96 blocked shots and averaged 10 rebounds per game.

Outlaw, whose best work came in the paint, shot 65.4 percent and averaged 16.7 points per game.

"He can do more things for the team than anybody I can ever remember playing for me," said Houston coach Pat Foster. "He's without a doubt the premier player in the league."

Outlaw said, "I'm surprised I got it but I'm not going to celebrate until the season is over."

defending NBA champions. It happened Thursday night as Rony Seikaly had a season-high 30 points and added 23 rebounds. Steve Smith scored seven points in the final 2:33 and Michael Jordan missed his last four shots in Miami's 97-95 victory.

Tech, Texas face off in SWC women's finals

DALLAS (AP) - After dominating Southwest Conference women's basketball all season, Texas Tech and Texas will meet for the championship on Saturday afternoon.

Sheryl Swoopes scored 28 points and grabbed 16 rebounds to lead sixth-ranked and top-seeded Texas Tech to a 91-67 victory over Baylor in a semifinal game Thursday night.

No. 14 Texas reached the championship by whipping Southern Methodist 95-76 with Cinietra Henderson leading the way with 26 points.

"It's a great rivalry," Tech coach Marsha Sharp said. "It's two teams that should do well in the NCAA tournament. It's tremendous for our league."

Saturday's championship showdown is a rematch of last year's tournament title game, won by Tech, 76-74.

"Experience was again a big key for us," said Texas coach Jody Conradt. "Once again our seniors took control of the game when we needed them."

barrier," Seikaly said. "It shows that we're capable of playing great basketball against a great team."

Miami was 0-16 during the regular season and 0-3 in the first round of last year's playoffs against Chicago. The victory extended Miami's franchise-record home winning streak to nine games and halted Chicago's road winning streak at seven.

Jordan led Chicago with 29 points, but in the final 2:50 he committed a turnover and missed all four shots he took. Glen Rice had 25 points for Miami.

"They closed the ballgame, which they haven't been able to do in the past against us," Jordan said. "The law of averages will finally catch up to you."

Phoenix (12-0 against Miami) is now the only team the Heat has never beaten. Earlier this season Miami beat the Los Angeles Lakers and Portland Trail Blazers for the first time.

Elsewhere, Houston won its 12th in a row, 104-91 over Portland; New Jersey took Golden State 103-91; it was Sacramento 109, Minnesota 95; Cleveland 118, Charlotte 99; Detroit 112, Denver 104; and Seattle 116, Milwaukee 105.

Rockets 104, Trail Blazers 91

At Houston, the Rockets' 12-game winning streak, the second longest in the NBA this season, is the second longest in their history. The Rockets have won 25 of their last 30 games to surge to the top of the Midwest Division.

A 22-6 third-quarter run was decisive.

Hakeem Olajuwon paced Houston with 27 points and 10 rebounds.

Cavaliers 118, Hornets 99

At Richfield, Ohio, the Cavs moved within 1 1/2 games of leader Chicago in the Central Division as Brad Daugherty scored 25 points.

The absence of Mark Price has not hurt Cleveland because Terrell Brandon has passed for 38 assists while committing just five turnovers, including 12 assists and no turnovers Thursday night. Price has been sidelined the last four games with a sprained thumb.

Gerald Wilkins added 23 points, including 14 in the first quarter, and Larry Nance had 18 for Cleveland.

Larry Johnson led the Hornets with 21 points and 11 rebounds.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

Early springtime finds eager anglers searching for active bass in the wrong places. We tend to fish the productive spots that held fish last summer. Sure, we know better, but the old stump in the shallow water draws us like a magnet. Too bad it doesn't draw the bass.

Solution--Approach your favorite lake like it is your first trip. Search for the warmest water. Try the coves and pockets on the northeast side of the lake. The sun will warm these areas longer each day and the fish will turn on while their cousins continue to slumber in the more frigid waters.

