COSDEN PIPE LINERS DEFEAT CARTER CHEVY TEAM 7 To 5

HINES HURLS BANG-UP BALL

FORSAV (Spl.)—Blackie Hines, Cosden Pipe Line twirler, pitched bang-up against the Carter Chevy team here Wednesday afternoon to defeat the visitors 7-5.

It was the most hotly contended game of the season for the Formites. The Carter boys, although registering more hits than the Pipe Liners, were roundly outplayed. The small 12-inch ball was too fast for them. The Cosdenites, however, were a bit stale in the field, making eight errors.

Scores by innings: H. H. E. COSDEN... 004 201 0-7 9 8 CARTER... 102 120 0-5 10 4

The Pipe Liners are scheduled to play an all-star team at 5:30 this afternoon on the Cosden diamond here.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you perfectly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, also often breaks out in skin eruptions. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". They contain wonderful, natural, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Patent a medicine. Read drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

"G-3"

Overnight—Goodyear's "G-3" became the fastest-selling tire in the world!

HERE'S the tire everyone is talking about! It took Goodyear over 24 months to perfect it—but it took only 24 hours for it to become a nationwide sensation.

"G-3" is its name. Just the factory symbol for the tread that stood out in every test—kept its grip 43% longer than former All-Weathers—twice as long as other tires tested against it.

What a tire! Its tread is wider—flatter—has more rubber in it—more grip because there are 16% more non-skid blocks in the center of the tread. And beneath this huskier, handsomer, tougher tread is the only ply material able to stand the strain—Goodyear Supertwist!

Why should you get less safety for your money—when the "G-3" All-Weather costs no more!

Sure, we have a GUARANTEE—a guarantee against road hazards—a lifetime guarantee against defects of material and workmanship. With the quality of Goodyear Tires where it is today—you can be sure of satisfaction. Come in and see us about it.

Details Of Rail Pension Bill

Much interest has been attached to the rail pension bill because Big Spring is, as much as anything else, a railroad town.

The Herald had been besieged, since its passage by congress, with questions concerning the workings of the measure.

Lee M. Eddy, vice-president of the Telegraphers, who at the request of executives of all standard Rail Labor Organizations, has devoted much time to a study of the pension problem and has a clear discussion in the current issue of Labor.

His series of questions and answers taken from the Labor account follow:

When must I work for to qualify for retirement pay?

For any "carrier." That means any railroad, express company, or sleeping car company which is subject to the Interstate Commerce Act.

Am I included in the retirement plan?

Yes—if you have worked since June 18, 1933, for any "carrier" as above defined, or if you work for such a carrier now. If you re-enter the service in the future, your past service will be counted for retirement pay.

Must I work for just one "carrier"?

No. Your total service is all that counts—whether for one or a dozen carriers. Your service does not have to be continuous. However, you must claim all this service, and must sustain it by evidence. It is not the Retirement Board's duty to claim or prove your service.

When can I retire?

You must retire when 65 years old, unless both you and your employer agree to extend your service year by year up to age 70, but no more. You can retire voluntarily after 30 years' service, at any age.

When does retirement pay begin?

On any date you specify when you write your application for retirement, except that your retirement pay can't begin more than 60 days before the date you turn in your application.

No retirement annuities, however, shall begin before February 1, 1935.

How much will I get?

Here's how to figure it. First find your "average monthly active service pay."

For service before August 1, 1934, this "average monthly pay" shall be the average pay you received from carriers during the eight calendar years ending December 31, 1931.

For service after August 1, 1931, your "average monthly pay" shall be the average pay you receive from carriers for all active service after that date.

Multiply the first $50 of your "average monthly pay" by 0.02, the next $100 or part thereof by 0.015, and from $150 to $300 multiply by 0.01. "Average monthly pay" over $300 does not count.

Then add the three figures you got as above explained and multiply this sum by your total years of service. That gives you the amount of retirement pay you will get each month.

Example—Mr. John Railroad worked 30 years for the "carrier." His "average monthly pay" was $170.

$50 times 0.02 equals $1.00
$100 " 0.015 " $1.50
$20 " 0.01 " $0.20

Sum $2.70

Ans: $2.70 multiplied by 30 equals $81 monthly retirement pay.

