As DSGH administrator Bullard leaves today

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The Deaf Smith General Hospital District board of trustees agreed Monday to pay outgoing Deaf Smith General Hospital Administrator Jim Bullard $10,500 for twelve weeks of unused vacation time.

Bullard, who had resigned effective Oct. 15, agreed with the board to make today his last day as DSGH administrator.

Phyllis Morrison, who was appointed last week as interim administrator after Bullard's resignation, will assume those duties Wednesday.

Bullard said today that he had "other business I need to attend to, and it would be better for me and the board if I left immediately."

Bullard added that the $10,500 compensation for unused vacation "may not be the final amount," but refused to specify any further requests he might make.

Deaf Smith General Hospital officials will go to Lubbock today to review a Medicare audit that could force DSGH to repay $169,564 from 1985 Medicare payments.

Morrison told the board Medicare paid DSGH $323,321 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1985. A final audit has shown Medicare is owed over half of that money because of denied charges and overpayments according to Medicare's "Diagnostic Related Groups" (DRG's).

The DRG's, combining over 1,800 illnesses and ailments into about 400 groupings, provide a set amount for payment for a Medicare patient's ailment.

Morrison was confident that at least some of the money requested by Medicare won't have to be repaid.

"We are going to go through the records and determine why Medicare wants this money," Morrisson told the board. "We don't think we owe them this much."

DSGH, however, is faced with having to repay whatever is owed by no later than Dec. 31 and must make arrangements with Medicare by Monday on how the money will be repaid.

If the arrangements are not made, and the money is not repaid in full by the end of December, Medicare then has the right to withhold 100 percent of its payments to DSGH until the matter is settled.

Currently, Medicare pays DSGH about $45,000 a month.

The board also appointed a finance committee of Morrison and board members Frank Zinser, Ralph Detton and Dr. James Herbertson to meet with Ed Barrett, who loaned DSGH $250,000 last year.

DSGH is currently two payments behind, and the note is now callable, should Barrett call the note in.

Stolen auto involved in weekend accident

A 1988 Oldsmobile, reported stolen from San Antonio, was involved in an accident in the 200 block of Higgins over the weekend. According to Hereford Police Department officers, witnesses saw four unknown suspects flee on foot from the scene of the accident. The suspects remain at-large.

Arrests included a 43-year-old male on DWI charges. He is also charged with having no driver's license, no liability insurance and improper vehicle tags.

A 20-year-old male was arrested and charged with DWI, no driver's license, no liability insurance and unlawful possession of a weapon. A 13-year-old boy was taken into custody and released to his parents for shoplifting $1.96 worth of candy from a convenience store.

A juvenile boy was reported to be shooting a B.B. gun in the 400 block of Ave. J. The boy's parents were contacted by an officer.

A mother of another juvenile boy requested an officer visit with her son. She said her son was disrespectful of adults and often curses her and others. An officer visited with the juvenile concerning his conduct.

Officers are investigating a man on Bradley Street for abusing his children by using too much force when disciplining them. The case has been turned over to child welfare authorities.

while he was at work someone tried to kick in his back door.

Windows were broken and gear shift knobs taken from two vehicles in the 100 block of North 25 Mile Ave. Damage is estimated at $1,000. Other thefts reported included gasoline, a lawn mower, license plates and tags, a checkbook, a tricycle and a bicycle.

Cruelty to animals was reported in the 400 block of Bradley where a woman said she saw a dog which looked starved. An officer checked with the owner of the residence where the dog was located and was told they had found the animal and are attempting to nurse it back to good health. A second case of animal cruelty was reported in the 100 block of Juniper, and a dog bite was reported in the area of Thirteenth Street and Ave. K.

Two electric guitars were recovered in a dumpster in the 300 block of James Street and a license plate was found at Rainbow Car Wash.

Bork facing vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan conceded today "our work is cut out for us" in pushing for confirmation of Supreme Court nominee Robert H. Bork, especially with a solid majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee opposed. But he promised to stick with Bork to a final showdown on the Senate floor.

"I am going to continue to do everything I can to get him confirmed," Reagan told a group of Republican lawmakers at the White House. "Our work is cut out for us. We have a lot to do before the floor vote. We simply have to work together."

In referring to the floor vote rather than today's Judiciary Committee vote, Reagan was acknowledging that there was no chance Bork could win a favorable recommendation from the 14-member panel. There were also predictions of all-but-certain defeat by the full Senate and speculation over substitute candidates to fill the court vacancy left by the retirement of Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr.

However, Reagan said he would not drop Bork. "I am saying I am not going to withdraw this nomination," the president said in reply to a reporter.

Opening the meeting, Reagan said that Bork's opponents "have made this a political contest by using tactics and distortions that I think are deplorable." He said Bork was "without question one of the most qualified candidates for the Supreme Court that we have ever had."

Eight of the Judiciary Committee's members, including Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., already have declared their opposition to the conservative appeals court judge. Five members favored Bork, and only Sen. Howell Heflin, D-Ala., was publicly undecided.

Heflin said today on the NBC-TV "Today" show, "Stay tuned. Stay tuned. I usually don't decide these things until just before we vote."

On the Senate floor, meanwhile, Republican Sen. Warren Rudman of New Hampshire said he would support Bork when the nomination comes to a vote in the full Senate. Democratic Sens. Brock Adams of Washington and Christopher Dodd of Connecticut gave speeches announcing their opposition.

The committee had the choice of sending the nomination to the Senate floor either urging that Bork be re-

City awards uniform bid

During its regular session on Monday night, the Hereford City Commission awarded a bid for uniform services to Amarillo Uniform and Linen Service. The low bid was awarded on unit price of $1.1156 per uniform.

