Mars Dirt Sought

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Viking 1's robot was ordered to lay its iron hand on Mars for the first time today, digging up a bit of soil in an attempt to discover if life exists - or ever existed - on the Red Planet.

A 10-foot telescoping arm with a shovel-like hand was to extend with a creaky, whirring noise and delve into the red dirt several times.

17 CB Channels Added

WASHINGTON (AP) - The more than five million CB radio enthusiasts in the country will have 17 more channels beginning Jan. 1. The new channels will bring to 40 the number of channels open to CB use.

The Federal Communications Commission announced the long-awaited expansion Tuesday, along with rules designed to reduce complaints by CB operators and about CB interference with television.

Kidnaper Leaves Trail

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP) - James L. Schoenfeld, wanted in the Chowchilla mass kidnaping, has left behind him a trail of gun deals and aborted attempts to reach Canada, officials say.

But the most painful fact for the authorities is that the trail is already a week old.

Tighter Security Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chief lawyer for the CIA says the government should tighten its means of keeping secret information from the public instead of trying to punish newsmen who reveal classified documents.

CIA counsel Mitchell Rogovin told the House ethics committee on Tuesday that he approves of its $150,000 investigation into the manner in which CBS reporter Daniel Schorr obtained the House intelligence committee's secret final report.

Consumers To Fight Gas Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Power Commission's new $1.5-billion increase in the nation's gas bill faces immediate challenge from consumer advocates, who call it too high and too hasty.

Energy Action, a consumer organization, planned to ask the commission and the U.S. Court of Appeals not only for reconsideration of the rate hike, but also to stop it from taking effect in the meantime.

Christians In Minority

ROME (AP) - Premier-designate Giulio Andreotti will probably soon give Italy a minority Christian Democratic government dependent on the Communists for survival.

Other top leaders of the party voted unanimously Tuesday night in favor of a minority cabinet - Italy's second this year after two weeks of negotiations by Andreotti failed to get the Socialists and other small parties to join him in a coalition and give him a majority in parliament.

YMCA Executive Director Outlines Program Objectives

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

Support was pledged to present to citizens of the Hereford area a program of recreation for all age groups by Claude Huard, new executive director of the Hereford YMCA, during a meeting with representatives of the news media Tuesday morning.

Huard was introduced to the group of reporters by Bill Johnson, president of the YMCA Board of Directors at the meeting which was held at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office.

BOTH JOHNSON and Huard stressed that all YMCA activities will make use of existing facilities, and would in no way conflict with any existing program.

For that reason Huard announced that the Y's first activity, planned at the present to be flag football, will not begin until the second week of September.

"We will not begin until September so that the school children can get used to the routines of school again before we start to use the school facilities," Huard said.

Huard, 54, comes to Hereford from Germantown, Wisconsin where he was the branch executive of the Metropolitan Milwaukee YMCA. He has been associated with the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) since 1956, first serving as physical director at the Newark, Ohio YMCA.

WHEN ASKED by Brand publisher O.G. Nieman why he took the job here in Hereford, Huard answered "I see it as a tremendous challenge. I am impressed by the enthusiasm and warmth of the committee members...I have always wanted a spot to start from the ground up and build a YMCA."

As far as immediate goals Huard said that the development of an adequate program was first on the list. "We don't want to force anything on anyone, but want to provide what is wanted...the sky's the limit," he said.

Huard said the Y would utilize both volunteer and hired instructors. "I need skilled individuals in the community to contact me so we can get classes started in their particular specialty," he emphasized.

Johnson left the impression that the Y wanted to have a well-planned program rather than something that would fold in the near future.

A part of that planning is an effort to avoid interference with previously established recreational programs such as Kids, Inc. baseball and softball, and Little Dribblers basketball.

"We will try to compliment the established programs, and where an activity isn't offered we will provide a program for that activity," Huard said.

Since the fact of a facility for the Y itself is some two years away, the Y programs will be conducted in gymnasiums and rooms at several local schools.

"OUR TEMPORARY physical headquarters will be the old Central School gym. We will also use the elementary schools and playing fields as well as possibly some church Fellowship Halls," Huard said.

"We would especially like to thank the school board for making these facilities available to us," Johnson added.

The business office of the Y will be temporarily located at 413 East Sixth.

Fees for the programs offered by the Y will be established by a membership committee, but Huard stressed that the Y would not turn away any youth due to financial difficulties. "But, on the other hand, we will not allow any free-loading," he added.

Huard said that a member of the Y would get to take classes at reduced rates and be entitled to use of the game rooms, whereas non-members would be charged a higher rate for classes.

HUARD BROUGHT with him to the meeting lists of activity ideas he had drawn up for both the youth and adult groups. He was quick to note, however, that all the ideas were subject to the approval of the program committee.

Included in his list of youth activities were archery, ballet, cheerleading, crafts, CB operation, stamp, coin, photo, and model clubs, hunter safety, camp outs, trips and tours, fishing trips, movies, parties, tournaments, and youth nights.

For the adults Huard included on his list bridge, art, interior decorating, archery, law for the layman, family living, officiating, drama, investments, sports skills, self defense, trips and tours, dinner theatre, and annual dinner meeting, among others.

Other probable programs for the Y include Indian Guides and Indian Princesses; a father-son, father-daughter program where units of six pairs make up tribes, Y-Olympics, Learn to Swim Campaign, Junior Leaders Club, Day Camp, leagues for all sports, and co-ed gym nights.

Huard and Johnson both stressed that all the Y programs would depend on strong support from the community, both in attending the activities as well as volunteering to teach or instruct in some of those activities.

"We are looking forward to wide-spread community support," Johnson concluded.

Meeting Set Today

School Board Hires 7 Teachers

The Hereford School Board of Trustees continued its string of closed meetings to consider applicants for the superintendent's job during a session held Tuesday night at the school district central office.

The board members convened in open session first to approve the hiring of seven new teachers under contract for the 1976-77 school year.

They are Jo Nell Trammell, Northwest Elementary School; Billee Landrum, and Marlene Watson, Aikman Elementary School; Nancy De Marco, Shirley Elementary School; Catherine McManis, La Plata Junior High School P.E. teacher and coach; Carolyn Robbins, La

Plata; and Connie Gilbert, Stanton Junior High School P.E. teacher.

Also the board discussed the need for corrective work to the eight-court tennis complex located at Hereford High School. Workers will conduct the follow-up work on the courts soon. No action was necessary.

Board trustees met in executive session to interview one prospect for superintendent. The meeting continued officially until about 11 p.m. No actions were taken following the closed meeting.

The board is again scheduled to meet at 4 p.m. today to continue its search for a replacement for Roy Hartman, who resigned the superintendent's job in June to accept a similar post at Grapevine near Dallas.

