Ex-Utilities Czar Remains In Jail Cell

Former Magnate Receives Word Of Action Calmly. Bond Highest Yet

CHICAGO (AP)—Samuel Insull Thursday was refused reduction of the $200,000 bond under which he is being held prisoner in the Cook county jail.

Judge Will M. Sparks, United States circuit court of appeals, said he felt evidence did not entitle the former utilities magnate to any lowering of bond.

Insull's attorney, Clyde Thompson, asserted the bond was the highest ever demanded of a defendant in any United States court.

Thompson brought his plea before Judge Sparks on a petition for a habeas corpus writ.

Insull remained in the county jail hospital where he has rested since Tuesday when bond was fixed on his charges of using the mails fraudulently and violating the bankruptcy act.

Insull was not perturbed when told of the judge's decision.

Developments In E. Howard Well Create Interest

An important extension of the Denman pool in eastern Howard county seemed a growing prospect Thursday with development in the Dorn No. 1 et al.

The well, held up at 2,527 in time while tanks were being completed preparatory to swabbing, is one half mile north of the nearest producer in the Denman pool. It is located on the north 1-2 of section 30.

The test has been running high consistently since it was begun. Pay and time were topped much higher than in the pool wells.

Plans call for an additional 300 feet drilling.

Rumors spread over Big Spring Thursday morning that the test had come in with a good flow of oil. This, however, was attributed to a flow occasioned by lowering of pipe into the hole. It was only a small flow and ceased immediately.

Confusing the Dorn test with the Sloan-Lewis wildcat between Center Point and R-Bar, many people believed Thursday that the North Howard test had hit pay. There were no new developments in the Sloan-Lewis well which has been running slightly low on formations.

Much attention was being focused on the Dorn test here Thursday by oil observers.

Postmaster Nat Shick said Thursday morning that a west-bound plane arriving here 12:05 a. m. would carry out the first cargo of airmail at 12:20 a. m. Mail dropped into the office by 11:30 p. m. will make the flight, he said.

EX-UTILITIES KING IS HUSTLED INTO COURT

As Samuel Insull was returned to Chicago to face charges in connection with the collapse of his once farflung utilities empire, little time was lost in preliminary legal maneuvering. Here the returned fugitive (center) is shown being hustled down a corridor of the federal building by United States marshals and deputies. (Associated Press Photo)

Strawberry Pie
Rolls made in class

JELLED CONSOMME
2 cups canned consomme
3 tsp. gelatin dissolved in 1/2 cup cold water
Seasoning to taste
Heat consomme to boiling. Add gelatin dissolved in cold water. Stir well and let cool. Pour into shallow pan and let chill in food compartment until congealed. To serve, cut into cubes and pile lightly into chilled bouillon cups and garnish with parsley.

MOLDED CHEESE SALAD ON PINEAPPLE
1 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup chopped pimientos
1/2 cup chopped stuffed olives
2 tsp. gelatin
Grate cheese and measure, to it add the pimientos and olives which have been run through the food chopper. Dissolve gelatin in cold water, or melt over hot water. Then add the cream beaten stiff. Mix all together, adding seasonings, and pour into a 1-lb. baking can, or round mold. Chill 24 hours. Slice 1/2 inch thick and place slice of molded cheese on slice of canned pineapple. Serve with mayonnaise and decorate with stuffed olive.

STRAWBERRY PIE
1 baked pastry shell
1 pint strawberries
3 egg whites
4 tsp. granulated sugar
4 tsp. powdered sugar
1 cup cream (whipped stiff)
1 cup cream (whipped stiff)
Make a meringue of egg whites and granulated sugar. Spread over bottom of cold baked pie shell. Over this slice one half of the strawberries and sprinkle with 2 tsp. of the powdered sugar. Whip cream stiff and fold in the remaining powdered sugar, and spread over cut strawberries left whole. Store in refrigerator until thoroughly chilled.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS
2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
8 cups bread flour (sifted before measuring)
2 beaten eggs
2 tsp. shortening
2 cakes yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
Mix boiling water, 1/2 cup sugar, salt and shortening together and cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water, add 1 tsp. sugar and stir into first mixture. Add beaten eggs and stir in 4 cups of flour, then beat thoroughly. Stir in 4 more cups of flour and mix thoroughly but DO NOT knead. Cover and put in the refrigerator to have on hand. Shape into clover-leaf rolls or any style desired and put into pans to double in bulk about 3 hours before ready to bake. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 450 degrees. The special advantage of this dough is that it need not all be used at once. Simply take out what is required, enough for a pan of rolls, then cover the balance and set away until more is wanted. Hold at low temperature, and dough will keep for a week or ten days.