Other bids included Hereford Uniform and Linen, $1.16 per unit; Western Uniform and Towel of Amarillo, $1.20 per unit; and Texas Industrial Services of Amarillo, $1.40 per unit.

In other business the commissioners:

-tabled action on consideration of a Southwestern Public Service Franchise, pending rewording of the contract.

-tabled action in making appointments to the Board of Adjustments and Planning and Zoning Commission.

-referred a resident, wishing to place a mobile home on a lot in the city, to the zoning commission for consideration of her request.

Pep rally planned Thursday

A pep rally for the Hereford Whitefaces will be held Thursday at 9 p.m. at "the barn" at Whiteface Stadium.

The pep rally is for the Herd's game at Levelland Friday, and all interested fans are urged to attend.

Warmer temperatures ahead

Warmer temperatures are forecast for tonight and Wednesday after a low this morning of a chilly 40 degrees at KPAN.

Tonight will be fair, with a low of 48. Wind will be light and southerly.

Wednesday will be sunny and 78, with south-southeast wind at 5 to 15 mph.

Monday's high was 79 degrees.

New comics begin Tuesday

Some of America's favorite comics will make their debut next Tuesday in the Hereford Brand.

The five new strips are listed in the Top 20 of a nationwide readership poll.

The new daily strips include "Blondie," "The Wizard of Id," "Snuffy Smith and Barney Google," "Beetle Bailey" and "Marvin."

Along with the new comics, the Brand will feature a new crossword puzzle each day and the popular "Hints from Heloise."

"Several readers have expressed their dismay with our recent decision to discontinue our color comics," said Managing Editor John Brooks. "At that time, though, we were in the process of picking up these new daily strips that we believe will enhance our newspaper."

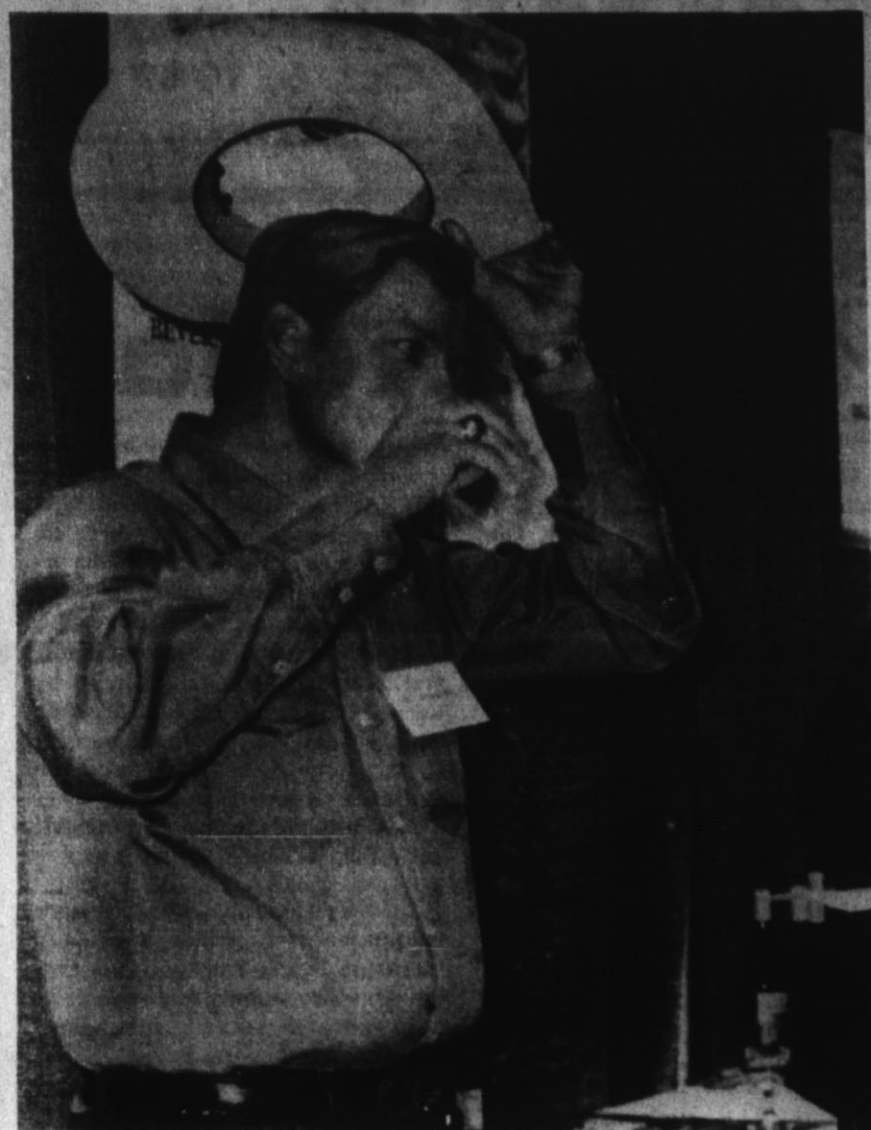

"Instead of having just two strips that are in the Top 20 over the nation, our readers will be able to enjoy six of the best strips in the business.

"We think many of our readers will enjoy 'Hints from Heloise,' and we have several other features, including 'Ask Dr. Lamb,' that our readers will enjoy."

"We're also happy that we were able to add these new features without having raise subscription or advertising rates, which we were faced with if we retained the color comics on Sunday and some of our current strips."

