Toastmasters host contest in Hereford

Area Toastmasters gathered in Hereford Thursday night to hear each other talk and to prepare for a district contest.

The District 44, Area III Tall Tales and International Speech Contest was hosted by the Hereford club and held in the Community Center.

Three participants competed in each area, with one each coming from two Plainview club and one from the Hereford club.

The two will now represent the area in the District 44 contest, to be held April 3 in Amarillo.

Mrs. Gion's tall tale was titled "Why I Got 'Phisticated," while her husband spoke on "Faded Dreams."

Hereford participants were Margaret DeToro in the tall tales contest and Joe Don Cummings in the international speech contest.

Scientists discover decrease in heart disease among veggie eaters

By PAUL RAEBURN
AP Science Editor

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) - Scientists have offered still more evidence that your mother was on to something when she told you to eat your vegetables.

A study shows women who ate plenty of spinach, carrots and other fruits and vegetables high in certain vitamins cut their stroke risk by 54 percent. Another study reported Thursday found that men with similar diets were 30 percent less likely to die of heart disease.

The findings - outlined at an American Heart Association epidemiology meeting - are the latest in a growing body of statistical evidence that has shown the benefits of the so-called antioxidant vitamins: vitamin C, vitamin E and beta-carotene, a relative of vitamin A.

Researchers now plan to see if vitamin tablets can provide similar benefits.

"The evidence is really mounting that antioxidants really protect against cardiovascular events," such as heart attacks and strokes, said Dr. Joann Manson of Harvard Medical School, author of the study on women and strokes.

Byron White to quit U.S. Supreme Court after 31-year tenure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White said today he plans to retire soon, giving President Clinton an early opportunity to make his first appointment to the nation's highest court.

White, in a statement released by the court's public information office, said he would end his 31-year high court tenure at the end of the current term, in June or July.

"After 31 years, Marion (Mrs. White) and I think someone else should be permitted to have a like experience," White said in the statement.

White said he was informing President Clinton of his retirement plans in a letter to be delivered to the White House today.

"It has been an interesting and exciting experience to serve on the court," White said.

He and his wife plan to remain in Washington.

"I also expect that from time to time I will sit as an appellate judge on the courts of appeals," White said.

White, 75, is a centrist conservative who most often sides with the court's more politically conservative members on such divisive issues as abortion and church-state relations.

During the presidential campaign, Clinton consistently said he would appoint justices who shared his support of abortion rights. He shied away from offering names, but did say during one MTV interview show that he thought New York Gov. Mario Cuomo would make a superb Supreme Court justice.

Of the court's nine members, White alone was appointed by a Democrat - President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

The last Democratic appointee confirmed to the court was Thurgood Marshall, who was named by Lyndon B. Johnson in 1967.

House Demos lead OK of Clinton's budget bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - House Democrats delivered for President Clinton, passing his budget and his jobs bill in a single day. Now, it's up to the Senate, where it could be a tough couple of weeks.

"Allyes will be on whether they will give President Clinton a chance," said Rep. Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif.

The House early this morning completed its version of Clinton's economic legislation by passing a $16.3 billion "emergency" jobs bill, including money for summer youth jobs, highway projects and other programs to put people to work.

Only a few hours earlier in the marathon session, the House passed Clinton's five-year, $500 billion deficit reduction plan - an amalgam of proposed energy and income tax increases, military cutbacks and a shift in domestic spending toward education, job training and construction.

The measures passed by nearly identical votes mostly along party lines, 243-183 on the budget and 235-190 on the spending bill.

They passed just over a month after Clinton requested action in his economic speech to Congress, and party leaders based their appeals most stridently on the public support enjoyed by the new president.

"The one thing we need to do tonight is to say the Congress of the United States stands behind this young man," said House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo. "We want a new day for this country. Tonight we have that chance."

"Our party discipline, loyalty to the president. ... I think that's the significance of this vote," said Rep. Bill Richardson, D-N.M. "This is very needed psychological momentum" that will carry over to future tasks such as health care and trade.

Only 11 Democrats strayed from the party line on the budget and 22 voted against the jobs bill. Republicans voted against both - none supported the budget and only three the spending bill.

The Senate began debating its similar version of the budget

Wednesday and was not expected to finish before late next week. But interim action Thursday was somewhat encouraging for Clinton.

Senate Republicans lost, 53-46, an attempt to strip out Clinton's plan to raise $71 billion through a tax on energy sources.

"That's a very good sign," Gephardt said.

But Republicans planned further attempts to pick the budget apart, including an attack on the proposal to raise taxes on Social Security recipients. Senate rules don't give the majority party nearly the power it enjoys in the House to control the legislative program.

Custody of 'Baby Jane' given to state

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

Officially, she is called "Deaf Smith Baby Jane."

To employees of Deaf Smith General Hospital who treated the infant found Thursday in a trash pit north of town, she is "Ashley."

The child, a newborn weighing 4 pounds 7 ounces, was listed in serious condition today in the neonatal intensive care unit at Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital, a day after escaping certain death in an incineration pit at Hutto Veterinary Hospital.

