We can do that here

Telephone ordering of Christmas gifts is not just something that has to be done through a catalog or in a big city -- it is a service that is available right here in Hereford at Boots and Saddle Western Wear, 513 N. 25 Mile Avenue. Tenna Reinauer, left, writes down the order, while Linda Block watches on. Orders of western clothing and gift items can be gift wrapped as well, enabling customers to make a purchase and give it without ever seeing what they bought. The store is just one of many Hereford companies that provide that special local touch to holiday shopping.

State food banks low on food as Thanksgiving approaches

By JERI CLAUSING
Associated Press Writer

Nearly bare cupboards at some state food banks have given many officials food for thought and worry but little else for donations.

Some Dallas-area groups say that dwindling supplies could mean no Thanksgiving baskets for the hungry this year.

The North Texas Food Bank, which serves Dallas charities, says that corporate donations have dropped as companies cut back to remain competitive.

"I don't remember a fall when we've had such a low inventory," said Lori Palmer, executive director of the North Texas Food Bank.

One West Texas charity likened the hard times to the oil-bust '80s.

"We're in a quandary as to what is happening," said Bob Moore, executive director of the San Antonio Food Bank.

"We've done a whole lot of brainstorming around here trying to figure out what the problem is," Moore said.

Moore said money donations are "down somewhat" from last year, but that mostly actual food donations have declined.

During an annual food drive the first week of October, the food bank collected 136,000 pounds at grocery stores, schools and other sites. That is down from 158,000 pounds last year.

"It's a pretty sad situation throughout," he said, referring to the rest of the state.

Moore said he is not sure why donations have decreased, but speculated the causes may be the economy or that donors are "tapped out" after having helped in food drives last summer for Midwest flood victims.

Houston was the exception, reporting that donations were up last month.

"October was a very, very good month for us. We were up 27 percent over last year," said David Williams, director of the Houston Food Bank.

Mexican Senate passes free trade by 56-2 count

MEXICO CITY (AP) - The NAFTA debate ran about as long in Mexico's Senate as it did in the U.S. House, with one big distinction: there was never any question of the outcome.

The Senate passed the treaty easily by a vote of 56-2 late Monday after almost 12 hours of debate that dragged on because each senator was allowed to have his say.

The result was icing on the cake for Mexican President Carlos Salinas de Gortari, who has made the North American Free Trade Agreement the centerpiece of his sweeping economic reforms.

His Institutional Revolutionary Party, or PRI, controls 61 of the 64 Senate seats, though six PRI senators were absent for the vote. Under Mexican law, a vote of the lower House of Deputies was not required to approve the treaty legislation.

Sen. Porfirio Munoz Ledo of the left-leaning Democratic Revolution Party told his fellow senators the agreement favored Mexico's powerful neighbors to the north.

He said NAFTA, which would join Mexico with the United States and Canada in the world's largest trade zone, was a "colonial-type pact" that will "turn our country over to the foreigners."

After Munoz Ledo spoke, ruling party Sen. Carlos Sales Gutierrez accused Munoz Ledo of making "false statements."

"The country you see and the country I see are very different, sir," Sales Gutierrez said.

NAFTA opponents here worry that opening the borders will give the United States greater control over their economy, politics and culture.

They also say Mexico will be unable to control the flood of American and Canadian investors setting up shop south of the border because they will receive the same treatment as Mexican companies.

Free-trade proponents say NAFTA will create jobs in Mexico and help raise the standard of living. Commerce Secretary Jaime Serra Puche defended NAFTA on national television Sunday, calling it fair.

Arctic front sweeping in on the Panhandle

By The Associated Press

A strong Arctic cold front was expected to move into the Panhandle tonight, bringing with it much colder temperatures across the northern half of the state and the possibility of freezing precipitation.

There is a chance of snow in the Panhandle and rain or freezing rain in the South Plains tonight and Wednesday.

Forecasters say light snow is possible in northeastern sections of the Panhandle with light freezing rain or snow across the rest of the Panhandle on Wednesday.

There will be light rain in the South Plains and the low rolling plains and the arrival of much colder air that could change to light freezing rain by Wednesday night.

Some light snow is possible on Thanksgiving Day in the Panhandle and South Plains. Some light freezing rain is possible in the Permian Basin.

In North Texas, temperatures will be turning much colder tonight, but the chance of freezing precipitation will likely hold off until Wednesday night or Thanksgiving Day.

