HEREFORD'S SCHOOLS IN OPERATION

PARENTS AND PUPILS HEAR TALKS BY SUPPORTERS

BIG ENROLLMENT

Registration First Day Much Heavier Than For Any Other Year

The city schools opened Monday morning with a record attendance at both buildings. All day Saturday the teachers of both schools were busy with the preliminary work of organization, and on Monday were ready to meet their pupils with a well-designed program.

At the high school the enrollment reached 270 the first day, a much higher figure than that of last year's opening. Notwithstanding a newly equipped room and additional seats in other rooms, adequate accommodations for the increased attendance seems yet a problem. The enrollment at the central schools building is not yet obtainable but will be given in grades in Friday's issue of the Brand. Formal opening at this building, to which the public is invited, will be held on Wednesday.

The high school opening Monday morning was a continuous demonstration of enthusiasm and school spirit. At 9 o'clock the auditorium was filled far beyond seating capacity with students and patrons.

The singing of "America" led by Miss Swisher with Miss Lambert at the piano was inspirational. Rev. Beavers read the 15th Psalm and Rev. Sharp offered prayer; Miss Swisher and Evangelist Spindler gave vocal solos, Miss Elizabeth Black a piano solo, and Lulu Orr a delightful reading; then, Mayor Knight made the address of the hour.

Mr. Knight said that the school is a co-operative institution of which the patrons, the "student" body, and the teachers are component parts and that the harmonious working together of all of these parts is necessary to a thoroughly successful school. He showed how the lack of cooperation could render practically of no effect the best school program, and urged a hearty support of the teachers and of the school board during the coming year. Mr. Knight heartily commended the former work of Miss Griffith in the schools and expressed the strongest confidence in a successful school year.

Following Mr. Knight came a spirited "testimony meeting" in which patrons among the audience rose in quick succession, stated briefly their confidence in the school, and pledged to it their loyal support. Among these speakers was Carl Gilliland, a forceful plea for closer and better relations between the home and the school.

President G. A. F. Parker outlined briefly the board's policy relative to discipline and order in the school and the care of school property. "The board's goal," said Mr. Parker, "is that public school students are ladies and gentlemen. When they cease to be that, their connection with the school is automatically terminated." Other members of the board present, including Mesdames Guthrie and Harrison and Messrs. Oberthier and Hughes, gave brief talks, after which Miss Griffith closed the program by introducing the incoming faculty as follows: W. R. Blocker, principal of the high school and teacher of English; Miss Velma E. Read, science; Mrs. Ezell, Latin-Spanish; Miss Ethel Williamson, home economics; Miss Pauline Haislip, history; Mr. Travis Dameron, mathematics; Mr. Prewitt, manual training; Miss Livingston, Bible; Miss Mattie Swisher, music; Mrs. L. M. Fertsch and Miss Helen Sisk, 7th grade.

Athletics, this year, will be handled jointly by the faculty. Principal Blocker and Messrs. Prewitt and Dameron will have charge of the work among the boys, and Miss Read will direct that of the girls. According to a recent regulation of the board, each student to take part in athletics must successfully carry four high school subjects. This test is also a requirement of the state interscholastic league but is not always regularly adhered to.

GLENN SNYDER'S PARENTS HERE ON VISIT TO FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Snyder of Billett, Ill., arrived in Hereford last Thursday morning for a visit with their son, Glenn, who lives east of town.

Mr. Snyder has been in Hereford several times before and has many friends here who are glad to welcome him back.

THE GAME IS ON!!

Did You Ever Hear Derivation of Santa Fe Symbol and What Circle and Cross Stand For

Who knows where the Santa Fe railway got the symbol on its stationery, in its advertising, on the depots, box cars and on everything else possessed by the Company, and what it stands for?

Miss Emily F. Weekes of Chicago, a large Castro county property owner, has been delving into this mystery with the following results:

"The symbol used by the Santa Fe railroad is an adaptation of a symbol used by astronomers every since the Stone Age of this planet, to indicate the Earth. The Cross within the Circle means the four points of the horizon, north, south, east, west. The students of the Stone Age indicated the Sun, Moon, Earth and other planets by lines traced upon pebbles, with a mixture of animal fat and iron oxide. This symbol of the Cross, often with the Circle, occurs again and again in all cultures and arts descended from ancient times, from races whose history and religions were lost in the dimmest ages. But below the strata of objects lost—during the Iron and Bronze Ages—have been found the pebbles with arhus symbols, besides Astronomical. This cross in the symbol is NOT the symbol of any present religion. This Cross, alone, is now the symbol of the Greek Church, which is not Catholic. Both the Roman and the Celtic Crosses have an extension of the lower point. The use of this emblem by the Santa Fe to indicate that this railroad serves the World, north, south, east and west."

