City approves budget; fees increase May 1

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A City of Hereford budget for the fiscal year beginning May 1 was approved Monday night, although the budget may not be in effect for more than five months.

During the City Commission's meeting, City Manager Chester Nolen pointed out that expenditures proposed in the budget could be refined, if the city's fiscal year is changed, as has been proposed.

Included in the budget are increases in rates charged residents for city services, water, sewer and garbage collection. The fee hikes become effective May 1 and will appear on bill received the first of June.

In other business, the commission:

-- Approved a zoning change at 111 and 125 West Park Avenue.

-- Denied a request for variance on sidewalks on Plains.

-- Adopted on second reading an ordinance for paving assessment on Knight and Lafayette Streets.

-- Received a report on non-compliance-dangerous buildings from City Inspector Marvin Gaddy.

-- Approved a contract for aerial spraying for mosquitos.

-- Heard a request from a Boy Scout to install a walking track in Veterans Park and approved the project.

-- Granted a leave of absence from the planning and zoning commission for Dennis Hicks.

-- Awarded the city audit contract to Gerhardt and Puckett, CPA firm, for the current fiscal year.

During the hearing on the city's budget, both Nolen and Mayor Tom LeGate alluded to previous discussions by commissioners on changing the fiscal year to begin on Oct. 1, instead of May 1, as the city's charter specifies now.

LeGate pointed out that Hereford seems to be the largest city in Texas that is not operating on a Oct. 1 to Sept. 30 fiscal year.

The City Commission may adopt the change by ordinance, according to information received by the city from the State Property Tax code.

The budget adopted Monday night calls for general fund spending of approximately $3.7 million and water-sewer department expense of $1.2 million. Revenue is projected at $3.1 million to the general fund and $1.7 million to the water department.

The shortfall in the general fund would be made up from water revenues, as has been the practice in previous years.

Increases in city fees, on average, will amount to about $8.30 for residential customers. Higher rates also apply to commercial customers.

Even with the increases, a survey of 11 area cities of comparable size indicates Hereford's rates are second lowest.

The commission's approval of the zoning change on West Park converts the property from commercial to central business, allowing owners to operate a private club.

The sidewalk variance requested by Rosendo Gonzalez for his property on Plains was denied because, commissioners noted, it would set a precedent for an area being developed.

On a motion to deny the variance by Commissioner James McDowell and second by Commissioner Eades, LeGate and Commissioners Wayne Winget, Sylvia Juarez and Irene Cantu joined McDowell and Eades in the vote. Commissioner Cary Black abstained, noting a conflict of interest because of property ownership.

The city inspector distributed pictures of non-compliance-dangerous buildings at three addresses, noting that action will be pursued against the owners. The property locations are 329 Avenue B, 322 Avenue A and 509 Blevins.

Steven Milburn, a member of Boy Scout Troop 50 presented the commission with a plan to install a mile-long walking track in Veterans Park, at no expense to the city.

Milburn told the commission that his project would fulfill a requirement for completing work on his Eagle Rank. The six-foot-wide track will be built of crushed limestone.

The scout said the materials are being donated and members of Troop 50 will perform the labor.

Burger fest

A steady stream of hungry folks turned out Saturday as Hereford State Bank, along with Hereford's new car and implement dealers, hosted the Ninth annual Hereford Agriculture Appreciation

Day Celebration. About 1,000 agri-business people enjoyed hamburgers prepared on-site at the Hereford State Bank parking lot.

Redistricting plan tossed out

AUSTIN (AP) - A redistricting plan that helped Republicans make historic gains in the state Senate has been tossed out by a federal judicial panel.

The decision Monday means that legislative and congressional district boundaries approved by the Democratic-controlled Legislature will be in effect for the 1994 elections.

Minority groups and Democrats hailed the decision. Republicans expressed outrage.

It was the Senate districts that had been the most controversial.

Through a lawsuit last year, Republicans won a redistricting plan that enabled them to increase their numbers from nine to 13. That pushed the GOP over the one-third number needed in the 31-member Senate to block legislation.

But a three-judge panel ruled Monday that the Republicans had failed to prove that the Legislature's redistricting plan would have shaped districts in a way that would have hurt the GOP.

LT. Gov. Bob Bullock, a Democrat, said "the court has ruled and upheld the will of the Senate, the duly elected representatives of the people of this state."

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales, a Democrat, said, "It is the prerogative of Texas legislators, who are elected by the people, to design our electoral districts, rather than a federal court."

The statewide Mexican American Democrats, Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, and Texas Civil Rights Project also supported the new ruling.

But state Republican Party Chairman Fred Meyer said, "Republicans throughout Texas should be outraged."

"The 1992 election proved the voters of Texas want more Republicans representing them in the Texas Senate. Today's court ruling is completely inconsistent with the past year of legal decisions including several by this same court and a number by the United States Supreme Court," he said.

Ironically the 2-1 decision came from the same panel that gave the GOP its Senate redistricting plan last year - except for one member.

At Deaf Smith General Hospital

Health Fair set here Wednesday

Area residents will have the opportunity Wednesday to attend one of the most important events of the Spring when Deaf Smith General Hospital's annual Health Fair gets underway at 11 a.m.

Those attending can spend the entire day if they wish touring the hospital, visiting more than 20 exhibits, donating blood at the M*A*S*H tent, having free health screenings, or buying popcorn from the Candy Strippers.

"We'll also have the AeroCare helicopter on display, and the Crimestoppers DARE bear will pay a visit," Elizabeth Fowler, coordinator for the event, stated. "We're also offering free video printing of children. Parents should bring a blank video tape for that event," she added.

Those attending the Fair are invited to have lunch at the hospital grounds for a small charge, Fowler reported.

Exhibitors at the Fair will give out information and answer questions. Organizations exhibiting include the Cystic Fibrosis Society, the Hereford Police Department, the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, South Plains Health Providers, American Red Cross, Hereford Meals on Wheels, Panhandle Community Services, Texas Department of Health, Crown of Texas Hospice, Hereford Senior Citizens Association, and Hereford Elks Lodge.

Other exhibitors include the Coffee Memorial Blood Center, HealthStar, the Arthritis Foundation, the American Cancer Society, Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Allied Pharmacy, Deaf Smith County United Way, Deaf Smith County Library, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, Crimestoppers, Problem Pregnancy Center, Valucare, and the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Flores sentenced to two life terms after guilty plea

Two life sentences in prison were assessed Mario Flores Jr., Friday afternoon, after he entered guilty pleas to aggravated kidnapping and murder, in connection with the 1990 death of a 14-year-old, Johnny Martinez.