Jim Conkright, board president, said the board is making progress and that a decision would be reached in the near future. However, he has said the trustees would not be rushed into any quick selections and would take as much time as necessary.

Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent, is acting superintendent until a permanent replacement is found. His appointment was made last Friday.

All board members are present for meetings this week except Jim Arney, who is out-of-town.

Higher Gas Pricing Not Satisfactory

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tripling of wellhead prices for new natural gas is not enough to satisfy Texas producers, independent operators, company executives or interstate pipeliners - who all plead for price deregulation.

The Federal Power Commission FPC opened the way Tuesday for new gas to be sold on the interstate market at $1.01 to $1.42 per thousand cubic feet. The old ceiling was 52 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Michael T. Halbouty, former president of the 65,000-member American Association of Petroleum Geologists, capitalized opinions of several persons interviewed.

Halbouty said, "The higher prices will help get some more gas into interstate lines but we still are regulated and there will never be full impetus on wildcat explorations for new reserves until we have deregulation and permit the marketplace to determine prices."

Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock, however, saw some good news in the FPC decision, at least for Texans. Bullock said Tuesday the increase in prices could add $66 million to the state surplus projected for Aug. 31, 1977, and $165 million to the state revenues in a period ending Aug. 31, 1979.

Some producers admit that the price increase will help the interstate supply situation a little, but they say 90 per cent or more of the interstate sales will continue to be sold under existing contracts with prices ranging from 20 to 52 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Jack Blanton, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, which represents about 90 per cent of Texas producers, said the order is a step forward but not far enough.

"Due to many long-term contracts at very low prices for old gas supplies, this action by the FPC is not likely to bring traumatic increases to the consumer," Blanton said.

Blanton said there has been no newly found gas available at 52 cents per thousand cubic feet because the old nationwide ceiling price that prevailed

Board of Equalization To Meet Thursday

The Tax Board of Equalization will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse to review cases presented by taxpayers desiring to change their property valuations for the coming tax year.

Prehearings on tax computations were held Monday and Tuesday and continue today for those in doubt about their valuations as a result of the recently completed reappraisal program. It was conducted by Jim McMorries and company. He is a tax consultant for the county, city and schools.

Members on the board represent the Hereford City Commission, the Hereford School Board of Trustees and the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court. The complete County Commissioner Court including James Voyles, Bruce Coleman, Austin Rose Jr., Earl Holt and County Judge Sam Morgan are members of the Equalization Board.

The city representatives of the Board of Equalization are meeting separately from the county and school members. Cliff Arnold, city tax assessor-collector, said this morning that the city would hold its tax equalization meetings beginning at 10 a.m. Thursday in the City Commission meeting room on the second floor of the courthouse.

The city representatives include Melvin Jayroe, Neil Cooper and Wayne Lady.

Arnold said the city was not involved in the reappraisal program and therefore would not be concerned until next year with values determined for county and school taxpayers.

The County and school representatives to the board will convene together in the Commissioners Courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse. The school representatives to the board are Frank Zinser, Bill Davis and Troys Carmichael.

McMorries said that his company associates would continue meeting in the District Courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse for anyone needing to see them. Taxpayers must first see the McMorries group before addressing the Board of Equalization.

"It (the tax meetings) are going exceptionally well," McMorries said. "We want the people to come in here. We will see them until we see everyone even if we meet next week."

During the board meetings, evidence may be given on the part of the taxpayer concerning his property and its value. Obviously, taxpayers will desire lower values than printed on the tax notices sent out this month and they will try to persuade the board why values should be lower.

In a number of cases, the reappraisal project brought values higher since the last reappraisal was conducted 15 years ago, when values were much lower. Other cases may involve lower values depending on the condition and use of the property although it is not likely.

The city, schools, and county taxing agencies will use the values set officially after the board meetings as a basis for tax collections next year.

The Commissioners Court and City Commission have already established their respective budgets for next year and have therefore set tax rates and percentages of assessment. The county is taxing at a rate of $1.15 per $100 of assessed value and at 24 per cent of the appraised value. The city tax rate is $1.20 based on 45 per cent of appraised value.

The School Board meets on Aug. 17 to set its tax rate. It already established the assessment ratio at 60 per cent of appraised value, the same as last year.

The values set by the board are final.

Heavy Damage Results From Earthquake in China

TOKYO (AP) - Heavy damage was reported in the Chinese coastal metropolis of Tientsin and following the strongest earthquake recorded in the world in 12 years.

The quake, recorded by the U.S. Earthquake Information Service at 8.3 on the Richter Scale, rocked the heavily populated Peking-Tientsin area of northeast China before dawn today. The Chinese Foreign Ministry told the Australian Embassy the epicenter was about 90 miles east-southeast of Peking and 40 miles north of Tientsin, a city of more than a million people and the capital of Hopeh Province.

Former Australian Prime Minister Gough Whitlam, who was visiting Tientsin with his wife, told the Italian news agency Ansa that many buildings, including his hotel, were badly damaged. He said he saw Chinese searching through mounds of debris.

Whitlam said he and his wife were asleep on the seventh floor of their hotel, Tientsin's tallest building, when it "broke literally in two." He said the Chinese helped all those in the hotel to safety.

Tientsin's foreign community of about 70 persons were all reported in good condition and took refuge at the international club outside the city, Whitlam said.

The Australian leader added that his wife got a slight cut on her leg from a glass splinter. Kyodo, the Japanese news agency, reported from Peking that the epicenter was believed to be near Tangshan, an industrial center that produces steel and electrical machinery.

Peking, the Chinese capital, was jolted for half a minute by the first severe shock, and aftershocks continued into the morning. Chinese and foreigners spent the rest of the night outdoors although it was raining, but diplomats said major damage was not apparent, and there was no indication of casualties in the capital.

No word of damage or casualties outside Peking came from the Chinese government or from Hsinhua, the official news agency. In Washington, the U.S. Geological Survey said many people may have been trapped in buildings that collapsed. A member of the agency's staff who recently headed a mission to China said the Chinese have made significant advances in predicting quakes, and advance warning may have been given. But no such warning was reported in Peking.

David Dean, deputy chief of the U.S. diplomatic mission in Peking, said all members of the U.S. Mission and other Americans known to be in Peking were safe. Those living in high-rise apartment houses and hotels were urged to move to hotels were urged to move to the mission, where Mission chief Thomas Gates, who took up his post in May, was supervising operations.

Ansa reported piles of debris at the entrances of old buildings, but it said Peking's ancient quarter apparently withstood the tremors. Everything appeared normal in front of the residence of Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung and other public buildings, it said.

"Despite the intensity of the quake, there was no real panic," said an Australian diplomat.

Chamber Ag Committee To Meet

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee will meet tomorrow (Thursday) at noon at the chamber office for a luncheon and discussion session.

Among items on the agenda for the meeting are discussion of pending farm legislation, markets, strike problems and other topics.