GRAPE MOUSSE

BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS
School children in Soviet Russia, says a current dispatch from Moscow, are going back to the old-time ABC's, and study them much as school children do elsewhere.
For a long time the youngsters in the primary grades in Russia have been getting good doses of "dialectic materialism" and "economic determinism," and so on stuff—that would be over the head of the average high school pupil in America.
Now the Soviet authorities have at last discovered that it doesn't work. The kids simply can't take it in.
And one wonders if the resultant shift back to simpler and more concrete methods of pedagogy isn't more or less symbolic. Running a nation on purely theoretical lines is a fine idea, maybe, but compromises with reality are inevitable.
A school child is a school child, the world over. His introduction to the three R's is apt to be pretty much the same under Marx as under the benighted capitalists.

SOCIETY'S RESPONSIBILITY
No man today can say that he is self-sustaining, says Bishop C. H. LeBlond of St. Joseph, Mo. For that reason the social service agency has an essential part to play in any modern society.
"A board of directors sitting in a little room hundreds of miles from a community," Bishop LeBlond told an audience of Ohio charities workers, "can change the fortune of that community by the stroke of a pen. Whole families are made destitute and the children of these families suffer."
Hence, the bishop pointed out, society must be forever alert to preserve the stability of families which are the victims of movements that they can not control.
"We have passed the pioneer period, when men really could stand or fall by their own efforts. Cooperation to help those who have been caught in the complex shifting of modern life is one of the jobs society can not overlook."

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN
Towards Peace in the Orient

Whether or not the Japanese government decides that it is called upon to make a declaration about the American declaration, let us hope that will be the end of the declarations. No good can come from a public debate across the Pacific Ocean about undefined rights, intentions, and aspirations in the vague future. It was a pity that the Japanese spokesman had to start the debate. It is highly desirable that it should be adjourned promptly and conclusively.

Before there are many more public pronouncements there should be a long period of quiet discussion in which every effort is made to reach a workable understanding. It is clear, for example, that the treaty structure erected in 1922, as it affects China and as it affects naval armaments, is altered in its very foundations.

Manchuria has been separated from China in defiance of the treaties. The Chinese themselves have not made the progress toward a national unity that in 1922 they were expected to make. Russia, which in 1922 was an outlawed nation and without strength has returned to the comity of nations and is resuming the status of a great power. The United States has made a definite commitment to leave the Philippines.

Clearly the basic situation has changed since the last international settlement in the Orient and in the Pacific. The conditions are not what they were when the treaties were written. The balance of forces is not what it was.

There is no use pretending that the settlement of 1922 was the last word on the problems of the Far East. It obviously is not. It is no use, therefore, to take the position that it is that settlement or nothing. A new settlement is conceivable and it is necessary.

What we have a right to ask of the Japanese is that they will join with the other powers in the effort to make a new settlement, that they will not act as if they see fit without consulting the other powers. What they have a right to ask of us is that we shall enter the discussion assuming that Japan means to act in good faith, and that we shall not stand irrevocably upon treaty commitments that, whatever the causes, tax, reorganization of the state government in interest of economy and other items.

Here's why - Luckies do not dry out why - Luckies are All-Ways kind to your throat

The difference between cigarettes is the difference between what goes into them and how they are put together.
Luckies use only the clean, center leaves, for these are the mildest leaves—they taste better. That's why farmers are paid higher prices for them. And Luckies get the benefit of the famous process—"It's toasted"—for your throat protection.
And every Lucky is round, firm and fully packed. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker.
Yes, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

Hawk, Amarillo 1932-33.

SAN ANGELO—During the fifteen years of the existence of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which end with the sixteenth annual convention in San Angelo, May 11-16, fourteen outstanding business leaders of West Texas have served as its presidents, including the present incumbent, Walter D. Cline, whose term expires at San Angelo.

Of this number four are dead: Col. C. T. Herring, Amarillo; A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton; R. Q. Lee, Cisco; and H. P. Brelsford, Eastland. The others are still active in the affairs of the regional chamber and will be present at the San Angelo convention.

Col. Herring, the first president, was elected in 1919 at the organization convention in Mineral Wells. He served until the convention in Abilene in 1920 when he was succeeded by H. P. Brelsford of Eastland who died during the past year.

The third president was Clifford B. Jones of Spur who was elected at the Ranger convention in 1921. Jones has been active in the organization since its inception, and at the San Angelo convention, is slated to be chairman of the important group conference on agriculture, and to discuss the Public Works Administration before the Rehabilitation Group conference.

He is also a member of the convention work committee. Jones served as regional adviser for the PWA for the states of Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico.

