Fiestas Patrias begins two-day celebration

Amarillo recovering from storm

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer

Many times, the end of Sept. 17 is the heartburn from eating too many tamales or the whooshing sound of the maracas from the brightly dressed mariachi band.

Sept. 16 and 17 (Fiestas Patrias) is the Mexican Americans' chance to celebrate Mexico's independence from Spain in 1821, but just like July 4 for Anglos, the holiday means little more than parties and cookouts.

The Rev. Darryl Birkenfeld, associate pastor at San Jose Catholic Church (the church sponsoring Fiestas Patrias) and Cornelio Castaneda, the church's bookkeeper, hope to change things for this year's celebration.

"We don't plan Fiestas Patrias every year just so we can get together, crown a queen and dance," said Birkenfeld. "Those things are important, but if we don't know what we're doing it for, those things serve no purpose. We're trying to make a definite, conscious effort to let the people know their heritage and where they came from."

Birkenfeld said the emphasis on this year's Fiestas Patrias will be educating the Mexican Americans about Mexico's independence, how the Mexican and American cultures have blended and what the Mexican American's future will be.

"That's the reason we changed up the queen contest this year," said Birkenfeld. "We wanted the girls to do presentations on the past, present and future of the Mexican American, and Delinda (Hernandez, queen) will be giving her presentation on the Mexican American woman Friday night."

FIESTAS PATRIAS SCHEDULE

Friday:

7 p.m. Mass at San Jose Catholic Church, 735 Brevard St.—a special liturgy to celebrate Mexican culture and honor the queen candidates. Bishop Leroy Matthiesen will celebrate the Mass.

8 p.m. After the Mass, Dr. Jose Hinojosa, a political science teacher at Pan Am University in Edinburg, was scheduled to speak but had to cancel due to Hurricane Gilbert.

Delinda Hernandez, Fiestas Patrias queen, will speak on "The Mexican American Woman: Past, Present and Future."

Crowning of the queen.

"Grito de Independencia" and "Tribuna Libre"—re-enactments of Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla's cry for Mexico's independence in 1810.

Singing of the Mexican national anthem and the U.S. national anthem. Refreshments will be served.

Saturday:

3 p.m. Parade to start at the Hereford High School parking lot, winding down Park Avenue and turning left on Main Street to Second Street.

4:30 p.m. Matinee at San Jose Church highlighting a dance troop from Lubbock which will perform Mexican folk dances.

Food sold by the Guadalupanas.

8 p.m. Dance at the Bull Barn.

Touting Mexican Americans

The Rev. Darryl Birkenfeld (left) and Cornelio Castaneda were two of the planners for Fiestas Patrias Sept. 16 and 17. Behind them is San Jose Catholic Church's tile mural of Lady de Guadalupe — a piece of Mexican culture brought to America.

Castaneda said the people will have an opportunity to speak on what Mexican and American independence mean to them Friday night and singing both country's national anthems, he said, should cement the feelings that the Mexican Americans haven't lost their Mexican heritage but have meshed it with the American culture.

"I'm looking forward to the Grito de Independencia," Castaneda said. "We're gonna give a big shout for independence just like they did in 1821 in Mexico. They had to shout so that all the surrounding villages could know there was a revolution going on."

Fiestas Patrias received a blow this morning, however, when Birkenfeld found out Dr. Jose Hinojosa, a political science teacher at Pan Am University in Edinburg, would not be able to speak either Friday or Saturday nights because of Hurricane Gilbert.

"We really wanted him to speak Friday night, but we'll think of something else to do," said Birkenfeld.

Meanwhile, Birkenfeld and Castaneda are scurrying to let Hereford know about the festival and how important it is.

"The reason we need to celebrate this is to keep the culture alive," Birkenfeld said.

"The struggle for independence is still going on today in certain respects. We have to realize that America is not a melting pot. It's a tapestry. There's all kinds of pressure to be the same as everyone else, but once a person steps out of a culture, that person has to say, 'What's important to me and what do I want to give up?'"

Spain had ruled for 300 years

After 300 years of Spanish rule, New Spain (Mexico) was ready for independence, especially the creoles—Spanish people born in Mexico.

Spurred by the American and French Revolutions and political confusion after the French invaded Spain in 1808, a creole priest named Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla launched the Mexican War of Independence Sept. 15, 1810.

After calling Indians and mestizos (Mexicans) to church, Hidalgo's followers the Grito de Dolores (Cry of Dolores) in which he demanded independence from Spain.

Armed with axes, clubs and knives, Hidalgo's followers soon spread the word that a revolution was erupting. Hidalgo controlled most of New Spain, but he later was captured by Spanish troops and executed in 1811.

Another priest, Jose Maria Morelos y Pavon, took over and captured Acapulco in 1813, declaring Mexico independent and organizing a government. His liberal reform, however, did not satisfy the creoles, so they banded behind Ferdinand VII, king of Spain.

In 1820, a liberal revolt swept Spain and Ferdinand was forced to accept a constitution limiting his power. This frightened the conservatives in New Spain, so the conservatives secretly decided to bring about independence their own way.

They persuaded the king to send their military leader, Agustin de Iturbide, to crush the revolutionaries, led by Vicente Guerrero. Instead, Iturbide and Guerrero agreed in February, 1821, to make Mexico independent. Mexico finally did become free by the end of 1821.

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Emergency personnel searched through the wreckage of homes in southwest Amarillo early today, searching for victims of a possible tornado that roared through a neighborhood as a furious thunderstorm raced across this Texas Panhandle city.

Golf ball-size hail accompanied the storm and street flooding was widespread following the severe thunderstorm. Two Interstate highways that pass through the city were closed in places with water as deep as five feet in some areas, authorities said.

Officials said they were optimistic that no one had been killed. Amarillo authorities several people suffered apparently minor injuries, such as cuts and bruises, but no one had been treated at area hospitals.

Roofs were blown off, power lines and poles were downed, fences were uprooted and windows were smashed as the violent weather struck a neighborhood and a mobile home park.

Authorities were reluctant to officially call the destructive weather a tornado, but eyewitnesses reported seeing a twister.

Heavy rainfall flooded streets and highways in the Amarillo area. Both Interstate 40 and Interstate 27 were covered by as much as five feet of water in some areas of Amarillo, the National Weather Service reported.

About two hours earlier, the NWS reported a tornado sighting about 10 miles south of Bushland in the Hereford officially received 1.76 inch of rain at KPAN in rains that began at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday. There was a smattering of hail in parts of the city that accompanied the heaviest storm, at about 9 p.m., but there were no damage reports.

The largest local report was from Easter Grain, where Eddie Matthews recorded 2.4 inches of rain and "a little bit of hail," Matthews said. "There was more hail to the south of us."

J.E. McCabe reported two inches of rain with no hail and little high wind at Dawn, and Cal Mitts at Northwest Grain said they received about 1.5 inch.

Bobby Hammock recorded .75 inch at the county barn at Bootleg, west of Hereford. Bruce Coleman recorded .11 inch near Walcott.

Coast keeps Gilbert watch

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — Schools closed, hospitals transferred patients and prison officials moved inmates to other facilities as thousands of Texas coastal residents braced themselves for Hurricane Gilbert.

The entire Texas coast was under a hurricane watch early today. Forecasters said hurricane warnings were expected to be posted for some of the coast later today after the 450-mile wide killer storm struck with 23-foot waves as it crossed Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula and moved into the Gulf of Mexico.

At 5 a.m. CDT, the center of the storm was near latitude 22 north and longitude 91.5 west about 465 miles southeast of Brownsville, Texas, according to the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

Hurricane center director Robert Sheets said the hurricane was expected to make landfall about midday Friday and that its sustained winds would today "certainly increase to 130, 140 miles per hour." It earlier packed sustained winds of more than 175 mph with gusts to around 200 mph.

