

Sallie's Temptations

(Copyright 1924—By Gladys Baker)

THE END OF THE HUNTING TRIP.

I put out my hand and touched his hair which gleamed in the sunlight sifting through the trees.

"I'm sorry," I murmured softly, "so sorry."

"Why should you be?" he asked at the same time taking my hand and holding it firmly in his own.

"I always bring brightness wherever I go, except to you," was my explanation and there was pathos in my voice. "I'm sorry for whatever it is that makes you feel like this."

He glanced up swiftly and looked deep into my eyes.

"Don't you know what it is, Sallie. Haven't you guessed? Can't you see that I'm mad for you, and that I love you, love you, love you."

Strangely enough he was agitated while I felt only a sweet calm as if my heart were singing a carol of joy.

"Then why so lugubrious about it?" I laughed. "I adore you too, Curtiss, and have from the time you wouldn't let me kiss you that first night. I wonder if you've changed your mind about it NOW?" I cooed, putting my face against the rough khaki of his shirt.

"My darling, my beautiful, precious sweetheart. How I love you. You are everything I have longed for—and I cannot fight against my love. You are all beauty and allure. Every fibre of my being throbs for you. I love you and I want you so."

A bird's clear call to its mate—the water, like tinkling bells, danced over the rocks and the wind made music in the trees. All the world seemed made for romance.

I do not know how long we lingered, for Love takes no cognizance of time. There were no more discussions of vexing problems, only platitudes of lovers whispered with a meaning that was wonderful and new.

The shadows lengthened and the sun went down bathing everything in a glory of gold. Slowly we walked back to the camp. Curtiss at the side of the narrow path, and I in it, hand in hand. The others had returned and the odor of bacon and other appetizing food drifted out through the open door. They gave us a friendly greeting. I smiled and sang out a merry paraphrase.

"Home is the hunter, home from the hill, With only a maiden to show for his skill."

I left early the next morning for Jacksonville, promising the Halls to return again. Curtiss and I had only time for hurried adieus as my train left just after dawn. He continued to Miami, having previously made a business engagement there.

Father had not returned from Atlantic Beach but Dr. Gray assured me that he was entirely out of danger and that a few more weeks would see him quite well.

The big house was lonely and there was only Mom Nellie to welcome me home.

The telephone rang. "Lord bless you honey—that telephone has been ringin' its head plum off but no sech develish thing as that could make me talk," Mom Nellie complained.

I answered. It was long distance. "Hello, Sallie, old dear." It was Ellie Mitchell's voice.

"Where are you Ellie?" I asked.

"In Pensacola. Mother and Dad have decided to take the Mediterranean cruise and would wish their offspring on you for lo these many days. But don't get alarmed, old dear, I'm hopping off later to Miami and Palm Beach. Don't think I'm going to park at your house while they sail leisurely 'round the world."

Finally I got in a word and made her promise to come right along. Then I spoke to Mrs. Mitchell and assured her that Ellie would be a joy, explaining that Father was still at the Beach and that I was all alone.

She would arrive tomorrow and that was that.

I had scarcely replaced the receiver when the bell jangled again.

This time it was Bob.

"Hello, peach, we've been pining away for a glimpse of you. Marj instructed me to call you and say we wanted you for dinner so that we can hear the gory details of the call of the wild."

He was jolly, we chatted frivolously for a while and I no longer felt that I was alone in the world.

"Well, what time shall I come and breeze you around?"

"Why, Bob, let me see, I must have an hour of the sort of cleanliness that is akin to Godliness—What? NOPE a shower WON'T do."

"Say when?"

"Gee, that sounds natural!" I exclaimed, then I hesitated, "Listen Bob, will Ted Billings be there?"

"Not unless you're dying for a squint at him. I'm not," he laughed. "You go to the Devil!"

"I am as fast as I can," he exclaimed.

"Be serious for a minute, if it kills you. Don't have Ted."

"Certainly not. We've got a real surprise and I've promised him the peppiest, most scintillating girl in the South."