Hospital and sheriff's department officials reported this morning that several calls have come in from people interested in adopting "Ashley."

At least one person called The Hereford Brand trying to find out how to take in the infant.

Sheriff's department spokeswoman Sharon Pennington said she is referring callers to the Amarillo Child Protective Services office, which deals with adoptions and placement of children.

Officially, Ashley is in the custody of the state now.

Late Thursday afternoon a hearing was held in 222nd District Court granting temporary managing conservatorship to the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services until another hearing on April 1.

Sheriff's officials reported no breaks in the search for someone who knows how the child got into the pit Thursday morning.

However, said Pennington, a fund has been established for the child at First National Bank.

Donations may be made there or may be mailed to "Fund for Baby Girl Doe" at P.O. Box 593.

The case broke shortly after 8:30 a.m. Thursday, when two teenagers working part-time for Hutto Veterinary Hospital heard crying as they delivered trash to the burning pit.

Jesus Barrientez and Albert Cantu, both students at Hereford High School, heard the child crying.

Barrientez spotted her lying in the warm ashes of the previous day's trash fire, wrapped only in a trash bag.

He crawled into the pit and covered the child with towels until rescue workers arrived on the scene.

She was rushed to Deaf Smith General Hospital, stabilized, then transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital's neonatal unit.

Persons with information pertaining to the case are asked to call the sheriff's department at 364-2311.

Meyer seeks Walcott seat

The filing deadline for the Walcott Independent School District board of trustees election passed on Wednesday with one candidate running for the single open seat.

Albert Meyer has filed to run for the board. Jim Bob Perrin, the incumbent, will not run again.

The Walcott district will hold its election on May 1, the same day as Hereford's city, school district and hospital district elections.

Also to be decided that day is a state measure that would reform education funding.

District court acts on cases

Guilty pleas to felony charges were entered by two defendants in 222nd District Court Thursday. Probation was revoked in two cases and probation was modified for another defendant.

Sentenced to six years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice institutional division, Maria Orasco was convicted earlier of forgery. Originally, she was sentenced to eight years' probation.

A seven-year term in TDCJ institutional division was assessed Aubrey Wayne Rogers Jr., convicted previously of possession of a controlled substance, cocaine. His original sentence was eight years' probation.

Another motion to revoke probation was heard for Enrique Lara Diaz, who was convicted of felony driving while intoxicated. Terms of his probation were modified.

Adolfo Cadena, 18, entered guilty pleas to a forgery charge and to a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. He was sentenced to concurrent eight-year terms. Each sentence was probated eight years.

After pleading guilty to felony driving while intoxicated, Lonres Sotelo Vela, 32, was given a five-year probated sentence and fined $750.

Judge Jack D. Young of the 287th Judicial District heard the motion to revoke probation against Rogers and handed down the sentence. Other cases were heard by 222nd Judge David Wesley Gulley, who had removed himself from the Rogers case.

City tax rebate up

Hereford's sales tax rebate check for March is $47,358 and represents a 4.6 percent increase over the same time a year ago. The rebate is for January sales on the city's one percent sales tax.

The three rebate checks received by the city this year total $171,836--which is also a 4.6 percent increase over the same time last year.

State Comptroller John Sharp reported that a total of $101.7 million in tax rebates were sent to 929 cities and 109 counties. That represents a 11 percent increase over payments a year ago.

Houston had a payment of $13.7 million to lead all cities. Amarillo's check of $2.05 million reflected a 16.9 percent increase after its tax went to 2 percent. Lubbock, still with a 1 percent tax, had a check for $1.16 million and a 10 percent increase.

Lawmakers again face issue of equality in state bathrooms

AUSTIN (AP) - Lawmakers once again are facing the issue of potty parity.

On Thursday, the state Senate approved a bill that would require new stadiums and other facilities to increase the number of women's restrooms.

After the Senate sent the bill to the House on a voice vote, Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos, sponsor of the measure, said, "The women of Texas thank you."

Under the bill, stadiums, arenas, or any facility where "the public congregates" would have to have double the number of women's restrooms as men's. The requirement would apply only to facilities either built or overhauled after this year.

This 2-to-1 restroom ratio "is simply an effort to face reality and provide restroom facilities in proportion to the different needs of men and women," said Barrientos, D-Austin.

Barrientos had a similar bill two years ago, but it died in the final moments of the regular legislative session. Some House members then had wanted to reduce the ratio to 3-to-2.

Abandoned baby

Two teens taking trash out at a veterinary hospital Thursday discovered this baby in the ashes of an incineration pit. Here she is at Deaf Smith General Hospital, where she was treated before being transferred to Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital. Sheriff's officials are trying to determine how the newborn ended up in the pit and who put her there.

Somali leader rejoins peace talks

KISMAYU, Somalia (AP) - A key Somali faction leader returned to the peace table today, apparently satisfied by the deployment of a battalion of American troops to this violent city.

The 500 members of a U.S. quick reaction force moved into Kismayu Thursday, ordered back after fighters of Mohamed Said Hirsi, known as Gen. Morgan, drove supporters of Col. Omar Jess out of the town.