Brownsville was deemed the most likely target, with a 21 percent probability of being hit, though a hurricane watch was in effect along the entire Texas coast as well as the northeastern Mexican coast from Tampico.

Pahandle. Bushland is located just west of Amarillo on Interstate 40. A tornado warning had expired at 9:50 p.m. when the Texas Department of Public Safety reported a tornado sighting in the southwest edge of Amarillo.

"I saw a funnel 200 yards from my house coming down the alley," said Van Weigle. His wife, Debbie, had looked out the back door first and called him and their friend, Mike Denham. Said Weigle, "It tore off the roof of the house next to us."

The tornado bounced over his house, and then dumped a neighbor's shed in his yard, Weigle said.

"I've never been in one (tornado) before," he said. "It's the kind of thing you joke about until you see one in your alley. It sounded like a train."

Twelve homes were damaged in the area around Weigle's home.

"A three-to-four block area is pretty messed up," he said.

Amarillo Police Sgt. Tom Porter said the damage was confined to a 6-8 square block area.

The storm caused a power outage to about 1,370 homes and businesses, according to James Hoard, public information supervisor for Southwestern Public Service Co.

Another 1,000 customers had been plunged into darkness when Lawrence Lake flooded during heavy rainfall and soaked SPS's underground equipment at a sub-station.

Utility company employees worked early today to restore power.

Sue Robinson of the American Red Cross said a shelter was set up at Trinity Fellowship Church, but there were no immediate reports that anyone had taken advantage of the offer of shelter.

Water was waist deep in some areas of Amarillo.

A flash flood warning was issued by the National Weather Service, but only 1.11 inches of rain was measured officially at Amarillo International Airport. Authorities said 2.76 inches fell in southwest Amarillo.

Golf ball-sized hail was reported near Boys Ranch in the Panhandle earlier Wednesday night and golf ball-size hail was reported in portions of Amarillo during the thunderstorm. Two of the city's television stations were knocked off the air during the storm.

The hurricane center said Gilbert was the most intense storm on record in terms of barometric pressure, which was measured at 26.31 inches, breaking the 26.35 inches recorded for the 1935 hurricane that devastated the Florida Keys.

Grocery and hardware stores were swamped with shoppers and lumber and water supplies were reported in short supply throughout the region.

"Our business is, essentially, going off the wall right now," said Richard Cashman, president of the Houston Division of Sierra Spring Water Co., Inc.

Late Wednesday, Gov. Bill Clements issued an emergency proclamation that will allow local authorities to temporarily suspend "applicable rules, regulations and statutes to preserve the health, safety and welfare of the public," including such things as the direction of highways.

"This is an extremely dangerous storm that poses a serious threat to the Texas Coast," Clements said in issuing the proclamation, which went into effect at midnight.

NASA cited potential disruptions at the flight control center in Houston by the hurricane in delaying the announcement of a launch date for the shuttle Discovery.

A 44-year-old woman was arrested on a Deaf Smith County warrant for theft by check and a woman, 27, was arrested on a county warrant for probation revocation.

A ma, 46, was jailed on a court order for alcoholism treatment.

United Way report good

Wayne Amstutz of United Way of Deaf Smith County reported that the 1988 campaign has already reached 12 percent of its $123,500 goal in the drive's first week.

Divisions reporting the best results so far include corporate gifts, 58 percent of the goal; agriculture, 31 percent; and Golden Age, 30 percent.

Police activity light

The Hereford Police Department reported only one arrest on Wednesday.

A 35-year-old man was arrested at Nueces Street and Park Avenue on a Deaf Smith County warrant for issuance of a bad check. Police also reported a bicycle was found in the 100 block of Avenue H.

Fifteen citations were issued and two accidents without injuries were reported.

By JOHN BROOKS
I really don't know how I found the time to write a column, but I did.

I'm not about to complain about the way things are going. I've got more money than John Connally, better ethics than Jimmy Swaggart, and more girlfriends than Rock Hudson, so things aren't going too bad.

Either The Rapture came and went and none of us went, or it ain't happened. There are some people still around who are a lot more deserving than me, so I guess I didn't get overlooked.

I would hope that if you were really banking on The Rapture taking place sometime early this week you aren't too terribly disappointed. If you'll look it up in your Bible, you'll see there are plenty of signs to look for, but no man knows the day or the hour.

The best advice is to look at it like a Boy Scout: Be Prepared.

While we're on the general subject of religious writings, I want to let you know that you'll enjoy a story our crack writer, Andrea Hooten, is working on. It'll be in Sunday's Brand.

bb
What did we do before cable?

I sat, in the privacy of my own living room with the opportunity to pick from 27 different channels, and watched all of the The Weather Channel stuff on Hurricane Gilbert.

Shoot, what about pre-television? I guess they just relied on the Atwater

Kent or Philco or RCA or whatever kind of radio just happened to be there.

Some of you don't care for that old Texas boy Dan Rather, but his book is pretty good. It's called The Camera Never Blinks. You can tell from the title it was written before his six-minute temper-tantrum last year that caused CBS to go "black" after the U.S. Open was over.

Anyway, hurricane coverage was kinda new in 1960, and there was a big one fixing to blow into Houston. Rather was at one of the Houston TV stations and played it by ear for about three days.

He patched into the radar out at the Galveston weather bureau. It was one of the first times they had seen this on TV, and they were amazed. "Course, that's common stuff around here now, but in 1960 it was brand new.

If you're one of the Rather-haters, you'll be amused by his little anecdote about how they went out to do a live report from the middle of all the flooding and how there were all sorts of snakes swimming around them. Rather said they were up to their belly-buttons, or some other nearby anatomical feature, in snakes, and he was not happy.

On that occasion, Rather did not storm off the set.

Anyway, it looks like there's fixing to be another big blow coming in to the Texas coast. With the size of this storm, and since we're closer to the coast than, say, Fargo, N.D., we might get some rain just right for our 1989 wheat crop.

Wright answers questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Jim Wright spent 5½ hours presenting his case before the House ethics committee that is investigating allegations against him, then made a strong pitch to the panel to wrap up its work within the next month.

"It was very friendly, very frank, very candid and open," Wright, D-Texas, said of his unusual daylong, closed-door session Wednesday with the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct. Wright was accompanied by his attorney, William Oldaker.

"I said, 'Let's come to a resolution of it.' After all, the facts are clear. If they discover that I have done something wrong inadvertently, they should say that." But Wright said he did not anticipate such a result.

"Nobody has suggested in this whole day's hearing that I did," he said.

Committee Chairman Rep. Julian Dixon, D-Calif., said Wright's testimony was completed, but he declined to say how far the investigation had progressed. The panel was scheduled to meet again today.

Wright declined to discuss with reporters the details of his testimony, which was given under oath, but said: "I answered every question."

In a statement issued by Wright's office, he said he had given the panel "a factual clarification of the erroneous, incomplete and misleading charges which have been made."

The committee since June has been investigating charges that Wright received unduly high royalties on a book he wrote with help from tax-paid staff and published through a longtime friend in Fort Worth who had done campaign work for the speaker.

Other allegations are that Wright improperly intervened with federal regulators on behalf of Texas businesses and that he used a Fort Worth condominium owned by a family with whom he had business ties.

"It should be abundantly clear that the charges against me hold no water whatsoever," Wright said. "I believe that is clear to the committee."

Bentsen: Dukakis defense-minded

DALLAS (AP) — Democratic vice presidential nominee Lloyd Bentsen has found some resistance as he battles to sell defense-minded Texans on the idea that running mate Michael Dukakis is an advocate of a strong military.

Bentsen was heckled constantly on Wednesday by a cadre of George Bush supporters in a home-state audience of defense industry employees who heard him present the Democratic ticket's position that the Republicans put too much emphasis on space weapons and not enough on conventional forces.

Charges that Dukakis would weaken defense were "wild charges and innuendo from the vice president and his handlers," Bentsen told employees of the LTV missile division. "That's campaign hot air, a hit-and-run attack staged for the evening news network."

