Urgent Hospital Meeting Set Tuesday

Citizens Will Try To Save Local Hospital

Rev. H.D. Hunter, chairman of the Citizens Committee to provide better hospital facilities for Muleshoe, announces that there will be an urgent meeting Tuesday night, April 16, 1974 at 8 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School auditorium.

Rev. Hunter is asking everyone from Muleshoe, Lazbuddie, Oklahoma Lane, Earth, Needmore, YL, West Camp and other surrounding communities to attend this very important meeting.

At the meeting, citizens will discuss trying to keep the present hospital open, how to keep doctors here, and will be discussing ways to raise money for the hospital.

This will be a last effort to save the hospital in Muleshoe which has announced it will close effective June 1, 1974.

Without a hospital in Muleshoe, the nearest hospital facility would be Amherst, 24 miles away. Other hospitals include Friona, 30 miles; Morton 30 miles; Littlefield, 30 miles; and Clovis, 30 miles. A 45-minute drive could mean the difference in life and death in the event of an emergency trip to the hospital.

Alfalfa Producers Will Meet In Earth

There will be an alfalfa producer's meeting in Earth on April 15, at 8:30 p.m. at the Earth Community Center.

The meeting will focus on weevil migrations into Lamb and Bailey counties, and on irrigation and profitable production, according to County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley.

Featured speakers will be three specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service from Lubbock. They are Dr. Robert McIntyre, Marvin Sartin and Leon New.

Tanksley said that the bi-county meeting will be aimed at producers specifically in Bailey and Lamb Counties, but that alfalfa producers from surrounding areas also are encouraged to attend.

Specific attention, Tanksley said, will be given to information about the recent migrations of the alfalfa weevil into the area and expected infestations this season. Suggestions for weevil control will be presented.

The weevil has been advancing into the High Plains for two or three years, the Extension agent explained. Last year insect surveys detected weevil infestations present following the first cutting. There is enough evidence, he said to indicate potential economically damaging infestations this year.

The meeting will provide some information about the infestations and what can be done to deal with them, he adds.

Irrigation and fertilization also will be topics presented, with particular attention given to timing and amounts of irrigation for most efficient water use.

Another part of the meeting will focus on profitable production, with discussions about cost comparison between alfalfa cubing and baling.

No registration or fee is required, Tanksley emphasized.

King Returns From Oil Marketers Meet

Joe King of the Western "66" Company in Muleshoe has returned home after attending the 25th anniversary convention of the Texas Oil Marketers' Association in San Antonio April 7-9.

He reported that the energy crisis and the resulting problems to gasoline and fuel distributors attracted a record-breaking attendance of nearly 1,500 wholesalers of petroleum products.

A Phillips Petroleum Company spokesman, Charles Kittrell of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, Executive Vice-President, told the convention delegates that even with the lifting of the Arab embargo, little relief from the gasoline shortage could be expected, even by mid-summer. Even under the best of conditions "including continued conservation efforts by the public," a shortage of between three to five per cent will exist.

Tommy Munro of Biloxy, Miss., President of the National Oil Jobbers Council, also explained that an unleaded gasoline program, advocated in Washington to go into effect July 1, will cut into the production of premium and regular gasoline by a least four and two per cent, respectively.

Bill Quortrup of Carrollton, Association President, called for an all-out cooperative effort involving all oil industry people and governmental units to assure an "impartial distribution of petroleum products to consumers". "We already have

"Adventures In Attitudes" Course Planned In Muleshoe

"Adventures in Attitudes", a ten week course, has tentatively been set in Muleshoe to start the first Tuesday in May beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Registration for enrollees in the class is presently under way at the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Office.

There will be no teachers, boring lectures or outside study assignments, only total personal involvement. Enrollees will learn to relate to others by warm response and genuine understanding. They will discover themselves by helping others discover themselves.

There will be ten weekly three-hour adventures and the cost will be $60 for the entire course.

