NUT GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

Should the Plains of Texas be Planted in Pecans?

The following paper read before The Texas Farmers Congress by L. P. Landrum will be read with interest by those interested in pecan growing on the Plains.

Pecans should be planted all over the plains. While pecan planting is in its experimental stage, I have sufficient evidence to convince me that the pecan is worthy of a home on our beautiful plains land. The pecan planting has been neglected, I suppose for the fact that it is not one of the most rapid growing trees. As there is a great demand for the more rapid growing trees to be found regardless of their future value, there are but few pecans growing in the Plains proper. But where there are any they are thriving finely, which naturally leads one to believe that there is a great future for the pecan.

Another evidence of the success to be had in growing this tree is that we find it thriving and producing bountiful crops of delicious nuts around the foot hills of the Plains, where nature has provided a suitable place for them to get a start; the crow no doubt having scattered the nuts and the washing rains having covered them with soil. The crow does not much frequent our beautiful Plains prairie and nature has not had an opportunity to grow this magnificent tree for us, so it devolves on us to assist in starting it.

The pecan is the greatest tree on the American continent. The favorite home of the pecan is in west Texas. We find it thriving best in the rich valleys and along the streams, but they are thrifty on almost any deep, rich, moist soil.

This tree should be planted on every home throughout the Plains both in town and in the country. If at first you don't succeed, try, try try again.

We should get rid of the old idea that planting a pecan won't do us any good, as the rising generation will get the benefit of it. Remember that you found large trees in this world when you came into it, and it is our business to live to assist and bless the rising generation.

Aside from the patriotic impulse that should throb in our hearts, pecan planting is a profitable investment and will enhance the value of your property and beautify your home. This tree frequently lives to the age of more than two hundred years, and is said to produce more than one hundred dollars worth of nuts on one tree in one year.

Some of the most valuable land in our great state are pecan groves. We are just about to wake up to the great value of this nut as a commercial product.

I think the best and quickest way to get this started on the Plains is to plant the best and hardiest varieties. Also plant groves of the trees where you want them to start and bud them after they are two or three years old.

Some of the funniest memories of my boyhood days are associated with pecan hunting expeditions in the autumn when the nuts begin to fall, and when we gathered the delicious nuts and then during the winter nights around the fireside when we played games and ate the nuts and cracked jokes.

Plant a pecan grove on the Plains to bless your day and generation and the "Generations to come will rise up and call you blessed."

If we would plant groves of pecans, walnuts, catalpa, and orchards of other kinds all over our beautiful Plains land, together with other surroundings that go to make up a home, we would have homes that Kings in their palaces would covet.

Hereford, Texas.

Touring the West in Auto.

It has become a fad to auto-tour the country. R. L. McFall, Andrew Corbet and a Mr. Curry and their families have been on the road in two autos a number of weeks. They are from Stephens county, were here last Sunday, leaving for Amarillo Monday. From there they will turn back and visit Roswell and the Pecos Valley country.

Mr. Corbet is a nephew of R. H. Norton.

Putting on a Bold Front.

Many of the business houses in the same block as the Brand office are putting their "best foot forward," or rather "putting on a bold front," by having their fronts painted. The list begins with Coulson, the corner drug store, then Myrick's, the gentlemen's furnisher; Barnett's, the big dry-goods man; Johnson, the grocer and Jarrott & Wilkerson in contrasting colors and last but not least the El Mereto. The City Meat Market finishes the list on the corner, but does not finish the job of painting. But there is one big difficulty in the way, Butler's man has used every hue of the rainbow and every touch of the sunset in his work, and there remains no more colors. Just what will be done with the rest of the fronts is a hard question.

Steel Arrives.

Seven cars of steel for the railroad now building into Adrian have arrived and work will begin Monday again. The ties are laid a mile ahead of the steel. Within a weeks time the rails will be laid into town. —Adrian Eagle.

Well Drilling.

Albert Wilde 15 miles northwest will drill wells from 2 to 8 inches and put up mills ready for use at reasonable price. He makes hydraulic tubular and cased wells, with or without casing. See him at his home or address him at Hereford. He can save you money on any kind of a well and can put a well through any depth of sand without casing. Twenty-five years experience. 25-4t

BRITAIN-DUNLAP BLD'G COMPLETE

Handsome Two-Story Brick for Hardware Firm on Dewey Avenue Ready for Occupancy.

The completion of the two-story brick store building on Dewey avenue for & H. Britain and Eli Dunlap marks the beginning of a new era in the architectural design and beautification of business houses in the city. J. C. Berry, both the architect and contractor, lacks but a few days work on his part. The building is 50x100 feet.

The front of the building is red pressed brick, trimmed in natural cement with similar wall caps. Eight heavy plate glass will provide for ample show windows. The over-awning light will be ample. The interior of the lower floor is finished in snow-white plaster and tinted steel ceilings. The second story is similarly finished and has been divided into a number of business offices.

The basement will be used as a store-room for the Hereford Hardware Co. and the ground on first floor as a display and salesroom. The latter has been fitted with new shelving and counters, and the company has been busy for a week arranging their stock.