"If I believed there were a thread of truth in that tapestry of partisan blame, I would not be campaigning with Mike Dukakis," he said.

Bentsen fought repeated shouts from hecklers as he delivered the message. For a short time, one man shouted rebuttals to nearly every statement Bentsen made, including yelling "bull" each time the Texas senator listed a Dukakis position in favor of a military program.

The normally unflappable Bentsen fumbled over parts of his speech, at one point calling the location of the plant "Grand Rapids" instead of "Grand Prairie" before catching himself.

At the end of the speech, when he asserted that Dukakis would set higher moral standards to complement the weapons, Bentsen said that included "the right to speak — of hecklers like that one."

Bentsen planned to announce today that a Texas business group would work for the Democratic ticket. He was then traveling to Shreveport, La., a campaign stop that might be shelved depending on Hurricane Gilbert, and to Memphis, Tenn.

It was announced Wednesday that Bentsen would debate Indiana Sen. Dan Quayle, the Republican vice presidential nominee, on Oct. 5 in Omaha, Neb.

Bentsen, in a statement Wednesday afternoon, said he was looking forward to the meeting.

GILBERT

Bolivar Peninsula to leave immediately, citing poor road conditions that could hinder later escape.

Ferris Collier, police chief of Crystal Beach, a small community on the peninsula across the bay from Galveston, said most of the peninsula's estimated 3,000 residents were heeding the call.

"Some of them are being stubborn and are saying they're staying no matter what," he said. "But if it hits here, they won't be here any more."

Officials fear that high tides might flood Texas Highway 87, the only escape route by land.

"We felt it was better to have people make an orderly evacuation this evening rather than trying to wait until dark or trying to wait until tomorrow when it maybe too late," Crystal Beach Mayor Bill Kelsey said.

For much of Wednesday, Bolivar ferries carried peninsula residents to Galveston. The ferries are expected to remain active until the tides reach 4½ feet above normal, officials said.

Two Galveston residents were arrested Wednesday for trying to sell plywood at an inflated price just hours after the city council passed an emergency ordinance designed to stem price gouging by local merchants.

The Galveston ordinance freezes prices and rents at what they were on Wednesday until the council rescinds the measure and carries a $500 fine per violation.

School and university officials throughout the coastal areas ordered the institutions closed today and Friday.

Some coastal hospitals were preparing to evacuate all but the most seriously ill patients and the personnel required to handle those patients and possible storm victims.

"At this point, we're already trying to reduce our patient census down to those who are critically ill or in need of constant health care," Leann Teymour of University of Texas-Medical Branch at Galveston said Wednesday. "And we've asked our (1,600) students to evacuate after their last classes today."

"We now have 633 patients and we're hoping to get that down to about 400," Ms. Teymour said. St. Mary's Hospital in Galveston also moved some patients to Houston, officials said.

Also being moved for safety reasons were 4,200 Texas prison inmates.

Inmates from four Brazoria County units and the prison hospital in Galveston were transferred by bus Wednesday to more inland units in Brazoria and Walker counties, said Texas Department of Corrections spokesman Charles Brown.

Preparations were being made for evacuations from the southern tip of the state to the Louisiana border, and Jefferson County officials said a Thursday evacuation is possible if the storm shows a clearer path toward the eastern Texas coast.

"You cannot evacuate people at night and you can't evacuate people when the winds and rain have already started," said Port Arthur police Lt. B.D. Spradlin, who also serves as deputy coordinator of the city's emergency management team.

"This storm is so big that we'll have to have an early evacuation once there is some indication it's headed this way," Spradlin said. "You've got to get them out while the sun's still shining."

New and improved heart shock devices could save lives of cardiac arrest victims

BOSTON (AP) — New, easy-to-use heart shock machines are a "very, very important advance" that improve the odds of saving many of the 400,000 Americans who die each year of cardiac arrest, researchers reported today.

Researchers in Seattle found that giving the devices to firefighters allowed them to revive heart victims who would have died if care were left to paramedics who arrived just minutes behind them.

"There is no question that this is a very, very important advance in treating prehospital cardiac arrest victims," said Dr. Donald D. Brown, who has worked with the devices at the University of Iowa.

The machines cost between $4,000 and $7,000 and are highly sophisticated versions of the defibrillators, which doctors and paramedics have used for decades. But unlike their forerunners, these devices are so automated they require little training to operate.

When attached to the chest of someone who has collapsed, the device will check the victim's heart and deliver a shock if it finds cardiac arrest, a disastrous interruption in the heart's blood-pumping rhythm. If given soon enough, the shock almost always restarts the stalled heart.

Dr. W. Douglas Weaver of Harborview Medical Center in Seattle, who directed the study, recommended that the devices be available in police cars, fire trucks, ambulances, office buildings, stadiums and anywhere crowds gather.

"Many communities that have not been able to deliver definitive care to cardiac arrest victims will be able to do so with the advent of this new technology," Weaver said in an interview.

Weaver's work was published in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

In an accompanying editorial, Dr. Jeremy N. Ruskin of Massachusetts General Hospital called cardiac arrest "the most important public health problem in the United States."

The Seattle results with the automatic defibrillator "provide strong support for its use by those first on the scene," he wrote.

"Their conclusions are very important and very valid," said Dr. Philip Podrid of Boston University Medical Center. "This is an electrical problem. It requires immediate response and definitive therapy."

During cardiac arrest, the heart suddenly stops pumping blood due to a disruption in its electrical signals, and the victims falls unconscious. Unless the heart starts beating within four to eight minutes, brain damage or death are likely.

Most victims have not had heart attacks. So if their heartbeat is restored quickly, they often live for years without permanent heart damage.

Frequently the first to respond to cardiac arrest are firefighters or police, who administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation but not electric shocks.

"You can do the best CPR in the world, and unless you can deliver a shock in that eight-minute window, the likelihood of survival goes down dramatically," Weaver said.

In the study, Seattle firefighters were given four hours of training in use of the new defibrillators. Firefighters who arrived first to treat someone gave shocks to 276 patients, while 228 others got only CPR until paramedics showed up a few minutes later. Thirty percent of those treated first by the firefighters survived, compared with 17 percent of those given shocks by later-arriving paramedics.

Witherspoons to host membership party

The Circle of Friends, a volunteer organization established to work in support of cancer patients and the programs which benefit them, is expanding its membership to the Hereford area.

The Hereford Circle of Friends will host a membership party from 7-10 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Witherspoon. Reservations for the cocktail buffet Saturday are being accepted by Mrs. Milton Rudder, party chairman. Annual membership dues are $15 per person or $25 per couple.

There are currently over 1,000 Circle of Friends members in the Panhandle region. The group provides needy cancer patients with financial assistance for out-of-pocket expenses not covered by insurance. Each year, more than $12,000 is donated for costs such as travel, nutritional supplements and lodging. An informational brochure is available so physicians, social workers and patients may be aware of the services available to them.

The Circle of Friends also helps support the research and patient care programs of The Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center in Amarillo. Over 215 patients from Hereford have received care at Harrington Cancer Center. Volunteers participate in special events and generate interest and support for the center throughout the Panhandle.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You generally tell a woman to ask herself that well-known question, "Are you better off with him or without him?" Often you go on to say, "If you decide you want to take him back, forgive and forget and don't insist on knowing all the details of his infidelity."

I decided I did want him back so I forgave and tried to forget those eight months of hell when we were separated. When we reconciled, he told me some hair-raising stories about group sex, with both men and women. I was shocked.

Finally, I insisted that we both be tested for AIDS. I confess I wasn't surprised when we both tested positive for the AIDS antibodies. There has been absolutely nothing in my past that could have caused me to test positive, so I know I was infected by him.

I realize that testing positive does not mean that we will develop full-blown AIDS, but the fear is there. I would like to suggest to any woman in these circumstances that she think about where and with whom her ex may have been, and if there is the slightest question, ask him to be checked before you take him back.

