That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says a little confidence in a person can often produce great results.

Opinions are necessary in life, but it's not necessary that anyone else agree with yours.

The Fourth of July observance in Hereford today will be a little different and somewhat unique from those of the past, because it serves to launch a two-year commemoration leading up to the Bicentennial of our country.

We hope a large number of citizens will attend the three events scheduled today — and will support the Hereford Bicentennial Committee as it continues to plan activities and projects to celebrate our nation's 200th birthday.

Deaf Smith County's 100th birthday also occurs in 1976 (August), and the committee will coordinate the county's centennial with the nation's Bicentennial through commemorative activities beginning in 1975. Some of the plans include special displays at the courthouse, library and museum.

You don't read much about Hereford's search for new industry, but the work of the industrial development committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is a continuing program. Due to the competitive nature (See BRANDING, Page 2)

Activities Set For 10 A.M. Kickoff

A library dedication, speeches, barbecue and music will be just some of the activities provided for Herefordians today to mark the 198th celebration of the U. S. Declaration of Independence.

The day's activities will begin at 10 a.m. in the vicinity of Park and Main, where Mrs. Art Manjeot, chairman of Hereford Garden Club, will preside over the dedication of the club's new Garden Center.

GUEST SPEAKER for the dedication will be Mrs. E.H. Boedeker, director of District 1 Texas Garden Club. Dudley Bayne, city manager, will cut the ribbon for the new center.

At 11:30 a.m., Hereford Rotarians will begin serving barbecue in Dameron Park. During the feast, two groups of local musicians, Fire House Fifteen and Hereford High School Band, will provide music.

VARIOUS groups will sponsor patriotic activities in the park until 1 p.m., at which time a composite color guard of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Boy Scouts present a posting of the nation's colors.

Roy Faubion, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce president, will then welcome the crowd to the July Fourth program and introduce scheduled speakers.

Wayne Thomas, a local attorney, will speak on the topic, "We, the People."

AT 2 P.M., the celebration will move to Deaf Smith County Library for dedication of the new $400,000 facility. Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will give the invocation, to be followed by a posting of the colors and trumpet solo.

Clint Formby will introduce members of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court and Donald Hicks, county commissioner, will welcome the audience to the dedication.

After patriotic music by the AHS Band, Mrs. Joe Reinauer and Mrs. Clint Formby of the Bicentennial Committee will make a presentation of Bicentennial flags to city and county representatives.

MRS. GENE Brownrigg, executive director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, will address the assemblage.

Mrs. Gwen London, librarian, will preside over presentations to the new library, which will then be dedicated by Commissioners Court. Mrs. Colby Conkright, president of the Bay View Study Club, will cut the ribbon for the library's grand opening.

After the ribbon cutting, Commissioners Court and Bay View Study Club will serve as hosts for open house in the library.

City Manager Urges Review Of Gas Rates For Consumers

Pioneer Natural Gas Company's monthly gas rate adjustment, approved by the City Commission in February, came under sharp criticism Monday by City Manager Dudley Bayne.

Bayne told the city commissioners since they had approved in February a 100 per cent monthly rate adjustment for gas bought at the wellhead, rates had increased by 18 per cent.

UNDER THE present rate method, Bayne said, Pioneer can add industrial customers outside the city and county, charge the new customer for the gas and then charge Hereford consumers for the increased monthly volume of gas.

The only protection a city in Texas has against being charged for expenses to supply another city in some other part of the state is its city commission. No one agency exists in Texas as does in other states with the responsibility of regulating the intra-state transmission of gas.

If a city decides it is paying for the expense of obtaining gas from an unnecessary distance source, it has the authority to adjust the rate in its favor.

The company faced with having its rates adjusted is entitled to make an appeal to the Texas Railroad Commission.

BAYNE said in the past, the TRC has not been in favor of 100 per cent monthly adjustments, but has instead opted for setting a flat rate, then allowing an adjustment at year's end. He estimated Hereford consumers would be saved $80,000 annually if the flat rate and yearly adjustment method could be adopted.

Mayor James Sears authorized Bayne, along with City Attorney Ernest Langley and Bill McMauree, utilities consultant, to inquire of Pioneer about the difference in gas cost to local consumers based on TRC ruling as compared to the monthly cost adjustment method now being used.

IN OTHER business Monday, the commission tentatively approved Southwestern Public Service Company's request for a rate increase averaging 9.03 per cent, subject to formal adoption of an ordinance to be submitted by Southwestern.

Jake Webb, Southwestern representative, said the new rates would be reflected in the September billing, covering consumption beginning Aug. 5.

Clint Formby, head of a delegation representing Hereford Cablevision which was scheduled to request a rate increase, said rate request plans were "premature at this time." Instead of making the request, the delegation advised the commission of plans to begin Spanish programming within about three months.

Formby said the new service would be transmitted by microwave. He said initially the programming would be scheduled for an hour per day.

A digital readout service to show news clips about community happenings has been ordered, Formby said, for use on channel six.

CURRENTLY, Formby said, Hereford Cablevision has 2,050 subscribers. He said although the firm is presently showing some losses, he preferred to come before the commission at a later date to make the request for a rate increase.

Hereford Cablevision rates are now $5.45 per month, Formby said.

Commissioners approved a purchase of a $52,743 tepee incinerator from Steelcraft to restore operation of the city incinerator, recently damaged in a wind storm.

Bayne told the commission additional expenses may be necessary to meet Texas Air Control Board standards, if operating the incinerator at four hours daily instead of eight does not sufficiently reduce emissions.

FOR THE golf pro shop, now nearing completion, commissioners approved a bid of $11.65 per square yard to Southwest Carpet Company for the installation of carpet in the shop.

About 260 yards of carpet, spike-proof, will be installed. After opening a bid received from John Osborn Buick-Pontiac on a new fire truck, Bayne had to reject the bid, since it was to be submitted July 15, not July 1.

A revenue sharing report presented to the commission indicated funds of $52,684 to be received July 7, $184,007 from July 1974 through June 1975, an estimated $190,000 from July 1975 through June 1976 and an estimated $96,000 from June 1976 through Dec. 1976.

PREVIOUS receipts from Dec. 1972 to April 10, 1974, totaled $409,344, earning an interest of $3,333.22 for a grant total of $412,677.22.

Disbursements for that period included the following: check printing, $57.45; sewer plant aerators, $12,194.18; 1973 street paving, $35,992.92; park sprinkler system, $24,984; V.F.W. park land, $9,418.50; 1973 storm sewer, $44,180.30; 500 trash containers, 1973, $71,337.48; 100 trash containers, 1974, $16,674.54; Heibach street right-of-way, $2,405.44; street sweeper, $19,081.50; Highway 385 and Park Avenue right-of-way, $6,350; park paving and dam, $68,505.18; park improvements, $1,233.30; Ave. A and Ave. B, 1974; (See REVENUE, Page 2)

New $400,000 Deaf Smith County Library Building Far Cry From First Facility Born 64 Years Ago

By SUE COLEMAN Women's Editor

A librarian whose salary was $1.25 a month — which she contributed to a fund to buy books — kept the job 16 years and was largely responsible for starting Deaf Smith County Library which is dedicating its new $400,000 building today as part of Hereford's July 4 celebration.

The extent of Mrs. F.T. Roloson's service becomes clear in tracing the history of the library; she and Mrs. G.A.F. Parker were the early residents who led the county's clubwomen in groundwork for a free public library in the pioneer town.

TWO DECADES later when the county assumed support of the library, Lillie Hostetler was employed as the first full-time librarian. With her, services of another dedicated book-lover were gained to build a first-class library, unusual in a small West Texas city of pre-World War II years.

Mrs. Roloson and Mrs. Parker worked as members of Bay View Study Club, which is credited with starting the library, has supported it through the years and will be hostess group for the dedication ceremony at 2 p.m. today.

Mrs. Colby Conkright has been named by Mrs. Howard Gault, president, as general chairman of hostess duties. Mrs. H.L. Benefield is in charge of arrangements for the ribbon cutting. Mrs. John Gilliland of registration, Mrs. Austin Rose Jr. of special music and Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine of publicity.

Mrs. Gilliland has designed and made the registry which will be presented to the library after visitors register today, for use in the future.

HISTORY OF the library begins with plans made at a 1910 club meeting in Mrs. Parker's home and a book shower sponsored by the Woman's Monday Club, with 300 volumes thus collected the library opened that winter in a vacant downtown building, and was soon moved to shelves at Western National Bank of which Parker was president.

He was Mrs. Rose's uncle, and she laughs as she recalls family stories of his grumbling about the confusion caused by library patrons in the bank. But clubwomen served in turn as librarian to keep it open every Saturday afternoon, and worked for its survival and growth until it was made a county library in 1930.

THE NEW courthouse was completed in 1912 and county commissioners allotted a room for the library, which by then had about 400 books. They had been collected and others were added later through donations, book showers, a few money gifts, funds raised through home talent plays and children's tag days.

Mrs. Roloson was assisted by some other club members but was chiefly responsible for operation of the library. She not only issued books at set times, but promoted interest in the library through schools and clubs, compiled reading lists for students of various age levels and arranged tables for children.

She led Bay View members in pushing for a county library and when officials were reluctant to call an election to levy a library tax, the members enlisted the support of the County Federation of Women's Clubs and circulated a petition from house to house in the town and to farm homes.

WITH 1100 signatures, totaling more than three-fourths of the qualified voters in the county, the petition was presented in 1929 and an election called.

Miss Hostetler came from Wichita Falls as librarian the next year and found about 2,000 volumes in circulation. She not only added to the supply of books and established the library on a truly professional basis, but attempted to take the library to the entire county.

One way was operation of an early-day bookmobile — her own Model A Ford which she drove over dirt roads to rural schools and homes, taking loads of books to leave for community circulation.

Her years as librarian, until 1938, were in the dust bowl-depression era when work and ideas had to substitute for money in many instances.

THE STORY is told of Miss Hostetler that the discouraged farmers of that time, coming to government agencies at the courthouse to seek loans to save their land, sometimes stopped to gaze idly at book displays she arranged in the hall. She would speak to them, call their attention to books that might interest them, and often issue them a library card and books, usually young western or detective stories. Her theory that people should be led to read on their own interest level was carried to children, for whom she supplied plenty of "funny papers."

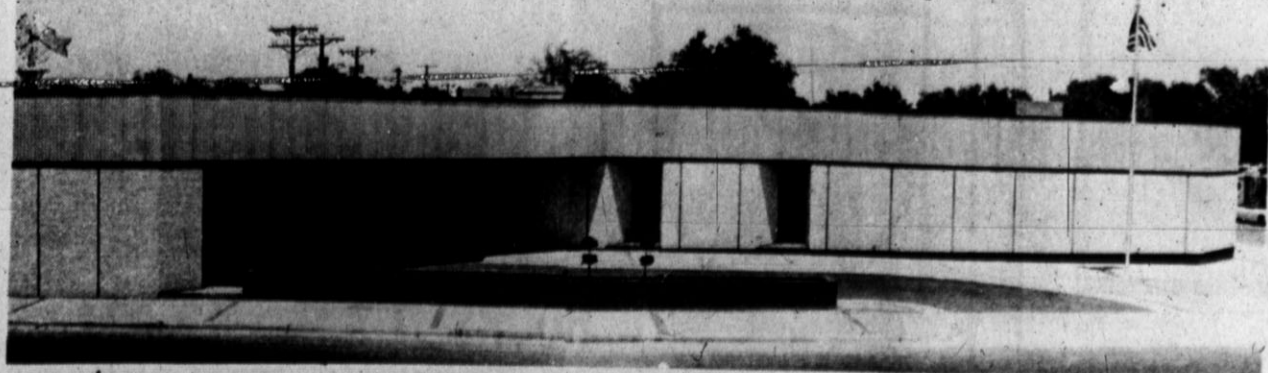

Clara McLean succeeded Miss Hostetler as librarian. Mrs. J.J. Boydston followed in 1946. Mrs. H.L. Newman in 1965 and at her recent retirement Mrs. Baxter London took the position.

GROWTH OF the library has continued steadily to the present list of more than 36,000 volumes on the shelves, with nearly 100 periodicals including four daily papers from larger cities of the state and nation.

Remodeling of the courthouse in 1960 gave the library more space, almost half the ground floor of the building. That was soon outgrown with increase in the city's population; now the new building offers space to expand programs for young and older readers.

It houses in separate rooms the genealogical collection which began in 1964 as one shelf of books and reference material sponsored by Bay View Club, also a music library built around a collection from the Music Study Club.

There is a pleasant section with comfortable chairs around the periodical shelves, and a number of tables and chairs to make the reference books more useful to students and others in search of various information.

