

JUDGE GOUGH GETS TITLE OF COLONEL AT MEETING

Judge L. Gough, President of the Texas Wheat Growers association and prominent pioneer citizen of the Panhandle, has a new title and is as proud of it as he was of his first pair of silver spurs.

The Catholic at Dallas are authority for the statement that a new church of that denomination will probably be erected at Canyon to care for the student needs at that point.

From 1,500 to 1,800 Japanese are expected to win a race across the Pacific to the United States before July 1, when the new immigration bill with its Japanese exclusion is scheduled to become effective.

Practical utilization of the radio in railroad operation is under serious consideration by many of the nation's largest railroads.

Study of the question is proceeding along four lines: the use of receiving sets to obtain news and entertainment on through passenger trains; the use of radio to form a closer contact between officer and men; the use of sending and receiving apparatus on both freight and passenger trains, and the development of a method of train dispatching in emergencies when wire is down.

The most important of these, probably, is broadcasting to handle traffic. The plan would include one superpower broadcasting station to cover the entire line, and a number of smaller stations, each caring for a single division, with receiving sets at each station.

A Texas farmer wakes up at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to his Detroit overalls, washes his face with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania wash pan, sits down to a Grand Rapids table and eats Chicago meat and Indiana hominy fried in Kansas lard on a St. Louis stove, puts a New York bridle on a Missouri mule fed on Iowa corn, and hitches him to a plow made in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and plows a farm covered by an Ohio mortgage.

When bed time come he reads a chapter from a Bible printed in Boston, says a prayer written in Jerusalem, crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, and is kept awake half the night by a Texas dog, the only home product on the place, and then wonders why he can't make money in Texas.—Straw Tribune.

Note—On investigation it was found that this farmer carried his life insurance with a Kansas City Company, and the school house that was built with Texas tax money was insured in a Japanese company while an English company insured his cotton.

He is wondering, also, why there is so little insurance money available in Texas for loans on farm land.—Wheeler News Review.

Panhandle Bankers Met in Amarillo Monday

The Panhandle Bankers' Association will hold a two-day session at Amarillo, beginning at one o'clock, Monday afternoon.

The invocation will be by Rev. R. N. MacCallum, and the welcoming address will be delivered by Mayor E. S. Blassel. The response will be by C. W. Carson, Jr., cashier of the First National Bank at Spearman.

R. L. Thornton, President of the Texas Bankers' Association, will be among the prominent speakers, and J. E. Owens, president of the First National Bank at Willis Point will speak on Cooperative Crop Marketing.

Other speakers will be: James T. Bradley, vice president of the Commerce Trust Company, Kansas City, Mo.; H. D. Kennedy, of the Donley County County State Bank, Clarendon; T. S. Stevenson, cashier of the First State Bank, Florida; B. A. McKinney, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas.

R. E. L. Myers of Austin, Texas, passed away May 25, at the age of fifty seven years. Mr. Myers was a brother of Mrs. E. J. Williams of this city. He was well known in this part of the Panhandle. Mrs. Williams did not attend the funeral on account of illness.

A. C. McGill, Iowa, Arrives From California

A. C. McGill of Sioux City, Iowa, arrived here from Los Angeles Thursday morning. Mr. McGill owns land in this county and was here on his first visit, giving this county the "once over."

There has been considerable discussion and comment about which way the new county hospital should face.

According to the architects' plans the hospital should face the south so that the sun room will get the proper sunlight—that is, it will get less west sun than south sun. Three points came under consideration as to which direction the building should set.

"Operating rooms are often located so that they receive light from two points of the compass, say south and east, rather than light from the north. When adequate light is so essential to the performance of an operation, why handicap the operator to the detriment of his patient by a defective lighting system when a suitable method could be so readily provided.

"The late Dr. Charles McBurney, who had the direction of the building of the Sims operating theatre in New York, once told me that he had given more thought to the lighting of the amphitheatre than to all the details of the remainder of the building.

First Reunion of 1922 - 1923 Class Old Times Talked

The first reunion of the Senior class of Hereford High School of 1922-23 was celebrated with a picnic on last Saturday night, May 31.

A merry crowd gathered at the Methodist church corner at 6:30 p. m. and from there went out to the favorite picnic grounds. The old Swimming hole.

Arriving there numerous games were played for some time, when someone suggested eating. A large campfire was built and a supper of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, fruit, cake, etc., was enjoyed immensely.

Then old times were talked over, songs were sung, plans were told, absent members discussed as to their location and occupation, and best of all Miss Griffith told some of her secrets.

About fifteen of this class were present and with several visitors the crowd was just the right size. We were all glad to have Miss Griffith with us, and she is very dear to our hearts, both as a teacher and a friend.