"Be here at eight!" I called through the phone.

The Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association will hold its annual meeting and sale in connection with the Producers meeting. Fifty head of registered Hereford Bulls will be sold to the highest bidder. Cattle must be in the Western stockyards at Amarillo by Monday morning, March 2nd, at 10 o'clock, in order that they may be inspected by prospective buyers.

suction and minor expense, will be prorated among the carcasses sold.

That's It

Loudroice: "Good old Blinks. Quite a methodical gent. Why, would you believe it, he keeps a diary of every little thing said around home. What his wife said; what he said, etc., etc."

Practical: "Some scrap book, I'd say."

Ruined

Pennybrin: "No more advertising for me. I'm through with that kind of business. I advertised last year and it turned near ruined me."

Friend: "How come?"

Pennybrin: "Why, hang it all, man, a mob rushed in and bought nearly all the goods I had."

The rocky ridiculousness of life.

WEEKLY NEWS SUMMARY

Furnished by West Texas Chamber of Commerce

San Angelo.—Dates for the 1925 All West Texas Exposition, to be held at San Angelo, will be October 26 to 31 inclusive. W. E. Blanton, President, and his directors are planning to stage, this year, the greatest fair that has ever been at San Angelo. This date was well timed, and so set that all livestock at Dallas Fair and Wichita Falls and intermediate places could be here and the dates are so arranged that the Goat & Sheep Raisers Association can hold their annual sale also.

Mineral Wells.—A new concrete and steel Auditorium will soon be under construction here according to Sidney Webb, chairman of the building committee. It will be completed in time to be used by the 7th Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Midland.—The question of a County Fair is now up again for consideration and Midland is expected to come across with a real "up to the minute" County Fair during the fall of 1925. The time for action is now in order so there will be no failure when the time comes to put over a good County Show. A Fair for a town or county is an educational project in that it teaches the value of good seed, better poultry and bigger producers of milk and butter on the farms.

Decatur.—Decatur, today is probably the largest shipping station south of Kansas City. Several years ago when things were not going so well with cattlemen and farmers, the business men and farmers began looking around for something to pull through on and finally decided that dairy cows might help. Today this town ships milk and other dairy products that amount yearly to more than $200,000.

Lubbock.—This city reports that the $350,000 railroad bonus has been raised for the extension west to the New Mexico line. The matter is now up before the officials for action. Leveland will be an objective point on this new proposed railroad.

Pecos.—The Chamber of Commerce here pulled a very unique stunt at their noon luncheon recently as they held a cafeteria luncheon at the Hot Dog Cafe.

D. Wood Roseman, President of the Chamber of Commerce, conducted the meeting in splendid style. W. H. Vanderpool delivered a splendid talk on "Pulling together". Many subjects were discussed, among which was the Red Bluff Reservoir Situation.

Memphis.—The sixth annual banquet of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce was held here Friday. Secretary Geo. Sager gave a very interesting report of the past twelve months work including different conventions and celebrations. One, among numerous other conventions held here, was the District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held here last June.

Plainview.—This City is now proposing to secure a cotton mill and there is probability that they will succeed. Financing will be partly local and partly foreign.

Haskell.—The hotel committee here reports that they will be able to put over the $60,000 hotel as the amount of stock subscribed is near enough the goal to make the project almost an absolute certainty.

Dilley.—The Winter Garden section of West Texas centers around Dilley, Crystal City, Asherton, Big Wells, Carrizosa Springs, and Eagle Pass. They are shipping out thousands of carloads of spinach, onions, pepper and many other vegetables. Oranges, grape fruit, olives and dates flourish in this climate. As the name implies, their gardens are winter gardens as well as summer and spring.

Carlsbad.—Several new buildings are now under process of construction at the Carlsbad Sanatorium. 355 patients are now regaining their health at this State institution.