Shelves in the children's wing put books in easy reach of youngsters and there is room for story hours, already begun this summer, and other features.

A projector given by the Rotary Club and a microfilm scanner to be presented by the Daughters of American Revolution chapter, with tape and record players for the music room, will make the library more useful to many residents.

ON THE STAFF at present, in addition to Mrs. London, are Rhonda Stewart, assistant librarian; Jean Kelly, part-time employee; Sina Sims and Ann Bradley, student aides.

One room has a stage and dressing rooms, a small auditorium which will be available for Community Theater and other dramatic productions, lectures and various meetings, even for concerts and recitals if a piano is added in the future.

Not completely finished, the basement in the new building contains two large rooms in addition to storage and utility space.

of the business, little publicity is desired by the prospects who are contacted by local representatives.

The C of C has a special "team" of men who are on call at short notice to present the overall picture of Hereford and Deaf Smith County to potential industrial prospects. Each man has been briefed and has knowledge on specific factors about the community, and the Texas Industrial Commission has provided a training program for the "team" presentation. You can be assured that a group of qualified and civic-minded men are at work every month on this vital part of community development.

What time did you get up this morning? According to some of our wise philosophers you'll never amount to much unless you get up early. Aristotle said, in the BC's, that "it is well to be up before daybreak for such habits contribute to health, wealth and wisdom."

Swift gave us this gem: "I never knew a man come to greatness or eminence who lay abed in the morning." Ben Franklin said it more simply, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." Along the same lines, Franklin noted that "he who rises late may trot all day and not overtake his business."

These guys never really convinced me to get up earlier each morning, but I've figured out what they're driving at. If you get up two hours earlier every morning

The proposal to import water to West Texas seems to be gaining momentum again. While water has been a relatively cheap commodity, the increasing danger of water and food shortages is now concerning the city, as well as the rural residents. No one but the farmer worried about the price of groceries or farm products when crops were relatively cheap and plentiful a few years ago, but the economics of 1974 are different.

The Dallas Morning News recently quoted Gov. Edwin Edwards of Louisiana as saying he has changed his mind about the proposal to take water from the Mississippi to West Texas. After two big floods, the governor said someone should be able to use the surplus water. When Texas tried to implement a water plan in 1969, officials of states along the Mississippi were not too favorable about the project. And, a campaign against the proposal in Houston was enough to bring about the defeat of the plan.

Now Gov. Dolph Briscoe is saying Texas faces a "water crisis" at least as serious as its energy crisis, unless the state arranges to import water. From all reports, the political problems are larger than the financial and engineering problems. A technology which put men on the moon should be able to handle the water project. Finances could probably be arranged too. The 1969 plan called for users of the imported water — cities, industries, and farmers — to repay the construction cost by buying the water.

Services Held For Former Mayor

Funeral services for Edgar S. Ireland, 91, twice mayor of Hereford and holder of numerous civic, church and business offices during his 54 years residence in the city, were conducted Monday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Roger Knapp, pastor, and Dr. Dewitt Seago, chaplain at Kings Manor retirement home, officiated. Burial was in West Park Cemetery, directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

Born March 15, 1883, in Newport, Tex., Mr. Ireland lived in Dimmitt before moving to Hereford in 1920. He was Castro County district clerk from 1906 to 1910 and food administrator in that county during World War I. He married Emily Bell Dec. 23, 1909, at Dimmitt. Her death occurred here last May 17. He had resided in Westgate unit of Kings Manor in recent months.

Named Mid-Plains Pioneer of the Year for 1970, Mr. Ireland had a long record of public service. In addition to two terms as mayor, 1924-1932 and again 1944-46, he was president of the school board for a time, president of the Federal Land Bank Association, treasurer of Hereford Cemetery Association and clerk of the session in the Presbyterian Church.

He served on the Deaf Smith County gas rationing board during World War II. Coming to Hereford as inspector and special representative of the loan department of American National Insurance Co. of Galveston, he was later cashier of the old First State Bank here and conducted a real estate business even in semi-retirement until a few years ago.

He is survived by two daughters, Elizabeth Holt and Rachel Henslee, both of Hereford; two sons, Ed of Sweetwater and Richard of Moriarty, N.M.; 11 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Church. Burial will be in West Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Bradley, who died Tuesday afternoon in a Marlin nursing home, had been a Deaf Smith County resident most of her life before she moved to Marlin in 1970.

She was born Oct. 30, 1897, and was Alice Eileen Duff, a member of the R.H. Duff family which lived east of Hereford before her marriage here in 1918. Her husband's death occurred in 1955.

She was a member of Wesley

United Methodist Church. Survivors are a son, L.H. (Bud) Bradley of Marlin, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, also a number of relatives in her family and the Bradley family who reside in this county.

Hereford Man's Mother Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Schmucker, 82, of Nazareth, mother of Alvin Schmucker of Hereford, were conducted Monday morning in Holy Family Catholic Church at Nazareth, after rosary services

Saturday and Sunday evenings. Mrs. Schmucker was a longtime resident of Nazareth but had resided in a nursing home at Dimmitt recently. She died Friday evening in a Dimmitt hospital after a heart attack.

In addition to the son here, she is survived by another son, Arnold of Tucson, Ariz.; three daughters, Sister Maurine Schmucker of Amarillo, Mrs. William Warren of Woodward, Okla. and Mrs. Albert Hartman of Nazareth; 25 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

McQuerter Rites Are Conducted

The funeral of Cleatus William McQuerter, 77, of 135 Ave. A, was conducted Tuesday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home by the Rev. H.L. Thurston, retired United Methodist minister. Burial was in Rest Lawn Memorial Gardens.

A veteran of U.S. Army service in World War I, Mr. McQuerter died Saturday night in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo.

He was a native Texan, born Feb. 8, 1897, in Arlington. He married Barbara Wesley Oct. 27, 1934, in Kanopolis, Kan. and they moved to Deaf Smith County in 1942 from California.

In addition to his wife he is survived by two sisters, Myrtle Manning of Dallas and Lula Ferguson of Escondido, Calif.

Name In Vain

"I urge you to veto the welfare bill."

So said a telegram sent to the governor, supposedly from a concerned citizen by the name of Watson. But in fact, Watson had nothing to do with the telegram. It had been sent by a local manufacturing firm, which had simply picked his name out of the telephone book.

Watson later found out about the telegram, and filed a damage suit against the company "for taking my name in vain." And a court ruled that he did indeed have good grounds for complaint. The court said:

"(The company) appropriated, without the plaintiff's consent, his name, his personality, and whatever influence he may have possessed. This they had no right to do."

This case illustrates the growing recognition of the right of privacy as a legal doctrine. Often called "the right to be let alone," it has already been applied in a wide variety of situations.

Another example arose when an obstetrician, summoned to a woman's home to deliver her baby, brought a young man into the bedroom with him.

The woman assumed that the stranger was some sort of medical aide. Only afterward did she learn that he was merely a personal friend of the doctor. She sued for an intrusion on her privacy, and the court upheld her claim.

Of course, the right of privacy is not unlimited. It must be reconciled with other rights with which it may conflict. Thus:

A man who was mugged on a downtown street objected to the publicity that appeared in the local press. He argued in a court hearing that, as a private individual who had done no wrong, he was entitled to the shelter of the privacy doctrine.

But the court pointed out that whether he liked it or not, he was "newsworthy"—a legitimate object of public interest. The right of privacy, said the court, did not outweigh the freedom of the press guaranteed by the Constitution.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — The energy crisis may bring lower auto insurance premiums, and the State Insurance Board has put off its annual rate hearing to see if that's possible.

The hearing won't take place until late September this year.

By then, the Board hopes to get statistics on accidents and insurance claims for the first quarter of 1974.

The 55 miles an hour speed limit approved in special legislative session last December did not take effect until January 20. Driving was also curtailed sharply during early months of the year because of gasoline shortages.

If statistics for the first three months show lower rates are possible, the reduction would not go into effect until a month or more after the September hearing.

Texas Department of Public Safety has been asked to provide accident report details for the Insurance Board's 40 rating territories.

An average statewide reduction of 4.3 per cent was ordered last year, and many companies have granted further "deviation" reductions below the statewide rates fixed by the regulatory agency.

CONVENTION WINDING UP — The Constitutional Convention is racing toward a conclusion, but critical decisions — perhaps the toughest of the deliberations to date — remain.

President Price Daniel Jr. is hopeful of adjournment by July 15. Before that time, 121 votes must be rallied for the final document (and separate referendum items) to be submitted to voters.

ACCIDENTS PREDICTED — Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, estimated 42 lives would be lost in July 4 holiday traffic accidents.

Speir, who declined to make Christmas-New Year period forecasts because of changing traffic conditions tied to the energy crisis, said the situation has become more stable. He said gasoline is available in most areas, and guessed this will bring additional auto movement on the highways during the mid-summer holiday.

Thirteen died in July 4 traffic last year, but the holiday period was only 30 hours long then, compared to an 102-hour period this year (with the fourth falling on Thursday). Eighty died in 1972 holiday traffic over a similar 102-hour period.

All available DPS troopers and department facilities will be used to curb unsafe and reckless drivers, Speir said.

TRAINING CENTER ESTABLISHED — Gov. Dolph Briscoe ordered establishment July 1 of a new State Employees Training Institute to upgrade the unskilled and disadvantaged for jobs in state government.

The center, to be housed in The University of Texas, Austin, Extension Service facilities, will provide "intensive, short-term remedial education and skill training for new state agency employees and will have the capability to expand training for new responsibilities."

Texas Education Agency and UT division of Extension were assigned cooperative roles.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court will review a $200,000 damage suit against an Alpine dentist who shot to death a youth he believed to be stealing a battery from his car.

The High Court in a divided decision held an El Paso lawyer's license should be suspended three years (rather than revoked) for theft of $401 of a client's money.

A life sentence assessed a Fort Worth man in the killing of a policeman was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

A July 25 hearing has been set in 167th district court here in a civil anti-trust suit filed by Atty. Gen. John Hill against Associated Milk Producers Inc. (AMPI). Hill claims "coercive" tactics were used by the nation's largest dairy cooperative to get a virtual monopoly on Texas milk production.

A pre-trial conference has been scheduled in Austin's 53rd district court July 16 on Frances "Sissy" Farenthold's $2.5 million campaign finance lawsuit against Governor Briscoe.

The state settled its suit against Atlantic Richfield for $2.8 million. The case is the fourth settlement in 27 suits Hill filed against oil companies seeking fair market prices of "in kind" payments for oil and gas royalties from public school land leases.

AG OPINIONS — An appropriations bill provision that U.S. citizenship or application for naturalization is a requirement for all state employment is unconstitutional, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• Attorneys fees against delinquent taxpayers are calculated on the basis of the amount sued for by taxing entities represented by county or district attorney.

• A district court may exercise probationary powers whether or not it has employed a probation officer to assist it. A probation clerk may perform some of the officer's duties directly under court supervision.

• A town whose incorporation has been declared void in a court order is not entitled to receive city sales taxes collected for it by the comptroller.

• The Wharton County court of domestic relations has jurisdiction in civil cases where the matter in controversy is at least $200 but not more than $5,000.

SHORT SNORTS

Site of the first of four artificial reefs (to be constructed of surplus Liberty ships) has been approved in the Galveston-Freepport area.

E. L. Galyean of Austin is new acting executive secretary of the 152,000-member Texas State Teachers Association, succeeding L. P. Sturgeon who retired June 30.

Grants totalling $7.2 million have been approved for improvement of law enforcement and criminal justice.

Texas Water Rights Commission dissolved 18 water districts.

The Governor's Committee on Aging approved $658,000 in grants and ratified earlier action taken at meetings held without adequate notice last December and March.

House and Senate committees are holding hearings to assess possible solutions for the problem of soaring utility rates and shortages in some Central and South Texas cities.

The Constitutional Convention is considering publishing a 32-page tabloid-newspaper-sized copy of its proposals to be mailed to all voters at an estimated cost of nearly $500,000.

Unemployment rose from 5.2 per cent in April to 5.2 per cent in May, according to the Labor Department.

Miss Hereford Honored At Good Luck Sendoff

Climaxed with the appearance of Miss Hereford 1974, Susie Hickman, dressed in the costume she will wear for her talent number in the Miss Texas pageant next week and singing the song she will present in competition, a Good-Luck party Tuesday evening offered her the best wishes of hometown friends.

Worth for week-long preliminary judging and social events in the annual competition for the Miss Texas title and entry in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City.

contest here each year and sends the winner to the state pageant.