If you retire after 30 years' service, when less than 65 years old, you will get 1-15 less retirement pay for each year you are younger than 65. For instance, if the above Mr. John Railroad retired at age 64 he would get 14-15 of $81 or $75.60 per month.

However, if a carrier retires you for physical or mental disability your retirement pay will not be reduced even though you are less than 65 years old.

What will it cost me now?

You contribute 2 per cent of your "active service pay" to the retirement fund. This percentage may be changed later on if it is found to be too much or too little to sustain the fund, but your employer must always contribute twice as much to the fund as you do.

Your contributions will be deducted from your pay envelopes after August 1, 1934.

What happens to my money if I die?

Whether you die before or after retirement, the money you contributed to the retirement fund is paid—minus the amount you have drawn in retirement benefits—to your heirs, with 3 per cent compound interest. Your wife, children or other legal heirs get this money as an annuity or refund. Live or die—you can't lose under this re-system!

The new Railroad Retirement Board is authorized to provide necessary rules and regulations for taking over existing railroad pension systems, but this will depend on the board's ability to reach a satisfactory understanding with such railroads and also on whether sufficient funds for this purpose become available.

Will I get the benefit if I retired before this law?

As an alternative to taking over existing railroad pension systems, the new board is authorized to extend the benefits of the act to railroad employees who left active service when 70 years old or more, whether or not they are now receiving pensions, providing the board, after investigation, finds that this can be done.

How is the Retirement Fund handled?

Uncle Sam's "Watchdog of the Treasury" keeps the fund in Washington and is authorized to invest it in U. S. Government bonds to future it safely for you.

Who's on the Retirement Board?

Three members, appointed by the President "by and with the advice of the senate." One member shall be recommended by the employees, one by the carriers, and one shall be "independent." Their salaries are $10,000 per year.

up a determined battle. Robinson, motor company pitcher, had an exceptionally fast ball.

The game was nip and tuck through the third inning, each team having tabbed only one run. But in the fourth the Bankers broke through with a four run rally to take the lead 5 to 1. Taylor, Anderson, Wilson and Vick scored. Hall tallied for the Fordmen in the fifth, but the Bankers came back strong in the same inning to tack up four more runs as Taylor, Anderson, Wilson and Vick each scored again.

Dyer and Choate swept around the bases in the sixth to put the Bankers in the lead 11 to 2. The Ford sluggers rallied to put across three runs in the last inning.

Wednesday Dance At Country Club Is Well Attended

The dance sponsored Wednesday evening at the Country club by the Women's Golf association was declared a success, with a sum of $50 realized toward purchase of clubhouse draperies, according to Mrs. Ralph Rix, who with Mrs. E. O. Ellington was in charge of arrangements.

The Johnny Lochay orchestra played for the dancers.

Seven Runs In Three Innings For Victory

Clubmen Lose League Contest By Ragged Play In Field

By HANK HART
After having the score tied in the fourth inning, the Robinson soft ball team returned in the last three innings to score seven runs and hold the Kiwanians to one lone tally to win by the count of 12-4.

The Clubmen's ragged play in the field attributed partly to their downfall when they committed a total of ten errors to give the Grocerymen several unearned runs.

After falling in their efforts to score during the first two innings, the Robinsons broke through for three runs and the lead in the third. O. Hart, Hammond, and Forrester tallied in succession, each reaching first on Kiwanians' errors.

Three Runs—One Hit.
The Kiwanians returned in the fourth to present their best attack of the day when they scored three runs on one hit. Reid tripped into deep left to open the inning. Harris sacrificed the run when he flew out to right field. Weatherford and Essell reached first on errors and both scored when the Robinson infield erred for the third time.

The grocerymen settled down in the fifth to open their deadly attack which only one pitcher had been able to stop during the entire first half.

Hammond and Forrester binged in succession and Rogers and Digby brought them across with nifty hoppers into the infield which the Kiwanians could not handle.

Coburn, Underwood, H. Hart, Robinson and O. Hart tallied in the sixth to run the Robinsons total to ten.

The Clubmen rallied vainly in the sixth but their efforts netted them only one run. Reid, after reaching first on an error, crossed the plate on Harris' outfield bingle.

Grocerymen Tally
After two were out in the final frame, the Grocerymen sent two more across with a bingle by O. Hart.

With two down, Gentry singled in a vain attempt to tie the score, but Guilkey sent a hopper to Forrester who stepped on second to nip Gentry and end the game.