Sailor Jack Woods to Wrestle With Jensen

Sailor Jack Woods, a 170 pound top notch wrestler, will meet Thor Jensen in a finish bout at the bull barn on Tuesday night, June 10, at 8:45.

The Sailor at present is working out of Enid, Oklahoma, and is reputed to be a first class man and a wrestler hard to beat. He believes he can throw Jensen and is coming here with the intention of doing so.

Thor Jensen is in Dallas but, according to a message received by Mr. Baker, will be home Saturday or Sunday.

Y. P. M. S. Girls of Methodist Church Breakfast

It is a great thing to develop the social side of life in a spiritual way, as was done on Tuesday morning, June 3, by the Y. P. M. S. Girls of the Methodist church. These girls met at the bridge south of town at 5:30 a. m. and there this affair took place.

After breakfast the girls partook in athletic fetes and pictures were taken. It was late in the day when the girls turned slowly homeward and left this spot, where they had had such an enjoyable time. Those present on this breakfast were: Mrs. J. B. Jones, Martha Duncan, Mattie Lou Harrison, Aline Hodge, Beulah Lee Rutherford, Gladys McMahon, Gwendolin Spradley, Pauline Steele, Beth Millard and Dollie Ward.

ABO PASS LOG AND SIGNS TO MARK S. W. T.

THROUGH HEREFORD SAYS SECRETARY D. T. MEEKS

END TO ST. LOUIS

On Hard Surfaced Roads, With New Signs and Shorter Route West

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce is advised by D. T. Meek, new secretary of the Abo Pass Highway, Enid, Okla., that the Abo Pass has come to life and is planning to "do things." E. W. Harrison's department of the local Chamber of Commerce will handle Hereford's share of the Abo work.

"In compliance with the minutes of our meeting at Selling, Oklahoma a Committee consisting of Henry A. Brower, Chas. A. Wright and Dr. Johnson, of Fairview, Oklahoma were appointed to log the ABO PASS from Tulsa to Amarillo and secure contracts from cities and counties for the number of signs needed in each county."

"This Committee is at this time ready to do their work. They have the price on the sign and sample of the sign and will be in your community in the near future. Please give them a courteous reception and all the assistance that they need in logging the route through your county. Also place your order with them so that we may have a uniform type of sign covering this Highway."

"On our present routing from Enid on east to Tulsa, then to St. Louis, we have the hard surface road almost to Enid at this time. Only two counties east of us are not hard surfaced and Payne county has their election called for the 9th of this month to hard surface this road. That will only leave Noble County and no doubt they will take it up in the very near future. Garfield County will hard surface the ABO PASS this year, or at least finish sometime this coming year. We can make it the greatest southern route to California and what we need most at this time is permanent marking from here to Amarillo, so that when we advertise the road the people can travel it. Would appreciate any information you might have during the summer, relative to the condition of the road through your county."

U. S. Agricultural Estimate Cotton Stand Below Ave.

According to the "United States Department of Agriculture" for Texas, the Hereford country is far above the average, in cotton planting difficulties. According to the report released June 4, "Great difficulty has been experienced this season in obtaining cotton stands, many have replanted two to three times without satisfactory results, the crop averages two to three weeks late, every month this year has been below normal temperature, rainfall has been excessive over the main cotton sections, weevil are numerous over the southern counties."

H. H. Schutz, stationer U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates, says that Texas condition is given at sixty-six per cent of normal, which with two exceptions is the lowest in the past ten years. Let it be said again that cotton was planted in this immediate vicinity as late as June 24 and a fair crop was made and in an unusually cold wet fall.

O. B. Burnett of Dumas, Texas, originator of the Burnett cotton seed said in a speech last Tuesday to the West Texas auctioneers convention: "Keep on planting, don't get discouraged, the best cotton I ever saw grow on the plains was planted June sixteenth."

Mrs. G. E. McCrate, Black, Undergoes an Operation

Mrs. G. E. McCrate of Black was the victim of an unusual accident the first of the week. While washing clothes on a wash board, in some way a needle which was lodged in the clothes, was forced into the palm of her hand with such force that the needle entirely disappeared. Mrs. McCrate was brought to Hereford, and, on examination, it was decided that an X-ray examination must be made to locate the needle. Mrs. McCrate was taken to the St. Anthony Hospital at Amarillo, where the examination was made and the needle located in the back of her hand. An operation was necessary to remove the needle.

GETTING DOLLED UP

This Week

Florida—Great Empire to Be. Two Political Questions.

Deep Plowing Pays. Dress Up, Girls, Dress Up.