Miss Hickman modeled costumes she will wear in talent, formal dress and judge interview appearances, also at daytime and evening social events. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Hickman, who will accompany her to a number of events during the week, modeled outfits she has chosen for several occasions.

Summer-into-fall ensembles from Hereford stores were shown also in the fashion parade, worn by Miss Teenage Hereford, Monica Herring, and other girls who were entries in the 1974 Miss Hereford pageant last spring.

Mrs. Clint Formby was narrator for the style show and background music was by Mrs. Dwight McGee, pianist. A wishbone pin was presented to Miss Hickman as a good-luck gift from the Women's Division.

Mrs. O.G. Nieman, Women's Division president, welcomed guests and introduced those from other cities, including Dr. and Mrs. I.M. Atkins of College Station, grandparents of Lisa Liles who was one of the models. Miss Hereford 1973, Sandy Caison, was another guest introduced.

The party was the summer quarterly meeting of the Women's Division, but the only business permitted was announcement of Oct. 5 as the date set for a bus tour to the Texas Tech ranch museum, and July 19 as Hereford night at the musical production, Texas, in Palo Duro State Park.

Women's Division board members greeted guests. Mrs.

W.E. Sparks poured punch and Mrs. Waldo Baxter was at the coffee service at the table where sandwiches and desserts were served. It was centered with summer flowers and miniature bouquets with tiny gold horseshoes decorating each of the smaller tables where guests sat.

Three Retire From Santa Fe Railway

Three long-time agents of the Santa Fe Railway, who are familiar to Panhandle-area shippers, announced their retirement Monday. They are G.T. Slaughter of Hereford, C.A. Richards of Amarillo and K.E. Hines of Canyon.

Slaughter, born in Dublin, Tex. in 1910, began his railroad career, all of it on the Plains division, as an apprentice operator in December 1929. He became a graduate apprentice in September 1931 and was promoted to operator in 1936 and named agent at Etter, Tex. in 1943. On July 2, 1946, he transferred to Hereford and has remained in that job to the present time. He currently resides at 818 Ave. K. Richards, a native of Wellington, Kansas, started his railroad career as a B&B helper at El Paso in 1928. He later worked as a trackman, in water service and extra gangs as laborer and timekeeper, first becoming a clerk in 1936. He served in the U.S. Army in World War II, returned to railroad service as cashier, later serving as assistant agent, then agent-yard master at Vaughn, N.M., before transferring to Amarillo as chief clerk to the agent in 1963, to become agent on Aug. 1, 1964. Richards plans to remain in Amarillo.

Hines' railroad service has all been on the Plains division in the operating department, first working as an extra apprentice operator, 1931-34. He was a graduate apprentice until June, 1937, when he moved to the telegraphers' extra board, working at many points on the division.

Milo Center Fire

The foundation, ashes, and metal twisted out of shape by heat are the remains of a two-story house and garage that burned late Sunday night one mile east of Milo Center. The house was vacant at the time and was being wrecked-out by Mike Hagar of Hereford. Although the fire burned most of the night, it wasn't reported to fire-fighting officials until the next day. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Plan Gives Health Care At Home

What happens when you're recovering from an illness and are not sick enough to stay in a hospital and yet not quite well enough to completely care for yourself?

If you're lucky, you live in an area served by a Home Health Agency and can receive the needed services in the friendly confines of your own home, says the State Health Department.

Skilled and specialized care is given daily to thousands of Texans through one of the 45 Home Health Agencies in the state. The individual agencies may be small, from a minimum of two or three employees to more than a hundred, but they add up to a network of home care services covering a large segment of the state's population. Most of the patients are elderly.

WHAT EXACTLY does a Home Health Agency do?

Take the case of a man who suffered a stroke and was totally bedridden, could not talk and didn't recognize family members. The choices for his family were these: extended, expensive hospitalization; a nursing home, which also is expensive; or, home care with skilled health personnel from a Home Health Agency.

The patient was brought home. Acting under a physician's written orders (necessary in all cases), the patient was placed under the care of a nurse, physical therapist and speech therapist and soon was able to walk with a quad-cane, talk to a limited extent, recognize relatives and friends and was able to remember.

In another instance, a woman in her early seventies underwent surgery for cancer of the lower intestine and had a colostomy performed. Her children were married and lived elsewhere and her husband was older and partially blind. Through a Home Health Agency in her small town, she was able to receive visits at home from nurses and home health aides who taught her how to care for herself while she regained her strength.

What happens if you live in an area not served by an agency? It's possible that one nearby may be able to extend services through a branch office or sub-unit of an existing agency. In some cities and counties, the local health department operates such an agency.

CAN A HOME Health Agency be formed in your community?

Definitely yes, says the State Health Department. Information may be obtained from Dr. T.E. Dodd, director of Home Health Services Division, 1100 West 49th St., Austin, 78756.

What must a Home Health Agency have for certification?

The requirements are many, says Dr. Dodd, but they basically are these: Each agency must have a physician or registered nurse as director and have an advisory committee. It must be a non-profit organization, or a public organization like the health department, and must offer skilled nursing plus one additional therapeutic service such as physical therapy.

The Home Health Services Division will work with a fledgling agency in getting started and send out a consultant to assist in filling out the required forms. When the paper work is completed, notice is sent to the Certification and Consultation Division and an inspection of the facility is requested. If approved, a recommendation is made with Social Security that the agency be certified.

SINCE HOME Health Agencies are non-profit organizations, payment to them is for services rendered. Medicare payments come through a third party, or fiscal intermediary. This can be an insurance company or Social Security. The intermediary, based on the orders from a doctor, will determine the length of the related home care needed in each case. Progress reports are made by the nurse-director and given to the physician on the case, allowing the doctor to keep abreast of progress. Often a patient advances more rapidly than the schedule originally proposed.

Home Health Agencies are providing a great service to the homebound in Texas, says the State Health Department.

Finances certainly are a part of the contribution. Rising costs of hospitalization greatly increase the financial strain on anyone unfortunate to have an illness demanding hospitalization. It is much less expensive the Home Health Agency way. And, the shortage of hospital beds makes it mandatory that patients be released as soon as it is medically practical.

Another point arrived at over the years is this, says a State Health Department spokesman: Patients able to go home to continue their rehabilitation are much happier and seem to respond more quickly.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D.C.--President Nixon continues to receive support from a large segment of the American public. In recent days, to obtain a voice in the national capital's press, his backers have bought ads in the newspapers (both of which have been stingingly critical of the President) to call on fellow Americans to back the President.

The public opinion polls show Nixon's support edging slowly upward, though there are no noticeable gains in the nose-counting on Capitol Hill. But the President's highly important travels this month, both to the Middle East and Russia, are counted on by many to boost Nixon stock.

Aides at the White House report the pressure, and gloom, has lifted considerably in recent weeks. They believe release of the transcripts of the President's conversations, though shocking many, have proven helpful.

That transcript release cost the President the support of several major newspapers, certain key members of the Senate and House, adverse remarks from such supporters as Billy Graham and others. But repeated assertions by the President, Ron Zeigler, Vice President Gerald Ford and others--that the President is not guilty of any criminal action--has had an effect. Also, there is a growing feeling among the general public that part of the fight between Mr. Nixon and the House Judiciary Committee is political.

Reports from various states show that leftwing activist Democrats are much stronger in many states than had been expected after the 1972 McGovern rout. The latest sampling indicate National Democratic Committee Chairman Robert Strauss may have his hands full trying to control events at the party's newly-inaugurated mid-term convention late this year.

That convention will take place in Kansas City in December, if the moderate's loose control of it, many Republicans will be delighted and moderate Democratic candidates for the 1976 nomination will be hurt.

A journey begun on time is half complete.

Exhibit Details Texas In 1828-29

Texas as it appeared to a traveler in 1828-29 is the subject of an exhibit to go on display in The Museum of Texas Tech University tomorrow.

Jean Louis Berlandier, French born and trained in Switzerland as a botanist, traveled into what is now Texas and recorded the range of life he found in the region in 1828-29.

The exhibition of material based on his studies was organized by the Smithsonian Institution for display in conjunction with the publication of Berlandier's account, "The Indians of Texas in 1830," edited and introduced by John C. Ewers. Ewers is senior ethnologist of the Smithsonian's Department of Anthropology.

The exhibition now is owned by the Museum of the Southwest in Midland and is on loan to The Museum of Texas Tech University.

Jean Louis Berlandier saw Texas as plains, deserts, woodlands and seacoast peopled by more than 40 Indian tribes.

Along with voluminous notes on the geography, natural resources, plant and animal life of Texas, he carefully recorded what he learned of the native tribes — their origins and relationships to neighboring peoples, their languages, beliefs, swellings, clothing, eating habits, hunting techniques, war tactics, burial customs and more.

His accounts have been accepted as among the most accurate of America's first European travelers, and they are the basis for the exhibition which illustrates his findings through the use of watercolor reproductions showing the dress of the tribes, the plants he found, and illustrations of a group of artifacts found by Berlandier and acquired by the Smithsonian in 1853.

The significance of Berlandier's work is indicated by these artifacts. They represent Comanche material culture in the second quarter of the 19th Century and appear to be the oldest documented Comanche collection in any museum.

The exhibit will close Aug. 25.

NEWS REPORT

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon has recently convinced some of those who have sought his scalp that his foreign policy accomplishments alone justifies his continuance in the White House.

The President's record in this field is truly impressive, by any standard. A Middle East settlement was deemed impossible six months ago. Improved relations with Russia and China are unquestioned, major forward steps in the nation's foreign relations alone. And there is more to come from Moscow this month if Washington reports are accurate.

As a result, and the general tiring of Watergate news (which has resulted in fewer viewers of television news, on all three networks) the President's support has inched upward. The improvement has been slow since the March bottom but it has also been steady.

The Rodino Committee, wringing every drop of publicity and acclaim out of its impeachment hearings, is like the Senate Watergate Committee—experiencing difficulty. A major segment of the public is now hostile to it.

An Action Biography

U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was exchanging quips in the Kremlin with Soviet General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko about the prospects of trade in vodka and Pepsi Cola. The occasion was a photo-taking session for the world press preceding the start of Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

ABC News Correspondent Ted Koppel brought a television crew to record the banter and the flurry of flashbulbs for the ABC News special, "Kissinger: An Action Biography," airing Friday, June 14 (8:30-9:30 p.m.) on the ABC Television Network. A major portion of the program will show Kissinger at work around the world at informal meetings as well as at official conferences and give insights

Jobs Open On Border Patrol

The U.S. Civil Service Commission is now accepting applications for Border Patrol Agent positions. These positions are located with the Immigration and Naturalization Service, an agency of the U.S. Department of Justice.

The Service hires approximately 400 Border Patrol Agents annually and offers good opportunities to men and women who are interested in immigration law enforcement and want to prepare themselves for positions of greater responsibilities through on-the-job and Service-offered training.

All new appointees are assigned to positions located along the Southern United States border.

Border Patrol Agents perform a variety of immigration law enforcement functions to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. Duties include detection, apprehension, and deportation of illegally entered aliens; interrogation of suspected violators; inspection and search of automobiles, trains, buses, airplanes, ships and terminals to detect aliens entering illegally; and other duties to enforce the law.

Persons appointed to Border Patrol Agent positions participate in a 4-month intensive training course at the Border Patrol Academy where they study immigration and naturalization laws, Spanish, marksmanship and undergo physical training. Border

Patrol Agents are federal career employees.

In addition, agents enjoy many "fringe benefits" such as vacation leave each year, sick leave with pay, low cost life insurance and health insurance for which the government shares in the cost. Salaries are based on the standard federal work week of 40 hours.

Individuals selected for appointment enter on duty as Border Patrol Agents with the basic entrance salary of $9,968 per year. At the time of appointment, all agents must have a combination of abilities and skills such as the ability to learn law enforcement methods, ability to gather factual information, poise and self-confidence, tact and ability to deal with a wide variety of persons in all walks of life.

In addition, agents must have the ability to learn to speak and read Spanish. Individuals selected receive instructions in speaking and reading Spanish as part of the basic training for Border Patrol Agents.

Miss Hereford Honored At Good Luck Sendoff

Climaxed with the appearance of Miss Hereford 1974, Susie Hickman, dressed in the costume she will wear for her debut in the Miss Texas pageant next week and singing the song she will present in competition, a Good-Luck party Tuesday evening offered her the best wishes of hometown friends. She will leave Sunday for Fort

Worth for week-long preliminary judging and social events in the annual competition for the Miss Texas title and entry in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City. Hereford Country Club ballroom was filled to capacity for the party given by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, which conducts the Miss Hereford contest here each year and sends the winner to the state pageant.