The plea bargain agreement negotiated by Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul's office and the defendant and his attorneys, Dean Roper and Gene Friscoe, both of Amarillo, was accepted by Judge David Wesley Gulley of 222nd District Court.

Minimum time Flores will serve is 15 years on each sentence. Total time he must serve before being eligible for parole is 30 years.

Flores was indicted in August 1992 for capital murder. However, last Monday the Deaf Smith County grand jury returned new indictments, one for aggravated kidnapping and the second for murder. Later that day, the capital murder indictment was dismissed.

Explaining the decision by the grand jury to issue new indictments, Saul said, "The family of the victim wanted the case handled in this manner. They did not want a long drawn out uncertain procedure as in most capital murder cases."

Although Saul said he felt the prosecution had a good chance to convict Flores of capital murder, there was the possibility that he would not be given the death penalty, but a single life sentence.

"A life sentence is half what he received today," added Saul.

Flores was accused of taking Martinez to an abandoned house southwest of Hereford. There, the indictment alleges, he killed Martinez.

The defendant was arrested in Idaho on July 1, 1992, by Deaf Smith Sheriff Joe Brown and then District Attorney Investigator David Wagner.

The capital murder indictment was returned on Aug. 12, 1992. In capital murder cases, the state must prove the murder was committed in the course of another crime.

Martinez was reported missing on Sept. 2, 1990, but his body was not discovered until Sept. 8, 1990.

During Friday afternoon's court session, the death youth's grandfather, Carlos Rodriguez, speaking through an interpreter, testified that the life sentences were acceptable to the family of the youth.

Saul said a factor in accepting the pleas by Flores is the time involved in a capital case, especially through the appellate process.

"The appellate process seems to be almost endless and many times it takes 10 to 15 years to get someone executed after a death penalty," he said. "The reality is that this is a burden on the family of the victim and everyone else involved in the case."

Flores has been held in Deaf Smith County jail, in lieu of $1 million bond, since his arrest in Idaho last year.

★★★ Three sentenced

Terms in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice institutional division have been given defendants in 222nd District Court.

A plea of guilty to aggravated sexual assault was entered by Donald Johnson, 26, who was sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Another defendant, Tomas Garcia, 22, known also as Tommy Garcia, entered a guilty plea to felony driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to four years in prison. He will serve a concurrent four-year term on revocation of probation on another felony DWI conviction.

Probation given Guadalupe Martinez Rivera on four convictions for burglary was modified. He ordered on intensive supervision for four months.

Another measure of civilization's progress is the way the cost of relaxing keeps going up.

How about those Lady Raiders?

After capturing the NCAA basketball championship Sunday, the Texas Tech women's team became the pride of the South Plains and Panhandle. Tech grads, like myself, are really strutting, but the pride extends all over the area and the Southwest Conference.

By chance, Hereford's annual Red Raider Day observance was already set for April 14 and local fans will have an opportunity to hear Tech coaches talk about the athletic programs. We don't know for sure if Lady Raider Coach Marsha Sharp will be present, but most Tech coaches will be here.

If you'd like to be part of the local event, playing golf or attending the evening program, call Dave Hopper or Tom LeGate for reservations.

Jimmie Gillentine, former Brand publisher was inducted into the Panhandle Press Association Hall of Fame Saturday at the group's convention in Amarillo. It was a well deserved honor for the veteran newspaperman who had the Hereford Brand for almost 35 years.

Jimmie, who is in a nursing home in the Dallas area, was unable to attend. His plaque was accepted by Dana Durham, a granddaughter and Baylor student. She is the daughter of Sara Durham of Sacramento, CAL., and niece of Buz Gillentine of Dallas.

We always respected and loved both Jimmie and his late wife, Clara. They played important roles in the growth and development of Hereford.

Honor for Gillentine

Jimmy Gillentine, former Brand publisher, was inducted into the Panhandle Press Association's Hall of Fame Saturday and Dana Durham, right, his granddaughter, accepted the plaque. Dana, daughter of Sara Durham of California and a Baylor student, accepted the plaque from PPA President Judy Luce of Abernathy. Gillentine was unable to be present due to health reasons.

M.J. "MIKE" KOELZER

April 3, 1993
M. J. "Mike" Koelzer, 83, of Hereford, died Saturday in Amarillo. Rosary was said Monday evening and funeral mass was set for 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church with burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery. The Rev. Timothy Dran, S.A., of St. Ann's

Catholic Church of Bovina, officiated.

Mr. Koelzer was born in Electra and married June Conkin on Aug. 25, 1947. He came to Deaf Smith County from Muenster in 1927. A veteran of duty with the U.S. Army; he worked for a number of years as a parts man at McRight Garage in Hereford. He was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, the Knights of Columbus and American Legion.

CITY--

and LeGate complimented members of the troop for their attention during the meeting.

Hicks, who was granted the leave of absence from the planning and zoning commission, said since he is a candidate for election to the city commission, he does not want the possibility of a conflict of interest to arise. His requested was granted unanimously.

Representatives of two accounting firms presented proposals for conducting the audit of the city's financial business.

Donna West of Brown, Graham and Company submitted a proposal for the audit at a fee of $8,250 to $9,050. Her firm has done the audit since 1985.

A fee of $9,000 was proposed by Gerhardt-Puckett, represented by Chris Leonard.

A contract with Southwest Aerial Sprayers of Plainview was approved for mosquito control this summer. Each application will cost $5,326. A portion of the expense is paid by Deaf Smith County to cover areas not in the City of Hereford, but adjacent to the city.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Vicky Parker of Lancaster, N.Y., and Ruth Quisenberry of Big Spring; a brother, Werner Koelzer of Hereford; two sisters, Ursula Herr of Muenster and Marcy Koelzer of Denver, Colo., and five grandsons.

Survivors are three daughters, Edna Scott of Lubbock, Nellie Jackson of Friona and Della Mercer of Hereford; four sons, Charlie Brady of Friona, Willie Brady of Mineral Wells, Jimmy Brady of Hereford and James B. Brady of Dalhart; a sister, Viola Willoughby of Wharton; 35 grandchildren, 37 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Largest districts endorse school funding proposals

AUSTIN (AP) - Three school proposals on the May 1 ballot have been endorsed by Texas' largest school districts.

The propositions backed Monday by the Texas School Alliance would redistribute some local school tax money, restrict unfunded education mandates and use state bonds to help build classrooms.

"Our school districts and employees need to be focused on teaching and learning, rather than on an uncertain future that's clouded by possible public school closings," said alliance president Hal Guthrie,

Senators seek end to federal mandates

WASHINGTON -- U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, has joined with U.S. Sen. Don Nickles of Oklahoma to promote legislation that would stem the tide of federal mandates and regulations on cities, counties, businesses and individuals.