A. B. Spencer, Crosbyton, the fourth president, and now deceased, was the only president to serve two terms. He was first elected at the Plainview convention in 1922, and re-elected the following year at the San Angelo convention. Spencer served as manager of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce following his retirement as president.

C. C. Walsh of San Angelo, now a resident of Dallas, and an official of the Federal Reserve bank, was the fifth president, and was elected at the Brownwood convention in 1924.

R. Q. Lee, Cisco, succeeded Walsh to become the sixth president. He was elected at the Mineral Wells convention in 1925. After his term of office he served his district in congress which place he was holding when he died.

Arthur P. Duggan, Littlefield, at present a state senator, and candidate for congress from the newly created nineteenth district, was elected president at the Amarillo convention in 1926.

R. W. Haynie of Abilene, a lawyer, was elected in 1927 at Wichita Falls to succeed Duggan. He is expected to attend the convention in San Angelo.

At the Fort Worth convention in 1928, A. M. Bourland, a dirt farmer from Wilbarger county, was elected president. Bourland served until the El Paso convention, and was elected manager of the organization upon the resignation of Homer D. Wade during the summer of 1929 preceding the El Paso convention held in October, the only convention not held in the spring.

As president-manager, Bourland was active in the reorganization plans of the chamber at the El Paso convention.

In 1929 at the El Paso convention, W. B. Hamilton, oil man of Wichita Falls, was elected the tenth president. Hamilton has been active in the chamber for many years as head of the oil and gas committee and activities. He will be chairman of the Oil and Gas Group conference at the San Angelo convention.

Charles E. Coombs, lawyer of Stamford, succeeding Hamilton, being elected at the Abilene convention in 1930. Coombs is on the program of the sixteenth convention to address the public officials of West Texas at their luncheon Tuesday, May 15. During the past year he has served as the chamber's legal adviser on public works applications serviced by the organization for West Texas political subdivisions.

Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher, was elected president at Lubbock in 1931. Harte launched the West Texas Beautification program and has remained chairman of the activity since. At the convention in San Angelo he will discuss Federal relief before the Rehabilitation Group conference as a member of the Texas Relief commission. He will also make the award in the second year beautification contest.

Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, a publisher, was the thirteenth president, and was elected at the Sweetwater convention in 1932. He is heading his city's delegation to the San Angelo convention which is seeking the 1935 convention for Amarillo. Since his election as a director from Amarillo in 1930 he has been active in the organization's affairs.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Paul B. Zimmerman, a survivor of the Long Beach earthquake as well as the Rose Bowl flood and sundry intermediate events of greater or lesser importance, deplores and reports as follows on the Pacific Coast sports situation: "The fight business is picking up sharply, with good bouts in the making to keep the pace fast. From an all-time low of $900 before the new year, the boxing business has risen to capacity crowds and $16,000 gates recently. The Olympic auditorium holds 10,400 and it was packed to overflowing for Tony Canzoneri and Baby Arizmendi. Lee Ramage and Art Lasky, a rugged Jewish heavyweight from Minneapolis, filled it again. Then more than 9,000 saw Ramage and King Levinsky. Barney Ross and Bobby Facheo, California Mexican, drew about 9,000.

"On May 15 Lasky and Levinsky, who boast half-line decisions over Ramage, will meet. After that they hope to get Kid Chocolate in with Freddie Miller or Baby Casanova, the tough featherweight from Mexico City.

"The Hollywood Legion stadium, which seats 4,000, also has been collecting capacity crowds. That is the mecca for the motion picture folks, you know. They fill all the ringside seats so that the press can hardly work. The Legion post there is going to enlarge the place to 8,000. An outdoor arena seating 20,000 is going up in Hollywood and another in Los Angeles proper is being considered."

LEAGUE RACE ONE-SIDED
"The Pacific Coast league race has indicated Los Angeles will repeat unless some of the other clubs can get help quickly. The league as a whole is in bad shape. Seattle, for several years in serious financial straits, is traveling by automobile now. The Mission club farmed a player to Portland on option of all things.

"As far as playing ability goes, the Angels seem to have such an edge that unless things are evoked up a bit none of the clubs can hope to make any money because the present race will be so one-sided. Los Angeles lost only six games in the first 29 starts.

"But the Cubs might do something about that, for Frank Demaree, whom they sent back to the coast league because he couldn't hit, has been hitting over 400 and setting the home run pace.

FOOTBALL BLOOMS STRONG
"A rip-roaring football season is expected in the fall, with no mention of the 1934 Rose Bowl defeat of Stanford being made. "Southern California has its troubles. The center of the line needs a lot of work since, from guard to guard inclusive, the loss of Larry Stevens, Curtis Youel and Aaron Rosenberg will hurt a lot. Then Ford Palmer, first string tackle, and Bob Erskine, first string tackle, and Bob McNeish, first string blocking half, not to mention Homer Griffith, regular quarterback, will be gone.