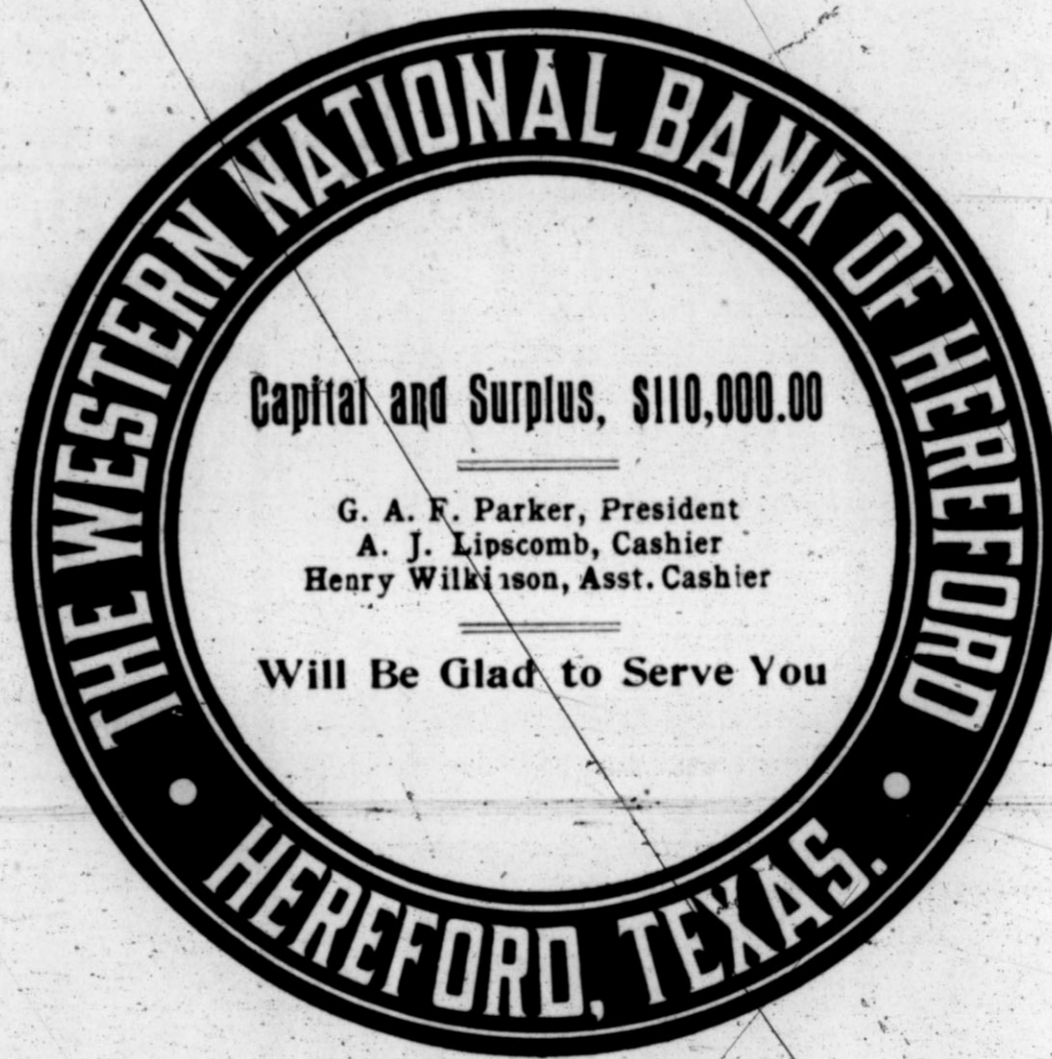

J. P. Snyder Land Company will occupy a suite of rooms on the second floor. R. E. Bryant, Santa Fe agent, L. A. Stroud, fire insurance man and J. C. Berry, architect, will occupy rooms on the same side of the hall; that is on the south side of the building.

On the other side the Star Land Company, Joe L. Carter president, and manager and J. E. Gyles office man will take rooms. Also W. R. Evans, real estate; Sam Dunn, live stock inspector and C. O. Lee, real estate and insurance will each take rooms on the second floor.

Messrs. Britain and Dunlap are receiving the congratulations of the town for erecting such a handsome and substantial building.

Boon Sells to Ori.

J. M. Boone has sold his tailoring and news shop to a Mr. Ori, who will continue the business at the same stand.

KAFFIR CORN FINE HOG FEED

As Good for Fattening as Indian Corn and 75 Per Cent Cheaper.

"Kaffir corn and milo maize are the best feed for hogs that is raised—better than Indian corn because their fattening and maturing results are just as good, and they are 75 per cent cheaper than Indian corn," said E. C. Adams of Scurry county, while in Fort Worth, Tuesday.

"I know this to be true because I have tested it and know whereof I speak, and there is no better country for kaffir corn and milo maize than Middle West Texas, where I live, and the Panhandle. Kaffir corn grows to perfection in Scurry county and there is a large acreage of it and milo maize there now. In fact, kaffir corn and milo maize are the crops of that section.

FIFTY BUSHELS PER ACRE.

"The yield of kaffir corn in Scurry county is 2,500 pounds per acre, which is 50 bushels. It sells with us at $1 per 100 pounds, which is 50 cents per bushel; a bushel of kaffir corn being 50 pounds. Kaffir corn fattens hogs, or any other stock for that matter, as quickly as Indian corn, and the flesh of the hog fattened on it is sweeter and just as firm as that of a hog fattened on Indian corn, and it is bound to become the chief hog feed in the country. There is no reason why it should not, because a hog can be fattened and gotten into shape for market for $5 when on account of the difference in price of the two feeds it would cost $20 to fatten him on Indian corn at present prices.

"Another thing in favor of kaffir corn is that it makes just as good bread as any other grain, as good as any hard wheat. Kaffir corn flour is used all over this section, and the bread made from it is as good as any bread I ever ate. The flour is white and the bread as sweet as any bread made from any kind of flour.

HOG RAISING CHIEF INDUSTRY.

"Scurry county is an ideal hog country, and the raising of high-grade hogs is one of the leading industries of our farmers. Berkshire and Poland Chinas are the favorite breeds with us, and the herds of hogs are increasing rapidly, both in number of herds and the number of hogs in the herds.

"Scurry county farmers have been and are yet making money in hogs, and conditions are such there as will before a great while, make it the leading hog country in Texas, and Scurry is not a dry county as to weather conditions and crops with us now are as good as could be wished for. We have had abundant and seasonable rains and crops of all kinds are flourishing; but kaffir corn and milo maize are particularly good, and the yield will be enormous. Very little Indian corn is fed by our farmers because it is so high, and because as good if not better results can be had from kaffir corn and milo maize at much less cost."

Bound for Seattle.

About August 20, a special car will leave Hereford for Seattle if the requisite number of people can be secured. Who wants to go? See either H. H. Hawkins or A. H. Elliston at once if you are thinking of making this trip.