Adults urged to check cholesterol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every adult should find out his or her blood cholesterol measurement and all those with high levels should be treated with strict diets or drugs to reduce this heart disease risk, says a federal health panel. As many as 40 million Americans are candidates for blood fat monitoring and possible treatment, the expert panel said Monday. If doctors follow the guidelines, the panel said, millions of Americans with high cholesterol levels that previously went untreated would be candidates for intensive therapy, primarily in the form of strict low-fat diets. The new recommendations, endorsed by the American Heart Association, the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute and other health groups, said that if diets that reduce fat and cholesterol intake fail to decrease blood fat levels, then cholesterol-lowering drugs should be used. The 22-member panel of heart experts cautioned against the overuse of drugs, particularly because such therapy may have to last a lifetime. If drugs are used as a last resort, it said, older drugs with longer safety records should get preference over some promising new ones, including lovastatin. This drug, approved only last month, is particularly good at dropping levels of the most damaging form of cholesterol, it noted, but the drug's long-term safety has yet to be established. Dr. DeWitt S. Goodman of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City, the panel chairman, said at a news briefing that the new guidelines for the first time offer doctors a step-by-step program for treating each type of patient.

disease and heart attack, the panel said. An unknown, but significant, number of the 500,000 annual deaths from heart disease may be prevented by aggressive cholesterol treatment, Goodman estimated. The panel recommended that Americans aim for total cholesterol levels below 200 milligrams per deciliter, the unit of measurement for blood fats. People in this desirable range should be retested every five years, it added. Patients with confirmed levels of 240 mg-dl or above are at high risk and should receive intensive treatment, said the recommendations. A recent survey showed that only 50 percent of doctors were treating patients at the 240 level by modifying their diets, and only 24 percent of physicians used drug treatment to lower the blood fats at this level, the panel said.

Quakes leave children crying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The powerful earthquakes that rumbled through the area have left children clinging to their parents and teddy bears, worrying about death and waking up from nightmares screaming for the shaking to stop. The youngsters who seem most afraid are those whose parents are the most shaken psychologically by the tremors, doctors said Monday.

Richard said that since Thursday's temblor measuring 6.1 on the Richter scale and the more than two dozen sizable aftershocks, he has seen many children suffering anxiety, headaches and loss of appetite. "This probably has traumatized as many children, if not more children, than it has adults," said Dr. Jerome Oziel, a University of Southern California psychiatrist.

Oziel said he received calls from parents whose children "were unable to sleep at all, slept with teddy bears, or wouldn't sleep unless they could come into their parents' bed or could use a blanket they hadn't used for years." "We've noticed a tremendous response from children, namely fear and anxiety manifested by trouble sleeping at night, lots of trouble separating from mom and dad, excessive fear of getting hurt," said Dr. Thomas Hicklin, psychiatrist and chief of the children's ward at Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center. One Los Angeles parent, Angel Calderon, said nightmares have awakened his two daughters every night since the first quake hit. "They scream to make it stop," said the 30-year-old unemployed laborer. "The fear that it's going to happen again is one of the greatest fears," said Gail Shaeffer, assistant director of Monterey Park's Meher Montessori School. Hicklin urged parents to "talk to their children, and in a kind and loving way find out what their concerns are, reassure them when reassurance is possible, and develop a plan for the family in case of further earthquakes." Parents should review emergency plans with youngsters and have the kids help get supplies in a box, which is reassuring them something is being done, he added. Unfortunately, parents can't assure children more aftershocks won't occur, so youngsters are becoming increasingly anxious, said Margie Pappas, a social worker at El Camino Mental Health Center in Cerritos. Pappas urged parents to tell their children "there probably will be more aftershocks, but they will diminish."

The recommendations, developed after an 18-month study, detail when people should be tested, what types of diets they should get and when drug therapy should be considered, Goodman said. In all cases, he said, at least two courses of a progressively restrictive diet therapy should be tried for at least six months before drugs are considered. An estimated 40 million Americans between the ages of 20 and 74 have moderate to high cholesterol levels that increase their risk of heart

High Court one justice short

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is tackling the touchy issue of racial harassment in the workplace as it begins its new term with a vacancy that may remain for some time. The court, returning from a three-month recess Monday to act on some 1,000 cases, agreed to use the appeal of a black woman from North Carolina to decide whether the remedy for on-the-job racial harassment should be broadened. In most of the cases disposed of on the opening day of the 1987-88 term, the justices simply refused to grant review and allowed lower court rulings to stand.

work slower than whites. The company denied the harassment charges. In other action, the court: —Agreed to examine the right of private clubs to exclude women and racial minorities. —Rejected an appeal by the prestigious Bohemian Club, which is under orders from a California court to consider hiring women as employees. —Turned down an appeal aimed at scuttling the prosecution of Michael K. Deaver, the former presidential aide charged with lying to a grand jury about his lobbying activities. Deaver's trial is to begin Oct. 19. —Said it will consider reinstating a contempt-of-court citation against the Providence Journal for publishing information the FBI obtained while illegally spying on a reputed Mafia boss. A federal appeals court had exonerated the Rhode Island newspaper. —Refused to allow publication of an unauthorized biography of J.D. Salinger that includes quotations from letters the novelist wrote. —Refused to spare former Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos and his wife, Imelda, from going to prison if they refuse to supply documents to a grand jury investigating allegedly corrupt U.S. weapons contracts. —Killed a much-publicized libel lawsuit against The Washington Post by former Mobil Oil Co. President William P. Tavoulareas. —Left intact a qualifying physical test that since 1984 has excluded women from being hired as New York City firefighters.

