"Somebody's Hurt"

Mid-afternoon—A busy street—A sudden cry—The rush of nearby figures-"Somebody's hurt!"

Tragedy—Broken health—A broken home—for someone—may lurk in that familiar phrase.

Yet how casually we say it. How soon the fleeting lesson is forgotten!

"SOMEBODY'S HURT!" Have you ever paused to consider that some day this cry may be raised above you? Recent statistics show that in a year one person in every fourteen is killed or injured in an accident.

What if you were to meet with prolonged or permanent disability to-morrow? How would your family be fed, clothed and sheltered of your earning ability suddenly were cut off? How long would your savings keep your family in its present comfort if your income were severed and there were additional heavy expenses for surgical attention, nurses, hospital care, specialists' fees, etc.?

Your best protection against the constant menance of accident and illness is an Accident and Health Policy with-

I reckon the picnic season is the finest time that there is—to set the red blood a-zippin' and to make our emotions whizz,-O, it's then we can slip the halter off—an' roll, to our heart's content—an' get up an' shake our-selves, an' feel like a hundred an' one per cent!

As soon as the picnic season's on—an' the styles begin to advance,—it's proper to think of the custard pie, when selectin' yer sun-kist pants... And, the hard-biled egg—an' the peanutsalve, which is staple as alfalf hay—They're items to be provided fer, on the eve of the picnic day.

Of course there's handleaps lurkin' around, as there allers will be, I guess. . The chigger deploys his sub-mareen band, in the depths of the pic-nic dress . . . An' I ain't complained, you understand, of the trysts in the coolin' shade — but, the thing that's quickest to call my hand, is—red ants in the lemonade!

one of the flowing wells and ate under of Holland's Magazine. ted. Mr. Conkwright brought a sack to ian well, phoned Mr. Norton who lives 96, Blk, K-4, East to N. E. corner Sec. below Carlsbad on Black River. We full left. camped on Mr. Washington's ranch. Had traveled 25 miles without seeing a house, it was an oasis after coming out of the desert. Everything of vegetation was burnt up except on the river they said they had not had a good rain in seven years. The house was almost a mansion built back 1-4 mile from the river at the foot of an indian mound, with an irrigation ditch in front the water coming from the mountains, they had a large acreage of cotton all under irrigation, with Mexican laborers. The house is not yet finished the mahogany, stored away in their old house waiting for the new house to be completed. Mr. and Mrs. Washington were the most gracious and hospitable people we had ever met. He being a friend of Mrs. Daniel, and a life long friend and school mate of Aunt but at night it was cool.

On Thursday we started back towards home. A part of our crowd wanted to go to the Carlsbad cave we were then in four miles of it, but fifteen miles around the road. So Mr. The following candidates authorize and Mrs. Bell Mrs. Daniel and Robert took the old Dodge car and started out er which they are listed, subject to the the rest bf our crowd going on to Carlshad to wait until they came back. It was three miles from the foot of the mountain to the cave 3-4 mile was almost straight up over solid rugged rocks. Mr. Bell drove while the others walked up the worst part. It was 11: when we reached the top of the cave There were six or eight buildings for the survers and guides to live in. Several government men were there surveying, taking pictures and getting specimens. Dr. Lee and his daughter were heading the party. You get into an from barrell go down 180 feet. They have a big gasofine engine with a cable attached to let people down. Two persons go down at once, we had a guide and two gasoline lanterns, as our own time was limited we only went about 3-4 mile back into the cave to the first spring, the water was the coolest and best I have ever drank. The scenery was beautiful, stalgmites and stalgtites everywhere, they looked like statues, we passed over great bolders of rocks that had fallen down some time they told us there had never been a cave in since they had known it, and the main guide was the man that discovered it twenty years ago, he had watched millions of bats coming out of the side of the mountain from a hole late in the afternoon and going back early in the morning. They have been taking the grand fertilizer from this cave since 1901, some days taking as | much as four tons, working forty men It was not until last September that the United States Geologica!