The two lawmakers, along with nine other senators, introduced S. 81, legislation that would require any new proposed federal mandate to be accompanied by an "economic and employment impact statement."

It also would apply to regulations initiated by the White House and federal agencies, he said.

The bill has been referred to the Senate Government Affairs Committee.

"The impact statement will assess, in great detail, the economic impact of any proposed regulation and expose the unintended damage that these mandates often cause," Gramm said.

"Cities, businesses and just ordinary people throughout Texas and America are having a hard time shouldering the financial burden of new federal mandates and regulations," Gramm said. "These regulations are often imposed with no proof that they're either beneficial or cost-effective."

Gramm said the bill would apply to any new mandate or regulation that Congress considers in the full House or Senate. The study would be completed and sent to Congress before a vote would be taken.

superintendent of Houston's Spring Branch Independent School District.

The group also includes the school districts of Abilene, Amarillo, Arlington, Austin, Corpus Christi, Cypress-Fairbanks, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Garland, Irving, Lubbock, North East in San Antonio, San Antonio, Waco, Wichita Falls and Ysleta.

More than 1 million students are enrolled in the districts, out of about 3.4 million in Texas classrooms.

Voting begins April 12 for the May 1 ballot, which includes the three school propositions and the U.S. Senate race.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It is time for a change in the philosophy of our school system.

Did you know our school system ranks badly compared to other schools in the state, that our state ranks poorly compared to the other states, and that the U.S. ranks next to last compared to the other industrialized countries in the world when it comes to the quality of public education?

If you get beyond the pat answers and examine what is really going on in our public schools, you will find it is not because of a lack of dedication in our teachers, or that our students are somehow slow or incapable of learning or that we are not spending enough money on education.

The problem is many school officials, from state bureaucrats to local board members and administrators, have been suckered into using ideas and programs championed by the NEA. You know the National Education Agency--the largest union in the country and one of the most powerful lobbying groups in the land. That nice organization which wants total control of our children, homosexual teachers, abortion on demand, gay rights, graphic sex education, condom distribution and severe restrictions on parental involvement.

For far too long, we have thought we were doing our job by focusing on what our children go into but not what goes into our children. It is time to take our schools back. Here is one of many places we can start.

Grade schoolers are taught to read by a failed system of reading known as "whole language." We even spend $100,000 of taxpayer money per school on computers to teach this failed method, only faster. True phonics is the only system that works and it doesn't cost a hundred thousand dollars.

In our schools, there are dozens of special programs with nice sounding names and good intentions but which actually are very counterproductive. If schools gave every child in school all of the tests they have, research indicated 70 percent of our kids would be labeled as being "learning disabled," or "at risk." If your child has been labeled "at risk," then you can know that if they were not before, then they surely are at risk now.

So what can we do to help our children? We can support and elect people for school board seats who will move to throw out the disproved programs and materials and get back to the basics which worked in our schools for over 150 years.

Dr. Adams chosen best speaker

Dr. M.C. Adams was named as the best speaker during the Hereford Toastmasters Club meeting held April 1 at the Ranch House.

Jigger Rowland was chosen as the best evaluator and Rick Jackson was selected as the best topic speaker.

Jackson led the pledge to the flag and Joe Weaver gave the invocation. The business meeting was conducted by President Gayla Sanders.

Clint Savoini served as Toastmaster; Sharon Cramer, timer; Jackson, "ah" counter; Margaret Del Toro, grammarian; Clark Andrews, wordmaster; and "loquacious" was the chosen word.

Topicmaster was Chris Leonard and topic speakers included Dave Kimmel, Joe Don Cummings, Margaret Del Toro, Jackson and Weaver.

"The Quest of the Jumping Mouse" was given by Dr. Adams who was evaluated by Rowland.

Cummings told the joke of the day and Sanders served as general evaluator.

Others attending were Adolfo Del Toro and Dee Hamilton.

Special guests were Greg Lake, Steve Cortez, Seth Pietsek, Caleb Pietsek, Joyce Ward and Mildred Guinn.

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held for Bethany Boyd Saturday morning, April 3, in the home of Dolores Foster. Miss Boyd and Clelon Houpt plan to wed May 22. Welcoming guests were, from left, Bethany Boyd, the honoree; Vurda Mae Boyd, her grandmother; Bera Boyd, her mother; and Dolores Foster, the hostess.

PRAGUE, Czech Republic (AP) - Milos Forman is joining 26 Czech filmmakers in a project to convert the Barrandov studios from a producer of Communist fare to a hotspot of film production.

Forman, the Oscar-winning, Czech-born director of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" and "Amadeus," moved to the United States after Russian tanks crushed the "Prague Spring" reforms in 1968.

Forman told reporters Friday his venture into Czech production is "deeply irrational."

"I have always refused to even co-produce the films I was directing," Forman said. "But I have a soft spot for Barrandov." He made his debut there in the 1960s.

Forman said he plans no part in the company's business activities.

"If I can help to open a few doors, set up some contacts, that's fine," he said.

The 150-acre studios were built in Prague by the family of President Vaclav Havel before World War II.

Bethany Boyd feted with bridal shower

Bethany Boyd, May 22 bride-elect of Clelon Houpt, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday morning, April 3, in the home of Dolores Foster, 120 Centre.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Bera Boyd; her grandmother, Vurda Mae Boyd; and the hostess, Dolores Foster.

Guests were served refreshments of miniature cinnamon rolls and muffins, cream puffs with shrimp salad filling, sausage balls, fresh fruit plates, olive balls, pink punch and Southern pecan coffee.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen embroidered cutwork cloth and centered with a spring floral bouquet placed in an antique silver basket. Bright colors of various shades of purple, pink and green were carried out in the napkins and centerpiece with touches of the bride's chosen color of azalea. Further enhancing the table were crystal serving trays and a silver coffee service.

A set of Calphalon cookware was presented to Miss Boyd by the hostesses: Dolores Foster, Sheri Kerr, Elaine Calkins, Martha Layman, Dolores McCuistian, June Rudd, Joan Bookout, Carol Gage, Mary Lyles, Sandi Blevins, Pat Fisher, Mary Robinson, Margaret Bell, Mary Bartlett, Dee Anne Trotter, Jean Beene, Judy Mitts, Carlynn DeLozier, Elane Jones, Martha Wagoner, Tina Langehennig, Sue Sims and Evelyn Lyles.

Girl golfers take second in Amarillo

The Hereford girls' golf team was the runner-up to the powerful Amarillo High team in Friday's and Saturday's Amarillo Relays.