Miss Hickman modeled costumes she will wear in talent, formal dress and judge interview appearances, also at daytime and evening social events. Her mother, Mrs. Robert Hickman, who will accompany her to a number of events during the week, modeled outfits she has chosen for several occasions.

Summer-into-fall ensembles from Hereford stores were shown also in the fashion parade, worn by Miss Teenage Hereford, Monica Herring, and other girls who were entries in the 1974 Miss Hereford pageant last spring.

Mrs. Clint Formby was narrator for the style show and background music was by Mrs. Dwight McGee, pianist. A wishbone pin was presented to Miss Hickman as a good-luck gift from the Women's Division.

Mrs. O.G. Nieman, Women's Division president, welcomed guests and introduced those from other cities, including Dr. and Mrs. L.M. Atkins of College Station, grandparents of Lisa Liles who was one of the models. Miss Hereford 1973, Sandy Caison, was another guest introduced.

The party was the summer quarterly meeting of the Women's Division, but the only business permitted was announcement of Oct. 5 as the date set for a bus tour to the Texas Tech ranch museum, and July 19 as Hereford night at the musical production, Texas, in Palo Duro State Park.

Women's Division board members greeted guests. Mrs.

W.E. Sparks poured punch and Mrs. Waldo Baxter was at the coffee service at the table where sandwiches and desserts were served. It was centered with summer flowers and miniature bouquets with tiny gold horseshoes decorating each of the smaller tables where guests sat.

Three Retire From Santa Fe Railway

Three long-time agents of the Santa Fe Railway, who are familiar to Panhandle area shippers, announced their retirement Monday. They are G.T. Slaughter of Hereford, C.A. Richards of Amarillo and K.E. Hines of Canyon.

Slaughter, born in Dublin, Tex. in 1910, began his railroad career, all of it on the Plains division, as an apprentice operator in December 1929. He became a graduate apprentice in September 1931 and was promoted to operator in 1936 and named agent at Etter, Tex. in 1943. On July 2, 1946, he transferred to Hereford and has remained in that job to the present time. He currently resides at 818 Ave. K. Richards, a native of Wellington, Kansas, started his railroad career as a B&B helper at El Paso in 1928. He later worked as a trackman, in water service and extra gangs as laborer and timekeeper, first becoming a clerk in 1936. He served in the U.S. Army in World War II, returned to railroad service as cashier, later serving as assistant agent, then agent-yard master at Vaughn, N.M. before transferring to Amarillo as chief clerk to the agent in 1963, to become agent on Aug. 1, 1964. Richards plans to remain in Amarillo. Hines' railroad service has all been on the Plains division in the operating department, first working as an extra apprentice operator, 1931-34. He was a graduate apprentice until June, 1937, when he moved to the telegraphers' extra board, working at many points on the division.

Milo Center Fire

The foundation, ashes, and metal twisted out of shape by heat are the remains of a two-story house and garage that burned late Sunday night one mile east of Milo Center. The house was vacant at the time and was being wrecked-out by Mike Hagar of Hereford. Although the fire burned most of the night, it wasn't reported to fire-fighting officials until the next day. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Plan Gives Health Care At Home

What happens when you're recovering from an illness and are not sick enough to stay in a hospital and yet not quite well enough to completely care for yourself?

If you're lucky, you live in an area served by a Home Health Agency and can receive the needed services in the friendly confines of your own home, says the State Health Department.

Skilled and specialized care is given daily to thousands of Texans through one of the 45 Home Health Agencies in the state. The individual agencies may be small, from a minimum of two or three employees to more than a hundred, but they add up to a network of home care services covering a large segment of the state's population. Most of the patients are elderly.

WHAT EXACTLY does a Home Health Agency do?

Take the case of a man who suffered a stroke and was totally bedridden, could not talk and didn't recognize family members. The choices for his family were these: extended, expensive hospitalization; a nursing home, which also is expensive; or, home care with skilled health personnel from a Home Health Agency.

The patient was brought home. Acting under a physician's written orders (necessary in all cases), the patient was placed under the care of a nurse, physical therapist and speech therapist and soon was able to walk with a quad-cane, talk to a limited extent, recognize relatives and friends and was able to remember.

In another instance, a woman in her early seventies underwent surgery for cancer of the lower intestine and had a colostomy performed. Her children were married and lived elsewhere and her husband was older and partially blind. Through a Home Health Agency in her small town, she was able to receive visits at home from nurses and home health aides who taught her how to care for herself while she regained her strength.

What happens if you live in an area not served by an agency? It's possible that one nearby may be able to extend services through a branch office or sub-unit of an existing agency. In some cities and counties, the local health department operates such an agency.

CAN A HOME Health Agency be formed in your community?

Definitely yes, says the State Health Department. Information may be obtained from Dr. T.E. Dodd, director of Home Health Services Division, 1100 West 49th St., Austin, 78756.

What must a Home Health Agency have for certification?

The requirements are many, says Dr. Dodd, but they basically are these: Each agency must have a physician or registered nurse as director and have an advisory committee. It must be a non-profit organization, or a public organization like the health department, and must offer skilled nursing plus one additional therapeutic service such as physical therapy.

The Home Health Services Division will work with a fledgling agency in getting started and send out a consultant to assist in filling out the required forms. payments come through a third party, or fiscal intermediary. This can be an insurance company or Social Security. The intermediary, based on the orders from a doctor, will determine the length of the related home care needed in each case. Progress reports are made by the nurse-director and given to the physician on the case, allowing the doctor to keep abreast of progress. Often a patient advances more rapidly than the schedule originally proposed.

Jobs Open On Border Patrol

The U.S. Civil Service Commission is now accepting applications for Border Patrol Agent positions. These positions are located with the Immigration and Naturalization Service, an agency of the U.S. Department of Justice.

The Service hires approximately 400 Border Patrol Agents annually and offers good opportunities to men and women who are interested in immigration law enforcement and want to prepare themselves for positions of greater responsibilities through on-the-job and Service-offered training.

All new appointees are assigned to positions located along the Southern United States border.

Border Patrol Agents perform a variety of immigration law enforcement functions to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. Duties include detection, apprehension, and deportation of illegally entered aliens; interrogation of suspected violators; inspection and search of automobiles, trains, buses, airplanes, ships and terminals to detect aliens entering illegally; and other duties to enforce the law.

Persons appointed to Border Patrol Agent positions participate in a 4-month intensive training course at the Border Patrol Academy where they study immigration and naturalization laws, Spanish, marksmanship and undergo physical training. Border

Patrol Agents are federal career employees.

In addition, agents enjoy many "fringe benefits" such as vacation leave each year, sick leave with pay, low cost life insurance and health insurance for which the government shares in the cost. Salaries are based on the standard federal work week of 40 hours.

Individuals selected for appointment enter on duty as Border Patrol Agents with the basic entrance salary of $9,969 per year. At the time of appointment, all agents must have a combination of abilities and skills such as the ability to learn law enforcement methods, ability to gather factual information, poise and self-confidence, tact and ability to deal with a wide variety of persons in all walks of life.

In addition, agents must have the ability to learn to speak and read Spanish. Individuals selected receive instructions in speaking and reading Spanish as part of the basic training for Border Patrol Agents.

Records Bettered In AAU Prelim

Sixteen West Texas AAU track records were bettered Saturday when more than 350 youngsters competed in the West Texas AAU Preliminary Meet held at Whiteface Stadium. The event, sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, precedes the West Texas AAU meet to be held in Borger this Saturday.

Hereford youngsters bettered four of the AAU records, but although times and distances were bettered, they will not go in the record books. To establish a new record, the performance must be at a designated competition. The meet in Borger Saturday is such a meet, and Dr. Joe Whitley, director of the Hereford Track Club, feels several Hereford youngsters will have chances to better the record books.

Saturday, in the midget boys division, the team of Randy Vogel, Zane Barber, Damon Jones and Wayne High bettered the 440-yard relay record for that division. The old record was 59.0 seconds, but the Hereford team ran a 58.3. Sandy Whitley bettered the long jump record in the junior girls division by jumping 16' 4 1/2". The old record was 16' 1 1/2". James Mays ran a 2:12.2 880-yard run to better the junior boys record of 2:16.8. Zane Barber clocked a 12.3 100-yard dash to better the record of 13.1 in the midget boys division.

Dr. Whitley has planned for winners at the track meet in Borger this weekend to travel to other cities to compete in higher levels of competition. The Hereford Track Club will end its season after the July 6 meet, and any youngsters advancing beyond the district meet in Borger will do so on an individual basis.

After the AAU West Texas District meet in Borger Saturday, youngsters will have a chance to compete in Lubbock at the T.A.A.F. regional meet July 13. The AAU regional meet is in Borger July 20, and the T.A.A.F. state meet is in Austin July 26-27.

Hereford youngsters placing in the meet here Saturday were: In the bantam girls long jump, Joyce High first, Carla Baxter fourth, and Michelle Osborn fifth. Midget girls 100-yard dash, Joyce High second, and Kathy Lane sixth. 50-yard dash, Michell Osborn first, and Carla Baxter sixth.

In the bantam boys long jump, Steve Barret was second. Steve Barkowsky was fourth in the 100-yard dash, with David High placing sixth in the 50-yard dash.

In the midget girls, Louise Mays was second in the high jump with Debra Rogers placing fourth. In the long jump, Cheryl Roddy placed fourth and Shirley Hutton was sixth. Darlene Sanders was second and Lori Oliver was third in the 100-yard dash, with Lynette Walker placing fifth. Sanders was second, Walker third, and Oliver sixth in the 50-yard dash. In that division, Hereford teams placed first and sixth in the 440-yard relay.

In the midget boys division Kevin Coup was third in the high jump, with Damon Jones fourth and Bruce Clark sixth. Zane Barber was first in the 100-yard dash, with Wayne High third. High was second in the 50-yard dash with Sanders fourth and Coup fifth. Hereford teams placed first and fifth in that division's 440-yard relay.

In the junior girls division, Sandy Whitley was third in the 220-yard dash. Marie Schilling was first in the 440-yard dash. Whitley and Schilling were first and second in the long jump, with Whitley second and Barber fourth in the 100-yard dash. Hereford's team was second in the 440-yard relay.

In the junior boys, Daniel Wells was third in the 880-yard dash with Jean Flores sixth. Gerald Vaughn placed second in the 220 yard dash with Daryl Wells placing second and Flores sixth in the 440-yard dash. Richard Olson was second in the shot, with Vaughn placing third in the 100-yard dash. The relay team in that division placed fourth.

In the intermediate girls, Suzanne Duval was second in the 100-yard dash, with Pam Whitley fourth. Grace Abalos was fourth in the 220-yard dash. Duval was first in the 440-yard dash with Micki Merritt placing third. Frankie Wells won first in the discus and the high jump. Abalos was third in the long jump, and Hereford's team was first in the 440-yard relay.

In the intermediate boys division, James Mays was first in the 880-yard dash, with Olson placing fourth in the 440-yard dash. Olson was fifth in the 100-yard dash, with Cortez fourth. Hereford's relay team was fifth in the 440.

In the senior boys division, Fields was fourth in the mile, with Roy Martinez placing fifth in the 100-yard dash.

Although no team points were kept, Hereford would have scored more points than any other team.

At The Tape

Three Hereford girls finish side by side in the finals of the midget girls 50-yard dash. Lynette Walker, left, finished third, while Darlene Sanders, center, was second. Right, Lori Oliver finished sixth. All three were strong competitors in several events at the West Texas AAU Prelim Meet held Saturday at Whiteface Stadium. Sixty-five Hereford youngsters competed in the meet.

Competition Stiff In City Tennis

Hereford's Chamber of Commerce sponsored City Tennis tournament ended Sunday with awards picnic at the Avenue park, and contestants began doctoring the blisters that are a hazard of the sport. From the age of seven up, more than 110 letters competed in the city-wide event.

Steve Thomas was the most victorious of any concerned, winning three titles. Thomas downed David Zinser in the premiere match of men's singles 6-1, 6-1. Thomas teamed with Pat Hughes to down Burns Hamilton and Jerry Payne 6-1, 6-1 in men's doubles. Thomas' third victory came in mixed doubles when he and partner Lesa Rose beat Jerry and Wanda Payne 6-1, 6-3.

Final Hamilton beat Connie

Cupell 6-2, 1-6, 6-4 for the women's singles title. Mrs. Cupell and Pat Pruitt won the women's doubles, edging Ginalu Hamilton and Wanda Payne 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Connie Cupell was busy Friday, playing five matches, or a total of 91 games. She was entered in singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Another marathon player was Herbie Del Toro. Herbie played in the boy's 16 and men's singles. He went split sets in two different singles matches, reached the quarterfinals in one division and the semifinals in the other, but won no trophies.