The cold front is expected to arrive in North Texas before dawn Wednesday, moving southward to a line from Paris to Hillsboro to San Saba.

There is a chance of light freezing rain, sleet or snow across the northwestern two-thirds of North Texas Wednesday night and Thursday.

The National Weather Service says the frozen precipitation will be northwest of a line from Longview to Temple.

It will be a drastic change of weather in North Texas where the afternoon high today was expected to climb into the lower 70s.

South Texas will have partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures.

Lows tonight will be in the 20s in the Panhandle, the 30s in the South Plains and in the 40s and 50s elsewhere across West Texas, in the 30s and 40s in North Texas and in the 50s and 60s in South Texas.

Highs Wednesday will be in the 20s in the Panhandle, the 30s in the South Plains and in the 60s and 70s elsewhere in West Texas.

Kennedy shooting site proclaimed as landmark

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) - With an assassin's nest as a bleak backdrop, Dallas unveiled a simple but eternal tribute to the memory of slain President John F. Kennedy.

Twin fighter jets thundered low above Dealey Plaza and a flock of white doves fluttered skyward at the exact moment of the assassination 30 years ago.

It was Monday, 12:30 p.m. Texas time, Nov. 22, then and now.

In 1963, a clock atop the Texas School Book Depository recorded the time as a sniper on the sixth floor opened fire on the motorcade, killing Kennedy and wounding Texas Gov. John Connally.

In 1993, Connally's widow, Nellie, slipped a black drape from a plaque commemorating the sloping, sunswept plaza as a National Historic Landmark.

"Thirty years ago, fate brought me here as an unwilling player in the most unforgettable tragic drama of our time," the silver-haired Mrs. Connally told thousands of spectators and a handful of dignitaries.

Some choked back tears. Others wept openly.

"Now," she continued, "three decades later, we are gathered not to look back with grief, but to look forward with hope."

"Many of us share our own indelible memories of that awful hour, but today we recognize the lasting place this site will forever have in our nation's history."

Some Kennedy family members and friends marked the day with visits to his grave at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia. His sister observed the anniversary in Ireland, land of the family's ancestors.

Jean Kennedy Smith, the U.S. ambassador to Ireland, marked the 30th anniversary of her brother's death by reading extracts from his speeches at a memorial Mass in Dublin.

"It's a day to remember the great man that he was and that for a short

Woman shot in weekend dispute here

A domestic dispute here over the weekend left a Hereford woman hospitalized with a gunshot wound and her husband suspected of doing the shooting.

According to District Attorney Roland Saul, Roque Arzola, 39, has been charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

He is accused of shooting his wife, Eustolis Arzola, 32, on Sunday night.

According to reports, the incident occurred at the couple's Austin Road home at about 10 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Arzola was shot in the left wrist. She was listed in stable condition at Lubbock's University Medical Center, where she underwent surgery Monday for the wound.

Arzola had not been arrested as of this morning and an investigation into the incident is continuing.

space of time he was at the highest seat of power in the world," said the Rev. Michael Kennedy, a relative from Tipperary, who celebrated the Mass at Dublin's Pro Cathedral.

Throughout the Dallas ceremony, spectators glanced and pointed intermittently toward a seven-story red brick building overlooking Dealey Plaza.

The Warren Commission concluded it was there, from a corner window of what today is the Sixth Floor Museum, that Lee Harvey Oswald laid in wait.

"Then suddenly, here in this plaza, just a few yards from where we stand, the president was shot to death," recalled U.S. Judge Barefoot Sanders, a onetime Kennedy appointee.

Hereford man dies in hunting accident

Hereford resident Thomas Wendell Roe, 51, died Sunday when he was accidentally shot during a hunting expedition.

Roe and three friends were hunting near the Canadian River bridge on U.S. 287 Sunday afternoon when he and a friend returned to their campsite.

According to Justice of the Peace Terry Miller, one person set a high-powered deer rifle near the camper. It discharged when it was picked up.

Commissioners finish meeting in 15 minutes

Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court whipped through a six-item agenda in 15 minutes during a regular meeting Monday morning.

After approving minutes and bills, commissioners put off action on buying pagers for Department of Public Safety.

A request from Commissioner Lupe Chavez to advertise for bids to purchase of a new pickup for use in Precinct 2 was approved. Commissioners also approved a request from Tom Timberlake to lay a water line across a county road in Precinct 3.