Tuesday's clash prompted Mohamed Farrah Aidid, one of Somalia's chief warlords and a supporter of Jess, to pull out of peace talks in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. Aidid had said he would not return until the situation in Kismayu was "reversed."

But Farouk Mawlawi, the U.N. spokesman in the Ethiopian capital, said today that Aidid had rejoined

Oregon hopes for Medicaid waiver Health secretary may open door for reform

WASHINGTON (AP) - Oregon lawmakers are optimistic the Clinton administration will clear the way for a state plan to expand Medicaid so it covers 120,000 more poor people by paying for fewer medical services.

Health Secretary Donna Shalala was expected today to grant a waiver needed to proceed with the Oregon rationing plan, along with conditions designed to guarantee state financing and a certain level of service, the lawmakers said.

Backers of the Oregon plan say it could prove to be a model for other states trying to develop proposals to stretch existing health care resources to cover the growing number of people without health insurance.

The $100 million proposal would add an estimated 120,000 people to the current 239,000 Oregonians receiving Medicaid coverage. The expansion would be financed partly by eliminating coverage of the most costly medical procedures and those deemed least likely to save lives.

Under the plan, the state ranks 688 medical treatments and conditions according to such factors as the seriousness of the ailment and the ability of the treatment to improve the quality of the patient's life. Then it draws a line at 568. Everything above that point would be covered; everything below would not.

For example, coverage would continue for such conditions as pneumonia, flu, appendicitis and some cancers, and for most organ transplants. Expensive treatments for incurable cancer and advanced AIDS would not be covered.

Medicaid provides health care for families on welfare, the elderly poor and disabled. The new plan would cover everyone below the federal poverty level - a monthly income of $991 for a family of three. Single men and women without children also would be covered for the first time.

Oregon Sens. Bob Packwood and Mark Hatfield, both Republicans, and Rep. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., all predicted approval of the plan as long as the conditions assuring future funding and service levels are included.

Critics say the plan amounts to health rationing for the poor. But advocates say too many deserving residents living below the poverty level receive no Medicaid coverage at all.

The Bush administration rejected the request last year, saying it could illegally deny federal health benefits to the disabled. The state adjusted the proposal and submitted it for reconsideration.

A key hurdle to the waiver came down last week when an influential critic, Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., accomplish this through this audit then I think this agency, which is already just really stretched to the hilt with the new prison construction and things going on, we can all do a better job."

The state is spending $642 million to build 25,300 beds in new prisons, plus another $125 million for regional jails that will house 10,000 more inmates. The prison system already houses 57,500 convicts, about 99.6 percent of maximum capacity. It also employs some 30,000 people.

"I think it's an excellent opportunity as the prison system and community corrections and even our parole system all increase to such large proportions," Vance said of the audit. "We need a way to better measure what we're doing and what we're literally spending billions of dollars on, to see what programs are working and what programs are not working as effectively."

Last year, U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice agreed that the state was running a constitutional corrections system and allowed the state for the first time in 20 years to control its own prisons.

"The time is right to take a top-to-bottom look at the management, programs and performance of the agency," Sharp said. "Texans will pump more than $3.5 billion in state and local tax dollars into their criminal justice system this year and they have a right to know that their money is bringing them the kind of criminal justice system they demand and deserve."

said he no longer intended to try to block the program in Congress.

Waxman, chairman of the House subcommittee that oversees Medicaid, said he would not oppose the plan as long as the state comes up with enough money so that further reductions in benefits can be avoided. Gov. Barbara Roberts assured Waxman and Shalala that if budget pressures force additional cuts, she would first seek federal approval before changing benefit levels.

But the revised Oregon plan still has its critics.

Michael Astrue, general counsel to the Department of Health and Human Services in the Bush administration, said Thursday he doubts the program - even with its recent changes - complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

He said it is a major departure from existing policy "to have a central government-driven mandate saying that people within a broad class who may have very different diagnosis and prognoses are all simply just going to be denied medical treatment."

"That's simply unheard of in this country and it's the wrong direction for us to move in," Astrue said.

Herd keeps Wolves at bay, 14-1

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Herd baseball team put good offense and good defense together and came away with a 14-1 win over Dalhart in the first round of the Canyon ISD Baseball Classic.

Hereford, which had been hitting well, kept up the offense with an eight-run second inning to start the rout. On defense, where the Herd has struggled, Hereford committed only two errors--both coming in the fourth inning and leading to the Wolves' lone run. That cut Hereford's lead to 12-1.

"We put it together pretty good on defense," Herd coach T.R. Sartor said. "We're starting to come around maybe. We made all the routine plays."

"(Shortstop) Rene Cano had one big-time play," Sartor said. "He went into the hole--deep into the hole, on the grass--and threw out the runner."

Hereford went into the top of the second inning leading 2-0, but then things went wild. Ruben Ramos and Jake Head each had two-run singles to lead Hereford's surge, which included four hits. Dalhart helped with three walks, two hit batsmen and three errors in the innings.

Hereford added single runs in the third and the fourth and two runs in the fifth. The game ended after five innings because of the 10-run rule.

For the game, nearly every Hereford starter had at least one hit. Ramos and Head each had two hits and three RBIs. Sartor pulled several starters after the second inning.