High Gridiron Men Flocked On Practice Field

Football prospects are exceedingly bright for the season of 1921. At the opening session of the schools Monday Superintendent Griffith told the boys to go to it and ordered them to show the best team in the Panhandle while they were about it. Messrs Travis Dameron and Prewitt, teachers of mathematics and english, respectively, are understood to have been designated as coaches for the team. At noon Monday the boys held a meeting and elected Joe Bailey Elliston captain for the season. Young Elliston was at the New Mexico Military institute last year and made an enviable record as an all around athlete. At the first practice Monday afternoon twenty nine huskies answered the roll call.

While the team is severely crippled by the loss of several valuable men, including McEntire, center; Razor, tackle and the entire back field of 1920, still there are likely looking candidates galore for the vacant positions and the coaches should have little trouble in plugging up the holes. It is possible that Paul Jowell, the hurricane full-back of 1920, may yet enter school in time to compete for a place.

The boys are full of confidence and pep and are all set to blaze a wide trail through the ranks of the Panhandle-high elevens this fall. The first game will probably be played with Farwell in the near future.

CHICAGO MEN MAY IMPROVE HOLDING AT SUMMERFIELD

H. C. Ebinger and Robert Stross of Chicago are prospecting in this vicinity and are visiting in the home of Joe Huckert near Summerfield.

Mr. Stross is a son of Mrs. Henry Stross of Chicago, who has land near Summerfield. Mr. Ebinger is a son-in-law of Mrs. Stross. They are thinking of moving out here and improving Mr. Stross' land.

Real Viaduct in Prospect Across Tierra Blanco?

Is there a possibility of securing a real, permanent, honest-to-goodness Viaduct across the Tierra Blanco at the foot of Main street, sometime later on when the pall of financial depression shall have passed from Uncle Sam's map, cattlemen can afford to raise stuff with a reasonable certainty of a profit, farmers get something like what their stuff is worth, and an honest man can walk into a bank and actually borrow $100?

Sounds like dream in September of this year of Our Lord, 1921, but—it's coming folks, sure as you're a foot high. This future improvement was discussed at the luncheon last Monday. No man present dared to hope for such a possibility real soon. But it was pointed out that the present structure is antiquated, out of date, inadequate right now for heavily loaded trucks, and that its rebuilding was only a matter of a short time.

That climb on the far side has always been a nuisance. It wouldn't take a large number of dollars to erect a modern, solid structure capable of carrying any traffic originating in this country, and cut down and pave the hill on the opposite side so that farmers could get into and out of Hereford with some degree of safety and satisfaction.

It may seem like a far cry just now, but a man without a rainbow never finds the pot of gold and a community problem is merely the aggregate of the human problems within its borders.

Salvation Army Field Man Asks Local Donation

Baron James V. Aurienma of Albuquerque, N. M., field representative of the Salvation Army, arrived in Hereford Tuesday in a campaign for funds for the organization. He stated that the quota set for Deaf Smith county was $700, but that if that much could not be raised then he would be glad to have anything it was possible to have subscribed.

Baron Aurienma is a singer of repute and asked the Chamber of Commerce and all citizens interested to arrange a concert for him the latter part of the week, either at the Star Theatre or at the Courthouse, when he would explain the work he is in and would render a number of selections.

MONKEY'S FINGER PRINTS AND OURS

They take all criminals' finger prints nowadays for identification because no two persons' fingers have the same marks. Criminals are degenerates. Now the U. S. scientists at Washington are taking the finger prints of monkeys to see if they cannot establish the connection between the human family of many thousands of years ago and the ape family of today. Bishop McMurray In Simple Story Of Christianity

A sermon as simple as the Sermon on the Mount, and filled with the straightforward and inspiring teachings of the Savior was that delivered last Sunday morning at the Methodist church by Bishop W. F. McMurray of Louisville, Ky. While not particularly advertised the house was full to the last seat and the splendid audience sat spellbound during the plain story of Christianity unfolded before their consciousness. Bishop McMurray also spoke at the meeting Saturday night.

Rev. Beavers states that the meeting will continue through Sunday at least and possibly longer. A big feature of the revival has been the splendid special music offered under direction of Rev. Spindler of Tulsa, Okla. Tuesday night a duet an dueto were scheduled, and something especially extra is on the program for every meeting. The weather has interfered with the meeting to some extent so far, but from now on better attendance is anticipated.