One of the longest matches was in the finals of boys 14 singles between Greg Hennington and Steve Hoover. The match went on and on as time after time the score went due.

Hennington was finally victorious, winning the match 6-7, 7-6, 6-4.

Besides the usual amount of blisters and scraped knees, the only injury from the tournament was to Harlan VanderZee. Harlan jumped over the net after winning in the first round of junior veteran doubles, but miscalculated his landing and injured his left knee. The doctor's diagnosis is still pending, but it could be cartilage or ligament damage.

VanderZee and partner Clint Formby had just defeated Ray Frye and Bill Lamm when the accident occurred. Due to the injury, John Poindexter and Pat Hughes won Junior vet doubles by default.

Poindexter won the junior vet singles title by downing Bill Lyman 6-1, 6-2.

David Zinser won the boys 18 singles with a 6-0, 6-3 victory over Rocky Rodriguez, and then teamed with David Rudder to win boys 18 doubles by downing Mark Inman and Jesse Castaneda 6-1, 6-3.

There was no competition in the girls 18 singles, but Monica Herring and Karen Anstey won girls 18 doubles with a 6-2, 6-1 match over Jane Hoffman and Janet McWhorter.

Kevin Downing beat Tim Ruland for the boys 12 singles title, and Sandy Whitley beat Barbara Scott for the girls 12 title.

Tournament directors Steve Thomas and Burns Hamilton polled the players in the tourney, and feelings were that a tourney in August would be well received. Plans are underway to determine if such a tournament could be staged.

Hoffman and Janet McWhorter 6-3, 6-2.

The team of Mitchell George and Steve Hoover beat Bud Hughes and Greg Dement 6-1, 6-3 for the boys 14 doubles title.

Lynn Mitts won the girls 14 singles title by downing Joanie Webb, and then those two teamed up to beat Sandy and Pam Whitley for the girls 14 doubles title.

Rocky Rodriguez went split sets with David Rudder in the boys 16 singles, but won the match 6-2, 3-6, 6-0. Rudder and Marshall Formby won the boys 16 doubles, beating Vance Hennington and Barry Muller 6-2, 6-7, 7-6.

Susan Gremesley beat Ellen Jorde for the girls 16 title, and then teamed with Jorde to win the girls 16 doubles over Jane

Threetime Winner

Steve Thomas returns back across the net to David Zinser in the mens singles finals of the City Tennis Tournament. Thomas won three titles in the event. The tourney was sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Sports committee.

Holiday Slow Pitch Set

Hereford's Men's Slow Pitch softball league will take a short rest period while the H.A.A.A. holds its Fourth of July tournament July 5 through 7. Twenty teams are expected to compete in the double elimination bracket tourney. Teams from as far away as Tucuman, Lubbock, and Clovis will compete. All games will be played at Veterans Park.

In competition this week, Temple Baptist downed Jim's Plumbing 10-7 in the first game Friday night. In the second contest of the evening, Caviness Packing downed Arrowhead Mills 17-5. Roy Martinez had two homers, with Rick Lyons and Juan Berrega each getting one homer.

Monday night, K-Bob's beat Arrowhead 21-14 in the first contest. Steve Lark homered for K-Bob's. Caviness Packing then downed Jim's Plumbing 17-2, with Ray and Roy Martinez each homering for Caviness.

Tuesday night's contest between BJM and John Deere was marked with several home runs, but BJM outslammed John Deere 13-8. Temple Baptist downed Armor 10-6 in the second game.

Heading the standings are BJM and Caviness. Each has four wins and no losses. When competition resumes Monday after the holiday tourney, BJM will meet Caviness at 9 p.m. at Veterans Park to break the tie for first place.

K-Bob's is in third place with a 3-1 record, while John Deere and Temple Baptist are in fourth at two wins and two losses. Armor is 1-3, with Arrowhead and Jim's Plumbing in the cellar at 0-4 each.

Infantry Course

Army Private Fidel M. Reyna Jr., 20, whose parents live on Austin Road, completed nine weeks of advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, Ft. Polk, La.

He received general training as a light weapons infantryman and as a mortar and recoilless rifle crewman, in addition to specialized weapons instruction.

He also was taught the proper use of high explosives and the placement, detection and disarming of mines.

Teamwork was emphasized while he learned to work as a member of a rifle squad, mortar squad or direct fire section. Each team member completed the training well qualified to perform other jobs in case of casualties.

Beef Still Good Item

Retail beef prices probably will not go any lower, although beef continues in relatively large supply, one expert says.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, made the predictions this week.

"There are frequent advertised specials on many cuts, so this is a good time to do a little extra buying for the freezer — look for best values on round steaks and roasts, beef liver, ground beef, chuck roasts and steaks," she said.

"Pork values include hams, picnics, end-cut loin roasts and chops, Boston butts, shoulder roasts and steaks.

"Fryer chickens and turkeys take the bargain spotlight in many markets, and grade A, large-size eggs offer economy and quality."

Turning to fresh fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Clyatt said items in good supply at most reasonable prices are sweet corn, squash, snap beans, okra, carrots, dry yellow onions, cushaw, blackeye peas, radishes, green onions and cabbage.

Also, Valencia oranges, bananas, cantaloupes, honeydew melons, watermelons and Santa Rosa plums.

"Apricots are in peak supply this month, although quantities are small — and prices are generally high," she added.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Quality and prices vary on cherries, plums, pineapples, peaches, white grapes, nectarines and strawberries.

Make these fruit selections carefully.

It's time to order new iris rhizomes for planting next month. August is the proper month for planting and re-planting iris.

Retiree Has Hobby

Leaving Library, She'll Hit Motorcycle Trails

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

MOTORCYCLING is not a sport associated in the public's mind with retired librarians, but Lorene Newman, who lately ended almost 20 years' employment in Deaf Smith County Library, is a cycling enthusiast with plans to ride even more, now that she has time for favorite recreation.

It wasn't her teenage children who sparked Mrs. Newman's interest in motorcycles. She sparked theirs. "It sounds sort of silly," the quiet-spoken librarian says, "but a television program about a family who rode motorcycles started our family to riding. It looked like fun to me and I said so to my family. The more we talked about it the more we wanted to try it; now the whole family has motorcycles."

THE WHOLE family, Lorene and H.L. Newman, their three children and seven grandchildren, have always enjoyed outdoor activities like camping, fishing and hiking. Motorcycle riding was just another step. "You can go where a car can't take you, it's cheaper, and for myself I've found that all the walking and climbing I did 10 years ago is getting harder so I'd rather ride," Mrs. Newman explains with a grin. "The only problem is staying on!" The last sentence refers to a tumble she took last April.

which left her with a broken arm and a cut above her eye. She hasn't been able to ride her cycle since, but expects to take off again soon as her arm has healed to the point that she can grip the handlebar properly.

STILL NOT sure what caused the accident because she has no memory of the actual crash and some time afterward, she only knows she was riding alone on the pavement near the Newman's cottage at Ute Lake in New Mexico.

In the six or seven years she has ridden motorcycles she had only one other serious spill, a fall in sand when her foot was pinned under her cycle and her ankle burned.

Since both retired this spring, Mr. and Mrs. Newman are putting into effect plans they had been making for several years, to travel, camp and enjoy hobbies they previously lacked the time for. They were at home a couple of days this week from Colorado, then returned to join their daughter whom they had left with their trailer-camper.

SHE IS Sharon Jones of Amarillo; the Newmans' sons, Alan and Pat, also live in that nearby city and their families are frequently in the party on Newman outings.

Colorado and New Mexico mountains are favorite fishing spots and the Newmans like to get off the main highways and go to places like old ghost towns to explore. That's where motorcycles come in handy, Lorene Newman adds.

Her longtime work with the library here began in 1955 when she became assistant librarian, then she was made librarian 10 years later when Mrs. J.J. Boydston retired. But she says "I grew up in this library" because she was an omnivorous reader and her mother, Vera Smith, was assistant librarian several years in the 1930's.

THE SMITH family moved to Hereford in 1929 from Georgia and Mrs. Newman says "The first places we went to begin getting acquainted were the Presbyterian Church and the library."

She attended Hereford schools and says she got the remainder of her education in the library instead of in college.

"My mother saw that we read, but I was a compulsive reader anyway; if there was nothing else at hand when I had a minute's time, I would read labels on the boxes or advertisement on the calendar!"

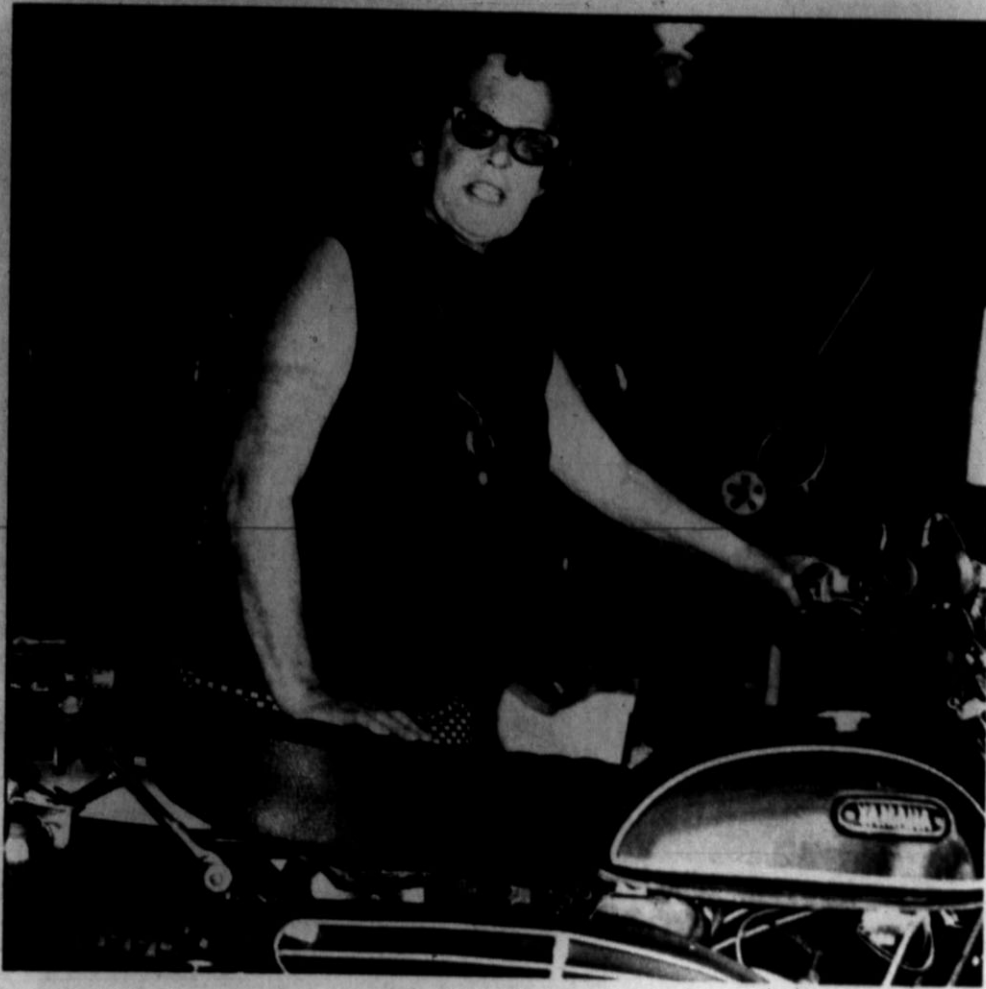

SOON after their marriage, her husband began employment with the Texas Highway Department from which he later retired. The couple took retirement early, with definite plans for their future, to avoid the fate of some fellow-workers they had seen who waited for mandatory retirement and then faced a "nothing to do" existence.

"For years I've bought material for sewing and handcraft whenever I saw something I liked, put it back to wait for time to use it, and now have a stock that should last about 50 years," Mrs. Newman laughs.

She likes to paint and do all sorts of handwork in addition to reading in her spare time. But first, this summer there is more fishing, camping — and motorcycle riding.

Parties Given For Bride-To-Be

Before her midsummer wedding, Linda Collins is being complimented with pretty parties in rooms decked with daisies, the flower she has chosen as the floral setting for the ceremony July 12. She is to be the bride of Henry Ramaekers of Umbarger.

A shower Tuesday afternoon was given in the home of Mrs. Henry Solomon, where Miss Collins greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Boyd Collins; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Vincent Ramaekers of Umbarger, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Florence Albracht and Mrs. Leonard Conrad. They all wore daisy corsages.