The ten topics to be studied will be Effective Communications-how attitudes affect your communications - recognizing the problems of communications getting others to respond favorably to you-the communications characteristic that will make you well liked-feedback, assumptions, crutches, challenges, and frustrations of communications.

The dynamics of Attitudes-Positive attitudes get positive results - negative attitudes get negative results - any thought held in your mind becomes an attitude and will eventually be brought to reality the importance of sharing - a simple way of understanding yourself - your three emotional positions that control your thoughts and actions.

Managing your Mind-Learning to react positively to any situation-keeping control of yourself-how to use affirmations-reprogramming your attitudes-turning weaknesses into strengths-how you limit yourself-getting a bigger concept of your inner resources-how to manage your mental and emotional forces.

GARBAGE POWER? What is low in sulphur, so inexpensive that American families throw out 5 pounds of it every day, and is so abundant that it could supply all of the electric lighting needs of the U.S. in the future? Household garbage and there's lots of it. If the utility companies can figure out a way to use it as a source of power, it could provide 5% of all the electricity produced in the U.S. and solve one of our biggest environmental headaches; what to do with all that trash. This is becoming a critical problem in our larger cities.

Union Electric Co. of St. Louis Mo. will invest $70 million in trash collection centers, boiler conversion, separation and shredding equipment and hauling vehicles for garbage fuel. By 1977 all of the garbage from the city of St. Louis and six surrounding counties, 7,500 tons per day, will be burned in Union Electric boilers to generate electricity under a mixture of 20% trash and 80% coal. This will save Union Electric 1-million tons of coal a year and get rid of a massive trash problem for St. Louis and the surrounding area. The fuel savings to Union Electric are estimated $10 million a year and these savings will increase as the price of coal rises in the future.

Union Electric also expects to reap additional financial benefits by receiving the dumping fees now paid by commercial sanitation hauling companies for places to dump trash for landfill or to incinerate it. Too, a ton of garbage contains approximately 150 pounds of usable steel and about 20 pounds of other metals which can be sold for scrap. It has taken two years and $3.3 million to prove the feasibility of such a project. Most ventures such as this wind up being sponsored by municipalities. The refreshing thing about the St. Louis project is that it is sponsored by an investor-owned utility.

So far only coal-burning electric generating plants can convert to garbage fuel, but experiments are being made to see if garbage can be converted to a fuel similar to oil which can then be used in oil-fueled electric generating plants. Since a 20%-80% garbage and coal fuel mixture has been used successfully, a project is now underway to get the fuel mixture up to a 50-50 ratio in plants specifically designed for garbage fuel.

What a great accomplishment to discover that garbage, which costs huge sums of money to dispose of, now has a valuable and worthwhile use to benefit mankind. Now that's progress.

"I'M WORRIED ABOUT ALL THAT MOON DUST"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I wish to take issue with your front page story in the Muleshoe Journal of Thursday, April 11, 1974, concerning the meeting of the Bailey County Hospital District. This meeting had been postponed from April 2, 1974, as some of our board members were out of town.

This meeting was not a closed meeting as you reported in your story it is illegal for a public body to hold a closed meeting. All our meetings have been held in the Bailey County Courthouse. The doors were always unlocked and the lights have always been turned on.

Mr. Editor, other citizens have met with the board. Apparently they knew the time and place. If you were so interested in the meeting why didn't you come down and see for yourself whether the meeting was open or not. You, Mr. Editor, would have had the answers to the questions about the tax money and what it was used for. We went over the bills that had been paid and also discussed those that had not been paid. Incidentally, I think a few of those bills were from you or your paper. And I believe all except one of your checks had been cashed. The latest on you had not been reviewed.

For your information, Mr. Editor, most of the bills that this tax money is being spent for is for expenses that this particular board did not negotiate. All the tax money will be accounted for and the books will be open for your inspection or for any others to inspect. This is also the law.

Incidentally, Mr. Editor, the Bailey County Hospital district was never approved for a grant (which means money not to be paid back) from the Hill Burton Funds. A Hill Burton loan was tentatively approved if the Bailey County Hospital District would have come up with approximately $700,000 in funds.