The flurry of activity was at least partly overshadowed by the continuing battle over Robert H. Bork's nomination to fill the court's ninth seat, vacated by the June retirement of Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. Bork's chances for confirmation suffered major new setbacks Monday with additional announcements of opposition from Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and others. Byrd said the nomination is "doomed," although President Reagan vowed to fight on. The Senate Judiciary Committee was scheduled to vote today and was expected to recommend that Bork be defeated. The high court, meanwhile, will continue to operate with eight justices, raising the possibility of deadlock in key cases. In the racial harassment case, the court will review a ruling by the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals that threw out a suit by Brenda Patterson against her employer, McLean Credit Union. The appeals court, upholding a decision by a federal judge in Winston-Salem, N.C., barred Ms. Patterson from using a civil rights law enacted after the Civil War to charge racial harassment. The appeals court said the law is limited to banning racial discrimination in hiring, firing and promotions. It said Ms. Patterson could charge racial harassment under a 1964 civil rights law. But the more recent statute provides that those who win their lawsuits only may collect back pay, not potentially heavy damage awards for emotional and mental suffering. Ms. Patterson, a teller who was fired in 1982, said she was treated in a demeaning fashion. She said her boss assigned her to dust and sweep and told her blacks are known to rejected or without a recommendation. In either event, Byrd said, "The nomination is doomed." Senate Majority Whip Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said his latest head count showed Bork would be rejected by a Senate vote of 53-42, with five undecided. As Byrd made his announcement Monday, Reagan suffered the loss of two more Republican senators, Lowell P. Weicker Jr. of Connecticut and John H. Chafee of Rhode Island. They said they would join Republicans Arlen Specter of Pennsylvania and Bob Packwood of Oregon in voting against Bork. The president, however, told reporters at a White House Rose Garden ceremony that only "over my dead body" would Bork's nomination be allowed to die in the Judiciary Committee. White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the Bork nomination was "very much alive." After Byrd's announcement, Fitzwater said, "It's getting tougher, but we're still working on it." Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., a Judiciary Committee member who announced he also would vote against Bork, said he had called White House chief of staff Howard H. Baker Jr. and made several suggestions about an alternative nominee. "He said he was not ready to surrender," DeConcini said. An early White House list of potential nominees circulated in Congress before Bork was selected included Heflin and federal appeals court judges Patrick Higginbotham and William Wilkins. DeConcini suggested several appellate judges, along with former Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., former House GOP Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona and Baker himself. The name of conservative Sen. Orrin G. Hatch, R-Utah, a pro-Bork member of the Judiciary Committee, is mentioned frequently in speculation, although Weicker told reporters Monday, "I could not vote for Orrin Hatch." Fitzwater told reporters he would not answer any questions about what might happen if Bork is rejected. Byrd said he would oppose Bork because of concerns about his views on citizen privacy.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor: As past member of the Board of Directors of Deaf Smith General I would like to express my appreciation for the extraordinary efforts of Jim Bullard as hospital administrator. Deaf Smith County has seen the addition of a wide array of medical services to our hospital while most communities of our size have undergone a comparable reduction in services. This contrast exists, in my opinion, solely due to the efforts of Jim Bullard. Some of the services added during Jim's administration are:

- 1. An ambulance service which is the envy of most communities the size of Hereford. I would like to point out that there was not one member of the board, including myself, who encouraged Jim in his efforts to establish this ambulance service. Once he got it funded by the city and the county, the board reluctantly gave its approval. Were it not for Jim's tenacious perseverance in this matter, I certainly do not think we would have the Emergency Medical Facilities and Personnel that we enjoy today.
- 2. Physical Therapy
- 3. Respiratory Therapy
- 4. Urology department.
- 5. Orthopedics and a physician certified in orthopedics at the hospital two full days and three half days per week and who resides in Amarillo. Obviously any problem arising at night will not be handled by the administrator. Sincerely yours, Ed Reinauer, Jr.

Dear editor: The Senior Class of Hereford High School and the faculty sponsors would again like to express their appreciation to all who helped make our Senior Class Supper such a huge success. We especially are grateful to the many businesses and individuals that made contributions that aided in the financial success of the supper. However, inadvertently, in our advertisement in your paper and otherwise, we failed to thank one very important business—that being R&R Ice and its owner, Mr. Robert Rhoton. Mr. Rhoton and R&R Ice has been a gracious supporter of the school and its many organizations on many occasions, and we deeply regret the omission from our "Thank you. Therefore, with our thanks to everyone, we would especially like to take this means to say "Thank You" to Mr. Rhoton. Sincerely, Gene Y. SPS to assist elderly Hereford Senior Citizens and Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) have instituted a program to identify vulnerable elderly citizens in Hereford who may need help, but are unable or reluctant to ask for it. The Gatekeeper program, as it is called, locates and trains "Gatekeepers" to "open the gates" between isolated older people and local organizations that can provide the assistance these people may occasionally need. "The Gatekeeper concept is remarkably simple," says SPS's Hereford district manager, Troy Waddell. "SPS employees with day-to-day customer contacts, such as meter readers and servicemen, are asked to watch out for elderly customers on their routes. If these Gatekeepers see any of several warning signs that indicate an older customer may be experiencing difficulties, they simply report the situation to their local service organization. This organization then is responsible for contacting the elderly person, assessing the situation, and matching that person with the community services or resources they may need. SPS employees involved in the program have been trained to look and listen for certain warning signs—a change in appearance or behavior, signs of confusion or disability, a normally well-kept yard that is left unattended, even an accumulation of newspapers or mail — that may indicate an elderly person in distress. The program will be administered by Hereford Senior Citizens with Southwestern Public Service Company employees serving as the program's "eyes and ears" in the community.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read a letter in your column that really hit home. It was from a girl whose brother had committed suicide recently, and she was upset by the thoughtless and cruel questions people asked.