Rita Collins, sister of the honoree, invited callers to register. Mrs. Reuben Gutierrez and Mrs. Jimmy Walker served cake and punch. Daisies and blue candles were arranged in the center of the refreshment table on an all-white cloth with net overlay.

Hostesses with Mrs. Solomon were Mmes. Gene Brownlow, J.B. Digby, Andy Keyes, W.J. Albracht, William Igal, Bill Kunykendall, James Priddy, Art Stoy, Robert Boyd, M.E. Dean, Lee Cocanougher, Jimmy Bell, Rodger Ruland, M.D. Henson and Fred Muller.

Future bridal attendants of Linda Collins complimented her with a pre-wedding personal shower Sunday in the home of Joan Frische, north of Dawn.

If you're making a meat loaf, try using onion soup mix instead of onion... Never shake or tap the cup when measuring flour. Spoon the flour into the cup and level it off with a knife or spatula.

More Staggering Statistics: Experts who know such things say that each year the average person discards about 188 pounds of paper, 250 metal cans and 35 jars and bottles—not to mention other refuse. Now, multiply these figures by the number of people in your house.

Patsy Brownlow and Debbie Ramaekers were the other hostesses.

She was presented a corsage of daisies, as were her mother, Mrs. Boyd A. Collins, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Vincent Ramaekers of Umbarger, who greeted guests with her sister, Georgia, was at the registry.

A basketful of daisies was in the center of the table, where the blue cloth was overlaid in white. Colors were repeated in the yellow punch and a lemon cake, section and each piece topped with a rose, carnation or dove decoration. A blue ribbon across the cake was imprinted with names of the engaged couple.

The honoree opened gift packages at a table covered in yellow. She was assisted by her sister, Rita, and her fiancé's sisters, Linda and Sharon.

Paintings Of Month At Library Depict Plains

Painter of the month, whose work is on view in Deaf Smith County Library through July, is Jon Birdsong, who was art teacher at Stanton Junior High seven years before he resigned to devote full time to painting.

Working chiefly in water-colors, Birdsong paints scenes of this area, characteristically in monochrome effects to set a mood. He aims at achieving the feeling of vastness and isolation of the Panhandle landscape with sparse vegetation, tall grass and tumbleweeds, few trees and lone buildings.

Recognition has been given his work in numerous awards and he is praised for capturing the unique look of plains, canyons and mountains of this section of the Southwest.

He grew up in the Panhandle and became seriously interested in art late in his college years at West Texas State University. After graduation with a degree in social studies, he returned to complete study for an art degree.

Most of Birdsong's painting is done in the studio in his home at 441 Ave. B, which he and Mrs. Birdsong converted from an old barn with workspace for the artist as a main objective.

A large collection of his paintings will be on view today while the new library building is being formally opened. At later times in the month some of the paintings will be removed for display elsewhere, to which they were previously committed, but there will be a number hanging in the library at any time in July.

School Class. They presented Young, who has taught the class for a number of years, with a silver plaque in appreciation for time he has contributed.

The 100 guests present participated in a song hour after the gift was given.

Witnesses Back From Assembly

The local congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses are back in Hereford after being part of a vast audience of 6,488 persons who heard the principal address of the four-day "Divine Purpose" Spanish District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday at Sunland Park Race Track in New Mexico.

T.J. Figliano spoke on the subject: "Human Plans Failing as God's Purpose Succeeds." "It is comforting to know," he said, "that, whereas human plans for mankind are failing, the purpose of a loving Creator is succeeding."

Pointing to the League of Nations and its successor, the United Nations, Figliano said they have failed to reduce international tensions and produce a world free of military armaments and weapons of tremendous destructive potential.

Speaking of the end of World War II and the introduction of nuclear power, Figliano asked what protective device would men responsible for world planning now provide? Something that expressed a wisdom superior to that of mortal man?

"No," he said, "the nation that explored the atomic bomb took the lead in arranging with its allies for another society of nations. Just the old political league with a new dress and facial makeup, under a new name, the United Nations organization."

Having returned from El Paso, the 10 local Witnesses will resume the regular schedule of meetings at their Kingdom Hall located at 319 Ave. I Spanish Congregation.

Course Scheduled

"The Economist Views Society and Its Problems" will be a special topics course offered at West Texas State University the second summer term.

"A large part of what happens in our economy is what people think is going to happen in the future," says Economics Department Head Dr. Barry Duman, the course instructor. "We hope by educating the population," Duman noted, "through isolating some of the causes of the present economic crises, we will be able to come up with some solutions."

Duman cites the goal of the course is to provide the citizens of the Panhandle with economic insight into various social, political and economic issues that they may be forced to deal with in their roles as businessmen, workers, public servants, voters and consumers. The course will include topics such as the economics of discrimination, problems of pollution and ecological imbalance, inflation, economics of health and medical care and global economics.

"The need for this course is most apparent," Duman says, "when one considers the many economic and economic-related problems currently confronting the American citizen and more specifically the citizen of the Golden Spread region."

"The acute local nature of these problems becomes apparent when one notes that we have recently emerged from a period of agricultural recession in the face of high prices," Duman observes.

"Occurrences such as these have had dislocating effects on the producing and consuming publics and, coupled with the general confusion surrounding the wage-price controls, have forced our citizens to become more aware and involved in economic decisions and policies."

Economics 399-1, the Economist Views Society and Its Problems, requires no prerequisite courses. The class will consist of informal discussions and forums, with guest lectures when appropriate.

Registration for the course, which will be held from 9:10-10:40 a.m. on the WT campus, is July 15. For more information, contact the Dean of Admission and Registrar, WTSU.

"WE HOLD THESE

truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. . . ." wrote Thomas Jefferson, master architect of buildings and nations. He told us why we needed a new government. He said that if a government doesn't do what the people want, they should change it.

Our Founding Fathers were revolutionaries and they were not afraid to try new methods. Even though they resorted to violence to make the change, they desired more peaceful methods. But this government they created makes peaceful change possible. These men of '76 were hardheaded realists who depended on "divine providence" to guide them. And so must we, on this Fourth of July, if the '76 Spirit is to live.

St. Anthony's Parish joins the community in celebrating the 198th anniversary of national independence with a special Mass in St. Anthony's church at 8:30 a.m. today.

Before Mass a Boy Scout will lead the congregation in the Pledge of Allegiance.

A sung Mass, including patriotic hymns, will be presented by the parish family, to be assisted by the choir. At the Offertory, copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, an American History book, a Flag, and a sample of American soil will be the gifts brought to the Altar.

"It is the intention of the parishioners of St. Anthony's to thank Almighty God for 198 years of independence and freedom, and to join with the community of Hereford in the beginning of the celebration of our country's bicentennial anniversary," said a Catholic spokesman.

Library Staff Busy

At work in the new Deaf Smith County Library building even before its formal opening today, staff members who did their share of moving books and furnishings from the old quarters in the courthouse, stay busy with clerical duties and helping patrons. Pointing out new shelf arrangements to a reader, lower left, is Ann Bradley, new student aide. ### Additives Not Real Villains

Food additives are not always the "bad guys" they're often made out to be, according to one nutritionist.

She's Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Sugar and salt are two of the most common additives—each of us uses about 15 pounds of salt and 102 pounds of sugar every year," the specialist said.

"Food additives are merely substances added to foods to improve or alter the taste, texture, appearance, nutritive value or preservability," Miss Springer explained.

Additives are often used in preparation of convenience foods.

"If housewives were willing to give up the convenience of pre-cooked foods—and grow, harvest, cook and preserve food themselves—they could eliminate many additives," the specialist noted.

"All food additives must meet strict government regulations before they can be used."

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THE FOURTH OF July has come, but it is not gone and so this may be early to comment on the welcome lack of fireworks noise in town this year. The situation—just outside of town may be different since the firework stands are located there, of course.

But at midweek I've scarcely heard a firecracker pop, and in past years the week before the Fourth was pretty noisy in my part of town, especially about my late bedtime every night. I'm one who appreciates the strict enforcement of the fireworks ordinances.

As to the fire hazard and the danger to life and limb, I'll go along with the dim viewers of fireworks fun although I won't mount the soapbox to speak out against it. However, when it interferes with a night's sleep, my concern gets more intense.

Those people who look back with nostalgia to the Glorious Fourth when cannon-crackers popped all day, have my sympathy. As long as they are talking about daylight hours. But after bedtime (following the late TV news) that's different.

REPRESENTING Hereford again in a very attractive way, Miss Hereford and Miss Teenage Hereford, Susie Hickman and Monica Herring, rode in the Canyon Days parade at Canyon Saturday and were guests at the barbecue.

Miss Hereford was starred Tuesday evening in the Good-Luck party where her hometown wished her luck in the Miss Texas pageant next week; she is to leave for Ft. Worth Sunday to begin the pre-pageant round which the contestants always enjoy during a busy week.

Making plans to attend the state pageant from Hereford, in addition to Susie's parents, the Robert Hickmans, and Susie McGee and Janette Caviness, who will be her official chaperones; Monica and her mother, Mrs. Dean Herring.

Also Mrs. O.G. Nleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division which stages the Miss Hereford pageant each year and sends the winner to state; Mrs. Pat Hughes and possibly Bill Albright, C of C executive, and his family.

LAVON and Speedy Nieman, formally the O.G. Niemanns, are back from a trip to Austin where they visited former residents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lockhart, then picked up son Craig after he had spent a week in American Legion-sponsored Boys State.

Mrs. Alma Stewart, Lavon's mother, came home with them from Hamlin for a visit here.

PAT Hughes and son, Bud were among the men in Pat's family who went to Colorado for a fishing trip last week.

Bay View Club Has Meeting In Library

The first meeting in the basement auditorium of the new county library building, which is to be christened the Heritage Room when the building is formally dedicated this afternoon, was held by Bay View Study Club in a called summer session Friday.

chairmen of committees for the club's part in the dedication, and plans made for members to act as hostesses for the afternoon. Bay View Club is credited with taking the lead in beginning a public library in Hereford, and in supporting it since.

Library Supporters

Bay View Study Club, a moving force in the start of a free public library for Hereford back in 1910, is still one of the city's active clubs and will act as hostess group for dedication of the new County Library building today. With County Commissioners Donald Hicks and Earl Hoff, chairmen of hostess committees inspected the building recently. From left they are Mrs. Colby Conkright, general chairman; Mrs. H.L. Benefield, chairman of the ribbon cutting ceremony; Mrs. Howard Gault, club president.

Proper Care Needed For Non-Stick Pans

Non-stick finish on cookware and appliances is one modern kitchen miracle—but it takes more than magic to keep it this way, according to one authority.

She's Lillian Cochran, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"For the two basic types of non-stick coating available—heavy-duty and regular—there are individual and general care techniques," the specialist said. "Smooth-edged spoons or spatulas may be used on heavy-duty types, but knives, forks or rotary beaters can scratch the finish," Miss Cochran said.

"Only rubber, wooden or plastic utensils should be used on the regular finish," she added.

Before using kitchenware with either heavy-duty or regular finish, wash it in sudsy water to remove dust or manufacturing oils.

"Then condition the cooking surface by lightly rubbing it with cooking oil on a paper towel or waxed paper," she said.

Repeat this occasionally to maintain the non-stick finish.

"After every use, the pan or appliance should be cleaned with hot, sudsy water. A plastic pad is best for cleaning the surface to remove any residue that might settle into the porous finish. Residue can damage non-stick properties.

Improper cleaning could result in a grease build-up, lessening the effectiveness of the non-stick quality.

WT Enrolls Over 2700 For Summer Session

The final registration total for the first summer session at West Texas State University is 2707, says Dean of Admissions and Registrar Don Cates.

"We serve a very different clientele in the summer than in the fall," Cates observes. "There are more people connected with teacher education."

After analyzing various statistical breakdowns of the two semesters, Cates notes that the percentage of education majors jumps from 29 per cent in the fall to 40 per cent in the summer. This is partially due, he believes, to the recently mandated legislation requiring teachers to periodically take professional development courses.

He also says the summer class sizes are opposite to those in the fall. Freshmen dominate fall totals, while in summer "with every successive class, the percentage goes up." The ratio between male and female also reverses, with summer finding more girls on campus than boys.

Approximately 37 per cent of the summer WT enrollees are full-time students, and almost one-half of them commute. The most popular single age this summer is 21, followed by ages 22 and 23. The 31 and over bracket, however, has the largest proportion of the student population: approximately 22 per cent. This is unlike the fall, when the most popular single ages, ranked in order, are 19, 20 and 21, with the 31 and over category garnering 16 per cent of the student population.

"There has been less change in where people come from," Cates says, "but the mean age has come up."

"What causes that is the part-time graduate students," he concludes.