Agriculture committee members include Gerald McCathern, chairman, and Eldred Brown, Tom Burdett, Jim Conkright, Raymond Schlabs, Lee Umsted, Melvin Cordray, Cecil Oglesby, Bob Veigel, Raymond White, Charles Schlabs, Mike Bradford, Mark Hoelscher and David Pruitt.

Other members include Joe Reinauer Jr., Bobby Owen, Nick Farris, David Hutchins, Jay Boston, John E. Smith, Larry Harris, James Gentry, Wayne Jones, Bert Boomer, Leo Witkowski, Bill Reinauer, and Harlan VanderZee.

Also, Jim Sears, Andrew Kershen, Frank Zinser Jr., Gaston Baer, Archie Dwyer, Lawrence Kendall, Herb Edwards, Bill Fowler, Herman Ford, Verdon Watts, Neil Cooper, Guy Walser, Pauline Lavon, Art Stoy and Larry Hedrick.

Among others serving on the agriculture committee are Ed Reinauer Jr., A.K. Roark, Weldon Toews, Gary Jones, Dave Hopper, Bruce Coleman and Dwight McGee.

Oklahoman Assaulted

An Oklahoma resident was assaulted by four Mexican American males early this morning near the Elm Court at 808 West First.

According to police reports, Carry Gregory, Greg Book, Keith Howell and Brian Foster, all of Altus, Okla. were returning to their rooms at the Elm Court about 1 a.m. today when they were accosted by four Mexican males carrying pipes and knives, who allegedly told the Oklahomans to "get out of Hereford, because it's our town."

McGregory was hit in an ensuing

Pork Prices Stay Ahead Of Failing Beef Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) - Retail beef prices are falling slightly because of large supplies, but pork prices are edging up in spite of some increased production, according to the Agriculture Department.

Preliminary figures through mid-July show that beef on an all-cut basis averaged around $1.39 a pound, compared with nearly $1.41 in June and a record of $1.61 just a year ago, the department says.

Pork prices, although far below their record of $1.59 a pound last October, have risen some in recent months and earlier this month were about $1.41 a pound against slightly more than $1.40 in June and less than $1.39 in May.

Both meats are more plentiful than they were a year ago. Last week, for example, beef output by the nation's packing houses was up 15 per cent from the same period last year and pork was up 10 per cent, the Agriculture Department said.

A department report Tuesday showed the farmer's share of what a shopper pays for beef - in June about $1.41 a pound - has declined along with the "marketing spread" charged by middlemen for transporting, processing and selling it.

The so-called farm value of beef in June averaged 80.6 cents a pound, down from 81.2 cents in May and 87.4 in April. That is not what farmers get for cattle since it takes about 2.3 pound of steer on the hoof to make one pound of store beef. It is, however, the farmer's share of what a consumer pays for a pound of beef.

Last month's middleman share of the retail beef price was 60.2 cents a pound, down from 60.5 in May. But it was substantially above the middleman share of 54.6 cents a pound in April.

The pork retail price of little more than $1.40 last month broke down into 91.7 cents for the farmer and 48.7 cents for the middleman. In May the shares were 88.2 cents for the farmer and 50.4 cents for the middleman, and in April they were 86.2 and 50.4 cents.

In another of its "food marketing alert" reports, the Agriculture Department said grainfed beef "will be in bountiful supply" through August. But prior to the FPC's Tuesday order did not cover the costs of exploration and development.

Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said the FPC "now appears to realize that federal control over natural gas prices has retarded drilling" for new supplies.

Ramsey added that "The Railroad Commission still maintains there should be no price control."

Speaker of the House Bill Clayton agreed with Ramsey's opinion and expressed another concern.

"I am also concerned that the FPC order may slow the deregulation move within Congress. Now Congress will be saying, 'Okay, you've been given something and we can not forget about it,'" Clayton said.

R.L. O'Shields, chairman of the Interstate Natural Gas Association of America, a trade group that includes most major interstate pipelines, said, "The correct solution for the long term, however, remains decontrol by the Congress of the price of new gas."

Ford Hopes for GOP Delegates in South

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford is aiming a two-pronged attack at Ronald Reagan's conservative Southern supporters, hoping to snare GOP delegates disenchanted with Reagan's choice of a liberal northeastern senator as a running mate.

Reagan leaders in Mississippi said Tuesday they feared the Ford strategy might succeed in their state. And Ford backers were gleefully suggesting there could be dramatic changes almost at once.

Doug Shanks, Ford's Mississippi chairman, said there have been switches from Reagan to Ford, suggesting there are enough to move the delegates uncommitted ranks.

But those switches were partially offset by an uncommitted South Carolina delegate coming out for Ford and one Reagan delegate from Colorado behind Ford. "We picked up more people... and Wednesday there will be announcements of enough to do it," he said.

White House officials also indicated they expected an announcement today about the Mississippi delegation.

If Ford captures the state's 30 uncommitted votes, he would be within five delegates of the 1,130 he needs for the nomination at the Kansas City convention next month.

Reagan's selection of Sen. Richard Schweiker for vice president did shake a bare handful of Pennsylvania delegates - previously counted as Ford backers - into the scuffle, but was not seriously injured. The Oklahomans were in Hereford after finding employment locally.

Police are continuing their investigation into the incident, but had no suspects at press time.

In other police matters, officers received a call following the weekend theft of some gasoline.

Mrs. Harlan VanderZee of 132 Liveoak told police that 10 gallons of gas was taken from her car sometime Saturday or Sunday while it was parked in the garage at the residence.

Ford, appearing with Connally outside the White House, did not publicly change his stance on Connally as a possible running mate. "The future will speak for itself," Ford said. "I don't exclude any potential Republicans."

Printing Cost Considered

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court heard a report at a meeting Monday that as much as $5,000 a year could be saved on county printing costs if another system were used.

It was erroneously reported in the Tuesday issue of The Hereford Brand that the county could save "over $5,000 a month," on its printing costs. The article should have stated "a year" based on information provided by Jim Pence of the Addressograph Multigraph Corporation.

The court instructed Alex Schroeter, county auditor, and Cain to investigate any other systems besides the one presented and report back to the court later.

B.F. Cain, county clerk, told the Brand today that the county takes in almost $4,000 a year in revenues from the present Xerox copying system, which would offset the possible savings figure quoted by Pence.

He said that advantages of the present system would have to be studied carefully before any decisions are made to purchase a new printing equipment.

The County Commissioners Court was reviewing any ways that any savings could be derived from printing costs of the county. The court instructed Alex Schroeter, county auditor, and Cain to investigate any other systems besides the one presented and report back to the court later.

Cookstove Brings VFD

Hereford firemen were called to the Phil Coker residence at 5:10 p.m. Monday.

Upon arrival, firemen extinguished a small fire in a cookstove at the residence.

