

Odds and Ends

Hartley county has raised $1,200 for a free fair to be held this fall just before the Amarillo Tri-State Fair.

The Board of Regents for Teachers Colleges has designated as a special work for the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon the training of music teachers.

One hundred and ninety five young people received certificates or degrees from the West Texas State Teachers College last week. Nineteen were granted Bachelor's Degrees; eight received permanent certificates under the new law; one was granted a Junior high school certificate under the new law. The remaining 186 received certificates under the provision of the old law which expires at the end of next year.

Alto, Texas—What is claimed to be the world's shortest recognized personal signature is used by a citizen of the town of Pollock, south of this city, in Angelina county.

The possessor of the signature is Bee Hole, and his signature, a "B" followed by a hole in the paper, made with a pen or pencil, spells Bee Hole. That signature passes at all the banks at Pollock and elsewhere, when on a check and presented.

Hole is a farmer and raises cattle and hogs. He brands them with his full name, his brand being B. O.

Page the meanest man in Plainview. You will not have to go far.

Do you know one meaner than one who would pass a bad check for a dollar on two kids and take his change, 95 cents, and a bottle of soda pop besides?

Not only is there a man mean enough to do it, but one did it.

Junior Nicholas and Lucian Halbert, young business men who are operating a cold drink stand in the residence section, will be more careful about cashing a stranger's check in the future, but that doesn't bring back their 95 cents and their bottle of soda pop. —Plainview Herald.

The negroes of Plainview have received letters requesting them to move on. They seem to be very uneasy about the matter. Jess Adams in the Plainview news states that the citizens of Hale county want the negroes to stay, as they will be needed at harvest time, which is close at hand. He points out that if Plainview country is becoming a cotton country they will have to have the negroes to gather it. He states that white labor is not satisfactory as a rule and the farmers have to rely upon negroes and Mexicans to solve their labor problems.

Plainview News: Some of his opponents are trying to discredit the work of Lynch Davidson in rehabilitating the state railroad over in East Texas, but the fact remains that he took the road when it was two streaks of rust, completely run down and losing money very fast for the state, $1,450,000 having been sunk in it, and he repaired and reequipped it in a first class manner and put it on a paying basis. Davidson is an outstanding business man, who has made a success of his own business, and is just the sort of a man we need as governor of the state.

The only trouble with Lynch Davidson is that he is a big and successful business man, who has as his opponents professional politicians. If Texas does not elect Lynch Davidson governor, then we will be thoroughly convinced that Texas does not want a successful man at the head of the state government, but prefers a successful failure.

New Motor Route Starts Monday, Put Your Name on Box

Postmaster J. A. Wear and W. A. Hunter made a trip over the new motor route southeast, Monday afternoon. Mr. Wear said that only about one fourth of the mail boxes were up and that all of them must be up and their names on them by Friday or Saturday in order that the new route can begin operation Monday. Mr. Wear said he would go over the route again the last of the week. The carrier has not been appointed but the appointment is looked for in the next few days.

Nathan Leopold, Jr., son of a Chicago millionaire, and Richard Loeb, son of the millionaire vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., have confessed to the kidnapping and murder of 13-year-old Robert Frank as an "experience." The Chicago police are now investigating to learn if the youths are responsible for other unsolved crimes during recent months. Both are 19 years old.

International Man Moves to Hereford From Munday, Tex

The Brand is in receipt of a marked copy of The Munday (Knox County, Texas) Times of June 5, carrying the following story:

"After a residence of twenty-eight years in Munday, Hugh Layne with his family, including his father-in-law, Mr. A. U. Hathaway, have this week moved to Hereford, Texas, where they will reside in the future, having left on Wednesday morning for their new home.

"In discussing his departure from Munday Mr. Layne stated that he had no complaint to make with Munday and believed that it was one of the best towns in all West Texas, but as he holds a responsible position with the International Harvester Company and his territory covers the north plains country, he believed the move advisable in order that he might be with his family more often.

"We regret deeply the loss of these excellent people from our community and wish them a full measure of prosperity in their new home."

And then editorially editor J. A. Kennedy says:

"It is not often that we refer editorially to the removal of a citizen from this community to another. We usually let the news columns take care of these comings and goings. But in the departure of Mr. A. U. Hathaway, who has this week moved to Hereford with the family of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Layne, we feel that Munday has suffered a distinct loss and we are sure there are hundreds of little children in Munday and vicinity who feel this way about it. "Uncle Happy," as he is affectionately called by both young and old, fairly radiates with the Christian religion in his every day life. His broad smile and sunny disposition have driven many a cloud away from troubled minds. His hand was ever ready to render succor to the distressed. When the cold hand of death visits the community in which "Uncle Happy" resides he is there to render comfort to the sorrowing and do all within his power to make the burden lighter for the distressed. To our mind "Uncle Happy" lives as near the example set by the Christ in his journey on earth between Bethlehem and Calvary than any man we have ever known, and in this feeble effort to pay a tribute to this good man we are glad that he shall read these lines and that they shall not be published after he has passed from his earthly journey. Hereford is fortunate in the acquisition of this good man and his companionship will be greatly missed by a host of friends here, and wherever he shall go he shall carry the best wishes of his hundreds of friends in Munday and vicinity."