MRS. J. C. MARDIS OF FRIONA DIES WEDNESDAY

Mrs. J. C. Mardis, of Friona, died at 4:00 o'clock Wednesday, February 11, at the County hospital at Hereford after an operation for appendicitis. She was immediately taken to Friona where at 9:00 o'clock Thursday morning funeral services were held before shipping the body to Iowa. Mr. Mardis is the pastor of the Congregational church in Friona, and is left with an eighteen months old baby girl.

JACK MURPHY IS TAKEN TO CLOVIS FOR OPERATION

Jack Murphy, former Hereford resident and brother to Albert Murphy, was carried to Clovis last Monday, being brought over from his home in Tulla by Mrs. Albert Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Benton. The party was also accompanied by Mrs. Jack Murphy's mother, Mrs. M. A. Moses.

Jack underwent an operation for appendicitis at Clovis and is reported to be doing nicely. He has been crippled somewhat for some time following an auto accident last summer.

R. C. SHUFORD TO HOLD FARM SALE IN CASTRO COUNTY

E. W. ROBERTS.
Ernest W. Roberts was born in Milford, Iowa, March 8, 1884, moved with his parents to Spencer, Iowa, and later to Forrest City, Iowa, where he received his education. The family came to Hereford, Texas in 1907, where he met and married Miss Mattie Purcell. They lived in Amarillo for a number of years and later moved to Jameston, Kansas, where Eva Jane, the only child, was born November 20, 1912. They later returned to Amarillo from which place they went to Dabhart and to Denver, Colo., where several months ago his health began to fail. They went to Los Angeles, Calif., in hopes that the change would benefit him, but all efforts were unavailing, and he passed away Jan. 31, 1925, and was laid to rest in Hereford Cemetery Feb. 5, 1925.

He is survived by his wife and twelve year old daughter, Eva Jane, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Roberts, and two brothers, O. E. and F. C., all of Spencer, Iowa; one sister, Mrs. J. T. Another 'Bull' Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Zigfeld Folies and screen star, and leading American humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

I WANT it distinctly understood that this is an ad. What's more, it's one of my first attempts. Of course, the logical question is what does Will Rogers know about writing an ad? My answer is simple—everything!

The first thing any ad writer has got to know is how to get paid. I found that out. The first letters of the alphabet I learned were P. I. A.—that means Pay in Advance.

The real truth about why I started writing ads for these people is that I got a family kicking the toes out of lots of shoes daily and I read where my employers sold enough of their stuff so that if the bags were laid end to end they would stretch further than from Oklahoma to Yokohama—and that's some stretch. So I think this looks good to me. That's why I signed up. I hope it turns into a steady job. At any rate, I'll have another piece here two weeks from now.

Will Rogers

P. S. I like to forget to tell you what I was advertising. It's 'Bull' Durham. I don't smoke it myself. I don't smoke anything, but somebody does or else what happened to all those bags?

IT'S MORE ECONOMICAL of course, but the real reason thousands of he-men swear by good ol' 'Bull' Durham is because for sheer goodness of flavor, you just can't tie it.

Tells How to End Night Coughing

To quickly stop hacking, irritating coughing at night, a very simple treatment may be had that often enables you to sleep the whole night through undisturbed almost at once.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and relieves irritation and soreness, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. So no matter whether your cough is dry and tight, or loose with much mucus, the coughing soon stops, you can usually sleep your accustomed time without a break, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains absolutely no narcotics or other harmful drugs. Instead of merely numbing the nerves, it actually helps the system to throw off the trouble in a perfectly natural way. Furthermore, it is very economical, the dose being only one teaspoonful. It is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, tickling, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

DIMMITT NEWS

Saturday was the regular day for the drawing in Dimmitt and quite a number from the country were in.

The boys of our town should feel very grateful to Mr. Moss and Rev. Coughran because of the organization of the Boy Scouts. They had a short meeting Saturday afternoon and a few new members were added to the list. Mrs. Moss has recently organized a Camp Fire Girls. They are planning on a great time this summer so boys and girls, you had better join soon and get in on the good times.

The population of the Dimmitt School District is growing rapidly, owing to the aid of the Real Estate Agents in bringing new settlers on the land. Since the second term has started there have been thirty-four new pupils and good prospects for several more soon.

