

Texas Needs a Business Man For Governor

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram of Tuesday, May 27, uses the following editorially, which expresses our sentiments as well or better than we could express them:

"The final result of the gubernatorial primary will furnish the answer to the question of whether the voters really want a business like administration of the State's affairs, or whether their oft-heard cry for it has been idle talk.

"There is one candidate for the gubernatorial nomination who is making his campaign solely on the issue of a business administration. He hasn't been arousing the boys 'at the forks of the creek' with any wild flights of oratory. He hasn't been attacking this condition or that; he hasn't been slinging mud at his opponents. He has been making a simple, straightforward talk, trying to impress upon his hearers the necessity of handling the State's business in the same manner as private business. It's the kind of talk that one would expect from a conservative, successful business man.

"It's probably the only kind of talk that Lynch Davidson knows how to make, for Lynch Davidson is not a politician. He isn't a handshaker or a stump speaker. But he is a business man, who has made a success and a big success, too, of his own business and who feels that as governor he could make just as great success of handling the State's business, through application of the same principles that have guided his successful career. And that is, after all, the best test that can be applied to a candidate seeking efficiency.

"The business of the State of Texas is the biggest business in the State. It not only involves millions of dollars every year but it involves the welfare of every man, woman and child in Texas. Its problems are more complex than those found in the largest of private business concerns. Yet the voters year after year intrust the care of this business and its various branches to men whose records of experience and achievement offer in most cases not the slightest recommendation of their fitness. The result? The usual cries against extravagance, waste and high taxes.

"The answer to the problem is the selection of the right kind of men for state officers, men who are qualified by experience and achievement. Then there will be less recrimination.

"But it is seldom that men of this type offer for public office. The salaries that are paid are ridiculously inadequate in the first place, and few business men of standing and character are willing to stand the mud slinging of a political campaign for the honor the offices carry and the opportunity of service.

"Lynch Davidson would not now be making a strenuous campaign but for the fact that he feels he can do the State a great service and he can afford to make the sacrifice. He is a man of independent means. He has a well organized business that doesn't require his constant care. And a brief term in the State Senate and his experience with the state railroad have shown him what the application of business principles can do for the State of Texas. For years the state railroad was a nightmare to the State. Its losses were about $80,000 a year and it was proposed to junk it when Lynch Davidson made such a plea for saving it that the Legislature turned it over to him. He stopped the losses; put the road in good condition and on a self-sustaining basis. In three years he saved the State $324,000 on this road.

"He thinks the application of business principles to the conduct of the penitentiary system might save the State enormous sums every year; he believes that expenses all down the line can be reduced through the same methods and that the state can be saved millions of dollars without ever cutting off needed appropriations. Exactly what Lynch Davidson can save the State of course is problematical. He can't tell and neither can anyone else, but it is certain that with a practical, successful business man at the head of the State Government, the voters would be assured of the greatest economy consistent with good business and a safe and sane administration of state affairs.

"It is these things in Lynch Davidson's record and his platform that appeal to The Star-Telegram. It is these things that have determined the decision of this newspaper to support him in his campaign.

"In these days of high taxes and wasteful handling of the public's business, reaching from municipal to national administrations, it's time the voters gave thought to the handling of public matters. More business in government and less government in business is what the country needs. That will help everything—industry, business, the salaried man, the wage earner and the farmer. And the first step is the election of business men to office.

"Texas has the opportunity this year in Lynch Davidson. Let's see if he will seize it."

BURGLARS VISIT HERE THURSDAY

SHERIFF PURCELL HAS CLOSE CALL IN EXCHANGE OF SHOTS

EIGHT SHOTS ARE FIRED AT CLOSE RANGE AND BURGLARS HIKE FOR HEALTHIER CLIME

In an attempt to burglarize the Fox Mercantile Store early Thursday morning, at about 1:30, two or three men were made to scramble and make a quick get-away. Here is the account as near as we can relate it.