Mr. Layne and his family, including Mr. Hathaway, will occupy the Lem Chesser home on north Twenty-Five Mile Avenue. Hereford is always ready to welcome good people to its excellent citizenship.

Former Hereford Man Delegate to Cleveland Conv.

A clipping from the Lineville Tribune contains the following information concerning Frank Williams of Phoenix, Arizona, brother of W. S. Williams of this city.

"Frank Williams, former Lineville merchant is here visiting old friends and relatives while enroute to the Republican National Convention to which he is a national delegate from Phoenix, Arizona. Frank has made good in Arizona and is one of the best known real estate men in the city state. At this time he is engaged in city addition and construction work, having under construction a number of projects adjacent to Phoenix. Mr. Williams will leave here Saturday for Cleveland, where he will serve as a National delegate. After the convention he will visit Washington, D. C., Atlantic City, Philadelphia and intends to arrive in New York about June 23 where he will attend the Democratic National Convention."

BIG PLATEAU SING-CANYON ON SATURDAY

SUNDAY NOON BARBEQUE—ENOUGH FOR 3,000 GUESTS

PRES HILL W T T C

Speaks at Saturday Afternoon Session at the College Hall

Five thousand voices will be harmoniously upraised in rollicking new songs in old-time rhythm when the Plateau Singing Convention, an organization embracing 40 counties of the Staked plains region, convenes in Canyon Saturday for a two-day session with John F. Taylor of Clovis, president, in the chair. Attendance at Plainview last year was 3,500.

A feature nearly as notable as the 70 song numbers which have place on the program will be the great barbecue of Sunday noon, at which preparations are being made to feed from 3,000 to 4,000 persons. Nearly a dozen beavers have been donated and are ready for the slaughter. A mountain of bread, wash boilers of coffee and regiments of pickles will make up the remainder of the spread, which will be held at Hale's Park, just north of the Santa Fe station.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a. m. Saturday in the auditorium of West Texas State Teachers College, where the general sessions of the convention will be held. Rev. L. J. Claybrook, pastor of First Baptist Church, will pronounce the invocation; Louis F. Hart, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will make the address of welcome and R. M. Morgan will make the response. J. A. Hill, president of the college, will deliver an address at the afternoon session on "The Key."

Leading music publishers of the Southwest will send quartets to the convention and these will be given prominent place on the program. In closing the presidents of all the county organizations will unite in leading the song, "Till We Meet Again."

W. I. Valentine and N. E. Gass in Two Realty Deals

A land and residence property trade was made this week whereby W. I. Valentine becomes owner of the Jones and Dameron 320 acre ranch on the creek about three and a half miles east of Hereford and N. E. Gass gets the Valentine home just across the street west from the Baptist church, formerly known as the Leslie Moreman residence. Mr. Valentine tore down the barn last week on his city property and has moved it to his new home on the creek. Mr. Valentine informed The Brand that they were going into the dairy and chicken business.

Tell of Activities in and Around City. Galley Announces Picnic Date

The Chamber of Commerce met Monday noon at the Christian Church in the basement. Forty were there to enjoy the big dinner and to take part in the business meeting and to hear the many good talks that go to help keep up the spirit of the organization. In the absence of the president, the vice president, E. W. Harrison presided.

No regular program being prepared, the chairman called, at random for speeches, his eye first falling on John Mosole, who responded by calling for another piece of short cake. Claude Benton the next teller was called but no response. Judge Dameron reported work had started on the new hospital and that new material was being hauled to the site and that several men were engaged in digging the trenches for the foundation. Mr. Dameron made mention of a possible state highway from Vega to Otton via Hereford and Dimmitt. C. J. Paddock made a brief report on the progress of road construction and grading. J. E. Hill favored the diners with statements concerning the hospital. B. F. Guthrie said that it was the second noon day luncheon that he had the privilege of attending but he was not "pulling on the britches." Mr. Guthrie went on to say that good will and a steady pulling, together in the foundation on which real progress is founded with the firmness that promotes a moral and spiritual growth so essential to a community.

Gwynne Guthrie just back from Fairmont College at Wehita, Kansas, said while Kansas was a great state and he knew so little about home, the eyes of the Kansans were turned to the Panhandle country. C. P. Galley, representing the local Wheat, Grain, Sorghum and Cotton Assn. called attention especially to Hereford business men of the true value of the association. Mr. Galley said the association would hold a picnic on June 17 the place to be mentioned in the next issue of the Brand. He said the members of the association would furnish the eats and that several speakers who knew the inside working of the association, will be there insuring a good time to all, as well as much needed information.