In closing, Mr. Editor, let me say this. I thought newsmen and newspapers were supposed to print the truth. I sometimes find stories in your paper that are far from being true facts in the situation as it has been in this particular instance. Since I have been on the Board, neither you nor any one representing your paper has ever attended a meeting. How then can you say whether a meeting was open or closed. James P. Wedel, Board Member 1714 West Ave H Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Editor's Comment
The language used was not just "closed", but reportedly closed. However, it appears that meeting notices were not posted as set out in Chapter 31, H.B. No. 3, effective Jan. 1, 1974, so apparently the meeting was held illegally in any event.

The Hospital District was approved at a certain level for a Hill Burton low interest loan, not a grant.

Chapter 424, H.B. No. 6, effective June 14, 1973, provides that public information be made available to the public through the board's custodian of public records not necessarily by meeting with the board. The Journal has published many news releases issued by school, county and city officials, that same courtesy has also been extended to the District Hospital Board.

The determination by USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) a "natural disaster condition" exists on nonirrigated farms of the High Plains is "grossly premature," according to Don Marble of South Plains, President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and PCG is requesting that the determination be rescinded.

ASCS has made the "natural disaster" assumption in connection with disaster payment eligibility of cotton acreage transferred from farm to farm under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. "If it sticks," Marble says, "it will constitute a serious breach of faith by USDA and an evasion of Congressional intent to provide cotton producers with a measure of insurance against severe weather-induced losses."

The law provides that producers who are prevented from planting their allotments by drought, flooding or other natural disaster will be paid about 12.7 cents per pound times their established yield on allotted acreage. The law also permits transfers of cotton allotments by release and reapportionment, lease or sale, with no restrictions on the portion of a farmer's allotment that will be eligible for disaster payments. Some weeks ago USDA ruled that only basic allotments would be eligible for disaster payments and that the disaster provision would not apply to acreage transferred to a farm by lease or reapportionment. Farm leaders in Congress, led by House Agriculture Committee Chairman Bob Poage of Waco, objected strongly and USDA officials agreed to change the ruling on March 12.

The new regulation sent down from Washington to State ASCS offices reads "... if a natural disaster condition exists on a farm at the time of filing an application for increased allotment (reapportionment or sale) and the ASCS County Committee determines that such a condition, if continued through the normal planting period, would normally prevent the planting of a crop, disaster payment for prevented planting will be limited to the larger of the farm's basic allotment prior to the increase or the normal harvested acreage."

"Normal harvested acreage" is to be based on cotton harvested from the farm in the past three years.

"For dryland farmers this regulation is worse than the first one if our dryland is to be declared a disaster area before we even enter the period of high rainfall probability" Marble asserts, "because it will exclude both leased and purchased allotments from a disaster payment if planting should be prevented by continued drought."

Many farmers leased or bought cotton acreage allotments early this year believing that the investment would assure them of at least some income in the event the drought continued through planting time or the crop was lost to hail or other inclement weather. But a State ASCS official now tells PCG that even those acres will not be eligible for disaster payment unless crops are lost to something other than the drought which existed at the time of the allotment transfer.

Weather records at Lubbock over the past 55 years show there is an 80 percent chance of the area receiving two inches or more of rainfall between now and May 31, by which time most crops should be planted. However, in the area south of Lubbock cotton can be planted as late as June 15 with reasonable expectations of making respectable yields.

In addition the record clearly shows that a dry Fall and Winter gives no reliable indication of what the rainfall pattern will be during the following Spring and Summer. For example in 1958-59 1966-67 and 1970-71, September through March produced only 3.5 to 4.1 inches of moisture, while the following April through August each year brought over 12 inches of rain. "With an 80 percent probability of getting moisture for planting we are appalled that we have already been called a disaster area" Marble said. "The disaster would be failure of rain to come between now and planting time, not the lack of moisture through March," he concludes.