A Plain Talk about the Little Things You Buy

They are the Biggest part of your expenses when figured up at the end of the year. Then why not save money on little things? You can find almost any little thing you want at the Racket Store, opposite the Hereford Hardware Co.'s new building. A few moments are sufficient to convince yourself that the Bargains are FACTS, not bluff. The 5 and 10 cent counters are especially interesting. There is a large assortment of Queensware on the road which is expected to arrive any day now, that will be sold as cheap as you can get them from any mail order house in the country. Before you send your next order come into the Racket Store and investigate. You'll save the freight and breakage besides being able to examine the article in your own hand before buying it. It will also be to your interest to look over the stock of 2nd hand goods. There are many articles of Furniture, Stoves, etc., as good as new at prices which you will admit are bargains.

I Buy any kind of Second Hand Goods you have to sell. It is my intention to give every one a Square Deal and courteous treatment, customer or not. If you don't think you get it, kick, and I'll see that you do.

FROM HEREFORD TO ILLINOIS

Auto Party Leaves City Today for Twelve Hundred Mile Trip to Franklin Grove, Illinois.

As two large autos speed across the country, beholders may read on the back seat of each auto: "From Hereford, Texas to Franklin Grove, Illinois." A party of nine consisting of C. S. Businga and daughter Hazel, Floyd Businga, wife and two children, Claud Businga, Roy Adams and Clarence Gibson will leave today, (Friday), from the Businga home thirty-five miles northwest of Hereford for Franklin Grove, Ill., their old home by autos.

This party goes on a purely pleasure trip, and they will be absent about two months. The distance they will have to travel is about twelve hundred miles and they expect to make the trip in about ten days. Their first objective point will be Amarillo. From there across to Moore and Hartley counties, where Mr. Businga has several farms that he desires to take a peep at as he goes along. Thence across Oklahoma and western Kansas into Nebraska. At Lincoln, Nebraska, they will take the regular auto line leading from California east to Chicago. In going this way much of the low lands and many of the river bottoms will be avoided.

Mr. Businga carries an expert machinist with him, and anticipates no serious delay on account of disabled cars.

FARMERS CONGRESS

L. Gough and L. P. Landrum Make Addresses Before State Meeting of Soil Agitators at College Station.

Hereford farmers and horticulturist have been well represented this year on the program of the Texas Farmers Congress which has been in session this week at College Station. L. P. Landrum, proprietor of the Hereford Nursery, made an address yesterday before the session on the subject: "Should pecans be planted on the Plains of Texas." This address appears in this issue of The Brand. L. Gough, farmer and Campbell system advocate, also made an address on his favorite subject: "The future of the wheat industry in Texas." This address was delivered before the Corn Association Division of the Congress. The Brand has been unable to get a copy of Mr. Gough's address.

READY FOR RURAL ROUTE

Mail Boxes Being Placed Along Thirty-Mile Route No. 1 from Hereford Northeast.

This week S. M. Smith received a lot of good rural route mail boxes and distributed them over the route, which begins at the nursery and makes a line due north, thence east two miles and return to Hereford, making a distance of 30 miles. The carrier will be appointed by the department from among those who took the examination some weeks ago.

August 2nd is the day set for the carrier to begin work. The people along the route are mostly "new-comers" and it is to their credit that the route has been established. Messrs. Smith and Hasser who live on the route have been largely instrumental in securing the services.

To the Public

I take this method of saying to my friends and customers, that after August the 1, I will close my shop until September 1, I will start to market about August 15, and when I reopen, it will be where the Smith jewelry store is at present.

ON COAST COUNTRY

Baskin Spends Good Time on Western Coast—Returns to Hereford Safe and Sound.

Being the first from Hereford to visit the Seattle exposition, and knowing that so many here are interested in knowing about the fair and the great northwest country I thought a brief statement might be read with interest by your many readers. In the first place I wish to say emphatically that I return a bigger booster than ever for Hereford and the Panhandle, for in no place did I see better people, purer air, better water or richer soil, valley land excepted.

My trip, including side trips by land and water, covered 9000 miles, which is more than 1-3 around the world.

For hundreds of miles in California, Oregon and Washington, I found the grass dried up and the ground almost bare, they had no rain from March until July 5. Of course, in the valleys where they irrigated the crops are good and plenty of fine fruits. Leaving Amarillo on June 21st, my first stop of importance was Salt Lake City. I found this a beautiful city with streets 132 feet wide and the whole country under irrigation. Salt Lake is growing very fast and has a bright future indeed. I visited the famous Mormon temple grounds and attended a concert rendered on the world famed pipe organ in the tabernacle, this building is 159x250 ft., seats 8,000 and you can hear a pin drop clear across it.

In all cities visited I took the "seeing trolley car," "seeing auto" or tallyho. All places of interest in and near the different cities are pointed out and explained. Salt Lake has a good climate and the people look healthy and prosperous. From Salt Lake I went to Los Angeles and after visiting that city made a four days side trip to San Diego and all the beach resorts between. From San Diego I made one day's trip into Old Mexico, I also visited Point Loma and the wonderful Theosophical Institute. The San Diego climate only varies 12 degrees in the year and is about as near perfect as any place in the world. This is a beautiful city and growing fast. I took the Ocean Liner for Catalina Island and then took a glass bottom boat through the marine gardens, this is a beautiful sight, for you can see 120 feet down in the ocean, and millions of fish of different species. Tourists are having great sport there now catching the sporty tuna fish. These often weigh above 400 pounds and they have quite a time landing them. I returned to Los Angeles and from there took train for San Francisco, here I found a wonderful city but a most disagreeable climate. It is cold, damp and windy there practically the year round. On July 8th at 8:30 a. m., it was so cold that I could see my breath and nearly everybody had on an overcoat or furs. An old acquaintance who lives there, told me it was windy enough to blow your hat off practically every day in the year. After two days in Frisco I felt rheumatic pains coming on, so pulled out for Portland, Oregon, where I found a beautiful city of 1-4 million, and a much better climate. The panoramic view from Council Crest in Portland, this is an elevation of 1,200 feet, is one never to be forgotten. From this point you get an unobstructed view in all directions of from 56 to 150 miles. You see over an area of 30,000 square miles, most of which is cut up into small irrigated farms and orchards. You also see two rivers, five snow capped peaks and several cities.