I am still going through the same thing. My 19-year-old daughter took her own life just last month. She, too, was beautiful, talented and had what everyone thought was "everything going for her."

When something like this happens, there is tremendous guilt among family members and everyone close. The most painful question for me was, "Why did she do it?" Every time I am asked it makes me feel that she would still be with us somehow, if only I had paid more attention, or if I had stayed home that day, and a million other "ifs." Just thinking about it now makes the pain come back, and it's as bad as the day it happened.

What I want to shout to everyone is that "I DON'T KNOW." Don't they think if I had seen it coming I would have moved heaven and earth to prevent it? That girl was my heart and soul.

When something like this happens, just being there and listening means more than anything a person can say. Please, Ann, tell them.—Fontana, Calif.

DEAR FRIEND: Anyone who asks the mother of a suicide, "Why did she do it?" is an insensitive, world-class clod.

The best response is: "I don't have an answer to your question."

My heart aches for you, dear. I cannot imagine a more devastation blow. God bless.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: So many people do the wrong thing when confronted with a grease fire. I hope you will print this so your readers will know what to do.

A friend of mine got some very bad burns on his hands from such a fire. Another friend (also male) nearly lost his home. Strangely enough, more men than women panic and do the wrong thing under these conditions. Please print the instructions.—H.P. in Salt Lake City

DEAR S.L.C.: Several years ago I was frying some onions and eggs and the grease caught fire. The flames shot up to the ceiling and I was petrified. I remembered reading something about smothering the fire with a bigger pan. It worked. I haven't been in the kitchen since.

Here are your suggestions:
HOW TO PUT OUT A GREASE FIRE

1. Keep calm.
2. Turn off the burner if possible. If knob is on back of stove, leave it alone.
3. Do not throw water on the flames.
4. Do not remove the pan from the stove.
5. Carefully place a lid on the burning pan. If no lid is available, use a cookie sheet or any large pan to smother the flame. Unless there are curtains near the blaze there is no reason to worry about the fire spreading. Just let it burn while you calmly go about smothering it.
6. Some authorities recommend throwing baking soda on the flames. In more than 30 years of cooking, I have never had to resort to this.
7. Go over these rules with your children and husband as soon as possible. (Five-year-olds are not too young.) Keep these instructions near the stove.

Mrs. Hamilton brings a variety of experiences in the nursing field including Texas Tech University, a school nurse, and in hospitals as a charge nurse, house supervisor, and surgery supervisor. She was Director of Nursing Services for six years in a 97 bed acute hospital. Through the years she has witnessed many changes in nursing and medicine.

Veleda Study Club discusses framers of the Constitution

Veleda Study Club met in the home of Norma Martin for their regular 4th Monday meeting recently.

Suzanne Stevens dispensed with the business meeting and the hostess, who was also in charge of the program, gave some interesting information on the Constitution Convention and the framers.

George Washington was president of the Convention. The average age of the delegates was 43. Benjamin Franklin, the oldest, was 81 and the youngest delegate was 26. There were 55 delegates to the convention, six of whom signed the Declaration of Independence. Also, 14 land speculators, 34 lawyers, 15 farmers and 16 merchants/businessmen made up the delegation. There were 35 college-educated delegates, 4 were self-taught, 15 owned slaves and 8 were foreign-born.

Rhode Island was not represented at the convention.

There have been 26 amendments approved and added to the Constitution. Seven additional amendments that have been rejected would have: increased membership of the House of Representatives (1789); required the approval of two consecutive Congresses before legislators could increase their own pay (1789); denied citizenship to Americans who accepted foreign titles to interfere with "states' rights" (1861); given Congress power to regulate child labor (1924); guaranteed legal equality for women (1972); granted the District of Columbia representation in Congress (1978).

Martin also showed a film on the life and times of James Madison.

Madison, born into a wealthy Virginia family, planned to become a clergyman. But, after serving in the war, he was elected to Congress. Frustrated by the weak Articles of Confederation, and all the problems between the states, he threw himself into plans for a new government. Madison was considered the convention political mastermind. Madison, from Virginia, and Alexander Hamilton, from New York, led the battle to ratify the Constitution. In 1804 James Madison became the nation's 4th president.

Members in attendance were Marcella Bradley, Marjorie Lassiter, Betty Gilbert, Suzanne Stevens and the hostess.

Women's Health

THE STIGMA OF INCONTINENCE

By George W. Morley, M.D.
President, The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists

Urinary incontinence, or loss of bladder control, is a common and embarrassing problem that can afflict people of any age. But the affliction hits the elderly particularly hard—about 13 percent of all people over 65 have urinary incontinence, and twice as many women as men suffer from it. Despite its prevalence, only some seek help because they feel ashamed, and because incontinence often can mean the first step towards institutional care.

Incontinence, a condition caused by weakened muscles that surround the bladder, can be a symptom of a disease such as multiple sclerosis or cancer. It can range from a slight leakage of urine to a total absence of control. For those with limited control, any physical activity from jogging to coughing and laughing, can cause an accident.

About half of all sufferers of incontinence often sense the urge to urinate frequently, even if they have emptied their bladder a short time earlier. You will recognize this condition if you empty your bladder every hour or so, or get up frequently during the night to void, even if you haven't greatly increased the amount of fluid you are drinking.

If you feel you are suffering from incontinence—and you have resorted to using sanitary pads or diapers to prevent embarrassing leaks—you should visit your doctor for a complete checkup to find out its cause. Most importantly, he or she can show you ways to regain partial or complete bladder control. You can learn simple exercises that will tighten your pelvic muscles. Called "Kegel" exercise, these are fairly simple. Slowly pull in the muscles you use to control urination as if you were going to stop you flow. Hold it for two or three seconds, and gradually relax the muscles. Repeat this exercise as often as possible. The more you do it over a period of months, the better will be the results.