Ray Hastings started on the mound for Hereford and pitched two shutout innings with three strikeouts. The second inning explosion allowed Sartor to rest Hastings and give left-hander Andrew Tijerina some mound-time. Tijerina pitched the final three innings to get the save.

The Herd, now 3-7, takes on Dumas at 2:30 p.m. today. The Demons were a 5-2 winner over Sanford-Fritch Thursday.

In other tournament games, it was Borger 11, Dimmitt 0; Plainview 4, River Road, 3; Pampa 18, Brownfield 0; Randall 11, Perryton 3; and Canyon 15, Friona 1. A game between Levelland and Childress was played late Thursday night.

Borger coach Lamberson found dead

BORGER, Texas (AP) - Stocky Lamberson, who led high school football teams to the state playoffs in 11 of his 19 years as a head coach, was found dead in his home on Thursday, officials said.

Officials said they were investigating his death and would not release any details until an autopsy was performed.

Lamberson, 50, last year went 0-10 in his first season at Borger. (See LAMBERSON, Page 6)

Cain's triple-double ousts Tech

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) - It's not uncommon for a point guard to record a triple-double, but the way David Cain of St. John's did it against Texas Tech in the NCAA East Regional was quite unusual.

The 6-foot senior scored 12 points, helping the Redmen take a 85-67 victory Thursday over the Red Raiders. The first-team all-Big East performer also had 11 assists, four above his average.

The statistic that stood out most for Cain was 11 rebounds, more than triple what he normally gets in action and one less than forward Lamont Middleton. In the midst of a very physical contest, the smallest player on the floor was a standout.

"You can't measure what David does by his size," St. John's coach Brian Mahoney said after winning his first NCAA game. "He has tremendous heart. We definitely wouldn't be here this afternoon without David and the way he's played."

Cain had seven other games this season where he reached double figures in assists, collecting a season-high 14 against Seton Hall on March 6.

"He has tremendous quickness. You don't think a guy that height could rebound like that," Mahoney said. "All year long, he's been giving us three or four rebounds a game."

While Cain was making his mark, Texas Tech had a hard time finding it. The Red Raiders entered the game as a 48 percent field goal shooting team. They failed to reach that figure in the first half as they fell behind 9-0 in the opening minutes, then rallied to get to 40-37 at the half.

The second half was a complete collapse as Texas Tech hit just 10 of 43 field goals - the Red Raiders hit 2 of 18 from 3-point range - and finished at 32.5 percent.

Also, Texas Tech missed 10 straight shots in the closing 10 minutes and had only three field goals in the final 11 minutes.

"We had a chance at the seven-minute mark," said Texas Tech center Will Flemons, who scored 26 points but hit just 3 of 12 attempts in the second half. "We just couldn't complete the play. We couldn't hit the perimeter shot."

"We were very antsy, and the first little shot we had, we jumped up and shot the ball instead of just working the ball inside," Flemons said. "We were so eager to play, we just jumped up and shot everything we had."

Lance Hughes, who averaged 16 points per game in the regular season and through the Southwest Conference tournament, only got 4 points. He hit nearly 58 percent of his shots coming into the regional, but had a 1-for-9 day against the Redmen. Cain just poured salt into the wound.

"We were willing to give him the 3-point shot because we knew that he was more of a penetrator," Hughes said. "We wanted the people involved to block him out and not let him get into the lane where he could get a 10-foot jump shot."

Cain did hit just 4 of 10 field goals, but he did sufficient damage in other ways.

"They have a tremendous point guard in David Cain. I can see why he's first-team all-Big East. We did not do a good job of containing him," Texas Tech coach James Dickey said.

Cain accepted the praise, but only one set of numbers satisfied him, and they were on the scoreboard at game's end.

"I'm happy that I got it," he said, "but the main thing was that we got the victory."

Rockets stretch win-streak to 15

By The Associated Press

The Houston Rockets, after blowing away opponents early in their winning streak, now are specializing in blowing away deficits.

The Rockets set an NBA record with four consecutive victories by 27 or more points from Feb. 16-23, but they've needed some comeback magic to extend the streak to 15 games.

Houston, which beat Orlando on Tuesday night after trailing by 17 points, did it again Thursday night, rallying from a 68-52 deficit in the third quarter to beat the Golden State Warriors 98-85.

"One way or another, we find a way to get it back," said Hakeem Olajuwon, who had 35 points and 12 rebounds in 45 minutes.

Vernon Maxwell, who played 18 minutes without scoring a point against Orlando, supported Olajuwon with 25 points and six 3-pointers for the Rockets.

The Rockets can become the 10th NBA team with 16 or more consecutive victories when they travel to Portland tonight.

Golden State outscored the Rockets 16-2 to start the second half and led 68-52 when Latrell Sprewell, who joined Jud Buechler with 15 points for the Warriors, made two free throws with 7:01 to go in the period.

The Rockets pulled to 75-70 heading into the fourth quarter, and Maxwell's 3-pointer with 7:42 to play finally gave Houston the lead, 80-79. After Buechler's two free throws put Golden State ahead, the Rockets scored 13 straight points - including two more 3-pointers from Maxwell

- for a 93-81 lead, with 2:46 remaining.

