Early Missionaries Of Church Usually Walked

Scripture—Acts 13:2-14:28. By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

How easily and casually we travel thousands of miles today! An occasion comes to visit people in countries far away; or a business trip sends us away from our homes. Not only statesmen, missionaries and women whose business takes them to the far corners of the earth, set forth at short notice to "go places," but just ordinary folk take speedy automobiles, buses, trains or airplanes and travel to faraway places. Our story concerns a time when the world was very small, and means of travel extremely limited. People who went to visit faraway relatives or friends, rode mule or camel back, sailed in primitive boats or walked many weary miles. We never hear of our two missionaries—Paul and Barnabas—riding in a chariot or on horse or mule back. They did sail in boats —but mostly they probably walked. From Antioch, where they were ordained, for these missionary journeys, they went to Seleucia. There they took a boat to the island of Cyprus.

At Salamis they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews. Then on to Paphos where they found a false prophet whose name was Bar-jesus or Elymas.

They had been called by the deputy of the country, Eergerus Paulus, a Roman official, who desired to hear the word of God. Elymas tried to turn the official from the faith, but Paul rebuked him sternly and told him he should be blinded for a time. Immediately darkness fell upon the man, and Paulus seeing the miracle, "believed the doctrine of the Lord." With Paul and Barnabas was John Mark—not the Apostle John—and he evidently lost heart when they went to Perga and left them to return to Jerusalem. At the synagogue in Antioch, in Pisidia, they sat down. After the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue asked the two if they had "any word of exhortation for the people."

them in Iconium. They spoke to great multitudes of both Jews and Greeks, but some rebellious Jews stirred up Gentiles and turned them against Paul and Barnabas. Then came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, and they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the city leaving him for dead. As the disciples stood around him sorrowing, Paul rose up and went into the city, and on the morrow he went with Barnabas to Derbe.

When the two preached the gospel in that city they made many disciples, then returned to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch: "confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and taut through many tribulations we must enter the Kingdom of God."

"And when they had appointed for them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed." Back to Antioch the two missionaries went, and they told the church there all they had done, and how they "had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles." What a joyful gathering that must have been! "And there they abode a long time with the disciples."

Steers Invade Abilene Gym

The Big Spring Steers will attempt to knock the Abilene Eagles from contention in the District 5AA basketball race in a game at Abilene Saturday night.

Big Spring was definitely eliminated from the chase last Tuesday when they dropped a decision to Sweetwater in Sweetwater. The Steers are now in the best position to finish in the lead and represent 5AA in bi-district wars.

Larry McCulloch's locals defeated the War Birds by 12 points in a game played in Big Spring last month but the Eagles are always tough to defeat at home.

Probable starters for the locals are Howard Washburn, Floyd Martin, Wayne Brown, Howard Jones and Harold Rosson.

B teams of the two schools will clash at 6:30 p. m. The Steers wind up their season here next Tuesday, when they tangle with San Angelo.

Arizona Slated To Receive Bid HOUSTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Houston Post says the University of Arizona may get the bid to the Southwest NCAA Regional Basketball Tournament without a sectional playoff. The newspaper last night quoted Jack Gray, University of Texas basketball coach and chairman of the Southwest NCAA basketball selection committee, as saying he personally favors Arizona. Gray had been asked about the chances of the University of Houston, new champions of the Gulf Coast Conference, qualifying for an NCAA playoff. Harry Fouke, University of Houston athletic director, earlier yesterday had said he would try to have the Houston school considered by NCAA officials. Houston's record so far is 14 victories and six defeats. Gray was quoted by the post as saying "it would be difficult for the University of Houston to participate in the NCAA eliminations this year." He gave these reasons: 1. Houston lost earlier this season to the University of Texas, a team Gray termed one of the weaker teams in the Southwest Conference. 2. There likely won't be a playoff anyway because Arizona, with a 18-2 record, looks like the top team in the area.

Congressional Library Will Celebrate 150th Anniversary

By TEX EASLEY
 AP Special Washington Service
 WASHINGTON — The Library of Congress, headed by Texas-born and reared Dr. Luther H. Evans, celebrates its 150th anniversary this year.

It was on April 24, 1800 that Congress established the library. The sesquicentennial date will be marked by the opening of special exhibits of the most famous books, manuscripts, prints and documents on hand.

The history of the world's largest library is entwined with the lives and achievements of the men who have directed its operations. In its long history there were only nine librarians prior to Dr. Evans. The job, now paying $15,000 annually, is filled by presidential appointment, subject to confirmation by the Senate. There is no definite term, but the position normally is considered non-political and so does not change with changes in party control of the White House.

It took about two years to get the library actually established, so the first librarian didn't assume the position until 1802. He was John Beckley, who doubled as clerk of the House of Representatives. He served until 1807. A few years later the dual role was dropped.