I love my husband and will stay with him, but had I known then what I know now, I would not have taken him back.—Southwest USA

DEAR USA: What a tragic story. AIDS has added a dimension to infidelity that no one dreamed of 10 years ago. I am sad for you, dear, and hope that you will have many more years of good health.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm writing about the Scrabble Player's Dictionary you suggested: The words you gave as examples that might come in handy, such as quaid, gindar, ixodid or xu, might be OK for use, in a New York tournament, but here in Texas, we don't cotton to such fancy language.

If anybody tries to get away with high-falutin made-up foreign words in a game with me, I will goph the zlogy faqir right in the muzjik.—H.M. in Dallas

DEAR DALLAS: According to my Chicago Scrabble maven, gophing in the muzjik is strictly against the rules. An alert judge will throw you out on your ixodid.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As a woman who has spent all of her working life in hospitals, may I applaud "Mr R." for his compassion concerning the rape victim who was treated with shameful insensitivity by the emergency room personnel while his?? young granddaughter was left alone in the waiting room.

Your suggestion about contacting the hospital administrator was good, but I have a better suggestion for someone who needs help from higher up when a person is being mistreated or ignored: Get to the nursing supervisor in charge. If using an inside line to page the supervisor is difficult, call the hospital switchboard from a pay phone.

The nursing supervisors are usually no-nonsense people who will be on the patient's side, even to the point of reporting the doctors who may own the hospital. I have seen it done.

Nursing supervisors are overworked, but they are sensitive and caring people who know the hospital inside out, and what's more, they have the authority to straighten out problems and they do it all the time.

*Many thanks for all the help you give people.—N.J.B. in Honolulu

DEAR HONOLULU: And thanks to you and all the others who give me the benefit of your experience. There's an awful lot of wisdom out there.

Abundant Life

DAILY GRATITUDE
By Bob Wear

Whatever our lot in life, there must surely be something for which we can be and should be grateful. In order for this to help us, we must do more than give lip service to the importance of gratitude, we must let it be real and influential. We must do this amid the problems, trials and difficulties which are also part of our life reality. Maintaining justified gratitude does not eliminate the problems, the trials and the difficulties; but it will help establish and maintain the balance which is so essential to satisfactory living.

Our gratitude, however much or little, must be heartfelt so that it can make the fullest possible contribution to our spirit. Daily gratitude may even do more than establish and maintain the essential balance that is so important in daily living; it may and can be the dominant force in our life. If and when it is, we will be more effective in coping with our problems and difficulties. There is no way to over-emphasize the importance of being grateful, sincerely grateful.

Ingratitude has been called the besetting sin of mankind. It may be, but I don't know whether it is or not; however, I do know that it causes the loss of some of the best of the good things. "The surest way to doom yourself to an increasingly worse future is to develop an ungrateful spirit."—J. Miller.

Daily gratitude is essential to personal strength, and it also helps us to feel and express the 'good cheer' which can do so much for us and for everybody we meet along the way. There are other desirable personal benefits accruing from 'daily gratitude.' There is certainly a time, a place, a need, and a justification for 'gratitude', expressed gratitude.

Gratitude has been called "the mother of virtues."

Where's the beef?

Pat Goforth, Therese Albracht and Norma Hendon of the Hereford Ladies Golf Association look over entries in this weekend's Couples Tournament at Pitman

Municipal Golf Course. While the tournament is full, golfers will have an opportunity to win $100 beef certificates in a long-drive competition over the weekend.

HLGA beefs up contest

Hereford golfers will have a chance to win a $100 beef certificate in a long-drive contest Saturday and Sunday at the Hereford Municipal Golf Course's driving range.

The contest is being sponsored by the Hereford Ladies Golf Association in conjunction with the group's Couples Tournament this weekend.

Golfers will have an opportunity to hit three balls for $5, and a $100 beef certificate will be awarded to the man and woman with the longest drive. The beef certificates were donated by area feedyards, and the entry fees will be used by the HLGA to defray some of the tournament expenses.

"The tournament is always full, and we always have a waiting list of people who want to enter the tournament," explained Cindy Simons of the HLGA. "We figured this was a way to get more people involved this weekend."

The contest will be run before the tournament's tee-off times, from 8-9 a.m. and 1-2 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

Persons wishing to enter the contest may sign up at the golf course pro shop.

A&M might postpone game

By The Associated Press

Officials of the University of Alabama and Texas A&M are considering postponing Saturday's football game at College Station, Texas because of uncertainty over the direction of Hurricane Gilbert.

The National Weather Service predicted that Gilbert had an 11 percent chance of hitting the coast at Galveston, Texas, about 150 miles south of A&M's stadium. Winds of 70 mph were predicted for Saturday at College Station.

"In a 70 mph wind you couldn't even set the ball down, and if you kicked it into the wind, the ball would sail back over your head," Alabama athletic director Steve Sloan said Wednesday. "Nobody would be at the game because they'd all be in shelters."

Sloan said the schools were considering postponing the game, possibly until Dec. 3, when both teams are idle.

Texas A&M associate athletic director John David Crow said a decision could come today on whether to play the game. But Aggies coach Jackie Sherrill said the decision might not come until Friday.

While Sloan discussed the possibility of postponing the game until December, Sherrill put forth another plan.

"We have a contingency plan to change it to Sunday night if the hurricane interferes," Sherrill said. "We won't know for another day or two. We could play it Sunday night or go ahead and play it Saturday or Saturday night. We really don't know."

Alabama coach Bill Curry, however, said the Tide will not play on Sunday.

"I'm not playing Sunday night," he said. "Right now, we're counting on lining up at 3:07 p.m. on Saturday and playing. Other than that, I don't know anything else unless it will go to December."

Sloan said the Tide's scheduled flight to College Station on Friday is "definitely out."

"If we go, we'll probably have to fly into Dallas or maybe somewhere even farther north and bus down to College Station."

"We may not travel to Texas A&M Saturday," Curry said Wednesday. "The storm is scheduled to get there before we do."

Herd eighth in Harris

Hereford's upset win over the Class 5A Palo Duro Dons last week vaulted the Whitefaces from 28th to 8th in the Harris Rating System, it was revealed Wednesday in the schoolboy power rating feature.

Hereford opens District 1-4A competition tonight in Lubbock against the Estacado Matadors in one of the state's headline games. Estacado is ranked 10th in Class 4A by the Associated Press poll, which picks only 10 teams. The Harris system gives the nod to Hereford by one point.

Jasper replaces West Orange-Stark as the top team in AAAA, according to the Harris poll. Also rated above the Herd are Kerrville Tivy, Sweetwater, Highland Park, Brownwood and Kilgore.

Other regional teams in the top 10 include Odessa Permian, third in 5A;

Ageless Ryan rocks Reds, 7-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — The calendar says Nolan Ryan is getting old, but the Cincinnati Reds certainly don't see it that way.

"Who said he's getting old?" Manager Pete Rose asked Wednesday night after the 41-year-old Ryan allowed just four hits and struck out 13 in Houston's 7-1 drubbing of the Reds.

"He's a better pitcher now," Rose said. "He has better control. He uses his change-up to get left-handed hitters out."

But the fastball was Ryan's main weapon Wednesday night as he out-pitched Cincinnati left-hander Danny Jackson.

Ryan, 12-11, retired 15 of the first 16 batters he faced, striking out eight.

"He threw a couple of pitches 95, 96 miles per hour in the first inning," Rose marveled.

Ryan kept cruising. He allowed three singles and a solo homer in the seventh inning by Kai Daniels, his 17th.

The victory gave Ryan consecutive complete games for the first time since August 1983. Ryan has completed four of his 32 starts this year.

"Maybe he's getting better," Daniels suggested.

Ryan has allowed just four earned runs and 22 hits in his last five starts, covering 39 innings, and hasn't allowed a walk in his last 20 innings.