Hereford's boys' team didn't make the first-round cut, but bounced back to win the consolation bracket on Saturday.

The Herd girls' two-day total at Ross Rogers Golf Course was 773-25 strokes behind Amarillo and seven strokes ahead of District 1-4A rival Borger. Tascosa was fourth at 813, and Pampa was fifth at 872. Dumas made the cut with a 458 Friday but didn't get a team score on Saturday.

Hereford totaled 400 on Friday (18 behind Amarillo) and improved to 373 on Saturday, but all five teams improved significantly on Saturday.

Individually, the Hereford girls were led by the 99-89-188 carded by Dusty Saul, placing her seventh overall. Hereford's Jennifer Prater was ninth with a 109-89-191, and Kelly Kelso was tenth with a 99-96-199.

Courtney Shankle of Amarillo High won the medalist title with a 90-82-172. Dumas' Jamie McInturf was third with a 92-83-175.

Hereford's other two girls were Stephanie Walls (107-99-206) and Cecelia Albracht (100-108-208).

Girls' track team is 3rd in Levelland

The Hereford girls' track team accumulated 89 points at the Levelland Invitational track meet, but it wasn't enough to catch Frenship.

Frenship won the girls' division easily with 155 points. There was a real race between places 4-5: Snyder was second with 99 points; Levelland was fourth with 83; and Andrews was fifth with 80. Bringing up the rear were Lamesa with 44 and Estacado with 21.

Hereford didn't win any events but placed in most others. Hereford took second in the 1,600- and 800-meter relays. The 800 team of Robin Chandler, Angie Jowell, Brandy Dunn and Krista West ran in 1:54.3; the 1,600 team of Jowell, Dunn, West and Jeannie Barricent ran in 4:38.12. Also, West took second in the 200 dash with a time of 26.16.

"The varsity girls had some very good competition in the hurdles and jumps," coach Martha Emerson said.

"This was a good meet for us since we had not competed against any of these schools except Frenship and Estacado. The weather did not let us

Ruiz gets 3rd boxing win

Hereford's Jaime Ruiz ran his professional boxing record to 3-1 with a unanimous decision over Rudy Robles Friday in Dallas.

Ruiz took a little time to adjust to the Houstonian's left-handed style, but then took control.

"I was in control most of the way," Ruiz said. "I had him on the ropes all four rounds."

Ruiz said his next bout may be on May 7, again in Dallas.

"Things are looking good for fights in the future," he said. "They're (his management) talking about bigger and better things."

Getting the easy out

Hereford shortstop Rene Cano throws to third base, forcing out Pampa's Tony Cavalier. The Herd lost 10-4 Saturday at Whiteface Field.

Pampa's 7 runs shock Herd

Pampa exploded for seven runs in the top of the seventh inning and took a 10-4 win from Hereford Saturday at Whiteface Field.

Hereford took a 4-3 lead into the last inning, then everything went wrong. Relief pitcher Sammy Casarez walked the first batter of the inning, then when the second batter tried a sacrifice bunt, Casarez and first baseman Jerry Rincon collided going after the ball and everyone was safe.

Pampa took advantage of the opportunity. A bloop single loaded the bases. Brad Smillie's sacrifice fly tied the game, and Kurt West's two-run single untied the game.

Jake Head relieved Casarez on the mound after West's hit. West eventually scored on a well-executed squeeze-play. Finney followed that by lofting a ball into a strong west wind and over the right field fence for a three-run homer.

After the game, Herd coach T.R. Sartor seemed stunned.

"We kinda fell apart," Sartor said. "We played well for six innings."

Hereford falls to 6-11 overall and 1-1 in District 1-4A.

Pampa scored a single run off Hereford starter Ray Hastings in the second on a walk, a double and a wild pitch.

Hereford took advantage of four Pampa errors in the third inning and scored four times. Russ Watts led off the inning with a walk. Richard Sanderson and Chris Brummett both bunted, and the Pampa pitcher bobbled both bunts for errors, loading the bases. Watts came home when Ralph Holguin's grounded to short (Brummett was forced at second). Sanderson scored on an error, Holguin scored on Rene Cano's single, and after a single by Jake Head, Cano scored on another error. Hereford led 4-1.

Pampa pulled within one in the fifth as West had an RBI double and Chris Poole knocked in a run with a groundout.

Hereford avoided further damage in the sixth thanks to a highlight-reel diving catch by Brummett, the center fielder. Pampa's explosion in the seventh obscured the significance of that catch.

Herd boys' track team runs fast, throws far

The Hereford boys' track team used strong showings in the sprinting events and the throwing events to rack up 79 points--good for fourth place--at Saturday's Levelland Invitational track meet.

Steven Blea, Craig Hiltbrunner and James Hamer gave Hereford a 1-2-3 sweep in the shot put. Blea's throw of 56 feet and 1/4 inch beat the rest of the field by nearly a foot. Hiltbrunner's effort of 46-1 1/2 edged Hamer's 45-11 1/4.

In the sprints, Petey Colvin returned from a nagging pulled leg muscle to finish first in the 100- and 200-meter dashes and to help the 400-meter relay win.

Coach Ron Young said the 400 relay time (43.02) was the best of the year for Hereford, and the feat was remarkable considering a stiff wind that blew during the finals. Brandon Gearm, running the third leg of the relay, ran into the wind the whole leg and ran well, Young said.

"He (Gearm) put us in position to win the relay," Young said.

Quincy Curtis and Marquise Brown joined Colvin and Gearm on the 400 team.

"We were really pleased overall, especially with the way Blea threw, and naturally we were pleased with the relay, running its best time all year against a tremendous wind," Young said. "We're just about where we need to be before the district meet (April 16-17 in Hereford)."

Lamesa won the meet with 154 points, ahead of Big Spring's 132 and Levelland's 88. Trailing Hereford were Frenship (67), Lubbock High (18) and Snyder (12).

Colvin's winning times were 10.62 in the 100 dash and 23.72 in the 200.

Several other Whitefaces placed Saturday. Michael Ramirez took third in the 800 run with a time of 2:05. Jason Eades finished fifth in the 400 dash with a 53.38, and Pedro Dominguez was fifth in the 1,600 run with a 5:18.22.

Chad Carlile and Nathan Betzen combined with Ramirez and Eades to finish fourth in the 1,600 relay in a time of 3:45.26.

Hiltbrunner and Hamer followed up their shot put performances by placing fourth and sixth, respectively, in the discus. Hiltbrunner threw the disc 129-6, while Hamer's toss was 126-4.