Sunday, units were summoned to a house fire at the Joseph Terry residence at 404 Mabel, where they quickly brought a blaze under control.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The All-Stars of the Bronco Major League have returned home this week from their bout with the other All-Stars of this district at Altus, Oklahoma.

We would like to tell you about it and thank the coaches for showing the boys such a fine time.

Gene Combs, Bill Simons, and Jim Collier and their wives took the boys and watched over them and their needs. They took them to Lake Altus to swim and for a picnic Tuesday afternoon, and to the Air Force Base for all their meals and visited the CS Galaxy.

The wives took all the uniforms for the next game to the washateria and cleaned them.

It was really a vacation for all the boys. Even though the boys lost their games, I know it was an experience that none of them will ever forget.

We want them to know we appreciate it very much.

Andy, Mickey, Bill, and Ethel Stengel.

FPC Triples Rates For Interstate Gas

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Power Commission nearly tripled the amount producers can charge for interstate natural gas. Averaged with other lower-price gas, it would increase the average consumer's gas bill by about $15.60 a year.

At a cost to an average residential customer of about 13 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, the staff estimated the average residential bill would increase about $11.70 a year in New York state; about $10.40 in California; about $17.81 in Pennsylvania; and about $21.45 in Illinois. Other factors in the averages in addition to climate are how many ways households in various states use natural gas, such as how many use it for cooking, for instance, or for drying clothes.

Under previous regulations, producers were allowed to charge about 52 cent per thousand cubic feet for gas they sold outside the producing state. In Tuesday's decision, the commission set a new nationwide ceiling price of $1.42 per thousand cubic feet for gas brought into production since Dec. 31, 1974. The commission said this ceiling price may increase by one cent every three months.

Children Ordered To Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Louisiana has been ordered to remove more than 100 mentally retarded children from two Texas institutions as soon as practical and to stop sending children there. U.S. District Court Judge Alvin B. Rubin issued the order in a class action suit which was filed to stop Louisiana from sending problem children to Texas institutions.

Tuesday, he told state officials to formulate a program of removal of the children. He also ordered a survey of all programs for problem children now available in Louisiana with a report submitted to him by December. Rubin cited excessive use of drugs to control children at the Dyer Center and the inadequate care of children at the Gertrude Thomas Home in Houston.

drawn up." Last May when Rubin heard arguments in the case, 33 Louisiana children were housed in the Thomas Home, which had about 100 children in all. About 100 Louisiana children are housed in the Dyer Center, Rubin said, and there is evidence all are from Louisiana. All are retarded. "There was excessive use of psychotropic drugs to control residents," Rubin said. He said the children are not offered training in such elementary matters as self-feeding.

Price Increase Aids Supplies

HOUSTON (AP) - The tripling of wellhead prices for natural gas will help the interstate supply situation a little bit according to Texas producers. The Federal Power Commission opened the way Tuesday for new gas to be sold on the interstate market at $1.01 to $1.42 per thousand cubic feet.

interstate sales will continue to be sold under existing contracts with prices ranging from 20 to 52 cents per thousand cubic feet. An Exxon spokesman said Exxon "is encouraged that the FPC is beginning to recognize that new supplies of natural gas are and will continue to be extremely costly to find and produce."

natural gas prices." George D. Mitchell, a top spokesman for Texas independent operators, said "the decision to keep some gas at artificially low price levels is a severe setback to the search for new gas, especially with finding costs twice what they were two or three years ago."

Perryton Feedlot Charged

WASHINGTON, Wheatheart, Inc., a custom feedlot formerly operating at Perryton, Tex., has been charged with violating payment requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) said Tuesday.

Wheatheart, Inc., operated as a dealer, buying and selling livestock as the agent of the vendor or purchaser. The firm is in bankruptcy and is not operating at this time. The firm's trade area included the Texas Panhandle, western Oklahoma and southwestern Kansas.

Methodist officials have refused comment except to say the report will be supplied when properly subpoenaed. Methodist officials said April 6 that Hughes died of chronic kidney failure.

USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration charged an administrative complaint that while acting as a selling agent for various clients during December 1974 and January 1975, Wheatheart, Inc., issued insufficient funds checks and failed to pay, when due, for more than $292,000 worth of net proceeds due to the owners of the livestock.

Sniff of Martian Air Shows Nitrogen

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - An automated "sniff" of the Martian air has confirmed the presence of nitrogen, eliminating what had long been considered a major obstacle to the possibility of life on the Red Planet. Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here said Monday that a device aboard the Viking 1 lander, called a mass spectrometer, tested the atmosphere on Mars and found that 3 per cent of it is nitrogen.

not exist on Mars because no nitrogen had been discovered. "What this does," Orgel said, "is to show that there really isn't a problem there at all." Project Scientist Dr. Gerald Soffen said that the finding does not mean life necessarily exists on Mars; But he declared, "The search goes on."

Questioning Resumes

SAN DIEGO (AP) - An officer who was assistant to Capt. Cecil V. Taylor when Marine recruit Lynn McClure was beaten in their unit testified Tuesday at a hearing to decide whether Taylor will be punished. Capt. John B. Ullman of Orlando, Fla., appeared as routine questioning resumed following a five-day recess.

The search for evidence of life, Viking's main mission, begins Wednesday with a scoop of the surrounding soil. Dr. Leslie E. Orgel of the Salk Institute said that before Viking's discoveries many scientists had believed life could exist on Mars because no nitrogen had been discovered.

Lobbyist Admits Making Illegal Contribution

WASHINGTON (AP) - The former chief lobbyist for the Gulf Oil Corp. today admitted making an illegal $5,000 political contribution but contended that a three-year statute of limitations protects him from being prosecuted now. Claude C. Wild Jr., testifying in his own defense in federal district court, also admitted trying to head off a Senate Watergate committee investigation of corporate contributions to political campaigns of senators and House members.

indictment charges Wild with handing over $5,000 in cash inside a sealed white envelope as a contribution for the primary re-election campaign of Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, a member of the now-defunct Watergate committee. Wild, former Gulf vice president for governmental relations, is known to have controlled up to $4 million in political funds from 1960 to 1973.

Giugni, came to Gulf's Washington offices sometime in December 1972 and asked for a contribution to the senator's campaign. Wild said he told Giugni that reporting requirements of a 1972 federal campaign law would make it necessary that the contribution remain secret.

Miss Hearst Offers To Give Testimony

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) - Patricia Hearst offered Tuesday to testify against William and Emily Harris without any grant of immunity, the Harris prosecutor announced in court. Deputy Dist. Atty. Sam Mayerson said Miss Hearst's attorney, Al Johnson, called him and "said his client is prepared to waive all rights and privileges and to testify in this case."

sent its plans. Mayerson has said repeatedly he would not call Miss Hearst as a witness under any conditions. "I don't believe she just suddenly changed her mind," said Weinglass, accusing Mayerson of making a deal with the newspaper heiress, who is undergoing psychiatric testing in San Diego prior to her sentencing on a federal bank robbery conviction in San Francisco.