In the springtime, the most productive piece of equipment is not that fancy electronic depth-finder. Most successful anglers rely on a simple temperature gauge. Find the warmest water with deep water access. An old creek channel that runs on the north side of the lake will serve as a bass highway. Slowly work the bottom and when your bait feels heavy, set the hook quickly.

If you have not tried the new generation of small finesse baits, I enthusiastically recommend the Berkeley PowerBaits. Their four-inch worm is a perfect snack for bass that are just starting to prepare for the rigors of spawning. Try blackshad, pumpkin or purple.

Butch Colantonio just won a Sun Country Pro-Am Tournament on Lake Amistad by using these small PowerBaits. A severe cold front caused the shallow bass to develop a bad case of lockjaw. Butch backed off the shoreline and used 12-pound line to vertically fish the ledges in 30-50 feet.

According to my unofficial records, Butch has won tournaments on Possum Kingdom, Conchas, Ute and now Amistad. The debate about who is the best bass angler will continue but few will dispute that Butch is in the fast lane. No one gets to the lake quicker, and on the lake, his sleek Allison Boat is faster than a Nolan Ryan pitch.

Tip of the Week--If you want to add some flash to your spinnerbaits, some of the new iridescent Easter basket grasses are the perfect and cheap solution. Buy a bag of iridescent grass for about 70 cents and then sell it to your buddies for $1 a strand.

The only public meeting in our region by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department concerning the new rules for fishing and hunting was held in Amarillo. The bureaucrats in Austin will be excited to learn that 11 of the 12 attendees were adamantly opposed to the proposed color and size regulations on jug fishing. That other fellow wanted to stop all hunting in any state park.

BASEBALL

"Because of his hamstring problem, he hasn't been able to show us completely what he can do, and we haven't been able to evaluate him. Without that setback, I think we probably would've been able to make our decision by the deadline."

If the White Sox exercise their option on Jackson, he would be guaranteed $910,000 and could make $1.5 million more in performance bonuses. Chicago can pay a $150,000 buyout.

Back on the field, Roger Clemens allowed four runs in three innings against Texas on Thursday but wasn't too concerned.

"I felt pretty good," Clemens said after the Boston Red Sox lost to the Rangers 5-2 at Fort Myers, Fla. "It didn't start out the way you'd like, but that's why it's spring training. We're here to work the kinks out and go from there."

Texas scored two unearned runs in the first inning and two earned runs in the second. The three-time Cy Young Award winner allowed six hits and two walks and struck out two. He planned to go four innings but came out after throwing 75 pitches.

Bert Blyleven, trying to make Minnesota's staff and pursue his goal of 300 victories, won his second straight start this spring as the Twins beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-3 at Bradenton, Fla.

Blyleven, 41, allowed two hits in three scoreless innings, struck out one and walked one. The right-hander, who has 287 career victories, has pitched five scoreless innings this spring.

Blyleven is among four pitchers competing for two spots in the Twins' rotation. The others are Willie Banks, Pat Mahomes and Mike Trombley, who followed Blyleven with three scoreless innings.

Gardening begins at Black House

Members of the Deaf Smith County Historical Society volunteer their services to keep the grounds beautiful at the E.B. Black House. Kathryn Ruga examines the shrubs and trees for possible disease.

Gardening at the Gazebo

By CARMEN FLOOD

The gardening season for the Black House Garden is kicking in again this month, and so we offer to the community of Hereford and surrounding area information about what we are doing here, and sometimes in our own gardens as well.

Most of our tasks this time of year are maintenance oriented, but we keep a record from year to year of what has been and what worked for us, and so we share that with you.

Now is the time to spray those plants susceptible to scale infestations with dormant oil spray, if you haven't already done so, since it is too late once the tree or shrub has come out of dormancy, and an infestation by scale can do great damage which cannot be controlled later very effectively. Our flower beds are given a feeding with crop mix and ammonium sulfate, and this can be done at the time of cleaning the bed in preparation for spring.