Mr. Harrison brought up the question of Deaf Smith county's bonus of $200 to the State Highway Association to aid the campaign to carry the amendment. Mr. Harrison said there was an appropriation set aside in the Chamber of Commerce fund for Highways. A motion was made favoring the payment of the quota minus the forty or fifty dollars collected from individuals here some time ago by an authorized agent of the State Highway Assn. The motion carried almost unanimously. Rev. Paul J. Merrill read a poem at the close of the meeting the author being unknown. A rousing vote of thanks was given the ladies for the big wholesome generous dinner served and all expressed their desire to come back in the very near future.

Those attending the Luncheon were: E. B. Black, Gwynne Guthrie, B. F. Guthrie, W. R. Stockman, W. E. Dameron, C. J. Paddock, L. Baskin, C. H. Dyar, J. E. Hill, W. Ashbrook, D. F. Editorial

What Is A Farm Day?

"The farmer must be able to earn a living by working reasonable hours, like any other business man or wage earner," essays a city editor in a recent enlightening editorial.

Enlightening, because it serves to show how darn much ignorance still persists in urban sanctums as to all things rural.

The farmer will not soon, probably not ever, enjoy an eight, ten or twelve-hour day EVERY day of his year.

On the average farm, worked by one family, and that farm will feed this country for the most part, the sixteen and eighteen and twenty-hour day for somebody on the farm will be the rule at certain seasons.

Until a federal injunction will restrain the storm clouds from giving the new mown hay a bath, and until weeds quit growing when the clock strikes 5 P. M., and until husky heads of the herd quit breaking pasture fences, and until horses quit going lame in the midst of plowing, and until blight, and drought, and mildew, and aphid, weevil, and grub, and bug, and worm, and mould, and rot declare for a six-hour day, the farmer will fight for the life of his crops.

The Department of Agriculture tells us the farmers' revenues has grown $960,000,000 in a year and the money bags of the East shout from the housetops, "Look at that!" We have not yet been told how many millions of added expenditure has been piled on the back of the man who tills the soil.

Where Wreckers Work

Let us hope that the movement to unify the divorce laws of the United States, so that men and women may no longer be made criminals in one state while they may lead lives of complete laxity in another state, immune even from the punishment of public censure, will find a responsive chord in the hearts of all Americans.

The divorce evil does not start at the altar. It begins in the school. Too many of our children have only a bowing acquaintance with the ten commandments. Also, too many of our parents fail to disentangle the four factors that have formed the rock on which the American nation has been built—the school, the church, the home, and the government. Each has its part to play.

We must start by restoring these high moral standards that marked the pilgrims, who built this land of ours. We must bring back a proper appreciation of industry, respect, a deeper understanding of sanctity and a better understanding of what the home is, and what its preservation means to us.

Grave danger exists in the trend toward so-called forward looking thought in relation to religion. Marriage has come to be an agreement, not a sacrament, and divorce, instead of being frowned upon, is made the subject of the vaudeville joke.

Our fathers and mothers may well denounce those who would undermine the stability of our government, but let them remember there are more ways than one of wrecking a nation.

Poem

Uncle John

Of the several problems of mighty import—you bet the Editor knows! Be it furrin' relations, or mighty world-court, you'll find that the Editor knows. His verdict is righteous an' right off the bat,—the process is easier 'n skinnin' a cat,—and he'll show a fool president right where he's at—for you bet the Editor knows!

In wide-world diplomacy he is a peach—you see, the Editor knows; he plugs every chasm and sevs up the breach,—it's plain that the Editor knows. He lands with a biff on the powers that be,—no geezer so apt or impulsive as he, and he stops when the enemy takes to a tree,—Gol-darn it, the Editor knows!

As a moulder of sentiment he is supreme—and this the community knows,—and the flight of his fancy is sometimes a scream,—it's proof that the Editor knows! He wallops the welkin in front of the mob. . . . To bring home the bacon is part of his job, and his life is a lurid, perennial throbb, Lord bless him,—the Editor knows!

Hereford Golfers Lose to Amarillo

Hereford golfers lost eleven matches out of seventeen played with Amarillo golfers on the Hillcrest course in that city Sunday afternoon. The Amarillo News gives the following report of the tournament:

"The match between A. Herbst of Hereford and W. W. Woolsey of Amarillo was the sensation of the tournament. At the close of the first nine holes, Herbst had Woolsey 4 down and at the end of the tourney or the second round, Woolsey had overcome the handicap and had Herbst 2 down. Woolsey shot 38 on the second round, one over par, making an eagle on Hole No. 4, when he was on the green in one and sank his put. Woolsey played the course in par or 37, Saturday afternoon.