COMMERCIAL CLUB OFFICIALS MEET

NEW DIRECTORS ORGANIZE FOR ANOTHER YEAR'S WORK

NO SECRETARY

Directors and Stenographer Sufficient. Conservative Program

Following the usual weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the City Cafe last Monday, the first meeting of the new board of directors was held at the Club rooms and formal organization entered into and plans laid for the coming year's work.

D. L. McDonald was again named president and Homer Wilkinson vice president. It was decided not to employ a secretary but to follow the precedent of the latter part of last year, maintain a stenographer at headquarters, and each director to look after his own particular division of the work. The president will handle such details and emergency questions as may arise from time to time. It was agreed that the slogan this year must be to stick together, hold what has been done, push publicity along legitimate and inexpensive lines, and work at the small things that go to make up the large ones for any community.

Mr. McDonald heads the publicity division, Mr. Wilkinson the financial division, Mr. Dameron the cattle division, Mr. Harrison the highway division and Judge Knight the civic division. Each man will select his own committee to aid him. General matters will be taken up as a whole by the board at Monday's luncheons and special meetings will be called when necessary.

Following the meeting members of the board took the street and called on the business men for pledges for another year. The round was not completed but liberal responses were reported and the matter of finances has ceased to be a matter of concern.

Hereford is to be congratulated upon the reorganization of this necessary body and upon the personnel of the board, workers all and unselfish men who are giving freely and unstintedly of their time and money because of a realization that the duty devolves upon some one and that the man who is chosen cannot afford to shirk.

Church of Christ Closes Services Chooses Officers

The revival at the Church of Christ closed Sunday night. The attendance throughout was good, all things being considered. Rev. Huff preached some very strong and impressive sermons. One member was added to the church and several more are expected to join soon.

During the meeting the board was reorganized with the following results: W. H. Chambers, Leo Phillips and C. V. Burgess, Deacons; W. A. Knox, E. A. Winterrowd and A. S. Higgins, Elders.

Beavers of the Methodist church officiating. Following the ceremony the happy couple were given a supper on the creek near the bridge, attended by the friends and neighbors.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lomas of Fort Sumner and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. B. Green. They will make their home in Hereford for the present.

AMERICA TO HAVE WONDERFUL "BRIDGE OF SHIPS."

This bridge is to be built in 90 days across the Hudson from Yonkers, N. Y., to New Jersey, using Uncle Sam's useless wooden ships. Music Study Club With Mrs. Dameron
The annals of the Music Study Club have recorded nothing pleasanter than the all day meeting enjoyed Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Dameron.

An auto drive to the pretty ranch home was a delightful prelude to the day's program, the home with its dainty new furnishings and atmosphere of welcoming hospitality being a pleasure in itself.

Following a time-honored custom, the club members each prepared and brought a dish which at noon time formed a part of a most delicious dinner menu. The table was exquisitely laid. A beautiful centerpiece showing pink rosebuds with fern in a silver and cut glass vase placed above a crystal reflector, emphasizing the attractiveness of handsome napery and dinner service. Cafeteria serving added a pleasant feature.

The early afternoon was pleasantly spent in listening to the vacation experiences of some who have been away. Mrs. Henry Wilkinson told of her stay in California. Misses Elizabeth Black and Helen Lambert of what they had heard musically in Chicago, and Mrs. R. T. Evans of her summer at Chautauqua and trip through the east.

A business meeting of the club was held, later at which Misses Elizabeth Oberthier and Elizabeth Black were elected to membership.

Guests of the club were Misses Phetis Campbell, Katharyn and Virginia Doane, Minnie Dea Coffin of Plainview, Livingston; Mesdames Wilson, Ben Allen and R. T. Evans.

Young People Celebrate Vacation's Close

KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME BUT KEEP IT YOURSELF

Now there's the old argument about "keeping your money at home." Keep it at home by all means—but keep it at home in your own pocket—not somebody else's. If you can save money by paying cash for your groceries and keep that saving in your own pocket, isn't that the thing to do?

Just remember that this is the 20th century, the day of modern buying. The tendency is all toward eliminating unnecessary expenses, but the man who is looking out for number one is cutting the cost of living by buying from cash stores.

Relation of County Agent to People

By A. C. TRUE, Director, States Relations Service

The county agriculture agent is a public official whose business it is to make available in practical form the knowledge of agricultural science as developed by the State experiment stations, the United States Department of Agriculture, and the results of the best farm practice. He is expected to show by field demonstrations, publications, and otherwise the application of such knowledge to local farm conditions.