The control has helped him dig out of a midseason rut, when he went 0-5 with a 6.20 earned run average in seven starts between June 4 and July 4.

"In June, every time I made a bad pitch, it cost me," Ryan said. "You start getting defensive. The key is my control has been much better the last five or six starts."

His counterpart knows how it feels to pay for mistakes. Jackson, 21-7, was battered for seven runs and seven hits in 5 1-3 innings as he failed in his attempt to become the major leagues' first 22-game winner.

The Astros have given Jackson his biggest problems this season. The left-hander is 0-3 in three starts against Houston, giving up 17 runs and 22 hits in 15 innings.

"Three times he's pitched against them, and all three times they've beat him and hit some balls hard," Rose said. "Maybe this is one of those teams (for Jackson). Everybody has some teams you can't get out, and some teams you can't get out."

Jackson's biggest nemesis Wednesday was Rafael Ramirez, who hit a two-run double and a two-run homer.

Glenn Davis put the Astros ahead with a solo homer in the second, his 28th. Daniels' play in left field then fueled a three-run fourth.

Kevin Bass started the rally with a one-out liner that Daniels overran, letting it fly past him for a triple.

"I broke and I looked up and I didn't see it. It's as simple as that," Daniels said.

The 333 players chosen in the 1986 National Football League draft were from 141 schools.

Hershiser extends streak

By The Associated Press

Orel Hershiser has pitched three straight shutouts and hasn't been scored on for 31 consecutive innings, yet he's only halfway to Don Drysdale's record of 50 2-3 innings.

Hershiser doesn't think he'll reach that record. "What Don's done is one of the most unbelievable feats in baseball history and it's one of those records that'll never be broken," Hershiser said Wednesday night after pitching a six-hitter to lead the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 1-0 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Hershiser, 21-8, has thrown six consecutive complete games, giving him 13. He has six shutouts, tying teammate Tim Leary and Cincinnati's Danny Jackson for the league lead. He's not thinking about trying to beat out Jackson as the best pitcher in the National League.

"I have three starts to go and a playoff game to worry about," Hershiser said. "I'm not thinking about Danny Jackson and the Cy Young."

In other games, Houston beat Cincinnati 7-1, New York beat Chicago 3-1, Pittsburgh beat Montreal 4-1 in 12 innings, Philadelphia beat St.

Louis 9-2 and San Francisco beat San Diego 6-5.

Hershiser, who has more shutouts than the Baltimore Orioles, the New York Yankees or the Atlanta Braves, didn't think he had his good stuff.

"Tonight's game was the worst I've pitched and the most inconsistent I've been in the last five or six games," said Hershiser, who stranded Atlanta runners in scoring position three times, including a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning.

Kirk Gibson walked to lead off the ninth and, with Gibson running on a 2-2 pitch, Mike Marshall hit a line drive down the right-field line for a double as Gibson scored.

Rick Mahler, 9-15, remained winless since Aug. 5. He pitched a five-hitter, striking out three.

Sid Fernandez and Roger McDowell combined on a four-hitter and New York won for the sixth time in seven games, lowering its magic number to nine in the National League East.

Fernandez, 9-10, pitched seven innings before being taken out because of soreness in his left knee. He gave up three hits, struck out eight and walked three. McDowell pitched two innings for his 16th save.

Calvin Schiraldi, 8-12, lost. New York scored in the second on Howard Johnson's RBI triple, Wally Backman's RBI double and Mookie Wilson RBI triple.

Pirates 4, Expos 1
Bobby Bonilla hit a three-run homer in the 12th inning, his first home run since Aug. 14.

Jose Lind hit a two-out double off Tim Burke, 3-4, and Andy Van Slyke was intentionally walked before Bonilla hit his 21st homer.

Brian Fisher, 8-10, allowed one hit in two innings.

Phillies 9, Cardinals 2
Bob Sebra won for the first time since July 12, 1967, and Lance Parrish hit a two-run homer.

Jackie Gutierrez hit a two-run single in a four-run third inning as the Cardinals lost their third straight.

Sebra, 1-2, allowed two runs and four hits in five innings. Greg Mathews, 4-6, gave up six hits and five runs in 2 1/3 innings.

Giants 6, Padres 5
Don Robinson gave up eight hits in seven innings and San Francisco tied a National League record with four sacrifice flies as the Giants completed a three-game sweep.

Robinson, 7-4, struck out one and walked none. Craig Lefferts got the final out for his ninth save. Jimmy Jones, 9-13, gave up seven hits and four runs in three innings, his shortest outing this season.

Tuinei's turmoil almost over

IRVING, Texas (AP) — For six years Mark Tuinei has labored on the lines of the Dallas Cowboys, seemingly never to find a position to call his own.

"It's been frustrating," Tuinei said Wednesday from the team's Valley Ranch headquarters. "Sometimes I wish they (the Cowboys) would make up their minds where they want to play me."

Tuinei is a journeyman in the truest sense of the word. In college, all his efforts were concentrated on learning the trade tricks of a defensive lineman. He was a starter at defensive tackle his sophomore year at UCLA before transferring to the University of Hawaii where he was raised.

Nagging injuries hampered him throughout his senior year and he was bypassed by all 28 teams in the NFL draft.

However, the Cowboys signed him to a free agent contract in 1983. He made the team that year as a defensive tackle. Two years later, Tuinei made the first of many back-and-forth moves to the offensive line, this time to backup center Tom Rafferty.

During training camp for the '86 season, Tuinei was used at all three positions on the offensive line except tight end. "That was pretty bizarre," Tuinei said. "I couldn't zone in on any one position. I was very glad when they finally let me play just one position."

Just when Tuinei began to get comfortable at offensive tackle, injuries to defensive linemen Kevin Brooks and Don Smerek forced him to split time in practice every week between the two lines.

"It got to the point where it was just a challenge every day to go to practice and see where I was going to play," Tuinei said. "I wasn't sure what was up in their minds, but I was happy to be on the team so I didn't complain."

Tuinei finally secured the starting left offensive tackle in the sixth week of the season, just one week after he had led the defensive linemen in tackles (six) against the Denver Broncos.

Now, Tuinei starts at left tackle and doubles as the back up to Rafferty at center. And, even though he has found a home at tackle, he would much prefer to be elsewhere.

"Defense is my first love," Tuinei said. "If I had my choice that's where I would play. But, I know that isn't going to happen so I've resigned myself to that fact. I do wish they would say I'm the center of the future or something like that. I really don't know what they are thinking, they haven't told me anything except they want me to back up Rafferty for now and to be ready if he goes down."

Gilbert, Gililand talk of trip to Australia

Linda Gilbert and Amy Gililand, both members of the Hereford Chamber Singers, presented a program on their trip to Australia when members of the Women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church met recently in the home of Frances Henen. Buddy McBrayer served as co-hostess.

President Meredith Wilcox presided over the meeting and the devotional was read by Jerre Clark from the publication, "Day by Day." Also, literature was read from St. Jude's School in Arizona to which the women contribute.

The Women's conference to be held this month in Amarillo was discussed. Serving as delegates will be Wilcox, Clark, Mary Fraser and Vera Threewit. A thank you note was read from Kim Emerick expressing her appreciation to the group for her graduation gift, "Book of Common Prayer."

The women regretfully accepted a letter of resignation from Meredith Wilcox who will be moving with her husband to Oklahoma City, Okla.

AVALON, Calif. (AP) — Ashby Harper, who's held records as the oldest to swim across the English Channel and around Manhattan, had to stop a 19.1-mile ocean swim midway between Santa Catalina Island and the mainland when he fell ill.

Harper, 71, said he had completed nine miles through the 68-degree Pacific Ocean waters when he was forced to stop Tuesday because he became nauseated and aggravated an old shoulder injury.

Harper, who plunged into the water at the island's Emerald Cove at 11 p.m. on Monday, was forced to quit at 5:45 a.m.