I. B. Brooks has nearly completed a neat and comfortable residence just west of the Union Church.

Grandmother Duree, who has been seriously ill for some time, is improving some now.

The men and boys of Dimmitt had a very thrilling time Thursday afternoon in putting out a prairie fire which started about four miles east of Friona, by some careless person perhaps. There were about twenty-five or more sections burned.

Bad luck usually follows good luck. The girls in Dimmitt has caught on fire several different times lately, but owing to the help it was put out.

J. R. Hastings and daughter, Gladys, spent Thursday night in Boyina with Luther Hastings and visited other relatives.

Friday evening about sundown, while driving without lights, a man from Estelline turned his truck over on the highway going from Dimmitt to Tulla. Another man was with him and both were injured. The truck was completely torn up.

W. W. Eakin was called to the bedside of his father, who is seriously ill. Mrs. J. D. Head, of Amarillo, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. U. Coughran.

Mr. Moore, of Chickasha, Oklahoma, has just put in some new curtains at the High School. Everyone should be very proud of them, owing to the condition the others were in.

Mr. Avery and family, of Happy, spent Saturday night with his brother and family, M. R. Avery.

Miss Ila Mae Hastings, of Canyon, spent the week end with relatives in Dimmitt.

Messrs. Jay Hastings and Charles Power were in Hereford on business one day this week.

Jim Williams, of near Childress, Texas, has purchased land near Dimmitt and will soon move his family to it. Mr. Williams is a cousin of Mrs. J. R. Hastings.

Rev. B. H. Fronbarger filled his regular appointment in Dimmitt Sunday. Both sermons were fine.

Miss Ona Roberts and Loyd Arnold were secretly married Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hastings by Justice of the Peace Jay Hastings. They obtained the license in Plainview. Miss Roberts is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Roberts, who moved here the first of the year, but Miss Roberts soon made friends, and is loved by all who know her. We wish them a long and happy married life.

Miss Tennie Mae Hastings, who is teaching school at Arney, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shysard entertained the following guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Avery and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Avery and family, of Happy, Miss Ila Mae Hastings of Canyon, Messrs. Charles Hastings, Tommie Allen, Earl Hembree, Andrew Murphy, Phelix Houser, Rankin Reynolds, Brooks Woodlee, Robert Hembree and Wesley Fowler.

Miss Fannie Slayton spent last Saturday and Sunday with her friends, Misses Audry and Edry Brooks, who live about seven miles west of Amarillo.

As J. P. Hutson is having bad health they plan to sell their farm here and move to some town where Mr. Hutson can be treated, or perhaps they will travel for a while from place to place for the betterment of Mr. Hutson's health.

I'm sure that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cook and family feel more like they are at home now since they have moved into their new home, which was completed last week, as they have been torn up for most two months.

TO KISS—OR NOT TO KISS

Dear Miss Flo:—

Why do men demand that a girl submit to their caresses if she wishes to go out with them? Recently I met a man whom I thought I would like very much. He asked if he might call to see me. He came the next evening. We talked for a while and I found him most interesting. He suggested the theatre. We went to a show and had a perfectly wonderful time. Coming home, however, things began to happen. He tried to kiss me. I objected. He said all modern girls went in for "petting" and he didn't care for icebergs. I told him I'd prefer not entertaining a man at all if I had to resort to kisses to do so. He laughed. We parted friends, but I have never heard from him since. And I liked him a lot. I am wondering if perhaps I was foolish. I hate petting—I think it is disgusting and vulgar—but after all, a girl is only young once, and entitled to some fun. If she doesn't smoke, drink and pet she stays at home. Is the old-fashioned girl respected for having ideals? Does it pay to be good?

Maxa.

To kiss—or not to kiss—that seems to be the most important question of the day, as evidenced by the number of letters received from girls living in all parts of the country. One of the girls writes: "If a girl permits a man to kiss her—he never comes back. And if she doesn't—he never comes back, so what are we going to do?"

