The world's largest commercial land plane, the DC-4, is shown as it was hauled out of the Douglas Aircraft Corp. hangar in Santa Monica, Calif., where it was built, to prepare it for its first test flight soon. The $1,700,000 four-motored craft, 98 feet long and with a wingspread of 138 feet, will carry 42 passengers and a crew of five. The size of the ship is emphasized by the two DC-3's, present Douglas airline standard, and other smaller ships in the background.

Britain Acts For War Truce

Asks Removal Of Troops In Spain

Russia Reported To Be Friendly To Latest Move

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Great Britain urged the non-intervention sub-committee to greater speed today on her proposal for withdrawing foreign troops from Spain, hoping to pave the way quickly for a truce in the Spanish civil war. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was reported to have ordered fresh diplomatic activity by Britain's representatives in Spain, Czechoslovakia, Germany and France to safeguard Europe's peace.

Britain has made no actual moves either toward government or insurgent Spain for a truce, but informed sources disclosed she was considering the possibility of bringing representatives from Barcelona and Burgos together.

Russias Amicable

One obstacle to the Chamberlain program was removed today when Soviet Russia, receding from her previous position, agreed to the British plan for withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain on condition that "effective sea control" be enforced.

Samuel Kagan, Russian member of the non-intervention sub-committee, announced this concession but added that "the soviet government must reiterate its proposals that international observers be permanently stationed in Spanish ports."

(Italian and German aid reaches the Spanish insurgents by sea.) General agreement on the Spanish committee would simplify Britain's task in arranging an armistice. Her decision to make the attempt was influenced largely by the belief that Spain's war, now almost two years old, was the major threat to peace and other issues could be wiped clear if it were settled.

British officials disclosed a reply from Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco to London's protest over the bombing of two British ships, the Thorpehall and Pentham, in air raids on Spanish government ports.

The reply expressed regret and promised a "full investigation," but declared it was a "misapprehension" for London to believe British shipping was picked deliberately as targets for attack.

Oil Companies Fined Japs Continue Aerial Raids In China

Defenders Stiffen Resistance On Lanfeng Front

MADISON, Wis., June 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today assessed fines of $80,000 and $25,000 costs against 13 major oil companies and 11 of their officials on charges of illegally fixing the margin of profit for independent, wholesale gasoline jobbers in the Midwest.

Judge Stone accepted the defendants' plea of nolo contendere by which they were willing to accept penalties without standing trial. Eight other companies and a like number of officials, who refused to enter nolo contendere pleas, will go on trial in Madison September 23.

In the case of each company and individual whose plea were accepted the court imposed a fine of $15,000. The costs of the $25,000 are to be split among the defendants.

The companies entering pleas were: The Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc. Wadhams Oil Co. Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. Cities Service Co. Empire Oil and Refining Co. Continental Oil Co. Pure Oil Co.

Shell Petroleum Corp. Sinclair Refining Corp. Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. Phillips Petroleum Co. Ohio Oil Co. and the Skelly Oil Co.

The eight companies to stand trial in September are: Gulf Refining Co. The Texas Co. Tidewater Associated Oil Co. Barnwell Refining Corp. Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Oklahoma. Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Illinois. Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Kansas.

The National Refining Co. The indictment charging illegal fixing of jobbers' profit margins was one of two returned by a federal jury here. On the first indictment, charging conspiracy to raise and fix the price of gasoline in the Midwest in 1935 and 1936, 16 major companies and 30 officials were convicted last Jan. 22. Judge Stone deferred sentencing and took under advisement motions to set aside the convictions. He said today he would rule on them in a week.

Defenders Stiffen Resistance On Lanfeng Front

SHANGHAI, June 2 (AP)—Warplanes of Nippon's army again spread destruction today through towns and villages about the Lanfeng railway, and Japanese said this enabled their columns to make important gains.

The Japanese announced they had occupied a corner of Kihsein, 20 miles south of Lanfeng, after an hour's fight. Chinese field gun positions north of Kihsein were damaged heavily.

For two weeks, the Japanese have been fighting for staunchly defended villages about Lanfeng, railway station on the Lunghai on the westward route to Chengchow, whence they hope to turn southward in a mass offensive against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

One Japanese detachment claimed occupation of Luyi, 15 miles west of Porsten, thereby helping to straighten the 75-mile crescent-shaped front running south from Lanfeng.

Capture by Chinese of three villages north and east of Lanfeng kept Japanese from lifting the siege of the division commanded by Lieutenant General Kenji Doihara, the defenders said.

A Chinese motor unit of 4500 men fought one of the bitterest battles of the day 20 miles west of Kweitsh, another Lunghai railway point in Honan province. The Chinese were reported routed after several hours' fighting.

The Japanese aerial offensive continued also in South China, and the Canton railway got another of its daily bombardments. A trainload of gasoline was said to have been exploded by the attackers, contributing to a rupture in traffic.

SCOUTERS MEET

There will be a district meeting of all scout leaders Friday evening at 8 p. m. in the office of C. S. Blomfield, it was announced Thursday.

More Charges Promised

'Biggest Financial Steal' Uncovered By Dewey

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Financial circles today were stirred by reports there would be further indictments in District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's investigation of a trust which he charged pyramided $5 into control of investment trusts with assets of $16,000,000.

Six indictments were announced yesterday by the district attorney, who denounced the alleged looting of seven investment trusts by the group as "the biggest financial steal in years."

The ring leaders, Dewey said, devised a method whereby investment trusts were made to pay for their own acquisition and stripping.

The only original expenditure, he said, was the $5 spent to incorporate a Canadian Holding company, the Fiscal Management Co., Ltd.

As explained by Dewey, the system involved the wasting of about three dollars out of every four of the investment trusts' assets. The "looters," he said, substituted worthless securities for marketable securities to repay the money they had borrowed to purchase control.

Harrison May Head Demos

Democrats Working For Veteran Miss. Senator

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Several senate democrats up for re-election are working quietly to elect Senator Pat Harrison (D-Miss.) at the head of the party's senate campaign committee.

Harrison's selection for the chairmanship, these senators said today, would do much to promote party harmony for the November elections.

The tall, soft-spoken Mississippi is generally popular with both administration supporters and opponents. He has differed with President Roosevelt on some issues, however, and recently criticized the president's views on the 1938 revenue bill.

MO. TOWN REFUSES TO YIELD REMAINS OF MOSES AUSTIN

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred acquiesced today in refusal of Potosi, Mo., officials to surrender the remains of Moses Austin, who is closely identified with early colonization of Texas.

"We don't want any lawsuit and if Texas ever gets the remains of Austin it will be through the gracelessness of the people of Potosi," the governor said.

Private Firms Would Have Preference

Competition Against Existing Utilities Not Favored

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Majority Leader Barkley told the senate today President Roosevelt does not want to use government funds for building public utility plants competing with privately-owned systems until private utilities have been given an opportunity to sell their holdings at "a reasonable price."

Fights Amendment

Barkley's statement came during senate debate on a proposal to forbid the use of PWA funds for constructing plants which would compete with private-owned systems.

The restriction was recommended by the senate appropriations committee as an amendment to the administration's three-billion-dollar lending-spending measure.

If the restriction on PWA allotments is eliminated, Barkley asserted he was "authorized to say" that the president would not allocate funds for building public systems unless municipalities have "in good faith made an offer to purchase the existing private plant."

Barkley said the power question was discussed at a recent conference between the president, himself, Speaker Bankhead and House Majority Leader Rayburn.