The majority of work being done now is cleaning out the trash from last seasons growth, and amending any new beds being prepared. We also may add more amendment, such as compost, to existing beds, depending on the condition of the soil.

The lovely snows of the past winter have left us with soil so mellow that we are in gardeners haven but, as always, we continue to give all we can to our heavy clay soil to insure healthy, unstressed plants. You may have noticed that when it shows up where you don't want it, it is called DIRT, but in a flower bed, in fine condition, we always call it SOIL, and soil that is just loose enough to hold its shape when compressed in the hand, but crumble easily is the right consistency for growing things. That consistency takes considerable awareness on the part of the gardener.

March is the month to replace any diseased or dead shrubs, to prune and feed the roses, and plant any cool hardy flowering plants such as snapdragons or salvias. We will be thinning and transplanting any perennials that have reached that stage, and preparing the beds for the annuals that we be planting in April. Lillies and summer flowering bulbs can also be planted now.

This is also a good time to check sprinkler systems and garden equipment and tools in preparation for all the chores ahead of us in spring and summer, and feed and deep water all trees, most gardeners can't wait to get out there, all we need is some cooperation from the weather to tear ourselves away from gardening catalogues and into the garden itself.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am a 64-year-old man with a large stomach and am having a problem trying to shrink it. I have diabetes and arthritis and I had one mild heart attack about six years ago. I am taking Glucotrol, Lopid and Capoten daily. I do not smoke or drink and I eat in moderation. I go swimming for one hour five days a week. In spite of this, the large stomach persists. What else can I do to shrink my abdomen?

DEAR READER: There are several causes for a large abdomen, but in most people it is caused by an accumulation of excess fat inside the abdominal cavity as well as under the skin. The other factor in these cases is a loss of strength of the abdominal muscles. But no matter how strong the abdominal muscles are, they cannot compress the fat that is inside the abdomen.

It follows that weight reduction is the most important aspect of winning the battle of the bulge for most people. Of course, if the abdominal enlargement is from a tumor or from fluid in the abdomen, that is a different matter.

Although you didn't state your height or weight, I would guess that you are overweight. Men are more prone to develop fat in the abdomen. Incidentally, individuals with too much fat in the abdomen are also particularly prone to diabetes as a group. It is particularly difficult to lose that abdominal fat, too. You may need to restrict your calories even more and increase your exercise just to help you eliminate calories. If you lose more fat, that will also help your diabetes and your arthritis.

You can begin exercises to help strengthen your abdominal muscles, but they will be of limited usefulness until the excess fat is gone. These include sit-ups and voluntary contractions.

The voluntary contractions of the abdominal muscles are one of the best ways of strengthening them. I have discussed these and the other exercises to help tone up the abdominal muscles in Special Report 104, How to Battle the Bulge, which I am sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTHLETTER/104, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. The voluntary muscle exercises involve pulling in your abdominal muscles as tight as you can, holding the contractions, then relaxing. Repeat 10 or 20 times a day. You can do them standing up, sitting, lying down or while bending over. But you still have to lose weight.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am suffering from a stress fracture in my right lesser trochanter. I believe it was caused by running. I am 27 years old, and two years ago, I ran several marathons. I was in the best shape of my life. Then I had a baby, and for several weeks, my mileage per week was about 15 to 20 miles. It was 45 to 60 before pregnancy. I decided to run marathons again and increased my mileage to 35 miles a week without building up to it.

Soon I was in the doctor's office with pain in my hip. It has now been six weeks and I still feel a lot of pain. I read it should only take four to eight weeks to heal.

DEAR READER: Don't be impatient. It often takes 12 weeks — and sometimes more — for a stress fracture to heal. The location of your stress fracture, in the small knob of the upper thigh bone, is fortunate. If you had a stress fracture of the neck of the femur, things could be much worse. You will get well faster if you are careful not to do very much activity. A sudden increase in physical activity above the level you have been doing is a good way to develop a stress fracture.