"Still, the Trojans may not fare so badly, although they stand to lose to either Stanford or California, or both; and maybe Washington. Stanford and California, by all odds, have the best array of talent available—but California has a game booked which will keep it out of the Rose Bowl and Stanford...but let's not bring that up again."

not found in any other low-priced car

CHEVROLET It was a great record of leadership that Chevrolet made in 1933! It's an even greater, more impressive record that Chevrolet is making for 1934! Already, sales are tens of thousands of cars ahead of last year. Production is running higher than that of any other automobile company in the world. And every day, from state after state, comes the same report on registrations: Chevrolet is leading all other cars!

The big reason for such preference is plainly shown at the right. Chevrolet has so many vital features that others in the low-price field have left out: Knee-Action wheels that are fully enclosed for complete safety and absolute dependability. A six-cylinder valve-in-head engine with an exclusive "Blue-Flame" head. Big, "cable-controlled" brakes, the best in the low-price field. Large, spacious bodies by Fisher, with Fisher No Draft Ventilation. And real "shock-proof" steering that brings new ease and comfort to driving. No other low-priced automobile has a single one of these five leading 1934 features. That's why no other can be backed by such a confident statement as this:

KNEE-ACTION WHEELS FULLY ENCLOSED AND WEATHERPROOF

80 HORSEPOWER—80 MILES AN HOUR valve-in-head six of matchless economy

CABLE-CONTROLLED BRAKES smooth and safe in any weather

BODIES BY FISHER the biggest and finest among low-priced cars

SHOCK-PROOF STEERING not found on any other low-priced car

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car

A Golf Champion in Spats And the Beauty Who Wore Lord Hope's Diamond

This early blimp looked harmless enough as it rose from Grant Park, Chicago, on a trial trip in 1919. But a few minutes later it crashed through the roof of a Loop bank, killing 14 people.

The original victim of the Hope diamond hoodoo, May Yohe, 45 years ago as the frilly soubrette shown at the right, was called "the most beautiful show girl in America." The first of her five husbands was Lord Francis Hope, and he decked her with the Hope diamond (and other jewelry) as shown at the left. The crash of this and three of her four later marriages, with May's unsuccessful attempts to return to the stage, all helped build up the legend that the Hope diamond brought ill-luck.

The one thing visitors to the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 never forgot was a ride on the giant Ferris Wheel. The view of Chicago and the fair grounds from one of the 32 glass-enclosed cabins gave mother or grandmother the same kick their children got out of the Sky Ride at a Century of Progress, 40 years later.

Walter J. Travis became the Bobby Jones of 1909 when he won the first of his three national championships at the Garden City Golf Club. Among the hazards of golf in 1909, observe the broad-brimmed felt hat, stiff collar, heavy Norfolk jacket, and the Highlander spats over heavy wool hose. A champion then apparently thought nothing of playing around with seven clubs, and carrying them, on occasion, himself.

The new century came in with a golden shower. Gold was discovered at Goldfield, Nev., in 1902, and six months later there was a bustling frontier town on the site. Note that there are a hotel, theater, bank, jewelry store, and horse-market already established. Goldfield was one of the last of the mining boom towns.

A quiet morning on the front porch of a quiet home in Columbia, S. C., in 1896. The head of this household was the inconspicuous president of a theological institute. It is the figure at the left, however, that makes the picture notable. The young man is Thomas Woodrow Wilson, destined later to lead his people through the hectic days of the World War.

Mrs. Warren Gives Last Talk Today

Conclude Cooking School Held At Settles Hotel

After a spirited contest between several women's organizations of the city the Daily Herald Free Electrical Cooking School drew to a successful close this afternoon.

An informal spirit marked the meetings and made them some of the most enjoyable ever held in Big Spring. The women asked Mrs. Ethyl J. Warren, director, questions from the floor and showed their interest in many other ways.

Today's lecture centered around beautiful foods, especially summer salads, and ways and means of getting the family to eat what it needed in the hot months. The recipes will be run in Friday's Herald.

Mrs. Warren stressed electrical refrigeration, demonstrating the various makes of electrical refrigerators on sale in Big Spring, and other forms of electrical appliances for cool summer kitchens. Her chief subject, however, was foods and food values.

Mrs. Warren was extended a hearty invitation by her listeners to return to Big Spring for another cooking school in the future.

Mrs. V. Van Gieson Is Hostess To Ely See

Mrs. V. Van Gieson was hostess to the members of the Ely See Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon for a very enjoyable party.