"The president," he said, "took the position that federal money ought not to be allocated for the construction of public utilities where there is an existing private utility whose rates are regulated by a public authority until and unless the municipality or other political subdivision made in good faith an offer to purchase at a fair price the existing privately owned and operated plant."

"This position was agreed to by all those present at the conference," Barkley said that as a result of this discussion he prepared an amendment to the relief bill carrying out the president's ideas.

"Upon further consideration, however," he continued, "it was discovered that such a provision would very probably result in litigation as to the fairness as well as the good faith of any offer made by a municipality to purchase an existing plant."

"For this reason I will not only not offer the amendment which we discussed and contemplated, but I oppose the amendment which the committee has inserted in the bill prohibiting the use of any of these funds under any circumstances for the erection of a competing utility where one already exists."

"The senate took up the utilities question it overrode its appropriations committee and restored to the spending-lending bill the public works appropriation of $665,000,000 previously approved by the house."

WORKERS HUMOR NEW OUTBREAK

MEXICO CITY, June 2 (AP)—Leaders of a short-lived strike which disrupted one of Mexico's two telephone systems, the Ericsson company, threaten a new strike unless their troubles are settled.

"They are embroiled in a dispute with another union. Fifty-two thousand telephones were silenced yesterday before labor department officials convinced the workers the strike was "unpatriotic"—out of line with President Cardenas' plea that labor troubles not be added to the government's worries.

Cardenas today was touring San Luis Potosi state, center of an agrarian uprising now said official yto have been ended. From there he will leave for an inspection of expropriated oil properties or will visit Lower California.

G-Man Chief Takes Lead In Kidnap Investigation, Victim Still Missing

KIDNAP VICTIM MISSING

James Bailey Cash, Jr., 5 1/2 year old son of a Princeton, Fla., filling station operator, was still missing Thursday, three days after his father reported that he had paid $10,000 ransom demanded by kidnapers. Poses and federal agents joined in a wide-spread search for the boy.

Posse Combs Large Area For Boy

Reward Posted For Reports On Part Of Ransom Bill

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, took charge of the James Bailey Cash, Jr., kidnaping case today while small boats and divers augmented a huge posse combing this area in the rain for a trace of the 5-year-old victim.

Refuses To Comment

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened immediately to the F.B.I. office in a downtown skyscraper where agents have been questioning several suspects for 24 hours. He refused, like his subordinates, to discuss the case and indicated he expected to be here several days.

Hundreds of men in khaki veterans' uniforms and hunting dogs, many with pistols at their belts, assembled at dawn and were taken out in farm trucks to the sectors assigned for the second day of the search.

The hunt was extended northward through Palmetto thickets, weeds and flat truck farm lands.

The senior Cash and his wife remained secluded in their frame apartment building, although the father came to the door to receive three telegrams.

It was learned that the anguished mother, who had been prostrate with grief, finally was sleeping.

Post Reward

The posse, covering an area of 80 square miles, turned in a number of articles that might or might not be clues. Among them were two striped convicts' outfits complete with hat, jacket and trousers found in a field. The suits and various other findings were sent to Miami for investigation.

The F.B.I. announced it would pay double the face value of the bank notes to finders of the first 100 bills of the $10,000 ransom. Serial numbers of the 1,500 bills were broadcast yesterday.

Finders must deliver the bills to the Miami bureau without reporting the discovery to anyone else in order to receive the payment.

A $500 reward for the capture and conviction of the kidnaper was posted by the Palm Beach town council and the Dade (Miami) county commission offered $1,000 reward for apprehension of the snatcher on conditions still to be specified by the F.B.I.

U. S. RESTITUTION DEMANDS APPROVED BY JAPANESE

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Japan agreed today to meet almost all demands for restitution of American property in China and for the right of unhindered return of Americans to their posts there.

Meanwhile Ambassador Grew at Tokyo was informed today by the Japanese foreign office that Japan was sending an "interdepartmental committee to visit the Japanese controlled area in central China not only to investigate the situation relating to the occupancy of American property but also to formulate means for satisfactory adjustment of the situation."

FDR TO BE INVITED TO ROGERS SERVICE

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Plans to invite President Roosevelt to participate in this summer in dedicatory ceremonies for the Will Rogers Memorial highway were disclosed today by Carl Hinton, manager of the Amarillo, Texas, chamber of commerce.

A special congressional committee, headed by Representative Jones (D-Tex.), has asked for a conference tomorrow with the president to extend the invitation, Hinton said. Senators Connally and Sheppard of Texas, Hatch and Chavez of New Mexico, and Lee and Thomas of Oklahoma, all democrats, also are on the committee.

Reject Resolution

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2 (AP)—The house of representatives today by a vote of 70 to 15 rejected a senate concurrent resolution authorizing a joint legislative committee to continue the investigation of the arrest of 36 men here last Saturday night in a charge on the plant of the strike-bound Consolidated Chemical Industries, Inc.

Hits At High Tax On Oil Industry

Burden Too Heavy For Industry, Says Speaker

MARSHALL, Tex., June 2 (AP)—Charles P. McGaha, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, asked Texas chamber of commerce managers here today for their support against unfair legislation and confiscatory taxation.

The managers are holding a convention here.

"The total tax revenue accruing from oil to state and local governments of all kinds amounts to the staggering sum of $71,000,000 annually, while federal taxes pushed the burden on this one industry of the state to more than $103,000,000 last year," the Wichita Falls oil man declared.

"In all fairness to an industry which contributes to this extent to the welfare and progress of our state, collective efforts should be made to reduce the tax load of the Texas oil industry, obviously now paying for more than its equitable share."

Proration is an economic necessity and Texas' conservation laws are unquestionably an excellent thing for Texas but from the operators standpoint they add materially to operating costs, McGaha said.

He said that for every payroll dollar spent "our industry pays 50 cents in taxes."

Texas is now producing approximately 42 per cent of the nation's oil.

"According to estimates of the industry's best engineers more than 8 billion barrels, or more than half of all the oil reserves in the United States," McGaha added. "At least 1,200,000 persons in Texas depend directly on the oil and gas business for their livelihood."

NE WHALES TAX

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2 (AP)—The senate today passed the house-approved administration bill providing a one per cent general sales tax.

HOUSE LEADER VIEWS WANING SESSION AS SATISFACTORY

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—A short, stocky, bald Texan who has shepherded the biggest democratic majority ever in the house of representatives puffed rapidly on a cigarette today and viewed the waning session as satisfactory.

"The boys all have pulled together and we have accomplished something," said Rep. Sam Rayburn, the democratic floor leader. "We suffered only one major reverse since we came back here in November and that was the shelving of the reorganization bill."

Against the reorganization defeat, Rayburn placed congressional approval of a new crop control bill, house acceptance of a wage-hour bill after refusing to pass the first draft, and speedy adoption of regular appropriation bills.

"I think most of the boys are ready to go home. I know that I

Chattergrams

By Jeanne Suits

Annual American custom of migrating to the countryside for a bit to eat under a tree is with us again. This is the season of the year when ants and all the ants' aunts, bugs, flies, mosquitoes and chiggers able to crawl, fly, walk or hop converge under the most desirable trees, organize their forces, and await the arrival of jovial crowds bent on getting away from the ordinary mode of living by motoring to the outskirts of steamy cities to eat sandy sandwiches and soggy salads in shady seclusion.

In brief—it's picnic time—and the inevitable battle between insect and man over a basket of food is on. (Wars have been started over far less.)