The Robinsons have served notice that they will be strong contenders for the second half. With their sluggers working in top order, the Grocerymen are going to be hard to stop.

Every Conceivable Force WORKED TO TEAR THESE TIRES TO PIECES

But NOT ONE CORD LOOSENED! NOT ONE TREAD SEPARATED! Not one Blowout!

AS thirty-three speed demons careened and slid around the steep banked curves of the hot brick track, tires shrieked and smoked . . . break-neck speeds, 150 miles and more down the straightaway—tremendous centrifugal force tugging to rip the tread from the body of the tire. In fact, every conceivable force worked to tear the tire to pieces, but not one cord loosened—not one tread separated—and not a single blowout. What amazing proof of Tire Strength—Safety—Quality and Dependability!

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

Chapter 48
JOLTING DUFRESNE
 "The bloodhound of the law," Dufresne declaimed, "come to read the handwriting on the wall. Mene, mene, takel, upharin. Good old Harper, come to Alexander's Feast. No, no, Alexander's—Robbazar's. Read me the writing on the wall, Harper!"

The detective did not answer this facetious jesting. Dufresne grew restive under the growing weight of Harper's silence. "Well, what did you come up for?" he asked, testily.

"I want to have a serious talk with you, Dr. Dufresne. We're nearing the end of the chase now and it has narrowed itself down to two persons. The question is, which Pierre Dufresne was watching this demonstration with bored gravity when the detective put his hand over the keys and asked, suddenly, "Mr. Dufresne, why did you kill that man?"

The expected reaction did not come. Dufresne's head tilted up sharply and his manner tensed, but his gaze was level and without a trace of fright. "You'd better explain, Harper. Your mental processes are a too intricate for me."

Harper brought a notched key from his vest pocket and laid it down beside its counterpart on Dufresne's ring. "These are both master-keys to the service-rooms of the Austerlitz," he said. "Does that explain?"

The dark eyes narrowed. "I can't ones to arrest and charge with the murders?"

Dufresne drained his remaining liquor and put the glass down heavily. "Why come to me? I don't want to hear about it. You're wasting your time."

"Nevertheless, I'm going to tell you what I have found out. May I borrow your key-ring for a moment? That will illustrate what I mean."

Dufresne handed over a flat leather case. Inside were five or six keys on separate catches. Harper spread them out fan-wise. "The clues are like these keys," he explained. "Only one will open the truth about this case, but the eye alone cannot tell which one of these keys will fit the lock. The trick is to find the one that fits."

"Your whole story is a fake," Harper answered. "You wrote those threatening letters and sent them to yourself. We have specimens of your hand-writing and experts are ready to testify that both were made by the same hand. You planned to kill that man and built up false clues to conceal the real motive."

"Today I went over the scene of your alleged ambush. You got out there and fired at your own car. You see how your story falls to pieces? If there was no crank letter writer on your trail, then there was no ambush, and without the ambush there would have been no turnout of police."

"Your purpose was to get out of the Austerlitz, unseen and unnoticed, but you didn't dare incriminate yourself by asking any of your friends to perjure themselves by giving you a false clearance. So you thought out a way to do it. You faked the attack on your car, locked yourself in your bedroom with the avowed intention of drinking yourself into a state of coma and left the police on guard between your door and the elevator.

"It was all very ingenious, Mr. Dufresne, but this afternoon I reproduced your feat under similar conditions."

Dufresne leaned back comfortably and crossed one leg over the other. "It sounds very clever. Since it interests you, suppose you explain how it was done?"

"I'll explain," answered Harper, with sarcasm. "There are two suites on that floor, separated by a corridor. There is a bend in this the avowed intention of drinking yourself into a state of coma and left the police on guard between your door and the elevator."

"I went out the rear door of your suite, crossed the hall, got in the dumb-waiter, pressed the button, and rode down to the basement. I came out into a sort of store-room, walked out the employees entrance, re-entered the building by the front door, and rode up again in the elevator. The man on watch had seen nothing, because they could not see around that bend in the hall. That is how you got out last night, Mr. Dufresne."

"Pardon me, Harper. You have explained quite ingeniously how it was possible to get out, but that doesn't prove that I took advantage of it. There's a considerable legal distinction there, don't you think?"

"There is one person who knows you were out of the suite last night."