From Portland I went through Tacoma to Seattle. Here I found a similar climate to Frisco, not so windy but very damp and chilly. I spent several days visiting the fair and found it very fine indeed. The attendance is good and it will be one of the most successful fairs ever held. I think the government exhibit is even better than at Chicago or Omaha. They have separate buildings for the Philippines and Hawaii, from the latter country they have live fish that is vastly different from any thing in the world, so far discovered. Some of the new inventions I saw in full operation were: the wireless telephones and telegraph, an electric violin with piano accompaniment, electric shoe shiner, the seismograph and floating dry dock. I visited the navy yards and saw the battleship Oregon, the cruisers Washington, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Colorado and Milwaukee. I saw them put the Pennsylvania in dry dock and scrape her sides and bottom. From Seattle I took ocean liner for Victoria, the capitol of British Columbia. I found this a very interesting city, so different to American cities. Here it is daylight at 10 p. m. and at 3 a. m. between these hours is twilight. Returning from Victoria I witnessed the beautiful ocean sun set. When I got back to Seattle I saw a sight that pleased me more than anything else so far seen, it was several copies of the Junior Brand. After reading them over carefully I was so enthused that I had a good mind to take the first train home and join the happy band of boosters. I think it wonderful that a town the size of Hereford can get out and raise such a vast sum of money on such short notice, some cities I know with 25,000 population would hesitate to try it.

Leaving Seattle July 19, my next stop was Gardner, Montana, the entrance to Yellowstone Park. So much has been said and written about this that I will only say it is certainly one of the world's wonders. From Gardner I took the train for Billings and Denver, and from there to Colorado Springs. These two cities I found full of tourists and very interesting. From the Springs I took train for Amarillo and Hereford, arriving home July 27th, 1:30 p. m. On my trip I traveled hundreds of miles constantly in sight of snow. I also traveled several hundred miles on the ocean, electric trains, autos, etc. The trains and boats were invariably on time and in all the trip I did not miss a single connection. Very truly yours,
L. BASKIN.

DID you ever look up the meaning of the words "Price" and "Cost"? We venture you'd be interested, even surprised.

"Price" originally meant not money, not cash—but Reward, Praise, Worth. In the days of Caesar they called it "Pretium."

"Cost" comes from the old Icelander word "Koster," signifying to Choose, to Test, to Prove.

So "Price" is really the Worth of the thing sold. "Cost" means how well the thing bought proves up in actual use.

So we're not so far off the track today, for when you buy paint, the Price of it should be the measure of its usefulness, in appearance and wear. Its Cost to you will be how well it stands the test you put it to. If it does well, it's cheap; if not, you paid too much.

Measured by this, poor paint costs far, far more than good paint; never worth the price asked and never stands the test of wear.

There's one house paint made that's worth the price and stands the test, and that's HORSE SHOE BRAND HOUSE PAINT,—best lead, zinc, aged linseed oil, japan, coloring matter and nothing else; honest materials, honestly prepared, sold on honor. Seven gallons of HORSE SHOE PAINT covers as much surface as ten gallons of ordinary paint and covers it longer.

Then, too, there's a full line of good HORSE SHOE BRAND Paint Specialties—HORSE SHOE BRAND Paint for the Barn, for the Roof, for the Porch, for the Floor, for Inside Walls, Screens, for Buggies, Wagons—in fact, for everything.

When you're ready to buy paint or paint specialties, and want the Price and the Cost both right as well as the Paint, just remember that here is one store where you'll find what you're looking for.

Father and Mother Rector Leave for Seattle and Daughter Arrives in Hereford Next Day.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rector's only child, Mrs. Enycart, lives in the state of Washington, near Seattle. For a number of months past, the parents were unable to hear from their daughter on account of some irregularity in the mail somewhere caused by high waters. It is now thought, because so uneasy for the welfare of their child that they decided to make the long trip to her home and know for a certainty if all were well.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Rector left for Seattle, and on Wednesday their daughter arrived in Hereford.

Mrs. Enycart immediately wired a message to her parents along the way, but it is quite uncertain that it will reach them before they arrive at their destination. However, there is a bright side to it all as it will give Father and Mother Rector an opportunity to attend the great Seattle exposition.

Makes Hit.

The following letter to C. L. Ballew, from the National Biscuit Co. tells how big wholesale houses are taking notes of Hereford and the Southwest:

Mr. C. L. Ballew, Salesman.

Dear Sir:
"We herewith return to you, as per your request, the photograph of J. A. Johnson's Grocery Store, Hereford, Texas.

"It certainly must be a pleasure for any salesman to enter such a store as this is, and do business with a gentleman of such up-to-date ideas. It is very refreshing to look at a picture of this kind. It reveals to us the great strides that are being made in this Southwestern country, and the up-to-date methods that are being employed in the up-building of the business.

Yours very truly,
National Biscuit Company,
Robert Cruik, Manager.
By J. E. Weir.

New Houses.

A number of new residences are under construction or nearing completion. On 25th mile avenue two residences, one the property of Mr. Holt, the other of Mr. Ward, claim the distinction of being built "after supper". These men have done most of the work on their homes, doing most of it at night, after they had done a day's work for others. The two-story residence of C. W. Warren in the west part of town is nearing completion. A modern cottage near the Irwin home for C. W. Dodson is receiving the finishing touches.

A full two-story house with solid concrete foundation has the framing up. This is for J. A. Fox and is on the east side of his home block. Robert Elliott has let the contract for a nine room house and other improvements on College front street and the work has been started. C. P. Arthur has just finished an elegant bungalow east of the College, and C. H. Carl has moved into his new home close in on Ohio street. Other homes are being planned and Hereford continues to grow.