Demonstrate Improved Farm Practices

The advantages of improved farm practices as demonstrated on the most successful farms in the county where the agent is employed are called to the attention of farmers in his territory. With these demonstrations before them, individual farmers are able to determine intelligently the extent to which they will apply the lessons of the demonstrations conducted by the agent.

The county agent is an officer of the State college of agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture. He may also be employed in cooperation with the county government or the county farmers' organization contributing to his support and aiding in his work. He is not, however, expected to act as the business agent of the individual farmer or group of farmers in carrying on commercial transactions. He is not in any sense a hired man, operating the farmer's own farm enterprises.

The subjects on which the county agent may give demonstrations or advice are as varied as the needs of the farm population in his county. It is his duty to demonstrate the application of agricultural science to soil management and building, to the control of plant diseases and insect pests, to the introduction of better varieties of farm crops, and to improvement in methods of feeding, breeding, and care of farm animals. The economic management of the farm as a whole to yield the largest net returns, the study of systems of marketing local farm products, advice on the purchase of farm supplies.

Definite Plan of Work Is Important

As a cooperative employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, the State agricultural college, and the county, the county agent's first duty is to inform himself as to how he can intelligently serve all the people of his county. He must get a general idea of conditions, of the local system of farming, the kind of people he is to work with, and a knowledge of soil conditions. He must meet with representative farmers of the county and with them formulate a definite plan of work in regard to other more urgent problems.

As he must endeavor to reach as many of the people as possible, and help them raise the average standard of farm practices, there must be a number of concrete demonstrations well scattered over the county from which definite reports of results can be secured. The county agent's strength of leadership is demonstrated by his ability to perform his duties without drifting into superficial work; to maintain a well-balanced program; to distinguish between essentials and nonessentials under existing conditions; to get people to help themselves, and to cooperate with them in such a way as to secure their assistance and to assist them in making and carrying out the general program.

While the county agent's position and duties make him the leader in agricultural matters, he can not fairly be expected to be an expert on all agricultural subjects. He should have a sufficient general knowledge to advise on the leading questions, and he should know on what specialists to call for (Continued on Page Four)

Speaking of a bath as seasonable is bordering on humor. It is not of the bath we speak. Instead—it is the installation of a bathroom in that home of yours.

Installing a bathroom with its modern sanitation involves the laying of many pipes and complicated details.

Permit us to give you an estimate—which will be lower than at any time in many moons.

"Dirt Road Problem Solved"

That is the statement made by the Avery Company of Texas, who will hold a demonstration of the Avery One-Man "Road-Razer" soon on a road near the city.
 "And," Mr. Thompson, salesman, claims, "the Avery 'Road-Razer' is the machine that did it." This may seem rather a broad claim to some of your readers, but if any one who doubts it attends the demonstration he will soon agree with me.
 "The Avery One-Man 'Road-Razer' is the fastest-working and most economical machine ever made for road work. Every one who has seen it work will agree with that statement. Public officials see in the Road-Razer the solution to the dirt roads problem, the people, the tax-payers, see the opportunity to enjoy good dirt roads and streets the year round at a low cost, for the Road-Razer will do a maximum of work at a minimum expense. It is as far ahead of the road drag as the drag is ahead of nothing. It is really a combination of grader and drag with all their good qualities and more, and none of their bad ones."
 "One road official said recently, 'You know as well as I that the road-dragging proposition is a farce. We have always needed a machine with a blade to cut off the bumps and fill in the ruts.' The Road-Razer that we are going to demonstrate is just such an outfit. It is a real maintenance outfit. It cuts off the high places and carries the dirt along to fill in the low ones. It leaves behind a smooth hard road that looks like a boulevard, rides like a boulevard, and, by George, is a boulevard."

 "The demonstration soon at Hereford will prove to all doubters that the Road-Razer is the real answer to the dirt road problem." (adv.)

A Quiet Fall and Winter

On account of financial conditions the wise ones tell us the next six months will not be quite so lively—that is we will not have so much money to burn up with gas and fine cars, but that we will stay home this Fall and Winter.

If they are correct it will be a fine time to read good books and improve our literary selves. You will then appreciate good lighting in the home.
 Get ready for these good times by installing proper lighting. This can often be accomplished by the selection of the right lamp. We carry a complete stock of Sunbeam Lamps in-all sizes, clear or frosted.