Celtics 105, Nuggets 101
Boston rallied from an 11-point deficit to win at Denver as Xavier McDaniel scored 16 of his 20 points on 7-for-7 shooting in the fourth quarter.

Denver led 86-75 going into the fourth period before Boston hit 12 of its first 14 shots of the quarter.

Robert Pack scored a career-high 27 points for the Nuggets, while Reggie Lewis led the Celtics with 24 points.

SuperSonics 131, Kings 111

Seattle beat Sacramento for its eighth consecutive home victory behind Shawn Kemp's 27 points and 17 rebounds.

Sacramento, which got a career-high 19 points from Pete

Chilcutt and 18 by Lionel Simmons, led only once before Seattle opened a 66-53 halftime lead.

Eddie Johnson added 23 points for the Sonics.

Heat 133, Clippers 117

Miami won for the 10th time in 12 games and improved the fifth-year expansion teams overall record against Los Angeles to 9-3, including 5-1 at the Sports Arena.

Glenn Rice scored 26 points and tied his own club record with seven 3-pointers, and Rony Seikaly had 23 points and 20 rebounds for the Heat.

Danny Manning scored 29 points and Ken Norman 24 for the Clippers.

15th-seed Santa Clara shocks No. 2 Arizona

By CHRIS SHERIDAN
AP Sports Writer

Did you see Santa Clara pull off the upset? Did you see Jason Kidd's shot? Did you see how good Duke looked?

Those were the questions being asked all over the country today as college basketball fans - the hard-core ones and the Vitale-come-latelys - reflected on the opening day of the NCAA tournament.

There were other highlights Thursday - Glenn Robinson's 36 points, David Cain's triple-double, Derrick Phelps' return - but the story that everyone was talking about was Santa Clara (19-11), a little-known team out of the West Coast Conference that shocked second-seeded, sixth-ranked Arizona 64-61 in the opening round of the West Regional.

It was only the second time in NCAA tournament history that a 15th-seeded team knocked off a No. 2.

And it was the second time in as many years the Wildcats were knocked off by an obscure team in the first round. Last year, it was 14th-seeded East Tennessee State.

"I don't feel jinxed," said Arizona

(24-4) coach Lute Olson, whose team shot 25 percent in the second half and 31 percent for the game. "At this point I'm just frustrated that we couldn't play more the way we're capable of playing."

Kidd played exactly the way he's capable of and showed the nation why he's the most talked-about freshman point guard since Kenny Anderson.

With the LSU-California (20-8) game tied at 64 and time running out, Kidd took the ball at the 3-point line, spun his way into the lane and past two defenders and put up a twisting one-hander that banked in with one second left.

"It was kind of a pretzel shot," said LSU (20-8) coach Dale Brown. "Normally those shots don't go in. I don't know how he did it."

The shot capped a 16-point, seven-assist, seven-rebound, five-steal performance for Kidd and set up a second round Midwest Regional matchup between him and the best senior point guard - Bobby Hurley.

Hurley and Duke opened defense of their consecutive national championships with an awesome outing in a 105-70 win over Southern Illinois (23-10).

The Blue Devils (24-7) made 14 of 19 shots from 3-point range, shot 63.2 percent overall and enjoyed their most lopsided postseason victory since 1990. Hurley had 25 points - including six 3-pointers - and seven assists as the Blue Devils won their 13th consecutive postseason game.

In other games, St. John's beat Texas Tech 85-67, Arkansas crushed Holy Cross 94-64, Rhode Island beat Purdue 74-68 and North Carolina defeated East Carolina 85-65 in the East Regional; Kansas topped Ball State 94-72 and Brigham Young got past Southern Methodist 80-71 in the Midwest Regional; Florida State downed Evansville 82-70, Tulane edged Kansas State 55-53, Western Kentucky beat Memphis State 55-52 and Seton Hall downed Tennessee State 81-59 in the Southeast Regional; and Illinois edged Long Beach State 75-72, Vanderbilt ousted Boise State 92-72 and Temple defeated Missouri 75-61 in the West Regional.

Eric Montross scored 17 points as North Carolina (29-4) gave Dean Smith a record 50th NCAA tournament victory. Phelps, injured in the ACC semifinals, returned and played 15 minutes, scoring six points.

St. John's 85, Texas Tech 67

Cain had 12 points, 11 rebounds and 11 assists and the fifth-seeded Redmen (19-10) used a 22-4 run in the second half to pull away.

Arkansas 94, Holy Cross 64

The fourth-seeded Razorbacks (21-8) used runs of 11-0 and 10-0 in the game's first 12 1/2 minutes to pull away early.

Rhode Island 74, Purdue 68

Robinson, the Big Ten scoring leader, had 36 points but got little help from his Purdue (18-10) teammates. Carlos Cofield had seven points in a 19-9 run that lifted Rhode Island (19-10) from a 43-42 deficit to a 61-52 lead.