Notice.

Mr. J. D. Thompson has this day severed his connection with the Hereford Land Company and the business will be conducted by R. T. Moses who will be responsible for all debts hereafter incurred by said firm. Dated July 27th, 1909. 25-2f

TO THE PEOPLE of HEREFORD

¶ TWENTY years of continuous practical experience in the Tailoring business justifies the assertion that we are no novice in "the art preservative of all arts". We stand ready at all times to give our patrons the benefit of our experience. We are here to stay and for business, and that business is the Tailoring business. We are the only Practical Tailors and Cutters in the city.

¶ True, we intend to do a lot of boosting for Hereford, our home, the place we live and pay taxes. We do not expect to get rich in the Tailoring business in Hereford. But if artistic workmanship can bring business, then we hope to make a living.

¶ If you appreciate these sentiments and want to encourage a time honored booster for Hereford, remember the name, and place your next order for a nice, clean, well fitting fall and winter suit of clothes, tailored-to-taste, up-to-date, made in Hereford.

HEREFORD TAILORING CO. Harry Clarke, Manager

A Summer Clearance Sale

AND YOUR OPPORTUNITY

We want the ladies of Hereford and vicinity to know that it is a part of the system of this store not to carry over from one season to another, goods that were bought to be sold during the season they were priced in stock. We believe it is good merchandising to stand a loss on such portions of our stock as have not met with a ready sale rather than to carry them over another year. By this method we are always able to present you a new, fresh, up-to-date stock of goods. Beginning Saturday, July 10, we will commence our Clearance Sale.

This sale will place within reach of the ladies of Hereford bargains that are unprecedented. This Clearance Sale includes shirts, waists, petticoats, lingerie dresses, ribbons, veils, etc. Our stock of Millinery now on hand includes a few trimmed hats, some of the best shapes of the season, Cuban and Leghorn feathers, flowers, foliage, etc., and will be sold regardless of cost. Come and be convinced that we are offering you rare bargains of the season.

The Ladies' Furnishing Store

Why Suffer?

Are you one of the thousands of women who suffer from female ailments? If so, don't be discouraged, go to your druggist and get a bottle of Wine of Cardui. On the wrapper are full directions for use. During the last half century, Cardui has been established in thousands of homes, as a safe remedy for pain which only women endure. It is reliable, contains no harmful ingredients and can be depended on in almost any case.

Take CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Charles Bragg, of Sweetser, Ind., tried Cardui. She writes: "Tongue cannot tell how much Cardui has done for me. Before I began taking Cardui I could not do a day's work. I would work awhile and lie down. I shall always give praise to your medicine." Try Cardui.

REPLICA OF ALAMO.

At a meeting of the Park Commissioners of Dallas yesterday morning, a proposition was read from The Dallas Morning News to erect on the grounds of the Fair Park and donate to the city a replica of the Alamo, complete in every respect, but on somewhat reduced scale. The News asked authority to carry out the purpose. Mayor S. J. Hay, chairman of the board, appointed a committee composed of Commissioners M. N. Baker and Emil Fretz to meet at the Fair Park this morning and select the location. The committee will leave the City Hall at 10:30 o'clock.

H. M. Greene of Hubbel & Greene architects, was present. He announced that the plans and specifications for the structure are ready and that the contract would be awarded the moment the Park Board chose a satisfactory location and accepted the proposition. Therefore if the action is taken at once, there will be no doubt whatever about the building being finished before the fair opens. In its communication to the Park Board, the News says:

PROPOSITION FROM THE NEWS.

"The only conditions are (1) that your board shall designate a convenient or satisfactory lot upon which to rear the structure; (2) that the building shall bear the inscription of the News; (3) The News to have sole use of it during the sessions of the fair and other big gatherings at the park (but leaving it open always to the public during the day); (4) that the Park Board shall protect the property, keep the same insured and maintain it permanently in good repair.

"Historically, the Alamo is perhaps the most revered and interesting building in Texas. But because of its distance from North Texas, there are doubtless tens of thousands of people who have never seen it and who will never have that opportunity. By the erection of this proposed building in Fair Park this great mass of people will be enabled to see and study an exact imitation of the original, and thus there will be created or augmented in the minds of the younger generation which sees it that proper patriotic feeling and pride for the small but noble band which fought and died for the freedom which we now enjoy."

COLLECTION OF CURIOS.

It is proposed to build a walk around the building and in the space between this walk and the building proper there probably will be planted cactus and other Mexican plants so as to give it a distinctively Mexican appearance. Inside of the building, if desired, there may be provided a place for the collection of curios pertaining to the Alamo and the period in history with which it is connected. The suggestion was made yesterday that if this could not be done, arrangements might be considered for a loan collection of such curios, of which it is said there are a number scattered about over the state particularly in South Texas.

Although of smaller size, the building will be otherwise an absolute reproduction of the historic structure which stands in San Antonio. J. P. Hubbell of the firm of Hubbell & Greene, the architects in charge, spent three days in San Antonio for the purpose of taking pictures, measurements and observations of the structure.

ARCHITECT TELLS OF WORK.

"Mr. Hubbell measured it for the floor plan," said Mr. Greene, "and he measured the vertical walls and then took all the measurements of the interior of the building. Then he made sketches of all the ornamental work on the outside as well as the inside. In fact, he took measurements of everything there, including impressions of the broken plaster and stone, with sketches of the broken pieces, showing how and where they were broken. We are now prepared to erect an exact replica of this building as it stands today on the plaza in San Antonio. We are told that such measurements have been made before and we consider these alone of considerable historic value.

MAY CALL FAIR DIRECTORS.

The Mayor and other members of the Park Board received the proposition with evidences of satisfaction and pleasure. It is understood that president E. J. Kiest of the State Fair of Texas will probably call such of the Fair directors as are in the city to meet the committee from the Park Board at the Fair Grounds this morning.—Dallas News.