Collin Robison Has First Birthday Party

Birthday cake decorated with a "circus train" and "circus animals" and cokes were served to the guests. A GOOD COTTON TO TRY

So far, those who have planted Gregg 35W on the worst wilt ground, find its tolerance and performance highly satisfactory. We have received not ONE complaint about its wilt resistance, which is very pleasing to us.

In the year 1973, 35W has been impressive in staple lengths, when staples were generally shorter.

Gregg 35W is a good cotton to TRY — it's a good cotton to PLANT.

PRICES IN THIS ADV. GOOD THRU SAT., APRIL 20.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION ----
With larger beef supplies this week consumers can expect "budget-saving values," Mrs. Gwendolyn Claytt predicted.

The consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension service, the Texas A&M University System, said "good values" are available on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, sirloin steak, rib steak and beef liver.

"Pork prices are a bit more moderate," she added.

"Generally, bacon is down in price some, as are canned hams. Boston butt roasts, end chops, quarter-joins cut into chops, loin-end roasts, frankfurters and roll sausage also are being featured."

At produce counters asparagus is more readily available, and cabbage, carrots, celery and head lettuce are wearing attractive price tags.

Mustard, collards and turnip greens are other good choices, the specialist said.

"Enjoy grapefruit while they last," she advised, adding that oranges will continue "plentiful with very good quality."

At poultry counters, egg prices are slightly less, with grade A, large-size eggs offering the best combination of quality and economy.

In addition to eggs, Mrs. Claytt also cited cottage cheese, Cheddar cheese, dry beans and peas, peanut butter and fish as nutritious and economical choices for traditional "meatless" meals prior to Easter.

CONSUMERS WATCHWORDS: Steak eaters, this is your week to buy.

If you want to eat steak but cannot afford the finest cuts, buy arm or blade steak, chuck steak, round steak or flank steak. Sprinkle the surface with tenderizer or marinade. Let the meat stand half an hour for each one-half inch thickness of meat before cooking.

Easter Parade

Easter refreshes the memory of the resurrection of Christ, a day set aside by churches to commemorate this great event. From Early Christian times it has been observed with great solemnity.

Popular observances, past and present, connected with the day are innumerable. In some churches it was one of the special days for baptisms; in others, the faithful greeted each other with the kiss of peace and the salutation "Christ is risen," to which the response "He is risen, indeed," Some of the medieval customs were solemn games of ball played by bishops, cannons and other dignitaries of several French cathedrals.

The use of eggs is of the highest antiquity, the egg having been considered a symbol of resurrection. Easter fires formerly celebrated the triumph of spring over winter.

Jesus saith unto her, "I am the resurrection, and the life, he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." John XI:25.

The debut of new spring styles on this day each year has become as much one of America's traditional symbols of the blossoming of new life at this time of reverence as the Easter fairs were in olden days.

The Easter parade has made its place ushering in the beauty of spring at Easter tide.

Muleshoe area people join Christians the world over in this observance today; for CHRIST IS RISEN.

The Consumer Alert

By John L. Hill Attorney General

AUSTIN -- Recently I returned from a meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General's Consumer Protection Committee, of which I am chairman.

Discussions there pointed up the fact that dissatisfaction with auto repair jobs is a major source of consumer complaints in almost every state.

My Consumer Protection Division has on file a number of complaints about car repairs and car servicing. Some of these may involve possible violations of the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act.

But, in some instances in which a consumer complains about car repairs or servicing, he himself may be partly to blame for the necessity of such work.

Experts from Texas State

Technical Institute tell me that today's car is a very different vehicle from those of the past. In 1963, with the advent of emission control devices designed to reduce pollution, cars began running about 70 degrees hotter than previously.

In addition, consumer demand for optional equipment such as air conditioning, automatic windows, and other popular devices also make cars run hotter.

Many new car owners or purchasers of recent models of used cars make the mistake of failing to read their owner's manual to learn how really different their vehicle has become. They continue to follow their customary routine maintenance habits, with the result that their cars may not perform at peak capacity -- may even eventually need costly repairs that could have been avoided.