Mrs. Arthur Stallings Elected Chairman Of Council Of Howard County Home Demonstration Clubs

Strong Force Of Assistants Also Elected; Plan Big Quilt Show To Be Given In June

The Home Demonstration Council met Wednesday afternoon at the Federation Clubhouse and elected Mrs. Arthur Stallings, outstanding club leader in Howard County, as its president for the coming year.

Five rural clubs were represented by fourteen enthusiastic women.

Mrs. Stallings, whose home is in the Lomax community, has been active in club work since Howard County had its first home demonstration agent, and has won prizes on her work in several exhibits. She is looking forward with enthusiasm to the greatest year in the Council's history, she says.

Serving with her is a strong corps of equally active women. Mrs. Wylie Davis of R-Bar is assistant chairman; Mrs. Duke Lipscomb of Elbow, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ches Anderson, also of Elbow, reporter.

Council Chairman

MRS. ARTHUR STALLINGS
Of Lomax

The chief concern of the Wednesday meeting was the quilt show which the Council will give June 1st and 2nd. This will be the biggest thing of its kind ever held in Howard County. It will last for two days and a large number of prizes will be given to attract entrants from all over the country.

Admission will be one penny. This will go toward a fund for sending rural workers to the A. & M. Short Course this summer. Neither droughts nor depression nor lack of agents have kept Howard County Council from sending a representative to A. & M. since the movement started here.

Mrs. Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent now located at Stanton, was present at the Council meeting.

The Council will hold two meetings next week to complete the quilt which it will give away at the quilt show. On Monday the members will meet at the Federation Clubhouse to put the quilt together and on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Phillips, 1109 Wood street, to do the quilting.

Present in addition to Miss Miller were the following women: Lomax, Misses A. Stallings, Henry York and D. W. Powell; Fairview, Mrs. Earnest Carling and J. W. Phillips; Overton, Misses G. L. James, White and G. W. Overton; R-Bar, Mrs. Wylie Davis; Elbow, Mrs. Ches Anderson, Mrs. Ches Anderson, Mrs. Hill, and Duke Lipscomb.

PARIS, (AP) — "Roominess" is the decree for smart travel clothes this year.

"Easy fitting" coats, suits and gloves are worn by the chic continentals who embark on steamer, airplane and train. In leathers and loose tweeds, they are designed to slip smoothly on and off and show the fewest wrinkles and the minimum effect of wear. Hats are the only close-fitting note in the chic traveler's wardrobe.

The coats which swing aboard the boat trains at the Gare St. Lazare these days appear in smooth leathers, rough tweeds or plain wools. Not a touch of fur is seen on the smartest designs. They are fashioned with big revers or collarless necklines and worn with a dashing cravat.

Figured neckties silk, knitted wool or any other fabric which remains crisp and shakes off dust may be tucked into the necklines of the coats, which are either long or three-quarter length.

Suits Simple, Too
Under the wraps goes a trim tweed suit or a light wool frock as simple as the coat itself. Black and gray, brown and beige and navy-blue and greige combinations are favorites in the two-toned wools which make many travel suits cut with business-like jackets and slender tailored skirts. Most of them are worn with sweaters of knitted wool or blouses of crocheted linen or cotton, since these require less pressing and care.

Travel gloves are almost as loose as the coats. In capeskin, antelope or suede to match the bag, they are worn at least a quarter of a size larger than the hand to give a casual, easy effect.

You bet! We've got the NEW

COME in and see it — the tire that licks the problem of rapid tread-wear!

"G-3" is its name — just an engineer's symbol for the tread that stood up under the toughest punishment the Goodyear test fleet ever gave a tire.

They pounded it over the roads day and night — starting, speeding, stopping — frazzling brakes and wracking cars. And when the reports were in, the "G-3" All-Weather was the winner!

It kept its grip twice as long as competitive tires — gives 43% more non-skid mileage than any previous Goodyear All-Weather!

What a tire! It's the only tire that can keep its non-skid mileage on quick-starting — fast-running — quick-stopping modern cars. And that means more safety — longer non-skid wear on any car.

It costs more to build — but you can buy it today at no extra cost!

Here's what you get in Goodyear's new "G-3"!

You get the broader road contact of a flatter, wider All-Weather Tread.

You get quicker stopping and the greater road grip of more non-skid blocks in the center.

You get the easy steering and smooth travel of wider riding ribs.

You get the slow, even wear of closer-spaced non-skid blocks and ribs.

You get more rubber in the tread, an average of two pounds more per tire.

—all of which adds up to 43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE at no extra cost to you!

Chapter 45 NORMAN'S STORY

"You're here," whispered Judith to Norman, "it's all I care about now."

"Better take the stand, Norman," said Conrad, and to Judith, "You'll have the rest of your life to talk to him."

Judith watched his quick, firm step as he strode to the witness stand.