"I think that will be even harder to prove."

"Perhaps. If you will summon Andrews, I will ask him why he was so startled when I came back to the Austerlitz—why he tried to stop me from entering your bedroom—why he looked so flabbergasted when he saw you were really there, lying on the bed. Faithful old Andrews! He didn't know what it was all about, but he did his best to protect your plans. It was well conceived and well executed, but here and there your hand was a little heavy. That smell of brandy in the bedroom was entirely too strong. You spilled it around to drive home the idea that you were dead drunk. That heavy smell and the peculiar expression on Andrews' face when he saw you there gave me the first twinge of suspicion about your alibi."

Friday, another tragedy intrudes itself into the tangle.

BROWN NEWS

There was a good attendance at Sunday School and after Sunday School a Baptist minister from Big Spring preached.

The Home Demonstration club seems to be growing more interesting. Monday evening of last week the club members with their families met at the school house. The women went to Mrs. Griffin's home for their regular meeting while the men discussed crop conditions and politics. The children played games on the school ground. At the club's business meeting Mrs. J. H. Cardwell was chosen as the delegate the club would send to the A. & M. short course. They also voted to send Miss Bertha Blagrove if the man who drives the school bus at Leonard takes the truck to the short course, giving the women a cheaper transportation so the club would have money to pay fare for two. Miss Blagrove is the wardrobe demonstrator for the club. As her year will be up in July, Miss Ruby Hughes was elected as first year wardrobe demonstrator for another year, and Miss Blagrove will be second year demonstrator. After the business meeting Miss Myrtle Miller, Martin county Home Demonstration Agent took charge of the meeting and checked several dress patterns and criticized a dress and showed how to make tailored buttonholes. Mrs. Ruby Bond, a professional dressmaker of the Flowergrove club and Mrs. Donham, wardrobe demonstrator of the Flowergrove club, helped with several of the dress patterns which was appreciated by all the members. Miss Miller also explained how to enter dresses in the contest at Stanton Saturday. As the next meeting will be a guest program day the club invited the Flowergrove club as guest and Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Donham accepted the invitation for the club and all will meet with Mrs. I. H. Hare, July 15th. Miss Miller announced that at the meeting on July 20th, which will meet with Mrs. W. H. Herren, she will score home canned products or show the women how to put up a standard product, after a committee consisting of Miss Bertha Blagrove, Mrs. T. Hare and Mrs. Lee Castle was appointed to make arrangements for the club to present a play in the new school auditorium the club members went to the school yard where they served iced drinks and cake. Those enjoying this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. Griffin and children, Mrs. and Mrs. P. O. Hughes and daughter, Miss Ruby, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Herren and children, Mrs. J. T. Blagrove and daughter, Miss Bertha, Mrs. J. H. Hare and children, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Patterson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tafe Hare and small son, Mrs. Ruby Bond, Mrs. E. H. Charles Edwards, Prominent West Texas Ranger, Peritonitis Victim MIDLAND—Charles Edwards, 54, prominent West Texas cattleman, died late Tuesday afternoon of peritonitis following an acute attack of appendicitis. Visiting his son, Charles Edwards, Jr., at Maryneal over the week end, the cattleman became ill but drove here in company with his daughter, Miss Jerra Edwards, Monday morning, consulting his doctor only after arrival here.

Funeral services were announced for 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the family residence, 420 West Indiana street, with interment to follow at Fairview cemetery. The Rev. Winston P. Borum, Baptist pastor, will be assisted by the Rev. K. C. Minter, pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. Edwards was a member of the Baptist denomination. The body is in charge of the Ellis mortuary.

Mesdames Earnest, Lester Taken Into Club Membership

Mrs. L. A. Talley was hostess to three tables of bridge Tuesday morning when she entertained members of the Petroleum club. Breakfast was served in the coffee shop of the Crawford hotel and the bridge tables were set in the lounge. Garden flowers were placed at interesting intervals in the lounge, adding a touch of coziness to the scene.

Mrs. Joe Earnest and Mrs. Harry Lester were added to the club membership at the close of the games. Mrs. B. L. LeFever was awarded club high, a beautiful jar of powder; Mrs. Vivian Nichols won high cut, and Mrs. Earnest, visitors' high, each being presented with boxes of bath powder.