But it's a losing game for mankind in any way it is viewed. In the first place, the insects are on the spot first, in spite of our highpowered conveyances, because they are familiar with the out-of-doors which is their home just as a confining two-room flat is ours. It's difficult to beat a man in his own country.

Arriving on the scene first, bugs and the like, park on the most advantageous points and attack picnickers even before the pessimist suspects. (Every picnic has one.)

But it's great stuff—this estin' under a tree—so Americans think. There's nothing like it to relieve that bottled-up feeling in the city and growing resentment against ossified offices and homely homes. Why anybody should be willing to sacrifice half his sandwich to touch nature once again—to experience the glorious sensation of a sting after it quits stinging—to taste the unexcelled flavor of bugs and buns—ants and apples.

There's no doubt about it, Americans really go for a picnic in a big way—they love it—they eat it up (and so do the ants.)

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Jarvis of Crane, Texas, stopped here Thursday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Patterson before continuing their journey to Houston.

Mrs. Ray Lawrence, accompanied by her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Rader of Hobbs, left Thursday for a three weeks trip to Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

Few Suggestions For Those Who Plan Picnics For Summer Months

By MARTHA LOGAN

No doubt there are people who don't like a picnic but I just can't understand them. Of course there are picnics and picnics. You need not sit on the ground or go native and cook the food over a campfire. With the many camping grounds conveniently scattered along the road sides, we can find a most comfortable location with table, benches, cook-stoves and other modern trappings.

Each person has his own idea of the best type of food as well as the best service. There is the cook-your-own food like frankfurts, steaks, etc. Or you may prefer the ready-to-eat food as baked ham, meat loaf, chili casserole, etc.

For my part, I like to eat out of doors even if it is in my own yard. And show me the youngster who doesn't thrill at the thought of an open air meal.

Today, with the many table ready meats, we have a wide selection from which to choose. Meat loaves branded with the name of a packing company give you a guarantee of quality. This is true of frankfurts, too, so that you can let the children enjoy these flavorful favorites.

We should remember also the excellent quickly served hams now on the market. If you don't want to take time to bake a ham, why not buy one of these cooked hams? They are so tender that you can leave the knives at home.

First, decide on the meat for the picnic, then build the other foods around that. It's really fun to plan and pack up if you let the family help.

Cook Your Own Picnic

Frankfurts, steak or hamburger, relishes, pickles, butter, buns, potato chips, cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, French dressing, cake, fruit, coffee, cream, sugar.

Ready To Eat Food

Cold meats as ham, meat loaf, salami, sharp cheese, relishes, pickles, buttered breads, mixed vegetables, French dressing, potato salad, drop cookies, fruit, thermos of coffee, cream, sugar.

For those who are not veterans at picnicking, we give these few suggestions on what to do when faced with a picnic:

Containers—Wrappings

Metal boxes, such as cake boxes and certain cracker boxes take

OIL COMPANIES' EXPENDITURES IN TEXAS SHOWN TO BE MORE THAN VALUE OF STATE'S OIL

ARRHALL, June 2—The amount of money spent in Texas by the petroleum industry last year exceeded the total value of oil and its by-products, according to Charles P. McGaha, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, in an address before the Texas chamber of commerce managers' convention, in session here today.

"It has often been said that much of the returns from the Texas oil industry goes outside of the state. Nothing could be further from the truth," said McGaha. He cited official statistics which show that total expenditures of the Texas petroleum industry last year amounted to $780,823,325, whereas the total value of crude oil and petroleum by-products amounted to $763,000,000, leaving a deficit of eight million dollars.

"The economic significance of oil in comparison with other industries of the state is emphasized by the fact that the value of crude oil production alone last year was 50 per cent more than the total value of all farm crops in the state. It practically equaled the combined value of all crops, live stock and live stock products marketed. Cotton, once the principal source of Texas wealth, approximated only 30 per cent of the value of Texas' biggest money crop-oil," said McGaha.

In West Texas He cited interesting regional statistics which show that the Texas oil and gas industry directly affects the economic welfare of every section of the state. "If you live in Texas," he said, "you are in the oil business." Analysis of factors contributing to the wealth of various sections of the state, presented by McGaha, showed that in West Texas, comprising 48 counties all of which are under development, the petroleum industry produced 63.7 per cent of all the wealth in that area last year. In the Panhandle area, comprising 27 counties, petroleum produced 40 per cent of the wealth in the area; in Southwest Texas, embracing 22 counties, the petroleum industry produced 51 per cent of all the wealth in that area; in the Gulf Coast, comprising 27 counties, 44.4 per cent of the wealth was contributed by petroleum; in North Texas, embracing 21 counties, 21 per cent of the wealth was produced by petroleum; in West Central Texas, embracing 21 counties, petroleum contributed 38.8 per cent of all the wealth of that area; in East Texas, a 37-county petroleum accounted for 78.9 per cent of all the wealth produced in that area last year; in East Central Texas, a 10-county area, 30 per cent of all the wealth produced came from oil; in South Central Texas, embracing 27 counties, 21 per cent of the wealth produced came from petroleum.

More than 500,000 persons are employed directly or indirectly by the Texas petroleum industry," said McGaha, "and this means that at least 1,200,000 persons in Texas depend upon the state's oil and gas business for their livelihood. If we include those who receive lease and royalty payments and those who are employed by industries closely allied with the oil and gas business, it becomes apparent that 2,500,000 persons, or 40 per cent of the Texas population, share directly or indirectly in cash disbursements made by the oil industry and its allied branches. This benefit must therefore reach down into the remotest and smallest hamlet in the state, however far removed from the producing fields."

READING AND WRITING

"THE LENIENT GOD," by Naomi Jacob; (Macmillan: $2.50).
The latest of Naomi Jacob's long line of novels is one of her best, perhaps because she has let go the family which has pestered her for several books, and started afresh. The current specimens are gentle, by name Warren, lower middle class and Londoners.

They are beautifully done. There is old Gran—there would be a Gran in a Jacob novel. Gran is sharp and coarse and outspoken, and although she is precisely like a hundred Grans out of as many books, she makes her effect.

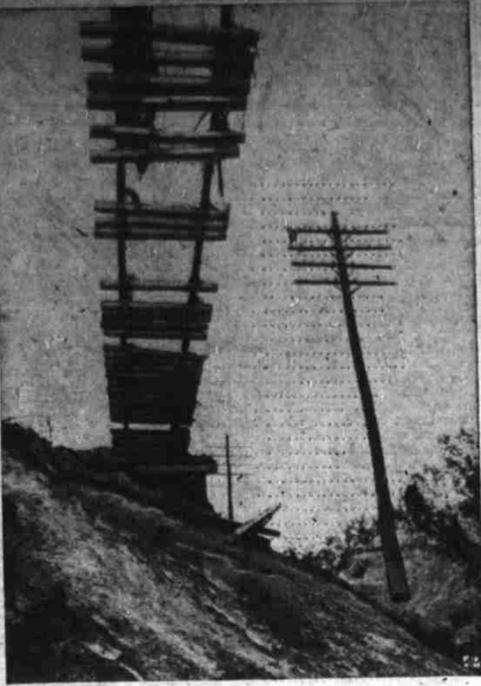

There is Gran's daughter-in-law, a woman from the North of England whose quiet efficiency as a wife and mother is tempered with a kind of slow passion for her oldest son. His name is Bill, he is handsome, he is cheated of his ambition to achieve an education and a scholarly success by a nasty experience with one of his masters at school.