Hereford's junior varsity team racked up 116 points and finished second in Levelland's JV division. The team was led by distance runners Josh Pena and Lee Mungia. Pena won the 800 (2:15.54) and the 1,600 (5:26.81), and Mungia won the 3,200 (11:57.42) and came in second to Pena in the 1,600 (5:53.01).

Jason Escamilla was second in the 100- and the 200-meter dash, and he joined Todd Radford, Jacob Moreno and Freddie Valdez on the third place 400 relay team. Radford, Moreno and Valdez, along with Joey Ballejo, finished third in the 1,600 relay.

Tracey Montano took third in the high jump.

Several other JV athletes placed. Fourth: Martin Martinez, shot and discus; Radford, triple jump and long jump. Fifth: Suarez, 800; Moreno, 400; Ballejo, 300 hurdles; Montano, triple jump. Sixth: David Hicks, 110 hurdles and triple jump; Josh Bullard, 300 hurdles; Hernandez, shot; and Escamilla, long jump.

Netters play in Abilene

Hereford's tennis team competed in a tournament in Abilene Friday and Saturday. Hereford didn't win any of the individual brackets--team scores were not kept tournament--and they misplaced the results, coach Natalie Sims said.

"Our goal was definitely achieved this weekend," coach Natalie Sims. "We hoped to play some hard-hitting matches, and that's what we got. The players our boys' singles lost to are ranked in state so we got in some heavy duty practice."

Hereford had only two entries win as many as two matches: Greg Coplen in Division A boys' singles and Natalie McWhorter and Paige Robbins in Division B girls' doubles each won two matches, then lost in the third round.

Most of Hereford's Division A entrants won one match, then lost their second match: Jamie Kapka and Bri Reinauer in singles, and both girls doubles teams, Emily Fuston and Sherry Fuston, and Kara Sandoval and Brooke Weishaar. Michelle Berend got a bye in the girls' singles but lost in the second round. Tom Jarecki and Richard Drager fell in the first round of boys' doubles.

In Division B, Gabriela Gamez got a bye in the first round of girls' singles and won in the second round before falling in the third. Gamez and the McWhorter-Robbins team were the only Whitefaces to win a match in Division B.

"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity pitched for 32 seasons in organized baseball.

Webber's gaffe takes away from Tarheels' title

By STEVE WILSTEIN
AP Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A classic Final Four ended with an epic blunder.

North Carolina's national championship will forever be marked by one bonehead timeout call by Chris Webber with 11 seconds left, when Michigan had no timeouts remaining.

That call guaranteed North Carolina's victory, 77-71 Monday night, and overshadowed Dean Smith's ascendancy into the elite of coaching history. His second national title turned out oddly reminiscent of his first in 1982, a gift on the same Superdome court after a botched play at the end by Georgetown's Fred Brown.

"I cost our team the game," Webber said, making no excuses for his mistake.

His call will be remembered more than his 23 points and 11 rebounds, more than the 25 points scored in brilliant outside shooting by North Carolina's Donald Williams or the 16 points scored inside by Eric Montross.

"It's so much a mental game," said Montross, who watched Webber's blunder from the sideline while waiting to get back in the game after a brief rest. "It's a terrible mistake, but at the same time I don't think that's an excuse."

Unlike Duke's blowout of Michigan in the title game last year, this one was close all the way and had great runs by both teams. If not for Webber's mistake, the game very well could have gone into overtime.

Smith displayed his impeccable talent for sliding players on and off the court in a nonstop pressure attack, getting not only 12 points and 10 rebounds out of George Lynch but excellent defense by lesser-known Tar Heels like Kevin Salvadori and Henrik Rodl.

Michigan coach Steve Fisher never let his team drift, leading them back from a 48-40 deficit early in the second half to a 67-63 advantage with four minutes left.

Williams' 3-pointer and Montross' monster dunk opened and closed a 9-point run that gave North Carolina a 72-67 lead with 1:03 left. But a jumper by Ray Jackson and an offensive rebound and layup by Webber closed it to 72-71 with 36 seconds to go.

Pat Sullivan made it 73-71 when he hit one of two free throws with 20 seconds to go. Webber pulled down the rebound of the missed second shot and took off downcourt as if determined to leap the length of the floor for a game-tying dunk. North Carolina players and coaches screamed that he traveled, but no whistle blew.

Picked up by first by Derrick

Phelps, then by Lynch, Webber dribbled furiously into the corner near the Michigan bench and called timeout as he spun around to protect the ball.

"First I thought he traveled down at the other end, and then he went down and I thought he traveled again," Montross said. "And then he called a timeout, and I looked down and I heard everybody yelling that they didn't have any more. (Assistant coach (Bill) Guthridge all of a sudden broke out in a grin. I knew coach Guthridge would know. He's the statistics man. I just started giggling."

Webber said he didn't remember Fisher's reminder during a timeout with 46 seconds left that Michigan had no more timeouts.

"In the heat of the moment, strange things happen," Fisher said. "Chris said he heard someone hollering and calling for a timeout. It's an awful way for the season to end. No one feels worse than Chris, but we're not here except for Chris."

Michigan's Jalen Rose.

Rose is Webber's best friend on the team and the one who hugged and soothed Webber when he cried uncontrollably after the loss to Duke a year ago. On Monday night, they shed no tears in public, though the disappointment was as deep.

"It's the same, the exact same," Webber said in a soft, sad voice.

North Carolina was awarded two free throws on the technical, Williams hitting both for a 75-71 lead, then also got the ball back with clock still at 11 seconds. Forced to foul Williams on the inbounds pass, Michigan watched him sink two more free throws with 8 seconds to go for an unbeatable 6-point lead. When Rose missed a final 3-pointer at the buzzer, Phelps flung the ball in the air and North Carolina celebrated on the court.

Gonzalez, Palmer blast Orioles

By The Associated Press
There was a presidential pitch in Baltimore and a royal Roger in Kansas City on opening day.

After President Clinton threw out the first ball in Baltimore, Juan Gonzalez and Dean Palmer each homered twice as the Texas Rangers beat the Orioles 7-4 Monday.

In Kansas City, Roger Clemens held the Royals to six hits and a run over eight innings in a 3-1 Boston victory.

The Orioles and Rangers were excited to play in front of Clinton and a crowd of 46,145 - the 60th consecutive sellout at Camden Yards.

"I got my picture taken with him, shook his hand. ... He even used my bathroom," Baltimore manager Johnny Oates said. "He walked through my door and said, 'Where's the john?' and I said, 'I'm right here.'"

Clinton, a left-hander, wore an Orioles jacket as he threw a high opening pitch to Baltimore catcher Chris Hoiles.

TRACK

improve any times, and it was very windy and cold before the meet ended.