Wild testified that Inouye's administrative assistant, Henry Giugni, testified Monday that the contribution was made in the spring of 1973. Wild was indicted March 12, 1976. A three-year statute of limitations on illegal political contribution cases would prevent prosecution if Wild made the cash gift before March 12, 1973.

She appeared in court Monday and received a postponement of her trial to Jan. 10, 1977. She faces the same charges as the Harris, kidnap, robbery and assault, stemming from a May 1974 shooting at an Inglewood sporting goods store and a number of incidents that ensued.

Chief defense attorney Leonard Weinglass said he would move for a mistrial on grounds that the prosecution mispre-

Ann Landers Everyone Is Somebody

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That letter from the young man who signed himself "A Non-Person" really got to me. You said, "Everyone is Somebody -- there are no 'non-persons.'" You are wrong. If you don't believe me, just visit a home for the aged.

When people are ignored by family and friends or treated as if they have lived too long, they become dehumanized -- or non-persons.

The abuse of the elderly in our country is on the increase, and one need only read the Senate reports to see what I mean. If your readers would volunteer to become ombudsmen to help ease the loneliness of those unfortunate people in our long-term facilities, we would one day have places away from home where people LIVE -- not just human warehouses where they are put away to die.

Please tell your readers they can perform a valuable service by joining ombudsmen. It's a wonderful way to make one's life count by helping others. -- Janet G. In Riverside, Calif.

DEAR JANET: Thanks for your letter. You have given me something to think about -- and I hope others, as well. For those who want to become ombudsmen contact your state Department on Aging. If your state doesn't have one, write to:

Division of Services to the Aged, Department of Human Resources, 1329 E Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20004.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Tom Kiene, who produces a lively column for the Topeka Capitol Journal, wrote something recently that you might want to share with your readers. Here it is:

"What worries Ann Landers concerns us, too. One of her correspondents, age 19, was contemplating marriage with a French horn player. She was dismayed because her fiancé refused to kiss her. He kept insisting that his lips were his only means of livelihood and he had to protect them. Said Ann, opting for the practical, 'Tell him goodbye and find a guy who plays the violin.'"

"Other side effects of dating a French horn player are astonishing, if not deleterious, as reported to us by John Beatty, a former press secretary to Sen. Jim Pearson. He told of a couple of Washington girls who were exchanging confidences on the kissing technique of musicians.

"I believe," offered one, 'the French horn player is best.' 'Well, maybe,' concluded the other. 'But he sure does hold you funny.' -- We Love You In Topeka

DEAR LOVE: Thanks for my laugh for the day. And please say hello to Tom Kiene. He's one of my oldest friends in the business -- or I should say one of my best friends of long standing.

DEAR ANN: Here is a message to the woman whose husband enjoys sex to the full, but she gets zero.

There are millions more like you, dearie. I haven't heard a wife in 30 years say she is content with her married sex life.

Don't expect these husbands to take the time or patience with you that they would take with some tramp they pick up in a bar -- or women they meet at work. A wife is just part of the furniture. If these men would expend the energy at home that they do elsewhere, they'd be amazed at how good "home cooking" can be. You suggested that the wife dream up a fantasy. Well, I have, for ten years. Now I want the real thing. -- The Mrs.

DEAR MRS.: The woman who wrote to me described herself as "sexually dead." Her husband was not inconsiderate, selfish or clumsy. She had sought professional help but nothing changed. Her complaint was a feeling of guilt, then she added, "I wish I could get some enjoyment out of the act." My advice was good and I stand by it.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

What A Squash

Chris Hinkle and Bobby Baker show off a 7½ pound Zucchini squash grown by Theresa Kubacak of Route 3. The giant vegetable was organically fertilized. Many local gardeners are now beginning to enjoy the fruits of their labors as their carefully tilled plants begin to produce.

Coconut-Chocolate Swirl Coffee Cake
 ¾ cup flaked coconut 2 tablespoons milk
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted 2 cups biscuit mix
 1 cup sugar ¾ cup milk
 ½ teaspoon cinnamon ¼ cup sugar
 2 squares semi-sweet chocolate 1 egg
 2 tablespoons salad oil

Combine coconut, butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, and the cinnamon; set aside. Melt chocolate with 2 tablespoons milk in saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly; cool. Meanwhile, combine biscuit mix, ¾ cup milk, sugar, egg, and salad oil; beat vigorously about 30 seconds. Add half the dough to the melted chocolate; blend well. Alternately spoon chocolate mixture and remaining dough into greased 8-inch square pan. Cut through batter with spatula or knife in zigzag pattern to marble. Evenly sprinkle reserved coconut mixture over batter. Bake at 400° for about 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool; cut into squares. Makes about 9 servings.

At The Library
Sports; Suspense Found In Books

"Catfish" by Bill Libby, and "Have His Carcase" by Dorothy L. Sayers are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

"Catfish" is the biography of Jim "Catfish" Hunter from North Carolina, from his high school days to his first season with the Yankees.

"Have His Carcase" a mysterious novel, set in the surroundings of an empty beach combines suspense with hints of romance.

Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

CATFISH
 by Bill Libby

This is the up-to-the-minute story of Jim "Catfish" Hunter, the country boy from North Carolina who has become the highest-paid pitcher in baseball history. A lively biography, it is crammed inside with details of the celebrated auction and vivid accounts of the ups and downs of Hunter's life and his major pitching successes.

New Year's Day, 1975, Catfish Hunter left the Oakland A's, the team he had help to three consecutive World Series championships, for a $3,000,000 contract with the New York Yankees, becoming at once the Yankees' most costly and most valuable property. This book tells how he developed his skills to the point where—once he was free from his contract with Charles Finley of the Oakland A's—every major-league team was bidding for his services.

From Ahoskie, North Carolina, where his dazzling high school performance caught the eye of a scout for the Kansas City (later Oakland) Athletics, to his slow and steady growth on the team owned by the flamboyant and controversial Finley, to his first season with the Yankees, here is the story of a sports hero who comes through in a pinch and who has compiled an astonishing record of 20 or more games won per season in the last five years, including 1975, his first year with the Yankees.

HAVE HIS CARCASE
 by Dorothy L. Sayers

Harriet Vane, recovering from an unhappy love affair and its aftermath, chose a hiking trip rather than the comforting presence of Lord Peter Wimsey as a remedy, until, on an empty beach, on a lonely rock, she saw a clump of seaweed which turned out to be the body of a bearded young man, with his throat cut.