The city of Hereford last week raised a bonus of $100,000 for a new railroad which goes to show that the city is still hustling for its own advancement. The Hereford Brand issued a number of copies of a daily which was called the "Junior Brand" and in it carried a thermometer showing the advancement in the work each day. It was alright until Wednesday afternoon when the $100,000 was completely raised and the thermometer busted. They are hustlers over at Hereford anyhow.—Randall County News.

THE H. B. WEBB HOME.

The great question in all lines and positions of life today is, "Does it pay? Will the end justify the means?" Let anyone who is skeptical, take a walk out on Illinois street and Ross avenue to the home of H. B. Webb, and be convinced for himself.

About three years ago Mr. Webb began the improvement of his present home, by erecting a modern residence, replete in every particular; and at the same time planting trees, both fruit and shade. Even a casual observer cannot help seeing the beauty and symmetry of the growing trees, and the perfect arrangement of the grounds. The lawn of blue grass and white clover is so perfectly kept, that every spear of grass seems to be just in its place. To enhance the beauty of nature's green, Mrs. Webb has many kinds of the choicest of flowers as borders and in little recesses. As gardener and fruit grower, Mr. Webb is eminently successful. On a small plat of ground about sixty by ten feet, last year one hundred and forty quarts of strawberries were gathered. This year, even after the late freeze had killed almost all the fruit, thirty quarts were gathered. Here also are found blackberries, grapes, etc.; all growing well and in a healthy condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb have one of the most comfortable as well as attractive homes in all Hereford, entirely due to their thrift and good taste.

ENTERTAINS FOR DAUGHTER.

Wednesday, July 7, being the 13th birthday of Bessie Snyder, Mrs. J. P. Snyder gave her daughter an afternoon party from 3 to 6. - Everything went off well, and joy was unconfined, until a gypsy appeared on the scene and wanted to tell each girl's fortune. Immediately, all was confusion, but still the gypsy persisted until she gained entrance into the house, and finally persuaded one girl to let her tell her fortune, as she told the girl she had a good face. Soon after this it was discovered that the gypsy was Lucy Story. Miss Lucy had had been so clever in her dress, face decorations and change of voice, that she carried the little ruse to perfection. Soon after this little excitement, and when all was calm again, Mrs. Snyder served a two course luncheon, consisting of oyster salad, peanut sandwiches and ice tea for the first, and cream and cake for the second course.

Soon after, the hour for departure came, and how each little girl expressed herself as having her evening full of pleasure.

Miss Bessie received many beautiful little gifts. Those present were: Beatrice and Lucy Story, Blanche Warren, Jewel Barnes, Louise and Elizabeth Oberthier, Velma Slaton, Lois Cobb, Irene Melick, Mary and Inez Dunlap, Lota Fuqua and Cassie Phillips.

A MOONLIGHT PICNIC.

On Thursday evening, just as the grand old herald of day was bidding adieu to this part of the world, and "saying good morning" to the distant orient, a party of young people hied themselves to the beautiful little valley of the winding stream—the Tierra Blanca, that affords so much pleasure for the people of Hereford. If anyone had been ill or cross during the day, the soft evening breezes was a panacea for for it all, and a grand good time was had by every one.

The supper that was spread was a great feature of the evening, for there were fried chicken, peanut sandwiches, banana salads, strawberry pies, chocolate cakes, and, in fact, everything that would tempt the appetite. As the supper was being eaten the "queen of the night" peeped through the shimmering clouds and gave her heartiest approval. After all had drunk once more of the "cup of pleasure" and were satisfied for the time, the homeward going was announced, and soon all bade each other good night at the doors of their respective homes.

Those present were: Misses Ruth and Ruby Wilson, Jessie and Bessie Sisk, Elliott, McCormick, Nance, Gough, Gregg, Bell and Mattie Woodburn, Gatewood, Hunt, Potter, Waterman, Guinn, and Griffith; Messrs. Earl and Leron, Gough, Shirley, Wilson, Guinn, Farmer, Ricketts, Forrest and Otis Park.

Wedded.

On Sunday morning, July, 25, at 9:15 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winterrowd, Mr. Smith Keller of our city, led to the hymenial altar, Miss Fannie Russell of Melrose, New Mexico.

In the presence of a few intimate friends, Rev. J. W. Story, with a very impressive ceremony joined the lives of these young people for all time.

While Mrs. Keller is a stranger to most of the people of Hereford, her appearance and manner tell of qualities of true womanhood, and more, she comes to us as a church and Sunday school worker.

Mr. Keller came to our town several months ago from Durant, Oklahoma, where his parents live, and is the present foreman of the Hereford Nursery, owned by L. P. Landrum. He is also a church and Sunday school worker.

Mr. and Mrs. Keller are now at home to their friends in their cozy little cottage near the College.

The Brand extends to these young people its happiest wishes on their great voyage of life.

Rain at Hereford.

Last Saturday night Hereford had a good rain, coming from the north-east. The local station measured the fall at 0.41 inches. A trace also fell the next day. For four days previous good showers fell in many parts of the country. During the month of July the total rainfall has been 2.68 inches. This is an inch less than the last four-year average.

Must Have Keys.

The city dumping ground on the north side of the creek has been fenced and the gate locked. All parties hauling trash will please call on City Marshal for key. The dump ground on the north side does not belong to the city and dumping garbage thereon has been prohibited.
 C. L. SULLIVAN, City Marshal.

We meet all comers at Hereford market. 24-2t

Notice.

The same regulations in regard to fishing and picnicing at Sulphur Park will be enforced as last year. All such parties must present permits before entering grounds. These regulations are made necessary for the protection of the property.

AUTO RACES AT AMARILLO

Hereford Sends Train Load Good Cheer to Amarillo Re-Union and Auto Races.

For four days of this week Hereford has sent a big crowd of good cheer folks to the Re-union and Auto Races at Amarillo. The first day was knocked out somewhat by the big rain at Amarillo Monday morning, but by Tuesday the ground was fine.