You should realize that you are definitely not alone with this problem. And remember, it is sometimes curable, and almost always manageable. With proper medical help you can go back to leading a normal, happy life.

EXPERIENCE PREFERRED

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Despite the high value placed on an MBA degree, business school graduates are finding that experience is still preferred, says a University of Rochester professor.

George McIsaac of the graduate school of business administration says, "Ten year surveys indicate that manufacturers especially need managers with leadership, communications and decision making skills.

"These skills generally come from experience and education rather than education alone."

During the Middle Ages, the year began at various dates in different times and places. In England it was not until 1751 that January was restored to its place as first month, as it had been during the Roman era.

HHS varsity spikers lose match to Pampa

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

An opportunity to move into a first place tie in the District 1-4A standings was not capitalized on by the Hereford High School varsity volleyball team last Saturday.

Hereford, which continually made good plays to get side outs, had its problems scoring when it had the serve, and suffered a 15-9, 15-7 loss to Pampa in a match played in Hereford.

The loss dropped Hereford to 4-2 in district matches, while Pampa stayed undefeated at 6-0. Hereford is 6-8 for the season and plays at home today against Borger at about 7:30 p.m.

The HHS junior varsity defeated Pampa in a three-game match, 12-15, 15-2, 15-9, and plays today at 6:30 p.m. against Pampa.

On Saturday, Hereford plays at home against Dumas, with the junior varsity game scheduled for 2 p.m. and the varsity match at about 3 p.m.

The Hereford varsity girls had a tough time against the Pampa blockers in game one, losing 15-9. Pampa gained a 7-0 lead, but Hereford rallied to move to within one point, 10-9.

In game two, Hereford gained a 5-2 lead, with the fourth and fifth points scored on serves by Stacy White. Hereford later led 5-4 and 7-4 before Pampa tied the game up at 7-7.

Pampa then scored the last eight points of the game to win, 15-7, and claim a match victory.

Hereford had just two players with more than one kill, Wisty Mars with three and Libby Kosub with two.

Hereford Coach Brenda Reeh said, "We came out expecting Pampa to explode and they didn't. When they didn't do what we expected, we didn't rise to meet the challenge like we should have."

"The tempo of the game was way too slow and neither side fought to change that," she continues.

"The junior varsity played well as a team. We used all of our hitters to our best advantage and that kept Pampa guessing," Coach Reeh adds.

The junior varsity hitters included Poppy Richardson with eight kills, Krystal Sims with five kills, Jill West with four kills, and Linda Cera with three kills.

Richardson also led the team in serving with 12 points served and four service aces. Jessica Dearing served 11 points, Kelli Thames served seven points, and Sims had two kills.

Time has become more and more important to today's consumers. With many women now embarking on dual careers, quality of family and personal time is increasingly difficult to manage.

Just because you're busy doesn't mean you can't serve the best. Convenience doesn't have to mean compromise. Arrowhead Mills offers you a wide variety of quick fixing quality mixes, so you can spend your time where it matters most.

SOLO FLIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — The first airplane flight can be traumatic for children, especially if they are flying alone.

Health Magazine recommends these guidelines to help a child adjust to the flight.

- Look for a nonstop flight.
- Tell the reservation clerk the child is traveling alone.
- Check the ticket to make sure it's correct.
- Make sure the child is carrying cash and identification in case of emergencies.

Special thanks to Garth Thomas and Ruth King of the Disaster Team for their assistance this past weekend and Nell Culpepper and Alice Gilleland, after hours duty workers, for their help this weekend.

Our Chapter has a new video tape "Letter from Bryan" available for programs, classes or for family viewing. This video is aimed at teenagers and is about AIDS, the disease and dealing with various aspects of the disease. Call us at the Red Cross office for any information.

Our health Needs Loan program has hospital beds, crutches, walkers and other health needs available for loan. Call the Red Cross office to inquire about the loan program.

We have lots of infant safety seats available for rent right now. The seats are for infants up to 20 pounds. They are $10.00 at the time of rental and $5.00 is returned when the seat is returned.

Pneumonia can be deadly to elderly

Medicine has helped reduce the incidence of pneumonia in the United States to about one-eighth of what it was in the early 1900s. However, it is still a leading cause of death in America, particularly for the elderly.

According to the Texas Medical Association, pneumonia, including influenza, was the sixth leading cause of death in Texas in 1986.

The word "pneumonia" describes a variety of diseases that cause inflammation or infection of the lungs. About 50 percent of all pneumonia cases are caused by bacteria. Other causes include viruses, fungi, and even toxic chemicals that are inhaled.

Pneumonia strikes when the body's immune system is weak. That is why elderly people with serious and chronic illnesses are especially susceptible to it—the older one gets, the less ability one's body has to fight disease.

Others who are at a higher risk of contracting pneumonia are infants whose immune systems are not fully developed, people whose immune systems have been weakened by disease, and those who drink and smoke excessively, who have damaged respiratory systems, or are malnourished.

Symptoms of the disease include coughing with spitting up of saliva, chest pain, fever, and chills.

Pneumococcal pneumonia accounts for 60 to 90 percent of the bacteria-caused pneumonias. But there is a vaccine for it that has been effective in reducing the risk of infection for the high-risk groups, particularly the elderly. However, children under the age of two (or healthy children of any age) and pregnant women should not take the vaccine. Also, people who have been vaccinated should not be revaccinated.