"I feel fine physically," he said in a ship-to-shore telephone interview about an hour after he climbed aboard his escort boat, the Golden Greek. "But I'm naturally disappointed."

He doesn't plan to try the endurance swim again this summer. "If I do try again, it will be next summer, I think," said Harper, adding, "I'm only 71, you know."

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Mats Wilander, the U.S. Open champion and top-ranked tennis player in the world, says he's withdrawing from the Olympic Games because of a leg injury.

"I'm not going to Seoul," Wilander told the Swedish news agency TT from his home in Greenwich, Conn., on Tuesday. "It's not worth it. I have a problem with shin splits in my leg and I'm not going to take a chance."

Wilander had indicated after his five-set victory over Ivan Lendl in Sunday's U.S. Open final that he would skip the Olympic Games, which begin this weekend.

Wilander, who was troubled by peritonitis five weeks ago during the ATP Championships in Cincinnati, was advised by his doctor to withdraw from the Olympics, TT said.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Broadcast analyst Hank Stram, who coached the Kansas City Chiefs to three American Football League championships and a Super Bowl victory, was listed in stable condition after undergoing open heart surgery.

Doctors at Methodist Hospital replaced Stram's aortic valve with an artificial one during a four-hour operation Tuesday, a hospital spokesman said.

Stram, 65, was suffering from calcific aortic stenosis, a narrowing of the aortic valve, said his surgeon, Harold Holbrook. The aorta is the main artery of the body and carries blood from the left chamber of the heart to all parts of the body.

"Doctors report that the surgery went well and described it as routine," said hospital spokesman Jon White.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Burl Ives the balladeer will become Walt Whitman the poet during a one-man show that depicts the 19th century literary master on the day after his 70th birthday.

"I would say he is the most singular man since Christ in his work," Ives said in a recent interview. "I believe he had that kind of freedom, understanding and compassion. Emerson termed 'Leaves of Grass' the most extraordinary piece of wit and wisdom, but the Victorian world wasn't ready for Whitman's celebration of the human body and spirit."

Ives, 79, who won an Academy Award for best supporting actor for "The Big Country" in 1958, and wife, Dorothy, chose to write the script for "The Mystic Trumpeter — Whitman at 70" because they were unable to find a playwright who was as familiar with Whitman's works as they were.

Now You're Cooking

By GAYE B. REILY
Staff Writer

Sharon Cummings' family and neighbors can be grateful to the Girl Scouts: that organization was responsible for her cooking expertise.

"I love to cook. When my family isn't hungry but I feel like cooking anyway, I'll take the food to my grandparents in Amarillo, to school, or to my neighbors," said Cummings, who resides at 706 Cherokee.

"I learned to prepare a complete meal from start to finish when I was a fourth grader, thanks to Girl Scouts," she said. "My mother was a Girl Scout leader and she helped me earn badges by helping me with cooking projects. I had smaller siblings, so I was a help to Mother in the kitchen."

Cummings and her husband, David, are the parents of two sons, Kevin, age seven, and Kasey, age two. Members of First United Methodist Church, the family moved to Hereford from Perryton almost five years ago; she teaches sixth grade at Shirley Elementary School and he is manager of Anthony's in Dimmitt.

A graduate of Perryton High School, Mrs. Cummings attended North Texas State University, acquired hours at Panhandle State University and Frank Phillips College, and received a degree in elementary education from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. It was there that she met David, who was stationed at Dyess Air Force Base. They married and returned to the Texas Panhandle, where they lived in various cities prior to their move to Hereford.

Now, when she isn't cooking a meal or some tasty dessert, Cummings enjoys such craft work as knitting, crocheting, cross stitch, needlepoint and embroidery. She has begun making rag rug pillows and enjoys sewing. She once was active in various clubs and organizations but such activity declined with the arrival of her children.

"I am a past worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, was in Young Homemakers, helped in FHA activities, was a Girl Scout Leader, and taught Sunday School. Now I try to spend time with the children, taking them to museums, libraries, and playing games with them."

Some of Cummings' favorite recipes follow:

RANCH ROUND STEAK

3 lbs. beef round steak, ½" thick, cut in serving size pieces

¼ c. flour

2 tsp. dry mustard

salt and pepper

¼ c. salad oil

1 Tbsp. Worcestershire Sauce

Trim excess fat from meat; slash edges to prevent curling. Combine flour, dry mustard, 1½ tsp. salt, and ¼ t. pepper. Use to coat meat; reserve remaining mixture.

In skillet, brown meat, half at a time on both sides in hot oil. Push meat to one side; stir in reserved flour mixture.

Combine ½ c. water and Worcestershire sauce; stir into skillet. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly; reduce heat. Simmer meat in gravy, covered, for 1 to 1½ hours or until tender.

Remove meat to warm serving platter. Skim excess fat from gravy, drizzle over meat or, if desired, pass with the meat.

PUMPKIN CAKE

3 c. sugar

1 c. shortening

3 eggs

1 can pumpkin

3 c. flour

1 tsp. soda

¼ tsp. salt

½ tsp. each of cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon

1 tsp. vanilla

Cream shortening, sugar, and add eggs. Sift dry ingredients and add to creamed mixture. Add pumpkin and mix after each addition.

Bake in bundt pan 1 hour at 350 degrees. Cool, then spread icing on top of cake (recipe follows).

ICING FOR PUMPKIN CAKE

1-8 oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened

1 stick margarine, softened

4½ c. powdered sugar

2 tsp. vanilla

Beat all ingredients together. Spread icing on cake.

FRESH APPLE PIE

4-6 fresh cooking apples

¾ c. brown sugar

½ c. white sugar

2 Tbsp. flour

2 tsp. cinnamon

½ pint of whipping cream

¾ stick of margarine

Pie crust for 9-10" two-layer deep dish pie

Put bottom crust into deep dish 10" pie plate. Peel, core, and chop apples into small pieces. Place into crust. Mix brown sugar, white sugar, flour, and cinnamon. (This mixture will be crumbly.)

Spread over apples. Pour whipping cream (from carton) over apple and flour mixture. Cut margarine into pats on top of this; put top crust on. Make slits in top crust and bake at 350 degrees for approximately 45 minutes to an hour.

HEATH BARS

½ lb. butter (not margarine)

1 c. brown sugar

1 Tbsp. Karo syrup

3 Hershey bars or 1 12 oz. bag chocolate chips

2-3 c. roasted almonds or pecans (To roast nuts, place almonds or pecans on buttered cookie sheet. Bake in oven at 250 degrees for 20 minutes.)

Cook butter, brown sugar, and syrup in saucepan, stirring constantly, to the hard crack stage (300 degrees).

Pour mixture on top of roasted nuts spread out on a cookie sheet. Put chocolate on top while mixture is still hot. Once chocolate has melted, spread across top. Let cool, then break into pieces.

MUNICIPAL BONDS

NEW YORK (AP) — There are a number of points to consider before buying municipal bonds, according to Michael S. Applebaum.

Applebaum, a Shearson Lehman Hutton vice president, says the first point you should consider is the tax bracket you are in and what your income is. In addition, he says, other points to consider include: What after tax income are you seeking? Will the bonds play a significant role in decreasing your taxes? Will increasing your municipal bond portfolio decrease your taxes even more?

Increased cocaine use leads to more study

Cocaine has been used by more than 22 million Americans, and 6 million are estimated to be addicts, according to the September issue of Texas Medicine. This marks a 400% increase in use of cocaine from 1972 to 1982. Because cocaine is now considered perhaps more addictive than heroin, the medical community has found that AIDS is a hazard for those who abuse the drug intravenously.

In the 1970s, there still was a question about the additive qualities of cocaine, according to author K.J. Krajewski, MD, Assistant Professor and Director of Undergraduate Education, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, The University of Texas Medical School, Houston. As of 1987, several disorders had been associated with cocaine abuse including dependence, intoxication, withdrawal, and delirium, states the article in the official journal of the Texas Medical Association.