"I object," roared Lampere, power forgotten, fury in his face. "On what grounds?" inquired Norman. "You said in your closing words that you wished you had him here to present. Well, I've brought him, and when he gets through testifying for me you can spend the night with him."

"Mr. Dale, you are no longer associated with Mr. Lampere, are you? Will you give the date that you severed connections there?"

"July 24."

"Will you give your reasons for leaving?"

"May I say broadly, that I learned of certain conditions which made it impossible for me to remain conscientiously."

"Did you learn of these conditions from inside the office, or—"

"I was approached from the outside. I gave Mr. Lampere no reason for leaving because I wanted first to make sure that the party to whom I had talked was right."

"Your wife hadn't previously told you certain facts that she, as former stenographer to Tom Bevins, knew?"

"She tried to, but I had allowed my mind to become so poisoned against her theories, not against her, I want you to understand, but against her theories, that I would not listen."

"Where have you been since you left your firm, Mr. Dale?"

"In the valley of the Rio Diablo. I went there to check the statements of the man who approached me while I was still acting with Mr. Lampere."

"Did Mrs. Dale know of your presence?"

"I believe not. I think at one time she half recognized me. I was working at the Scathborne oil fields at the time. The first well had just come in and she drove over to see it. It was dark, and after the first shock of seeing her look at me with half-recognition, I hurried away."

"Why were you there incognito?"

"Because I wanted to carry on my investigation unobserved by anyone."

"Why did you begin at Scathborne field?"

"Scathborne, as you know, is subsidized by Morton Lampere. Mr. Lampere's capital developed the field."

"I object. I demand that statement be stricken from the records. I demand—"

"Mr. Morgan," said the Judge, who was leaning over his desk with interest, "proceed with your witness."

"Mr. Dale, in what capacity did you serve while in the Rio Diablo basin?"

"I was acting as a persecutor of one Judith Dale."

"Your duties?"

"To assist the gentleman sitting out there in the first row," he pointed to Lampere's last witness, "in creating mutiny among the workers, in saying on Mrs. Dale and if, in spying on Mrs. Dale and if compromising position which was to be construed to Scathborne's benefit."

"Before you go into this, Mr. Dale, how long had you known Tom Bevins?"

"All of my life. Our houses, the Bevins' and my father's, were in the same block."

"In the course of your life did you ever at any time see Mr. Bevins under the influence of alcohol?"

"Big Tom, you mean, drunk? Good Heavens, no, and it was the one thing he was strict about in the field. He even disliked big dinner parties where wine was served. I don't believe he ever took anything stronger than a cocktail."

"Mr. Dale, prior to your appearance here a witness indicated that Big Tom had come home on numerous occasions completely under the influence of liquor."

"So help me God," said Norman Dale, "that person lied."

"Your honor," roared Lampere, "are you going to sit there and let this—"

"Mr. Lampere, sit down before I charge you with contempt of court," barked the Judge. "Your only other course will be to prove your witness has not perjured herself."

"Mr. Morgan," he turned to Judge Morgan, "that question was completely unethical but," he coughed, "proceed and watch your words."

"er, just a moment, bailiff, catch that man going through the door. I would like to question him further and if we can prove perjury—there, now proceed."

But they didn't proceed. Such confusion arose at the bailiff's attempt to capture his man, that the Judge called a recess and when court again convened, word was sent in that Morton Lampere had become violently ill and asked the session be adjourned until the following day.

Judith and Norman left the courthouse together. When they paused on the steps for photographs, they were asked for interviews.

"Give us a chance to talk," pleaded Norman, "we haven't had time to say more than hello."

His conductor waited at a nearby garage. Silently they got into it and drove out to Hillendale.

"The DeMaos are in Galveston for the week; they turned the house over to us."

"That was nice."

They paused outside the door. "I planted your stocks," Norman said, as he fumbled for the right key.

"Yes, I saw you."

"You—what?"

"I thought it was you, even though Delphy said you were the

Seeks 'Vindication'

This new closup of Samuel L. Hill was made upon his return to Chicago after his self-imposed exile of nearly two years. He said he sought "complete vindication." Associated Press Photo.

"Why didn't you sell Hillendale?" she inquired as they inspected the dachas.

"I'd as soon put a child on the auction block," he admitted, "and when I found you weren't through with me I found these folks who leased it."

"I wish I never had to go to that old court again," Judith said from the comfort of Norman's arms.

"Don't have to," he answered. "We're giving Lampere a chance to leave the country tonight. Slim Sanford will fly him down to some place in Mexico and from there he'll go abroad. Mrs. Bevins has asked Morrison to appear in court and ask for a dismissal of the case. You'll find Mathile and the Missus heading for Europe where they'll meet Lampere, who will marry Mathile as soon as Mrs. Lampere can get a Reno divorce."