Heart-Warming Story Featured

The Deaf Smith County Library is featuring two books this week, The Doctor's Daughter by Elizabeth Seifert and A Dream Of Treason by Marshall Pugh.

The Doctor's Daughter is a heart-warming story of a girl whose adventures and loves finally lead her to the discovery of her own inner strength as a human being.

A Dream Of Treason concerns a story of a strange survival bond forged between enemies. The author suggests the deadly gamesmanship of the politics of energy.

The library is open to the public free of charge from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Mondays, 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. weekdays and 9 a.m. until noon Saturdays.

THE DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER
by Elizabeth Seifert

Nothing would ever be quite the same again for Joey after the night of the carnival. She had been the cause of the catastrophic struggle that had taken place between two young men — Gary, the too ardent stranger, and Philip, the friend of her childhood.

The daughter of a distinguished doctor, protected by wealth and strict parental supervision, she had been unprepared for any kind of crisis. If she had been more worldly-wise, more sophisticated, she might have prevented the tragedy. Now tormented by guilt, she knew that she had to break out of the circle of misguided affection that for so long had held her a prisoner.

Here is a heart-warming story of a girl whose adventures and loves finally lead her to the discovery of her own strength as a human being. And here, too, is the story of two doctors' families whose lives are so strangely intertwined for good and for evil.

Once again Elizabeth Seifert has drawn her readers down hospital corridors, into the fascinating behind-the-scenes world of doctors.

A DREAM OF TREASON
By Marshall Pugh

The ruthless machinations of an international power elite whose obsession is oil and the cunning countermeasures of the Arab sheiks who control its flow provide sinister background for this timely novel of political duplicity.

At a secret meeting in Whitehall, the representatives of the supra-governmental Anglo-American agencies that have agreed to mastermind executions for one another of politically "awkward" customers — executions that must remain free of government involvement — the target is chosen: John Middlemass, a wealthy Wall Street financier due to arrive in England to conclude negotiations selling a vital oil concession to a Japanese consortium rather than to the American oil company long sovereign in the area.

The choice of executioner: Max Lawson, a young parachutist whose past provides abundant material for ministerial blackmail and whose assassin's assignment marks him for death.

But what the plotters haven't bargained for is that their victims might form an alliance against their common danger or that a sultan too might play a double game.

The story of a strange survival bond forged between enemies — an American financier more loyal to his investors than his country and the reluctant assassin recruited to dispatch him — A Dream of Treason suggests with terrifying authenticity the lethal gamesmanship of the politics of energy.

Clothing Designer To Teach Workshop

Les Wilk, couture designer whom "Women's Wear Daily" has called the "darling of Southwest specialty shops," will lend his guidance to a three-week workshop in advanced clothing design at Texas Tech University.

The Dallas designer-manufacturer will spend the second week of the workshop on campus as a lecturer, demonstrator and consultant on problems in designing.

The workshop begins July 15 and will continue through August 2 and will be conducted under the supervision of Dr. Eleanor Woodson, associate professor of clothing and textiles in the College of Home Economics.

The workshop is for graduate students.

The first week of the workshop will be devoted to instruction in flat pattern design and the use of power sewing equipment such as the single needle lockstitch machine, the serger, and the blindstitch hemmer, all of which are basic to vocational school programs and to industry. Dr. Woodson said. Hand knitting machines and Viking sewing machines will be available for use by the participants also.

Wilk will present his own style of designing, manufacturing and merchandising fashions during the second week, and the third week will be devoted to application of information and skills to the designing or teaching by the individual participants, she said.

"This is the first time this type of workshop using power sewing equipment on campus has been conducted," Dr. Woodson said. "That feature and the participation and help of a fashion designer of national reputation such as Mr. Wilk are indicative of the moves our department and college are making to integrate industry with the college curriculum in the teaching of clothing and textiles."

In accepting the invitation to be one of the leaders in the workshop, Wilk said it fulfills a desire of his to work with college and university students and faculty in the area of design of women's fashions.

Wilk's design credits include "everything from circus costumes to aquacades and musical comedies to Shakespeare." He opened the Les Wilk label five years ago after working for another dress manufacturer for six years. Two seasons ago he opened a second label, the "L.W. Country Couture" with a designer approach to fashion sportswear.

He is the first recipient of the new Silver Fashion Award to be presented by Weiss & Goldring in Alexandria, La., one of the leading specialty stores in the South. He was chosen to receive the first award by Harry Silver, the store's president, because Wilk's clothing "has proved, season after season, to be not only in impeccable taste but also has epitomized what the gracious Southern woman has always envisioned as 'her image'."

Dr. Woodson urged that reservations for the course be made as early as possible. The class will meet in Home Economics Room 203 each Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and all participants are urged to report for the first class session at 9 a.m., July 15.

Housing facilities are available in air-conditioned rooms in the residence halls.

For persons who cannot attend the full three weeks, a special problems course is being offered for the graduate who wishes to earn one or two credits to fulfill a special need, Dr. Woodson said.

Additional information may be obtained from her through the Clothing and Textiles Department, Texas Tech University, Lubbock 79409 or by calling 742-7287.

Families Cheer Corn Pudding

Corn Pudding is a dish as American as Blueberry Pie, and, in its own way, just as homey and delicious.

It is basically a soufflé to which a can of cream style corn is added. This variation, created in the Argo kitchens, uses corn starch in the cream sauce base to give it a creamy-smooth consistency and to help stabilize the pudding.

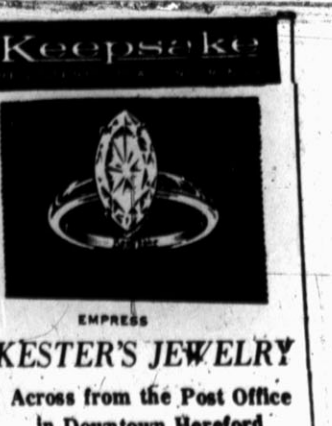

Serve Corn Pudding as a vegetable or as a main dish. It's delicious served with ham. Or, when the budget needs stretching, with frankfurters.

Corn Pudding
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 can (1 pound 1-ounce) cream style corn
1/4 cup margarine, melted
3 eggs, separated

Mix together corn starch, sugar and salt. Gradually add milk. Mix in corn and margarine. Beat egg yolks slightly and stir into mixture. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form when beater is raised; fold into corn mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Set in pan of hot water to depth of 1 1/2 inches. Bake in 350° F oven 1 hour and 10 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Makes 6 servings.

Johnson Speaks To Jaycee-Ettes Monday

Bill Johnson, state vice-president of Jaycees, was guest speaker at the Jaycee-Ettes' salad supper Monday evening in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

He outlined the Jaycee programs for the year. Cooperation in these activities is a major concern of the Jaycee-Ettes. During the short-business meeting, plans were made for today's Fourth of July picnic and a Sit-in-Hen meeting scheduled Friday in Amarillo.

Mme's. Lonnie Wybble, Joe Martinez and John West were recognized as guests by members present. They included Mmes. Steve Carroll, Dan Warrick, Bill Johnson and James Braty.

Ford Community Summer Social Planned Monday

Ford community residents are invited to a summer social in the neighborhood's community center at 8 p.m. Monday. An ice cream supper, fiddling and style shows are on the program.

A special invitation is extended to oldtimers of Ford area. Families residing in the community north of Hereford are all urged to take part in this informal gathering.

Each family is asked to bring a freezer of ice cream and a cake for the supper. Those who play musical instruments, fiddles or any other, are expected to bring them for an hour of impromptu music-making.

Girls of the recently-organized Ford 4-H Club will model garments they have made, and there will also be a Little Tyke. Style Show for entertainment.

Fashion

Fall clothes are being shown during this, warm weather and one of the featured garments is the coat dress. It buttons down the front and has sleeves that reach just below the elbow.

Scarves and blouses in prints are good with these solid color coat dresses.

Labels Important In Clothing Care

Proper labeling is the only hope today's homemaker has for proper care of modern fabrics, according to Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Modern fabrics may be deceiving—fiber content as a clue to care isn't always obvious from the look or feel of the fabric. Synthetics may look like fabrics from natural fibers but require different care," she said.

The Federal Trade Commission now requires that specific care instructions be permanently attached to ready made in a conspicuous place and remain legible for the life of the garment.

"This eliminates the need to save hang tags and takes the guesswork out of clothing care," Miss Rhoades explained.

Completely washable items that sell for $3 or less may be exempted by FTC along with headwear, footwear, (except hosiery), no care apparel, and items whose use or appearance would be greatly impaired by a permanent label, she noted.

On yard goods, the number in a small triangle appearing on the end of the bolt provides a clue to permanent care information.

With each fabric purchase, a small, numbered label should be provided which gives necessary care instructions for maximum performance of the fabric.

"The label number should correspond to the number on the bolt end," the specialist reminded.

Sew the label into the garment during construction or affix it with a fusible for permanent reference, she said.

Stranger—Say, I need help. Do you have a criminal lawyer in this town?
Native—Wal, we're pretty sure we have, but we can't prove it.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Newly grown potatoes are reaching the markets and this food can be served daily in many different and delicious ways. German potato salad goes well with many vegetables—especially fresh string beans.

German Potato Salad

- 8 medium sized potatoes
- 2 hard cooked eggs chopped
- 1 onion, minced
- 3 slices bacon
- 1 egg
- 3 T vinegar

Boil small potatoes in their jackets. When well done pour off the water and remove lid, allowing potatoes to dry off. Next, pare and chop or slice while hot. Add boiled eggs which have been chopped and the minced onion. Fry the bacon cut into bits and when crisp remove from the grease. Add the hot drippings to 1 well beaten egg, very gradually. When the mixture is thick as mayonnaise, add vinegar slowly. Beat well and add to the potatoes, being careful that the salad dressing reaches every bit of the potato mixture.

To vary this recipe omit the egg and follow same directions—pour hot bacon fat over potatoes and onions then follow with vinegar. Toss until well mixed and keep warm until served.

Legal Secretaries Form Chapter Here

Mrs. Mildred Sheffy of 104 Aspen was elected president during an organization meeting Saturday of the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Legal Secretaries Association, affiliated with the National and Texas Associations.

Other chapter officers chosen to serve until May 1, 1975 are Mabel Caffey—vice president, Margaret Buntyn of Dimmitt—corresponding secretary, Mildred Fuhrmann—recording secretary, Karen Smart—treasurer, Barbara Wheat of Dimmitt—governor and Ruth Wynne—NALS representative.

The local chapter membership will have meetings on the first Tuesday of each month starting August 6.

Present at Saturday's session were TALS officers: Mrs. Melinda Watts, president, Fort Worth; Miss Dorothy Easton, vice president, Waco; Mrs. Shanny Knorpp, treasurer, Amarillo.

The National Association, whose motto is "Professionalism plus Education equals Excellence," is an international, nonpartisan, nonsectarian, nonunion and nonprofit organization formed to further the legal secretary's knowledge of the law and to uphold its honor and dignity; to stimulate a high order of business and professional attainment and to create a high standard of ethics among its members.

Hartman Selected For IDEA Session

The Institute for Development of Educational Activities, affiliate of the Charles F. Kettering Foundation, has announced that Dr. Roy Hartman, Superintendent of Hereford Independent School District, has been chosen as an IDEA Fellow.

He is one of 400 outstanding educators throughout the country selected to participate in a one-week seminar this summer designed to give participants a thorough grounding in some of the new and emerging problems and practices affecting secondary education.

The topics and presenters will range from "The World Crisis in Education" by Ian Lister of England's York University to "Teacher Unions May Soon Control Public Education" by David Seeley, director of the Public Education Association of New York City.

Each Fellow will also receive a prepublication copy of the report of Task Force '74 a National Task Force for High School Reform. Working in small groups, the Fellows will discuss the implications to education of the report which included analyses of educating adolescents for responsibility, the role of citizens in high school reform, and complementary learning programs for secondary-level students.

The report points to new directions of citizen and student involvement in the educational planning. The experiences of on-site investigations of fledgling efforts to be related by members of the Task Force to the seminar group will confirm the benefits of a working relationship between students, school, and community. Many of those who appeared before the Task Force will be sharing their programs with the Fellows.

The IDEA Fellows Institutes are the oldest in-service program for school administrators in the nation. Over 3,100 elementary and secondary educators from North America and overseas have participated in this program.

Summer Activities Are Scheduled By Rainbows

A cleanup party and swim was planned by girls of the Hereford Rainbow Assembly at their meeting Monday evening in the Masonic Hall, to complete their fireworks sale project. They are operating a fireworks stand at the J.A. McWhorter place on the Vega Highway.