A revised salary schedule for county employees was reviewed but no action was taken. Commissioners suggested changes to be made in the schedule before adoption.

United Way donation

Mauri Montgomery, right, chairman of the Pacesetters Division of the United Way of Deaf Smith County, accepts a donation from Pat Newton of the Whiteface Kiwanis Club to the 1993 fund campaign. Although the official United Way campaign has ended, donations are still being solicited and collected. As of today, $115,200 has been donated. The United Way has a goal of $150,000 to fund its charitable agencies.

School board to meet

The Hereford Independent School District board of trustees will hold its regular November meeting at 6 p.m. today in the school board room, 136 Avenue F, with a short agenda. The 16-item agenda includes reports from Superintendent Charles W. Greenawalt and his assistants, reports from the two professional organization and other routine items. The session is open to the public.

Offices to close

City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County offices will be closed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holiday. Hereford Independent School District closes down Tuesday afternoon for a long holiday. Administrative offices will be closed and classes dismissed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Blood bank to be here

The Coffee Memorial Blood Bank will be in Hereford on Friday from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the Community Center. This is a holiday weekend, but that is one reason more blood is needed. Coffee Memorial serves 20 area hospitals. The blood drive here is sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division.

Button up your overcoat

After a Monday high temperature of 67 degrees and a Tuesday morning low of 48 degrees, the weather is expected to turn nasty for the next few days. Forecasters report a cold front will drop temperatures to a 25-degree low and a high in the same range for Wednesday. Winds will shift Tuesday night from southwest to northeast, blowing at 10 to 20 mph. A 40 percent chance of freezing rain or light snow is expected Wednesday. Thanksgiving Day will be cold with a slight chance of light snow. Lows in the teens and highs in the 20s are on the agenda.

Brady bill becomes victim of gridlock

Waiting period compromise angers GOP senators

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress gridlocked anew over handgun control but sent President Clinton a bill extending jobless benefits for 1 million Americans as lawmakers neared the end of a year they hope answered the voters' calls for change.

Laboring into the wee hours this morning, the House approved, 238-187, a compromise version of the Brady bill, which would force a wait of five business days for handgun purchases. But the compromise ran aground in the Senate, blocked by angry Republicans.

Clinton urged Congress to resolve their differences on the measure quickly, telling a news conference Monday. "I would love it if the Congress could give the Brady bill to the American people for Thanksgiving."

Amid chants, charts and a clown's hat sported by Rep. Bob Livingston, R-La., to mock one Democratic measure, the House gave final approval to a bill providing the final $18 billion installment on the gigantic savings and loan bailout.

"Earlier it narrowly dealt conservatives a setback, voting 219-213 to kill a $90 billion package of spending cuts that relied heavily on Medicare reductions."

"You can join the team that represents change," Rep. John Kasich, R-Ohio, who helped write the cuts, vainly beseeched his colleagues before the final tally.

Instead of approving the conservative-backed spending cuts, representatives approved a measure containing $37 billion in reductions written by Democratic leaders and the White House.

As the end of a busy year approached, most lawmakers were ready to turn to other accomplishments to stake their claims as agents of change.

For Democrats, it was the party-line passage in August of Clinton's deficit-reduction bill. For Republicans, it was the overwhelming support they gave just last week for the North American Free Trade Agreement, which would pry open markets by gradually dropping tariffs among the United States, Mexico and Canada.

Unwilling the let go of Brady, Senate Democrats were scheduled to return to the measure today. Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, even threatened to call senators back to the Capitol after Thanksgiving if need-be to break the Brady deadlock.

But angry Republicans, favoring a Senate-passed version that could phase out the five-day waiting period in four years instead of five as in the House version, seemed determined to hold out.

"Are we going through a political charade or do you want a bill?" Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, a National Rifle Association member, told Democratic bargainers. "If you want a bill, accept the Senate bill."

Supporters have tried for seven years to pass the Brady bill, named for President Reagan's press secretary, James Brady, wounded in the 1981 assassination attempt on Reagan.

The stalemate Senate quit for the day in the early evening, but increasingly weary House members picked through a laundry list of lingering legislation.

By 320-105, they gave final approval to a $1.1 billion measure providing up to 13 extra weeks of extra jobless benefits to people who have used up the standard six months of coverage. Eligible would be people exhausting the regular coverage between last Oct. 2 and next Feb. 5.