The longest record of service is that of Herbert Putnam, from 1899 to 1939. He took over just two years after the opening of the existing huge granite library building, with its interior of bright marble, bronze and colorful murals.

Under Putnam's direction the library grew to such proportions that a mammoth new annex with stacks for 10 million books had to be erected across the street, just behind the main building. There are now more than 8 million books and 8 million manuscripts, in addition to countless other items, sheltered in the two buildings.

Dr. Evans took over as librarian in 1945, after six years there in various roles, including that of assistant and acting librarian. He is only 47. With a decade of service already to his credit, he stands to achieve a long career in the job.

Born near Sayersville, Bastrop County, Oct. 13, 1902, the son of a railroad section maintenance foreman, Evans spent much of his boyhood on a farm. He was graduated from Bastrop High School and obtained an AB degree from the University of Texas in 1923 with a major in political science and a minor in economics. A year later he got a master's degree in the same subjects, then went to Europe to observe the League of Nations and study various governments.

After a teaching career in various colleges and universities, including Stanford, Dartmouth and Princeton, he directed a nationwide WPA project initiated in 1935 for assembling and compiling historical records and data of the various states and many of the larger cities.

Evans' success in this work prompted Archibald MacLelish, a month after the latter's appointment in 1939 as librarian, to make the Texas director of the library's legislative reference service.

The duties of this section recall the origin of the library, which had its beginning along with the creation of the District of Columbia to serve as the seat of the national government.

When the Capitol was in Philadelphia and New York the legislators had access to the libraries in those relatively large cities. Here they had moved to a sprawling settlement being carved out of the wilderness and populated largely by the laborers building the Capitol and White House, and their families.

So, one of their early steps was to authorize the library and provide $5,000 for the purchase of books. For years virtually all were made in Europe. Gradually acquisitions were made of private collections, including the 7,000-volume collection of Thomas Jefferson.

It was purchased in 1815, a year after the British had pillaged and burned the Capitol, destroying all of some 3,000 books which had been amassed up to that time. About two-thirds of the Jefferson library was burned in a fire in the Capitol on Christmas Eve of 1831.

An act of Congress in 1870 made the library the depository for copies of every publication on which a copyright has been obtained. Its collection of books and manuscripts in Hebrew and Chinese are perhaps the largest anywhere in the world.

A hundred million dollars has been appropriated for the library in its 150 years existence; it would be impossible to place a value on its contents, which include the Declaration of Independence.

Although the Library of Congress was established principally to fill a need for the lawmakers, it now is primarily the center of research for students and scholars.

Congressmen and other federal government officials are the only ones who may take books and documents away from the library. But any citizen in the land is privileged to enter its reading rooms and have access, within the building, to its volumes.

"Battleship Killer" To Be Exhibited In City Saturday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2,013, will have on display here Saturday the latest model of the notorious "battleship killer." This type of ship was used by the Italians in the Mediterranean to sink thousands of tons of Allied shipping. After seven years as "top secret" the deadly weapon is now being shown to the public by the VFW.

The 21-foot, electrically operated craft in one night sank the Queen Elizabeth and Valiant, two of the largest battleships of the Royal British Navy.

The mobile exhibit will be at the courthouse from 9:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. Saturday. No admission charge will be made, but contributions will be accepted for the VFW service welfare and relief funds.

JUVENILE PAIR HELD IN KIDNAPING WHICH GAVE BRINK'S ROBBERY CLUE

DEDHAM, Mass., Feb. 10. (AP)—Two baby-faced juveniles were held today in the kidnaping of the daughter of a police sergeant who gave the first tangible clue in the million dollar Brink's robbery.

Boston Police Lt. Benjamin Beers said the kidnaping of Ann McCarty, 22, a college graduate, evidently had no connection with the robbery.

The young woman was released unharmed last night after a high-speed, four mile police chase which ended in capture of the juveniles.

Police reported a third youth, and possibly a fourth who might have been in a second car, are being sought.

Beers said the young woman's screams as she was forced into a car near her Dedham home touched off the swift chase and speedy seizure of her alleged kidnapers.

The juveniles were booked on charges of delinquency and suspicion of kidnaping. Their names were withheld.

The young woman's father, Sgt. John T. McCarty, turned up the first definite Brink's robbery clue by noting that the serial number of a pistol found in Soverville — not far from the holdup scene — matched an FBI listing of a gun stolen in the sensational raid.

Meet George!
George wasn't present the night his illustrious namesake crossed the Delaware. Nor did he arrive in time to "winter" with his countrymen at Valley Forge. As a matter of fact, it was one hundred sixty-six years after Cornwallis surrendered that George became an American citizen—by birth.
George is old enough now to carry a flag. And he's old enough to carry in his heart the principles for which the flag stands.
One of those principles is Religious Liberty... the right of every American to worship and serve God in his own way.
George goes to Sunday School. That's part of carrying the flag.
For the sacred rights and privileges which the Father of His Country helped us to win, the son of his country must learn to love and to defend.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship among Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Woman Remembers Neighbors In Will

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
A Rio Grande Valley woman who had remembered her neighbors in her will.