Two Hereford long-jumpers had their personal-bests for the year, Emerson said. Dunn placed third with jump of 16-foot-6, and Jowell was fifth with a 15-11 effort. Dunn also claimed sixth in the triple jump with 32-10.

Barrientz finished third in the 300 hurdles (51.2) and fourth in the 100 hurdles (16.56). Dunn and Jowell finished fifth and sixth, respectively, in the 300 hurdles—Dunn in 53.54 and Jowell in 53.57.

April Roddy took third in the discus with a toss of 103-6 and came in fourth in the shot with a 33-5 1/2. Tonya Castillo took fifth with a discus throw of 94-6.

In the 3,200-meter run, Cady Auckerman was fourth (14.23) and Ricka Williams was fifth (14.42). In the 1,600, Williams was fourth (6:43.3) and Auckerman was fifth (6:45.5).

Finally, Chandler was sixth in the 200 dash with a 28.0.

Andrews by 39. Hereford got wins in five events and placed high in numerous other events.

Hereford's winners were Anna Torres in the 3,200 run (14:48); Karon Harder in the 1,600 (6:56.8); Crystal Mercer in the shot put (31-5 1/2); Jenny Parker in the discus (92-1 1/2); and Monica Don Juan in the 300 hurdles (54.52).

Hereford finished second in both the 400 and 800 relays and third in the 1,600. The 400 team was Crystal Kelley, Mindy Salazar, Vanessa Garcia and Deanna McCracken. The 800 team was Kelley, Salazar, McCracken and Beverly Celaya. The 1,600 team was Kelley, Celaya, Salazar and Garcia.

Other Hereford JV girls placing were:

Second: Linda Martinez, 800; McCracken, 100 and long jump.

Third: Michelle Garza, 3,200; Jessica Irish, discus; Erin Dunn, 100 hurdles; Don Juan, 200; and Kelley, triple jump.

Fourth: Karon Harder, 3,200; Anna Torres, 1,600; and Beth Haile, discus.

Fifth: Kim Robles, 300 hurdles, Mercer, 100; and Don Juan, 100 hurdles.

Sixth: Martinez, 1,600.

Maddux shuts out Cubs

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer
Greg Maddux had a nice start, too.

On an opening day dominated by the debuts of the expansion Florida Marlins and Colorado Rockies, Maddux pitched like a Cy Young winner Monday.

Maddux, who won the award last year with the Cubs, returned to Wrigley Field and led his new team, the Atlanta Braves, to a 1-0 victory over Chicago.

like expansion players at Shea Stadium.

Phillies 3, Astros 1
Philadelphia's Terry Mulholland pitched a four-hitter and Doug Drabek lost his Houston debut.

Drabek gave up only four hits in eight innings and retired his last 13 batters. But he gave up two runs in the fourth - an RBI double to Darren Daulton and a run-scoring single to Jim Eisenreich.

Hereford scored 169 points in the junior varsity division, beating

GOLF

Hereford's boys totalled 352 Friday at Amarillo Country Club, leaving them nine strokes out of the six-team cut. Borger totalled 329 for the first round, leading Amarillo High's A team by one stroke. Monterey, Wichita Falls Rider, Palo Duro and Amarillo High's B team also made the cut. Borger shot 302 Saturday to total 631 and beat AHS by 10 strokes.

In Saturday's consolation round, Hereford totalled 304 at Southwest Golf Course and ended up tied for first with Wichita Falls High. On the first hole of a playoff, all five of Hereford's boys parred, coach Stacey Bixler said, while only two of the Wichita Falls boys parred.

Jayson Mines led Hereford both days, shooting a seventh-best 81 on Friday and a tied-for-best 72 on Saturday. Cory Newton, who couldn't compete Friday because of a limit on days away from school, fired a 73 Saturday for the third best score.

Other Hereford boys and their Friday and Saturday scores: Clay Cantrell, 88 and 83; Sabino Grijalva, 93 and 76; and Tim Burkhalter, 90 and 88.

Both the boys and girls resume district play Thursday when District 1-4A comes to Hereford and Pitman Municipal Golf Course. More details will be available Wednesday.

A team of Hereford freshmen and sophomore boys finished eighth in the Farwell varsity tournament Thursday.

David Farr led the Hereford contingent with an 89. Dominique Dominguez shot 90, followed by Nathan Diller, 93; Tom Munoz, 101; and Sabin Bradley, 105.

BASEBALL

The Herd returns to action today in Amarillo as they play Caprock at 4:30 p.m. Caprock also was rocked Saturday, losing to 22-5 to Dumas. The Demons scored 11 runs in the first inning and at least one in every inning.

Dumas, Hereford and Pampa are all 1-1 in district, as is Borger after a 7-5 loss to Randall Saturday.

Randall is 2-0, and Caprock is 0-2.

In a bad case of deja vu Monday in Hereford, the Herd junior varsity gave up seven runs in the top of the seventh and lost 11-8 to Dumas' JV. Hereford ended the sixth inning with a 5-4 lead. Hereford rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh, but the rally fell short.

Local hospital offering mammogram screening

Deaf Smith General Hospital is offering mammogram screenings at a rate of $65 during April, according to Ron Rives, hospital CEO. Women can make their appointment for the screening at the DSGH Health Fair from 11 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

"The price covers both the screening and the x-ray interpretation," said Claudia Smith, director of radiology. "Mammograms are such a vital part of a woman's yearly physical that the hospital wanted to provide this service as economically as possible. Many insurance companies now cover the cost of mammograms."

At the health fair, mammography technicians will be on hand to answer questions about the mammography procedure and to demonstrate how the x-rays are evaluated.

The American Cancer Society guidelines urges all women over 50 to have a yearly mammogram. "The guidelines suggest that every woman have a baseline mammogram at age 40 and earlier if there is cancer present in the family," Smith said. The baseline serves to give the physician a basis of comparison for future exams. From age 40-50, women should have mammograms every two years, unless there are other symptoms of breast disease. If symptoms are present, then the mammograms should be yearly.

"Mammograms can be a real life saver for women," Renee Hammock, director of nursing at DSGH, said. "We know that mammograms can sometimes detect cancerous lumps as much as two years before the lump is large enough to be felt in a physical examination."

DSGH has a dedicated mammography unit. "That basically means that our equipment produces a very low level of radiation. The CGR mammogram unit, which has been certified by the American College of Radiology, is used exclusively for mammograms," Smith added.

"Our technicians receive special training to administer the exams," Ron Rives said. "Each mammogram x-ray is then evaluated by one of our radiologists, who is a physician specializing in diagnostic imaging."