The stock of the Atlantic Coast Line in Florida reaches a "new high." Big profits are made, and the stockholders exult. If Florida interests you, or railroad profits, find out what S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line, is doing with his new railroad in Florida. When he finishes the short cut from the West Coast of Florida across to Palm Beach and other points, establishing direct connection between New York and Southeast Florida, over his own rails, there will be an active fight for business and profits.

There will be plenty of business for both roads, however. No imagination can foresee what the prosperity of Florida is to be. That State, which, as the Jacksonville Journal tells you, Jefferson could once have bought for five cents an acre, and ultimately did buy for fifteen cents an acre, is apt one day to be in several different ways the greatest State in the Union.

Two questions that interest politicians are these: Can the Democrats be persuaded to give up the rule that compels a man to get two-thirds of all the delegates before he can be nominated? And will the Democrats put in their national platform a plank denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, and thus outwailing many Southern States on whom the Democrats must depend to win?

It is a delicate question and may be solved by some vague generalization concerning all secret societies.

In Baltimore, a farmer named Meyerly is said to be plowing up a good wheat field, with a sub-soil plow, having been told there is gold in his land. He won't find gold, but if he plows deep enough, and plows his wheat under, he will improve his soil, and increase his farm's value.

In the second part of Faust, Goethe tells of the farmer plowing deep because under the Emperor's law he was allowed to keep all buried treasure, "turned over by the plow." That was probably an ingenious scheme to make the farmer plow deeper, make his soil richer, and thus be able to pay heavier taxes.

The State of Kentucky killed three men by electricity, two white, one colored, one white man seventy years old. Forty-six minutes after they began walking to the death chair, one after the other, all were dead. Only one spoke, as he was strapped into the chair. It was Frank Thomas, white man, who said, as the light was shut out from his eyes forever by the electrocution mask, "Good night, I'm going home."

Wouldn't it be interesting to know where, how, in what home those three men will awake—if at all. Will the black man still be black, when he comes to and dimly remembers how he died? Will the gray-haired murderer still be seventy years old, or begin again as a new baby? Interesting questions.

College young ladies, of the Young Women's Christian Association, tell working girls to dress "plainly and demurely" for their souls' sake and to impress possible husbands with their good qualities. Sensible Helen Gwynne, retiring president of the Y. W. C. A., who is a factory worker, and has presided over an assembly of 30,000 factory girls, tells these girls to dress as conspicuously as they can, "even flashily."

The rich girl, says Miss Gwynne, can afford to dress plainly. That sets her off in her luxurious surroundings. But the working girl, in her plain home, must dress as well as she can, by way of contrast with her surroundings, if she wants to marry. Sensible Miss Gwynne.

An automobile smash-up with Jesse James hurt reveals the fact that the son of the great highwayman now works as a patrol to prevent highwaymen holding up automobiles.

Everywhere you see verified Fourier's saying "Contrast in character between father and son."

Poem by Uncle John

The crisis in an industry, like diggin' coal, ye know—gives rise to apprehensions of the winter with its snow, and the crisis in the meat-supply, or grain that makes our bread, keeps the average consumer in a constant state of dread. . . . And—'tis sends the prices skyward, every time the crisis frowns,—when the life preserver's out of reach, of course the sailor drowns. . . . While the wreckin' crew is patchin' up more economic laws, the panic devil tears us with his unrelenting claws. . . . I have watched the operation through so many gloomy days, that I harbor my suspicions of the feller that it says. . . . There's a reason, at the bottom of each economic mess,—and when a trouble's chronic, it is hard to cure I guess. . . . Ain't it time for changin' doctors—when the treatment seems to fail? Can small-pox treat itself without the drugs a-growin' stale? We'll never find the remedy in self-inflicted laws, while the pestilence is spreadin' under treatment by its cause!

Take Care of Your Eggs Eggs are delicate and fragile. They were never intended by nature for marketing as an article of food. They were designed for natural incubation. The sooner the farmer gets this fact the sooner he will improve the quality of eggs. A freshly laid egg is full. As soon as the animal heat leaves it, it shrinks. The longer it is kept on hand the more it shrinks. Shrunken eggs bring less per dozen. Heat or dry air blowing on eggs causes rapid shrinkage. Keep them in a cool place. Heat also causes the whites to become watery and weak. The egg man calls these weak or heated eggs. In such condition the yolk sack often breaks then we have an "addled" egg and the "mixed rot" results. All these things result from heat and staleness and keep summer egg prices down.

Egg buyers tell me that folks sell eggs that fail to hatch in the incubator. That practise doesn't help farmers' egg market one bit. Then some are just naturally careless. They permit the children to gather eggs from a setting hen's nest or they may discover a nest of old eggs.