They sent Clinton a final, $18 billion chunk of financing for the government's six-year-old bailout of the reeling savings and loan industry by a 235-191 tally. Once used, those funds would jack up the rescue's total cost to taxpayers beyond $150 billion.

They voted 255-175 for a Democratic vision of how to change campaign finance laws, imposing voluntary spending caps but omitting Republican demands that political action committee contributions be banned. Final action on the measure between House-Senate negotiators will come next year.

Police seek burglary tips

The Hereford Police Department is looking for tips into the burglaries of several storage buildings on Austin Road.

The burglaries are believed to have taken place between Oct. 29 and Oct. 30. Items were taken from about eight different storage buildings.

The value of the items taken is estimated at between $9,000 and $10,000.

Among the items taken were: a microwave oven, 12-inch GE color television, Spanish-style king-size bed frame, teal green couch and love seat, ceramic sculptures, numerous Ghost Busters action figures and related toys, new Kenmore brand washer and drier, Kenmore brand refrigerator and two sets of new full size mattresses and box springs.

Lee Snell is honored at recent bridal shower

Lee Snell, Nov. 27 bride-elect of Paul Kuper, was feted with a bridal shower Nov. 7 in the Antonian Room of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Sandra Snell; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Renee Kuper; and his grandmothers, Linda Malouf and Genevieve Kuper.

The registry table was decorated with an arrangement of burgundy and mauve flowers and a satin bridal doll.

The hostesses served an assortment of homemade cookies, punch and coffee from a table appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece consisted of burgundy, lavender, pink and country blue mixed flowers with accents of green.

The honoree was presented money to purchase a day bed by the hostesses: Ann Lueb, Judy Cloud, Alice Hund, Jeri Bezner, Becky Smith, Opal Blakely, Lynda Herrin, Edna Marnell, Christine Marnell, Nadine Berend, Carolyn Evers, Sharon Cramer, Janet Lavorn, Romilda Friemel, Sylvia Paetzold, Annette Albracht, Shirley Anderson and Mary Dee Hoelscher.

Bride-elect honored

A bridal shower was held for Lee Snell Nov. 7 in the Antonian Room of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Miss Snell and Paul Kuper will exchange nuptials Nov. 27. Guests were greeted by, from left, Sandra Snell, the honoree's mother; Lee Snell, the honoree; and Renee Kuper, the prospective bridegroom's mother.

Club plans benefit raffle

Laurie Paetzold, a member of the Nouvelle Ami Study Club, stands beside the club's Victorian Christmas tree which will be given away at a drawing at 5 p.m. Nov. 27. Tickets for the raffle are priced at $2 each or three for $5 and may be purchased from club members or at The Atrium Nov. 27. All proceeds will be used for local charities. Club members are also taking orders for pumpkin rolls priced at $7.50 each. Rolls will be delivered by Dec. 15. To place orders, call Krista Farrell at 364-5137 or Laurie Paetzold at 364-1961.

Scotland is subject of study club program

Dr. Duffy McBrayer and his wife, Claudia, told of their spring trip to Scotland when the La Plata Study Club met Nov. 16 in the home of Betty Taylor.

The McBrayers wore the tartans of their clan in Scotland as they presented their program. Dr. McBrayer wore a jacket of the tartan featuring a cinnamon background and Mrs. McBrayer was attired in a skirt of the formal tartan with a white background.

The McBrayers also told of how Dr. McBrayer restored the family name in Scotland (MacBriar or McBrayer) and earned the right to display the coat of arms and tartan of his clan. Nell Norvell of Hereford, who has done extensive genealogy study, helped McBrayer in documenting the information to re-establish the McBrayer name in Scotland.

During the business meeting presided over by President Dorothy Mercer, the club's 1993-94 budget was presented and approved. Audine Detman reported for the Hereford Beautification Alliance and told of all the parks in Hereford and plans for their improvement.

Betty Taylor and co-hostess, Dorothy Ott, served refreshments to members: Moveda Busby, Clara Brown, Audine Detman, Bonnie Duke, Nelda Fortenberry, Mildred Fuhrmann, Betty Mercer, Dorothy Mercer, Lois Mitchell, Dorothea Prowell, Margaret Schroeter, Rosemary Shook, Yvonne Simpson and Avis White.

The next meeting will be Dec. 14 in the home of Rosemary Shook.

Fabio said his aversion to violence limits his recurring role in the syndicated TV series "Acapulco H.E.A.T."