If you think you may be in a high-risk group and should take the vaccine, ask your doctor.

CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JEWEL!

ONE day some Jewish religious leaders arrived from Jerusalem to investigate Him. And noticed that some of His disciples failed to follow the usual Jewish rituals before eating. (For the Jews, especially the Pharisees, will never eat until they have sprinkled their arms to the elbows, as required by their ancient traditions. So when they come home from the market they must always sprinkle themselves in this way before touching any food. This is but one of many examples of laws and regulations they have clung to for centuries, and still follow, such as their ceremony of cleansing for pots, pans and dishes.) So the religious leaders asked Him, "Why don't your disciples follow our age-old customs? For they eat without first performing the washing ceremony." Jesus replied, "You bunch of hypocrites! Isaiah the prophet described you very well when he said, 'These people speak very prettily about the Lord but they have no love for Him at all. Their worship is a farce, for they claim that God commands the people to obey their petty rules.' How right Isaiah was!

For you ignore God's specific orders and substitute your own traditions. You are simply rejecting God's laws and trampling them under your feet for the sake of tradition. For instance, Moses gave you this law from God: 'Honor your father and mother.' And he said that anyone who speaks against his father or mother must die. But you say it is perfectly all right for a man to disregard his needy parents, telling them, 'Sorry, I can't help you! for I have given to God what I could have given to you.' And so you break the law of God in order to protect your man-made tradition. And this is only one example. There are many, many others."

N.L. championship series begins today

By PAUL LeBAR
AP Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Roger Craig, who has pitched in four World Series but has yet to manage in one, says he's going to pull out all stops to reach his goal.

"I'm going to play every game as if it might be the last game we ever played," Craig said after naming the San Francisco Giants' lineup for tonight's National League playoff opener.

"This is off a right-handed pitcher (Danny Cox of St. Louis)." Craig said of his two left-handed hitting replacements for the switch-hitting Davis and right-handed hitting Leonard. "Milner's my best defensive outfielder. Chili and Hac (Leonard) will be playing a lot."

The Cardinals also are starting their quest for a third World Series berth in six seasons with an altered lineup.

Jack Clark, idled by an ankle injury for almost four weeks, remains available only for pinch hitting. Dan Driessen, 36, who has played for five NL clubs, will fill in for Clark at first base. And in center field, switch-hitting Willie McGee is hampered by a sore left wrist that impairs his swings from the right side.

McGee, at least at the start of the best-of-seven playoff series at 8:30 EDT, tonight will be batting left-handed against Giants right-hander Rick Reuschel, 13-9, a longtime St. Louis nemesis.

"I grew up about three hours from here," Reuschel, 38, the pitcher San Francisco acquired Aug. 21 from the Pittsburgh Pirates, said Monday. "I rooted for the Cardinals and my brother, Paul, rooted for the (Chicago) Cubs."

Reuschel will be pitching to veteran catcher Bob Brenly, also a St. Louis tormentor with four home runs and a .412 batting mark against the Cardinals this year.

The remainder of the Giants' lineup consists of Will Clark, first base; Robby Thompson, second base; Jose Uribe, shortstop; Kevin Mitchell, third base, and Candy Maldonado, right field.

Left-handed hitting Will Clark, who hit 35 home runs and had 91 runs-batted-in in his second major league season, exemplifies the wide power advantage the Giants have over St. Louis.

Excluding Jack Clark, who like Will Clark had 35 homers, the Cardinals hit only 59 homers compared with San Francisco's club-record 205. St. Louis led the majors with 248 stolen bases but totaled only 14 thefts against the Giants in 24 tries.

Brenly and Bob Melvin combined to throw out fleet Vince Coleman (109 steals) five of eight times, but Cardinals shortstop Ozzie Smith stole five times in as many tries against NL West champion San Francisco.

The Giants hold a 7-5 advantage in victories over St. Louis during the regular season.

Cox, 11-9, is coming off his best pitching performance of the season, an 8-2 victory over the Montreal Expos that clinched St. Louis' NL East title, is carrying the Cardinals' hope tonight.

HHS rodeo club members place at Wheeler

Members of the Hereford High School rodeo club recorded seven placings in the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association rodeo at Wheeler last weekend, including two placings each by Regina Lewis and Marcie Smith.

Lewis won the breakaway roping event in a time of 3.205, and also was sixth in goat tying with a time of 12.459.