Mrs. Isabella J. Johnston, of Donna, Hidalgo County, died while visiting in St. Louis, Mo., last month while visiting a sister. She was 83.

Her will, filed for probate in the court of T. B. Waite, Jr., Hidalgo County judge, was a heart-warming instrument, indeed. To the people among whom she had lived, she left a variety of household belongings—everything from pottery to pillow slips. To two neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sheriff of Donna, she even left her residence. Here are bequests to some other Donna neighbors as listed by the Valley Evening Monitor at McAllen:

Mrs. A. M. Thompson was left an upholstered chair and a Mexican market basket. To Mrs. B. O. Wilkinson; Mrs. Johnson left $300 in cash, a pair of large bed pillows, one red plaid blanket, window drapes, dishes, two rockers, one-half of her rugs, one-half of her table linens and bed linens, a lace table cloth, a magazine stand, a pair of pillow slips and one-half her cooking utensils.

Mrs. Ruby Goode will receive a mantle clock "which she has always admired" and a pottery vase. Mrs. Johnston left $500 in cash to Mrs. Effie Holway and another $500 and a three-piece wicker set will go to the Donna Presbyterian Church.

In addition to Mrs. Johnston's home, Mr. and Mrs. Sheriff are to inherit $500 and her piano, her silverware, a China-closet, a magazine stand, a dresser, a bedroom suite, two wash tubs and benches and the other half of the articles Mrs. Johnston had divided for Mrs. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Luther Lepley was left three orange chairs and Mrs. Henry Baldwin inherited an electric toaster, breakfast table and chairs, sherry glasses and water glasses.

A chiffonier goes to Mrs. Lella Erwin some fancy china and silver dishes to Mrs. Margaret Null and Mrs. James Harding.

Mrs. Johnston also made bequests to Red Cross chapters at Donna and Weslaco, specifying that the money should go to the needy in those cities.

PRICES ARE REDUCED Hudson Displaying New 1950 Models

Hudson today is putting on display the new 1950 Hudson Super and Custom Commodore models, on which price reductions have just been announced.

New models are on display at the local dealership, Eaker & Neel, 419 Main, and the public is invited to examine them.

The company is stressing that in addition to price cuts, Hudson is featuring in the 1950 line more refinements most features and more beauty. The exclusive "step-down" design is retained.

The perfection of "step-down" design engine-ring is reflected in the Super and Custom Commodore models' low-built beauty and long free flowing lines. The new four towered grille has diagonal twin struts which form a triangle with the illuminated Hudson emblem at the top, centered in the top grille bar.

Front and rear fenders have been absorbed into the body and are continuous from headlights to tail lamps. An embossed panel forming a speedline runs from the front

Reds Blocking Atomic Control

LONDON, Feb. 10. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said last night that "Communist imperialism" is blocking international control of atomic energy.

Bevin told a political meeting in southeast London that disagreement of Russia and the five other powers on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission stemmed from Soviet refusal to permit effective international inspection of her atomic facilities.

The inspections would assure that facilities were not used for war purposes. Bevin reiterated that Britain approves the American plan for international atomic control and inspections.

Bevin termed the Russian refusal a manifestation of "Communist imperialism," which he said is expansionist and seeks to dominate the world and to control it.

British policy, Bevin said, was "to try to get international agreement." Britain, he continued, is "ready to give open inspection as to what we are doing if every other country will do the same."

NEW OPERATING ROOM HAZARD

ATLANTA, Feb. 10. (AP)—A couple of fire underwriters noted today that certain types of nurses' underwear can be dangerously electrifying.

The two, B. I. Simpson and Gerald E. Abbott of Southeastern Underwriters, found that for operating room purposes silk and nylon were out.

These materials, they found after an inspection trip to Emory University, had been barred because they sometimes generate static electricity sparks which might set off an explosion among the gases used for anesthetics.

Cotton, they said, was found to be best since it produced no sparking.

Canadian River Dam Backed By Group

AMARILLO, Feb. 10. (AP)—A delegation backing the Canadian River Dam is scheduled to go to Washington Feb. 20 to urge congressional action on the project "as soon after April 25 as is possible."

April 25 is the deadline for governor's comment reports on the dam from the leaders of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Southwest Users Eligible For Foods

DALLAS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Some Southwest users are eligible for government-owned dried eggs and nonfat dry milk solids.

John J. Slaughter, U. S. Department of Agriculture official here, said school lunches, Bureau of Indian Affairs and public welfare agencies are eligible to receive the free of cost at the point of storage.

Federal Tax Meet

DALLAS, Feb. 10. (AP)—Lawyers from six southwestern states meet here today for a conference on federal taxes.