Induction ceremony is planned for officers

A slate of new officers was announced when the Hereford Cattlewomen met Nov. 16 at the Hereford Country Club for a luncheon and meeting.

Leslie Easley was nominated to serve as president; Connie Banks, first vice president; Christie Josseland, second vice president; Brenda Johnson, secretary; and Christie Gestes, treasurer.

The induction ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 14 at the Hereford State Bank's Friendship Room. A salad supper will be held in conjunction with the meeting.

Also, during the business meeting with President Lisa Klett presiding, Marty McElhaney gave the legislative report concerning the NAFTA bill. She encouraged members to call senators and representatives to show support of the bill. She emphasized that the bill will have a "gigantic impact on the cattle industry."

McElhaney also stated that the filibuster on the interior appropriations bill had worked. She thanked the members for their help in this endeavor.

It was announced that the "Rocking Cow" will be on display at First National Bank and that members will set-up a booth during the next Fun Breakfast planned Thursday, Dec. 2, at the Hereford Community Center. The "cow" will be given away at the group's December meeting.

It was also noted that Miriah Olson had competed at the national level and will give a report to the Cattlewomen concerning the competition.

Lisa Klett distributed sheets so members could sign up for the various 1994 committees. She also asked for nominations for Cattlewoman of the Year and the Honorary Cowbelle of the Year.

Karen Keeling gave the invocation and Charlene Sanders read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved.

Those present were Lisa Klett, Charlene Sanders, Leslie Easley, Beverly Davis, Sandy Josseland, Christie Josseland, Christy Gestes, Julia Laing, Brenda Johnson, Linda Fitzgerald, Jan Page (guest), Jackie Murphey, Erin Alley, Marty McElhaney, Shelly Moss, Pam Wagner, Sue Sims and Karen Keeling.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Olivia Hussey is among the victims of a financial manager charged with stealing from clients, prosecutors said.

Jay Lawrence Levy, 51, was jailed Friday in lieu of $445,000 bail on forgery and theft charges for work at his financial management business from 1985 to 1991.

Levy forged Hussey's name on a trust deed for her home to pay off interest on a $348,000 loan, prosecutors said. Hussey also accused Levy of stealing as much as $1 million from her savings and pension fund.

Kuper is unanimous two-way selection

5 Herd gridders on 1-4A All-District team

Mark Kuper, a unanimous two-way first-team selection at tight end and defensive end, and Marquise Brown, sophomore running back, were named to the All-District 1-4A football team which was released today.

Hereford landed six positions on the team, with quarterback Elias Reyna, center Andrew Tijerina and wide receiver Hayden Andrews being named to the second team offense. Kuper was the only unanimous two-way first team selection.

Pampa, co-champions with Randall, dominated the dream team with 19 players--including eight on the first team defensive unit. Co-champion Randall placed 13 players on the teams, as did Dumas with just one district win. Borger had six players picked, and Caprock had two.

Tony Cavalier, Pampa quarterback and defensive back, was named the "Player of the Year," while Randall's Alan Cornelius was selected as "Coach of the Year."

The Herd's Kuper joined Pampa's Cavalier and Greg McDaniel, receiver and cornerback, and Randall's Page

Baldwin, guard and defensive lineman, as players who were picked on both sides of the ball. Kuper and Baldwin was unanimous selections on first team offense, and Kuper and Justin Collingsworth, Pampa, were unanimous picks as defensive ends.

Three other sophomores joined Hereford's Brown on the first team--Borger running back Cornell Jones, Pampa linebacker Floyd White and Pampa defensive lineman Donnie Middleton.

Hereford landed two more players on the honorable mention list--tackle Jason Cole, 6-0, 185 senior, and guard Ben Celaya, 5-7, 170 senior. Both were on the offense.

Grand prize finalists listed; football contest in last week

The Hereford Brand Football Contest ends this week, and three more entrants qualified for the "Grand Prize" contest by winning Hereford Bucks last week.

Mike Elliott, Dorothy Berend and Raymond Lueb were the prize winners this past week, and they will be among 31 players qualifying for the season-ending Grand Prize contest. In a weekend filled with a number of upset wins, Elliott, Berend and Lueb all missed seven games, but Elliott took first place when he missed the tie-breaker total by just two points.

Elliott wins $25 in Hereford Bucks; Berend wins the $15 second prize, and Lueb won $10. Four other contestants missed eight games, and five missed nine games.