"Dinner, Ma's Norman an' Miss Judy."

"Coming," they answered.

It was wonderful, Judith thought, to sit across the table from Norman, looking at him across a blue bowl of yellow roses from their own garden. She fingered her cup, lovingly. They purchased that, on their honeymoon.

Soon they would go out and sit on the terrace and watch the little spike moon slide down to the west, all mixed up with oak tree limbs and stars.

Judith wondered if Ligze's smile wasn't endangering his ears, if stretched so far, and when she asked him, it stretched even further.

Rosa, delighted at meeting Ligze's "folks," was helping him in the dining room, a needless service. And Delphy waddled in from the kitchen every so often to see that things were as they should be.

They were out on the terrace and Judith was curled in Norman's arms, protected by his arms against everything, when a thought came.

"Norman," she cried in sudden pain, "I've got to go back to the dam. I can't leave it half-finished."

"That's all right," he said, "your house is big enough for two, isn't it? Delphy's marrying Rosa's stepmother's uncle by marriage, and you can't live alone, besides, as he added, "one clause in Big Tom's will read that after I had become convinced of Lampere's duplicity, I was to be retained as legal adviser of the Bevins Construction company, and I think Judith, that I should be on the ground, don't you?"

"Oh, I do, I do," and bustly her mind constructed scenes of the ill-fated wooden house above the dam with cold winter winds blowing and inside Norman and herself, facing the future together. No longer the promising young attorney and the springing stenographer, just Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dale.

Grocerymen Score Seven Runs In Heavy Initial Attack

By HANK HART

The Robinson softball team, by stopping the Men's Bible Class, 19 to 0, Wednesday, served notice to all of the other teams that they are going to be a hard nut to crack in the league race.

Opening with a seven run attack in the initial inning, the Grocerymen kept up the steady pounding throughout the game, while the Methodists succeeded in reaching third base plate only once.

In the initial inning the Robinsons were successful in hitting through the line-up. Caubie, Hart, J. W. Coats, and Woodrow Coats each managed to land safely on first. Rogers was out, but Digby, Underwood and Glover sent runs across the plate.

J. E. Hammond blasted out a double to send the Robinsons into a five run lead. Forrester sent another across when Bailey erred on his ground ball. Jake scored when Bailey threw to first to catch Caubie.

The Grocerymen scored one in the second, went out in order in the third and fourth, but again succeeded in batting around in the fifth when they scored six runs.

Forrester hurled a bang up game for the winners as he allowed only four hits and completely quelled any attempts at scoring. He whiffed two of the Churchmen and not an extra base blow was recorded against him.

Convention Is Given Midland By Rotarians

Dr. Taylor Is Chosen District Governor; Amarillo Beaten For Site

ABILENE—Rotarians of the 41st district sang "Auld Lang Syne" Wednesday afternoon to conclude their eighth annual conference and departed for their homes, to re-assemble a year hence in Midland. Club presidents voted Wednesday morning to award the 1935 conclave to the western city, whose bid had been contested by Amarillo.

Messages from the district's new governor nominee, Dr. Thos. H. Taylor of Brownwood and from its first governor, Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, were peaks in the Wednesday session. Dr. Taylor spoke in the morning, bringing a challenging talk regarding Rotary's new year and pointing the way for clubs to accomplish more toward the "idealization of service which business renders."

Cline's address was the last on the program. He served as governor of the district in 1928-30, the year after it was reorganized and later advanced to the post of first vice-president of Rotary International. Cline recently has returned from a trip through the mid-west and east aboard the Texas "full-house special", and his talk was a summary of national sentiment gathered on that tour. Confidence and a measure of profit, are returning to the nation at large, said Cline, and the country has entered definitely on a permanent and conservative program of economic reform.

Addresses at the final session, a luncheon affair at the Hilton hotel attended by Rotarians and Rotary Ann, included that of H. C. Pipkin, Amarillo, "Men Who Are Called Rotarians," and a humorous talk by R. E. Jackson of Denton.

Dr. Taylor at the conclusion of the meeting, conferred with incoming club officials on future district policies. Dr. Taylor will succeed O. B. Sellers of Fort Worth who, during the past year, has visited all clubs in the district and played an important part in the district program. In recognition of his work, the district yesterday presented Sellers and Mrs. Sellers, a handsome silver service. Presentation was by John Bert Graham of Waxahachie and came as such a surprise to the outgoing governor that he had difficulty in expressing his appreciation.

Attention was turned at the Wednesday morning session, to the forthcoming convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Detroit June 24-29. Texas clubs will run a special train to the convention and a large representation is expected from the 41st district.