There is Elsie, who is a little hard, a little cheap and a great success as a milliner. And there is Arthur, a good sort in most ways although he looks too much like Ramon Navarro for his own good. Plus, of course, a host of subsidiary characters, mostly rather well put down.

These people Miss Jacobs makes her reader know very well indeed. It is clear from the first that Bill will never go under; that somehow the brief love affair which has conditioned his whole life will be an asset, not a liability. The sympathy between Bill and his mother likewise must be, and is, turned to good account. Elsie will of course get what she wants, chiefly through Bill and the good qualities of her own mildly nauseating little husband. Even Arthur arrives at a logical end without too much damage.

But it is Bill upon whom all depends, and Miss Jacob very deftly leaves him just where her numerous readers will want him. It's a little difficult to say what the point of it all may be. "The Lenient God" is no Pollyanna book, yet its message, if message we must have, is that the quiet virtues do after all prevail. This is not very brilliant; it is, however, satisfying. The novel is first rate entertainment throughout. Often it is much more.

Return From Trip
Mrs. E. W. Potter and son, Bobby, returned Thursday from a trip to Roswell, Hope and Artesia, N. M. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Potter's son, Elmer W. Potter, Jr., who is a student of New Mexico Military Institute. The party visited Dr. and Mrs. Harold Lindley at Pecos and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bishop at Hope.

TO ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY
DALLAS, June 2 (AP)—Doran John Marcus Haesley, Dallas oil and realty broker, said today he would file for a place on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor before the Monday deadline.

A general survey of all forest trees of the Republic of Mexico is being planned by the department of forestry, fish and game.

May Rainfall Far Below Normal; Weather Man Getting His Wet And Dry Months Topsy-Turvy

This year has the weather prophets puzzled and almost everyone else worried. The meteorological charts at the U. S. Experiment Farm seem to be going in reverse—the normally dry months turning into wet seasons and the usually wet months about as arid as West Texas gets.

While the year's total precipitation is only one-hundredth of an inch short of the 37-year average, farmers are becoming anxious as planting time rolls around. The total rainfall registered for the first five months of the year is almost three-quarters of an inch more than for the same period last year, but crop comparisons of the two seasons would indicate the reverse were true.

To begin with, January and February, normally dry months, were exceedingly wet this year, giving the county the best sub-soil seasoning it had possessed in more than a quarter of a century. But there the beautiful precipitation ceased. Instead of picking up in April and May, as it usually does, the moisture began to fall off. May, by odds, the wettest month of the year, was hardly on a par with either January or February, particularly when good accruing is taken into account.

Average rainfall for May over a 37 year stretch is 2.66. This year it amounted to only 1.60. During the first 15 days of the month only 1.18 of an inch fell. Three showers in the last half boosted the total, but none of the showers covered the county well enough to be called a general rain. The second heaviest shower, amounting to .66 of an inch, was in a driving wind that barely got out of the city limits.

Nor does the average for June offer much encouragement. Normally about an inch and three-quarters falls in the first summer month. The prophets don't see that much in the clouds these days. Comparative data, for those who gain comfort in figures, is contained in the following tabulation:

Month—	1938	1937	Ave.
Jan. ....	1.91	.44	.43
Feb. ....	1.76	.69	.74
Mar. ....	.33	1.51	.82
April ....	.95	.43	1.90
May ....	1.80	3.26	2.66
Total .....	6.75	6.03	6.74

Ely See Club Votes To Disband For The Summer Months

Following an afternoon of bridge at the home of Mrs. J. B. Young Wednesday, members of the Ely See club voted to disband for the summer months. Mrs. Tom Ashley made high and Mrs. Robert Wagener received second honors.

Others present were Mrs. Harry Lester, a guest, Mrs. R. B. Bliss, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Mrs. R. R. McEwen and Mrs. Elmo Wasson.

FD Urges Middies To Gain Knowledge Of World Problems

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt advised the naval academy's graduating midshipmen today to acquire a well-rounded knowledge of "modern civilization" in addition to their training as officers of the navy.

"That applies," the president said, "to all of world thought and world problems but it applies, of course, with special emphasis to the thought and problems of our own nation."

The president stood before the white bloused graduates as their commander-in-chief and told them they would never "reach the top and stay at the top" unless they became well-rounded in their knowledge of all factors of civilization "that lie outside of your own special profession."

He gave this a political twist when he recalled an incident in a conversation he once had with President Theodore Roosevelt. He related that a conservation bill, strongly recommended by Theodore Roosevelt, had been defeated in congress by a coalition of members who saw no special advantage to their own congressional districts.
"I wish," the present chief executive quoted Teddy Roosevelt as saying, "we could have a constitutional amendment requiring that no person could run for congress unless he had visited every one of the 48 states in the union."
Although the population of Hong Kong is more than one million, only one petition for divorce was filed there last year.

MOST OF AMERICAN YOUTHS ARE LIVING WITH PARENTS

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—There's plenty of vitality in that such-challenged institution—the American home.

After a scientific sampling of the country's 20,000,000 young people 16 to 24 years old, the American Youth Commission announced today that only three per cent of "single youth" now living at home expressed a desire to break the home ties. And although the great majority of 13,528 Maryland young men and women interviewed in relief offices, palatial country clubs and modest homes wanted at least two fewer children than the 47 median their parents had, about 90 per cent wanted to have children eventually. In "Youth Tell Their Story," Howard M. Bell's book-length report of the survey to be published tomorrow, there's a high-lighted story of how American young people live. From the thousands of interviews obtained by 37 experts from 16 to 25 years old, Bell reported that: Four out of five were living with parents or relatives. Almost half the married group was so housed. Few Aid In Support About one-third were or had been

Wreckage of the car was strewn along the tracks for approximately 1,500 feet before the train was stopped, he said.

the size of the family." Data indicated that the size of the family decreased as the population of a community increased and that the number of children in white families on relief was substantially larger than in white non-relief families.

SPEED CHAMPION

Floyd Roberts, the aviation engineer of Van Nuys, Calif., who drove his racing car over the 690-mile route at Indianapolis Memorial Day at an average speed of 117.2 miles per hour, is shown in the cockpit of the machine after his victory. Cracking the previous record of 112.54 miles per hour and capturing the race was worth about $38,000 to him.

'Healthiest Tribe'

LYNNE, Mass., June 2 (AP)—The Wel Wells, primitive Indians of northern Brazil, today were described by Dr. William Hall Holden, New York explorer, as the healthiest people alive.

Dr. Holden said in an interview that the primitive Wel Wells had no tuberculosis, syphilis, cancer, heart trouble, or other diseases of civilization.

None was feeble-minded, due in part, he said, to the fact they kill sick or deformed babies at birth.

Dr. Holden attributed their health to simple diet, no overeating, no stress and strain, no worry of making money or paying bills and no "keeping up with the Joneses."