Hereford people went down to the Queen City by auto and train loads, Wednesday morning the Merry Widows having to carry a few "joy riders" on her wide hat brim. There was but one auto left in the city the third day. One of the enthusiasts remarked that there was over a square mile of autos on the grounds.

The races were exciting, especially to many Panhandle denizens who had never witnessed the gar wagons in a tug of war. The first entry was made up of two pretty young ladies driving two-cylinder runabouts. They put out for a 5-mile contest, the winning one screaming when she found that she had won the blue ribbon.

On Thursday a big crowd was there from Hereford. Many of the Confederate soldiers attending to meet their old comrades and to witness the races.

BAND REORGANIZED

New Members, New Instruments and New Music Will be Added.

The Hereford Concert Band, backed by the Commercial Club and citizens, is reorganizing with a membership of about 30. New instruments of the finest make will be purchased, including clarinets, saxophones, trombones, melophones and a monster Helicon Bass, making the instrumentation as complete as that of the largest professional bands. That Hereford has the talent for a successful organization of this size is unquestioned, and the boys are playing a series of entertainments for the purpose of meeting the expense of new music, instruments, etc. It is believed that our citizens will appreciate their efforts to establish a permanent band and orchestra, which will keep pace with the growth of the city, and respond liberally to their requests for assistance. J. B. Muchmore who holds a position at the Brand office has been employed as instructor. Mr. Muchmore has been playing band music much all his life. He was a member of the American World's Fair Band at St. Louis exposition. Walter Greggs is the proficient business manager.

Called to Roswell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anthony were called to Roswell, New Mexico several days ago on account of the serious illness of their son, Milton, who lives there; and later Dr. Hudgens uncle of the young man, was wired and left at once to render medical aid to his nephew. Mr. Milton underwent an operation for appendicitis on Monday and hopes are entertained for his complete recovery.

Notice of Trustee's Sale.

STATE OF TEXAS, }
COUNTY OF DEAF SMITH. } SS

Whereas, by authority vested in me as Trustee, by a trust deed recorded in volume 14, at page 69 of trust deed records of Deaf Smith county, Texas, executed on the 8th day of September, 1908, by T. E. Leonard and J. L. Blevins for better securing the payment of three promissory notes described therein and aggregating Fourteen Hundred and Two and 50-100 (1402.50) Dollars executed by T. E. Leonard and J. L. Blevins, payable to the order of Associated Land Co., at First National Bank of Kansas City, Missouri, with interest at six per cent per annum from date, interest due the 1st day of November, 1908, and thereafter annually; more specifically described as: One note for $467.50, due the 1st day of April, 1909; one note for $467.50, due the 1st day of September, 1909; one note for $467.50, due the 1st day of January, 1910; given as evidence of the unpaid part of the purchase money for the land offered herein for sale and particularly described later in this notice. And,

Whereas, it is provided by said trust deed, executed contemporaneously with said notes and as a part of the same transaction, that said T. E. Leonard and J. L. Blevins shall pay promptly, as they become due, every sum or amount which is, or may be, a lien, or charge, on said lands under any prior deed of trust, and all taxes and assessments that may be levied thereon as and when the same shall become due, and also provides that in case of sale the Trustee shall be entitled, out of the funds received, to a commission of ten per cent on the amount realized; and also provides that in case of default in payment of any of the notes described in said trust deed, or any installment of interest, or in the performance of any other term, condition or agreement, for a period of thirty days after the same shall become due, payable or enforceable, the legal holder of said notes, at the time, shall have the right, at his option, immediately, and at any time thereafter while default continues, to declare all of said notes, though not mature on their face, to be at once due; and,

Whereas, Geo. G. Wright is the owner and holder of said notes, and the said T. E. Leonard and J. L. Blevins have made default in their payment and of the interest, and have failed to pay the taxes on said premises for the year 1908, and have failed to pay the debt and interest secured by a prior trust deed on said land as they became due, but have made default as to each and all, which default continues, and has continued for more than thirty days prior to the dating hereof; and,

Whereas, the said Geo. G. Wright has declared each of said notes and all indebtedness and liabilities secured by said trust deed immediately due and matured, and has heretofore so notified the said T. E. Leonard and J. L. Blevins in writing; and

Whereas, each of said notes is now due and unpaid, amounting in the aggregate to Fourteen Hundred and Two and 50-100, ($1402.50) Dollars; and

Whereas, it is provided in said trust deed that all overdue principal and interest and all payments made of taxes or prior liens shall draw interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and there is now due and unpaid on said notes and on account of said payments and by virtue of said trust deed the total sum of Fourteen Hundred and Sixty-Eight and 18-100, ($1468.18) Dollars; and,

Whereas, William W. Ryan, Trustee, refuses to act as such, and L. H. Henschel, Alternate Trustee, named in said trust deed is without the territory of the United States and cannot act, and I. D. W. McMillen, Substitute Trustee, heretofore appointed, have been requested by the said Geo. G. Wright to enforce said trust, I will offer for sale between the hours of Ten o'clock a. m. and Four o'clock p. m., at public auction to the highest bidder for cash on the first Tuesday in August, A. D., 1909. (The same being the 3rd day of said month), at the court house door in the town of Hereford, in Deaf Smith county, Texas, the following real estate situated in the county of Deaf Smith, in the state of Texas:

Hog Cholera Unknown.

Kaffir corn makes the sweetest hog meat that can be made, and kaffir corn can be raised in unlimited quantities. It is cheaper by far than Indian corn and it requires but little work for cultivation, and with Indian corn at present high prices kaffir corn is the money making feed for hogs in Texas.

A representative of Swine Breeders' Journal made a tour of Texas recently and he talks about hogs in Texas in a manner that is highly interesting. He says:

They do not know what hog cholera is in the Panhandle. I asked so many if they ever had hog cholera, they began to think I was an agent for some cholera cure.

In the southern plains there were 1,500 hogs in an alfalfa field. They looked good. Berkshire blood predominated. We did not see a white hog in Texas, most all black, a few reds and others spotted.