There will be two contests this final week of the football page. All entrants who won a cash prize during the season will compete in a contest to determine who wins the $100 grand prize, and the $35 and $15 runnerup awards. All other interested readers will be entered in the last regular weekly contest.

There will be two entry boxes in the Brand lobby, marked for the two contests.

Those who qualified to enter the Season Grand Prize contest are:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It has taken me months to calm down after reading that letter from "Legitimate Moms." These self-righteous women who resent single mothers make me sick.

I am a 38-year-old single mother who was young and foolish, but I am not a tramp. I have struggled emotionally and financially to raise my son with good values. He has learned to respect people from all walks of life, and he treats everyone as he would like to be treated.

While working two jobs to support my son, I returned to college to earn my degree. I taught him the value of hard work, the importance of education and that all dreams are possible.

My son has morals and values way beyond those of the average teenager. At 18, he has accomplished more than I imagined possible. He worked through high school, volunteered for community events, participated in high school clubs and ran a small part-time business of his own. He has several scholarships and is listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

So, Mrs. "Legitimate Mom," who set an example for my son? Does this sound like an immoral, valueless family? My "mistake" or "accident" turned out to be a gift from God, and I made the best of a difficult situation. I am proud of what I have done with my life, and if I had it to do over again, I would do it the same way, with no regrets.—Harwich Port, Mass.

DEAR MASS: You sound like a woman who has raised a splendid young man. I'm sure he is as proud of you as you are of him. Six cheers—three for each of you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister-in-law "Marilyn," has one of the prettiest singing voices I have ever heard. She sang at my wedding and sounded wonderful.

When my sister began making wedding plans, my husband and I asked Marilyn if she would sing at the ceremony. She agreed, and my sister was thrilled. Marilyn lives far away, and neither she nor my sister could afford her plane ticket, so my husband and I volunteered to pay for her transportation.

Two weeks before the wedding, Marilyn was offered $3,000 to sing in a professional production on the same date as my sister's wedding. Understandably, she decided to accept the offer, which left my sister with no singer. She also left my husband and me with a non-refundable plane ticket in her name. Marilyn can still use this ticket as a credit toward another purchase.

Should we give the ticket to her since we offered to pay for it in the first place, or should we ask Marilyn to pay for it? The money isn't an issue since we can afford it. What do you say?—Puzzled in Alabama

DEAR PUZZLED: The ticket was a gift to your sister. It was not intended to be a present to Marilyn. Since only Marilyn can use it, she should pay for it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just had a baby boy, after two girls. The comment I've been hearing repeatedly is, "Your husband must be so proud." No one ever said that to me after my two girls were born.

The comment that took first prize was the one my Neanderthal brother-in-law made after his daughter was born: "I'll trade you."

Can you believe it?—Proud of All My Children

DEAR PROUD: Someone should tell the man that it's the father who determines the sex of the child.

When planning a wedding, who pays for what? Who stands where? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" has all the answers. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562.

49ers race to 42-7 triumph over Saints

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - This time, the San Francisco 49ers never gave Morten Andersen a chance.

They raced to a 28-0 lead, ignited by Merton Hanks' 67-yard interception return for a touchdown, and emerged with a 42-7 victory Monday night over the New Orleans Saints.

The victory, the fourth straight by San Francisco (7-3), knocked the Saints (6-4) out of a first-place tie in the NFC West and denied their bid to sweep the two-game season series for the first time since 1979. New Orleans won the season's first meeting 16-13 on Andersen's 49-yard field goal in the final seconds.

San Francisco didn't get a chance to answer - until Monday night.

"It felt good to win," said the 49ers' Jerry Rice, who caught two of Steve Young's three touchdown passes.

The 49ers obliterated a recent trend of close finishes with their biggest win over the Saints since beating them 40-0 in 1973.

"They manhandled us in ever phase of the game," said New Orleans quarterback Wade Wilson, who threw for just 46 yards and was intercepted three times before being yanked for Mike Buck in the third quarter.

Will Clark signs big contract with Texas

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - First baseman Will Clark, one of the top two free agent hitters available, has signed a $30 million, five-year deal with the Texas Rangers.

Clark had said he wanted to stay with the San Francisco Giants, where he has been for eight years. But the Giants weren't willing to offer him a contract as long as the one he signed with Texas.

Rafael Palmeiro, the other top free agent hitter, probably will leave the Rangers following Clark's signing.