Florida State 82, Evansville 70

Charlie Ward, given plenty of room to shoot, responded with 15 points to lead the third-seeded Seminoles (23-9). Western Kentucky 55, Memphis State 52

Mark Bell, a 5-foot-8 guard, had 18 points and a team-high nine rebounds as seventh-seeded Western Kentucky (25-5) beat Memphis State.

Seton Hall 81, Tennessee State 59

Seton Hall (28-6) won its 12th straight overall and its fifth straight NCAA first-round game. Terry Dehere led the Pirates with 19 points.

Temple 75, Missouri 61
Aaron McKie and Eddie Jones scored 24 points each for the Owls (18-12).

MIDWEST

Rex Walters made all six of his 3-point shots and scored 23 points and the second-seeded Jayhawks (26-6) shot 56.3 percent.

BYU led all the way, but SMU managed to stay close. The Cougars (25-8) were led by Gary Trost's 26 points.

Georgetown advances in NIT

By The Associated Press

Georgetown, a stranger in a strange land after 14 straight years in the NCAA tournament, joined the NIT successfully.

The Hoyas opened with a 78-68 victory over Arizona State in Tempe, Ariz., in the first round Thursday night. It was no work of art, but coach John Thompson is taking what he can get this time of year.

"I told the team in the locker room at halftime that we played the best half of basketball we've played all year, and we played the worst half of basketball we've played all year," he said. "All in the same half."

The Hoyas were schizophrenic, all right. They led 38-34 at halftime even though the Sun Devils scored the last 15 points. By the time Arizona State completed its 29-5 run in the second half, the Sun Devils were up 48-43.

"We weren't concerned because we knew it was our fault we were turning the ball over," Georgetown freshman Othella Harrington said. "We had to calm down, take care of the ball and score points."

The second half brought a little more consistency, and a lot of Harrington. The 6-foot-10 center, who finished with 18 rebounds, scored 21 of his 25 points to send the Hoyas (17-12) into the next round against Houston or Texas-El Paso.

"In the beginning, our outside shots were going in, and we had control of the game," Harrington said. "In the second half, we started pumping the ball inside to me and I was able to score down low."

Arizona State, which scored one basket in the last 6 1/2 minutes, was led by Lester Neal. The 6-foot-5 1/2 center, the Sun Devils' tallest starter, finished with 26 points.

"Georgetown played a hell of a game," Sun Devils guard Stevin Smith said. "They hit the big shots and we didn't. You have to give them credit."

In other first-round games, it was Old Dominion 74, Virginia Commonwealth 68; Boston College 87, Niagara 83; Providence 73, James Madison 61; Clemson 84, Auburn 72; Alabama-Birmingham 58, Alabama 56; and Southwest Missouri State 56, St. Joseph's 34.

The NIT, which opened with 32 teams, completes the first round with three games tonight: Jackson State at Connecticut, Houston at Texas-El Paso and Pepperdine at Santa Barbara.

Old Dominion 74, VCU 68

At Norfolk, Va., Keith Jackson scored 26 points and freshman Odell Hodge had 16 points and 10 rebounds to carry Old Dominion (21-7). VCU, down by 11 in the second half, pulled to 70-68 with 39 seconds left. Jackson then hit two free throws. Sherron Mills led VCU (20-10) with 24 points and 14 rebounds. Old Dominion next plays Miami of Ohio (21-8).

Boston College 87, Niagara 83

At Niagara Falls, N.Y., Gerrod Abram scored 22 points and Howard Easley had 20 in a tough test for Boston College (17-12). The Eagles trailed 42-36 at the half. Brian Clifford's 17 points paced Niagara (23-7). Boston College plays Rice (18-9) in the second round.

Providence 73, James Madison 61

At Providence, Franklin Western scored 20 points and the Friars (18-11) played gritty defense against the nation's most accurate shooting team. It was the fourth straight year James Madison lost in the NIT's first round. The Dukes, who shot 52.3 percent this season, were limited to 39.6 percent. Providence next plays West Virginia (17-11).

Clemson 84, Auburn 72

At Clemson, S.C., Devin Gray had 23 points and Andre Bovain added 21, helping Clemson overcome a second-half rally by Auburn. Clemson (17-12) led by 22 in the first half, but Auburn drew to 73-65 with about three minutes remaining. Wesley Person's 28 points led Auburn (15-12). Clemson goes against Alabama-Birmingham in the second round.

Alabama-Birmingham 58, Alabama 56

At Tuscaloosa, Ala., Stanley Jackson scored 17 points, including two free throws with nine seconds left, to help Alabama-Birmingham beat Alabama in the first meeting between the schools. Cedric Moore sparked Alabama (16-13) with 18 points.

Since most public reservoirs receive a tremendous amount of fishing pressure, success frequently goes to the innovative angler who presents a slightly different lure. Several readers called and requested more details about using some cheap incandescent Easter basket grass to add some additional flash to spinnerbaits and jigs.

Use the bottom loop of a half-opened paper clip as a sewing needle and pull four or five strands of grass under the rubberband that holds the skirt on the head of lure. This task, if done at home, will take only a couple of seconds. Warning: if attempted in a bouncing boat with wet hands, it can become quite a challenge. This iridescent grass imitates the flash of a live minnow and can be the difference between a look and a bite.