Oil Outlook Is Brighter

Talk Heard Of Increase In Tank Car Price Of Gas

TULSA, Okla., June 2 (AP)—Hopeful signs of expanding business have brought a wave of optimism to the petroleum industry. The word was out today that gasoline inquiry and movement was on the upswing. That condition brought frequent observations that at present the outlook was the best so far this year. Marketing reports were that some refiners already were asking an eighth to a quarter of a cent above posted prices for gasoline. In some quarters there was more and more talk of a general rise in the tank car, or wholesale, price of gasoline. On top of unusual gasoline demands for the three-day Memorial holiday, refiners reported, wholesale buying against the summer motoring season was reaching a greater volume than anticipated earlier. Motor fuel requirements were said to be pyramiding into a summer business that seemed much like the good seasons of '36 and '37. "Mark you," said one oil company executive, "we are far from out of this business slump yet. But things do look infinitely better at the moment." The strength in the refined products division came on the heels of drastic measures to halt mounting crude stocks. Curtailment of state allowances had cut the crude output something like 250,000 barrels daily in the past three weeks. Field activity remained relatively steady. The Oil and Gas Journal reported 588 completions for the week, 22 less than the week before.

Ex-Con Wounded

DALLAS, Tex., June 2 (AP)—James K. Castleberry, 26, ex-convict, was wounded and captured by officers here before dawn today after an 80-mile-an-hour chase. Officers were seeking a stolen automobile when the chase began. Castleberry was shot in the legs with buckshot. Identification bureau records showed Castleberry had served time in the Texas penitentiary in 1931 for burglary and theft, in 1934 for theft, and in 1936 for burglary.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Ineligibility

San Angelo's high school grid forces suffered a severe blow the other day when two of their star gridgers, Frank Box, fullback, and Leonard Wright, guard, were declared ineligible due to scholastic difficulties. Box will be remembered here as quite a "tuff guy," but Wright wasn't anything to brag about.

At that, the Bobcats are still going to be plenty tough in the district race next fall.

Wallace Still In Fair Condition

Kid Whittington, trainer of the local amateur fighters who are going to San Angelo tomorrow evening for several exhibitions, and J. C. "Miller" Wallace, middleweight champion of the January Golden Gloves tournament here, put on a classy private show at the high school Wednesday.

Whitt, whose recent training sparges have succeeded in working him into fair shape, is equipped to go the rounds with any of the current youngsters now campaigning.

Wallace has not trained since he went to the GG finals in Fort Worth in February but he looked good in giving and taking from the veteran pro. His flashy form proves more and more that the k.o. that Andy Eggleton hung onto him was a fluke.

The local team's actions has moved another little man to yearn for another shot at the flinty glory that amateur boxing offers. He's Willie Grey, kingpin of the flyweights here, who may don the gloves again soon if the exhibitions continue.

There has been rumor of holding exhibitions here with Herman Fuhrer's wrestling arena the logical choice for the scene of action. Plans are being formulated by those interested in the game.

It is believed that boxing would draw here once again, especially if the bouts were held in an outdoor arena close to the business district.

Speaking of boxing, the observer only recently found out through Grey that Alabama Cajun, the game little pug from Birmingham, who fought here regularly several years ago, was killed in Chicago two years ago. He was mangled by a freight train.

Top-Flighters

Big Spring may have four golfers in the championship flight of the West Texas Invitational tournament which begins at Lubbock today.

Doug Jones, Shirley Robbins and Ole Bristow are all expected to make the ripple and Jake Morgan has played the course enough to get acquainted with the layout. If Jake is on his game he may figure largely in the championship picture.

Of that quartet Jones probably has the best chance at the title held by Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, although he has been playing sand greens almost exclusively here.

The big Bristow has always liked the Lubbock layout and may put up quite an argument before he passes from the picture.

Robbins isn't playing as good a game as he did three or four years ago but he has been practicing more than usual this season.

CHAPMAN IS FACTOR IN A'S DRIVE

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

They laughed when old Cornelius McGillicuddy hinted he might do something with his pathetic Athletics this season. They laughed when he tossed a couple of ex-college boys into his lineup, and they wanted to know if he thought a Ph. D. or two could change a situation that looked like the cellar from Philadelphia to Moscow and back.

But they're laughing out of the other side of their faces now. For the venerable Mr. McGillicuddy—he's the same old Connie Mack, of course—looks like he really might have something there in Philly.

It's extremely doubtful if even so excellent a tactician as cagy Connie can pull his boys out of second-division darkness, but several of the young gentlemen have been doing such tricks recently that Mr. Mack finds them in the American league's sixth place today, with seven wins in their last 10 starts.

The latest was a 9-5 thumping they handed Cleveland's league-leading Indians yesterday.

Batters Leads Way
Meanwhile the New York Giants, against their customary cousins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, looked pretty sour yesterday as they dropped a 4-1 decision, with young Russ Bauers turning in a five-hitter.

Getting back to the A's, you find their sudden spurt dates back about two weeks, when Swingin' Sam Chapman, the All-America footballer, left the sunny California campus and showed up at Shibe park. Sammy supplied

Boxers Take Last Drill Matches To Be Played Friday At St. Andrews

Barons Move To Hobbs Friday For 2 Games

Quartet To Leave Friday For TAAF Show; All In Condition

A quartet of amateur boxers who will represent Big Spring in San Angelo's TAAF boxing show Friday night went through an extensive drill at the high school Wednesday afternoon under the tutelage of Kid Whittington and were due to report back today for final exercises.

They will leave Friday morning for the Concho city.

The four for whom fights have already been arranged are Ellis Read, lightweight; Alton Bostick, welter; Johnny Owens, feather; and Red Womack, bantam.

Read and Bostick mixed it up under the watchful eye of Whittington and both looked to be in great shape. Bostick has been ill but apparently has recovered. He displayed plenty of aggressiveness and a world of stamina in sticking the three rounds.

Read was punching sharply and evenly. He is using both hands to an advantage and his weaving and bobbing style is going to be hard to solve.

Womack, who has been working out but three days, was knifed by a quick thrust by Owens in their fast three-round go, a jab that brought blood to the carrot top's nose, but he was around for the finish of the three rounds. He showed improvement in rolling a blow and looked good in dancing in and out for his offensive gestures.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas and Freddie Haas of New Orleans versus Frank Pennick and Leonard Crawley of England.

Eight singles matches on Saturday will complete the series in which the United States has won all nine previous competitions.

A howling wind and cold weather prevented both squads from practicing today.

San Angelo To Sponsor Net Tournament

Local Enthusiasts Invited To July Meeting

Local tennis enthusiasts have been invited to participate in San Angelo's invitational tournament which begins July 15 and continues through the 17th.

The meeting will be governed and sponsored by the TAAF and the San Angelo recreational department.

Entries will be accepted in junior boys, boys and senior men and women's play. Prizes will be given to winner in all three divisions.

Doubles will also be played, it has been announced, and mixed doubles will be featured.

The tournament began last year and promoters met with such success that they decided to stage an annual affair.

Entries will be accepted by Janet Pletcher, city hall, San Angelo; Jim Edwards, Box 131, Abilene; Grace Wilhoit, city hall, Coleman; H. F. Malone, city hall, Big Spring; James Houlihan, Jr., Box 803, Sweetwater; or William McCall, city hall, San Angelo.

FORDMEN OPPOSE WOOTEN'S

Lone Star And Clerks Play Aftermath

The leaders in the Major city softball league take a rest tonight while those attempting to get into threatening positions battle it out.

First game will pit Buster Johnson's Big Spring Motor company team against the Wooten Grocers.

T&P Clerks and the Lone Star Chevrolet crew take the field in the aftermath.

The Fordmen have lost a pair of titles this season, dropping a loosely played game to Anderson's Devils, and falling before the Lone Stars in an upset battle.

Johnson will again rely on L. D. Cunningham to lead them to victory. Cunningham, the most prized pitcher in the league, last week was the victim of the Lone Stars' up-dising.