Apparently his death was recent. Unable to move the body by herself, Harriet (detective story writer that she was) photographed the corpse and removed from it what clues she could, which was wise, because before she could reach the police the tide had come in—over the body.

She did reach the police and then found that Lord Peter (to her secret delight) had come in to see what was up to.

The dead man turned out to be a gigolo named Alexis, who was about to marry a wealthy woman considerably his senior.

The dead man had apparently never shaved—yet an ivory-handled razor, presumably his, and

Cage Final No Contest; Yank Boxers Continue

By BOB GREEN
AP Sports Writer
MONTREAL (AP) - It was no contest. If it had been a fight, they'd have stopped it.

Perhaps the most eagerly-awaited sports event in the past four years was a rout, a one-sided run-away an anti-climax.

In fact, the United States' emotional, 95-74 basketball victory over Yugoslavia for the Olympic gold medal was assured so quickly, so easily, the television cameras beaming coverage to the United States cut away on a more or less regular basis to focus on men's platform diving and boxing quarter-finals.

But it was the big one, the event the United States wanted to win in these XXI Olympic Games. The youngest team the United States has ever fielded wiped out the memory of Munich and the only Olympic game it had ever lost. It was an inspired performance that restored the team to amateur supremacy in the game the Americans invented.

Adrian Danilley of Notre Dame scored eight of his game-high 30 points in the first six minutes. The United States built a 20-8 lead in that time and from then on it was not a matter of "who" but "by how much."

Some of the edge may have been taken off the triumph because it came against Yugoslavia, not Russia, the team that scored that controversial decision over the United States four years ago.

The Russians didn't make it to the final. Instead, they had to settle for a 100-72 victory over Canada last night and the bronze.

But the absence of the Russians didn't bother Coach Dean Smith or his players at all. "I guess a lot of people are disappointed we didn't play the Russians," said guard Quinn

Buckner of Indiana. "I didn't care who we had to beat. I just wanted that big piece of gold."

"I was so happy at the presentation ceremony, there were tears in my eyes," said Smith.

"I thought we deserved that ovation we received," said Scott May, Indiana's All American.

"A lot of people didn't think we could do it. I think the American people should be grateful for the job we've done."

And it was a job that needed doing. It was the only gold medal the Americans have acquired in the past two days.

With the United States picking up only eight medals in the last two days, they now are far behind Russia. The Russians have a 29-29-22 count in gold, silver and bronze, 80 over-all. East Germany is 28-18-16, for 62 total. The United States is 22-25-18, 65 total. Some gains were made, however. Four American boxers advanced to the semifinals, where they're assured of at least a bronze. Four other fighters are in action tonight and all have a good chance of reaching the semis. The United States won only two boxing medals in 1972.

Light welterweight Sugar Ray Leonard, Palmer Park, Md.; light weight Howard Davis, Glen Cove, N.Y.; bantamweight Charles Mooney, an Army sergeant stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C., and flyweight Leo Randolph, Tacoma, Wash., all advanced to the semifinals. Fighting in the quarter-finals tonight are Clint Jackson, Nashville, Tenn., at 147 pounds; Mike Spinks, a marine stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C., at 178, and heavyweight John Tate of Knoxville, Tenn.

World champion Darrell Pace, a 19-year-old Air Force technician from Cincinnati, had a solid, 16-point lead after the first day of archery competition.

The United States also can expect a silver or bronze yachting medal from Hawaiians Dapid McFall and Michael Rothwell in today's final race of the Tornado Class. They were in second place after the first six races but had no chance at the gold, already clinched by Great Britain.

Two of the four American medals picked up Tuesday came in yachting, a bronze to Dennis Conner, San Diego, and Conn Findlay, Belmont, Calif., in the Tempest Class, which was won by Sweden.

The United States' Sailing Class entry, skippered by John Koluis, LaPorte, Tex. and crewed by Walter Glasgow, Kemah, Tex., and Richard Hoepfner, Seabrook, Tex., took the silver behind Denmark. The Americans actually finished in a tie with East Germany but were awarded the silver on the basis of their victory in the final race.

West Germany won in the Flying Dutchman and 470 classes and Jochen Schumann of East Germany won the single-handed Finn Class.

Greg Louganis, a 16-year-old from El Cajon, Calif., won the silver in men's platform diving, and -- with the cameras switching away from the basketball rout -- got a lot of television time in doing it.

Louganis led the qualifying, led through the early dives but was no match for veteran Klaus Dibiasi of Italy. Dibiasi won an unprecedented third gold medal in his last international competition with the highest score ever recorded in the Olympics, 600.51 points.

Louganis had 576.99 and Russian Vladimir Aleynik, also 16, was third with 548.61.

Jenkins Gets 200th Win

BY HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

It's been a disappointing season thus far for Ferguson Jenkins but it took a turn for the better Tuesday night.

The 32-year-old right-hander, who broke in with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1965 and is now with his fourth club, became the 72nd pitcher in major league history to post 200 victories.

Jenkins, who has pitched 39 career shutouts, reached the 200-victory milestone with a far-from-classic performance. He allowed 14 hits and seven runs in seven innings-plus as Boston held on to beat Cleveland 8-7 and snap a six-game losing streak.

"Hitting 200 is like getting a mink coat for the first time," Jenkins said. "You want it, but you never think you'll get it. This doesn't make up for the season and it's just my ninth win, but there's been a lot of innings and pitches for those 200 wins."

Elsewhere in the American League, the Oakland A's nipped the Chicago White Sox 1-0, the California Angels edged the Kansas City Royals 2-1, the Baltimore Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 4-1, the Baltimore Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 4-1 and the Milwaukee Brewers downed the Detroit Tigers 6-4. The Texas-Minnesota game was rained out.

Fred Lynn drove in a pair of runs and scored three times and Boston survived a 6-hit attack.

Boston's Carlton Fisk slammed his 10th home run of the season -- his first since June 17 -- and Cleveland's George Hendrick got his 18th.

A's 1, White Sox 0
Vida Blue scattered 10 hits in pitching his second straight shutout and the A's scored off Rich Gossage in the seventh inning on a double by Claudell Washington and Ken McMillen's single. The victory lifted the second-place A's within seven games of Kansas City in the AL West, the closest they've been since June 8.

Angels 2, Royals 1
Frank Tanana made Andy Etchebarren's two-run double in the fifth inning stand up with a four-hit 2-1 victory as the Angels snapped Paul Splittorff's Kansas City club record eight-game winning streak. The complete game was Tanana's 15th of the season, tops in the league, and gave Norm Sherry, the Angels' new manager, his fourth victory in five starts.

Orioles 4, Yankees 1
Baltimore used four New York errors and a bad-hop single to score three tainted runs and Al Bumbry homered as Jim Palmer became the AL's first 14-game winner. Palmer, who has won eight of his last nine decisions, blanked the Yankees until the ninth when they scored on a hit batsman, a stolen base and Roy White's single, their fourth hit.