Visiting guests were: Mesdames L. G. Talley, George Garrette, J. L. Rush, Albert M. Fisher and Vivian Nichols while club members present included the following: Mesdames W. D. McDonald, P. H. Liberty, H. S. Faw, R. L. Carpenter, LeFever and the hostess.

The new addition to the school building which is almost complete. The Brown base ball team went to Knott Saturday afternoon and defeated the Knott team. The high dry winds of the past several days have almost ruined the crop prospect here. Some farmers have lost their complete crop, none have a full crop left, while some have little crops left but are in fear they won't with a few more hot winds. A number of farmers are planning selling their work stock off as feed is so scarce and there isn't any prospect now of being, any so they "can't hold them much longer. The gardens are almost a complete loss, hence the farmers are becoming alarmed over the conditions as this will be the third crop failure in succession.

New Greyhound Bus Shown Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Craig and son, Ira Lee of Blackwell, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. J. O. Hardin and family.

Buses are going stream line and taking on gadgets and devices bent on making the gigantic carriers modern throughout the country. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the 33 passenger Greyhound bus which stopped here for the second time Tuesday is its 190 horsepower motor.

It sets on rollers on the bus when the bus rolls into a division point, stud bolts to the front are removed and the motor is rolled out and another, already fully serviced, rolled in its place.

This obviates the necessity of passenger's changing buses which now run from St. Louis to El Paso without change.

Lines of the cars are sweeping, but conservative.

There are 33 adjustable seats and 7 jump seats, bringing the total seating capacity to 40. Individual air cooling gadgets are beside every seat and the driver has an air cooling device for his feet.

Bug With Headlight Found On Brazos

CLEBURNE, (UP)—You have heard of the lightning bug with its "tail" light, but have you ever heard of a bug with a headlight? R. H. Deering brought back one of the latter type from an outing party on the Brazos river. It had two lights on its head, spaced so as to resemble the headlights of an automobile. The insect could make the lights go on and off at will.

The bug died in captivity but has been placed on exhibit.

Air Mail Rates Reduced July 1

Air mail postage rates will be reduced July first to six cents from the present rate of eight cents per ounce and to six cents from thirteen for the additional ounces or portions thereof, according to Postmaster Nat Shick. Citizens of this city will be provided with faster air mail schedules to the east over more direct routes while enjoying the advantage of the new rates, he pointed out.

"Great increases in volume of air mail is contemplated," he said, "and business houses, firms, and individuals of this city will now obtain the fastest service possible at this new lowered rate. Regular users of air mail will find that savings from the new rate will permit them to extend their use of air mail to many additional types of correspondence, which in turn will speed up their contact and benefit their business relations everywhere," the Postmaster said.

"In addition to the new rates, effective July first, the southern transcontinental air mail and passenger route of American Airlines, will be extended from Nashville to Washington, Philadelphia and New York the same day, affording this city direct connections in east and west bound mail between here and these important Atlantic Coast centers," he added.

"This city has long felt the need of rapid, direct schedules to the east and also to Chicago and the mid-west, both of which are now to be provided by American Airlines which recently inaugurated a Fort Worth-Chicago service via Oklahoma City, Tulsa; Springfield, Mo., St. Louis and Springfield, Ill. This, with the forthcoming Nashville-Washington-New York daily schedule, opens a new and broader territory served directly from this city and brings our citizens the finest air mail service in our history," he concluded.

Rail Wages Due To Go Up Next Sunday

WASHINGTON—Railroad workers throughout the country will receive an increase in basic wages next Sunday when the agreement signed last April between the railroad magnates and employes becomes effective.

Two years ago railroad labor agreed to a ten per cent reduction from pay checks as a means of assisting the railroads over the depression. On July 1 one-fourth of the cut will be restored and another fourth on January 1. The entire deduction will be restored April 1, 1935.

Government employes also are due for restoration July 1 of another five per cent of their 15 per centum pay cut. The first five per cent given back was retroactive to February 1.

We Hunt The Year Around For Customers

Yes... we are "gunning" every day in the year for new patronage. Amusement is not a matter of holidays only and minimum service... and it surely gets results. We see new faces at the "best deal" every day. Most of these people have been sent to us by their friends who have stamped with us and have learned what "Hilton Hospitality" really is. After all, our best advertisements are not those written by our advertising men, but words of praise spoken by people who have stamped with us.