The best part of this idea is that one bag of Easter grass only costs a dollar and will dress up some 1,000 jigs or spinnerbaits. If you miss buying it during this season, it is available at arts and crafts stores at much higher prices.

New ideas—Just installed a new rod hanging device in my trusty Suburban. Pro-Tech-YOURod is a unique device for transporting fishing rods without breaking rod tips or having reel handles clash together. Developed by John Silva (phone number: (817)-757-0174) from Waco, the Pro-Tech-YOURod retails for under $20 and is a terrific gift idea for any angler who drives a van, Blazer, Bronco or Suburban.

Fishing tournaments—Mark your calendar to include the following tournaments that are open to all interested anglers: a Lake Greenbelt Fun Tournament on April 3, and a Lake Baylor Big Bass Tournament on April 10. Sponsors are Sirlion Stockade, K-Mart, Anchor Marine and Camper Roundup.

The Lake Baylor Big Bass Tournament originally scheduled for March 13 was canceled due to the snow storm.

Playa Pete observes: "To dress properly for springtime outdoor activities in this part of the world requires that anglers take everything from snow suits to swim suits."

LAMBERSON

He had a career record of 132-87-3. Lamberson had a reputation for rebuilding programs in his 28 years on the sidelines at Gruver, Memphis, Panhandle, Canyon Randall and Borger.

His career highlights included being named District 1-4A coach of the year while at Canyon Randall and guiding his 1984 Panhandle squad to the Class 2A state championship game. They lost 38-7 to Groveton.

Lamberson began coaching in 1964 at Amarillo Travis Junior High, then became an assistant at Gruver and Levelland High Schools from 1966-72.

He got his first head coaching job at Gruver in 1973, taking over a team that had won twice in the three previous years. By 1976, he led them to a 7-3 record and a second-place finish in district play.

Lamberson went 8-3 with a district title in his only year at Memphis.

His Panhandle teams made the playoffs in nine of his 10 years, before he became Canyon Randall's first coach in 1988. He inherited one player with varsity experience and won 12 games in three years.

Lamberson, a Groom native who played football at Panhandle State, is survived by his wife, Aimee, and three children.

Funeral arrangements were pending Thursday night.

In 1933, the great British jockey, Gordon Richards, won 12 consecutive races over a three-day period.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) - Larry Bird is a such a huge star in Indiana, the state that worships basketball, that fans are shelling out $15 for a box of Wheaties with Bird's picture on it.

That's the going rate at a Terre Haute sporting goods store, charged by two men who drove to Boston to pick up 800 boxes.

"We're charging $15, which isn't bad since you also get the Wheaties," said Pete Gallagher, whose son, Richard, owns Midwest Sports.

Pooch pacemaker gives new life to sickly spaniel

By DAVE YEWMAN
The Galveston Daily News
LEAGUE CITY, Texas (AP) - Things looked bad for Megan Halterman. The years were adding up and her more-than-middle-aged heart was failing.
Doctors determined her heartbeat was slow and erratic because the natural pacemaker in her heart was wearing out.
A cardiac consultant in New York examined the latest electrocardiogram and delivered a serious verdict: "Without an artificial pacemaker, Megan is at risk for sudden death."
The pacemaker operation, performed by doctors in League City on Jan. 29, was a resounding success. With a new heart thumping along at a rate of 100 beats per minute, Megan is the happiest, and friskiest, 10-year-old cocker spaniel in town.
Megan's new pacemaker has batteries that will last approximately 30 years. If she stays around that long, she'll be 280-doggie-years-old and the Oilers may even have won a Super Bowl or two.
Lisa Halterman, her proud owner, said Megan has become downright rowdy since the operation, and her husband, Elwood, agrees.

"It's like the old dog that was sick is gone and now there's a 3-year-old full of vim and vigor running around," Elwood Halterman said. "She can be a real pain on the weekends because she's so lively."
But Lisa Halterman wouldn't have it any other way, even though the operation cost nearly $3,000.
"She's almost like a little person to us," she said. "It was definitely worth the money. I've wasted more on less."
"She's our only child after all."
Megan's surgery was performed by Drs. Mark Skellenger and Steve Garner at the Safari Animal Care Center in League City.
Skellenger is a cardiovascular surgeon; Garner is Megan's veterinarian.
Skellenger inserted an electrode into Megan's jugular vein and guided it, by feel, down past the right atrium of her heart, past the tricuspid valve and into the right ventricle, where it was secured in place by twisting a tiny cork screw into the muscle of the heart.

The procedure was risky. Megan's heart stopped beating at several points during the operation, and several X-rays had to be taken so Skellenger could see more precisely where the electrode was.
"Pacemakers were first tested in dogs prior to human use," Garner said. "And it has now come full-circle, benefiting dogs like Megan and, in a way, paying back the debt we owe to pets for this technology."
Paying $3,000 for a dog operation may sound pricey, but Elwood Halterman said the cost of family unity was bigger.
"The doctor said we could have bought five pedigree pups for that price, but to keep the peace in our family, we would have had the operation done even if it cost $5,000."
Halterman praised Skellenger and Garner for their expertise and caring, saying they "went the extra mile" to make for a happy ending.
Elwood Halterman is an environmental engineer with DRE Southwest in Clear Lake Shores. Lisa is a food scientist at Mid-America Farms.