Mammograms are just one part of the American Cancer Society's recommended routine for breast care. "A monthly self-examination, done correctly, and a yearly physical exam from a physician are the other two important components of care," according to Smith.

For more information about the special mammogram screening, women are asked to call 364-2141, Ext. 248.

Hints from Heloise

CORDLESS PHONES

Dear Heloise: Just a reminder to those who have cordless phones. When you have used it and lay it down somewhere, be sure to place it with "dial" up.

In case you have not turned it off, you can see the light is on. Otherwise you may not have telephone service all day. — A Friend, Texas City, Texas

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, PO Box 795000, San Antonio TX 78279-5000 or fax it to 210-HELOISE. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Deadline to enter pageant set Friday

The deadline to enter the 1993 Miss Hereford Scholarship Pageant is 5 p.m. Friday. All young women, ages 16-21, must return entry forms to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, 701 N. Main St., by the designated time.

"The Entertainer" is the theme of the pageant scheduled at 7 p.m. June 12 in the Hereford High School auditorium. The event, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, is being co-chaired by Rita Bell and Julia Laing.

Contestants will be vying for scholarship money and prizes. Each contestant will participate in an interview by judges, talent competition and evening gown competition.

Also, serving on the Miss Hereford steering committee are Kim Buckley, Linda Daniel, Betty Drake, Lacy Mueggenborg and Kim Porter. Assistants include Gayla Sanders, Sheri Walterscheid, Donna West, Marsha Winget and Colleen Meyers. For additional information, call 364-6485 or 364-6856.

The first stamps issued by the U.S. Post Office in 1847 bore the portraits of George Washington and Benjamin Franklin.

Concert planned tonight

Laura Spitzer, internationally known pianist, will be performing at 8 p.m. today in the Hereford High School auditorium.

All members of the Hereford Community Concert Association are invited to attend.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1953 that restaurants in the District of Columbia could not refuse to serve blacks.

Opinion differs over meaning of $640 million SSC funding

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Clinton administration's request for $640 million for the super collider next year is proof of its support for the controversial project, a high-ranking Energy Department official says.

Many on Capitol Hill have called President Clinton's support for the $8.25 billion project lukewarm; rumors floated earlier this year that the administration was considering terminating the giant atom smasher.

Although far short of the $887 million called for originally, the collider request marks a 24 percent increase over the $514.5 million received this year.

Hill, where opponents annually seek to terminate the project. Last year, collider foes were able to strip funding in the House. The money was later restored after a massive lobbying effort in the Senate.

Many critics contend that although the super collider has scientific merit, the nation can ill afford big-ticket science on such a scale at a time of economic difficulties. Supporters counter that loss of the collider would mark a setback for the United States in the international scientific community.

The budget, which will be formally presented to Congress on Thursday, would give a 36 percent funding hike to programs advocating use of natural gas, to $196 million.

The blueprint proposes a slowdown in stockpiling oil reserves in the Strategic Petroleum Reserve, noting that the United States now obtains less than one-quarter of its oil from OPEC nations. The administration wants to drop the reserve's fill rate from 34,000 barrels of oil a day to 13,300 a day.

The budget request also includes $236.8 million for Pantex, down $11.1 million from this year's appropriation. Pantex, located near Amarillo, has been the nation's final assembly point for most nuclear weapons made since 1951.

Its mission now is to dismantle a nuclear arsenal deemed unnecessary in the post-Cold War era and store the plutonium from the dismantled warheads. State officials have voiced fear that Pantex would become the nation's long-term storage facility for plutonium from disassembled weapons.

Under the new budget, Pantex would be one of only two nuclear weapons plants that would emerge unscathed from the DOE's plan to cut 8,600 jobs from its nuclear weapons program. Pantex would gain 30 jobs under the proposal.

The administration has proposed a funding slowdown that would mean fewer dollars over the next several years - but would swell the collider's price tag and delay completion.

Happer said the administration should know by mid-summer how much that funding delays will add to the final cost. The Office of Management and Budget has projected that the collider's final price tag will swell to $10 billion.

The slowdown is expected to delay completion of the project from 1999 to 2002. The DOE, in its 1994 budget request, says the stretchout is "to ensure that all components are technically effective and that adequate managerial controls are in place."

"There's been a lot of talk about whether the Clinton administration is behind the super collider, and I think that $640 (million) figure says it all," Acting Assistant Energy Secretary William Happer told reporters Monday.

"They are putting their money where their heart is," Happer's comments came as the Energy Department unveiled its $19.6 billion budget for fiscal 1994. The proposed budget contains funding hikes for natural gas, renewable fuels, energy conservation and environmental cleanup at nuclear weapons factories.

The collider funding request is sure to be met with a fight on Capitol

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) - America's not what it used to be, CBS newsmen Charles Kuralt says: "Our country is far more neighborly and just and humane than it used to be," the host of "CBS News Sunday Morning" told a Washington State University audience Thursday.

While journalism tends to be "crisis-ridden, the country, by nature, is not," Kuralt said at the 19th annual Edward R. Murrow Symposium. As for his long stint doing "On the Road," Kuralt says it started as a three-month project in 1967. "When the three months were up, nobody said 'Stop,' so I kept it up for 25 years," Kuralt said.

His reports on American life appealed to viewers because "it was a reminder once in a while that the whole country wasn't in flames," he said.

$700 million for Russian food may cost more than expected to ship

WASHINGTON (AP) - Russia may get less corn, wheat and other food aid from the United States because of requirements that U.S. merchant vessels ship the goods.

The $700 million in Food for Progress aid that President Clinton promised Russian President Boris Yeltsin on Sunday includes shipping costs. The law governing the kind of aid proposed requires that three-quarters of the goods be shipped on U.S.-flag vessels.

But using U.S.-flag vessels instead of foreign carriers can more than double the shipping costs because of higher wages, more stringent regulations and a less efficient fleet. The requirement is intended to keep a U.S. merchant fleet ready for national defense.

An Agriculture Department official estimated that shipping will account for close to 30 percent of the aid - $210 million - based on a shipping rate of $70 per ton. But the official, who spoke Monday on condition of anonymity, said the cost could rise.

A grain export official said he has seen rates of $85 per ton.

"The worst-case scenario would indicate roughly 40 percent of the total spent on shipping, which I think would raise some eyebrows, including the president's," said Steve McCoy, president of the North American Export Grain Association.

The most recent rates quoted by the Transportation Department's Maritime Administration put costs at $25 to $28 per metric ton for foreign vessels and $57 to $70 for those with U.S. flags.

Supporters of the preference maintain that the spending creates jobs and tax revenues in the United States. They argue that other countries subsidize their fleets as well.