The sweetest piece of ham we ever ate was in Texas. They told me they fed their hogs on kaffir corn. It makes from 25 to 50 bushels per acre in sod without cultivation.

We do not think Texas will make a great Indian corn state, but we predict it will make one of the greatest wheat fields in the world.

It will be a great country for hogs, being dry, plenty of water and no cholera. The farmer or breeder starting good herds in the Panhandle will be successful.

WHAT TO EAT

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley Gives Diet
for the Summer Days.

Dr. Wiley's Hot Weather Diet Advice.

Eat sparingly.
Eat anything you please.
Eat it slowly.
Eat a varied menu.
Don't take up vegetarian or other fads in hot weather.
Don't fill your stomach with ice water or iced tea.
Don't become a victim to the soft-drink habit.
Don't worry.
DR. HARVEY W. WILEY,
Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry,
Department of Agriculture.

Special to the Star-Telegram.

Washington, July 24.

My first suggestion in the line of hot weather diet would be, 'eat what you want, but eat mighty little of it,' said Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, when he was asked to give some hints for hot weather meals. "My second would be, 'Don't take up any fads in your diet during hot weather!'"

I believe in eating what you want, what your stomach seems to crave, and what your pocket can buy.

"In these days of battle for mere existence with so many, it is of course silly to lay down any rules of diet whatever. Most of the people of this country are obliged to eat what they can get. To those who have any choice, however, I would say: 'Be moderate in everything at the table. I would not say, as some do, 'Quit meat altogether,' or 'Live on vegetables,' or 'Subsist on fruits and nuts.' I am no believer in fads, and am not prohibitionist in food. All this talk you hear occasionally about vegetables or fruits being a panacea for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, makes me sick. The human system was built for a mixed diet; the ages have proved that moderation in the use of food, as in the use of any other of our blessings, is best for mankind: so why should we pay any attention to any of the faddists that occasionally arise to claim attention? If you have been in the habit of eating a steak now and then, or a chop, or a piece of roast meat in cold weather, there is no reason for putting them out of your menu simply because the weather has turned warm. Merely cut down the quantity, because, when the weather is hot, there is no necessity for supplying so much heat to the system—we do not need so much coal to keep the human engine going.

"If you like vegetables and fruits, eat them by all means, but if possible have them carefully and thoroughly washed. There are more cases of sickness laid at the door of fresh or unripe vegetables and fruits, which are not due to them at all, than you can imagine. The microbes of disease upon the vegetables and fruits, which collected there in the field or on the tree, were the real cause of the trouble, and might have been easily avoided by a little washing. This is especially true of all garden truck that has been fertilized with manure.

If I had my way about it, no truck vegetables should be fertilized with cleanings from the stables. It would be all right to use manure for grains and cereals, which are harvested at some distance from the ground, but such things as lettuce, radishes, onions and beets, which are pulled directly from the earth itself, should, in my estimation, not come in contact with it at all.

"But as we know manure is used in the production of a great many things we eat, the best we can do is to take all the precaution we can, and wash the vegetables thoroughly before serving. This is especially imperative with all such stuff that is eaten raw, like salads. Of course, where a vegetable is thoroughly cooked before it is served, the thorough washing is not as necessary. But you needn't be afraid that you can do any harm by washing anything you eat in good, pure, cold water. The best way to wash vegetables and fruits is to hold them under the tap, so that the microbes and the fungus growths, which may cause disease, will be washed into the sewer. A great many cases of summer diarrhoea, which are laid at the door of the vegetables, are caused by the microbes that come in on the garden products.

"I do not consider that there is very much danger in eating unripe fruits. There is a great deal of unnecessary fright caused when a small boy eats a green apple. If the apple was well washed of the bugs and things on it, the chances are it would not hurt him a bit. If he gets a colic, it is because of the microbes upon the skin, not because of the greenness of the fruit. I'll venture to say that not more than one in 100 boys that eat green apples ever get a colic at all.

"There's one habit, however, that I'd like to see the youngsters of this country broken of, and that is the soft-drink habit. Of course, there are a great many harmless beverages sold over the counters of the drug stores, but at the same time there are a great many proprietary drinks that are deleterious to health. After an exhaustive examination of the subject, during which we sampled a great many of the thirst-quenchers, we discovered that more than 100 varieties of the so-called soft-drinks contained caffeine, if children are to drink caffeine, let them get it at home in the shape of tea and coffee. Then they would not probably consume as much in the course of a day as they would on frequent trips to the soda fountain. Of course, caffeine is not a proper thing for children to take into their systems anyway.

"The ice water and iced-tea habits are bad. The tea habit is naturally the worst, for in the course of a day a man or woman addicted to it will consume a great deal of caffeine and tannin. Iced, lemonade is not so bad, especially if it is not taken very sweet. It is much to be preferred to any of the other drink habits that I know. I am an uncompromising opponent of the ice water habit in hot weather. There is an old rhyme which states the case very much to the point. Here it is:

"Full many a man, both young and old,
Has gone to sarcophagus
By pouring water icy cold
Adown his hot oesophagus."

TALKS WHEN FROM HOME

Hereford Attorney Opens His Talk er When Visiting Neighboring City—Tells About It.

The following clipped from Plainview News depicts a new to our fellow townsman, C. Wright and his usually quiet nature works off some good talk for home town:

Clyde D. Wright, a prominent attorney of Hereford, was in Plainview a while Friday and Saturday. In a conversation with a News he said Hereford was still growing and had prospects for a most prosperous future. It was learned his town was out after the Worth and Albuquerque railroads and has made ready to enter contest to get it. Hereford $100,000 bonus raised for a railroad. In reference to the C & G., Mr. Wright said it was tempting building south to point on the Texas Pacific road, line running in a southerly direction possibly to Stanton, but of this was not sure. When asked if town would co-operate with Plainview, he said it would, as he believed it would be to the interest of towns to work in harmony, as town recognized that the interest of both would thereby be better served. Mr. Wright in an entreaty on baseball, and was here, nesting the games between Hereford and Plainview.