For instance, antifreeze (now referred to as "coolant") is a virtual necessity year-round in most newer cars. Not only that, the percentage of ethylene glycol (the cooling factor in most coolants) must be much higher for newer cars.

Texas State Technical Institute experts say that failure to cool the car engine properly can result in boil-over or possibly the expense of reguiding a burned engine.

So when a service station attendant tells you your car's problem could be solved by adding three gallons of coolant to the engine, he's not necessarily trying to sell you something you don't need -- in fact he could be saving you a repair bill.

Motor oils required by newer cars also are different from those used in earlier model cars. The old "multiple viscosity" oils in general are unsuited to new cars with their higher operating temperatures. In fact, attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division have had reports of instances where the motor oil has thickened to a molasses-like sludge.

Proper lubrication of an engine would be impossible under such conditions, and extensive engine damage could result. In this case, an entire new classification of motor oil -- the SE grade -- has been created to withstand the new car's higher operating temperatures. Owners who ignore the need for such new oils are taking considerable risk.

Brake fluids have changed, too. The popularity of disc brakes or disc-drum combination brakes required the development of high heat brake fluid, since disc brakes operate at higher temperatures than drum brakes. Because these high heat brake fluids attract moisture from the atmosphere, experts advise that consumers never buy large containers of it for convenience or savings.

If brake fluid containing moisture is used, damage from rust in the master cylinder, lines, and cylinders could result. Again, consumer dissatisfaction might be due not to an unsatisfactory product but lack of information on how to use it.

By reading their owners manual and learning about products especially designed for newer car engines, consumers who purchase a late model car perhaps can avoid problems with poor car performance, engine damage, or costly repair bills.

For assistance with consumer problems consult attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or you local Better Business Bureau.

The way to have an honest government is to have honest voters, as well as honest officials.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes to the defense of Congress this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:

According to the polls, members of Congress are held in rather low esteem these days, only 26 per cent of the people saying they approve of them, although it is well to keep in mind that another poll shows that about 35 per cent of the people don't even know who their congressman or Senator is, meaning I guess you don't have to know a politician to dislike him.

Nonetheless, members of Congress do have a hard job and I'd like to point out a recent example.

Under a new idea developed a while back, members no longer are put in the awkward position of having to vote themselves a raise. A commission decides if a raise is in order and, if the President approves, the raise is automatic, unless the members vote it down. What could be easier than getting a raise and being able to go back home and tell the voters you didn't vote for it.

Well, such a situation arose last week. A raise from $42,500 a year to $47,700 was approved, with a second raise running the salary to $52,800 year after next. No vote necessary, just sit tight and it'd be automatic.

What's so hard about that, you might ask. Nothing, if the newspapers would leave Congress alone. But newspapers started pointing out that by not voting to stop the raise, Congress actually was voting to get it. People who could remember who their Congressman was started watching to see what he'd do. Congress started feeling itchy. It's no easy job deciding between a big raise and a mad voter, this close to income tax time and an election coming up in the Fall.

By a 3 to 1 vote, the pay raise was declined in the Senate and a vote never got to the House. Members aren't so dumb. They know the first rule of office is to stay there.

Personally, I think they ought to have the raise. You ever tried to get by on $42,500 a year and still keep a clear head for the critical problems facing this nation?

Yours faithfully,

LOOKING HER BEST FOR Easter

Easter is a day of conquest... a day of new life... a day of beginnings... This is the day that our Saviour arose in a mighty triumph over the grave. This is a day of joy... a day to remember... a day to attend services in the church that our Lord loved so much, but even though we all want to dress up and look our best for this special day it is not the most important part, for God does not look on outward appearances, but looks on the heart.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY
Lloyd Bentsen,
 United States Senator

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET REFORM. After many years, Congress had taken an important step to restore its Constitutional power of the purse. Both the Senate and the House are proceeding on budget reform legislation that will permit Congress to examine Federal spending from an overall point of view, something it has not been able to do since the days of the Civil War.