The administration gave few details Monday of its plans to sell Russia farm goods under Food for Progress, which allows rock-bottom interest rates, extended repayment periods and a six- or seven-year grace period for payments.

The administration also called for sending Russia an additional $194 million in direct food grants, mostly through private charities.

Under Food for Progress, U.S. goods are bought and sold in the private sector, where the proceeds can be used, for example, to build a farm and food-processing economy, such as constructing a bakery.

Because the Agriculture Department can borrow to buy the farm goods, Congress doesn't have to appropriate the full $700 million.

Congress will, however, have to lift the $30 million cap on freight costs the Agriculture Department can pay this year.

How much food the Russians can buy depends on the market. But departmental purchases last month under the program give some clue.

The department announced shipments of corn at a cost of $10 million per 100,000 metric tons. In another purchase, $102 million covered 520,000 metric tons of wheat and 87,000 metric tons of rice.

By U.S. livestock standards, it takes about 1.4 metric tons of corn to fatten a steer for slaughter, a six-month process.

A metric ton of wheat has nearly 37 bushels. Each bushel can produce 69 one-pound loaves of white bread or nearly 110 one-pound loaves of brown bread, according to Agriculture Department estimates.

The new aid became necessary because Russia was cut off from sales of U.S. farm goods late last year when it began defaulting on bank payments under a commercial program backed by the American government.

Russia's defaults total more than $666 million, and payments are still coming due.

Dallas man shoots ex-girlfriend, another woman, then himself

DALLAS (AP) - A fired employee left a note at his apartment before driving to an Avis car rental agency, where he wounded an ex-girlfriend and the office manager and then shot himself, police say.

The note included instructions to his mother about caring for the child he had with the girlfriend.

About 9:20 a.m. Monday, Tracy Gilbert, 25, of Dallas went into the rental agency office, where he had been fired following an altercation Friday with his girlfriend that ended with his violently shoving her.

In the next few minutes, he shot Cindy Sparatore, 31, of Irving three times in the abdomen and office manager Kerry Honeycutt, 47, twice in the shoulder and abdomen, then shot himself in the abdomen, witnesses said.

A .380 semiautomatic handgun was found on the floor beside Gilbert. Officers found a box of ammunition outside the Avis building in his pickup truck.

Gilbert is under police guard at Parkland Memorial Hospital, where he was listed in serious condition. Honeycutt and Ms. Sparatore also were listed in serious condition. Police said they expect to charge Gilbert with two counts of attempted murder.

Dallas police Sgt. Jim Chandler said he was told Gilbert was fired on Friday after an office quarrel with Ms. Sparatore.

"My understanding is that it was a domestic dispute, the breaking up of their relationship," Chandler said.

During the fight Friday, Honeycutt ordered Gilbert off the lot, officials said.

Officers said the violence apparently erupted over an argument Friday over Gilbert's having another girlfriend, who also worked at the car rental agency, and over Ms. Sparatore's decision to move out of his apartment.

Randy Berryman, who described himself as a friend who helped Ms. Sparatore move out of Gilbert's apartment on Saturday, said Gilbert made several threats toward her.

"He said, 'This is not the end of it. You've destroyed my life. I'm going to kill you,'" Berryman said.

Police said they were trying to find records of two "911" calls Ms. Sparatore reportedly made concerning the alleged threats.

Before the shooting Monday, Gilbert's new girlfriend said she arrived at his apartment to help him move to a new apartment in East Texas. She said she became concerned when he was not there and she found the note to his mother.

When she noticed his gun was missing, she said, she immediately headed to the Avis office nearby, catching up to Gilbert near the Love Field entrance, she told police, and flagged him down.

"He assured her everything was OK. He said he was going to close down a few accounts. When she asked about the gun, he told her he had just pawned it," Chandler said.

At his urging, she returned to his apartment to wait for him.

Chandler said Gilbert walked into a rear door of the Avis office and strode to a desk where Ms. Sparatore, a clerk, was sitting. Without saying anything, he pulled out a gun and shot her several times, Chandler said.

Chandler said when Gilbert turned and shot Honeycutt, Ms. Sparatore ran to the other part of the office. A co-worker hid her inside a restroom and probably saved her life by telling Gilbert she didn't know where Ms. Sparatore was, Chandler said.

Gilbert then turned the gun on himself, police said.

Not long afterward, Gilbert's new girlfriend heard sirens of police and ambulances and immediately returned to the Avis office, Dallas police Lt. Larry Wesson said.

"She just knew what happened," he said. "She got there as he was being loaded into the ambulance."

She followed the ambulance to Parkland Hospital, where she was detained briefly, questioned as a witness and released, Chandler said.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) - Thirty years later, Robert Goulet still remembers the kiss that got him into so much trouble with Julie Andrews.

Goulet was playing Lancelot to Andrews' Guinevere in the original Broadway run of Camelot. Goulet had a sore throat one night and was sucking on a throat lozenge during the scene when the lovers kiss in the queen's bedchamber.

"I slipped the lozenge into Julie's mouth," Goulet told The Buffalo News. "And I left the stage. And Julie had to sit there and sing 'I Loved You Once in Silence.'"

Andrews stormed backstage after the performance in search of Goulet. "She ... chased me, with those long skinny legs of hers, all over the backstage for about 10 minutes," Goulet said. "She was truly angry."

Goulet, 59, was in Buffalo with a touring production of "Camelot." He plays King Arthur this time.

A PRAYER THAT RATTLED THE RAFTERS!

As soon as they were freed, Peter and John found the other disciples and told them what the Council had said.

Then all the believers united in this prayer: "O Lord, Creator of heaven and earth and of the sea and everything in them-You spoke long ago by the Holy Spirit through our ancestor King David, your servant, saying, 'Why do the heathen rage against the Lord, and the foolish nations plan their little plots against Almighty God? The kings of the earth unite to fight against Him, against the anointed Son of God!'"

"That is what is happening here in this city today! For Herod the king, and Pontius Pilate the governor, and all the Romans--as well as the people of Israel--are united against Jesus, Your anointed Son. Your holy servant. They won't stop at anything that You in Your wise power will let them do. And now, O Lord, hear their threats, and grant to Your servants great boldness in their preaching, and send Your healing power, and may miracles and wonders be done by the name of Your holy servant Jesus."

After this prayer, the building where they were meeting shook and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and boldly preached God's message. All the believers were of one heart and mind, and no one felt that what he owned was his own; everyone was sharing.

And the apostles preached powerful sermons about the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and there was warm fellowship among all the believers, and no poverty--for all who owned land or houses sold them and brought the money to the apostles to give to others in need.