"The staggering growth of cocaine abuse also has implications in the AIDS epidemic," writes Dr. Krajewski. This is because drug abusers are the second most commonly affected by AIDS and intravenous drug abuse taxes the immune system, he adds.

"A number of obstetrical and gynecological conditions have been associated with cocaine abuse," according to the article. These include spontaneous abortion, premature labor, and menstrual irregularities. Also significant is that cocaine abuse among women is approaching that of men. This pattern is different than of other drugs that are abused, explains

Dr. Krajewski. The article concludes that the popularity of cocaine use and associated medical problems has led more persons to seek medical treatment, placing significant demands on the health care system.

The only American author to win the Pulitzer Prize four times was poet Robert Frost.

Installation ceremonies conducted by Weemes

Hereford Young Homemakers Club officers for the 1988-89 HYH year were installed during a meeting Tuesday in the Southwestern Public Service Ruddy Room.

Tommie Weemes served as installing officer when the following officers accepted their positions and duties: president, Andi Hudgens; vice president, Dahlene Burns; treasurer, Melinda Henson; secretary, Gene Ann Marasco; and reporter-historian, Teresa Peiffer. Stacey Lee will serve as the club's advisor during the year.

President Hudgens presided over the business meeting when the group discussed plans for the annual Rotary Club's Halloween Carnival. Tasks were assigned.

Recognized as special guests were Tommie and Cieta Weemes and Stacey Lee.

The next meeting was planned Oct. 13 in the home of Janice Coulter. All members must give a list of prospective new members to Burns prior to the meeting. The program, to be given by Coulter, will concern easy-to-afford clothing a woman can make herself.

Friendship supper discussed

Noble Grand Dorothy Lundry presided at the business meeting of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 when the group met Tuesday evening with 13 members present.

The papaya is a highly nutritious food, an excellent source of protein, minerals, and fruit acids.

Plans were made for a friendship supper to observe the 137th anniversary of the founding of Rebekah Lodge. Other district lodges will be guests.

Twenty-one visits to the sick and 14 cheer cards were reported for the week.

Lundry served as hostess to Susie Curtsinger, Erma Loving, Jim Loving, Ben Conklin, Anna Conklin, Jo Irlbeck, Anthony Irlbeck, Nelma Sowell, Lydia Hopson, Verna Sowell, Ursalee Jacobsen and Gene Bishop.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1988

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that when the federal government reimburses the state for expenditures of state funds dedicated to acquiring rights-of-way and for constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways, such federal funds must also be used for those purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury. The fund would consist of one half of the unencumbered balance of general revenues at the end of a biennium and three fourths of the difference between the net oil and gas production taxes received in a fiscal year and the net oil and gas production taxes received in the 1987 fiscal year. During any fiscal biennium, the amount in the economic stabilization fund could not exceed 10% of the total deposited in general revenue in the preceding biennium. The state comptroller and the state treasurer could decide to transfer monies from the fund into the general revenue fund to alleviate a temporary cash shortage in general revenue. The legislature could make appropriations from the fund on approval by a three fifths vote of each house to make up the difference between anticipated general revenue and appropriations. On approval of two thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, the legislature could appropriate monies from the fund for any purpose.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen shortfalls in revenue."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that establishes the Texas growth fund. All investments of the Texas growth fund must be directly related to furthering economic growth and employment opportunities in Texas. At least 50 percent of the fund must be invested in equity and/or debt security for the initial construction, expansion, or modernization of business or industrial facilities in Texas. Not more than ten percent of the fund may be invested in venture capital investments. Of the funds available for venture capital investments, not more than 25 percent may be invested unilaterally, and the remaining investments must be matched at least equally by funds from other sources. The Texas growth fund will be managed by a board of trustees consisting of four members appointed by the Governor and one member from and elected by the membership of each of the following: The Board of Regents of the University of Texas System; The Board of Regents of the Texas A&M System; The Board of Trustees of the Teacher's Retirement System of Texas; The Board of Trustees of the Employee's Retirement System of Texas; and the State Board of Education. The trustees may set the investment policy of the fund, enter into investment contracts, and take any action necessary for the creation, administration, and protection of the fund. The amendment authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the State Board of Education, in managing the permanent university fund and the permanent school fund, to acquire, exchange, sell, supervise, manage, or retain any kind of investment, including investments in the Texas growth fund. The fund will be phased out after the tenth anniversary of its creation, but the Legislature may create a second growth fund by a two thirds vote of each house.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."

Estos son los informes explinatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitucion que aparecen en la boleta el dia 8 de noviembre de 1988. Clements, Red Sox ready for Yankees

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

Bring on the Yankees! Roger Clemens and the Boston Red Sox are anxious to play and rest of the American League East is eager to watch.

Tonight at Fenway Park, New York and the division-leading Red Sox begin the biggest four-game series in baseball this year. Clemens will oppose Rick Rhoden in a rivalry that is hot even when the standings mean nothing.

Boston starts with a 4½-game lead after both contenders won Wednesday night. Milwaukee, which won, and Detroit, which lost, are 5½ games behind.

"It's been tough to keep our concentration the way everybody has been talking about the Yankees and the big series," said Mike Greenwell, who hit for the cycle as Boston beat Baltimore 4-3 and completed a three-game sweep at Fenway.

The Red Sox have won eight of 10 while New York made it six of seven with a 7-5 victory in Cleveland. Boston is 4-2 against the Yankees this season.

"We've had intensity and the guys are playing hard," New York manager Lou Piniella said. "This is going to be a fun series."

Elsewhere, Milwaukee defeated Chicago 4-2, Toronto downed Detroit 3-2, Texas trounced Oakland 9-1, Seattle stopped Minnesota 2-0 and Kansas City beat California 4-2.

Greenwell became the 17th Boston player to hit for the cycle and the first since Sept. 18, 1985. Greenwell went 4-for-4 and scored three times, including the tiebreaking run in the sixth inning on Ellis Burks' sacrifice fly.

"This is something you dream about and to do it to help a win in a pennant race is a great feeling," Greenwell said.

Greenwell hit his 21st homer in the second, lined a double to right and scored in the fourth, had a wind-blown triple in the sixth and singled in the eighth.

Mike Boddicker, traded by Baltimore to Boston on July 29, faced his former team for the first time and won. Boddicker went seven innings and allowed two earned runs on six hits.

Lee Smith went the ninth for his 26th save. Jose Bautista, 6-14, was the loser.

Yankees 7, Indians 5

Dave Winfield hit a three-run homer in the first inning, leading New York to victory in Cleveland.

Rich Dotson, 10-9, ended his five-game losing streak. Dale Mohorcic pitched 3 2-3 innings for his sixth save.

Jay Bell hit a solo home run and Mel Hall had a two-run double for the visiting Indians.

Blue Jays 3, Tigers 2

George Bell's tiebreaking single in the eighth inning helped Toronto continue Detroit's slump.

The score was tied at 1-1 when the host Blue Jays loaded the bases in the eighth against Walt Terrell, 7-14. Bell met Mike Henneman with a single and another run scored on a wild pitch.

Fred Lynn led off the Tigers' ninth with his 22nd home run, but Duane Ward, 9-2, finished for the victory.

Brewers 4, White Sox 2

Rob Deer and Robin Yount drove in two runs each as Milwaukee kept its hopes alive by winning in Chicago.

Bill Wegman, 12-11, shut out the White Sox until Dan Pasqua and Mike Diaz hit consecutive homers in the sixth. Paul Mirabella went 3 1-3 innings for his second save.

Rangers 9, Athletics 1

Texas' rookie battery of pitcher Kevin Brown and catcher Chad Kreuter was too much for Oakland.

Kreuter, in his first major league game, hit a leadoff single and three-run homer during a nine-run fifth inning.

Brown pitched a six-hitter in his first big league appearance since 1986. He lost his shutout in the ninth on Terry Steinbach's RBI single.