Clark, who finished a $15 million, four-year deal this season, visited the Baltimore Orioles last weekend but his lawyer and agent, Jeff Moorad, couldn't work out a deal despite extensive talks.

Clark, who will be 30 next season, also had an offer from the Colorado Rockies, but his first preference was to stay with San Francisco. When Giants owner Peter Magowan and general manager Bob Quinn wouldn't offer a guaranteed deal for more three years, Clark went with the Rangers.

"I talked with Bob and Peter as late as this morning and told them with very mixed feelings we were leaning toward a five-year contract with another team," Moorad said.

Clark gets a $2 million signing bonus, $4 million in 1994, $5.7 million in 1995, $6 million each of the 1996 and 1997 seasons and $6.25 million in 1998. He has a no-trade clause for the first two years and a limited provision in the final three in which he can block trades to eight

"When we fell behind, we had to play catchup. That really gave them the opportunity to explode, and they did," Wilson said.

The Saints have now lost four of their last five to fall a game behind San Francisco.

"We've just got to go out, beat Minnesota next week, and win the rest of our games if we're going to put any pressure on them," Saints defensive back Toi Cook said.

"All it takes is a couple of wins and we're right back in this thing," added Saints linebacker Vaughn Johnson.

The 49ers set the tone of the game on the first play, when defensive tackle Ted Washington broke through for the first of four sacks of Wilson. New Orleans couldn't get a first down and punted.

The next time the Saints got the ball, Hanks stepped in front of Eric Martin and intercepted Wilson. Hanks fell down after making the catch, but got back up without anyone touching him and started weaving his way down the field until he crossed the goal line for the first defensive touchdown of his three-year career.

"I haven't seen one like that in nine years, where I guy falls down, then gets up and he scores. That was unreal to me," Rice said.

Other provisions call for him to get $250,000 if he is the AL MVP, $100,000 if he's MVP of the first-round of the playoffs, the league championship series or the World Series, $100,000 if he's a postseason player of the year and $50,000 if he's selected for the All-Star game, wins a Gold Glove or Silver Slugger or makes a postseason All-Star team.

Clark hit .301 with 29 homers and 116 RBIs in 1991, but slumped to .300 with 16 homers and 73 RBIs in 1992 and .283 with 14 homers and 73 RBIs this season. He was a fan favorite with the Giants.

Clark's signing follows Palmeiro's rejection of a $26 million, five-year offer from the Rangers.

Clark made $4.25 million last season and Palmeiro made $4.55 million.

Rangers president Tom Schieffer and general manager Tom Grieve stressed their need for a left-handed power hitter - and the fear that they may not end up with either player if they didn't act fast - prompted the move.

Both said they were disappointed that they had not signed Palmeiro, and that he had been their first choice. Grieve said they had an emotional conversation with Palmeiro Monday, but they just couldn't come up with the money that he was demanding.

Schieffer said Palmeiro's original demand, which Schieffer said was "substantially more than $30 million" had gone up even more.

Four division leaders lose in NFL play

By The Associated Press
The Kansas City Chiefs could not hold a lead. Neither could the Detroit Lions.

Dallas and Pittsburgh also stumbled, making it four division leaders that lost Sunday. Tonight, NFC West co-leaders San Francisco and New Orleans play at Candlestick Park.

"That's the way this division is," Green Bay coach Mike Holmgren said after a 26-17 victory over Detroit. "It looks like it will come down to the final week."

Green Bay (6-4) moved closer to Detroit (7-3) in the NFC Central. The Packers will play at Detroit on the last weekend.

Kansas City leads the AFC West by one game over Denver. The Chiefs lost 19-17 to Chicago while the Broncos beat Pittsburgh 37-13.

Dallas, meanwhile, lost Emmitt Smith to a bruised right quadriceps in a 27-14 loss to Atlanta. The Cowboys, whose seven-game winning streak was stopped, fell into a first-place tie with the New York Giants in the NFC East.

In other games, the New York Giants downed Philadelphia 7-3, Miami defeated New England 17-13, Buffalo beat Indianapolis 23-9, the New York Jets topped Cincinnati 17-12, Houston stopped Cleveland 27-20, the Los Angeles Raiders beat San Diego 12-7, the Los Angeles Rams took Washington 10-6 and Tampa Bay beat Minnesota 23-10.