The Grocers will be the decided underdogs in the clash. Davidson's Dairy aggregation set a new scoring record while playing against them last week.

T&P has chalked up two wins this season but the Garagemen will be favored in their game, nevertheless. The winner of this battle can gain a second place tie in league standings.

NEW TITLIST CONDOLES WITH ROSS

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Henry Armstrong devoted an hour to giving Barney Ross one of the most unmerciful beatings ever meted out to a champion, and then yesterday he spent hours trying to get hold of Barney on the telephone so he could ask him how he was feeling.

Henry must have known how Barney felt, because it was so secret that Barney's face was terribly swollen and that he was grieving for his lost welterweight title. But it was typical of Armstrong, a friendly little negro, that he would want to say he was sorry.

Armstrong is such a vengeful fighter and has been called so many kinds of assassin and human destroyer that the reader might be surprised to learn that he is an exceptionally likeable and pleasant person outside the ring.

A Family Man
Should he add the lightweight crown to his abnormal collection of titles when he meets Lou Ambers on July 27, there is not likely to be a popular demand for a "white hope" to knock Henry's ears down.

At 25, he is a solid family man with a wife and child and a home in Los Angeles. He sings in his church choir every Sunday when he is at home.

Nobody around here has seen him excited or heard him lift his voice. He speaks almost flawless English and is approximately five times as intelligent as his noted friend, Joe Louis. While training for the Ross fight he dashed off several portions of free verse that were much better than you might suspect. One of them was published.

During training at Pompton Lakes, Armstrong was visited frequently by the entertainers from a couple of big Harlem hot-spots. First thing he did after he had disposed of the gallant Barney was to drop out to both places and thank his friends.

No Facial Damage
One of the more remarkable things about Armstrong is that he has never been cut around the face in six years of professional activity. He has skin like a rhinoceros.

I guess he's got blood inside him, but I've handled him in over 60 fights and never seen any sign of it," says Manager Mend.

He shows no symptoms of getting any larger than he is right now—135 pounds. It looks like he will be able to shuttle back and forth between the featherweights and welterweights as long as he wishes. The fight crowd is unanimous now that the only kind of man with a hope of beating him is one with an absolute one-punch knockout in his right hand. Some think Cefero Garcia might do it.

Henry has no superlatives. His only deep-set conviction is that he can whip any man in the world, short of the middleweights. He expects Ambers to give him more trouble than Ross did, though.

McMahan Wins Over McCombs

Moves Into Second Round In Munny Tournament

Ray McMahan, a torch-topped stick welder who plays golf in spasms, overcame early shakiness to trounce Sam McCombs in first round play in the championship flight of the Munny spring golf tournament Wednesday afternoon, 4 and 3, and pause while L. N. Millon and Murian Smith attempt to oust each other in the lower bracket.

McMahan, who qualified with a 96, lost the first hole in his match with McCombs but rallied on the long second to pull back even. McCombs took three to gain his second-advantage of the day only to have the redhead retaliate on four with a par to erase the disadvantage. They halved five, then McMahan grabbed honors on six, seven and nine to hold a three-hole lead at the turn.

Ray took 10, lost 11 and 12, halved 13, then took 14 and 15 to close out. In the first flight play, Tommy Nell trounced Homer McCarty, 6 and 5, to move into the second round.

Remainder of both championship and first flight matches are expected to be completed Sunday.

KC OPEN TOURNAY BEGINS FRIDAY

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Confident of "34 points, enough to win," Dean Cromwell and his Southern California U. squad were the chief attractions today as the picked athletes of 31 colleges made ready for the outdoor championships of the Intercollegiate A. A. A. at Randall's Island stadium tomorrow and Saturday.

Although Olympic champions and sophomore phenoms mingled in the largest concentration of track talent since the 1936 Olympic tryouts in the same stadium, the talk was all of the Trojans' might.

They were joined today by the California team and the University of California at Los Angeles' one man squad, Tom Berkeley, the low hurdler; as well as the teams of the more distant eastern colleges.

The Trojans have men in 10 of the 15 events that comprise the championships and they may score in all ten.

LINERS DROP TO THIRD PLACE IN EAST TEX LOOP

By the Associated Press

Marshall held the lead in the East Texas League today while the Texarkana Liners, who had pulled up to a tie for the top, fell to third place and Longview took over the runner-up slot.

Marshall downed Jacksonville 13-7 last night, scoring nine runs in the fifth inning. Marshall got 16 hits, Jacksonville 11.

Steve Rachunk held Texarkana to seven hits while his mates blasted out 15 for a 15-5 Henderson victory.

Longview hit 16 times in the first three innings in a 16-4 rout of the Kilgore Rangers.

Tyler downed Palestine 10-4, Carl Kentling leading the attack with two homers and a single to drive in six runs.

BEARD TO TOSS AGAINST TEXON OILERS SUNDAY

FORSAN, June 2—Maxie Beard is priming his curves and his "blazes" ball for the invasion of the Texon Oilers, scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

The Forean Continental twirler made a great showing his last time out, striking out nine men in four innings while throwing against the Trent Independents and Comoco's manager, C. J. Reed, was expecting him to show just as much magic to the Permian Basin league team.

He will be opposing a team that clouted him from the mound in Big Spring a month ago and beat his followers, 7-4, but the lean left-hander is in better shape this time.

An old mate, First Sacker Tommy Hutto, will be playing for the visitors. Other sluggers on the powerful southwest Texas crew include Arch Peel, centerfielder and cleanup hitter; Hy Haven, pitcher; Jack Barbee, catcher, and Flop Harris, manager and pitcher.

Oilers Take It On Chin From Dallas, 12-3

The hustling Tulsa Oilers took it on the chin from Dallas, 12-3, last night while second place San Antonio fell before the slants of Trout and his Beaumont mates, 4-1. Today Tulsa had an eight-point lead over San Antonio and 20 points over Beaumont.

Trout allowed five hits while Beaumont pounded out eleven, mixing them with four walks and three errors on the part of the Missions to edge in with the victory.

Tulsa miscues helped Dallas greatly but the Herd also scored eleven hits to advantage, scoring six runs in the first two innings to set up the game early.

The Fort Worth Cats downed Oklahoma City, 7-4. Indian errors doing them a lot of damage and a dozen Panther hits doing still more. Joe Mowry, Cat outfielder, continued his noble work with the stick to move into second place in league batting with a .350 mark, just eight points behind the top hand, Garner of Beaumont, who was idle. Mowry got two hits in five tries.

Houston had a fine night at the expense of the hapless Shreveport Sports, winning 14-6. The Buffs broke a 4-4 tie with a six-run spurge in the fifth. Houston got 16 hits, Shreveport 12.

AMERICANS ROBBED

FLORENCE, Italy, June 2 (AP)—Police reported today that thieves had entered the Villa Mariani, home of Mrs. John Kerr Branch, formerly of Richmond, Va., and had taken jewels and other valuables worth almost $100,000.

MORE THAN 200 EXPECTED AT LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, June 2 (AP)—A field of more than 200 was expected for the fourteenth annual West Texas Golf Association championship tournament which begins qualifying rounds today. Match play opens Friday.

Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, winner for the past two years; Frank Mitcham, Jr., of Shamrock, winner of the recent Green Belt title; and Grover Austin of Fannin, a Green Belt runner-up, were among those to compete.

Golfers were registered from Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Shamrock, Fort Worth, Odessa, Colorado, Pampa, Big Spring and San Angelo.