This is milestone legislation. It will give Congress access to the information it needs to examine the total Federal budget. And it will permit Congress to make orderly decisions on how much money is available and where it should be spent.

The reform legislation does away with the present, piecemeal approach to government spending. Instead of considering projects individually, not knowing where the money is coming from or how it will all up in the end--as is now done, this reform consolidates the approach. Overall spending priorities will be set before individual money bills can be considered.

SPENDING TO BE EXAMINED CLOSELY. New budget committees will be established to determine how much there is to spend each year and then set spending levels accordingly. Congress will have to stay within those limits and examine individual requests for money in light of the total amount available.

Such an approach to Federal spending is good management and good economics as well. The day has long since passed when our resources were unlimited and government could spend with scant regard for whether the money was available.

Budget reform is needed, not only to clamp a lid on government spending, but also to enable Congress to keep its Constitutional power of the purse. Under the Constitution, authority to raise taxes and spend Federal money was properly assigned to the representatives of the people. Yet, over the years, Congress has been in danger of losing that power because it has failed to develop a mechanism for controlling spending.

CONGRESS HAS RELINQUISHED RESPONSIBILITIES. More and more, Congress has turned over its responsibilities for government spending to the Executive Branch. Under the present administration, funds have been transferred from one agency to another for purposes not intended by Congress. In areas ranging from water pollution control to agriculture disaster relief, and from highways to education, the President has used impoundment of funds to kill entire programs to item veto, and to nullify acts of the Congress.

In fact, these decisions have changed the whole course of government. Now legislators of all political persuasions have recognized that the legislative branch is fast becoming the weak link of the three branches of government.

Belatedly, we are trying to repair the damage and restore to Congress the spending responsibilities assigned by the Founding Fathers.

For more than a hundred years, Congress has had no way to relate expenditures to income.

The budget reform bill will change that. It will give Congress an overall view of how much money is on hand and require the Federal Government to live within its means, something that should have been done a long time ago.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be a little rough on politicians this week but that's his lookout, not ours. Dear editor:

Since nobody else is giving any thought to it I figured I might as well. According to a news item a while back the government in a moment of panic rushed out and had 12 million dollars worth of gas rationing coupons printed up, just in case rationing became necessary. You're not going to catch Washington napping once it wakes up after sleeping through the arrival of the energy shortage.

Well, as you know, when the Arabs realized our money stopped flowing in when their oil stopped flowing out and a sheik can't buy a new tent with un-sold oil, they lifted the embargo and all those rationing coupons are now stacked up in a warehouse in Washington gathering dust.

And some people are saying, well, that's 12 million down the drain, but it doesn't have to be so. I have given the matter some thought and there is use for those coupons.

Look, every time you pick up a newspaper these days you read that somebody else high or low in government has been indicted for perjury. Generally this ruins their career, since it is one thing to lie in private practice but another to lie to a grand jury.

Now lying to a grand jury, while it may have had its moral leadership planted in Washington, is not limited to the capital and officials all around the country are being indicted by grand juries who don't seem to realize the jails are over-crowded as it is.

So the idea hit me, why not utilize those gas rationing coupons? Why not issue one book a month to every office holder in the nation, with each coupon good for one lie? Tell a lie, get caught, tear out a coupon, hand it to the grand jurors, and their hands are tied. Use up your quota before the month is out and face the consequences.

You reckon those 12 million dollars worth of coupons are enough to go around?

Yours Faithfully,
 J.A.

Wayland Will Host An Evening With Cosby

PLAINVIEW, TEX. Special;
"An Evening With Bill Cosby" will highlight the third annual Student Foundation Big Weekend
for prospective college students at Wayland Baptist College April 19-20.

Bill Cosby, whose hilarious ventures into reminiscence have convulsed millions of people for years, will present his one-man show at 8 p.m. April 20 in Hutcherson Physical Education Center.

Cosby has starred in television shows and two motion pictures. He first made the transition from standup comedy to acting in the NBC-TV series, "I Spy" and "The Bill Cosby Show". However, the Philadelphia native was not all laughs as he made his motion picture debut in a powerful dramatic role in the post Civil War film, "Man and Boy".