The Rangers pounded Dave Stewart, 18-12, for all nine runs.

Mariners 2, Twins 0

Mark Langston pitched three-hit ball for eight innings and Steve Balboni homered as Seattle defeated visiting Minnesota.

Langston, 12-11, struck out six. Mike Schooler pitched a hitless ninth for his 13th save.

Balboni hit his 20th home run against Fred Toliver, 7-4.

Royals 4, Angels 2

Floyd Bannister checked California on three hits over seven innings and Pat Tabler drove in two runs as Kansas City won in California.

Bannister, 11-12, struck out seven and beat the Angels for the second time in eight days. Steve Farr got his 20th save.

Gaylord will buy Rangers

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma publisher Edward L. Gaylord says one of the major factors in his decision to exercise his option to purchase the Texas Rangers was his desire to keep the team in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Gaylord announced Wednesday that he has decided to purchase Eddie Chiles' 58 percent interest in the Rangers. The price tag for the Rangers and Arlington Stadium is an estimated $80 million.

He said in a statement issued from his Oklahoma City office that he was reluctant to sell his company's interest in the Rangers to "another party whose allegiance may be stronger to cities in another state than to the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolis."

Gaylord's Dallas-based Gaylord Broadcasting Co. already owns about a third of the American League baseball club and he said the company "could be" interested in eventually obtaining the outstanding 8 percent of the team owned by a few limited partners.

Gaylord, who has the first option on any sale by Chiles, said he's committed to improvements that will bring a winner to Texas and the Southwest.

"But we have to wait to get approval first and I don't know how long that will take, whether it will be weeks or months," Gaylord said. "There definitely could be improvements in the marketing, but that takes time and there's no point in talking about that until, and if, we get it."

Gaylord had tried to purchase the club from Chiles two years ago but his bid was rejected 12-1 by the owners of the other American League clubs.

The owners then said they denied Gaylord ownership because they were concerned that his ownership of television station KTVT might result in the team's games being carried nationwide, hurting gates at other American League cities.

Gaylord said he thinks "from what I've read" that the purchase will be approved this time.

Gaylord is president and publisher of The Oklahoma Publishing Co., which is the parent company for Dallas-based Gaylord Broadcasting.

A group headed by Tampa, Fla., automobile dealer Frank Morsani had agreed in principle to buy the team from Chiles, who later expressed regret that he hadn't gotten them to agree to not move the team from Texas.

"We knew going in (Gaylord) had that option," Morsani said. "Whether he will be approved is another matter. We've been working on it for six years. We've had disappointments before, but we're tenacious. We've always said we're running a parallel course, so we will continue to push for expansion."

Chiles said from Fort Worth, Texas, that he was pleased with the announcement.

"I am happy to place the future of this franchise in his hands," Chiles said. "Edward Gaylord has been an outstanding minority partner the last 3½ years."

"I am very pleased that Gaylord Broadcasting Co. has decided to exercise its option ... As existing partners Gaylord Broadcasting is familiar with the commitments and direction that the Rangers are taking and I am confident it will continue these in the pursuit of building a winning tradition."

Chiles said he believed Gaylord "has demonstrated to all of baseball that he has been a strong and responsible minority partner and I am hopeful that the major league owners will give their approval to this transaction."

Rangers President Mike Stone also said he was pleased with Gaylord's action and "hopefully he will be successful in his bid to buy the Texas Rangers."

He has not talked to Gaylord. "I'm not going to speculate on what the owners think or feel," Stone said. "I think Mr. Gaylord has demonstrated that he is a very responsible owner."

Here's a look at SWC games

DALLAS (AP) — Here are previews of college football games of Sept. 17 involving Southwest Conference teams:

BAYLOR (2-0) at IOWA STATE (1-0) — 12 Noon (CDT). Raycom Sports Telecast — Baylor faces its second consecutive Big Eight Conference foe in a row seeking to become the first SWC team to win three games in 1988. The Bears meet the Cyclones for the first time in school history. Baylor has an all-time mark of 15-17 against the Big 8. The Cyclones stand 1-7 against SWC foes, with their victory coming against the Rice Owls. Baylor Coach Grant Teaff is 140-127-7 (26 years) overall and is approaching his 100th win as the Bears' all-time football leader at 98-81-5 (17 seasons). Iowa State head coach Jim Walden is 48-60-4 (11 years) overall and 4-8 (two years) at the helm of the Cyclones.

HOUSTON (1-0) at MISSOURI (1-0) — 1:30 p.m. (CDT) — Missouri engages in its 45th game with SWC opponents, and Houston goes after its fifth win in the last six games. Missouri is 16-27-1 against Southwest Conference teams. Saturday's game marks the first meeting between UH and Mizzou. Houston upset Oklahoma State 28-12 at Stillwater in 1986 the last time the Cougars vied with a Big Eight opponent. Both teams' head coaches are veterans of the coaching ranks but are relatively new to the college chiefs' roles. UH head coach Jack Pardee is 5-6-1 (second season) in the college position and has the same mark at Houston. Missouri coach Woody Widehofer is 10-24-0 (fourth year), all with the Tigers. Houston has been the most potent passing team in the conference since Sept., 1987, with 3,824 yards passing in the last 12 games and an SWC-high 549 yards against Louisiana Tech.

ALABAMA (1-0) at TEXAS A&M (0-2) — 3:00 p.m. (CDT). ESPN Telecast — Teams vying for national rankings battle in the Aggies' home opener at Kyle Field. It's the fourth meeting between the Crimson Tide and A&M. The Crimson Tide has had 17-14-1 success against SWC teams down through the years, and its last meeting with the SWC was against the Aggies in 1985. UA head coach Bill Curry is 39-48-4 (nine years) at Georgia Tech and Alabama and 8-5 (two years) with the Tide only. A&M head coach Jackie Sherrill, a 1966 Alabama graduate and teammate of Alabama director of athletics Steve Sloan under legendary head coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, is approaching 100 career victories at 98-42-2 (13 seasons) overall and 45-25-1 (seven years) with the Aggies.

NEW MEXICO (1-1) at TEXAS (0-1) — 7:00 p.m. (CDT) — Texas starts the home portion of its 1988 season at Memorial Stadium against the pass-oriented Lobos of the Western Athletic Conference. It marks the second meeting in Longhorns-Lobos history and first in 40 years. New Mexico is 5-33-2 in previous games with SWC teams. Texas, which has an all-time series mark of 5-3 with WAC opposition, is hoping to bounce back from a 47-4 loss at Brigham Young of the WAC last Thursday. Lobos' head coach is 17-30 (five years) overall as a head coach and 1-12 (second year) at the UNM helm. Longhorns' head coach David McWilliams is 14-10 (three seasons) overall and 7-6 (two years) at Texas.

MISSISSIPPI (1-1) vs. ARKANSAS (2-0) at Little Rock — 7:00 p.m. (CDT) — Arkansas seeks its third consecutive victory against a non-conference foe in the traditional tilt between bordering states. The schools disagree on the series as Arkansas shows a 18-15-1 advantage over the Rebels while UM has the rivalry 17-16-1 Arkansas' way. The Rebels have a 38-31-1 lead over all SWC grid opponents entering their 71st meeting with the conference. UM, seeking to stop a three-game dominance by the Razorbacks since 1985 (the teams tied 14-14 in 1984). Head coach Billy Brewer of Mississippi is 84-68-6 (15 years) in the college ranks and 27-29-3 (six seasons) with the Rebels.

BOWLING GREEN (0-2) at TCU (0-1) — 7:30 p.m. (CDT) — Second meeting between the Falcons and a Southwest Conference squad, when they lost to Baylor in 1981. Falcons' head coach Moe Ankney is 10-14 (third year) as a college mentor, and all three campaigns have been at BGSU. TCU head coach Jim Wacker is 124-68-3 (18 years) overall and 20-32-2 (sixth year) at TCU.