Brewers 6, Tigers 4
Mike Hegan singled home two runs and Detroit relievers let in two more with a wild pitch and a throwing error during a three-run seventh-inning Milwaukee rally. The Brewers overcame a 4-3 deficit in the seventh after loading the bases on a walk, a single by Von Joshua, a sacrifice fly tied the score and two more runs came in on Steve Grilli's wild pitch and Bill Laxton's low throw to first on a pickoff attempt.

OTTAWA (AP) - Quarterback Tom Clements and halfback Art Green triggered the Ottawa Rough Riders to a 38-27 Canadian Football League victory over the Winnipeg Blue Bombers Tuesday night. Clements threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third while Green scored a pair of Tds.

CHICAGO (AP) - The Chicago Bears of the National Football League have slimmed their roster to 61 by cutting six players, including former Cincinnati Bengals Champ Henson and Brad Cousino.

Also out Tuesday were linebacker Jim Hovey, defensive end Bill Hoban, and defensive backs Jeff Tryon and Gary Evans. All four were free agents. Henson, a running back, and Cousino, a linebacker, were acquired this year for undisclosed draft choices.

The Bears play their first preseason game Saturday against the Denver Broncos.

Briefs

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) - The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League have brought their squad in training camp down to 81 players, a team spokesman says. Seven players were placed on waivers Monday.

Mal Campbell, a wide receiver from Cal State-Los Angeles, was the only draft pick cut. He was selected on the 15th round.

The other six players cut were all three agents: Glen Cotton, a wide receiver from Fresno State; Jerry Dyer, a quarterback from Southern Utah; Joe Fabian, a wide receiver from Cal State-Fullerton; Don Herrold, a linebacker from the University of Hawaii; Dave Ottmar, a punter from Stanford, and Phil Wroblicky, a tight end from Oregon State.

LOUISVILLE - Unseeded Ricardo Cano of Argentina scored an upset 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 victory over No. 2 seed Eddie Dibbs of Miami Beach in the first round of the $125,000 Louisville International Classic tennis tournament.

Opponents Now On Same Side

HOUSTON (AP) - Former opponents will join forces tonight when the favored gunners from the North, battle the taller South in the 32nd Texas High School Coaches Association All-Star basketball game.

Jim Bowden of Class 4A state champion El Paso Eastwood and John Tyler's Dennis Gordon, fought each other in the state championship game, but they'll be using their outside shooting skills to try to extend the World's series winning streak to three.

Lanky Thad Sanders of Port Arthur Lincoln and Clear Lake's Steve Sylestine were regional playoff opponents last season but they're glad to be on the South squad together.

Sylestine, headed for Texas A&M, and Sanders a future Texas Tech Red Raider, will be competitors again after tonight's game.

"I think it's going to be their outside ability against our inside size," said South Coach Ray Landers of Deer Park. "But we're running a three-guard offense and we could be pleasantly surprised with it."

North Coach Paul Stueckler of Midland Lee said both sides would use a man-to-man defense and press but their offenses would be different.

"But we're both going to be pressing so you might not see too much set offense anyway," Stueckler said.

"You see few set offenses in all-star games," Lander said. "The players have to learn our offense quickly but in the heat of the game they're going to revert to what they've been taught for four years."

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

The surrender ceremony at Yorktown on Oct. 19, 1781, was sheer pageantry. The British army in bright uniforms marched out between contrasting lines of ragged Continental and elegantly tailored French troops. Their colors cased and marching to a doleful tune on drums and fife, the British were surrendered to Gen. Benjamin Lincoln who ordered the column to a field where they lay down their arms.
Yorktown proved to be the conclusive military event that brought England to the peace
table. The World Almanac verifies.

Amateur comes from the Latin "amator" and originally meant "one who has a taste for anything." In 17th century France, the term distinguished the connoisseur of fine arts.

Thomas Edison used bamboo for filaments in his early incandescent light bulbs.

Prison Equipment Manufacturer Wouldn't Mind Quitting Business

By RICK SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) -
Hull Youngblood's company makes a product which taxpayers buy and its consumers hate so much they try to tear it up from the beginning.
And Youngblood says he wouldn't mind going out of business if there were no demand for the product.
Youngblood's Southern Steel Co., is the world's largest manufacturer of jail and prison equipment.
Fabricated here are jail doors,
locking devices, bunks, chairs,
tables, desks, book cases, windows and the other hardware that makes a jail a jail.
For the most part, it's all made from heavy steel because,
as Youngblood put it recently,
"Ultimately the user of the product will try to destroy it from the very moment he gets his hands on it."
Youngblood's grandfather started the company in 1897 and the firm has serviced 5,000 institutions in 44 states, Canada and overseas.
Southern Steel's products have fenced in such notables as Al Capone, Pretty Boy Floyd, John Dillinger and Watergate informant John Dean III,
Youngblood said.

Youngblood, however, hasn't been content to make a living from crime. He's deeply involved in the whole scheme of prisons and prisoners. The company has "quite a few ex-offenders" on its payroll.
And, these ex-offenders offer valuable input to the company,
the businessman said.
"Rehabilitation takes place outside the institution when the man can get a job," Youngblood believes. "He can't go straight without a job."
While new, more modern jails would mean more money for the company, Youngblood believes such facilities are needed to provide humane treatment for prisoners.
"You are not going to deter crime by having an institution built for 200 people with 600 in it. If you hold them under humane conditions - not Hilton Hotel conditions - but humane conditions.
"You will have the criminals off the streets and in the meantime they will be more receptive to taking a job when they come out," he said.
Youngblood said prison overcrowding is the most severe detention problems because few new jails have been built in the past 50 years.
Since then, however, the inmate population has grown tremendously, especially in the cities. And, the crime rate has skyrocketed. Many towns and counties are still using jails that are 50 to 75 years old, he said.

"When you take people out of circulation, you must do it with the right equipment and that happens to be a jail that is a humane institution and will detain the person and keep him out of traffic. And when you are ready to put him back into the society he will not be the worse for having been to jail," Youngblood said.
The company has increased attention to the aesthetic quality of jail equipment. Doors, bars and walls now sport bright colors rather than battleship gray.
New window designs provide security and at the same time look much like a standard window. The bars are hidden in the construction. Cell doors are operated by quiet motors, and innovation which Youngblood believes make a new jail sound less like the old "slammer."
A product called the multipod goes into a jail cell and contains a bunk, desk, toilet facilities, a wall, a light and radio speaker.
A cell equipped with the all steel multipod looks more like a college dormitory room.