Cosby has been immortalized in the Saturday morning cartoons, "The Cosby Kids". The Show tells of Cosby's attendance at Wister Elementary school, along with his pals, Fat
Albert, Old Weirld Harold, Dumb
Donald, and a host of others made famous by Cosby in his comedy routines.

The Cosby Show is one of five events planned for the visiting high school students as well as area residents.

Special guest for the Beautiful Evening, a talent and style show Friday night, will be Miss Texas, Judy Mallett, who is one of a group of Miss Texas contestants past, present, and future who will entertain in Harral Auditorium.

Other guests will include Miss Texas of 1972, Mae Beth Cormany; Miss Texas of 1970, Bel-linda Myrick; and many 1973 beauty pageant winners from across the state. Tentatively scheduled to participate are Miss Wayland, Joan Jeter; Miss
Lubbock, Sherrie Jackson; Miss
White Settlement, Becky Bloomer, first runner-up to Miss Texas in last summer's pageant;
and Miss West Texas State University, Sandra Skinner.

On Saturday, activities include golf tournament at Plainview Country Club, beginning at 9:30 a.m. A Demolition Derby by Wayland students will be at 1:30 p.m. at Plainview Speed Bowl. A 5 p.m. barbecue will precede the Bill Cosby Show.
High school students will spend Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights in the dorm.

All meals will be in the college cafeteria. Friday, students will be allowed to attend classes and familiarize themselves with college life. Cost for the weekend is $15 which includes housing, meals, tickets to "A Beautiful Evening", "The Bill Cosby Show", and the Demolition Derby. Arrangements can be made through the Student Foundation Office, Wayland

Baptist College.
Proceeds from all events fund
an ongoing scholarship program.
Tickets for the Bill Cosby Show are available from the Wayland Student Foundation.
Prices are $6 for reserved seats $5 for adults, and $3.50 for children.

Who's the head of the house is often a matter of argument.

The County Judgeship
As I See It

Paul Fortenberry

I know that some people in Parmer County do not know me personally, consequently, I wish to take this means to inform the people of Parmer County of some of my ideas and beliefs, as it will be impossible for me to contact everyone in person prior to the May 4th Primary.

As I see it, the County Judge is responsible for the distribution of certain monies received from Public School lands and for the approval of various school bus routes.

The County Judge presides at the meetings of the Commissioners and should advise, counsel and assist in the administration of the business of the county. He should take the lead in the preparation of the budget and he should be versed in the procedures necessary for the smooth operation of the county. He should strive for unity, at all levels, within the county government. He should be, in reality, the executive officer of the county and should work constantly for programs and ideas that would benefit the county.

The County Judge presides at probate hearings and other trials involving charges that are not felonies and punishable by imprisonment. There will also be various domestic, welfare and rehabilitation situations come before the County Judge for his consideration and handling, as well as numerous and varied other items, such as appeals from J.P. and corporation courts.

I believe the office of the County Judge should be a place where anyone in the county could come and discuss a problem. I am a Baptist and am very proud of the churches of Parmer County. I believe in the Christian home and all of the basic good things that are taught in such a home.

I believe in our schools and feel that prayer should be held as deemed right and needful. I believe students can learn much from a school prayer session and a devoted Christian teacher. I believe that local control of our schools is necessary.

I believe in the full support of our county and various city law enforcement officials. I do not believe in the use of drugs or alcohol, especially in excess. I believe the young people of our county should be guided where possible, but where guidance is not possible, they must be prepared to be accountable to the law, the same as all adults.

I believe in this country, having served in the Army for almost five years during World War II.

I believe the business of the county should be handled in a truthful and efficient manner and that the proper procedures should be used in all cases.

I have served six [6] years on the Friona School Board. I feel that I can handle this position as I have had some thirty [30] years training and experience in the business of record keeping and management where large sums of money and stocks were involved.

I earnestly solicit your support and vote.