Japanese scientists say that the four islands comprising Japan proper are sinking on the eastern coast and rising on the south.

PENDING TO HELP YOURSELF

Cotton has been pictured so often as a sort of Old man of the Sea, a breaker-down of economies as well as human backs, a destroyer of independence and a wrecker of morals.

But the king is still king, say what you will. Any crop that brings in an annual average of over a million and a half dollars to Howard county alone is entitled to respectful consideration on any basis.

And that, as cotton articles in previous issues of The Herald have pointed out, is only the beginning. Cottonseed in the area represents several hundred thousand dollars additional each year. There are gins and a compress and other units associated in the processing of cotton that are makers of jobs.

Many thousands find employment each year in gathering the crop, and while cotton picking is lacking in glamor and sudden riches, it does enable a great many families to keep their heads above the water of adversity.

A pretty good business, after all, is the production of cotton. This part of the nation's greatest cotton state is a fine cotton country, naturally endowed for a big return on the amount of labor expended, provided, of course, the grower uses judgment and sound agricultural ideas.

Cotton, as such, is sorely in need of a press agent. If we could dramatize the crop as Florida dramatizes oranges and California publicizes prunes and pictures, we'd go a long way toward solving our economic problems.

National Cotton Week, now in progress, is of vital importance to a great many people in this territory—farmers, merchants, bankers, laborers and clerks. The more cotton we consume ourselves the better it will be for us. We get our money's worth and at the same time help an industry that means more to us, economically, than any other you could name. We value our oil output, and guard its price. One way of guarding the price of cotton is to promote consumption that will balance the supply—and the market.

It is cotton week, and it is pretty good business to spend your money on cotton goods and give yourself a boost.

COSTLY SOLITAIRE OAKLAND, Calif., June 2 (AP)—William Bauman reported to police today he lost $1,700 playing solitaire. He was along with the $1,700 and a deck of cards in a room over his tavern last night when a gunman entered. He left Bauman alone with the deck of cards.

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—In politics there is more than one way to butter a potato and thus it is that friends of Representative Jerry O'Connell of Montana believe he has received the White House nod to run against Senator Wheeler in 1940.

It came about this way. One of the choices of federal spending in the west is Fort Peck reservoir on the Missouri river in Montana, called by scoffers "costliest duck pond in the world."

New towns have been built up around it, an agricultural development is in prospect and besides that it helps open the Missouri to navigation.

Early in 1937 O'Connell introduced a bill to authorize spending $6,000,000 to install power works at the dam. Part of the power would be used to pump irrigation water to tracts now desert. The bill made any random progress.

The way of a Bill Some weeks later Senator Wheeler introduced a similar bill in the senate and it made more rapid progress. It passed the senate and Wheeler, who has campaigned long and often is rarely caught with his hands in his pockets, promptly sent telegrams out to Montana to announce his success in getting the bill through the senate. These things may sound casual to the layman but to the politician such an opportunity is like a summer rain on his crop of votes.

The bill went over to the house and O'Connell got busy. By a legislative maneuver as simple as cracking peanuts he had the Wheeler bill trimmed down until nothing much was left but the page number. O'Connell's own bill then was substituted for it, revised to suit the administration and the war department, the latter being in charge of the reservoir building.

In that form it passed but Wheeler let no grass grow under his typewriter before sending out telegrams to Montana reporting that the bill had passed the house. Again when the president signed the bill Senator Wheeler sent out telegrams and Montana was glad to know that $6,000,000 was a step nearer.

So far Wheeler had taken all the breaks on the Fort Peck affair, but what should turn up but a personal letter from President Roosevelt to Representative O'Connell. It contained the pen with which the bill was signed. The president congratulated the congressman on introducing the bill and bringing it to passage.

Moreover, the letter began "Dear Jerry," which was recalled when the White House wished to indicate its favor for Senator Barkley of Kentucky as majority leader a presidential letter was sent him publicly addressing him as "Dear Alben."

"Dear Alben" has been a catch phrase around here ever since to indicate those upon whom the gods have smiled.

Farm Outlook Not So Bright Additional Decline Held 'Not Unlikely' By Economists

WASHINGTON, June 2 (UP)—The outlook for farm products during the next few months is not encouraging, the department of agriculture bureau of agricultural economics reports.

Weakness in the domestic demand for farm products is expected to continue during the spring and summer, with some additional decline not unlikely, the bureau said in a survey of the farm situation.

Foreign demand for agricultural products continues to recede, the bureau said. United States exports and imports have declined in recent months due to the world-wide recession. No appreciable upturn is seen for the near future.

The demand for farm products this summer and fall will be governed largely by business and industrial activity, the bureau said. The general level has continued a steadily downward trend for 10 months.

Sharp Drop Likely Although this trend has slowed down since February there are no assurances of any considerable improvement in the near future, agricultural economists agree. Neither, they said, does any further drop in demand appear probable.

The price situation is even more uncertain. The next two months growing season may determine largely prices of farm products this fall. Another bumper crop added to surpluses from last year likely would send prices downward sharply.

The most serious price threats appear in prospects of large wheat, corn and cotton crops. Government demand tentatively will be made known if the crop are of such size as to cause any considerable drop in market prices. Increased agricultural adjustment benefit payments, federal Surplus Commodity Corporation purchases, Farm Security Administration relief grants and loans and government storage loans are expected to ease the depression shock on farmers this summer and fall.

Wheat Surplus Indicated The most immediately serious situation exists as regards wheat. The department estimated production may exceed 960,000,000 bushels—the second largest in history. A 200,000,000-bushel carryover from last year would give the United States an all-time record surplus of approximately 400,000,000 bushels.

The trend in domestic and foreign wheat prices is expected to continue downward as adjustment is made toward the new-crop basis, bureau economists said. "Indications are for a world crop larger than last year and above average."

The corn and cotton crops are not far enough advanced for definite predictions on production and prices. The situation in both is complicated by abnormally large carry-overs from last year—about 1,200,000,000 bushels of cotton and 4,200,000,000 bushels of corn.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—There was an astonishing moment in a Brooklyn court the other afternoon, packed with drama and realism. A Malay seaman was to testify before a magistrate and tell what he knew of an attempt to smuggle eleven Chinese into the United States.

But when you testify in court in this country you first take the oath. You swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God.

And that's where the color and the melodrama of the mystic Orient comes in. For Malays are Mohammedans and their conception of the deity differs from ours. And so an oath to our God in the Mohammedan faith.

But New York is prepared for emergencies of this sort. The first thing they did was send for Dr. Tassilo Adam and his sacred kris.

This kris is a 14-inch dagger, of small sword, and it was presented to him long ago by the Sultan of Java. Dr. Adam always responds when some bewildered Malay arrives on these shores, illegally or otherwise, for he knows Malay and a dozen other strange eastern tongues, including Atjak, Batak, Bugi, Eyang, Lampon, Makassar, Nicobar, and even Rejang. Dr. Adam lives in Brooklyn now, but for 30 years he was chief ethnologist to the Dutch government in the East Indies.

It all started several weeks ago when a British freighter arrived in America with a group of Chinese on board. The captain was immediately indicted and with him Hassan Bin Ahmed, who is now chief government witness.

But to make it legal and binding and to impress properly upon the imagination of the man just how serious was the situation, Bin Ahmed had to be thrice sworn in, twice in the Mohammedan way and once in the orthodox American manner. This was why Dr. Adam was called in. The sight of a sacred kris is enough to bring any Mohammedan to respectful attention.