It might be well to mention, or state, why Sheriff Purcell was out this time of the morning. The best answer to this query is, why is any peace officer out this time or any other time when so many small thefts are going on? Mr. Purcell was informed the day before by Messrs. Homer Fox and W. D. Kelleher that attempts had been made to break in the Fox Mercantile store and the Maggolia Filling Station, and naturally he was on the lookout. While standing in front of the Rice Tire Shop early Thursday morning he heard a noise in the direction of the rear of the Fox store and on investigation he saw two or three men near the window at the southwest corner, he also noticed several boxes near, and concluded that the robbery had been made. He went back to his car, ran it down the alley toward the store with the intention of turning on the lights in the direction of the disturbance, when three shots were fired at him. He quickly stepped from the car on the left hand side and began opening fire on two forms moving in the dark near the window just described. He shot five times, reloading his gun and ran toward the rear of the store and then out on Main street, where he encountered Carl Gilliam, related to Mr. Gilliam what had happened and together they made a search for the men.

On examination of Mr. Purcell's car, it was found, a bullet fired at him had struck the hood, glanced up and passed through the rubber under the windshield, struck the rear cushion near the top, where the bullet lodged. The bullet in its course could not have missed Mr. Purcell only a few inches.

Scars by bullets from Purcell's gun show plainly near the window where the robbers were first discovered.

CAPT. ESTES REPRESENTS DEAF SMITH

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT WACO KLANISH

FEW OLD TIMERS

But South and East Texas Roll the Steam Roller Over Our Hero

Capt. John Estes has returned from the Democratic State Convention. A reporter of The Brand called at his palatial residence on Grand Ave. and asked him to tell about "all those things which he saw, a part of which he saw."

The captain smiled and said we had a great time but many of the old boys, who attended Democratic conventions in by gone days were conspicuous by their absence, notably, Jno. Barleycorn, Bill Cocktall, Sam Tody and Tom Jerry.

"As soon as the convention was called to order and the chaplain had prayed, Senator Honger of Ft Worth arose on the platform and asked 'Is the gentleman who represents Deaf Smith county present?' I arose, mounted a chair and told them that I represented Deaf Smith county and Owen P. Smith, also Carl Gilliland. That I came down there to vote for McAdoo. Honger said, let the convention begin, and it sure did begin, an automobile was brought in. I was placed in it and carried up and down the aisle with all the bands playing that good old hymn, 'Hail the Chief of Deaf Smith County.'

"The Ku Klux seemed to be in power and ran the convention to their own satisfaction. Honger had a big white handkerchief with two holes in it which he would pull out and display when ever he wanted the K. K. vote. I went out and got two handkerchiefs and a sheet of tin and had them sewed together with the tin in the middle so that no one would see any holes in my handkerchief.

"I introduced a resolution declaring that it was the time honored belief of the Great Democratic Party in convention assembled that Deaf Smith county was the original Garden of Eden and was foreordained and predestinated, before time was, to be the great cotton raising district of Texas and recommending all good cotton planters who are worthy and well qualified to move at once to Smith's county.

"South and East Texas and the K. K. defeated my resolution in committee—they were afraid to meet me in debate on the floor of the convention.

"I had a great time, saw many things but the grandest sight that my eyes beheld betide, happy Hereford when the train rolled in."

Is of Interest to Hereford Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Hereford resident: Who could ask for better example?

Mrs. M. Bailey, Hereford says: "I had an ache in my back and when I stooped, sharp pains seized me. Mornings, my back was lame and stiff. I had headaches and dizzy spells when specks seemed to float before my eyes. Doan's Pills relieved me of the trouble." (Statement given May 2, 1919.)

—On March 8, 1924, Mrs. Bailey said: "Doan's have always cured me of an attack."

Price 00c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Bailey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

FACTS AND FIGURES ON THE BONUS BILL FOR CALCULATION BY WAR VETERANS.

The bonus bill is an insurance measure, in contrast with the cash bonus vetoed by President Harding.

The only cash provided in the present measure is for a small number not entitled to over $50 in adjusted credit.