The "On To Detroit" program is headed by John Cooper of Waco.

Past Governor H. C. Anderson discussed resolutions which will be before the Rotary International board at the convention. The resolutions propose, among other things, changes in the types of Rotary membership, modification of proxy provisions, revisions in attendance credit and a reduction of Rotary International's per capita tax. Opinion of the district on these proposals will be voiced by Governor Sellers, as a member of the board.

The 1935 host city, Midland, had a representative on Wednesday's program, Winston F. Borum of that city talking on "A Vision of Rotary." John P. Howe is president of the Midland club, and W. L. Pratt is secretary. Fred Wimpie will assume the presidency July 1.

Music for the sessions included vocal solos by R. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls with Mrs. Shepherd as accompanist and by Ed Shumway; and selections by a quartet composed of the two, with John Bert Graham and Frank Day of Plainview.

Wilson And Murphy Meet In Finish Tilt

Both Grapplers Clever And Scientific In Art Of Body Punishment

Fast, colorful wrestling tonight at the Casino with Benny Wilson pitted against the tricky Murphy in a finish match.

Both of the grapplers are clever and scientific in the art of body punishment.

Murphy, the wild Irishman from Detroit, has adopted a training routine of six miles of road work daily, one hour of gymnastics and two hours daily sun bathing.

Clean, hard, fast work is Wilson's style of punishment.

The bouts will begin at 8:15 with a good preliminary.

What Next For Tony Herrera?

Pete Jackson Bounced Tony, Including His Title Hopes

By W. WINSTON COPELAND
United Press Staff Correspondent

FORT WORTH (UP)—What next for Tony Herrera—our is he through?

When Pete Jackson—bounced the El Paso lightweight off the floor four times at Los Angeles recently to win by an easy margin, he also bounced Tony's title hopes right through the ropes, even Tony's most fervent admirers believe.

Until that fight Tony was an outstanding contender. But after it was over, his rating sank many degrees.

There is some talk, however, that Tony yet may meet Barney Ross, the junior welterweight champion, who recently cancelled a fight with Herrera. That fight, even should it materialize—which is highly improbable—would be after Ross meets Jimmy McLarnin in New York late this month.

If predictions run true, Ross will come out of that fight minus his crown. If so, a subsequent Ross-Herrera fight would not draw shoe shine money, even in Texas.

Only 26

Although only 26 years old, Tony has had more than 200 fights. He has never been knocked out, but 200 fights make him an "old man" in the fight game. It will remain to be seen whether Jackson's hard punches permanently shook the nifty El Paso brawler.

Herrera is a clean liver and, while appearing slightly frail, always is in top physical condition. That fact may enable him to throw off the punching delivered by the Pacific Coast negro.

Tony's supporters here and at El Paso still are singing post mortems over his fight with Jackson.

It was utterly useless, they say, since Herrera was virtually sure to be beaten. He already had earned a try for the crown, they maintain, and should have evaded the boy that both Ross and McLarnin have slide-stepped.

About the only thing in Tony's favor in that fight, they believe, was good sportsmanship, and even that was a wasted sportsmanship, inasmuch as it did not help Jackson's chances either, as it is doubtful either Ross or McLarnin would cross the "color-line" to engage the negro.

Some historians say the oldest habitable house in the United States stands in St. Augustine, Fla., having been built by the early Spanish settlers.

Senator Clarence C. Dill of Washington has been debating privately with himself and friends recently as to whether he should run for re-election this fall.

In old moments Dill argues that if he's ever going to make his own practice law he should start now, not when he's six years older.

At the moment the western Democrat is pressing his new federal communications bill. Should it fail to pass he intends to conduct a Senatorial investigation of the A. T. & T. this summer. His re-election decision probably will be influenced by the outcome of this legislation. Anyway the Washington primaries aren't until September 11.

Self-respecting bootleggers wouldn't have tried to sell some of the alleged whiskey on the market today.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out through the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This "get going" may be the beginning of nagging backache, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lameness, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS. A doctor's prescription which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatment of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the old reliable which contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. SEIBERLING Vapor Cured TIRES

OUR CUSTOMERS SAY:

"Sure—I can understand why Seiberling's new and exclusive Vapor Cure method of building tires makes possible for the first time a tire of live rubber—live cotton, welded into a single unit with NO WEAK SPOTS. I don't want tires that have been devitalized with dry, scorching heat—safety and mileage burned out right at the factory. That's why I changed to the new 1934 Seiberling Vapor Cured tires, because I can understand why they are safer."

WE SAY:

We believe that when you get the facts here, compare our new Seiberlings, our low prices, you, too, will change to the only tires with NO WEAK SPOTS.