Ahmed knelt or rather squatted in an attitude of prayer. Dr. Adam then touched the sacred kris lightly to his head. Prayers to Mohammed were mumbled. And then the trial was proper opened.

How it will turn out no one knows, but the fact remains that in the hold of a ship. They will certainly be returned. The Captain says he didn't know anything about them until he was at sea.

Dr. Adam gets one of these hurried calls about every four years. The last time, if I am correct, he was summoned by the officials, he several years ago when a bewildered Malay, unable to speak English, was washed up on the shores of Ellis Island, unable satisfactorily to explain his presence. He was frightened and refused to say anything. But when Dr. Adam walked in with his sacred kris the man, whose name was Umar Fair Bin, fell in a heap at the doctor's feet, willing and anxious to tell all. This kris, it seems, is inlaid with meteoric iron, which comes from the heavens from which they believe their royal rulers descended.

Diabetes is a common disease and is more prevalent in modern cities than in primitive communities. Most sufferers are from 50 to 60 years old.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Technical note on these changing times: white now photographs white instead of a glare.

Most of Sonja Henie's skating costumes are pure white, and she is being photographed without the aid of colored filters or colored lights. In the Bobby Breen skating picture, "Breaking the Ice," Bobby, little Irene Dare and Charles Ruggles all will wear white before the camera.

Not long ago to get white on the screen, blue or pink had to be used. Actors dined on blue tablecloths wore blue dress-shirts. If they wore white the camera caught blue, halos, halation.

It's a new film that does it—a few more grains of silver in the coating reduces the radiation of light from white and permits it to be photographed.

Talking to Charlotte Wynters ("Professor Beware," "Sinners in Paradise," etc.) was a reminder of the number of people physical injury has removed from the screen.

Miss Wynters is back again, after being pursued by a jinx. She had done several films after leaving the stage, but one day she fell off a bicycle and fractured her ankle. That healed, she was awakened one night by the telephone. There was Evalyn Knapp, whose back was broken in a fall just when she was making progress as a leading lady. Recovered now, Evalyn is still on the screen but still has trouble convincing producers she can work. (She has done several westerns, which ought to prove something.) And Mae Clarke—dogged by illness so could finish a picture if they gave it to her. She has married now, and left pictures.

It's The Strain, Too—Edwina Booth, an extra girl who got her big chance in "Trader Horn," and came back with a fever contracted on the African location, never to work again.

Miss Booth would seem to be the only one whose injury actually sprang from picture-making. And yet no one knows how many illnesses arise from the strain of the picture life—especially with those people who, in the sudden glow of popularity, are worked in one picture after another until, almost without their realizing it, they take a vacation.

Hollywood is a strain any way they take it. On top, it keeps them busy worrying how to stay there. Going up, it makes them worry how to get higher. Slipping—then there's the real strain comes in. And that's where some of them take to drink to ease the pain.

Joe Penner's duck—this on advice from the RKO camp—is all washed up. But "Tom from the City" has a western background, and a Penner pal (animal) was essential. Director Ben Holmes, despairing of procuring a giant panda, and Penner considered in turn a goat, a crocodile, and a pig. A pig it is—probably because Bob Burns' rise to fame was not retarded by Wofford, the porky of "Waikiki Wedding."

It's a small-world note: Alex C. Demar, owner of a Grand Rapids night spot, met Joan Blondell on the "There's Always a Woman" set, asked for her autograph. Joan, posing her pen, remarked, "I used to value your autograph once—on a check. I worked in your floor shows—remember?" He didn't.

CONNALLY ASKS CONGRESS TO BUY SURPLUS

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex) has urged Secretary Wallace to act favorably on the request of citrus growers in the Rio Grande valley that the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation buy surplus grapefruit juice to bolster a depressed market.

Connally said the action was needed because the unusually large citrus crop in Texas this year had forced growers to process about half into juice.

The diaries had the whole story," Lorne went on. "What she did to the family, and before she met me, and afterwards, and who she did, and everything. Everyone, Roddy, she was playing him for a sucker. Anyway, it's all over with her. Carr did it, not Roddy, as he thought. And I hope that you and Hanson can't get him."

"Know anything about ambergris, Lorne?" Assey asked. "That's what Pam's always talking about," Lorne said. "What she's always hunting. I never understood much about it. It's used for making perfumes, isn't it, or something like that? It's a whale's chin, or tail. I never could see why she made such a fuss over it."

"It's a sort of greasy stuff," Assey said, "that grows in the intestines of a whale. Fatty an' a little marshy, an' sort of streaked like marble. You can probably get around $35 an ounce for it."

"An ounce," Lorne said. "An ounce?" "Yep, An' yesterday, Pam found a lump about 100 pounds out from the point. And Marina found Pam. After a squabble, Marina brought it back in Roddy's beach wagon, to your garage. And—"

"Where it it now?" Assey shrugged. "Pam went over there later, and found Marina dead."

Chapter 23 INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE

"And this other. This note," Assey picked it up. "Twenty-five thousand dollars, payable to Marina Carr. On demand. Signed by Timothy Carr, and witnessed by two other people. Where, Lorne, if heaven's name, did you find these two chunks of dynamite?"

"I found them this morning, in a tin box in the bottom drawer of a wardrobe trunk of hers. I never knew she had such a box. I was hunting for a will and insurance policies—I told her to put 'em in the bank box, but they weren't there. So I hunted, and I found this box. These diaries. Everything. You—want me to tell you about these diaries?"

Assey nodded. "Or you could let me see them."

"No one'll ever see those!" Lorne said savagely. "I burned them page by page!"

"How the wise?" Assey asked. "I see how you might have wanted to, but this note and this marriage certificate'll put Tim Carr in a hole."

"The diaries," Lorne said, "would have hanged him. That's one of the minor reasons I burned them. The real reason was me, Me, and Aaron, and Pam. I decided that the three of us had taken enough. We—" He gulped. "We took plenty, we did."

"I'm inclined to think," Assey said, "that maybe perhaps you all have. Now, she married Tim before she went through the motions ran in her bare feet to answer it, picked up a splinter. Infection set in and she was on crutches a year. There was Anna Q. Nilsson, who fell from a horse and suffered five years, her starting career ended. There was Evalyn Knapp, whose back was broken in a fall just when she was making progress as a leading lady. Recovered now, Evalyn is still on the screen but still has trouble convincing producers she can work. (She has done several westerns, which ought to prove something.) Everyone, Roddy, she was playing him for a sucker. Anyway, it's all over with her. Carr did it, not Roddy, as he thought. And I hope that you and Hanson can't get him."

"Know anything about ambergris, Lorne?" Assey asked. "That's what Pam's always talking about," Lorne said. "What she's always hunting. I never understood much about it. It's used for making perfumes, isn't it, or something like that? It's a whale's chin, or tail. I never could see why she made such a fuss over it."

"It's a sort of greasy stuff," Assey said, "that grows in the intestines of a whale. Fatty an' a little marshy, an' sort of streaked like marble. You can probably get around $35 an ounce for it."

"An ounce," Lorne said. "An ounce?" "Yep, An' yesterday, Pam found a lump about 100 pounds out from the point. And Marina found Pam. After a squabble, Marina brought it back in Roddy's beach wagon, to your garage. And—"

"Where it it now?" Assey shrugged. "Pam went over there later, and found Marina dead."