After cleaning the lot where the sales stand is located, members will go to Denton Park Pool for a swimming party July 11 in observance of the birthday of Mark Sexton, founder of the Rainbow Order. They will meet at 7 p.m. at the McWhorter place.

Plans were made for several summer activities, including joint meetings and parties with Canyon Rainbow Girls.

Visitors were welcomed, headed by Cortez Dowlen of Canyon, grand visitor in the state Rainbow Assembly. She spoke briefly of the meaning of Rainbow membership, and outlined plans for special programs next month when the grand worthy advisor and other grand officers will visit this area.

Six girls from Canyon, Linda Nash, Robin Wright, Kimberly Ward, Sandy Warwick, Meredith Hadley and Cindy Todd, were guests, as were Mrs. McWhorter and Mrs. Jack Nunley, past worthy advisors here; L.J. Clark, worshipful master, Jerry Don George and Bill Phipps, past worshipful masters of the Hereford Masonic Lodge, Jack Nunley and Mrs. Charlie Brown.

Dates were announced for meetings with Canyon Rainbows, including a supper Aug. 12 followed by attendance at the musical show, Texas, and a joint meeting Aug. 17 at Canyon.

PCG Urges Farmers To Certify Crops

Officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., High Plains producer organization with headquarters in Lubbock, are joining county office managers of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in urging all farmers to measure and certify crop acreages before the July 15 deadline.

Those who don't sign up for the program stand to lose 20 per cent of their allotted acreage, one-third of their farm's established yield, and all chance of being eligible for disaster payments, price deficiency payments or price support loans. It's as simple as that," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald A. Johnson.

The cotton section of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, which became effective this year, offers far less benefits to participating farmers than did the previous program. And county ASCS personnel across the High Plains fear that some farmers may fail to recognize the importance of "signing up" this year.

The concern stems from an abnormally slow sign-up pace this year. Walter Wells, Lubbock County ASCS Office Manager, reported on June 28

Your Lawn Today

by Dr. Bill Daniel

Frequent, Uniform Mowing Helps Grass

By Dr. William H. Daniel
Consultant to Lawn-Boy/Ryan

Perhaps no homeowner's task is more taken-for-granted than mowing the lawn. But unless you follow a few simple techniques and understand how mowing can help your lawn, you can defeat your purpose in having a nice looking, tight and dense lawn.

Before reviewing specific lawn mowing pointers let's briefly review why frequent uniform mowing is desirable. Repeated mowing weakens tall grasses and big weeds so new grass plants have a chance to grow and get sun. In addition, your lawn helps regulate crabgrass and other weeds.

Change Path Regularly
Begin by mowing around the exterior of your lawn and do not cut the center until last. Reverse the starting direction of the exterior cut every time you mow your lawn. After you've mowed the exterior, begin a normal cross-lawn cut. Every time you cut your lawn mow it in a totally different direction so the grass is never forced to grow in one direction. By altering your mowing pattern, your lawn will be more uniform and take on a picturesque appearance.

How high should you cut your lawn? The rule of two inches for common bluegrass, fescues and ryegrasses had merit when disease and drought were common. Today newer bluegrass can be mowed less than one-inch when disease has been avoided and density is maintained. Southern grasses, including bermuda and zoysia, can be cut one-fourth to three-fourths inches high. Such grasses have underground roots and can look rugged unless closely trimmed.

A rule of thumb is to cut your grass before the length of clippings exceed the height of the cut. For example, on two-inch bluegrass, you would cut it weekly or about 16 times per year on the average in the Midwestern United States. If in doubt, cut the grass a little higher, more frequently and with well-sharpened blades. A dull blade will rip, tear and beat grass. Within limits, higher mowing favors deeper roots, gives more drought tolerance and generally permits less weed infestation.

It's not uncommon to have thicker grass when healthy grasses are cut close and often. Many lawn specialists are rewriting lawn care rules toward shorter cuttings because of new grass varieties, automatic irrigation, fungicide protection and special lawn programs. Yet if disease or stress occurs, the turf is more subject to damage when cut short.

Nutrients Can Recycle
Experiments have proven that repeated mowing can remove up to 50 per cent of the nutrients applied, especially nitrogen. So if you use a lawn bag to catch clippings you should use additional fertilizer to compensate for the loss of nutrients. Otherwise, your lawn could become weak and less resistant to weeds or disease.

If you leave grass clippings in your lawn nutrients can recycle in place, but you also run the risk of building up thatch and increasing the disease incidence.

Rotary mowers, especially self-propelled machines, can save you time in mowing your lawn and also are economical, adaptable and dependable. But never leave your rotary mower running unattended on your lawn. Not only is it unsafe, but the constant rotation of the blade in one place can damage the grass.

Adjusted and sharp reel mowers can give a better clipped leaf tip and an array of them are used by professional turf managers on golf courses and parks. However, rotary mowers are a wise choice for the average home owner. Remember that grass is a manufacturing plant and its leaves produce carbohydrates for other leaves, the crowns and roots. Thus, you must take care to avoid scalping, disease or poor mowing habits if you want a thick, green lawn.

New Protein Substitutes Inadequate

AUSTIN--Textured vegetable protein products are satisfactory protein supplements but inadequate substitutes for meat, poultry, eggs and fish. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said recently.

White said research has indicated that vegetable proteins do not contain an ideal balance of amino acids and all the minerals and trace minerals essential for good health.

Recent predictions have said that by 1980 as much as 20 percent of all processed meat items could be made of vegetable protein. The big push has been toward soybean extenders which are low in cost and can be added to processed meat.

In 1971 the U.S. Department of Agriculture permitted use of up to 30 percent soybean extenders to meet the protein requirements of some school lunches.

White mentioned that some ground beef extenders have been criticized for leaving an after-taste. Other vegetable protein products have been shown to be gas-producing and indigestible to some people. These are undesirable for use in baby food and certain other products.

"The rising cost of living has created a rush to find cheap substitutes for animal protein," White said. "Research thus far has indicated there are none. Protein from meat, eggs and poultry remain an essential part of well-balanced diets."

Current figures show there are 209,000 farms in Texas, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

August, September Best Months For Grass Planting

Farmers who plan to establish cool season grasses this fall should prepare seedbeds now and plant the grass in August or September. Irrigated pastures help to reduce erosion, and produce high quality forage. Irrigated pastures are well suited to adjust for proper land use. Like any other crop, however, they do better on the best soil.

Most of the grasses planted in this area under irrigation are cool-season type grasses such as Tall Fescue, Smooth Brome, Orchardgrass and Tall Wheatgrass. If a farmer has limited irrigation water, Tall Wheatgrass is recommended.

A good seedbed is important in establishing grass, but the most important phase of establishment comes immediately after the grass is seeded. First, unless a good rain comes right after seeding, the grass should be irrigated to insure an adequate stand.

Another important job in establishing irrigated pastures is weed control. If weeds become a problem, they should be sprayed with approved chemicals after the grass reaches the three leaf stage. After the grass becomes fully established, it should be properly grazed. If any grass is overgrazed long enough, it will die. A short top growth on the grass means that it will have short roots. The leaves are the food factories of any grass. Ninety-five per cent of the plant food is taken from the air. Only five per cent of the plant food is taken from the soil. Overgrazing will destroy both the leaves and the roots.

Other important items in establishing and managing irrigated pastures are fertilization, rotation grazing and adequate livestock water for each pasture.

For assistance in establishing and managing irrigated pasture, consult the personnel of the local Soil Conservation Service Office in Hereford.

Holly Not Desperate For Sugar Act

Holly Sugar Corporation and the domestic sugar industry can survive without a Sugar Act for the next three or four years, President John B. Bunker told stockholders attending the corporation's 69th annual meeting recently at the Broadmoor Hotel.

The fourth generation sugar man said that, over the long term, some sort of legislation for regulation will be needed to ensure stability of supply and prices.

"Without this stability, the industrial user, who accounts for about 75-80 per cent of all sugar consumed in the nation, will be hard-pressed to find a substitute for sugar's sweetening and preservative action qualities," Bunker said.

Bunker was referring to the June 5 action by the House of Representatives which defeated a bill to extend the present Sugar Act past its Dec. 31, 1974 expiration. The Act has regulated the importation, growing and marketing of sugar in the United States for 40 years.

"It is becoming increasingly apparent that the House action is raising prices and places the industrial users in a weak bargaining position on the so-called 'world market.' So I look for an extension of the 'system' if not the Sugar Act," Bunker explained.

He said that with the price of sugar remaining high for awhile, he believes that growers will turn increasingly to sugarbeet crops.

"I am not concerned about the future of our industry. Sugar is still one of nature's miracles and our cheapest food energy source," Bunker said.

He blamed defeat of the Sugar Act on misinformation or lack of understanding, especially critics who were clamoring to kill the Act to buy sugar on the "world market."

"They didn't realize that the so-called 'world market' is semantic misarrangement—that the 'world market' is only 10-15 per cent of the world's sugar because the remaining 85-90 per cent is grown and marketed under sugar systems similar to our own," Bunker explained.

He said that under the Sugar Act, the big industrial users—bottlers, bakers, confectioners, etc.—knew what their costs would be and could count on relatively stable prices and supplies.

"Scrapping the Sugar Act can only be bullish on already high prices, as our big industrial users go out and compete for enormous quantities of sugar on the world market (5 million tons)," he told stockholders.

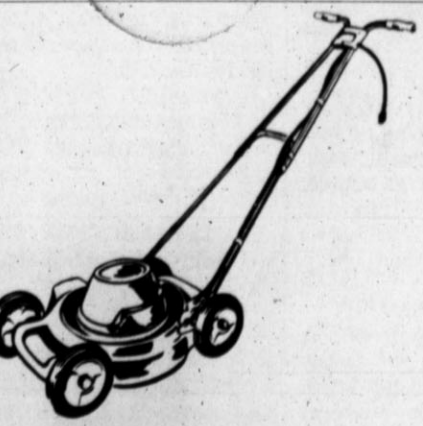

He also attacked the notion that payments to farmers constitute "subsidies" by the Sugar Act. He explained that the payments made to growers for complying with the provisions of the Act come from taxes levied on the sugar industry itself.

"In effect, that tax levied on Holly and shared by the grower is recycled into payment to the grower. Not only is not one red cent otherwise paid to the grower by the government but, actually, the government profits by this arrangement. Over the years, more than $705 million has accrued to the U.S. Treasury through operation of the Sugar Act," Bunker said.

The livestock loan bill approved by the House Committee would establish a $2 billion fund to guarantee 80 per cent of the principle and interest on 3-year loans obtained at the going market rate of interest. It would place a $350,000 limit on the amount guaranteed to any single producer. It defines those eligible for the assistance as any person who is, or has been within the past 18 months, in the business of buying, growing, fattening or selling cattle, hogs, poultry, sheep and goats or dairy cows, and is unable to obtain credit without the guarantee. The bill would expire in one year, with a possible 6-month extension by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The bill differs from a Senate-passed version which called for a 7-year repayment period, a 90 per cent guarantee and an unlimited revolving fund. Prices' original bill called for a $3 billion revolving fund, full guarantees, a 5.5 per cent interest rate and no limits upon individual borrowing. Price said he was "disappointed that the bill approved by the House Committee will not fully deal with the problem. It will help, but it will have only minimal effect."

Mongrel Contest Welcomes Entries

July 10 has been named as the final entry date in the Non-Pedigree Dog Show to be sponsored by Hereford Sheriff's Posse on July 13 in Dameron Park.

According to Linda Hagar, animal control officer for the Hereford Police Department, all contestants must have submitted entry forms and $1 fees before the July 10 deadline. Entries may be mailed to Patricia Winkler, P.O. Box 13, Hereford, Tex. 79045, or delivered to 211 James Street.

Entry forms are now available at Hutto's Veterinary Clinic on north Highway 385, Imperial Livestock Supply on east Highway 80, Livestock Health Supply on west Park Ave. and Gibson's Discount Center on west Park.

Basic entry rules for the mongrel contest are: dogs cannot be AKC registered; all participating dogs must be vaccinated against rabies; all dogs must be on a leash; handlers of dogs must be younger than 15 years old; an entry form and $1 fee must have been previously submitted.

"Dogs of every shape, size and breed mixture are welcome to compete and will be judged against dogs of similar type," Mrs. Hagar said. "Each entry will be placed on a 1-10 point scale based on grooming, behavior, health and appearance and friendliness. Dogs with the highest composite scores will be declared winners," she said. "Those placing in the top categories will be presented a trophy, ribbon or certificate of merit with all judge decisions being final."

First place winners will then compete for Best of Show honors. Special awards will be given for the best groomed dog and the canine representing the most original breed.