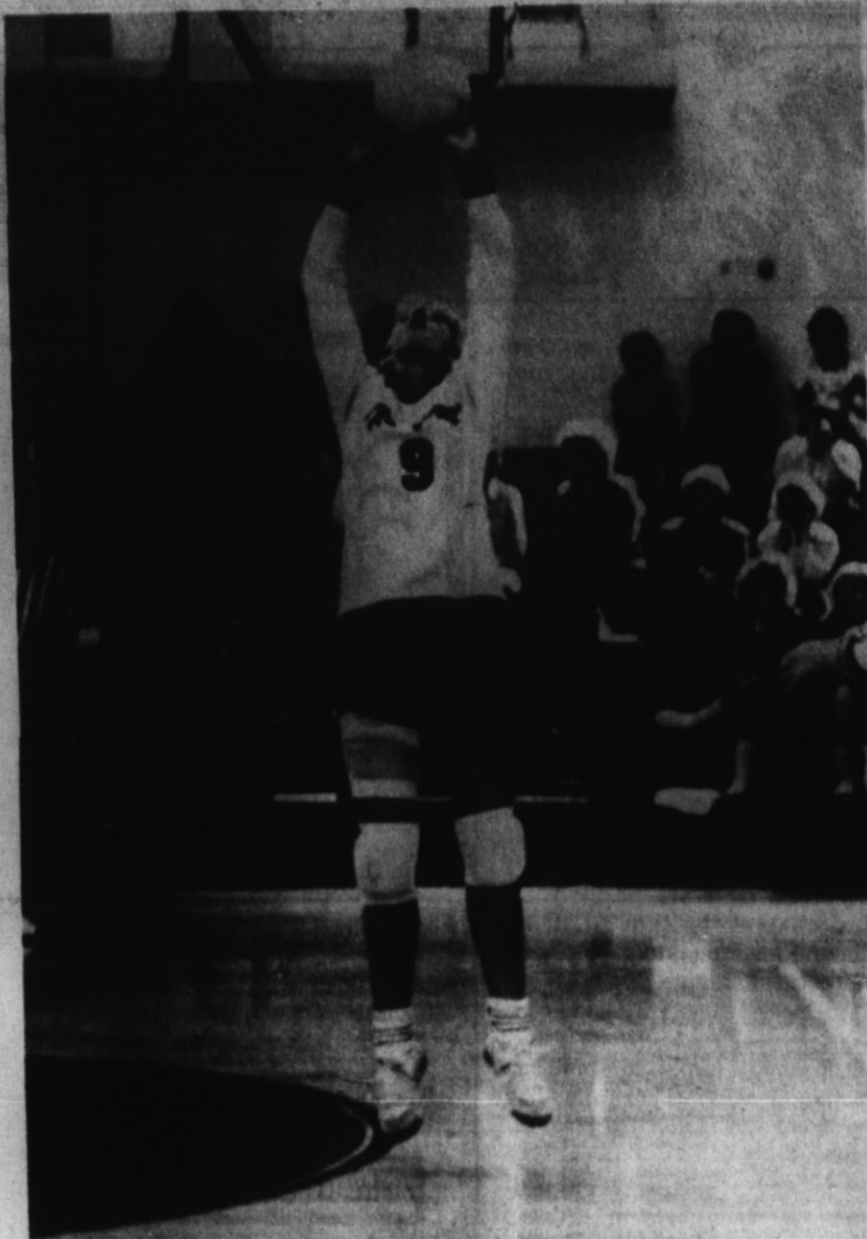

Smith's placings and times were fifth place and 6.234 in breakaway roping, and fifth place and 17.379 in barrel racing.

Also in girls' events, Allison Lookingbill was eighth in breakaway roping with a time of 12.959.

In boys' events, Burt Noland finished in second place in steer wrestling. His time was 6.697.

Billy Stephens of Hereford teamed up with Larry Trimble of Wheeler County for a fifth place finish in team roping. Their time was 12.574.

Two other rodeos remain on the fall schedule — the River Road rodeo on Oct. 10-11, and the Directors Rodeo on Oct. 17-18.

A Set By Richardson

Poppy Richardson had quite a match Saturday for the Hereford High School junior varsity volleyball team, which defeated Pampa, 12-15, 15-2, 15-9. Richardson's statistics for the game were 12 points served, four service aces, eight kills, and 10 good service receptions in 11 attempts. (Brand photo by Gary Christensen)

For A.L. championship series

Tigers are tired, but ready

By MIKE NADEL
AP Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are tension-tested tough. They won the American League pennant and World Series in 1984 and battled down to the final day of this season to win the AL East.

The AL West champion Minnesota Twins, meanwhile, hadn't won their division since 1970. They are 0-6 in playoff games, having been swept by the Baltimore Orioles in both 1969 and 1970. And they won the weak AL West so easily this year that it didn't matter that they lost their final five regular-season games.

But even though the Tigers are on a roll and the Twins are on a skid entering the best-of-seven AL Championship Series that begins Wednesday night at the Metrodome, both teams are expecting a hard-fought series.

"We're tired," Detroit shortstop Alan Trammell said. "We'll come back Wednesday, but right now we're really drained."

Added outfielder Kirk Gibson: "We're tired, but we'll come back. I don't think we'll have any problems bouncing back. Ours is a veteran team. We know what we've got to do. We know the playoffs are going to be hard. (But) we've had our backs up against the wall all season. If that happens again (in the playoffs), maybe this will help us."

However, Twins center fielder Kirby Puckett said experience can help or hurt a team only so much.

"What they did in '84 is over with," he said. "What we've done against them in the past doesn't matter. The five (season-ending losses) in a row are over with and done."

He said that even the Twins' home-field advantage probably doesn't mean much. The Twins had the major-leagues' best home record, 56-25, but were only 2-4 at home against the Tigers this year.

"Detroit's a veteran team," he said. "They're not going to be scared. And we're not trying to scare them, anyway."

Twins Manager Tom Kelly, who on Monday agreed to a contract for 1988, said he thought the Tigers would win the AL East as soon as he saw that the Toronto Blue Jays had three games against a tough Milwaukee team sandwiched between two series against Detroit.

He also said that he respects and likes Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson.

"Sparky's always been very nice, very pleasant," Kelly said. "He had me as a coach on the All-Star team" in 1985, when it was played in the Metrodome.

In Wednesday's opener, the Twins will start left-hander Frank Viola, 17-10, against right-hander Doyle Alexander, 9-0, who came to Detroit in an Aug. 12 trade with Atlanta.

"Alexander is tough, he's very crafty," Twins outfielder Tom Brunansky said. "He knows how to win big games."

That's something the Twins haven't had much practice in the last several years.

On July 4, 1985, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Red Sox, 4-2 in 20 innings, with both starting pitchers, Rube Waddell of the A's and Cy Young of the Red Sox going the distance.