All others are to receive a paid up 20-year endowment insurance policy.

The policies are based on length of service. With $1 for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service, the first 60 day being excluded. The face value of the policy is the service credit, plus 20 year of compounded interest at 4%.

Maximum home service policy is estimated at $1400 and $1900 for overseas policy.

While the measure is strictly an insurance one, the policies become negotiable after January 1, 1927, so that veterans can borrow up to 90% of the cash value from State and Federal Banks.

The cost for the next fiscal year, when the cash payment will be made, has been estimated at $150,000,000.

For ever year following for 20 years, it is estimated that an annual appropriate ation of $100,000,000 will be needed. The total cost of the measure has been variously estimated at from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. The latter figure is the estimate of Treasury officials.

It is estimated that 3,038,283 veterans will be entitled to insurance policies, while 389,583 will be paid cash of $50 or less.
The bill also provides for payment to dependents of deceased veterans of the amount of adjusted service compensation to which they would have been entitled.
The mere cost of administering the measure is estimated at $1,000,000 a year.
The Veterans' Bureau will be the chief agency in administering the law.
Forms of application for the insurance policies will be distributed through the post offices, the American Legion, and other agencies.—Christian Science Monitor.

J. E. Hill Announces For Commissioner Precinct 2

For some weeks I have been considering as to whether or not I would submit my name as a candidate for renomination and re-election to the office of County Commissioner in Precinct No. 2. It was at the earnest solicitation of my friends and interested citizens of the county that I agreed to run for this office at the last election. I have discharged the duties of the office of Commissioner and attended to the county's affairs to the best of my judgment and as impartially as I could see and understand. To act as County Commissioner is a sacrifice of time and money, and sometimes, unfortunately so, of friends. I fear that in the discharge of the duties of Commissioner as I saw my duty, I have lost some friends. I do not begrudge the sacrifice of the time and money, but I do regret the loss of a friend, for we all have too few.

Quite a number of friends and acquaintances have been insisting that I announce for re-election and in deference to their solicitations I now announce for re-election, subject to the July primaries. Of course I now solicit and ask the vote of every qualified voter in precinct No. 2, and I ask that each voter take this as a personal solicitation of his or her vote, for I feel that it would be unfair and embarrassing for me to go to each voter and try to persuade or extort his or her vote. So I leave the proposition of my election altogether to the judgment of the people.

FOOD and FRESHENED AIR

Perfect preservation of perishable foodstuffs demand dry, clean and chilled air and only constant air circulation will produce these ideal conditions. Food stored in an improperly built refrigerator where the air is "dead" or inactive, will sweat, mildew and become soft. If food is eaten in this condition, the health may not only be impaired, but serious illness may result.

The air in the Automatic is constantly in action—circulating. It is always dry, clean and chilled. The Automatic actually feeds your food freshened air—giving perfect refrigeration—properly preserving all foodstuffs and assuring you of health protection.

There are two natural laws upon which the Scientific Air Circulation of the Automatic is built. First—that cold air descends and will replace warmer air which rises. Second—that air circulating over and around ice becomes purified and freshened. These principals which are indispensable to the proper refrigeration were originally developed and perfected in the Automatic Refrigerator.

Several interesting tests can be made to show how the Scientific Air Circulation in the Automatic operates. Place a dish of kerosene on the lower shelf of the Automatic. Oil spots will appear on the surface of the water in the drip pan beneath the refrigerator showing that as the air becomes re-chilled and freshened it also is purified and free from the oil vapor.

A wet cloth placed in the Automatic is dried by the circulating air. A match can be lighted on the inside walls.

An onion on the top shelf of the Automatic can not harm milk and butter placed in the bottom compartment. Mixing of food odors is eliminated—the Automatic constantly Feeds Your Food Freshened Air.

FEED YOUR FOOD FRESHENED AIR
We handle a complete line of these Splendid Refrigerators. They cost but little more than the ordinary kind. COME AND SEE US.