DEAR DR. LAMB: About six years ago, I went to my doctor for a buzzing in my right ear and some hearing loss. The buzzing would start in the fall as I started some knitting projects and disappear in the spring when I got busy in the garden and yard. My doctor told me it's common as one ages and that the hearing would get worse with age.

Two years ago, I had to have a wisdom tooth extracted and, lo and behold, the buzzing stopped instantly. I haven't had it since, and my hearing is quite good. I'm not on any medication. I just wanted to pass along my experience.

DEAR READER: I'm glad you had such a major improvement. Not everyone with tinnitus (ear noises) is as fortunate. I would simply have to speculate as to the events that may have occurred as you have related it.

The one dental problem that is most likely to cause tinnitus is the temporomandibular joint syndrome (TMJ). This is inflammation or injury of the hinge joint where the lower jaw connects to the skull. There are important nerve reflexes in the joint that affect hearing. Perhaps your wisdom tooth was causing inflammation or poor occlusion of your teeth so that a TMJ problem occurred. Then, when the wisdom tooth was removed and any inflammation or problem in occlusion was relieved, your tinnitus and hearing loss disappeared.

The TMJ syndrome is one of the things to be considered in any patient with ear noises. Pressure on the muscles over the joint and during movement of the joint may elicit pain. If such a problem is identified, the next step is to see a dentist who manages such problems for relief.

Because of your interest, I am sending you Special Report 112, Ear Noises (Tinnitus). Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTHLETTER/112, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Incidentally, hearing loss itself can be a cause for tinnitus.

Lake Ontario, the smallest Great Lake, is 193 miles long and 53 miles wide.

Rebekah officers installed

Members of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday evening. Past District Deputy President Susie Curtsinger installed three new officers to fill chairs vacated by resigning officers.

Rosalie Northcutt was seated as vice grand; Mary Lou Weatherford, financial secretary; and Genevieve Lynn, conductor.

Noble Grand Anna Conklin conducted the business meeting when 35 visits to the sick were reported as well as 53 cheer cards, 17 dishes of food and six flowers.

Peggy Lemons served a hostess. Others present were Ocie Bolton, Leona Sowell, Dorothy Lundry, Elmer Combs, Roberta Combs, Ben Conklin, Marie Harris, Dorothy Collier, Sadie Shaw, Tony Irlbeck and Faye Brownlow.

Garlic-in natural or supplement forms such as KYOLIC odorless aged garlic extract may be able to help ward off a modern day monster: cancer.

It is one thing to praise discipline, and another to submit to it.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE CONSCIENCE OF A PEOPLE

WHENEVER KINGS AND PRINCES IN THE BIBLE SEEMED TO DEVIATE FROM THE TRUE PATH OF UPRIGHTNESS AS PRESCRIBED BY MOSAIC LAW, INVARIABLY A PROPHET WOULD COME CHARGING FROM THE HILLS, OR FROM THE FAR-FLUNG REACHES OF THE WILDERNESS, TO REMONSTRATE AND AWAKEN THEM TO THEIR SACRED OBLIGATION TO THEIR CREATOR. THUS SAITH THE LORD, RANG THROUGH PALACE, COURTYARD, AND TEMPLE TO SEND CHILLS OF APPREHENSION THROUGH ALL WITHIN HEARING DISTANCE. SAUL WAS BEDEVILED BY AN IN-FURIATED SAMUEL, KING DAVID WAS ADMONISHED BY A STERN NATHAN, AND JEZEBEL AND AHAB FOREBODINGLY THREATENED BY A WRATHFUL ELIJAH. NO MATTER HOW MIGHTY A KING, JUST LET HIM GET OUT OF LINE AND AN OUTSPOKEN PROPHET WOULD APPEAR ON THE SCENE TO BLAST HIS SELF-SATISFACTION! THEY WERE TRULY THE CONSCIENCE OF THE PEOPLE!

HEAR, NOW, THE WORD OF THE LORD, YE VIPERS AND ABOMINATIONS TO THE MOST HIGH!