Income tax forms: Eleventh in a series Few pay alternative tax, but many have to figure it

WASHINGTON (AP) - Only one of every 1,000 taxpayers pays the "alternative minimum tax," but a lot more have to make the calculations to assure they are not affected.
The minimum tax is sort of a safety net created to ensure that higher-income people pay some federal income tax no matter how many legitimate deductions they claim. It is paid only if it is larger than the income tax calculated the ordinary way.
In effect, the tax takes away or reduces the value of certain items, known as preferences, that ordinarily receive special treatment. These include accelerated depreciation, losses on tax shelters, and depletion and intangible drilling costs from oil and gas investments.

Personal exemptions are not allowed under the minimum tax, and adjustment of certain itemized deductions is required. For example, only medical expenses exceeding 10 percent of adjusted gross income are deductible against the minimum tax; in comparison, the excess of 7 percent of AGI may be deducted against the regular income tax. No itemized deduction for state and local taxes is permitted when figuring the minimum tax.
Simple it isn't. But in essence, the tax works this way, as outlined on Form 6251:
Start with Line 35 on Form 1040, which is your regular taxable income without considering your personal exemptions. Add back the ordinary deductions, such as state taxes, that you lose. Add the preference items that are no longer as valuable. Subtract the special minimum-tax exemption and you end up with "alternative minimum taxable income." AMTI, which is subject to a flat 24 percent rate.

That exemption is $30,000 for single people and $40,000 for couples. The exemption is gradually reduced as AMTI rises and is eliminated when it reaches $310,000 for a couple and $232,500 for a single person.
If there is any chance you are liable for the minimum tax, IRS Publication 909 leads you through the calculations.

News Digest

NEW YORK (AP) - Ted Koppel will go on the air five minutes later, at 11:35 p.m. EST, in a bid by ABC to get more stations to carry "Nightline" live.
The delay will allow stations to carry as much as three additional minutes of commercials.
The move, effective April 5, will also synchronize "Nightline" with its rivals, NBC's "Tonight" show and CBS' David Letterman show, debuting in August.
Almost 40 percent of ABC's 227 affiliates show "Nightline" later on tape because they can make more money in the 11:30 p.m. slot with syndicated shows.

horses, said coordinator Sally Grover.
"My little 11-year-old goes out to feed my pony at 6:30 in the morning," Jones said. "I don't want to have to take her to hospital because she has found some sick group of people attacking our horse."
LONDON (AP) - Davy Jones, lead singer of The Monkees, wants to help save England's horses from cruel attacks by vandals.
More than 30 horses have been stabbed, clubbed, shot at with air guns, attacked with corrosive liquids and even sexually assaulted in southern England during the past year, police said. One horse died of stab wounds and another was later put to death because it was so badly hurt.
Police reported about two dozen attacks in the southern county of Hampshire, where Jones, 47, lives near the market town of Fareham.
Jones, who sang with the 1960s pop group, helped launch a "Horsewatch" program Thursday. Hundreds of horse owners have been recruited to keep an eye on one another's liver transplant.

James Redford, a screenwriter who lives in Denver, underwent the operation Monday, said Tom O'Connor, spokesman at the University of Nebraska Medical Center.
Redford suffered from a congenital problem that causes scarring in the liver and prevents it from functioning properly, O'Connor said Thursday.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SACKCLOTH AND ASHES
WHENEVER SACKCLOTH AND ASHES ARE MENTIONED IN THE BIBLE THE EVENT HAS TO DO WITH GREAT MOURNING AND REPENTANCE. THE FIRST MENTION IS IN GENESIS, CHAPTER 37, AN ACCOUNT OF JACOB'S GRIEF WHEN HE IS TOLD HIS SON JOSEPH HAS BEEN KILLED BY AN EVIL BEAST. THE ACTUAL GARMENT WAS A COARSE CLOTH MADE OF CAMEL'S OR GOAT'S HAIR. IT WAS VERY ROUGH MATERIAL AND THEREFORE UNCOMFORTABLE TO WEAR. ONLY THE POOR WORE IT, HABITUALLY, AS AN EVERYDAY GARMENT, OR ROUGH HERDSMEN, OR RAGGED PROPHETS FROM THE WILDERNESS. IT PROBABLY BECAME A SYMBOL FOR SORROW AND MOURNING BECAUSE THESE ANCIENT PEOPLE MANIFESTED THEIR GRIEF BY BRINGING DISCOMFORT TO THE FLESH. TO HEIGHTEN THEIR ABSOLUTE DESPAIR THEY ALSO SPRINKLED ASHES UPON THEIR HEADS. WE ARE TOLD IN THE BOOK OF JONAH THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE GREAT CITY OF NINEVEH, FROM THE KING ON DOWN TO THE LEAST OF BEGGARS, DONNED SACKCLOTH AND POURED ASHES OVER THEIR REPENTANT HEADS.