The cost of detention equipment has risen like most other things, Youngblood said.
But modern jail facilities can be built for about $10,000 per prisoner. Some new designs can cost up to $37,000 per prisoner, but Youngblood said that is "outrageous."
Southern Steel, which had sales of more than $24 million in the past two years, also employs a team of designers and a consultant to work with city, county state and federal officials on jail design and construction.
The company employs more than 300 workers.
Despite the firm's growing profits, Youngblood said he wouldn't be upset if crime were halted and no more jails were needed.
"Nothing would gratify me more," he said. "I could flourish very well in a honest world."
And, Youngblood, who is the father of five children ranging in age from 14 to 27, believes there is hope to slow the rising crime spiral.
"I think the thrill of being a criminal is slowly being discovered as being a false lure," he said. "People are discovering that they can have a piece of the action."

Economic Upturn Provides Families Better Finances

Because of the upward turn in the economy in recent months, Deaf Smith County families find themselves in a more favorable financial position.
After a long struggle with depression and inflation, during which the cost of living rose faster than their incomes did, the tide has turned in their favor.
Even though inflation is very much alive and continues to push prices upward, it is no longer as severe a problem as it was a year ago.

It amounts to $5,240 per family.
With taxes out of the way, the remainder of the 8-hour day is apportioned as follows by the Tax Foundation: for housing and house hold operations, 1 hour and 32 minutes, for food and beverages, 1 hour and 5 minutes, for transportation, 39 minutes, for clothing 29 minutes and, for medical care, 25 minutes.
That leaves a total of 1 hour and 11 minutes of the workday, the proceeds of which may be used for discretionary spending.

It may be for recreation and amusements, for education, for savings, for personal care or for luxuries in general.
Based upon the national study, the average family in Deaf Smith County has nearly three-fourths of its income going for taxes, food, clothing and shelter. In terms of earning in the local area during the past year, it is equivalent to $11,440 per family.

Road Hazards Are Main Accident Cause

AUSTIN -- Road hazards cause some 56,000 accidents a year in Texas and cost $173 million in hospital fees, property damage and payments to accident victims and survivors, said a report released here
today.
The report by The Road
Information Program (TRIP)
also found:
--Human error was a factor in almost all of the 468,596 Texas highway accidents reported in 1975, but one accident in eight, or 56,232, would not have occurred except for obsolete road design and engineering.
--More than 29,000 miles of Texas roads and 2,564 bridges are hazardous to drive because they were designed for traffic conditions of 40 years ago.
--In addition to the accidents caused by human error and obsolete roads, 60,656 were attributed to weather and 14,355 resulted from vehicle failure.
--In 1975, highway accidents from all causes resulted in 3,429 fatalities and 138,962 injuries in Texas. The average cost per accident was $3,073, an increase of $797 since 1971.
"The public pays for obsolete roads through high accident costs," said TRIP state chairman J.C. Dingwall of Austin, who announced the study findings. Dingwall is a former state highway engineer.
TRIP estimated that 16,792 miles of roads and streets and 2,564 bridges are too narrow for safe passing by large trucks, school buses and other bulky vehicles at posted speeds.
Another 12,606 miles of Texas roads are hazardous because of sharp curves, soft shoulders, steep rises and dips, roadside obstructions, restricted sight distances and inadequate warning signs, said the Washington, D.C. research and information agency.

The study noted that most of these hazardous roads and bridges have not been modernized because of inadequate road funding.
"Special attention should be given to narrow, winding rural roads and old, single-lane bridges used by school buses, farm trucks and bulky recreational vehicles," said Dingwall.
"TRIP cited a nationwide study
by the Federal Highway Administration showing that road design and engineering improvements reduce accidents."

Freeman Given Temporary Reins Of Texas A & M

COLLEGE STATION, (AP) - W. Clyde Freeman has been authorized by the Board of Regents to continue as acting president of Texas A&M in behalf of Jack K. Williams, who remains in critical condition following heart surgery.
Freeman, the A&M System's executive vice president for administration, was given the extension Tuesday. He was formally designated to act for Williams at the board's July 9 meeting.
Board Chairman Clyde H.
Wells said Freeman will function on behalf of Dr.
Williams until the president is able to resume his duties or until further board action.

Local Men Survive Crash

Two Hereford men survived the crash of this plane near Pampa on Saturday, July 17. Davie Sorrells was released from Deaf Smith General Hospital Friday, while Joe Davis is listed in fair condition at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Sorrells, employed by Arrowhead Mills, sustained back and leg injuries in the low altitude crash. Davis suffered skull and facial lacerations, a fractured pelvis, and broken bones in his feet. Davis is employed with Southwestern Bell Telephone in Canyon, but the family resides here. [PAMPA NEWS PHOTO]

Lifestyle Change Causes Problems For State Commission

DALLAS (AP) - Liquor regulation in Texas is beset by serious problems that Tom Gordon, chairman of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, says result from the lifestyle change from "the folksy era."

Gordon said Tuesday addressing some 1,000 members of the Texas Package Stores Association at its annual meeting here. But, he said, "most of the serious problems we're having in the TABC and the industry are symptoms of change."

He identified change as passage of the "folksy era." "There is an urgent need for the Legislature of Texas to take a long hard look at the state agency which regulates the Texas alcoholic beverage industry," Gordon said. "We need to begin the solid, basic restructuring necessary to allow us to face the future with a business-like approach merited by 20th century needs."

Muleshoe Woman Gets Life Sentence

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) - A 30-year-old Muleshoe, Tex., woman was convicted of kidnapping an Albuquerque infant earlier this year and sentenced to life imprisonment. U.S. District Court Judge Howard Bratton handed down a preliminary life sentence at the conclusion of the trial, but said it could be changed after a 90-day psychiatric evaluation of the woman, Eileen Lowe.

At Monday's sentencing, however, Bratton told her he saw no cause to change the sentence. He recommended she be imprisoned at Terminal Island, Calif. Public defender William Deaton, who said he was surprised at the severity of the sentence, said he would file an appeal.

Mrs. Lowe left the courtroom supported by a deputy U.S. marshal and a marshal's service matron and repeating, "Dear God, dear God." She was convicted of abducting the week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Norris from their home in January.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

So many people have been asking if I am playing better tennis this year. Mainly, they have been the people who played me last year. I am happy to report that although my form is much the same, I have picked up a few tricks of the court that I have seen professionals use, which is bound to improve my game.

halt by checking the strings of your racket, spending sometimes as much as five minutes separating them and testing their strength. This absolves you of any of the responsibility for a bad shot. Forget all you have been told about concentration. It is overrated. Often, when there is time during one of my lobs, I yell across the net, "Your zipper is open," and have not only been ignored, but soundly punished for my good deed.

TOUGH CONTEST faces Sen. Hubert Humphrey in his bid for the Senate majority leadership. He is challenging Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia, present Democratic whip, for the post, one of the key power positions in Washington.

No doubt about it -- every day in every way, my game grows stronger. I saw one enthusiast the other day playing with his racket out of the press. I'll have to try that.