Aikman ready, Smith out for Dolphin clash

IRVING, Texas (AP) - In their 1992 Super Bowl run the champion Dallas Cowboys were virtually injury free.

This year they haven't been as lucky. On Thanksgiving Day, Emmitt Smith may not play.

But Troy Aikman apparently will. Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson gave Aikman the green light to start against the Miami Dolphins, saying "we'll give Troy all the snaps this week and start him on Thursday. It's still to be determined how limited he will be."

Aikman missed the last two weeks with a pulled hamstring.

Smith could barely walk let alone run at Valley Ranch on Monday.

"The flexibility is not there," said Smith of his severely bruised right thigh. "But I don't have the pain I did yesterday."

Smith's thigh was heavily bandaged after he received ice treatments for the blood which had filled the damaged muscle.

JUSTIN LOSES
Austin Westlake won its second Class 4A UIL volleyball championship in three years, beating Justin Northwest, 15-7, 15-5 Saturday in the state finals.

Justin had advanced to the state tourney by edging past Hereford in a three-game decision in the playoffs.

Westlake (32-6) captured the first game with a 10-1 run, after trailing 6-5 and led all the way in the second-game triumph. Justin (29-7) was making its second tournament appearance.

Two top-ranked teams could play for title in Orange Bowl

By The Associated Press
Two top-ranked teams could meet for the national championship in the Orange Bowl.

Florida State regained the top spot in The Associated Press media poll on Sunday, while Nebraska became No. 1 in the USA Today-CNN coaches' poll.

Nebraska, which plays No. 16 Oklahoma on Friday, already has clinched the Big Eight title and a spot in the Orange Bowl. Florida State, which closes its regular season Saturday against No. 7 Florida, figures to be the Cornhuskers' opponent if both teams win their remaining games.

Florida State (10-1) got 33 of 61 first-place votes in the AP poll after routing North Carolina State 62-3

Saturday night. Nebraska (10-0), which was off, got 20 first-place votes.

Notre Dame (10-1), which had taken over the top spot last week after a 31-24 victory over Florida State, tumbled to fourth following Saturday's 41-39 loss to Boston College.

Florida State, which had led the AP poll all season before losing to the Irish, got 1,471 points this week, 16 more than Nebraska.

One voter, Loren Tate of the Champaign (Ill.) News-Gazette, resigned from the poll Sunday for personal reasons.

Auburn (11-0), ineligible for postseason play because of NCAA sanctions, rose from sixth to third in the AP poll with six first-place votes and 1,369 points. The Tigers' season concluded Saturday with a 22-14 victory over Alabama.

Notre Dame was fourth with one first-place vote and 1,334 points, and West Virginia (10-0) moved up from ninth to fifth following a 17-14 victory over Miami, which had been No. 4. The Mountaineers got one first-place vote and 1,320 points.

Tennessee (8-1-1) moved up a spot to sixth, followed by Florida (9-1), Texas A&M (9-1), Miami (8-2) and Wisconsin (8-1-1).

In the coaches' poll, Nebraska was No. 1 with 43 first-place votes and 1,528 points. Florida State was second with 11 firsts and 1,444 points.

West Virginia was third with seven first-place votes and 1,433 points, followed by Notre Dame with one first and 1,342 points. Auburn is ineligible for votes in the coaches' poll because of the NCAA sanctions.

Nebraska was No. 1 in the bowl coalition poll, a combination of the media and coaches' rankings that is used to determine the major bowl matchups. The Cornhuskers hold a 68-point lead over Florida State.

Junior high teams split

Hereford Junior High boys' basketball teams split their games with Valleyview here Monday.

The 8th grade A team lost a 32-28 decision to the visitors. Jeremy Scott and Bryant McNutt scored 10 points each to lead Hereford. The 8th grade B team won by a 35-26 score, as T.J. Danley led the way with 15 points.

The 7th grade white team took a close 25-23 win over Valleyview. Mitch Wagner was high point man for Hereford with 9. The 7th grade maroon team lost a 36-33 contest with the visitors. Cody White scored 9 for Hereford.

The junior high teams next games will be against Pampa here next Monday.

Whitefaces play at Tulia tonight

The Hereford Whiteface basketball teams travel to Tulia this evening for non-district varsity and junior varsity games with the Hornet teams.

JV games will tipoff at 5 p.m. The Lady Whitefaces play at 6:30 p.m., and the Herd boys are scheduled to play at 8 p.m.