Now the question is—whose fault is it if her statement is true? Does the fault lie with the men for demanding it—or with the girls for permitting it? I am inclined to think men demand it because the majority of girls grant it—and when they go out with one who will not permit it—well, they simply do not go back. Personally, I do not believe that anything in the world is worth sacrificing of self-respect and the high ideals which Maxa evidently holds. But it is quite easy to understand why some girls who started out with the same high ideals soon lost last week, is getting along all right now and none of the rest of the family had them.

Monroe Hess and one of the Hutchison boys accidentally turned their Ford over recently, but only received a few little cuts from the glass. Broke the windshield off the car.

Dawson Blaspagne and the Misses Samuelson made a trip to Adrian Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Omer Bartlett and family transacted business in Hereford Monday of last week.

Pete Hutchison made a business trip to Hereford Monday of last week.

Jin Mecaskey made a business trip to Adrian last Tuesday.

Emmitt McAdoo, who is teaching school at Arnett, Texas, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. McAdoo, near Adrian last week.

Dave Hutchison made a trip to Canyon one day last week.

Mr. Woodard and family transacted business in Amarillo Friday. Mrs. Alexander of Adrian accompanied them to Amarillo.

J. P. Collier transacted business in Hereford last Friday.

Monroe Chapman and little nephew, Jack Chapman, left for Ft. Worth, Texas a few days ago.

Mr. Alexander took two bales of cotton to Hereford last week.

Mrs. Temple Lynch and son, Richard, visited with the Hutchison family last week, while Mr. Lynch was gone to Canyon looking for employment. He secured work near Canyon and they left for Canyon Thursday.

Misses Gusta and Lois Samuelson spent the week end with the Rice family on Glasscock Ranch last week.

Farmers are getting ready to sow oats soon.

We have been having some beautiful days for a while—makes us anxious to get to work.

them. Of course, they want to go out, and the weaker ones sacrifice their ideals for a good time, because they want to dance, see shows—they want all the other things that constitute a good time while they are young, and they haven't the will-power to sit back and watch the other girls having all the fun.

Don't lose faith in men, Max. If being a lady is considered old-fashioned, you may be sure that all people whose opinion is worth while thinking about truly admire and respects the girl who has courage enough to have ideals and live up to them. There are many men—sincere and intelligent—who really value the companionship of the girl who can entertain them with intelligent conversation rather than kisses. Let the other girls trust to their kisses to bring them good times and happiness. Don't insult your intelligence by lowering your high standard in the effort to please a man who demands such payment in return for an evening of his society.

As you say, Maxa, youth should enjoy life, but a so-called good time youth often means years and years of unhappiness. Youth is the time to build up memories—and they should be happy ones—without a touch of regret for "what might have been."

It always pays to be good. The good girl has the reward of a clear conscience, which always means peace. Her outlook on life is bright—because it is never darkened for an instant with remorse. She is rewarded with better health, better looks and a longer youth. And last of all, Maxa, the good girl is rewarded, when she is able to go with a clean mind and heart to the man she loves. She need not fear that her husband will find out some secret of her former life. She has nothing to hide. The girl who is leading a gay life may appear to have the better time for a while, but she will pay the penalty in later years in ill-health, scandal and broken spirit. She is, in most cases, a physical wreck in her twenties, and an old haggard nervous woman at forty.

I know, Maxa, it will be difficult for you to find consolation in the thoughts of benefits derived in later years, when you want all the excitement and romance now that the average young person demands, but I am quite sure you will agree with me when I say that all the pleasures in the world—or any man in the world—is not worth the sacrificing of self-respect, and the man who might be worth it will not demand it.

The drama of turning the other cheek.

Why is it that everyone wants to see someone get slapped?

We give up on that one. But this we do know:

Everyone wants to see—"He Who Gets Slapped," because it's—Something to make you laugh—
Something to make you cry—
Something to make your hearts throb with romantic pleasure.
And the humor, the pathos and romance are all reflected in this colorful picture.
